Some men have a regular Sunday morning attack of homesickness when the church bells ring.

JACOB W. PICK, WHITE ROCK

On the evening of Thursday, May 19th, 1921, about 10 o'clock, death claimed a most highly esteemed resident of White Rock, Mr. Jacob Wilbur Pick, aged 62 years, after a ten days illness of pneumonia.

In his home he will be sadly missed, being a kind affectionate husband and father. He had a great love for music, both instrumental and vocal, a great reader and kept in touch with all the news of interest thru his newspapers.

Notice to Ratepayers.

An enormous impression appears to be on the minds of ratepayers in this county that the taxes on their property are not due and cannot be collected until after Dec. 1st.

Such an idea has undoubtedly been got from the instructions given to collectors to issue warrants for unpaid taxes at the above date.

But for the information of the ratepayers, I may say that the taxes are due when the first notice of amount due is given by the collectors, and any further time given for payment is a matter of arrangement between the ratepayers and collectors.

By order, C. L. DODGE, Mun. Clerk and Treas.

A Desire to Eat What You Want

Stomachs Can be Restored to a Healthy Condition.

Not to be limited in diet, but to eat whatever he pleases is a dream of every dyspeptic. No one can honestly promise to restore any stomach to this happy condition, because all people cannot eat the same things with equally satisfactory results.

When the stomach lacks tone there is no quicker way to restore it than to build up the blood. Good digestion without rich, red blood is impossible, and Dr. Williams Pink Pills offer the best way to enrich the blood.

In his home he will be sadly missed, being a kind affectionate husband and father. He had a great love for music, both instrumental and vocal, a great reader and kept in touch with all the news of interest thru his newspapers.

BEWARE THE NORTH WIND!

Rex Beach Tells of the Menace of the North

When Rex Beach was prospecting for gold in the Klondike quite a few years ago, he returned without so much as a grain of the precious dust.

But he found something infinitely more to be treasured. He struck a mine of literature which yielded the American public a phenomenally rich trove of stories, books and photoplays.

One of the greatest motion pictures that ever came from Rex Beach's pen is "The North Wind's Malice," a story cast in the frozen heart of Alaska in the romantic days of the gold rush.

The theme of "The North Wind's Malice" is distinctly unusual. Mr. Beach tells of the dread winter of upper Alaska which descends upon the country like an avenging spirit, shrouding the land in its freezing pall.

The furious cold shuts men and women up tight in their cabins and grinds into their minds a terrible despair—the grim spectre of monotony. In this atmosphere, trivial incidents are exaggerated beyond their importance, and rage flames up on the slightest pretext.

This is the thrilling background for the wonderful story told in "The North Wind's Malice"—a story of love, adventure and golden romance.

Don't miss this remarkable picture. It will be shown at the Opera House, Monday June 13

Chiropractic Health Talk

An Appeal to the Prejudiced

(By G. J. Randall, D. C.)

You folks who know good health are fortunate, but your happiness is apt to make you overlook a suffering friend or neighbor.

It is up to you to give the unfortunate health seeker a word of encouragement and not try to discourage. We are all entitled to perfect health, and many people are thus kept from getting it by sheer prejudice.

For instance Chiropractic is a modern health science that will stand all the investigation you can give it yet people are ready to condemn it before they know what they are condemning.

My appeal to you is that you will investigate. I do not ask you to take my word, but I do ask you to take the word of those who have had dealings with Chiropractic Spinal adjustments. Those that have given Chiropractic a fair trial, if they speak against it go out and tell your friends. If they speak in favour of it, please tell your friends about that. Do not condemn before investigation. It tends to keep the world in everlasting ignorance.

WOMEN EXCEL MEN IN MECHANICAL END OF CAR OPERATING

Authority Declares Gentler Sex Have Greater Facility for Details

If hitherto you have scoffed at the woman motorist as an amateur, it is both wise and expedient that you reverse your attitude, for, we are told, she has come to claim a permanent and enviable place among the turbulent brotherhood whose passwords are "blow-out" and "puncture". In driving ability, says George Baneroff Duren, in Motor Life, woman does not quite measure up to man, but with the mechanism of her machine she more quickly familiarizes herself, and in the facility with which she locates a defect and repairs damages she is not surpassed by her brother.

