TOTAL ECLIPSE OF SUN COMING

Unusual Event Will Be Witnessed Here on Jan. 24 at 9:04 a.m.

Next one in 2144 years. If you wish to see a total eclipse of the sun without leaving London, your last chance will be on the morning of Jan. 24 at 9:04; you must be a minute late or you will miss it.

Explaining the wonders of the present eclipse and the pleasure of observing the movements of heavenly bodies Dr. H. R. Kingston gave the above statement today, adding that study of the heavenly bodies is confined to a group of professors, practically learned in the mathematical side of astronomical science.

In order to enjoy the wonders of radio it is not necessary to be able to make all the calculations essential to the construction of a radio set. Dr. Kingston pointed out. There are many observers who do splendid work and set the apparatus essentially in making observations of appearances, distances, etc. who could never master the intricate mathematical calculations which are the work of the theorist in astronomy.

2,000 Miles Across. "If one had the power to go far out into space, let us say a billion miles or so, he would see far above him the earth and moon—the latter a comparatively small body only 2,000 miles across. The shadow of the moon extends like a slender pencil toward the earth which it usually does not long enough to reach. When it does reach the earth because of the nearness of the two bodies the shadow of the shadow is more than 167 miles across. Also remember that the moon must be directly between the sun and the earth, that is, in the line of the shadow. It will pass across Ontario, covering a large part of the most populous district. The center of the shadow will enter Ontario near the Atlantic ocean—until it reaches sunset at a point between the St. Lawrence and Orkney Islands. The northern edge of the shadow will pass, I believe, through Langford and Killarney and over across Lake Ontario at Port Huron.

Shadow Described. "In the eclipse of Jan. 24, the shadow of the moon will touch the earth first up in Minnesota, near the Lake of the Woods. It will pass across Ontario, covering a large part of the most populous district. The center of the shadow will enter Ontario near the Atlantic ocean—until it reaches sunset at a point between the St. Lawrence and Orkney Islands. The northern edge of the shadow will pass, I believe, through Langford and Killarney and over across Lake Ontario at Port Huron.

WOMEN and THE HOME DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

It is a Smart Fad to Wear the Scotch Tartan to Which Your Inheritance Entitles You.

Say Scotch to most Canadians and they will think of whiskey, while the French equivalent of this adjective, cognac, for hundreds of years has been the only French equivalent for our word plaid. Perhaps this is an interesting commentary on the two races—French and Canadian—that one should think first of what they wear and the other of what they drink.

Though several very distinguished French men and women have had Scotch blood in their veins, there is much more plentiful infusion of Scotch blood in native-born Canadians. Empress Eugenie, you know, was of Scotch as well as of Spanish descent, and it was because of her influence that Scotch plaids came into French fashion about the middle of the last century.

If you have any Scotch roots to your family tree, by all means make the most of them now. You may not be interested in genealogy, but if you want to enjoy this fad for Scotch plaids while it lasts, there is a sure and find out to what clan your Scotch ancestors—however remote—belonged. And then wear the tartan to which you are really entitled. If you claim kinship with the McDouglals, the "set" to which you are entitled is a plaid predominantly green with narrow checks of red, while the Gregrachs may sport a plaid of red with narrow black stripes. There are dozens of them, not to mention according to personal preference but according to infusion of Scotch blood.

In some of the shops you may find a lavish stock of soft wool scarfs in the authentic Scotch plaids, with a little printed slip attached to the end, which tells the name of the clan. And this is possible by taking a little trouble to find material for skirts and tartans.

Nowhere are Scotch frocks and accessories more appropriate than for outdoor sports—especially on the golf links. A two-piece sports costume of kasha and Scotch plaid is shown in the sketch.

Two-piece sports costume of kasha combined with Scotch plaid.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

ARE YOU THE MATER TYPE?

Plenty of women who never have any children seem always to belong to the mother type and to whom there are some women to whom the having of children seems to bring very few of the real motherly attributes. Some women, in fact, are almost all mother at some time, have a motherly regard for the men they love and marry. I have even known very young girls who entertained a real motherly regard for their own fathers, taking solicitous care concerning the father's physical comfort and well-being.

