St. George, N. B.

Welcomes the Issue

"It is said in the present campaign of Mr. Borden and Mr. Foster that this is a campaign for clean politics. If that is to be the issue, ladies and gentlemen, I accept the issue in its entirety. (Cheers) They say that we have been guilty of corruption, and if that be the challenge, then I accept it in its entirety; but before I go further, let me say this that I am familiar with the tactics--with such tactics as these--and I am too old a bird to be taken in by them. I know something of the history of the Tory Party, and when you hear them appealing to the country for honest Government, I know that it is a new chapter in a very old story. The Tory party is famous for much preaching as for poor performing. (Cheers.) Let me go one step further. We are charged with having been corrupt. What are the charges? When have they been uttered? In the session of eight months, duration which was drawn to a close a few weeks ago, was there any charge made against the Government such as was made against the Conservative Government in the days of the Pacific scandal, or in the days of the McGreevey scandal, or in the days of the St. El-real scandal, when the Government was directly taken to task for acts of corruption for which chapter and book were given? No, Sir. No charges of that kind were made, but charges were made against whom? As has just been said by my friend here, Mr. German, they were made against subordinates, not officials."

--Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Niagara.

Temperance Reform

An amendment was made to the Canada Temperance Act, on 20th July 1908, which provides that no person shall send, ship, bring or cause to be sent, shipped, brought or carried to or into any County or City in which the Canada Temperance Act is in operation, any intoxicating liquor, unless it shall be for the person's own use. A further provision is that no person by his clerk, servant or agent shall deliver to any consignee, or other person, or store, warehouse or keep for delivery any intoxicating liquor so sent, shipped, borrowed, brought or carried. Penalties are provided for violation of the amended law. The practical effect of this legislation is that it is illegal to carry this liquor into a Scott Act County or other place, that it is illegal to store it. Of course legal forms are provided for the procuring of a warrant to search for such liquor. There is no authority in the amendment to the Act for any man with merely an axe to go after it; the man authorized to search for it must go in the day time, and take the intoxicating liquor found before the magistrate who issues the search warrant. The effect of the law will undoubtedly be to check the sending of intoxicating liquor into places where the Canada Temperance Act is in force.--St. John Globe.

To Stop a Crying Baby

It may be cramps, perhaps colic, pain or gas on the stomach,--but in any case a few drops of Nerviline soothes the pain and allows the child to sleep peacefully. Mothers, you will find Nerviline an invaluable aid in preventing sickness. Keep a bottle right at hand, some day you will need it. Sold everywhere at 25c.

I have told you of Alexander MacKenzie, who was an old man in those days. He had a struggle in his own life, and today he is extolled to the sky--and properly so--as a heritage to the Canadian people, and we are all proud of his honor, his sterling integrity, acknowledged by all Canadians, whether Grit or Tory--the very essence of honesty. You Reformers, you old Liberals, know how it was in the days of MacKenzie. These men shed tears because the party today is not in the hands of such a man as he was. And I may ask you old Grits, you old Reformers, how was MacKenzie treated when in life and in office? Was he treated any better than we are today? No. Is it not a fact, on the contrary, that he, an honest man, whose honesty and integrity today is acknowledged all over the land, was accused himself of all sorts of acts of corruption?--SIR WILFRID LAURIER AT NIAGARA FALLS.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

How the Liberal Majority is Made up

It may be of interest at this time to point out that the Liberal government has an overwhelming majority in the Commons. Only a political avalanche, of which there are no signs, could convert the government's great majority into a minority. The figures by provinces are--Ontario, Liberals 59, Conservatives 47; Quebec, Liberals 54, Conservatives 11; Nova Scotia, Liberals 17, Conservatives 1; New Brunswick, Liberals 8, Conservatives 5; Manitoba, Liberals 7, Conservatives 3; Saskatchewan, Liberals 1; Alberta, Liberals 2; British Columbia, Liberals 7, Conservatives 0; Prince Edward Island, Liberal 1, Conservative 3; Yukon 1 Conservative Total: Liberals 140, Conservatives 74. Liberal majority 66.

Where Sit the Mighty

The kindly old gentleman who loves children was walking through Central Park and stopped to watch a group of youngsters at play. He stood for some time unnoticed by them, and then, at last, sank upon a nearby bench to continue his observations. It was at that moment one of the little ones, catching his eye burst into tears. "Get up off'n that there bench!" wailed the youngster. "On, my lad, protested the old gentleman, retaining his position, "don't you know that that is no way to address your elders?" But the youngster brandishing his fists threateningly and violence gleamed from his blazing eyes. "You get up right away," he cried, "or you'll be sorry for it!" "But by boy," mildly protested the shocked old gentleman, sitting tight, you should at least ask me politely, and give a reason for your request."

Have You Warts?

You can cure them painlessly by Putnam's Corn and Wart Extractor. Never known to fail. Be sure you get Putnam's, in 25c. bottles.

A Note of Warning to South African Volunteers

Major H. B. Stairs, of Halifax, N. S., has received further news concerning the value of land selection rights to be granted to South African Volunteers. No price has been established as yet. Many men have unwisely let their rights go for less than $300. On the other hand, several contracts have been made for delivery of rights at $700, each and it is probable that $1,000 would be a fair price. Major Stairs' informant advises the veterans should not be in a hurry to dispose of their claims. There are numerous speculators looking for these claims at low prices, and selling to them means a lower price to others who do not sell.

Away With Humbug!

The Toronto Presbyterian, which takes first rank among the religious journals of the Dominion and is recognized as a worthy mouthpiece of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, is not afraid, unlike certain of its contemporaries, to speak out boldly and plainly on the shocking revelations of bribery and corruption in the Stanfield election in Colchester. The Presbyterian in its issue of September 3rd, says, under the caption "For a Clean Election!" "The country is upon the eve of a 'great political campaign. It is practically certain that within two months the general election for the Dominion Parliament will be held. Coincident with the announcement of the elections comes the report of an election trial in Nova Scotia with 'evidence of political corruption of the lowest and most revolting character. 'The statement is made that the trial has been brought on at this time for the sake of its effect upon the approaching elections. However that may be, one would hardly expect that the effect from the party standpoint, would be very great. Unfortunately, the practices disclosed here, not been hitherto unknown in Canadian politics, nor have they been confined to one party. The evidence in Colchester could be matched by the evidence that is coming out in other Provinces. Let us hope, however, that these saddening disclosures may have the effect of increasing the desire and the determination of those who care for their country's welfare that the coming election shall be conducted as far as possible in a clean and honorable manner. If politics were only a game, it should be played fairly and in accordance with the rules. But it is far more than a game. National and moral interests are involved. There is no party whose return to power is so essential, no issue at stake of such transcendent magnitude, that it is worth while for men to break the laws and debauch their fellows for the sake of gaining their desired end. Let good men unite for a clean election."

