Her Anniversary.

A TOUCHING LITTLE STORY OF A YOUNG ENGLISH WAR WIDOW—A TRAGEDY BEING ENACTED—MANY TIMES.

'Can you believe that there is a war on,' I asked my companion. 'Somewhere, high in the perfect sky, a lark was singing of its joy; tall marguerites proudly quivered over the green and gold of the meadows; the scent of hay was wafted from adjoining fields like a faint yet happy sigh over departed glories; in the distance cattle lazily browsed; a tiny stream murmured under the gentlest bridge, which, as it crossed while the sun touched everything with its magic wand.

'Surely there can't be a war on,' I murmured again, drinking in the quiet beauty of the scene. 'You've only to look at us to see that there is,' said Lillian. 'Ua?'

'Well, we should not be here by ourselves unless there was a war on, should we?' she answered practically. 'I never came the favorite walk with you, and you always had Edward with you. Why, it was just two years ago to this very day that we made up the hay making party,' she went on.

'Rogery we recalled happy memories of days that seemed so very long ago—why is it we all go over these pre-war days so eagerly?—until a white-lead figure coming over the field claimed our attention. 'Slacker!' we cried out presently, as we laughingly recognized and greeted the newcomer.

'Whoever would have thought of meeting you here at this hour of the morning,' she replied. 'We had an occasional day's tramp over the old familiar ways the best antidote to worry and the biggest soothe in the world,' we told her, and it sends us back to business with new energy for work and a new optimism about the war.'

'Seems strange, doesn't it,' she said after a silence, 'that we three should be here by ourselves.' 'War time,' answered Lillian, with a strange note of finality in her voice, as the same thoughts ran through all three minds.

After we had asked after and discussed the brother, relatives and friends within the war zone. Let us pretend this is one of the good old days. 'We are going five miles before we stop for lunch. Come along!' 'Not to-day,' she said quietly. 'Why ever not?'

'I'd just love to come in the ordinary way—but not to-day,' she reiterated. 'To-day I must go alone—I have planned every step of the way. 'Oh, you understand, don't you?' She came nearer as she noted our surprised looks. 'To-day is my first anniversary.'

They were saying to themselves. 'It is nearly two years ago,' others murmured. Some of them refer to weddings, others to wounds, others to departures and others—to deaths. They are love and happiness, pleasure and pain all mixed up together, and one cannot be remembered without the other. And the women who are quietly going through these anniversaries are of all ages from 18 to 85. And, according to their years and temperament, the significance of these anniversaries varies. To many grief or pleasure is not intensified by the day in the year that commemorates the event, although the day is remembered, the anniversary is not recalled, and the unacknowledged anniversaries of real people in their lives have a great significance.—Hilda M. Love.

The First Line of Defense.

Pure blood is the body's first line of defense against disease. Strong, healthy blood neutralizes the poisons of invading germs themselves. That is why many people exposed to disease do not contract it. Those whose blood is weak and watery and therefore lacking in defensive power are most liable to infection. Everybody may observe that healthy, red blooded people are less liable to colds and the grippe, than pale, bloodless people. It is the bloodless people who tire easily, who are short of breath at slight exertion, who have poor appetites, and who wake up in the morning as tired as when they went to bed. While women and girls chiefly suffer from bloodlessness the trouble also affects both boys and men. It simply affects girls and women to a greater extent because there is a greater demand upon their blood supply.

To renew and build up the blood there is no remedy can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They tone up the entire system, make the blood rich and red, and strengthen starving nerves, increase the appetite, put color in the cheeks, give refreshing sleep and drive away that unnatural tired feeling. Plenty of sunlight and wholesome food will do the rest.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., New York, N. Y.

The London Pall Mall Gazette is responsible for this—'Flying low over the G. m. m. lines, a British aviator was soon in the midst of a whirling swarm of German bullets. The German aviators were firing wildly up, hoping to wing the flyer or pierce his gasoline tank. The aviator, a cool youngster, looked down, saw a bullet slowly ascend the last feet of its maximum height. It stopped dead still for the smallest fraction of a second. The aviator reached quickly, grabbed the bullet and put it in his pocket.

