ELEVENTH YEAR—No. 155

West Needs 34,700 Harvesters to Handle Bumper Crop; Conditions Have Reached Such an Acute Pass That Wheat Growers and Railroad Men Know not What to Do

Original Call From the West Was for 57,500 Men; of This Number There is Assured 22,800; Last Year 33,500 Were in Harvest Fields

Proposal is Made That Municipalities Suspend All But the Most Vital Public Works and Release Every Man to Save Crops

LABOR SITUATION IN BRIEF. Western Canadian farmers asked for 57,500 harvesters. They have so far received 15,800. They have in prospect a grand total of 22,800 from all sources. They still require, and do not know where to turn for 34,700 men. The situation is extremely critical. Last year 33,500 were in the harvest fields.

PROPOSALS TO OVERCOME SHORTAGE. 1.—Municipalities should suspend all but most vital public works and release every possible man to save the crops. 2.—The United States should be combed with a fine tooth comb to secure every possible man for the harvest who can be induced to come.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 28.—The Tribune summarizes the labor situation throughout the Western provinces as follows: Farming communities are growing frantic over the labor shortage situation. They are faced with the unpleasant prospect of the largest crop in the history of the country and having less than half the number of laborers they had last year.

SMALL FORCE OF AMERICAN MARINES FORCE THEIR WAY THROUGH REVOLUTIONARY TERRITORY TO LEON

Corinto, Nicaragua, Aug. 28.—Commander Warren J. Terhune and a force of two hundred American sailors and marines from the gunboat Annapolis and the Collier Justin, now lying in Corinto harbor, today succeeded in forcing their way through the territory controlled by the revolutionaries to Leon, the town midway between the Pacific coast and Lake Managua, where the liberals rose in arms August 19 and in the dead of night massacred the sleeping soldiers of the garrison.

THOMAS BROWN LEE, OLD GRAIN COMMISSION SITS IN TIME CALGARIAN, DEAD IN LETHBRIDGE

Father-in-Law of P. J. Nolan, K. C.; Funeral Will Occur at Banff, Friday

Lethbridge, Aug. 28.—The grain commission began its sittings here today. Prof. McGill, chairman of the commission, is presiding. With him are commissioners Staples and Chief Inspector G. S. Price.

His Tuberculosis a Tenth. Oakland, Aug. 28.—Supposedly dying of tuberculosis, F. F. Baldea, a business man of Salt Lake City, has coughed up a tooth and is now on the way to recovery. Baldea had several of his teeth removed several years ago and they were afterwards developed a severe toothache. Physicians told him he had tuberculosis and must seek a new climate. He brought his family here, they were, and was supposed to be practically upon his death bed when he sucked the tooth.

ARE THERE ANGELS IN CALGARY?; ALDERMAN WHALEY DOUBTS

Reception Committee Chairman Says Girls Must Fly to Top of Ald. McDougall's Arch

Fixes an Apparently Impossible Condition for Maids Who Would Pose on High

Rules Out "Cappy" Smart's Bid to Loan Aerial Truck for Hoisting Purposes

ARE there any angels in Calgary? Alderman R. S. Whaley, chairman of the general reception committee for the Duke and Duchess of Connaught evidently thinks there are not, for the alderman "Duke" is opposed to Alderman Alex. McDougall's idea of having living young women represent the figures "Britannia" and "Canada" on the arch of welcome, and has made a condition that is well nigh impossible of fulfillment.

FIRST PHILANTHROPIST OF THE WORLD IS LAID AT REST

Thirty-Four Thousand People Attend Funeral of Late Head of Salvation Army

Funeral in the King, Mayor in Their Robes, Ministers and Notables Are Present

Greatest Gathering of the Kind Ever Occurring in London, If Not in the World

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Funeral services over the founder of the Salvation Army, General William Booth, were held at the Olympia tonight in accordance with the traditions of that organization, without pomp or symbols of mourning, but with a most moving fervor and impressiveness. Thirty-four thousand people participated in the service. Nearly half of them wore blue coats and red jerseys or bonnets with red ribbons, so familiar on the streets of cities in several nations.

WILL MONEY BE DEARER?

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—Under the caption "Will Money Be Dearer?" The Mail and Empire's financial page will say tomorrow: "There is a possibility that money in Canada may be dearer the coming autumn but there shall be no stringency. The call rate is 3 1/2 per cent, which rate has ruled here for several months. The banks will be in a better condition this year than ever before to meet needed requirements for crop moving purposes."

Honor the Pioneer Women

USUALLY, in thinking of the pioneer days of the West, one thinks of the men, the ones who rode and tramped and fought through the open land against weather, conditions, and sometimes the men of old-timers one seldom thinks of the women, the latent helpmates who came cheerfully to the lone land of great distances, and lived for years in some lonely shack, miles and miles from neighbors, seeing few excepting their own immediate family.

MRS. J. A. LOUGHEED.

prominent among the women settlers in the west, accompanied by thirty other ladies who have seen Alberta grow from a wide, fenceless plain to a thriving land of busy towns and barbed-wire fences broken by rich fields, are to take part in one of the old stage-coaches in the pageant, and will present one of the most pleasing phases of the great spectacle. They exemplify the women of the early days, the mothers of the West, and too much honor cannot be given them. Following toward the end of the parade will be a float drawn by six huge prize-winning Percheron horses from a famous stock ranch. On this float will be a score of girl graduates of the Western institutions of learning, they too presenting an interesting section of the pageant and the conditions of the present. The women of old, and the girls of today, both will be seen, and both are worthy of fullest appreciation.

ANOTHER CAR LOAD OF ALBERTA POTATOES QUICKLY SOLD

R. W. Pamment, Organizer of Direct Selling Association, Scores Another Hit

Plans to Remain in City Next Week if He Can Arrange It to Perfect Organization

Big Task to Consult With Other Farmers Clamoring to Get Into Organization

FOR the fifth time within three weeks, R. W. Pamment, organizer of the Nightingale Farmers' Supply association, yesterday demonstrated that the people of Calgary and vicinity are anxious to patronize an Alberta grown product by selling out another car load of the big Alberta potatoes. The Alberta grown potatoes are fast superseding the so-called British Columbia potatoes owing to the superior quality which the association is supplying.

RELIEVE POSTAL CONDITIONS

Board of Trade Passes Resolution Requesting Temporary Quarters be Built

Weekly Mail Shows Increase of 207,918 Letters Over Same Period Two Years Ago

The Present Quarters Will be Swamped When Christmas Business Begins to Come

Want Congestion Relieved. After reciting the fact that numerous complaints had been received regarding the inadequacy of the present post office and the consequent congestion, causing great inconvenience to the public, the report says that the work of investigating the conditions was taken up in the belief that a new post office would be erected in keeping with the promising future of Calgary.

BOOTH MEMORIAL SERVICES WERE LARGELY ATTENDED

The public funeral service in memorial of the late General Booth, held at the Calgary Citadel last night, was a very impressive one. The large hall was crowded with people who had come to pay their respects to the departed philanthropist and humanitarian.

CHAIRMAN OF ASSOCIATION OF WESTERN RAILWAYS WOULD AVOID CAR CONGESTION

Toronto, August 28.—It is now feared that the car shortage which is said to be the greatest in the history of American railroads, will cause great loss to the western farmers. This view is taken by W. A. Green, chairman of the association of western railways, who in a bulletin among shippers and consignees, states that this condition can be alleviated to a considerable extent in the following ways:

TRUNK SEWER MAY NOT BE COMPLETED TILL ANOTHER YEAR

Though Contract Called for its Completion July 1, Last, Big Drain Far From Finished

Contractors Apparently Making Little Progress Despite the Assurance of Engineer

Council Referred Question to City Engineer, But Little Has Been Done

THAT the big trunk sewer from the Elbow to the Bow river, the contract for which was let over a year ago, will not be completed so that the city will have the benefit of the sewer this year seems apparent to anyone who inspects the work. A long stretch of the sewer yet remains to be laid, and judging from the present rate of construction, another year will pass by before the citizens receive the benefit of the sewer, though the contract called for its completion by July 1st last.

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—In today's Le Devoir, Henri Bonassas, the fisheries, the French-Canadian nationalist, deals with the attitude of the English and Canadian press with regard to President Taft's message on the Panama legislation.

POSSIBILITIES OF A GRAIN BLOCKADE THROUGHOUT THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA ARE REDUCED TO A MINIMUM BY PROMISE OF INCREASED EQUIPMENT BY THE C.P.R.

Twenty-Five Per Cent More Cars Available This Year Than Last; Crop Maturing Two Weeks Earlier Will Permit of Shipments Before Navigation Closes

Growers Urged to Have Crop Ready to Take Advantage of Increased Facilities; Railroad Asked to Maintain Total Capacity After Close of Navigation

ACCORDING to figures filed by the grain committee of the Board of Trade, the possibilities for a grain blockade this year are reduced to the minimum. This optimistic forecast is based by the committee upon three contingencies—more cars in which to move the crop, empty elevators ready to receive it, and a two weeks' earlier harvest than last year.

YOUTHS IN CANOE PICKED UP ON LAKE ERIE

Weak and Exhausted With Waves Rolling High Appearance of Ship Was Welcome

Tried to Win Wager That They Could Paddle from Windsor to Put-in-Bay

Windsor, August 27.—Exhausted from hunger and exposure, and their canoe in imminent danger of being capsized, Anderson McEwen, aged 16, of Windsor, and Hector Loranger, 15, of Detroit, were picked up by the steamer Frank E. Kirby in Lake Erie off Middle Sister Island Thursday.

In an attempt to win a bet that they could paddle to Put-in-Bay, Ohio, the two young men left Belle Isle last Tuesday. They got no further than Middle Sister Island, where they spent Wednesday night. Without food, and already weak from hunger, they put off Thursday morning for Put-in-Bay.

McEwen claimed they lost their compass and strayed from the course. Loranger became exhausted and lay down in the bottom of the frail craft, while his companion tried to keep the canoe headed into the waves, which were running high. When McEwen was almost ready to give up the steamer Kirby was sighted, and fastening a towel to his paddle he signalled for help.

