ENEMY MADE HEAVY ATTACKS LAST EVENING

Gained Portion of Delville Wood and Longueval from British. By Special Wire to the Courier. (Belletin) London, July 19, 2.26 a.m.—The Germans have recaptured a portion of Delville wood and outskirts of Longueval, the War Office announced to-day. The announcement follows: "The enemy's attack last night, the beginning of which already has been reported, was directed against our new positions, east of Bazentine village. Very large German reinforcements had been collected for this attack. After an intense artillery fire the first assault was delivered in dense masses at about 5.30 o'clock in the afternoon. The fighting continued all night and was particularly violent in Delville wood. The struggle in these places is still violent. "Elsewhere the attack, including three separate assaults on Waterloo farm, completely broke down under our fire. On the remainder of our front there were no events of importance." Claims Whole Village. Berlin, July 19, via London.—The recapture by German troops of the village of Longueval and of Delville wood was announced to-day by the war office.

FIELD FORT AND GARRISON AT BIACHES TAKEN BY 9 SOLDIERS

Daring Attack by the French in Which a Handful of Men Crept Through the Breach in the Defences and Rushed Enemy With the Bayonet. By Special Wire to the Courier. Paris, July 19.—One of the most striking episodes of the great Somme offensive was the taking of the field fort at Biaches and the garrison of 113 men by nine French soldiers. The fort had resisted throughout the artillery bombardment and the infantry attacks had been checked by murderous machine gun fire. By a lucky chance a French officer discovered the precious secret that the fort was vulnerable at one point. Selecting a second lieutenant, two sergeants, a corporal and four men, he led them on hands and knees through the long grass to the spot where he knew there was a breach in the defenses. They reached their objective point without the Germans learning of their approach. Abruptly three of the French officers leaped into the work, shouting in stentorian tones: "Forward with the bayonet," and throwing bombs which exploded in the dugout. The other six daring Frenchmen remained behind ready to retreat if the attempt failed. But the Germans taken unawares, had no time to get their weapons, and surrendered almost without a show of fight. When the number fell, shot by a revolver fired pointblank by the commanding French officer, the Germans, 113 in all, came out of their shelters and threw up their hands, the French asserting.

Great Openings For Business Now in Russia American Business Man Declares Wonderful Chance for Capital By Special Wire to the Courier. Stockholm, July 19, via London, 1.30 p.m.—After spending two months in Russia, during which time he arranged a loan of $50,000,000 to the Russian Government, and also for the establishment of branch banks, Samuel McRoberts, senior vice-president of the National City Bank, of New York, sails to-day for home on board the Steamer Bergenstorf. Mr. McRoberts made a careful study of conditions in Russia. "The war," he said, "has awakened Russia beyond all conception and that country now offers a wonderful opportunity to capital and business enterprises. The people of America do not appreciate the extent of the Russian market or Russian resources, but should prepare now for a great Russian trade after the war. "I travelled for three days through territory as fertile as the best parts of Iowa and Illinois. With vodka prohibited and the war concluded, Russia will leap into prosperity."

ANOTHER SUB DUE SUNDAY Baltimore Hears That Bremen Is Expected to Arrive in Few Days. By Special Wire to the Courier. Baltimore, Md., July 19.—There were persistent rumors early this morning that the arrival of a second merchant undersea boat, presumably the Bremen, was expected Sunday. While officials of the Eastern Forwarding Company, American representatives of the Ocean Navigation Company of Bremen, have stated openly that another submarine was on the way here, none would fix an exact date for her arrival. Stored on barges off the property of the Baltimore Copper Smelting and Rolling Company, not far from the Deutschland's pier, is a large quantity of copper which it is said will form the bulk of the return cargo of the Bremen if she leaves this port. At Curtis Bay a chemical company has in tanks on a railroad siding an essential requirement in munitions manufacture. It is reported this is intended for export to Germany.

Power Company Climbs Down Dominion Government Promptly Protects Hydro Interests By Special Wire to the Courier. Toronto, July 19.—Sudden pressure applied to the Canadian Niagara Power Company by the Dominion Government has succeeded where weeks of reasoning and friendly negotiations failed and the Ontario Hydro System is to get the additional power which it so badly needs. Frightened by the federal authorities' threat to turn the big guns of power and prohibit the export of power, the Canadian Niagara Power Company has receded from its stand and an agreement is being drafted and the provincial government and the company, which gives the Ontario hydro commission 50,000 horsepower at $12 per horsepower. An announcement to this effect was expected from Premier Hearst some time during the day.

ROUMANIA IS SHORTLY TO JOIN ENTENTE Belief in London Is That She Will Join Allies in a Little While. By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 19.—The correspondent of The Tribune cables from London, under yesterday's date, as follows: "Roumania will cast her lot with the allies in the very near future. That is the belief in London to-day. "The plight of Austria, the continued successes of the Russian army—successes that have reached and passed the Rumanian border—and the impending allied offensive from Salonica will lead, it is expected to the important decision. "Information from Bucharest forecasts developments at almost any moment."

Have Enemies Finished? "So Have We", Herr Harden Tells Huns Truth Famous Hun. Writer Ridicules German Belief that France Will Not Be Able to Fight Beyond the Autumn, and Says Allies Not yet at their Strength. By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 19.—(New York Times cable)—The London Times says the latest number of Die Zukunft contains a number of Maximilian Harden's warning articles in which, under the appearance of preaching steadfastness, he advises the public to check its hopes of an early and satisfactory peace. He says: "Have the enemies finished? So have we. And so it is possible that after the trial of strength which has begun, they will add up the account and seek a straight road to a reasonable peace. But do not cling to the belief that they will behave thus." Harden then ridiculed the German predictions that the French cannot possibly fight beyond autumn, and says: "If our enemies believe they have not yet reached the highest point of what they can do, and that in the spring they will be ahead of us with heavy guns and ammunition, they will once more send their men into the storm of winter, the snow and water in the trenches. The brave man wants neither to be comforted nor to be fooled. A mass attack may begin with fireworks and end in no advance on the other hand, the first month may cut open the chief artery of the opposing army." Harden ends with the remark that the Germans fear too much from the continuation of the war and expect too much from the peace.

