HEALTH where 'tis SOUGHT!

Holloway's Pills.

CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND STOMACH, WHEN IN A MOST HOPELESS STATE.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Matthew Harvey, of Chapel Hill, Airdrie, Scotland, dated the 15th of January, 1850.

Sir—Your valuable Pills have been the means, with God's blessing, of restoring me to a state of perfect health, and at a time when I thought I was on the brink of the grave. I had consulted several learned doctors, who after doing what they could for me, stated that they considered my case as hop eless. I ought to say that I had been suffering from a Liver and Stomach complaint of long standing, which during the last two years got so much worse that every one considered my condition as hope less. I was a last resort got a Box of your Pills, which soon gave relief and by persevering in their use for some weeks, together with taking night and morning your Ointment over my chest and stomach, and right side, I have by their means shone got completely cured, and to the astonish ment of myself and every body who knows me.
(Signed) MATTHEW HARVEY.

CURE OF A CASE OF WEAKNESS AND DEBILITY, OF FOUR YEARS' STANDING.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Smith, of No. 5, Little Thomas Street, Gibson Street, Lancashire, dated Dec. 12th, 1849.

To Professor Holloway.
Sir—I beg to inform you that for nearly five years I hardly knew what it was to have a day's health suffering from extreme weakness and debility, with constant nervous headaches, giddiness, a distension of the stomach together with a great depression of spirits, I cannot to think that nothing could benefit me as I had been to many medical men some of whom after doing all that was in their power, pronounced me that they considered that I had some spinal complaint beyond the reach of cure, together with a very disordered state of the stomach and liver, making my case as complicated as anything could be done for me. One day being usually ill and in a dejected state, I saw your Pills advertised, and resolved to give them a trial, more perhaps from curiosity than with a hope of being cured, however I soon found myself better by tak ing them, and as I went on persevering in their use for six months, when I am happy to say they effected a perfect cure.
(Signed) WILLIAM SMITH.

CURE OF ASTHMA, OF TWENTY YEARS' STANDING.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. J. K. Heydon, 78 King Street, Sydney, dated 10th of November 1849.

To Professor Holloway.
SIR—I have the pleasure to inform you that many extraordinary cures of Asthma have been effected here by means of your Pills. One is that of a Lady residing near the "Razedick," who after having for twenty years been unable to make the slightest exertion suffering very terribly from shortness of breath, coughing, and spitting, but in now, to use her own expression, able to run up to the top of that mountain. Another case is that of Mr. Eaton, Tai la, Hutchinson's Buildings, Clarence Street, who was so dreadfully bad that he was confined entirely to his bed-room for six months, prior to his commencing with your Pills, and attended regularly by his medical men, who pronounced him to be in a dying state, yet, likewise, by my knowledge, has been restored to perfect health by the use of your Pills, and rubbing your Ointment night and morning into his chest.
(Signed) J. K. HEYDON.

ANSTONISHING CURE OF THE EARL OF ALDBOROUGH

By this Miraculous Medicine! after every other means had failed!

A Copy of a Letter from the Earl of Aldborough dated 11th March, 1849, is published in the 10th Number of the Standard.

Sir—Various circumstances prevented the pos sibility of my thanking you before this time for your kindness in sending me your Pills as you did. I now take this opportunity of sending you an order for the amount, and at the same time, to add that your Pills have effected a cure of a disorder in my Liver and Stomach, which all the most eminent of the Faculty at home, and all over the Continent had not been able to effect; nay, I had even the waters of Carlsbad and Marienbad, I wish to have another Box and a Pot of Ointment in case any of my family should ever require either.

I remain, with much respect,
Your most obliged and obedient servant,

CASA'S DIRGE.

Vainly for us the auburns shine; Dimm'd is our joyous heart;
Oh, Casa! dearest dust than thine Ne'er mixed with mother earth; Thou wert our corner-stone of love
The keystone of our fate;
Thou art not!—heaven scowls dark above,
And earth is desolate.

