Britain Bottles Up Germany's Chinese Fleet

[Canadian Press.]

Shanghai, Aug. 10.—A British fleet proceeding towards Tsing-Tau passed Shanghai today. Cannonading was reported by an incoming ship. It is believed that German warships are bottled up in Tsing-Tau harbor.

French reservists left Hong Kong for France Saturday on the Peninsular and Oriental steamer Shria.

OUTPOSTS OF GREAT ARMIES STRIKE FIRE ALONG BORDERS

Troops of Both France and Germany Surge Forward, Preliminary to Terrible Contact of Armed Hosts.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Aug. 10.—1:05 a.m.—A statement issued by the war department at a late hour last night says that numerous skirmishes are taking place along the entire front of the French army. One clash with the Germans was violent, and the losses on both sides were serious.

The official communication adds that the German troops are receiving reinforcements and that the French also are being strengthened.

AEROPLANE IN THE ENGAGEMENT.

A battle began on Saturday evening on the ridges of the Vosges Mountains. Aeroplanes took part in the engagement.

The French troops, after a desperate encounter, obtained possession of the mountain passes of Bonhomme and Sainte Marie. Then on Sunday morning, when the fighting was resumed, they took a position dominating Sainte Marie-aux-Mines. The losses sustained by the French in the taking of Sainte Marie are not specifically given in the official report, which confines itself to declaring that they were serious.

WOUNDED IN FORTRESS.

The wounded French and German soldiers were taken to the French fortress of Epinal for treatment.

A French aeroplane which ascended during the engagement was repeatedly fired at, the officer who was acting as observer of the movements of the Germans receiving a bullet in the hip. The pilot of the machine, however, brought him safely

Rushing Big Guns To Fortify Quebec

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—It was learned this afternoon that the military authorities are rushing big guns to Quebec via the G. T. R. with all possible speed.

KRONPRINZ WILHELM RICH PRIZE FOR CRUISER ESSEX

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Aug. 10.—Custom inspectors who boarded the British tank steamer Narragansett, in today from Rotterdam, were informed by a sailor of the Narragansett's crew that the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinz Wilhelm had been captured by the British cruiser Essex, and that the Essex was taking her to Hamilton, Bermuda. The sailor said a wireless message last Saturday from the Essex to the station in Bermuda intercepted by the Narragansett told of the capture.

North German Lloyd line officials disbelieved the story. No word, they said, had been received from the liner. The Kronprinz Wilhelm sailed from New York last Tuesday, heavily laden with coal, ostensibly for Bremen. It was reported, but not confirmed, that she intended to meet the German cruiser Dresden at sea and replenish her coal supply.

Some Confirmation.

New York, Aug. 10.—The manager of the royal mail steam packet, Mr. Prince, said he had every reason to believe the report was true. He would not say where he had heard it, but it was believed that the British consul was his authority.

British Gunners Hit the Mark Every Other Time They Fire

The high standard of British naval gunnery is told by the 1913 target figures. With battle conditions, all told, 4,094 rounds were fired for 2,072 hits, representing an effective proportion of 50.51 per cent. Fifteen types of gun are included, and the results for each were as follows:

Gun	Rounds	Hits	P.C.
13.5-inch	171	114	66.66
12-inch (Edward VII. and later)	214	110	51.40

GERMAN INSULTS TO JAPANESE MAY BRING NIPPONESE INTO FIGHT

Merchant Ships Are Driven To Refuge of Ports By Kaiser's Cruisers and Entire Marine of Japan Has Been Embarrassed.

[Canadian Press.] London, Aug. 10.—4:10 a.m.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Tokio says: "An all night cabinet conference and activity in the navy department has strengthened the popular belief that Japan is about to take an active part in the war. A pronouncement by the Government is hourly expected."

GERMANS HAVE STRUCK AT JAPANESE SHIPPING.

[Canadian Press.] Tokio, Aug. 10.—9:59 a.m.—The German fleet at Tsing-Tau has already seized the Russian steamer Riazan, carrying British subjects, has driven one hundred merchantmen to the refuge of Japanese ports, and has embarrassed the entire Japanese shipping in the Orient.

"ALL RIGHT AT LIEGE, FORTS STILL HOLD OUT"

Belgian Legation Declares Strongholds Are Still Defying German Capture, Though City Has Evidently Been Occupied.

[Canadian Press.] London, Aug. 10.—1:40 a.m.—The Belgian legation here declared at ten o'clock this morning in connection with the siege of Liege: "Up to the present everything is all right at Liege. The forts are still holding out."

This comes in the face of many apparently reliable reports that the city is in the hands of the Germans.

GERMAN CAVALRY IN RETREAT.

Brussels, Aug. 10.—6:15 p.m.—via London, 11:20 a.m.—Reports reached here from many directions today of the retreat of the German cavalry before large French forces, who are said already to have cleared considerable territory. The locality of the fighting is revealed by the military authorities.

In official circles here it was asserted today that there had been no further battle in the vicinity of Liege, or in the town itself.

FORTY-FIFTH HIGHLANDERS ALL WILLING

ALL BLASTING STOPPED

Government Contractors Ordered to Discontinue Because of Alarms.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Aug. 10.—Col. Currie, M. P., arrived at Ottawa today and volunteered himself and his whole regiment, the Forty-fifth Highlanders, of Toronto, for service with the Canadian expeditionary force. It is understood that the single men of the regiment have all been accepted, and that the regiment will go as a unit.

Blasting Ordered Stopped.

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—Contractors on Government work on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of Canada have been ordered to discontinue blasting. This has been done to prevent the people at St. John, Halifax, Vancouver and Victoria, where large works are under construction, from becoming alarmed.

There have been complaints received at Ottawa that blasts have several times given rise to reports of naval engagements in the neighborhood of Canadian ports. In some cases there has been great alarm.

All Reservists Called.

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—A dispatch was received here from the imperial authorities this morning, ordering out all the British reservists in Canada. They number about 4,000, and most of them live in the west, chiefly in British Columbia. Written notices were sent out to all the men this morning, together with transportation tickets from their place of residence to England.

KINGSTON FINDS SHE HARBORED ENEMY'S SPIES

[Canadian Press.] Kingston harbored several German spies is now very clear. Two educated Germans, who occupied inferior positions here for several months, and who have since left, have been found to have been representatives of the German Government. An ex-German officer has crossed the border, and it is likely that will not be allowed hereafter to occupy his position here.

TAKING MUNITIONS TO GOEBEN AND BRESLAU

[Canadian Press.] London, Aug. 10.—12:15 p.m.—A dispatch from Rome to the Daily Chronicle says the Austrian Bave, laden with dynamite and live projectiles, is reported to be trying to penetrate the Adriatic Sea to replenish the munitions of the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau.

London Times Expects Germans To Attempt Invasion of Britain

[Special Cable to The Advertiser—Registered by Copyright.] Toronto, Aug. 10.—London, Aug. 10.—Canada's magnificent gift of food following the promise of troops thrilled the nation. It will be enormously valuable in checking the rise of prices and relieving the great threatening distress.

Yesterday saw England at prayer. Fifty thousand people in the evening assembled around Buckingham Palace and sang "God, Our Help in Ages Past," with wonderful solemnity and just before the King and Queen emerged.

Scenes as the troops go off to the front are inspiring, particularly in the west country districts.

"You didn't try to keep him back, said a friend who witnessed a girl laughingly bid her lover good-bye. Then came the reply: "She'd never marry me if I didn't fight for the King now."

MOTHERS ARE BRAVE. Mothers assemble in the market places cheering sons as they march off—"do your duty, my lads," they shout in farewell. (Continued on Page Three.)

FRENCH CUT OFF ARMY RETREAT

London, Aug. 10.—2:10 p.m.—A telegram from Charleroi, Belgium, to the Daily Mail, dispatched on Sunday night, says a force of French troops arrived in time to participate in a fine success of General Lemaitre's Belgian division over the German troops investing Liege.

The correspondent adds: "The French succeeded in reaching the town of Liege, and working behind the Germans cut off their retreat."

