SHRIEKING CONGRESSMEN

ROBINSON, FINERTY ET AL. HAVE A FIELD DAY.

Meeting of the Clan Na Gael at Washing ton-O'Donnell's Alleged Judicial Mur der-A Call for the Cannon's Roar. WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 .- A large meeting was held this evening at Ford's opera congressman Robinson (New York) presided, He stated that O'Donnell was not the first Irishman whom England had murdered, nor did he suppose he would be the last. The United States could not afford to have its citizens arrested in England without protest, nor to have them convicted without a fair trial. The name convicted without a fair trial. The name of Patrick O'Donnell was prouder, more honored, than those of all the queens and monarchs of the world. He stated his in-day when the cannon of America, feeble to-day, would have answered the insult and defiance of England.

Congressman Belford endorsed the remarks of Congressman Robinson, and asserted that O'Donnell had done absolutely a just act in killing a sneak. Had he been tried in Colorado the jury would have accuitted him without activities. quitted him without retiring.

The meeting was very enthusiastic, and frequently interrupted the speakers with loud cheers. Resolutions were adopted condemnatory of the action of Great Britain in the O'Donnell case. THE EVIL GENIUS OF THE STATES.

SHARON AND HIS SHARES.

Bitter Contest for the Control of a Cali-

San Francisco, Dec. 19.—The Ophier mining election to-day resulted in a bitterly contested fight between Flood, who held control, and Sharon, who was anxious held control, and Sharon, who was anxious to possess it. The fight was the most exciting since the great Hale-Norcross fight in 1868, when shares of that mine rose to eight thousand dollars. Shortly before the close of the poll and when Flood was a long way ahead, Richardson, of the bank of California, holding the Sharon certificates and proxies, appeared and voted a solid 47,105 shares. W. H. Wright then cast 1460 solid votes for Flood, giving him a victory with 50,922 against Sharon's 48,-855. The contest has cost Sharon over $250,000 for proxies. $250,000 for proxies.

He neglected to do this, and about a week ago he sided, He stated that O'Donnell was not the first Irishman whom England had murdered, nor did he suppose he would be that he had $335,000 in money all hidden about his premises. The most monarchs of the world. He stated his intention to get the house of representatives to say whether it approved of the course of the minister to Great Britain. If he had been a true representative of the United States Patrick O'Donnell would be alive to-day. "Lord" J. Russell Lowell must come home. The whole diplomatic corps was a disgrace to America.

Congressman Calkins approved Robinson's sentiments.

Congressman Finerty said this meeting had been called to lament the impotency of a great nation, which by a nation not fit to black its shoes had been insulted in the person of its president. There was a day and any since impelled to go to the beenhives, which stood on a bench near to the house, and in the excitement of expectation she knocked over one of the hives, disclosing to her view the top of a bench with a pile of greenbacks of large denomination upon it. A search under the other hives resulted in finding a total of $15,000. In the afternoon one of the family dropped a bunch of keys through the barn floor, which necessitated taking up a plank to find them, and when the young man put his hand down he struck a half gallon fruit jar, which he pulled out to find partly filled with $20 gold pieces. The scene is changed: 'tis like a dream Or vision of the night,'
The warrior's tent has disappeared From yonder lofty height; And on the spot where once they waved On high their painted crests, 'Binscarth' now rears her stately form, Queen city of the west.

But one short year has passed away,
And what a change is seen;
"Twas then unbroken wilderness
Where grains now flourish green:
Where late the elk and moosedeer rou
Those hillsides wild and free,
The "Binscarth" herds of noble breed
Feed on yon grassy lea.

The voice of music now is heard
Where silence deep did reign,
From morn till night you hear the sound
Of hammer, saw and plane,
And walls of stately mansions rise,
With colors bold and free,
And store, and shop, and church proclain
What "Binscarth" soon shall be.

Dame Nature strove through ages past,
With unremitting toil,
To give this blooming wilderness
The best and richest soil;
With royal robes of purple hue
She dressed her works complete,
And through the centre, winding clear,
Placed lovely "Silver Creek!" Tis here the sweetest note is heard
From bird in leafy bower:
And fragrance fills the balmy air
From many an opening flower.
While through the plains with mirthful sound
The peaceful waters glide,
Round many a hill and grassy vale
To meet the morning tide.

The park-like scenery around
The grove, the flowery dell,
Reminding one of other lands,
Where blooms the heather bell:
A lovelier place could not be found
For man to spend his days,
Than on the banks of "Silver Creek,"
Or "Binscarth's Bonnie Braes."

THURSDAY MORNING, DEC. 20, 1883 Strikes and Short Time.

From both Great Britain and the United States come news of strikes, short time and lower wages. In the former country the the people and for the officers. trouble comes because foreigners are curtailing their purchases, and in the latter because home customers are doing the increased. There is a slackening of demand in Canada, too; but what nonsense it is to argue that free trade here would create more employment. Suppose that stoves, machinery, cars and locomotives were all not in Canada. The iron shipbuilding yards of the Clyde, for many years back so busy and full of work, are now discharging men by hundreds. Within a few weeks more than five thousand men in these yards have been thrown idle, not because of any dispute about wages, but simply because there was nothing for them to do. In the cotton trade the present prospect is no better; in Lancashire the talk is all of reduced profits, lower wages, and short time.

