Lightning's Costly Toll

Barns Burned Down all Over Western Peninsula

Morris O'Neil and David Barr Among Heaviest Losers

The terrible electrical storm which passed over the Western Peninsula Saturday night, wreaked awful havoc throughout the district surrounding Chatham. It not only destroyed the ten or more farm buildings in Kent County and vicinity were destroyed, though particulars of some of the buildings in the more isolated sections are difficult to get. The reflections of several fires could be plainly seen from the city after the storm Saturday night. Lightning struck the barns and outbuildings on the farm of Morris O'Neil, who lives on Lot 17, Concession, and they were all set on fire simultaneously. Two large barns filled with the season's crops, were burned to the ground, as well as the drive-sheds and the farm implements they contained. Every building on the place with the exception of the residence was burned to the ground, as well as all the implements with a few exceptions. Some fifteen hogs were also destroyed. The hired man managed to save the horses. The insurance on all the buildings, including the house, stock, implements, and crops, amounts to $2,400.

The barn and granary on the farm of David Barr, sixth Concession, Chatham Township, were destroyed by the lightning, and they and nearly all of their contents, including the season's crops, which had not yet been threshed, were destroyed. A few implements were saved, as well as all the stock. The barns and crops were not very heavily insured.

There were several other disastrous fires reported, but full particulars of them have not yet been secured. Several serious fires in Kent were reported, and some horses and cattle killed. The rain was badly needed, but it came at a great cost. The following fires were reported: David Barr, concession 6, Chatham Township, loss $1,000; James Chisholm, Chatham Township, loss heavy; Morris O'Neil, Raleigh, lost barns, house, outbuildings, and the loss amounts to several thousands; Tom Marin, River road, Chatham, outbuildings, burned; Dolson Bros., farming the Fairbanks estate, Raleigh, everything burned. At one time the lookout on the fire tower here saw seven places burning at once, but as the farmers were not in town, owing to the holiday it is impossible to find out where the burned places are.

Belleville, Sept. 3.—This district was visited by a very severe electrical storm, accompanied by torrents of rain, at an early hour yesterday morning. At 4 o'clock lightning struck the large barn on the farm of Wilbur Maybee, a prominent Prince Edward County farmer, living just across the bay from this city. The building, which contained all the season's hay and grain, as well as implements, was destroyed. The loss will be heavy, with a small amount of insurance.

GOES TO VERMILION

Avichouser & Collins, merchant tailors, Scane's Block, have given up business, owing to Mr. Collins having accepted a position in Vermilion, Alberta.

Mr. Hugh Collins has been in the city about two and a half years, and has played in the 24th Regiment during that time. He will have charge of the band at Vermilion, Alberta. Mr. Collins is an able player and will be a valuable acquisition to that organization. He is also a cornet and alto player, is an all-round good musician and will be much missed in musical circles in the Maple City. The Planet wishes Mr. Collins and family success in their new home. Mr. Collins left this morning per Grand Trunk via Toronto.

RETURNS IN GOOD HEALTH

Rev. Robert McCoah, rector of Christ Church, has returned from his vacation, and preached morning and evening Sunday. At the evening service he referred to the great blessing which was the heritage of the true Christian in having Christ always for his friend, his comforter in affliction, and his savior in distress. Christ was always present with his people, for He said, "When two or three of you are gathered together in my name, there also am I." This should be a source of great comfort to the faithful, who knew and believed that Jesus died for their redemption from sin. The members of Christ Church were pleased to note that the reverend gentleman greatly improved in health, and that his rest had been of much benefit to him.

MR. CLEMENTS' FINE SPEECH AT BRIDGE END MEETING

He Gives a Severe Arraignment of the Ottawa Administration—The Straightforward and Honest Career of the Member for West Kent

H. S. Clements got a rousing welcome when he came forward to address the electors at the meeting in Bridge End Friday night. On account of the lateness of the hour and the fact that the farmers are very busy at this time of the year, and, as a result, too fatigued to remain up till late, Mr. Clements shortened his speech somewhat. He had always advocated this sort of meetings with the electorate, he said. In giving an account of his stewardship, he said that he would ask if there was any vote he had cast during the three sessions which the electorate wished to inquire about. If there was, he would answer to the best of his knowledge, and if the people approved of his work at the house, he would be glad to receive any suggestions which the farmers might have to offer.

The main issue which Mr. Clements took up was the tariff. He said that he would be quite willing to be a free trader, provided the other fellow would be a free trader too, but, under the circumstances, he was prepared to hit just as hard as the other fellow. The American tariff on farm stuff is just 2-1/4 higher than ours is on theirs. The Canadian farmer is not getting the full benefit of the Canadian market. We are exporters of every kind of farm product, and yet we have millions of dollars' worth of American product coming in here all the time, while we cannot use their market, or gain even reciprocity with them. The agriculturists ought to have equal protection with the manufacturers. On hay, for instance, the Americans charge us $4 a ton, and we charge them $2. One thing Mr. Clements had gained, and this was an increase on the duty on beans, which had been increased from 15 cents to 25 cents. In his opinion it should be 60 cents. Potatoes had also been increased from 15 to 25 cents per bushel, and these were about the only changes made in the tariff for the benefit of the farmer. An attempt had been made to hoodwink the farmers by what the Government termed "a reduction in the tariff on agricultural implements, but when this was investigated it was found that the only implements reduced were mowers and binders, and this would mean about $1.75 on each binder, and as the lifetime of these machines is seven or eight years, it could easily be figured out what the farmers saved per year by these reductions. — Laughter.

Then, in direct contrast to this was the fact that the Laurier Government gave many of these imple-

Was Stopped Just In Time

Lunatic in County Jail Said to have Attempted Suicide

Thought he Might as Well be Dead As Bo In A Jail

A young man from Berlin, who was brought into the County Jail a few weeks ago suffering from insanity, and who is now waiting at that institution, to be sent to the Asylum, is thought to have tried to commit suicide one day last week.

The young man is not violent except at times, and he is melancholy and despondent the most of the time. A short time ago he was out in the yard with the other prisoners and he said to have exclaimed that a person might as well be dead as cooped up in a jail.

His actions after that were quite suspicious, so much so that a special watch was kept over him. John Soffley, the fireman at the jail, was given the task of keeping an eye on him, and at night slept in the cell adjoining the mentally deficient young man.

In the middle of the night Soffley, who is a light sleeper, was aroused by queer noises, and found the young man in the dark it looked as if the young man was already suspended in the air with the sheet around his neck.

Soffley called to him, and the evidently would-be suicide became frightened, being caught, and quickly undid the sheet and scrambled back to the rear of his cell. Soffley turned on the light, and in spite of the protests of the young man, kept the light full on for the rest of the night.

A TERRIBLE SCARE

Two men going home last Saturday night stumbled upon what at first looked to be one of the boldest robberies which has been attempted in this city for some time. They were passing Pelette's grocery on Queen street, near the G. T. R. tracks, when they were attracted by suspicious noises coming from the interior of the store. They listened intently and came to the conclusion that robbers were moving around in the store.