NO CANADIAN NICKEL Going to Germany International Nickel Company States That No Canadian Nickel Is on the Submarine Deutschland. By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, July 19.—Officials of the International Nickel Company, which virtually controls the nickel output of Canada in this country, are authority for the statement that no Canadian nickel will go to Germany in the submarine Deutschland. An official of the company asserted that this corporation had an agreement with the Canadian Government under which it may not supply nickel to any country with which Great Britain is at war. Other concerns in New York dealing in nickel say they have no knowledge of the source of supply of that metal now stowed in the German submarine. The manager of one company said, however, that the Deutschland's cargo probably had been obtained in the open market. Metal dealers declared to-day that Canada was not the only source of nickel in America. They said that a quantity of nickel ore was obtained through various copper mines in the United States, and that ore from New Caledonia was brought here to be refined.

BOSTON DOCTOR CHARGED WITH GRAVE CRIME Said to Have Attempted to Kill Head of Mass. College of Osteopathy IS SAID TO HAVE CONFESSED. By Special Wire to the Courier. Boston, July 19.—Dr. Wilfred E. Harris, president of the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy lay at the point of death at the City Hospital to-day, while Dr. Atwood salaried Longed the police that he shot Harris because he believed the latter had wronged his fiancée, Dr. Selia Adams an osteopath of Brooklyn, who died yesterday. It was stated, from a source which entered his body. After being booked on a charge of assault and with intent to murder, Dr. Atwood was taken to the hospital where Dr. Harris identified him as his assailant, made a complete confession, the police say, spent a quiet night in the Back Bay police station and was ready to-day for his arraignment in municipal court. Medical Examiner Magrath planned to perform an autopsy on the body of Miss Adams to-day to determine the exact cause of her death. The physician who attended the young woman, gave it as his opinion that she died from an overdose of a drug, which the police declared she took with suicidal intent. Son of Canadian M.P. Dr. Harris, who is 45 years of age, and married, is a former president of the Canadian Club of Boston, son of a former member of the Canadian parliament, and one of the pioneer osteopaths of Massachusetts. Dr. Atwood and Miss Adams formerly studied under him at the College of Osteopathy in this city. It was said that Miss Adams recently informed Dr. Atwood that her marriage was impossible because Dr. Harris had wronged her, and she charge which the latter denied. It was stated that the prisoner and Miss Adams had been engaged for some time. Dr. Atwood was later arraigned and held for a hearing on July 28, to which date the case was continued. He did not plead.

ITALIAN TROOPS GAIN SUCCESS Made New Advance on Upper Posina Valley, and Took Positions. By Special Wire to the Courier. Rome, July 19.—Via London.—A new advance for the Italians in the Upper Posina valley, where they succeeded in capturing positions on Corno Del Coston, was announced to-day by the war office. A strong attack by the Austrians on the Italian lines in the Pasubio sector, was repulsed. The statement follows: "On the night of July 17 there was intense artillery fire in the Ledro valley. "Strong enemy detachments attacked our lines on the Pasubio, but were repulsed with heavy losses. "The enemy's artillery yesterday kept our positions in the Lagarina valley under its fire, but it was effectively answered. "In the Upper Posina, our troops, after artillery preparation, renewed their attacks on Corno Del Coston. The enemy's batteries did not reply to our bombardment but afterwards began an intense gunt of fire. We, however, succeeded in gaining new positions on the rocky slopes of the mountain. "Along the remainder of the front there were artillery actions, especially in the upper Boite, at the head of the Seisera valley, where the enemy disclosed new heavy batteries, and on the highest west of Gorizia. "An enemy aeroplane dropped bombs on Marostica (northeast of Vicenza in Venetia), as a result of which there were some victims and slight damage."

London, July 19.—1.45 p.m.—The following official report of the progress of the campaign in German East Africa was issued to-day: "Telegraphing July 18, General Smuts reports that the enemy forces which endeavored to operate against his communications north of Handeni and on the Usambara railway have now been driven down the Tanganyika, abandoning a field gun. Clearance of this area is progressing satisfactorily. "On the southern shore of Lake Victoria, the force under Brigadier-General Sir C. Crewe, having disembarked at Kongoro, occupied Muzanza during the night of July 14-15. The enemy evacuated the town after slight resistance, leaving many rifles, a position of a supply column and a naval gun of the Cruiser Koenigsberg in our hands. "A majority of the German Europeans embarked on a steamship and fled southward by Stuhlmann Sound, pursued by our armed lake vessels."

Race Rioting Feared in Chicago; Police on Guard. By Special Wire to the Courier. Chicago, July 19.—Crowds gathered in the vicinity of Irving avenue, where the negro, Henry P. McIntyre in an orgy of killing sent four people to their deaths, and was himself, together with his wife, later killed, gave rise to fears of possible race rioting early to-day, and caused fifty policemen to be despatched to the scene. They dispersed the crowd quickly and the danger was declared to have been averted. To prevent further difficulty negroes were ordered by the police to keep off the streets. Among the effects found in McIntyre's house after the bodies had been removed was a letter which he had written to Prince Menalik of Abyssinia. It was sent in January, 1915, and returned unopened in April, 1915, in which McIntyre proposed colonizing American negroes in Abyssinia, stating that he had "organized a church and also an immigration league in the name of the Abyssinian Government."

WIND'S REBELLION

Wind sullenly. "Nor will I do it otherwise." "And what," cried the fairies indignantly, "would you call your pay?" Well, do you know, the Wind couldn't say what he wanted for pay. "What," he asked the rain fairy, "do you like best? That—if it be possible—shall be your pay?" The Wind knew very well what he liked best. He liked the scent of the lilies and the fields and the flowers over which he flew. Now at that time field and tree and flower kept its perfume to itself. It never gave off any for the wind to carry. "Ah!" said the rain fairy, "how would you like ever to carry flowers' perfume with you? The flowers will pay in perfume for the seeds and pollen you carry. I know they will, for I water and wash them and give them drink." "All very well in summer," said the Wind. "I know the pines and the cedars and all the evergreen trees," cried the snowflake fairy. "I drape them beautifully with snow-fur. They'll give you winter fragrance for carrying the leaves of their kinnin trees." "All very well for winter," said the Wind, but he was in a better humor. They promised him the scent of clover and the scent of hay, the scent of the sweetest and flowers and the evergreen trees, and when he found each person had a fragrance of its own to pay for his work, the Wind surrendered. "All very well for winter," said the Wind, "but now you know why often the Wind smells so sweet. It's his pay."

