German Gains in New Direction Counter-Balanced By Effectiveness of French Artillery at Verdun

ENEMY TAKES FORGES THEN SWEPT BACKWARD BLTC VERY SOON. BEFORE PRENCH ATTACK

Further advances by the Germans-in the Verdun region and in Champagne—are told of in the western French official communica-tion, which, however, also records successes in repelling a German attempt to debouch further from a captured position, the driving of the Teutons out of a trench they had taken, and the hammering with their big guns of German organizations.

After having vigorously shelled the region between Bethancourt and the Meuse, the Germans, in a strong infantry attack, captured the village of Forges, about nine miles northwest of Verdun. Not satisfied with the gain, they several times essayed to debouch from the village against the Cote De L'Oie, but the French in counterattacks, forced them back in the village and held them there.

tacked by the Germans in the region between Mont Tetu and Maisons De Champagne. At the former point the French fire kept the Germans to their trenches but near Maisons De Champagne they succeeded in occupying a small section of a French trench.

In the Argonne the French blew up near Courtes Chaussees a German post with a mine, and captured a portion of the crater. Near Haute Chavauchee the Germans sprang two mines, and later entered the French trenches at several points. Counter-attacks, however, drove them out, and the French also occupied a portion of the mine Except for the infantry attacks at Forges, the guns on both side in the Verdun region have been doing all the work. To the southwest of Metz, near Pont-A-Mousson, the French artillery has heavily damaged German positions.

Paris, March 6, 10.52 p.m.—The fol-lowing official statement was issued by the war office tonight:

the war office tonight:

"In Champagne the Germans delivered an attack, accompanied by jets of liquid flame, on our positions between Mont Tetu and Maisons De Champagne, On our right the enemy, stopped by our barrier fires, was not able to set or from his trenches. To the left, in the region of Maisons De Champagne, he succeeded in penetrating a small vanced section.

Stirring Debate in House on Resolution for Wipin Out Liquor Traffic During War

Government Likely to Accept Compromise Motion Pledging Dominion Co-operation in Preventing Manufacture and Importation When Provinces Prohibit Sale—Hon. Charles TURKS FORCED Marcil Speaks of Changed Attitude of Ouebec.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Ottawa, March 6—Today the west moved, and the east seconded a motion for the federal prohibition of the manufacture, importation, or sale of intextcating liquor for the period of the was. It was quite fitting that the resolution should be so submitted, in view of the fact that the prohibition wave is now sweeping from coast to coast across the whole dominion. It was also fitting that the man who moved the resolution, H. H. Stevens, of Vancouver, was a Conservative, and that the man who seconded it, Charles Marcil, of Bonaventure, was a Liberal, for the fight against liquor since the war commenced has had no confiner of casts.

It is many years since Robert Lowe, chancellor of the exchequer in Glad-one's time, made the house cheer by the cynical remark that he "Was pleased to be able to inform the honorable gentlemen that as a result of his liquor to be able to inform the honorable gentlemen that as a result of his liquor taxes, the nation had drunk itself out of debt." There isn't a doubt that the excise taxes on liquor in Canada contribute considerably toward the national treasury, but there are few in the commons today who dare to defend the liquor traffic from that standpoint or from any other. As to the minister of agriculture's attack upon himself, Mr. Carvell said he would deal with it at the proper time. In the meantime while he had pleased the Conservatives in the house by it, "he has made himself ridiculous in New Brunswick where the facts are known."

Hon. Mr. Hazen stated that Mr. Carvell's discussion was out of order. As Hon. Mr. Hazen stated that Mr. Carvell's discussion was out of order. As "I make this statement," added Mr. Hazen, "on the information given me by officials of the department."

Liberal members from the maritime provinces have complained that although the embargo on potatoes going into the United States had been removed the regulations regarding inspection at the American port of entry were so onerous that they almost constituted an embargo. Mr. Carvell also said that there was a lack of Canadian inspectors this year while last year they were to be seen all over the country.

The opposition moved to strike out votes of $25,000 for the National Biolo-

The minister explained that similar appropriations had appeared in last year's estimates and had not been expended. He thought it probable that they would not be spent this year. However, the motion to delete them was declared lost.

The house adjourned at 11.15 after a large number of items had been passed.

And here's to Admiral Death.

He's sailed in a hundred builds of boat,
He's fought in a thousand kinds of coat. He's the senior flag of all afloat,
And his name is Admiral Death.

How will ye know him among the rest?
Hear what the sea wind saith,
By the glint of stars that cover his breast
Ye may find Admiral Death. By the forehead grim with many a scar, By the voice that rolls like thunder far, By the tenderest eyes of all that are, Ye may know Admiral Death.

Prof. Barton devoted the greater portion of his remarks to hog raising. Mixed farming was the proper basis of operating. Te hog was extremely valuable in farm operation of that sort as a means of disposing of waste matter. In New Brunswick as a great potato growing and home dairying country waste mater.

Brunswick as a great potato growing and home dairying country waste material would be abundant, and heg raising should be particularly profitable and easy. He understood that although New Brunswick had a large local pork trade it yet was necessary to import certain quantities of pork products. Such a state of affairs was regrettable, for it was a surplus in pork production that made possible a trade in pork in the real sense of the word.

Prof. Barton declared strongly in favor of a type of hog which would sell in the open market, that is the bacon hog of the port of the word.

mandant of the district, Sir Henry Thomson.

The ward consists of two hut wards, Nos. 1 and 12, forty beds in each. Over each bed is the name given by the donor, and friends will recognize the nurses in charge, Dr. Parks, Miss Domville and Miss McCafferty.

The interior of the ward is wainscoted with stained wainut, the walls are rose color and the ceiling white, while the exterior of the building is bronze green, with white window shades, and occupying a conspicuous place over the front entrance is the New Brunswick coat of arms.

It is a remarkable coincidence that this ward, equipped through the efforts of Brunswick Chapter of West St. John, should have for its first patient a West St. John boy. Pte. Harrington, of the 26th.

Paris, March 5-The Italian steamship Giava, torpedoed by an Austrian submarine, was sunk without warning, according to survivors of the crew who arrived at Piraeus on the British steamer Trevelyan, on March 1, a Havas despatch from Athens states. The rescued men said that the submarine, flying the Austrian flag, was met 130 miles from Cape Mattapan, while the Giava was en route from Leghorn, Italy, to Greek ports. While the submarine gave no warming, and did not visit the freighter, they stated, passengers and crew were allowed to leave in three boats which, after being rowed for five hours, met the Trevelyan, which rescued them.

THE CANADIANS HOLDING THE LINE AT YPRES

"The Canadians saved the Position."-Sir John French

THE most wonderful Canadian battle-painting in existence is reproduced here—a picture which shows with indescribable vividness the terrible conditions in which our gallant soldiers won immortal fame and glory—drawing from Sir John French the remarkable tribute quoted above.

The artist is W. B. Wollen, R. I., famous battle-painter, and this is his masterpiece. It has special interest in that Lieut. Niven, the sole surviving officer, will be easily recognized in the trenches calling to his men.

Such a soul-stirring picture brings home to all who see it the wonderful pride of race which is theirs. It is a picture which every Canadian must possess, and the owners of the original painting have had it very carefully copied by the most up-to-date process, whereby the artist's coloring is faithfully given, and every detail shown to the fullest advantage. The pictures measure 15% inches by 22 inches, and are splendidly mounted on a high-grade plate-sunk mount measuring 27 inches by 33% inches, ready for framing.