Captain Paul, who was on the bridge, saw the signal of distress, and fearing the canoe would tip over ordered full steam ahead. The waves were so high that when the canoe was in a trough it was completely lost sight of.

Reaching the canoe containing the young men the Kirby was listed until the deck was level with the lake, when they were picked up safely.

THE WEST NEEDS 34,700 HARVESTERS

Everywhere throughout the city today the question is being asked where the labor can be secured for the harvest fields and the proposals advanced are many and varied.

Immigration can do a lot towards helping out. About five hundred reach the city today and tomorrow they will be ushered out to the country, at least everyone of them will accept the tempting offers of high wages which will be made to them.

All railroad companies are wiring through the United States for men at special rates to come to this country and to take part in harvesting the crops here. The east and the south is being searched with the figurative fine tooth comb to secure all the labor available, yet the prospects are that the supply will still be very far short of the demand.

It is urged on western cities and municipalities that they release every man possible. The more the labor crop. Most public works can wait, it is urged.

Farmers' Complaint.
J. Bruce Walker, commissioner of immigration, is being deluged with applications for farm labor. Farmers are becoming frantic for help and the situation is assuming serious proportions," he said. "If matters show no improvement, and I don't see much relief in sight, municipalities and public works generally should send their men out to the fields and suspend operations on their works. Certainly the demand for harvest labor is more acute than the need for prosecuting public works not immediately profitable."

Great Falling Off in Numbers.
Speaking on the unusual conditions in the west this year, and the small response from the eastern Canada for men to take care of the harvest of the west, Assistant Passenger Agent Shaw of the Canadian Pacific railway said this morning: "Very few more than half the number of passengers arrived at our station this year than last. Last year we handled 20,000. This year so far we have only ticketed 10,000. We anticipate a harvest of 13,000, that is on all railroads. There are two more excursions to come, and these will probably be small ones. At least they will go over the same territory again and the second response is generally much smaller than the first one."

"This morning we wired to our Montreal office to send every available man, and to keep the excursions coming just as long as it was possible to do so. However, supposing that we get three thousand from the two we will have very little more that will meet the number of men we had last year."

East Busy, Too.
"The reason for this is not far to seek. The west is not the only part of Canada that feels prosperity at the present time. There is all kinds of work in the east, and men do not need to come west to get all the work they can do at high wages. The east has good crops and has very few men to spare for the western demands. Prosperity is apparent throughout the whole country, and is the prime cause of labor shortage."

"Again, we did not get as many people in Winnipeg as we got last year, and that is accentuating the difficulty."

Farmers to Blame.
"Farmers have themselves to blame for the present state of their labor market," said a man this morning, who declined to let his name appear. "A farmer is a mean man. Last year men came up from eastern Canada and went out to the farming districts. They had to lay around for a few days and pay their board. If farmers had had their eyes on the future they would not have done this. The men got heartily sick of laying around, and the least the farmers could have done would have been to take the men out to their farms and board them till the harvest was ready."

High Rates Not Cause.
"The talk of its being the railroads fault for increasing the fare to the west this year is all twaddle. The increase in wages will more than repay for any extra cost that the men may be up against to get to the harvest fields."

A prominent railroad official quoted the case of a farmer near Moose Jaw, who had driven up to the public water trenches of the city and had hired the men right out of the ditch to go out to the farm with him at $2.50, the farmer to board them, weather and dry. They were getting only $2.75 on the city works, board themselves, and he simply snapped them up by offering more. That kind of thing is going on throughout the west," he concluded.

Takes His Bride to Peking.
London, Aug. 28.—Dr. George Ernest Morrison, Britisher correspondent of The Times in Peking, was married today to Miss Jeanne Robin, a native of New Zealand, who formerly lived in China. Dr. Morrison, accompanied by his bride, will return immediately to Peking to take up his duties as political adviser to the Chinese president of the republic.

MR. BORDEN AND THE SUFFRAGETTES

Are women less sympathetic than they used to be? It sounds like a subject for discussion by soft-hearted and soft-headed correspondents in the "Heart Column", but it isn't suggested for that purpose. Yet it is surely incredible that the feminine heart could have hardened itself to the task. If ever there was a statesman who had enough on his hand without being pestered by a deputation of suffragettes that statesman was surely Premier Borden. Racked by the thought that he must soon announce a naval policy different from that of Sir Wilfrid and at the same time acceptable to the people of Canada, the Canadian premier was in no mental condition to be subjected to the strain of that interview. It is true they did not shriek "Votes for Women", into his ear. They did not knock his hat off, shake him, beat him with a stick, strike him with a hatchet, or even set fire to the hotel in which he was staying. But they threatened all these things, covertly but none the less unmistakably. They intimidated to him, gently but firmly, that "The Aches of Asquith" and "The Woes of Winston", of which he had read with amusement in the newspapers, might take on that more serious aspect which such stories assume when they become the record of personal experience.

For the moment Canada's premier was on trial. If he had shown the white feather at this moment, not all the attractions of the naval policy which he is engaged in inventing would have restored him to the confidence of the people of Canada. Useless, however, to discuss what we would have thought of him under these circumstances because if ever he carried any white feathers he moulted them at that moment.

King Leonidas with his faithful three hundred in the Pass of Thermopylae, Caesar facing his enemies "at the base of Pompey's statue," Bill Adams at the battle of Waterloo or Colonel Sam Hughes, telling the people of Vancouver what he would do to the Germans in the event of war—not a man of them was "in it" for courage with our own R. L. Borden. He didn't talk to the ladies as some of our Western statesmen might have done, because R. L. was brought up in the East and learned from his youth how wicked it is to use "naughty words". But he talked to them firmly and we are gratified to read that he spoke "with some warmth", as he intimated that they might take by force his hat, his coat, his collar or his life, but they should not induce him to swerve by one inch from the path of public duty—or words to that effect.

We tremble to think of the consequences of his rash courage. We anticipate an immediate appeal from the Tory press for the removal of the question of votes for women in Canada from party politics. It will doubtless be difficult for Liberals to resist the temptation to encourage the movement in Canada. Think of the pleasing spectacle that would be presented by "Sweet Christabel" securing a strangle hold on George Eulas Foster as he emerges from the house, or Colonel the Honorable Sam trying to look like a hero while at the same time fleeing before a contingent of the shrieking sisters armed with hatchets. With a policy of "Reciprocity and Votes for Women" Sir Wilfrid could sweep the country. We hope, however, that the Liberals will put duty before pleasure, take this question out of party politics and back Mr. Borden to the last gasp.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH

The report of the provincial bacteriologist, revealing a condition of the water supply that would appear to make it improbable that the prevalence of typhoid fever in the city can be traced to this source, serves only to emphasize the need for care in avoiding or stopping other channels of infection. It is understood that the report of the health department for this month will show a record of some seventy cases. Making full allowance for the proportion of cases in which the source of infection may be traced to some point outside the city, the number is large enough to indicate the existence of unsanitary conditions somewhere within the city limits. It is unfortunate that no record is available that would show from what part of the city the majority of these cases come. With the water supply eliminated from the possible sources of infection, however, the finger of suspicion is naturally turned to the wells which are to be found in outlying sections, exposed to seepage from stables and open cesspits. Water from wells should be avoided or drunk only after it has been boiled. The accumulation of garbage and other filth that may afford a breeding place for flies should be prevented wherever possible.

It is to be hoped that the time is not far distant when the public generally will realize how deadly an enemy it has in the house-fly. People are being awakened to this knowledge but the process is slow and they will need many a vigorous prod before they cease merely to rub their eyes and grumble at being disturbed. The house-fly should become an insect "so-called because it was at one time to be found in dwellings." The presence of one of these insects in the house should be as hateful as that of a rattlesnake or a meddlesome mother-in-law. The sound of its buzzing, so far from being drowsy, should awaken the spirit of murder in the heart of the hearer. Mothers with young babies in their care should be more afraid of the sight or sound of a house-fly than the Tories are of war with Germany or Premier Asquith of suffragettes. Once aroused this feeling against the little devil—and it can be done—and its doom will have been sound. Its extermination is not an impossibility but can be accomplished only by the force of a healthy universal hatred.

GERMANY AND GREAT BRITAIN

While the naval forces of Germany and Great Britain are being concentrated where their close proximity is most likely to excite the irritation which leads to conflict, while the statesmen of each country are reiterating those assurances of peaceful intention which barely conceal the fear of a breach of the peace and while a large section of the press of each country is loud in the expression of its dread of possible rupture, preparations are being made for a gathering to be held in London in November of special interest in view of these circumstances. For three days towards the end of that month a gathering, composed of prominent advocates from both countries of an Anglo-German understanding, meeting under the presidency of Sir Frank Lascelles, formerly British ambassador to Berlin, will discuss measures for the promotion of a better understanding between the two countries. It is surely significant of the approach of a better day when such a gathering can be held while the governments of the two countries represented are watching each other with a barely concealed suspicion that hostilities may be declared at any moment.

One of the most disturbing elements in the present situation is that the democracy of neither of the two countries concerned is desirous of war. Travel Great Britain or Germany from end to end, you will find many who fear the possibility of war, you will find some who believe it to be inevitable, but you will find none who want it or believe it to be necessary. The great bulk of the people who labor for their daily bread know that then can gain nothing by war while they must lose much. They have no grievance and they entertain no feeling of hatred towards their fellow workers of another nationality. Left to themselves they would be good friends.

Yet we are told that war is inevitable. We are told that the time is coming when the men of each country who do not want to fight, who have nothing to gain by fighting and everything to lose, will arm and go to the fool's work of blowing each other's brains out. Thousands of homes will be desolated, the trade of half the world will be disrupted, finally, somebody will be victorious and nobody will be a penny the richer, save the few capitalists who supply the munitions and sinews of war.

Why and at whose bidding are we going to fight? Who are our masters? When the people of each country have fully awakened to the fact that their own desire to avoid war is no stronger than that of the people in the other country, they will turn their attention to these questions. That day will be hastened by such conferences as that to be held in London.

EDITORIAL NOTES

In one month there have been five hundred executions in Canton, China. The new Republic is determined to be in advance of the Western nations in dealing with the problem of overcrowding.

