"BEAVER" FLOUR

is both a Bread Flour and a
Pastry Flour

The perfect flour is the one that combines the good qualities of Ontario and Western wheat. This is exactly what "Beaver" Flour does. It is a blend of best Ontario fall wheat with a little Western wheat to add strength. "Beaver" Flour is equally good for Bread and Pastry—it has the real home made flavor that western flours lack. CHAPTER XXXVII.

He leaped on his horse and rode away at the risk of his neck. His soul was in a tumult; the thought of the risk he was running, of Nora restored to him only to be snatched away again, filled him with sorrow and apprehension one moment; the realization of Senley Tyers' vile treachery drove him half mad the next. As he reached the high road, he saw a drover, and inquired of him the way to the Grange, and made for it at racing speed.

When he pulled up at the entrance to the house the horse was covered with foam-flecked sweat; his clothes were spattered with mud, some of which had fallen on his face, which was white and drawn. He flung the reins to a groom and went quickly up the steps and into the hall. Several persons were there; the bride-maids and visitors asked down for the wedding; and they stared, with good reason, at his appearance. A pretty kind of bridegroom he looked!

"Florence—Lady Florence!" he said, and his voice sounded hoarse as a raven's.

They gathered round him in astonishment and alarm.

"Has anything happened?" asked some one.

Before he could answer, Lady Florence looked over the stairs and called to him:

"Vane!"

He fought hard for composure, and forced a smile.

"Nothing has happened," he said. "I—I have been kept. An accident—I mean—"

He strode up the stairs with the gait and air of a man repressing a terrible excitement.

She looked at him and uttered a faint cry.

"Vane, something is the matter!" And her face went white.

"No, no!" he said. "I want to speak to you. Don't be frightened, Florence. Yes, something has happened. I must tell you without the loss of a moment."

She led him by the hand she still held into a small room, a kind of

He started. She rose and stretched out her hand.

"Do it at your peril!" Then her mood changed, and she flung herself upon him and strained him to her.

"Vane! Vane! I can not give you up, I can not let you go—I can not!" He strove to unclasp her hands gently.

"Florence, Florence! for God's sake! This is madness. I have told you—I could not help but tell you! I have only just seen her to-day—"

"It was she for whom you were grieving. It was the loss of her that made you ill!" she panted, with quick intuition and with a shudder.

He hung his head.

"Don't ask me any more questions. For God's sake, let me go—let us part now!"

"Never!" she cried, hoarsely. "You are mine! mine! You belong to me, not to her! Who is she that she should come between us? I am almost your wife. A few hours—Vane, you will not leave me! You shall not!"

He groaned and tried to soothe her.

"You shall decide, Florence," he said, hoarsely. "I have promised that you shall decide. I would not marry you with a lie on my soul, my lips. I have wronged you. I know that. I wish I were dead! I have wronged you, but she—she has been wronged more cruelly than I have—and my first thought—forgive me—must be of her."

She breathed hard.

"Tell me her name!"

He set his teeth hard.

"Nora Trevanion."

She pushed the hair from her forehead, and looked at him, vacantly.

"I—I never heard of her. She is nobody—some girl beneath you? And you would leave me—me—for her?"

He drew herself to her full height, and looked at him in all her imperious saut. "Vane, you must be mad! I must be the fever again. I will not believe it. You shall tell me more—until after the wedding!"

He started.

"Then—then—you hold me to my honor?" he whispered, huskily.

She sighed—a broken, terrible sigh.

"I save you from the consequences of your mad folly, in spite of yourself," she said. She drew nearer to him, and bent her head so that her face nearly met his. "Play the cards you threatened to do, and I will old you up to the scorn of the whole civilized world! I will degrade you in the sight of every honest man. What you dare—you dare—to dream of jilting me!"—she laughed—and on the eye of our marriage!"

"Florence, for God's sake, listen to me!" he said, pleadingly. "I know seem to deserve your scorn, your hate, but as there is light in heaven, you would pity me—ay, and her—if you knew all!"

"Pity!" She threw out the word with a fierce gesture. "I should not pity her if she lay dead at my feet! I would to God she were there, dead! Who is she, to come between us? But she shall not!" She raised her head and looked steadily at him.

"Vane, you say the decision rests with me. I will not give you up. I will save you, in spite of yourself. I hold you to your promise—the pledged word of a man of honor."

He turned from her for a moment, and when he faced her again his face was set and rigid as if carved in stone.

"Very good," he said, gravely, sternly. "The decision rested with you; you have decided."

He moved away from her, and she sunk into a chair, her head falling on the arm which hung over the side.

He went up to her, and let his hand fall on her head gently, pityingly, as it seemed.

"God forgive you! God forgive us both, Florence!" he said, hoarsely. She did not look up, and he left her, opened the door, and passed down the corridor.

As he did so, the Earl of Warlock, mounting the stairs with his crutch-stick, looked up at him.

"What the devil is the matter, Vane?" he demanded, irritably. "Have you fallen from your horse, or what?"

Backache is a Danger Signal.

Kidney Troubles, Bladder Disorders, Rheumatism, and Serious Diseases Follow.

There are other symptoms, such as pains in the region of the kidneys, numbness, dizziness, tired and worn-out feeling, weak bladder, or urinary troubles, which are just as dangerous, for the slightest kidney derangement if neglected may develop into the deadly Bright's disease, dropsy or diabetes.

It is not only dangerous, but needless, for you to suffer and endure the tortures of these troubles, for Croxone promptly ends all such misery.

There is no more effective remedy for kidney, bladder trouble and rheumatism, than Croxone, because it reaches the cause. It soaks right in to the kidneys, through the walls and linings, cleans out the clogged up pores, neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and waste matter that lodge in the joints and muscles and cause those terrible rheumatic pains, and makes the kidneys filter the poison from the blood and drives it out of the system.

Three doses of Croxone a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to relieve the worst backache or overcome disagreeable urinary disorders.

You will find Croxone different from other remedies. It is practically impossible to take it without results. An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if it should fail in a single case.

checks, and an absent, vacant look in his eyes.

Afternoon tea was going on in the hall below, and the sound of voices and laughter floated up to him.

"Where have you been?" said the earl, testily. "You are in a deuce of a state."

Vane looked down at his mud-spattered cords.

"Yes; I am going home to change."

"Can't you change here?"

"No," said Vane, as if he were speaking from a distance. "I forgot to tell them to send my things on. I shall not be long, but do not wait."

The earl grunted.

"You'd better let them drive you over," he said. "You've ridden this horse you came on to death almost. He's quite done up."

"Thanks," said Vane.

Some Other Kind of Trouble.
BY BETH CAMERON.

A great trouble has come into the life of a friend of mine. Her husband, a man in the early prime of life, had had a stroke of paralysis and is dumb and helpless on his bed. My friend has never had any serious trouble before and she takes it very hard. When any one tries to comfort her she says bitterly, "It's such a horrible thing to have happen. I know everyone must have some trouble in their lives, but it seems as if I could have borne some other kind of trouble better than this."

Some other kind of trouble is always easier to bear than the particular brand that falls to our lot. Any other kind of pain is less painful than the variety with which we are suffering.

