EARLY MESSAGES

BATTLE CONTINUES WITH THE GREATEST VIOLENCE.

PARIS, June 4. Between the Oise and the Aisne the Germans were prevented from making any progress, says today's official statement. The battle continued with the greatest violence between the Aisne and the Ourcq the Germans capturing Permen. Further south the French lost a little ground. The Germans have made a further advance in the Ourcq Valley, capturing the town of Sully Lapoterie. On the Macine front German troops which had forced a passage of the River were driven back again by the French and American troops.

HOLDING AND COUNTER ATTACKING.

FRENCH ARMY HEADQUARTERS June 3. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—This afternoon the battle seems to have taken a general turn in our favor. Our line is holding, the troops are only resisting, but counter attacks are being made and successfully. Further factuations are still probable, as the front is not yet continuous. There are places where the Boche methods may yet secure local advances, but as the line stiffens hour after hour, the points where the enemy can hope to pass without severe fighting are becoming rare. During the last thirty-six hours the enemy has made no real progress on any part of his new front, south of the Aisne. There are signs that the Germans are about to make another big attack on the plateau between the Aisne and Villers Coterets forest, in order to straighten the depression in their line between the Aisne and Vierzy. Their front in this sector is only a little in advance of the western end of the Oise Valley. The German command is naturally anxious to obtain a firm footing on the plateau, but there is every reason for confidence that we will be able to hold them here as we did in the battle for Villers Coterets forest yesterday.

DEFINITELY CHECKED.

LONDON, June 4. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—Yesterday's news from the front is the most satisfactory since the 27th. Reports have been growing brighter in the last two days, but yesterday gave the first indication that the enemy is being definitely checked. The entry of General Foch's reserves is undoubtedly having its effect. The recapture of Mount Choisy is most important, for it is one of the main positions defending the road to Paris by way of Compiègne, while the repulse of the enemy attempts to enter the forest of Retz, in front of Villers Coterets, is no less significant for it is now evident that the enemy's plan is to capture the forest clad heights of Villers Coterets and Compiègne and then enclose Paris inside an enormous salient by way of the valleys of the Oise, Ourcq and Marne. It is in pursuit of this object that the enemy is now trying desperately to free his left wing on the Marne. His front here is narrowest, barely fifteen miles between Chateau Thierry and La Ferté Milon, and as it is impossible to manoeuvre an immense array of assault on such a narrow front the Crown Prince is striving to widen the front, ineffectively as it appears. If the Germans are brought to a standstill here there will likely be a prolonged contest east of Paris in further pursuit of the enemy aim to destroy the French armies and bring their batteries to bear on the city.

The threat on Paris has intensified the patriotism of its citizens. The Socialists, hitherto at loggerheads with the government, have announced their intention of doing everything to support it.

AUSTRALIANS FIGURE.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, June 4. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—Australian troops figured largely in the brilliant success of Sunday night between Strasselle and Lamotte. Ground was gained in this district which is the sector in which the first Australian division was billeted on its arrival in Northern France in March, 1916. A considerable proportion of the prisoners are mere fads of the 1916 class.

ADVANTAGE WITH ALLIES.

FRENCH ARMY HEADQUARTERS June 4. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—The latest reports of yesterday's fighting confirm that the enemy was held. The fighting was bitter along the whole front from the Oise to the Marne. The balance of the advantage rested with the Allies and such progress as the Germans made cost them an exaggerated price in casualties. Extraordinarily bitter fighting is taking place in the Ourcq Valley for the possession of the road on the southern edge of Villers Coterets forest in the direction of La Ferté Milon where a French cavalry division fighting on foot are engaged in obstinate conflict with crack army divisions, including the first division of Prussian Guards, and making the enemy pay dearly for every foot of ground gained. The record of these mounted divisions since the beginning of the German offensive has been extraordinary. The Rolling Incident illustrates the dash and dismounted cavalry. On May 31 a battle of foot-cavalry was surrounded by the advancing flood of Germans, north of the Marne. The German commanders sent a message demanding their surrender, when they charged with the bayonet and cut their way through and remained in touch with their own front. When an order was given to retake the position the battalion unhesitatingly obeyed and charged in the reverse direction over ground they had previously traversed in escaping and drove out the Germans from the village.

