

LETTER FROM INDIA TO LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

Matheran, India, Jan. 20, 1922. General Secretary Y. M. C. A., St. John, N. B., Canada: Dear Sir,—In the course of a visit to India, some impressions of which are outlined in the enclosed letter, I went to Madras, spending several days there. The Y. M. C. A. building is one of the earliest in the far East, it is still a centre of great activity and its need for alterations to modernise it. A government official, whose business takes him to all parts of South India, has recently said that in any community where there were men interested in the good of their fellows he would be certain to find them formerly connected with the Y. M. C. A. Hostel in Madras, the Madras Christian College. Mr. H. C. Herman, the general secretary, is a leader who has access to all classes in Madras, which is a centre not only of the Christian forces of South India, but is also of large political and economic significance.

The association is not only strong in its student work, but has a well-established educational department and its physical programme is rapidly being extended through all parts of the city. Faithfully yours, EDWARD C. JENKINS.

Delhi, India, Jan. 7, 1922. Dear Friend,—Your newspapers are probably carrying only a few lines about the visit of the Prince of Wales to India, but to us he seems a storm centre, passing over this vast area, around which the political atmosphere swirls and black clouds gather. We hear no objections to him personally—how could there be? But he represents the British Raj, and thousands in this land are passionately devoted to the task of sweeping away that Raj as it at present functions in India, and substituting Swaraj, self-government, either within (in the form of full "dominion status") or entirely outside the British commonwealth of nations. Among masses who cannot read or write, whose lives are spent in high fruitless toil, living close to the hunger line, there is a vague feeling that when Swaraj comes, taxes will be greatly lessened, there will be more to eat, and life will be easier all round. Among the small percentage who are educated, Swaraj is regarded as coming—opinions differing as to how and especially when I have talked with men of all shades of opinion, and they are divided into three main groups.

On the right are those who somewhat grudgingly support the reforms, i. e., the present governmental machinery, which is working according to plan. In this group are the European business men, the big Indian merchants and money lenders, the landed proprietors, and all those, generally, who stand to benefit by keeping the status quo. To them British control is absolutely essential to the welfare of India, and (though admitting that the reforms have a useful purpose) they are convinced from experience that India will not be ready for self-government for an indefinite period.

Antagonistic to the right is the group demanding Swaraj forthwith. They call themselves Nationalists, but they are called by the conservative press "Extremists." Numerically strong, they are held together by the powerful personality of the Mahatma, M. K. Gandhi, a great figure whose moral leadership is tremendous. He is idolized by the masses as a medieval saint, and his name is potent with uncounted millions. He controls completely the Indian National Congress and his policy aims to paralyze government by non-violent but complete non-co-operation and thus force it to grant Swaraj. The most recent application of non-co-operation was the series of Hartals, that is, cessation of work of all kinds, while the prince has been touring the country. I was in Calcutta during the Hartal of November 17 and can testify as to the thorough completeness of the tie-up. The government has declared the non-co-operators' societies illegal and thousands are put in jail for illegal agitation, many going joyfully as martyrs, others too deservingly because they take advantage of Gandhi's great influence to work their selfish will on peace-loving citizens.

The non-co-operators have made common cause with the Khilafat party, which is agitating for a revision of the treaty of Sevres, so as to give more favorable terms to Turkey. The Moplahs of Malabar, whose cruel activities are being rigorously suppressed by the troops, are chiefly Moslems who are making the Khilafat agitation an excuse for murder and rapine. The middle of the road is held by the Moderates, who seek Swaraj along the path staked out by the reforms. This party is not so strongly influenced by self-interest as those to the right nor so captivated by a single mastering idea as those on the left. Generally the Moderates are well educated; they know their history; they distrust revolutionary processes. They are accepting seats in the councils and assemblies and, while they freely criticize policies and specific acts, the Moderates are soberly at work on

Manitoba Government Meets Defeat 27-23

LEGISLATURE TO GO INTO SUPPLY ON THURSDAY

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
 Winnipeg, March 14.—The Norris government was defeated 27 to 23 on a straight vote of censure resolution in the legislature this afternoon, and as soon as the lieutenant-governor, Sir James Atkins, returns from Toronto, Premier T. C. Norris will place the resignation of the government in his hands.

The resolution which brought about the downfall of the Norris ministry was carried by 27 votes to 23. It was proposed by P. Adjutor Talbot, of Le Verendrye, a French-Canadian member of the Farmers group, and censured the government for failing to give effect to a resolution passed last year calling for the abolition of the public utilities commission. Only three members of opposition groups supported the administration when the house divided. By voting solid against the government, the Conservative group sprang the surprise of the day, as it was generally supposed several members of it would lend the administration their support.

