HAIG'S FINAL WAR DISPATCH IS IMPORTANT REVIEW OF FIGHTING

Two Years and Half For Infantry To Be At Best

GERMAN RUSH OF 1918

Allied Recovery "Miraculous"—Goes Back to Great Battles of 1915 and 1917 for Secret of Ultimate Victory—The Great Increase in Artillery—65,000 Tons of Projectiles in Three Days—Wonderful Building up of British Army Outstanding Feature

London, April 10.—(British Wireless Service)—Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, in his final despatch made public, presents an important view of the war and describes in detail the expansion and achievements of the British army, with many remarkable facts. He treats the operations on the western front as a single continual campaign in which the British army, with its increased strength, recognized the same general features and necessary stages, that, between areas of approximately equal strength, marked all the conclusive battles of history.

"The high water mark of our fighting trend in infantry," says the British commander, "was only reached after two and a half years of conflict by which heavy casualties had already been secured. It was not until mid-summer of 1918 that the artillery situation became even approximately adequate to the needs of major operations."

"The margin which the German rush of 1918 was stemmed was so narrow and the subsequent struggle was so severe that the word 'miraculous' is not too strong a term to describe the recovery and ultimate victory of the Allies."

"The breakdown of Russia in 1917, probably prolonged the war by a year, and the military situation in Italy in the autumn of 1917 necessitated the transfer of five British divisions to Italy at a time when their presence in France might have had far-reaching effects."

"The German collapse," says Sir Douglas Haig, "was the logical outcome of the fighting of the previous two years. It could not have taken place but for that period of ceaseless activity which used up the German reserves. It is in the great battles of 1917 and 1918 that we have to seek for the secret of our victory in 1918."

"The expansion of British personnel, artillery, ammunition, transport, railway construction and establishments of every kind in France is dwelt upon by the field marshal. Regarding machine guns, he says that the British army in 1918 had 100,000 more than in 1914. The 486,000 tons of artillery with which the British army was equipped in 1918 were represented at the date of the armistice by 6,487.

On the first day of the Somme battle in 1916, nearly 18,000 tons of artillery ammunition were fired by the British on the western front. On two days, September 20 and 21, 1917, 42,000 tons were expended, and in the three days of the crucial battle on September 27, 28 and 29, 1918, nearly 65,000 tons were fired by the British artillery.

THE WONDERFUL BRITISH ARMY. Sir Douglas said that the feature of the war, which to the historian may well appear most noteworthy is the creation of the new British army, which was successfully built up in the very midst of the war.

"The total of more than 327,000 German prisoners captured by us on the western front, and the fact that the British army, comprising some 80,000 fighting men, with which we entered the war, had increased to 1,200,000 men, is a fact which should be remembered. It is due partly to the loyalty and devotion of our allies and to the splendid work of the British navy, but mainly to the wonderful spirit of the British race in all parts of the world."

With respect to the use of cavalry, Sir Douglas Haig contends that in the light of all experience of the war the decision (Continued on page 2, fifth column)

Jarvis McLellan's Birthday Book Found on the Field of Ypres

Given to Comrade by Dying Soldier so That it Might be Sent to Mother—How Ownership Was Traced and Book Returned

Mr. and Mrs. J. Verner McLellan, Horsfield street, have become re-possessed of a little birthday date-book of Longfellow's verses, which, because of a chain of circumstances bearing upon the life and death of their only child, Flight Lieutenant Jarvis O. McLellan, who died of accidental injuries in England, became a memento of sacred value. A link that bridges the Atlantic and brings back from the zone of strife a message of home love and remembrance. A few days ago an advertisement in a Montreal paper sought the mother of the soldier to whom the birthday book belonged, giving the name of the owner as it appeared on the fly-leaf. Several St. John people saw the advertisement and inquired of the McLellan home if it was not the name of their son. Correspondence was then begun with the Rev. Mr. Griffin of Philadelphia, Unitarian clergyman, who was acting for Mr. and Mrs. Winterstein of that city, who have later written the following touching facts to Mr. and Mrs. McLellan.

"The birthday book came to the notice of Mr. Winterstein, a prominent lawyer, through an American soldier named Katman, who was being sent to the front. Katman said it had been handed to him by a dying soldier in the last battle of Ypres with the request that it be sent to the mother of the lad who originally owned it. As the soldier's life was far spent it was not possible to get any further information from him as to how he became possessed of the little volume."

"The Winterstein family and their clergyman, feeling that such a dying request should not go unheeded, took the means already mentioned of sending the memento home. The correspondence with Mr. McLellan, which has since been very sympathetic and gracious, and the book itself most carefully packed and preserved."

"Of the birthday date-book is a simple little collection of verses, the gift of F. C. MacNeill's son Fred to his boy pal Jarvis McLellan, while they were yet young children. It is partially filled with the names of relatives and friends marked against their natal days, and an inscription at the back reads: 'To my boy Jarvis McLellan, who has been a brave boy who died in defence of his country. It is said that he, (Jarvis McLellan) was that day leaving school to take his work with me. He and the giver of the book (Freddie MacNeill) had been friends for twelve years and he hoped they would remain so for fifty years. One of the outstanding officers of the returning party was Brigadier-General Green-Wilkinson, D. S. O., C. M. G., and other decorations, of South Spring, Belfast, who has seen service in many wars. He was three years in command of the 16th and 14th Brigades in the Imperial army, and has an excellent record for devotion to duty as well as for efficiency. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter today. He is a regular denoting active service in South Africa, the Sudan and India. He says that the Canadians who went over proved to be some of the best fighters in the world's army."

Probably the most interesting officer to step off the ship this morning at Sand Point was Captain P. T. O'Grady of Vancouver, who wears the Military Cross, the Queen's South Africa medal, the 1914-15 Mons star and the Serbian Order of the White Star. Captain O'Grady is in Canada on a private with the engineers he left for France early in the war. He was a commission in the Imperial British army officer and was living in British Columbia when war broke out. Putting aside the wishes of relatives and friends he went over in the early part of 1915 and has been in the game since then to the signing of the armistice. He is now on his way back to his adopted home."

Brigadier-General Green-Wilkinson wears the D. S. O. and C. M. G. for his services in the present war, as well as ribbons denoting active service in South Africa, the Sudan and India. He says that the Canadians who went over proved to be some of the best fighters in the world's army."

William Francis Cleary. The many friends of William Francis Cleary will be shocked to hear of his death, which took place at an early hour this morning. He was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cleary of 317 Main street, and was one of the most popular young men of the North End. He was a member of St. Peter's Y. M. C. A., and was very active in that work. Mr. Cleary joined the 7th Canadian Garrison Regiment some time ago and last fall contracted a cold from which he was unable to recover. Besides his parents he leaves two brothers, Harold and Cyril, and one sister, Julia, all at home. The funeral will take place Monday morning.

PRESENTATION. Friends of Manfred Brown of 200 Paradise row, assembled at his home last evening and made him the recipient of a handsome traveling bag on his departure for Boston. The presentation was made by Wm. Watson. There were games, music and dancing and good wishes for Mr. Brown were expressed by all.

GERMAN AUSTRIA IS COMING UNDER RED INFLUENCE

General Strike in Berlin Did Not Materialize Thursday

THE BAVARIAN SITUATION

The Possible New Government Should Present One Fall—Another Instance of German Defiance in Speech of Foreign Minister

Vienna, April 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Germany-Austria is coming under the influence of the establishment of Soviet governments at Munich and Budapest.

At Donavitz 10,000 workers in the iron smelting plants have driven out the managers because the latter have refused to increase wages. The coal miners there are reported to have considered similar action, and there is prospect that the employees of the properties and elect their own managers.

Amsterdam, April 11.—The general strike at Berlin fixed for April 10 did not materialize, according to advices from that city. Business is being carried on as usual.

Paris, April 11.—(By the Associated Press)—The press reports announcing the proclamation of a Soviet republic in Bavaria, a corresponding movement in North Germany, and the arrest of Minister Landwehr, intellectual leader of the majority Socialist government, are taken by those studying the German political conditions as symptomatic of what is to be expected in case the present government falls—namely, the establishment of a new regime based, not like at present, on universal suffrage and democratic elections, but upon the action of the proletariat and the elimination of the body politic of the bourgeoisie population.

All information received through the delegations in the committee adjacent to Germany indicates the gradual loss of prestige by the existing government and the weakening of its power and authority. It is difficult to control the situation at the capital and in the greater part of the country by virtue of Minister Noske's force of disciplined troops.

More German Defiance. Berlin, April 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, foreign minister, speaking before the National Assembly at Weimar yesterday, said Germany would not sign a peace treaty which deviated in any essential respect from Wilson's "fourteen points."

"The financial demands to be made in the peace treaty," he said, "are obviously causing much difficulty to our opponents as those regarding territory. It is impossible to solve the question of financial claims without negotiating with our experts at the conference table. We will give a clear account to our opponents relative to their demands and our ability to meet them."

Berlin, April 11.—(By the Associated Press)—A special despatch from Weimar states that the government has abandoned its intention to transfer the Reichstag to Berlin, owing to the unsuitable condition of the Reichstag building, which for months has been used for barracks for revolutionary troops.

