Fate of Labor Government in England Hangs in Balance STRUCK BY A FLOOD, H. L. CURRIE IS DEAD

TODAY'S SESSION OF PARLIAMENT MAY BE CRITICAL ONE

Conservative Censure Motion and Liberal Amendment to be Presented.

DIVISIONS ASSURED

Country Will Know by Midnight if Government Has Weathered Storm.

BY LLOYD ALLEN,
(United Press Staff Cor.)

London, Oct. 8.—Britain expects to know by midnight whether its first Labor Government has gone down to defeat, through its failure to prosecute a Communist editor accused of sedition, or has survived to face another crisis early in November, when it seeks ratification of the Anglo-Russian treaty.

Two Divisions Certain.

As the House of Commons met this afternoon for debate the Conservatives prepared to introduce a motion censuring the Government for dropping proceedings against the editor. The Liberals will sponsor an amendment regarding parliamentary investigation.

Party whips were scurrying about London throughout the morning round-up of their forces, but many members were absent traveling on the continent, while others showed no interest in the situation.

Some political observers declare the Liberals are likely to withdraw their amendment following discussion by the Attorney-General of the Conservative motion. It is also forecast that the Laborites will abstain from voting on the amendment, leaving the Conservatives to defeat while the Liberal and Laborites will later combine to defeat the straight motion of censure.

Political leaders conferred throughout the early afternoon and last minute changes of tactics were rumored on every hand.

Irish Bill in Lords.

The House of Lords met to resume its debate on the second reading of the Irish bill. Viscount Grey warned that amendments to the Irish boundary bill, proposed by the Ulster peers, would kill the bill, and force an election, automatically, probably reversing the question of the Lords' right to interfere in legislation of the House of Commons.

Nation On Alert.

London, Oct. 8.—The nation is watching today's proceedings in the House of Commons with more than usual curiosity, for upon the result of the debate depends the fate of Great Britain's first Labor government and the question whether the country is to be involved in an immediate election. The debate centres around a Conservative motion of censure and a Liberal amendment dealing with the government's withdrawal of sedition charges against the editor of a Communist paper.

The political writers in this morning's newspapers give currency to a number of rumors, one of the most striking of which is that Attorney General Hastings, who was responsible for the withdrawal of the prosecution in the Communist case, has a surprise in store which will disconcert the opposition and carry the government through triumphantly.

Another concern is the attitude of the Liberals who are said to be getting cold feet; fearing an election would obliterate them at the polls and accordingly maneuvering to keep the government in office.

The Conservatives also are credited in some quarters with an intention of supporting the Liberal amendment, which it had been supposed they would not do.

There is an appearance of tactical maneuvering in progress in all parts. The house meets at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon and division is not expected in before 11 p.m.

The Laborites have shown themselves to be greatly angered against the Liberals for their attitude in the Communist case, and if the debate ends much heat an adjournment may be necessary.

Finds Formula

Eugene Stagemann of Dayton, O., has worked out a formula for the manufacture of Ichothol, a drug widely used in the treatment of skin and blood diseases and as an anti-septic. Germany formerly had a monopoly on the product. Ichothol gum is taken from fossiliferous limestone. A tract of some 1,600 acres, which contains this limestone, has been located along the Gulf of Mexico. Stagemann spent three years perfecting his formula.

Saskatoon, Sask., Oct. 8.—The Liberal Government has been true to the people of the west; it has been true to the people and to the promises it made during the last election, declared Premier W. L. Mackenzie King, speaking here yesterday before the Liberal Association. The Premier cited the revival of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement as one instance of the good faith of the Government. He appealed to public spirited citizens of the west to combine for the attainment of western demands and the solution of western problems.

IMPERIAL MEETING DEFERRED FOR YEAR

Political Turmoil in Britain Makes It Impossible This Year.

(By C. F. CRANDALL.)

(British United Press.)
London, Oct. 8.—The proposed preliminary conference of Imperial representatives will not be held this year. This was the decision reached at a conference held yesterday afternoon, in Downing street, between E. M. Macdonald, Canadian Minister of National Defence, and J. H. Thomas, British Colonial Secretary.

The important question of Imperial representation in London was not to be brought forward and it was suggested that at any subsequent Imperial conference the leader of the opposition, as well as the premiers, might participate.

These two points were discussed yesterday, and on both of them, Canada entered strong opposition. In view of the political turmoil and the prospects of an immediate election, the proposed conference has therefore been postponed indefinitely. If Labor is returned to power, as a result of the general election, a preliminary conference will be called early in new year, but if any other party comes back, no one knows what will happen.

Twenty-three received certificates emblematic of successful first year work, five of vouchers for second year, one the medalion of the third, and six the United fourth year and complete course.

Mr. Uren stressed the great value of the award, and in the interim he urged every walk of life, but more particularly in railroad work. The C. P. R. had always encouraged an expert study of first aid among its employees, and since the C. P. R. council of the association has been formed in 1920 first aid had been given to 20,177 persons.

WITH TALLY EVEN, TEAMS MEET TODAY IN THEIR 5TH CLASH

Night of Rain is Followed by Bright, Sunny Weather.

JOHNSON TO PITCH

Peckinpaugh Likely to Remain Out of the Game Again Today.

(By Canadian Press.)

New York, Oct. 8.—After a night of rain, the sun came out this morning and indications were that there would be good weather for the world series game this afternoon.

"Bucky" Harris, big manager of the Senators, and John McGraw, veteran pilot of the Giants, met today in the first game of their seven-round bout for the world's baseball championship.

Yesterday, Harris evaded the fight by taking the fourth round by a score of 7 to 4. George Magridge, a left-handed pitcher and "Gloose" Goslin, a portside batter jabbed the Giants ally.

Today, Manager McGraw will revert to his outplay tactics and use Arthur Nehf if the latter's injured hand permits. Otherwise the New York hurler will be on the mound.

The Indians have been brought from a point 800 miles north of Telegraph Creek, and are all charged with the murder of a boy of 17, whom they believed to be practicing witchcraft.

The police have been working on the case since June, having had to travel nearly 1,000 miles inland with pack dogs and canoes, tracking down the Nomadic tribe.

NO ELECTION THIS YEAR, SAYS PREMIER

Will be General Vote Next Year or Year After, Says King.

Saskatoon, Sask., Oct. 8.—Before an audience of over 2,000 persons, which crowded Third avenue Methodist church here far beyond its normal capacity, Premier Mackenzie King last night reviewed the accomplishments and the problems of the government during its three years in office, and made clear to his hearers that in the present temper of the Government's eastern supporters the Hudson's Bay Railway will not be completed for some time.