"DOWN WITH THE EMPEROR" HEARD IN BERLIN STREETS

Paris, Aug. 10.—5:50 a.m.—A special to the Figaro from Brussels says that two foreigners who arrived from Berlin, which city they had left with some difficulty, declared that they had witnessed an agitation against the Emperor in the German capital. They said that on Unter Den Linden they heard cries of "Down with the Emperor!" and "Down with the Crown Prince!"

The Belgian Government has printed and distributed among its soldiers descriptions of the designs of all uniforms worn by French and English troops.

GERMAN OFFICERS INITIATIVE IS IN THE HANDS OF AUSTRIANS

MURDER 5 FRENCH Young Men Shot at Lorrach for Patriotism, While Women Weep—Two Italians Meet Like Fate.

[Canadian Press.] Paris, Aug. 10.—2:45 a.m.—(How five young French men were shot and killed in Germany is graphically described in an affidavit of Jean Demoures, a returned student, who declares furthermore that two Italians travelling in the same train met the same fate.

Another Frenchman who shouted "Long live France!" at Lorrach, a town of Baden, where he was awaiting a train. According to the affidavit he was immediately arrested, placed against the wall of the station and shot.

Protested: Were Shot. Three other Frenchmen, youths who were among the small crowd detained at Lorrach by the Germans, protested at the killing, and were told to shut their mouths. They were then led to the place where the first Frenchman was shot, a group of officers fired at them and they fell. Women in the vicinity wept, the affidavit recites, knowing what had happened.

Another Frenchman who shouted "Assassin!" was likewise shot, the affidavit says, while the two Italians were killed on the road between Waldshut and Immendingen. One of them was killed in an argument over the closing of a train window, and the other because he objected to a German sitting on him.

London, Aug. 10.—2:05 p.m.—The Austro-Hungarian ambassador is still in London today and the British Government seems disposed to leave the initiative to Austria-Hungary in the question whether war is to be declared between the two countries.

The delay of the French Government in asking Austria-Hungary to declare her intention is understood in London to have been due to the fact that the French fleet in the Mediterranean was engaged in conveying Algerian troops to France. France, therefore, was not ready to cope with the situation in case the reply of Austria-Hungary had proved unsatisfactory, but as the transportation of French troops was completed yesterday, the note of inquiry was then addressed to the Austro-Hungarian ambassador in Paris.

SPECIAL WAR SERVICE

The Advertiser has secured for its readers during the progress of the war a special leased wire and cable service through the International News Service, which has the exclusive American rights to the cables of the London Times, the London Daily Mail and the London Telegraph. Much of this material will be printed in The Morning Advertiser owing to the fact that the time of filing dispatches by the Old London papers is coincident with the publication of the morning edition.

Among the writers whose articles we secured through this arrangement are G. J. Dillon and Ashmead Bartlett. The Advertiser will endeavor to furnish throughout the progress of hostilities the best and most accurate war news.

AWFUL CARNAGE WHERE GERMANS CROSSED MEUSE

Regiments Supporting Bridge Builders Mown Down by Machine Guns.

TASK WAS A DEADLY ONE Dead Soldiers, Civilians and Horses Piled Up in Confusion.

CIVILIANS' BAD PLIGHT Those Who Took Part in Defences Are Held at Points of Guns.

[Canadian Press.] LONDON, Aug. 10. — 2:15 a.m. — The Daily Telegraph's Rotterdam correspondent, in a dispatch filed Sunday, says:

"How deadly was the task the Germans undertook in rebuilding the bridge over the Meuse is shown by the Rotterdam Courant's correspondent, who writes that the Germans, he says, was shot away so that further troops could not cross it."

"The Twenty-fifth and the German regiments, which supported the bridge builders, were mown down by the quick-firing guns. A wounded Belgian was asked how the Germans had fared, and replied in one word, 'Annihilated.'"

"The wounded who can be transported by rail are to be brought from the hospitals at Maasicht to Alkmaar."

Dead Lay in Confusion. Another correspondent, who visited the battlefields at Vise and Liege, writes:

"Not far from the little Dutch frontier village of Mesch I passed the remains of a big German camp. Dead soldiers, civilians and horses and wagons, carts, automobiles and bicycles lay in confusion. Germans and Belgians lay side by side, evidence that there was fighting man to man. Houses had been sacked because the soldiers wished to avenge themselves on civilians who fled upon them from windows."

"Civilians who did not fight are allowed to pass, but German guards refuse to allow this courtesy to the Belgian civilians who engaged in the battle. Poor wretches, they must wait where they lie, not daring to move, for they declare they will be shot at."

"I met a party of German officers in an automobile. They held their revolvers in their hands and scrutinized me closely. They appeared to be delighted because of the fact that twice during the last two days there had been a panic and German soldiers had fired on comrades by mistake. They asked me not to speak of the presence of the wounded."

"After the constant fighting the soldiers were exhausted, but they lay by the side of their horses fully clothed, ready to be roused at a moment's notice."

WILL FOSTER ALLIANCE CHRISTIANA, Aug. 9. — Via London. — The maintenance of Scandinavian neutrality in the face of the European war promises to effect a permanent Swedo-Norwegian alliance. An official statement has been issued setting forth that the two governments have mutually agreed to go to extremes in order to maintain their neutrality, and have exchanged formal assurances with a view to making it impossible for the state of war existing in Europe to cause these kingdoms to take hostile measures against each other.

As an outcome of this agreement the Swedish and Norwegian general staffs are working on a plan for the joint defence of the peninsula, which it is expected will evaluate in a permanent alliance. The Liberals have abandoned their opposition to the Government's plan of defence.

Germany Rushed to War Unprepared in Matter of Food

PARIS, via London, August 9. — An official message announcement today says confirmation has been received that the Germans invading Belgium are lacking in provisions, having undertaken to force their way into the country without making adequate preparations. Isolating patrols are said to be surrendering in order to obtain food.

CANADA COULD SEND A FORCE OF 60,000

More Applicants Than Officer Can Handle—Camp Being Prepared.

[Special to The Advertiser.] OTTAWA, August 9. — Volunteers are storming the recruiting stations. Every commanding officer heard from so far, and most of them have wired in, says that more men than he can handle have offered for service. It looks as though Canada could raise three divisions of twenty thousand men each, instead of merely one.

Col. Hughes is back from a flying trip to Valcartier camp. He left Ottawa yesterday and is back today. The minister of militia reports that preparations are going forward smoothly. Two hundred men are at work, laying water pipes, digging entrenchments and putting up targets for the division to practice upon before setting out for the battlefield of Europe.

No Cabinet Sitting. Today the cabinet held no sitting. This is the first day for a week that the ministers have not been in conference. They were in touch with the situation, however, and learned by wire that the British cruiser Essex had taken a German prize into Bermuda today. Saturday the Government purchased a million bags of flour. It would be presented to the people of Britain who need it. The flour was bought for about $2,500 a bag from the Lake of the Woods the Oshville, the Maple Leaf and the Western Canada Milling companies.

Large Supply Fleet. The flour will lead three tramp steamers. It will be sent forward as wanted and when convoy escort can be provided. With two cargoes of oats and several shipments of hay going forward, it begins to look as though there would be a very considerable supply fleet crossing the Atlantic. The fleet will set sail under the protection of British battleships.

The gift of flour will cost Canada about three million dollars. The Government announces that it is not going to curtail expenditure upon war work, but announces that they will go forward as though war had never been declared.

May Have Regular Session. It has not been decided whether on the 18th Parliament will meet for a session of two weeks or six months. If the Government decided only to have the war money voted, this session would be over in a fortnight. However, it has been suggested that Parliament could as well not take up the business, and turn the special session into a regular session. The big railway bill would give Parliament the most work, and by that time the estimates would be ready for consideration. This would enable the Government to have Parliament always on hand to deal with any emergency.

NOTED BRITISHERS ENLIST AS POLICE TO GUARD LONDON

[Canadian Press.] LONDON, Aug. 9. — The enlistment of 30,000 special policemen for London will begin on Monday. University men, brokers, bank clerks, actors, men of all classes, propose to join.

Cyril Maude, Sir Herbert Beertholm Tree and Sir George Alexander are orators in the ranks. While Viscount Goschen heads the bankers. They will guard the waterways, railways, tunnels, etc., relieving the territorials for more important work. Each man will be on patrol of motorboats, which have been loaned by owners, will police the River Thames.