Ocean may rave with billows curl'd,
And moons may wax and wane,
And fresh flowers blossom, but this world Shall claim not thee again!
Closed are the eyes, which bade rejoice Our heart, till love ran o'er; Thy smiles are vanished, and thy voice Is hushed for evermore!

Yes, thou art gone! our heart's delight, Our boy so fond and dear.
No more thy smiles to glad our sight,
No more thy songs to cheer;
No more thy presence like the sun To fill our home with joy; Like lightning hath thy face been run,
As swift, as bright, fair lay!

Now winter with its snow departs,
The green leaves clothe the tree,
But summer gladdens not the heart,
That bleed and break for thee.
The young May wears her flowery crown, Her tresses in beauty wave They only shake their blossoms down Upon thy silent grave!

Dear to our souls is every spot Where thy small feet have trod; Where odours, breathed from Eden, float,
And sainted is the sod;
The wild bee with its bugle fine,
The blackbird singing free, Melt both thy mother's heart and mine—They speak to us of thee;

Only in dreams thou comest now From heaven's immortal shore, A glory on that infant brow, Which death's pale signet bore;
'Twas thy fond looks, 'twas thy fond lips, That lent our joys their tone;
And life is shad'd with eclipse, Since thou from earth art gone!

A little while—a little while—Ah! long it cannot be—
Where angels smile on thee,
Where angels smile on thee.
How selfish in the worldly train, How selfish to deplore!
Oh! that we were where now thou art,
Not lost, but gone before!

Very early on Sunday morning last, in Carleton, a labouring man, named Richard Beatty, a native of Ireland, whilst labouring under temporary in sanity, terminated his existence by drowning him self in the Mill Pond. His body was discovered the next morning, when it was ascertained that in order to effect his design with the greater cer tainty, he had enveloped his neck and shoulders with a heavy chain, procured in the vicinity of the place where the deadly act was committed. A Coroner's inquest was held on the body, which returned a verdict in accordance with the circum stances. The deceased has left a wife, in very critical state of health, and four young children to render their loss, whose destitute circumstance lament their objects of sympathetic regard.—St.

The Worlds Exhibition.—We lately noticed that certain shipowners in Philadelphia were advertising "cheap passages" ($100 to go and return) for intending visitors to the great International Industrial Exhibition, to be held in London in July next, and we are glad to see, by an advertisement in the last Witness, that our shipowners are not behind our "drab coated" friends in the south, either in enterprise or liberality. Mr. James R.
Cair states he is ready to grant passages to and from Liverpool or Glasgow, during the whole of next season, on board of any of his "Line of Traders"—Montreal to either place, for $40 and for passage both ways $75. Mr. Cair's ships are too well known to require our say ing anything in their favor; but one of them, the "America," we may mention is a splen did ship, now building by the well known firm Messrs. Scott and Sons of Greenock.—

A curious exhibition is in course of prepa ration for the World's Fair, by Mr. Wylie, Mr. P., the eminent map engraver. He is con structing a huge globe, of 50 feet in diameter, which will be provided with a convenient mode of ingress and egress; the different coun tries of the world will be represented upon the inner, and not upon the outer surface, and the interior will be fitted up with galleries and staircases, so as to enable the visitor to make a tour of the world, and visit each of the coun tries whose industry or productions will be displayed in the Great Exhibition.

European Intelligence.

The excitement in the religious world threatens eventually to become nearly as great as that in the political, and the anti pathy which resides in antagonistic creeds has been recently developed in England. The Pope's bull parceling out the Country into new ecclesiastical divisions is the cause of this feeling. The Bishop of London, in a reply to an address from some of his clergy, on this subject, holds the following language:
"The recent assumption of authority by the Bishop of Rome, in pretending to parcel out this country into new dioceses, and to appoint archbishops and bishops to preside over them, without the consent of the Sovereign, is schis matical act, without precedent, and one which would not be tolerated by the government of any Roman Catholic kingdom. I trust that it will not be quietly submitted to by our own people."