Observation says this authority, has shown that men and women have an almost entirely opposite reaction to motoring. Women have a faculty of expressing themselves more clearly in examination for a driver's license, and are more collected and have less apparent fear of the inspector who conducts the test. Invariably they pass the examinations with higher averages. While there are no statistics on which to base exact information, there are more women motorists than the layman realizes, the writer believes. It must be admitted however that woman's rise in the motoring field has been somewhat meteoric, says the writer and explains:

The late war, which has shouldered the burden of many of the reforms and changes of the past three years, was primarily the cause for rapid influx of women drivers.

Thousands of automobiles were idle in garages. Fathers, brothers and sweethearts who had driven them were over there in the mud and hell of Flanders. There were tasks to be done which required the use of automobiles, there were heartaches which could be soothed by drivers into distant places. And thus it was that the great army of women drivers spurred on in part by desire and in part by necessity, came into existence.

This is not fiction, but truth, upheld by actual observation. At one period of the war the New Jersey motor-vehicle inspectors were examining more women for drivers' licenses than they were men. This average continued for many months and it was during this period that the greatest number of women ever recorded became automobilists in every sense of the word.

The many ambulance corps which were organized in every section of the country added appreciably to the number of women motorists. And this type of work, calling for unusual nerve and ability, graduated a class of drivers particularly able at handling cars as well as repairing and otherwise caring for them. The result is that there are probably more women drivers who are familiar with the mechanism of their automobiles than men. That is to say, on a percentage basis.

You don't believe this? Well, in the vernacular, "you'd be surprised." When a woman concentrates on something (if you are a married man you will appreciate this without a detailed discussion) whether it be knitting a sweater, winning a husband, or learning the intricate mechanisms of a motor, she puts her whole heart, soul and ability into the task. If you ever have conversed with any of the young women ambulance-drivers, who were forced during the war to do much of the so-called (and rightly) dirty work about their cars because of the scarcity of male labor, you undoubtedly discovered that they knew more about automobiles than you ever gave them credit for. Perhaps, if you were like the writer, you might deftly have changed the subject to something with which you were more familiar in order to save yourself from ignorance.

It was a common practice for the girl members of these corps to do every bit of the repair work on the cars themselves, except in cases where it became necessary to call a mechanical specialist to cure the ill. Changing tires, cleaning carbon, and a great many other similar tasks, which many a man would have done at the nearest garage, was just part of the daily routine for them.

A woman fussing over an inert spark-plug will display as much attention, to detail as her more domesticated sister over the mysterious process of cooking a plum pudding. Or perhaps, to make the picture even more effective, you might find this same Miss Motorist herself bending over some fragrant dainty as it emerges in a vapor of lusciousness from the oven. The fact that a woman makes a good mechanic or driver does not in the least mean that she is not equally as apt at housework or cooking.

The efficiency with the "in'ards" of an automobile seems to be due to woman's infinite patience with detail and to her painstaking care. It has been observed by Mr. Dill that a woman who fails to pass the written test never returns ahead of the next date set for the examination. A man will return ahead of time with great assurance that this time he "will do the right thing"; but the woman waits patiently for the proper hour. Usually her patience is rewarded with the coveted license, while the man loses even his assurance.

However continues the writer. In respect to driving ability, Mr. Dill believes that women do not quite measure up to men, although he is frank to admit that there are many excellent women drivers. This condition he believes, is due primarily to their natural sense of timidity and nervousness. It must be admitted also that when compared to men they are for the most part virtually novices at the game.

Despite a woman's natural carefulness her feminine horror of causing others pain or discomfort, Mr. Dill has found that they are participants in equally as many accidents as men. Often in that zero hour, when every second of cold, clear headed calculation is of vital importance they are found wanting. Understand this is not a prevailing condition. Yet its occurrence is prevalent enough to offset the advantage which woman has in her other attributes, with the result that statistics show men and women measure up practically equal in the number of serious and lesser motor catastrophes.