Of course we are sorry for our neighbour when he meets with a bereavement but we are sure that no sorrow can possibly be as poignant as our own.

A certain woman lost a splendid son in the full prime of young manhood. It was a terrible blow to her and seemed to change her whole outlook on life. When she hears of a mother who has lost a baby or a young child she says, "Yes, that must be hard, but it can't like losing a full-grown son. When I lost John I wasn't only the loss of my child I had to bear, but the loss of my friend and the prop I hoped to lean on in my old age."

On the other hand I have recently come into considerable contact with a woman who has just lost her baby—a beautiful little boy, barely two years old. Hoping to divert her for a moment or two from her own grief, I spoke of the first woman's loss and how bitterly she grieved over it. "Yes," that young mother, her eyes filling, "I am so sorry for her, but it cannot be so hard as losing a little baby. Babies are so dependent on you. You are doing something for them every moment of the day, and when they go away it means such a terrible emptiness. Besides, she had her child thirty years and I only had nine months." So it ever goes, and somehow I am sure that if one could ask a mother who has had both experiences, which loss was the easier to bear, she would tell you "Neither."

No pain, no trouble, no grief is easy to bear. Then wish not for some other kind of trouble instead of your own, lest that be given you also, to teach you the lesson that the other man's trouble is as great as yours.

LONDON GOSSIP.

LONDON, Oct. 29, 1913.

ROYAL FAGS.

It is well known that democracy and aristocracy are curiously mixed in our public schools. Prince Arthur of Connaught's letter in praise of Eton, has set some of his old school-fellows recalling his days there. One wonders which end of them he had in mind. In his earlier years he was a "fag" to young Astor, a fact which produced in an American newspaper the startling headline "Victoria's Grandson is Astor's Slave." It is said that there was a good deal of unconscious literal truth in the statement, and although a fag does not have a hard time he is generally glad enough to be rid of fagging. It is more likely that the life at Eton which Prince Arthur had in mind was that into which he passed as he went up the school, the life which made the Grand Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha a thing to be declined. That crown, being declined by him, passed to the young Duke of Albany. He, too, though only in the lower school, had begun to love Eton; at least it would seem so for when he was told that he would be taken away from Eton to be made a Grand Duke, it is said that he wept.

SHIPPING SCANDAL IN AUSTRIA.

There is probably something else than a mere deficiency of recruits for the Austrian army behind the attitude of the Austrian authorities towards the agencies of the Canadian Pacific Railway throughout the country. Since it established, under a concession from the Government, a steamship service between Trieste and Canadian ports the German lines interested in the route have carried on an unceasing agitation against the company with the object of prejudicing it in public favor. They have cut passenger fares on several occasions, and by the grant of special privileges they have succeeded in retaining the bulk of the emigrant traffic. No man who has not yet done his three years' military service is allowed to leave the country, and the shipping companies are expected to keep a keen look-out for those who have managed to evade the authorities at home and who have reached the coast. It is said here, however, that no difficulties are experienced on the German frontier, men being allowed to pass without any inquiry whatever. The movement to the United States and Canada this year has been unprecedented, and it is estimated that the armies of the Dual Monarchy lack from eighty to one hundred thousand soldiers, while not one of those who crossed the Atlantic responded to the summons recently sent out to join the colors. Farmers in many parts of Austria and Hungary are also complaining that no labor is available. When, a few months ago, the Austrian Council of Ministers presented the draft of a new bill to the Minister of War for a more drastic regulation of the beggars, he expressed himself as greatly displeased at the mildness of the restrictions proposed. In the meantime the measure has been considerably strengthened, and was recently introduced into the Reichsrath. Official statistics show that during a period of thirty-five years 2,547,630 Austrian and Hungarian subjects have gone to Canada, the United States, and South America.

SIR BEAUCHAMP DUFF'S NEW APPOINTMENT.

Although it has come somewhat as a surprise to the know-alls in the Service clubs the appointment of Sir Beauchamp Duff to be the new Commander-in-Chief in India is an admirable one, and means the carrying out of economical but really efficient lines of Lord Kitchener's military policy. Sir Beauchamp Duff was Chief of Staff to Lord Kitchener, and imbued with his business-like methods. The rule of alternate British and Indian officers will not be absolutely broken, because, as General O'Moore Creagh retires before his time, Sir Beauchamp Duff takes over a portion of his period. The appointment will be well received in India. General Duff has done admirable unobtrusive work at the War Office during the last four years. He has great charm of manner, is well and widely read, and though small in stature, looks the thorough soldier that he is.

THE QUESTION OF ZANZIBAR.

Men of standing in colonial circles in London are not paying much attention to the rumoured cession of Zanzibar to Germany, and it is certain that any attempt to exchange it for some other portion of African territory would be widely resented. Zanzibar is after all the historic commercial center of East Africa, of more importance in many ways than Mombasa, and it has developed very considerably since the British rather reluctantly took charge of it nearly 20 years ago after refusing the first offer of his dominions by the Sultan in 1877. The place is also not without strategic importance in the naval policy of the Indian Ocean, and there are many who feel that this is emphatically not the time when Britain can relax her hold on the ocean road to India, particularly now that her Mediterranean policy has been weakened. Apart from its commercial and political importance, Zanzibar has a peculiar religious interest for Britain, since it was there that the Universities Mission that sprang from Livingstone's inspiration was first successfully founded. Included in the Church of England since there built on the site of the old slave market, which was the center of East African trade with India, and it was from this island that many of the Scottish missionaries to Central Africa, of whom the greatest was Mackay, started for the interior. It is known of course that some revision of boundaries between Britain and Germany in Africa is in contemplation and this will involve very considerable interests and the territory of a third Colonial Power. These matters will involve very careful handling and a re-shaping of much of Africa south of the equator, but the time is not yet ripe for this matter to be settled.

ANOTHER AUSTRIAN STORY.

People in the clubs here have been very much amused at a case in the London courts in which an artillery officer alleged that his wife insisted on riding with him at the head of his battery. A writer here recalls in this connection a story about the last Austrian manoeuvres. The Archduke Franz Ferdinand, the heir to the throne, and his wife attended the manoeuvres. General Conrad, the Commander-in-Chief of the Austro-Hungarian forces, was suddenly summoned to Berlin to meet the Kaiser, and for a day or two the manoeuvres had to go on without him. Now the Archduchess is known to have a pretty will of her own and she took advantage of the formidable general's absence to show it. First she was bored with the way the troops went to the attack. Their open formation was utterly devoid of spectacular interest, so the Archduchess insisted and had her way and for the rest of the manoeuvres the troops marched to the attack in massed legions shoulder and shoulder as soldiers used to do in the time of Marlborough, or Pompeius Magnus. The Archduchess, too, found the modern practice of getting the armies in movement shortly after dawn terribly irksome and she persuaded her husband to issue an order that henceforth operations should not start until 10 o'clock in the morning—a convenient hour for the Archduchess as it enabled her to breakfast at leisure and motor down to the field of battle. Of course, all these improvements made an immense sensation in Vienna. The public at once started to take an interest in the annual manoeuvres such as they have rarely taken before. The favorite headline in the newspapers was "The Ten O'clock Manoeuvres." When the Commander-in-Chief came back from Berlin and found that the annual exercises of one of the great armies of Europe which had been at such pains to elaborate had been turned into a farce, to satisfy the whims of a woman—even though she was the wife of the heir to the throne—he lost control of himself and stormed and raged about it. The inevitable consequence has been that he has had to retire. But General Conrad von Hertzenstein has had this sort of experience before. He is too great a soldier not to be back at his post again before very long.