BURIED TODAY. The funeral of James Warnock took place this afternoon from his residence, 156 Market Place, West St. John. Services were conducted by Rev. Dr. J. A. Morrison and interment was made in Cedar Hill.

The funeral of Maurice LeBlanc took place this afternoon from the residence of his father, Maurice D. LeBlanc, Randolph, to St. Rose's church, where services were conducted by Rev. Charles Collette. Interment was made in Holy Cross cemetery. Relatives were pall-bearers.

LIBERAL WINS. London, April 11.—(Canadian Press Despatch from Reuter's Limited)—Commander Kenworthy, Liberal, was elected over his coalition rival, Lord Austere Perry, in the parliamentary by-election in Hull yesterday. The vote stood: Commander Kenworthy 8,616; Lord Perry, 7,599.

Committee Room Thronged For Power Matter Fight

SOLDIERS HOME

Criticism of Lack of Welcoming Numbers at the Depot on Arrival of Early Train

Fredericton, N. B., April 11.—N. B. Power Company matters took up the attention of the municipalities committee this morning.

The assembly chamber was given over to the hearing on the N. B. Power Co. bill in order to provide room for the delegations. In addition to the thirty or so representatives of the city and citizens' committee, who appeared in opposition to the findings of the Currier commission, the Power Company had a delegation of upwards of a score of citizens interested in their side of the case, in addition to the officials of the company and the representatives of the bondholders. The committee came to order soon after eleven o'clock, Hon. J. P. Burchell presiding.

Company Case First. The chairman announced that the Power Company speakers would be heard first, then the city representatives and if new matters were introduced the Power Company would be given an opportunity to reply.

F. R. Taylor recalled that last year the company had asked for immediate relief from the legislature while the city asked for a commission to decide. This year the situation was reversed. A commission composed of able and qualified men had presented its report and the company would not attempt to dispute its findings. What they did oppose was the city's attempt to write off $1,200,000 of preferred stock duty sold and paid for. Bonds to the value of $1,700,000 had been sold to Harris Forbes & Co. at 88 and $1,000,000 of the preferred stock to Bodell & Co. at 90 1/2, companies which would not purchase securities unless they were at actual value. The affairs of the company had been investigated by Mr. Frothingham, who had reported that the assets of the company were worth $2,000,000, accompanied by a audit by Niles and Niles. It seemed to him that an investigation of which people were not made aware had been carried on. The rates had been fixed by the company at water power rates and when they sought to restore the old rates, the public and another investigation was held which showed the value of the company to be $2,500,000 with other assets including the Eastern Electric Co. working capital and Glen Falls land; this would show a total of about $8,000,000.

The report prepared for the Currier commission, but Mr. Taylor said the value of about $3,000,000. The city, he said, in appearing before the commission had to rely only on the findings of Mr. Whiting, who arrived at a value of $1,850,000 by deducting five per cent each year for depreciation, a method for the Currier commission was not used.

The city proposed, he said, that the public directors should be appointed by the city of St. John instead of by the province, but Mr. Taylor said the company was not a local institution. It had authority to operate in Kings and Charlotte as well as in St. John county, and the commissioner of public works was prepared to pay on extraordinary charges for street repairs, etc., while the Currier report had recognized that such charges were not justified. Under the Currier bill in order to increase its dividends the company would have to reduce its rates, while the city would give no encouragement for economical administration.

The city also, he said, would strike off the premium to be paid on the bonds if the city expatriated under the terms proposed by the city, the city could get the property by paying for the bonds at par plus 3 per cent, the first preferred stock at $25 per $100 share and the rest of the stock for nothing. He asked that the company should be given the power to operate under the Currier report for say five years in order to show whether they could give a fair deal to both the public and the security holders.

Boston Man. F. E. Frothingham of Boston said that if the findings of the commission were not supported it would disburse his company and many others of which he knew of any further interest in investments in this part of the country. His investigation had shown a value of $2,773,000 apart from water powers or any intangible assets. Mr. Hewitt had found a value of $2,900,000 and Mr. Brinkerhoff had placed it at $2,750,000 on the same basis. Mr. Whiting's figures, he said, were not based on any recognized method, and could not be supported.

His advice to Harris, Forbes & Co. was that in addition to the value of the tangible assets there were values on which rates should be paid in excess of $3,000,000. The Currier report placed the rate base value at $2,200,000, which he considered too low in creating a going concern. A utility must protect its future by certain expenditures which would not result immediately in productive property. He insisted on the outlay of $15,000 for hydro-electric sites as justified and that it should be put on a rate paying basis.

AN ARREST IN THE MICHAEL CONNELLY CASE. New York, April 11.—Charged with victimizing Michael Connelly, of Montreal, out of $75,000 through a wire tapping scheme, Arthur Erement, also of Montreal, was arrested here last night and locked up at police headquarters. The "wire tapping game" is alleged to have been "worked" in Buffalo on December 8.

Arthur Erement was out on bail in Montreal on a similar charge.

Company's Case Presented First by F. R. Taylor and Others—Some St. John Shareholders—Mayor Leads Off For the City

(Special to Times.)

Fredericton, N. B., April 11.—N. B. Power Company matters took up the attention of the municipalities committee this morning.

The "wire tapping game" is alleged to have been "worked" in Buffalo on December 8.

Arthur Erement was out on bail in Montreal on a similar charge.

In closing, he said that money would not flow from the United States to New Brunswick if evidence and findings such as those of the Currier report were disregarded.

He also said that the reproduction cost of the plant would be 30 or 40 per cent greater than before the war, and he thought this also should be recognized. J. J. Bodell of Providence, R. I., said that his firm had purchased $1,000,000 of first preferred stock on the report of Mr. Frothingham that the investment was justified and no evidence that they had considered worth while had been produced to change their views. If the city was to be allowed to take away their money they wanted to know it. Even the Currier report fixed the rate return at only seven per cent, while other utilities in New Brunswick were allowed eight. He did not think that this return would be sufficient to attract further capital for the state.

Richard Sullivan of St. John said he had invested in the stock of the company on representations that it represented fair value and if the city's contentions were recognized his shares would be worth only about $10 each.

Dr. J. H. Allingham of Fairville said he represented a considerable block of first and second preferred stocks held by an estate. If the city's attitude was supported there would be no inducement for any one to invest in public utilities securities.

J. M. Robinson of St. John remarked that when he wrote away from home he had a sneaking suspicion that he was regarded as coming from the home of the original villain chorus. He had understood that the city had said they would abide by the report of the commission but now a delegation came to ask the legislature to annul the investment in the preferred stocks. If this spirit was encouraged the city might be back in a few years to ask for permission to reduce the interest on city bonds outstanding from six to four per cent. The legislature would decide whether it would make New Brunswick a safe place for investment or a very unsafe place, and whether, through the action of the Eastern Electric Co., the city would be permitted to repudiate its obligations.

Mr. Kelly of St. John said he appeared as an investor and that if his investment was not protected it would leave the city and province open to criticism.

PRESENTATION OF CITY CASE. Mayor Hayes said that the city had protested against the increase in rates. They recognized that increases in rates might be justified by war conditions, but they had seen no reason why they should be forever burdened by increased dividend-bearing capitalization. When the company was purchased by the present owners, it passed through several hands, and while money may have been paid out, it did not go into the company. The actual investment seems to have been about $1,800,000, and he did not think the city was so much to blame as those who had issued the extra securities with the expectation that the public would pay dividends on them.

The city did not agree that the company had been well managed or that the service had been good. Even if $2,200,000 had been actually invested in the company, as the Currier report alleged, the depreciation on the plant would reduce the present value of the company to $1,800,000. If the citizens were to be exploited by the company it would result in unsatisfactory relations in the future.

The city believed that investors should be reasonably well protected. The public also was entitled to protection. All the city asked was fair play.

Commissioner Fisher said the city was forced to act as a result of the Currier findings. The result was such a serious one to the city that the citizens would not permit them to accept it without protest. He disputed the statement that the city's amendments would wipe out $1,200,000 of securities, as the revenue would be sufficient to pay more than four per cent on them. Before the transfer the company's interest and dividend charges were $115,000 a year; after the transfer, $182,000 and now the commission would add $196,000 annually and $21,000 additional after the citizens have contributed a reserve fund of $300,000. This would mean an increase in annual charges to almost double the original figure. The rate of return had been raised from an average of 5 1/2 per cent to 7 per cent, but the city was not objecting to that rate of return on actual investment.

M. E. Agar spoke as one of the citizens who did not own stock in the company. He said not one dollar's worth had been added to the company's assets to justify the tremendous increase in returns demanded.

The city was willing to give the company fair play, but the citizens also wanted fair play. This was not a new case and he wanted to know if the bondmen were in the habit of putting a pistol to the head of a governor with which they were dealing. If the company were worth $2,500,000 that would include $800,000 of profits taken from the people of St. John in addition to their regular returns. The new owners had given the citizens nothing new except the opportunity to pay returns on securities which represented no investment.

