RELIGIOUS MOVEMENT IN THE CHURCH AT LEEDS.

To the Editors of the Watchman. Leeds, August 11, 1864. GENTLEMEN,—It would no doubt be pleasing and surprising to your readers, to be informed of a work of God, which has lately taken place in connection with the Established Church in this town.

He breaks the power of concell'd sin, His blood can make the foulest clean, His blood can make the foulest clean, His blood can make the foulest clean.

which were sung kneeling, and with as much of voice and heart as the same lines had ever been uttered by the same number of persons since they were given to the world. The last two lines were repeated again and again with great feeling and emphasis. The responses in prayer were general and audible; though the deep feeling of the people was chiefly manifested in sighs, tears, and "groanings which cannot be uttered."

As to the future of this work, nothing need be said, all persons acquainted with the history of the doctrine of justification by faith, as propounded and received by Luther and Wesley and their hearers, know that when it once takes hold of a community it is a most difficult matter to suppress. As to the publication of these facts; they are occurrences remarkable in themselves, they will greatly interest the subjects of the Redeemer's kingdom, and I think their appearance in your journal will in various ways do good.

At one of their Prayer-meetings, a young clergyman, whose heart seemed full of love and zeal, spoke to a penitent in the following way, and passed for answers to his questions—'What makes you so unhappy? Do you believe that

ARRIVAL OF THE ENGLISH MAIL INCIDENTS OF THE WAR.

We have news from Varna to the 26th instant, at which date the allied fleets had not weighed anchor, although everything was ready for them to sail at a moment's notice. We are weary of discussing the motives which can induce the Commanders of the expedition to indulge in this long delay. We are now told that the fleet will not appear in the Crimea before the 1st of September. No reason is assigned for the postponement. The troops, we are assured, are suffering only in a comparatively slight degree from the effects of cholera, and are impatient for action.

Why this striking word should be delayed till the 1st of September, is more than we can possibly divine. We must of course believe that there is some good reason for it; and since the sailing of the expedition has, from some cause which nobody in England can comprehend, been deferred so long beyond the period originally assigned to it, it may now perhaps be quite as well that it should not set out upon its enterprise until its commanders have received information of the fall of Bomarsund.

To compensate himself for the loss of Bomarsund and the disaster of his army on the banks of the Danube, Nicholas has recently caused to be published throughout his dominions a flaming description of two great victories obtained by his Generals over the Turkish armies in the Trans-Caucasian provinces. For a wonder, there is some spice of truth in these imperial bulletines; but happily not much.

SAGACITY.—As an instance of Chinese sagacity in business matters, the ship Potomac was sold in San Francisco, a few months since, for $5000, to a Chinaman. She was taken to Hong Kong and there sold for $25,000. The last owner added an extra deck to the vessel, and in a single voyage from Hong Kong to San Francisco and back, cleared the sum of $97,000.

done suddenly. The days are already shortening, and a few weeks more the waters of this frigid sea will cease to be navigable. A considerable army and an almost immeasurable fleet are at this instant bottled upon its boom.

There is no longer a doubt as to the entrance of the Austrian troops into the Principalities. Official dispatches inform us that the movement commenced on the 20th instant. On that day the division of General Macchi, consisting of two brigades, entered from Hermannstadt by the pass of the Red Tower, whilst the corps under the command of Major General Burla advanced at the same time from Kronstadt.

Thus, then, one of the great objects of the long-protracted negotiations between the Western Powers and the Court of Vienna has been accomplished. Austria at length has moved; and if the slightest trust is to be placed in mere human appearances,—if the faintest confidence is to be reposed in the word of princes—this movement on the part of Austria has been made in the interests of civilization and humanity.

Into the wisdom or the soundness of that part of the policy of the Allies which has thus admitted Austria into the occupation of the Principalities we shall not now stop to inquire. Much may unquestionably be urged on both sides. It is to be presumed, however, that as the point is one which the Western Powers had long earnestly laboured to attain, the conditions upon which it has been effected are such as will ultimately found to bear a strict accordance and consistency with the general policy by which these powers are governed, and to contribute more or less directly to the early attainment of the great ends which they have in view.

