RESTORE RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT.

In order to cope with the questions that are coming up to-day we do not require revolutions or new-fangled ideas of government, but the application of old and well-settled principles to new conditions. Take the principle of responsible government. When we read of it in Canadian history, we think of the rebellion of 1837, the struggles of legislatures with governors, and especially the fight in which Baldwin and LaFontaine led the Reformers against Governor Metcalfe. These were men, not mere theorists. They were strong, sincere, practical men, advocating a practical remedy for a practical grievance. They succeeded in establishing the principle that this country must manage its own affairs. It was then discovered that we had only changed our masters, and that a ministry and a parliamentary majority might be just as tyrannical and unjust as an imported governor. It was found also that there were ministers who, while enjoying all the power, shirked the responsibility. This was a practical question, and a practical man went to deal with it.

We are now confronted with a power far more subtle, far-reaching and difficult than that of governors, or even, of ministers and party leaders. In fact, the strength of partyism is not the chief political evil of the present day, but the idea of partyism. A greater power has arisen than that of parties and party leaders. It is the power of corporations and moneyed interests. These, by their concentration, systematic plans of campaign and command of expert ability, are able to obtain from legislatures and governments concessions which are opposed to the public interest. They demoralize governments, they demoralize legislatures, they demoralize parties, make them forget their obligations, and convert the party struggle into a farce.

What has become of the doctrine of ministerial responsibility, about which there has been so much learned discourse? What is its practical value to the people? When a question like the control of water power or public rights in telephones, comes up, do we find ministers studying it, taking the initiative, in making inquiries and drafting legislation? When a series of accidents happen on the railways, does the Minister of Railways regard them as a matter requiring investigation and action? On most of these questions ministers are passive and critical. Tell them your troubles, and they listen to you in various attitudes, sympathetic, critical or bored. But they seem to think it is your business, rather than theirs. A municipality, going to the legislature, meets with even a worse reception. "Here is that wearisome city council again. What is the matter with it now? What takes the time? It is never satisfied. We went to a great deal of trouble to throw out its bill last year, and here it is with another."

Ministers of the crown—that is, ministers of the people—ought to take on their shoulders all the responsibilities and anxieties arising out of the relations between railway, telephone and other companies and municipalities and the general public. That is the meaning of responsible government, as applied to the living issues of the day. If a corporation is to wrong or oppress the people it is the duty of ministers to fight that corporation, just as in old days popular leaders fought with autocratic governors. If they think, in any case, that the corporation is right, they must be prepared to stand or fall by that opinion. But ministers should take the side of the people as against the corporations and moneyed interests, because the latter have their own expert and highly-paid advocates, and can take care of themselves. On the other hand, if the Minister of Justice and the Solicitor-General and the Attorney-General will not take care of the people's interests, nobody else will. Canada is the client of the Minister of Justice. Ontario is the client of John M. Gibson, Attorney-General. The words Canada and Ontario are simply names for the people, and especially for those people who take the side of pay big fees for legal advice and aid.

The situation is that two million and more people of Ontario club together and hire a lawyer, called an Attorney-General, to look after their interests. Five millions of Canadians club together and hire a lawyer, who is called a Minister of Justice, to look after their interests. There are other lawyers in the two governments and the legislature, who hold, or should hold, briefs on the same side. We have heard complaints that there are too many lawyers in parliament. But there could not be too many lawyers, if they were filled with the spirit of a Meredith.

A KNIGHTLY OFFENDER.

It is not extraordinary that there should be Games in Canadian politics when there are Mulocks in the administration of the country's affairs. What has Toronto done for the Dominion government, Sir William Mulock wants to know. He makes the political representation of Toronto a pretext for denying to the city the common justice of a business judgment on a business proposition.

In other words, it is suggested that Toronto should buy justice from the Dominion government. All that Mayor Urquhart asked for the city may be assumed to be reasonable. No argument is made against the request. Sir William spurns argument, and merely elects the point that Toronto does not elect supporters of the Laurier government.