Among the most primitive attributes of the real mater type are a desire to love and to provide shelter or protective clothing. Some women seem to keep forever watching out to see that their relations are warmly clad to look out for rubbers on rainy days, to suggest neck scarfs and to warn others against drafts. It won't be long before the motherly type never feel content to receive friends in their homes without urging the callers to eat. And there is something really maternal in this.

THE TASTE FOR MACARONI.

Macaroni has for years been the chief starch of Italy, and for centuries while the French people ate bread and the English people ate porridge and pudding, the Italians ate macaroni. Now, of course, English and Canadians and almost all the world besides have taken to eating bread—white bread and rolls of the sort that seem to have originated in France.

Macaroni is becoming more and more popular here in Canada, but are interestingly enough, it is not so popular as it used to be. It was also most popular in the United States, where the Italian makes a meal of macaroni with tomato sauce, a little cheese and some salad or fruit. It is getting a perfectly balanced meal.

Little Joe Otter's Son Loses His Appetite When Caught In a Trap

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Little Joe Otter's foolish young son, Little Junior, had found a dead fish at the back of a little pen of sticks on the edge of the water, and when he was hungry, and it wouldn't take but a second to get that fish.

"Father and mother were just trying to scold me," Little Junior was saying to himself. "I guess they don't realize that I am big enough to take care of myself. The dreadful thing about it was that I was sent out into the Great World for myself on my own judgment. I don't know just what I have done, but I don't know how it happened to get here, but that doesn't make any difference. I would like to see a man who has to waste his time being a silly fellow to waste my time being a silly fellow for a live fish when a dead one is waiting for me right under my nose."

So, with a look all around to make sure that no one was watching him, the foolish young Otter entered the narrow pen of sticks through a narrow opening. He was very sure of himself. He had seen the fish at the back of the pen. And then something happened. Young Otter was grabbed by the neck. He felt something pulling at his toes. Yes, sir, it grabbed him and it grabbed him tight. "What is this? What is the least idea. What is it?"

But the young Otter suffered more from fright than he did from pain.

Then He Found That This Thing That Had Him By the Toe Didn't Pull Him Under Water.

"Honestly, that was the happiest moment of my life, and I knelt down by her and put my head in her lap, and blubbered," I was so thankful to know that I was married to a woman with whom I could be honest, and sincere, and frank, and whom I wouldn't have to deceive.

"Virtually all men feel the same way. It takes a pretty long time to find any pleasure in taking advantage of a woman's trust in him to deceive her. On the contrary, he loathes and despises himself for lying to her, and he would a million times rather tell her the truth, if she would let him, but she won't. She simply won't stand for it."

"The average man can't telephone his wife that he is going to stay downtown and have dinner with a friend, and spend the evening with some congenial and masculine spirits, while he is raising ructions about it. But she is perfectly satisfied if he makes her believe that he is going to spend the evening toiling on his desk, so he lies to her about taking stock, or striking a trial balance, or a big order."

He would tell his wife that his secretary was a very unusually intelligent and attractive young woman whose conversation he enjoyed; or that he had met an old woman French that he had had a wonderful time talking over old times, or that he regarded Mrs. A. as a great beauty and Mrs. B. as fascinating, why, wife would throw jealousy fits, so he discreetly keeps with a silent about all other women and takes his pleasure in feminine society on the sly.

"And you can't blame the man. He would much prefer the straight road to the crooked path. He'd rather be above than below in dealing with his wife than underhand. But nobody wants to live in a state of perpetual strife. Nobody wants to be dragged through bartering scenes. The only way to get a man into a deal that the price of peace at home is a lie he pays it."

LONDON KIDS SWAMP AYR 17-3 IN OPENING GAME OF GROUP

Visitors Had Stage Fright at First, But Gradually Came Back To Score.