They immediately awoke Mr. Pelette and told of their discovery. Armed with guns, Mr. Pelette and a woman arrived on the scene and guarded the store, while word was sent for the police station to have an officer come at once.

Officers Desella and Dandop arrived soon after, and saw the people with the guns guarding the store. They were sure that the burglars had not escaped. The store was opened and a dog that was standing near the door rushed suddenly in and captured the burglar.

A large rat had got caught in a steel trap and the noise caused by the rat dragging the trap across the floor, was what the people on the outside had mistaken for signs of burglars.

Killed At C. P. R. Depot

Patrick Skelly Aged 40, of Paris, Meets Sad End

Was Attempting to Board Chicago to Montreal Freight

Patrick Skelly, aged about forty years, a recent arrival here from Paris, Ont., was killed in front of the local C. P. R. depot at 9.35 last night while attempting to board the Chicago to Montreal through freight. The unfortunate man fell across the tracks, and both legs were cut off above the knees. Coroner Bray and C. P. R. Surgeon James Rutherford were immediately called, but Skelly passed away about fifteen minutes after the accident. $3.50 in money and a note book bearing the name "Tim McCarty," were all that could be found in the pockets. He was afterwards identified by a couple of former Galt men, who knew him when he worked in Goldie & McCulloch's foundry at that town.

Skelly came here Saturday from London to take a position as an iron moulder at the Manson Campbell Incubator Works. He forgot some union papers in London, and it is surmised that he intended to go to the Forest City, when he boarded the freight. Skelly has relatives in Paris, Ont., who were immediately communicated with after his identification. One of the deceased's brothers, Frank Skelly, was killed in a runaway between Paris and Galt a short time ago. It is understood that Skelly was married, but had not been living with his wife for some time. The remains are at present lying in Jabank & Hinnegan's morgue, awaiting the arrival of the relatives.

SCHOOLS RE-OPENED

All of the city schools were re-opened this morning, after the summer vacation. There was a large attendance at all of the institutions, and teachers and scholars have gone back to work much refreshed after the holidays.

Every teacher was on hand early this morning, and the most of the day was taken up in arranging the work of the different rooms and in getting the scholars settled in their new classes.

It is expected that everything will be in excellent shape to commence the work in earnest to-morrow. There are 80 new pupils at the C. C. I.

BASEBALL

Owing to lack of space, full accounts of the baseball games cannot be published to-day, and as it would be unfair to dilate any more on one game than on another, a short summary is all that can be given.

In a fast and most interesting game on the park Saturday afternoon, the C. F. M's defeated the Tammany Healers by a score of 7 to 2. Robert and Bunting, batteries for the Healers; Bassett and Taylor for the Healers.

On the park on Monday morning the Healers defeated the St. Clair team, of Michigan, by a score of 6 to 4. Bassett and Taylor, batteries for the Healers. At 1:30 on the park the St. Clair team defeated the Healers by a score of 7 to 4. Robert, Tiekner and Bunting batteries for the home team. At 3:30 on the park the Samaritans, of Detroit by a score of 4 to 2. Depew and Taylor batteries for home team. Samaritans defeated picked team at Fair Grounds at 2:30 in the afternoon by a score of 5 to 4. Depew and Taylor batteries for home team.

FLAG WAS HOISTED

At 2:30 yesterday afternoon, the new flag which was donated to the Pain Court Public school by H. S. Clements, M. P., was hoisted into position, and the occasion was marked by proceedings of a very festive character. The speakers who were advertised to be present were Messrs. H. S. Clements, M. P., and Geo. Sulman, of this city. Both spoke, and their speeches were very enthusiastically received. This is Mr. Clements' old school section, where he was on this account, and owing to the pleasant memories of his boyhood days spent in this locality, that he presented the flag. Mr. Carron, the chairman of the Public School Board, acted as chairman of the day.

Mr. Louray the principal of this school, is doing excellent work. Out of nine candidates sent to the entrance examinations this year eight were successful. This is indeed a splendid record.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1907.

THESE CRIMINALS ARE SAFE.

Several interesting immigrants, or rather re-registered Canadians, have recently arrived in this country. These are the group of Prince Albert politicians who some two years ago held the bogus poll north of the Saskatchewan town. It will be remembered that in the Saskatchewan elections, parties of officials, some of them Dominion officers, were sent to the unorganized districts to conduct the elections. They returned with ballot boxes and poll books in excellent order, and a unanimous vote of 140, too, for the Government candidate. It was discovered afterward by the opposition party that polls were never held and that the brazen officials did not go within hundreds of miles of their designated district. They sat down in a camp on the prairie by themselves, manufactured a voters' list, inventing the names, set in a ballot for each name, marking all for the Government candidate and writing the names on the poll book. Then they cheerfully swore to everything as regular and received their reward. It was a beautiful arrangement, and gave the Government candidate a majority, though he was behind in the remainder of his constituency.

When the plot was discovered the local representative of the Department of Justice took no action. He seems to have been satisfied. But private parties prosecuted and then the local representative of the Dominion Minister of Justice appeared for the defence. Some of the parties on his advice pleaded guilty and were mildly fined, the machine supplying the money. Several others departed to the United States. These perpetrators of frauds, perjuries and forgeries have now returned to their old resorts, and are doubtless prepared to render further service to their party in the approaching Dominion elections.

Fame throws its circle so wide that it makes not a ripple near home. Hard labor is a plaster that alleviates the pains of the mind.

SUSPECTED OF ARSON.

Arrest Follows Inquest on Recent Fires at Dovercourt.

Dovercourt, Aug. 31.—Following the fire inquest held by Provincial Inspector Rogers at Dovercourt yesterday into a number of incendiary fires in the neighborhood, Ross Palmer, aged 25 years, who with his wife lives on Dovercourt road, was arrested last night by Constable Burns and County Constable Tomlinson, charged with arson. Palmer was taken on another street in the vicinity while unloading furniture and locked up in No. 1 police station, pending his removal to the jail. It will be remembered that at the time of the several fires in Dovercourt the prisoner suffered the loss of a stable or large outbuilding. The specific charge laid against Palmer is that on Aug. 8 he set fire to an outhouse on Jameson's property. The arrest was made on the advice of County Crown Attorney Monahan, after the evidence had been concluded yesterday.

WOMAN GOES TO TRIAL.

Mrs. Thomas to Face Charge of Manslaughter at Warton.

Warkenton, Aug. 31.—Agnes Thomas was yesterday committed for trial at the September assizes on a charge of manslaughter, arising from the shooting of Phillip Gilbert at Warton. It was announced that bail to the amount of $2,000 would be accepted. The assizes open Sept. 16, with Sir William Mulock presiding.

WHEN ILLNESS COMES.

Have you near at hand a remedy that will alleviate pain and help till the doctor comes? A wise thing is to have right in your home a bottle of "Nerviline," which gives instant relief, and prevents disease from spreading. Nothing known for the stomach and bowels that compares with Nerviline. For cramps, indigestion, heartburn and headaches, it's indispensable. For fifty years Polson's Nerviline in 25c. bottles has been a family stand-by. Get it today.

To stoop to folly is stupid.