ADVANCE CEASES.

LONDON, June 4. The military correspondent of the British wireless said today that between the Aisne and Marne while fighting continues all along the lines, the operations may almost be said to have ceased to be a German advance and to have subsided into fights for local positions. Thus while the enemy claims taking Chaudun and the heights west of Chateau Thierry, the French have retaken the village of Favereilles and the Mont de Choisy, but except on a large scale map the change in the line is scarcely perceptible. On the rest of the new ground there have been no changes except for the operations by which the British advanced their lines locally at Thillers to the southwest of Rheims. The moment has evidently arrived when the Crown Prince's armies must appreciate that they alone can achieve no decisive result, and the German higher command must make a decision of great moment. Meanwhile, on the northern sector west of Armentières the British have not remained passive, but carried out a remarkably successful raid, capturing 288 prisoners, 20 machine gun, several trench mortars, and an anti-air gun.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

LONDON, June 4. Field Marshal Haig's report tonight says: Hostile raiding parties were repulsed during the night in the neighborhood of Beaumont Hamel and Boyelles. Another raid attempted by the enemy northwest of Kemmel Hill, was driven off by the French, who took some prisoners. There is nothing further to report on the British front.

STILL HAVE PREPONDERANCE.

PARIS, June 4. The German losses grow more serious daily, but they are still numerically superior on the whole front, and may be able to embark upon a new offensive in some other sector, perhaps Mont Didier-Noyon. The French command is therefore wisely biding its time before putting forth all its efforts.

VALUABLE AMERICAN AID.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES ON THE MARNE, June 4.—American machine gunners only one hour or so after their arrival on the banks of the Marne on the 31st of May took a most active part in the defence of Chateau Thierry, which then was menaced with imminent capture by the Germans. Scarcely had the Americans alighted from their motor lorries when they were ordered into Chateau Thierry with a battalion of French Colonial troops. The Americans immediately organized their defence, and by rapid action and excellent shooting caused the approaching enemy to hesitate. The north half of the town of Chateau Thierry was finally captured by the enemy. The south half of the town, lying on the left bank of the Marne, still is being firmly held by the Allied forces.

COLOGNE PANIC STRICKEN.

WASHINGTON, June 4. A recent allied air raid on Cologne caused the death of 146 persons, the department was informed today. About 150 were injured. The people of Cologne, the department advised, were thrown into a state of "the most absolute panic."

WERE ADVISED OF SUBS. INTENTIONS.

NEW YORK, June 4. It is now known that intimation of the German authorities to raid Atlantic waters on this side had reached the British officials and through them the Washington Government some time ago. The vessel that brought Prince Arthur of Connaught to this country, en route to Japan, it was learned, was warned by the British Admiralty and followed a zigzag course to the United States from Bermuda. This suggested that the real objective of the raid which has now turned to harrying American coastwise shipping might have been to capture a member of the British royal family. The Prince reached the United States about the time that the three schooners wrecked off the Virginia Capes were attacked.

ed Stated from Bermuda. This suggested that the real objective of the raid which has now turned to harrying American coastwise shipping might have been to capture a member of the British royal family. The Prince reached the United States about the time that the three schooners wrecked off the Virginia Capes were attacked.

PASSENGERS SAFE.

AN ATLANTIC PORT, June 4. Three hundred passengers and crew of the torpedoed steamship Carolina were picked up at sea in open boats by the schooner Edna B. Douglas. The schooner anchored a mile off Barnegat Inlet at 1.30 o'clock this afternoon, apparently awaiting orders regarding the disposition of the shipwrecked cargo.

SIXTEEN DROWNED.

LEWES, Del., June 4. Sixteen of the 35 who were in the motor boat of the Carolina, landed here to-day, were drowned in a severe thunderstorm on Sunday night while the boat was drifting about the ocean seeking rescue.

AMERICAN SHIPPING RULE.

WASHINGTON, June 4. The transfer to a foreign flag of any American ship of more than one hundred tons is forbidden under a resolution adopted to-day by the Shipping Board. Foreign Governments, or their citizens, who have been seeking ships in the United States, will be permitted to contract with American yards for sailing craft not larger than 1,000 tons.

TANKER AFLOAT.