Mr. Tilley was informed that no common stock had been sold through the bond dealers. In reply to a question Mr. Agar read from evidence that preferred stock had been sold at $60 to $85. The committee adjourned until 2 P. M.

Allies At Odessa Were Outnumbered Six or Seven To One

Fought Soviets Foot by Foot For Hours Until Rescued by Allied Ships. Geneva, April 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Some details concerning the evacuation of Odessa by the Allies have been received here from Bucharest. There are to the effect that the Allied army was overwhelmed by the Ukrainian Soviet troops, who outnumbered them six or seven to one. The Allies fought stubbornly in the streets for many hours, but finally retreated to the port, where they were rescued by Allied ships. The French troops suffered most. The advisers from Bucharest say the retreat of the Allies has greatly encouraged the Bolsheviks.

IN BLOOD DISEASES

Like Scrofula, Eczema, and Many Skin Troubles,

As well as a general Spring medicine for catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, Hood's Sarsaparilla is of great value to men, women, children.

It does its thorough work in these well-defined diseases by cleansing the blood, on the pure, healthy condition of which depend the vigor and tone of the whole system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is equally successful in the treatment of troubles that are not so well defined—cases of a low or run-down condition or general debility, loss of appetite and that tired feeling, or cases in which we see now very plainly after-effects of the worry, anxiety, caused by the world war and the debility following the grip, influenza and fevers.

Zbyszko Lifts Wrestler High in Air and Drops Him to Mat

Milwaukee, Wis., April 11—A wrestling match between Wladek Zbyszko and Dr. Roller ended after twenty-five minutes of fast wrestling here last night, when Zbyszko, getting a head lock on Roller, lifted him high in the air and dropped him. Roller fell on his head and was severely injured. He was unconscious for fifteen minutes. The referee refused to let the bout continue.

TRICKERY USED TO GET REINFORCEMENTS TO BOLSHEVIK FRONT

London, March 22—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—An instance of the deception the Bolshevik government is forced to practice in order to secure reinforcements for its army is contained in information just received in London.

A proclamation was issued at Petrograd ordering a trial mobilization of the "First Town Section" for two days to test its state of preparedness. It was stated that the men of the reserve would be permitted to return to their work after two days. When the reservists assembled they were told that as Petrograd was unsuitable for manoeuvre purposes they would be taken a short distance out of town. Unsuspectingly the men climbed into box cars, whose doors were then locked, and the men were sent as reinforcements to the western front.

There they remain, although the Bolshevik officers naively complain that these reinforcements have not been of much fighting value.

Desertions from the Bolshevik ranks and disobedience of orders are reported on the increase in Novorossia, and a lack of training among officers and men and deficiency of arms and material. In the Ural district troops are reported to have occurred owing to the difference of pay between recruits at the front and those remaining behind the lines.

Anti-Bolshevik sentiment is said to be so pronounced among some of the regiments garrisoning Petrograd that the authorities are afraid to take action against disaffected units or to send them to the front.

HAIG'S FINAL WAR DISPATCH ON IMPORTANT REVIEW OF FIGHTING

"It has been proved," he adds, "that cavalry, whether used for shock effect or to play in modern war, cannot safely be assured that in all future wars the flanks of the opposing force will rest on neutral states or impassable obstacles."

The field marshal decries a special section to "Why we attacked whenever possible," in which he says: "The object of all war is victory and a purely defensive attitude can never bring about a successful decision."

He emphasized that the defensive role sooner or later produced a lowering of morale, while the defender became almost entirely ignorant of his opponent's dispositions and plans. This was exemplified in the fighting of 1918. "So long as the enemy attacked, he obtained a fairly full information regarding our dispositions," says Sir Douglas, "but so soon as he was thrown on the defensive, and the initiative returned to the Allies, he was kept in comparative ignorance of our plans and dispositions, and the Allies were able to effect many surprises, both strategic and tactical."

The field marshal thanks the various commanders and his staff. Field Marshal Haig cites instances of men from civil or comparatively humble occupations who had risen during the war to important commands. The field marshal

Blockade Against the "Infant States" Not Entirely Removed

Paris, April 11—(By the Associated Press)—Although the blockade has been formally lifted against all enemy countries except Germany and against Bolshevik Russia, restrictions on trade with Poland, Rethonia and eastern and southern Europe continue to be exercised. There is still censorship of mail and telegrams and an absence of postal communication with the "infant states" and resumption of trade and of business relations is still virtually blocked.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 11, 1919

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

The Times has the largest circulation in the Maritime Provinces. Special Advertising Representatives—NEW YORK, Frank R. Northrup, 303 Fifth Ave.—CHICAGO, E. J. Power, Managers, Association Bldg.

THE PROVINCIAL HERRING.

We are told that holders of first and second preferred stock of the New Brunswick Power Company fear that they stand to lose if the proposed amendments to the Currier bill are adopted. In reality their investment will be made more secure.

FINE BILL OF FARE.

A provincial opposition convention is announced for May 7, in this city. It will be a most interesting and entertaining conference. There will be addresses by Rev. J. B. Daggart, Mr. W. B. Tennant, Mr. George B. Jones, Hon. J. A. Murray, Hon. B. Frank Smith and Hon. J. B. M. Baxter.

STARTLING FACTS.

For years the Times-Star has been advocating medical inspection in the schools. Many people described it as "another fad," but a careful reading of the report of Dr. Mabel Hanington, medical inspector for this city, of what she found in one grade of two schools is a complete answer to all objections.

Dr. Hanington made a complete physical examination of Grade II scholars in two schools. In one she examined 62 pupils and found only eight of them normal. In the other she examined 22 and found only four of them normal.

It is gratifying to learn from the report that 22 parents were present at one school and 30 at the other when the examination was made, and that most mothers are sympathetic and grateful to have the defects in the children pointed out; but the facts as presented ought to rouse the people to a much deeper and more general interest in child-welfare.

Another interesting part of Dr. Hanington's report is that which shows that at the beginning of the last term 64 unvaccinated pupils had to be sent home, along with 17 suffering from the revolting skin disease impetigo, and a few for other causes.

Every citizen is interested in this valuable report of health conditions in the schools.

A BITTER PILL.

Hon. Mr. Baxter handed one to the Standard yesterday. Hon. Mr. Foster had remarked to the house that shortly after his election to office as prime minister, he had seen it heralded abroad in the columns of a certain section of the press that he had been placed in that position by the will of the French speaking section of the province, which had reduced the English speaking people to a condition of servitude.

"Mr. Baxter said that he did not desire to be dependent on any creed or racial cry for his position in public life. He thought the premier in making the remarks he had might have in mind a certain newspaper organ (the Standard) in St. John with which he (Baxter) was connected. He could assure him and the house that as soon as he could get in touch with that newspaper he had put a stop to the tactics which it was pursuing, for he did not believe in it. He could say that the directorate of that paper was not aware of the line which it chose to follow at that time and he certainly could say that the views expressed in it did not voice the sentiments of the party which it represented."

Is this also a bump for Mr. Potts? The resumption of work at the pulp mill next week will be a welcome addition to the active industries at a time when many men are looking for employment.

ALL OUT TO BATTLE WITH THE HOUSE FLY

Washington, April 11—Life is to be made miserable for the common "house fly" in army camps and stations during the coming summer. The surgeon-general is sending instructions to camp surgeons on how to combat the fly nuisance.

The fly killers or traps are to be placed at every point where a fly is apt to make his appearance. The traps are made in three sizes, each suitable for certain uses. The large type of traps is 21 by 21 inches; the medium size, 14 by 14 inches, while the smallest type is in the form of a small balloon or is cone shaped, six inches in diameter.

The Admiral's Broom—and—Up From Somerset H. Ruthven McDonald 216053

"The Admiral's Broom is a ballad vigorous and tuneful, having all the swing of the rollicking song of the sea, and possessing breadth of bigness as well as strength of workmanship. This rousing baritone song as rendered by Ruthven McDonald is remarkable for clearness of enunciation and the listener will have no difficulty in following every word.

"Up from Somerset." The old song has all the qualities of the good old ones, the expressions used all possess the power of conjuring up pictures in the mind of the listener, which is one of the highest qualities of art. Mr. McDonald's voice is not only ample in volume but he can phrase with delicacy and the tones of his upper register are remarkable for their richness.

The Story of the Diamond

Chapter 15.—How They Are Cut.

Before the diamond is polished it must be suitably trimmed, and great skill and judgment are called for that the very best results may be obtained.

Within recent years, a very few diamond cutters have introduced a process of "sawing" their diamonds, before polishing, incredible as this may appear.

Picture to yourself a little circular "saw," about 2 inches in diameter, without any teeth, made of a sort of bronze no thicker than writing paper, fastened between two steel washers, about 1 1/2 inch wide, to keep it from bending or "buckling," and revolving at a very rapid rate, whilst a paste of diamond dust and thick oil is applied—that's all, and yet it saws the diamond, very, very slowly, of course, notwithstanding the fact that it is the hardest known substance in nature.

With the great majority of cutters, however, the process of "cleaving" is the one followed. There is a line of cleavage in every rough diamond which must be followed just as the "grain" in wood.