Looking to the circumstances under which this movement has been made, it is impossible to regard it in any other light than as a step taken in honest concert with the Allies, and in manly opposition to the audacious pretensions of the Czar. In what view, however, does Nicholas represent it to his people? As Emperor of all the Russias and Pope of the Orthodox Greek Church, Nicholas is bound in the double capacity of King and Priest to speak the truth. How does he utter it? Let the following passage from an order of the day recently addressed to the garrison at Odessa answer.—'His Majesty the Czar has ordered in his high wisdom that the troops who had entered Wallachia and Moldavia shall withdraw from these provinces and march to the point where there is the greatest danger. To protect the Principalities against an invasion by the Turks, the ancient ally of his Majesty the Czar (Austria) has undertaken to occupy them in the meantime.' Thus, according to the representation of their supreme ruler, the Russian people are taught to believe that

Austria, in openly identifying her policy with that of Western Europe, has in fact entered the field only as the ancient friend and ally of Russia. "Circumstances," says this voracious Potentate, "render it necessary that the Russian troops should for a while be withdrawn from the Principalities, but Austria has kindly consented to occupy them in the meanwhile—to preserve them from the grasp of their rightful sovereign, the Sultan—and to restore them to Russia whenever it may be convenient to her to resume possession of them!"

What, indeed, must be the barbarous state of a nation which can be told such things? What must be the depth of depravity of a Prince who can utter such falsehoods to his own people? How is Nicholas to explain to the Emperor of Austria this abuse of address to his army and his people. What, indeed, must be the barbarous state of a nation which can be told such things? What must be the depth of depravity of a Prince who can utter such falsehoods to his own people?

Bankrupt as he already is in honour, doubt not that we shall live to see Nicholas equally bankrupt in power. The step towards his downfall may not be so far as our indignant impatience would deem; but they are not the less certain of occurrence. Pride, and a false estimate of his strength may impel him to a stubborn protracted resistance, but against the armies of Civilization, which now surround him on every side, he will but vainly oppose the ignorant and barbarian hosts whom may summon to die in his cause.

The Prussian minister is in close and confidential communication with Prince Gortschakoff.

Austria, in openly identifying her policy with that of Western Europe, has in fact entered the field only as the ancient friend and ally of Russia. "Circumstances," says this voracious Potentate, "render it necessary that the Russian troops should for a while be withdrawn from the Principality, but Austria has kindly consented to occupy them in the meanwhile—to preserve them from the grasp of their rightful sovereigns, the Sultan—and to restore them to Russia whenever it may be convenient to her to resume possession of them!" Such, in effect, is the language which Nicholas addresses to his army and his people. What, indeed, must be the barbarous state of a nation which can be told such things? What must be the depth of depravity of a Prince who can utter such falsehoods to his own people? How is Nicholas to explain to the Emperor of Austria this abuse of his name? How is he ever again to look Francis Joseph in the face? Has there ever been exhibited to mankind a more or sickening instance of moral insensibility than is shown forth in this gross imposture upon his own army and people by a Sovereign who assumes at the same time to be their religious head, leading them to a holy war? With such evidence in the face of the world, who can dare to talk of negotiations, or treaties, or compacts entered into with a hypocrite so monstrously shameless? "The Russian Government," says a public writer in commenting upon this last instance of the Czar's mendacity "seems to be absolutely unconscious of any preference for truth. Truth is often an unpleasant thing. Truth may mean defeat and disclosure; truth unmask hypocrites, and uncovers great pretenders; truth reduces the Russian battalions to half their nominal strength, shakes the granite blocks out of huge fortresses, and confines men-of-war to the docks in which they were built. Truth, indeed, may pass for the most stern and unrelenting of the Czar's enemies, for he continues to outrage her by every act of his Government, and in revenge, she is stripping off, one by one, the disguises and mock weapons which once overawed the world." With such a monarch there is but one mode of dealing, and that is to force him to give securities to keep the peace, such as neither fraud, nor guile, nor unrestricted falsehood shall enable him to violate. Wholly destitute of the highly attributes of honour and truth, he stands beyond the pale of European civilization, and must not be surprised if he finds himself subjected to the treatment of a false and dangerous barbarian. Europe, long blinded to his real character, has now a complete knowledge of the staff he is made of, and it will be her own fault if she ever again allows him to place his cold and paralyzing hand upon her own destinies, or upon the liberty and happiness of mankind at large. Bankrupt as he already is in honour, we doubt not that we shall live to see Nicholas equally bankrupt in power. The steps towards his downfall may not be so rapid as our indignant impatience would desire; but they are not the less certain of occurring. Pride, and a false estimate of his own strength may impel him to a stubborn and protracted resistance, but against the armed legions of civilization, which now surround him on every side, he will but vainly oppose the ignorant and barbarian hosts whom he may summon to die in his cause. Bismarck has already afforded an instance of the frailty of those land defences upon which he has so fondly relied; and the contemptible cowardice of his fleet, affords but a too convincing proof of his impotence upon the sea. His ablest generals and choicest troops have shamefully fled before the face of an inferior army of half-disciplined Turks; and have now to address themselves to a conflict with the mightiest military kingdoms of the earth. The result may not be manifested to-day nor to-morrow. The unavoidable delays attendant upon the completion and movement of large armaments may yield the barbarian monarch a respite of a few weeks, a few months, or even of another winter; but his ultimate doom is sealed; and Nicholas of Russia will never again speak with a voice of authority or power amongst the monarchs of Europe. The Prussian minister is in close and continued communication with Prince Gortschakoff.