The Premier intimated that with but one Liberal member in Saskatchewan and the other 15 seats solidly Progressive and, as such, outside the councils of the administration, the province could not look for the completion of its most important development project in the immediate future.

There will be no general election this year, Mr. King said, but there will be one next year, or at least the year after, and in the interim he urged the people of Saskatchewan to think well of the situation before they went to the polls.

The Premier was emphatic in denying that the concessions made in the west in tariffs, the Crow's Nest Pass and adjustments, could feel that their interest was being neglected.

SPIRITED SESSION OF COUNTY COUNCIL OVER LANCASTER PAVING MATTER

Retaining Wall Gets Into Controversy as Resolution for Bond Issue is Debated—Statement by Councillor, Denial by County Secretary.

An adjourned meeting of the municipal council this morning, a resolution was passed authorizing the issue of bonds for the paving and sidewalk work being carried in the parish of Lancaster and for a retaining wall in front of the Simms property. During the discussion there were some sharp exchanges and the charge was made by Councillor O'Brien that the county secretary had not tried to hold anything up, but he did want business done a business way. For his part, if Councillor O'Brien was satisfied with the original resolution, he was willing to let it stand, but he did not see how the resolution presented now could be passed until the letter of the Premier had been before the council.

Councillor Campbell took the ground that if the building of the retaining wall was irregular, the county secretary should have refused to sign the contract. Mr. Kelly said he had no recollection of having seen the contract for the retaining wall, although it might be in his office. Councillor O'Brien said that if the wall was a part of the original contract he had been asked in the hope that the indulgence of the council would provide the money to pay for it. Councillor Campbell said it was part of the original contract for which tenders had been called.

Councillor O'Brien said the Government was to pay for the highway between the bridge and Manchester's corner and if this matter had been left until the end of November, when the matter was due, the matter of issuing bonds could have been very easily settled up.

The warden said that up to date the Bank of Nova Scotia had paid out $80,924.12 for sidewalks and $70,889.16 for highways, a total of $151,813.28. Councillor O'Brien stated that of this amount the Government would pay about $80,000. There was an unpaid balance of $71,813.28. The matter of the payment for the entire width of the street in Fairville was discussed.

Mr. Kelly said that in the city it was always customary to mention a retaining wall when one had to be built. Councillor O'Brien said those who understood the situation in Lancaster would appreciate what the Government felt about to erect this retaining wall, they had sold to within 25 feet of the street to the Simms Bros. Company.

The resolution was adopted, Mayor Potts and Commissioner Bullock voting nay. The council yesterday agreed to finance the installation of a fire alarm system for the parish of Lancaster until the council should have been provided with the necessary funds. The council also referred the application of residents of Fairville for sidewalks to the finance committee with power to act and referred back to the committee for fuller details.

Hon. R. W. Wignome, warden, president and other present members, Councillors Potts, Bullock, Frink, Harding, O'Brien, Golding, Campbell, Bowland, McLeod, McLeod, Simpson, O'Donnell and Corcoran.

Question of Legality. J. King Kelly, K.C., county secretary, submitted an opinion in writing on the legality of the Parish of Lancaster installing a fire alarm system and reported that while bonds might be issued and sold for a fire alarm system he did not think the legislation would allow the Telephone Company to carry the wires for the same. The council agreed to refer the matter to the legal committee.

Report Retained Back. The auditor, P. F. Blanchet, reported that he had examined the ledger accounts of the municipality and found them correct. Mayor Potts said this seemed like a very meagre report to him and before it was acceptable to him there would have to be more details given and he moved the report be referred back for fuller information.

On motion of Councillor Campbell, seconded by Councillor Golding, a resolution was passed that the estimate of cost and plan of the work be submitted.

RESIGNS AS HEAD OF COLLEGE BOARD

Rev. Robt. Johnston is Succeeded by H. A. Fleming.

New Glasgow, N. S., Oct. 8.—Rev. Robert Johnston, for some years convenor of the college board, resigned the office today when presenting his report to the Maritime Synod. His report for the year indicated that the Hill Presbyterian College had made good progress and that the attendance was up to the mark.

Mr. Johnston said that his chief reason for resigning was the fact that the changes in the constitution between himself and the college board and he felt that in the interests of the board he should retire. Other reasons also made this decision necessary he explained. H. A. Fleming of Halifax was appointed in his place.

The report of the Halifax Ladies' College was presented by Rev. Dr. J. W. Falconer. Miss Blackwood, principal, outlined the work done. Director Rev. Dr. E. S. was an unassuming and quiet man and had many friends here. Although the accident happened early yesterday afternoon, the local detectives were not informed of the case until last night. They endeavored to interview the unfortunate man and his son, but their condition was such that the doctors in the hospital did not think that advisable. This morning they again sought to interview the man but his condition would not warrant it.

SON SAYS MAN ON LUMBER TEAM LENT ASSISTANCE. A little after 2 o'clock this afternoon Sergeant Detective Power and Detective Biddiscombe had an interview with the son. He informed them they were proceeding along Robbsey avenue near Fernhill, with an automobile a short distance in front of them. As they approached a team laden with lumber they started to go by and the automobile also made a turn out to pass the team and in doing so the rear of the car struck them and hurled them into the ditch. He did not see who the occupants of the automobile were and would not say that they had realized an accident had resulted. Two men on the lumber team came back and picked them up and helped place them in Mrs. De Angelis' car.

Two Fredericton Lads Face Term in Boys' Industrial Home.

SAYS AGREEMENT IS NOW IMPOSSIBLE. London, Oct. 8.—A letter written by Premier MacDonald declaring that the attitude adopted by the British Government depends upon the result of a Conservative motion of censure and a Liberal amendment to the motion was further increased by the announcement this morning that the King was cutting short his holiday in the country and at his flight to arrive in London tomorrow to be available should a crisis arise which would necessitate the ministers calling him.

LABOR COMMITTEE MEETS. During the meeting of the Parliamentary Labor committee held a session to decide upon its final course of action in the House and at this meeting Prime Minister MacDonald intimated that the Government intended to resist the Liberal amendment to the Conservative motion which deals with the Government's withdrawal of funds from the Egyptian Government. The Premier's attitude was unanimously approved.

When the Speaker of the House took the chair at 2 o'clock an air of suppressed excitement and great expectancy pervaded the chamber.

was an unassuming and quiet man and had many friends here. Although the accident happened early yesterday afternoon, the local detectives were not informed of the case until last night. They endeavored to interview the unfortunate man and his son, but their condition was such that the doctors in the hospital did not think that advisable. This morning they again sought to interview the man but his condition would not warrant it.