Premier Norris defended the course taken by the government, and maintained that a vote of censure would be unjust in as much as the legislature had not introduced the machinery for giving effect to the abolition resolution passed. Various acts had to be repealed before such effect be given, and until they had been repealed it was incumbent on the administration to pursue the policy it had.

PAGEANT OF RUTH WELL PRESENTED

A musical treat to nearly one thousand persons in the City Hall, N. B., was presented last evening when the pageant of Ruth, the immortal Biblical character, received its initial presentation under the auspices of Jewel Rebekah Lodge No. 6, I. O. O. F. The cast is numerous but are well-trained and delighted the large audience by their renditions of choruses, duets, trios, and quartets, under the efficient baton of Professor Newton, with Mrs. James Robertson as pianist. The tambourine drill, the shepherd's drill, and the Jewish wedding, were features of the programme. The personalities were as follows: King of Noah's land, A. C. Smith; queen of Noah's land, Miss Edith Campbell; Naomi, Miss Edith Nichols; Ruth, Miss Bertie Campbell; Boaz, E. C. Parsons; first reaper, R. Mawhinney; Orpah, Miss Ursula Ellis; Jewish princess, Miss Hilda Walton; Jewish maiden, Miss G. Melick; assistant reaper, D. Morrissey; messenger, W. Wallace; high priest, Mr. Fraser; prince of Noah's land, Fred Irvine. The costumes of the characters made the play strikingly lifelike. The production committee was under the co-operation of Mrs. C. E. Belyea. The pageant will be repeated again this evening.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS.

A progressive and ambitious programme was considered for the coming year by the Sunday School Teachers' Association of the St. John's church at its annual meeting in Trinity school room last night. Stanley Olive, the retiring president, was in the chair. Rowland Frith gave an interesting paper on the "symbols of the Church" and the discussion which followed was entered into by many of the members. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong; vice-president, Miss Iddolls; secretary-treasurer, Miss E. N. W. Upham. Representatives from each Sunday school in the diocese were appointed on the executive. Canon Armstrong made an earnest appeal for personal interest and activity of all members in the coming year.

TAUNTED IN JAIL, BEGS FOR SING SING

Detective Haggerty Gets 20 Years to Life and is Hounded to Prison—Prisoners "Razzed" Him.

With his grief-stricken wife and four children in the courtroom, Detective Jeremiah H. Haggerty, who shot and killed a man who was carrying a can of dynamite in the Bronx last August after attempting to extort money from him and a companion, was sentenced to imprisonment for twenty years in Sing Sing by Judge Loris D. Gibbs in the Bronx county court, says the New York Times.

Many policemen were in the crowd that heard sentence pronounced.

At his own request, Haggerty was started on his way to Sing Sing within twenty minutes after he was sentenced. He might have remained in the Bronx county jail a few days had he wished, but he pleaded to be taken away from that institution because the other inmates had tormented him incessantly.

"I can't stand the 'razzing' they gave me," he said. "Please take me to Sing Sing right away."

Sheriff Edward J. Flynn of Bronx county said the policeman had lost thirty-five pounds while in the county jail because of the taunts and sneers of the other prisoners, who made life miserable for Haggerty day and night. One of their favorite methods of torment was to sing "You Were a Good Cop Once, but You're a Goner Now."

Haggerty feared that if he returned after being sentenced he would be compelled to face crueler torture than ever. So commitment papers were quickly drawn up, a limousine and deputy sheriffs were got together and the policeman was rushed off to Sing Sing in speed and style.

When Haggerty was arraigned yesterday his counsel, William J. Fallon, asked the court to set aside the verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree, found by a jury before Judge Gibbs three weeks ago. Mr. Fallon said the policeman had an unblemished reputation on the force for eighteen years, and contended that Judge Gibbs should have charged the jury to take into consideration the fact that Haggerty was drunk when he committed the murder. Fallon had earlier requested Judge Gibbs to so charge the jury. Each time the court denied the request without comment. Yesterday, in denying Fallon's motion, Judge Gibbs said: "This court does not believe the defendant was entitled to such a charge. The defense was not based on the question of intoxication. That question was brought up by the state, and came out during the testimony of one of the state's witnesses. For that reason the court declined to grant the request."

Fallon announced that he would take an appeal.