THE ALLIES FIRED AT WITH SILVER BULLETS. The Apostrophe gives an account of a trip which a number of Stockholmers made to the late scene of action. On approaching the landing-place before the fortress, they found the main flag in a state of excellent preservation, with the flags of England and France flying above it. A guard of French military remained on the beach with every civility. Of Bismarck there is nothing left but the fortress itself, and a well before it with a shell over it. It is stated that the Russians, toward the last, loaded their muskets with silver bullets, cut up into pieces. Opinions differed as to whether this had been done from any superstitious motive, or from a desire to put the military about beyond the power of their captors. The latter view is favored by the circumstance that a quantity of specie has been discovered scattered in the earth. If it be correct that while the stock of provisions found in the fortress was sufficient for a year, the store of ammunition was very scanty, we should be led to infer that silver had been used as a makeshift for lead in the absence of balls. French soldiers and also Alanders mention that the Finland sharpshooters were the most incessant of all the garrison at the capitulation having been made, and that they broke or injured their firearms before giving them up. THE FIRE AT VARNA.—The fire at Varna broke out in several places at one and the same time. Several of the Greek incendiaries have already been shot. A Fatal Steamboat Explosion recently occurred on the Missouri river, which resulted, as usual, in great destruction of human life. From 17 to 20 persons were killed, including all the passengers who were on board at the time. The boat was named the Timour No. 2, and the force of the explosion made a complete wreck of her. COLONIAL. MILITARY.—We learn that the 76th Regiment and the Artillery now stationed in this Province, are to be withdrawn forthwith, and the Province will probably be left henceforth to provide its own defenders. It is not unlikely, however, that a Company of the 76th may be left in barracks here, to look after the public works and military stores, until other arrangements are made. The military stores at Fredericton and St. Andrews, will be brought here, and the necessity of a guard at those places will be spared. The withdrawal of the small number of soldiers stationed here, will scarcely be noticed; but the removal of the head quarters, band, and staff from Fredericton, will be felt in that community, as also by the farmers in the vicinity, who thus lose some of their best customers. The Quebec Morning Chronicle of the 1st inst., says the 20th Regiment is not to remain in Canada, but will be removed to Bermuda this year. The troop-ship Resistance is on her way to the West Indies for the 16th Regiment, which is to be brought from Jamaica to relieve the 20th in the garrison at Quebec. The 16th, the Royal Canadian Rifle Regt., and one company of Artillery will constitute the whole regular force of Canada.—New Brunswick. AUSTRIA AND PRUSSIA. VIENNA, August 31.—New proposals have been made by Russia, which will involve new negotiations. Letters of the 29th, from Berlin, say that Austria has so far accepted the Russian proposals as to have countermanded the further movement of troops. The subscription to the Austrian Loan is closed for a month. It amounts to nearly 500,000,000 of florins. DESTRUCTION OF HANGO. DANZIG, Sept. 1.—The Huller has just arrived, having left the allied fleet on the 26th ult. at Ledson. Hango has been destroyed by the Russians. The French forces have not yet left Bismarck. General Baraguay d'Hilliers, General Jones, and Admiral Deuchon, have had a look into Heligoland. The passage to Abo is found to be extremely narrow, and it is probable that the fortress will not be attacked. The French had lost 600 men by cholera. Telegraphic advices from Stockholm state that the Russians are raising a new battalion of rifles in Finland, to supply the loss of the garrison of Bomarsund. ATTEMPTED NEGOTIATIONS AT VIENNA. Telegraphic dispatches from Vienna show that diplomacy is at the present moment very active in the Austrian capital. The expected message had arrived from St. Petersburg. Prince Gortschakoff was holding out new expectations and promises to Austria, even going the length of pretending his master's readiness to accept the four conditions laid down in the notes exchanged between England, France, and Austria, on the 26th, in order to induce negotiations; it is reported, however, that the new Russian propositions are illusive, and imply the maintenance of a peculiar Russian protectorate in Turkey under a changed form. Nevertheless they are, it is said, entertained by Austria, and are likely to figure in Count Buel's next notes to the Western Courts. Gen. Baraguay d'Hilliers had a narrow escape from a cannon ball it having passed between him and his side-camp, with whom he was conversing. The Russian steamer Vladimir had called briefly at the coaling station at Koshon, coaled, destroyed two Turkish brigs, and escaped safely to the open sea. There is nothing from the Black Sea fleet. The statement is, that the expedition to the Crimea is only temporarily delayed until the cholera abates among the troops. On the Danube no charge has occurred in the position of affairs. Bucharest is quiet in the occupation of the Turks. The cholera has considerably abated at Varna, Shumla and Constanti-nople. It had been fearfully destructive among the French. Considerable excitement existed at Berlin, on account of the boats of the allied squadron having been discovered taking soundings in the Prussian port of Memel. The French government has made contracts at Dantzic for winter supplies for the French fleet in the Baltic. The weather continued very fine in England. Every where plentiful crops were reported—the farmers not making complaints as to quality or quantity. The promising state of the harvest, had given great confidence and firmness to the spinners and manufacturers. Prices of Breadstuffs were rapidly falling. The London Times avows, that wheat is 20s. less a quarter than it was at the same time last year. A Fatal Steamboat Explosion recently occurred on the Missouri river, which resulted, as usual, in great destruction of human life. From 17 to 20 persons were killed, including all the passengers who were on board at the time. The boat was named the Timour No. 2, and the force of the explosion made a complete wreck of her. THE DEVIL-FISH.