School Rules

Half mankind belong to the migratory animals. Home and duty are all right for ten-twelfths of the year, but with the coming of the crispness in the air, when the sky begins to look purple through the brown branches, when the birds chatter and chatter and finally circle and soar away after the sunshine--then something happens to the blood and the heart goes flying after the little fluttering feathered clouds and it is "Oh, the wings of a dove!" Kipling described the spring running, and of course he has described it gloriously, but in this country anyway, some of us get those wild joys in autumn rather than in spring.--The Travel Magazine.

Great Danger in Headaches

It's often dangerous to consider headache a trifling ailment. If the head aches, the stomach is out of order and some serious disease may be impending. To tone up the stomach, to give it healthy action, nothing in modern medicine is so powerful as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The concentrated vegetable extracts in Dr. Hamilton's Pills have a quieting healthful effect on the stomach and remove all disorders. Your headache will be cured and they won't return, if you use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Sold everywhere.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER PRAISING PE-RU-NA.

MRS. GERTRUDE MCKIERMAN, 216 Noosho street, Emporia, Kas., writes: "I suffered very much with a severe cold in the head and was always complaining of feeling tired and drowsy. When my mother suggested and insisted on my taking a few bottles of Peruna, I did so, and in a short time I felt like a new person. My mother praises it very highly and so do I." Confidence in Pe-ru-na. Mrs. M. F. Jones, Burning Springs, Ky., writes: "We have been using Peruna for some time and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the thousand and one ailments of humanity. 'From a personal test I shall not hesitate to recommend it, especially to all suffering women. 'Peruna has gained full confidence and a permanent stay in our home.' A Great Tonic. Mrs. Anna Lindor, R. R. 5, Dassel, Minn., writes: "I took Peruna and am well. I would not be without that great tonic for ten times its cost."

FOSTER IS FLOORED

"Now what has been the record of the financial man, I am not equal to Mr. Liberal Government, which has been Fielding. He is my leader in that line; accused by Mr. Foster of extravagance? but I think I may give a lesson in finance. What has been the record? That record is to Mr. Foster from Charles Dickens, that for the last twelve years, except from the character of Mr. Micawber, one, we have had surprises. We had like Mr. Foster, Micawber was always not a surplus in the first year of our difficulties, and always waiting for Administration when we followed Mr. something to turn up, and also he was Foster, we had a deficit of $500,000, but he gave to David Copperfield was to surplus of $1,000,000, then $4,000,000, down upon the dreary sea, and, in short, these words: Annual income £20, each of $7,000,000 again, then of $12,000,000, then of $16,000,000 and at last come, £20, expenditure £20.68, result 19,000,000. (Prolonged applause.) misery. The blossom is blighted, the year after that, in 1897, we had a deficit of $500,000, but he gave to David Copperfield was to surplus of $1,000,000, then $4,000,000, down upon the dreary sea, and, in short, these words: Annual income £20, each of $7,000,000 again, then of $12,000,000, then of $16,000,000 and at last come, £20, expenditure £20.68, result 19,000,000. Leader of the Nation Appeals with the Statesman's M

The Great Liberal Chieftain Was Acclaimed before by Fifteen to Eighteen Thousand People at Niagara Falls in His Honor at Niagara Falls Old Man, Alexander Mackenzie, was Slender in his day, so Today an Unscrupulous Hurling Unfounded Accusations at the Given Canada Twelve Years of Honest

Niagara Falls, Sept. 15.—This was a great day for Liberalism. It witnessed the opening under most auspicious conditions, of what will assuredly be a memorable campaign; it furnished overwhelming proof of the commanding position which Sir Wilfrid Laurier occupies in the eyes of the people and of the confidence with which his policy of administration is regarded, and it gave him the opportunity of which he took full advantage. The scene in Queen Victoria Park was one which will not be easily forgotten. Massed amidst beautiful surroundings was a crowd estimated at from 15,000 to 18,000 people, all eager to acclaim, not alone the chief of the great party, but the leader of the nation, a statesman who ranks among the greatest of his time.

SPRIT OF BUOYANCY

In the great concourse of people there was a spirit of buoyancy, almost of gaiety, not usually associated with a political gathering, and yet with a sense of exhilaration everyone present felt the impulse of a great movement, the first inward sweep of a wave of public opinion which gives signs of again carrying the Liberal cause to victory.

The enthusiasm which greeted Sir Wilfrid was more than a demonstration of hearty loyalty; it was the moving expression of affection and veneration, an impressive tribute to the personal worth as well as the spontaneous and hearty acknowledgement of political service. People came from all parts of the Niagara peninsula farmers eager to see and hear one who had proved so real a friend interrupted their harvesting operations to attend the meeting; artisans who had obtained or taken holiday flocked to the scene. Toronto, Hamilton and other cities sent contingents, and even Americans joined in the pilgrimage. Complaints sometimes voiced by the Conservatives that nature smiles only on Liberals was justified on this occasion, for more ideal weather for the demonstration could not have been desired.

EAGER TO DO BATTLE

The Premier signalled his appearance in the fighting line, eager once more to do battle on behalf of the cause he has served so splendidly, with speech that was full of fire and fervor. The speech of a statesman abounding in confidence he has the people behind him, and who is not to be drawn from his course by malignant attacks of an not over scrupulous in (opposition). It may be doubted whether Sir Wilfrid ever was in better fighting form.

John Logan was chairman. Opening addresses were given by O. H. Sealey, Liberal candidate for Wentworth; Millar, candidate in Haldimand, and German, M. P. for Welland. German asked: "What will we get if we put in Borden and his friends?" Choice tomatoes," said Foster were political exiles from their own country. German continued; Borden could not get a seat throughout the length and breadth of Nova Scotia, and was forced to come to Ontario and run in Carleton county.

