FAMOUS BREEDS OF CATTLE

Brief Outline History of Our Best Known Stock Prepared Especially for Observer Readers

Thinking it may be of some interest to your many readers, especially in an agricultural district like the counties of Carleton, Madawaska and Victoria, I send you a few notes on the original native places of the different breeds of cattle that we have in Canada.

First, I will mention the Shorthorn, so called. This well known breed of beef cattle were first known in the Tees district of Durham County, England. The breed was improved by the Collins Bros. of that place—date 1749 to 1830—and Booth and Gates of Yorkshire, Scotland, they became known as Shorthorns and today such herds as possessed by Dathes of Colling in Aberdeen are samples of what scientific breeding of cattle can do. The Shorthorn is very easily adapted to conditions of climate, soil and management. It is more noted for beef-making than for milk producing, although efforts are being made to restore milking qualities to certain strains of pedigree blood. The color of these are red, roan and white. We will next speak of the Aberdeen Angus, a polled black breed. They belong originally to Aberdeenshire, Scotland, but now many fine herds are to be found in England, Ireland, Canada and United States. They are a splendid beef breed and when crossed with Shorthorns are unrivalled as beef cattle. They are not noted for milking qualities, but their milk is very much richer than the Shorthorns. A pure bred bull of this breed was sold lately in Scotland for 400 guineas. Next we have the Hereford cattle from the county of that name in England. They are very well known in Canada, and need no description. They are both good for milk and beef. Then we have the Galloway from the west and south of Scotland. They are also hornless with a darker hide and shaggy hair than the Aberdeen Angus. They are normally black. They yield superior quality of beef and are fairly good milkers. Next is the West Highland or Kyles, a very hardy and picturesque breed, supposed to have been the original cattle of Great Britain. They are small in size; they have long shaggy hair and in color varying from white to dun. They are now only to be seen in English parks and other reserves. The wild nature is still very pronounced in them.

The next on my list is the Kerry, a breed of small black cattle belonging to the south and west of Ireland. They can subsist on scanty and rough food and are good milkers. Next come the Canadian cattle, so called. They are black in color, with a narrow brown strip down the back and a light ring around the muzzle. They are descended from cattle brought to Canada by French settlers about 300 years ago; and are related to the Guernsey. Owners of herds of this breed claim they are the most profitable of any cattle in Canada.

I will now speak of the dairy cattle although they are all so well known that I shall only mention their original habitat. The Brown Swiss from Switzerland; the Dutch belted and Holstein from Holland; the Ayr (Continued on Editorial page)

ACTIVE INDUSTRY AT SUMMERFIELD

Gideon Green & Sons Have a First Class Machine Shop Five Miles From Anywhere

While it is not unusual to find scientific mechanics in towns, it was a surprise to me personally, when recently I came across a very much up-to-date descendant of Tubal Cain, the daddy of them all, located in the centre of a strictly rural farming community. I refer to the establishment of Gideon Green & Sons of Greenfield, or to be correct, Summerfield.

They run this business on a system which I have never seen equalled outside a city. The only thing that is not modern, is the buildings. I learned by observation that these harmonious blacksmiths can build a heavy farm wagon from the ground up, from the raw material as far as the woodwork goes, making their own axles and wheels. They also manufacture other farm specialties.

On entering the first department, you find the usual farrier's stall and equipment. On the right is the forge. In the centre is a oxy-acetylene welding outfit of ample capacity which will weld anything from a needle to a heavy casting, and almost any metal. Then in the rear is a very modern machine shop equipped with heavy machine tools, as for instance a fourteen inch machinist's lathe, also wood planer and laths, hand saw and a full line of tools, driven by a powerful engine.

While thus not sparing expense in providing the best machinery for all purposes, the charges for all work done by this firm are exceedingly moderate, on a cash basis.

Gideon Green, the founder of this business, started the concern about thirteen years ago on a small scale, gradually increasing his tools and capital. As his two sons came to working age, he took them into partnership and the different branches are systematically divided between the three members of the firm and no time is wasted on book keeping except to keep tabs on supplies and the bank account. This concern is well worth visiting if only to see the astonishing amount of work, and the quality of it, put out by these hustlers, situated five miles from anywhere.

Farmers and others flock in from as far as twenty miles away, at all seasons of the year, to get their requirements met, and I am told that few are disappointed if a contract was made. None are sent empty away. If you do not believe me, go there around the dinner hour. I thought these facts should be made generally known to the new comers among your subscribers, which I know are many.

WORST FLOOD IN HISTORY

Becaguimac Bridge Gone—Sayre's Lumber Adrift—Railway Traffic Suspended

On Thursday of last week following a torrential down pour of rain during the night before and the heavy rains of a few days previous the water in all streams in this locality arose to flood height and in some instances great havoc was the result. The greatest damage was done at Hartland where the great rush of water down the Becaguimac stream carried away a great portion of the Sayre dam, a large part of the logs and the old grist mill when the raging water and mass of wreckage reached the highway bridge across the stream near its mouth. That fine structure of steel and concrete was carried away as lightly as if it had been built of wood. This bridge was thrown with great force against the railway bridge, which is a massive steel girder resting on granite piers. The railway bridge was thrown a few inches out of alignment and the pier and the abutments were badly damaged. There were no trains between Bristol and Woodstock on Thursday except the Woodstock accommodation which was at Hartland when the disaster occurred. Between Hartland and Woodstock there were numerous mud slides while a trestle at Downey Creek is gone.

One of the truly amazing facts in connection with this disaster is the remarkable speed with which the railway authorities overcame their difficulty. While all trains were cancelled on Thursday the passenger service was restored on the next day, and by Monday the whole line was practically in normal operation and this notwithstanding the fact that three bridges are having to be practically rebuilt. There was a similar disaster twelve years ago when a large embankment at Bristol and the steel bridge at Monquart were washed away.

