The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

National Library of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol  $\rightarrow$  (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol  $\nabla$  (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Bibliothèque nationale du Canada

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par la second plat, selon la cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporta une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaît sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon la cas: le symbole  $\rightarrow$  signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole  $\nabla$  signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

Issued by
The Canadian National League, 314 McKinnon Building

IN 1854 a treaty was concluded with the United States by which it was agreed that the following articles, being the growth and produce of Canada (Ontario and Quebec), New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island, or of the United States, be admitted into each country, respectively, free of duty.

Grain, flour, and breadstuffs of all kinds ; animals of all kinds ; fresh, smoked, and salted meats ; cotton wool, seeds and vegetables ; undried fruits, dried fruits ; fish of all kinds ; products of fish, and of all other creatures living in the water ; poultry, eggs, hides, furs, skins or tails undressed ; stone or marble in its crude or unwrought state ; slate ; butter, cheese, tallow ; lard, horns, manures ; ores of metals of all kinds ; coal ; pitch, tar, turpentine, ashes ; timber and lumber of all kinds, round, hewed and sawed, unmanufactured in whole or in part ; firewood ; plants, shrubs and trees ; pelts, wool, fish oil ; rice, broom corn and bark ; gypsum, ground or unground ; hewn or wrought, or unwrought burr or grindstones ; dyestuffs ; flax, hemp and tow, unmanufactured ; unmanufactured tobacco ; rags.

The treaty received legislative sanction as follows : United States, August 15th, 1854 ; Canada, September 23rd, 1854 ; Prince Edward Island, October 7th, 1854 ; New Brunswick, November 3rd, 1854 ; Nova Scotia, December 13th, 1854. It became effective on March 16th, 1855. It was abrogated by joint resolution of the United States Congress, of January 18th, 1865, which took effect March 17th, 1866, the treaty having been in force for the minimum period for which it was made.

For facts concerning the effect of this treaty and the effect of its summary termination, see pamphlet issued by the Canadian National League—"Reciprocity with the United States."

A second reciprocity agreement was entered into between the Dominion of Canada and Newfoundland, acting through the Imperial Government, and the United States, on May 8th, 1871, known as the Washington Treaty. This referred only to the fishing industry and in consideration of the reciprocal free admission of sea fish and fish oil into the United States, Canada, and Newfoundland, certain fishing privileges were mutually granted. The operation of this treaty was so detrimental to Canadian and Newfoundland fisheries, that, under the Halifax award in 1877, the United States had to pay an indemnity of $5,500,000 ; $1,000,000 of which went to the Newfoundland Government. The Dominion's share of this indemnity forms the fund, the interest of which is applied to the payment of the so-called fishing bounties, to the Quebec and Maritime Provinces fishermen.

Three provisions regarding reciprocity with foreign countries in certain specified articles were incorporated in the Canadian Tariff laws of 1879, 1885 and 1888 respectively. No arrangement such as proposed was entered into between the United States and Canada, and by the tariff of 1897, the provisions were repealed. This important step by the Dominion Government has been more than once emphasized by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

For extracts from speeches of Sir Wilfred Laurier, see pamphlet issued by the Canadian National League—"Reciprocity with the United States" page 9.

BRITISH PREFERENCE

Preferential treatment was accorded by Canada to imports from the United Kingdom prior to 1847, but for the next half century no distinction was made in favor of British goods.

The tariff of 1897 authorized the extension by the Governor-in-Council of the so-called "reciprocal tariff" to imports from any country that should admit "the products of Canada on terms which, on the whole, are as favorable to Canada as the terms of the reciprocal tariff herein referred to are to the countries to which it may apply." The reduction authorized until June 30th, 1898, was one-eighth of the ordinary duty and thereafter one-fourth of the ordinary duty. Alcoholic liquors, sugar, tobacco, cigars, cigarettes and some other articles were excepted from these reductions.

The following year the preference was fixed at one-fourth of the ordinary duties, and the provisions were amended so as to confine the preference, on and after August 1st, 1898, to imports from the British Empire, and the following countries were enumerated:—The United Kingdom, the British West Indies, British Guiana, and "any other British Colony or possession, the customs tariff of which is, on the whole, as favorable to Canada as the British preferential tariff herein referred to is to such colony or possession." By Orders in Council the following additional British possessions were specifically included in the advantages of the preference: July 14th, 1895, British India, Ceylon and Straits Settlements; February 26th, 1904, New Zealand; July 1st, 1904, the South African Colonies.

By Act of July 7th, 1904, the preference was increased from one-fourth to one-third of the ordinary duties. A few exceptions were introduced in 1904, dating from June 8th, and the preference was increased on certain specified articles.

The law of April 12th, 1907, in effect November 30th, 1906, provided for a separate column in the tariff, containing the preferential rates, which are no longer based on a uniform reduction from the general rates, but are fixed separately for the different tariff items. All the important British Colonies, with the exception of the Commonwealth of Australia, are admitted to the reduced tariff.

The tariff at present is divided into three columns—Preferential, Intermediate and General. Certain articles are admitted from France and other countries at the intermediate rates; nearly all imports from the United States are subject to the general tariff.

In 1909 the United States threatened Canada with a tariff war unless considerable reductions were made in respect of imports from their country. This war was obviated by the reduction of the duties on thirteen tariff items to the intermediate rate.

On January 7th, 1911, upon invitation from the United States Government, the Hon. W. S. Fielding and the Hon. W. Paterson went to Washington and negotiated the reciprocal agreement with the United States which is now before Parliament.

There are four schedules to this agreement, as follows:—

Schedule A. specifying "a list of articles to be admitted free of duty into the United States when imported from Canada, and into Canada when imported from the United States."

Schedule B. specifying a list of articles on which the duties are reciprocally reduced to a common level.

Schedule C. specifying a list of articles on which the United States duties are higher than the Canadian duties.

Schedule D. specifying a list of articles on which the Canadian duties are higher than the United States duties.

In addition to the reduction in duties as set forth in the above schedules, the license issued to United States fishing vessels by the Dominion, granting to such vessels certain privileges on the Atlantic coast of Canada is reduced from $1.25 per ton (average $110 per vessel) to $1.00 per vessel.