WASHINGTON, June 4. The steamer Herbert L. Pratt, attacked yesterday off the Delaware Capes, remained afloat, and is now being towed to harbor for repairs, the Navy Department announced.

GERMAN EXAGGERATION.

LONDON, June 4. Stories of Germany's submarine-cruisers may be dismissed, says Archibald S. Hurd, the widely known writer on naval subjects, in an article in the Daily Telegraph. They are merely large subs, such as we have been building. They do not represent a triumph of German engineering any more conspicuous than a triumph our shipbuilders have achieved. It was because German submarines of about 800 tons could remain at sea only a short time, were very uncomfortable and the conditions were very telling on the nerves of the crew, that the enemy evolved a larger type, modelled on the Deutschland. This type having been designed it was decided to indulge in exaggeration in order to impress the world. What's the truth about German subs? he continues. These cruisers displace not 5,000 tons, but about 2,000, they are not 400 feet long, but less than 300 feet; their speed on the surface is not 28 knots, but about 12 knots; when submerged they don't travel at the rate of 15 knots per hour, but about 10 knots or so.

FULL CONFIDENCE EXPRESSED.

LONDON, June 4. The Supreme War Council, which has had under advisement the whole war situation, has expressed, in an official statement made public tonight, full confidence in the outcome of the war with the aid of American forces. Full confidence in General Foch is also expressed, and thanks are expressed to President Wilson for his co-operation in the work of transporting and bringing American troops over.

"HANDS OFF THE PACIFIC."

LONDON, June 4. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—The Daily Telegraph referring to Premier Hughes' Australian declaration, "Hands off the Pacific," says that Germany restored to her old position and fortified by her recent experience would make every arrangement to help her armies and navies in a future campaign. "The strategic consequences of the return of the Pacific Islands to Germany would involve the most serious issues. It would hardly be possible to allow the natives to decide the question. Self-determination is a principle in the future European settlement, but it is largely impracticable in countries where the native population are still undeveloped. The security of the Pacific must be the indispensable basis of the final settlement of the German colonies in question. South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, the United States and Canada are vitally concerned in this matter, having identical interests. Nor can we omit Japan whose position enables her to be a valuable ally.

PRAYER FOR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

MELBOURNE, June 4. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—The House of Representatives has decided that the usual opening prayer in future shall include a prayer for the soldiers and sailors of the Entente. Hon. Mr. Watt, Acting Premier, has announced that the Australian Journalists' delegation to Great Britain will include Labor representatives. Replying to a question in the House, Mr. Watt said that if cablegrams from London were true the Sinn Fein would have been much more dangerous in Australia, if measures had not been taken to suppress it.

SHOULDERING THE BURDEN.

LONDON, June 4. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—Rt. Hon. Bonar Law in the course of his comments on the double income tax said that the war was going to leave a financial burden which would outlast many generations, that it would have to be considered as how each part of the Empire should bear its own burden and having regard for the immense natural resources of the dominions he thought they would be better able to bear their share than the mother country would be able to bear hers.

ON THREE MONTHS CRUISE.

NEW YORK, June 4. A member of the crew of the U-151, the German submarine which disclosed the raid in American waters hadn't ended with yesterday's tale of destruction, upsetting the theory that the raiders probably were speeding homeward. Coast patrol ships hadn't acted on the theory. They now are closing from all directions on the scene of the raiders' last exploit, scouring the sea for further trace of enemy U-boats. Reports from survivors who were aboard the vessels established the fact during the day that at least two subs. have been at work in American waters. They are the U-39 and the U-15 and a report to the Navy Department shows that one of them at least had stores to last three months. Secretary Daniels believes that the main purpose of the raid is to create a demand among the people for the return of American craft that are fighting submarines abroad. If so the German effort to crush the United States participation in the war has again met flat failure. Not a voice has been raised for the call of fighting ships. The transport lines have been held safely against a lurking foe and for days the troops have gone forward without delay. The raiders have created panic among coastwise shipping, but have done no military damage whatever. So far as coastwise shipping goes it is certain that everything at sea equipped with radio knows of the raid, and is moving on courses to avoid them. The sailing craft are also getting the word. There were also indications to-day that the army aviation service had joined the U-boat hunt. No statement of the orders could be obtained, but it is learned that a great number of army fliers have mobilized near the coast to co-operate with the naval patrol squadron. The picking up of a floating mine off the New Jersey shore was announced to-day by the navy department. Possibly the raider was closely pursued and sought to lay a trap for her pursuers or she might have hoped the bombs would prove to be in the path of a convoy flotilla. The official list of ships sunk by the U-boats as given out tonight by the Navy Department included seven schooners and four steamers.