RELICS OF BURNS DISPOSED OF

Prospectus of Kilmarnock Edition of His Poems Brought $1,375.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 19.—(New York Sun cable)—The only known copy of the prospectus issued by Robert Burns with a view to obtaining subscriptions for a proposed volume of poems—the now world famous Kilmarnock edition, published in 1786—was sold yesterday at Sotheby's for £275 ($1,375). Many autograph letters and other relics of the Scotch poet were disposed of. The trustees of the Burns cottage purchased for £98 ($490) an autograph letter to John McMurdo, chamberlain to the Duke of Queensberry. Among the other Burns relics sold were an autograph poem "Sketch," for £98 ($490), an autograph letter to George S. Sutherland, play-wright, for £200 ($1,000); the first draft of an "Election ballad" for £220 ($1,100), and an autograph letter to "Dr. Moore, London," introducing a Mr. Nelson, for £150 ($750). A first edition of "The Vicar of Wakefield," by Goldsmith brought £80 ($400) at the sale. The first edition of "Waverley," or "The Sixty Years Since," by Sir Walter Scott in three volumes, sold for £150 ($750) and a collection of other first editions of his novels brought £120 ($600).

By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, July 19.—Manufacturers here have received orders aggregating $1,000,000 for artificial limbs to be used by soldiers of Australia and New Zealand crippled at the Dardanelles and on the French front, it was announced last night. The money for this purpose was raised by popular subscription in the British colonies, according to B. W. McGregor, chairman of the South Australia soldiers' fund, who was in this city.

DEUTSCHLAND MADE ENORMOUS PROFIT ON TRIP

Is Said to Have Paid for Its Cost by Its Freight Carrying.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Berlin, July 19, via London.—Commercial submarines may assume considerable importance in German-American trade during the remainder of the war, according to the Bremen correspondent of the Koelische Zeitung. The freight earnings of the vessel was paid for out of the profits of its first voyage. It is expected, therefore, that many other vessels will be built. The Deutschland was built in less than six months. He adds that the company which built the submarine is being flooded with requests to accept freight, one example of beer, and many want to send letters.

Postal facilities, however, will probably not be extended. The company proposes to try and carry banking paper as freight through the Reichsbank. Much satisfaction is evidenced in the German press over the recognition by the United States' state department of the standing of the Deutschland as a merchantman.

Woolen Sweater Saves Him From Serious Injury

Bridgen, July 19.—Wm. Randall, baker, at this bakery, met with a very painful accident about 7 p. m., when on opening the oven door a tongue of flame shot from the oven, burning his hands and face very severely, but not dangerously. A heavy woolen sweater that he had on at the time, choked the flame out, and saved him from being more seriously wounded. He will be unable to resume his duties for several days. Dr. Galbraith dressed the wounds immediately.

GERMAN SUB WARFARE MAY BE RENEUED

Have No Use for Neutrals if They are in Sympathy With Britain.

Berlin, July 19.—Via London.—The active campaign for resumption of submarine warfare in its previous form has assumed new importance from an article today by Eugen Zimmerman, general director of The Lokai Anzeiger, whose views, as past the opinions held in governmental circles. Referring to the reasons which Great Britain gave for abandoning the Declaration of London, Herr Zimmerman contemplates the possibility that Great Britain will compel smaller neutral states to adopt an unfriendly, perhaps a hostile attitude towards the Central powers or even to close their frontiers completely against them. He then cites in heavy type, his own comment on Germany's acceptance of the American demands in regard to submarine warfare, indicating that circumstances might arise later which will make it impossible to adhere to the restrictions on the activity of these craft. Herr Zimmerman goes on to say that the political reasons which shaped Germany's policy at the time included the German wish to preserve the good will of neutrals, and adds: "But if Great Britain succeeds in making neutrals passively or actively hostile to us, one important reason for Germany's decision at that time would cease to exist. It makes no difference whether neutrals yield to British orders through sympathy or through only strike a balance against all political and military factors and choose what is most useful for Germany what best secures German victory."

CHURCH ADVERTISING

"I believe," says Dr. Talcott Williams, "that if churches spent as much for advertising as they do for music, they would have larger congregations and better worship." "If great causes were to spend more money in the public press instead of depending on begging for their support, they would undoubtedly come much nearer to success." Thought is moving in this direction. The churches are using more and better advertising, while many public movements have been successfully carried on through the advertising columns of the daily newspapers.

THE SITUATION

Frederick Palmer, a well known and thoroughly reliable U. S. war correspondent, cables that Haig's forces continue "to feel their way systematically," and this phrase aptly sums up the admirable and the sure precision, with which the British offensive has proceeded from the time of its launching.

THE RUMOR MONGER

That was a cruel, not to say dastardly rumor which some one started in Brantford, to the effect that during some Sunday night trouble at Camp Borden, an officer of the Brant Battalion had shot and killed one of the private soldiers.

The lying yarn naturally caused a great deal of anxiety to the relatives of the members of the 125th, and like all such stories, it spread with constantly added embellishments.

The "Liberal Advisory Committee of Canada" has commenced a session at Ottawa in order to settle all the affairs of the Dominion.

An average of half a million shells per day is what the British are now pouring into the Fritziets. No wonder they are cracking.

Von Hindenburg has been hastily summoned for a war council with the Kaiser. Von got all his fame when the going was comparatively easy and now that his reputation is stacked up against the real article, said rep. is liable to become badly warped.

CITIZEN SOLDIERS.

The French military authorities are said to be somewhat surprised, and certainly delighted over the manner in which Kitchener's citizen soldiers are measuring up to their job.

sex will admit that she has far more of a make-up than that.

Without any doubt, it is the constant participation of Englishmen of all ages and classes, in amateur sports, which renders them such fine material for speedy licking into shape for the battle field.

"Kitchener's citizen soldiers" constitute a glorious exemplification of that fact, and so do the men from Canada, Australia and the other Overseas Dominions.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Gee Whiz, but most of us were afraid we'd lost the hot spell.

Mrs. Nellie McClung says that she intends to run in Calgary for the Alberta Legislature. And the lady is some clunger all right.

Villa's latest exploit is to demand the surrender of another Mexican town. His own surrender to Uncle Sam he doesn't seem to have even taken into his "serious consideration."

All Crops Promise Well, including Small Fruits and Plums. Clinton, July 19.—The farmers have had ideal weather to gather in their hay crop which is, in this respect, a very fine crop; in fact it is said to be the best for many years.

The crop of fall wheat is rapidly turning and will soon be ready for cutting, while the spring grains are looking remarkably well, considering the late spring and very dry weather.

The crop of black and red berries are now being marketed and seem to be of the very best quality. There will also be a very large crop of raspberries, currants, gooseberries, and other small fruit to be disposed of from this section.

There is prospect for an abundant crop of plums, and a fair crop of apples.

FRENCH MAKE PROGRESS ON VERDUN FRONT

By Hand Grenade Fighting at Fleury Troops Move Forward.