THE EASTERN TRUST COMPANY.

The business of the The Eastern Trust Company is to administer Trusts. In this work it specializes, and it does no other. But no kind of trust is foreign to its scope or beyond its power to administer efficiently.

The Eastern Trust Company never speculates. It invests. It depends for its prosperity upon the efficiency of its management of its clients' business and upon the security of its investments.

The Eastern Trust Company executes the office of executor or administrator with unexampled efficiency, and its usefulness in this field is becoming rapidly more availed of.

In Halifax, Nova Scotia, again, The Eastern Trust Company has just been chosen to administer the estate of Captain William Fleming, which is valued at more than half a million dollars.

The Company now administers many estates which in value amount to several millions of dollars. Particulars will appear in later advertisements.

Minority Rule.

The outstanding feature of the General Elections of 1913 is the downing of the majority of voters by a minority. That fact is plain and cannot be contradicted truthfully or successfully. The returns show that 61615 votes were cast for candidates in opposition to the Government and only 51402 votes for candidates in support of the Government. On the vote the Government lost by over Ten Thousand. On the returns of members to the House of Assembly they won by a majority of Sixty-one. Twenty-one members were returned to support the present Government by a vote of Fifty-one Thousand. Fifteen members were returned in opposition by a vote of Sixty-one Thousand. This is plain minority rule. The Morris Government is a minority Government. It has lost the confidence of a majority of voters who have registered by their votes their will that the Government be changed, and a Government with Sir Robert Bond at its head be substituted for it. The will of the majority has been flouted. It has been flouted by the inequalities and inequities of the present distribution of voters through the districts, taken advantage of by a base appeal to sectarian feelings. The Morris Party entered on a campaign of appeals to sectarian passions. Its members charged the Opposition with the intention of entering upon a policy of Godless Schools. They were charged with being party to an effort to upset the present denominational system of education. The whole appeal was base, and as false as it was base, as appears from the letter of His Grace Archbishop Howley to Mr. J. M. Kent. The object of this appeal was to influence Roman Catholic voters and to stampede them to the Roman Catholic Premier, Sir Edward Morris. Another feature of the Morris Party campaign was the circulation of a sheet to scare the Roman Catholic voter against the Fishermen's Protective Union, as an association which no Roman Catholic who was true to his church could join or associate with. The object of this low-down campaign was the same, viz., to stampede the Roman Catholic voter to the support of the Roman Catholic Premier, Sir Edward Morris. Another feature of the Morris Party campaign was the denunciation in Panel Enquiries, and the object of this form of abuse was the same, to influence the Roman Catholic voter to stand by the Roman Catholic Premier. These three phases of the campaign were alike in several particulars. The appeal was based on defamation and falsehood and its object was sectarian.

Its success is now manifest to all, and this leads up to the question of the influence of the Roman Catholic vote on the return of a Government. It is true that at one time the major part of this influence was with the Liberal Party and the Tory Party kicked at it. It is true that this same influence swung against the Liberal Party in 1909. Then the Liberal Party bore in silence with the change, though fully cognizant of what had happened. In 1913 another test came. The sectarian appeal was then flagrant and daring, and its success can be seen by all. The Liberal Party can no longer be silent. But will point to the facts which we have been mentioning this week and will comment on them. The change came with the advent of a Roman Catholic Premier. It has been manifested more patently on the appeal of a Roman Catholic Premier after a term of office marked by waste, extravagance and scandals. This has led us to point out the influence of the Roman Catholic vote. In population the Roman Catholic people constitute one-third of the population. This should be a fair measure of their influence at General Elections. But their influence is far greater. At present they control directly the return of fourteen members to the House of Assembly instead of twelve and on account of the division of the Protestant vote in Protestant districts and their make-weight vote sent some half dozen men from Protestant districts to support the Government of Sir Edward. The remedies are obvious. A Redistribution Bill is needed to correct part of these anomalies. It is time that the matter of Ferryland representation was taken up among other matters. Ferryland has the smallest population of any electoral district in the island, except Carboneau, yet it returns TWO men while Fogo, Port de Grave, Fortune Bay, Burgess, St. George's and St. Barbe, each with a bigger population, return only one. Vigilance is also needed in Protestant districts to counter the balance of power voting of Roman Catholics. We put these matters forward, calmly and dispassionately and with a sense that we are not doing any injustice to the Roman Catholic voter or the Roman Catholic influence. We are in full accord that their influence shall be as full as their population warrants. But while conceding justice to them we demand justice for the majority of voters in the country.

Honest Goods at Honest Prices.

FAIRBANKS MORSE ENGINES being Honest engines are sold at honest prices. To-day engines can be bought at all kinds of prices, some being even sold for a song, and one doesn't need to be a Caruso to become the owner of a motor engine. If an engine is only required for a year or so it is alright buying a cheap one, but if it is expected to do years of hard work, get something of the Fairbanks line. Remember a cheap engine is dear at any price, as one break down in the fishing season may cost hundreds of dollars. Certain it is it will cost you more than the difference between a cheap motor and a Fairbanks Morse. With the Fairbanks there will be no break downs, as it is the engine of quality. GEO. M. Police Court.

One drunk was discharged. Two drunks and disorderlies were fined $2 or 7 days. A 24 year old labourer, (1) drunk and disorderly; (2) attempting to cut his mother's throat with a knife, was remanded. William Fitzgerald, a 24 year old laborer, charged with committing an indecent assault on a young boy, also beating him with a stick, was up for trial. The prisoner pleaded guilty to the charges preferred against him. His Honor spoke strongly on the heinousness of the crime, which was the worst that any Christian could be found guilty of. The prisoner was sentenced to six months imprisonment.

Marvels of Plant Growing.

Very striking are the results which have been obtained in regard to plant growth by the employment of violet rays from mercury vapour lamps. It has been proved that certain seeds germinated several weeks earlier with the aid of this particular light than when grown in the natural way. The time for germination under the influence of the ultra-violet rays of the lamp was eleven days in the case of carrots, as against twenty-six days when grown naturally; while maize germinated in eight days instead of fifty-seven. Wheat, barley, and various other seeds were tested, and in all cases a hastening of germination resulted. Strawberries cultivated in the ultra-violet light gave an increased crop of 25 per cent., while roses, carnations, and geraniums showed increased foliage and flowers of good size and color. Equally interesting are the experiments which have been conducted with radio-active matter. This method consists of impregnating with an infinitesimal portion of radium, and in some cases an increase in the rate of growth of 200 per cent. has been observed in the soil of about one milligram obrubt about by this means. The rest, radium to twenty tons of soil produced, in the majority of cases tried, a marked effect upon the rate of germination and the growth of plants. It has also been used with success to hasten the ripening of tomatoes. Another method of increasing the fertility of soil is that suggested by Professor Bottomley, who, by a series of experiments, has shown that he can convert barren soil into fertile land by introducing certain bacteria. He points out that a peat bog is barren solely because it is lacking in bacteria, which have been killed by want of air. The Professor does not suggest that he can, as it were, sow bacteria on a peat bog and make it into cultivated soil, but he does hope that he can take supplies of peat and convert them into very rich manure, which may do permanent as well as immediate service to any soil.