A specimen of this rare sea monster seen in the harbor of Charleston, has been secured in the Museum of the College of this city, and now have the opportunity of seeing a specimen of Southern waters, whose name is a name of horror to the fisherman.

Devil, or Devil-Fish, belongs to the class of fish, and to the family of the Squalidae, and is a member of the genus Squalus, commonly called the shark.

It is found in the Atlantic States, but is most abundant in the Gulf of Mexico, where it is found in the well-known Chesapeake Bay, the Whip-sting Bay, the Florida Bay, and many others.

It is a voracious and great eater; and is said to feed on the wings, and nibble the fins of other fish, and to devour the small fish, shrimps and cuttle fish, and many other small animals.

The Renowned Remedy: HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. A MOST ASTONISHING CURE OF SCROFULOUS ULCERS—A CASE CERTIFIED BY THE MAYOR OF BOSTON.

Copy of a Letter from J. Smith, Esq., Mayor of Boston, dated January 18th, 1864.

To Professor HOLLOWAY. Dear Sir, Mrs. Sarah Dixon, of Liverpool street, Boston, has this day deposited before me that for a considerable period she was severely afflicted with Scrofulous Sores and Ulcers in her arms, feet, legs, and other parts of her body; and although the first of medical advice was obtained, at the cost of a large sum of money, she obtained no abatement of suffering, but gradually grew worse.

Being recommended by a friend to try your Ointment, she procured a small pot, and a box of the Pills, and before that was all used, symptoms of amendment appeared. By persevering with the medicine for a short time longer, according to the directions, and strictly adhering to your rules, as to diet, &c., she was perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health.

I remain, Dear Sir, yours truly, (Signed) J. NOBLE. Dated August 12th, 1863.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Smith, of Great Yarmouth, dated January 18th, 1864.

To Mr. Dixon. Dear Sir, I send you the particulars of a cure effected by Professor Holloway's invaluable medicine.—Mr. John Walton, late in Her Majesty's Service, in the British Fleet at Malta, had a very bad ulcerated angle, and after having been in the Malta Hospital for six months, was sent to England as an invalid to Portsmouth Hospital, where he remained an inmate four months, there, as at Malta, refusing to have the limb amputated, he was turned out incurable. He then came to Yarmouth, and was under a medical gentleman for about three months, but his sores became so much worse that all hope was lost.