FATAL SHOOTING

The community was shocked beyond expression when it became known that Sterling Kirkbride, a highly respected young man of Wilmot had accidentally shot and killed himself on Wednesday morning, June 21. The funeral was held on Saturday at 2.30 p.m., interment being made in the Wilmot cemetery. He leaves to mourn their great loss a sad wife, five small children, father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield Kirkbride of Centreville; one brother, Preston of Charleston; five sisters, Mrs. Robt. Upton, Mrs. Mark Baret, Mrs. James Lawrence, Mrs. Ervine Tompkins and Miss Hazel Kirkbride. He was a kind and loving husband and father. In him the community has lost a good friend and neighbor which was evidenced by the large concourse of people who gathered, despite the rain and bad condition of the roads to pay their last tribute of respect that the living may offer to the dead.

We join in heartfelt sympathy for the bereaved ones. The services were conducted by Rev. J. M. Mallory.

A Safe Rule to Follow in Buying A Used Car

A fundamental rule of good business is to know what you are buying and from whom you are buying. This rule holds particularly true when it comes to buying a used car.

If there is one place more than another where you must place above everything else, the integrity and financial standing of the dealer and his unquestioned honor in living up to every promise made in selling you the car, it is on a used-car proposition.

A McLaughlin-Buick dealer values good will above everything else. He would never have been selected for a McLaughlin-Buick dealer in the first place if he didn't.

Therefore when you buy a used car from us, you follow the fundamental business rule of knowing what you are buying and from whom you buy—You play safe.

BRONCHIAL ASTHMA

Choking and Gasping for Breath
Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MRS. PENNINGTON

New Rockland, P.Q.
"In 1919, I was taken with Bronchial Asthma and no one knows what I suffered with it during the winter. I began having Choking Spells—gasping for breath and could not speak. I would have one of these bad spells in the evening, one during the night, and one in the morning. The doctor said he could do nothing for me."

"In the spring of 1920, I started taking 'Fruit-a-tives' and in a few days, the choking spells stopped, and I have had none since May 7th, 1920. I have so wanted to tell other sufferers who have the same trouble about 'Fruit-a-tives' for I know how they must suffer."

Some thought the Asthma would come back on me as winter came on but it has not, thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives'. Mrs. J. M. PENNINGTON, 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Indoor Life

Spending more time indoors makes women far more subject to constipation than men.

The liver becomes sluggish and torpid, the bowels constipated and the system poisoned by impurities.

If you would get away from the myriads of ills which result from constipation, it is only necessary to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The benefits from their use are as lasting as they are prompt and certain.

Mrs. John Barry, 18 St. Amable Street, Quebec, Que., writes:

"This is to certify that I was troubled for years with constipation and tried all kinds of medicines without relief. At last my husband suggested that I try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they have given me more relief than all the medicines I have taken during the last fifteen years. I may also add that I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles with excellent results."

Schoolgirl Amazes Experts

At various intervals throughout the ages persons have arisen who astonished their generation by their strange gifts and occult powers. Sometimes these persons were revealed as fakers in their own day. Sometimes they got by while they lived, only to be unmasked by subsequent investigators. Sometimes they had made discoveries slightly before their time and claimed a supernatural origin for natural phenomena. Occasionally a man amazes the people of his own time and leaves a mystery which is never solved. To one of these classes belongs Eugene Dennis, a Kansas City girl, who is attending High School and who appears to have some remarkable gift. She makes no claim of being in communication with the spirit world. She does not know how she performs her wonders, and is in every respect an ordinary flapper, who admits she is fond of boys and chocolates, and who is no brighter, save for her queer gift, than the ordinary girl of her age. The theory is advanced that she has "psychic eyes," whatever that may be. That she is a trickster appears to be an untenable theory. She has already been investigated to establish this point by a man who is an acknowledged expert. It was about a year ago that Miss Dennis began to startle her friends by her powers, one of her first victims being a youth who was driving her in his car and chose a shady spot just outside the town where he thought he might suitably stop and refresh himself with a kiss. He was getting himself all set for the exercise, with Miss Eugene not averse, when suddenly a rapid look crossed her face and she stammered: "A man—hurt—an automobile—quick—if they do not—hurry he will die—a message to the hospital—quick!" Then she fainted. The amazed boy shook her by the arm and in a moment she came round. She told him to hurry with his car into town, as there had been an accident, and if help did not come immediately a man would die. He put on all speed in the direction she pointed out and presently saw two wrecked automobiles and a little group of people. They told him that the victim of the collision had been already taken to the hospital. It would appear that Miss Dennis was somehow or other made aware of the accident at the moment it happened. In fact she saw it.

Some time ago she paid a visit to Omaha, and it was from there that the first public news of her queer gift emanated. One of her young friends remarked that she had lost a valuable diamond ring the day before, and Eugene, without going in to a trance, but merely concentrating her mind, told her where it had been dropped. She said it would be recovered if she hurried, because in half an hour a man with a vacuum cleaner would be busy with the rug. The matron hurried away to the friend's house, went to the room, and at the designated spot picked up the ring. She had not recovered from her amazement and delight when a servant knocked at the door and asked if it would be convenient for him to clean the rug. There were several other similar incidents which found their way into the newspapers, with the result that the American Society for Psychical Research in New York became interested and commissioned an investigator.

It happened that the best investigator for one phase of the problem was a resident of Omaha. He is David Abbott, whose business is the manufacture of paraphernalia for magicians. It is said that half the tricks of the professors of lagerdmain are the invention of Abbott. He has often said that he can duplicate any trick of the professional mediums and was eager to interview Miss Dennis. It was arranged that she should live at his house for a few weeks. She did so, and Abbott's report, which has been forwarded to the society, will say that she remains a mystery to him, and that there can be no possibility of fraud in what she performs. Nothing more dramatic in the history of these investigations ever occurred than the incident one evening recently. When Mr. Abbott invited some twenty-five guests to meet the girl and witness a demonstration of her powers. For a while she remained chatting with them, telling them things about their past lives, which astonished them, when suddenly she stopped and cried: "Wait! Wait!"