PAN-DRIEDS WIN

London Juniors opened the local O. H. A. group auspiciously last night by swamping Ayr 17-3 in the opening game of the group. The youngsters were lusterless and one-sided affairs. Every regular member of the team tallied at least one goal, and the forwards went down the ice in snappy combinations, pouring a barrage of shots at Lillio, the little Ayr goalie. This had led to a goal by the youngsters in the first period, and they had swept through his teammates. Bain and H. Cohen, on defence for the visitors, showed flashes of good form on lone rushes that had Friedl, the goalie, to clear.

Poke and Cross Checks

Alex. Renaud and Jerry Lowrey shared the hard knock at Stratford last night. The former received a bad slash over the eye in the first period, and had to go off to be bandaged up. Again, near the end of the second period, the visiting Indian tally zipped into the 7-5 net, after carving off Fournier's leg.

GRACE LOGAN WON UNFINISHED RACE

Special to The Advertiser. Toronto, Jan. 5.—The Dufferin Driving club failed to finish their races to-day, and the races were postponed until tomorrow. The unfinished race of Saturday was won by two, Logan, who won both heats today quite handsomely. Herman E. won the opening heat of the 2:29 race and Peart D. the second heat, while the third mile found the pair battling it out to the wire, with Herman again the victor.

Bucky Harris Went To Work After Finishing Sixth Grade

CHAPTER 2

By ANOTHER BUCKY HARRIS. Another Side of the Picture. Little did I think fourteen years before the windup of the 1924 series that I would some day manage a world's championship baseball club. Like many boys, I had an ambition to be a baseball player. My brother Merle, who is 7 years my junior, was a professional in the minor leagues, and I hoped to follow his example. If I knew there was a long, hard path to travel before reaching my goal, I never gave it a thought. Meaningful words, "So, when I finished the sixth grade in school I told my mother it was time for me to help her and Merle make ends meet. She was not to be discouraged by my ambition to be a professional baseball player some day, she said: "Sonny, you'll have to work so hard that you won't have a chance for a year. You're trail now. I worry me."

BUCKY AS A YOUNGSTER.

At the age of 16 Bucky couldn't get enough of it. He was up at 5:30, travelled miles to his job, worked all day, played baseball after hours, and when the weather didn't permit baseball, he kept pounding away at basketball because he was determined to build up the under-developed body which he knew to be a handicap to his baseball ambitions.

By FAIR PLAY. (Copyright, 1925.) New York, Jan. 5.—The first of the national champions definitely to announce his intentions of making a visit to California is Kid Kaplan, the new featherweight king. Just what inducements have been offered him he does not say, but he admits he will do some fighting there, following a trip to Canada, where he is going to toughen himself up in falling from toboggans and tripping over his skills in the winter sports at Montreal.

At Twelve Cents An Hour.

I spoke the truth, too. I was living on school, just as most boys are in their teens. Later I realized that I had much to learn from my father, and when I didn't get a job, I had to stop my schooling when I finished the sixth grade.

PAN-DRIEDS WIN

Tilburg, Jan. 5.—Twenty minutes of grueling overtime was necessary in evening in the opening Juniors O. H. A. game with Woodstock before D. Vallee for the Pan-Drieds bulged the nets 9 to 2, two seconds ahead of the bell in the second period of overtime. Coulter for the Drieds saved a 6-5 lead in the first period, but during the last twenty minutes was simply laid out up a wonderful game in the home nets. Woodstock opened the scoring, and the first goal came in the second period. Hill received a nasty cut on the face which made him dizzy. The rest of the game visitors scoring three and homebreds one. With the score standing 2 to 4 for the visitors the last period and two minutes to go Jacques took a pass from Colburn and tied the tie in the first overtime, and Weeks evened before the end. Colburn for the home team played a wonderful game and was stopped several times right at the net. The game was a real war.

Can Canada Be Saved? The Montreal Star asks "Can Canada Be Saved?" Further on it queries "Is the country worth saving?" Then it winds up with the declaration that "a government should be formed by the best men—the patriotic men—of both political parties to save the country in her hour of danger."

Lord Atholstan, owner of the Star, some months ago had his paper carry a series of articles on "The Whispers of Death." At that time the country was headed straight for ruin; just how it ever managed to escape not even Lord Atholstan can tell. The fact that Canada's money is the highest in the world in the New York market, and that she can borrow for a little better than four per cent, are details that the Montreal Star overlooks.