The International Women's Suffrage Alliance has arranged to look after German women and girls in England. The National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies is prepared for active service in relieving Englishwomen.

AUSTRIAN FLEET TO RESCUE TWO GERMANS

[By Special Cable to The Advertiser.] Rome, Aug. 9. — The German cruisers Goeben and Breslau were sighted in the Aegean Sea yesterday. The Austro-Hungarian fleet of thirteen battleships and cruisers, with sixteen torpedo boats, was seen the same day steaming down the Adriatic.

The Austrian fleet of 29 ships was reported steaming through the Otranto Canal in battle array by a steamer which arrived at Ancona this morning. Two scout ships led the fleet, and six torpedo boats surrounded the flagship. Every ship was cleared for action, and the fleet was proceeding at 20 knots an hour, with battle flags hoisted. It is supposed they were searching for the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau.

FOUND DYNAMITE IN GERMAN'S HOUSE

[Canadian Press.] TORONTO, Aug. 9. — A number of detectives and constables surrounded a house on the Kingston road this morning and after taking Harry Geerke, a German, and a woman, who says she is his wife, into custody, searched the premises. They found 26 sticks of dynamite, which were confiscated.

The woman was given her freedom, while Geerke was held without bail on a charge of having dangerous explosives in his possession. Geerke, it is alleged, stated that the explosives had fallen from a wagon on the Kingston road, and that he had found it there. He refused to answer many important questions.

MILLION MEN CALLED OUT

LONDON, August 10. — A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Brussels, says that Germany is mobilizing another million of men, who include those of the Landstrun, for the invasion of France.

ALL GERMAN PORTS AND ENGLISH CHANNEL MINED

[Special to The Advertiser.] NEW YORK, August 9. — Germany has officially notified the United States that all German ports have been mined. The information was received from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, who stated that Germany has given formal notice that "all ports which may be made the base of hostilities" have mines in them. This is understood to include ports of the enemy, in which Germany has been able to lay mines.

MINES IN ENGLISH CHANNEL. From another official source not made public, the state department received information that the Germans have placed mines in the English channel. Navigation through the channel is therefore perilous by either the northern or southern route.

As the channel is where the British navy is chiefly operating against Germany, naval experts consider this mining of "the high seas" by contact mining a justifiable war measure.

TWO JAPANESE SQUADRONS PUT OUT TO SEA SUNDAY

Fear That Kaiser's Ships May Interfere With British Shipping in Eastern Water—Japs Likely to Join Britain.

[By Special Leased Wire.] TOKYO, Aug. 10. — The first and second squadrons of the Japanese fleet put out to sea this morning. Admiral Dewai is in command. The destination of the fleet is kept secret. There have been reports that a German squadron was threatening British shipping in Eastern waters. It is generally believed that Japan intends to take an active part in the war. A Government pronouncement is expected hourly.

A Tokio dispatch to the News and Leader says: "An ultimatum has been issued in conformity with the remainder of the message evidently was delivered by the censor. It is suggested that the delivered portion had reference to the treaty between Great Britain and Japan."

BELGIAN OVERRUN BY GERMAN SPIES

Refugee From Liege Denies Story of Their Capture.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.] BRUSSELS, Aug. 9. — 10:30 a.m. — It is a noteworthy fact that during the fierce fighting of the past few days, a disproportionately large number of officers, compared with privates, have been disabled, owing to their distinctive uniform. Among the war money voted, this session would be over in a fortnight. However, it has been suggested that Parliament could as well not take up the business, and turn the special session into a regular session. The big railway bill would give Parliament the most work, and by that time the estimates would be ready for consideration. This would enable the Government to have Parliament always on hand to deal with any emergency.

It is going now, but we will return shortly, escorted by troops. Bitterness Against Germans. The bitterness against Germany in Antwerp is intense, but German prisoners and the wounded are treated with the utmost consideration. The Flemish population of Belgium is showing a heroic courage. In the smiling suburbs of Antwerp, the gardens, lawns and thicket of the luxurious villas are being disfigured by the recognition by military strategists.

The owners look on with grim approval at the destruction of their cherished property or its use for hospitals. Spies in Belgian Uniforms. The reports say that six spies have been shot at Antwerp and three at Louvain. An automobile was stopped in the main street of Antwerp, containing four men in Belgian uniforms who proved to be spies. The uniforms had been taken from the dead in battle.

A Jesuit priest's suspicions were aroused by the false beard of a man posing as a missionary. The priest questioned him in Latin, and as he was unable to respond, the priest gave him a heroic charge as a suspect. A report that the forts around Liege have been captured by the Germans was absolutely denied by the Belgian who arrived here last night.

BATTLE EXPECTED ON SWISS BORDER

Forty Thousand Austrians Located Near Basel—French Near Valais.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.] BERNE, Aug. 9. — About 40,000 Austrians and troops of the Kaiser's army, belonging to Lunenburg and Tyrol, are near Basel, on the Swiss frontier. The German and the French troops are also near Valais. A frontier battle may occur at any moment.

Switzerland is apparently satisfied that Germany will not violate her neutrality. Strategically this would not suit Germany. Nevertheless the frontiers are strongly guarded. Many Germans called to military service have left their women and children in Switzerland and some are in a state of great misery. Germany's statement has promised that Germany will reimburse the Swiss for expenses incurred incident to their maintenance.

The Swiss Government intends to assist the fugitives in Switzerland, provided the fugitives observe the most scrupulous neutrality.

CONNAUGHT TO TAKE CHARGE AT VALCARTIER

Has Had Great Experience in Organizing of Fighting Forces.

[Special to The Advertiser.] OTTAWA, Aug. 9. — The Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, will take personal supervision of the organization work of the Canadian army division which is being raised for service abroad.

Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess, and while their next week will leave their comfortable home at Rideau Hall, Ottawa, and will go to Valcartier, twenty miles from Quebec, where the Canadian volunteers will be brought from all parts of Canada and organized into battalions and regiments.

A camp is being prepared for the Duke of Connaught and his staff, as comfortable as possible it will be brought from all parts of Canada and organized into battalions and regiments. The Duke of Connaught is a soldier of great experience. He fought with the British forces in Egypt and on the Red River expedition in Canada. He is a British field marshal, and has at various times held the military commands at Bombay, Ireland, Aldershot and Gibraltar.

GERMAN FLEET IS REPORTED BOTTLED UP IN TSING-TAU

SHANGHAI, Aug. 10. — A British fleet proceeding towards Tsing-Tau, passed here today. Cannonading was reported by an incoming ship. It is believed that German warships are bottled up in Tsing-Tau harbor.

British merchant steamers will resume their voyages along the Chinese seaboard on Tuesday. French reservists left Hong Kong for France Saturday on the Peninsular and Oriental steamer Syria.

German, Arrested at Dutton for Starting Riot, Placed on Parole.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Dutton, Aug. 10. Dutton, throw into the greatest excitement last night by the arrest of John Winterboom, a German, who was alleged to have been a spy, and who started a riot in a hotel when he trampled papers under his feet that were German covers, and who was alleged to have threatened violence, was still further excited this morning when the man was hailed before County Magistrate H. G. St. Thomas. The courtroom was crowded with interested spectators, and County Crown Attorney McCrimmon, of St. Thomas, appeared as prosecutor in the case.

USE WATER AS AN ALLEY. The German troops inundated the valley of the Seille, hoping by this means to stop the advance of the French, but the quantity of water was not sufficient, and the French troops were able to continue their march.

GERMANS YIELD GROUND TO FRENCH. (Canadian Press.) London, Aug. 10.—4:10 a.m.—The Brussels correspondent of the Daily Mail says that he has confirmed the report of French success at Marbehan, in Belgium Luxembourg, on the railway line between Ostend and Basel. He says it is reported that the French are pursuing the Germans, who are retreating.