LATEST ABOUT THE SUBS.

WASHINGTON, June 4. Enemy subs. still were operating off the American coast to-day. A French tank steamer—the Radioline—the first trans-Atlantic craft to be attacked by the raiders and which later arrived at an Atlantic port, was saved from destruction at 9.30 a.m. to-day by an American destroyer 60 miles off the Maryland coast. The same destroyer found the coasting schooner Edward R. Bain, Jr., sinking after having been bombed in the same vicinity, making seven schooners and four steamers known officially to have been sunk by the raiders. The announcement by the Navy Department of the facts late to-night disclosed that the raid in American waters hadn't ended with yesterday's tale of destruction, upsetting the theory that the raiders probably were speeding homeward. Coast patrol ships hadn't

German Drive Narrowing.

Allied Troops Deliver Vicious Blows, and Enemy Losses Extremely Heavy. Full Confidence in Outcome.

10.00 A. M.

REVIEW OF OPERATIONS.

From drives on a wide front, the German offensive in France has deteriorated into isolated attacks along the areas between Soissons and Chateau Thierry, and eastward on the Marne and in the general direction of Rheims, although in these attacks the enemy is still using large effective numbers of guns. He is being held almost everywhere from further progress, and on many occasions compelled to assume the defensive against vicious blows delivered by the French, British and American troops. The Americans, on the sectors where they are alone, or brigaded with Allied troops are everywhere fighting with a spirit that places them rightly in the category of veterans. Near the Neully Wood, which lies northwest of Chateau Thierry, and at the point where the drive has brought the enemy nearest Paris, the Americans have beaten off a strong German attack and on the Marne at Jaulgonne, some six miles northeast of Chateau Thierry, fighting shoulder to shoulder with the French, they have aided in forcing the first contingent of the enemy to cross the Marne again, to seek the refuge of the northern bank of the stream. In this engagement the Germans suffered severe casualties, and left 100 prisoners in the hands of the defenders. Between the Aisne and Ourcq Rivers, the Germans have captured Perannet, and to the south of that village, the French have aided in forcing the enemy to cross the Marne again, to seek the refuge of the northern bank of the stream. In this engagement the Germans suffered severe casualties, and left 100 prisoners in the hands of the defenders. ### SUPREME WAR COUNCIL'S STATEMENT.

LONDON, To-day. Regarding American troops, the Supreme War Council held its session under circumstances of great gravity, resulting from the collapse of the Russian armies and people, has concentrated all its effort in the West. It is now seeking to gain a decision in Europe by a series of desperate and costly assaults upon the Allied armies, before the United States can bring its full strength effectively to bear. The advantage it possesses in its strategic position and superior railway facilities, has enabled the enemy command to gain some initial successes. It will undoubtedly renew its attacks, and the Allied nations may still be exposed to critical days. After a review of the whole position, the Supreme War Council is convinced that the Allies are bearing the trials of the forthcoming campaign, with the same fortitude

We Shall Remember Them.

They sleep beneath no immemorial yaws;
Their resting place no temple arches hem;
No blazoned shaft or graven tablet woos
Men's praise—and yet, we shall remember them.

The unforgetting clouds shall drop their tears;
The winds in ceaseless lamentation, wail,
For God's white Knights are lying on their biers,
Who pledged their service to restore the Grail.

They gave their lives to make the whole world free;
They recked not to what flag they were assigned,
The banner, Banner, Cross, or Fleur-de-lis—
Their sacrifice was made for all mankind.

For them the task is done, the strife is stilled;
No more shall care disturb, nor more shall grief
And when the larger good has been fulfilled,
In coming years we shall remember them.

How can the world their deeds forget? In France
White crosses everywhere lift pallid hands,
Like silent sentinels with sword and shield,
To keep their memory safe for other lands.