"I'm getting something!" she exclaimed. "Something awful is happening. A man is being killed right now—right here in Omaha. I see a street car. I see three dark-faced men running through the streets. The man is dead." She resumed her chat in normal tones, and a few minutes later the guests were leaving the house. They boarded a street car and noticed the excitement of the other passengers. They then learned that three negroes had shot and killed a policeman at the end of the car line, fifteen minutes before, at the precise moment when Miss Dennis had her vision. It is said that the girl has also successfully repeated a test message agreed upon between Abbott and a dead friend, who had promised to send this particular message if ever he found a medium. Eugene is to be further investigated by the Society for Psychical Research.

NOT ALL DUE TO COMEDIAN

Part of Laughable Entertainment Was Being Furnished by Original Tenants of Barn.

Speaker Sweet said the other day in the New York state legislature at Albany:

"Because an agitator gets a lot of newspaper space it does not necessarily mean that he is a great man. Newspaper space may mean something else. It reminds me of a story."

"A rich man hired a comedian to entertain the workers on his estate one evening. The entertainment was staged in the barn, and it went well, almost too well. The comedian, in fact, had hardly got under way when the barn began to shake with shouts of laughter. Soon the laughter became so uproarious that the rich man rose and said:

"Friends, I know how difficult it is to restrain our mirth when Mr. Backchat is on the stage, but really, you know, if we don't hold ourselves in just a little the performance will hardly be over by midnight."

"Then a burly plowman rose in his turn. "Excuse me, boss," he said; "it ain't Mr. Backchat we're laughin' at but somebody left the door open and all the pigs have got in, and they're nearly pushin' us off our seats."

Blue-Jay Ways.

Last spring a pair of blue jays nested in the crotch of a maple just below my study window. What a time they had of nest building! The female insisted on building in a crotch below, while the male thought a crotch higher up afforded a more advantageous location. They talked and scolded.

In the end the female had her way, and the makeshift bunch of twigs and brush was collected. The birds were silent for weeks, tending strictly to family cares; the half of which the male bird assumed without a murmur or complaint. All summer long they were silent, but toward fall they joined their voices with those of the other jays in the neighborhood. It was a new slant on blue jay methods, and hereafter I shall regard the birds with a wee bit more appreciation.—Christian Science Monitor.

Poor Father.

Marian is eleven years old and thinks that she is old enough to stop having her hair bobbed and let it grow out and be braided as do the other little girls in her class. But her mother has different ideas. So, of course, there is an argument every time her cutting time arrives. Last time mother brought forth a new argument. "I want your hair to be pretty and thick when you grow up," she said, "and there is nothing which makes your hair grow better than to cut it often." Marian's eyes opened wide. "Then why don't you begin it on father?" she said. "He says himself that he is getting bald."

Sadler's mill it was feared at one time that the mill at Plaster Rock, also the station, bridge and other buildings would be swept away. Acres of land was under water, destroying the crops on the lowlands, all this being a great loss to the people of the Tobique as a great many men were employed in the mill and the loss of the lumber means a loss of summer's work in the timber business. Established over 100 years

The Alpine Club of Canada

Living Room Alpine Club, at Banff.

Of all the trails, the mountain ones are most alluring and each year they call to the members of the Alpine Club of Canada who held their annual camp this season at Lake O'Hara. The Camp, known as the "O'Hara Meadows Camp" was an open Alpine Meadow at an altitude of 6,600 feet above sea level, away with mountain blooms.

The Lake, an Alpine gem, in whose bright surface, with witchery of reflection, towering mountains are held captive, with the bright green of the forests that surround the shore.

This Alpine realm in the heart of the Rockies, a realm of crags and canyons, of encircling and overhanging peaks, has a variety of charms that are never exhausted. The mountains, ranging from ten thousand to eleven thousand, five hundred feet above sea level, include the matchless picture of Lefroy glacier, the great white peaks of Victoria, the massive Cathedral Crags, Stephen, Odaray and other giants of the Rockies. Each new view beckoned to fresh delights. Below Odaray is the cabin built by the Swiss guides in which there is always a camper's cot.

In 1909 the Alpine Club of Canada opened its club house headquarters at Banff and held a special annual camp at Lake O'Hara. It was unique in that an invitation to attend this camp, as guests of the Alpine Club of Canada, was sent to the president and members of the Alpine Club of England. A party of 20 accepted the invitation. The guests included mountaineers, well known in many parts of the world. It is interesting to note that in 1920, the Alpine Club of Canada became affiliated with the "Alpine Club" of England, the oldest and most famous of all Alpine clubs.

The annual camp is for the purpose of enabling members of the club to meet together and the great hills of Canada, and to assist graduating members to qualify for active membership. Those who have made an ascent of at least 2,500 feet, are eligible for active membership. Those distinguished in literature, art or science, relating to mountains, are given certain recognition.

At Lake O'Hara.

The objects of the club are the promotion of scientific study and exploration of Canadian Alpine regions, the cultivation of art in relation to mountain scenery, the education of Canadians to an appreciation of their Canadian heritage, the encouragement of mountain craft and the opening of new regions as national playgrounds. The preservation of the natural beauties of the mountain places and of the fauna and flora in their habitat, is promoted.

The Club House of the Alpine Club of Canada, opened in 1909, is situated on the slope of Sulphur Mountain, 300 feet above the town of Banff. Spread in vast panorama, are the deep river-threaded valleys of the Bow and Spray and the forest clad mountains beyond with their snowy peaks glistening in the sun. From the broad verandas of the Club House, nature seemed one harmonious tune.