SON SAYS MAN ON LUMBER TEAM LENT ASSISTANCE. A little after 2 o'clock this afternoon Sergeant Detective Power and Detective Biddiscombe had an interview with the son. ### SAYS TOO MANY FAIL TO GRADUATE

Some of the principal causes of waste in university classes are dealt with in a very comprehensive manner by Sir Arthur Currie, principal of McGill University, in his annual report for the year 1923-24, which has just been issued. Sir Arthur draws attention to the fact that of the students entering McGill in 1920, less than 50 per cent. graduated in 1924, and attributes wastage of the kind to three main causes, namely, salaries paid to school teachers being insufficiently high to attract students who have reached the highest academic grades; lack of definite aim on the part of students, and to some extent, the present system of instruction, based upon the lecture and examination.

The principal in reviewing the needs of the university, speaks of the desirability of having established a school for government and administrative work, which would help in some measure to meet the need of the country for trained men, experts in their line, for government service. He also indicates the possibility of courses in non-communication and telephone engineering being instituted at the university following the decision to add a new wing to the engineering building.

Among the outstanding building requirements at the present time Sir Arthur mentions a remodelled arts building, a building for geology and mining, and a gymnasium.

He concludes his report by stating that if McGill is to succeed in serving her country to the best of her power, teacher and undergraduates must keep in view and strive toward the high ideals of national duty.

Rev. J. MacINTOSH MODERATOR. Rev. John Macintosh, of Sydney, N. S., was elected moderator of the Maritime Presbyterian synod in New Glasgow last evening. The conference was attended by a large number of delegates. Rev. J. M. McLeod, moderator, opened the session and preached the synod sermon.

MAN FOUND KILLED IN EMPTY BUILDING

McCaffery Discovered With Skull Fractured—An Inquiry Begun.

New York, Oct. 8.—Peter J. McCaffery, a clerk employed by Thomas Roulston Stores, Inc. in Florida, was found dead, probably murdered, on the second floor of a warehouse under construction for the Ludwig Baumann Furniture Company at Anabel avenue and Pierson street, Astoria. He was last seen Saturday night at the Bridge Plaza station, and when he said good night to Patrick Mallahy, manager of the Roulston store, from whom he had just received his weekly wage of $25.

Bernard Gallagher, watchman at the Baumann building, saw McCaffery's body Sunday morning, the head just visible over the edge of the second floor which masons building the wall had not yet reached. Gallagher thought it some one sleeping and did not investigate. But on returning from church after noon, Gallagher climbed the shaky ladder from the first floor, and found McCaffery dead, a deep wound in his head, his skull fractured. Captain John Gallagher of the Hastings Point police station found letters in the pockets containing the name of Simon McCaffery, Manhattan, who identified the victim as his brother-in-law. McCaffery said McCaffery lived at his home, and was a quiet man who rarely spent his evenings out.

Patrick Mallahy, the manager of the Roulston store at Pierson and Eleventh avenues, Astoria, where McCaffery was employed, said last night that McCaffery had worked until closing time Saturday night. Mallahy gave McCaffery his wages and the two left together, riding from the Hoyt avenue station to Bridge Plaza, where they separated. Previously Mallahy said he had told McCaffery to report to the Roulston general offices Monday morning to arrange about a bond he had failed to sign.

The Ludwig Baumann building is three-quarters of a mile from Bridge Plaza, where Mallahy last saw his clerk alive. The building fronts for a block along the long industrial tracks and occupies a deserted and unlighted site.

The watchman said he had heard no one enter the building in the night. Police were at a loss to explain how McCaffery came to his death. Some of the detectives thought he might have jumped from an upper level when they learned McCaffery paid $70 last week to a specialist who had been treating him for stomach trouble, but this was not generally credited.

New York, Oct. 8.—William B. Jacoby, 24 years old, was killed, and Virginia Whiteneck of Amityville, L. I., who represented the United States in the Olympic swimming contests this year, was seriously injured in an automobile accident in West Islip, L. I.

The couple were on their way to Amityville after a long automobile ride. As the car sped along the Montauk Highway, it ran into a fog bank and skidded on the wet concrete pavement at Oak Neck Road, West Islip. The machine turned over, pinning Jacoby and Miss Whiteneck underneath. Jacoby freed himself from under the wreckage, despite a broken leg and internal hemorrhages, and called to a passing driver. By this time the gasoline tank exploded and the car caught fire. When Miss Whiteneck was pulled out, she was already severely burned on her back and arms.

The pair were taken to the South Side Hospital. Jacoby died at 10 a. m. Coroner Edwin S. Moore of Bay Shore questioned Miss Whiteneck and was satisfied that the smashup was unavoidable.

Miss Whiteneck was one of seven swimming stars who were indefinitely suspended by the Middle Atlantic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union.

GLORIA GOULD
tells why the care of the skin is vital

"THE WOMEN of the younger set today, strenuous from noon to night and often on to dawn, have simply got to look fresh and lovely, none-the-less.

They never permit the strain of many engagements or the attacks of wind and sun to mar the smooth texture of their complexions. Fatigue and exposure can leave no trace on the skin that is cared for by Pond's Two Creams. They are really remarkable."

Edna Gould

ALTHOUGH Gloria Gould has recently become Mrs. Gloria Gould Bishop, she will still always be, to scores of her friends, to thousands who know her only by her famous name—just Gloria Gould.

The youngest—and many think the loveliest—daughter of one of America's oldest families of great wealth, she commands a unique position in New York's exclusive younger set.

It was in the cream-and-blue drawing room of her sun-flooded apartment in New York's smart East Side, that she consented to give me her views on the care of the skin.

As she sat chatting before me, charming in the quaintness of a panned robe de style, the simple friendliness of her manner delighted me. But what impressed me more was her vivacious, her spontaneous enthusiasm. No wonder, I thought, that when Gloria Gould entertains everybody is caught up in the happy mood created by her joyfulness and humor. And when she takes a lesson in singing, in fencing or in Russian dancing—which she adores—she does it with her whole heart.

"She's the most alive creature," I said to myself. "Even her ivory white skin seems to breathe life." And that plunged me into the interview.

Every woman should guard her beauty

"Mrs. Bishop," I began, "what in your opinion is the most important factor in a woman's looks?"

"There are three things," prompted Gloria Gould, "which I think essential to the woman who wants to keep an important place in the social world. Fine eyes, white teeth and a lovely skin. The latter, by far the most important of the three, luckily, any woman may possess, if only she'll take the right care."

"With the society woman," she continued, "the care of the skin is vital—a duty. But every woman, no matter what her interests, owes it to herself, to her family and friends, to make her appearance express the happiness that's within her. How can it, if her skin is not clear, not glowing with healthful bloom?"