By Special Wire to the Courier. (Bulletin) Paris, July 19, 11.45 a.m.—The French made some progress last night on the Verdun front in the course of hand grenade fighting in the vicinity of Fleury, says today's official report. Artillery action continues energetically in this sector. A German raid in the region of Paschendaal, Belgium, was checked by the French fire as was a raid north of the Aisne, near Paeszy. Along the greater part of the front the night was quiet. The statement follows: "The night was calm over the greater part of the front. Two surprise attacks delivered by the enemy against small French posts, one in Belgium in the region of Paschendaal, the other north of the Aisne, near Paeszy, were repulsed by our fire. On the Verdun front, east of the Meuse, the artillery fighting continued very vigorously in the sector of Fleury. We made some progress with grenades near the Chapel of Sainte Fine."

Conference Broken Off

Garment Workers Strike in Chicago Just Where it Started By Special Wire to the Courier. Chicago, July 19.—The breaking off of conferences between the Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Protective Association and the International Garment Workers Union, left the Garment Workers' strike to-day to all intents where it was when it started three months ago. Statements issued by both sides accused the other of bad faith and responsibility for the failure of negotiations. The strike affects some 40,000 employes and about 500 manufacturers. It is estimated that orders for women's clothes, worth $60,000,000, have been left unfilled. Strike payments of $65,000 a week have been made by the union. The citizens committee which has been aiding the workers, issued a statement today saying as the result of the strike more than 200,000 persons are facing hunger. The committee plans to raise $25,000 a week for the benefit of the garment workers as long as the strike lasts.

DEUTSCHLAND MAKING READY TO GO TO SEA

Public Excluded from View, and Captain Cancels all Engagements. By Special Wire to the Courier. Baltimore, July 19.—Shut off entirely from the view of the public at her pier at the foot of Andre street, Spring Gardens, the German merchant submarine Deutschland, is believed to be ready to sail at any moment, her commander, Captain Paul Koenig, is ordered by the American agents to depart. There was little activity apparent about the boat today, it being said all of the return cargo of crude rubber and nickel is now in the hold. The two big oil tank cars standing on the pier have not been emptied, and it was said today their contents are not for the Deutschland, but for her sister ship, the Bremen, expected to arrive here in the near future. Captain Koenig, it was learned this morning, has cancelled all social engagements, and it was also said no more of the boat will be allowed ashore leave except for such distance that they may be summoned on board at short notice.

GOING TO OTTAWA FOR POWER RELIEF

Ontario Government Asks for Prohibition of Export of Power. WARDING OFF A TIE-UP. Desperate Efforts Made to Cut Down Peak at Critical Periods. Toronto, July 19.—As a result of a brief tie-up on the Niagara system due to shortage of power, the Ontario Government has made a direct appeal to the Dominion Government to prevent the exportation of Niagara power entirely from Canada. What the result of that appeal will be the members of the governing cabinet, to which the matter, expressed the hope that an early solution would be arrived at that would relieve the situation. "For some time," stated the Prime Minister, "the Hydro-Electric Commission has been negotiating with the Canadian Niagara Power Commission for the purpose of securing an additional supply of power to enable the commission to meet all the demands made upon it. The commission, however, is unable to conclude any arrangement with this company for a supply of power at a price that the commission felt it could properly pay. The Government has been taking every measure within its power for the purpose of solving the difficulty, but we have been hampered in our negotiations by the unfortunate and unprovoked agreement made with the power companies by the late Liberal Government. An application has been made to the Dominion Government to prevent the export of Niagara power entirely from Canada and the Government is hopeful of a solution at a very early date that will relieve the present situation. The Government has taken every measure within its power to assist the Hydro-Electric Commission in securing the necessary supply of Hydro Electric power to meet its requirements. Preliminary engineering work on the new Chippewa development at Niagara was being proceeded with as rapidly as possible, stated the Prime Minister. "That is entirely in the hands of the engineers of the Hydro-Electric Commission," he said. "The commission has from the government all the authority it requires to go ahead with that work and to hurry it as much as possible." While deeply concerned at the steps being taken to compel the private power interests at Niagara to furnish an additional supply of power to the commission, Hydro engineers yesterday were hard at work trying to reduce the peak load. "We have had some success," stated Chief Engineer Gaby yesterday, adding that he hoped a further tie-up would be stayed off for awhile. "The difficulty," he said, "is that we have little room to cut any further. For months we have seen this thing coming, and it is only because of the efforts we made to keep down the peak that we have been able to run on as long as we have. We have been running close to the line for a long time. By arranging with every customer we could cut off at peak periods, civic waterworks, factories, etc., that can use their men at times with the power off, we have held over. On Monday, in spite of everything we could do the consumption climbed until it was well over our contract amount with the power company. There was really nothing else they could do but cut us off."

Activity Noticed Now in Albania

After Being Quiet for Months, Artillery Engagements Occur By Special Wire to the Courier. Berlin, July 19, via wireless to Sayville.—Revival of activity in Albania, where the military situation has been virtually unchanged for months, is reported in the official Austro-Hungarian statement of July 18. There were artillery engagements and skirmishes along the lower Vozusa (in Albania to the north of Avlona), the statement says. Regarding the Italian front, the war office reports: "Our positions in the district of Borcola Pass were shelled heavily and uninterruptedly. Hostile aeroplanes bombed Veielgerath without success. "In the Tofano district, the Italians made repeated attacks which broke down." The report of the operations on the Russian front (an abstract of which was received by cable) says that in Bukovina the Russians were repulsed in hand-to-hand fighting following attacks on Austrian positions on Capul heights and near Lucina. The number of prisoners taken at Jablonitz was increased to three officers and 316 men. A Russian night advance in the Novo Poczaj sector failed. Attacks by the Russians southwest of Lutsk were repulsed.

St. Paul, Minn., July 19.—Confident that the ticket they nominate will poll the largest vote in the history of the party, the delegates to the National Prohibition party opened the day in the Auditorium Hall. The willingness of such men as William Sulzer of New York, J. Frank Hanley of Indiana, Eugene Foss of Massachusetts and Sumner W. Hayes of Portland, Ind., to be considered as presidential candidates, the leaders say, a widening of the party's influence and they expect thousands of former Progressives to vote with them. Some party leaders express the belief that the contest has narrowed down to two men—Sulzer and Hanley.

