WOLFVILLE, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1925.

MEMBERS OF SOCIAL SERVICE COUNCIL

Ask Government Not to Listen to Moderation League

A joint meeting of the Social Service Councils of Kings and Hants counties was held yesterday afternoon in the school-room of the United church, Wolfville. There was a very creditable attendance, most of those present, however, coming from outside sections. Mr. S. B. Chute, of Berwick, took the chair and the secretary of the Hants county organization kept the minutes. It was decided to adopt the questions suggested by Provincial Council and submit them to the candidates at the approaching federal election for their support, and that the answers be published in the Halifax and county papers. The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"WHEREAS we believe that it would result in moral and economic injury to the Province if the Temperance Act were amended to make lawful the beverage sale of beer and wine, we request the Provincial Government not to grant the petition of the Moderation League, calling for such amendment. "FURTHER RESOLVED that we request the Provincial Government: (1) To provide for the effective enforcement of the Act. (2) To make necessary amendments at the ensuing session of the Legislature for the improvement of the Act."

GREENWICH

Mrs. Morse, Kentville, was calling on friends here on Thursday afternoon. She was one of our former residents and has many friends here. Miss Edna Ward, sister of Mr. W. R. Ward, our school teacher, who was a guest a few days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Bishop returned to her home in Kingston on Friday. Mrs. M. Roop and Mrs. Leitch, of Kentville, were guests Friday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Fraser.

Miss Katherine Fraser, who is teaching school at South Berwick, arrived Friday afternoon and was a week end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Andrew Pearson, where her brother, who is employed at the station, is boarding. Miss Esther Pearson is spending this week at the home of her sister, Mrs. Brenton L. Merry, Bear River station. Mr. George Robinson, who is relieving station agent at Centreville, spent Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pearson's home. Mr. Murray Forsythe motored to North Kingston on Sunday, taking with him his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Forsythe, and Mrs. and Mrs. A. K. Forsythe. The party spent the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Robertson.

The junior choir had charge of the music at the church here Sunday afternoon and the regular pastor, Rev. D. B. Hemmeon, D.D., occupied the pulpit and gave a splendid address which was enjoyed by young and old. Dr. Hemmeon received a glad welcome back from his vacation by his friends here. On Monday morning at the home of Nurse Andrew a son was born to Mrs. Goodwin, nee Evelyn Smallman, of Wolfville. Congratulations!

Many from here attended the political meeting of the Conservative party, held at the Orpheum, Wolfville, on Monday evening.

TEMPERANCE NOT THE ISSUE

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN
Dear Sir,—Would you kindly allow me a little space in your valuable paper. It seems to me that some canvassers or workers for the Liberal party are making quite a hobby of the Temperance question.

Is it an issue? Or is it to lead the honest voter astray?
A letter has been published in some papers claiming that Mr. DeWitt Foster betrayed the Temperance Alliance in his election campaign of 1911.

I was a member of the Alliance at that time and was at the meeting that the writer of the aforesaid letter referred to. Mr. Foster did not pledge himself or obligate himself to the Alliance, or the Alliance to him; and as far as I know signed no documents whatever. He was asked some questions in regards to his attitude towards the Alliance, but absolutely did not pledge himself to the Alliance. So, therefore, while he may have made mistakes there was not a shadow of a betrayal in the matter. And it seems utterly unfair to Mr. Foster and the party to bring temperance into this campaign, as it is not an issue.

We have been promised many things from the federal house in the way of temperance that we never got. Sir Wilfred Laurier promised us national prohibition, when he gave us a plebiscite. If we got a majority of the votes cast, which, Mr. Editor, we did, and then he told us he meant the majority of the popular vote not the majority of the votes cast. Yet he did not give it them. Was or was not that a betrayal? And, Mr. Editor, for the last four years under the King government, strong drink has been flooded across the American border costing our neighbors millions of dollars to patrol their coast. It has also been shipped into our province, all along the coast from Canso to Brierley Island, and distributed all through the valley from Halifax to Yarmouth, cursing decent citizens and ruining young men.

A prohibition law was granted us by the Murray government, and today, Mr. Editor, it is so mutilated and disfigured and carved to pieces that I don't know if it would be any harm to worship it, because it is not in the likeness of anything. There has been no temperance issue to amount to anything brought up by the government this last four years.

Perhaps our staunch temperance man, Mr. Robinson, would have voted for it, or will if it is returned to power. Yet I fail to see where he has ever worked in this constituency in that interest. I believe Mr. Robinson, as newspaper present candidate, Mr. Foster, is fully as capable of handling the situation. And yet they say he is a horse dealer, and no good can come out of Nazareth.

We have never received at the hands of the Liberals any temperance legislation other than they have been absolutely forced to give. On the other hand they have side-tracked any effort to promote the temperance reform. It is well known, however, that drowning men will grasp at a straw, and we will have to wait and see.

Thanking you for your valuable space.
A Member of the Old Alliance.

MORAL REFORM

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN
Dear Sir,—Mr. George L. Bishop has accepted Mr. A. DeWitt Foster's statement relative to a conversation held between Mr. Foster and the Rev. F. H. Beals, and without ascertaining from the Reverend gentleman the truth of that statement, enters into a defense of Mr. Foster, and deliberately accuses the Rev. Mr. Beals of a falsehood.

Those of us who have had the pleasure of working in harness with Mr. Beals in social and temperance reform know him as a man of strong convictions and of unswerving loyalty to truth and right, and feel that placing him as Mr. Bishop does among those who make false statements against his fellows is indeed an ungentlemanly act.

Let me suggest to Mr. Bishop that he procure a copy of Hansard containing Hon. R. L. Borden's speech re the dismissal of Mr. Foster, have it all printed word for word, and published in our local papers, thus giving the public an opportunity of judging for themselves the merits or demerits of the case. Why use columns of our local papers in attempting to prove or disprove a matter which can only be settled in this way.

Respectfully yours,
AN OLD REFORMER.

How much better it is to take the thorns out of the path of your friend than to add thorns to wound his feet.

IN RECOGNITION OF SAWYER

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN
Sir,—In last week's issue of the Kentville Advertiser a correspondent pays a well deserved tribute to one of Kings County's most valued exponents of pure government, whose memory is dear to the hearts of our people generally, the late Prof. E. W. Sawyer, a fitting monument for whom would be an adherence to the principles he so fearlessly tried to inculcate, with its logical result, a more worthy people as shown by reputable representation in our Parliament.

Are we erecting this to him?
We do not recognize enough difference between the fiscal policies of the Conservative and Liberal parties to warrant any change in individual views, but we can certainly see where this very narrowness of policies, if deemed necessary, allows the voter, be he layman or professor, (regardless of any error in the past in estimating values), to cast a vote for the dignity of our fair country and thereby add his mite to the structure in memory of our worthy dead.
N. W. EATON.
Wolfville, N. S., Oct. 14, 1925.

A SECRET WELL KEPT

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN
Sir,—Mr. E. W. Robinson, ex-M.P., has held about twenty meetings, explaining all about Free Trade and Protection, the Farmers Bloc in the West and other interesting matters, but he has preserved as a profound secret what he has accomplished for Nova Scotia of our Kings County in return for the $16,000 indemnity paid him. What he has done or attempted to do for Nova Scotia trade or transportation interests are subjects buried in his own bosom fathomless deep, and he has failed to fish it up. I wonder if he is re-elected would he come back at the end of another four years, empty-handed, and loquacious in every subject except what concerns his constituency.

ENQUIRER

LIBERAL STANDARD BEARERS

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN
Dear Sir,—I note in a recent issue of the Halifax Morning Chronicle a dispatch from Kentville in which attention is drawn to the high character of all our Liberal representatives in the past. This is a phase of political life to which I think too much publicity cannot be given. Such outstanding men as Mr. Frederick Borden, Hon. H. H. Fisher, E. W. Ross, J. L. Macpherson, the Hon. R. E. Finn are indeed standard bearers who will live long in the hearts of all true Liberals. It is men such as these who have made the party what it is today.

REV. MR. BEALS REPLIES

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN
Sir,—Allow me to state that I have never discussed his "vindication" with Mr. A. DeWitt Foster, nor have I encouraged him in the least to contest this constituency. Mr. Foster as a private citizen may be graciously received as a representative of an unthinkable.
F. H. BEALS.
Wolfville, Oct. 12th.

GRAND PRE

The Hattie Jean Mission Circle held their monthly meeting Friday evening, Oct. 9th, at the home of Mrs. A. Johnson.

Prof. Hancock, of Acadia, had charge of the service of the United church on Sunday, Oct. 11th. Owing to the bad weather the congregation was not as large as usual.

Miss Isabel Daniels, of Martock, Hants county, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Fred H. Crane.

Dr. G. K. Smith is leaving this week for Hantsport, where he will take up his practice. Dr. Smith will be greatly missed from the community.

Mrs. R. R. Duncan, of Bridgetown, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. C. Tremholm.

Messrs. Arthur Coffill and Jehiel Martin, who have been in the West during the fall, have returned home.