NOT ENOUGH INFLUENCE IN THE HOUSE

to stop him from voting on any question of national importance. Steps should be taken to get a better class of immigrants into this country. Hindus, Dukhobors, Japs, Chinese and other undesirable are fast filling up the west. The Dooks were brought here at a cost of $5 a head to the country, and since their coming here not one of them have made any attempt to comply with the laws of this country. They are only a burden, a menace, a nuisance, and an expense. This class of people is being brought out here, given free land, and outfits paid for, and they do nothing but cause trouble. Then there was the Saskatchewan land deal, where Sifton was given 250,000 acres of land at $1 an acre and resold it $15 and acre. Sifton and company, however, were not satisfied with this, but they wanted to have the land fenced in as well. Mr. Clements had no knowledge of this latter deal until the Page Wire Fence Company wrote asking if the new of a big fence contract which was being given to a fence company in the northwest. On inquiry he could find out nothing, but he placed a question on the paper at the House, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier answered in person. He said that the Government had a fence deal under consideration, but no contract had yet been let. Mr. Clements asked for Hansard to see if his question was chronicled, but he could find nothing of it, nor anything about the fence deal. One Liberal newspaper in the west, however, did give credit for asking the question. This paper was sent to the Page Fence Company and they inquired of him for looking into the matter, and mailed him two official documents, mailed in reply to letters they had sent to Ottawa. These documents stated that the contract had been given to McGregor, Banwell, of Warkenton, and they ceased on bother making any further inquiries. The contract was for 400,000 miles of fencing at $550 per mile. Any ordinary fence could be built for $160 to $175 per mile, so it could easily be seen what a great graft there was in the fence deal. The net graft would amount to over $200,000 after shipping and all other expenses were deducted. This money a few gentlemen put down in their own pockets. This matter was again brought up in the House, and Laurier was asked how such a big deal was passed without the sanction of the House. He replied that he was at a loss to say, and wanted the matter laid over till the next day. The speaker believed that Laurier really did not know of it, but it was the gang he had behind him who were creating all the mischief. Mr. Clements concluded by saying that any time it could be proven that he had been dishonest to the extent of a five cent piece he would resign his seat in the House.

PANDORA RANGE

The easiest way to remove ashes from a range is with an ash pan—the Pandora method (see illustration).

Such an extra-large ash pan is provided with the Pandora that it will contain more ashes than will accumulate in one day.

All the ashes are in the pan, too, because they are guided there by flanges attached to either end of the fire-pot.

Easiest, cleanest, quickest, is the Pandora way.

With the scraper and pan provided with every Pandora it's merely a matter of a minute or so to clean out the dirt in the Pandora flues.

Less dirt accumulates in Pandora flues than in ordinary flues, because they are wider and deeper, with no bolts, projections or crevices to catch the dirt, consequently you need not clean them out so often.

Saves a lot of labor, does the Pandora.

Big Birds On Small Wings.

In the attempt to discover some universal law of bird flight scientists have disclosed concerning a number of species a most puzzling paradox, perhaps the most mysterious of the enigmas that the subject presents. It is that in a number of birds and insects the size of the wings decreases in proportion to the increase in size of the body of the flying creature. The Australian crane, for instance, weighs over 300 times more than the sparrow, but in proportion has only one-seventh the wing area of the smaller bird.

This curious fact is equally striking if we compare birds with insects. If the great were increased in size until it was as large as the Australian crane, and if the wings of the insect were enlarged to maintain the proportion they now bear to its body, they would be about one hundred and fifty times larger than the crane's.

It requires 2.53 square feet of wing area per pound to float the bank swallow, but to sustain the heavy vulture, a man-of-war and in comparison, requires only .23 of a square foot of wing surface a pound of body. The albatross, weighing 18 pounds, has a spread of wing 11 feet 6 inches, while the trumpeter swan, weighing 23 pounds, has a spread of wing of only 5 feet. The stork weighs eight times more than the pigeon, but in proportion has only half as much wing surface.

Pampered Dogs.

London veterinarians tell surprising stories about dogs. There was a poodle for which a prime leg of lamb was roasted every day; and there were other pets which, when taken into the custody of the veterinary, were visited every day by their owners in carriages, whose footmen would get down from the box and hand in portwine biscuits and other delicacies on silver dishes for the sick dog.

Old Noble, Queen Victoria's favorite collie, was often taken in as a patient by one veterinary and found to be suffering from overfeeding. It would frequently eat a whole roast pheasant, and the wonder is that it lived so long.

A veterinary once got a telegram from Oxford to go down instantly and treat a pet dog that had fallen downstairs and broken its leg. But the veterinary had to wire that the last train was gone, whereupon another message came: "Take special." And he did, at a cost of $160.

Many New Arrivals.

The number of immigrants who came into St. John, N. B., during the season which ended with the arrival last week of the steamship Montreal from Antwerp, will run close up to 40,000. The lists are not yet tabulated, but it is known that the C. P. R. Liverpool boats brought over 16,000, and the Antwerp boats more than 1,000. Then there was a goodly number by the Donaldson line and the Allan line, although the Allan line landed the greater majority of their passengers at Halifax. The total number of passengers arriving at St. John during the winter of 1906-7 was about 17,000 so there is an increase of upward of 10,000 for the season now at an end.

AN OCEAN BED TRAGEDY

DIVER'S FIGHT FOR LIFE BENEATH THE DEEP SEA.

Heroism Twenty-Five Fathoms Deep—Struggles for Hours to Save His "Pal"—First Man Down Had Life Lines Entangled—Was Saving Sunken Torpedo Boat—Dangers of Submarine Work.

It is difficult to conceive a more dramatic story than that of the rescue of a diver off Torbay, after he had been imprisoned beneath 150 feet of water for five hours and a half.

Walter Trappell, a Government diver, descended in the English Channel outside Torbay from the deck of the gunboat Spanker in connection with the salvage operations of a sunken torpedo boat. He got entangled, and another diver, named Leverett, went to his rescue. In terse, simple language Leverett told of the events that followed on the ocean bed.

"We are," he said, "only supposed to remain about twenty minutes at a stretch in such a position that he is twenty-five fathoms. When Trappell said so long I thought there was something wrong, and I telephoned to him. He told me that he was fouled in the wreck and could not get clear. 'All right,' I replied, 'I will come down and help you.'"

Almost a Hopeless Task.

"I descended immediately, and upon getting down found that Trappell was fixed in such a position that he was absolutely helpless. The wreck lies almost upright. Trappell was standing upon the sea bed, and his air pipe and life line were entangled in the deck gear of the torpedo boat high above his head. It was quite impossible for him to get up to his decks and clear himself.

"Slowly and laboriously I crept about the deck of the sunken boat, disentangling Trappell's life line and air pipe from the davits and other places where they were fouled. It took me three hours to get them clear, and I thought I should never be able to finish the job, as I was getting exhausted. Once, in fact, I gave it up and left him, but I pulled myself together again and went back to him.

Nearly Done For.

"I was getting nearly done myself. Blood poured from my nostrils and I was much exhausted, but I made another effort and took to the job until I got Trappell free. This was accomplished only just in time, for about three minutes before he was raised to the surface Trappell became unconscious.