FOSTER DRIVEN OUT

Foster had been driven out of New Brunswick and forced to come to the Tory Toronto.

Sir Wilfrid was received with roars of cheers, which lasted for quite a time, the band striking up "Maple Leaf" and "O, Canada."

Sir Wilfrid said: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: Proud as I am of this immense demonstration, I must tell you very frankly that outside of that fact in a sense I am almost sorry for its proportions, for I feel that with all the good will I can put into it my poor voice is not equal to render justice to its magnitude. When my friend German invited me a few weeks ago to attend the demonstration to open the campaign in Ontario, which I am not sure is to come off immediately, but is not very far distant, he told me that I would receive a very grand reception. I was sure of it because I knew German as you know him, and I knew him to be a man of his word, but he did not tell

SOME SUPERIOR CLAY

The Conservative party had come to believe that the Creator had made them of some sort of superior clay and that the lot of we poor Grits was simply to hew wood and draw water for them. (Laughter) Every day and every night they dreamed dreams of Joseph, and they saw small Grit sheaves paying obeisance to big Tory sheaves. Well, the elections of 1866 came and they were mightily undecieved. Mightily undecieved, did I say? I must withdraw that expression. They were not undecieved. Their eyes were not opened. They still believed that they were bound to rule, and they expressed the opinion that our victory in 1866 was simply a fluke, that already the people had repented of what they had done, and just as soon as they had opportunity of so doing they would reverse their verdict. The elections of 1900 came but the verdict was not reversed, as you know. It was quite the reverse on that occasion. Still the Conservatives were not undecieved. They cherished the hope—it was hard to give up long cherished delusions to gain the elections in 1904, and when the elections of 1904 came they were simply smitten hip and thigh. (Cheers.)

NEW ELECTIONS COMING

"Now new elections are coming—when? I am not in a position, have not an opportunity to give the date today, but perhaps within two, three or four days, when I am speaking at Strathroy, I may make an announcement. However, we believe the elections are not very far off. Now the Tories have changed their tactics, they no longer attack our platform, and speak of the danger and injuries it would result if that platform were adopted. They have changed their tune, they have changed their ground, and now they attack not our platform but those who made the platform—that is, they attack me and my fellow leaders. Now their charge that we have deserted Liberal principles and failed to apply our policy, Sir, this is, it must be admitted, a very strange reproach in the mouth of the Conservative party, of Conservative organs and Conservative speakers and pressmen. This subject strange in their mouth, that they make it a reproach upon us. Now, if they were honest when they ask thus of the dangers of our policy, and it would be injurious and fatal to the people of Canada if it were true, as alleged, that we had failed to apply principles, they might be some attention paid them. But this is not their language. I could understand that language in the mouths of Liberals, if it were true, Liberals should not. But for the Conservative party to make that reproach is simply

METHOD IN THEIR MADNESS

"But sir, if it is madness their method in their madness; they know at they are about. Only one thing obvious, the trick is too gross, we can see it as through glass, and their object is to create discontent, and their oratory, their newspapers, do you find every day they are appealing to old Liberals, hugging them to their bosom with affection and suspected them before. Now ought to have my share of the decision of theirs, for I am myself an old Liberal. I had the honor to be the disciple of that great and good man, once leader of the Liberal party, Alexander MacKenzie, I entered parliament when he was the leader of parliament and of the government. I served under him and sat at his feet. So I say with some pride—and I pretend somewhat to modesty—that I have endeavored to walk in the path of his policy. But sir, what do they tell us, what do they tell the old Liberals? They would have the old Liberals believe that we have not applied our principles.

"It would be well, perhaps, to tell a tale from the history of England which perhaps has some reason for its application to this case. Charles II. was King of England and he was not a very good man in some things, like myself,—(laughter)—because gentlemen, I read the daily press of the Conservative party, and I have read it every day for thirty years.

cause gentlemen, I read the daily press of the Conservative party, and I have read it every day for thirty years.

HAD SOME GOOD POINTS

"Charles II. had many good points, and I may say that perhaps I have some good points also. Charles II. had no children, and that perhaps is another point of comparison, and his brother was heir, who became James II., and who had not the good points that Charles had. One day he told his brother that had news had come to him, that he had read a notice that there was a plot to assassinate the King Charles simply tapped his brother on the shoulder and said: They will never kill me to make you King. (Laughter) I have this to say; that there is not an old Liberal who will take the power away from me and my friends, George F. Graham and Rodolphe Lemieux, to give it to the hands of Borden and Foster. (Cheers.)

"But, sir, this is not sufficient. Let me go a step further. It is said in the present campaign of Borden and Foster that this is a campaign for clean politics. If that is to be the issue, ladies and gentlemen, I accept the issue in its entirety, but before I go further let me say this, that I am familiar with tactics—with such tactics as these—and I am too old a bird to be taken in by them. I know something of the history of the Tory party, and when you hear them appealing to the country for honest government I know that it is a new chapter in a very old story. The Tory party is famous for much preaching and for poor performing.

WHAT ARE THE CHARGES?

"Let me go one step further. We are charged with having been corrupt. What are the charges? When have they been made? When have they been uttered? In the session of eight months' duration which was drawn to a close a few weeks ago, was there any charge made against the Conservative government in days of the Pacific scandal or in the days of the McGreevey scandal, or in the days of the steel rails scandal, when the government were directly taken to task for acts of corruption for which chapter and book were given? No sir. No charge of that kind was made, but charges were made against whom? As has just been stated by my friend here, Mr. German, charges were made against subordinates, against officials. Well, that was our duty in such circumstances. We did not wait until charges were made against officials, against subordinates in the session of 1907. We have reasons to believe there were irregularities in the department of marine and fisheries, for instance, and do some others, and what did we do under such circumstances. What was our conduct?

DISHONESTLY PUNISHED

We did, sir, what any honest man would have done, what any honest government would have done, what Sir Alexander MacKenzie himself would have done. We appointed a commission to investigate. The commission sat and reported, and having gone through the whole matter they brought in a report in which they stated that there were irregularities. There were no names given.