Then we spoke of the Two Famous Creams Pond's Laboratories have perfected, whose daily use is such a simple way to guard a lovely skin. Together they provide the balanced care every normal skin should have, a Rejuvenating Cleansing and a Delicate Finish and Protection.

Days and nights crowded with good times bring little lines and dark shadows into very young faces unless care is taken to prevent them. And this is why these younger women —the women of Gloria Gould's set, of the gay younger set everywhere—are turning to Pond's Method of skin care.

How the younger set does it

The first step in the Pond's Method followed by the lovely younger women of society is a thorough daily cleansing of the skin with Pond's Cold Cream. This should come after exposure, at the end of a long day or just before retiring.

Smooth the cream over the face and neck—let its pure oil delve down into the pores and bring up the dust and grime, the powder and rouge that clog them. Wipe it off now, with a soft cloth and instead of being shocked, just rejoice at the black look it gives you! Repeat the process, finishing with a dash of cold water or a brisk rub with a bit of ice.

Your peony-pink skin will make you think your face has never been really clean before! How relaxed it feels, how fresh and invigorated! Supple and flexible now, it has tone and firmness, too, just glows all over with new health!

The second step in the Pond's Method is to smooth over your newly cleansed face a light film of Pond's Vanishing Cream. This you must always do before powdering, never forgetting to dot it before grinding out into the wind, sun, dust or cold.

The purpose of this delicate cream is four-fold—it protects the skin from the weather, gives it a soft, smooth finish and holds rouge and powder evenly and long. And used between the cleanings with Pond's Cold Cream, it freshens and rests the skin, too.

Like Gloria Gould and the other smart young women of the exclusive social set everywhere, you can have an exquisite complexion. Begin today with Pond's Two Creams. At once you'll notice a new freshness, a new smoothness, a lovely lustre. And with Gloria Gould you'll agree that Pond's Two Creams "are really remarkable!" The Pond's Extract Company.

On Gloria Gould's French dressing-table, proof of the perfect care she gives her skin, stand Pond's Two Creams, used by Society women everywhere to keep their complexions exquisite despite the strain of social life.

ST. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 8, 1924

NORTHUMBERLAND

Compared with Hon. John Morrissey's majority of 1,421 in Northumberland in the general election of 1921, Mr. Snowball's margin of more than 600 might be thought at first glance to be neither so deep as a well nor so wide as a church door, but 600, in all the circumstances, is both deep and wide.

Reference to the pre-war record of Northumberland elections shows that with one exception, Mr. Loggie's margin of 981 in 1908, Mr. Snowball has a larger majority than any recorded since 1897. In 1911 Mr. Loggie had a lead of 992, and in 1904 it was 285.

In Northumberland, N. B., where a Federal by-election is being held on October 7, the issues will be the tariff, the question of Maritime freight rates and the use of Maritime ports.

The Liberals will rather joyfully assent to that estimate of the case; the Conservatives will contend that an analysis so definite was not justified by the facts; the Colonists must abide by their own measure.

Here's hoping the satisfaction expressed by his worship the Mayor after yesterday's conference on port matters will be justified by events.

Reports of yesterday's conference, which are necessarily couched in general terms since the meeting was private, indicate that too many matters are left in the air; that there is still on the part of both the C. N. R. and the government the need for a well-defined plan for the requisite expansion of import and export traffic through this port.

We are definitely promised more grain, and some increase in other freight so far as the shipments by the publicly owned railways are concerned.

We come now to the general question of enlarged facilities for the C. N. R. Years ago, when the Valley railway was given a western instead of an eastern entrance to St. John, it became evident—and has been evident ever since—that if the government railways were to follow sound transportation

SLEEPING AT WILL

(Brandon Sun.) Most thinkers and readers and apparently those who should know better, suffer from sleeplessness. Whether we believe it or not—insomniacs disbelieve it—we can sleep at will.

It is a well known fact that the medical science is not able to induce sleep and strong willed people suffer for want of him. Nevertheless, the medical experts say anyone can train his nerves to instant sleep.

But yesterday's conference, so far as the public knows, leaves us without binding assurance of early action in these matters. Plans for the first three piers in Courtenay Bay were drawn long ago, but the matter of construction is vague indeed.

We must press stoutly and constantly for the construction of the further C. N. R. facilities and connections which are essential if the port is to be equipped in accordance with its value to the Dominion.

Recently a French aeroplane carrying mail from London to Paris made the journey in forty-seven minutes, or at the rate of 126 miles an hour.

"All the wild ideas of unbalanced agitators the world over in their ignorant and pitiable quest for happiness through revolution, confiscation of property, and crime, cannot overthrow the eternal truth that the one route to happiness through property or government is over the broad and open highway of service.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto Globe gives this encouraging bit of information: "As an indication that the tide of settlers has definitely set in the direction of Canada, it was made known today by the Department of Immigration and Colonization that of immigration of land near Lettishidge, Alberta, has been sold to 10 families of 75 persons from South Dakota.

The hunting season in the West leads a newspaper there to republish these famous lines, which are most timely: Lies slumbering here one Thomas Spence: He dragged his shotgun through the fence.

Some Still Testify To Them. The fact that Mars has two moons doesn't excite us. We know the earth tugs from two to six, for in the good old days when our vision was more penetrating than now, we've seen them—Houston Post-Dispatch.

of making the greatest success of the three generations, expanding the business and finding time for much public service for his home city of Quebec and for the Dominion in the Great War. At the outbreak of the war General Sir Sam Hughes called in the big lumberman for a man's job. Mr. Price, as he was then, sent out an emergency call for woodmen, and within an hour he was at work in the wilderness of Valcartier, cutting, clearing and building, and a week or two later Canada's first contingent of 80,000 men for overseas were in training under ideal sanitary conditions.

VICTORIA GREETINGS

Andover, Oct. 7.—Alexander Stratton, senior barrister in Victoria county, read an address of welcome and congratulatory to Mr. Justice A. T. LeBlanc, and to the members of the Victoria Circuit Court resumed here this morning, with Justice LeBlanc presiding. This was his first visit to Victoria county since his elevation to the bench.

BISHOP WOULD HANG

Stirling, Ill., Oct. 8.—Bishop Edwin H. Hughes said at the Rock River Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, "I am not declaring my position on the general subject of capital punishment, but if any person deserves to be hanged it is a minister who would use his position as a cloak to violate the while. Transmitters of machinery and many others train themselves to snatch a bit of sleep and to wake quickly and with a clear head if anything goes wrong.