What need have they for holy sepulture?
Within the hearts of men is hallowed ground—
A sanctuary where they rest secure,
And with Love's immortality are crowned.

And far-off voices of the future sing,
"They shall remain in memory's diadem";
And words of promise still are whispering
That same refrain, "We shall remember them."
—James Terry White.

will of the people, which would have brought no strength to the Allied cause, and would undoubtedly have produced world wide evils. Any prospect of the success of Lord French's appeal, depends in my judgment, entirely on the extent to which the Government will reverse their Irish policy, and the methods of recruiting practiced.

Big Award For Salving Steamer.

A cable from England received by M. O. Crowell of Crowell Bros. Limited, Vice-President of the Larder Bros. Wrecking Company, Limited, announces that the Larder Bros. Wrecking Company, Limited, have been awarded the sum of $86,480.00 by the Arbitration Court in England as their remuneration for salvage services performed to the steamer "Arachene" in 1916. The steamer "Arachene" went ashore on the Island of Langlade or Little Miquelon, in June, 1916, in a very exposed place. Larder Bros. were employed to save her and were successful in floating the ship and having temporary repairs made in St. Pierre, and afterwards taking her to Quebec, where she was repaired in dry dock and has since made a number of successful voyages.

V. C. HEROES.

OTTAWA, To-day (via Reuter's Agency).—Although under rifle and machine gun fire, the British troops have demonstrated their splendid spirit with which the British troops have defended the soil of France against the Germans. They did not despair for a minute, but fought without cessation and even captured prisoners. The special correspondent of the Eclair, who also is at the British front, says after the events of March 21st, and the retreat of the fifth army, some Frenchmen, forgetful of the past were heard casting doubt upon the power of resistance of the British soldiers. Such judgment was unjust. Now after that took place at Craonne and Bernicourt for the defence of Rheims this remark would be a crime. Our Poilus saw Tommy at work, and the hard days which they spent in common, will strengthen mutual confidence, besides who knows whether the weight of the battle will not again fall upon the British army. It seems improbable that the British front will remain inactive, and proof of this is the appreciable increase in artillery activity on certain points of the front.

GERMAN ADVANCE SLOWING.

LONDON, To-day. The disclosure, in the French official statement yesterday, that German troops have been engaged in hard fighting in two sectors of the present great battle, and that they demonstrated their splendid quality as they did at Cantigny, recently, is most welcome to the British public. It was pointed out this morning that the German advance was continuing with unabated violence, but with a greatly reduced rate of progress. This reduction was due mainly to French reinforcements, but also to the nature of the ground, the enemy now coming into difficult wooded regions.

Co Operation of Americans and British Navies

Admiral Sir Lewis Bayly, Commander-in-Chief of the British Naval forces on the Irish Coast, has issued the following order, addressed to the American destroyer flotilla: "On the anniversary of the arrival of the first United States men of war at Queenstown I wish to express my deep gratitude to the United States officers and ratings for the skill, energy and unflinching good nature which they all have consistently shown, which qualities have so materially assisted in the war by enabling ships of the Allied powers to cross the ocean in comparative freedom. To command you is an honor, to work with you is a pleasure and to know you is to know the best traits of the Anglo-Saxon race." (Scientific American.)

British Liner Ramméd Hun Submarine.

An Atlantic Port, May 31.—A German submarine lying in wait for transports carrying American troops was ramméd and sunk by a large British transport off the Irish coast during the second week in May, according to authoritative information brought here by a prominent American returning from an important mission to England.

The ship which sank the submarine is one of the largest liners known to American and European travellers, and she hit the boat full amidship after a torpedo had been fired and the transport was manoeuvring to make way for accompanying destroyers to drop depth charges. It is possible, the American said, that the submarine might have been forced to surface by one of the explosions, but at any rate it came up less than fifty yards in front of the liner.

Four British divisions, forming the right of the Allied forces in the new battle ground on the Aisne," the statement said, "held their ground with conspicuous gallantry between Craonnelle and Bernerivcourt until pressure on the French on the left uncovered their flank and compelled them to fall back to the Aisne.

Gallantry of Four War Torn British Divisions.