The Club House is replete with interest. Bowls and baskets of mountain flowers were in attractive arrangement. The fine pictures of Canadian mountains were worthy of study as well as interesting photographs of well known mountaineers of Europe and Canada. The group of men and women who founded the Alpine Club of Canada, are pictured, at their first meeting in Winnipeg in 1906. Included are Professor Coleman of Toronto and Mrs. Parker of the Winnipeg "Free Press." There is a picture of Sir James Outram, the first man to climb Mount Assiniboine, the Matterhorn of Canada, and many others of interest.

The stone fireplace in the spacious living room was built in memory of William S. Vaux, a student of glaciers who died in 1908. The drinking fountain in the hall was given by the late Edward Whymper, the hero of the Matterhorn—in its basin, in a bed of moss, grows the little yellow mountain rose.

A treasure of the Club House is a worn copy of the 1917 Constitution of the Alpine Club of Canada, framed, hanging on the walls of the library. Under is the caption, "Found in a German dug-out when the Canadians captured Vimy Ridge."

A BUSINESS COUPE OF STEEL

Dodge Brothers offer to the business public of America an entirely new principle in Coupe body construction.

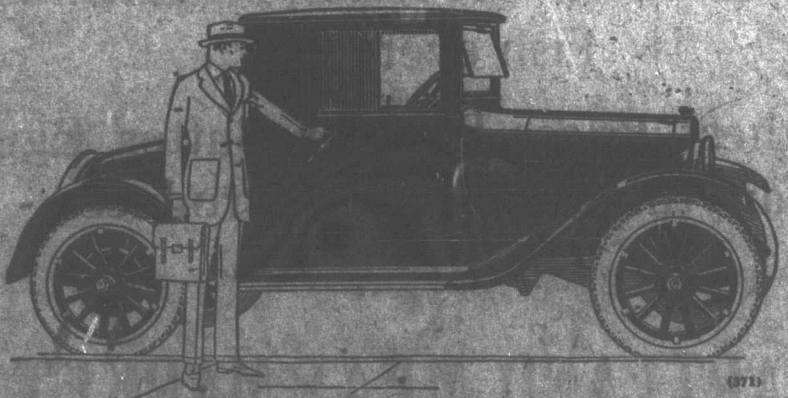

From framework to window mouldings the body is built of steel. It is the first all-steel closed car ever marketed. This design anticipates every possible requirement of commercial travel. It insures unusual quietness—unusual grace—unusual stamina. It has made it possible to give the Coupe that same lustrous baked-on enamel finish for which Dodge Brothers open cars have long been famous.

The upholstery is of genuine leather—leather that will wash and wear. The seat is wide and comfortable. Carrying compartments are accessible and spacious. The car is equipped with a heater, dome light, window levers, windshield cleaner, cord tires, Yale door locks, and every other appointment necessary to the owner's comfort and protection.

Built inside and out to withstand the wear and tear of everyday use, it retains the same lightness and beauty of line which you are accustomed to look for in Dodge Brothers cars.

It is the Business Coupe which business people the world over have been expecting—from Dodge Brothers.

shires from Scotland, the Devon from England and various breeds of Durhams also from England. The Jersey and Guernsey from the Channel Islands. The government of the Channel Islands are very strict in regulations regarding the breeding of these cattle and if on examination they find any sign of tubercular or other diseases on a farm they simply slaughter the whole herd and also all other animals on that farm, even to the poultry, paying the owner at a certain rate for all. The term Alderney is obsolete now as it is the same practically as the Guernsey. On the Channel Islands every animal is listed and a record is kept of any that may be for sale, giving the amount of milk and butter fat, age and weight of the cow. Any intending purchaser can thereby look over this list and go and buy just the animal that suits him. I may here mention that the Channel Islands are the most densely populated of any part of Europe and every nook of land is tilled to the limit. We have now only left the Shetland cow from the Shetland Islands, a very small animal, and is to be ranked among dairy cattle. I presume most of your readers have seen a Shetland pony that will give you some idea of the size of a Shetland cow. They are black and white. Some of them weigh only 250 lbs. but are said to give more milk for their size than any known breed.

I will now close my few rambling remarks and hoping it may be of some interest to some of your numerous readers. I am, yours sincerely,

W. H. ROSS

LUMBERING ON THE ST. JOHN RIVER, PAST AND PRESENT

By J. Fraser Gregory, President of Murray and Gregory Ltd.

Let us see how the lumberman operated a little later than the close of the Crimean war, and take our observations from Grand River. There were no railways in the province; all supplies had to be taken up river by water from St. John this summer and by teams in winter. The start would be made from Fredericton in late September or early October, just as the autumn freshets began, in one or more tow boats—long flat-bottomed boats with a cabin at the stern, on top of which the steersman with the end of his long sweep in his hand guided the boat and kept a long look-out for rocks ahead. The horses travelled the shore towing the boat on a long line made fast to the foot of the single mast set well forward. A guy line ran through the middle of the tow line through a at the masthead to bits at the foot of the mast. By pulling at this line it was possible to raise the tow line to clear rocks or bushes along the shore. By proper manipulation of the sweep the boat ran in the water parallel with the shore and could be steered to right or left of the rocks.

The cargo of the boat consisted of pork, codfish, cornmeal, flour, beans, dried apples, molasses and tea as provisions for the men; very seldom any potatoes, no sugar or butter and no fresh meat. For the horses hay and oats. Hay was worth $13 per ton; oats 50 cents per bushel; pork $32 a barrel; flour $11 per barrel and molasses 50 cents per gallon. There was invariably a big chest called the "Wangan", which contained first of all tobacco, then warm jumpers, underclothing, mitts, socks, moccasins, writing paper cards, jews-harps, patent medicine, etc. In fact a little of everything that the boss thought might be useful during the long winter. These were sold to the men as wanted and charged up to them. It is a common report that the prices charged were fabulous and woe to the man who was careless about his wangan bill during the winter. Perhaps when spring came nothing was coming to him. To come out of the woods with money, he needed to be well clothed when he went in. From the wangan socks 60 cents a pair, tobacco $1 a pound.