A BIT OF HOMELY PHILOSOPHY

When I send my dollar out of the country for something that I might have bought at home I lose touch with that dollar for all time to come. When I spend that dollar at home, I may perhaps get some of it back, or if I do not my neighbor will. This may not be sound economics, as taught us by the young graduates from the university, but it looks good to me. Eh! what!

MONDAY NIGHT'S MEETING

Considering the rather insufficient advertising the attendance at the public political meeting at the Orpheum on Monday evening was most surprising. The meeting was called for eight o'clock but long before that every available seat was occupied and when the meeting began standing room was decidedly at a premium and many who came to hear the speakers were unable to gain admittance. Mr. George L. Bishop, the president of the Liberal Conservative Association for Kings county, under whose auspices the gathering was held, was in the chair and announced the speakers, Dr. Keddy, president of the Hants county organization, Mr. H. P. Newcombe, of Halifax, and Mr. A. DeWitt Foster, the candidate. Dr. Keddy, as a student at Acadia, was well known in Wolfville and many old friends welcomed the opportunity of hearing him. He spoke briefly and clearly in the issues of the campaign, and received an attentive hearing. Mr. H. P. Newcombe was a Wolfville boy, and former school-mates and those who knew him on boyhood were naturally interested. He is a fluent and lucid speaker and evidently has a very clear grasp of Canadian questions. Mr. Foster was given a great ovation on being presented by the chairman. He has not been heard on a Wolfville platform since the campaign of 1911 and has developed wonderfully as a public speaker. He was closely listened to throughout his entire address and generously applauded. Evidently in the years during which he has resided over the border he has kept himself well informed in all matters relative to the public affairs of his native land.

LACK OF ADVERTISING DEADLY TO OLD FIRM

Day & Martin, Blacking Manufacturers, Founded in 1770—Policy Proves Fatal

London, Sept. 16.—Immortalized by Charles Dickens in "Pickwick" the oldest blacking firm of Day and Martin is to close. It was with blacking manufactured by the firm that Sam Weller polished the boots of his master. An extraordinary general meeting of shareholders during the week passed a resolution that the concern should voluntarily wind up. It was stated that the company had been able to pay off all its old liabilities and to leave a little in hand. Beneath this announcement lies a romantic history of trade, for the firm of Day and Martin is known throughout the English-speaking world. It is mentioned by Dickens and Tom Hood, by George Eliot and Carlyle.

The firm was founded in 1770, more or less by accident. Mr. Martin, of Doncaster, who was a hair dresser and a surgeon-barber, befriended a weary soldier who had outstayed his leave. In order to show his gratitude the soldier gave him a secret recipe for blacking, which he had constantly used on officers' boots. "Make blacking like that," he remarked, "and you'll make a fortune." Mr. Martin, with his cousin, Mr. Day, decided to try the recipe. They did so, and so began the famous firm. Up to 1894, the firm prospered greatly. It fell on evil days through the unwillingness of the directors to advertise.

THEY'LL TELL THE WORLD

The immigrants brought to Canada this season under the Empire Settlement plan and located in Ontario, Western Canada and parts of the Maritime Provinces, are said to number 500 families. According to the field agent of the Canadian Immigration Department, these are all satisfactorily settled and the letters they are writing home are expected to influence a much heavier movement of immigrants next season.

This is the kind of advertising which will prove most effective in bringing Canada more settlers. When newcomers score immediate success and tell about it, they will immediately be followed by others. Canada's department of immigration has no more important task than to see that those who come to this country are given every reasonable opportunity to realize that success which this rich country holds in store for those whose energies are properly directed. Success finds a way to do its own broadcasting.—Financial Post.

The year's far enough along so a farmer c'n reckon his increase pretty close; and it seems to me a man that c'n see his orchards hangin' full, and the crops fillin' his barns, and not be kind of glad and thankful, ain't much of a farmer, and not a great sight of a man, either.—Caleb Peaslee.

TO THE WOMEN VOTERS OF HANTS-KINGS, NOVA SCOTIA

In years gone by a few women in advance of their time advocated the enfranchisement of their sex. That has now become a reality—the common property of Canadian Womanhood. Ever since the time in the dim and distant past of which it was written, "male and female created He them," the male has managed to predominate in the management and manipulation of political affairs. The female has borne the blame of the exile from Eden and all the hard knocks which that exile has entailed. Now that she has been given the right of the franchise, so long denied her, though the right has been exercised but a few years, she has been censured for not purifying what the "Lords of Creation" are wont to call "the dirty game of politics."

It must be frankly admitted that to a comparatively large number of women the vote is still regarded somewhat in the nature of a founding laid on their doorsteps. They have not even yet taken kindly to it. It is equally clear that it will take years of education and training in this field, so new to womanhood, before they will learn to use their franchise and the power that accompanies it to the betterment of their country and the common good. That must be set down as a thing peculiar to women, for everyone knows who thinks at all on the disadvantages of the universal franchise, that the vote of the "moron" who scarce knows his right hand from his left, can nullify the vote of the most cultured, conscientious and high-minded citizen. It is not that the unfortunate "moron" desires to do his country an injury, but that he frequently becomes a tool in the hands of some unscrupulous party boss, and as a reward for his assistance to the party, he not infrequently returns from the polls illuminated with the newest brand of moonshine.

More than that, the votes of the most worthy citizens are often nullified by otherwise decent people, who when the battle is on, and the party slogan is sounded, fall in with the doctrine, "my party right or wrong," and with the equally vicious principle, "Victory at any price." The result is that our federal elections are in grave danger of becoming nothing more nor less than a national auction.

Here it seems to me is woman's big opportunity—the opportunity of political house-cleaning. She has learned well the domestic art of house-cleaning and she should be ready for her part in the cleaning of the national house. Unfortunately we have not organized here in Nova Scotia a League of Women Voters, which no doubt will be organized later. Therefore it is, we are unprepared for a clean-up movement that is province wide.

But there is something the women of Hants-Kings can do, and can do now, in the coming federal election. My suggestion is that the organized women of each party apply to their county executive, requesting that the Liberal-Conservative and Liberal Party executives of Hants-Kings meet and draw up a mutual agreement, eliminating the auction element and the rum element from the campaign.

Their suggestion will, I know well, provoke laughter in certain quarters, as all high-minded and patriotic movements have created in the hands of short-sighted and sordid politicians from time immemorial. To some of them an election without rum and money is like a campaign without ammunition. But such men do not constitute the solid strength of either party in Hants-Kings, and the opposition of such men should not prevent the women of both parties from doing their duty. The very fact that women are criticised in the few short years they are in the game for their failure to purify politics, is proof positive that the rank and file of men voters are even now looking to women to exert a purifying influence. So let the Eves of Hants-Kings invite the Adams of the same constituency to partake of the fruit of political purity, the eating of which will bring bloom rather than blight and which will go far toward making the part of the Dominion in which our lot is cast a veritable "Garden of the Lord."

WOLFVILLE GETS THE GO BY

New Valley Industry Will Be Located at Middleton

The location of the first factory of the Appo-Krisp Limited has been decided upon after a keen-competition in which six valley towns—Windsor, Wolfville, Kentville, Bridgetown, Middleton and Annapolis took part. At a meeting of the directors held at Kentville on Monday evening it was definitely decided to select Middleton. Representatives from all the towns mentioned met at Kentville last Friday afternoon and presented to the directors their claims for recognition. Wolfville's case was well presented by Cousins, Roach and Porter and Mr. J. H. Baltzar on behalf of the Board of Trade. It was impossible for the board to come to an immediate decision, and it was only after careful study over the week end that the decision to locate in Middleton was arrived at. The question of freight rates and shipping facilities was the determining factor and in this Middleton's position, because of the competing railway lines, was unassailable. Naturally the citizens of this place, as well as those of the other bidding towns are somewhat disappointed, but we are sure, be glad to tender their congratulations to the winner. Wherever situated the new industry is bound to be a decided addition to the prosperity of the valley and all will unite in wishing the promoters the very best of success.

V. O. N. DRIVE

On next Monday, October 19th, there will be a V. O. N. Drive for the purpose of raising funds for the Wolfville branch of this work. Envelopes will be left at each house on Saturday and called for on Monday. Residents of this town are fully cognizant of the wonderful work this society is accomplishing through Miss Mary Harry, one of our best and youngest citizens. Perhaps no other person in Wolfville is better known by old and young than Miss Harry, as she performs the work of a "ministering angel," in good or bad weather, at any hour of the day or night that she is needed. Last year she made 1955 visits of which nearly half were free. The V. O. N. service for the public school is efficient and valuable. Dental and medical examinations are made and treatment given. Much preventive work is thus accomplished. It is the hope of many citizens that the town will eventually take itself for this work, but until this time arrives we shall have to carry this work as individuals. It is hoped that the response will be generous and cheerful. Last November the amount collected was $622.25. Eight hundred would be a collection that would bring joy to the organizing committee.