Haggerty killed Joseph Lazzaro, a barber. The star witness was Joseph Polozola, who testified that Haggerty arrested him and Lazzaro on an elevated train at Gun Hill road on the night of Aug. 18, 1921, because Lazzaro was carrying liquor. According to the witness, Haggerty demanded $500 to let them go, and begged to shoot when they offered $5, all they had. Lazzaro was shot and died at Fordham hospital two days later. Haggerty failed to report for duty next day, but later being caught was identified by Polozola.

McHENRY, BOY SLAYER, GETS WEEK'S RESPITE

Unprepared for Eternity, Says Clergyman—340 Fellow-Prisoners Appeal for Him.

Washington, March 14.—John McHenry, 22 years old, slayer of Detective Sergeant Armstrong was not hanged on Friday, a last-minute appeal by his counsel today in Chief Justice McCoy of the District Supreme Court and to District Attorney Peyton Gordon resulted in a respite of one week.

The plea for the boy was based on the youth's lack of preparation for eternity. When the boy was taken to court today his attorney told the Judge that the Rev. P. J. O'Callaghan, who has shown much interest in the youth, pleaded for a short respite to enable him to complete the spiritual instruction of the prisoner.

Mrs. Mary Rice, of New London, mother of McHenry, who has been seeking a reprieve for her son, visited the Department of Justice today and hoped to be able to present new evidence on the question of the boy's sanity. Another effort to have the boy's life come on the form of a petition from 340 prisoners in the District jail to President Harding.

IMPOVERISHED BY REDS HE STARTS AT 101 TO BUILD UP NEW FORTUNE

Baku, Azerbaijan, Feb. 12.—(A. P. by mail).—At the age of 101 years, Hadji Tagiev, Baku's former oil king, who was ruined by Soviet nationalisation of his property, has started to rebuild his fortunes where he began—as a stone mason.

Hadji Tagiev is an optimist. "A man isn't old so long as he can work," he said. "I am a mason."

He is now living in the village of Marda Khan, near here.

When the Azerbaijan republic was sovietized by Moscow, his palace was converted into a children's orphanage and its treasures of art and tapestry scattered. While trying to take some of his silver plate and paintings to the country in six carts apparently laden with straw, a red sentinel at the outskirts of the city discovered and seized the sleeping wealth. Tagiev was beloved by the workmen of Baku and was not harmed in person.

The contract for the re-wiring of Central school in accordance with the requirements of the city electrical inspector has been awarded to the Jones Electric Co. of Charlotte street, whose tender of $100 was the lowest.

The Value of Time

BY ORDER OF THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF ST. JOHN PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that a Bill will be presented for enactment at the present session of the Provincial Legislature, the object of which is to amend the "Saint John City Assessment Act, 1918": (1) To further define the profits in relation to which income tax may be assessed. (2) To provide that the Board of Assessors of Taxes may, if they deem it desirable, send out their Notices, Tax Bills or Accounts through the mails by post instead of having them served by the District Commissioners. DR. R. NORWOOD ADDRESSES HIS FELLOW AUTHORS

Canadian Literature Alive and Good, but Not Justly Criticized. Ottawa, March 15—Canadian literature felters and is retarded at the stumbling block of Canadian literary criticism. Canadian literature is alive and good, Canadian literary criticism that damns it is decayed and bad. But the makers of Canadian literature can surmount the obstacle. Canadian literature can be advanced to the place in which it rightfully belongs and the fortunes of Canadian authors correspondingly improved through the development by Canadian authors themselves, of criticism that will be just. This advice was given Canadian authors at the monthly supper of the Ottawa branch of the Canadian Authors' Association here last night by one who claims to have suffered at the hands of Canadian critics, but who nevertheless, has gone forward to distinction, Dr. Robert Norwood, Canadian writer of prose and poetry, lecturer and preacher, who is now rectory of St. Paul's Memorial church, Philadelphia.

"Black" McCready laughed at her cry. The wilderness of the North stretched around them; the only other man for miles lay snow-blind in the hut; and the girl felt her strength ebbing fast.

BUT—Far down the trail Kazan the Killer had picked up the hated man-scent; he knew McCready only as the wielder of whips, the driver of hate; and through the snow the dog came, fangs bared, eyes afire with the killer-strain. From the distance Joan heard his bay.

TRIP TO MOON MADE POSSIBLE
"Atomic Energy," a British Scientist Says, Capable of Blowing World to Pieces.

Philadelphia, March 15 — A source of energy that once liberated is capable of blowing the world to pieces, a being described by Dr. P. W. Aston, F.R.S., a research fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, in a series of five lectures at the Franklin Institute.

"It may be many years before the energy, which can be produced by changing four hydrogen atoms to one helium atom is released, but from that moment either the world will suddenly become a new and brilliant star or man will have at his command energy beyond imagination that will make coal and oil unnecessary."