They were hired in Fredericton sometimes by the month, but just as often for the route, which meant for a lump sum they agreed to work the winter in the woods, and also continue till the drive got down to the booms below Fredericton the next spring. If they deserted before the end of their contract they lost any pay coming to them. The best men (choppers) got from $12 to $16 a month. Regent street was the headquarters for the men flocking in the winter country to hire for the woods. There was plenty of rum going. Each man hired, demanded, an advance on account of wages to rig himself out and leave with his family, but often the whole advance was squandered before the start, and it was usually a pretty drunken party which boarded the boats.

Sometimes when the party was large some of the horses were driven on the highways with loaded wagons. They usually made better time than the towboats. The boats took nearly a week to get to Grand Falls, being towed from dawn of the day until night. With low water there was many a struggle to get over the bars. In the hard spots the tow line was shortened until the horse were in the bed of the river close to the bow of the boat, one or two teams, a rider being on the back of one horse of each team, the men in the water, each side of the boat, with poles and pikes, the boss, from his vantage point on the top of the cabin, directing.

To make horses and men pull together for a mighty effort required engineering ability and lung power. Sometimes skids or rollers had to be put under the boat and as a last resort it might have to be partly unloaded. A rider on a tow boat must be a man of skill and nerve; the horses are restive under the conditions, and a rider could be easily thrown, or his leg crushed, between the animals. At Grand Falls the boats and their cargoes had to be hauled from the lower to the upper basin. There would probably be several parties there at one time and the sight was inspiring. The engineering ability displayed by the foreman and the rivalry displayed by the different crews to make the portage in quickest time, lent a savor to the whole proceeding. Two more days travel bring us to the scene of our operations, say 25 miles up Green River and in the wilderness perhaps

Railway News

St. John, N.B.—During the winter season just closed the Canadian Pacific Railway shipped 11,500,000 bushels of grain from the elevator here. Last season's shipments accounted for slightly over 9,000,000 bushels.

Quebec, P.Q.—The largest number of first-class passengers that ever came into a Canadian Atlantic port at one time arrived here on board the Canadian Pacific steamer "Empress of Scotland." The increasing popularity of the Canadian route for American travellers, which includes a three-day trip on the majestic St. Lawrence river, is evidenced by the fact that it was necessary to have a special train to accommodate the passengers from the "Empress of Scotland" going to New York and other American points.

Vancouver.—Last year the Canadian Pacific Railway moved 5,000 cars of fruit and vegetables out of the Okanagan Valley. This year an increase is expected.

Mr. F. W. Peters, general superintendent of the C. P. R., returned recently from a week's visit to the valley, during which he met agents of the company and discussed improvements for handling this year's crop.

New York.—The despatch with which passengers arriving at Quebec by the Canadian Pacific Express ships are handled is instanced thus: Soon after the arrival of the "Empress of Scotland" at Quebec on April 30th the 168 passengers destined for New York, got on the C.P.R. train alongside the ship. This was at 9 o'clock a.m. Passengers reached New York Grand Central Station next day at 2:30 p.m., with a transfer from the carriage in which they set out.

The "Empress of France" arrived in Quebec on May 11th, bearing amongst others, 135 passengers for New York. These passengers left Quebec alongside the ship at 9 a.m., arrived in Montreal at 2:15 p.m. They had the opportunity of remaining in Montreal until 7:15 p.m., when they left for New York, and arrived there at Grand Central Station at 6:45 on the morning of May 12th.

Tokyo, April 18.—By Mail.—"Here's Canada! Look at this! I've been to all these places. Where's my ranch?"

In this characteristic, rapid-fire fashion did His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales greet Canada as he came to a halt before the 20 foot illuminated map of this country that hangs in the Canadian Pacific Railway exhibit at the Tokyo Peace Exhibition recently opened. It was on the occasion of the Prince's much rushed visit to the Exhibition that he was sandwiched in among the numerous events of his official visit to Japan, and the fact that he spent no less than fifteen minutes at this particular exhibit may be taken as very much of a compliment to Canada.

The "E. P. ranch" in Alberta which the Prince bought during his trip, was duly pointed out together with Banff, Lake Louise and Timmins, all associated in the royal mind with excellencies of one kind or another. And then His Highness had to see the railroad lines, steamship routes (Atlantic and Pacific) and all the "resources" of Canada picked out on the map at command of an electrician by means of the 8,500 switchboard lamps installed.

Kingston.—It is expected that the name of the contractor who will build the overhead bridge for the Canadian Pacific Railway, which will do away with the diamond at a point west of the Grand Trunk outer station, where the C.P.R. and G.T.R. tracks cross, will be announced soon. The estimated cost of the work will be about $50,000 and it is expected that the work will be under way in the very near future.

At the present time, the track of the Canadian Pacific Railway comes from the north and runs parallel with the Grand Trunk double track from a point near where the Perth road crosses the Grand Trunk track to a short distance from the diamond. The C. P. R. after crossing the diamond, comes into Kingston after crossing Montreal street. The C.P.R. engineers who drew up the plans have arranged that when the C.P.R. tracks reach the Perth road the new track will bear north for a short distance and then take a slight incline to the south and then cross the Grand Trunk track at a point where there is a rock cut for a depth of twenty feet. It is the intention of the C.P.R. to build a permanent bridge across this rock cut. The new C.P.R. track after crossing this rock cut will join the old track at a point near Montreal street.

Better Roads Without Expense.