WOLFVILLE GETS THE GO BY

New Valley Industry Will Be Located at Middleton

The location of the first factory of the Appo-Krisp Limited has been decided upon after a keen-competition in which six valley towns—Windsor, Wolfville, Kentville, Bridgetown, Middleton and Annapolis took part. At a meeting of the directors held at Kentville on Monday evening it was definitely decided to select Middleton. Representatives from all the towns mentioned met at Kentville last Friday afternoon and presented to the directors their claims for recognition. Wolfville's case was well presented by Cousins, Roach and Porter and Mr. J. H. Baltzar on behalf of the Board of Trade. It was impossible for the board to come to an immediate decision, and it was only after careful study over the week end that the decision to locate in Middleton was arrived at. The question of freight rates and shipping facilities was the determining factor and in this Middleton's position, because of the competing railway lines, was unassailable. Naturally the citizens of this place, as well as those of the other bidding towns are somewhat disappointed, but we are sure, be glad to tender their congratulations to the winner. Wherever situated the new industry is bound to be a decided addition to the prosperity of the valley and all will unite in wishing the promoters the very best of success.

V. O. N. DRIVE

On next Monday, October 19th, there will be a V. O. N. Drive for the purpose of raising funds for the Wolfville branch of this work. Envelopes will be left at each house on Saturday and called for on Monday. Residents of this town are fully cognizant of the wonderful work this society is accomplishing through Miss Mary Harry, one of our best and youngest citizens. Perhaps no other person in Wolfville is better known by old and young than Miss Harry, as she performs the work of a "ministering angel," in good or bad weather, at any hour of

Editorial

Our pulpits are our work clothes. Each of us live some kind of a sermon every day.

THE SCHOOL YEAR

IT IS JUST a few weeks since the schools of our town were opened up for the fall term. Teachers and pupils are settling themselves down to the "long, hard grind" once more. We expect much of our schools each year. We have a right to do this. We pay for their support and it is our privilege to expect them to do their best work.

But the schools, likewise, have a right to expect much of us. There are many duties we owe the schools, and be it said to our shame, we seldom ever perform these duties. If the school were as negligent in its duties to the public as the public is in its duties to the school, the educational system of the country would be a dismal failure. Some one says taxes are paid for the support of the schools, and that these taxes are paid religiously each year. This is true, and these taxes are vitally necessary. But money support is not the only support schools need. Every one feels he has a right to criticize the schools and continually find fault with them. Teachers do make mistakes, it is true, but one who has never taught cannot realize the things with which a teacher has to contend. What we need is more co-operation given our schools and less fault finding. The average teacher is sincere and gives his or her best effort. They are hard workers and it can be said of them that they have the interests of their pupils at heart. They put in extra hours and do many other things which the public never hears about. But let a little mistake in judgment be made, and the tongue soon starts wagging, the telephone bell starts tingling with incoming complaints and the members of the school board are urged to summarily fire the "worthless teacher".

We have a right to expect a teacher to give the best work possible, but in turn, the teacher is entitled to our co-operation. Parents should take an interest in the work of the school and visit the school more frequently. Such an attitude on the part of parents would have a gratifying effect and would result in much better schools. We hope for the best schools this year in the history of this town. Let's all do our part in making the schools what we want them to be.

PAPER FROM STRAW

IF PAPER of a satisfactory quality can be produced from straw at a reasonable cost the problem of our future supply of that useful and necessary product will not be a serious one. Experiments that are now being made along that line are making very encouraging progress. One of the great London dailies is now being printed on paper made from straw, in its own plant. A representative of George H. Meade, paper manufacturer of Dayton, Ohio, recently spent eight weeks in France investigating the manufacture of straw pulp by what is called the DeVains process, and recommends it for converting the straw product of the United States and Canada into pulp. His company is now erecting a mill in Ohio, and when in operation it will make an experiment with Manitoba straw which has already been satisfactorily tested in France. Those who are familiar with conditions in the grain-growing sections of Canada will very readily appreciate what it will mean to this country if the immense quantity of straw which is annually burned can be utilized for a useful purpose. The Winnipeg Tribune says that it is not unlikely that in the near future a straw-pulp mill may be erected in that city, and similar reports come from Alberta, where tests of straw for pulp-making have also been made with satisfactory results. It would seem that spruce and fir may soon have as a competitor a raw material which reproduces itself every year and consequently does not exhaust the supply. As a commercial proposition the undertaking presents a most attractive outlook.

A PROBLEM FOR THE SCHOOL BOARD

THOSE in charge of the affairs of the Wolfville public schools are endeavoring to grapple with a condition which has been present for some years. The problem is that created by the presence of a number of pupils sprinkled through the different departments who because of either lack of mental capacity or insufficient attendance fail to keep up with the other members of their respective grades. In some cases these pupils were not enrolled until action was taken by the truant officer. These now find themselves in company with little tots quite to the dissatisfaction of all concerned. Wolfville spends a large amount annually on its schools and naturally citizens expect that all the young people growing up in our midst should be adequately equipped in the matter of schooling. We cannot afford to have illiterates growing up in our town to later prove a moral and economic menace. Apparently the only solution of the present problem in sight is the establishment of another department wherein a competent teacher may be secured to carry on a miscellaneous school into which may be introduced such methods as will tend to provide a useful education and make the recipients useful citizens instead of future public charges. The new department will necessarily be provided at a considerable cost, but in the opinion of THE ACADIAN the urgency of the need is such that as a community we cannot afford to longer continue to neglect our duty in this regard.

PEOPLE WANT A JOINT MEETING

IT GOES without saying that if the rumor that there is to be no joint meeting in connection with the nomination proceedings at Kentville next Thursday proves to be true there will be very general dissatisfaction. The people of this county have always had the opportunity which such a meeting affords for comparing the two candidates on one platform, and there is no reason that we can see why there should be a departure from the rule on this occasion. The electors who attend the Nomination Day proceedings have a right to hear everything that is said and unless it is all said at one meeting this right is denied them. For the purposes of the campaign the present method of each party holding its own meetings has much to commend it, but those who are to select their representatives would be undoubtedly better prepared to make a choice if they had the privilege of reviewing on a common platform the material from which the selection is to be made.

APPLE CROP HARD HIT

THE SEVERE storm at the end of last week struck a heavy blow to the apple-growers of this valley. Coming at the very height of the picking season the gale of Saturday and Sunday exacted a very heavy toll of the harvest which represented the expenditure of much time and money on the part of those who depend largely on the fruit industry for an income. For some weeks back the outlook has been none too encouraging, because of the unsatisfactory quality of a considerable proportion of the crop and the apparent uncertainty as to selling price. Had the gale kept off another week, however, it is likely that a very considerable part of the crop would have been secured. Those who got away early in the work of picking are to be congratulated, and the heavy losers who are many, have our profound sympathy.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

The annual convention of the W. C. T. U. of Nova Scotia opened in St. John's United church, Yarmouth, Tuesday of last week, with President Mrs. B. C. Morrison, of Halifax, presiding. General business and appointment of Committees, also work, resolutions, credentials and reports of superintendents took the time of the convention during the morning. The afternoon session was opened with devotional exercises by Mrs. Wm. E. Miller, of Yarmouth. The White Ribbon reports were heard, after which the visitors were entertained by the local Union at tea in the Y. M. C. Wednesday morning's meeting was presided over by Mrs. (Dr.) A. J. Fuller, president of the local Union, and after devotional exercises, the greetings were received from Mayor Kinney (by letter), expressing his regret at not being able to be present and extending a cordial welcome to the visitors on behalf of the citizens of Yarmouth.

Mrs. A. M. Hill extended greetings in behalf of the local Council of Women of which organization she is President. Mrs. Arthur C. Payson, President of the United Board of Missions, extended greetings.

A letter from the local Chapter I. O. D. E. expressing greetings was read. Also a welcome was extended to the visitors from Rev. J. W. O'Brien on behalf of the Ministerial Institute, Rev. G. Lane on behalf of the Sons of Temperance; also letters from Rev. H. R. Grant representing the N. S. Social Service Council, and from Mrs. Sarah Rowell Wright, President of the Canadian National W. C. T. U. extending greetings.

Mrs. F. A. Porter, recording secretary, in behalf of the meeting responded to Mrs. W. O. Taylor, of Wolfville, read the report covering press work. The report of the Flower Mission was read by Mrs. Robert Phinney, of Truro.

Rev. E. H. Cochrane led the devotional exercises at the noon hour. J. H. Malcom rendered a solo in a delightful manner.

The President, Mrs. B. C. Morrison, gave her annual address, the subject of which was "Service". How can we best serve the present age? By recognizing its needs and responding to their call. The varied and complex needs of modern life were explained by the speaker in an able and clear manner. By Christian women determinedly taking a stand against the present day tendency toward what is the so-called "Society life"; to study the effects of alcohol, which society finds to be a racial poison; voluntary abstinence from all alcoholic beverages; and to unite in all well considered efforts to limit and prohibit the manufacture and sale of these beverages. To unite our efforts for the protection of the horse, the promotion of purity and the end of war, were some of the aims of the W. C. T. U. recorded by the President. The belief that the prohibitory liquor law is greatly in advance over any form of government control was expressed by the speaker. The canvassing of names to a petition by the Moderationists was strongly condemned and the W. C. T. U. urged to do all in its power to prevent such a law that would allow the sale of wines and beers from being enacted.

A splendid report of Christian Citizenship by Mrs. Oxner was read by Mrs. A. L. Powers. A report on Travelers Aid work was read by Mrs. Young, of Dartmouth.