This line of cleavage discovered, the workman uses the sharp edge of one stone to make a slight cut or mark in the stone to be operated upon; a steel edge like the blade of a dull knife, is inserted, and with a smart knock or blow the cleavage follows.

We'll speak about the polishing to-morrow.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. John Flemming.
 Port Elgin, April 7.—Many friends will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. John Flemming. She passed away at her home April 7, after a lingering illness. She leaves her husband and one daughter, Bernetta, at home, two sons, Roland who is in Belgium and Thomas in South America; also one sister, Rebecca Allen of Port Elgin and one brother, George Allen of Bayfield.

Mrs. John A. McCarthy.
 Mrs. Mary Ann McCarthy, wife of John A. McCarthy, a highly respected resident of the North End, died last evening following three days illness of pneumonia, at her home, 25 Simonds street. Mrs. McCarthy is survived by her husband, a son, Captain John A. McCarthy, M. D., of the 14th Canadian Field Ambulance Corps, now overseas; a sister, Mrs. Fred McCarthy, and a brother, Frank Walsh.

ARMY SURGEONS ARE SENT TO BALKANS

Athens, March 9.—(Associated Press Correspondence)—Eleven women doctors attached to the American Women's Hospital of New York and fifteen United States army surgeons have been assigned to the American Red Cross for civil relief work in the Balkans. These doctors, who are in charge of Major Burke C. Hamilton of Goshen, N. Y., medical director of the American Red Cross Commission to the Balkans, will be sent to Serbia, Montenegro and Albania, where there is reported to be much illness. They will be provided with liberal supplies of medicines, surgical dressings and hospital equipment.

winter at comparative low figures. There is no prospect of immediate relief by an increase of supply, as the season of maximum milk production has not begun. With butter prices at present soaring for the advance of a few, it is no satisfaction to householders to be shown official reports which affirm that living costs are dropping. It is a reasonable request to make of the government that it shall take care of the Canadian people by not permitting the country to be drained of an essential article of food to put money into the pockets of a handful of men. With the new system of checking the quantities in storage, it should be very easy to ascertain the amount of the butter which has taken place since the spread now being sold at exorbitant

Kings County Children's Aid. Sussex Record: A branch of the Children's Aid Society is to be formed in Sussex in the near future for the county of Kings. Rev. George Scott, who is at the head of the St. John society, was in Sussex on Monday on official business and while here was interviewed regarding the starting of a branch and agreed to proceed with the organization of one shortly. Matters that have recently come to the attention of the authorities go to show that the need for a Children's Aid Society is imperative. The work carried on by the Children's Aid Society in St. John is of the greatest benefit to the neglected "lots" of that city, and Kings county should have a branch established. There is ample room for such an organization and much good work can be accomplished.

The Premier's Birthday. Frederick Mall, Premier Foster was forty-seven years old Wednesday and received many hearty congratulations on the event. His fellow members of the executive council as a mark of esteem placed on his desk in the house a beautiful bouquet of forty-seven white and red carnations. Upon taking his seat in the afternoon the premier heartily thanked his colleagues for their good wishes. Hon. Mr. Murray presented felicitations on behalf of the opposition. The Queen Hotel staff also presented to the premier a beautiful bouquet which adorned his place at the table during the evening meal.

The Bangor-Brewer Shipbuilding Company, operating the so-called Stetson Yard in Brewer, announces that work would begin at once on a four-master of about 2,000 tons deadweight strength, which will be launched before the closing of the river this fall.

He enlisted in the United States army early in November, 1917, and was sent to Kelly Field, Texas, for training. In February, 1918, he was sent to England on the liner Celtic, which has since been torpedoed. He joined a flying school and remained for five months in England until the big American drive was launched, when he was sent to the front as a pilot.

He was born in Canada and left for Norton, N. B., this afternoon to visit relatives whom he has not seen for three years. George O'Neill, an elder brother, came to this country when the United States entered the war and enlisted in the field artillery. He was sent to a training camp in Kentucky, where he died of influenza a short time ago.

NORTON SOLDIER WHO WAS PILOT IN U. S. AERO SQUADRON

(From Hartford, Conn., Post, of March 31st.) Howard C. O'Neill, of 71 Williams street, star bowler on the Pratt and Whitney league team, a couple of years ago, returned to his home here last Thursday, after having spent a year in France as pilot in the 18th Aero Squadron helping Uncle Sam pelt the Hun.

O'Neill saw action at St. Mihiel, in the Argonne and at Verdun, where he took part in spraying the German trenches with machine gun bullets and dropping bombs.

The doughboy is very modest. He slipped into the city quietly after being discharged at Garden City, N. Y., last Wednesday where he was taken after making the trip over in the America. Due out of his hair last night by a Post reporter he admitted that he had "just slipped over to take a crack at the Hun."

MARINE NOTES

The steamer Manchester Division is due in St. John soon from Manchester. The steamer Lanunium, on transport service, arrived here last night to load with a grain cargo. Steamer Manchester here is due here this afternoon.

The schooner Mapleland, chartered for river service, is to load lumber here in a few days. The Minnedosa, C. P. O. S., is due in St. John on the 18th.

The Gramplins, C. P. O. S., is expected to arrive here about the 18th. The two-masted schooner Mercedes, bound from Parrboro, N. S., for St. Stephen, N. B., with 240 tons of soft coal, lost her rudder off Donalds Point, three miles from Calais, on last Tuesday, ran ashore on the rocks, stove a hole in her bottom, turned turtle and filled with water. The Mercedes is of 146 gross tonnage, built in Weymouth, N. S., and owned in Parrboro. Her crew, composed of Capt. John Taylor, Parrboro; Mate C. W. Brewster, Canning, N. S.; Seaman Marvin Anderson and Irving McDonald, and Cook Wm. Patterson, all of Parrboro, were rescued.

The Bangor-Brewer Shipbuilding Company, operating the so-called Stetson Yard in Brewer, announces that work would begin at once on a four-master of about 2,000 tons deadweight strength, which will be launched before the closing of the river this fall.

Notice To Advertisers
 It is important that advertisers in The Evening Times take notice that, under the prevailing conditions due to change of time on the railroads, this newspaper is obliged to issue one hour earlier than usual, in order to make mail connections and, consequently, begin work an hour earlier in the day, therefore the business office will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. (old time) and advertisers are requested to have their copy in the office one hour earlier than usual. This to ensure prompt service and changes.

LOCAL NEWS
MR. WILSON HERE
 Chief Inspector Wilson, is in the city today in the interests of the prohibition law.
AVIATION MATTER
 It is reported that a representative from a British aviation firm visited Charlottetown, P. E. I., a short time ago to ascertain if that place would make a suitable place for a trans-Atlantic aerial mail service.

SISTER TO SEE SICK SOLDIER
 Mrs. Brant and her sister, of Hamilton, Ont., arrived in the city yesterday to be with their brother, Private Powless of that city, who is ill in the West St. John military hospital with pneumonia, contracted aboard ship. The ladies will remain here until their relative, who is holding his own, shows signs of permanent improvement.
WILL INVESTIGATE CASE
 The case of Private George Drew, a returned Canadian soldier, mentioned in the Times last week as having been located in New England and evidently suffering from shell shock, is being investigated through the returned soldiers' bureau here. Once his discharge papers are scrutinized the man's identity can be verified and if necessary he will be brought back for further treatment.

NOVELTY SHOWER
 At the home of Mrs. L. W. Nickerson, 118 Main street, about thirty friends gathered on last Tuesday evening and tendered Miss Florence Thomas of Fairville a novelty shower. The evening was pleasantly spent in games, music and dancing and dainty refreshments were served. Miss Thomas will leave this evening for Collingwood, New Jersey, where she is to be the principal in an interesting event in the near future. The best wishes of her many friends follow her.

BYE-LAW MATTERS
 Paul C. Rebnann was in the police court this morning charged with driving his car on the wrong side of Main street on last Sunday. He pleaded guilty but explained that he had recently come from the United States and had become confused as to which side of the street he should drive on, as the law here being different from that of the States. He was fined $10.
 Nathan Jacobson was also reported for driving his car past a street car when the car was stopped and passengers were getting off. Policeman Colwell stated that the defendant was driving his car at the rate of ten miles an hour. He was fined $10.

PRESENTATION TO SOLDIER
 Harry W. Cummings of 52 Murray street was pleasantly surprised on Wednesday evening when friends met at his home in honor of his home-coming. The evening was spent in games, music and dancing and refreshments were served. Cummings was made recipient of a beautiful signet ring with his initials nicely engraved on it. The presentation was made by James Bickerstaffe, an original 26th man. Private Cummings enlisted in the 2nd Forestry Battalion in 1916 and went overseas soon after and served in France until the armistice was signed. A large circle of friends will be glad to hear of his safe return.