If justice has its price it is not surprising that a purchaser is occasionally found in a representative like R. R. Gamay. The principle which Sir William Mulock asserts is embodied in the policy of the Ross government. R. R. Gamay had reason to know that a constituency represented by a supporter of the Ross government would receive more favors than a constituency represented by an opponent of the Ross government. Desertion from the party he was elected to support was the method by which he sought to buy fair play for Manitoulin.

Gamay's conduct is, of course, indefensible. But Gamay, the purchaser of government favors, is no worse than an administration which is ready to sell government favors. The man who takes a bribe is at least as good as the man who offers the bribe. Under the system of patronage to the hostile constituency, politics is corrupted and debased. It is the spoils system brought into shameful prominence by just such observations as are credited to Sir William Mulock.

Sir William Mulock's words are a straight bid to Toronto to sacrifice its honest convictions for the reward which it may earn as a government supporter. What can be expected of the individual voter when such a policy is propounded to a constituency? "What has Toronto done for us?" asks Sir William Mulock. "What has the candidate done for me?" the voter may ask with equal justice. There is an opportunity when the vote is not inflicted upon men who bribe individual voters. Is it a greater crime to offer an inducement to a single voter than to tempt a whole constituency with promises actual or implied?

An honest election can only be held when the people are allowed to record their convictions at the polls. Sir William Mulock, in as many ways, asks the City of Toronto to smother its convictions, and thus qualify for the patronage of the Laurier government. And yet we are told that party leaders are shocked at the behavior of the honest expression of opinion. Sir William Mulock has provided an alibi for righteous hostility to the principle of making self-interest the motive power in politics. He has asserted a policy under which men like R. R. Gamay are produced, and who offers small hope of an early purification of Canadian politics.

CHANCE FOR ORGANIZED LABOR.

Already the fire insurance companies are threatening to advance rates. This in itself is a serious phase of the situation. Graver still is the possibility of the fire brigade recognizing any duty aside from the command of its chief. No principle related to the standing of organized labor enters into the issue. An opportunity now presents itself for the labor leader to immensely strengthen their cause with the public. Let them state plainly that the agitation for a firemen's union is not being conducted under the auspices of organized labor. A declaration of this kind, making it clear that there is no challenge to the labor cause in opposing a firemen's union, would tend greatly to simplify the situation.

The firemen have no grievance. When they have just cause for complaint the city will deal fairly and generously with them. Every ratepayer in Toronto wants a well paid and well treated fire brigade. In return the city wants a thoroughly efficient and unhampered force. Such a brigade Toronto has to-day, and it is to be hoped that the complete reorganization placed in it by the public will not be impaired by the formation of a firemen's union.

Should Mr. R. R. Gamay join a few more parties he may be charged with polygamy. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will surely hasten to place soft coal on the free list, and thereby please the United States and the Hamilton Times.

If Controller Loudon's resolution is referred to the Legal Department for interpretation Corporation Counsel Pullerton should be authorized to call to his aid an assistant from Philadelphia.

Davis, E. J., might qualify for an award, a reward, the strength of his initials and the superb legal attainments which he displayed in connection with the North York election protest.

common sufferers. Land and money subsidies are equally wrong. Land grants cause great hardship to the actual settler, and who is not a chaser. Cash subsidies are not used for building the railways. The road is constructed by the issue of bonds and stock certificates, while the cash subsidies are fruitful sources of political corruption. Mr. Sifton's declaration that there will be no land subsidies is a bluff. No land subsidies are granted, but by parading this declaration a way is paved for aid in the form of cash or bond guarantees.

Editor World: In your paper of the 5th inst., I notice a cartoon entitled "The Man Who Pays," in which "Young Napoleon Sifton" is represented as saying to "Mr. West" (symbolizing Manitoba and the Territories), "Not an acre of your land for the railroad, my dear Sir, so long as you get out of Ontario, carries such an accessible purse."

This cartoon, it seems to me, is apt to create two serious misconceptions. One of these is that the people of the province are apprehensive that further insane and corrupt alienation of the public domain in the west, as a part of the pending railway deals, is likely to take place. The other is that the subsidies to railways assume the form of a cash donation, or bond guarantee, the burden is borne exclusively by the Province of Ontario.