Leverett was greatly distressed to hear of the fate of Trappell, whose condition at first raised hopes of his recovery. Trappell, however, died suddenly in a hospital on the following Saturday night soon after his wife and daughter had left his side.

Leverett, the hero of this ocean bed tragedy, is a splendidly built, athletic young fellow who is known as a keen footballer. When arranging for the salvage of the torpedo boat the Admiralty asked for volunteer divers, as twenty-five fathoms, the depth in which the wreck lies, is much above that to which surface divers are obliged to descend. Trappell and Leverett, the two senior shipwright divers in Portsmouth dockyard, volunteered for the dangerous task.

CITY OF PILGRIMAGES.

Canterbury the Scene of Many Stirring Historical Events.

Canterbury has once again been the scene of remarkable demonstrations, the pilgrimage of the Roman Catholic Guild of Our Lady of Ransom being attended by some 600 persons. There were processions through the streets and devotional services in the cathedral.

The Saxon Cantuarbia, or City of the Man of Kent, is one of the most interesting and most ancient of English cities. Some chronicles would, in fact, make Canterbury the most ancient than Rome itself. Among the most picturesque of the fragments of ancient times are large portions of the walls which originally encircled it. No other English city can show anything like the same number of ancient unaltered churches. They are met wherever you go, turns.

And the cathedral itself embodies all that is picturesque. Huge are its dimensions—of many different ages and styles its architecture, yet it is perfect in its harmony and generally pleasing effect.

The crypt is the largest and loveliest in England. Here the remains of St. Thomas of Canterbury (Becket) lay from 1170 to 1220, and it was here that Henry II, fasting and disconsolate, with naked feet, bare back, and streaming eyes, performed the memorable penance on July 12, 1174. With his head partly thrust into one of the openings through which the actual coffin was visible, he knelt and received five strokes from every bishop and abbot present, and three strokes from each of the eighty monks.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain stomach nerve sickness—nothing else.

"ALL DEALERS"

Lord Milner's Views.
"It is extremely unfortunate that the one form of Imperial partnership, known as that of a practical kind, which all the colonies, including Canada, are as yet unanimous in desiring, should have met with no better reception in the Mother Country. 'Preferential trade relations' with our own nearest kinsmen, a position of permanent benefit to us should have been the best and most promising market in the world, is a boon which—apart entirely from its political consequences, great as they must be—would be worth securing at any price, and which we should 'not have' to pay in a bagatelle."—Lord Milner, in The National Review.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From his countless days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he would have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach is utterly indifferent to our attentions, and it is the stomach and its contents that knock us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. Why the Golden Medical Discovery cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and pure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the Golden Medical Discovery cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, containing the latest news, and explaining their curative properties being sent free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicine from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

Looseness of The Bowels.

It is very seldom during the summer months that most people are not troubled with "looseness of the bowels." Sometimes it only goes that far, but generally it develops into Diarrhoea, Dysentery or Summer Complaint and has a tendency to weaken the whole system.

When the bowels get loosened up in this way and you wish to check the unnatural discharge without bringing on constipation, there is only one remedy to use, and that one is Dr. Fowler's EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY. This remedy is not an experiment as it has been used in thousands of families during the past sixty-two years.

When you ask for Dr. Fowler's be sure you get it, as many unprincipled druggists will try to palm off a cheap substitute on you.

Miss M. Hopkins, Rosevill, Sask., writes: "I have used Dr. Fowler's EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY and found it all it is recommended to be for Diarrhoea and Summer Complaint. We would not be without a bottle of it in the house."

MARK TWAIN AS A BOWLER.

Bewildering Results He Achieved in His First Game.

More than forty years ago in San Francisco the office staff adjourned upon conclusion of its work at 2 o'clock in the morning to a great bowling establishment where there were twelve alleys. I was invited, rather perfunctorily and as a matter of etiquette—by which I mean that I was invited politely, but not urgently. But when I diffidently declined with thanks and explained that I knew nothing about the game those lively young fellows became at once eager and anxious and urgent to have my society. This flattered me, for I perceived no trap, and I innocently and gratefully accepted their invitation. I was given an alley all to myself. The boys explained the game to me, and they also explained to me that there would be an hour's play and that the player who scored the fewest ten strikes in the hour would have to provide oysters and beer for the combination. This disturbed me very seriously, since it promised me bankruptcy, and I was sorry that this fellow had been overlooked in the betting. But my pride would not allow me to back out now, so I stayed in and did what I could to look satisfied and glad I had come. It is not likely that I looked as contented as I wanted to, but the others looked glad enough to make up for it, for they were quite unable to hide their evil joy. They showed me how to stand and how to stoop and how to aim the ball and how to let fly, and then the game began.

The Results were Astonishing.

In my ignorance I delivered the balls in apparently every way except the right one, but no matter—during half an hour I never started a ball down the alley that didn't score a ten strikes every time at the other end. The others lost their grip early and their joy along with it. Now and then one of them got a ten strike, but the occurrence was so rare that it made no show alongside of my giant score. The boys surrendered at the end of the half hour and put on their coats and gathered around me in and courteous but sufficiently definite language expressed their opinion of an experience worn and seasoned expert who would stoop to lying and deception in order to rob kind and well-meaning friends who had put their trust in him under the delusion that he was honest and honorable. I was not able to convince them that I had not had for now my character was gone, and they refused to attach any value to anything I said.

The proprietor of the place stood by for awhile saying nothing; then he came to my defense. He said: "It looks like a mystery, gentlemen, but it isn't a mystery after it's explained. That is a grooved alley; you've only to start a ball down in any way you please and the groove will do the rest; it will slam the ball against the northeast curve of the head pin every time, and nothing can save the ten from going down."

It was true. The boys made the experiment and they found that there was no art that could send a ball down that alley and fail to score a ten strike with it. When I had told those boys that I knew nothing about that game I was speaking only the truth. But it was ever thus all through my life—whenever I have diverged from custom and principle and uttered a truth the rule has been that the hearer hadn't strength of mind enough to believe it.—From Mark Twain's Autobiography in North American Review.

The Conductor Courteous.

St. John's, N. F.—Some of the natives call it "Senjens"—is far more picturesque than beautiful. But its quaintness redeems it from sturdiness, and, wander where you will, you meet with that courtesy and kindness that are the graces of people who live unburied lives in remote places where strangers are a welcome break to their monotony. When you say to some casual benefactor that you are "much obliged" for some courteous direction, he will touch his hat and say, "Thank you," as if you had conferred the favor upon him. The street car conductor (they even have a trolley line, though how it can be run in winter is a mystery) will see that you are set down where you should leave the car and, if you are uncertain of your way, will get off his car and point your destination out, holding the other passengers until he is sure you understand "Travel Magazine."

Didn't Get It Just Right.

The subject of matrimony was being discussed the other evening at a dinner party in Harlem. When one of the guests facetiously hinted that his host could tear it off a little when no women were present the hostess became indignant. "I would have you understand," she said, with crushing dignity, "that my husband never says anything before ladies that he wouldn't say anywhere." She is still wondering why it was that everybody laughed.—New York Tribune.