Napoleon worked considerably at night. After two hours of sleep and rested his brain cells he had a way of getting up and working a while after his noon meal and to awaken spontaneously refreshed for action, exactly twenty minutes later. Any layman who is affirmed can train his nerves to hook up quickly and his brain to rapidly start to function according to a set time. After two hours of sleep, Napoleon found this easier than it was before the brain cells had rested a while. Transmitters of machinery and many others train themselves to snatch a bit of sleep and to wake quickly and with a clear head if anything goes wrong.

When young Price had fulfilled his mission he started out on his own account in the lumbering business, in 1817, and from that has developed the great business of today, with thousands of square miles of limits and pulp areas, and thousands of employees. By 1850 he had more than 25 sawmills in the Quebec district, on both sides of the river. The old man had 14 children, and before his death three of his sons, William, David and John, were his partners. Another son, Henry, was something of a rover, and spent some years in South America; hence the birth in Chile of his son the future Sir William Price. Education in England and at Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Quebec, preceded his entrance into the business, which he covered from all sides, and eventually, at the age of 32, succeeded to control of the great enterprise.

The young man had the distinction of being the first to introduce the steam sawmill into the Province of Quebec. He had a son, William Price, who was killed on Thursday, had their origin in a queer side-wind of the war with Napoleon. The Little Corporal was the "man on horseback" riding over Europe, tyrannizing over all nations that opposed him. He had issued his famous Berlin decree, establishing a blockade against his enemies, and the United States, then heading for a "war with Britain, too, established an embargo prohibiting American vessels from leaving their ports and communicating with France and England. Britain then turned to Canada for badly needed materials, and sent a representative to this country to purchase wood for masts which the admiralty required. This representative was William Price, a young man of 21, from Estree, Hertfordshire, England.

This, it is announced, is only the advance guard of a considerable northward movement from that region."

ALL IN A SILVER EVENING

(Ruth Aughtless in Christian Science Monitor.) All in a silver evening I climbed the tallest hill. 'Till the trees I had left below me, stood watching, straight and still, And the roofs of the tiny houses and the strip of jeweled sea Melted and mingled together in a colorful galaxy.

And still there was further beyond me, above my shining world, A sky with clouds like feathers, floating and silver-cured.

And who that could have these wonders, of silver and gleaming blue, Would stay in a streaming city where the smoke chokes out the view, Would live in a dull, drab city a thousand miles away, Where the sky by day is brazen and the evening is only gray—

When, in a silver twilight, he could climb to the rim of the world, 'Till he touched a sky with clouds in it, moaning and silver-cured.

Peck (aggravated)—"Can you remember what it was you said?"

Advertising does not always bring success. Jones advertised for a wife and secured one, and now he cannot say anything too mean about advertising.

"My dear young lady," said a gushing artist, "you are positively lovely! Wouldn't you like me to do you up in oils?"

"Sir," exclaimed her father's pride, indignantly, "do you take me for a sardine?"

"Bunkin!" "I can't go on. I haven't any make-up."

Manager—"What are you playing to-night?"

"The fool in —"

"Go on, then. Never mind the make-up."

"The use of electricity," said Milkins, "does not seem to be such a modern idea, after all."

"How is that?" asked Wilkins.

"Well, you see, Noah must have used the ark light."

It is expected that he will remain in the institution for a week or ten days. Dr. Hugh H. Young of the hospital staff gave out the following statement:

Before coming here Mr. McAdoo advised John W. Davis of his plans, and arranged with the presidential candidate to make several speeches as soon as possible after his release from the hospital.

CO-OPERATE FOR CHILDREN'S GOOD

Interesting Features Mark Parent-Teacher Reception in Centenary.

A parent-teacher reception was held in Centenary church hall last evening under the auspices of the Sunday school. W. Grant Smith, superintendent, presided. Lantern slides were shown and were explained by Mrs. C. L. Kinney and Miss Julia Hennigar. Miss Jessie L. Lawson was the speaker of the evening. Mrs. George H. Moore sang and Miss Dorothy Nice accompanied her. Mrs. McKinney explained that Miss Maud Stillwell, secretary of the Children's Work Board of the Maritime Religious Education Council, had never received any remuneration for her work, which had cost her considerable financial outlay. A collection was asked from the meeting and was generously contributed to reimburse Miss Stillwell. Refreshments were served.

Miss Lawson, in her address, urged co-operation among four institutions which are forces in the history of opportunities upon the children of St. John. These forces, she said, were the home, the school, the church, including Sunday school, and the community. She opened her address with the question, "What do we owe to our children?" with emphasis on "we" and "our children," meaning the children of the city, not any one small group. Her quotations were apt, the concluding story of the golden sheaves holding the attention of everyone. As an assistant supervisor for the Junior Red Cross, Miss Lawson stressed the fundamental necessity of good health for the children. In this community, she said, a large responsibility. If every mother and father would see to it that their children were never allowed to attend parties except on Friday or Saturday evenings, there would be no problem for the parents who have regarded this as a rule to be observed for the preservation of their children's health. The community did much to insure good influences by disregarding these rules, she said.

Music from Across the Continent without the Aid of Aerials or Wires

NO longer is it necessary to have unightly batteries, ground connections or aerials, in order to enjoy radio reception. The Radiola Super Heterodyne, illustrated above, contains a loop antenna, concealed in the back of the cabinet, which will receive far distant stations without further connections of any description. Provision is made, however, for a larger external loop should one be desired.

The Radiola Super Heterodyne is non-radiating, and will not interfere with any other receiving set, however close it may be. It can be used in close proximity to powerful broadcasting stations, and yet will easily tune them out in favor of more distant stations.

In tuning the Super Heterodyne, the various stations are picked up at exactly the same spot each time. It is as simple to operate as a gramophone.

The six Radiolons are operated by dry cells, and the set may be carried with perfect ease. The cabinet is beautifully finished mahogany, equipped with a leather handle for carrying from place to place.

I. O. D. E. CHAPTERS HOLD MEETINGS

Six of the primary chapters of the I. O. D. E. held their regular monthly meetings last night and planned for the winter's activities. Royal Standard Chapter made a presentation of an address and a club bag to Mrs. H. A. McKeown, a valued charter member whose active interest in the chapter's activities will be a great loss to the organization when Mrs. McKeown takes up her residence in Ottawa. The aims and objects of the order were read at all of the meetings.

Royal Standard Chapter.
The Royal Standard Chapter met at the residence of Mrs. R. H. Henderson, Duke street, with Mrs. Fenwick Fraser, vice-regent, presiding in the absence of Mrs. T. E. G. Armstrong, regent. It was decided to pay the chapter's share in providing additional headstones for the soldiers' plot at Fernhill cemetery; the sum of $40 was voted to the free milk fund of the Women's Council to "adopt" one baby and money was voted to help the wife of a returned soldier who is ill. Members handed in talent money made during the summer and plans were made for holding a tea and sale in November and a rummage sale this month. It was announced that Mrs. F. M. Ross would give a recital for the chapter's funds in November. Mrs. Fraser made the presentation of the returned soldier's tag to Mrs. McKeown and read the address which referred in glowing terms to Mrs. McKeown's splendid work for the chapter and told of the regret the members felt in her departure from the city. Mrs. McKeown will retain her membership in the chapter.