The appointment of bishops to pre side over new dioceses in England, constitu ted by a Papal brief, is virtually a denial of the legitimate authority of the British So vereign and of the English episcopate; a denial, also, of the validity of our orders, and an as sertion of spiritual jurisdiction over the whole Christian people of the realm. * * *

That step will, I am convinced, tend to strength en the Protestant feeling of the people at large, and will call some prizes to hesitate and draw back who are disposed to make conces sions to Rome, under a mistaken impression that she has abandoned somewhat of her ancient pretensions, and that a union of the two Churches might possibly be effected without the sacrifice of any fundamental principle."

Ireland, on this question, threatens retaliation.
At the recent meeting, on the 25th ult., Mr. John O'Connell said:—"If a cry be raised against the Catholic church, cannot a counter cry be raised against the Protestant church? In Ireland, at least, we shall do so.
Does the Cardinal Archbishop of Westminster send tax-gatherers and bring the force of law to bear upon Protestants to compel them to contribute to the support of his dignity? No; he will be supported by the voluntary contribu tions of the Catholics; he will receive no money under false pretences,—he will take no money for services that he does not render.
But the Protestant Archbishop of Dub lin, and the Protestant archbishops and bishops of other sees are not so; they receive money for services they do not perform (hear, hear).
The Cardinal Archbishop of Westminster, or the other Catholic bishops in England or Ireland, do not enforce the payment of tithes at the point of the bayonet; the life of no wi dow's son is taken on their account. The soil of Ireland has been saturated with blood in the forced collection of this odious impost, and the Catholic people are still compelled to pay it indirectly, for they cannot get their receipts for their rent until they pay the tithes to the landlord, who has to pay it to the pa son in the first instance. We must put an end to this (cheers). I hope the country will rally and meet the cry against Popery by a cry against the Protestant church establish ment (hear, hear)."

The School Mistress and her Canine Friend.—One of the most touching instances of canine attachment, of which we ever heard, was related to us the other day, by a matron of the neighborhood where the finale of the melancholy event transpired.

A young lady of one of the northern towns of this country, while engaged in teaching school, the past summer, a few miles from her home, was singled out, towards the close of her engagement, without any apparent induc ment, by the dog of one of her employers, as the peculiar object of his regard, which soon amounted to such a degree that he could scarcely be beaten from her side, or prevented from entering the school-house, to which he daily repaired. At the termination of her school, which she left in falling health, when about to start for her parental residence, the dog gave signs of his determination to fol low her, which, perceiving, she turned to the owner, and soon effected a purchase of the animal, which now joyously attended her home. Her first words on entering the house were—"Mother I have come home to die, and have brought a friend to watch over my grave."

After making this announcement, she imme diately took to her bed, and sunk rapidly in typhoid, which, in about a week, terminated in her death. During her whole sickness, the faithful and evidently sorrow-stricken dog, never but for a moment at a time, left the sick room, constantly lying dolefully near the head of her bed, and seeming but too trist when permitted to lick her fevered hand which was occasionally extended for his ten der caresses. As her final hour drew near, he became indifferent about food, and soon re fused it altogether. After her death, which he seemed to comprehend, he continued to watch by the corpse, only at due time leaving it, and that was when the coffin-case, which had arrived with the coffin, was carried and placed by the side of the grave previously dug in an enclosure near the house.—He then hav ing seen how he was made aware of what was going on, came out of the house, went to the case, and with his paws on the side looked in, and seemed to examine it attentively.

He next jumped down into the grave, and ap peared to inspect that also with equal care and attention. He then came out and hur ried back to his post by the corpse, which he continued to watch, till it was brought out for interment, when he closely followed the cof fin, and looked sorrowfully on, as it was low ered to its final resting place, and the grave filled up. When his human fellow-mourner retired, however, he remained behind, and lying down at the head of the grave, could not be induced to leave the spot, refusing, for the first few days, all food, then, for a week or two springing receiving it when brought to him, and at last going occasionally to the house for it, but only to despatch it in haste what was set before him, and return to his sad and lonely vigil, which, night and day, he still continues to keep up over the remains of his beloved mistress.—Vermont Freeman.