In districts where traffic has increased or has grown more serious by the changes from horses to motors, road engineers are apt to be pessimistic about the heavy cost of bringing the road up to the higher standard necessary. In one British city, however, the road engineer has cleverly contrived to make the change without demanding any increase in the rates for road making and maintenance. The secret of his success lies in the skilful use of materials having a long life. He claims that a good water-bound road, eight yards wide, painted or sprayed with tar, can stand 400 to 600 tons of mixed traffic per day. For roads carrying 80 to 100 buses, tar macadam on a sound foundation is economically satisfactory; and on roads with 3,000 to 4,000 tons per day of clinker asphalt or a similar surface is sufficient. In one case a road was laid with clinker-asphalt four years ago and shows no signs of deterioration although the traffic amounts to 6,000 tons per day.

First Sewing Machine.

The first sewing machine was invented by Thomas Saint, an Englishman, in 1790. It could sew plain out and was designed chiefly for sewing on leather.

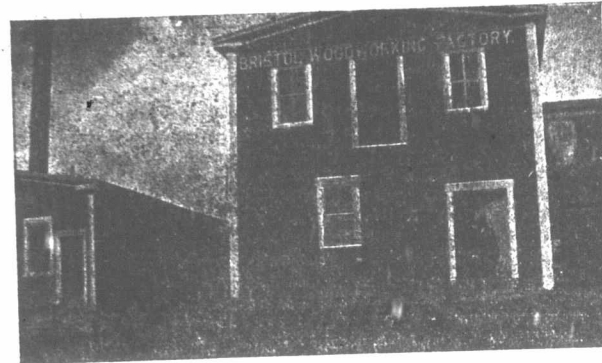

Some years later a French tailor named Thimamioner brought out an improved machine for sewing on cloth. He started a factory, but a party of tailors, fearing that the machines would ruin their business broke in and destroyed them.

In 1833, William Hunt, an American, introduced the first "lock-stitch" machine, but neglected to take out a patent, and the invention was a failure. A little later, Elias Howe invented a somewhat similar machine. Being unable to overcome the prejudice of American tailors, the inventor took his machine to England.

UTO ASSOCIATION AT ST. LEONARD

To be Held on July 8—Every Motorist Should Become a Member

(Edmundston Observer)

We have received a report of the recent meeting of the New Brunswick Automobile Association held in St. John. We notice with pleasure that the Hon. J. E. Michaud was elected one of the Vice-Presidents. Everyone who owns an automobile should join the Association as it benefits every automobile owner. A reading of this report which is hereby produced will conclusively show the things for which the Association stands, and the power it is exercising in the right direction. The next meeting will be held in the Cyr Hotel, St. Leonards, on July 8. J. E. Michaud our popular Police Magistrate is the representative of the Association for the county of Madawaska.

A splendid information service, reduced rates at certain garages and hotels throughout the province and an up-to-the-minute road guide, were among some of the services which it was announced the New Brunswick Automobile Association would supply its members, at the annual meeting held in St. John on the evening of May 2. The president of the Association, Mr. T. P. Regan, was re-elected to office for the ensuing year and in a graceful speech thanking his fellow members, he spoke enthusiastically of the prospects of the Association for the coming year.

It was announced that the Association was organizing and making arrangements to have an official representative in every town, who would be available to dispense information to members and tourists and the Association would supply him with road maps of Canada and the United States so that he might advise any members of the best roads and routes in connection with tours. Arrangements already have been made with a number of hotels and garages in different towns of the province to grant reduced rates to members of the Association, and in return for this it is expected that these establishments will be patronized by members. Every member is to be supplied with a road guide and road map of the province and it was announced that the secretary would be only too glad to supply any information which any member might want and as Mr. Berrie said: "If I don't know it at the time I certainly will make every effort to find out."

Mr. R. G. Lee of Fredericton gave a very interesting and instructive address in which he emphasized the great help which his membership in the N. B. A. A. has been to him to a through to San Francisco. He said that on many occasions he had been able to obtain information, road guides and special consideration at hotels and garages because of his membership in an Association. On one occasion, he told his audience, in formation which he wished to obtain and maps he needed would have cost him $18, but when it was discovered that he belonged to an affiliated Association he received these gratis.

Many members and a great majority of those outside the Association do not know that the N. B. Automobile Association is affiliated with the Canadian Automobile Association, the American Automobile Association and the Royal Automobile Club of London, Eng., and that whatever privileges are extended to the members of these organizations are also extended to the members of the New Brunswick Association when on visits to these countries. It is also affiliated with the Canadian Good Roads Association. The question of "drive to the right" was taken up and considerably discussion took place. The secretary read a telegram from the secretary of the Nova Scotia League to the effect that the "drive to the right" bill had passed the legislature and would be effective from Jan. 1, 1923. This means that New Brunswick also will have to "drive to the right" from that date and so one of the things for which the N. B. A. A. has been fighting for several years will have come to pass and the uniformity of the drive throughout Canada and the United States will result in much safer and saner auto travel.

The secretary, from time to time, will send out bulletins to all the members keeping them advised of the condition of the roads, giving the general conditions and telling of any work and also advise them of detours, etc., so that motorists may know what to expect when they start out on a trip. The financial report, which was presented at the meeting in January, shows the society to be in a healthy condition. The secretary, announced that since April 10 he had sent out eighty-seven road guides to persons in the United States and Canada, who had written for such information. It was announced that the association's plan to place a representative in each town in that province was making fine progress. Already about eight representatives who act without remuneration, had been appointed.

The officers elected for the coming season are: President, T. P. Regan, St. John; first vice-president, R. Downing Paterson, St. John; second vice-president, R. G. Lee, Fredericton; third vice-president, Hon. J. E. Michaud, Edmundston; fifth vice-president, S. D. Heckbert; directors: L. R. Ross, St. John; F. A. Kinneary, St. John; F. E. Dennison, Moncton; H. M. Wood, Sackville; W. R. Carson, St. Stephen; W. M. Mowatt, Campbellton; Charlie T. Green, St. John. Chairman of the various committees are: Legislative, Hon. W. F. Roberts; good roads, Percy W. Thomson; publicity, J. F. Tilton, St. John. The secretary-treasurer, J. Charlton Berrie, was re-elected.