Mrs. F. J. Hardie also spoke appreciatively of Mrs. McKeown's work for the chapter. Mrs. McKeown thanked the members for the gift and the kind words. "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" was heartily sung in her honor. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Seven Seas Chapter.
The meeting of Seven Seas Chapter was held at the home of Miss Dora Corbett, Duke street, with Miss Alice Lockhart, regent, presiding. Miss Barbara Dobson was appointed standard-bearer and Miss Mary Murdoch, councillor, filling two vacancies on the executive. Several members undertook to assist with the tagging for the "Returned Soldiers' Aid." Arrangements were made for a tea and dollar sale to be held in November.

Miss Dora Coates gave an interesting report of the national annual meeting held in Toronto in June and arrangements were made for holding a special meeting of the chapter to read over the minutes of the national annual meeting.

Windsor Chapter.
Windsor Chapter met at the home of Miss Irene Macaulay, Charlotte street, with Miss Edna Shaw, regent, presiding. The chapter voted to give $25 to the W. V. A. for Poppy Day and $25 to the St. John cadets fund. Plans for the social hour which followed the business session the hostesses were Miss Florence Ord, Miss Constance Weaver and Miss Irene Macaulay.

Fundy Chapter.
The meeting of Fundy Chapter was held at the home of Miss Margaret Bolton with Miss Frances Alward, regent, presiding. The chapter voted to give $100 to the war memorial of the order and appointed committees for a tea in November. Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed, the hostesses being Miss Margaret Wilson, Miss Sarah Collins and Miss Lois Colston.

Lady Roberts Chapter.
The meeting of Lady Roberts Chapter was held at the home of Miss Mary Ellis, 80 Orange street, with Miss Olivia Gregory, regent, in the chair. The chapter heartily endorsed the Buy-at-Home and Made-in-the-Maritimes campaign, made plans for a bridge this month and appointed a committee to confer with regard to the cadets' tag day.

Alexandra Chapter.
The meeting of Alexandra Chapter was held in Temple Hall, Main street, with Mrs. R. A. Corbett, regent, presiding. The meeting appointed Mrs. Holly Lingley and Mrs. A. C. Powers to the positions of councillors made vacant by the departure of two members from the city. Mrs. Leonard Lingley and Mrs. Walter Gregg were appointed to represent the chapter on the committee arranging for the cadets' tag day. Plans were made for holding a party sale soon and Mrs. James Brown was named convener. The regent gave an interesting report of the annual meeting of the National Chapter at which she had represented Alexandra Chapter. The meeting endorsed the purchase of English magazines and periodicals.

ROTHESAY BRANCH OF RED CROSS ELECTS

The Rotesay branch of the Red Cross Society held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Annie Puddington with Mrs. A. W. MacEachin, retiring president, in the chair. The reports were highly gratifying and showed that the branch had carried through very many activities and made many gifts, including the regular donation of flowers for the East St. John Hospital donation of cigarettes for the soldier patients in hospital, contributions towards the Japanese appeal and the giving of many forms of assistance in fitting up the Lady Bving summer camp for undernourished children at Fair Vale and contributing towards the supplies of the camp. The officers elected at the meeting were as follows: President, Miss Frances Alderson; vice-presidents, Mrs. J. H. Henderson and Mrs. Harold Brock; secretary, Mrs. Scott, and treasurer, Mrs. J. Royden Thomson. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the retiring officer, Mrs. MacEachin and Miss A. L. Hearn, to whom the branch owed a debt of gratitude for faithful and efficient work. Miss Ethel Hasen Jarvis, provincial secretary, spoke of the work of the Red Cross and outlined the peacetime policy. Miss R. E. Hamilton, R. N., told of the home nursing classes being formed under the auspices of the chapter. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

That's why it's so good also for scouring the inside as well as the outside of kettles or saucepans. Scars, even tiny ones, catch and hold the food, causing it to scorch—making the utensil harder to clean next time. But with Bon Ami you never need worry about scratching.
There's nothing like Bon Ami for cleaning and polishing dozens of other things throughout the house! And it won't redden or roughen your hands!

WOMAN SCULPTOR LOCKED IN STUDIO

Held Prisoner by Business Associates, Will Seek Court Writ.

New York, Oct. 2.—Mrs. Helene M. R. White, who has been locked inside the studios of the Consignment Arts, Inc., on the first floor of the Gainsborough Studio Building since Saturday night, will seek liberation through the courts. She said that she would obtain a summons for Paul C. Leatherman, an interior decorator of Maplewood, N. J., and his wife, Mrs. Natalie D. Leatherman. In addition to the summons, Mrs. White says that her attorney, Ward D. Williams, will ask for a Supreme Court writ restraining the Leathermans from keeping padlocks on the two doors which bar all who seek to pass.

Mrs. White says that after she was locked in she telephoned for a locksmith to open the doors, but that he hurriedly went and that he left her to put her telephone out of service. It was unsuccessful and, at 10:30 o'clock Saturday evening, she called one of the other tenants in the building who brought down a vegetable grater. The night watchman had a key to the padlock on the rear door and obligingly opened it so that the tray could be passed in.

The only means of egress was through a ground floor window, and a considerable amount of acrobatic agility was necessary to negotiate it. There is a restaurant in the Gainsborough Studio, but it is closed on Sundays and Mrs. White's menu for the entire day consisted of a box of crackers, two apples and a tomato, together with a beverage which she made by adding hot water to the contents of a can of prepared coffee.

OLIVE BRANCH WINS OVER SCHOOL HOSE

Elmsford Board Members Decide to Support Com- promise Plan.

Elmsford, N. Y., Oct. 2.—The olive branch and rubber hose will rule side by side in the Elmsford public school as a symbol of peace and authority. While final settlement of the dispute which arose over the use of the hose by Principal Warren G. Holden in punishing unruly children has not been made before the regular meeting of the Board of Education tonight, individual members of the board assured Chairman Nicholas F. Sheridan that they are in accord with his plan of compromise.

Mr. Sheridan's plan is to continue application of the hose in cases where parents do not object to corporal punishment being meted out to their children, and in cases where parents do object, to refer cases to the Children's Court for settlement.