'There are places in Canada where bread is selling at 7 1/2 cents per pound,' says the Canadian food controller. 'There are other places where it is selling at 12 and 14 cents and there are no possible excuses, except that someone is in control of the markets and they dictate what they like.'

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—'I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have best flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough.'—Mrs. MARGARET GRASMAN, 759 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—'I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it.'—Mrs. GEORGE A. DUNBAR, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Krie, Pa.—'I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me.'—Mrs. E. KIRKLAND, 931 East 94th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving women's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

A tag issued with the license and bearing the name and address of the licensee must be attached to the head or other portion of a moose exported by a non-resident licensee. It is forbidden to export skins of any fur-bearing animals without first obtaining a permit from a game official who shall have examined such skins, and there shall be attached to the package containing such skins a tag or label on which the Warden shall have certified over his signature that he has examined such package and issued such permit. This permit shall, immediately after the shipment of the package, be returned to the Chief Game Commissioner.

A Present for the Soldier

YOU can depend on the mothers to think of the little things which will be appreciated by the boy in the camp or trenches. And one article which many a mother has given her boy at the last moment is Dr. Chase's Ointment.

There are so many ways that Dr. Chase's Ointment is useful to the soldier that it becomes invaluable to him. It is used for chafing and skin irritation resulting from heavy clothing and equipment. It brings comfort to sore, scalded feet after the long march. Applied to wounds it prevents blood-poisoning and heals the skin. And it should never be forgotten that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the most effective treatment obtainable for piles, a distressing ailment which results from contact with the cold earth, whether in camp or trench.

The Canadian soldiers have been well supplied with this standard ointment, and, judging by their many letters of appreciation, there seems to be few things more keenly appreciated. Just try it in the next parcels you send to the front.

Editorial Brevities.

Some folks are so industrious that when they haven't anything else to do they worry.

Just how the Yankee troops in France got their nickname, 'Sammy's' now appears. The welcoming French shouted enthusiastically, 'Vive les amis,' pronounced 'Vee lay zammie,' and the soldiers thought that instead of cheering their arriving friends the crowds were giving them a nickname referring back to Uncle Sam. It was a queer philological incident, and it will be all the queerer if the sick name sticks.

Now, while large profits are being earned on war contracts, is the time to exact large taxes to help pay war cost. The more of the war cost that is paid now the lighter will be the burdens of peace, when greater difficulty may be experienced in meeting the heavy demands for interest, pensions and other war expenses. It is both a business and a political mistake to postpone the collection of any war or excess profits taxes that can now be exacted.

Dr. Michael Clark, announcing his retirement from Parliament at the forthcoming election, says:

A party led by the Province of Quebec cannot possibly give itself to the energetic prosecution of the war any more than a party dominated by some of the strongest eastern corporations and protectionist interests can give the country any real liberal reforms, such as accurately what remains of the Liberal party to day.

Think over this sentence from the letter of a life-long Liberal who cannot be a candidate under 'Conservative auspices.' It is worth more than a second thought.

Hugh Guthrie, Liberal M. P., who voted for conscription and favors the formation of a national government and the extension of the parliamentary term, admits frankly and without equivocation that there is a great deal of foundation for charges of blundering against the present government, but he says, and says truly, 'the government of every other Allied country has blundered and blundered, and Canada was no exception to the rule.' Mr. Guthrie admits that the coalition offer to Sir Wilfrid Laurier was tardily made, but says 'it would have been better for Canada and for our cause in the war if Sir Wilfrid had accepted the offer and entered a coalition government.' Those few words, 'it would have been better for Canada and for our cause in the war, are words to keep in mind. They sum up the whole situation as no man can present it who thinks only of party.

New Song to be Sung.

ORIGINAL SELECTION DEDICATED TO FIRST MINNESOTA INFANTRY.