Yet It Was Realistic.

Miss Yern—Of course you've read that new love story of his. Crabbe (book reviewer)—Yes, I had to. Very realistic, wasn't it? Miss Yern—Nonsense! The dialogue between the lovers was positively silly. Crabbe—Well!

The Lack.

Knicker—There are plenty of books telling how to save life while waiting for the doctor. Bocker—Yes, what we need is one telling the young doctor how to save life while waiting for the patient.

A life in continual need is half death.—German Proverb.

The sad intelligence has just reached here of the death of Roy A. Blackburn, second son of Robert T. Blackburn, both former residents of Dawn Mills, where Mr. Blackburn and his family lived for many years. Roy went to Calgary, Alberta, four years ago and took up a homestead, and has since made that his home, his father having located in Vancouver, and his death, coming as it did, just at the beginning of young manhood, makes the blow seem doubly hard to his many friends and relatives. The North Vancouver Express pays a high tribute to the young man in its issue of August 9, in which it speaks of the high esteem in which he was held in that city, and his home, Alberta. The funeral was held from the St. Andrew's church, the service being conducted by the Rev. DEATH OF JOHN RICE

John Rice, one of Chatham's oldest and most respected merchants, passed away on the old Causgrave farm, on which he was born in 1830, Sunday evening.

The deceased lived a career remarkable for business success, in that the first came to this city a farmer boy, and finally retired a veteran merchant rated at about thirty thousand dollars.

The last store in which the deceased did business was in the stand at present occupied by Bacina and Dennis. He was a clever and enterprising business man, and did much towards the building up of this city.

Strength of mind rests in sobriety, for this keeps the reason unclouded by passion.

THE WIARTON TRAGEDY

Men Who Wrecked the Tent Now Appear in Court.

Wiarion, Sept. 3.—Nine of the men who wrecked the tent of Agnes Thomas, who is now in Walkerton jail charged with manslaughter in the death of Philip Gilbert, appeared before Police Magistrate Miller at noon yesterday and were remanded until to-day at 10 o'clock, when all will be arraigned on the charge of holding a tumultuous assembly.

The criminal code provides as punishment for the above offence one year penal servitude.

The men who appeared yesterday were: Andrew Hastings, John Lancaster, William Lancaster, Walter Lancaster, Joseph Lancaster, Robert Lancaster, James Corcoran, Melvin Meyer, Albert Tilley.

All are laboring men engaged at various day jobs in this town.

The Lancasters are all members of the same family.

It will be remembered that it was to Lancasters' house that the body of Philip Gilbert was taken immediately after the shooting, and that the men who brought the body to his home.

James Corcoran carried Gilbert to the Lancaster house.

Following the appearance in court of the above it was said last night that the following have also been served with summonses to appear to-day on the same charge and for being members of the gang who witnessed the tragedy: Alexander Elliott, Sidney Lee, Joseph Lee, George Lee.

Startling facts concerning the tragedy are gradually coming to light.

The most sensational of these is that the mob was organized on the night of Aug. 30 to wreck the home of John Smith, a laborer.

Philip Gilbert, the dead man, was the chief mover in the plot. For years a feud had existed between him and Smith.

It is said that Smith had been living with disreputable women for some time. He was arrested and the case was adjourned for two weeks. At the expiration of that time he was dismissed, the charges against him not being substantiated.

In the meantime Smith caused much talk about Gilbert renting a house which belonged to the latter to the Thomas woman.

Gilbert's enemy grew into hatred. On the night on which he met his death, with the above-mentioned men, plans were laid to wreck Smith's place. The crowd started out.

On the way to the Smith place, someone said: "Let us wreck Ag. Thomas's tent, too."

The row then started, the particulars of which were made sensational by the shooting of Philip Gilbert.

Provincial Detective Barron has been here for a week and it is as a result of his work that the summonses have been issued.

LABOR DAY RIOT

Two Men Shot in "Frisco" Street Cars Attacked.

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—The labor union parade yesterday resulted in the shooting of two men by employees of the United Railroads.

The carmen were attacked by the paraders and, in self-defence, opened fire. The trouble started at the ferry, where, it is stated, a Sutter street car broke through the line of parade.

A mob of labor union men followed the car, and at the junction of Sutter street the members attacked a car.

The motorman, fearing that his life was in danger, opened fire and wounded one of his assailants in the leg. A block further up an inspector was attacked by the mob. He was suddenly struck in the face and ran from his assailants. They followed him to the corner of Sutter and Montgomery streets, where they overtook him. He drew a pistol and aimed at a burly laborer who carried bricks in his hands. The inspector opened fire and shot the man through the groin.

Six shots were fired. A riot call was sent in to the police, and the fire departments and a force of police and firemen were soon on the scene.

The man who did the shooting was arrested, but several rioters who were seized by the police were released.

The labor union men who were in the parade evidently thought that they had the right of way over the streets of San Francisco, for when the cars of the United Railroads attempted to break through the procession there was trouble, and what had been an orderly parade turned into a riot.

The cars of the United Railroads had stopped while the parade was in progress, but when the marchers began to disperse the cars began running. There was a dense crowd at the attempt to run the cars.

When the police jumped in to quiet the riot, a number of them, as soon as they made arrests, were set upon by the labor union paraders and mobbed. One policeman said afterwards: "It took twenty officers to make a single arrest."

Fred Hickey will spend to-morrow in Galt.

Expert Examined Wreck Of The Quebec Bridge

Masonry Piers are Intact—Story of Some Eye Witnesses

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—Mr. Collingwood Schrieber, consulting Government engineer; Mr. J. M. Butler, Deputy Minister, and Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, and Mr. M. P. Davis, contractor for the masonry of the Quebec bridge, have returned from the scene of Thursday's disaster. Mr. Davis, in the course of an interview, after alluding to the magnitude of the catastrophe, observed that there was probably only one man alive who could be said to have witnessed the collapse, and that was the bridge company's inspector. He noticed the structure tremble and sway. Knowing what this meant, as the horror of the impending catastrophe flashed upon him, he instinctively turned his head. Then came the crash, and when he looked again the mighty structure was a mass of ruin. Asked about the masonry work, Mr. Davis said it remained intact, the piers standing exactly as they were when built, notwithstanding the tremendous strain to which they were subjected. The anchor pier did not show so much as a mark. As for the precise cause of the accident, it would not be known until the termination of a long and intricate investigation by the Government commission. Mr. John Sterling Deans, chief engineer of the Phoenix Bridge Co., also the designer, to whom Mr. Davis talked, would not discern where the fault had been. "Sixteen thousand tons of metal," continued Mr. Davis, "are lying mostly in an indescribable tangle; great steel beams being twisted like elastic bands, and yet there is not a suspension of steel work looks like a ton in the wreck that shows signs of weakness. I walked 400 feet along the wreckage without being able to discern the least flaw in a single member." No Damage in Piers. Mr. M. J. Butler confirmed this observation. "The masonry is absolutely intact and uninjured in any way whatever," said the Deputy Minister, "and that after undergoing the most severe strain to which any masonry work was probably ever submitted to in the world. The thousands of tons of steel work looks like a ton in scraps of paper, yet the piers do not show any further damage than might be wrought upon them in a few hours by a couple of men with hammers." The commissioners, Messrs. Holgate and Kerry, were at work when Mr. Butler left the scene of the disaster. Their preliminary operations consist of making examinations of the wrecked material, and marking the parts that will be photographed for comparison with their position and place in the intact structure. "It will be one great relief to find that the masonry is intact, and that the matter of conjecture until the investigation has been finished," Mr. Butler continued. "The commissioners will probably start their formal hearing to-day. Mr. Deans, the chief engineer of the Phoenix Bridge Co., and his computer, Mr. Spinks, arrived at Ottawa just before I left. They will appear before the commission with their plans and data, and survivors of the disaster will also be examined." Funeral of Victims. Montreal, Que., Sept. 3.—Eight of the Indian laborers who perished in the Quebec bridge disaster were buried Sunday at the Indian village of Caughnawaga, where they lived. His Grace, Archbishop Bruchesi, came from Montreal to officiate at the funeral service. The coffins were lowered into a large single grave. Thirty-seven families in Caughnawaga alone have been afflicted by the catastrophe. Some forty-five children have been made orphans.