GERMANS YIELD GROUND TO FRENCH. (Canadian Press.) Paris, Aug. 10.—3:20 a.m.—It is officially stated that patrols of the French army in Belgium have covered the entire region of Eifel, a hilly plain in Rhenish Prussia, on the left of the Rhine. They found traces of the Germans along the Ourthe River and east of Neufchateau. At Liege the Germans appear to be recovering and re-provisioning. A large number of German squadrons that had yielded ground to the French are now in the vicinity of Tongres. A number of German prisoners have been sent to Namur and Charleville.

DARING WORK OF GERMAN SCOUTS. Dinard, France, Aug. 10.—Via London—The enterprise of German scouts is amazing. One prisoner of war had ridden over seventy kilometers (about 46 miles) into French territory. Their method is to ride in small parties toward a rendezvous, where they are joined by other parties with the object of seizing a point where the Meuse may be crossed.

A rather large body of German Uhlans are in the woods north of Dinard, but they are already surrounded and their capture is certain. Several cavalry skirmishes between French and Germans east of Namur show that the Germans have begun to feel their way south.

NO BIG ENGAGEMENT YET. (Canadian Press.)

Brussels, Aug. 10.—No big engagement between the allied armies and the German troops is expected to occur on Belgian soil, until the French and Belgian combined forces take the offensive.

It is asserted here that after 200 German soldiers, occupying a farm at Soiron, near Pepinster in the province of Liege, had been fired on by three workmen, the village was given over to pillage by the German troops, and the three workmen were taken out and shot by a firing squad.

ALL RIGHT AT LIEGE

(Continued From Page One.) New York, said this afternoon that according to his advice from Belgium only two of the forts at Liege remained standing today against the German invasion. These two, he said, would be abandoned, and the Belgian soldiers would retreat in good order. Thence they would proceed to Namur and join 100,000 French troops. Namur is strongly fortified and the consul predicted a great battle there.

IN THE POLICE COURT DENIES RUMOR OF SEVENTH LEAVING

Commanding Officer Answers Story of Regiment Being Ordered to Halifax. The heat Saturday night was responsible for two things. The water in the Springbank reservoir sank a number of inches, and gentlemen in many cases took too much. A number were discharged Sunday, but three gentlemen are on the "go without" list, but who didn't follow instructions, were on lock when the magistrate took their trial in court this morning.

They were Edgar Fletcher, G. Fuller, and Alex. Scott. The trio drew a sentence of ten dollars or 21 days. When questioned pleaded "guilty." All also only had a few as a cooler.

Thomas Woods, charged with being a vagrant, declared that he would work if he could find any work to do. Five dollars or ten days. "But one of these days," he added, "such an order no doubt will come, and I am sorry to think that when it does, I will be left behind. People are beginning to wake up at last to the fact that with the militia regiments ordered out no reserve force with training which would be useful for home defence purposes would be left."

COUNCIL TONIGHT

Aldermen and Controllers to Clean Up Accumulated Business. There will be a meeting of the city council tonight to transact business which has accumulated through the postponed meeting for the Old Boys' reunion. A number of matters will come up for discussion, including the board of control's long-deferred report on the city's garbage collection system.

The Federal square plan, the new city hall and the initiation of public works improvements with the two-thirds vote, are matters which will doubtless go over until conditions are more settled. It is the opinion of some controllers and aldermen that no more new work should be undertaken with the two-thirds vote of council.

The pavement of Waterloo street, which was scheduled to be pushed through under the two-thirds vote will doubtless fall under this new attitude of the city engineering department with the delay of the work according to the dates the city council has set for the year, as of the petitions on file.

SEVENTH PARADE

Regiment Will March Through Down Town Streets. The Seventh Fusiliers will march out from the Armories at 8:20 tonight, and parade through the main streets of the city. The two bands will march at the head of the regiment, and the band will be brought to a halt at the intersection of Murray and military reservists.

The turnout is expected to be even more successful than that of Friday, when nearly four hundred men and women, many of them military reservists, gathered to hold for the English Government for war purposes.

LIEGE FORTS STILL HOLD COMMAND OF PRINCIPAL ROADS

Although Germans Have Town They Are Unable to Bring in Food or Ammunition—Main Belgian Army Advancing Rapidly to the Attack.

(Canadian Press.) London, Aug. 10.—11 p.m.—Messages received from Belgian quarters in Liege today from the Belgian general staff assert that the occupation of the town of Liege by the German troops has not had the slightest influence on the strategic situation. It is declared that so long as the ring of forts around Liege remains intact, as it still is, the guns command three of the principal roads by which the German army can advance. This, it is pointed out, makes it impossible for the Germans, under the present circumstances, to receive supplies or ammunition from the rear.

Every line of railroad between Liege and the German frontier is alleged to have been destroyed, and the Belgian troops are said to have now upon every bridge, culvert and tunnel. Were Short of Food. The Belgian general staff declares that it has received information that the Germans, expecting to take Liege in a few hours, brought with them only sufficient food for a few days and little ammunition, their plan being to rush Liege and make it the base of their operations. The same authority states that the German assertion of the capture of 4,000 Belgian prisoners is baseless, and adds that not a single Belgian soldier remains in the town of Liege, as they are all quartered in the forts. Main Army To Attack. As far as can be learned by the Belgian general staff, some 120,000 German troops were engaged at Liege, and they are said to have been so weak as to be unable effectively to attack the forts. On the other hand, it is argued that it is not possible for the forts to concentrate their fire on the town of Liege itself. The next development in the situation at Liege is expected to be the arrival of the Belgian main army, reported to be moving rapidly from Louvain, in the northwest, to attack the Germans occupying the town of Liege.

LONDON TIMES EXPECT GERMAN INVASION

(Continued From Page One.) well, and tears are kept back until the lads are gone. This is the universal spirit. Developments so far wholly satisfy the authorities. The pessimists are confounded. The military correspondent of The Times today forecasts a serious attempt of the Germans to invade this country. The last copies of the Berlin Lokalanzeiger brought to England by fugitives, plainly intimate that the German navy will take the offensive in co-operation with the army against England. "We must be prepared for desperate enterprise on the part of the entire German navy and for attempted co-operation of the German army against us, not only from the North Sea but from the Baltic Sea," says The Times. For such gambles we are probably well prepared. The Times declares that from the soldiers' point of view the time for such a blow is within the next fortnight.

BELGIAN REPORTS EXAGGERATED. Sober military critics here insist that excessive importance must not be placed upon Belgian Alsace victory. Many Belgian reports are evidently exaggerated particularly concerning the number of German wounded. The Alsace advance is important in providing morale French army but not a deciding factor in developments. The main French and German armies will not be ready until Friday.

What the past week's fighting has done is to destroy the legend of German invincibility and given France more time for complete preparations.

TRAIN GOES DOWN QUEBEC PORT BURNED BRIDGE ORDERED SHUT

One Killed, One Fatally Injured as Result of Damage to More Ships To Be Allowed to Leave, and Some Held at Father Point. (Canadian Press.) Quebec, Aug. 10.—The port of Quebec is now closed under orders from the Federal authorities. No outgoing ship will be allowed to leave port. The following ships, that left Quebec Saturday or Sunday, are held at Father Point: Donaldson Liner Letia; Allan, Sicilian; C. P. R., Tyrone; Cunard, Albatross.

The Empress of Britain and the Victorian are reported as having made port in Halifax. The Scandinavian left Quebec at 7:30 yesterday evening and she is to be notified to put in at Halifax. The men were Robert Whiteside and George Brown. They poured the story of their wrongs into the ear of the court. It was not a sympathetic ear, for they were taxed three dollars or ten days each when they had finished their respective orations.

The story turned ruly. Whiteside came here from Russia. On his breast were pinned several medals. They were shiny and conspicuous. As he walked he encountered several gentlemen, who in mild language took exception to him wearing the marks of bravery. They even went so far as to snatch them off Whiteside's coat lapel. Here Brown explained that he was helping Whiteside get back his property. "But that does not explain why you two were fighting," said the magistrate. Whiteside explained that he thought Brown had the valor badges, and he was going to get them back and run the chances of letting anybody get away with them.

Fauds, as a result of the accident that took place on July 11, when Mr. Gott's automobile, left the town and drove into a creek three miles west of Paris. The crew was four feet deep. Mr. Gott was thrown out and sustained several painful injuries. He alleges that the road was in a disgraceful condition as the result of a washout, and blames the accident to this cause.