ONLY TEN COT CASES ON S. S. ESSEQUIBO
 Captain Geod of Fredericton Has Fractured Skull—Many of Men Wear Decorations
 Portland, Me., April 11.—The Canadian hospital ship Essequibo arrived here late yesterday from Liverpool with thirty-two officers, thirteen nursing sisters, one warrant officer and 580 of other ranks on board. An unusually large proportion of the cases are amputations, there being 116. All on board are well advanced toward recovery, having been in hospitals for some time so that there are only ten cot cases.
 Among those arriving were: Captain Alexander D. Archibald, Newtown, N. S.; Captain George A. Good, Fredericton (fractured skull); Donald Cochrane, Aylesford, N. S.; Henry W. Kirkpatrick, Halifax; Karl K. Munro, Truro; Nursing Sisters Mary B. Arbuckle, Summerside, P. E. I.; Elizabeth E. MacKenzie, Platt River, P. E. I.
 The men left on special trains last night. Many of the men wear decorations.
 Captain A. D. Archibald of Newtown won the military cross and has the 1915 star and three wound stripes. He lost his right leg the first day of the Cambrai drive last September. He served nearly four years with the 85th Nova Scotia Highlanders.

GETTING NEAR TO END AT THE PARIS PEACE CONFERENCE

Washington, April 11—More progress has been made in the peace conference during the last forty-eight hours than during the entire previous two weeks.

The Paris despatch contains the first report that the important questions of the Rhine and Polish frontiers had been settled by the peace conference.

Washington, April 11—Without giving details, it is indicated that some of the chief difficulties delaying progress in the negotiations had been overcome.

Paris, April 11—(Havas Agency)—The peace conference has reached an agreement on all questions concerning peace with Germany, reparations, indemnities and the frontiers of the Rhine and Poland, according to an interview in the Petit Journal with the private secretary of Premier Lloyd George.

Hamilton, Ont., April 11—Six messengers, six wagon drivers and one clerk employed by the Canadian Express Company here went on strike last night.

Sydney, N. S., April 11—That orders have been received from headquarters to dismiss all men joining in the strike and hire a new staff in their places was learned at the local Canadian Express Company's office this morning.

New York, April 11—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, came ashore last night from the steamer Rotterdam, which brought him back from France with the other members of the American delegation to the international labor conference which framed a covenant to govern the affairs of labor throughout the world.

RE-ERICTON REPORT OF POSSIBLE VOTE ON LIQUOR MATTER HERE

Fredricton, April 11—There will be no amendments made in the New Brunswick prohibition act at the present session of the legislature but that he act will be allowed to stand as it is until the proposed referendum is held in this province, according to an influential supporter of the Foster government.

It was also said today that indications point to a referendum on the prohibition act before a general election is held and his may be the explanation of Premier Foster's remark in the house last night that there might be other elections before the women's voters lists were ready if they were not prepared until the usual time in the fall.

P. E. I. LEGISLATURE

Practically Gothenburg System For Liquor Control

Amendment to the Prohibition Act—The Matter of School Teachers' Salaries—Fertilizer Supply

Charlottetown, P. E. I., April 11—The legislation forecasted in the governor's speech at the opening of the legislature last week comprised bills amending the election law and the prohibition act and another relating to the providing of fertilizer.

The teachers were expecting some legislation for salary increases. Within the year about 100 have gone to western Canada attracted by the higher salaries.

A union is being formed and preparations are being made to apply pressure upon the government to pay higher salaries. The speech contains the statement that unless the people of each district grant a large supplement to the teachers, the government will step in and apply the remedy, which means an additional tax upon the whole province for educational purposes.

At the meeting of the Central Farmers' Institute a resolution was unanimously passed for a special tax on education to meet the demand for higher salaries. The government takes the ground that they are now paying for education out of the general revenues more than any province in Canada, but in other parts of Canada the municipality contributes largely, and the whole province would only make one good-sized municipality.

If the payment of the teachers' salaries is left largely to the people of each district, the teacher in the poorer district would be placed at a great disadvantage and hence the teaching body are not disposed to look favorably upon that proposition, although they do not specify what particular plan is used as long as the needed raise is forthcoming.

As this session is the last before a general election it promises to be one of unusual interest. The standing of the parties now is eighteen Conservatives to eleven Liberals.

Prohibition. One of the important measures will be the bill to amend the prohibition act by taking the sale of liquor out of the hands of the vendors and transferring it to the government, in other words to introduce the sale of liquor by a sub-inspector, the Gothenburg system. The act is at present administered by a board of commissioners, composed of Protestant and Catholic clergymen, who receive no salaries. There are one wholesale and three retail vendors. The profits during six months have been considerable. It is understood that the three retail men have earned in that time nearly $12,000. The proposition is to transfer that revenue to the province.

An interesting phase of the situation is a move made by the members of the Laborers' Protective Union to secure stronger beer-controlling at least five per cent of alcohol by weight. Temperance people take the ground that if they can keep prohibition in force for say ten years, the situation will be saved for the next generation despite violations of the act. The police records show quite a decrease in the number of drunks. The extension of suffrage to women is now being talked of.

VICTORY FOR WETS

Majority on Referendum in Quebec Province Now 110,000

Montreal, April 11—With a large number of distant points in the province to be heard from the "wet" majority registered in the referendum yesterday in favor of light wines, cider and beer jumped to 110,000 this morning, and was expected to go higher.

The temperance element, which was inclined to be very much downcast last night at the landslide, was this morning reported to be more cheerful. While the bone dry prohibition aimed at has not been achieved, prominent temperance advocates here say that a substantial victory has nevertheless been secured, because the people yesterday showed unmistakably, they say, that they want "bad stuff" done away with.

LATER Montreal, April 11—With the receipt of returns from outlying districts on the liquor referendum submitted to the Quebec electorate yesterday, the wet majority this morning rose to 125,000. The majority is expected to be increased, as all the returns have not yet been made. Montreal's wet majority was 63,111. In the sixty-five electoral districts outside of Montreal, only six voted dry.

The method of holding the referendum will be the subject of action to be taken by the temperance forces, S. J. Carter, of the Dominion Alliance, intimated this morning. Quebec, April 11—Sir Lomer Gouin, premier of Quebec, issued the following statement today: "Yesterday's vote is very categorical and leaves no doubt standing as to the opinion of the population of this province. I am satisfied that the legislature gave our population this occasion of expressing itself freely on the sale of beer and wine."

JAMES W. MORRISON. Friends will be sorry to learn of the death of James W. Morrison, architect and real estate dealer, which occurred this morning in the St. John infirmary following sickness of the last seven months. Mr. Morrison was sixty-one years old, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James R. Morrison. He is survived by three sisters—Mrs. Mary A. Currie and Mrs. H. B. Duke of St. John and Mrs. J. J. Ahearn of Roxbury, Mass. They will have the sympathy of many in their loss.

MISS WARNER'S LECTURE

Asks For Patience With Returned Men Because of What They Have Been Through

Let those who had not witnessed German methods of warfare should get too soon; let them should condone what they do not know, Miss Agnes Warner in the Baptist Institute last night addressed a thronged house, and in simple narrative told of her own experiences nursing the wounded French throughout the whole period of the war. Miss Warner held her audience spell-bound, and no flights or oratory could have brought home more clearly the sufferings of the wounded, the brutalities of the Germans and the plucky work of the hospital staff than did her plain and unglided record of what she had seen.

The gathering was held under the auspices of the High School Alumnae and the proceeds will be devoted to the Alumnae honor roll and the memorial scholarship.

Miss Jessie Lawson, the president, was in the chair and the stirring rendering of the Marseillaise by Miss Louise Knight with Miss Dorothy Bayard as accompanist, marked the opening of the evening's programme. After Miss Warner had concluded her address and shown her remarkably fine series of slides made from photographs taken by herself, she was presented a handsome bouquet of red roses by Mrs. Lloyd Estey.

Miss Lawson, in introducing Miss Warner, said that from five to six hundred names on the High School honor roll, thirty were girls, and amongst them the names of Miss Catherine Travis, Dr. Margaret Parks, Matron Edith Hegon, Miss Hare and Miss Warner stood out with shining lustre. Miss Warner had the honor of commanding the only ambulance unit of five nurses allowed to go nearer the front than twenty-miles when the German drive was in progress. Of the patients' field hospital to which she went after the first year of the war Miss Warner told many wonderful things. How a brigadier-general fraternized with the poilus in his ward; and how a Canadian, Macdonnell by name, one of the three British patients that had been cared for, had showed himself as brave as the French and had only exclaimed "Boy" when advised to use speech as a safety valve to the pain of his suffering on the removal of a bandage. She told also of the friendship of this Macdonnell and a wounded Frenchman kept up with unceasing conversation though neither understood the language of the other; of the boy field telephonist who thought his oxygen treatment was more telephoning, and said as he died that God was at the other end of the line; and of the orderlies drawn from all ranks and classes, twenty-seven of them priests, and some more intellectual than practical, even to the extent of using cocoa instead of a cleanser to scrub a table.

She appealed to her hearers in conclusion not to think that now the war was over France needed no more help. Her soldiers were not being welcomed as ours are. They were returning to desolate homes. Thousands of her villages were more desolate than Halifax after the explosion and many men knew not whether their families were alive or dead. For our own returning men she asked that they be dealt with patiently for they had endured almost the impossible. While at the front there was nothing that was not noble; in the idleness of inaction at the rear there must be discontent and trouble. There were two forms of vision, she said, or two men looking from the same window one would see mud and the other stars. The stars were there if they were only looked at and even in the mud of Flanders the nurses had seen them reflected brightly.