Wednesday Afternoon
A memorial service was held when the names of 19 departed comrades were read who had gone to the Great Beyond during the past year.

A report of the Temperance Missions was read by Mrs. Schmalz; 20 Unions reported work in this department with receipts of $249.10.

An interesting report of the Medical Temperance was read by Mrs. A. J. Fuller. Other reports were the Parlor Meetings by Mrs. Pentz, giving a total of 91 parlor meetings; the Sons of Temperance instruction report read by Mrs. Adams revealing a large amount of work accomplished.

Essay contests—books placed in Libraries and other work of this character was reported on.

The School of Methods along this line of work was conducted by Mrs. A. L. Powers.

Mrs. H. P. Newcombe, of Halifax, was the speaker at the evening meeting; she gave a splendid and inspiring talk, her subject being "Our Reserves". Mrs. McConnell rendered a solo, "There is No Death".

Thursday
Devotional service led by Mrs. J. I. Foster. Mrs. Porter read a report on Peace and Arbitration. The report of Gael and Prison work was read by Mrs. Manning, followed by a poem composed by a prisoner. Seven unions reported work in this department. Fourteen Unions have made progress in the department of temperance work and Sunday Schools. The report was written by Mrs. Marshall, of Halifax, and read by Mrs. Davy.

The election of officers resulted as follows:
President, Mrs. B. C. Morrison, of Halifax.
1st Vice-Pres., Mrs. J. L. McAuley, of Sydney, C. B.
2nd Vice-Pres., Mrs. A. J. Fuller, Yarmouth.
Corresponding Sec'y., Mrs. A. L. Powers, Lunenburg.
Recording Sec'y., Mrs. W. A. Porter, Coldbrook.
Treasurer, Mrs. W. T. Wilson, of Halifax.
Sec'y., Miss Susie Graham, of Halifax.
L. T. L. Sec'y., Mrs. E. M. Butler, New Glasgow.

A consecration service led by Rev. J. W. O'Brien concluded the morning session.

This afternoon the program included a Cross Word Puzzle conducted by Mrs. Marling, and a report on Tidings, the official organ, by Mrs. Powers. An address by Rev. D. K. Grant on "Law Enforcement" concluded the convention in the evening.

BLOMIDON

Charles DeWitt, a highly esteemed and widely known resident of Blomidon, passed away at the home of his son, Wallace DeWitt, Blomidon, on Monday, Oct. 5, after an illness of a day. Mr. DeWitt, who was in failing health for nearly two years, was a son of the late John DeWitt, of Blomidon, and married Drucilla Jane Killam, of Pleasant Valley, who predeceased him 24 years ago. Mr. DeWitt, who was a devoted member of Pesaau Baptist Church, is survived by one son, Wallace DeWitt, Blomidon, a daughter, Mrs. A. W. Stronach, residing in Massachusetts, and a step-daughter, Mrs. H. A. Reid, of Massachusetts. One brother, Mr. George DeWitt, aged 94 years, also resides in Blomidon.

Mr. DeWitt, accompanied by Mr. M. Denson, arrived from Lynn, and was buried in the DeWitt family grave, at Pesaau, N. S., on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Therpe and Mr. Murphy are on a moose hunting trip to Cape Blomidon. Miss Marjorie Irving, Delhaven, is completing her course at the Maritime Business College, Halifax.

SHEFFIELD MILLS

Sheffield Mills Women's Institute was entertained by Mrs. Henry Spinney on Wednesday afternoon of last week. Mrs. Spinney presided.

For Baby's Bath

More than that of any other member of the family, baby's tender, delicate skin needs the greatest care and attention. The soft soothing oils in Baby's Own Soap make it specially suitable for babies, and its clinging fragrance reminds one of the roses of France which help to inspire it.

Mr. Austin Brownell, of the staff of the Pictou Academy, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. E. Brownell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Pelton, Halifax, were week end guests of Capt. and Mrs. A. McDonald.

On Sunday evening the Rev. Z. L. Fash completed a series of sermons on so called Christian Science, enlightening the masses on the fallacy of some of their teachings. On Sunday evening next, Mr. Fash will start a new series of discourse in five questions which will be as follows: (1) "Is Paradise the same as Heaven?" (2) "Is the Soul conscious after Death?" (3) "Does the Soul go immediately after death to Heaven, and how?" (4) "Is there a second chance?" (5) "Is future punishment endless?" For seven consecutive Sundays the subject of his sermons will be on the Lord's Prayer: (1) "The Fatherhood of God", (2) "Reverence", (3) "The Kingdom", (4) "Consecration", (5) "Providence", (6) "Pardon", (7) "Guidance".

Mr. Fred Churchill, who has been visiting friends in St. John, N. B., returned to Hantsport the last of the week, and left on Monday for his home in Los Angeles, California.

Mrs. A. DeWitt Foster and son, Master Ronald, spent Wednesday in Pictou, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodman.

Mrs. C. H. Dunbar had for her guest last week Mrs. Fenerty, of Halifax.

Capt. and Mrs. Young and Mrs. H. L. Smith motored to Halifax recently. Mrs. Smith's many friends regret to learn of the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Adams, Marlborough Woods, Halifax.

Mr. W. A. Bradshaw spent several days in Kentville recently.

Mrs. J. H. Newcombe and Mrs. C. Rockefeller were recent hostesses at "Bridge".

The W. M. A. Society of the Baptist church was entertained at the home of Mrs. Mailing at the regular October meeting. After an interesting program had been carried out a dainty repast was served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. F. E. Macumber. The November meeting, which will be the regular Crusade Day "for new members", will be held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Burgess.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Marsters had for their guests recently Mrs. Harvey, Boston Mrs. Spaine, St. John, N. B., Rev. Mr. Webb, Cheverie.

The October business meeting of the local Women's Institute was held on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Asaph Newcombe, with a large attendance and the addition of several new members who were cordially welcome. The President, Mrs. B. Davison, presided. After the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, the various committees tendered excellent reports. The report given by the Infant Welfare Clinic held the second week in September, proved that it had been altogether successful, a large number of mothers having taken advantage of said clinic. The question of prizes for the different grades of the Hantsport school was taken up and discussed.

The report given by the School Board Committee interview the School Board in this matter. Moved and seconded that the federation allotment of $7.50 be paid. Sewing for the Infants' Home, Halifax, was the next question brought up for discussion. An invitation from the President was extended to the organization to meet at her home on Friday next to sew for said institution. After the transaction of business the subject "Agriculture" was taken up, there being a number of readings and addresses on the subject. The meeting proved altogether interesting and instructive.

FULLERTON—SOBEY

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the First Baptist church, Winthrop, Mass., on Wednesday evening, Sept. 30, at 8.15, when Miss Gladys Sobeby, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hayward Sobeby, of Winthrop, became the bride of Gordon G. Fullerton, son of Mr. W. D. Fullerton, of Hantsport. The church, which had been beautifully decorated with palms and choicest cut flowers by friends of the bride, was filled to capacity with guests, relatives and friends of the young couple, both of whom were exceedingly popular. The Rev. W. J. Day, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony, the double ring service being used. The wedding party entered the church to the beautiful strains of music, rendered by Helen Mardos Orchestra. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked the picture of girlish loveliness, gowned in white satin, with rhinestone trimming, wearing the conventional veil also trimmed with rhinestones, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bride's attendants were Mrs. Carl Pratt, matron of honor, and the Misses Nadine Souel, Doris Orphin, Cora Richardson and Helen Pye. Francis Richardson supported the groom. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the vestry of the church, which had also been profusely decorated with foliage, where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Sobeby. During the reception the orchestra rendered appropriate music, while Miss Helen Milo, of Somerville, sang several beautiful selections. A delicious buffet supper was served by a caterer from Somerville. One important feature of the wedding was the beautiful gowns worn by the attendants. Mrs. Pratt, matron of honor, wore blue georgette over satin, blue chiffon picture hat trimmed in old gold, carrying yellow chrysanthemums; while the four bridesmaids formed a pretty picture dressed in shell pink over pink satin, trimmed in silver, and to complete the picture carried pink shepherds crooks, with a bunch of pink roses tied near the top. Mrs. Sobeby, mother of the bride, wore a gorgeous gown of brocade silk chiffon, the ground-work being in flame color with gold brocade, gold coloured hat and slippers. Miss Hilda Fullerton, of Hantsport, sister of the groom, was present, and becomingly gowned in pink chiffon over pink satin, trimmed in silver lace with slippers to match. The ushers were Messrs. Lewis Sobeby, Carl Pratt, Horace Wile and Richard Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton left by auto for a trip to New York and Niagara Falls. They will be "At Home" at 22 Prescott street, Winthrop, after Nov. 1st. They were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts. We extend felicitations to the happy couple.

IN FIGHTING TRIM AGAIN

Lloyd George as he appeared at the opening of the new Liberal Land Campaign at Killerton Park, near Exeter, England, attended by thirty thousand people when he proposed to solve Britain's unemployment problem by a back-to-the-land movement. If the same proportion of British people were on the land, he said, as there are of Dutch, not only would all the unemployed be absorbed, but there would be room for seven hundred thousand more.