Something more was done, and what was it? We appointed another commission, took one of the judges of the land, a man whose honor was beyond reproach—Justice Cassels—to carry out the investigation. (Applause.) Sir, could we do any more? But I have told you I am not surprised much at it. I have told you of Alexander MacKenzie, who was an old man in those days. He had a struggle in his own life, and today he is extolled to the sky—and properly so—as a heritage to Canadian people and we are all proud of his honor, his sterling integrity, acknowledged by all Canadians, whether Grit or Tory—the very essence of honesty. You reformers, you old Liberals, know how it was in the days of MacKenzie. These men shed tears because the party today is not in the hands of such a man as he was, and I may ask you old Grits, you old reformers, how was MacKenzie treated when in life and in office? Was he treated any better than we are today? No. Is it

Tory Organ Congratulates the Militia Department

Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia, made announcement at a banquet of riflemen in Ottawa that an order in Council had been passed embodying an agreement which had been entered into with the Education Department of Nova Scotia, setting forth that the Militia Department will furnish free of cost to the schools, instructors in drill and shooting providing the schools will adopt a regulation to the effect that all teachers be compelled in the future to pass examination in physical training and drill before receiving certificate. Another order in Council gives the Department authority to make similar arrangements with other Provinces. At the risk of arousing the ire of our anti-militarist friends, we congratulate the Militia Department upon this forward move. There is that about it which commends it to common sense and good judgment—Hamilton Spectator.

LIFE'S PLEASURES REST ON NOURISHING BLOOD
 Is Yours Rich, or Weak?

If your color is poor, your blood is poor. If you lack strength, can't get fat, can't do your work, it's because your blood is too thin to nourish the body. Your condition is like an expiring fire. Fuel must be added or the fire goes out. Nutrient, new building material must be instantly infused into the blood—the vital stream must be quickened and enriched. Do this and your health is assured.

Simply take Ferrone.

Its miraculously stimulating influence upon the appetite upon the formation of rich, red blood makes available for building up of the system the very nutriment it requires.

The heart, strengthened by the increased nutrition Ferrone supplies, is more regular in its action, and imparts an impetus to the circulation that ensures the proper discharge of all the functions of the body.

There very quickly sweeps through the whole body a stream of vitalized, strength-giving blood.

Quickly color is restored to the cheeks. Elasticity, endurance and vigor come to the muscular system.

In brief, the old time strength and vigor are restored, and those insidious charms that spring from good health, high spirits and endurance, are gained by every short use of Ferrone.

A true, uplifting tonic, a medicine that goes to the root of things—one that makes the weak strong, makes the sick well—makes the despondent ones happy—that is Ferrone. Truly a wonderful remedy, try it, 50c. per box at all druggists.

HE WANTED REST.
 What Verdi Did With the Key of a Locked Piano.

Not all the great composers have courted the constant admiration of the world. Verdi used to lament that he was unable to find a refuge, even for a brief space, from the reputation that preceded him wherever he went.

At one time he desired to spend a much needed holiday at the watering place of Montecatini. When he arrived, he found that in one of the apartments assigned to him stood a grand piano of noted make. On the rack, by way of compliment, lay the score of "Il Trovatore." As soon as he caught sight of it the veteran flew into a rage, hastily locked the instrument, threw the score into a corner and, calling for his host, demanded in tragic tones: "Lead me to the spot that overhangs the deepest precipices!"

Working the host did as he was bidden, and on reaching the summit the maestro, who was almost exhausted from fatigue, flung the key of the piano into the abyss, energetically exclaiming as he did so: "Now I have done something to secure rest and quiet. On the day of my departure I shall send a locksmith to provide the piano with a new key, but while I am here I pray you let it remain as it is!"

Three Working Rules
 Dr. Edward Everett Hale in his June page in the Woman's Home Companion gives three working rules for conduct of life.

1. Live in the open air as much as you can.
2. Touch elbows with the rank and file.
3. Speak every day to some one whom you know to be your superior.

A Difficult Brand

An eminent medical gentleman engaged a nurse, recently graduate, for a case of delirium tremens. The physician succeeded in quieting the patient left some medicine, instructing the nurse to administer it to him if he "began to see snakes again." At the next call the physician found the patient again raving. To his puzzled inquiry the nurse replied that the man had been going on that way for several hours and that she had not given him any medicine.

"But didn't I tell you to give it to him if he began to see snakes again?" demanded the physician.

"But he didn't see snakes this time," replied the nurse confidently. "He saw red, white and blue turkeys with straw hats on."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Remedy for Straight Hair

Straight hair is the bane of a girl's existence, and her lucky sister who was born with naturally wavy locks does not realize the agony the girl with the straight hair endures.

A good solution is the white of an egg mixed with an equal amount of rose water and a few drops of some fragrant perfume. Then the hair should be slightly shampooed with the mixture before wrapping around the curlers. Left until thoroughly dry, then brushed gently, the hair will be wavy, with a soft sheen on it, besides looking light and fluffy; and the wave will remain permanent, in spite of rain or fog.

The Wrong Shop.

He was only a plain American panhandler, says the New York Globe, but he ordered his "schonner" of Bowery beer with the same froth of a plain American plutocrat. Midway in its consumption he stilled to the free lunch counter and reduced the pile of big sausages by one.

Two more gulps of beer and a second and third large sausage disappeared. Washing these down, he concluded that he needed a sausage and got it; then for the door.

"Here, Bill," the genial barkeeper called familiarly. "Come back a minute."

The panhandler returned expectantly. "Say, Bill," the barkeeper continued in a confidential way, "the next time you want a glass of beer you go to a butcher shop, see?"

Shock to the Waiter.

There was a terrible commotion in the kitchen of the cafe. They could see it through the swinging doors. Some one went to investigate.

"What is it?" they asked when he had returned.

"A waiter fainted," he answered as he took his seat. "They are slipping him with wet towels, trying to bring him to. Did you see that woman who just left? She was the cause. She gave him a quarter tip."

Dear to Him.

"Before we were married you called me 'darling.' Now you seem content to call me 'dear.'"

"You weren't so dear to me before marriage as you are now. Your father paid your bills."

First Family Row.

"Do you know who created the first family row on record?"

IRRESISTIBLE SLEEP.

An Experience in the Fierce Cold of Tierra del Fuego.