Frederick Kneeland, who has been for fifty years with the Northampton First National Bank, began his duties March 23, 1869, as "boy" to take care of two furnaces, sweep the floors, shovel the walks, and run on errands. From "boy" he advanced to bookkeeper, teller, cashier and vice-president.

WHARFAGE BILL IN HOUSE AROUSES SPIRITED DISCUSSION

Progress Finally Reported; Large Budget of Other Matters

Fredericton, April 10.—The St. John wharfage bill occupied the attention of the legislature for more than an hour this evening, and finally the committee reported progress without completing consideration of the measure but with the opposition to it lessened. After explanations had been given by St. John members, some of the more prominent opponents of the bill withdrew their opposition, but the required unanimous consent was not given to the withdrawal of an amendment to fix a maximum rate.

As the hour was getting late Premier Foster moved that the committee report progress. The St. John members, with the exception of Dr. Roberts, pressed for an immediate vote and demanded a division on the premier's motion. This was carried by a straight party vote and the bill was allowed to stand over.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating that distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas wind and blot right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She mixed Sulphur with it to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if you hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and lustrant.

schools. This bill also fixes St. John's school assessment at $275,000, but fixes this year's assessment of $225,000. The amendments to the vocational education act also passed. A group of seven private bills were taken up, and several were passed when the smooth progress of the business was interrupted by the appearance of the St. John wharfage bill. The house adjourned at 11.35 after disposing of several Campbellton bills.

The committee next took up further consideration of the bill which extends the electoral franchise to women, and to amend the New Brunswick elections act. Hon. Mr. Byrne, in reply to a question by Mr. Menzies, said the act provided for the preparation of a special female voters' list. It was proposed to have that done in the month of June and the revisors would make up the regular list in the autumn as was now the custom.

Mr. Baxter said the revisors should have more time in which to prepare the lists. A fortnight would be insufficient for this size of the voters' list which is at least doubled. The time should extend from May 9 to June 13. It must be remembered that there would be no assessment lists to which revisors could refer and lists of women's names used in the last dominion election were incomplete.

Hon. Mr. Byrne considered the suggestion a good one, and said he would let the section stand for the present. Mr. Miller said some of the revisors were very dilatory in attending meetings. The act should specify certain hours between which revisors would be ready to receive names.

Hon. Mr. Byrne said he was willing to accept a suggestion. Mr. Baxter pointed out that the election act should be amended in the same particular.

Progress on the bill was reported. The bill to amend the act relating to mussel mud as fertilizer was agreed to as read.

The bill to amend the motor vehicles act was taken up and was amended in regard to the definition of "dealers." Hon. Mr. Veniot drew attention to the fact that it was desirable that the heading of a driver of a car used for public transportation should be good for but one year.

Mr. Smith (Charlottetown) asked if the honorable minister of public works could make any announcement concerning a change in the rule of the road. At the last session the legislature had passed on the matter deciding in favor of changing from left to right, and it was left to be brought in by the government. Hon. Mr. Veniot said he was not in a position to announce when a change would be made. It was only by a majority of two that the house had decided in favor of a change to be brought in by order-in-council. Protest against any change from left to right had been heavy.

The committee took up consideration of the bill containing an agreement between the honorable minister of public works and the St. John Railway Company.

Hon. Mr. Veniot explained that this bill merely concerned the annual rental to be paid by the company for using rights over the bridge at the Reversing Falls, St. John. Other matters which had been included in a previous agreement which the company had desired to enter into were eliminated. The rental was to be $5,000 per year for five years, with an increase of one per cent.

The bill was reported as agreed to. Mr. Potts, referring to the homecoming of the 26th Battalion, said that the government should make an official part in the reception of this unit.

Hon. Mr. Foster said that the city of St. John was already making arrangements for the reception of the 26th. He had already referred to the necessity of a reception by the province.

Under that term of a bill to reform a grant of land from the crown to John Vickers.

The committee on resuming at 8 o'clock took up consideration of a bill to reform a grant of land from the crown to John Vickers. The committee next took up consideration of a bill to amend the act respecting the crown timber lands of the province, or sufficient to keep up to the capacity of their mills, the minister of lands and mines shall be authorized to take over a portion of such lands not exceeding twenty-five per cent. of the total. The act provides that decision shall be made by August, 1922.

The bill to amend the schools act was agreed to with an amendment legalizing the assessment made in the city of St. John for the present year.

The maximum amount to be assessed in St. John in any one year was fixed at $275,000, and that of the city of Fredericton at $600.

The committee next went into consideration of the bill to amend the act respecting the appointment by the board of education of a vocational education board, consisting of the chief superintendent of the Normal school, the secretary for agriculture, the director of elementary agricultural education and five others, one of whom will represent each one of, one manufacturing, and one commerce.

One of the latter shall be chairman of the board and the chief superintendent shall be vice-chairman. The terms of office of the five appointed members shall expire in 1921.

Mr. Murray (Kings) concurred in that view. Mr. Smith (Charlottetown) thought it might be a mistake to compel the retirement of members of the board in 1921.

Mr. Magee said the idea of the committee was to always have blue blood on the board and that was their reason for proposing the amendment to the act. The bill was agreed to with an amendment stipulating that a majority of the members of the committee shall constitute a quorum.

Hon. Mr. Veniot said he believed there were only twenty-eight of the originals now with the 26th. He thought the premier might probably welcome the 26th in the name of all battalions raised in the province. Hon. Mr. Murray concurred.

Fredericton, April 10.—Ever since the elections act was amended many years ago to fix the day of the week on which elections should be held in Gloucester county, for the benefit of the fishermen who were away nearly all week, governments have been accused of taking advantage of the opportunity thus afforded to fix the date of the general elections and in Gloucester so that they should reap the benefit. It was undoubtedly an advantage to be able to hold the election in this county either before or after the others, but the circumstances might warrant and as the advantage lay with the government, the arrangement was not entirely a fair one. In the legislature today the attorney-general announced that the government had decided to

OLD ENGLISH REMEDY FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment. Sprays, inhalants and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your Druggist 1 ounce of Parmit (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a ounce of granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmit used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a slight tonic action that facilitates obtaining the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh should give this treatment a trial.

MRS. LEWIS OF BROOKLYN

Tells How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"For one year I was miserable from a displacement, which caused a general run-down condition with headaches and pains in my side. My sister induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I found it helped me very much and such a splendid tonic that I am recommending it to any woman who has a similar trouble."—Mrs. EMILY C. LEWIS, 30 Vernon Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Such conditions as Mrs. Lewis suffered from may be caused by a fall or a general weakened run-down condition of the system, and the most successful remedy to restore strength to muscles and tissue and bring about a normal healthy condition—has proved to be this famous root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you have disturbing symptoms you do not understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

MILLIONS IN HIS IDEA

Frank W. Woolworth, Five and Ten Cent Store Millionaire Who Died the Other Day

The Times on Wednesday reported the death of Frank W. Woolworth, five and ten cent store millionaire king. He was born on a farm at Rodman, Jefferson County, N. Y., on April 18, 1852. Until he was twenty-one years old he worked on his father's farm, obtaining a meagre education in the district school and later at a business college.

His first position was an errand boy in a dry goods store, and he advanced until he became a clerk. Then he got married on $8.50 a week. He worked six years in the dry goods business in various stores before a successful bargain counter sale gave him the idea of the possibilities of making substantial profits from nickel and dime purchases.

His idea, when broached to his employers, was termed visionary and he was advised to stick to the "old-fashioned" plan of conducting a store.

Nevertheless, he was determined to test his plan and his first venture was at Utica in 1879. He had but $50 in cash and gave his note for the goods. In a year he had paid his debt and saved some money. Closing out his store, he located at Lancaster, Pa., and established not only a store but the foundation of his fortune.

His rapid rise from a "pigeon-hole" store to the palatial Woolworth building in New York—with more than 800 branch stores in the United States, more than sixty in Canada and England—forms one of the great business romances of the world. The business was incorporated several years ago for $65,000,000. In addition to being president of the firm of F. W. Woolworth & Co., he was the director of several banks and business enterprises. He maintained a residence on 5th avenue, noted for its rare paintings, and a country home at Glen Cove.

Mr. Woolworth suffered a nervous breakdown about six years ago, and had been in falling health since that time, although he managed to take an active interest in his business affairs until a few days ago, when he went to his country home on the advice of his physicians. He developed a cold on the trip and gradually became weaker. His doctors gave nervous exhaustion and septic poisoning as the cause of his death.

ART CLUB LECTURE

A very interesting lecture on "Iona, the historical and romantic Scotch Isle," was given by Miss E. B. Homer at the monthly meeting of the Art Club at the Studio, Peel street, last evening. There was a very large attendance present and a most enjoyable evening was spent. In the absence of W. Shives Fisher, the president, John Rogerson acted as chairman.