An original song, composed and dedicated in honor of the First Minnesota Infantry, will be sung at the musical program at that camp this evening given under the direction of the army Young Men's Christian Association.

The song was composed by Mrs. Frederick E. Church, of Owatonna, formerly of Minneapolis, and Professor J. C. Jones, of Pillsbury Academy. A number of the old favorite songs will be sung by the artists.

At a musical program at the regular army cantonment this evening the special feature will be a selection of patriotic songs by the three remaining members of the old Bryant post quartet, under the direction of Levi Longfellow.—Minneapolis Journal.

Prof. Jones is spending his vacation at his old home with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Jones. He is accompanied by his little daughter Theodora.

Progress of the Pulpwood Industry.

The war with its changes in trade routes and markets has tended to greatly increase the pulpwood and pulp industry in Canada in the last three years. In fact the industry has grown steadily since its inception. These facts are shown in a bulletin just issued by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior. The total value of the pulpwood made into pulp in Canada and exported in the raw state for manufacture abroad was nearly $20,000,000. The amount of pulpwood made into pulp in Canada was 1,754,912 cords, an increase of about 300,000 cords over 1915. While over a million cords of wood were exported in the raw state for manufacture abroad this was lower in proportion to the total pulpwood made into pulp in Canada than ever before, showing that the Canadian manufacturers are working up more and more of this raw material in our own country. The statistics of the industry are set out in Bulletin 65B, Pulpwood, 1916, which may be had free by application to the Director of Forestry, Ottawa.

Our Ottawa Letter.

Ottawa, August 16th, 1917.—During the discussion on the bill now before Parliament introduced by the Hon. Mr. Doherty, Minister of Justice, to amend the law in respect to intoxicating liquors, Mr. J. E. Armstrong, M. P., read some interesting correspondence between himself and the Minister of Justice.

This correspondence deals with the powers of Provincial Legislatures to prohibit the manufacture as well as the importation of intoxicating liquors.

Dear Mr. Doherty—I would greatly appreciate if you would advise me as to whether any province in the Dominion has the power to prohibit the manufacture and sale of liquor within their boundaries.

Further, has any province of the Dominion the power to prohibit the circulation of literature or advertising which has the object of promoting the sale of liquors to its people?

Is the Dominion Government prepared to prohibit the importation of liquor into any province that has passed an Act prohibiting the manufacture, sale or use of liquor in that province?

The minister replied:

Ottawa, Aug. 1, 1917.

Dear Mr. Armstrong—Replying to your letter of the 20th ult, I beg to say that in my opinion there is absolutely no question of the right of a province to prohibit the sale of liquor within its boundaries. As regards the manufacture, the Privy Council has never given a categorical answer to the question. This much, however, may safely be said, that it is within the power of a province to prohibit the manufacture when the conditions under which it is carried on are such as to make it a matter of local concern in the province.

In reply to your second question, in my opinion the province has the power to prohibit the circulation within its limits of literature or advertising which has the object of promoting the sale of liquor to its people.

In reply to your third question, the Dominion Parliament, at the instance of the Government, has already passed legislation prohibiting the importation of liquor into any province, to be therein used in violation of the law of that province. The effect of this is that it is a violation of the Dominion law to send liquor into a province to be sold therein in violation of the law of that province. And without further legislation on the part of the Dominion, if any province chooses to prohibit any other method of dealing with liquor than the sale thereof, as for instance, the use of it for beverage purposes, it will then be a violation of the existing Dominion law for any one to send liquor into that province, to be dealt with in violation of any such law.

The practical result is that any province that wants to prevent liquor being sent into it for use as a beverage, can attain that end by prohibiting the use in the province of liquor as a beverage. Such a prohibition on their part will produce the result that under the already adopted Dominion law, it will be an offence to send liquor into the province to be used as a beverage.

Yours sincerely,
CHAS. J. DOHERTY,
J. E. Armstrong, Esq., M. P.,
House of Commons,
Ottawa.