A COMMUNITY PROPOSITION

Mr. E. Roy Sayles, former manager of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper's Association, and therefore thoroughly acquainted with the weekly newspaper situation in Canada, says editorially in the columns of his newly-acquired paper, the Renfrew Mercury:

"Everywhere there is a growing understanding among business men that the newspaper, while an individual business problem of some publisher, is, at the same time, a community proposition—a community asset. The newspaper serves the community more than it serves the man who published it. The time is coming when everywhere business men will feel a personal interest in the newspaper's welfare. The fact is, a community cannot make progress without it. It can exist, but it cannot grow.

"With this realization, there has also come an understanding that one newspaper serves better than two or three. It has become a simple problem of business mathematics to centre the strength of a community behind the newspaper that has made itself, through work and service, the strongest journalistic factor in community development.

"So far as Canadian newspapers are concerned, there have come out of business since 1914, fifty daily newspapers, while 224 weekly newspapers have suspended publication or been absorbed by the other papers in the town. In some counties of Ontario, from four to eight weeklies have suspended publication.

"The announcement of newspaper consolidations will continue. The result will be better and more outstanding weekly papers with improved service to advertisers, subscribers and the community generally."

A LOST EXCLAMATION POINT.

What a difference a punctuation mark can make in a sentence! Here, for example, is an incident related by the Montreal Herald:

"Jim" was "broke". For all that, he managed to reach Vancouver and walking into the office of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said to the manager in charge: "I am Jim Wardner, and I am an old friend of Tim Shaughnessy. Will you please wire him and tell him that I am here, broke, and want transportation to Montreal?"

Back from Montreal, came the reply: "Don't let Jim walk."

Jim got the transportation, and arriving at Montreal, called at once on his friend.

"Hello, Tom!" he said. "So glad to see you, and thank you."

"Well, well, Jim, is this really you?" Then with a twinkle in his eye: "How under sun did you get here so soon, if you were broke?"

"Why, Tom, thanks to your telegram. 'Don't let Jim walk,' of course I was at once furnished with transportation, and here I am."

"Confound those operators!" said Tom, with apparent severity. "It is strange they cannot get my messages through correctly!"

"Didn't you telegraph, 'Don't let Jim walk?'"

"Certainly not. My answer was: 'Don't! Let Jim walk!'"

THE TWENTY THIRD PSALM

(An Indian's Version.)

The Great Father above is a Shepherd Chief, I am His and with Him I want not. He throws out to me a rope and the name of the rope is Love, and He draws me, and He draws me to where the grass is green and the water is not dangerous, and I eat and lie down satisfied.

Sometimes my heart is very weak, and falls down, but he lifts it up again and draws me into a good road; His name is Wonderful.

Sometime, it may be very soon, it may be longer, it may be a long, long time, He will draw me into a place between mountains. It is dark there, but I'll draw back not, I'll be afraid not, for it is in there between the mountains that the Shepherd Chief will meet me, and the hunger I have felt in my heart all through this life will be satisfied; sometimes He makes the love rope into a whip, but afterwards He gives me a staff to lean on.

He spreads a table before me with all kinds of food. He puts His hands upon my head, and all the tired is gone. My cup He fills till it runs over. That tell you is true, I lie not. These roads that are "away ahead" will stay with me through this life, and afterward I will go to live in "Big Teepee" and sit down with the Shepherd Chief forever.—Missionary Review.

(Many a child has committed to memory this surpassing ode at mother's knee and all will be interested in our dusky brothers' original interpretation.)

GROUNDS FOR OPTIMISM

One of the biggest factors in the economic situation at any time is the mood of the people. It makes a vast difference both in commerce and in agriculture whether people generally are hopeful and confident or are downhearted and discouraged. No one can argue successfully that the past few years have been marked by some very discouraging conditions for the average farmer. None the less a good many farmers have been doing very well. The first thing that occurs to one in thinking over the present situation is the abundant crops which have rewarded this year's efforts. Barns all over

Nova Scotia are fairly bursting with hay and grain. Many farmers simply have not room for indoor storage. While this means a low demand for hay that is put on the market, it means also cheap and abundant long feed and roughage for live stock. It is a happy contrast to the conditions of three years back when hay was so scarce as to compel the sacrifice of cattle at low price and when a heartbreaking outlay of money became necessary before spring to save the stock that remained. The big crop of this season should be a very cheering factor.

Personal Mention

Contributions to this column will be gladly received. If you have any visitors staying at your home, or know of any friends who are leaving for a holiday, kindly phone or write THE ACADIAN.

Mrs. James Vooght, North Sydney, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. Creighton.

Mrs. A. J. Woodman is spending the week end in Amherst, a guest at the home of Senator MacDonald.

Miss Lillian Porter is spending her vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Harris, Sheffield Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Murphy are spending a few days at Waterville, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Irvin.

Mrs. J. A. Miller, of Bridgewater, was an over Sunday visitor in town, the guest of her brother, Mr. J. M. Newcombe.

Mrs. (Capt.) Lockhart left last Friday morning for Boston, where she was to meet her husband, who is engaged in shipping interests there.

On Friday morning last Miss Ethel Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, left for Boston, where she will spend some time before going to Toronto.

Rev. R. F. Dixon, who has been having his regular annual outing at New London, Conn., returned home on Friday last, having had an interesting and enjoyable visit.

Mr. H. P. Davidson, editor of THE ACADIAN, accompanied by Mrs. Davidson and little daughter Rosemary, left on Friday last to spend a few weeks vacation in and around Boston.

Mrs. Sidney Saunders, of Sherbrook, and Mrs. Arthur Jones, of Quebec City, who have been spending the summer at their old home here, left on Saturday morning to return to their present homes.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Woodworth left last week for a visit of some weeks to the United States. They will visit in Boston and vicinity and later go to Cleveland, Ohio, where they will visit at the home of their son.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hogan and family, formerly of Wolfville now of Suffolk, England, hope to return to this side in the near future. During their extended stay in England they have visited many historic spots and enjoyed numerous attractions.

Miss Dorothy Hennigar, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hennigar, Greenwich Ridge, left on Tuesday morning for the New England Baptist Hospital, Boston, Mass., where she will resume her training in the nursing profession.

Mrs. Laura Haliburton Moore, formerly of Wolfville but now of Parrsboro, arrived home recently from a most interesting trip of two months duration in which she visited the British Isles, France, Switzerland, Spain and Italy. She was one of a party which included Mr. P. M. Hamon, local manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and Mrs. Hamon, who was formerly Miss Moore.

Mr. F. P. Bishop, of Vancouver, B. C., was a visitor in Wolfville, his old home, last week. He arrived on Thursday evening, having motored from Digby, in company with his sister, Mrs. W. S. Pineo, of Middleton. Mr. Bishop was on a business trip to Toronto and took advantage of it to visit his mother and other relatives in this vicinity. Boyhood friends who remain were very glad of the privilege of again meeting him.

A very delightful surprise was given Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Roop on Friday evening, October 9, when about thirty-five of their friends gathered to celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. A very enjoyable evening was spent in games and music. They were presented with a silver casserole and a sum of money, also a bouquet of roses and ferns. After this dainty refreshment were served. The party broke up by singing Auld Lang Syne.

News has been received of the death of Miss Bertha E. Woodman, a former resident of this place, which took place at Cornish, Maine, at the home of her brother, John M. Woodman. The deceased, who has resided most of her life in Boston, was a daughter of the late John Woodman, of Greenwich, and a cousin of Mr. F. W. Woodman, of Wolfville. In her girlhood days she made her home in Wolfville, where she will be pleasantly remembered by the residents of that time. She has for many years been a constant reader of THE ACADIAN and has ever evinced a lively interest in the old home.

PUBLISH THE NAMES

Some clauses of Bill 148, amending the Dominion Elections Act, seek to restrict the abuses of publicity in the conduct of elections. There is no attack on the freedom of the press in the proposed amendments, and no conscientious publishers or political writers will object to them. For example:

"Every advertisement, article, notice, illustration or cartoon appearing in a newspaper, magazine, pamphlet, leaflet or other publication (and having reference to an election), if printed at the expense of any individual, firm, committee, association, society or corporation other than the individual, firm, committee, association, society or corporation which is the printer or publisher thereof, shall disclose that such advertisement, article, notice, illustration or cartoon has been or is being paid for by such individual, firm, committee, association, society or corporation, and shall bear the name and address of the person or persons paying, or agreeing to pay, for the publication thereof."

The object is to protect readers of newspapers or other forms of campaign literature. They have a right to know whether the publishers or authors of these productions are acting in good faith or are merely making the paid propaganda of others which have axes to grind. No established and reputable newspaper stoops to deception of this kind, but usually in the midst of an election there is a spate of anonymous pamphlets and leaflets for which no one

SOUR BALL EXERCISES

A plain girl looking across at a lovely friend sometimes feels her heart contract with a very material envy. She sees men drawn to the beauty as bees are drawn to honey-flowers.

She notices people turn carelessly away from the small snub-nosed daughter to the little family beauty and say, "Oh! what a darling lamb!" Yet the "darling lamb" is often already sadly spoiled and the poor little snub-nosed sister is a really sweet and unselfish mite.