"War is fire," declares The Toronto News in an inflammatory editorial. True enough; and the jingo press is a mischievous chieftain playing with matches.

A girl who stole a preacher's suit case read a sermon which it contained, saw the error of her ways and returned the stolen property. Our opinion of the value of that sermon will be determined by the value of the remaining contents of the suit case, of which unfortunately nothing is said.

Sir Max Aitken has solved the problem of the high cost of living and tells us we need only more trusts to reduce selling costs. It is generally understood that it was for some such service as this that he was knighted and he should therefore now be due for promotion to the house of lords.

The assurance of the provincial bacteriologist that there are no bacilli coli communis in our drinking water will give us little satisfaction at a time when the water is so much mud that even a temperance preacher would prefer to drink whiskey.

Ideas of a Plain Man

By DR. FRANK CRANE

REASON

It is well and good to be rational, and to have reasons for what you do, but the best things we do, those of which we are justly proudest, those indeed for which our friends love us most, are the things we do for no reason at all.

Take love, the greatest thing in the world. It is never so fine as when it defies intelligence, laughs at prudence, mocks at consequences, and gives itself without money and without price.

One reason why women are so much more lovely than men is that they act from the woman's reason, "just because."

It's a poor lover who can tell why he loves. Take heroism. Precisely because it does not foresee nor count the cost it is admirable. The careful, wise man will do for ordinary occasions, but for the splendid deeds it needs a man who is a bit mad. Regulus, Arnold Winkelried, Nathan Hale, and Sergeant Jasper were not wise; they were better they were heroic.

Take joy. The happy people are not those who can explain the grounds for their contentment; and when a body proceeds to prove he is happy you may rest assured he is worried.

Take religion. The apostle told his followers to be ever ready to give a reason for the faith that was in them, but my experience has been that those with the sincerest faith were those who were least disposed and least skilled, to reason about it.

No, man, your intellect is not your highest faculty; you are super-human only when you are caught in the fires of the primal instincts.

NOBLE LOVE AFFAIR FINDS WAY TO COURTS

Society Women Offer to Shake Dice for Smiles of Military Heart-Breaker

Physical Encounter Brings Scissors and Hat Pins Into Play With Bad Results

BERLIN, August 28.—The rivalry in love between two society women, the Baroness Cecilia von Schendel and Frau Sybilla von Nordhausen, has found its way at the court of First Instance at Schoneberg, near Berlin.

They had previously been intimate friends, but both fell in love with a young cavalry officer, and from that moment they became the bitterest of foes.

The two ladies frequently met at social functions, and many angry scenes ensued. To put an end to an intolerable situation, Frau von Nordhausen sent a telephone message to the baroness requesting a final interview, at which dice were to be cast for the officer's preference.

The interview was duly arranged at the baroness's residence, but shortly after the two women had met they came to blows.

After a fierce tooth and nail encounter the adversaries had recourse to a hatpin and a pair of scissors, the consequence being that the baroness's eye was put out and her enemy an ear literally torn from her head.

At the hearing of the case, Baroness von Schendel produced a neatly-folded paper packet, from which she took a bunch of her adversary's hair, which she flourished before the judge's eyes with the triumphant cry: "I have had my revenge, and have damaged her beauty."

The baroness, who has lost the sight of an eye, was awarded $100 damages.

CROWDS IN PANIC WHEN CIRCUS TENT BURNS

Spark From Factory Chimney Starts Blaze and There is a Rush for Safety

Fright of Animals Adds to Scare; Prompt Work of Employees Prevents Injuries

STERLING, Ill., Aug. 27.—Lions roaring, tigers snarling, elephants trumpeting and thousands of persons fighting a desperate struggle to escape a possible liberation of all the beasts in Ringling Brothers' circus were the component parts of a panic that broke out when the burning of the main tent of that show this afternoon.

No one was seriously injured, and prompt action by the circus employees prevented any of the dangerous animals of the menagerie, but the main tent was destroyed, together with poles, seats and other paraphernalia. The main tent was scorched and the cook tent was also damaged.

The circus men place their loss at $150,000. It will be impossible for them to fill their date here, but they will hold their regular parade and two performances at Keosauqua tomorrow, speech tents, seats and other articles already being prepared for shipment to that city from Chicago.

Hundreds in Main Tent

The fire started just as the crowd for the afternoon performance had nearly filled the lot on which the big canvas shelters were pitched. Hundreds had already taken their seats in the main tent and many more were in that reserved for the menagerie.

The fire was caused by a spark blowing from a factory chimney several blocks away, and almost as soon as it was discovered it had enveloped the main tent in flames and had spread to the animal pens.

Circus employees hastily raised the sides of all the tents and the crowds inside found it a comparatively simple matter to get out. When all were out, however, a dense crowd was packed about the burning canvas, watching for developments.

Suddenly the sides of the animal tent were run down upon the cages to save them from being burned. The huge canvas covered the cages and the beasts raised a veritable pandemonium with their fear-stricken howls and cries. The elephant herd had been moved out of the tent and tethered before the top was lowered.

Menagerie attendants crawled about under the canvas seeking to quiet their charges. Some one started a cry that the animals were loose and the crowd of the police kept the people from injuring themselves as they fought each other to get to the exits of the tent.

Later, when order was restored, the townspeople joined the circus hands in lighting out what was left of the show, and in caring for several of the workmen who had been more or less seriously burned in fighting the spread of the flames.

Slayer of Seven Escapes

Tulsa, Okla., August 28.—Frank Holloway, safelower and bank robber, with a record of having killed seven men, escaped from the Texas state penitentiary at Rusk yesterday, where he was serving a sentence of seven years for the robbery of the Harrod Mercantile Bank at Harrod, Texas, in 1901. With him escaped Arthur Inman, sentenced for thirteen years, and Frank Warner, serving a sentence of eight years.

In Tulsa Holloway killed a gambler named Ford. He admits having killed a companion named Chafer in Panhandle City, killing Edward F. West at Bogota, Colombia, and shooting Ben Reynolds and two men named McCovey and Smith in St. Louis during the war.

Holloway told the police he helped to rob the New Westminster, B. C., bank of $75,000, and that he got $85,000 from the Panama City Bank.

Tragedy at a Christening. Paris, Aug. 28.—The cathedral at Auxerre, in the province of Yonne, was the scene of an accident yesterday. Hundreds of persons were attending a baptism when a playmate was swinging on the ledge of the baptismal font into the infant was about to be dipped. The font, which weighed 200 pounds, toppled over, crushing the chorister to death.

WOULD FORCE BACHELORS INTO MARRIAGE

Problem of Making Mankind Bow to Marital Yoke

OLD RULES AND LAWS BEING RESURRECTED IN EFFORT TO FIND EFFECTIVE SOLUTION

LONDON, August 28.—In 1801 the whole nation into five classes. In the first were to be the parents of ten children, who were to be honored by wearing a tricolor ribbon in their hats. On the other hand, bachelors were to suffer all kinds of disabilities. No bachelor was to be allowed to dispose of property at death, he was not to be permitted to attend any public meetings, he was to be compelled to wear a green and yellow cockade in his hat whenever he went along the streets.

A German Remedy. Germany, too, had the same long years ago, and curious measures were put forward as remedies for it. A motion was introduced to make unmarried men pay a tax, while it would be impossible for them to live in the state. Another suggestion was that half the income of childless couples should be taken from them, and that they should be forced to dress in official costume of a drab-brown hue, which would make them the scorn and scorn of all other people.

Germany proposed that all married folk who had more than eight children should live with payment of but a third of the ordinary taxes, while if a courageous husband and wife managed to have more than a dozen children, they were to have a house exempt from the municipality free of all rent and rates.

Bonus for Children. That famous ruler of France, the Grand Monarch, went even further than this in his efforts to mitigate the much-declining birthrate of his time. From an edict issued at Tournay it is found that the state actually offered a bonus to all parents who did their duty manfully and womanfully by having their quivers full, as saith the Psalmist. Fathers of ten children were to be exempt from all taxes and rates whatever, if such men belonged to the peasant class; if they belonged to the aristocratic class they were to receive a yearly pension of $5,000. Should parents of this class contrive to have a dozen children they were to be given $10,000 as an annual gift from the state for life.

Sweden in Line. Sweden long ago had to face a similar problem. Her rulers found that if the birthrate did not materially improve before many more years things would be so serious that the little nation would be in danger of being overwhelmed by fierce rivals and neighboring foes who had long wanted the Baltic coast as their own. So Sweden offered many advantages to parents who managed to have a certain number of little ones, and her benefits were arranged in a regular scale, increasing by something like a geometrical progression in value after the lowest limit of six children was passed.

The chancellor of the exchequer, Lloyd George, has, then, many good reasons to work for in his work to attempt to improve the birthrate of these islands. The Kaiser is equally anxious and keen in Germany today, and his tendency is manifestly to insist itself strongly there with respect to the declining number of births.

AUGMENTING FACULTY OF COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

Three New Instructors, All Specialists, Have Been Added to Teaching Corps

The opportunities offered to students at the Collegiate Institute wishing to prepare themselves for business pursuits are better than ever before. In addition to the former teacher, Mr. E. W. B. Dykes, who now takes charge of the art department but will assist with the business subjects, an experienced commercial specialist, Mr. J. C. McNab, B.A., will be at the head of the department. Mr. McNab is an honor graduate of Queen's university and a teacher of experience who has held positions as commercial teacher in the Macdonald school at Guelph, and in the Ottawa Collegiate Institute. He is competent to give as good a training for commercial life as is offered by any school in Canada.

Larger numbers each year avail themselves of this course at the Calgary collegiate, and it is expected this year that the department will be crowded. The teachers at the college are Miss E. M. Bigney, M.A., an honor graduate of Mount Allison university, who has taken post-graduate study in French and German on the continent, and comes to Calgary from the Halifax high school where she has had great success as a teacher. She will take the classes formerly conducted by Miss M. Davis, teacher of history, who is away on leave of absence.

Mr. J. M. Hutchinson, B.A., an honor graduate in mathematics and physics of the University of Toronto, comes from the Ottawa collegiate to take charge of the department of physics. He has a good record as a student and a teacher and will with the others, prove a great addition to the teaching staff of the Calgary collegiate institute.