The New Circuit.

Announcement that at last a genuine honest-to-goodness racing circuit has been formed in the Maritime Provinces has caused great rejoicing, not only among the owners of strings of racing horses, but also among the many thousand admirers of good clean sport. There are few who will not admit that one of the greatest sports in the world is to see a string of big, beautiful, pure bred horses coming down the stretch fighting it out gamely to the wire.

The Nova Scotia Provincial Exhibition Commission has been trying to form this harness racing circuit for years, and they must be congratulated now that their hopes and dreams have been realized. It is especially gratifying that Halifax will be the last city on the circuit, for that means that all the horses will have been thoroughly worked out, and will be right on edge for a week of the fastest racing ever seen in the Maritime Provinces. Swinging around the circuit, Moncton, Fredericton, St. John, Chatham, and horsemen with their strings of beauties will arrive in Halifax just in time for the Provincial Exhibition Meet, September 12th to September 26th.

With a racing circuit firmly established, with the track in the very best shape, and with more horses entered and more events than ever before, it will be a week of wonderful sport.

Cholera Infantum

Cholera Infantum is one of the fatal ailments of childhood. It is a trouble that comes on suddenly, especially during the summer months, and unless prompt action is taken the little one may soon be beyond aid.

Baby's Own Tablets are an ideal medicine in warding off this trouble. They regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus prevent all the dreaded stomach complaints. Concerning them Mrs. Fred Rose, South Bay, Ont., says: 'I feel Baby's Own Tablets saved the life of my baby when she had cholera infantum and I would not be without them.' The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

all over the continent, Canada and the United States. It is now rated as one of the biggest commercial revolutions in years and is gaining ground every day. Nearly every newspaper and magazine of any standing contains articles and advertisements every few issues calling upon their readers to realize the folly of buying out of town goods and the need for buying at home, buying from the local merchants and keeping the money in the community for the upholding of industries and stores at home.

The Butterick publications contained the announcement a short time ago that in future the publishers will not carry the advertisement of the big mail order houses as they consider that every effort should be made to encourage these stores in the small towns and cities.

'Quebec refined oil for Quebec people' is the slogan of an aggressive campaign that is now being waged in the newspapers of the province of Quebec.

'Every time excursions are arranged from Montreal to the United States, articles appear in the newspapers of the metropolis calling upon the people not to spend their money in the United States but to save it all to buy goods in Montreal so that the money might be kept there to build Montreal industries and make the city prosperous.

All through the Canadian West, in Brooklyn in the East of the United States and California in the far West, there is heard the cry high above the roar of factories, 'Buy at Home' and keep your money at home so as to build up the home town.'

Travelling salesmen declare that it is harder to sell goods now than it was ten years ago because all dealers patronize local manufacturers and all consumers patronize local dealers and so on down through the whole list.

The United States Government is reported to have taken a stand in favor of the movement, realizing that the principle of centralizing the wealth of the country in a few big centers is wrong. Secretaries of government departments report that the cities and towns which have adopted the 'Buy at Home' principle are leading in commerce and finance.

California is a typical example of the benefit to be derived from the strong buy at home campaign. Banded under the name of the 'Native Sons' the people of that state practise the Buy at home principle in all their purchases and the state has gone ahead by leaps and bounds.

And lastly every nation is practising the principle just in so far as it can. Many are forced to buy heavily in Canada and the United States but that is just because the buy at home principle was not practised before the War and their factories were not equipped to turn out goods fast enough.

But there has come a change now. The buy at home principle is being practised wherever it can be enforced. All of the Allies are building factories just as fast as they can and in a short time they hope to turn all their needs out of their own factories and spend all their money at home.

Let's get right into line with this big movement. Let's make 'Buy at Home' our Slogan in Nova Scotia.

Buy from your home town merchants then and keep your money here to build up the home town. Buy at home and get another chance at the same dollar. Buy at home. This is the great 'Buy at Home' campaign. Buy at home.