New York, May 29.—Gallantry of four war-torn British divisions, which held their ground on the right of the Allied line until the uncovering of their left flank compelled retirement to the Aisne, is hailed as "fine proof of the spirit and stamina of the British Army." In a despatch cabled by the Minister of Information to the British Pictorial Service here to-day, "Four British divisions, forming the right of the Allied forces in the new battle ground on the Aisne," the statement said, "held their ground with conspicuous gallantry between Craonnelle and Bernerivcourt until pressure on the French on the left uncovered their flank and compelled them to fall back to the Aisne.

Too Much Humility.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

Carry any virtue to an extreme and you come pretty near getting a vice. Humility is one of the finest of the Christian virtues but when humility is carried to an obsessive extreme, when it becomes self assertive it loses its essential quality and becomes, if not a vice, at least an annoying fault. This fact has been brought home to me recently by a woman who has the habit of running herself down. She is always talking about her faults and deficiencies. One of them is the fact that she looks older than her husband. She does, somewhat, but one might forget the fact if she did not give it so much prominence. Whenever she meets new people she makes reference to this fact, exaggerating it and making altogether too much of an issue of it. She shies off the road. I think I know why she does it. She is one of those people who particularly detest pretense and subterfuge, and she has always shied away from them until she shied off the road on the other side. She can't bear to have people think she isn't conscious of this disparity of appearance, and so she bores and embarrasses them by making too much of it. Self depreciation is sometimes a form of vanity. I have known people who kept their eyes in the centre of the conversational stage by the simple expedient of talking continually about their own faults. Of course those to whom they ran themselves down would politely deprecate the faults they ascribed to themselves, and long discussions of their personalities would follow. Sometimes they "Get Come Up With." I particularly hate this kind of fishing. Sometimes of course a conversation of its own accord takes the turn of personal analysis, and it would be undue reticence not to admit and deplore a fault. But to hear anyone deliberately try to fish up complaints by bailing the hook with self depreciation makes me good and sick. I'm never very sorry when I see them pick the wrong kind of fishing ground and catch a sculpin! On the contrary! Minard's Liniment Co., Ltd. Gents—I have used your Minard's Liniment in my family and also in my stables for years and consider it the best medicine obtainable. Yours truly, ALFRED ROCHAV, Proprietor Roxton Pond Hotel and Livery Stables.

IMPORTANCE OF A CLEAN SKIN.
It is quite clear that the first requirement of a healthy skin is to keep it clean. Women of the early ages, no doubt, left the cleansing process to the elements, the sun, the wind and the rain. But, with the advent of clothes, the elements could no longer serve the purpose of the toilet of the whole body, and so the bath and its multifarious accessories in the shape of water, softeners, perfumes, soaps, skin foods, and all the other cleansing appurtenances of a strenuous civilization, came into being. The daily bath is as essential to beauty as daily bread is to life. The skin, as I have already said many times, is an organ, one and indivisible, and, as such, cannot be expected to be beautiful only in selected parts. As for example the face and neck and, perhaps, the shoulders and back. A beautiful skin, of course, a skin that performs its natural functions in the normal and harmonious way. You cannot expect that one bodily organ can be healthy in one part and unhealthy in another. Your face cannot look blooming if the rest of your skin is blotchy or discolored or otherwise abnormal. Hence the necessity of seeing that the skin of the whole body has its due attention. Then and then only, is perfect beauty of complexion likely to be attained. A tepid bath each day with plenty of good soap, followed by a cold shower and a brisk rub will not only cleanse the body, but will stimulate the circulation and create a healthful glow that is desired by every woman.

THE LONELY GARDEN.
I wonder what the trees will say, As they returned from year 't' year. An' how the lilac bush will face The loneliness about 't' place For ev'ry spring an' summer, he Has been the chum o' plant an' tree, An' every livin' thing has known A comradeship that's finer grown. By havin' him from year 't' year, Now very soon they'll all be here An' I am wonderin' what they'll say When they find out he's marched away.

I wonder what the birds will say, The swallow an' the chattering jay, The robin, an' the kill-deer, too. For every one o' them, he knew, An' every one o' them knew him, An' hoppin' there from limb t' limb, Walked each spring 't' tell him all They'd done an' seen since way last fall. He was the first to greet 'em here As they returned from year 't' year. An' now I wonder what they'll say When they are told he's marched away.