Many Willing to Kill Man. Reno, Nevada, Aug. 28.—The death sentence of Andrew Mirovitch, the Austrian who murdered a prominent business man of Toronto, which was to have been executed at the Carson City prison today by shooting, has been suspended pending an appeal to the supreme court.

The method of death was chosen by the condemned man under the new law. There are a number of men in the United States who are willing to take a human life for a few dollars' pay has been demonstrated since Warden Cowley announced that he needed men to shoot Mirovitch. He has received more than 100 communications from men who said they were willing to shoot Mirovitch for $100. Each writer talks of the shooting of this man being as if he were nothing more than a jack rabbit. Some even go so far as to boast of their ability in taking a human life.

INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS IN SUNNY ITALY

In the Old Days Strikes Were Considered as Crimes and Treated Accordingly

Premier Golitti Proclaimed Right of Workman to Protest When He So Desired

Rome, Aug. 31.—Italy has been for the last dozen years a good field for strike experiments, and should be a salutary example for the working classes in other countries. Until the end of the last century strikes, although not contemplated by any article of the penal code, were generally considered crimes, and were treated accordingly. That was an exaggeration which led to most unpleasant results.

Signor Golitti, the premier, with that common sense and balance of mind which distinguishes him, changed all this, proclaiming entire liberty on the part of the workmen, together, however, with the most energetic protection of the workmen who do not wish to join the movement. He realized that the agitation for better conditions for the workmen cannot be suppressed, and that any attempt in this direction might have brought about riots of a revolutionary character. The results have been most interesting. There was at first an absolute epidemic of strikes. The workmen could hardly believe in their new-found liberty, and struck for any and every reason, and, in some cases, for no reason at all.

The disease, however, cured itself, and had happened a few years before in the turbulent and republican province of Romagna, where the people were on the verge of revolution because they insisted on playing the "Hymn of Garibaldi," which the government authorities considered a "seditious music," which they put down with such violence as to cause daily imprisonment, rebellions, and loss of life. Still, Italy, while the remainder were successful in their strike, was unsuccessful in theirs. In these strikes the poorest and most suffering provinces.

Taking the strikers as a whole, over 33 per cent. ended with the complete defeat of the strikers, and only about 15 per cent. with their complete victory, while the remainder were successful in their strike, but were unsuccessful in theirs. In these strikes the poorest and most suffering provinces.

25,000 strikers, occurred in the building trade, followed by 22 strikes with 12,000 strikers among navies, and 6,500 strikers in the brickfields. It must, however, be remembered that these workmen only a relatively short time ago, received in Italy wages ranging from 25 to 50 cents a day, which are now doubled and in some cases trebled. The greatest number of strikes, 46 per cent., took place in the most prosperous part of the kingdom, the north, 59 per cent. in the centre, and only 15 per cent. in southern Italy and the islands, which comprise the poorest and most suffering provinces.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES BIG TAG DAY

(By Uno.)

Everybody is helping the Associated Charities to make their Tag Day a wonderful success. The latest good news is a letter received from Superintendent McCauley stating that after conferring with Mayor Mitchell, they decided to give all collectors the privilege of riding on the street cars throughout the day, Monday, gratis. The general superintendent as well as his worship the mayor, have the work of the Associated Charities at heart and have inconvenienced themselves in arranging that the charity workers might be given this privilege for the day. Every passenger on the street cars of the city from 9 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night will be requested by one of the city's fair daughters to purchase a tag. The only way to help "beat" is to pay your money and buy a tag in the morning and then for the rest of the day you will not be molested.

Attractive ribbons will be worn by the girls and women of the city who will act as chaperones, captains and scouts. The collectors' boxes will be sealed and can only be opened at headquarters, so there will be no opportunity for imposters to hold sway.

A meeting of those who will assist on Tag Day will be held at the Associated Charities headquarters on Friday afternoon. The matrons are requested to come at 3:30 o'clock, and the girls at 4:30. There are a number of business girls who have signed their intention of assisting, who will not be able to attend the Friday meeting. We ask them to just report for duty on Monday morning and they will find their assignments waiting for them. Anyone who is willing to help whether they have promised heretofore or not is requested to come to the Friday afternoon meeting.

A granite tablet, inscribed with the names of the Pilgrims, was blackened by the lightning. It is thought that the giant figure of Faith will have to be taken down and repaired, at great expense.

CURSE OF VANDERDECKEN HOVERS OVER SHIP

Series of Misfortunes Overtake Port Patrick En Route to Adelaide, Australia

Mate Dies of Heart Disease and Men Swept Overboard in Stubborn Gales

San Francisco, August 27.—Minus two sailors who were swept overboard in a storm and drowned, and a first mate, who died of heart disease, and with her hull battered and her sails patchwork, the British ship Port Patrick, well known in ports of this coast, recently crept into Adelaide, Australia, according to advices received here.

The Port Patrick, a 1,200-ton vessel, was chartered by the Australian Post on January 2, last with a cargo of coal oil. The following day the ship ran into a storm, which carried away her fore top sail. January 15 she ran into a fierce northeast gale, with high seas.

Running With Wind.
The vessel was running with the wind, two seamen straining at the wheel to keep her from yawing, when a huge wave struck the ship at the stern snapping the wheel at the hub and smashing the skylight of the helm into the boiling sea. The wave also carried away the wheel box, two compasses and the foremast, which was smashed, the skylight of the cabin, which was flooded, spilling the stores. The aft part of the charthouse was also crushed, and the vessel tilted at the time were hurled into the scupperns.

The vessel swung broadside to the big combers and her upper canvas was ripped to ribbons. All thought the vessel doomed. Finally the crew succeeded in adjusting an iron wheel to the helm and the vessel finally was brought under control.

Until within sight of the Australian coast, the Port Patrick encountered gale after gale.

CITIZENS ARE URGED TO HASTEN DECORATIONS

Board of Trade Again Urges Necessity for Quick Action in Placing Bunting

Further Delay May Mean That Many Will Be Unable to Get Buildings Decorated

At the meeting of the board of trade yesterday afternoon an urgent request was made, that the public generally hasten to have all decorations completed at the earliest possible moment. Though Calgary now has within the city a number of expert decorators, the tendency to put off the work until the last moment may result in many usual houses failing to get their work completed in time to have the city in a finished condition when the Stampede opens.

The work of stringing electric wires for illumination purposes is progressing rapidly, and the buildings which will present a beautiful appearance will be outlined at night in mandarin lights, with huge welcome signs, and executed in colors setting off the entrance to the building.

Already a number of business houses have been decorated, and when the remainder of the bunting is placed the city will take on a holiday appearance never before equalled in its history.

New Collection of Art Treasures.
Copenhagen, Aug. 31.—Collection of art treasures, which for over a century has been housed practically unaltered within the walls of a Swedish manor has lately come to light, by the purchase of the collection by a Danish dealer. The latter was under the impression that the more important of the canvases were copies of works by celebrated painters, but he took the precaution of bringing them to Copenhagen and showing them to M. Carl Madsen, the director of the National picture gallery, who declared five of the pictures to be genuine works of Rubens, Rubeada, and Titian.

As the result the dealer has had several attractive offers from private collectors, but as an acknowledgment of M. Madsen's services he intends to give the Danish State Museum the option of purchase, provided a reasonable price is offered.

OFFICIAL STAMPEDE LINE OF MARCH IS ANNOUNCED

Straightaway Parade Will be on Sixth Avenue to Avoid Interfering With Traffic

Parade Will Occur Daily at 9:30 A.M., Except on Friday, When the Duke Comes

Indians and Cowboys, Trappers and Mounted Police Will Make Brave Display

THE official line of march for the parades of Stampede week has been arranged showing that the principal line of march will be on Sixth avenue, Second street east, Thirteenth avenue, First street west, Fourteenth avenue, and Second street east, again to the grounds at Victoria Park.

Sixth avenue was named for the principal line of march instead of Eighth avenue to avoid interfering with traffic, and also as that avenue will afford a better position for the formation of the various columns, including the labor organizations, cowboys, stage coaches, Stampede contestants, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the Princess Patricia.

The official key plan of the routes of the daily parades shows that the centre of formation will be on Sixth avenue, at Eighth street west. At this point will be stationed the City street, and the head of the parade will start from there marching east on Sixth avenue. As the head of the parade moves off, the Indians who will march on Sixth avenue between Eighth and Ninth streets west, will fall in behind, and as this part of the procession reaches Eighth street west, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the Princess Patricia, and the miners and fur traders, who will be stationed on Eighth street west, on each side of Sixth avenue, will fall in behind them.

Formation Will be on Cross Streets.
The procession will then continue to march straight ahead on Sixth avenue, and as each successive cross street is reached, the various divisions of the parade station themselves on the cross streets, north and south of Sixth avenue, will fall in behind the procession in their respective order.

Thus the Royal North West Mounted Police and the police of "74" will be stationed on Seventh street west, south of Sixth avenue, and facing the avenue, while the buffalo and bull teams, surveyors, etc., also will be stationed on Seventh street west, north of Sixth avenue and facing the avenue.

The Cowboy band and the Round-Up outfit will form on Sixth street west, south of Sixth avenue, facing the avenue, while the stage coaches, contestants at the Stampede, etc., also will form on Sixth street west on north side of Sixth avenue, facing the avenue.

Cowboys on Fifth Street West.
The cowboys will line up on Fifth street west, south of Sixth avenue, facing the avenue, while the first section of the Labor organizations also will line up on Fifth street west, north of the avenue, facing the avenue. The remainder of the Labor organizations will form on Fourth street west, north and south of Sixth avenue, and facing the avenue from each side.

The six-horse team, bringing up the rear, will line up on Third street, on the north side of Sixth avenue. All of the organizations will fall into the parade in the order named, and the order will be maintained for each day, subject to changes announced by the parade marshal.

The Line of March.
Proceeding east on Sixth avenue, the parade will move to Second street east, where it will wheel and march south on Second street east, to Thirteenth avenue, turning there to the west and marching west on Thirteenth avenue to First street west; thence north on First street west, to Fourteenth avenue; thence east on Fourteenth avenue to Second street east, thence south again on Second street east, to Seventh avenue where the paraders will disband preparatory to entering the Stampede grounds at Victoria park.