At this period, by my advice, he tried Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which, by prompt application, healed all the sores, and restored him to perfect health and strength.

I remain, Dear Sir, yours truly, (Signed) JOHN SMITH. Albert Hotel, Great Yarmouth.

SURPRISING CURE OF A BAD BREAST, HERVOUS DEBILITY, AND GENERAL ILL HEALTH.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. T. F. Kerr, Chemist, &c., Lower Mac-Jane, Manchester, dated February 12th, 1863.

To Professor HOLLOWAY. Dear Sir, I have great pleasure in forwarding to you the particulars of a very extraordinary cure of a bad breast, effected solely by the use of your celebrated Ointment and Pills.

Dear Sir, I had great pleasure in forwarding to you the particulars of a very extraordinary cure of a bad breast, effected solely by the use of your celebrated Ointment and Pills. Mr. Martha Bell, of Pitt street, in this town, had been for a considerable time laboring under nervous debility, loss of appetite, and general ill health, occasioned by diseased breasts in the breast. She had had much experience in the use of all the known remedies for the cure of ulcers, but without any beneficial result; in fact she had nearly lost all faith and hope of a cure being effected. In this distressing and painful condition of body and mind, she was persuaded to have recourse to your invaluable Ointment and Pills, which she immediately did, and in the course of a very short time the effect produced was most astonishing; her appetite was speedily improved, and the sores and ulcers in the breast gradually healed, and the nervous excitement of her system was wholly removed.

World's Fair PRIZE MEDAL SOAPS! THE HIGHEST PREMIUM HAS BEEN AWARDED by the Mechanics' Fair, Boston; American Institute, New York; and World's Fair, Crystal Palace; to E. C. & CO., Boston, Mass., for the best Toilet Soap, Cream and Perfumery. Book & Co. manufacture every variety of Toilet Soap unexcelled and of the highest and most admired perfume.—Cylinder Cream of Soap, for Ladies; Parfumerie Shaving Cream; Parfumerie Shaving Cream for Travellers convenience; Military Shaving Soap.

Highly perfumed Brown Windsor. White Windsor and Toilet Soap. Mrs. Parlington's Toilet Soap. This beautiful TOILET SOAP, possessing in its composition the combined virtues of the vegetable kingdom to cleanse, purify and perfume, is by permission dedicated to Mrs. Parlington by her own merit.

Boston, January, 1864. Gentlemen.—The education of your beautiful and fragrant soap to me, as a mark of esteem, is very pleasant. From my experience in soaps and hair oils, for forty years that I have made soap, I must say that I never made any half as good and I will recommend it to my young friends all over the world for their toilet table.

her RYAN M. PARLINGTON. Boston, Jan. 1864. Also, Extract Perfumes for the Handkerchief—which, for delicacy of fragrance and lasting odor, are pronounced by Chemists and those who have tested them to be superior to the best imported article.

Purified Ox-Mercury with Ess. of Rosemary—for preserving and dressing the Hair. This article is so prepared as not to become rancid, and is free after being put on the hair from all disagreeable odor. For preventing the Hair, restoring it where bald places appear, and causing it to retain beauty and lustre to old age.

Dr. J. C. Colman's Colicuta Ambra.—An article that has gained a reputation by the really excellent qualities it possesses for the purposes intended. Patient care is taken in PREPARATIONS FOR THE TEETH. Experience has proved that the most efficacious to remove the animalcules from the Teeth is a paste chemically prepared in soap—and to meet the wants of those who prefer clean teeth and firm Gums, in their Soporific Tooth Paste an article that has achieved the highest success from scientific Doctors and Physicians.

Also Cooking Extracts, for flavoring Pastries, Jellies, etc., etc., which will be found pure in their nature, and such as will suit the taste of the most delicate. Also—Boston Chemical Washing Powder—admired because it makes washing easy and pleasant.

PROCLAMATION TO THE Good People of F. E. I. PROBABLY there is not a family in your Province but what some members of it are more or less afflicted by Humors or Chronic Affections. As a remedy for these various complaints, there are numerous preparations brought into the market, but all of them of little or no good. But there is a discovery which has recently been made in chemical analysis—all from men holding the highest offices the people of the United States can give—that the medicine will do just what it is recommended. It is SCOTT'S HEMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE. The medicine is compounded from the Vegetable Kingdom and may be used by any person without injurious consequences. By a wise choice and combination of some of the best of each class of co-operative, simple remedies, it fully reaches all the essential organs of the human system and there it has proved itself so effectually curative of the whole round of chronic affections.