"I have not talked to all of the members of the board," Mr. Sheridan said, "but I have talked to Robert Loring, one of the trustees who opposed the application of the hose, and he has talked with Thomas F. English and Otto Stippel, the two other trustees who voted for the abolition of corporal punishment. Through Mr. Loring all of the other members of the board have sent me assurances that they are willing to compromise in accordance with my suggestion."

None but members of the Board of Education will be admitted to the meeting next Wednesday, Mr. Sheridan said yesterday. The reason for this, he explained, was "that there are too many gallery players on the board," and nothing can be accomplished at an open meeting.

When Mr. Sheridan's plan is put into effect parents of children attending the Elmsford school will be requested to send written instructions to the principal defining their stand in the matter. Those who do not object to corporal punishment will be required to authorize the principal to take such corrective measures as he may deem necessary in cases where children are lax in attendance, punctuality or obedience. Those who do not object will have their children sent home for punishment. Repeated infractions on school rules by the latter class of children will result in both parents and offspring being held before the Children's Court.

More Goods Than Before the War Taken From America and Japan.

In discussing the reported "boycotting of foreigners" by India, London estimates figure out that, in the five years ending with 1923, the average distribution of India's import trade was mainly as follows, including imports from Great Britain: From Japan, 8.4 per cent.; from the United States, 9.1; from Java, 7. It is pointed out that in the year 1918-19 Japan's percentage was 19.2, from which it has declined to 6.2 in the last year, while the percentage of the United States also showed a decline from 25.4 to 9.1.

Imports from both of these countries, however, are stated to be still far in advance of pre-war figures. Statistics further show that, while India's import trade from Japan and the United States has decreased as compared with other recent years, the percentage of imports into India from France and Italy has steadily increased during the last few years.

Two Masked Men Force 16 to Knelt For Search at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Two masked robbers invaded a social club at Niagara Falls and robbed sixteen men whom they found in a dice game of $7,000 in cash and jewelry.

The victims were lined in a row and forced to kneel with their heads against a wall. The robber who did the searching was most thorough. After the pockets of all had been emptied, he decided he had examined their clothes and hats.

One man reports being robbed three times. The first search disclosed his pockets. The second disclosed bills pinned inside his shirt and on the third search the enterprising robber found bills pinned inside a trouser leg. He cut the trouser leg off with a knife.

The robbery victims were warned not to stir for five minutes. No one did move until the sound of the robbers moving off in an automobile was heard. Then a telephone call was sent to the police.

PEASANTS HEAVY LAND OWNERS Bremen, Sept. 28.—(Associated Press, by Mail).—A German investigator of Russia, Dr. Adolph Grabowsky, declares that Russia owned 83 per cent. of the land, while the royal family and the state owned an equal amount. The peasants owned 17 per cent. of the land within the boundaries of the country.

INDIA'S IMPORT TRADE.

More Goods Than Before the War Taken From America and Japan.

In discussing the reported "boycotting of foreigners" by India, London estimates figure out that, in the five years ending with 1923, the average distribution of India's import trade was mainly as follows, including imports from Great Britain: From Japan, 8.4 per cent.; from the United States, 9.1; from Java, 7. It is pointed out that in the year 1918-19 Japan's percentage was 19.2, from which it has declined to 6.2 in the last year, while the percentage of the United States also showed a decline from 25.4 to 9.1.

Imports from both of these countries, however, are stated to be still far in advance of pre-war figures. Statistics further show that, while India's import trade from Japan and the United States has decreased as compared with other recent years, the percentage of imports into India from France and Italy has steadily increased during the last few years.

Two Masked Men Force 16 to Knelt For Search at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Two masked robbers invaded a social club at Niagara Falls and robbed sixteen men whom they found in a dice game of $7,000 in cash and jewelry.

The victims were lined in a row and forced to kneel with their heads against a wall. The robber who did the searching was most thorough. After the pockets of all had been emptied, he decided he had examined their clothes and hats.

One man reports being robbed three times. The first search disclosed his pockets. The second disclosed bills pinned inside his shirt and on the third search the enterprising robber found bills pinned inside a trouser leg. He cut the trouser leg off with a knife.

The robbery victims were warned not to stir for five minutes. No one did move until the sound of the robbers moving off in an automobile was heard. Then a telephone call was sent to the police.

FIREMAN KILLED BY FURNACE FUMES

Superintendent and Police- man Also are Overcome by Coal Gas.

New York, Oct. 2.—One man was killed and two others overcome by coal gas in the basement of an office building at 9 East Forty-first street on Sunday.

The dead man, Harry Eckler, was the fireman of the building. He spent several hours on Saturday overhauling the furnace of the building. On Sunday he decided to test the steam.

With John Thompson, the superintendent of the building, Eckler went to the furnace room, kindled the fire, and hurried several shovelfuls of pea coal into each furnace. Then while the superintendent went upstairs to see how the building was warming, Eckler seated himself on a concrete step near the furnace.

Whether the fireman later opened one of the doors and was overcome by a sudden rush of gas from the furnace could not be learned. But ten minutes later, when Thompson returned to the basement, he found Eckler senseless upon the floor and the air filled with coal gas.

Running back to the elevator shaft, the superintendent called Vincent Pandolph, the operator. Together they carried Eckler out into the air.

Before the arrival of Dr. Thompson from New York Hospital, Patrolman Jeremiah Maher endeavored to render first aid. Two more calls were sent for medical aid before the ambulance finally arrived, and meanwhile the policeman and Pandolph worked in relays in their efforts to revive the fireman.

A pulmonologist who had been called from the gas company's office arrived almost simultaneously with the ambulance, and Richard Devorack, in charge of the pulmonologist, spent fifteen minutes in trying to restore life. At the end of that time the task was abandoned as hopeless.

Maher then requested that he be allowed to inspect the furnace room. Thompson and Devorack went with the policeman into the furnace room and passed before the furnace door.

"The ventilation is very poor here, isn't it?" Maher asked of Thompson. "The door is closed, and the fireman turned around just in time to see the superintendent stagger forward and fall back to the elevator shaft and called Pandolph. Together they carried the fireman out into the air. A brief application of the pulmonologist revived both.

Numerous efforts made by the police to locate the dead man's family were unsuccessful. It was known at the building that Eckler had a wife and one son, but no one knew where he lived.

A meeting of the committee which has charge of the construction of the Maritime Home for Young Women, which is being erected at Coverdale, was held in Moncton on Monday.

The president, Rev. H. A. Goodwin of St. John's, Rev. M. D. Doherty of Amherst, Rev. G. W. F. Glendinning, Rev. J. A. Ramsay, Rev. Canon W. B. Sloan, Rev. E. H. Cooney, L. W. McLean and J. A. McBeath, the treasurer, were present.