BOYS SHOCKED TO DEATH.

Bodies Hung In Air For Three Hours In Flames.

Buffalo, Sept. 3.—Two Polish lads, Tony, Carol and Giuseppe Zeppa, both about 13 years old, were shocked to death yesterday on a steel tower, which carries high voltage from Niagara Falls power houses to the Lackawanna steel plant. There was great delay in communicating with the power house to get the current shut off, and for nearly three hours the bodies hung in mid-air with the blue flames playing about them, in plain view of thousands of street car passengers. Carol first essayed to climb the tower. He touched one of the cables and in a flash was dead. Zeppa bravely went to the rescue of his companion, but the moment he touched his body a flash of blue flame sent him flying across the three power lines, and in an instant he, too, was dead.

Bridge Blown Up.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 3.—A new bridge on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, over Cory street, Darby, a suburb, was blown up Sunday by unknown persons. The false work of the bridge was completely wrecked by dynamite. A southbound freight train was approaching at the time, and was flagged by policemen.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. CREMATED IN CLOSET.

Boy Mistook Door for Exit From Burning Building. Malone, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Eleven-year-old Abraham Stone was burned to death, and several other persons narrowly escaped with their lives in a fire which destroyed the farm of Mrs. George Morris at Lake Altus yesterday. When the members of the family were awakened, the house was in flames and the occupants fled in their night clothing. All escaped with the exception of the boy, who is believed to have mistaken a closet door for an exit. After the fire was extinguished he was found in the closet door.

LONG BOW STORIES.
Legends of the Famous Archers of the Remote Past.

Many "long bow" stories may be cited in the literature of the world, and by far the greater part of them had their origin in the remote past. Vergil, in the "Æneid," tells of four archers who were shooting for a prize, the mark being a pigeon tied by a cord to the mast of a ship. The first man hit the mast, the second cut the cord, and the third shot the pigeon as it flew away. The fourth archer, having nothing left at which to shoot, drew his bow and sent his arrow flying toward the sky with such speed that the friction of the air set the feathers on fire, and it swept on like a meteor to disappear in the clouds.

This is a bow and arrow story that tests the strongest powers of credulity. The stories of Robin Hood's archery, illustrated by his wonderful performance as Locksley in Scott's "Ivanhoe," are also a decided strain on one's power of belief.

The famous legend of William Tell is believed by some to have a foundation in fact. There was a Dane named Foke of whom the same story was told, and William of Cloudestey, an Englishman, is said to have shot an apple from his son's head merely to show his skill.

The majority of bow and arrow stories relate to the accurate aim of the archers, but a Frenchman, Blaise de Vigenere, tells one in which the main point is the tremendous force with which an arrow may be propelled if the bow is strong and long enough. According to his own account of the matter, he saw Barbarossa, a Turk, admiral of a ship called the Grand Solyman, send an arrow from his bow clean through a cannon ball. Whether the cannon ball had a hole in it or not he neglects to inform us.

Perhaps the most astounding of all stories about arrow shooting is that of the Indians who used to inhabit Florida. It is said that a group of them would form a circle; one would throw an ear of corn into the air, the rest would shoot at it and shell it of every grain before it fell to the ground. Sometimes the arrows would strike the ear of corn so hard and fast that it would remain suspended in the air several minutes, and the cob never fell until the last grain had been shot away.

HINDOO PROVERBS.

Happiness consists in the absence of anxiety.

Truth, contentment, patience and mercy belong to great minds.

Little things should not be despised. Many straws united will bind an elephant.

It can never be safe to unite with an enemy. Water, though heated, will soon extinguish fire.

He who removes another from danger and he who removes terror from the mind are the greatest of friends.

Courage is tried in war, integrity in the payment of debt and interest, the faithfulness of a wife in poverty and friendship in distress.

Every one looking downward becomes impressed with the idea of his own greatness, but looking upward feels his own littleness.

He who in your presence speaks kindly, but in your absence seeks to injure, must be rejected like a bowl of poison covered with milk.

Obedience of Orders.

A naval commander in the reign of Queen Anne was ordered to cruise with a squadron within certain limits on the coast of Spain. Having received information that a Spanish fleet was in Vigo, beyond his limits, he resolved to risk his personal responsibility for the good of his country. He accordingly attacked and defeated the Spanish fleet with uncommon gallantry. When he joined the admiral under whom he served, he was ordered under arrest and was asked if he did not know that by the articles of war he was liable to be shot for disobedience of orders. He replied with great composure that he was very sensible that he was, but added, "The man who is afraid to risk his life in any way when the good of his country requires it is unworthy of a command in her majesty's service."

Coughing in Lieu of Oratory.

A singular fashion which prevailed among the preachers of Cromwell's time was that of coughing or hemming in the middle of a sentence in order to attract the attention of the congregation. The necessity of continually attracting the attention of the listeners could not have argued well for the brilliancy of the sermons. Some authorities say that the preachers coughed merely as an ornament to speech. At any rate, when the sermons were printed, as many of them were, the coughs and hems were always indicated on the margin of the page.

Interested in Antiques.

Professor McGoozle (suddenly checking himself)—Pardon me, Miss Genevieve, for talking so long. When I got started on my hobby I never know when to stop. I ought not to have assumed, anyhow, that you are interested in antiques. Miss de Murr—Indeed I am, professor. I could listen to you for hours.

He Promised.

"I can't spare the money very well, but I'll gladly loan it to you if you promise not to keep it too long."

"I solemnly swear that I'll spend every penny of it before tomorrow morning!"

Rock temples at Ipsampool, on the Nile, are believed to be the world's oldest architectural ruins.

Willed Away the Laundry.

When a perfectly strange woman came for the soiled clothes the mistress of the house came to the conclusion that her own landlady had simply employed a new messenger and made no comment on the circumstances.