"Whoever sits down," said Dr. Solander to his company among the hills of Tierra del Fuego, "will sleep, and whoever sleeps will wake no more." The brave doctor and his men had crumpled at considerable distance through the swamps, when the weather became suddenly colder and fierce blasts of wind drove the snow before it. In a short time the cold became so intense as to cause the most oppressive drowsiness. Dr. Solander was the first to find the inclination to sleep, and he insisted upon lying down. In vain his companions entreated and remonstrated. He lay down, and when told that he would inevitably freeze to death answered that he desired nothing more than to lie down and die. One of the black servants lay down also. Solander declared himself willing to go on, but begged to be allowed to sleep first, and in a few moments the two men were in a profound sleep. Soon after, those who had been sent forward to kindle a fire returned with the welcome news that the fire awaited them at a short distance. The men happily succeeded in awakening Solander, who, although he had not been asleep five minutes, had almost lost the use of his limbs, and the flesh was so shrunken that his shoes fell from his feet. It was with much urging and assistance that he consented to go on, but all attempts to rouse the black man were futile, and he was left to die.

W. F. TODD FOR OTTAWA

ELECTION

Parliament has been dissolved, and October 26th will be election day. The Conservatives are already conceding the return of Laurier to power, the only difference of opinion being the size of his majority. Sir Wilfrid will undoubtedly repeat the triumphs of 1896, 1898 and 1904. The opponents of the Laurier administration have entered upon a campaign of slander, with a determination to lie the government out of office. The plain situation is between a policy of progress and statesmanship, and a policy of detraction.

In Charlotte County the Liberals have a strong candidate in Mr. W. F. Todd, who is conducting a clean honorable canvass, quite in contrast with the methods of the Conservative candidate who opened his campaign with the usual billingsgate which is so characteristic of him. Mr. Todd in his visits to various sections of the county is being received with enthusiasm, and the people are going to elect a man who is in sympathy with a government that has done much for Charlotte County, and will do more. All we can say to the Liberals of Charlotte, is get to work, and with confidence in the righteousness of your cause, you can do your duty fearlessly and honestly, and elect W. F. Todd as a representative of the great County of Charlotte at Ottawa.

"There are few editors in this province," says an exchange, "who have not made a vigorous and continuous fight against the mail order house. This has been done in the interest of the home merchant and without money and without price. If the editors of the land had received regular advertising rates for all they have said against these enemies of the country merchant they could now be wearing diamonds. Now the department store man appreciates advertising space and is willing to take all the average country editor has for sale and at a good price. What other class of business or professional men would refuse business to help their friends, especially as many of said friends never seem in the least to return the compliment, or even to appreciate it."

The above paragraph, taken from the Canadian Printer and Publisher, we ask our merchants to consider. We have refused contracts with department houses for all the space we could spare in our paper, and at very high rates. We are perhaps as loyal to the town as certain "progressive" individuals.

Should the Government at Ottawa be passive or should it go ahead? asks the Brantford Expositor. "If the people want to return to the days of 1896 and an expenditure of $40,000,000 a year, then two-thirds of the postoffices should be closed, thousands of customs should be abandoned, public works should cease, no further transportation facilities should be provided, aids to navigation should be removed, lighthouses left in darkness, harbors and channels should be filled up and no more crops should be raised in the west, because they could not be taken to market. This would return to the Conservative days of small things, small receipts, small expenditures and complete stagnation in every branch of national life."

Hon. W. S. Fielding at Glace Bay, C. B.: "The Government is expending a hundred million dollars annually and tens of thousands of men are employed in its expenditure. It is only reasonable to expect that some of them will make mistakes and some will develop cupidity. In every instance where the Opposition had directed suspicion against the officials, it has been found that these officials had been appointed by the Conservatives themselves. It may be said this served us right for when we got in we should have turned the Tory officials all out. I do not believe in the theory of the victors belong the spoils, neither does the Premier, so we kept in office thousands of men appointed by the Tory Government, and for the most part they have given loyal service. Where the opposite is the case there will be the fullest investigation and when any man is shown to have proved faithless we will see that justice is done."

BY THE WAY

Election day, Monday October, 26th.

If you have to worry sit down to do it, and save shoe leather.

The Conservatives are talking purity. Look out for "Choice Tomatoes."

The Courier has started the campaign with the usual petty insinuations.

Canada has had peace, progress and prosperity under Laurier. Why change it?

"Johnnie, I will give you a quarter if you can get me a lock of your sister's hair."

"Gimme four bits an' I'll get you de whole bunch. I know where she hangs it nights"

There is nothing more tantalizing to go home all primed to scold about something and find company there and be obliged to act agreeably.

The Conservative press seems almost willing to concede a majority of 41 to Sir Wilfrid in the next House. Modesty will probably prevent Liberals from asking for anything better.

If a man wears his trousers out at the bottom he is generally a vagabond; if at the knee he is religious, or a good orchardist; but if in the seat he is either a wagoner or lay as Peter Tumbledown.

"The great orator who has never yet spoken a heart-wounding sentence" is how E. W. Thomson describes Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Compare that with R. L. Borden's slum-talk in referring to him.

After a silence of two weeks "Fair Play" tries again to square matters. No use, there are good and sufficient reasons why the public think differently. It is well to plan the work, but be sure you work the plan.

Speaking at Tilsonburg, Hon. Geo. E. Foster is reported to have declared that "the glorious Dominion was a paradise for middle men graters." Well, after his experience as manager of the Union Trust Company he ought to know.

Two thousand people assembled at the Victoria rink, St. John, Tuesday night, to hear R. L. Borden and his company of provincial premiers—of this number five hundred were Liberals. This is a small turn-out for an attraction so extensively advertised.

Foster, Fowler & Co.: I have been notified that my I. O. T. rates will be increased from $1.60 per month to $2.41 per month. This is the result of your gambling with the trust funds of the order, and will be kept in mind by the members on Oct. 26th.

FORESTER.

"Mr. Ganong will be returned by an increased majority, and his next appeal to the people will be made when he comes back for an expression of their continued confidence in him as a member of the cabinet that will be formed by R. L. Borden, the coming premier of Canada"—Courier.

While the Courier is not lacking in humor, a joke like this does not sound a bit like that paper, but our gayest songs are those which tell of saddest thoughts.

