When King Louis I, and Ioemed the resolution of erecting a colosisal situes of Baveria, it was Schwanthaler whom he charged to execute the work. The colosius was them delive all over to the founder, to be cast in metal. The head was the fast large portion that was executed. While the metal was preparing for the cast, a presentiment filled the master a mind that, despite his exact reckoning, there might still be be insufficient material for the work, and thirty cwt. were added to the half-liquid mass. The result proved how fortunate had been the forethought: nothing could be more successial. And now the cheat of the figure was to be east, and the master conceived the bold idea of forming it in one piece. Those who have seen thirty or forty cwt, of metal rushing into the mouth below, have perhaps started back afflighted at the flery stream. But 400 cwt, were requisite for this pertion of the statue; and the forminable miture of the undertaking may be collected from the fifet that, till now, not more than 300 cwt, had ever alled a furnace at one time.

But see, the mass begins slowly to melt; huge pieces of cannon fout on the surface, like boats on water, and then gradually dissippear. Presently upon the top of the me was crust is seen to form, threatening danger a to be furnace, so, well as to the model prepared to receive the fluid bronze. Committee appointed at the Public Meet g, hald in Montreal on Friday, the 29th ounder last, to consider the propriety of mmencing a Wastern Railway—

That having secured the services of C. 3. Grownki, Kee, Chief Engineer of the St. Lawrence and Atlantic Railroad, they placed in his hands instructions to proceed with the necessary surveys to determine the most advantageous route from Montreal to Present; and subsequently, having become satisfied that if was desirable to extend the examinations to Kingston. Mr. Growski was hatructed to report generally upon the line to that city. Is reference to these surveys, the Committee would remark, that they early became untilled that of the various routes suggested, two only required particular immediate notice—that by the Ottawa, and the direct route by the St. Lawrence—the others being success y strained of the routes, and not necessarily requiring examination at this period of the enterprise.

Iour Yorso, Reg. Chairman,

Mentreal and Prescott Railway.

Six.—In compliance with the instructions contained in your communication of the 19th December last, "to examine and report on the character of the country, and facilities for constructing a Rails and from Lachine to Prescott and Kingston, on a line parallel with the St. Lawrence, and from Lachine to the ame points by the north side of the Ottawa, passing through or near Grenville, and to lurnish you with the distances and the probable cost of each of these routes." I proceeded, as soon as arrangements for the purpose could be committed, to make the desired examination, and have now the honor to report the results, for the information of the Executive Committee.

Perfously to entering upon the details, I wish to state, that the examination was of a general character. I traversed the rountry as nearly in the direction in which the definite location of the puttes would be recommended, as it was practicable to do within the time allowed, and sufficiently test, to appear with a degree of certainty as to the distances, general character of the country, and facilities for obtaining material required for constructions as well as to enable me to arrive at the probable cost of the routes respectively.

In making the examination of the route from Montreal to Kingsion, by the north of the Ottawa, your instructions as to the general direction to be taken, viz. To cross the Ottawa river at St. Eastache, and to recross it at or near Grenville, were complied with.

But as no particular localities were mentioned to be enhanced in the examination of the line parallel with the St. Lawrence, it are one Grenville, comparation, or summes of either of the routes, to explain for what remoin the section of the country lying at so considerable a distunce from the River St. Lawrence was elected for the field of operations.

From Shawer's Mills the road will assume a south-west-rip direction, and pass, it is believed, in a straight line, through the front of South Gewer and Oxford, rear of the Township of Assusts, near the village of North Augusts, rear of the Township of Elizabethtown, near the village of Frankville and Farmersville, in Etiley, to Farnace Falls, in the Township of Landsdown, assking another tangent of 421 miles.

From Fornace Falls the Line will nose through the Lowuship of Leeds to Brewer's Mills, in the Township of Pittsburgh, near the Rideau Canal; thence following an intervale between the Ridges of Granite Formation to Kingston Mills, crossing the Rideau Canal below the Last Lock, at a point called the Hellespont to the City of Kingston.

The City of Kingston and by sprouched in three different directions—one by crossing the valley on the north-west side of the Canal, ascending a Ridge which extends in a north-westerly direction past Kingston, and enter the City on a level through the French Village. By this Line the Railway will pust through the City at an elevation of about 63 feet above the surface of the water in the Harbour, and there would be no difficulty in laying down, for the seconmodation of the tade, a track from the main line to the water's edge, by which the Freight can be brought to and from the Main Trunk Line.

Another way of reaching Kingston is to descend into the valley of the Gataraqui River, after crossing the Canal, and following the north-west side of the River to the City.

The third practicable route for reaching the City, is to keep on the south side of the Ganal, instancing for following the Ridge extending the stands of crossing it, following the Ridge extending testands of the Ridge extending the control of the canal, instancing for following the Ridge extending

The third practicable route for reaching the City, is to keep on the south side of the Canal, instead of crossing it, following the Ridge extending to Barriefield, and with a descending grade, reach such a level as may be found necessary to cross the Catasaqui River at a point not far from the present Bridge, and enter the City on the water side.

Being called upon by my instructions to report on the Routes in an Engineering point of view, estimating and comparing them with each other on that ground alone, I have endeavoured to give all the data, and information that I was capable of collecting in the abort time during which the examination was accomplished. mination was accomplished.