Editor World: The Grand Trunk receives Manitoba traffic at Chicago. Its western connections; this traffic flows thru Canada to Portland and Boston. The construction of the Grand Trunk and the purchase of the Canadian Northern Railway by the Grand Trunk Pacific, will not necessarily divert a large amount of Manitoba produce from the Chicago route to the Grand Trunk route. These companies have nothing to do with the Grand Trunk Pacific, which is a separate corporation.

The publishers announce the early publication of "The History of the Liberal Party," by J. S. Willson. The choice of Mr. Willson as historian of the Liberal party and the biographer of its history is a fortunate one. He has been for many years with political movements in Canada, and his knowledge of the party and its history is extensive. The book is a valuable contribution to the history of the Liberal party in Canada.

SCIENTIFIC EDUCATION.

In reply to some criticisms of the University of Toronto, and especially of its scientific department, President Ross has issued a statement. He says that the demand for graduates of the School of Practical Science, at present, is very large. He says that the school is doing its best to meet this demand, and that it is necessary to improve the school's equipment and facilities. He says that the school is a valuable part of the university, and that it is necessary to support it.

The Toronto School of Practical Science now has 340 students on its rolls. The school is a valuable part of the university, and it is necessary to support it. Potatoes to Bar Oil.

Berlin, Feb. 8.—Emperor William, attended by the Crown Prince Frederick William, Prince Henry of Prussia, and Chancellor von Bülow, Herr von Tiz, Secretary of the Navy; Herr von Podbielski, Minister of Agriculture; and Herr von Bülow, Minister of the Interior, opened the Potato and Alcohol Exposition, which opens tomorrow.

The Emperor believes that potato alcohol can be made as valuable to agriculture as beer. The immense display today was directly due to His Majesty's encouragement for the Potato and Alcohol Exposition, which opens tomorrow.

Washington, Feb. 8.—President Roosevelt is suffering from the prevailing influenza in Washington, and was unable to attend the cabinet meeting today. His cold has settled in his throat and to-night he was threatened with pneumonia. His physician, however, hopes to see him tomorrow.

MOLASSES FOR HORSES.

Editor World: I read with interest the article in your issue of last week, entitled "Molasses for Horses." In the report of the Central Experimental Farm, Prof. F. T. Shutt's (of the Dominion Agricultural Department) opinion is given in the following words: "Undoubtedly a very valuable feed stuff," but he notes that "it is best used in large quantities it loosens the bowels. I would like to give you a recent experience of my own. One of my horses fell away and was in such a condition that I would willingly have sacrificed the animal for $75. It has been improved, which goes by the name of 'Molasses Meal,' that it would not, to-day, make $250 for the beast. What 'Molasses Meal' may be, I am prepared to say, but understand that the ingredients are molasses. I quite endorse Prof. Shutt's opinion that molasses is undoubtedly a valuable feed, but the great consideration is how to use it. The preparation that I use is a mixture of molasses, made by an English company. Thinking my experience may be of interest to your readers, I enclose a copy of the recipe." Feb. 7. NICHIE'S LOOKS FOR PEALE.

Lord Hamilton Expects Venezuela. Row to be Settled Soon. London, Feb. 7.—Lord George Hamilton, who is expected to arrive at Bradford to-night. He had previously attended the cabinet meeting. In his speech on the 26th he sincerely hoped that in the course of a few hours the Venezuelan controversy would be completely settled. He said that the British Government had been in communication with the German Government, and that the latter had agreed to withdraw its troops from the island of Venezuela. ONLY A SUGGESTION.

But it Has Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands. Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become healthy and gain it can only result from the food we eat and digest, and that food should be nutritious and health-forming, like eggs, breakfast and cereals; in other words, the kinds of food that make flesh and bone. If you were dying of thirst and a cup of water was offered you, what kind of wisdom would it be for you to refuse it? Apply the same argument to your weakness. If you suffer from any insidious weakness such as drains, losses, impotence, varicose, etc.—sapping your life away—why refuse to accept the aid to health and strength that I hold out to you? The water would be given you free, and it is just as freely I offer my aid. You are not only injuring yourself, but it is unjust to your family and your friends to hesitate. I take it for granted that to-day every man who can read knows that Electricity properly used will cure all weaknesses of men even after everything else has failed, so my sole concern is to induce men to try. For nearly 40 years my famous invention has gone along making strong men out of weak all over the world, and to dispel all arguments and scepticism I

TOMATOES OR BEET SUGAR
'Hamion May Have Its Supply of the Former Vegetable Cut Off, It Appears.