"Well," remarked a gentleman after long argument on the question of man's superiority over woman, "at least there is one good sweet perfect thing which a man can have and a woman cannot."

"Never!" cried his wife, passionately. "Never!" I deny it. What do you mean?"

"A wife,"—Ex.

Montreal Herald:—Canada's exports in the twelve years of Laurier were a neat, clean thousand million dollars more than they would have been if the highest Conservative record had been merely maintained. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the first man in the thousand million dollar class that Canada has had, and you bet she means to keep him.

We are told that at the Kings-Alber Tory convention "Mr. Fowler dealt mainly with the slanders that had been circulated against him and threw out a challenge to any member of the Liberal party from Sir Wilfrid Laurier down, to come out upon the public platform and discuss these matters before the people man to man." Fancy Sir Wilfrid Laurier or any other decent Liberal descending to a joint debate with Mr. Fowler for the discussion of scandals about the Tory M. P.—Frederickton Herald.

The N. B. S. Ry. has purchased miles of wire to be used for fencing along the line. New crossing signs have been put up and the sections along the line, are being marked with posts.

Chas. Johnson has been appointed vendor of game licenses. Some others who were appointed, some who were turned out and some who were not, will probably be heard from at an early date.

A scow load of granite from Sheriff Stewart's quarry arrived here Friday. Most of this lot will be used by Epps, Dodds & Co. for monumental purposes. The demand for this granite is increasing.

As a result of the excellent work in the construction of the new St. Mark's church, Mr. E. Nesbitt has been asked to estimate on some important public works about to be constructed in one of the centres of activity in New Brunswick.

Capt. D'Entremont of the schooner Edith F. S., of Yarmouth, N. S., was drowned Sunday night. While the schooner was making into Back Bay, the Capt. stepped on a barrel the barrel rolled and threw him overboard. The schooner was immediately hauled too, but no sign of the unfortunate man was found. The accident happened off the Wolves.

Capt. D'Entremont leaves a widow and five children at Lunenburg, N. S. He was a man well known round our shores, having been an annual visitor for years, buying herring for lobster bait. His untimely death is deeply deplored.

Cecil Chaffey of Indian Island, who has won a reputation for himself within the past few years as a builder of handsome and rapid sailing motor boats, has recently completed one for himself which promises to excel any yet built by him. His new boat, which is twenty seven feet in length with four feet beam, is a model of grace and the admiration of boat lovers who behold it. At present it is equipped with a five horse power gasoline engine only, with which it has made a record of thirteen nautical miles an hour, but a much larger engine is to be installed at an early date, which it is expected will drive her at twenty-two knots. Motor boat owners in this city and neighboring places are anxiously awaiting her action under the greater power engine.—Sentinel.

A bear made its appearance round the outskirts of the parish last week. He helped himself to a fine sheep in L'Etang made an early morning call in town, sniffed round the watering trough at the town pump and circling the big square spent part of a day in Irishtown. Last reports mighty hunters were on his trail and lovers of bear meat were anticipating a luscious feast of steak.

The C. P. R. have installed a new time piece in the station house. The clock is a beauty and bears the name of Seth Thomas on its face. Regular inspection and careful attention on the part of the company will probably result in correct time. Would it not be well for the school, the granite sheds and different mills to regulate their bells and whistles from this clock and have everybody moving together.

Shot by his brother in mistake for a moose while the two were out hunting together, Benjamin Smith, of Beaver Dam, fourteen miles from Fredericton, is now lying at his home at the point of death, with a bullet hole through his body.

The terrible accident happened in the woods six miles from their home, and the unfortunate man was obliged to remain alone on the ground for hours, while his brother made his way out to a settlement and telephoned to the city for medical aid. It was nearly three o'clock in the morning when physicians reached the side of the sufferer. They remained with him until daylight and then made a rough stretcher on which he was borne to his home. He is in a critical condition but has a fighting chance.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Physically, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac or Heart Nerve—simply sends, and must have, more power, more facility, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to those weak and ailing nerve centers. It builds up strength; it offers real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong, healthy, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

"ALL DEALERS"

Do It Yourself

Do not ask the teacher or some classmate to solve that hard problem. Do it yourself. You might as well let him eat your dinner as "do your sum" for you. It is in studying as in eating; he who does it gets the benefit, and not he who sees it done. In almost any school, the teacher learns more than the best scholars, simply because the teacher is compelled to solve all the different problems and answer all the questions of the indolent pupils. Do not ask your teacher to "parse" that difficult word, or assist you in the performance of any of your studies. Do it yourself. Never mind though they do look dark. Do not ask even a hint from any one. Try again. Even trial increases your ability and you will finally succeed by dint of the very wisdom and strength gained in the effort, even though, at first, the problem was beyond your skill. It is the study, and not the answer, that really rewards your labor. Look at that boy who has just succeeded, after four hours of hard study. How his large eye is lit up with a proud joy as he marches to his class! He treads like a conqueror, and well he may. Last night his lamp burned low and this morning he walked at dawn. Once or twice he nearly gave it up. He had tried his last shot; but a flash strikes him, and he ponders the last process. He tries once more, and succeeds; and now with which he pronounces his demonstration. His poor weak school-mate, who gave up that same problem after his first trial, now looks up to him with something of a wonder, as a superior being. And he is his superior. That problem lies there, a great gulf between those boys who stood side by side yesterday. The boy who did it for himself has taken a stride upward, and what is better still, has gained strength to take other and better ones. The boy who waited to see others do it, has lost both strength and courage and is already looking for some good excuse to give up school and study forever. Do it yourself. Remember the counsel given to the artist, who lay reclining on his couch, and wondering what the fates would work out for him, directing his attention to a block of unheavened marble, with a chisel lying by its side, the sculptor in the vision is represented as thus addressing him:

"There's the marble, there's the chisel, Take it, work it to thy will; Thou alone must shape the future. Heaven send thee strength and skill."

For a good, every-day household angel give us the woman that laughs. Her blight may not always be just right and she may occasionally burn her head and forget to replace discolored buttons, but for solid comfort all day and every day she is a very paragon. Home is not a battle-field, nor life one long unending row. The trick of always seeing the bright side, of shining up the dark one, is a very important faculty; one of the things no woman should be without. We are not all born with this sunshine in our hearts, as the Irish prettyly phrase it, but we can cultivate a cheerful sense of humor if we only try.