Presentation

To Mr. M. S. Sullivan, at Grand Falls, Before his Departure for England.

On Wednesday morning, the Mill Committee of the A.N.D. Co., Ltd., met in the Superintendent's Office for the purpose of presenting a silver loving Cup to Mr. M. S. Sullivan. The presentation was made by Mr. Jas. H. Judge, accompanying the gift with a short oration expressing on behalf of his colleagues their sincere appreciation of Mr. Sullivan's kindness during his stay in Grand Falls, and deep regret for his departure from the community. As was very aptly remarked on a recent occasion by their honoured President, Mr. Beeton, Mr. Sullivan came to Grand Falls in the very beginning with the proverbial "tent and three sacks of flour," and since that time has been intimately connected with the up-building of the great paper industry, which is the pioneer of the interior development of the Island. Mr. Sullivan by his ready tact and generous good will has earned a very high place in the estimations both of his employers and of his subordinates, ever a faithful servant, and ever a considerate and judicious superior. Not all men have the happy quality of being popular with all classes, nor is it the luck of every man to possess the confidence and esteem of all those with whom he has dealings, and to hold it.

With feelings of great pleasure, mixed with profound regret was this parting gift made; pleasure, in giving a tangible testimonial of their regard, and regret inasmuch as it was indeed a parting gift, for this community is losing one of its most well known and respected citizens. Yet a grain of comfort lies in the remembrance that he has not severed entirely his connections with his colleagues; he will still in a measure be a part of the organization to which they were happy to belong.

With sincerest wishes for the future, and in pleasant memory of the past, the Cup was handed to the much-surprised and deeply-moved recipient.

Mr. Sullivan, in acknowledgment of the gift expressed himself as very happily surprised. His gratitude could hardly be expressed in words; not only for the beautiful wrought token did he feel grateful, but it was impossible for his tongue to give any adequate idea of his emotions on hearing the benevolent sentiments that accompanied it. It would be an occasion to which he would often look back with feelings of the greatest gratification. On this day of his departure for England he would like to mention his appreciation of the men with whom he was so closely associated in the operation of the Mill during the past four years.

Whatever success he had was due in a very great measure to the loyalty and co-operation of his colleagues, and of each and everyone of them he would cherish a pleasant memory and the highest regard. He hoped that his future would be as full of as pleasant associations as was his sojourn in Grand Falls. In conclusion he again expressed his thanks for the kind notice that prompted the gift and for the good will that pervaded their spoken sentiments.

Mr. Sullivan left in the afternoon for Botwood, where he will take passage in the s.s. Tritonia for England. He intends to stay there until some time about New Year, and will then return to Newfoundland and enter the business arena of St. John's.

Little Things.

A little word, said pleasantly in passing, may brighten up some careworn fellow's day; a little bitter saying, may change his skies from gold to sombre gray. A little raise may send feet blithely tripping, that otherwise would drag the long day through; a little help, when some poor cuss is slipping, may start him right, and bring success in view. A little roar when vicious things are brewing, may spoil the brew, and oil an Virtue's wings; a little kick when statesmen are pursuing false gods may bring them round to better things. A little sense may make you seem a fountain of wisdom if you keep your tongue on straight; a little debt may soon become a mountain, and crush you down beneath its galling weight. The little things make life a joy or nuisance; if you ignore this fact, when you are gray, you'll realize you were a blooming goose since you let the best of all things get away.

Grand Falls Letter.

November 11th, 1913.
During the past four or five days the weather has been remarkably fine. In fact the days would do credit to August, whereas the moonlit nights left nothing to be desired. This is all the more remarkable as it succeeds a spell of very cold and unsettled weather.

The hand-cuff king, Mr. Thos. Carroll, gave an exhibition of his art on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights in connection with the Nickel. His turns were very much appreciated. In both the chair and the straight-jacket tricks, which he performed in full view of the audience, he was tied by expert rope handlers, but set himself free with a dexterity that evoked enthusiastic applause. Monday he played at Bishop's Falls, and returned to Grand Falls on Tuesday.

The latter part of October, Rev. W. Flinn, P.P., of Grand Falls, opened a Sale of Work that turned out very successfully. Quite a lot of goods were on sale and various games and contests were held, making the time pass very pleasantly. A large number of people attended both the bazaar and the ball which followed, and which closed in becoming style, the efforts of the ladies and gentlemen who organized the affair, and made it such a financial success.

A belfry is being erected by the Church of England. This will be the first bell used in Grand Falls, and the inhabitants will soon be treated on a Sunday morning to the sound of its chiming recalling scenes and remembrances of other days and other places which they enjoyed before they came to build up a pioneer town in the wilderness.

The young man, Daniel Bird, who figured in the shooting accident some time ago, has quite recovered and has been home recuperating for the past ten days. Rapid improvement can also be reported in the condition of John Moores, of Pilley's Island, who was hurt in the Wood Room.

Mr. Morrison, who has been relieving Mr. R. T. Huestis, Manager of the Bank of Montreal, here, is returning tonight to St. John's. Mr. Huestis is due here tomorrow.

A very enjoyable social was given by the Rebekah Lodge, I.O.O.F., on Friday, October 31st. Various games and dancing filled up a very pleasant evening till the wee sma' hours, and at the finish all went home with the feeling that they certainly would like a few more similar Hallo-wens before Christmas. The success of the party was a source of great gratification to the management as it was their first attempt in that line, and they have only just inaugurated that portion of the society.

U. S. Campaign will Bankrupt Huerta Administration.

Special to Evening Telegram.

WASHINGTON, To-day.

United support from the American policy toward Mexico is shown in a variety of quiet diplomatic activities and gave President Wilson and Secretary Bryan a confident feeling to-day that the elimination of Huerta as provisional President of Mexico will soon be an accomplished fact. An exchange of cablesgrams with Ambassador Page, an agreement by Britain to leave the situation of Mexican problem in the hands of the states and the announcement that no moral or financial support would be granted by England to the Huerta regime, set forth in the London press dispatches and created a favourable impression throughout official Washington. It was felt that Britain, France, Germany and other nations now stood together in acquiescence to the plan of the States for the elimination of Huerta. "There are elements in this case," said the President, "which I cannot at present disclose, but which make it look to me very much more favourable. Asked about the word favourable reports of the word favourable to settlement. The President gave no details to show upon what his optimism was based, but he made it clear that the primary condition of settlement was the ousting of Huerta and all those who stood for the kind of Government he had been conducting. It is evident the President had received important dispatches, but he declined to say whether they were from Mexico City or Nogales Constitutionalists headquarters.