The question of the successor to Rev. A. F. Fisher of Amherst, who was active in the work, was discussed, but no decision was arrived at. The building is well under way. It is expected that the roof will be put on within a few weeks.

REV. A. B. O'NEILL IS FREED OF CANCER

Friends in St. John and elsewhere of Rev. Arthur Barry O'Neill, C. S. C., will learn with pleasure of a recent announcement that he has fully recovered after a protracted struggle against cancer. The disease was discovered last February and Father O'Neill spent six weeks in a sanitarium at Chicago, taking radium treatment. For the last six months he has been a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, South Bend, which he left a few days ago. All traces of the dread disease have van- ished. Father O'Neill attributes his re- markable recovery as much to the prayers of himself and friends as to hospital treatment. Father O'Neill was formerly a professor at St. Joseph's University. He is a former citizen of St. George and a well known writer.

better performance than wood and steel machines of the same type. T. P. Wright, assistant chief engineer of the Curtis Company, said the F-4-C had advanced the "service ceiling" for its type from 14,000 feet to 18,400 feet. It had actually reached an "absolute ceiling" of 21,000 feet. The climb per minute, he said, was 1,900 feet at sea level, and the plane required from twenty minutes to half an hour to reach the "service ceiling."

The navy, Mr. Wright said, was now specializing on planes with low landing speeds, the better to meet the needs of landing on the decks of ships at sea. Both qualities, slow landing and good climbing, went together, and the new metal plane "landed" at fifty miles an hour, about as low as the navy wished to go.

STAMP COLLECTORS FLOCK TO SEND LETTERS ON ZR-1
Friedrichshafen, Sept. 14.—(Associated Press, by Mail).—In her flight across the Atlantic the ZR-1 will carry 200 pounds of mail which has accumulated in the Friedrichshafen post office since last July, when the German postal authorities made the first announcement that post cards and letters might be sent to North and South America and Canada by the dirigible route. The mail will be made up chiefly of cards and letters sent at the request of the collectors of postage stamps. In many instances Americans in Germany have sent letters addressed to themselves.

One letter has been addressed and stamped with the purpose of reaching San Francisco in record time. It will travel on the ZR-1 to Lakehurst, New Jersey, and there be transferred to the United States postal authorities for the trans-continental air service. This letter, sent by Alphonse Boutin, chief yeoman in the U. S. Navy, to a friend, Otto von Geldern, a construction engineer in San Francisco, carried German stamps at one end and American postage at the other, with a request to the post office department to expedite it. It is estimated that this letter may reach its destination, roughly 7,000 miles, in six or seven days.

ALL METAL PLANE TESTED BY NAVY

F-4-C, Constructed Entirely of Duralumin, Superior to Wooden Craft.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The navy's first all-metal airplane has been completed and is now at the Anacostia (D. C.) air station, undergoing service trials. Designated as the F-4-C, the plane is constructed almost entirely of duralumin, an alloy of aluminum, copper and manganese, the metal used in the construction of the Shenandoah.

The F-4-C is convertible into a sea-plane. Special fasteners for the canvas covering over the metal framework, permitting access to the inner structure at any point, are a new feature in construction.

The principal advantage of using duralumin instead of wood and wire is saving in weight which gives greater speed, a faster climb and a lower landing speed. The F-4-C is powered with a Wright J-1 engine of 200 horse power and has a designed speed of approximately 130 miles an hour.

New York, Oct. 2.—Officials of the Curtis Aeroplane and Motor Company, builders of the F-4-C, said at the Garden City plant that the new plane, because of its greater lightness, had given almost 80 per cent.

SENT TO HIGHER COURT FOR TRIAL

Lee Livingstone Arrested on Charge of Theft of Coal Bags.

Lee Livingstone was arrested last night on a warrant charging him with theft of 11 coal bags valued at $24.75, the property of the Consumers' Coal Company Ltd., and was committed for trial by Magistrate Henderson in the police court this morning. When the charge was read to the prisoner he said he could not remember anything about it. Sergeant Detective Power then summoned Frank Hasen to testify. The witness said he was a teamster and had been hauling coal for the Consumers' Coal Company. He said that on August 8 he drove home as usual and left some bags on his team. The following morning he missed 11 of them and notified the police. He identified bags produced in court as those stolen, and was paid him $60, each for them. In consequence of information received he reported to the police that he had the bags and turned them over to Sergeant Detective Power and Detective Biddiscombe. Detective Biddiscombe told of receiving information about the theft of the bags and of receiving them from Mr. Myles. A warrant had been sworn out for the defendant, but he could not be located until last night. When the defendant was warned that anything he might say would be taken down and used in his trial he was asked if he wished to make any statement. He said, "If I could settle this." He was interrupted and informed that it was not a question of settling it, but if he had anything to say, and he replied that he had not. Magistrate Henderson then announced that he considered there was sufficient evidence to place him on trial.

BOND ISSUES ARE COMMENTED ON

Commissioners Frink and Wigmore Have Floor at Council Meeting.

The Common Council this morning authorized bond issues for the construction of a sewer in Duke and Crown streets and a water and sewerage installation at the Civic Power Commission sub-station. The commissioner of finance and public affairs recommended payment of the following departmental accounts: Treasury, $1,484,131.17; safety, $1,440,555; public works, $8,691,791; water and sewerage, $5,966,061; harbor, $3,827,561; and for September amounting to $318,869.73. Adopted. It was reported by No. 1 Salvage Corps and Fire Police that W. A. Chariton had been elected to membership and a warrant was ordered issued. An application of J. G. Lake for a lease of a lot in Queens Ward was referred to the commissioner of lands. An application by A. W. Turner to change the location of a sign at the corner of Winslow and Union streets, west side, was referred to the commissioner of public works, city engineer and city electrician, with power to act. On motion of Commissioner Wigmore the construction of a sign at Duke and Crown streets was authorized at an estimated cost of $900, to be paid by bond issue.

Commissioner Frink said he was surprised at the ease with which bond issues went through for the water and sewerage department while the poor public works got the heavy end of the stick. He asked why the work in Bellevue avenue had not been started. Commissioner Wigmore said he took exception to the remarks about the ease with which bond issues went through for the water and sewerage department and said that any commissioner could block a bond issue if he thought the work was not justified. With regard to Bellevue avenue he said this work had been held up on account of the pipe not having been delivered but he understood it was in the city now. Mayor Poirer said he was concerned when sewerage was under consideration he had the matter of public health in mind. On motion of Commissioner Bullock it was decided to sell a lot at corner of Prospect streets, Fairville, to W. U. Purcell, the lease for $200. On motion of Commissioner Wigmore the council approved of an expenditure of $970 for water and sewerage at the civic sub-station.