G. T. R. FIREMAN IN PRECARIOUS CONDITION

Found lying beside the tracks at Longwood, directly after the fast Grand Trunk express, No. 113, London to Windsor had rushed past, Jack Maynard, fireman of Windsor, was picked up badly injured and in a precarious condition. He became unconscious while being rushed to this city by the "devil strip" and caboose with right of way over the line. At the local station he was met by Dr. F. P. Drake and Smith, Son & Clark, who immediately took him to this afternoon he was reported by hospital authorities to be still unconscious and little hope is held out for his recovery.

Maynard was firing on the engine of fast freight No. 416, Windsor to London. The train had been sidetracked at Longwood to allow the express and a special freight to pass. Maynard had swung to the ground just before the trains approached and walked towards the rear of his train.

No one saw the accident. The express and special had passed and the conductor of the "devil strip" and "highball." The engineer, missing the fireman, instituted a search in which the other members of the train crew joined.

Maynard was found badly bruised beside the track over which the two trains had rushed a moment before. As he was raised from the ground he was found to be in a precarious condition. It is thought that Maynard was caught in the "devil strip" and thrown to the ground after being buffeted by the rapidly moving cars. The fact that his body is badly bruised would indicate that he was still breathing, although with great difficulty.

ORDERS CANCELLATION OF ORDERS ISSUED

Postoffice Will Redeem All Money Orders for England.

The instructions received by the local postmaster from Ottawa on Friday to discontinue the issue of money orders for England or European countries was followed by the Canadian banks here, which have since issued orders directing that those already issued be cancelled and redeemed at this end.

Many money orders destined for England and the Continent, of course, are on their way by this time, but whether they will be honored by the postoffice at the outbreak of the war is not known. In the case of England, Postmaster De Macdonald is under the impression that money orders already transmitted will be paid, although he points out that this is only an expression of opinion and not an authoritative statement.

There are two or three ways open now for the transfer of money across the Atlantic. If the money is well known on the other side and has a banking account a check drawn on a Canadian bank probably will be honored, although payment would be made subject to the ultimate redemption of the draft on this side.

Another way would be for the payee to have his account transferred to England, where most of the Canadian banks have branches, and draw on it for the benefit of a payee there.

Or the account might be transferred to England in the name of the prospective payee, the latter being advised and empowered to draw on it direct.

RECOMMENDS CHANGE

Garbage Superintendent Dodd Would Throw Out Dump Cart. Garbage Superintendent Walter C. Dodd made a report to the board of control this morning, in which he recommended that the 18 one-hour dump-carts used in garbage collection be sold or used elsewhere and six "4-yard" wagons be purchased in their stead.

The eighteen dump carts, the report says, cost $1,485 each to operate, while the six wagons would recommend would cost only $42 a day to operate, thus making a saving of $21 a day to the city or $6,552 a year. The new wagons would cost about $120, and Supt. Dodd says they would pay for themselves in a few months.

FIXING THE BLAME.

IT WOULD be a hasty saying after all that Kaiser Wilhelm is the one maker of his Armageddon.

The military caste of Germany and Austria, the Junker (Squires), nobles and many of the nouveaux riches, may be regarded as one source of disturbance.

Another arrogant set is that of the big interests, who manufacture war material or build ships, and who roll their axes about the globe for railroad, mining, oil or trade "concessions."

These are the big developers, natural enemies of the militarists. The clash between the big interests of the Alliance and of the Entente is a potent cause of war, perhaps the principal cause at bottom.

But a peculiar feature of German life is the bellicose professor. The Fatherland is full of teachers and professors inculcating a brutal disregard of the foreigner's interests, even a disregard for any morality but that of utility.

Great professors, not shallow fellows, but real scholars of depth and accuracy, sitting often in the Reichstag as well as in their cathedra, delivering harangues on public platforms as well as academic discourses in studios.

These men would opinion and talk, ethics on Nietzschean lines, Treitschke, for example, the learned historian, did much to foster, as professor of history in Berlin University, and member of the Reichstag, a relentless imperialism, and adoration for Hohenzollern, and an open hatred for Great Britain.

It was the atmosphere created by Treitschke, and such, that the present Emperor grew up in. He rides on the crest of the wave and impels it.

Full of virility, the German upper and middle classes, landed, commercial and professional, are resolved to be the "supermen" of the earth. They seem to have become mad with the sense of power. The clerical party of the Roman Catholics in the southwest is in tight league with these elements, partly through fear of the Socialists, and one party for peace. We really can't blame everything on the Kaiser, though he is responsible as leader and arch-representative. Much as we admire and love the German people, they need a cure.

PATRIOTISM AT HOME.

THE enthusiasm with which men of all classes and creeds and sections of the British Empire are rallying to the defence of flag and country, is intensely gratifying not only to all who love their native land, but to those who love the cause of which Britain is the champion.

In the old wars of England, her colonies were too weak to be of much assistance, and her fighting material had to be drawn from her own people. And in many cases the popular sympathy was not fully aroused. Even in the Boer war, there were many who were opposed. But today all classes are united with an enthusiasm we believe never was equalled.

And the men who so readily offer their services, and are prepared to lose their lives for their country, deserve gratitude. They are entering on an arduous field, and are ready for the performance of a duty—a severe duty—one that will call for their best effort, and for the sacrifice of comfort, health and life itself.

All honor to the volunteer soldiers of the Empire, and all success to them in their struggles for the right. That the result of the war will bring success to Britain's arms, and glory to her flag, and great honor to those who have armed in her defence, may be assumed. But war brings evil and disaster even to the victor. No matter what the result, there will be men wounded and incapacitated for active work in the future; there will be sickness and misery; there will be poverty on every hand; there will be loss of employment, and loss of the means of living; there will be widowed families destitute, and people starving for food.

We cannot all enlist if we wanted to do so. The army of the non-combatants will be immeasurably greater than the brigades of those who wear a uniform. The women are at home; many men are for various causes prevented rendering military service; a host of young people of both sexes are left behind when fathers and brothers answer the bugle call.

But though only a small percentage of our people may be able to enlist for service in war, the rest of us cannot be idle. There is opportunity for patriotic service at home as well as on the tented field. It will not be enough for those who stay behind to wave the flag and cheer for those who go to the front.

Their duty is not only to give moral support to the army, but to endeavor by all means to ameliorate the suffering caused by war. Let all unite heartily in the work of material aid. Not only in supplying the means of caring for the wounded, but in relieving the distress that will be widespread.

In this patriotic work women may and will take the lead. The charitable organizations controlled by them can increase their efforts, and enlarge their field. Societies like the Daughters of the Empire will have opportunity for patriotic work on the largest scale, and will be able to show that their principles can be carried into practice. Young and old can join with them. Each one can do his or her share of the work.

Let all who remain at home unite heartily for this truly patriotic service. Let old feuds be forgotten, and all jealous rivalry cease. Let one thought fill all minds, inspire every heart, and actuate every deed. All we can do will fall short of what will be required, but we must do what we can, and do it not only with energy, but cheerfully. It will involve not only labor, but sacrifice.

There may not be in its accomplishment the glory that comes to the soldier who survives the battle victorious, or goes down to death with honor. Neither will there be the danger that he meets without a murmur. But there will be glory enough in knowing that we have borne our part—a most important part—in Britain's hour of need.

SENSE.

THE Canadian press, on the whole is talking sense. Here is a sample from the Toronto World:

Canada will do everything that is needed of her in sending men to the front. That goes without saying. But Canada can do a great deal more by keeping a level head and not allowing herself to be carried away by the passions of the moment.

There is no need to hoard up flour in a damp cellar, and there is sugar enough to burn. This generation has never seen a big orange before, and was loath to believe there could be one, but now that it has arrived, we have no need to run behind a hedge about it. The more nearly we can go on doing our ordinary business and attending to our ordinary affairs the better it will be for all of us.

THE WAR CORRESPONDENT.

THE glory of the war correspondent has vanished. It commenced to depart as far back as the Franco-German conflict. Ten years ago, when Russia and Japan clashed, it was still further dimmed. War correspondents were treated with the greatest courtesy by both the Russian and Japanese staffs, but were seldom permitted to come within striking distance of the big "stories."