Making a Flat World Round

When Columbus set out to reach India by sailing westward, he met with opposition and ridicule. He believed the earth to be round. Wise men held that it was flat—that Columbus was man—and that he'd fall off somewhere if he departed from established beliefs. The Business World is flat to some Men Their profit-bearing shores of Opportunity stretch only so far as their grandfathers trod. Custom, superstition and apathy have set them the confines which they may not pass. For instance they believe the business year is a flat one—not an all-year-round of trade, with East joining West, with Spring merging into Autumn—but just two distinct seasons, with sawed-off Edges gaping into space. They confine their activities to a Spring trade and to a Fall trade. To them there is no intervening continent with stores of waiting wealth. Their world is flat. They have not explored the mid-year months of Summer trade, June, July and August are never-never land. Surely this conception of Summer as a dull season is as fallacious as the delusion that the earth was flat. People have just as much money in the hot weather and spend quite as freely as in Spring and Fall. Granted that they are not buying skates and snow shovels in August, yet they are buying staple articles. Furthermore they have an eye on luxuries and comforts they are counting upon purchasing in the Fall. The modern Columbus has discovered this Summer trade—this golden West lying between the known continents of old beliefs. Departing from established habit, many have made their energies and their Advertisements an all-year-round proposition. Keeping up Advertising during the Summer months not only links your Spring and Fall, but produces rich harvests from the Summer months themselves.

FLOODS RECEDING IN CAROLINAS

But Loss of Life Reaches 34, and Property Loss Is Enormous By Special Wire to the Courier. Asheville, N.C., July 19.—Flood waters in the Carolinas and portions of adjacent states were rapidly receding to-day, leaving in their wake a property loss variously estimated at from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000, and a list of deaths from drowning that has steadily increased since the waters rose Sunday. Today the toll of human life stood at 34, with prospects that it might be increased still further. From Spartanburg, S.C., came a report that persons arriving there said almost all of the small town of Chimney Rock, in Rutherford county, N.C., was washed away, and that there was no sign of its inhabitants. It was pointed out, however, that they might have reached high ground in time to save themselves. Loss to railroads, industrial plants and agricultural interests in north and south Carolina has mounted in the millions, and it may be weeks before the transportation system is restored. Nearly all passengers marooned since Sunday on trains in this section, had been removed to-day however, and in many localities repair work was being rushed, and thousands of cotton mill spindles were beginning to turn again.

CASTRO IN NEW YORK

By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, July 19.—Former President Cipriano Castro of Venezuela was released from Ellis Island today, accompanied by Mrs. Castro, who shared with him his four days' exile at the federal immigration station, he took up quarters at an uptown hotel. He said that the decision of Secretary of Labor Wilson over-ruling the special board of immigration official in New York, which had denied him admission to the United States, was what he expected. He declined to discuss his plans for the future.

Activity Noticed Now in Albania

After Being Quiet for Months, Artillery Engagements Occur By Special Wire to the Courier. Berlin, July 19, via wireless to Sayville.—Revival of activity in Albania, where the military situation has been virtually unchanged for months, is reported in the official Austro-Hungarian statement of July 18. There were artillery engagements and skirmishes along the lower Vozusa (in Albania to the north of Avlona), the statement says. Regarding the Italian front, the war office reports: "Our positions in the district of Borcola Pass were shelled heavily and uninterruptedly. Hostile aeroplanes bombed Veielgerath without success. "In the Tofano district, the Italians made repeated attacks which broke down." The report of the operations on the Russian front (an abstract of which was received by cable) says that in Bukovina the Russians were repulsed in hand-to-hand fighting following attacks on Austrian positions on Capul heights and near Lucina. The number of prisoners taken at Jablonitz was increased to three officers and 316 men. A Russian night advance in the Novo Poczaj sector failed. Attacks by the Russians southwest of Lutsk were repulsed.

Making a Flat World Round When Columbus set out to reach India by sailing westward, he met with opposition and ridicule. He believed the earth to be round. Wise men held that it was flat—that Columbus was man—and that he'd fall off somewhere if he departed from established beliefs. The Business World is flat to some Men Their profit-bearing shores of Opportunity stretch only so far as their grandfathers trod. Custom, superstition and apathy have set them the confines which they may not pass. For instance they believe the business year is a flat one—not an all-year-round of trade, with East joining West, with Spring merging into Autumn—but just two distinct seasons, with sawed-off Edges gaping into space. They confine their activities to a Spring trade and to a Fall trade. To them there is no intervening continent with stores of waiting wealth. Their world is flat. They have not explored the mid-year months of Summer trade, June, July and August are never-never land. Surely this conception of Summer as a dull season is as fallacious as the delusion that the earth was flat. People have just as much money in the hot weather and spend quite as freely as in Spring and Fall. Granted that they are not buying skates and snow shovels in August, yet they are buying staple articles. Furthermore they have an eye on luxuries and comforts they are counting upon purchasing in the Fall. The modern Columbus has discovered this Summer trade—this golden West lying between the known continents of old beliefs. Departing from established habit, many have made their energies and their Advertisements an all-year-round proposition. Keeping up Advertising during the Summer months not only links your Spring and Fall, but produces rich harvests from the Summer months themselves.

FLOODS RECEDING IN CAROLINAS

But Loss of Life Reaches 34, and Property Loss Is Enormous

By Special Wire to the Courier.—Asheville, N.C., July 19.—Flood waters in the Carolinas and portions of adjacent states were rapidly receding to-day, leaving in their wake a property loss variously estimated at from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000, and a list of deaths from drowning that has steadily increased since the waters rose Sunday. To-day the toll of human life stood at 34, with prospects that it might be increased still further.

From Spartanburg, S.C., came a report that persons arriving there said almost all of the small town of Chimney Rock, in Rutherford county, N.C., was washed away, and that there was no sign of its inhabitants. It was pointed out, however, that they might have reached high ground in time to save themselves.

Loss to railroads, industrial plants and agricultural interests in north and south Carolina has mounted into the millions, and it may be weeks before the transportation system is restored. Nearly all passengers marooned since Sunday on trains in this section, had been removed to-day however, and in many localities repair work was being rushed, and thousands of cotton mill spindles were beginning to turn again.

CASTRO IN NEW YORK

By Special Wire to the Courier.—New York, July 19.—Former President Cipriano Castro of Venezuela was released from Ellis Island today. Accompanied by Mrs. Castro, who shared with him his four days' exile at the federal immigration station, he took up quarters at an up-town hotel.

He said that the decision of Secretary of Labor Wilson over-ruling the special board of immigration official in New York, which had denied him admission to the United States, was what he expected. He declined to discuss his plans for the future.