During the evening several Scotch songs were delightfully given by Miss Louise Anderson, the accompaniment being played by her sister, Miss Jean Anderson. Some of the old Jacobite songs of the days of Prince Charlie were exceptionally well rendered by T. Guy. The musical programme was very appropriate for the evening, and was much enjoyed by the audience. Refreshments were served, and the rest of the evening was spent in social conversation.

The missionary committee of St. Luke's church has just completed its report of the year's contributions to missionary objects, the total amount of gifts is $2,238.66.

MONROE DOCTRINE NOT AFFECTED BY LEAGUE OF NATIONS

League to Have General Supervision of the Sarre Valley

Paris, April 10—(By the Associated Press) — The League of Nations commission adopted tonight a new section to the covenant, specifically providing that the Monroe doctrine is not to be affected by the provisions of the covenant.

Paris, April 10—Provision that the League of Nations shall exercise general supervision of the Sarre Valley for a period of fifteen years was contained in the settlement of the Sarre problem effected Wednesday by the council of four.

This important change in the plan for the political administration of the region became known today. At the end of the fifteen year period a plebiscite will be taken to determine the wishes of the inhabitants regarding the future form of government. The change was made to avoid annexation and to establish the principle of self-determination. France is given economic control of the coal fields of the Sarre Valley up to an amount to recompense her for the losses sustained from German occupation of the coal fields of northern France.

The agreement accords to France free of duty sufficient coal for the Lorraine iron industry and to replace the production of the mines destroyed in the mining district, with the privilege to the Germans of restoring the Lens mines and thus relieving the Sarre Valley of that charge. This agreement removes one of the most difficult obstacles to the conclusion of peace.

GOING BACK TO WORK IN LOCAL PULP MILL

At a meeting of the Pulp, Paper and Sulphite Workers' Union, held last evening in the Temperance Hall, Fairville, it was decided to accept the terms of the Nashuak Pulp Company and go back to work this coming Monday.

The first meeting was open to the general public and there was a very large attendance of the citizens of Fairville. Addresses were given by W. Frank Hatheway and W. J. Linton, who spoke on the housing problem, and some of the solutions that are offered today to solve the pressing need for better housing conditions. Mr. Coholan also addressed the meeting.

The second meeting was solely for the former employees of the company and there was a very full attendance. The purpose of this meeting was the consideration of the propositions offered at the meeting of the representatives of the company and of the employees held in the mayor's office on Wednesday afternoon. A secret ballot was taken and it was decided to accept the terms offered by the company, which are that the management is agreeable to the eight-hour system, providing that there is a more efficient water supply, but are not in treating with those that they employ, non-union men if they apply for work and are suitable, and quite a number have already been engaged. It is not the intention, however, to reject men because they are members of the union. As a result of this agreement the men will go back to work on Monday morning.

In Parliament

Large Sum For War Expenses Asked For by Sir Thomas White

Ottawa, April 10—In the house of commons, today, Sir Thomas White introduced a resolution upon which a bill will be based, providing for the voting by parliament of $350,000,000 for defraying war expenses incurred during the year ending March 31, 1920.

Sir Thomas said that the war appropriation bill would also provide for the necessary borrowing powers to raise what portion of the total sum is required.

Sir Thomas stated that the total expenditure in connection with the war up to the end of last February was $1,225,098,122, and the estimated expenditure up to the end of last March was $1,277,273,000. The war expenditure by the government was as follows: 1914-15, $60,720,000; 1915-16, $166,000,000; 1916-17, $304,000,000; 1917-18, $841,000,000; 1918-19, $847,000,000. This last amount, he stated, was not complete, and it would probably reach $400,000,000 when all the returns were in.

The estimated war expenses for the fiscal year 1919-20 were divided as follows: Department of militia and defence, $275,494,757; other departments, $21,501,757; total, $296,996,514. In reply to Mrs. Devlin, who asked where Sir Thomas intended to get the money—by loan or increased taxation, the minister of finance said there was still $200,000,000 available. However, what they were doing today they could not continue to do, they could not continue credits.

Sir Thomas paid a warm tribute to the British authorities, saying we had much to be grateful for in what Great Britain had done to place all orders possible in Canada. She had gone to the limit of her financial powers in doing so. After some criticism by D. D. MacKenzie the resolution was carried and a bill based on it read a first time.

Dandruff Soon Ruins the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

MRS. HIPWELL HONORED.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union held a parlor meeting yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Osborne, Sydney street, and many who expect to join the union were present as guests on that occasion. Mrs. H. W. Robinson presided. Mrs. David Hipwell, the president, read the selected scripture and Mrs. Seymour, evangelistic superintendent, led in prayer. Miss Stella Earle and Miss N. Brown sang with great feeling, "Only a Smile." Mrs. R. D. Christie and Mrs. H. W. Robinson read the chosen chapters of the book which is being studied at the parlor meetings and afterwards Mrs. Christie read a paper on profanity, cigarettes and gambling. It being Mrs. Hipwell's birthday she was the recipient of a quite unexpected gift of a birthday cake made and presented by Mrs. Seymour. Mrs. Hipwell, in expressing her thanks for the gift, that was afterwards sampled by all present, spoke also with gratitude of the many cards which the members had sent to her. The cordial vote of thanks extended to Mrs. Osborne and her daughter, Mrs. Guy Turner, for their hospitality was moved by Mrs. W. H. Humphrey and seconded by Mrs. Hennigar.

Captain R. Fraser Armstrong, formerly superintendent of the water and sewerage department here, was among those decorated with the military cross by His Majesty King George at Buckingham Palace on March 27. Captain Armstrong went overseas in 1916 in the 98th battery and after one year's service was transferred to the Royal Engineers and later when the big drive began he was put on the headquarters staff of General Haig. He is now with the Canadian Engineers but is expected home within a few months. Captain

Armstrong has many friends here who will join in extending congratulations on the honor he has received.

A model last for women who prefer a long vamp with narrow or medium narrow toe.
Made in all leathers 8" or 9" height, Louis or Spanish heels.

True Economy in Stylish Boots

THE model illustrated is preferred by many women who like the refinements of style, yet do not wish to sacrifice comfort or service.

It has the popular Louis heel, combined with long vamp and medium narrow toe. For those who like a somewhat more extreme style, a similar model is provided with the Spanish heel (a trifle higher and more tapering) and a slightly narrower toe. Either model is always in good taste, and you may be sure of getting style value and of practising true economy when you ask your dealer for them. These boots may be obtained in black or tan calf and kid.

AMERICAN OBJECT TO CONTINUING FIGHT IN NORTHERN RUSSIA

Archangel, Tuesday, April 8.—(By The Associated Press)—In view of the situation which has developed among the American troops in Archangel, official circles are impressed with the necessity of promptly relieving the American soldiers who are now in North Russia. The soldiers have interpreted the Washington statement that they would be relieved at the earliest moment possible as meaning not later than June 1, which is the time they believe navigation at Archangel will probably be open, and while out of a spirit of loyalty to their officers and to American traditions they express a willingness to stick it out until that date, they are exceedingly reluctant to go to the front and risk their lives. A company of American troops recently showed some hesitation in returning to the fighting front south of Archangel, declaring that the war with Germany was over and that the United States was not at war with the Bolsheviks. The regimental commander, in a speech, said that they were fighting a desperate defensive battle and appealed to them to stick it out. The company then left for the front. The men contended that they were draft men conscripted for the war with Germany, which was finished now, that America was not at war with the Bolsheviks, that the entire Bolshevik question was the subject of much political debate and indecision in the United States and that so far as they were concerned they were unable to see why they should be fighting if there was no war. The regimental commander said that, perhaps, their own lives depended on the fighting on this front and then made his successful appeal. This incident was only the outcropping of what seems to be the general feeling among the American troops, officers and men. Because of this feeling, it is admitted more or less generally that the troops now here probably will be of little use after June 1. SALVATION ARMY FUND DRIVE. Boston, April 11—The Salvation Army will start on May 19 a campaign to raise in New England $2,016,000 for carrying forward its work. The sum of $628,000 will be needed for new properties in New England to be taken over during the year. The pension fund and national requirements will take $695,000 of New England's quota. Scandinavian, Finnish and other non-English-speaking branches of the organization in the northeast district will necessitate an appropriation of $211,000; while $216,000 will be needed for social work.

SYNOPSIS

SHIRLEY was the pluckiest little girl in the world, and when doctor said her invalid mother must get out of the city and she had only pennies in her pocket-book, she rented an old stone barn, in the midst of brooks, birds and flowers. Prince Bountiful was her landlord and he loved Shirley for her bravery in living in a barn, so he transformed it into a Wonderland, and her mother shook her head and prayed that the Prince would not break her daughter's heart. There was a beautiful Princess who tried to lure the Prince away from the little stenographer who lived in a barn. And there were robbers who tried to steal the Prince's fortune, but Shirley foiled them, and because she would not take any reward, the Prince married her in The Enchanted Barn.