Dresses of soft materials have their hems unpressed, which suggests the trouser frock. Dainty hats are made of two layers of lace with flowers pressed flat between the layers. The woman who wears a red hat should see that the rest of her costume is severely quiet. Pale yellow marquisette worn over a white slip makes a pretty afternoon frock.

Your Boys and Girls.

In most cities mothers, whether poor or rich, may have the benefit of carefully inspected milk and drinking water. In the country it is a wise precaution to look into these matters before selecting the summer home. Flies and mosquitoes are two great enemies of the baby, affecting not merely his comfort, but endangering his health and perhaps his life. In going to the country the mother should select, if possible, a place where the doors, windows and porches are screened. The prudent mother will include a bolt of cotton netting in the outfit she takes to the country in order that baby's crib at least may be protected from insects. In going to a new place with the baby all the drinking water and the milk also, should be boiled, if from a strange supply about which the mother knows nothing.

AMBROSE POWER.
Intense anxiety was felt here on Wednesday, the 25th inst., when the news was flashed over the wires that Mr. Ambrose Power, one of the most respected residents of this settlement, was seriously ill at the General Hospital, St. John's. Mr. Power had left home but three short weeks previously to attend to his usual spring's business in the city. While there he contracted a cold which developed into pulmonary congestion of the lungs. He however recovered from this, and on the advice of Dr. Mitchell, who attended him during his illness, entered the Hospital to recuperate, his heart being still weak. No anxiety was felt by his friends after he entered hospital, until Wednesday, when Mrs. Power received a telegram from Dr. Keegan saying Mr. Power was seriously ill. She and her son, George, left immediately for the city, but owing to the delay of the train on Thursday they arrived just a few minutes after Mr. Power had breathed his last. He was a man well and favourably known, and respected by all with whom he came in contact, and his death has cast a gloom over the whole settlement. His body was brought home via Placentia, for interment and on Sunday was laid to rest, being followed to the cemetery by a large concourse of friends. He leaves to mourn a widow, six sons, one of whom (Jack) is serving in His Majesty's navy, and two daughters, Mrs. A. English of Branch, and Mrs. P. J. McCormack, St. Joseph's, Salmonier, as well as a large circle of friends and relatives to all of whom great sympathy is extended in their bereavement. Deceased was in his 67th year. 'CITY OF COLUMBUS' SAFE.
VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., June 4.—The 'City of Columbus' of the Savannah Line, which it was feared had been sunk by a German submarine, is safe in an Atlantic port.

WILL PROVE ABORTIVE.
NEW YORK, June 4.—The morning newspapers commenting editorially upon the German submarine raids on the Atlantic coast, agree that they will prove completely abortive as far as interfering with the steady flow of American troops and shipping across the Atlantic is concerned.

ALL ACCOUNTED FOR.
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., June 4.—A boat from the torpedoed Carolina came ashore in the centre of this resort this afternoon. It carried 28 passengers, many of them women, and seven of the crew. This probably accounts for all of the 340 passengers and crew of the Carolina. Shortly before 3 o'clock a second boat load of survivors of the Carolina rowed ashore here.

Obituary.
Intense anxiety was felt here on Wednesday, the 25th inst., when the news was flashed over the wires that Mr. Ambrose Power, one of the most respected residents of this settlement, was seriously ill at the General Hospital, St. John's. Mr. Power had left home but three short weeks previously to attend to his usual spring's business in the city. While there he contracted a cold which developed into pulmonary congestion of the lungs. He however recovered from this, and on the advice of Dr. Mitchell, who attended him during his illness, entered the Hospital to recuperate, his heart being still weak. No anxiety was felt by his friends after he entered hospital, until Wednesday, when Mrs. Power received a telegram from Dr. Keegan saying Mr. Power was seriously ill. She and her son, George, left immediately for the city, but owing to the delay of the train on Thursday they arrived just a few minutes after Mr. Power had breathed his last. He was a man well and favourably known, and respected by all with whom he came in contact, and his death has cast a gloom over the whole settlement. His body was brought home via Placentia, for interment and on Sunday was laid to rest, being followed to the cemetery by a large concourse of friends. He leaves to mourn a widow, six sons, one of whom (Jack) is serving in His Majesty's navy, and two daughters, Mrs. A. English of Branch, and Mrs. P. J. McCormack, St. Joseph's, Salmonier, as well as a large circle of friends and relatives to all of whom great sympathy is extended in their bereavement. Deceased was in his 67th year. Branch, May 29th, 1918.