In heraldry the cross is formed by two perpendicular and horizontal lines crossing in the center of the shield. This form is modified in various ways by additions and combinations, thus expressing many meanings. It is said that human intelligence never devised a system so inflexible in its varieties and so endless in its application as to be found in the science of heraldry, in which figures twenty-seven basic or fundamental crosses.

The name of every man killed in the war will appear on bronze tablets in the The British War museum. Sir Alfred Mond, First Commissioner of works, is now organizing photographs of every officer, decorated or killed, are being sought, and will be included in the collections.

L. W. SLEEP.

Death of C. R. Bill.

Wolfville people were shocked on Tuesday morning to learn that a highly esteemed citizen, Mr. C. R. Bill, had passed away during the night. He was found at 7:15 in the morning dead in his bed and the physician summoned said he had been dead for about an hour.

Mr. Bill had not been in good health at times during the past year or two, but recently had appeared more like his old self and was about his duties as usual on Monday and was at the movies in the evening.

The deceased was a big-hearted man, a good friend and a worthy citizen and will be much missed.

He was a grandson of Caleb R. B. member of the Legislature of Nova Scotia before confederation, and one of the first settlers from Nova Scotia after confederation was consummated. His father was the Honorable William C. Bill, member for Kings county, and a member of the Holmes Thompson government. In the conservative interest, he twice contested this county against the late Sir Frederick Borden, being defeated by small majorities.

His wife, who survives him, is Margaret, daughter of the late Jeremiah Bligh and a sister of the late Howard Bligh, for many years shipping master at his office. Seven children, of whom five are now with two are daughters, also survive. Of the sons, Philip holds an important post in the department of justice, Ottawa; Hamerson and Paul are also in government service, at the capital; William is in the Canadian west and Gordon is professor of mathematics in Dartmouth College, New Hampshire. The daughters are Margaret, wife of Colonel E. G. Shannon, now in military service overseas, and Miss Ethel Bill—the highly valued teacher of Domestic Science at Bloomfield High School, Halifax.

Mr. Bill came to Wolfville about twenty years ago and was appointed Collector of Customs at this port, succeeding the late J. E. Davidson.

Many friends throughout the county and province will bear with sorrow the news of his death, and sympathize deeply with the sorrowing family.

The funeral will be held from his late residence this (Friday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Wedding Bells.

DICKIE-BORDEN. The Union Church at Avonport was the scene of a pretty and unusual interesting wedding at four o'clock on Wednesday of last week.

DEAR SIR.—Please allow me a little space to call the attention of the towns authorities and citizens generally to the need of some co-operative action with regard to the supplying the needs of our people during the present war crisis. In a few weeks now cold weather will be again with us and the matter of providing a supply of fuel is going to be a real problem. There are possibilities for effecting a substantial saving to our citizens in this direction and many others, and citizens are looking to the civic rulers to make a start in the matter before it is too late.

The quaint little church was decorated for the wedding, by the bride's girl friends, with green mingled with wildflowers of many hues.

The bride wore a travelling costume of green broadcloth with white hat; her bouquet was white bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Gladys Borden, who wore a gown of pink crepe de chine with hat to correspond and carried a pink bouquet. The groom was unattended.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at 'Crancroft,' the summer home of Dr. Borden Mr. and Mrs. Dickie left by motor for a trip through the Valley, later going to the Laurentian Mountains. They will make their home at Shawinigan Falls, Quebec.

The guests included the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickie, of Middleton, and his sister, Miss Dickie, Lady Borden, of Canning, the bride's aunt, Mrs. C. H. Borden, of Wolfville, Miss Gray, of Shediac, a cousin of the groom, Mrs. Smith, of Soererville, Mass., and of the bride with her daughter, Miss Miriam Smith, Miss Lila Borden of Moncton, Mrs. John Bluck, of Bermuda, Miss Len Borden, of Canard, Miss Beatrice Fraser, of Halifax, Mrs. Bigelow and Mrs. L. M. A. Sters, of Windsor.