TEUTONS BEGAIN RETIREMENT ON ENTIRE EASTERN FRONT

Russian Official Report Says That, Judging by Abundance of War Material Abandoned, the Foe Retreated in Great Disorder—Germans Vainly Try to Retake Trenches in Riga Region

London, July 19.—A Petrograd despatch to The London Telegraph states that a general retreat of the Austro-German forces on the eastern front has commenced.

The Germans and Austro-Hungarians are leaving the country and burning villages as they fall back.

This retreat follows the futile and extremely costly efforts of the Austrians to stem the Russian onrush in Volhynia. Yesterday's official report from Petrograd says that judging from the amount of war material abandoned the Austrians retreated in great disorder.

The Russians are now pounding the new positions of Gen. von Linsingen, south of the Lipa, where the Germans stopped to make a stand after retreating across the river.

Piercing the Carpathians.
Cosaks are leading the advance of the Russian troops through the southern ranges of the Carpathian Mountains.

Northwest of Kimpolung Pass, in southern Bukovina, Russian cavalry is advancing along the road between Kirilbaba and Marmarosziget, fifty miles since the capture of Radaut, pushing past the formidable mountain barriers which had been strongly fortified by the Austro-Hungarians.

Marmarosziget is the capital of the Hungarian country of Marmaros. It lies on the Theiss River at the western end of the Carpathians, and is 215 miles east of Budapest.

Great Russian Preparations.
A despatch from Berlin says that the Russian operations eastward and southward of Lutsk, which began last Saturday, apparently marked the beginning of renewed important fighting in this sector, according to reports from war correspondents of Berlin newspapers.

The Russians had employed the comparatively quiet period since July 8 in reinforcing their units and making redispersions of their forces. Especially large masses of troops were assembled westward of Lutsk with the aid of the double-track railways and two excellent military roads.

The new operations began Saturday morning with a Russian advance from Terebin in the direction of Sadoff. This met with strong opposition at first and was thrown back. Meanwhile, however, strong forces were advancing along the road from Lutsk to Charukoff and westward thereof. It was quickly apparent that the Germans were facing greatly superior numbers, and a withdrawal of the line was ordered. This was accomplished with little disturbance, through a strong attack which held up the Russians until the new line southwest of the Lipa had been firmly established.

German Efforts Fail
Yesterday's Russian official statement says:
"In the Riga region there was an artillery duel. The Germans at many places attempted unsuccessfully to recapture lost trenches."
"As the result of the latest skillful operations of General Sakoroff's troops in Volhynia, we gained a victory on July 16 which brought us 13,000 prisoners and thirty guns, as announced Monday, and enabled us to sweep the enemy completely from the left bank of the Lower Lipa, driving him to Krasoff and beyond the river. Judging by the abundance of war material the enemy abandoned, he retreated in great disorder. Some of the seventeen heavy guns captured yesterday are already being hauled enemy positions on the south bank of the Lipa.

"German prisoners captured wear uniforms of all kinds, proving the mixed character of the recent formations."

Austrians Admit Reverse.
The Austrian statement says:
"Near Zable and Tatarow the Russians pressed back our advanced posts. Attacks on our main positions failed with great enemy losses."
"North of Radzivilov, southwest of Lutsk (northeast of Brody, near the Galician border) enemy assaults were also repulsed."

What Germans Report.
The official German report says:
"East front—Army group of Field Marshal von Hindenburg: The Russians continued to make strong attacks south and southeast of Riga, which broke down with bloody losses before our positions. In places where the Russians succeeded in entering our trenches they were afterwards ejected by counter-attacks."
"Army group of Prince Leopold of Bavaria: There were no special incidents."
"Army group of General von Linsingen: There were no special incidents."
"Army group of General von Boehmer: There were only small foreground fights."

ONE DOLLAR PER ANNUM.
The old C. P. R. station in Toronto has been leased to the city for the nominal rate of $1 per annum. The new north-end station is now in full operation and, with its modern facilities and accessories, is giving great satisfaction to the public. The district in which it is situated has grown enormously during the past few years. The C. P. R. believes in not only accommodating present needs, but in anticipating those of the future. That is why it builds largely and substantially in all large centres of population, where there is promise of growth and development. What with the north-end station in Toronto and the new station and terminal on Front street, which will be finished next year, Toronto is being rewarded at last with that attention which seems to have been denied the Queen City for many years.

GALT ELECTS TRUSTEE
Galt, July 19.—In succession to S. E. Charlton, M.P., who resigned to become aldermanic representative for Ward 2, Jas. H. Wilson, a well known dry goods merchant, has been elected by acclamation as public school trustee.

71ST BATTERY TO GO TO NIAGARA

When It Camps for the Summer—Activity Shown at the Local Office.
The 71st Battery recruiting for a few days in Brantford, will encamp for the summer at Niagara-on-the-Lake, according to information recently given by Lt.-Col. Mowbray, of the Divisional Headquarters staff. The present headquarters of the battery are at St. Catharines, where it was organized some time ago.

At St. Catharines last evening a big outdoor military ball was given in honor of the draft from the 71st which leaves on Friday for England; the event proved a thorough success, being one of the affairs of the season.

Thorough preparations are being made at the local office for a systematic campaign of recruiting to be carried on within the next few days throughout the city and surrounding district. One novel idea to be introduced is the showing of slides calling for recruits in the moving picture theatres of the city, which it is believed may be productive of results ere long. At all events, the campaign will be in thoroughly capable hands, and active will not slacken during the artillerymen's stay in Brantford.

Now trot out your best. Dicky to Mr. Birdsall. The little real estate agent without turning his own right here."

The machine drew up in a pretty little house with an in front of it.

"Six," Dicky exploded.

"No, Mr. Birdsall, you want to look at the inside of the house, built by the hands of a handsome fireplace in the middle of that sort of thing."

Dicky hesitated at the doorway. "I knew that was strange," he said, "but he finally shook his head."

"I want a fireplace," he said to a house with this kind. Why, there isn't a tree around the place."

Mr. Birdsall gave a depressed cough. "What do you call it?" he asked. "Shrub," Dicky replied. "Shrub," and, indeed, they were. "I want lots of trees, and there are certainly plenty of trees with him."

"Yes, I think we make a stand for you," Mr. Birdsall replied. "So you don't care to buy?"

"Not much," returned Dicky, "I'm not sure I'm not going to buy a house unless you want to see the do you, Madge?"

"No, thank you," I returned to show in my voice the Dicky's flagrant discourtesy. "I didn't care to see the house with no interest in the house," Dicky said. "The house is a beautiful one, Dicky's love for trees; I know should consider the comfort of the house for one's own sake."