SUGAR FACTORY SCHEME SUGGESTED
George Perceval of Montreal Looked on as the Likely New Proprietor of Hotel Royal.

Hamion, Feb. 8.—(Special)—It believes to look now as the Hamion was going to have its supply of tomatoes cut off. There is a big fight on between the newly organized tomato growers' association and the canners. The growers have bound themselves in writing not to grow any tomatoes unless the canners agree to advance the price from 20 cents to 25c a bushel. The canners are holding alot, and have refused to meet the growers. They say that they are signing contracts every day. They claim that they are practically in contract with the growers, and they supply of the factories. They went over the situation thoroughly at a meeting Saturday afternoon and agreed to cut down the acreage now used in the production of tomatoes. They claim that they are the best business men into their ranks. While the row may seriously affect the canning factories of the Hotel Royal, but George Perceval is the means of bringing an immense beet sugar refining factory here.

Frank Carpenter of this city and two associates, who are American capitalists, endeavoring to get the growers interested in beet growing.
They say that they have secured the rights to the land, and they are preparing to plant the beet. They will talk to the gardeners next Saturday afternoon at the Hotel Royal.
They have secured the rights to the ers next Saturday afternoon at the Hotel Royal.

Perceval Will Get It.
A great many offers are being made for the Hotel Royal, but George Perceval, the wholesale liquor man of Montreal, looks like a winner. He has offered to buy the Hotel Royal for $1,000,000.
The transfer of the license can not be effected for 30 days. George H. Gray has sent an invitation to Perceval to meet at the Hotel Royal on Thursday next. Perceval is expected to arrive in Montreal on Thursday next. He has been given the Hotel Royal for of them. This caused them to cut over at an angle sufficient to prevent the passengers from seeing the cars. The passengers into some confusion, which, however, soon subsided when the train was brought to a standstill.

A passenger who joined the train at Port Credit stated that so far as he could ascertain no one was any the worse. Several luggage were momentarily separated, part of the door of the car, number 206,
was evidently a new one, was badly damaged, the door nearest the car No.
202, being jammed so tightly as to prevent all efforts to open it.

The few passengers of the two disabled cars were transferred to the other portion of the train.

herds are full of them and they are doing much damage to the fisheries. For every thousand killed ten thousand others appear.

The herds of seals is due to the fact that Russia will not permit seal catching in the White Sea, their breeding

BEAT ANTI-TRUST LEGISLATION IS THE AIM OF STANDARD OIL CO.

Number of Telegrams, Signed John D. Rockefeller, Received by Legislators in Washington—President May Call a Special Session.

Washington, Feb. 7.—It can be stated by authority that unless anti-trust legislation at least reasonably satisfactory to the administration is enacted at the present session President Roosevelt on the fifth of March will call an extraordinary session of the 58th Congress. The President himself has told members of Congress of his desire and of his determination that the anti-trust legislation be enacted.

It is further stated that the determination of the President was reached only after careful consideration of the strenuous efforts that are being made to defeat any anti-trust legislation by Congress. These efforts have covered a wide range. They were characterized to-day by one prominent Republican leader, to quote him directly, "as the most remarkable of which I have had personal knowledge during my public life."

Brought to an End. These efforts culminated during the past 24 hours, it is now deemed, in direct appeals from the Standard Oil Company, thru its president, Mr. John D. Rockefeller, to the members of the Senate, not to enact any anti-trust legislation at this time.

No less than six United States senators have received telegrams signed "John D. Rockefeller," urging that no anti-trust legislation be enacted. It has not been possible to obtain a copy of these despatches, which it can be said are practically identical. Substantially they read as follows:

"We are opposed to any anti-trust legislation. Our counsel, Mr. [Name] will see you, if you must be stopped." As stated, these telegrams (and it must be clear that the substance and not the exact wording is here given), were signed, "John D. Rockefeller."