Later however it was learned from other high officials that the plan of financial isolation was bearing fruit, and that his plan for Huerta's elimination was being acquiesced in by Foreign Governments, especially some of those which has previously recognized him and upon whom he had come to rely for aid. The situation has progressed to a point in the view of many officials, where the definite rejection of American demands by Huerta would not alter his future materially. Confidence prevails that his drifting into certain bankruptcy cannot resist much longer the pressure exerted against him. There is a feeling among Administration officials that if the Constitutionalists are as sincere as has been represented, desiring chiefly the restoration of a Constitutional Government, it is difficultly should be encountered in selecting a man acceptable to both sides for President ad interim. While further arrangements for an election are made, foreign nations have made inquiry as to what might follow if Huerta did not relinquish power and the Washington Government has formally indicated this process of pacification.

Big Banking Failure.

Special to Evening Telegram.

NEW YORK, To-day.

The failure of H. B. Hallin & Co., an old established banking house with international connections, was announced on the Stock Exchange. The liabilities are estimated at $5,000,000 with assets mostly bank loans of $2,500,000 to $3,000,000.

Severe Gales.

Special to the Evening Telegram.

BOSTON, To-day.

Three related liners, the Cambrian, from London; the Hanover from Bremenhaven; the Parisian from Glasgow arrived, each bringing reports of terrific gales and howling seas. The Cambrian reported the worst passage in years; on the Hanover storm life lines were rigged to prevent sailors from being carried overboard. Passengers were not permitted on deck for several days.

McMurdo's Store News

FRIDAY, Nov. 14th, 1913.

If your child needs something to build him up before the cold weather sets in in earnest, get him a bottle of our Cod Liver Oil Emulsion, which is not merely the pure oil emulsified—of course it is that in the first place—but is a skilful combination with hypophosphites, the brain and bone food in a form readily taken into the system and used there. The emulsion is like our Emulsion, and the benefits which follow its use are generally very quickly apparent. Price 50c. a bottle, small size 25 cents.

If you yourself need a tonic for the same purpose, there is always our Nutritive Hypophosphites, the crack product of our own Laboratory, a tonic of unequalled quality. In bottle, prices, 50c. and $1 a bottle—containing 50 and 100 doses respectively.

ENTERED HOSPITAL.—Mr. James Moriarty, of Balmorby, St. Mary's Bay, Miss Jennie Smith, of Spencer Street, City, and Miss Mary Shingleton, of Kingsstone Street, entered the hospital to-day to undergo treatment for internal troubles.

Straight Talk for the Fishermen

There are to-day in Newfoundland over 125 FAIRBANKS Morse engines, all of which were in constant use this past season.

Every one of them gave perfect satisfaction and not even one cost their owners $1 for repairs since installation.

They have been operated in all kinds of weather, and have proved our claims that they run as well with water pouring over them as other makes would under ideal conditions. Quite a few have been operated on a mixture of kerosene and gasoline, whilst a considerable number gave perfect satisfaction on pure kerosene.

At the Battery, famous last year for buying engines of a certain kind, Fairbanks Morse gave perfect results this summer, and are regarded as "good engines."

We make no extravagant claims or make statements that the Fairbanks cannot substantiate, and when we say that Fairbanks Morse will be the popular engine even at Pouch Cove, we know we are stating facts.

Don't take seriously "hot air" selling talk, or pay any attention to abuse, as this letter mode of selling, lately cultivated by some, is the finest compliment that can be paid our engine by competitors. The Fairbanks Morse "Make & Break" engine is the sturdiest, most reliable, most accessible and simplest engine for a fisherman, and as to its durability, it will be running when other engines, even those of the dreadnought type, are in the scrap heap.

If Fairbanks Morse engines are no good, how comes it that there are over 134,000 in successful use to-day? If it is obsolete how is it that nearly 40,000 were sold last year, more than the total output of one large advanced engine?

If Fairbanks Morse engines are out of date, why are they being bought now for light-houses?

You are doubtless thinking about buying an engine, so remember to ask you to buy without first inspecting an engine, so remember we don't accept "dreadnoughts," and then come and look at the Fairbanks Morse running with water pouring over it. You will then realize which type is the fisherman's engine.—Nov. 14, 1913.

Household Notes

A very good filling for layer cake is made by mixing a pound of finely minced shelled almonds with two eggs a cupful of confectioner's sugar and a teaspoonful of vanilla.

Try rubbing the scorched marks on linen with half a raw onion, then wash in the usual way, and if the scorch is not a very bad one the linen will be white again.

Delicious sandwiches for the afternoon are made of raisins and nuts chopped together very fine, moistened with a little whipped cream and seasoned with a little salt.

Stains on blankets and other woollen goods can often be removed by using a mixture of equal parts of glycerine and yolk of egg. Spread this on the stain, leave half an hour and wash.

Cream cheese lends itself to garnishing as well as being palatable. Its softness makes it easy to mold in any shape, and it can be mixed with various condiments into delicious sandwich paste.

A fresh mildew spot can be removed with lemon juice and exposure to the sun. If it is an old spot, dissolve a tablespoonful of chloride of lime in four quarts of cold water and soak the fabric.

Blankets should be washed in soapuds and rinsed thoroughly in cold water, then hung on the line. When nearly dry beat them with a furniture beater. They will be soft and fluffy like new.

There are two leaks in the household which will bear watching: First, the cooking of too much each meal, having a little to throw out; second, the desert habit—rich cakes, and pies, and puddings are expensive and indigestible.

CAPE RACE, To-day.

Wind S.W., light, weather dull. The steamers Benin, Starstad, Wasio, Lorkoman and Glenarm Head passed west, and Medway and the schooner Waterwitch inward yesterday and Almeria west at 7 a.m. to-day. Bar. 29.79; ther. 43.

Here and There

WEATHER.—The weather up the country to-day is calm and fine with a temperature of 25 to 40 above.

Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Bond was a passenger from Whitebourne by the local, which arrived in the city at 12.15 p.m. to-day.

TRUE BILL.—This morning, the Grand Jury were addressed by the Chief Justice on the bill of indictment against James Hare, for an attempt to murder. The Grand Jury retired and afterwards found a True Bill. James Hare is charged with shooting at Bishop March.

THAT WRONG COUNT.—The operator at Bonaville Bay has offered to the Superintendent of Postal Telegraphs, Mr. D. Stott, the following explanation: "I inquired from Returning Officer why they didn't send counts to this office. He said it was on blackboard. I got it from people coming from station to office. That's where the miscount came." We thank Mr. J. R. Bennett for sending us for perusal the original messages sent in to him on the investigation.

Last night the police were acquainted of a disorderly scene being on in a house in the East-End, and two constables were despatched there. On arrival they found a young man crazed with liquor, flourishing a knife and attempting to cut his mother's throat. The officers arrested the would-be slayer, who appeared to be "court to-day" and was "remanded for eight days." This is only one of a series of mad acts that have been reported in the city within the past few days.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES GARTS GET IN COWS.

Your Duty.