It is an astounding thing how often you find the super-beauty remains unmarried. Look around on the happily married girls you know. How many of them are beautiful? I have known ever so many plain women whose husbands adored them.

I have known beauties who alienated good husbands by vanity, want of sympathy, egoism (men hate a self-centred woman), and above all by a perfect talent for whining and complaining.

You may attract a husband or a friend by your face; you can only keep him with your character.

A plain girl has many advantages. She has none of the carking fears that beset the beauty about "losing her looks". She is free from rivalry and petty jealousies. She laughs at wrinkles.

To her the first grey hair is a joke, not a tragedy, and she knows that as she grows older she will probably become far more comely.

Beauty, my dear plain girl, is only skin deep; but so is ugliness. You can easily spoil the former, while the latter can be improved out of all knowledge.

Set to work to make people forget you are plain. Think beauty; for your sub-conscious mind will act upon the thoughts you give it and will gradually transform your looks if you give it nothing but harmony and sympathy and cheerfulness to work with.

Learn to smile. Stand in front of your glass and think of all the things that annoy you; then think of something lovely that has happened to you—for beautiful things often happen to plain girls.

Set to work to transmute your absence of good looks into the presence of charm. Cultivate a beautiful speaking voice. Take the trouble to please.

INCREASE OF DAIRY EXPORTS In the seven months this year ending with July, according to the Dairy and Cold Storage Branch News Letter, Canada supplied the United Kingdom with 4,927,266 pounds of butter compared with 154,224 pounds in the same period last year and 40,458,544 pounds of cheese compared with 20,153,504 pounds in 1924.

The Smoking Flax

By ROBERT STEAD

Then, one evening, just as he came home to his boarding house from the printing shop, a telegram was placed in his hand. He looked at it curiously, signed for it, and carried it to his room. It was a new and somewhat important experience; never before had he received a telegram. On his way upstairs he began to associate it with Celesta. Perhaps she was coming home; perhaps he was to meet her at the train! He took the last three steps at a bound.

In his room he tore open the envelope. The upper part of the sheet was a series of unintelligible characters, but the central sentence leapt out at him. "Your sister very sick in private hospital here wants you."

It was a moment before Cal grasped its significance. When he read it again he saw it was signed by a Doctor Anson, and an address was given.

The boy walked to the window and looked out on the quiet street, filled with the glory of September. But he saw nothing of the glory now, for a tremendous fear was clutching at his heart. "Celesta! Celesta!" The name came dry from his lips. Could there be a word—could there be life—without Celesta?

There was time to catch the evening train, and he fortunately had a few dollars in his pocket. He packed the battered club bag handed down by Dr. Beach, told the landlady he would be gone for a day or two, and hurried away.

It was midnight when he reached the city. Clamorous cab drivers barked for his bag and his patronage, and not knowing which street car to take, he parted with a dollar to be driven to his address. It proved a large but dingy house, once the residence of a prosperous family, but now reduced to the status of a sort of boarding house for sick persons. By the dim light of a porch lamp he pressed the bell, and waited.

After a considerable period the door was opened by a young woman in nurse's uniform. "I am the only one on night duty," she explained, as she showed him into a little office off from the main hall. "I was busy with a patient and could not come at once to the door. Dr. Anson, of course, does not live in at nights."

Cal was conscious of an odor of disinfectants and an oppressive sense of being among the sick. "I am sorry to trouble you at such an hour," he said, "but I got Dr. Anson's telegram just in time to catch the night train. I am Cal Beach."

The nurse regarded him with interest, but the name did not appear to carry any suggestion to her mind. "Yes, Mr. Beach? And what can we do for you?"

"It is about my sister. She is here, and very sick. Dr. Anson telegraphed me to come at once." As though to support his statement he produced his telegram.

"What is her name?" the nurse inquired. "Celesta Beach. Spelled B-e-a-c-h."

"Beach? I don't remember any Beach." She turned to a register and scanned a couple of pages. Finally, "No Celesta Beach here."

"But there must be," Cal insisted. "She is my sister." The nurse ran a pencil through her hair and puckered her lips as though studying a deep puzzle. "What is she like?" she asked at length.

"She is young—about twenty—and looks a bit like me," said Cal, blushing a little at the reference to his personal appearance.

"Pretty?" the nurse suggested. Cal wondered how a nurse could be frivolous in the presence of sickness, but his color deepened a trifle under her eyes. "I shouldn't tease," she continued, suddenly, penitently. "Let me see—"

"Nurse Rooke pondered a moment. "Mrs. Raymond has been asking for her brother," she said, "and I believe Dr. Anson did wire for someone. But, of course, she couldn't be your sister."

"No—no. My sister is not married, and her name is Celesta Beach."

"Better come along with me," said the sophisticated nurse, springing up quickly under the impetus of a sudden idea. "Strange things happen in hospitals."

Cal followed her with a sense that he was groping vaguely. He was conscious mainly of the hospital smell and the shuffle of his feet on the silenced floors.

Nurse Rooke led him into a room. On the bed a woman was lying, her face pale, worn; her eyes closed; her dark hair braided and falling about her cheeks. She stirred with a sense of their presence.

"What is the matter?" Celesta's eyes swept the little room. The nurse had gone. Then the lids fell, and, as he watched, Cal saw little pools of water gather through her lashes. "Celesta, dear," he whispered, "tell me."

"It isn't easy telling," she said at length, in a voice so low he hardly could hear it. "I wonder what you will think. Look."

Gently she turned down the coverlet and Cal got a vision of a little pink head, with eyes prodigiously puckered against the light, and a little pink fist clutched and groping.

"Celesta! Married!... Who is this Raymond?" Again she closed her eyes. "I am not married, Cal," she murmured. "There is no Raymond."

The boy staggered to a chair, dazed by the terrific, unexpected blow. When he did not speak, she continued in a voice that was all pleading and yet had in it a note of challenge, almost of defiance—the voice of the self-willed Celesta: "Try not to think too bitterly of me, Cal. I won't be here long. The doctor says—something wrong—I will not get better."

He was at her side again. "I do not think bitterly of you, Celesta. But... but..." His voice failed. Then, his cheek against hers, "Tell me, Celesta."

"It's not much to tell. I loved him. I thought he was a god. I neglected you for him. I gave up everything for him. Then—he persuaded me to leave you, that our secret might be kept. He made me great promises; he promised me everything. Then, at last, he—he went away. I know I am to blame, Cal. I accept my punishment, but—I loved him. He was half god, half—half devil."

"And now you hate him, as I hate him," said Cal, through his teeth. Again she turned her eyes to him. "No, Cal. I love him."

He leaned back, perplexed, confused, struggling in currents too deep for his years. "What can I do?" he demanded, after a silence.

"Will you do one thing for me?" Bring up the boy as your own, and promise he shall never know. Promise me that, Cal. And, folding her within his arms, he promised.

"Oh, it is true, Cal—it is true!" she cried, when he had released her. "See—the promise." She pointed to a motto, the only decoration that hung on the bare walls. A bruised reed shall not break, and the smoking flax shall not be quenched.

"That has been my ray of light, Cal. I have yearned to it, hung on it, all these days. His kindness which would not break the bruised reed—would it reach out to me? It has—it does, in you!" The boy took her in his arms again, and for lack of something better to say, whispered in her ear, "My bruised reed—my bruised reed!"

Finally she sent him to get a room, and a sleep. He did not see her again, alive.

Cal was fortunate enough to find a Mrs. Barnes, who had raised six boys and sent them out into the world, and whose mother heart was still unsatisfied. When Mrs. Barnes looked into the great blue eyes of Celesta's baby it was not hard to make a bargain.

"What is his name?" she asked. "Reed—Reed Beach," said Cal.

Mrs. Barnes took Cal as a boarder, as well as the baby, and Cal immediately found work in a printing office. He had made up his mind that under no circumstances would he go back to his old home. The secret of Celesta was well hid. The hospital had known her only as Mrs. Raymond. He had given his pledge for the boy's sake, and for the boy's sake, and Celesta's, and his own, that pledge he would keep though the heavens fell. The few belongings he had left at the boarding house would satisfy his small debts.

The printing office in which Cal worked was also a newspaper publishing office. Perhaps it was a romantic twist in the boy's nature, together with a certain joy which he found in expressing ideas in words, which led him to seek reportorial work. With a baby to support, he needed all the money he could earn, and night assignments presently began to supplement his weekly wage as a printer. He covered police, morgues, hotels, and got a glimpse of a life far removed from that of a professor's family and a sleepy university town.

He began to see that the tragedy which had befallen Celesta was not altogether exceptional. She had been a bruised reed; it was true, but now he moved among reeds not merely bruised, but broken.... Out of his experiences his young mind, groping for some solid philosophy of life, arrived at the conclusion that the great error for which all the world pays penalty is misdirected effort. Every human soul, he thought, is an engine which will go; the thing is to put it at useful work and save it from blowing itself, and others, to pieces....

Even this Raymond fellow—he thought of him as Raymond for lack of another name even he must have had his better qualities. It was impossible to think of the strong-willed Celesta—

It was when Reed was almost three, and giving promise of being another "tremendous" boy, as Aunt Bertie would have said, that Cal discovered

FOLKS—what is there about yourselves, your homes, your cars, etc., that, as the heading indicates, could stand a "stitch now and save you money?" Especially with winter only a few weeks ahead on the calendar?