But it remained for that late Balkan struggle to eclipse the war correspondent. Not only was he handicapped by the most rigid of censorshipships, but frequently he was "loaded up" by the war offices with false information. This treatment is in strong contrast to that accorded such men as Archibald Forbes, Dr. Russell and Bennett Burleigh. These men became the personal friends of commanders, and were not infrequently trusted with inside information of the most vital nature.

Men of the Forbes type always tempered their zeal with discretion, never violating a confidence. In those early days of the war correspondent he had to rough it. Frequently he took his life in his hand. At the front he shared the same hardships and perils of the soldier, and his races to some point from which to give an expectant world the news of some great battle, were surrounded with dangers many and acute. Dr. Russell in the Crimean War, and Archibald Forbes in the Russo-Turkish campaign of 1878, gave to the world pen pictures of battle and siege that are marvels of vividness and accuracy. Bennett Burleigh, who died a few weeks ago, was perhaps the best known of war correspondents to the present generation, and the last of the old school, which included such stars as Williams, Villiers and Vezittelly. Burleigh was known in army and sea circles as the "War Eagle," and no campaign of modern times was considered quite complete without his presence. However, there were few of these in which he did not serve, and so great was his fame that Kipling used him as the model for one of the principal characters in "The Light of the World." Burleigh's most effective work was done during the first and disastrous campaign in the Sudan. Later came Stevens, perhaps the most brilliant descriptive writer the vocation has ever produced. Stevens was a special correspondent of the "Times," and his work was done during the Boer War. Others that have died or passed into retirement are Stephen Crane, Settembrini, and Hales, the Australian.

Of the years ago the great newspapers, particularly in America, have brought about two distinct changes in the profession. Nowadays, when a war breaks out, from the offices of news association and newspaper are rushed an army of trained newsgatherers, men unknown to fame, but selected because of their "nose for news" and resourcefulness in getting it through. With these go a special corps of fictionists or magazine writers, men who have made their mark in the writing of fiction. The turning out of a best seller, no matter how trivial or offensive, has often been sufficient excuse to send a man to the front as a special war correspondent. On the other hand the practice has developed a number of high class men, such as Richard Harding Davis, Jack London and Nevinston of the London Times. These are men with an exceptional gift for the picturesque and vivid phrase. This type of war correspondence is more for the magazine reading public. It is read largely, because of the names that are attached to it. But the sun has set for the old-time war correspondent. He had a glorious day of it, but the multiplication and universal use of telegraph, cable and wireless have made him too dangerous. Modern methods of transmitting news more than anything else has brought on the reign of the censor, and never again will war news be published save as the censor desires.

THE DIFFERENCE.

THE people of Germany are in the hands of their emperor; the King of England is in the hands of his people. Both peoples are loyal to their rulers; but in one case it is a loyalty enforced by law, and in the other a loyalty inspired by love of country and appreciation of freedom.

The contrast between the German and the British attitudes is striking. The British messages to the soldier are cheering odes to duty. The Kaiser's edicts are calculated to stir an unwilling patriotism, and to manufacture a cause for which to fight. The Germans are told they must fight against "a world of devils," that theirs is a holy campaign. It sounds hollow. Fighting for a just cause needs no such invocation as the German military rulers have voiced. The Kaiser is issuing hourly proclamations, merely to keep up his own and his army's courage.

When in doubt send an ultimatum. Cool heads are what the world needs. What are the wild waves of the North Sea saying? The German Crown Prince will never wear a crown. The Kaiser may get to Paris all right—as a prisoner of war.

Germany's path to Paris is proving a road to renown for Belgium. The attack on Belgium is another instance of the innocent bystander getting hurt. One of the British destroyers is named Sylvia. We look for terrible execution from that quarter.

Thousands of American citizens have sent offers of service to Ottawa. Handis across the sea extend from all corners of the continent. If the French and German commanders could get on the back platform of the street cars these days they would learn just how the campaign should be waged.

The present situation is not a triumph for British or Canadian militarism. It grew from British determination to preserve the peace of a neutral land. Britain is the world's policeman and peace-preserver, and her entry into the fray might be compared to the kind of engagements which the domestic policeman enters every day. Few men believe in fighting on the streets, but fewer still will stand by and see a bully maltreat a weaker citizen. Great Britain is playing the part of bully-breaker. We are all with her, because we believe religiously in the principles of peace.

EDUCATIONAL.

President Schuman, of Cornell, puts himself down as an old fogey by announcing that those who attend the summer school must do so for purposes of study, and must do very little dancing. Truly, up-to-date education will not expect the students to do anything except what entertains them.

SUMMERTIME.

Riding is so hummy. Walking is so hot. Tennis makes you grumpy. Golf is worse a lot. Never mind the diet. Keep your conscience free. Just a keepin' quiet—That's enough for me.

EVERYBODY ACCOMMODATED.

"Yes, sir, we believe in using our schoolhouse for public entertainments, dances, citizens' meetings, everything." By the way, Hiram, said another member of the school committee, "the school teacher wants to know if she can have it one day next week to hold school in."

AN INVESTOR.

"I should say so," said the man who is always cheerful. "My wife bought enough marked-down articles to save $50 on the original prices."

THE EVENING STAR.

First born and final relic of the night. I dwell aloof in dim immensity. The gray sky sparkles with my fairy light. I mix among the dancers of the sea. Yet stoop not from the throne I must retain. High o'er the silver sources of the rain. Veils t'ude I know not, nor can know. Yet much discern strewed everywhere around. The ever-stirring race of men below. Much do I watch, and wish I were not bound. The chainless captive of this lonely spot. Where light-winged Mutability is not.

I see great cities rise, which being hoar are slowly rendered into dust again; and roaring billows preying on the land; and virgin isles ascending from the main; the passing wave of the perpetual river; and men depart, and men remaining ever.

The upturned eyes of many a mortal maid. Glass me in gathering tears, soon kissed away. Then waits she for a space, and then is laid. Swelling the bosom of the quiet clay. I muse what this all-kinding Love may be. And what this Death that never comes to me.

A QUERY.

A statistical educational authority has figured out that any boy who "plays hockey" for a day costs someone else $10. That is a high assessment, and perhaps it does not take into account all the factors. What is the loss

POLITICAL POLEMICS BARRED. [Le Canada.] For our part we intend to abstain from all political polemics during the whole period of the war. We believe that the supreme duty of every Canadian at this moment is to present in the face of danger a calm and resolute front, in a complete union of thought, aspirations, resolutions and sacrifices.

FRENCH CANADIAN LOYALTY. [La Presse.] A Peterborough newspaper complains because French-Canadian newspapers deplore the duties of Canada towards the empire. The loyalty of our people is too living and too sincere to have been tampered with by any propaganda. It has already translated itself on the field of battle and only men of bad faith could suspect it.

CANADA AND THE UNION JACK. [Victoria Journal.] No one in Canada wants war. None of us but realizes its insanity and criminality if avoidable. But there are those who are in danger, and we in this country would be recreant to our British freedom if we were not ready to strain every nerve and muscle in behalf of our brothers across the sea.

END OF KINGS AND KINGCRAFT. [Louisville Courier-Journal.] The time has arrived for kings to take stock as it were, and for kingcraft to come to a showdown. When the battle clouds lift and the earth that has already been declared to hold another Europe, and it may be a more glorious Europe. Let us live and hope. But we shall have to wait and see.

WAR AND PROSPERITY. [Stratford Beacon.] There used to be an idea that war in one part of the world brought prosperity in another because it brought high prices for the time being. "Crimesan war" brought high prices for Canadian farmers, but it brought after the greatest depression that was ever known here.

THE DREAM. [To an Old Englishman.] Home is to him a clinging memory—He dreams, while sleeping in his chair, that he Down flings himself to kiss the blessed sod That dearer seems to him than aught. Forgotten are all later loves and vows. He plucks a primrose 'neath the greenling boughs. Or sits 'mid bluebells on a grassy knoll And harkens to the old, old church bell toll. "Ding-dong." How many a tale from days of yore Those wonderful enchanted days before. How wonderful led him far by land and sea! How wonderful were then his arms, how full his heart of glee! And how his youth seems wafted back From hedges in a hawthorne-blossomed lane; And the same roses bloom, and well come fly Back to the sheltering walls where he did live. He thrills with joy at sound of sky-lark's song. Gazes, until the tiny speck among the clouds is lost, and when it disappears He wakes, to find his lashes wet with tears. —In the Canadian Magazine for August.