Nothing to do with the Custom House, good friend. Its only reference just now is to yourself. Let us suppose that you are a man of family with sufficient of the world's goods to keep them in comfort. Very well. You did not reach this satisfactory state of affairs without care and labour—few men do. Suppose you are awakened some night with shouts of alarm ringing in your ears. Too late then to talk of prudence; too late then to say: "If I had only, etc., etc." That "if" means too much to many forgetful people. Is it not always the duty of a self-respecting citizen to protect his home and thus provide for those within it. Is it any more than his duty to those depending on him to protect them as far as possible? Can you call your property your own when it is not insured? The answer to this question is to carry insurance with Percie Johnson's agency, the most popular office in Newfoundland and the least expensive.

Action Against Curlers.

On Ground that Rink is a Nuisance to Neighbours.

London, Ont., Nov. 4.—Claiming that curlers are a noisy lot and that in the ecstasy of battle they give vent to war-whoops that offend and ruffle the neighbours, Mrs. Jennie Taylor, of Strathroy, has entered action here for $500 damages against the officers of the Curling Club of that city. Her residence adjoins the curling rink and she asserts that the curlers are so bothersome during play that the rink is a positive nuisance and should be removed if necessary by the mailed fist.

The suit will be tried with several others at a special session of county court to be held here on Wednesday.

Obituary.

The Hon. P. Templeman received a message to-day conveying the sad intelligence of the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Levi Templeman. The deceased lady had been suffering from typhoid fever the past six or eight weeks and no doubt her demise was due to this malady.

Nurse's Years of Experience

Proves Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Best Treatment for Kidney and Stomach Troubles.

The trained nurse has even greater opportunities than the doctor himself to watch the action of medicine in specific cases.

For years the writer of this letter has been recommending the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills among her patients, and is firmly convinced that no treatment is so prompt and effective.

This is the most valuable evidence obtainable, and we believe that all who know Mrs. Duffy will appreciate it to the full, knowing that she would not recommend anything in which she had not the fullest confidence.

Mrs. Duffy, nurse, 35 Lewis street, Toronto writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for years, and recommend them to my patients for all disorders of the kidneys, liver and stomach. In all my professional experience, I have found nothing better. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

The Atlantic Ocean. Healthy and Unheal by Lighting

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Slwash."

The Atlantic Ocean is the second largest collection of wetness on the globe. It is 29,000 miles long, 5,000 miles wide, and so deep in spots that the tallest man who ever lived would have five miles to go before reaching bottom, after getting in over his head.

The Atlantic Ocean reaches from the east to the electric light prospectus of to-morrow on the west. It is cooled by the mountainous icebergs of the polar regions, and heated at the equator by the ever-lasting sun, being thus plentifully supplied with hot and cold water. It splashes restlessly upon the fever-laden jungles of Africa, caresses England with its fogs, and is perfumed by the orchid jungles of Brazil. The wild African plunges into it off Liberia, the Esquimo chases the polar bear through its surf off Greenland and at Narragansett the millionaire dives gleefully into its rolling billows in front of a thousand cameras. It brings the mackerel to Norway, the sardine to France and the sea-serpent to Atlantic City. The snowy white yacht of the captain of industry and the dingy of the cannibal are both at home in its waters. It washes four continents and a hundred nations, according to our various geographers, thus being by far the largest laundry plant in the world.

The Atlantic is calm and handsome in fair weather and can be navigated with impunity by man. But it is not civilized and never will be. Twelve thousand ships wear furrows through it year by year, and it has had advantages far beyond the ordinary, carrying the beauty and chivalry of all nations on its back for weeks at a time. But for all that the Atlantic has no manners. Many a time it has nonchalantly tossed a king into the corner of a stateroom and has caused the queens of mighty nations to wish they were dead. Men have struggled with it for centuries and have built ships so large that the English language has had to be enlarged to describe them. But none of them has been too large for the Atlantic to swallow at one gulp.

The Atlantic is not too wide to keep the working poor of Europe from America or the idle rich of America from Europe. But it has thus far succeeded in quarantining America effectively against the nobility system, Monte Carlo, the over-grown standing army, dog meat sandwiches, the marriage de convenience and the French duel. We should love it deeply for these services.

Gas, it may be said, vitiates the atmosphere. True. But it also helps to purify it. Its purifying power is greater than its vitiating power. Electricity does not viliate, nor does it purify. Hear what three eminent men have said:

Much evidence has lately been adduced to show that gas is more useful than the electric light in promoting efficient ventilation of air. It is for this, amongst other reasons, that gas is being frequently substituted for the electric light. The latest example is, perhaps, the Society of Medical Officers of Health, which has recently installed gas on its premises, after experience with the electric light.—Dr. Jamieson B. Hurry.

He would merely add that no member who had experience of their meeting room under the old conditions could deny the improvement that had taken place since gas had been substituted for the electric light and the new system of heating and ventilation had been installed.—Dr. Reginald Duffield, before the Society of Medical Officers of Health.

I have in my mind's eye, at the moment, a hall which, in the old days, was lighted by gas, and in which a large audience could, with comfort, sit through an hour's lecture, or with pleasure through a three hours' dinner, but which with the march of civilization, had its illumination changed from gas to electricity, the latter been employed with all the latest refinements to effect the lighting under the best conditions, with the result that any large gathering within its walls leads to a state little short of apoplexy.—Vivian B. Lewis, Professor of Chemistry at the Royal Naval College, Greenwich.—nov 8, 13

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 13. The Nobel prize for literature was awarded to-day to the British Indian Poet, Rabindranath Tagore. This is the first time on record that this prize has been given to anybody but a white person. BERLIN, Nov. 13. The German Government to-day considered the expediency of advising all German subjects, resident in the interior of Mexico, to remove to coast towns for greater safety. Germany's disbelief in immediate armed intervention by the States in Mexico, is expressed in an inspired despatch from Berlin, published in the Cologne Gazette to-day. It adds, it is probable that Wilson will break off all relations with Mexico.

LONDON, Nov. 13. The British Government is being kept informed of every move made by the States Government in regard to Mexico, both through the British Embassy at Washington, and the States Ambassador here. Ambassador Page is in receipt of another long message from the State Department at Washington, who paid a visit to Sir Edward Grey, and remained in conversation with him some time. These visits and cables from Washington are believed to be the result of an understanding between Britain and the States. Nothing can be done concerning Mexico, without informing each other. As far as Britain is concerned, she has agreed to leave the matter in the hands of the States, on an understanding that the Government at Washington do their best to protect the lives and interests of British subjects in Mexico.

A Wonderful Discovery.

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one speck of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

They again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, a cut, or a skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a disease, part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissues thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 DeLorimer Ave. Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Co. and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c stamp (to pay return postage). Address—Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld.

Sergeant Gardner Congratulated.

Editor The Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—A few weeks since information was received that Constable Gardner, of this place had been promoted to the rank of Sergeant. With reference to this promotion, the people of Harbour Breton are of the opinion (as they know the qualities of good citizenship—honesty, intelligence, straight-forwardness and a d courtesy, as well as the thorough knowledge he possesses of his occupation) that it is a well merited advance, for Mr. Gardner who has served faithfully in the police force for twenty-eight years, always doing his duty conscientiously and irrespectively of the consequences.

Harbour Breton heartily congratulates Sergeant Gardner on his promotion, assuring him of its sincere esteem and trust that he may be long amongst us to be, as he undoubtedly is—a power for good in our little town.