Think! A little wise judgment now will mean so many dollars saved! How? Just run your vision over the Advertisers' messages on this page. Heed their suggestions. And patronize them!

the conceit of teaching the lad to call him "Daddy X." Daddy he was already called; the X he added in its algebraic sense, as signifying the unknown quantity.

About this time his interest in sociology excited within him a determination to resume his university studies. He re-entered college, this time with a definite purpose in view. At nights he continued his reportorial rounds to make a living for himself and the boy.

Cal recalled the proud day, now only a few months ago, when, his course completed, he had faced the world on what he considered his mission of life.

His immediate plan was to do a series of sociological studies for one of the more serious-minded magazines, and at the same time gather material for a book for popular circulation, which he hoped would not only advance his cause, but provide money with which he could continue his work. But he had barely begun on this program when Dr. Anson, in whom he had found a personal friend, vetoed it.

"It's the open air for you, my boy," he had said, after the examination; "the open air, and no more of this day and night grind. A year or two in the open, say on the prairies, and you may be all right. No more of this grind!"

"But, Doctor, my work—" "But, Cal, your life—and your boy."

The boy. Oh, yes, there was the boy! Of course, the boy.... Reed was eight now, going to school; healthy, happy; more "tremendous" than even Cal had been; whimsical; romantic; serious only in those bedtime moments when Cal reminded him of his mother Celesta, and they repeated his verse together, and he told him whence his name had come. Yes, there was the boy.

Cal had gathered his little capital about him, brought a second-hand Ford and some camping utensils, and said good-bye to the heartbroken Mrs. Barnes. And here they were.

CANNING AND VICINITY

Miss Daisy Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Eaton, who has spent several weeks on the continent, has accepted a position in Montreal. Miss Eaton was for many years a valued member of the office staff of Wood Bros. Ltd., Halifax. Miss Rosier, of Windsor, who accompanied Miss Eaton, will also spend the winter in Montreal, where she has accepted a position.

A marriage of interest to many was solemnized in Kamloops on Sept. 14, when Winnifred Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, of Springhill, N. S., became the bride of Freeman Eaton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Eaton, Canning. Mr. and Mrs. Eaton will reside in Duncan, B. C., where Mr. Eaton is engaged in business. Mrs. Eaton was for two years a member of the teaching staff of Upper Canard school.

Miss Jane Blanchard, Kentville, was the guest of Mrs. John Kinsman last week. Mrs. Picher has returned from visiting in Avonport, and on her return was accompanied by her cousin, Miss Florence B. West, who for three years has been Night Superintendent of the Children's Hospital, Halifax. Miss West, on her return to Halifax, will be a member of the Victorian Order of Nurses. The Mission Circle of Union Church, Canning, held a very successful supper in the vestry of the church on Friday evening. The tables were very attractive with flowers and a bevy of pretty girls assisted in serving a supper which was all that could be desired. Those assisting were Mrs. R. W. Neary, Misses Erna Goldsmith, Frances Goldsmith, Olive Eaton, Geraldine Melvin, Ceva North, Kathleen Wyre, Ruby Borden, Alice Holt, Amy Webster, Florence Eaton, Dr. Thomas W. Hodgson and William Mullett. The officers are President—Miss Erna Goldsmith; Secretary—Miss Kathleen Wyre. The proceeds amounted to nearly $36.00.

The funeral of the late Charles Manning DeWitt was held from his late home, Blomidon, on Wednesday, Oct. 7, at 2.30 p.m., conducted by Rev. W. G. Hiesler. Music was rendered by the church choir, assisted by W. B. Burdidge, Canning. The pall bearers were Messrs B. L. Jackson, J. Bennett, H. Greene, George Woolaver. The floral offerings were very beautiful and included: Pillow—family; Spray—Mrs. H. A. Reid; George DeWitt and family; Flowers—Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Jackson, Mrs. E. B. Lyons, Miss Ellen Woolaver; Sheaf—George Fordham family, Halifax. The remains were laid to rest in Pereau.

There will be a Grand Closing Sale at the Millinery Parlors, Canning, N. S., beginning at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, Sept. 17th. Everything must be sold by Nov. 10th. Lovely Velvet Hats, present price $8.00 to $12.00, now selling at $6.00; and $5.00 to $8.00 at $4.00. All Felt Hats at $3.50 and $2.00. Velours at $8.00, also $7.50 and $8.00 Velours at $5.50. Velvet Flowers, Feathers and Ribbons greatly reduced; and DON'T FORGET our Chummy Umbrella Contest, which started October 1st and closes at 8.30 o'clock on the evening of October 31st. You must be there promptly on the hour if you want to have—this EVER NEEDFUL Gift.

The High School students held a surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Meek in honor of the birthday of their daughter, Miss Clara Meek, who was presented with a beautiful French ivory brush and comb. A delightful evening was spent. Rev. Gordon C. Brown conducted divine service in Christ church, Canning, on Sabbath morning, and in the evening conducted service at Kingsport. Rev. W. G. Hiesler preached in Pereau Baptist church on Sabbath morning, and the Sunday School services held in the United Baptist church were led by Mr. Warren Eaton. The attendance was large.

Mrs. Vickery is spending a few weeks at her former home in Diligent River. Mrs. Robert Noble, Toronto, who is well known in the valley, and who broke her hip by falling a year ago, has completely recovered. Mrs. Spurr Woodworth has returned from visiting her sister at Billtown. Miss Edna Sandford is spending a few weeks in Upper Canard, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dickie. Canning orchestra met at the home of Mrs. Charles Sinnett on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Graves, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Owen Graves, were guests at the Waverley last week. Rev. L. P. Archibald and Mrs. Archibald were visitors in town last week. Miss Leah Harris, Kentville, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harris. Mrs. Schurman Belcher has been a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robie Eaton. The Boy Scouts, Scoutmaster, Dr. Thomas W. Hodgson, met in the vestry of the United church on Friday evening and held an interesting and helpful meeting.

The Sewing Circle of Union church held an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred West. At the close of the afternoon a social hour was spent over the tea-cups. The Working Band of Union church was entertained on Tuesday evening by Mrs. Hardy Vaughan, an interesting and pleasant evening being spent. Mrs. Eugene Parker entertained the Sewing Circle of the Union church, a ten cent tea being served, which was much enjoyed. Mrs. W. B. Burdidge was the hostess at a meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the United church, president, Mrs. Arnon Bigelow, in the chair. Mrs. Aimee gave an interesting address on Missionary Endeavor in the West, and Mrs. Arnon Bigelow described the work of the Japanese in Vancouver. The afternoon was a very enjoyable one.

Mr. Walter Leadbetter and Mr. Andrew Marshall, Springhill, were guests last week of the Waverley. The Community garden, planted by Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Burdidge, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis, is still a source of great pleasure to the town. This spot is a bit of home mission work, as the holder after viewing these beauties of nature cannot fail to lift his heart to the "Giver of all blessings". The ill and shut-ins, as well as community gatherings have been made the happier by contributions from this lovely spot. Mr. and Mrs. General McElhinney were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harris. The Missionary Society of the Union church met at the home of Mrs. Newton

Eaton, president, Mrs. Arnon Bigelow, presiding. The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Bigelow and the discussion of the study book by Mrs. James Kennedy and Mrs. A. N. Neary. Mrs. Leander Eaton, was appointed to take the place of Mrs. Alfred Ellis, who is spending the winter in Halifax and who will be greatly missed in the work of the church.

Mrs. Arnon Bigelow entertained the Women's Missionary Society of Union church, president, Mrs. Bigelow, presiding. The devotional exercises were led by the president and the study class was in charge of Mrs. R. W. North and Mrs. N. Neary. At the close a social hour was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Henry, L. Walter Castle, Pa., Thomas A. Clarke, Newcastle, W. Baker, Middleton, F. C. Neville, J. P. Graham, Halifax, Josephine Dominic, Althea Dominic, Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins, New York City, John Root, Charles Bates, N. Y., W. E. Whitehead, Truro, Verne Miller, Halifax, were guests last week at the Waverley.

Mr. Joseph Morgan, St. John, was on a business trip to Canning last week. The Debt Destroying League of United Baptist church held an interesting meeting last week, which was well attended.

The Mission Circle girls of the Union church met at the home of Mrs. R. W. North on Wednesday afternoon, the president, Miss Erna Goldsmith, presiding. The devotional services were led by the president, and a vocal solo by Miss Kathleen Wyre was much enjoyed.

The Harvest Festival service in the Union church was a very beautiful one. The offerings of the first fruits of our land were banked in profusion and in the back ground were rare and lovely flowers intermingled with autumn leaves. The service was conducted by the pastor, Dr. Thomas Hodgson, and was a fine exposition of the text, "The harvest truly is plentiful but the laborers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He send forth laborers into His harvest". Special music was rendered by the choir, leader, Mrs. Charles Sinnett; and a vocal solo, by Mr. Gerald McElhinney, "Consider the Lilies of the Field", was a sermon in itself. The contribution, which was for the benefit of the Jost Mission, was a very generous and varied one.