LONDON LOST IN FOURTEENTH AFTER TWICE TIEING GAME UP

Two Freak Singles in the Fourteenth, With Two Out, Enabled Saints to Win—Bobby Heck Injured, and Will Be Out for a Couple of Weeks.

[BY BERT PERRY.]

For thirteen long innings, the London Tecumsehs staved off defeat over in Tecumseh park Saturday afternoon, and then the Saints got a couple of lucky breaks in the fourteenth inning, and a very recent old ball game. It was a gruelling position and the longest game seen at Tecumseh park since Matt Hynes and Fred Bramble went along for fifteen innings on May 23, 1912, before London finally put over the winning run and beat Berlin. Incidentally, it is the first time that Ottawa's double-barrelled victory over the Pates, it put a decided crimp in London's margin at the top of the league. The final score was 6 to 4. St. Thomas scoring two runs in the fourteenth.

Bobby Heck Out For Two Weeks. The game cost London something more than a few points in the percentage column. Bobby Heck, the best southpaw in the Canadian League, was forced to retire in the seventh inning because of a split hand received when he knocked down Kading's vicious drive. It was his left hand and the injury is such that he will not be able to pitch for a couple of weeks. Coming in his time, Heck's absence will cripple the team, especially as the London club will play in Ottawa at the end of the week, and Bobby was eager to pitch two of the games, providing he was successful in the first one.

London Team a Fighting One. The Tecumsehs put up a terrific fight Saturday, and twice came within a hair of winning. Bobby Heck pitched and tied up the game after the Saints had apparently won it. Roy Wilkinson, the slim slasher, pitched the last half of the game, and he had the Reisinger outfit mystified most of the afternoon. Only for a couple of errors and some fine base running on the part of the London team, the game would have gone to the wire. Heck himself was largely instrumental in winning it, as he came in to pitch in the tenth that scored Kustus and gave the Saints a run that offset London's lone counter in the eighth of the inning. Heine Steiger, who had succeeded Heck in the seventh inning, pitched great ball, and it was his double into the crowd in right field that made it possible for London to tie the score in the tenth inning. Steiger's double hit would have been good for a home run. It went over Craven's head and nearly to the gate. However, the crowd had spread itself into right field gate before London had tied the score in the ninth, and had halted to witness the extra innings. This made it necessary to have ground rule allowing only two bases on a hit into that section.

Tecumsehs Score First. London got the jump on the Saints to the first inning by scoring a run without the aid of a pitcher. Bierbauer was hit by Wilkinson after Linneborn and Whitcraft had been put out. Louis stole second and came all the way home on a passed ball. The Saints got one in the fifth in almost the same way. Craven got a life when Whitcraft's throw took Bierbauer off the bag. Midge stole second, and the third on a bad throw by Snyder. Hadley's fly to Lamy brought him home. The locals again jumped into the lead by scoring one in their half of the fifth. With one down, Thoma, the new left fielder, got a life when he tried to steal Kading's throw while trying to cross the bag ahead of Thoma. The later addition to the team, provided them with a second, and a fast drive by Jack Snyder which bounded off Hadley's mitt, scored him.

Saints Score a Couple. The seventh inning found Bobby Heck in trouble. He had been doing pretty good until then, although the Saints were hitting him more frequently than the London batters. Kading, Fred Wilkinson's assortment, Kopp led off in the seventh and singled to left. Heck pitched the farthest that he could, and Kopp got to third when Eddie Linneborn dropped Louis Steiger's attempted sacrifice. Midge stole second and Heck walked. Hadley, filling the bases, Jack Kading came up, and as Kading had secured two hits, one a prospect of a home run. The side were somewhat down. Kading slashed a furious line drive through the left field fence, making it possible to knock it down, making it possible to throw Kading out. However, however, was covered with blood, and it was discovered that his pitching from the middle fingers. That brought Heine Steiger into the box, making his second out-pounce against the Saints in this series, as he finished Thursday's game when London won. Thoma, who had Heine managed to retire the next two men, although Craven scored on the squeeze play. McNellis, providing the bait that put the Saints one run to the good.

Tied It Up in the Ninth. The ninth inning found London still fighting to overcome that one-run bunt and just to show what a great bunch of fighters "Doc" Reising has gathered together, Louis Bierbauer opened the last half of the inning with a neat drive to left for one cushion. Louis stole second on Eddie Lamy's bunt, and that brought Cy Reider, the famous pinch hitter, up to the plate. Cy fouled before he could get a thrower Hadley's head and Bierbauer counted at the plate by some fast play. Thoma was thrown out to third, but Johnny Nelson was unable to provide a hit to bring Reider home with the winning counter.

Tied It Up in the Tenth. In the tenth, both teams scored. Kustus making the complete circuit for the Saints by hitting a home run and being sacrificed to second by Gillespie. Inker flew out to Reider, but Wilkinson was caught at the plate, but owing to the fact that there is a ground rule allowing only three bases on a hit where the ball rolls into the big stand at the end of the left field foul line, the Umpire Miller ordered Wilkinson back to third. Kopp was an easy out, however, and London evened the score when Steiger

HAMILTON, Aug. 8.—Brantford made it two out of three by shutting out the Athletics here today by the score of 6 to 0. Both Dougherty and Taylor pitched great ball, but the Hamilton twirler was hit hard in the pinches. The visitors got to him in the first inning, and again in the seventh and ninth. Taylor was strong in the tight corners, and the locals had very few chances to score. The score: BRANTFORD: R. H. O. A. E. Long, 3; 1; 0; 2; 0; 0. Cramer, 2; 4; 0; 6; 2; 2. Naber, 2; 1; 1; 0; 0; 0. THE LATEST DOPE AND COMMENT ON CANADIAN LEAGUE HAPPENINGS

Hamilton scribes claim Rube Deneau is showing signs of old age. He looked very weak both at bat and at first base in the series there.

"Beaver" Schultz, of the Toronto team, has been released. Schultz is the fellow who started the row at Tecumseh Park here when the Toronto team last appeared in this city. He was a comedian not a ball player.

Hamilton has only one hitter in the 300 class, and he is Gauby Ivers, the former Hamilton player. The rest of the team are in the two-hundred and under class.

Whenever there is a ball game at the Hull park, where the Ottawa club plays all its Sunday games, the team that wins always does so by a big score. A short left field fence and a background of trees for the batter to face show how easy it is to get hits there.

Curly Blount, the Peterboro manager, is spreading a fine tale around the circuit. He claims "Doc" Reising just a whole stream of tobacco juice in his eye last Monday when the row began.

Manager Gygil, of the Yanks, has been going so badly lately that he has taken himself out of the game and placed McNeal at first base.

Jimmy Gilhooley has been released outright by the Hamilton club. Gilhooley's suspension was lifted on Friday and his release handed him instead.

"Buck" Freeman is being roasted by Hamilton scribes for his work there the end of the week. On Friday "Buck's" decisions were so weird he got in bad with both teams.

Joe Lili, the former Ottawa pitcher, was released by Ottawa and signed up by Toronto. Then Toronto released him and Brantford signed him up.

Ed Renfer, the former Ottawa pitcher, now with Nashville in the Southern Association, writes to a friend in Ottawa saying he wishes he were back in Ottawa with the Tecumsehs. He says he would like to see the old team and to see how the boys are getting on.

NEALE GOT TWO HITS IN MILWAUKEE GAME

Oskee Neale, the former London left fielder, played center field for the Cleveland A. A. team in Milwaukee on Thursday last and made two hits in three times up. He was playing did not make a hit with the Milwaukee Journal scribe, however, who makes the following comments about him:

Jimmy Sheekard did not depend on Neale very much in the fielding line, for the former Cub went over into center field and pulled in several long drives. His catch of Burg's in the seventh was a corker and looked good for a hit.