Kingston Standard has a solution that seems to fit the case fairly well. The Standard believes that there is something to Lord Atholstan's claim that a new government is needed at Ottawa, and proceeds to move, second and unanimously carry the following program for a new administration: Prime minister, secretary of state for external affairs, president of the privy council—Lord Atholstan.

When a Prince Goes Courting. Prince Henry, brother of the Prince of Wales, has arranged to spend a weekend visiting in Scotland, and before he gets started reports start to circulate that there's a young lady in the house where he's going to visit, and of course he's going to be engaged to her.

Reading the Day's News. What is the most interesting piece of news in the day's paper? After you have read it all through, what remains as the item that has caused you to think? What is there that makes you stop, and hand the paper over to others with the remark, "There, read that."

Globe Trotters. I like to listen to the folks what's travelled round the world a lot, and traced their hoofs in many lands where weather's always blazin' hot. Fred Lawrasen, I talked to him about the places what he saw, of what he thought of ancient days when King Tut's word was all the law, and how they went 'pekin' round until a chap found out one day, just where the mummies carved a tomb to put old Tut's dry bones away.

Stirring Up Ghosts. Mighty Cities That Thrived and Grew Rich—Whole Races of People Who Have Been Lost in World's History Now Being Traced by Scientists.

EXPLORERS tell of dead cities in Asiatic wilds, cities so old that they do not even figure in traditions or legends. Travelers in northern Ceylon view bell-shaped shrines and temples, some of them two thousand years old, and wander among toppled pylons overgrown with aged trees.

Note and Comment. Sporting note—In the international finance league One Pound Sterling is clouting at a terrific pace.

Another Expedition in Peru to trace among its mountain peaks the history of the Incas and the mysterious people who antedated them. On islands in Lake Titicaca, more than two and a half miles above sea level, sprawled among the peaks and valleys of equally high altitude, may be found the remains of cities as old and perhaps older than some of the more celebrated ruins on the other side of the world.

Only a Temple Remains. BABYLON'S influence was so great that other cities in its region have been dwarfed into insignificance. One of these was Ur. Its site is not far south of Baghdad, and north of Babylon, and there can be found to this day the ruins of the temple of the moon god, Sin, rising seventy feet above the plain—almost all that remains of an great commercial city. There has been much excavating here also, and there will probably be more now that the rise of Kemal Pasha has made the region safer for western scientists.

Editorial Opinion. A CANADIAN MINE WITH A RECORD. (From the Mining Journal.) IT WAS the great Joseph Howe who said to a Canadian audience, "If you cannot boast of anything else, boast of the size of your country." An American mining man, speaking the other day of the great Zeigler coal mine, said that it had an output of 7,900 tons per day from one shaft and that in twenty years it had produced 12,000,000 tons of coal; and he added, "What single mine on the American continent can beat this record?"

Does Every Meal Cause You Distress? IF IT DOES YOU SHOULD TAKE BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. Mr. M. P. Eldridge, Beaver Harbor, N.B., writes:—"I was troubled with my stomach for some time, and everything I ate seemed to distress me. I tried many different medicines, but without any result. Finally I was advised to try B.B.B. and after having taken several bottles I was completely relieved of my trouble. I can now eat anything I wish, thanks to B.B.B."

To the Editor. As Farmers See It. Claims That Road Program of the Government is an Extravagant Idea.

Editor of the Advertiser: Sir,—I noticed in a recent edition of the Advertiser a great big headline all about the "Montreal-Windsor" highway. I wonder what this Ferguson government is trying to do. Are they trying to put the farmers all on the road? I see they have the county of Middlesex billed for 30 miles at $25,000 per mile, to be finished in two years. That means that the county has got to raise its share $750,000. When the farmer government was in power they said they were extravagant, but what farmers are on the road? I see they have the county of Middlesex billed for 30 miles at $25,000 per mile, to be finished in two years. That means that the county has got to raise its share $750,000.