We hear news of the same kind from the United States. There the large steel and iron works, which are mainly kept agoing tions, because they cannot force people to buy what they don't want. There is nothing for it but to wait until demand recovers, and men with money to spare choose to invest it. Over the border it is believed by some good judges of the situation that a turn is not far off, and that the very low prices now ruling for iron and steel will induce large investments at an early day. There are extended and an activation of the situation prices, and when they think bottom prices, and when they think bottom prices, and when they think bottom has been touched they will come into it is believed by some good judges of the situation that a turn is not far off and that the very low prices now ruling has some strong points in its favor.

sides of the Atlantic, we should say that the present is a bad time for strikes. On this side the prospects are good for an early recovery, but meantime the workmen's unions would be well advised to leave strikes alone, and to work along as leave strikes alone, and to work along as best they can with what the times afford.

A Bogus Emigration Agent.

The Winnipeg Times recently drew a tention to the case of a certain Mr. H. C. Lea who was reported by an English paper, at Burton-on-Trent, to be representing himself as a Dominion emigration agent, and to be holding forth inducements as follows:

"I intend in the month of March, 1884, to personally conduct a party of 300 immigrants to Canada by the Beaver line of steamers from Liverpool to Quebec, remaining with them until comfortably settled: the party to consist of capitalists, bricklayers, masons, carpenters, joiners, and domestic servants. While in this country you are working for wages which are scarcely sufficient to keep you, and employment is getting more difficult to find in consequence of the rapid increase of the population (over one thousand every twenty-four hours), there is on the other lowing will give you some idea of the wages paid: Colliers from 12s. 6d. to 30s. a day; farm laborers from 25s. to 45s. per week, with board and lodging; dom servants, 50s. to 80s. per month; brick-layers, 16s. 8d. to 30s. per day; and other wages in proportion."

The Winnipeg Times very properly demanded that the minister of agricultur should promptly suppress Mr. Lea, with his stories of big wages in Canada. And the Ottawa Citizen says: "We have made inquiries at the department of agriculture and find that no such person as H. C. Lea is in the employment of the government as If Lea represents himself to be in the employment of the government he does s without authority, and for the purpose of

"She Does Not Know Chicken from Turkey."

Helene is the handsomest girl of her race,
She's an elegant form and an exquisite face,
And she dresses with perfectly consummate grace,
But she doesn't know chicken from turkey;
She knows many languages, living and dead;
In science and fiction is very well read,
But she cannot cook meat, and she cannot make bread,
And she doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She can play a "Fantasia" or "Nocturne" with skill; Can sing up to "B"—has a wonderful trill; Can write a good story or sonnet, but still She's been up the Tiber; the Rhine and the Nile, She's a painter in every popular style— Can decorate china, a plaque or a tile, But she doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She's always self-satisfied, graceful and cool; She's always self-satisfied, graceful and cool;
A critic, both just and correct as a rule;
And knows every stitch of the Kensington school,
But she doesn't know chicken from turkey.
She can work a design by Lansing or Burt;
But she cannot cut out for her children a skirt,
Or make for her husband a well-fitting shirt—
She doesn't know chicken from turkey. I'm willing a girl should read Latin and Greek;

I'm willing a girl should read Latin and Greek;
Should German and French and Italian speak;
And be "up" in the latest esthetical freak,
If she only knows chicken from turkey.
I'd like her in music and song to take part;
Read poetry, science and cultivate art,
If husband and children were first to her heart,
And if she knew chicken from turkey. Knew barley from rice, knew a tart from a pie;
A boil from a stew, a broil from a from a fry;
And if she went into the market to buy.
Knew very well chicken from turkey.
For, to make a home happy, all knowledge must blend,
Art, science and service their benefits lend;
Then, ladies so clever and wise, condescend
To know about chicken or turkey.

Now, here comes the moral of this little tale,
Which showed that Helene did not know the word "fail,"
For she went to where cookery books were for sale,
And made known her desire to the clerk. He. And made known her desire to the cierk. He.

From several volumes, immediately took
A copy of "Mrs. Clarke's Cookery Book,"
And said, "You'll soon know, if through this you will look,
What to do with a chicken or turkey."

It is a Settled Fact

That neither Toronto, nor in fact any part of Ontario, is the proper field for humbugging, lottery schemes, devices, shams, cheap John watches, jewelry, chromos and other speculative and visionary

These plans may catch a few susceptible individuals, and may have a short run of success, but when the time comes, " for come it will," they will find that the public will not be hoodwinked and gulled with impunity. A merchant to do business honestly and squarely cannot afford to give away anything of great value. The projectors of schemes may deny this, but it cannot be done effec-