Yesterday morning one of the counsel of the Standard Oil Company arrived in Washington and called immediately on members of the Senate, as indicated in the telegrams. He did not remain long.

Scarcely had he made known his business than he was informed a bit curtly that his presence here was undesirable, and he left with an intimation that he had better return to New York.

Talked in Lobby. During the afternoon information concerning the receipt of the messages leaked out, and became the subject of some quiet discussion at the Senate. The news also reached the House, some of the prominent representatives learning the gist of the despatches. Then it became known that this was not the first time that the Standard Oil Company, thru its attorneys, had endeavored to influence legislation in Congress at the expense of the public interest.

The measure submitted by Attorney General Knox to the sub-committee of the House Judiciary Committee, subsequently was reported to the full House, it can be said on the best authority that the Standard Oil Company's counsel began to devote their position, particularly to the Nelson

SOFT COAL MINERS. For 1903 They Will Receive an Increase of 12 1/2 Per Cent.

Indianapolis, Feb. 7.—The miners and operators of the competitive district agreed today upon a scale of wages for the ensuing year. Briefly, the miners in all of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, and Western Pennsylvania are to receive an increase averaging 12 1/2 per cent. The new wages will form a basis for all other bituminous mining districts.

In addition, the operators verbally agreed that outside day labor should be increased 12 1/2 per cent. in Ohio, Illinois and Indiana, and that in the Pittsburgh district there shall be an increase of 12 1/2 per cent. except where prices have been advanced during the present year. In these cases sufficient increase shall be granted to bring the amount up to 12 1/2 per cent.

At the meeting of the Scale Committee the Indiana miners agreed to withdraw the short-bill from the Senate, where it is a special order for Monday.

Charged With Sheep Stealing. Sir Charles J.—Jacob Brown and Charles Jones of Victoria, after three sittings of police magistrate's court at Simcoe, were Friday sent up for trial at the next general sessions before a judge on a charge of stealing sheep. Brown and Jones was the result.

Convention of Prohibition. Ingersoll, Feb. 8.—A county prohibition convention has been called and will be held in the Woodstock Hotel on Saturday, Feb. 14, commencing at 10 p.m. Among the speakers will be Rev. Dr. Chown of Toronto.

HOUSE PASSES THE BILL. Washington, Feb. 7.—By a unanimous vote the House today passed the anti-trust bill. The closing chapter was devoid of excitement. The bill, as passed, requires corporations "hereafter organized" to file returns covering their articles of incorporation, financial composition, incorporation, etc., with the Federal commerce commission on penalty of being restrained from being allowed to engage in interstate commerce. It also prescribes penalties for false returns, etc.

The commission is given authority to inquire into the returns for similar returns from existing corporations owning an interstate business. The commission is given power to compel the answer to questions and a fine of not to exceed $5000 is imposed for failure to file returns. The bill also provides for the return of property to the original owner if the corporation is found to have been organized for the purpose of evading the law.

Message From Lebanon. Oriental Evangelist at Messey Hall.—153 Ringfield Place.

Mayor Urquhart presided at the meeting of the Canadian Temperance League in Massey Hall Sunday afternoon. In his opening address he expressed the hope that the day was not far distant when Canada would demonstrate to the world the practicality of prohibition, and he knew no other way of accomplishing this than by the adoption of the total ban.

Madame Layyah Barakat, an Oriental evangelist, was the speaker of the afternoon. Her address was a message from Lebanon. She sketched the history of the country made preparations for the day of the King Edward VII. when Prince of Wales to Mount Lebanon, and how she sent out word all over the land by messengers that the narrow places were to be made straight, and the crooked paths straight, and the unlevel places made level. His message was "Prepare ye the way for the coming of the Prince." This made the text of the speaker's remarks.

Madame Barakat's address dealt with the custom of Christian nations sending men with the missionary spirit to the heathen lands, and her own conversion and how she had to bear the severest persecution.

At the close of Madame Barakat's address she stepped from the platform to the pledge tables in front of the hall and personally administered 152 blue ribbons on young men and women who came from all parts of the city and province to the total abstinence pledge, whilst the audience for thirty-five minutes stood on their feet and sang songs. Brother Frank Clark took part in the singing service.