Yours very truly,
Harbour Breton, Nov. 10th 1913.

Sale of Work.

The annual Sale of Work was held at the Victoria Hall yesterday by the Gower Street Alexandra Mission Band, and was very successful. The sale was opened at 4.30 p.m. by Mrs. M. Fenwick, who, in the course of her address, expressed some congratulatory remarks on the general work of the Band. The stalls were attractively decorated, and filled with dainty and useful goods, all of which met with a ready sale. At 6 p.m. teas were served after which concert followed. The performers were Misses Hamlin, Roper (2), Soper, Dawe; Messrs. J. Spooner, Hearder. Some children from the Methodist Orphanage also took part and acquitted themselves very creditably. At 10.30 the sale closed, and was pronounced by all who attended to be one of the most successful held for some time.

Abolishing the Bar.

Collection of Revenue on Per Centage Basis To Be Recommended by Quebec License Commission.

Quebec, Nov. 6.—The gradual abolition of the bar in hotels, the collection of revenue not by that of a license of a fixed amount but on a percentage basis, and the reduction of licenses in the cities and towns of the province it is believed will be recommended in the report the license commission appointed by Sir Lomer Gouin to consider the liquor question in Quebec, and are now preparing and which the session of the Legislature which opens on November 18th will consider.

Legislation dealing with these points is expected to provide an interesting struggle in the house. The exact nature of the recommendations that the Commission will make will not be known until its report is tabled, but it is taken for granted that they will suggest legislation of a most drastic character.

It is thought that instead of the bar, hotels will be compelled to establish cafes with tables and chairs after the fashion of European resorts. Officials of the Government here who have discussed the possibility of the change in the present system of getting revenue from the license fees think that more money would be secured by assessing hotels on the amount of business done.

It is thought that changes in the license law will only be made gradually, and that hotel proprietors will only be forced to accept them when a renewal of a license is asked for.

SAVORY ROASTER.

Our many customers who had the pleasure of examining and trying our sample of this very useful household article will be pleased to hear that we have just received a shipment, so that all orders can now be filled. What is a Savory Roaster? It is such a good thing that it must be seen to be properly understood. A Savory Roaster is a Pan for roasting meat; but it is more than this, it is a self heater. No torment or burning your fingers removing it from oven to taste the meat. You simply place your roast of meat in the roaster, close the pan—trouble no more about it until it is cooked. The meat is really steamed all through. None of the nutritious properties of the meat can escape. It is a marvel and the price is within the reach of everybody. $1.50.

Wealth From the Herring Harvest.

"Herring for ever!" Well may fisherfolk say so, as is shown by the splendid earnings of the Scottish fleet and its followers that will soon return home from their annual visit to Yarmouth and Lowestoft.

When the boats sail down the coast about the beginning of October fishworkers living in the far north of Scotland leave by nearly every train for Dundee, where "specials" are made up—sometimes two or three in a night—both the East and West Coast routes to East Anglia. And in the end the Scotch lasses, with the English workers, the curers, salesmen, etc., form an army at least 20,000 strong.

The girls' travelling expenses, amounting, as a rule, from £2 5s. to £3 per head, are defrayed by the curers, and they are paid partly "on time" and partly "on piece." They get a fixed allowance—known as "shore money"—of 8s. weekly for board and lodgings, plus a certain rate for the work they actually do. The "shore money" is paid weekly, whereas the piece earnings are kept back till the end of the season.

These vary according to the catches. While no fewer than 21,000,000 herrings have been landed at Lowestoft alone in a single day, there are some days when the haul from the whole of the East Anglian waters fall far short, of meeting expenses. In a good season, such as last year's, some lasses can make as much as £3 a week, and may take back home substantial sums.

An interesting outcome of the Scotch invasion of Yarmouth and Lowestoft is a marked jump in the marriage rate. The men, as well as the lasses, make "big money" several times the total number of herrings landed at the two ports during this season has exceeded 300,000,000, and has been worth more than £1,000,000. Once the Buckle fleet took back to North Britain £50,000, or, on an average, £20 for every steamer and about £150 for every sailing boat. So, as there is general prosperity, many marriages are arranged for Christmas.

Waterfront Thieves Rounded Up

AND HEAVILY FINED.
Yesterday afternoon Patrick Brine, a twenty-five-year old labourer, and John Molloy, a twenty-seven-year old fisherman, were held on remand for a week, were tried before Judge Knight for a series of burglaries that they committed.

Brine was convicted of four charges of theft:—(1) for entering the house of John Murphy, of Buchanan Street, on the 2nd inst., and stealing a vest containing a watch and chain; (2) stole an overcoat valued at $18, the property of an unknown party, on the 4th inst.; (3) on the 5th inst. he boarded the schooner Olanda lying at Harvey's wharf, at night time, and got away with a trunk and its contents, valued at over $20, the property of Mr. A. White; (4) on the same night he got aboard the schr. Topaz, lying at Harvey's wharf, and took a coat, vest and a pair of laced boots belonging to a man named Stewart Parsons. The accused got six months for each offence or an aggregate sentence of two years imprisonment.

Molloy, who was more or less an accomplice of Brine's, was convicted of two charges of theft. He was with Brine when the articles were stolen from the schooner Topaz but was all by his lonesome when he entered a West-End boarding house and made away with a quantity of clothing. For each offence convicted of Molloy got six months or a total term of imprisonment of one year.

BRINE'S RECORD.
Though only 25 years of age he has an unenviable reputation for dishonesty. According to the statistics kept by the police and which were furnished to us by the Chief of that Department, Brine is an incorrigible which his record shows. Ever since he was twelve years old he has been stealing and has spent some long terms in prison both here and abroad.

On January 22nd, 1901, he was convicted for petty larceny and a fine was imposed. In 1907 he was convicted for the larceny of a quantity of oil casks and was given a month imprisonment. On November 10th, 1909, he broke into a hotel in the city and got away with a trunk and its contents. For this he got three months. In March, 1910, after being released from H. M. Penitentiary he left the city and went to North Sydney, where after a short while news was received that Brine had robbed a man of $100. He eluded the Cape Breton authorities and beat his way back to St. John's where he was arrested by two Sydney detectives who brought the prisoner back to North Sydney. Brine was tried there and sentenced to two years in Dorchester Jail. When his term ended he came back to St. John's only to be again arrested for the larceny of a box of biscuits. That was on October 17th, 1912. He was convicted and given 6 months. He only came out of the Penitentiary three months ago and is now gone down to do two years.

Both prisoners are the waterfront thieves that have been operating the past few weeks. A good many of the thefts they committed are not known, but at all events it is well they are not at large. The community generally, particularly craft-owners, will not be sorry to learn that the thieves are caught and severely dealt with, and all will join in extending congratulations to Detective Byrne for the vigilance displayed by that efficient officer in culling down these disciples of crime.

Daily Investment News Universal Success of the Plan

On this side of the water the adoption of a system for making partial payments for securities is quite recent, although for years it has been well known in France and England.

It has met with instant success in the United States from the moment of its introduction, and has there swept broadcast over the country, solving the investment problem for thousands who otherwise never could have purchased securities.