With one hand pressed convulsively to his heart, the other up-lifted as if enjoining silence upon the accuser, the old man was staggering across the room. Flint, watching, spoke on, his voice cold and inexorable. "Inspector Breiman, would I be justified, on the evidence we possess, in arresting Mrs. Von Eulen for the murder of her father, Hannibal Hurst?" "Yes," thundered the inspector. "In that case, Denis, will you call up the men who are waiting downstairs?"

Cod Liver Oil Now in Tasteless Tablets Greatest Flesh Builder

No more will weak, thin, unfortunate children cry in protest against the nasty, fishy-tasting, horrible-smelling cod liver oil...

Of course, doctors have been prescribing cod liver oil in tablets under another name for several years, but it is only of late that one can walk into a drug store and get a box of these flesh-producing tablets just as easy as a bottle of cough syrup.

Eagerness To Feed Animal Costs Small Boy His Life

Falls From Wagon Into Manhole and Is Swept Away.

FAIL TO FIND BODY

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, Jan. 5.—Trying to get straw from a passing farmer's wagon to feed his neighbor's goat cost 7-year-old Douglas Dillon his life this morning when he slipped as he was grasping the straw and fell headlong down a manhole.

Employees of the city sewers department working in the icy waters of the gully here failed to reveal a trace of the body. The sewer runs straight to the river and it is estimated that in 20 minutes at most the boy would have been carried into the St. Lawrence.

Firemen Receive 2 False Alarms

The fire department was called to two false alarms last evening, the first coming from box 613, at Maitland and Simcoe streets, and the second from box 513, Eglinton and Trafalgar streets.

Delphis Gervais, who was guarding the manhole which had been opened to receive snow, was within a yard of the sewer at the time. The boy, apparently holding onto the sides of the sewer near the bottom, was screaming for help. Gervais lowered another civic employee at the end of a rope, but Douglas had meanwhile been swept away by the water which travels at a speed of about 10 miles an hour.

A splinter of wood lodged in his abdomen. He was removed to Victoria hospital, where the splinter was removed.

It is thought that the injury will not be serious unless infection sets in.

He is the son of Rev. A. A. Bice, and is a first year student at the University of Western Ontario.

Chickens, Money, Team, Watch Disappear With Farm Worker

Woodstock, Jan. 5.—Leslie Lamb, a nineteen-year-old farm hand, is being sought by the police on a charge of theft. On Saturday, according to the story told to the police by his employer, Bert Harrington of West Zorra, young Lamb left the farm, taking with him a team of horses belonging to Harrington, a gold watch, fourteen chickens and a sum of money amounting to $12.

In spite of his load the young fellow is reported to have made his way to Woodstock, where after disposing of the poultry, he left the horses at a livery stable and then disappeared.

Lamb had $50 owing him for back pay, so that his employer, in view of the fact that he got his horses and poultry back, considers his loss is not so heavy after all.

ST. THOMAS TRUCK DRIVERS WAR ON JUMP IN RATES

St. Thomas, Jan. 5.—St. Thomas draymen met in the Liberal club rooms this evening for the purpose of discussing the bylaws governing the operation of their trucks in the city.

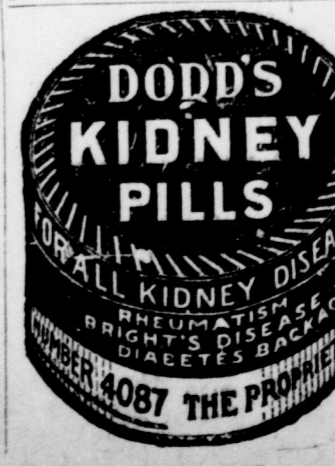

According to a ruling of the police commission within the last year, the licenses were raised from $5 to $15 for the privilege of operating a half-ton truck in the city, the rate advancing in proportion to the size of the truck operated.

It was pointed out that in Toronto the rate is $6 for the largest sized truck, while correspondingly low rates exist in Windsor, London and other cities.

STAMP FAKERS FLOURISH

Associated Press Despatch. Berlin, Jan. 5.—Counterfeiting of rare postage stamps has become a highly developed art in Germany. It has many followers, for it is remunerative, and the laws for punishing the abuse are difficult of execution.