Take people by the hand when you really wish to help. Don't stand on a high pedestal and tell them to do themselves the honor of jumping to your level. Either go to them kindly and extend to them the friendly hand of christian fellowship, or let them alone. Common sense and willingness to try again are the main things.

To Wayward Sons and Daughters

Sons and daughters, listen while we tell you something. Do you know that your actions give way the fact that you are ashamed of your good old father and mother? Now what have they done that you should be ashamed of them? They have worked hard and gone without luxuries that you might wear good clothes, obtain an education and enjoy yourself while young. It was their intention to give you a good start in life, to fit you to cope with the world; but it has not had that effect. It has simply given you the "sweathead." You have "got it bad." You have come to think you are better flesh and blood than common people, and that in allowing yourself to associate with the old folks you are doing them a great favor. Of course, they are, in a great measure, to blame for this. In their anxiety to put you forward they did not notice that you were developing into a fool, and they don't know it yet. They sincerely love you and their love blinds their eyes. But other people notice it and it will become apparent to your parents by-and-by. Sometimes they will find out that all the use you have for them is to get your board, clothing and washing, that you are ashamed of them, and it will break their dear old hearts. Now don't let that happen. We tell you plainly that your father or your mother knows as much as a whole train load of you. Their feathers are not as fine, but you will yet learn that fine feathers cover many a foolish bird. Look at the goose. She doesn't know enough to go in out of the rain. The sensible way for you to do is to get right down off your high horse and take a good look at yourself. If you will do this, you will find that your parents are not ashamed of you and you will go to work and make something else than a simpton of yourself. If you do not get your eyes open now, you will, when your children grow up, if you ever raise any. They will rent you, as you now rent your parents, and will not be to blame, if you don't know any more then than now. Of course we have no such young people in this community, but they are quite numerous in all other localities.

Deprived of His Flapping.
The lord mayor's large is being broken up for firewood at Deptford. The first lord mayor to deviate from the customary procession by water from Westminster hall was Alderman Wood in 1810, and superstitious people thought this wicked innovation was the cause of a curious disaster that befell him. During his term of office Wood committed a journeyman sugar baker to jail for leaving his employment in a dispute about wages. But he forgot to specify that the prisoner should be also flogged, as the statute provided. On his release the sugar baker, with grim humor, brought an action against the lord mayor and recovered "moral and intellectual damages" for being deprived of his flogging! This episode illustrates the general relations between capital and labor in the brave days of old—Westminster Gazette.

Subway Exits.
A number of fire exits opening into the ventilating shafts have recently been built in the New York subway for the use of passengers as a means of escape in case of a fire or blockade without the necessity of groping their way to stations. Near the illuminated sign is a door which opens into the air chambers at the side of the tracks. An iron ladder with a rail leads to the top of the pit—Exchange.

I'll be surprised if there isn't more than one kick from careless persons who in their haste take some of the new tens by mistake. They wouldn't do it, though, if they did as we men in the banks do, always turn the bills face up before counting them."—New York Sun.

A MYSTERIOUS CALL

Three dots, Three Points of Light and a Mars Possibility.
Strange things are happening. For some time past toward midnight the receivers of the wireless telegraph stations have registered, and for a long period at a time, the signal three dots, which is persistently repeated. It has been proved, after investigation, that from no earthly station has such a message been sent at such a time. What, then, is this mysterious call? These three dots singularly recall three points of light which were observed on the planet Mars in 1901.

Midnight. Tap, tap, tap! Tap, tap, tap! Tap, tap, tap! Three sharp little knocks, short and hurried, sound insistently in the vast silence of the Marconi station. The sleeping employees are awakened with a start, and, frightened and vaguely anxious, they look at each other.

"Did you hear it? It is beginning again. What is it, and who on earth can be sending it?"
"Don't you know your Morse alphabet? Three short dashes mean S. Will that receiver never stop sounding S, S, S when no one knows why it is repeating it? It gets on one's nerves—listen!"
Tap, tap, tap! Tap, tap, tap! "Yes, it is true, but what can we do? Every night this happens at midnight. As long as S is being telegraphed, the receiver will register it. When they have had enough of it they will stop."

But in the loneliness of their stations, so lost and solitary at the end of the promontory, the employees at the wireless telegraph station feel, in the oppressive silence of the deserted night, those painful shivers which the black wing of mystery sends creeping up the back as it flies near. For several days past these three taps have been continually repeated. Inquiries have been made at all the stations in the whole world. No one has sent forth such a message. Some one is telegraphing, but not in this way. It must be, then, that the message comes from somewhere beyond. What is this obstinate little voice that calls to us in the darkness across the cold immensity of interplanetary space?

Three dots? Wait a moment—why, in 1892 and again in 1901 the observers of the heavens were talking about three dots. During those two years, through the most powerful telescope, a triangle of three luminous dots was distinguishable on the planet Mars, small to our sight, but in reality immense, a triangle whose sides measured several hundred kilometers in length. These luminous spots stood out in dazzling whiteness against the blood red background of Mars—Charles Torquet in Metropolitan Magazine.

not a fact, on the contrary, that he, an honest man, whose honesty and integrity is acknowledged all over the land, was scolded himself of all sorts of acts of corruption?

In the election of 1873, do you not remember how at that time the atmosphere was thick with the cry of corruption, and they are endeavoring to make it thick on the present occasion.

THE SAME OLD CRIES

Now I told you in the commencement that I had been a constant reader of the Mail and Empire for thirty years. I would quote from an article which was published at one time in the Mail. It is this: "History of four years of incompetence and revelations of corruption and jobbery which grew as public criticism poked into the 'rings' of Grignon have thrown doubt into the most faithful ranks—and no wonder. The bully who shows the white feather is not a more proper object than the political hypocrite who betrays party and outrages every principle he professes. No honest reformer can review the past five years without feelings of indignation and contempt."