MEN WITHOUT PRINCIPLE.

Men without principle are to be found ev ery day, both in church and state. They are seen in every profession—in the pulpit, at the bar, behind the counter, in the shop, and on the farm. The more prominent their pos ition, the more glaring is the capital crime in their character. They are guided by cir cumstances—controlled by what they consid er their interests, honor, or advancement...
If these can be secured by neutrality—they occupy neutral ground between conflicting warmly perhaps, and then change their ground, as interest or feeling dictates. In terest and personal advancement are things that create their principles, (so far as it can be said they have anything like principles)— which they hold as they do other commodi ties, prepared to barter them away to any party that will give them their price.

To speak living examples, to illustrate our

The reader will find illustrations on the page humiliating, sometimes despicable; yet they offer an important lesson. They exhibit the weakness and folly of fallen men in sacred relations, and warn the living to shun the ever shifting course of men without principle.

THE INDIAN SUMMER.—Although more ap propriate to the season than the state of the atmosphere, we are reminded of the account given in an old history of Massachusetts, of the reason for calling the short interval of fine weather, in the fall, the Indian Summer.
In the early settlement of the colony, since became the State of Massachusetts, one of the greatest hardships of the settlers was the attacks of the Indians. These continued dur ing the summer months; but with the first frosts and bad weather the difficulty of avail ing caused them to cease. Then the colo nists obtained a respite; but after a short in terval the fine weather returned, and with it the Indians. These few days therefore in the fall, during which the early fairs were again exposed to hostile incursions obtained the name, by which we now distinguish every little interval of clear sky from the beginning of October to the fall of the snow.—[Montre al Herald.

Fatal Accident.—While the trains of the Rouse's Point and Ogdensburg Railroad, were near Champlain, on Wednesday last, at 3 o'clock, the locomotive struck two women who were standing on a bridge, over which the cars passed killing them on the spot.— One of the women had a child in her arms, who escaped unhurt. Both women were Canadians, and were going a short journey to visit a neighbour. An inquest was held on the bodies, and the Engineer of the loco motive acquitted of all blame. The Jury re turned a verdict of "accidental death."—16.

Extraordinary Human Curiosities.—Mr.
S. B. Knox arrived at the Tremont House yesterday with two Kasai children, a boy and a girl, of an almost extinct race of Central America. They are the most outre looking looking objects ever brought out to this country; but they are "natural humans," not withstanding that their appearance at the first glance is rather against them. The boy is 23 inches in height, and weighs 10 pounds; and in the opinion of Dr. Gilman Watts of New York, is about 10 years of age. The girl is 25 inches in height, weighs 14 pounds, and is supposed to be about 8 years of age.— Their heads are not larger than a new born infant's, and they may be almost said to be destitute of foreheads, while their noses are finely developed, straight and long, and pro ject at a well defined angle. Their eyes are full, dark, and lustrous. Their heads are covered with strong dark hair, which de scends forward nearly to the eyebrows. The face is sharp, the upper lip projecting, and the chin receding in a corresponding degree.
Notwithstanding the almost entire absence of forehead, there is not in the profile view the least resemblance to the Simian tribe. They are said to belong to the surviving remnant of an ancient order of priesthood, called Kasai, which by constant intermarriage within their own caste, has dwindled down to a few in dividuals, diminutive in stature, and imbecile in intellect. Their heads and faces resemble exactly the figures on the bas-reliefs on the temple ruins described in Stephen's Central America. They are orphans, and at the close of a war between two of the Aztec tribes, fell into the hands of a traveller named Hammond.
They are lively, playful, and affectionate, but all attempts to teach them a word of English, have thus far proved unsuccessful; but they occasionally utter a few gibberish sounds.