So long as the stamp reproduced is not used currently in Germany, the counterfeit can be prosecuted only if he attempts to sell the stamp as genuine.

Former Premier Says Health Greatly Benefited by Sea Voyage.

Associated Press Despatch.
 Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 5.—Ramsay MacDonald, the former British premier, arrived here today on the steamer Camillo. Mr. MacDonald, who is to visit several West Indian and Central American ports before returning to England early next month, said that his health had greatly improved and that the sea voyage from Avonmouth had been most enjoyable.
 Welcomed by city officials and by Honore Myers, president of the Kingston chamber of commerce, Mr. MacDonald received an ovation from a large crowd as he left his steamer to call on the governor.

DECIDES CHICAGO THEFT IS ILLEGAL

Backs Order Restraining City From Exceeding Allowance of Lake Water.

Associated Press Despatch.
 Washington, Jan. 5.—The supreme court today affirmed the decision of the federal district court at Chicago restraining the sanitary district from withdrawing from Lake Michigan water in excess of the 250,000 cubic feet per minute allowed by the secretary of war.

In a sweeping decision the court recognized the full and complete authority of the federal government, and declared that those interested in maintaining the present volume of intake (600,000 cubic feet per minute) must look to congress or the secretary of war for permission. To prevent any arbitrary action the court announced that its decision would not be given effect for 30 days, and that it was made without prejudice to any permit which the secretary of war might issue according to law. Immediately after the announcement of the decision, the Illinois congressional delegation, hastily summoned into conference, adopted two resolutions, one authorizing Representative Madden to invite such persons into conference as he might deem advisable and the other pledging the delegation to stand united behind any proposals which might be considered to the best advantage of the state.

Referring to the "gravity and importance" of the question presented, to the large expenditures which had been made and which might be necessary in the future, as well as to its bearing upon "the welfare of millions of men," the decision prepared by Justice Holmes and read by Chief Justice Taft in his absence, stated that such considerations, aside from adding to the solemnity of its duties, did not increase the difficulty of a decision. The law on the subject was clear and the material facts presented were few, it stated.

In the controversy the court continued, the United States was asserting its sovereign power to regulate its waters within its jurisdiction. In addition to its right to remove obstructions to interstate and foreign commerce, the federal government was also bound to carry out treaty obligations to a foreign power.

SENATE VACANCIES WILL BE FILLED
 Government Looks Forward To Busy Month Before House Opens.

Canadian Press Despatch.
 Ottawa, Jan. 5.—Indications of an approaching session are not wanting on Parliament Hill. Members of the government returning to the capital from a holiday spent at their homes look forward to a busy month, during which estimates will be reviewed, tentative sessional plans drafted and the routine of business of the government transacted. Before the house opens the government will in probability fill the five vacancies which ability fill the senate. Two of these are in the province of Quebec, one in New Brunswick, one in Prince Edward Island and one in Alberta. An effort will be made to have the estimates ready for presentation to parliament early in the session, and it is thought the budget will be brought down without delay.
 The prime minister and the great majority of members of the cabinet will be in Ottawa for Wednesday's meeting.

BOARD PREPARES WATERWAY GUIDE
 Committee Drafts Reference Terms For Canadian Delegates To Conference.

Canadian Press Despatch.
 Ottawa, Jan. 5.—Terms of reference for the guidance of Canada's delegates to the St. Lawrence waterways conference were drafted today at a meeting here of the national advisory committee in consultation with officials of the department of railways. After the meeting, which was held in camera, Hon. George P. Graham, minister of railways, explained that it is not possible at this time to discuss the proposed terms of reference to the joint engineering board which is to consider the proposed deepening of the St. Lawrence waterways. These terms are to be reviewed by the Canadian cabinet, after which they will be subject of an exchange of notes between the governments of Canada and the United States embodying the official view of each country.
 Should the terms as drafted prove acceptable to the respective governments they will be published in both countries on an agreed date.
 Mr. Graham expressed keen satisfaction with the outcome of today's conference, which was attended by every member of the advisory committee.