"Hands Up" is a western serial—the first to be put out by Pathé with such an atmosphere. It is cyclonic in its swift-moving qualities, in its big crashing climaxes. It is jammed full of thrilling deeds, its feats of horsemanship, its hair-bread escapes. Its plot is novel, dealing as it does with ancient Incas, and a beautiful girl whom they believe to be a princess, and their efforts to capture her and make her a living sacrifice, and the gallant aid furnished her by a handsome cow-puncher, and his friends, form the theme of the story. Nor should the Phantom Rider be forgotten. He is a unique and knightly figure. Time and again he interferes in behalf of the heroine, but his identity remains a mystery.

MUCH DAMAGE YET FROM MINES AT SEA

May Be Several Years Before Waters Are Free of Floating Menace

Constantinople, March 9.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Floating mines in the Dardanelles and Sea of Marmora still constitute great danger to navigation. Several ships have been lost since the armistice through mine explosions. The armistice required Turkey to indicate all mines, but it has not been possible in all cases to give their exact position. Mine-sweepers have been at work for some time, but naval authorities say it will be many months before vessels can proceed through the straits with safety. No navigation is permitted at night. On passenger vessels lifeboat drills are held regularly, just as in days when submarines menaced the seas.

Even in the broad stretches of the Aegean Sea the greatest precautions are taken against floating mines. In certain areas passengers are required to wear life preservers, and narrow lanes of travel have been marked out for pilots to follow.

But it is in the Black Sea that the greatest danger exists. Not only are there numerous floating mines there, but extensive unmarked mine fields laid indiscriminately by the Germans, Russians and Bolsheviks. They are a constant menace to shipping. The steamer bearing the American Red Cross mission to Roumania narrowly missed a floating mine while proceeding to Constantia.

Often these mines are carried away by the swift current in the Bosphorus Straits to the Sea of Marmora, where they are an ever-present danger to the hundreds of naval and merchant vessels. Naval authorities say it will be several years before the waters of Europe are entirely free of floating mines. Many of the German mines destroyed by Allied trawlers were found to have been moored by rope. When the rope rotted the mines broke from their anchorages and drifted in many cases to the main line of steamer travel.

The Sparrows Win.

By taking all four points from the Eagles last night the Sparrows clinched the league championship. Some more games are yet to be rolled, but the Sparrows cannot now be headed. This team has won all three series by consistent good bowling and keeping at it, and close attention to the game and to practice. They have made a uniformly good showing. Lost Battalion Story Told By "Y" Man Who Was First Civilian To Aid Survivors

HARRY W. BLAIR. S. B. Burrows, of New York, Says "WE'RE Americans—We Can't Surrender." Was Real Reply to German Demand To Quit

One of the most prized traditions of the war has been shattered—the famous "Go to hell" of Lieut. Col. Charles W. Whittlesey, of the "Lost Battalion," in reply to the German demand for surrender.

The message which thrilled the world when the story of the "Lost Battalion" was told was never sent, according to Stephen B. Burrows, of New York, a Y.M.C.A. man, recently returned from France, who with Harry W. Blair, of Carthage, Mo., another "Y" man, was the first civilian to give aid to the American heroes when they were rescued in the depths of the Argonne Forest last October. Burrows asserts that no reply whatever was made to the boche call to the Americans to quit.

During the six days and nights in which the battalion, cut off from all help, was enduring wounds, thirst, hunger and constant attacks by the Germans, Burrows and Blair were within 1,000 yards of the beleaguered troops, helping to care for the wounded and giving out supplies. In support of his statement that no reply was made to the Germans, Burrows points out that there were no means at hand for sending an answer unless that answer was an agreement to surrender.

Followed Boys Over Top Burrows and Blair were attached to the 38th Infantry and followed the boys over the top when the 77th Division began its great drive on the Argonne Forest last September. During the first five days' fight, in which the doughboys hacked their way to the middle of the fourteen-mile wedge of woods, Burrows was at work giving out supplies and caring for the wounded, and he was in the front lines when, on October 2, the order came to Col. Whittlesey to advance his men 1,000 yards.

The jungle-like density of the forest, the Y.M.C.A. man relates, was largely responsible for the success of the German command which nearly cost the lives of Whittlesey and 600 men. As soon as Whittlesey advanced, the enemy filtered by both his flanks and within a few hours, by means of hidden machine guns and squads of snipers and grenade throwers, had cut off the battalion entirely from the 77th line.

For two days, Burrows says, the fate of the battalion was not known. Then some pigeons arrived giving some details of the disaster and describing the battalion's position in the forest. Meanwhile every effort was being made to cut a way through to the relief of the boys. So strong was the concentration of machine guns, that daylight fighting was little better than sul-

The assistance of the Y. M. C. A. at that time was tremendously appreciated by the men and by the officers and was given in a fine and liberal spirit without any suggestion of reimbursement. Furthermore, the Y. M. C. A. was the only organization present at that time. I should like to add that it has always been my impression that the work of the Y. M. C. A. in being my greatest help and was the only and greatest help I received.

S. B. Burrows, Esq., 811 Beverly Road, Brooklyn, N. Y.

My dear Mr. Burrows:

You have called my attention to the fact that the statement has been made that, on the relief of the "Lost Battalion," money was charged by the Y.M.C.A. for chocolate and cocoa supplied to the men. Of course you and I know that this is not a fact, and I take great pleasure in stating that on that occasion the first food which the men received was the cocoa supplied by the Y.M.C.A. The assistance of the Y.M.C.A. at that time was tremendously appreciated by the men and by the officers, and was given in a fine and liberal spirit without any suggestion of reimbursement. Furthermore, the Y.M.C.A. was the only organization present at that time. I should like to add that it has always been my impression that the work of the Y. M. C. A. in our regiment was of the very greatest help, and was thoroughly and gratefully appreciated.

Sincerely, Charles W. Whittlesey.

All the attempts had to be made at night.

Would Not Signal Airman

How little intention Whittlesey and his men had of surrendering is indicated, Burrows points out, by their sacrifice of food and ammunition which they could have had by attracting the attention of the aviators who flew over every day trying to locate the battalion so as to drop supplies. The besieged battalion was provided with squares of red and white oilcloth which, spread on the ground, could be seen by the airmen, but the men refused to use them for fear that the Germans would mistake the white oilcloth for a sign of surrender.

One package of ammunition and food landed near the battalion, Burrows says. When several doughboys crept down from the hillside into which they had dug themselves and tried to get this package, the German snipers and machine gunners wiped out the little group. Col. Whittlesey ordered that no more attempts be made to get this food.

These airmen won the admiration of the entire division by their daring attempts to help the trapped men. Burrows says that the aviators, in their efforts to see the men, would come down almost to the tops of the trees, flying through a hail of bullets from the German rifles. Two of these aviators were shot down, and the wings of every machine that went over were riddled, yet the fliers returned every day and resumed their search.

Surrender Demand Arrives

It was on the fourth day that the surrender demand arrived. Toward late afternoon the men on the left of the battalion heard a hail from the woods and a German, in English, shouted that he had a prisoner with a note for the battalion commander. This prisoner was a doughboy who had been one of a party of ten that had tried to get back for help. Six were killed and the other four captured after they had been knocked out with grenades and wounded by machine gun bullets.

STEPHEN B. BURROWS. Two Y. M. C. A. Men Were Within 1,000 Yards of Besieged Doughboys During Week of Peril, and Were First Civilians to Aid Them When Rescued

This survivor, blindfolded and with the German note in his hand, was led to a point near the left flank of the battalion. One of Whittlesey's men crawled through the underbrush, found the prisoner and guided him back to his comrades. The note was taken to Col. Whittlesey. In effect, it is said that the battalion, which had been without food for four days, was entirely surrounded and could not hope to escape; and urged that, in order to the wounded and to those still living, further resistance should be abandoned.

According to members of the battalion whom Burrows talked with immediately after their rescue, Col. Whittlesey remarked, after carefully reading the note: "We're Americans—we can't surrender."

Could Not Send Reply

In order to make any reply, the "Y" man explains, either a doughboy would have to carry it, becoming a prisoner, or it would have to be shouted, a dangerous proceeding because it would help indicate the position of the battalion. So the boys simply dug themselves in and hung on.

In two days, more than 1,000 casualties resulted from the attempts to rescue the battalion, Burrows says. The troops had to make all their dashes by night, and the only route by which they could approach the advance position was up a winding ravine in which the Germans had built a narrow gauge track. The enemy kept this ravine under constant fire, and the casualties among the relief squads were heavy.

When the battalion finally was rescued, Burrows and Blair, who had moved up their supplies, had not drinks and cigarettes for the 400 survivors as they were brought back into the lines and helped give first aid to the wounded and get them back to the dressing stations. Burrows is loud in praise of the late Maj. James A. Roosevelt and his men of the supply company since without their help it would have been impossible to get Y. M. C. A. supplies up to the boys in the front lines. As it was, Burrows and Blair were always able to give fairly prompt service. After the first of October they gave away more than 28,000 francs of supplies to the doughboys of their division, making no attempt to sell anything.

Burrows and Blair were with the 77th Division during the Argonne fight and remained with it until the armistice was signed. Burrows is married, has three children and is an electrical engineer. Blair, who is still in France, is a lawyer.