COURT INTERPRETER CHARGED WITH MURDER.
Montreal, August 28.—The police court was crowded today with members of the rival tongues in the Chinese colony when King Fung Sung, a former court interpreter, was arraigned before Judge Lanquet on a charge of attempted murder.

J. C. Walsh, crown prosecutor, questioned the witnesses through a Chinese interpreter, and King Fung Sung was defended by G. Desautels.

Sung is alleged to have headed a gang who raided a gambling house, kept by members of rival tongues, and fired a fusillade of bullets at their opponents wounding one seriously.

During the trial it was stated by Young Hong that nine shots had been fired. He declared that King Fung Sung did not shoot himself, but he had shot others to death.

Members of Sung party, Lee Yick Sung and Lee Hoy, who were out on bail, and King Fung Sung was also admitted to bail.

The case was postponed until August 29.

C. P. R. REQUEST MAY GO TO PARLIAMENT

Belief Expressed That Government Will Itself Not Grant Capital Increase

Question of Alleged Western Discrimination Also Enters Into Negotiations

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—The Ottawa Free Press says:

The probability of the C. P. R. application for leave to increase its capital stock by sixty million dollars being granted by the government through order in council is considered at the capital to be very remote. That the application has not yet been granted, though made over a week ago, is certain, and that it will not be seriously considered until Mr. Borden's return is quite a certainty.

It is to be noted that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company will take place on October 2, when, as announced in The Gazette the company will ask for a ratification of the proposed increase. By a peculiar coincidence, on October 1 the railways, including the C. P. R., will be called upon to justify before the railway commission the discrimination in freight rates, which the board has already adjudged exists against the West in favor of the East.

The C. P. R. Defence
It is generally conceded that one of the main factors which will enter into the defence of the Canadian Pacific will be the matter of a proper return on capital, which raises the whole question of capitalization. In view of the fact that the enquiry of the board will deal largely with this phase of the road's history, it is considered very improbable that the government would complicate matters and compromise in any way the board's enquiry by sanctioning at such a time an increase in capital such as is asked for.

The enquiry in question will probably continue intermittently for several weeks, or even months, after which the decision of the board must be given. The result of the hearing, at the earliest, could scarcely be looked for until after the next session of parliament opens. Until that time, then, it would seem most improbable that the government would consider the granting of the application.

Opposition to It
In view of the objections it is contended that the granting of the application (apart from all this), it is considered improbable that the government will shoulder the responsibility of granting the application, and the feeling is growing that the matter will be referred to parliament. The opponents to the granting of the application state two alternatives:

Firstly, that the C. P. R. meet the required needs by selling bonds and thereby mortgaging its own property at a low rate of interest rather than mortgaging the property of the Western farmer at a rate of 10 per cent.

Secondly, if there is any increased issue, that the stock be put up to the public at its full value instead of being handed over to the stockholders at a reduced figure so that the full value of the stock would go into the treasury. In view of the objections it is considered desirable that the question should be subjected to the full debate of the house of commons. The matter of railway capitalization has long been considered one upon which the people's representatives in parliament should have an opportunity for full and complete discussion.

REPORT ON CONDITION OF LABOR IN OLD WORLD

Special Commission Appointed to Look Into Question of Hours Files Findings

Believes Eight-Hour Shift Best, Both From Economic and Health Standpoint

London, Aug. 27.—The report of the special commission appointed by the international association for labor legislation to inquire into the subject of "Hours of labor in continuous industries" has just been published. The commission was appointed at a delegates' meeting of the association at Lugano in 1910, which declared the 12-hour day customary in continuous industries to be injurious to health. Its members were asked to report on:

1. The best methods of arranging shifts.
2. The possibility of prohibiting the night work of adults in certain continuous processes, or of regulating such work where, for technical reasons, work must be carried on at night; and
3. The necessity for international regulation of the matter.

The commission met in London in June, the meetings being attended from nine European countries and the United States. The British delegates were Sir Thomas Oliver and Mr. A. H. Crossfield. The resolutions adopted will be considered at the general conference of the association to be held at Zurich next month. The commissioners express the opinion that the eight-hour shift in continuous industries (industries working night and day) is the best shift system for such work, and they strongly recommend it both from the point of view of the physical and moral welfare of the workers and in the social and economic interests of society generally. They consider that in iron and steel industries the eight-hour day is very necessary and is practicable, and they urge that the various governments should be asked to arrange a conference of the interested states with a view to arriving at an international agreement as to the introduction of the eight-hour day in these industries. They also think that the national sections of the association should, by investigations, prepare the way for the introduction of the eight-hour day or of a corresponding maximum week in continuous industries where (a) the working day exceeds ten hours in 24; (b) each set of men works more than six shifts a week. As regards glass works, they consider that the investigations are sufficiently advanced for the conclusion of an international convention to be recommended, on the basis of a maximum working week of 56 hours, with an uninterrupted weekly rest of 24 hours.

The commissioners report that in the United Kingdom there has been of late years a marked tendency towards the eight-hour system in the iron and steel trade, in some important sections of which it has been successfully introduced. They add: "Experience of the working of the different processes where the eight-hour day has been introduced all goes to show that there are, as a rule, no serious technical difficulties to be encountered when changing from the twelve to the eight-hour shift. In such special cases where it is necessary or very desirable for the same man to work continuously for a longer spell (as in some work in glass factories), the commission is of opinion that a maximum week should be established."

CHILD'S BODY FLOATS 319 MILES DOWN RIVER

Edmonton, Aug. 27.—After floating on the swollen current of the Saskatchewan for 319 miles from the point where she fell from a raft while at play near the low-level bridge, the body of nine-year-old Hilda Chevely of Edmonton has been recovered from the fatal river at Langham, Sask., not far from Saskatoon.

The little girl disappeared from her companions along the river shore some time ago, and all they found of her was her hat floating on the river to tell what had been her fate. Efforts were made around this city to locate the body, but the opinion was expressed at the time that the small corpse would be carried away by the stream. The remains were in such a condition that they were buried today at the point where they were recovered. The mother was notified of the discovery.

WIFE'S LOVE $25,000

Kansas City, Aug. 28.—A suit for $25,000 was brought in the circuit court this morning against Roy Yost, manager of the Yost Pie Company. Fred Dalstrom of Venice, Cal., asserted in a petition to the court that Yost alienated the affections of his wife, Hazel. The Dalstroms lived here until three months ago, when they went to California. Dalstrom says Yost induced his wife to return to Kansas City by means of letters and telegrams. "It is all a trumped-up charge," Mr. Yost said this morning. "All of the allegations made are untrue. I will make no further statement at the present time."

GRAND TRUNK ROAD NEEDS TWO THOUSAND MEN

Chamberlain Says If They Cannot Be Had Completion of Road Will Be Delayed

Vancouver, Aug. 27.—Contractors who have been carefully investigating the situation are looking for another big strike of the industrial workers of the world to occur just before Christmas. The G. N., C. N. R., G. T. P., and C. P. R. all have large numbers of workmen engaged in construction in various parts of British Columbia, and the plan is to let loose seven or eight thousand of these during the cold months.

President Chamberlain of the G.T.P. was in Vancouver today complaining bitterly of the lack of labor in this province. He said that his company could use 2,000 more men at once, and added that if they could not get more there would be a long delay in the completion of his transcontinental line.

"I Am Not a Liar"—Archbold
New York, Aug. 28.—"I am not a liar. I am not accustomed to being so accused and will not endure it lightly."

John D. Archbold, of the Standard Oil Company, made that brief statement before sailing for Europe today in reply to Theodore Roosevelt's charges that he had uttered white on the stand at Washington.

"What do you mean when you say you will not endure it lightly?" Mr. Archbold asked.

Mr. Archbold waved his hand abruptly, then walked down the pier and boarded the White Star liner Majestic. He will remain in Europe several weeks. To the reporters he said: "Take good care of the country, boys."

AUTO WILL LET OUT YELL WHEN STOLEN

Mechanical Genius, Sojourning in County Jail, Has Thing All Figured Out

Burglar Alarm May Be Set When Touring Car Is Left Outside by Owner

Vancouver, Aug. 27.—An automatic automobile burglar alarm, which emits a series of agonized yelps like a scared pup when any but the owner of the car lay violent and joy-riding hands thereon, is the invention of Lawrence T. Rorer, of Denver, an ex-automobile mechanic and at present an involuntary boarder in the county jail.

We all know how beastly annoying it is to leave our $3,000, 290-horsepower, nine-passenger car out in front of our club or hotel while we daily around inside, and then to emerge after several hours and find nothing of the car but tracks in the road and a smell of gasoline—we all have suffered this. Well, Mr. Rorer intends to remedy this unfortunate state of affairs.

Set the Alarm
His device—for which a patent is pending—is a kind of appliance that you adjust under the hood, midway between the carburetor and the low gear. When you go inside the club, hotel, billiard room, or bar room, where you intend to leave your car, you set the burglar alarm on the car just as you set them on doors and windows at night.

Along comes a thief with an automobile appetite and a street car income. He sees that car of yours, and he gathers that it is the chance of his life to make himself believe he is a millionaire and a speed king. He looks furtively around—no one is in sight. He approaches your car, he cranks the engine, and the very first flop the motor makes—

"Help! help! aw-oo! your aw-oo!" screeches the car, in a voice like a siren whistle on a locomotive, and you hear your darling's shrieks for aid and you come out just in time to see the miscreant beating it around the corner in terror. But your car is safe.

Saves the Car
Each car, says Mr. Rorer, will have a different "voice" so you can tell the scribbling of your own car above the multitude. The alarm is a siren whistle arrangement that can be heard for blocks and blocks.

What happens in case you stay too long inside, and when you come out you start cranking your engine without first releasing the alarm, and the car begins to yell, not recognizing you, and the nearest cop on the beat gathers you in forthwith? Well, Mr. Rorer doesn't say. "You aren't supposed to act that way, anyhow."

But it's a great invention. Mr. Rorer has been working faithfully on the contrivance ever since his incarceration. He expects to be a millionaire when he gets out.