William Payzant, Burnell Eaton, Bertram Newcombe, Miss Lou Covert, and Miss Ruth Harris, of Acadia, spent the week end at their homes.

Miss Phyllis Borden, who has been a guest at the Waverley for two weeks, has returned to Avonport.

Mrs. Picher is spending a vacation at her home in Avonport.

Mr. and Mrs. Oxley Steele were guests during Chautauqua of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKeen.

Mr. Otto Schafheitlin has purchased the residence of Mr. Frank Wright, who with his family has moved to Caledonia. Mr. and Mrs. Wright will be much missed.

Dr. F. F. Chute and Mrs. Chute have returned from Berwick.

Dr. Benjamin Rand, who on his return from England spent a week in town, guest of his brother, Mr. Fenwick Rand, and Mrs. Rand, returned to Harvard University on Wednesday.

Rev. Mr. Robertson, Chester Basin, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Ward, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Dickie are spending a vacation in Boston.

Miss Ada Reynolds has returned from visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dickie, Upper Canard.

Rev. L. P. Archibald preached a fine discourse to a large congregation in Community Hall on Sabbath evening.

LOWER CANARD A farewell service was held in the Baptist church, Lower Canard, on Sunday evening, Oct. 11, in honor of Rev. Wilfred A. Burdidge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leander Burdidge, who is the first missionary to be appointed to the foreign field under the United Church of Canada. Rev. Wilfred Burdidge, who has for the past year been the beloved pastor of the United church, Grand Pre, leaves Nov. 29, from Vancouver, for work in Korea. The service was presided over by Deacon Walter Eaton, owing to the unavoidable absence of the pastor, Rev. G. D. Hodgson. The church was filled with a representative audience, the Union churches of Canard and Canning having united in doing honor to one of Canard's finest sons. The opening hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name", was followed by the reading of scripture by Rev. Mr. Burdidge. Dr. Thomas W. Hodgson, who was a fellow student at Mount Allison University, was the first speaker and conveyed greetings from United church, Canning. He dwelt on the great need for workers in the foreign field and the co-operation of those who remain at home. Dr. Hodgson spoke appreciatively of Mr. Burdidge and assured him that the prayers of his people would follow him. Rev. L. P. Archibald, pastor of the United church, Upper Canard, who conveyed greetings from that church, spoke of the great need of the foreign field and the need for enthusiasm on the part of those who remained at home, and the means to carry out the work. He stressed the importance of unceasing prayer, and spoke of the honor which was Canard's in her son's response to the call of the Master. He prayed that God's blessing might rest on all who labored at home and abroad. A vocal solo was beautifully rendered by Mrs. John Sutton of St. John's church, Cornwallis, accompanist, Mr. Fred Itson, Rev. Wilfred Burdidge next expressed his deep appreciation and spoke of three pictures which lay before him: (1) Abraham going whither he knew not at the command of God. (2) Amos and his vision. (3) Christ's command to love the Lord, with all our strength, with all our heart, and with all our mind, and our neighbor as ourselves. The address was a very fine one. A vocal trio by Mrs. Fred Jackson, Miss Gertrude Eaton and Mr. Fred Eaton, added much to the beautiful service, which closed with appropriate remarks by the leader, Mr. Walter Eaton, followed by the benediction pronounced by Dr. Thomas W. Hodgson.

KINGSFORT

The Women's Institute was entertained at the home of Mrs. J. D. Ellis on Friday, president, Mrs. Arthur B. Taylor, in the chair. The speaker was Rev. Mr. Gardener, Field Representative of the Maritime Home for Girls at Moncton, who made a strong appeal in the interests of the older girl, who would be safeguarded and given a chance in the Moncton home. The speaker made a deep impression and the Institute decided to contribute their part in the work by a personal canvas. Miss Freda Redden, professional nurse, gave an interesting talk on Health, Mrs. J. D. Ellis also contributing an enjoyable reading to the program. Miss Juanita Loomer presided at the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, who have spent a week in Kingsport, returned to Montreal via Halifax on Friday last.

Rev. T. C. Crosby occupied the pulpit of United church, Kingsport, at the morning and evening services.

We note that four British tourists sent out by the London "Daily Mirror" on a five days' visit have been held up at Ellis Island because their passports had not been initialed by the United States officials in London. Had the "Daily Mirror" been discriminating it would have shipped its guests via a Canadian port where officials are polite, where there are no Ellis Islands and where passports are not necessary. Our British cousins have much to learn when they come to travel in this direction.—Saturday Night.

PORT WILLIAMS AND VICINITY

Miss Marion Power, teacher, spent the week end the guest of her uncle, Mr. Robert Power, at Kentville.

Mr. M. K. Ellis spent a couple of days last week in Sydney, in the interests of the fruit business.

Rev. and Mrs. A. T. Tryes and daughter, of Sackville, N. S., spent a few days last week guests of Mrs. Alvera Fullerton, and called on several old friends.

Miss Saccie Clarke, of Woodside, returned home on Wednesday, after a fortnight's visit with her aunt, Miss Bessie Wood.

Mr. Billy Watson, of the Royal Bank staff, motored to Windsor on Sunday afternoon to spend an hour with his parents, who motored from Westville, Pictou county, Sunday morning, returning the same evening.

Mrs. A. K. Gates returned last week from a visit spent with her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Meisner, at the parsonage, Nictaux.

Miss Blanche Power, of Cambridge, returned home on Monday, after a week spent with Mrs. Sara West.

Miss Edith Murphy, with her friend, Miss Olive Greeno, both of the Wolfville Telephone Exchange, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Murphy.

Mrs. N. H. Newcombe returned home on Monday after spending a week in Bridgetown and Annapolis Royal with relatives. Her cousin, Miss Nellie Runciman, of Annapolis, returned with her for a visit.

Mrs. Kate Borden, formerly of this place, who has since her husband's death resided in Berwick, has come to board with her niece, Mrs. Ralph Newcombe. Her old friends are glad to welcome her back to Port Williams.

Mr. Robert Watson, who underwent an operation at the V. G. Hospital, Halifax, on Saturday last, is improving. His wife motored to Halifax with friends on Monday and spent a few hours with him.

Miss Wamboldt, of Halifax, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. (Rev.) Gordon Brown, at the rectory, Church Street.

The word was received here last week of the death of Mr. Havelock Meisner, at St. John. He resided here for several years and is kindly remembered by many old friends.

The Port Williams ACADIAN extends sympathy in this sad loss to the widow and family who survive.

Messrs. A. C. Murphy, Robie Murphy, Edson Griffin, and Chas. Newcombe, of the Lily of the Valley Division, accompanied Mr. Theakston, of the Grand Division, Halifax, to Canning last week and re-organized the order there, with several new as well as old members.

A "Community" supper under the auspices of the Institute was held last week in Citizens' Hall. A bountiful supply of succotash, as well as other good things, with a short program, made a very enjoyable evening, adding over $20.00 to institute funds.

This community sustained a loss in the removal by death of Miss Ella Wood, on Saturday, the 3rd inst. She was the daughter of the late M. P. Wood, and is survived by an aged mother, one sister, Miss Bessie, of Port Williams, and two brothers, Edson, at Harborville, and Creighton, at Starr's Point. She established the Wood's Maternity Hospital here several years ago, and will always be remembered with much love and respect by those who came under her care.

She was a woman of sterling character, who had the art of keeping as well as making friends. The Baptist church of which she had long been a devoted member mourn their loss. She was always ready to help one who could be depended on in any crisis. The funeral services, held in the church where she had so often worshipped, conducted by her pastor, were largely attended. The casket was covered with flowers from her S. S. class, "Loyal Workers", the W. M. A. Society and many friends. The pall bearers were four husbands of her class members—Messrs. A. B. Rand, G. A. Dodge, T. S. Lockwood, R. F. Newcombe. Interment was at Canard.

The heavy wind of Saturday night and Sunday resulted in much loss to the orchardists, some of the large orchards having seven and eight hundred barrels blown off. C. and M. K. Ellis have 39 pickers at work gathering from their large orchards. Quite a feat was performed last week at Church Street in the orchard of Mrs. Elizabeth Chase, when Edward Turner, of Lake Ramsey, picked 89 barrels of Kings, cleaning the entire trees in one day. This record is open for competition. It certainly was a more commendable feat for notoriety than that of the girl who recently lost in her third attempt to swim across the English channel. This is the third year Mr. Turner has been employed on the Chase farm.

YALE UNIVERSITY EXCLUDES 500

Students Barred Because Freshman Limit Was Reached

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 3—Approximately 500 students qualified for entrance to Yale University failed of admission, the Yale board of admissions announced here today. The board admitted 859 students, nine in excess of the class limit. The five hundred not admitted were barred because of the limit of 850 set for the freshman class by the Yale Corporation two years ago.

Of the 859 admitted, 194, or 22 per cent, qualified under the plan which provides that candidates who have completed an approved four-year course in an accredited school with certificate grade are examined in English and three other subjects of the senior year. This plan of admission meets the needs of students prepared in sections of the country where schools do not offer college preparatory courses, as in the East.

The class of '29, chosen from some 1,359 candidates, has a higher scholastic average than any previous group of Yale freshmen.