This force, called "atomic energy" is found in hydrogen and revealed by the fact that this gas is the only one of the elements that physicians cannot produce to an atomic weight that is an integer. The explanation, when translated, that a trip to the moon or any other spot in the universe ceases to be absurd and becomes a possibility, explains Doctor Aston.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES
Rev. Adolard Delorme, accused of the murder of his half-brother, Raoul Delorme, was last night placed under observation of the doctors in Bordeaux jail. This was the result of the abbe's lawyer's suggestion that Rev. Delorme was not in a fit mental state to undergo trial.

The Sydney express yesterday was late arriving at Halifax on account of the wreck of a freight train between Merigomish and New Glasgow. The passengers were transferred to another train. Seven cars of the freight left the rails tearing up the track for 100 yards. No one was injured.

The defeat of the Montreal agreement in Nova Scotia was conceded last night. The Cape Breton vote stood at 5,842 to 866 and the Springhill vote stood at 671 to 284. Every section heard from swelled the majority.

Truro was startled last night by the appearance of a ball of fire descending from a cloud and with a crash which rocked the whole town, burst into three forks of lightning, which struck the ground at places miles apart. One fork set a barn on fire, another killed a horse two miles away and the third passed through the basement of a house in another locality. Several narrow escapes were reported.

The Association has selected the week of April 24 to 29 as "Be Kind to Animals Week" and April 30, as "Humane Sunday", when it has asked clergy all over the country to disseminate the idea of kindness from their pulpits.

Cash prizes will be awarded various winners in the poster contest, the entrants being divided by age and experience into groups. All essays and posters must be submitted before May 20 to the headquarters of the Association here.

LIVER TROUBLE BAD BILIOUS ATTACKS

When your liver becomes sluggish and inactive your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, the tongue coated, the breath bad, the stomach foul and sick, and bilious spells occur on account of the liver holding back the bile which is so essential to promote the movement of the bowels, and the bile gets into the blood, instead of passing out through the usual channel.

The only way to keep the liver active and working properly, and thus get rid of the nasty bilious attacks, is to keep the bowels regular by using the

They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take, work smoothly and gently, and there is nothing of the griping, weakening and sickening effects of the old-fashioned purgatives.

Mlle Suzanne Plays Again.
Nice, France, March 15—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen today played her first tournament tennis since she was defeated by Mrs. Molla Mallory last summer. She was paired with Count Michael Soumarokoff-Ellston, former Russian champion, in doubles, and with Miss Elisabeth Ryan of California in women's doubles. While the Lenglen teams won both matches, 6-0, 6-2, and 6-0, 6-1, respectively, the French star failed to display her best form and kept away from the net, being content with a back court game. She appears to be still short of the necessary training for a hard singles match.

This scholarship will be for young men of Scottish birth or parentage and will be awarded by competition. The bill will be presented to the house by R. T. Hayes, M. P., from St. John city. CUT EXHIBITION ADMISSION FEES

Matter Decided at Directors' Meeting Last Night—Big Attendance Expected as No Shows at Chatham and Fredericton Scheduled.

The directors of the St. John Exhibition Association, at a meeting held last evening, decided to reduce the price of admission at the main gates during the show planned for this fall. The fee for adults will be dropped from fifty cents to thirty-five and that of children from twenty-five to twenty cents. Encouraging reports of progress in the plans for the 1922 fair were presented. The show will be held as usual in the week starting on Labor Day, and it is anticipated that the attractions will be even better than they were last year. The fact that neither Fredericton nor Chatham are scheduled to hold a fair this season is expected to bring a record attendance to the St. John exhibition.

The finance committee submitted a budget and the hope was expressed that this year no deficit would result. It was pointed out that 1921 was the first year the St. John association attempted to hold a fair without a grant and was also the first time a second exhibition followed the year immediately after the previous show. While the association was subjected to some very unusual expenditures last year, due to the large five stock exhibit, it is expected that this year there will be no need for a repetition of this excess expenditure. Reports received so far seemed to indicate an increased horse exhibit, and at least a good poultry show as last year. The plan of purchasing specially designed advertising envelopes from some of the big lithographing houses was abandoned by the association, and it was announced that this year the printing would be done by a local firm. The design of the envelope was approved by the meeting and has been placed in the hands of the printer. They are expected to be available for local merchants soon.