EDMONTON WILL ACCEPT MR. CARNEGIE'S OFFER

Edmonton, Aug. 27.—Andrew Carnegie's $50,000 grant toward a library for the city of Edmonton will be acceptable with due appreciation if the Scottish philanthropist will be willing to put the grant in with an equal amount from the city's purse, so that a building that will meet the requirements may be provided. The library board and city commissioners, as well as a special committee from the city council, met yesterday afternoon to weigh the library situation as it presents itself today.

The library board has reached that stage where it is ready to go ahead and erect a building from the city coffers without assistance of Mr. Carnegie. Large correspondence with the secretary of the Carnegie board has failed to convince that board that a $50,000 library would be inadequate for Edmonton. The last Dominion census failing to enumerate the Edmonton population, the subsequent growth of the city together with the amalgamation, all have given Edmonton a population demanding a larger building than what $50,000 would put up in this city.

After the joint committee had discussed the library situation thoroughly it was decided that the proper city authorities write the Carnegie board asking if the grant of $50,000 will be made to be added to an equal amount contributed by Edmonton. Likewise the various conditions stipulated by the board will be requested. Also suggestive plans of buildings will be asked. In the meantime the corporation will proceed with steps toward acquiring plans and estimates.

A man can be proud of how much more rationally he grows half than other men.

SMALL CHILD IS HELD IN CAPTIVITY BY PIPE

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 28.—Her tiny foot caught in an open curb box on the sidewalk at Washington street and Main avenue, where she and her parents were waiting for a car, little Josie Olsen, 3 years old, daughter of P. Olsen, 2312 First avenue, was held captive for more than an hour.

Officers Scott, Hughes and Benway, sent from police headquarters with Steward Ned Eria of the emergency hospital, worked to extricate her during a great part of the time, being compelled finally to get a cold chisel and hammer, with which they broke the pipe before the foot would come out.

In the meantime, though at an early hour, 9 o'clock, a large crowd gathered, and it was necessary for the officers to establish lines to keep the child from smothering with the excitement and pressing of the craning throng. The mother was near frantic before the ordeal was over.

The box, which is more of a pipe, being used to turn off water, was left open through carelessness.

CLAIMS TO HAVE FOUND USE FOR APPENDIX

Organ Serves Purpose in Unborn Child, Says New York Medical Man

After Birth, Having No Further Use, It Atrophies and Becomes Tissue

New York, August 27.—Dr. Israel Feinberg, president of the board of coroners, declares that he arrived at a new conclusion with regard to the history of the vermiform appendix in the human being and its utility. Dr. Feinberg has spent 15 years in the study of the appendix, seeking a cure of appendicitis, and to discover the purpose of the organ in the human structure. The conclusions which he has reached are novel in medical annals.

Explicitly, Dr. Feinberg believes that the appendix is of vital importance in the unborn child. After the birth of the child Dr. Feinberg declares, the utility of the appendix is at an end and the organ gradually atrophies, until in mature life it simulates a rudimentary mass of tissue.

"The appendix is found in an enlarged state in the child before birth," Dr. Feinberg said. "As is commonly known, the child at that period possesses several organs that differ greatly from those which are found immediately after birth, when he begins to breathe and take nourishment—for instance, the heart, the lungs and the intestinal tract. In my opinion the appendix has some particular action in relation to the intestinal canal until the time of birth, after which it gradually grows smaller until, at last it contracts so that only a small opening is left, in place of the wide mouth which formerly opened into the intestinal tract.

"That the appendix is a rudimentary organ, due to the fact that there is no use for it after the child is born, and that it, therefore, becomes atrophied, I admit, but that the appendix of the unborn child is a rudimentary organ I deny. After the birth of a child, when the appendix ceases to function, another valve known as the ileo-coccal takes up its work, so that the same results are achieved by nature through another organ."

Dr. James J. Walsh, of No. 110 West 74th Street, an eminent authority upon medical affairs, expressed interest in Dr. Feinberg's observations.

"Dr. Feinberg's conclusions are not only possible, but probable," was the way Dr. Walsh expressed himself. "As yet we know very little about the true function of the appendix, and any new light upon its place in the human scheme is interesting. I shall be pleased to follow Dr. Feinberg's deductions further."

"If what Dr. Feinberg says is true about the use of the appendix before birth and its atrophication after birth then the appendix is an organ somewhat analogous to the thymus gland, behind the thyroid gland in the throat. The thymus gland is very large just before and after birth, but when the child is two years old the gland gradually atrophies—shrivels up—and apparently is of no further use."

"But I, for one, must take issue with Dr. Feinberg when he says that the appendix in after life is a useless organ. I believe that it has a very vital place. By forming and losing white blood cells into the intestine it prevents many a serious ailment."

ONCE SLAVE, NEGRO FOUNDS HAS BEEN HEAD OF CHURCH FOR TEN YEARS

Chicago, Aug. 27.—"From slave to founder of a town," was the theme of a story told delegates to the National Negro Business League convention by Isaiah T. Montgomery of Mound Bayou, Miss., whose wealth is estimated at $200,000.

"Born a slave, I was owned by Joseph E. Davis, brother of the Confederate president," said Montgomery. "When 9 years old I was taken into the office of Mr. Davis, where I was taught to do clerical work. After the war Mr. Davis rented to me two plantations, consisting of 4,900 acres.

"In 1857 I bought a tract of swamp land and started a negro colony, and called the place Mound Bayou. It grew rapidly, and today it has a population of more than a thousand people. All the town officers, from street cleaners to mayor, are negroes."

VACCINE SHORTAGE HALTS SCHOOL CHILDREN

Edmonton, Aug. 27.—Panic has arisen among the mothers and guardians of children of school age in view of the return to the district and task of their youthful charges. Not that they care that the vaccination is over; most of them are probably pretty glad, sighs of relief rather than the other kind being in order.

But regulations in Edmonton with regard to the administration of children to the schools who are unvaccinated are very stringent. Many anxious mothers put off the inoculation ceremony till the very last limit. As a result, Medical Health Officer Whitlaw has been holding a species of vaccination levee during the past few days. So great was the run on lymph last Saturday that the supply gave out, operations having to be suspended until a fresh consignment could be obtained. This has now been done, and the somewhat sombre and austere looking health officer was bright with the costumes of women and children again this morning.

BUILDING INSPECTOR GIVEN GREAT POWER BY CLAUSE OF NEW BUILDING CODE

Contest in City Council Will Ensnare on Authority to Alter Bylaw Provisions

Alderman Hornby Says Will Put Club in Hands of Official Against Contractors

Urges That Serious Questions Can be Settled by Council When Need Arises

Aldermen McDougall and Brocklebank Favor Advisory Board or Let Clause Stand

A CONTEST in the city council over the new building code framed by Building Inspector Sylvester is promised for the next meeting night over a clause in the preamble of the code, which practically gives the building inspector unlimited power in modifying any of its provisions, or any of the rules or regulations of the building department.

Serious objections to the clause were urged by Alderman J. A. Hornby and Alderman A. J. Samis at the last meeting of the legislative committee, which examined the new proposed code. Alderman Alex McDougall, who favors an advisory board to assist the building inspector in determining disputed points of the building bylaws, and Alderman R. A. Brocklebank, who inclines to the same view, wanted the clause retained in lieu of an advisory board.

As a result of this division of the legislative committee on the subject, the matter will have to be threshed out by the council.

Might be Used as Club

Alderman Hornby contended that under this clause, unless future building commissioners proved to be of the same high order of integrity as Mr. Sylvester, the powers conferred upon him might easily be used as a club against any contractors or builders who were not agreeable to the official, and might even possibly furnish an opening for corruption of the office.

Alderman McDougall conceded that the wide powers conferred upon the building inspector by the clause might lead to abuses, but agreed with Mr. Sylvester that in the absence of an advisory board some legal aid by the building bylaws was necessary.

Mr. McDougall pointed out that numerous building violations are constantly coming up for settlement which either are not covered in the building bylaws, or else are contrary to their letter, though not in their spirit. Under the present system the building inspector settles these when possible outside the law, though he has no legal authority to do so.

The Disputed Clause

The clause which occasioned the disagreement in committee reads as follows: "The commissioner of buildings shall have the power to vary or modify any of the provisions of this code, or any rule or regulation of the department of the buildings relating to the construction, alteration or removal of any building or structure erected or to be erected within the city of Calgary, upon an application to him in writing by the owner or lessee of such building or structure, or his duly authorized agent, wherein there are practical difficulties in the way of carrying out the strict letter of this code, so that the spirit of this code shall be observed and public safety secured and substantial justice done; but no such variation or modification shall be granted or allowed unless the provisions of the code are applied in such a manner as to be in accordance with the decision of the commissioner thereon shall be entered upon the records of the building department."

Wants an Advisory Board

Alderman Brocklebank was inclined to look on the question in the same light, believing that an advisory board was the true solution of the problem. Alderman Hornby took the stand that the department had got along very well under the present system, and that when occasion arose for serious deviation from the bylaws the question could be sent to the council to make the necessary change in the bylaws.

There was a long argument over the benefit of an advisory board. It was pointed out that in the case of such a system obtains. It is necessary for the board to meet and settle disputed questions only four or five times a year. Mr. Hornby urged this fact as evidence that an advisory board is unnecessary, and that such questions, when need be, can be settled by the council.

No Baby Carriages in Theatres

While the legislative committee declined to recede from its former position in ordering struck out the clause prohibiting babies in arms evening performances of theatres and moving picture shows, Fire Chief "Cappy" Smart won a point when the committee agreed to the incorporation of another clause which will prevent baby buggies and go-carts being taken into such buildings.

The chief contends that the practice of leaving these articles in the rear parts of the halls is a serious menace to life and limb in case of a fire or panic. The clause as incorporated by the committee makes it unlawful for any theatre or moving picture show to sell tickets to a person, or any ticket taker to admit a person, having in their possession "any article that may prevent egress in case of fire." It is very likely that the council will agree to enact this provision into the bylaw.