BRIDGE OPENING

(Edmundston Observer)

At a special meeting of the Town Council held last evening several important items were passed. The Emerson property in the centre of the town was bought. The barns will be removed and the grounds turned into a public park.

One thousand dollars was voted for the celebration to be held at the opening of the International Bridge. Any proceeds accruing to the town that day to be used to defray any other expenses. It seems likely there will be a further delay in the opening of the bridge.

In talking with officials we find there are yet several weeks of hard work to be done. The flooring is not yet nearly finished and the pounded rock has yet to be placed. It looks as if the formal opening will be delayed until the last of August or the beginning of September.

Howard MacFarlane of the Warren Paper and Pulp Co. of Augusta, Me., was here on Wednesday of last week, bringing with him Mrs. MacFarlane and his daughter Dorothy. Mr. MacFarlane drove through from Augusta in one day. Mrs. MacFarlane and daughter were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Amos until Tuesday of this week, when they left to join Mr. MacFarlane in Cabano.

A very successful concert was held in the convent of the Gray Nunnery on Wednesday. The entertainment provided by the Sisters and children were given for the young folk in the afternoon and was repeated for the grown up people in the evening. Owing to the bad weather there were not so many people there as otherwise would have been the case. Notwithstanding, a good number attended and the program was of a high order.

Mrs. George T. Baird was hostess at a pleasant party Friday afternoon when the guest of honor was Miss Ellen Robinson teacher of the primary department of the Andover grammar school. The guests were her scholars with a few invited grown-ups. The party turned out to be a "shower" each scholar presenting Miss Robinson with a gift accompanied by a verse of poetry, with all good wishes for her happiness in the new life upon which she is soon to enter. A jolly time was spent by all present. Delicious refreshments were served at five o'clock.

The benefit dance for the Baseball Club of the Edmundston A. A. Association was a great success, a great many people attending. The management reports that $115 was cleared, after all expenses had been paid. The thanks of the association is extended to all who helped make the affair a success, and donated time and aid. The Star Theatre Co. through Manager Johnson, gave the Palm rooms free of rent. Reid's Orchestra furnished music without charge. Tickets were donated by Le Madawaska and the posters and slides were made by "David Moscovitch 23". Reid's orchestra was assisted by a violinist from St. John, A. J. Currie. The ladies decorated the dance hall very beautifully. The people of Edmundston are interested in sport, and it is good omen for success of the club that it starts out as it does with the support which has been accorded it. A meeting of the club and further plans will be made at the earliest opportunity.

KEDDY ELATED OVER HIS NEW LEASE ON LIFE

DARTMOUTH BLACKSMITH SAYS HE WAS ALMOST PAST WORKING WHEN HE GOT TANLAC AND WAS THEN ENTIRELY RELIEVED OF STUBBORN STOMACH TROUBLE.

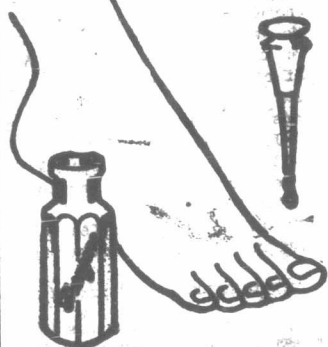

"I simply have been given a new lease on life and I don't believe money could buy a better medicine than Tanlac," said Nathan Keddy, Westworth St. Dartmouth, N. S., machine blacksmith for the Starr Mfg. Co.

"I was in a very run-down condition for six years, had no relish for my food and what I did eat seemed to do me no good. I lost thirty-two pounds. In the mornings I felt so worn out I would rather have taken a beating than to get out of bed, and I was so languid and drowsy all day I almost fell asleep at the forge. I was just about down and out, and right on the point of giving up my job.

"Statements of Dartmouth people started me taking Tanlac and six bottles have put me on my feet again. My appetite is fine, I eat like a lumberjack and never have that tired, drowsy feeling any more. Nine hours solid work comes easy now and I don't hesitate to give Tanlac a big boost." Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

WOMEN AND LOVE

Various Conceptions Held of Life's Greatest Experience.

"Woman seems so often to fall into extremes in the conception of love and its treatment," says Lady Dorothy Mills in the Ladies' Field.

"Either she wants to sit on a pedestal or to kneel at its base, to visualise herself as a queen with her slave-lover for ever on his knees adoring, or to abase herself, setting her foot on her own neck and begging for the merciful assurance of eternal love.

"In neither pose is she natural or admirable, for pedestals hold no place in real life. No man is capable of adoring for very long at a time, and it is extremely bad for him to be adored to excess. Left to himself, he loves simply, admiringly, humanly, and is likely to be repelled or made uncomfortable by the extremes of one kind or another into which a woman's more highly strung nature sometimes propels her. He loves and, except without extreme proof to the contrary, believes himself loved in return, and is not analytical or self-conscious of his consequent happiness.

"If woman would take her love as sanely, without probing or self-tormenting, she would be a great deal happier. She is too apt to treat love as if it were something cataclysmic and supernatural, instead of a most natural phenomenon that, unless something is very radically wrong somewhere, is very radically left to all-wise nature.

"It is partially the fault of her upbringing, her half-baked education, the exaggerated self-consciousness mixed with ignorance that has been inculcated into her early girlhood, and the factitiousness of the books she reads, and the conversations she hears. She has learned to regard love out of all true relationship to life; she has learned fear of it, and sometimes assumes arrogance to conceal fear. She cannot let it alone or be natural with it, and she concentrates too much on one particular aspect of it. She worries it as a dog does a bone. She makes a tortured unwieldy Frankenstein of it instead of accepting it as a natural and a beautiful thing.