PLAGIARISED AND

All communications in connection with this column must be addressed to "Baseball Editor c/o Evening Telegram."

This day week—June 12th—is Open Day. The Wanderers and Cubs will compete in the first game and a pretty contest is expected. Arrangements will be finalized at the meeting of the League to-night and will be announced later.

We recently interviewed Arthur Hiltz, boss of the Red Lions. As is ever custom, we went to headquarters to get the real, straight dope on the team for our readers of this department.

Approaching Arthur with all the dignity due a man of his position we inquired him gently on the spine and neck. "How about this year Art, old man?" We said it just like that, for Art and I are pretty thick (not to say close).

"Can your team win, old top?" we asked. "Uh-huh," said Hiltz, impressively. "Is it possible for the Cubs to win?" "For some moments Arthur hesitated. Finally came the momentous answer. "Uh-huh," he said, slowly and distinctly.

Realizing we were getting the inside stuff from the great Hiltz, we continued our questions. "How about Quick?" "Uh-huh."

"Can Gowans stop Clouston, McGrath and Hartnett? Remember, I want your candid opinion," we continued.

Thrusting his chin forward in a simple dignified, his brow wrinkled to make the admission he was about to make, the Red Lion's manager rose, and his keen grey (or is it blue?) eyes peering manfully the way came. In ringing tones he answered. "UH-HUH."

WILL OF THE HEALTH DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS BRING.

They Made a New Woman of Mrs. John Mortimer, Who Was a Victim of Kidney Disease.

Glenovan, Sas., June 4th. (Special.) "Three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new woman of me." These are the words of Mrs. John Mortimer, of this place. They are words that have been used again and again by women in all parts of Canada who have suffered, and who have found relief and cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I feel it is my duty to let you know that Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for me," Mrs. Mortimer continues. "I had a pain in my back, and I could not get out of bed without awful pain. I tried everything, but could find no relief. I was advised to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I sent to Toronto for them. The day I received them I took three before going to bed, and I felt a lot better next morning. I took them according to directions, and in one week I was as well as ever. I am fifty five, and am doing my household. If I overwork and my back feels weak I take a Dodd's Kidney Pill, and feel better in a few weeks. I have recommended them to my friends, and they also have been helped."

If you haven't used Dodd's Kidney Pills ask your neighbors about them.

Exemption Board
All yesterday's sitting of the Exemption Tribunal forty-one applications were considered. Twenty-one were allowed, four were disallowed. Two were sent to the medical board, two were referred to military enquiry, one was also dealt with by the military authorities, two were absent and were deferred. Those given exemptions were—J. F. Pennell, L. A. Walsh, J. Wilcox, R. Martin, W. L. Sullivan, Arthur Turner, under (b); Master, E. O. Young, under (c); Quinn, W. J. Coveyduck, Joseph Moran, F. Parker, R. B. Morgan, Harold Butler, Alan King, Alphonse Gallet, Joseph Hicks, Alan Phelan, Peter Ryan, under (d); James Flynn, Walter Lewis, under (e).

Motor Car Runs Amuck
About 6 o'clock last evening, while proceeding east on Duckworth Street, a motor car with the body removed, driven by a young man named West, ran amuck, crashing into a street railway pole at the southeast corner of Duckworth and Holloway streets. So great was the impact that the pole snapped in two, while the car to all appearances was not damaged. Fortunately the cross bar of the pole caught in the electric light wire, otherwise it would have fallen to the ground, striking a heavily charged wire with sufficient force to cause a fatal accident. The driver of the car claims that his car was stopped for a brief moment just west of the pole, some distance north of the point, where the steering wheel which acted as a support for his control of the car, was broken.

The Turn of the Tide.

For three years or more, the tide of German U-boat piracy has been setting steadily against the shipping of the Allies. During that stretch of time nearly 12,000,000 tons in shipping and nearly 15,000 lives have been chalked up in red-blood figures to swell the list of Prussian atrocities.