Even in these conservative Maritime Provinces, where we have had the partial payment plan in operation during the past three months, the public has generally expressed its hearty approval, which approval, to a gratifying degree, has taken the concrete form of orders.

There's a little gray booklet, fully explaining the plan, which you may care to have. It's free.

Encourage Home Industries.

We have the past month tried to bring before the public notice the many advantages to be gained by buying

HOME MADE GOODS.

For instance since the factory started in our building we can get Mattress Springs, &c., made to any size and any order—a real convenience. We now refer to the other side of the question, that of keeping the labor in the country. Hundreds of men find employment through these agencies. For instance, we employ hundreds to cut and prepare the lumber for use—lumber that up to now has lain dormant waiting for a market. Having had same tested by experts, they pronounce our hardwoods as good, if not better, than the imported for furniture purposes. We have the finish, in fact we have everything that goes to make as good or even better furniture than the imported, as inspection will prove. We need not tell you that the cost will be less, considering the high duty and freight paid on the imported. We will sell you a Surface Oak Sideboard for $15.00, that can't be sold less than $20.00 imported. We will sell you our Famous Felt Mattress, as good as the Ottoman, that sells at $20.00, for $15.00.

Then all things considered, don't you think it to your advantage to buy Home Made Goods and thus Encourage Home Industries and keep the money in the country. Let us talk the matter over when in need of Furniture and Furnishings.

LONDON, Nov. 13.
 The present month is the mildest November for 14 years. The winds are tropical, blowing from an arc between the Azores and West Africa. So spring-like is the weather that primroses, violets, poppies and crows are in full bloom, while in some districts farmers have already some spring corn. Ripe strawberries have been picked by the Monks of Princess Riseborough, Buckinghamshire, and second crops of raspberries and strawberries are being gathered at Histon, near Cambridge. At Covent Garden yesterday, raspberries, grown out of doors, were selling at 18 cents a basket.

SOFIA, Nov. 13.
 Bulgaria has sent through the French legation an ultimatum to Greece, demanding, first, that the persecution of Bulgarians in Macedonia cease; second, that autonomous rights be accorded to Bulgarian churches and schools in Macedonia, such as they enjoyed under Turkish rule; third that permission be granted to Macedonian Bulgarians who fled from the reign of terror to return, unmolested, to their homes; and, fourth, that all Bulgarian prisoners in Greece be released, and that all prisoners of war be allowed to return. The Bulgarian ultimatum is couched in strong language, and places a limit of eight days for its acceptance.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.
 Proposals made to the Mexican constitutionalists through William Hale, President Wilson's personal representative, and the final demand that the new Mexican Congress be dissolved, because of the question as to its legality, transmitted through John Lind, in Mexico City, have brought the situation forward another step. Through their unofficial envoys the United States, without formally addressing either faction, has made another move to bring about a settlement of the revolutionary troubles in the Southern republic. A rejection by Huerta might involve an abrupt termination of all relations with him, extending, possibly, to the withdrawal of the American Embassy officials. The U.S. Government is desirous that the revolution be settled by the contenders themselves.

LONDON, Nov. 13.
 The enrollment of the suffragette army was started at Bow in the East End of London, when 300 men and women were asked to make a declaration worded thus: "I promise to serve the common cause of justice and our comrades under our duly elected officers. I will be friend and brother to every member of this peace army. I am a sincere believer in universal adult suffrage." Not a single army officer or several constables were present, but Zelle Emmerson announced that the new army would have as instructor a soldier who has served his country in Egypt.

LONDON, Nov. 13.
 The Czartitch, only son of Czar Nicholas, cannot live more than six months. Such is the opinion of the most distinguished surgeons here, who have been called into consultation over the boy, now in his tenth year. They say he is suffering from rapid tuberculosis of the bone, and is incurable. Of course no one dare whisper this at St. Petersburg, but the Czar knows his son is in an extremely precarious condition. He cannot walk, and an orderly carries him, when he appears in public.

TORONTO, Nov. 13.
 Insurance underwriters to-day gave out the following estimates of losses by storm: Value of cargoes, $1,000,000; value of ships, $2,500,000. Total losses, at least 10 vessels, and 161 lives, as the result of the great blizzard that enveloped the Great Lakes from Sunday to Tuesday. In addition 21 other vessels have been partially or wholly destroyed, their crews escaping.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 13.
 The Duma has rejected a proposal, designed to give rights to Jewish subjects of the Czar, equal to those enjoyed by all others. The bill was introduced by Mr. Shergaroff, who urged the appointment of a Committee to draft a bill conferring on all Russian subjects equal rights before the law. The proposal was rejected by 152 to 92.

PORT HURON, Nov. 13.
 The steamer John A. McGeen, of Cleveland, one of the largest of the Great Lake steamers, was lost Sunday. She passed here, bound up at 3.10 a.m. Sunday. This was the last heard of her.

FORT WILLIAM, Nov. 13.
 The ss. Norton, which left Whitefish on Saturday, at noon, has not yet arrived, and it is feared that she has been lost. The Norton was a steel freighter, and carried 5,000 tons of coal for here.

The Lady of the Lake

At Matinee To-Morrow.
 The Nickel Theatre was well attended again last evening with a most appreciative audience. The pictures were perfect while the singing was of the finest quality, and the vocalists, Messrs. Cameron and Fleming, were warmly applauded. "The Lady of the Lake" will be repeated at the Nickel to-morrow afternoon for the benefit of children.

NICKEL THEATRE. Special Week-End Programme!

LADY CLARE—A remarkable production by the Edison Co., enacting the late Lord Alfred Tennyson's beautiful poem. Lord Tennyson, it will be remembered, held the Laureateship of Great Britain longer than any other poet ever did, and the above poem is one of his best known and appreciated works. Mark McDermott and Miriam Nesbitt are featured.

BRAVE OLD BILLY—A seaside comedy, intensely amusing.

A CHILD'S PRAYER—A Lubin western subject, beautifully pathetic.

A BUSY DAY IN THE JUNGLE—A splendid "Hunting" (?) comedy, portraying in a most entertaining manner the adventures of two "would-be" huntsmen.

A TIMELY RESCUE—A thrilling drama, featuring Arthur V. Johnson, showing many pitfalls in city life successfully evaded by a young country girl and the loyalty of a country boy.

Arthur Priestman Cameron, "Peculiar" Songs. Professor McCarthy at the Piano. Al. D. Fleming, Ballads. EXTRA BY POPULAR REQUEST.—On Saturday next at the Children's Matinee, the big feature, entitled "THE LADY OF THE LAKE," in 3 reels will be repeated.

Fashionable Furs for all occasions.

THERE is never a time during the approaching season when furs are not both becoming and necessary, and this season's furs far surpass those of any previous one, never before have we carried such a variety of beautiful furs in so many novel and fashionable styles.

We have a brilliant display of Collars, Stoles, Throw-overs and Mulls either in sets or Separate, in Mink, Marten, Sable, Squirrel and other furs. These make a fine selection from which to choose gifts for the coming Christmas Season.

The furs we are displaying this year are doubtless the finest selection ever shown in the City and we recommend you to call and see them before making any definite Choice elsewhere.