This man Neale, whom Sheekard had in center field, falls all over himself when fielding a ground ball. But then that's a good way to hold on to the ball—at times.

After Hovlik had fanned Billings in the fourth inning, Neale, who had previously singled, was doubled off first by a snap throw from Hughes to Jones. After having one strike on Neale in the tenth inning, Manager Sheekard ordered Willie to finish his time at the bat. He came across with a hot drive that Burg let sizzle through his fingers.

Happy Gleason and Joe Burg did the Alphonso-Gleason act in the fourth inning when they let Neale's ball drop safely in attempting to get the ball, for Happy, who had come tearing in from deep left, could have easily nailed the sphere.

Oh, you old jimmy pipe! "Lead me to it" say millions of men since they've found out that Prince Albert tobacco can't bite the tongue and can't parch the throat. "Lead me to it" you'll say just as quick as you invest in a tidy red tin and find out first-hand just why P. A. has become the largest selling pipe and cigarette tobacco in the United States.

PRINGE ALBERT the inter-national joy smoke. brought thousands and thousands of old jimmy pipes out of the garrets. It has revolutionized pipe smoking! Today three men smoke a pipe where one smoked before. That's because Prince Albert is made by a patented process that cuts out the "grouch" and just lets in the sunshine! Never in your life have you hit such flavor and fragrance and freshness! Play P. A. in a jimmy pipe or roll up the corkingest makin's cigarette you ever put fire to. It's all one and the same thing—just good for what ails your smokappetite! And it rolls up so dead easy. Being mighty fresh, it just stays put and doesn't blow away or run away like the dust-brands. And, you know, today's the day! Prince Albert is the largest seller in the United States. It is now being imported into Canada by wholesale dealers and is sold by all of the leading retail dealers. SECOND DEATH FROM AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR ST. MARYS

(Special to The Advertiser.)

STRAITFORD, August 9.—The second victim of the auto accident near James Colquhoun, of this city.

A desperate fight had been maintained throughout the past week to save the young man's life, but complications developed from his terrible internal injuries, and all efforts proved unavailing.

The other four young men of the party have practically recovered, including a brother of Colquhoun.

Dr. Rankin opens an inquest Tuesday into the accident, which was caused by a fast moving car striking a post at the roadside in passing a rig in the early morning of August 1.

Won't Go Home To Fight Britain

(Special to The Advertiser.) CALEDONIA, Aug. 9.—There are a number of Hungarians working at the Akaboo are very much interested in the war.

They are not at all in sympathy with the stand Germany and Austria have taken against the world. They say they will not go back and fight against Britain, and that Canada is good enough for them and that they will remain here.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

PORT STANLEY, Aug. 9.—Today saw the largest crowd of bathers here that has been in evidence this season.

As the mercury climbed higher and higher the number of swimmers increased and all had a most delightful time.

It was one of the hottest days of the season, and scores came down from London and St. Thomas.

Although rain threatened all afternoon, none came. A shower is badly needed, and farmers all through the district say that if rain does not come soon much damage will be done to the crops.

Anniversary Services.

Today marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Methodist Church, and special services, conducted by Rev. G. N. Hazen, of London, were well attended.

The fine program rendered by the choir was thoroughly enjoyed.

There was considerable excitement at Eric Rest this evening when a black object was noticed floating about two hundred yards from the shore.

The object was picked up with glasses to watch the object. It proved to be only a buoy.

General Leman, Defender.

General Leman, defender of Liege, is in his 62nd year. He is a strict disciplinarian, but he is as strict towards himself as he is toward others.

Until a few months ago he was head of the Belgian military school, and he is regarded as the chief Belgian authority on Roman law, military architecture, engineering and science. Physically, he appears never to feel fatigue.

Off after a ride of 30 miles he would return to the military school to discuss strategic and tactical problems with the officers until early morning.

His example was an inspiration to the garrison at Liege.

Thousands Went Swimming to Escape Terrific Heat—Big Picnic Saturday.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

PORT STANLEY, Aug. 9.—Today saw the largest crowd of bathers here that has been in evidence this season.

As the mercury climbed higher and higher the number of swimmers increased and all had a most delightful time.

It was one of the hottest days of the season, and scores came down from London and St. Thomas.

Although rain threatened all afternoon, none came. A shower is badly needed, and farmers all through the district say that if rain does not come soon much damage will be done to the crops.

Avon Man Collapses After Long Hike, But Would Have Walked Back.
Thirty-four miles on foot, under a broiling sun, without eating a morsel of food, and only one stop for a drink of water during the eight and a half hours occupied by the journey. That is the seemingly almost impossible task achieved yesterday by George John Marks, a young Englishman, whose desire to fight in the Canadian contingent against Germany led him to take advantage of a day off to make the trip to London and enrol as a volunteer.
At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Marks walked into the orderly room of the Seventh Fusiliers in the armories, and to Sergeant-Major Pikes, who was in charge, expressed a wish to join the regiment, and be drafted into the active service contingent.
Served Twenty Years in England.
He gave his age as 27, and his present postal address as Avon, his occupation as a farm laborer, and mentioned also that he had served for twelve years in the Royal Field Artillery in England.
"How did you get here from Avon—by train?" asked the sergeant-major. "No, walked; I was going to take a train from Ingersoll, but when I got there I found there was no train that would get me here in time." The reply was given quite simply, and in a tone that suggested that such a walk was an every day affair.
Collapsed After Arriving.
That the exertion, the tremendous heat, and want of food had had their effect, however, soon became apparent to Marks, who while talking had remained standing, suddenly collapsed. He was caught in the arms of the sergeant-major before he reached the floor and fell into a chair. A glass of water was brought him and in a few moments he partly recovered.
Lieut.-Col. Becher, the commanding officer, came from an inner room and directed the laying of the exhausted man on the floor, with his head on a coat. Marks, however, was not inclined to remain in a position which seemed to suggest that he was a patient, and he rose of his own accord and took a chair.
Within a few seconds he was chatting and apparently feeling in quite good form. He had had nothing to eat since starting out on his long walk, the caretaker immediately ran to prepare him some bread and milk, which, when it was brought, Marks ate like a man who is hungry. He got away also with a good thick slice of bread and butter and a piece of cake, and thereafter announced that he felt all right.
Recently From Old Country.
It appears that he came here from England three months ago, and since then has been working for a farmer, Mr. Penson, at Avon. On Saturday he heard that volunteers were wanted to join a Canadian contingent, and a doctor would be at the armories at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon to examine applicants as to their physical fitness.
Marks decided to come to London and started out at 7:30 yesterday morning after an early breakfast for Ingersoll, where he hoped to catch a train. Falling in this, and being told that London was but eight miles farther on, he decided that he had better walk the twelve, he might as well finish on foot.
Undaunted By Long Tramp.
Later on, however, when he made inquiries at the house, he learned that the distance between Ingersoll and London was nearer twenty-two than eight miles, but it made him hit a faster gait, because he wanted to reach his destination before the doctor got away.
Lieut.-Col. Becher asked why he had not gone into some farmhouse on the way to get a meal, he replied, "the time was so short, I was afraid to stop for a meal." He appended a question as to whether already he was too late for the examination.
"You bet you are not," was the reply, "we are not going to let a man like you get away from us."
The regimental doctor, Dr. George Hale, could not be located, but Dr. A. V. Becher, the colonel's brother, was reached by telephone and was asked to put Marks through a thorough examination, satisfied him that Marks, in spite of the tremendous strain he had undergone, was fit for service so far as his physical condition was concerned.
But the doctor, who happens to be the medical officer of the Sixth Field Battery, claimed the man for his own corps. He was a gunner, he pointed out, and logically should join the artillery. This at last was conceded to, although Lieut.-Col. Becher declared he was loath to let such a man go.
Proposed Walking Back.
Assured that he would be advised by mail when he would be needed, Marks seriously suggested setting out on the return walk to Avon, where, he said, he would be expected to be at work in the fields as usual in the morning.
Finally, however, he was persuaded to wait for the train which left here at midnight and by which he could travel as far as Ingersoll. From there he proposed to walk, and could not be deterred.