WOMEN WOUNDED WHILE NOTORIOUS SWINDLER IS AVIATOR LOSES BEARINGS IN DENSE FOG

Washington, Aug. 27.—Details of an inspection of the battlefield near Managua, where the government troops and rebels fought the recent grueling contest, reached the state department today from United States Minister Waitat. The dispatch was delayed in transmission, being dated August 21.

Instead of finding mangled bodies, the charred bones of victims were to be seen, according to the dispatch. In the hospitals forty women were found. They had been wounded while passing ammunition to the men. The majority of the wounds were inflicted by machine and not by rifle shots.

The dispatch, said the government officials announced that about 120 noncombatants were hurt during the four days' engagement, but so far as known none were foreigners.

Paris, Aug. 27.—The release from jail today of Jean Gailly, the romantic swindler of the Comptoir d'Escompte, has reawakened interest in what was at the time a world-wide sensation. Gailly's flight on the yacht Catarina in 1905 with Mlle. Merelli and $150,000 put the police of many countries on the alert. Three weeks after their disappearance from France the two were arrested under the names of Baron and Baroness de Geval at Bahia, Brazil, and money and jewelry to the value of $120,000 were recovered on board the yacht. When brought back to France, Gailly was tried and sentenced to seven years' imprisonment, part of which he spent in the galleys of French Guiana. The woman was acquitted.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Glenn L. Martin, an aviator from Los Angeles, Cal., was lost last night in a fog 2,000 feet above Chicago for more than an hour. He might have crossed over Lake Michigan had he not caught a glimpse of the red flash from the government lighthouse, two miles off shore in Lake Michigan.

Martin had been flying over Okauch field, in the extreme western part of the city, when he lost his bearings. In searching for the field he traveled far out over the lake and finally landed safely in Rogers Park, the city's northern limit. Martin has been in Chicago only five days, and explained after landing that he had no idea as to where he was at any time until he saw the lighthouse.

CALGARY IN BRIEF

Mr. and Mrs. R. Forbes, of Greenock, Scotland, are visiting their son, Donald Forbes, of this city.

The Canadian Pacific Railway state that there is no car shortage, and they have on hand 45,000 cars ready to handle the crop.

A. Miller, Calgary's industrial commissioner, is out of the city on a business trip. He will be back at his office next week.

Thomas E. Quinby, representing the Chicago Tribune, is in the city on business. He is touring western Canada in the interest of his paper.

The hotels and Stampedes offices are daily receiving telegrams from all over Canada and the States asking for reservations for both hotel accommodation and Stampedes seats.

William Isherwood, of the News-Telegram staff, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, is well on the road to recovery. He has left the hospital, and expects to be around in a week's time.

Groves and Short, the two men arrested by the police on a charge of being "short change artists," were brought before Magistrate Saunders yesterday afternoon. They remained until today for further inquiries.

The stiff sentence of Magistrate Saunders in giving six holdup men nine months and fifteen lashes has thrown a scare among the local hobos, said Chief Cuddy last night, "with the result that they have not been nearly so troublesome during the past few days."

When Detective Burroughs arrested William Hunt and Max James yesterday on a charge of stealing a bicycle, two ugly-looking 38 calibre revolvers, found in every chamber, with reserve ammunition on their persons.

The rain during the past twenty-four hours has been local, according to the statement of L. P. Strong, of the Alberta Pacific Elevator company, yesterday. This will mean harvesting for two or three days in the local districts, but no damage has been done.

The Salvation Army citadel was the scene of a memorial service to their late leader, General Booth, last night. The service was a public one and the hall was crowded. Major Howell conducted the service, and was assisted by Rev. Dr. Kirby, Rev. A. J. Clark, Hon. W. H. Cusack, and others.

A close watch on illegal liquor selling will be made in Calgary during Stampedes week. Detective Hodgins, who is the head of the provincial detective department, has just returned from a trip through the province. He will be with a big staff here during Stampedes week to see that the liquor licenses were not violated.

The city license department is reaping harvest these days. Eighty-seven licenses have been issued since the beginning of the season. They consist of shooting galleries, two palmists' tents, besides quick medicine men, and others. The police are keeping a watch over them all to see that they do a legitimate business.

Bob Alderice, a Stampedes rider, was thrown this morning when attempting to dismount. Except that his feelings were hurt by the jolting of the other riders, he was little the worse for his experience. Considering the amount of horses that are being ridden daily, the amount of falls are very few, which speaks volumes for the good class of riders there are in the city.

J. P. Jacques, who for more than twenty years has been a resident of Calgary, is shortly leaving the city to his up residence elsewhere. Mr. Jacques had the first jewelry store in Calgary, being then known as the Lake Cabin Jeweler. It was only a year or two ago he retired from the jewelry business, having at that time an up-to-date store on Eighth avenue.

It has been robbed of all my money." Such was the statement of an undesirable-looking character, who walked into the police office last night carrying a bag and a half. Looking at the man, Sergeant Cooper said, "Arrest that man and place him behind the bars; I have seen him before." The hobo was promptly placed under lock and key.

The new incinerator is to be installed at Nose Creek at the earliest possible date. Everything is ready, and the machinery is on the ground. The city treasurer has made the first payment of $20,000. The machinery was held in bond several days. The city engineer says that the machinery for the plant is of the latest pattern, and of the most effective type.

Inspector William Neat, of the local police force, has been mentioned as a likely candidate for the position of chief of police at Edmonton if Chief Lancy's resignation is accepted. The friends of the inspector are hoping that he will be successful, while at the same time regretting it will necessitate his departure from Calgary.

The local police arrested Ching Wong at Chinatown last night, and will charge him this morning with using opium. Two pipes and a quantity of opium were found in his room. The use of opium amongst the Chinese, according to Chief Cuddy, is not nearly so prevalent as a few years ago. Even in Canada the better class of Chinese have waged war against their use of the drug, with a result that the practice is decreasing.

of the Nightingale farmers for the first time in years. Another problem is evolving a system of rapid transportation to the various markets adjacent to the farming communities.

Local Delivery Another Problem. Local delivery is another problem which is keeping Mr. Pamment busy. The delivery was easy at first, but with the constantly growing rush of orders it is very evident that more provision for quick local delivery will have to be made. At the present time Mr. Pamment is handicapped by the lack of telephone service at the stall in the public market. He has been promised by the government telephone manager that a telephone will be supplied to him as quickly as possible, and it is imperative that this be done at the earliest moment.

So far, the demand for the Alberta Potatoes has far outrun the supply, and Mr. Pamment could have sold twice as many as he has handled. If it had been possible for him to stay in Calgary and attend to the sale every day, instead of holding the sales on Wednesdays and Saturdays only, it is for this reason that he is planning to stay in the city all next week if he can manage it.

SAUNDERS CARPENTER IS EDMONTON'S NEW CHIEF

Said to be a Good Executive, a Shrewd Detective and the Friend of Chief Cuddy

Is to Receive $4,000 Per Year and Will Assume Duties When Lancy Gets Out

Edmonton, Aug. 28.—Chief of Police Saunders Carpenter, of Montreal, has accepted the offer of the Edmonton commissioners of the position of chief of police to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Chief A. C. Lancy. His salary will be $4,000 a year and it is expected that he will assume his official duties as soon as possible.

(Special to The Albertan.)

Edmonton, Aug. 28.—The position of chief of police of Edmonton has been offered to Chief Carpenter of Montreal by the city commissioners and has been accepted.

Chief Carpenter is recognized as one of the best police executives in the Dominion of Canada, and his coming to Edmonton will mean organizing of one of the most efficient police forces in the country. He is not only a clever executive, but is one of the shrewdest detectives in the Dominion.

He is a long personal friend of Chief Cuddy of Calgary. When he will take office is not definitely known. But as Chief Lancy wants to be relieved at once the date may not be far distant. It is likely that Lancy will become the public safety commissioner in the near future.

Judge Byers Resigns

Magistrate F. D. Byers of the police court, who has been in his present position as successor to Magistrate Isaac Cowan only since May 1, 1912, has resigned. In his resignation, the magistrate asks that he be relieved of his duties by September first, if possible.

He gives as his reason for leaving his position an interference of police court work with his private practice, which, he states, has suffered to the extent of several thousand dollars during the last summer as a result of the government position.

line considerably more than half of their entire crop, whereas, Alberta had marketed less than one-third.

It is worthy of note that the total amount of grain marketed along the C.P.R. during 1910 in Alberta was 5,924,000, so that the 1911 crop was more than four times as heavy.

Car Distribution

"The cars distributed up to July 10, 1912, by the C.P.R. was as follows:

	Manitoba	Saskatchewan	Alberta
	35 per cent.	45 per cent.	20 per cent.

"So that each province received an equitable number of C.P.R. cars to the grain marketed.

"All this deals with the grain marketed or handled along the C.P.R. line.

"From September 1, 1911, to July 31, 1912, the total amount of grain inspected was 172,845 cars, made up as follows:

	Man.	Sask.	Alta.
C. P. R.—	32,444	46,577	21,160
C. N. R.—	22,208	29,369	1,450
G. T. P.—	2,568	8,816	761
G. N. R.—	4,830	2,662

"For three months ending November 13, 1911, the following cars were inspected:

	Man.	Sask.	Alta.
C. P. R.—	16,296	13,583	4,262
C. N. R.—	11,010	8,657	177
G. T. P.—	1,220	3,696	138
G. N. R.—	1,798	27

"Making total inspected 60,864 cars; proportion to Alberta .07.

"Although this proportion is small it must be remembered as previously explained the C.P.R. supplied Alberta with proportionately more cars than the other two provinces.

Co-operation Urged

"The harvesting is daily becoming more general and we think that no time should be lost to bring prominently before all parties concerned the importance of all uniting in one common effort to dispatch as much grain as possible before the close of navigation as it is distinctly pointed out on every hand that this governs considerably the effects afterwards.

"As before stated it is known that under favorable weather conditions we will have a two weeks' start over last year and let us push this advantage with all our efforts. We would respectfully suggest that this board by a motion urge the C.P.R. to furnish Alberta with all the cars necessary to remove whatever grain is ready for transhipment before the close of navigation particularly, which will undoubtedly prevent a congestion this year and enable the elevators to maintain an incessant flow of grain through the markets.