The results may be summed up in the follow The St. Lawrence route is 141 miles shorter,

Ing manner:

The St. Lawrence routs is 14½ miles shorter, it will cost £146,549 lbs. less than the Ottawa route, and it passes through a country the population of which immediately suferested in the construction of the Road, exceeds that on the Ottawa route by 15,942 persons.

With great confidence in the success of the enterprize, the first important step in the accomplishment of which you have been pleased to entrust to me, and being fully aware of the effect that the consummation of such an undertaking will have upon the Trade of Kingston and aboutered, as well as the entire change that it will occasion on the Commerce and Travel of the Great West, and of the immense advantages that it must entail upon the entire section of the country throwhich the Road may pass, I can of but urge an early decision on the route to be adopted, and its immediate commencement.

I have great pleasure in noticing the valuable abled at the commencement to avoid the errors of adopting circuitous routes, and the subsequent er-tamty of competing lines, as is now seen in Great Britain and the United States. The best and most direct line being chosen for the leading Railroad of the rovince; its interests can never be inter-sed with—and additional confidence will be fell y continues. ored with sand additional confidence will be a by capitalists in its inccess. The recommends he division of the Trunk Line into three action only, the Committee have had in view the avo-unce of the difficulties arising in operating an e-ensive through traffic by numerous companie tensive through traffic by numerous companies. By the course suggested, it is believe di that the management and expense would be greatly reduced, and arrangements for pecuniary uniformity similar to those made in the case of the Canadian and American portions of the Portand line could be readily adopted. In connection with this subject, it appears to your Committee most important that an uniform guage should be adopted for Canada, north of the St. Lawrence. All the evils experienced by other countries by the early adoption of an inferior system, may here be avoided, and this Province has agow the opportunity of greatly profiting by this experience. Much attention has been given to this subject, and considering that Montreal is the point where a connection by Bridge will soon be made, between the Northern and Southern abore of the St. Lawrence, your Committee strongly urge upon the public and the government, the adoption in Canada of an uniform guage of 5 feet 6 inches, this having, after mature deliberation, been selected by the great line from Montreal to Portland, as possessing greater capacity, more ensure nower, america enfect and speed. Apari, been selected by the great line from Montreal to Portland, as possessing greater capacity, more engine power, superior safety and speed. Apart, however, from these reasons, the Committee recommend this guage as being that of the Grand Line of Road from Montreal and Quebec to Portland Maine, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Assuming the erection of a Bridge across the St. Lawrence at Montreal as certain, it is manifestly of personnel importance to construct the Railway of paramount importance to construct the Railway

Westward on the same guage, as that extending 700 miles to the Eastward. With the exception 700 miles to the Eastward. With the exception of the Lachine Railway, no existing interest would suffer—and in this case, the shortness of the line would render the expense of its alteration a matter of no great moment.

Having thus stated their opinion as to the policy that should rule in relation to the Railroad from Montreal to Kingston, the Committee submit the following view of the joutes examined.

mit the following view of the joutes examined.

From Mr. Gzowski's report it appears that the direct route by the St. Lawrence is 143 miles shorter than that by the Ottawa, and will cost £146,549 less, while it passes through a country where the population immediately interested in the construction of the Road exceeds th.t by the Ottawa route by 15,942 persons.

From the above statement it appears to your committee most desirable that the direct route should be adapted as being decidedly the most advantageous in relation to the great interest of the Province. In cost it has likewise the advantage, and by its intersection with the proposed Bytowa Road, near Sheaver's Mil s in Mountsin it will bring that town within 128 miles of Montreal, while

The Hon. Col. Franka had much pleasure in seconding the resolution. He felt datisticd that the heat choice was indicated in the report of Mr. Geowski. The construction of such a road would of an up the immense capabilities of the country; and cause the settlement of thousands of fertile acres of famil. The line proposed was a directione through the centre of the country, and sectional considerations had not weighed in its selection.—It would not pass near him, but the left bound to give it, his support. gite it, his support. Passing invoga the centre of the country, it would be available to those in its front and year. Such a line must pay, and increase in value every year.

Dr. Grant, of Glengarry, supported the resolution. He congratulated the people of Montreal and the people of Ganada on the able report, that had just been read. The gentleman referred to the progress, and the energy of the people of the United States, in undertaking, and successfully carrying out railway enterprises, and contended that the people of Canada would do well to imitate them in that respect. He had expected to have writnessed a larger meeting, but he supposed from the object, for which it was assembles that it was composed of the weath, and intelligence of the city of Montreal. If it were not, he should say, that the people were indeed behind the age, in scitivity and progress. They had undertaken to make a Railmond, east, to Portland, but that was not to be compared, with a western road, in the advantages, that it would confer on the city of Montreal. One of the effects of the Portland road would be, that the produce of the Eastern Townships, which had hitherto been brought to Montreal wanted a road to have the produce of the West brought into her markets. There seemed to be a general combination, to divert the trade of Montreal by various channels; and cut it off, so as to prevent its reaching the city. The Montrealers would have to bestir themselves. They were alarmed at the construction of the Ogdensburg railway, and he was of opinion they may justly be so. They saw the immense quantities of produce lying at Ogdensburg, which, had to be piled in the fields for want of storage. The Montrealers would have come to Montreal, and it would have done. If the people had had sufficient energy some years ago, publicly advocated it on the hustings at Glengarry in the presence of a friend he saw before him. The gentleman here dilated in general terms on the magnificent recondition of the Canada, blocked up for 7. months in the year, did