SPRIT MESSAGES BY WIRELESS. A Duluth Man Has Theory as to Its Application. Duluth, Feb. 8.—A. N. McGladiey, spiritualist, lawyer and student of occult philosophy, believes the time is approaching when the inhabitants of the material and spiritual worlds will establish communication and hold converse as man to man, and as matter to matter, by means of the wireless telegraph.

"It is difficult to get an expression of a belief thus advanced into the public press," said Judge McGladiey, "owing to the fact that the wireless telegraph in church organizations. It is held within the last forty years that a person could send a message to any part of the globe without having his message soundness questioned.

"The wireless telegraph all about us, and science will open up communication with our immaterial brothers before many years have elapsed. I am of the opinion that within five or six years the communication will be as easy and intelligible as conversation over the telephone. Marconi's discovery of wireless telegraphy is a long stride in that direction, believe me, and it would not surprise me if thru it communication is to be opened."

WHENCE THE SOLICITATION? MAY BE MORE WAR IN CHINA. Journeymen Bakers' Union Desires to Know Who Asked for Another Outbreak. Natives in the Southern Provinces Are Preparing for Another Outbreak.

San Francisco, Feb. 8.—G. J. Kavanaugh, a newspaper correspondent, who has been stationed for some time in the southern provinces of China, returned to this country to-day on the steamer China. He reports that the natives of South China are making active preparations for rebellion and war, and, profiting by the failure of the Boxer troubles in the north, have shown more shrewdness in their preliminary arrangements. Canton, up the river from Hong Kong, appears to be the centre of activity, and the foreigners are made daily aware of the serious trend of affairs.

According to Mr. Kavanaugh, arms are being secretly landed in China by filibustering expeditions, in which American, German and English figure prominently. The identity of those who have undertaken this work, or who are prominent in its execution, is, of course, hard to determine, but high Chinese officials, as well as many intelligent foreigners resident in the country, are aware that adventurous citizens of the United States are arming the Chinese. Former American soldiers are employed in drilling the natives. An uprising in some of the provinces removed from the principal coast cities is expected to take place soon, and the directors of the country, who have thus far shown a different spirit, is awaited with anxiety.

That there is a growing antipathy to American rule in the south is shown recently by an attack made on Dr. James Young, surgeon of the steamer China, by the natives of Canton, who, in company with a young man named David Austin and a pilot and guide, boarded the steamer and held Dr. Young on the head knocked him to the ground and rendered him almost insensible. His commanding new weapons and held the mob while the doctor was removed to the boat.

ASTIGMATISM CURED. Operation on the Muscle Removes a Defect of Vision. New York, Feb. 8.—A surgical operation on the eye, with the effect of curing astigmatism, is described by Dr. George J. Bull, in a special article in the New York Medical Journal, published to-day.

Astigmatism, or "astigmatia," as Dr. Bull calls it, is a defect of vision caused by irregularity in the shape of the eye, usually in the cornea or crystalline lens. It produces a disability to the eye, which produces this effect, the doctors in this city say this is rare. Dr. Bull's patient, besides astigmatism, had a weak eye, and the cornea was troubled with inequality of the muscles, and he had performed an operation, weakening one of the muscles of the eye, he found that the irregularity of the cornea had disappeared, and that the astigmatism had entirely disappeared, so that the patient was able to see all the "hex" in the clock face, and find it easy to read the effect of the cure: "She put her hands up to her face to see if she had her glasses, and finding they were not there, could hardly believe her eyes."

Dr. Bull says that the operation has given great satisfaction, and seems to have had an excellent effect, but he is of the opinion that such an operation is undertaken only in exceptional cases. It is possible, however, says the doctor, that the case may be of value in other diseases of the eye due to tension, which may be cured by operating on the muscles.

Took Life Rather Than Starve. New York, Feb. 7.—The body of an unidentified man was found to-night when a freight car, which was nailed up 12 days ago, when it left Albany, was opened in the New York Central freight yards. Some crumbs of food and a knife and fork were found in the car, and the presence of a handkerchief and a leather strap fastened round the neck was taken as an indication that, being unable to make his presence in the car known, the man committed suicide to escape the slow agony of starvation.