PLANNING FOR BEAUTIFYING OF OPEN PLACES

With the first touch of spring, there appears in the minds of the average run of citizens pleasant day dreams of soft, green and lawns and sweetly-blooming and fragrant flowers. With Commissioner Frink, however, and his staff in the public works department, this imaginary picture is painted long before the warm March suns begin to send the winter's accumulation of snow in long marky rivulets into the catch basins. For today the commissioner was able to lean over the glass-covered hot-beds in his improvised conservatory which is slanted to the city asphalt plant in lower cove, and note with satisfaction the small green shoots, tender and frail, reaching out through the damp earth towards the light. Thousands of them, yes, tens of thousands of them are now on their way to the surface and as soon as the frost has disappeared, they will grace the beds which will soon be prepared for them in the public squares. These are all annuals, grown for the seed every season, and the perennials, which last year flourished without bloom in the squares, are due this year to blossom and will add materially to the appearance of the open places. They are still under their winter blanket of straw and manure in the beds where they were planted. The commissioner also expects to introduce some novelties in flowering plants or shrubs this year.

The street flusher, which was recently faced up to carry a line of hose will be used for watering the flower beds, obviating the necessity, which was experienced during the drought last year, of carrying great quantities of water.

THIEVES MAKE A HAUL IN UNION STREET

Business Premises of Robinson's Ltd., and Miss A. M. Jenkins Entered and a Lot of Stock Taken.

A break resulting in the theft of about $100 worth of merchandise occurred sometime between Saturday night and Monday morning into a store at 173 Union street, occupied by Robinson's Ltd., as a bakery shop and by Miss A. M. Jenkins, a confectionery shop. Most of the goods taken were chocolates and candy from Miss Jenkins' part of the store and included fancy boxes and five-pound boxes of chocolates. There was no money loose and what was in the safe escaped the thieves.

Entrance is said to have been effected through a storeroom, rented by Alexander Demerson, which adjoins the store on the back. This is said to have been broken into by the fire in Mr. Demerson's place of business recently. After the first break, when some articles are said to have been taken, it is understood, a window was placed on the building and this latter break must have occurred after he left at 2 o'clock on Monday morning. The thieves are supposed to have entered this storeroom and broken through the wall into the flat above the candy store and bakery. A hole large enough for a person to pass through was found on Monday morning when the shop was opened. From this flat they secured entrance by prying open the hatch doors leading to the bakery. Here they helped themselves to the stock of one of Miss Jenkins' showcases and to some special brands of chocolates from a shelf as well as to some cakes from Robinson's part of the shop. Nothing was missed from the storeroom.

It is thought that they made their getaway through the front door, which was secured with a Yale latch opening from the inside. An automobile was heard to stop near the shop by a man living across the street who happened to be awake early on Monday morning. Several packing cases were missing when the shop was searched, so it is thought the burglars filled them with goods and put them in the waiting car, thus getting out of danger with them as soon as possible.

The Sicilian is due early tomorrow morning from Kingston, Havana, with passengers and general cargo. En route she stopped at Boston.

REMANDED IN DRUG CASE.

Archie MacNeill and Walter Sproul are charged with selling a quantity of morphine sulphate, a drug as defined under the opium and drug act, and were remanded today until Saturday morning at eleven o'clock at the request of the dominion policeman who was instrumental in their arrest. The request was made on the grounds that the prosecution were not ready to go on with their case and that the material in the case was being analyzed. W. M. Ryan, for MacNeill, and J. Starr Tait, for Sproul, asked bail for their clients. This was agreed to, and the amount will be decided upon this afternoon.

LIQUOR CASE.

Charles Campbell, charged with having liquor in his beer shop in Prince Edward street, pleaded guilty before the magistrate this morning and was given the alternative of a $200 fine or six months with hard labor. He said he could not pay the fine and was sent to jail. This case arose out of a raid made by the inspectors last Saturday in which it is alleged they found a bottle of whiskey on the premises of the defendant.

FEET SCALDED.

Mike Lotsepp, an employee of the Atlantic Sugar Refineries, Ltd., was painfully hurt this morning when hot sugar liquor spilled on his feet from one of the filters. He was taken to the hospital where the injured parts were dressed and he is reported as resting as well as can be expected, although suffering considerably.

Glenwood!

The actual facts about GLENWOOD RANGES are clear and unmistakable. They cook and bake better, with less work and less fuel; and they last longer than other ranges.

These things have been proved time after time, and over and over again. They are being proved right now in the more than 3,000 St. John homes and in the many boarding houses and restaurants in the city where the Glenwood is used.

Specific and exclusive structural features make the Glenwood so much better in every way that every housewife should know about them. We will be pleased to have you call and examine our line now on display. Our new low prices will be a pleasant surprise.