Want Capacity Maintained

"That after the close of navigation the C.P.R. will keep up its assist elevators and farmers to prevent an inconsistent sudden swamping.

"That the farmers and elevators work harmoniously and use all discretion in the marketing of grain so that space may be found at all time for any grade of grain, and also dispatch without delay all grain ready for shipment.

"A copy of this resolution should be sent to Mr. Bury and Mr. Price of the C.P.R.; Mr. Tegillus and Mr. Fream, of the U.F.A., with a request that a copy be forwarded to each of their members, and to Mr. L. P. Strong, president and the secretary of the Calgary grain exchange.

"Your committee is satisfied that if this is followed out by all interested no congestion will be experienced.

"Regarding the submission of this matter to the board of Railway Commissioners, your committee carefully considered the same and decided to submit these facts and leave it to your body to act as you thought fit afterwards."

CANADA IS PROSPERING, SAYS OFFICIAL REPORT

Call of the West for Men Will Not be Adequately Answered; East Needs Them

Dull Month Has Been Experienced in the Fisheries; Lumbering Operations Brisk

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—That with few exceptions satisfactory and prosperous conditions prevailed throughout Canada during the midsummer, is the general summary of the Canadian industrial and labor situation for the month of July just issued.

In regard to the western grain crop, the production made that the call for men will not be adequately answered, the eastern provinces falling short in their own supply, and therefore being unable to furnish the workers. This prediction has since been fulfilled.

According to the report for fishing, a dull month was experienced. No special activity was recorded in the maritime provinces, while the run of salmon in several of the British Columbia rivers decreased considerably during the month.

Lumbering operations were brisk in the east, though influenced adversely by lack of transportation facilities. The western mills were fairly active. Considerable activity was maintained in the Nova Scotia coal mines, the western coal and metalliferous mines also working steadily. Railway traffic was brisk, as evidenced by increased earnings on all sides. Transportation by water did not compare favorably with that of the preceding month. The favorable prospects of the crop yield had a stimulating effect on manufacturing establishments, and the various plants in all parts were working with exceptional activity. Building operations were extensively carried on, though a shortage of men and materials held up matters in this line. The other trades were active. Unskilled labor was in good demand.

The Alberta yesterday interviewed some of the wholesale fruit and grocery firms in regard to the revolutionary proposal of the retailers, and without a single exception, the wholesalers did not think he would have to quit business. The unanimous opinion was that the proposed exchange was impossible in Calgary.

In every case the wholesaler came back with the counter charge that it was a difference of opinion as to who the profits, and he was usually a very unreasonable man. To prove that the retail grocer was the one who was making the profit, the wholesaler mentioned the number of grocers who had retired from the trade with fortunes, while he also figured that every grocer on Eighth avenue was worth from $50,000 to $100,000.

The charge that the wholesalers were doing a retail trade was denied. There is a difference of opinion as to who should get the hotel and restaurant trade. The wholesalers maintain that the hotels and restaurants are retailers, and their accounts run higher per month than some of the retail stores. Some of the Calgary wholesale houses supply the hotels with goods at cost, and maintain that it is only proper, and state they will continue to do so.

One of the wholesale fruit firms stated that the retailers made 100 per cent profit on fruit. "The retailer never had to stand any losses for bad fruit," said he, "he always got a credit note for fruit that goes bad."

Mention was made that the retailer made 100 per cent profit on cabbages, tomatoes, and a prominent wholesaler, pumpkins, cucumbers, etc., and where from 50 to 75 per cent, on fruits. For instance, the wholesaler sold cabbages for two cents and the retailer got four cents. Potatoes were bought at a dollar per hundred pounds, and the retailer got two dollars. Pumpkins were sold at $1.25, and the retailer got as high as $2.50 and $3.00. Peas were sold to the retailer at $2.50 per box, and the retailer got $5.00 and more selling them at five cents each.

MOTHER KILLS DAUGHTER

Idaho Woman Shoots at Squirrel and Slays Tot

Bonner's Ferry, Idaho, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Crede Parker, living on a farm three miles east of here, shot and killed her three-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Parker was shooting at a squirrel and the little girl ran in front of the gun just as Mrs. Parker pulled the trigger, killing the daughter at once. The funeral was held here today.

Would Not Leave Comrade

Leavenworth, Kas., Aug. 28.—Edith Osborne's loyalty to his comrade prevented his escape from the state penitentiary here. Osborne had reached the top of the 80-foot wall which surrounds the penitentiary buildings when John Bonner, part way up, sprained his ankle. Osborne returned. The two men disappeared Saturday afternoon and were discovered in an alleyway between two buildings today.

WHOLESALESMEN ASSERT BIG PROFIT MADE BY RETAILERS

Assert That Retailers' Exchange is Simply Out of the Question

Fruit Dealers Cite Instances to Show That Grocers Make Enormous Profits

Claim is Made That Retailers Make as High as 100 Per Cent on Fruit

"The retail merchants do not know what they are talking about," said a well known wholesale fruit man yesterday to the Albertan, in discussing the proposed boycotting of the wholesalers by the retail men of the city. Another member of a large wholesale grocery establishment, said he did not think the retailers could put such a project through for the simple reason that fifty or sixty retail men could not agree long enough to make it a success.

The same thing, he said, had been tried dozens of times in large cities, and were failures. Another reason for failure is that when a retail exchange gets a few bad debts, that breaks up the organization. A grocer usually wants a line of credit, especially the smaller ones starting into business, against a retail exchange cannot give long credit.

The Albertan yesterday interviewed some of the wholesale fruit and grocery firms in regard to the revolutionary proposal of the retailers, and without a single exception, the wholesalers did not think he would have to quit business. The unanimous opinion was that the proposed exchange was impossible in Calgary.

In every case the wholesaler came back with the counter charge that it was a difference of opinion as to who the profits, and he was usually a very unreasonable man. To prove that the retail grocer was the one who was making the profit, the wholesaler mentioned the number of grocers who had retired from the trade with fortunes, while he also figured that every grocer on Eighth avenue was worth from $50,000 to $100,000.

The charge that the wholesalers were doing a retail trade was denied. There is a difference of opinion as to who should get the hotel and restaurant trade. GOVERNMENT ASKED TO RELIEVE POSTAL CONDITIONS need of such relief appearing to be all the more imperative, as under the most favorable circumstances the new post office cannot be completed for a considerable length of time. The committee recalled that a year ago the Board of Trade considered the same question. At that time the postmaster received the delegation from the Board of Trade, and in showing them through the post office, pointed out upon them how employees were cramped for room and how really difficult, under the conditions then existing, it was to give efficient service.

Business Now Transacted

"If the complaints received a year ago were justified, we submit the following figures as evidence that the complaints now before us are well founded, and that some determined effort should be made immediately to relieve the deplorable condition of the post office:

Interior View of Living Room

Craftsman Bungalow, Splendid Grounds on Waterfront, ELBOW PARK

Owing to the Fact that I am moving to Victoria to open a branch office, I am obliged to place on the market my new home, 3809 4th Street West, Elbow Park. I built this bungalow with the intention of making it my permanent home, and consequently determined to build it the very best from the basement to the attic, as my architect and foreman will verify. I have made it as modern as modern science can make it.

The Basement is full sized and the woodwork is stained fume finish and alabastined. The walls are plastered and fireproof furnace room, laundry, servants' room, fruit room, store room and fuel room, shower bath, all of these rooms having hot water radiators excepting the fuel and fruit rooms.

The Ground Floor contains kitchen, pantry, dining room, living room, den, hall, and toilet. A great deal of the furniture is built in, comprising the buffet, china cabinet, book case, refrigerator, bric-a-brac cabinet, all with leaded-glass doors, 30 day double dial clock, and large fireplace built to ceiling decorated with moravian tile designs. There is a long picture window in the living room and also in the dining room commanding an unobstructed view down the Elbow River towards the sunset. All the windows on the ground floor are plate glass. The floors on this flat are all polished maple. In the den there are large built-in bookcases and a curio cabinet with leaded-glass doors. The walls in the living room, dining room, hall and den are panelled six feet high with selected fir and fume finished. The pictures are bromide enlargements from original negatives of interesting scenes made by artists in several parts of Canada, and these pictures are built-in the centres of the upper row of panel. The ceilings show exposed beams.

The Upstairs There are three large bedrooms with hot and cold water basins, built-in dressers, large wardrobes with full level plate glass mirror doors, and trunk closet in each room. In addition the one bedroom has a craftsman grate. There are two sleeping porches which can be closed in warmly. The toilet and bath are separate, the bath tub is the "Ideal Best" pure white enamel inside and out, and sits flat on the tile floor. Bath room has also basin, shower bath, medicine chest. The both toilets are fitted with Kenny flushometers.

The Fittings Both toilets, bath room and vestibule have tile floors, while these rooms together with the kitchen have been cement walls and silk stone finish above wainscoting.

Nearly every room on the third floor has electric bells with annunciator in the kitchen. There is a private fire alarm system connected with every room which rings the gong at 100 degrees Fah.

The fireplaces are all piped for natural gas. The furnace is fitted with a Howard Thermostat Automatic temperature regulator.

I designed the whole house myself, and supervised the building of it from basement to attic, sparing no expense to make it artistic, strong, and warm for my own home.

The grounds are large and river front very desirable.

I have a two horse-power, sixteen foot, Michigan steel boat and wharf. All this together with lawn hose, lawn roller, window shades, considerable lumber and several other articles are all included with the property.

The cost of building the house, putting in retaining wall and getting the grounds in shape all amounts to $12,248, for which I can show vouchers.

I will sell the property complete as above for $20,000; terms $5,000 cash, balance arranged, the purchaser assuming a loan of $3,000.

Buying Bookkeeping
The other day a man said he had no use for an adding machine because "my bookkeeper wouldn't have enough work to do."
Just think what that man said.
He is trying to do his work in the slowest way he can, just to keep a bookkeeper busy.
The thing for him to do is to cut down the amount of work that the bookkeeper is doing and then give the bookkeeper some other work that would be sales-producing.
If he hasn't that kind of a bookkeeper he ought to get a new one; don't you think so?
What are you doing?