"Above all, she does not seem able to combine it with a sense of humor. In love, as in all other emotions, there enters at times the comic element, which, taken the right way, is a healthy relief to tension and over-pressure, and saves many a dangerous situation."

Strange Clothes.

In the town of Mombasa, in British East Africa, lam jars and curtain pins are used for the personal adornment of the natives.

In the French war zone, Arras now has a population of 41,500, Bethune of 20,000, and Lens of 9,000.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS

Friends of E. A. Hoyt will be pained to learn of his death which occurred at his home on Wednesday 21st, after an illness of a month. Deceased was born on August 9, 1850 and came as a young man to Centreville. He was married to Miss Alice Johnston who survives him. Shortly after marriage the young couple moved to the American west, where they spent a number of years in Kansas and Arizona. They returned to Centreville about twenty-five years ago and have lived here continuously since. He sides his wife he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. J. C. Stevens of Centreville, a brother, Wallace Hoyt, of Denver, Colo., and a sister, Mrs. Annie Sawyer of Fredericton. The funeral was held at his late home and conducted by Rev. Hugh Miller, assisted by Rev. C. R. Canham. The members of Carleton Lodge F. and A. M. attended in a body and took charge of the service after leaving the house. Interment was made in the Methodist cemetery.

The pictures are still improving each week and any one missing these programmes is missing a real treat.
Don't forget "The Light in the Clearing," Irving Bacheller's very best story, on Wednesday night and "The Truant Husband" by Albert Payson Terhune on Saturday. Last Saturday the management got an extra good house.

A crowd of men started work this week on the highway near the Boundary Line. The road didn't get at it any too soon as it is washed away now to the state laid down about the stone age. A good many of the roads in the section should be sent over to Gloucester County for repair.

Miss Dorothy Clark of Fredericton, N. B., is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Clark.
Dr. Murray and Miss Marguerite Campbell spent Sunday with Mrs. R. W. Campbell.

Mr. Bruce of Charlottetown, P. E. I. is visiting his son, W. M. Bruce.

Miss Esther Woods returned to Lawrence, Mass., on Friday.

The Centreville Dramatic Club
played at Perth on Friday.

The United Baptist church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, the 21st, when Miss Rosie Jamieson, daughter of A.
and Mrs. Theodore Jamieson, was united in marriage to Carey Dickinson of Avondale. The church, which was packed to the doors with interested witnesses, had been prettily decorated with an arch of greens and cut flowers. Miss Gloria Woods was bridesmaid and Harold Jamieson acted as best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. R. Bell. Following the functions at the church the invited guests adjourned to the bride's home on Mill street, where the happy throng did yeoman service at the te-ble laden with sumptuous eats. Many beautiful presents bespoke the esteem in which the bride was held. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful string of pearls, and to the bridesmaid a pearl and onyx ring.
After a happy wedding tour the couple will return to their future home in Arcadia.

On July 2, Rev. H. R. Bell will preach as follows: Centreville, 11 a.
m.; Good Corner, 3 p.m.; Levesville, 7 p.m. The following subject will be considered at each of these services:
"Has God a financial plan for His Church?" Come and bring a friend.

Mrs. F. M. Brown and daughter, Miss Vera, on Saturday. The latter young lady recently received her Ph.
D. from Bryn Mawr University, Philadelphia, after a most brilliant scholastic career.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. DeLong and Miss Hildred DeLong attended the marriage of Miss George DeLong of Brookville on Wednesday of last week.

The Kennedy House is beginning to smile over the new coat of paint it is receiving at the hands of Mr. William of Bath.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stevens of Woodstock spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stevens.

Dr. H. M. Martell of Woodstock was at the Kennedy House on Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. MacKenzie have moved into their home in town again.

UNITED GENIUS AND BEAUTY

Many of America's Great Men Have Proved that the Two Can Exist Together.

While Socrates had the mind of a god and the form of a satyr, and many from that day on have said that beauty and genius do not go together, such is not the case in American history, according to Charles E. Corwin, writing in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.
With few striking exceptions good looking, well proportioned men have achieved fame. Washington was a handsome man, and Gen. William Scott was considered fine looking. Gen.
Lee, of Civil War fame, was attractive in form and feature. Daniel Webster, Edward Everett, Horace Greeley and Franklin were handsome types of their periods.

The writer declares there has been a distinct change in the type of the American countenance. In colonial days the typical face was full, rosy and reposeful. Today the average countenance is somewhat sharp, pallid and expressive of energy. Roosevelt had the sharpness of present-day features. President Wilson's chin relates determination, and Bryan's smile is unique of his kind but the features are like the present day type.
Among men of letters James Justice Cooper has the ideal for beauty. He was large and finely proportioned. His features were of loquacious cast, and his clear, gray eyes were resistant with power. Washington Irving was a handsome man, as was also N.
P. Willis.

NEW LINES SEEN ON MOON

British Astronomer Makes Public Recent Observations of Great Interest to Scientists.

A paper by T. L. McDonald, read before the British Astronomical association, discusses the appearance of a bright border along the dark limb of the young moon. According to Mr.
MacDonald this luminosity, which is not visible in all lunations, has a more or less bacillus appearance, and is described brighter than the ordinary surface, which always dominates the darker part of the young moon.

The bright border varies in length, not always extending as far as the base of the lunar crescent, and "certainly many circular swellings of intense brightness have been noted. In general the border is most sharply defined when the moon is 2 1/2 days old, and it begins to become diffuse the third day of the lunation. By the seventh day it is barely distinguishable.
Commenting on these observations, Mr. Harold Thomson stated that he had observed the bright border with the naked eye, but it disappeared in the telescope.—Scientific American.