Over two million bottles have been sold in the north and west during the last five years. Three to five bottles is warranted to cure the worst case of Erysipelas. Two bottles will check the worst case of Dyspepsia. Three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Rheumatism. Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of Scrophula. One to two bottles is guaranteed to cure the worst kind of Pimples on the Face. Two to three bottles is warranted to cure the worst case of Ring Worms. Three bottles are a certain remedy for the Piles. Five bottles will cure the worst case of Gonorrhoea. Three to five bottles has never failed to cure the worst case of Liver Complaint. Five bottles will cure the worst case of Cough, Consumption, General Debility, Asthma, &c., &c.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no superior. We could give hundreds of cases where the cure was truly wonderful, but we request all to get a pamphlet and read the hundreds of certificates of its cures. Price $1.00 per bottle. General Agent for F. E. I., W. R. WATSON. Sold also by M. W. SKINNER.

Washing made easy and Pleasant BY THE USE OF SCOTT'S Chemical Washing Powder.

THIS Powder, prepared by a practical Chemist, is a superior article for Washing Clothes. The process of using is simple and easy, and cleanses without injury to the finest fabric. One package of this Powder will make two gallons of soft soap, superior in quality for all domestic uses.

Directions on each package of the Powder made into soft soap for removing grease spots from woollen clothes and carpets.

AYER'S PILLS. FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC.

Terms long extended a public demand for an effective purgative pill which could be relied on as safe and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown what success it accomplishes the purpose designed. It is easy to make a physical pill, but not easy to make the best of all pills—one which should have none of the objections, but all the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public decision. It has been unfortunate for the patient hitherto that almost every purgative medicine is unwholesome and irritating to the bowels. This is not. Many of them produce so much griping pain and revulsion in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them. These pills produce no irritation or pain, and are perfectly safe in their use in any case; but it is better that any medicine should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use in the several diseases to which they are applicable are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them, we may mention Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Jaundice, Indigestion, Langour and Loss of Appetite, Flatulency, Irritability, Bilious Headache, Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Pains in the Side and Loins; for, in truth, all these are but the symptoms of a diseased action in the liver. As an aperient, they afford prompt and sure relief in Constipation, Piles, Dropsy, Humors, Scour, Stomach and Scoury Colic with soreness of the bowels, and impurity of the blood; in short, may and every case where a purgative is required.

They have also produced some singularly successful cures in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel, Sciatica, Palpitation of the Heart, Pains in the Head, Stomach, and Sides. They should be freely taken in the spring of the year, to purify the blood and prepare the system for the change of season. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, and restores the appetite and vigor. They purify the blood, and by their stimulant action on the circulatory system, reinvigorate the strength of the body, and restore the wasted or diseased energies of the whole organism. Hence an occasional dose is advantageous, even though no serious derangement exists; but unnecessary dosing should never be carried too far, as every purgative medicine reduces the strength, when taken to excess. The thousand cases in which a purgative is required cannot be enumerated here, but they suggest themselves in the reason of every body; and it is confidently believed that this pill will answer a better purpose than any thing which has hitherto been available to mankind. When their virtues are once known, the public will no longer refuse what remedy to employ when in need of a cathartic medicine.

INTERESTING SELECTIONS.

Coal... President of the Mechanics' Institute, at Washington, says: "It has been proved that, on an average, four ounces of coal are sufficient to draw on a railroad, one ton a mile. It has also been found on experiment that a man working on a tread mill, continually for eight hours, will elevate one and one-half millions of pounds one foot high. Now, Cornish engines will perform the same work by the expenditure of a pound and a half of coal. It follows from these data that about five tons of coal would evolve as much power during its combustion as would be equal to the continued labour of an able bodied man for twenty years, at the rate of eight hours per day or, in other words, to the average power of a man during the active period of life.

GREAT WHEAT COUNTRY.—The Burr Oak says that 1,000,000 bushels of wheat will be raised in Dodge County, Wisconsin, this year. It is also certain that there are thousands of acres that will yield from fifty to sixty bushels to the acre.