The above description from the Post of Wednesday, is a very correct one, of the cu rious creatures now brought to our notice.— There can be no doubt that they are "humans," in the common acceptance of that word; but they are without language, and are asym metrical in manners, and can give no other claim to be received as such, but by the intel lectual appearance of their faces, and the physiognomical resemblance to the human race.
We can scarcely conceive of a more curious study to the psychologist than is presented by these children. We trust that they may be put in good hands and taught something bet ter than tricks. Such labor has made Laura Bridgeman what she is, would very much change, if it did not improve, these new spec imens of life.—[Boston Advertiser.

CURES FOR THE UNCURED.

Holloway's Ointment.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF SCURF, OR KING'S EVIL. Extract of a Letter from Mr. J. H. Alliday, 202, High Street, London, dated the 2nd of January, 1850.

To Professor HOLLOWAY. "I am, My dear Sir, when about three years of age, was afflicted with a glandular swelling in the neck, which after a short time broke out into an Ulcer. An eminent medical man pronounced it as a very bad case of Scurf, and prescribed for a considerable time without effect. The disease then for four years went on gradually increasing in virulence, when it broke out in the neck, and then burst below the left knee, and a third ulcer the eye, besides several others on the left arm with a tumor between the eye, which was expected to break. During the whole of the time my suffering husband received the constant advice of the most celebrated medical Gentlemen at Cherteaum, but without success. When one of the surgeons said that he would amputate the left arm, but that the blood was so impure, that it that limb were taken off it would be then even impossible to subside the disease. In this desperate state I determined to try your Pills and Ointment, which he did, and after three months perseverance in their use, the tumor gradually began to disappear, and the discharge from the ulcer perceptibly decreased, and at the expiration of eight months they were perfectly healed, and the boy throwing away the bandage, I thought, to the amazement of a large circle of acquaintances, who could testify to the truth of this miraculous cure. Three years have now elapsed without any recurrence of the malady, and this boy is now as healthy as he can wish. Under these circumstances I consider that I should be truly grateful were I to make you acquainted with this wonderful cure effected by your medicines at every other means had failed. (Signed) J. H. ALLIDAY. Extract of a Letter from Mr. John Pitt, Dudley, 14th Jan., 1850.

To Professor HOLLOWAY. "SIR—It is with the greatest pleasure that I write to thank you for the benefit I have received from your Pills and Ointment, which have completely cured me of the Rheumatism, under which I suffered for this last four years. At times I was so bad as hardly to be able to walk. I had tried every kind of Medicine that was recommended without receiving any benefit. I at last thought I could give your medicines a trial, and purchased from Mr. Hollin, Chemist, of this Town, two Boxes of Pills, and two of Ointment, and in three weeks I was restored to health and am now as well able to walk as ever I was in my life. I am glad to find up a thin parish, having been sixty-three years in it, with an exception of ten years I served in the 4th Regiment of Foot. (Signed) JOHN PITT. TRANS. STARLING.

Mr. Burger, of No. 5 Graham Place, Drypool near Hull, had ulcers on his leg from the age of eighteen until upwards of eighty, and although for many years he had sought the first advice in the Dispensary, nothing was found to cure them. He was when suffering most excruciating pain during periods together, which incapacitated him from attending to his business. He had given up all hopes of getting a cure, when at last he was persuaded to try Holloway's Pills and Ointment, which he did, and however wonderful may appear, the leg was thoroughly healed by their use, and he is continuing to use the Pills alone after his leg was well, he has become in health and is as active as now to be more active than most men of his age. (Signed) The truth of this extraordinary statement can be vouched for by Mr. J. C. Reinhardt, 22 Market Place, Hull, February 20th, 1850.

CURE OF A BAD LEG OF SIXTY.