That was published not this year, but thirty years ago, and although no names are mentioned, yet it was against Alexander MacKenzie. On July 29, 1870, The Mail published an article, which read in this way: "Why honest reformers are dissatisfied. Because MacKenzie has deceived them. He was going to be goody-goody in everything, but he has been had in many instances and good in none. Because he is manifestly incapable of governing the country with wisdom and prudence."
Do you see any difference in the language used thirty years ago and language of today?

TELLING THE SAME TALE

I say that take the Mail and other Conservative papers today and they are telling you (the old Liberals) the same tale that they told our old Liberals of that time. Then it was the old Liberals of Baldwin, now it is the old MacKenzie reformers that they are appealing to in the same words. This shows, I believe, what is at the base of these accusations which are hurled in the press at what I believe, may, what I assert to be honest government. (Loud cheers.)

But this is not the only charge. Mr. Foster, speaking some days ago in one of the Maritime Provinces, said we were not only extravagant but criminally extravagant. Well, Sir, if we have shocked the virtue of my friend George E. Foster I deplore my fate indeed. (Laughter.) After all, let us ascertain what is their charge of extravagance. I read the speech of Mr. Fowler carefully. What is the evidence which he brings in support of the charge that we had been criminally extravagant? His evidence is that in 1896, the last year he was in office as finance minister, the expenditure was $36,000,000 in round figures, and that last year the Liberal government spent $76,000,000. That is to say, in twelve years the expenditure doubled, and he calls that extravagance. Sir, if I were to ask how many men there are in this audience who in the year 1908 spent double the amount they spent twelve years ago, dozens and hundreds would rise up, because times have been good and public and private wealth has increased and men can spend double what they spent twelve years ago. What is, after all, the criterion by which to ascertain whether in private or in public life there has been an extravagant expenditure.

BUSINESS CRITERION

There is one easy criterion, and it is one which Mr. Foster has forgotten. If a man has a certain income and spends within that income he cannot be called extravagant. But if a man spends beyond his income then he becomes extravagant. That is my logic at all events. It is not the logic of Mr. Foster. If there is a man in this audience who has an income of $10,000 and spends $8,000, in the eyes of Mr. Foster he would be extravagant. But if he is a man who has an income of $10,000 and spends $500 more than that amount he would not be extravagant, but would be saving. That is the logic of Mr. Foster. (Laughter.)

Mr. Foster is criminally extravagant, because Mr. Foster was minister of finance for some eight years of the last twelve years of the Conservative administration, and during these twelve years which ended in July, 1896, the government of which Mr. Foster was minister of finance had six years of deficits and six years of surplus. (Applause.) He made them an equal division—six years of deficits and six years of surpluses on the other. (Renewed applause.) But unfortunately there was not a division in the amount, because the surpluses amounted to about $4,000,000 and the deficits to $4,984,000. Now what has been the record of the Liberal government, which has been accused by Mr. Foster of extravagance? What has been that record? That record is that for the last twelve years, except one we have had surpluses.

Continuing, Sir Wilfrid discussed the financial record, the immigration and transportation in detail, the report of which arrived too late for publication in this issue.

It cures the cold, breaks up the fever, relieves the headache and destroys every vestige of catarrh and sore throat. For Bronchitis, Grippe and winter ill Catarrhonne is best. Sardines

There is a little improvement, both in quality and quantity, of the fish at Maine Packing points. The local market is firm, with prices unchanged.
"The situation," said a leading dealer to the Gazette: "is now very healthy. There is a good movement of sardines, and not any surplus accumulation of stock."
"Future contracts expire on October 1, and these will be ordered out, which will reduce the supply materially."
Referring to the proposed use of cottonseed oil Newway smoked sardines, Strohmeyer & Arpe say: "It may cheapen the product slightly, but the difference in the quality will be quickly seen. If the Norwegian packers want to keep their business, if they want to increase their trade, they must stick to olive oil."

The Campaign

The definite announcement last week of the dissolution of parliament and the fixing of October 26th, for the elections has removed all the political uncertainty that has filled the air for the past month. Charlotte County is ready for the fray, both parties have their candidates in the field and it is now up to the electors to decide how the County will stand after October 26th. The issues are fairly well known to the majority of voters. The Liberals with twelve years of the best government the country has ever enjoyed are asking the suffrages of the people for the continuation of the Dominion's progress. Upon their past achievements they must be judged and so must the opposition be judged.

Taking a sectional or county view of the two parties, how has Charlotte fared? The Conservatives in eighteen years of power did what for us? Pretty close to nothing, a lighthouse perhaps and a postoffice at St. Stephen. They did much more for Portland, Maine.

In twelve years the hand of the Liberal party may be seen in every section of the County. Public works involving the expenditure of thousands, yes, hundreds of thousands of dollars, are in evidence over the county. An elector, giving careful consideration to the treatment accorded the county of Charlotte, by the two parties, cannot fail to appreciate the acknowledgement of our existence by the Liberal government, cannot fail to recognize the absolute neglect of our county by the Conservative administration, and voting for his county will vote the Liberal ticket.

Taking what might be called a personal view of the two parties as far as they concern our own town what do we find? An expenditure of eight thousand dollars for a public wharf, by the Liberals. And years ago when the Conservative party held power and lumber was cheap and a public wharf needed, what answer did the independent electors of St. George get, when they appealed to that party for aid in building a wharf? "Not one cent" nothing for a wharf in St. George. Let your imagination run riot, think for a moment you are editor of the "Courier" and the Conservative party have carried the country. In the light of the past, judge them, what will you get? Nothing, nothing. Remember on election day and vote accordingly.

In the country at large you may hear charges of corruption you may read in red letters "out with the grafters," just sit down and think. When the Liberals charged graft in the days of Conservative rule, what happened, ministers went out of the government in disgrace and cabinets fell. Have you heard of a minister in the Liberal administration taking to the woods in disgrace? Have you heard of graft being proven against any, but hold over Conservative underlings? Do not allow red lettered charges to sway you. Any person can make a charge. Liberals made and proved things. Conservatives made and failed to substantiate theirs, and now they are asking you to believe them, Liberals made their charges plain and drove the offenders from office, Conservative charges have been and are vague, every body is a grafter nobody good but us, they cry. If you are fair, you must on the grafting charges support the present administration whose hands are clean in preference to the calamity howlers whose private transactions are to say the least open to criticism and whose leading lights certainly measure far below the present members of the liberal cabinet.