But when two weeks had gone by and still the old landlady, known as Susan, no last name having been mentioned, did not appear the mistress of the house felt that she would be lacking in her duty if she did not make some inquiry about her.

"Where is Susan?" she asked the tall and bony structure who came for the clothes.

"She has gone to Pennsylvania to live, yessum," returned this person, with composure. "She went to Pennsylvania some time ago, and she left goodby for yuh, but if long as yuh didn't seem tuh notis I didn't say tuhn."

"But why didn't she come and tell me and allow me to make some arrangements about my laundry?" asked Susan's ex-mistress.

"Well, she let y' clothes tuh meh. She made a will an' let dem clothes tuh meh. Wese allus been good friends, and so wen she let she say I may wash y' clothes long as I wish tuh, an' dere wuz no use worryin' yuh 'bout it, now was dere?"

To which moderate and sensible question the mistress of the house could only remain speechless.

MOORS ARE ATTACKING

Five Thousand Horsemen Advance on French Camp.

Artillery Begins Firing—Natives Engaged—Fiercest of Disaffected Tribesmen—Sultan Barricades Himself—Will Make Morocco Pay Heavy Indemnity—Three Soldiers Killed and Twelve Wounded.

Paris, Aug. 31.—In a despatch from Casablanca, a correspondent of The Morning Post has received a letter from the Sultan, telling him to follow this course. But now they are getting restive, and are accusing the Medinas of being traitors in the pay of the French. The natives are convinced that Mulai Hafg is coming to Casablanca to try and get an official mandate from the French Government to restore order, and that he will profit by the opportunity to establish himself on a firm basis and supplant Abdul Aziz, the Sultan of Record.

Paris, Aug. 31.—The correspondent of The Morning Post declares that the Sultan Abdul Aziz tried to set out for Rabat but was forced to return by the hostility of the populace. He has barricaded himself in the palace at Fez.

Paris, Aug. 31.—The report that the Sultan intended to insist that Morocco should pay the heavy expenses resulting from the French military and naval action in the latter country appears to be correct. The expenditure is increasing steadily with the enlargement of the territory of the French forces, and Germany, Great Britain and the other powers of Europe are understood to be in sympathy with France's attitude. It is also stated in well-informed official circles that the old powers intend to demand payments for the losses sustained by their subjects in Morocco. However, it is recognized that the existence of two Sultans of Morocco will render it a difficult matter to fix the responsibility for the payment of the expenses incurred.

The French cruiser Desaix, which is due to arrive at Tangier on Sunday, was sent there following an interview between the British ambassador here, Sir Francis Bertie and Premier Clemenceau Thursday, during which the ambassador pointed out the dangerous position of the Europeans at Tangier.

According to the latest advice from Casablanca, the French losses in the fighting near the camp Aug. 22, were three men killed and twelve wounded, the killed including a cavalryman of the Irreguliers Algeriens, who was decapitated, and whose head was carried off by the Moors.

The enemy's losses are believed to have been heavy.

Casablanca, Aug. 31.—During the fighting between the French and the Moors on Thursday night the French position in the city was somewhat precarious, and it was believed that the engagement was over, when suddenly the enemy reappeared in great force in two directions. The Spanish and Irregular Algerian cavalry found themselves almost surrounded, but formed a square, and slowly fell back until reinforcements came. In the meanwhile the French warships showered shells among the hills sheltering the enemy. The engagement lasted three hours. The line of battle extended over two miles, and it is estimated that about 12,000 Moors were engaged. The loss of the latter is not known, but it is believed to have been heavy, as French officers counted the bodies of twenty Moors in one road-way. The French loss was 15 killed and 100 wounded.

The cruisers Gloire and Gueydon yesterday bombarded the beach beyond Casablanca, where a force of Moorish cavalry gathered, but was soon dispersed by the warships' fire.

Editors Caught Napping.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 31.—The Courier-Journal building, which are located the plants of The Courier-Journal and Evening Times, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The structures were five stories high and occupied half a block.

The editorial and reportorial forces of The Courier-Journal stuck to the building in the hope that the blaze would be subdued, and that they could issue a paper. They were caught napping with fire all exits, and had to be taken out by ladders.

The damage on building and contents is estimated at $650,000; well insured.

Died in Sight of Home.

Brookville, Aug. 31.—After an absence of 36 years, away from his old home, and traveling from Adair, Iowa, with his wife for the purpose of visiting with old friends at Dawson, a few miles from here, Edward McEvoy was taken suddenly ill in a hotel at Kempville, six miles from his objective point, on Thursday night, and died before morning.

Bishop Ingram Sails.

Liverpool, Aug. 31.—The Bishop of London, the Rev. Dr. A. F. W. Ingram, who will present to Old Bruton Parish Church, at Williamsburg, Virginia, the second oldest church in America, the Bible which King Edward has given it in connection with the Jamestown Exposition, sailed for Canada yesterday on the Allan Line steamer Victoria.

Drowned at Smith's Falls.

Brookville, Aug. 31.—Reginald Reid, aged five years, was drowned in the canal basin at Smith's Falls by falling between the wharf and a launch.

The Nordheimer

Permanency of Tone

As a rule when a person buys a piano it is not with the intention of replacing it with a new one next month, next year or within five years. It is regarded as a permanent fixture in the home, and the most important feature next to the owners themselves.

It is evident that great care should be taken to select a piano which will retain its original brilliancy, power and quality of tone for years and ears and years. And such a piano is the "Nordheimer."

It has a lasting, permanent tone, as you can prove for yourself if you play on one which has been in the home of a friend for ten, fifteen, twenty years or more.

The "Nordheimer" is perfectly constructed by experts from the finest grade of materials procurable. It is built with the idea of not only satisfying the most critical ear for tone-quality when new, but for retaining its original superb tone, so that it will still satisfy the critical ear in years to come.

Those who own a "Nordheimer" are the only ones who can really appreciate to the fullest sense the wonderful, pure, sweet, brilliant, yet powerful tone of the peerless "Nordheimer" piano. May we not have the pleasure of a talk with you, with the object in view of placing "Nordheimer" in your home?

Our Mr. R. V. Carter will visit Chatham frequently in our interest and will be pleased to furnish you with any information you may desire. Correspondence addressed to him in care of the Garner House will receive careful attention.

Contractors to Be Held Responsible For Quebec Disaster.

Government Will Probe Cause—Commission of Experts Appointed—Phoenix Co. Alleged to Have Been Hurrying at Risk of Safety—Rivets Heard to Creak Day Before—Pall of Horror Over Quebec.

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—It is evident from the attitude assumed by the Government that the responsibility for the Quebec bridge disaster will be laid at the door of the contractors.

S. N. Parent, chairman of the Transcontinental Railway Commission, states that the Phoenix Co. of Pennsylvania had been rushing the steel-work too fast and that that company is responsible for all losses, and so will have to meet also the claims for damages by the relatives of those who have lost their lives.

He estimates the loss upon the structure at about one million dollars, and it is probable that the damages for loss of life will amount to half a million.

Mr. Parent is chairman of the Quebec Bridge Co. He left for Quebec yesterday afternoon along with M. J. Butler, Deputy Minister of Railways.