One of the most eminent Surgeons in Lima (the Capital of Peru) had a child covered with Ringworm for more than 6 years, in vain he exhausted all his art in his endeavours to effect a cure. Not succeeding, he consulted among his brethren, and most celebrated medical practitioners of the City, but without success. He was then persuaded to try Holloway's Pills and Ointment, which he did, and after using six boxes of Pills, the child was cured, and after using six boxes of Ointment, the child was cured, and after using six boxes of Pills, the child was cured, and after using six boxes of Ointment, the child was cured. The cure of the parent, from motives of delicacy, is withheld.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:— Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, Burns, Blisters, Eruptions, and Sand Pits, Venereal Eruptions, Gout, Gravel, Swelling, Lumbago, Piles, Rheumatism, Scalds, Skin eruptions, Catarrhs, Chapped hands, Corns (soft), Cancers, Contracted & Stiff joints, Elephantiasis, Scars, Scabs, Skin diseases, Erysipelas, Sores, Tumors, Ulcers, wounds, Yaws.

Sold by the Proprietor, 244, Strand, (near Temple Bar), London, and by all respectable Vendors of Patent Medicines throughout the United Kingdom, in Pots and Boxes, at 1s. 1-2d., 4s. 6d., 12s. 6d., and 20s. each. There is a very considerable saving in taking the larger sizes. N.B.—Directions for the guidance of Patients are affixed to each Pot or Box.

THOS. TURNER, Agent. NOTICE. THE Public is hereby cautioned against purchasing or in any way receiving five promissory Notes of Fifty Pounds each, or any of them, given by the subscribers to William Turner, of St. Stephen, Merchant, and all dated the 14th day of May 1849, and payable to the said Turner or order, in one, two, three, four, and five years respectively, with interest, (or payable yearly with interest respectively,) as no consideration was given or received for the same, and payment thereof will therefore be refused by the subscribers. GREAT AGRICULTURAL WORK!

Assisted by JOHN P. NORTON, A. M., Professor of Scientific Agriculture in Yale College, New Haven, Author of Agricultural Prize Essays, &c. &c.

This highly valuable work will comprise two large royal octavo volumes, containing over 1400 pages, 18 or 20 splendid steel engravings, and more than 500 engravings on wood, in the highest style of the art, illustrating almost every implement of husbandry now in use by the best farmers, the best methods of ploughing, planting, sowing, harvesting, &c. &c., the various domestic animals in their highest perfection; in short, the pictorial feature of the book is unique, and will render it of incalculable value to the student of agriculture. This great work is the joint production of two of the most talented agricultural scholars of the day; the one eminent as an author and editor in Great Britain, and the other as a Professor in Yale College. Both are eminently practical as well as scientific men, and all they say may be relied on as the result of prolonged research, tested and sustained by practical experiment. The contributions of Professor Norton are chiefly designed to adapt the British portion of the book to this country, and thus to make it an Anglo-American work, giving to its readers all the really useful agricultural knowledge at present attainable in either country. The work is divided into four departments, distinguished by the four seasons of the year, commencing with Winter, and Prof. Norton's notes will be published as an appendix to each part. The first chapter treats of the following subjects, under the head of INITIATION. On the best of the existing Methods for acquiring a thorough knowledge of Practical Husbandry. On the Difficulties to be encountered in learning Practical Husbandry, and on the Means of overcoming them. On the Different kinds of Farming. On the Persons required to Conduct and Execute the Labor of the Farm. On the Branches of Science most applicable to Agriculture. On the Institutions of Education best suited to Agricultural Science. On the evils attending the neglect of Landowners and others to learn practical Agriculture. On observing the details and recording the facts of Farming by the Agricultural Student. Terms of the Work.—The American edition, the first number of which is already issued, will be published in semi-monthly numbers of 64 pages, with an English steel engraving in each number, of which there will be about 22 in all. PRICE, 25 CENTS PER NUMBER. CLUBBING. Three Copies will be sent to one address for $15: 5 copies for 18. Cash in all cases to be remitted direct to the Publishers, and not through Agents. LEONARD SCOTT & CO., Publishers, 79 Fulton Street, Entrance 34 Gold Street, New York.