A POOR RHEUMATIC

He Will go From Day to Day Suffering those Pains. He Will Dose His Poor Stomach and Will Dose His Ache To Find a Drug Which Will Cure Him.

When you feel that grinding pain in your shoulders or back, or in the knee joints, if you attack it then you can easily drive it out—the first pain is the one to get at. Get at them at once and save yourself many years of suffering. I have cured many thousands of rheumatics with my

DR. McLAUGHLIN ELECTRIC BELT

It does not matter where rheumatism is located it cannot get away from electricity intelligently applied. The manner in which my Electric Belt is applied will follow it to the most secret recess in the human body. It so charges the tissues with vibrating life as to render the spot uninhabitable to disease. Rheumatism cannot exist where my belt is applied according to my directions.

The kidneys are responsible for a nearly every case of Rheumatism. Lacking vitality, they fail in their duties and allow the uric acid to get into the blood, where it becomes a burden to the circulation. It roams about, up and down the vast system of arteries and veins, and finally settles down in some secluded spot to rest.

The pain is most aggravating, nerve-racking and peace-destroying; the surrounding tissues, which are suffering because their blood supply has been shut off, become irritated and inflamed, and that part of the body, until relief comes in some form, is the sorest, most painful spot imaginable.

Electricity is an external application, but it goes into the body, directly to the spot where the trouble rests, pours its discomposing influence into the congestion, separates it, dissolves the urates and drives them out of the circulation, renders the blood uninhabitable to them, carrying them back to the kidneys, which in the meantime are being strengthened, and thus resumes the healthy course of nature by taking them out of the body through the bladder.

I don't ask anyone to take my unsupported word. I comment the following extracts to your careful consideration:—

When a man like me has suffered for nearly forty years with the vagaries of muscular rheumatism he is inclined to be cautious about calling himself cured, but I feel that I have cured myself. I also feel better and stronger than I have for years.—ALEX. FRASER, Christian Island, Ont.

As far as my rheumatism is concerned I am cured. I have worked steadily and have rested but a little. This also time before I got the belt.—W. H. EATON, 312 Cordova St. E., Vancouver, B.C.

About the Belt. I am glad to say that the rheumatism I had in my joints has all left me.—JAMES S. BRYAN, Maple Creek, Ass.

I have found your belt all that I expected, and more. I am as good as cured in my most aggravating, nerve-racking and peace-destroying rheumatism. I know two others who have purchased from you. They testify to the same benefits.—THOS. BRANLEY, Leclaire Mills, Que.

I was not able to walk across the floor; now my rheumatism is cured. I feel that your Belt is a grand thing.—WILLIAM H. BLETNEY, Malheur, Ore.

I am pleased to say that your Belt has done me an ever good job. It has cured me completely of rheumatism and general weakness. My catarrh quite a bit.—PATRICK DUNN, Pookstown, Ont.

Consider this, dear reader, and then ask yourself if I have not a good reason to be enthusiastic in the praise of my grand method. Should not this be food for thought? Send letters as follows:—Letters of gratitude from thousands of people, the same as I have given you a few extracts from here. They tell just what my Belt has done for them, and I am positive that I can do the same for you in your case. I do not ask you to take my word, nor do I ask you to take any chances of throwing your money away. I am not advertising that I give my Belt away. I am willing to cure you before you pay me. All I ask is that you give me reasonable security. You may then use the Belt at my risk and PAY WHEN CURED. CAUTION. And why I caution you. There are certain concerns advertising through the columns of different newspapers Electric Belts Free: others a belt for a dollar or two. I have hundreds of these so-called electric belts in my office which have failed to give a current. They possess no more electricity than a piece of string tied around your waist. READ WITH CARE. Every patient wearing Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt receives free useful cured advice of a physician who understands his case. Agents or drug stores are not allowed to sell these goods. FREE BOOK.—If you can't call write for my beautiful descriptive book showing how my Belt is used. It explains how my Belt cures weakness in men and women, and gives prices. Send for it to-day. Address DR. M. O. McLAUGHLIN, 130 Yonge Street, TORONTO, ONT. OFFICE HOURS—9 A.M. TO 8.30 P.M.