How Dicky Found "His" House

NOW trot out your houses," said Dicky to Mr. Birdall.
The little real estate agent answered without turning his head. "First one's right here."
The machine drew up in front of a pretty little house with a small lawn in front of it.
"Nix," Dicky exploded. "You don't need to waste your time on this one."
"Why?" Mr. Birdall stammered. "don't you want to look at the inside of it? It's a peach, built by the owner himself, handsome fireplace in the living room, and all that sort of thing."
Dicky hesitated at the mention of the fireplace. "I know that was one of the things he wanted particularly in a house. But he finally took his heart out of it."
"I want a fireplace," he said, "but not in a house with this kind of setting. What there isn't a tree anywhere around the place."
Mr. Birdall gave a deprecating little cough. "What do you call those evergreens in the yard?" he asked mildly.
"Shrubs," Dicky retorted, "mere shrubs, and, indeed, they were little else. I want lots of trees, big, tall ones, and there are certainly places on Long Island with 'em."
"Yes, I think you may be able to find you a few," Mr. Birdall remarked dryly. "So you don't care to look at the place?"
"Not much," returned Dicky decidedly, and then, seemingly as an after thought, "unless you want to see the inside of it, do you, Madge?"
"No, thank you," I returned, trying not to show in my voice the hurt I felt at Dicky's agrarian curiosity. "I'm sure that I might have been a casual companion with no interest in the house, in spite of the woman who makes it up. The house looked exceedingly attractive to me. I should have liked to have seen the inside of it in addition."
Dicky's love for trees, I knew that we should consider the comfort of the house first. If not for our own sakes, for the sake of Dicky's invalid mother.
Dicky was in a perverse mood. Mr. Birdall, patiently plied us one street and down another, pointing out a dozen or more places, some attractive, others so obviously undesirable that did not blame Dicky for not liking them. But he refused to let Birdall exhibit. I began to feel sorry for the little agent who evidently was trying his best to find something for us.
"We'll Take a Look."
"That's all I have in the town here," Mr. Birdall said at last resignedly, "anything within any reasonable distance of the station. I take it from what you've said, you want something like the place Durkee rented."
"That's it, exactly," Dicky replied, while I inwardly groaned. "I want something like that. I tried mentally to compare the one of them I took an interest in to the enormous tree I was sure we would have to pay, but gave up the task. There is a place," said the little agent, "between here and the next village, Cranston, which might suit you. It is outside of the place is all right, but the inside needs decorating, and I do not know how much the owner will be willing to do."
"We'll take a look at it anyway," Dicky said in a resigned tone, which, in its affection of hopelessness, must have struck Mr. Birdall. For he said, "only turned his car, and we shot back over the smooth roads toward the railroad station."
At the station we turned and sped along toward the east until our progress was halted by a stile which looked familiar to me.
"Why, Dicky," I said, "this is that pretty little place we were before."
"Yes, and here is the impressive water-works building you so admired." Dicky returned, as Mr. Birdall skillfully threaded his way around the big building, skirted a freight car on a siding, and two immense piles of coal, and came out on a pretty little lane along which the first conditions were flowing.
Another corner and we draw up before a place at which Dicky and I both exclaimed in admiration.
"Tall hedges of California privet enclosed it on all sides. There are banks of leaves, but one could see that when the summer came the occupants of the place would be in as complete seclusion as if living in an old world walled garden. The house was a picturesque, rambling affair, a two-story and attic structure, with an immense porch completely enveloping three sides of it. The lower part of the house was painted white, the upper part was of shingles, unmarred by the winds and rain had brought to a weather-beaten gray, most fascinating in its effect.
"I don't think of anybody around here having sense enough to leave those shingles unpainted," Dicky said in an awed tone. "Most these houses have sky-blue or orange upper stories."
"Probably the paint or the money ran out," Dicky said. "I'm sure Mr. Birdall sold dry, and then resuming his professional manner: "Would you like to look inside?"
"Grace Draper—Know Her?"
"Of course," Dicky said with alertness, springing out. "If this place has a fireplace, it's ours. Look, Madge," helping me out of the machine, "right here at the left we'll have a tennis court, this stretch of lawn is plenty big enough for a tennis court, and the right you can have all the flower beds you want, and there ought to be a garden at the back." He turned to Mr. Birdall inquiringly.
"About half an acre," the little agent replied.
"Hello, Father!"
We turned at the note of greeting to see a long, lanky person with a quid of tobacco in his mouth and a broad smile on his face, who was trying to harmonize the value of this place if they would only live. But they won't last more than a few days."
"Hello, Birdall, some more folks, eh?" the man responded with a thickness in his tones explained by the top of a thick, protruded from his pocket.
"Mrs. Graham, this is Mr. Brennan, the owner of the property," Mr. Birdall ignored the pleasantry. "Mr. Graham, Mr. Brennan."
Mr. Brennan extended a not overclean hand and grasped mine cordially.
"Come right on in," he said heartily. "In just a minute," Dicky returned. "Love, Madge, take a look at those pines. They ought to add a thousand dollars to the value of this place if they would only live. But they won't last more than a few days."
"They were indeed beautiful, towering 50 feet or more into the air, overtopping what you've said, you want something like the place Durkee rented."
"That's it, exactly," Dicky replied, while I inwardly groaned. "I want something like that. I tried mentally to compare the one of them I took an interest in to the enormous tree I was sure we would have to pay, but gave up the task. There is a place," said the little agent, "between here and the next village, Cranston, which might suit you. Laziness Really a Symptom of Many Different Diseases

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. B. M. A. M. D. (Johns Hopkins University)

PLENNESS, laziness, procrastination are often symptoms of several maladies. If you show me a man who puts off until tomorrow what he should do today, I will show you a man who is probably diseased. He may not know it, he may resent the imputation, but it is probably true just the same.

There is no particular and specific bacillus, germ or microbe of laziness. The bookworm is only one of many maladies associated with consummate torpidity. When a child is so disinclined to move by habit that he will not crawl after a colored ball or a like object that gives him pleasure, it is lazy perhaps from the sickness of luxury and gluttony. Perhaps his little muscles are weighted down by fat, or it has been spoiled by being carried, when it should have walked. On the other hand, the sedative lullabies of its elders may soothe its muscles into a downward course.

Perchance nature is deprived of its needed sleep. The child is kept awake too long and too often. Its growth and energy are eternally sapped by the need of sleep.