The Dominion Government has ordered an investigation. Henry Holme, C. E. of Montreal, will conduct the enquiry, and the other members of the board will be Prof. J. G. Perry of McGill and Prof. Galbraith, principal of the School of Practical Science of Toronto.

This action by the Government has been taken on account of the public importance of the disaster, and not of any Departmental responsibility. The engineers of the Department of Railways and Canals, which alone is concerned, simply certify to the amount of work put into the structure from time to time, thus enabling the contractors to receive instalments.

Contractors' Liability.

M. P. Davis, who was contractor for the piers and abutments, had some time ago handed over his work to the Quebec Bridge Co., and the same has been accepted by them; but if it should be that the trouble was due to fault on the part of the bridge-work, he is of course still fully liable and responsible for any losses and damages that have occurred.

In addition to the money loss, the collapse represents from one to two years' delay in the completion of the bridge on the rebuilding of the structure there is not, Mr. Parent says, the least doubt.

The whole bridge has cost, as far as it has gone, something over $4,000,000, and was to cost when finished in the neighborhood of $5,000,000.

The only explanation that Mr. Parent can give of the collapse is that in the rushing of the work the riveting may not have followed up the extension of the steel as fast as it should, and that the drop weight, used to test the weight of the steel which was being taken out on it.

Sympathy From Premier.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday morning sent the following message to Mayor Garneau of Quebec:

"I pray you to express to the citizens of Quebec and to those who lost relatives and friends in my profound sympathy in the awful disaster which occurred last evening. It is the duty of all not to lose courage. We must immediately apply ourselves to the reparation of the lost and to push the project with energy."

(Signed) "Wilfrid Laurier."

The Governor-General has forwarded a telegram to Lieut.-Governor Jette, expressing sympathy with bereaved families suffering from the disaster.

FALLS 2,000 FEET ON POST.

Man Drops From Sky in Middle of Field.

Barnstable, Mass., Aug. 31.—Nearly 5,000 persons at the annual Barnstable County Fair saw Prof. Maloney, a balloonist, drop 2,000 feet to the earth, strike on the top of a cedar fence post, and escape probably with his life.

A sharp easterly wind had blown the rope which connects with the knife against a mass of cords higher up and out of reach of the aeronaut.

For fully two miles he floated two along. The gas rapidly leaking from the big bag above him and he prepared for the long drop. He and the balloon came earthward rapidly. As it neared the earth the canvas fell about his body and prevented him from seeing where he was falling. He struck on top of a big cedar post used by a farmer to mark off his field. Luckily he did not fall squarely, but struck in a half standing position. His back was terribly torn and his left arm badly injured.

The babies were plump and healthy and were bought by a man who offered the price required. He was taking the children away to be reared by a farmer and arrested both buyers and sellers.

PATERSON'S

COUGH DROPS

Richard Mansfield Dead.
Last Curtain Has Fallen on Life of Famous Actor.

New London, Conn., Aug. 31.—Richard Mansfield, one of the best known actors on the American stage, died yesterday morning at his summer residence. Death was directly due to disease of the liver, aggravated by complications.

A few weeks ago he reached Montreal from England, and after a few days' rest was sent by his physicians to the Adirondacks, where it was at first stated that complete rest would bring return to health. Later, however, reports indicated the fatal character of his affliction.

During the great actor's last moments he was lying in a condition of coma, and did not recognize the loved ones at his bedside.

Richard Mansfield was born in Heliogopolis, Egypt, on May 24, 1857. His mother was Mme. Mansfield Rudersdorf, a famous prima donna, and it was from her that Mansfield inherited his love for the art. The actor studied at several schools on the continent, and at Stratford, Kingston, Ontario.

He was an accomplished singer and musician and played in comic opera. Despite these facts he was unsuccessful for years, and it was not until he came to America that he made a real success.

TO PROP UP ST. PAUL'S.

Architects Take Steps to Save Cathedral From Disaster.

London, Aug. 31.—The committee of architects, which was appointed to enquire into the condition of St. Paul's Cathedral, has issued a report, which declares that, while the cathedral is in no immediate danger, elaborate precautions are necessary to preserve it from disaster.

It is added that attention should be given to all building operations in the neighborhood, or mischief of a serious nature may arise.

The committee recommends that a large amount of structural work required in repairing the fabric be proceeded with at once.

BREWERS BAR PREACHERS.

Refuse to Walk With Them in Labor Day Parade.

Lacrosse, Wis., Aug. 31.—The Ministry Union, organized only a few weeks ago, and soon after affiliated with the Trades and Labor Assembly, the supreme labor body of Lacrosse, was officially cast out by that body and refused permission to march in the Labor Day parade.

This action was the result of complaints by the brewery workers, who claimed that the recent agitation against the saloons had resulted in an injury to the Brewery Workers' Union.

The city labor body took up the complaints and after a hearing decided that the crusade by the religious workers was to the harm of their fellow unionists and the official casting out followed.

ANOTHER GAS GUSHER.

Well Opened in Tilbury With Capacity of 10,000,000 Feet.
Chatham, Aug. 31.—The largest gas well ever struck in Tilbury East, twice the size of the well supplying Chatham, has been opened. The well is of 10,000,000 cubic feet capacity. It is on the Jackson farm and is operated by the Leamington Oil & Gas Co. of Leamington.

Gas was struck at 1,350 feet, when the hole was lost in the hole, including the whole length of rope cable. On account of this accident a most interesting phenomena is occurring. The gas flow from the hole is so strong that several hundred feet of cable flutter upright in the hole, furiously fluttering like a flag in a windstorm.

Another Mineral Field.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Aug. 31.—It has been known for some time that native copper existed on Michipicou Island, and not only native copper, but native silver also had been discovered on the island. The samples show native silver allied with native copper, not float, but samples taken from minerals in places knocked out with a pick. The analysis made shows the ore to run from 2.1 to 3 per cent in native copper. The native silver and copper in the calcite shows for itself.

Province Won't Prosecute.

Winnipeg, Aug. 31.—Cases of infringement of the Lord's Day Act before the Police Court yesterday were regarded on account of a letter from Attorney-General Campbell withdrawing the consent of the Provincial Law Department from the prosecution.

The letter claimed the police commissioners were prosecuting the small restaurant dealers and allowed hotels to get off scot free.

Rome, Aug. 31.—The Vatican has announced that all pilgrimages to Rome scheduled for the months of September and October are to be postponed on account of the present anti-clerical agitation in Italy.

JURY'S VERDICT MURDER.

Toronto Woman Performed Illegal Operation and Faces Charge.

Toronto, Aug. 31.—A coroner's jury returned a verdict of wilful murder against Mrs. Minnie Turner, who is accused of performing an illegal operation upon a girl named Rose Winters, which resulted in her death on Sunday last from septic poisoning.

A certificate of death had been given, and the funeral took place on Tuesday, but sinister rumors having reached the authorities the body was exhumed, and a post mortem revealed the true facts of the case.

Bertie Pearsall, an inmate of the maternity home conducted by Mrs. Turner, swore that she saw the operation performed.

The girl's sweetheart also gave evidence.