USEFUL INVESTIGATION.—The Legislature of New York, at its last session, placed $1000 in the hands of the New York State Agricultural Society, to be expended in making an examination and description of the insects of the State, injurious to vegetation.

DE QUINCY.—A contemporary thus describes this celebrated and brilliant writer: "He is one of the smallest-legged, smallest-bodied, most attenuated of the human form divine, that one could meet in a crowded city during a day's walk. And if one adds to this figure, clothes neither fashionably cut nor fastidiously adjusted, he will have a tolerable idea of De Quincy's outer man. But his brow, that pushes his obtuse hat to the back of his head, and his light grey eyes that do not seem to look out, but to be turned inward, sounding the depths of his imagination, and searching out the mysteries of the most abstruse logic, are something that you would search a creek to find the mines to, and then you would be disappointed. De Quincy now resides at Lasswade, a romantic rural village, once the residence of Sir Walter Scott, about seven miles from Edinburgh, Scotland, where an affectionate child watches him, and where he is the wonder of the country for miles around.

PILLAR DOLLARS.—We learn from the London Economist that the Chinese have erected a mint in Canton for coining Spanish pillar dollars of "Charles the fourth, 1778." This coin is the standard of the Chinese, and the scarcity has induced them to coin it, which is rather a novelty in mintage, thus re-producing old dated coins. The pillar dollars have always commanded a premium with the Chinese, though intrinsically worth less than the Mexican dollar.

CAUTION TO PERSONS USING CHOLERA PREVENTIVES.—We are informed that no less than eight persons have been admitted into the Lonsdale Asylum in a state of insanity, occasioned by consuming large quantities of camphor to prevent cholera. Some of them carried it about in their pockets, and kept from time to time eating small quantities of it. Others took it dissolved in brandy. In all cases where it was taken in any quantity it produced insanity. It is a fact well known, that a comparatively small quantity of camphor will set a dog mad; and that he will soon afterwards die. The public cannot be too cautious in the use of this and other cholera preventives.—Colonist.

A TRIFLING MISTAKE.—D. C. Whitwood, being in Buffalo awaiting the arrival of some machinery, was expecting a despatch to the following purport: "The blocks will arrive to-night!" This despatch was sent by mistake to Mr. Whitehead, who happened to be a very warm abolitionist, who gathered together an immense crowd to receive the blacks, and was intensely disgusted when he discovered his blacks were only blocks.

Notice to Travellers.

It has become an established fact that accidents will happen notwithstanding the care and attention which may be paid to the safety and convenience of travellers. Explosions will take place, bridges will be left open, and cars run off the track as usual. It is well enough for the public and legislators to caution companies to "be careful," and "take heed," yet these cautions will occur, which will carry a bottle of it with them when they are travelling.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment.

Upon such occasions, is invaluable! The wonderful effects of its soothing and healing properties have induced many, who have tried it, to always carry a bottle of it with them when they are travelling. Frequent tests have proven it to be efficacious in curing Rheumatism, Piles, Scalding sores, Chancres, Ulcers, Old Sores, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, &c. Also Sprain, Ring-bone, Scalds, Croup, Hoarseness, Chafes, &c., on Horses and other animals. It is external in its application, and we GUARANTEE it to cure PERMANENTLY in every case for which we recommend it.

Twelvemonths Brothers' Soap Powder

(an entirely new invention.) IS the cheapest, softest, best, and most effectual of all washing powders, a packet of which is equal to ten Pennyworth of Soap! The saving of Time and Labour is so astonishingly great, that a WIFE'S WASHING can be accomplished BEFORE BREAKFAST—no rubbing being required. This wonderful Article is MORE SERVICEABLE THAN SOAP, as it produces a better and much quicker lather, and is adapted for purposes for which Soap cannot be easily or effectually used. It will not injure the hands, or the most delicate material; but whilst it is incomparable for permanent whitening Linens, &c., after they have become discoloured by age, or injured by bad washing, it is also unsurpassed for improving the colors of FLANNELS, BLANKETS, WOOLLENS, COLORED PRINTS, MUSLINS and LACE. A manufactory exists in the Department of the Finistere, France, where a powder, or what may be called a guano is made from fish. The fish undergoes a kind of cooking by steam, after which it is dried and pulverised. It requires 455 pounds of fish to produce 100 pounds of the powder, which forms an admirable manure.