Some "Lazy" Diseases.
In grown-ups as well as youngsters a definite condition of inaction and bankruptcy of animation is present when there is some disease—such as tuberculosis—of the adrenal glands. Maladies of these little super-renal structures are noteworthy in the symptoms of exhaustion. Disinclination often amounting to torpidity is a symptom of the disease, as this "lazy man's ailment" is called.

Sluggards, dummies, mammoths and other animals that, so to speak, wait on Providence for sustenance, seem to have very small or absent suprarenal glands.

The presence of various animalcules in the blood and other human fluids is apt to induce disinclination to work and to a lack of thought, languor, stupor, lethargy, heavy muscles, nodosities and yawning all stages of the onset of the sleeping sickness and of true malaria. Both maladies in the blood when examined under the microscope exhibit visible living animalcules. The biting Tsetse fly introduces these filamentous microbes of the sleeping sickness into the blood in Africa, and the villainous biting mosquito, insect, and the malarial animalcules when it "bites."

May Precede Crisis.
Furthermore, many slowly invading human distempers, such as sugar disease, kidney maladies, tuberculosis, syphilis, thyroid gland disorders, bacterial infections of the chronic sort, may not holdly assert their disagreeable presence, but, insidiously, like a submarine assassin, creep upon you unawares, except for a disinclination to work. This year-fellow men usually ascribe without charity to laziness. You yourself rarely dissent or seek further.

It may amaze you to learn that beer, gin, whiskey and alcoholic liquors in general are largely responsible for indolence, obtuseness and inertness. Alcohol often exerts its sedative power beyond the ordinary point. It shows its presence in a partial paralysis of flesh and blood. The steady drinker is usually more satisfied than slumbering, but, when it should have walked. On the other hand, the sedative lullabies of its elders may soothe its muscles into a downward course.

A.—Be sure to get a proper fitting shoe. One that will give perfect freedom of the muscles of all the toes. Exercise and massage of the toe with olive oil.

A. H. Q.—Kindly advise a remedy for a running nose.
A.—Have the nose and throat examined, and, if necessary, the tonsils and adenoids removed and the turbinate horns of the nose compressed so as to allow more air space. In the mean time apply to the nostrils twice a day a little of the following: Six grains of ammoniated mercury to one-half ounce of white vasoline. Irrigate the nose and throat with alkaline antiseptic fluid diluted three times in water.

The Troubadour is an Italian grand opera, based upon a Spanish drama of the same name. The scene is Sicily and Aragon during the 15th century.

Within the Alcafera Palace are gathered the soldiers between the lakes we see to Ferrando, captain of the guard, who is telling the story of the abduction of the count's younger brother by a band of gypsies. The babe was stolen from his cradle because an old gypsy woman was burned at the stake for witchcraft by the father of the present count. Years passed, and nothing further was heard of the child, but the old count died firm in the belief that his child still lived, and made his elder son promise to search for his lost brother.

The beautiful Duchess Leonora, lady-in-waiting to the Princess of Aragon, has fallen in love with Manrico, a handsome young troubadour, who comes nightly under her window to serenade his fair charmer. The Count di Luna is also a suitor for the hand of Leonora, and while she is listening for the songs of her beloved troubadour, comes into the garden of the palace.

The Count's son Ferrando is heard, and Leonora hastens from the palace, mistaking the Count's voice for that of her lover. Then the troubadour comes forward, and the count recognizes in him one whose arms against the challenge and flight of the Count's daughter, despite his wretched condition,

Solving the Problem of the Smart Bridal Veil.

THE Lake colony is aog with excitement today. We are to have a wedding with three brides.

When Carol Tennant decided to be married the middle of June, so she never dreamed that "the twins" would become engaged and want to be married at the same time. At first she was "dead set" against the thought of sharing her wedding with her younger sisters, but Nan and Beth pleaded that it would save money, and afterward repeat the "I'm engaged" process.

Each day from the sagging muscles with a lump of ice with upward strokes. Continue to do this until you can no longer stand the cold, then pause a while, and afterward repeat the "I'm engaged" process.

During the night keep the cheek and chin muscles bound up so that it will be impossible for them to sag during your sleeping hours. Buy one of the chin bands of rubber that are sold for this purpose, or use a strip of strong muslin, planing it firmly across the top of the head with safety pins.

Stimulate the Circulation.
You can also strengthen the facial muscles by pressing them lightly but firmly with the palms of the hands, beginning at the base of the chin and working upward toward the cheek bones. This pressure will stimulate circulation, which will eventually restore the muscles to their original strength.

Three Different Arrangements of the Bridal Veil.

With all her artistic ability, however, she came to the arrangement of the veils—they were all alike. We discovered this yesterday when we took the long lengths of tulle from the boxes for the first time. Each veil was gathered with a ruche to a narrow bandeau of orange blossoms which was not particularly becoming to any one of the girls.

I have arranged enough bridal veils to know something about the art, so I set to work to make these three as totally different as day and night.

Taking the three bandeaus of orange blossoms I combined them to make a wreath for Carol's bridal veil. I built it high at the back—like a Watteau's—while in front a single strand of the blossoms comes low over the brow. To the back I attached the tulle, which sweeps in long lines over the court train of Carol's robe. It is most becoming to her blonde beauty, and she looks like a fairy tale princess.

"The twins" have reddish-brown hair. Beth arranges hers high on top of her

ADVICE TO GIRLS
By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a young girl of 17 years and of medium size. I would like to know if it is right to go to the theatre with a boy of my own age of whom I am very fond, and is it right to ride with him on his bicycle? Is it wrong to go out boot riding with him? Is it right to have him call and play croquet?
ROSELOND BLACK.

ROSELOND BLACK: You're such a little girl, my dear, that I hesitate to offer you much advice except that you have a little talk with your mother about all these questions.
Are you not in school? If you are you ought not to be out evenings except Friday or Saturday. Why not save some of the pleasures you are coveting now to enjoy when you are older? You can only over have even when you are old.

I don't think I'd go riding on the bicycle if I were you. It is not very graceful, and certainly it is not very safe.

There's no harm in a good game of croquet. I'm sure. The best of that game is that it is played in the open air, and in the daylight. It gives one a good working sweat, too, so play all the croquet you wish, and I'll be hoping that you win your share of the games.

Miss Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper, and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her, care of this office.

ODD FACTS

Breeding cattle is the chief industry of Australia.

Nearly half the population of France was engaged in farming before the war.

Switzerland, in proportion to its population, spends more on poor relief than does any other country.

Singing insects are among the natural curiosities of Japan. The most prized of these is a black beetle named "sumi-mushi" which means "ink beetle." The female of this insect resembles that of a little silver bell.