So, here's 'em! Hubby will find sweet solace in the assurance that if a tire "blows" wifey will be useful as well as ornamental. Father will be glad to know that daughter will take the wheel when his arms get tired.

NOTHING TO EQUAL

For Sprains and Bruises
The first thing to do when you have an injury is to apply Minard's famous Liniment. It is antiseptic, soothing, healing and gives quick relief.

SPARK PLUGS FOUL

When spark plugs habitually become fouled with oil and soot, it is a good plan to investigate and see whether they may not be projecting too far into the combustion chamber, particularly when they are located in either one or the other of the valve pockets. If they are screwed into the valve port caps, the removal of the caps with the plugs in them will be the best way to determine the condition. The points of the outer end of the shell should extend very little beyond the inner faces of the valve caps. Anyway, the adjustments to the carburetor or lubricating system should be made to prevent excessive gas or oil-feed.

CHANGING TIRES.

In changing tires on demountable rims considerable time may be saved by remembering that it is not necessary to remove the two plugs near the valve stem. This is just another instance where we ordinarily waste time by doing needless work.

CLEAN COOLING SYSTEM

This is the time of year when it is well to remember the good old method of loosening scale that has formed in the cooling system. Six pounds of washing soda dissolved in five gallons of boiling water is the correct formula. Pour this solution in the cooling system and allow it to remain for a day, then drain and flush the system out with clean water and refill.

HOMELY "SPUD" WILL KEEP GLASS CLEAR.

And now comes the homely "spud" the common or garden variety potato as a substitute for the many preparations recommended for keeping the windshield of the automobile clear in rainy or foggy weather. The enthusiastic supporters of what must be termed the "spud method" of keeping the windshield clear say that all that is necessary is to keep a nice fresh and juicy spud in the car.

WASHING RULES.

The car should never be washed in direct sunlight. If the operation is not carried out in the shade while being washed. The direct rays of the sun striking on water causes heating, which tends to dull the finish. In the same way the hood should never be washed when it is hot, as directly after the run.

WOLFVILLE'S MEMORIAL UNVEILED

then were frankly incredulous. However the end had come at last, and at 11 A.M. Nov. 11, the guns fired their last death-bearing message and an eternal silence settled over those lands so horribly maimed and devastated.

And so now after more than two years have elapsed we have gathered together to pay our last respect to those gallant dead. To all who fell in the great war in general and in particular to these 29 boys who were born and brought up among the apple blossoms of this beautiful valley.

Some of you, many of you in fact have pointed the finger of scorn at this memorial and described it as unworthy. Surely it is unworthy. Nothing that the hand of man could accomplish, be it made of pure gold, or of whitest marble would be worthy of that sacrifice made by these men. But we are not here to pay tribute to some architectural triumph, to something that must necessarily please the eye. You are here to pay respect to the memory of 29 men. What matters it whether this monument is of stone or but a plain white cross. If you come here to enjoy its beauty, to point it out with pride to the admiring tourist, then be gone. This is composed of human blood, blood of those boys who have stood where you are standing now, and blood that was spilled that you might live and enjoy life. Away with your false pride, you are witnessing something too beautiful to be the work of man, something that cannot be excelled, greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for a friend.

To some of you this is a day of sadness and of sorrow. The memory of some absent face, the sight of the vacant chair, rises up, and your thoughts are bitter and your hearts are sad. But I venture to say that no matter how sore is your heart, how great your grief, it would be increased tenfold, if he whom you now mourn had failed in the performance of his duty. This war was but the expression of the soul of man indignant against wrong and scornful of safety. So each of these 29 the path of duty opened up clearly before them, they accepted the gage and willingly paid the price. Victories sink into the past and become words, nations crumble and become as dust, but this pride this proud grief in our dead, has been, is and will continue into eternity.

One word more and I am finished. The dead are gone; nothing that we can say, nothing that we can do will compensate for their sacrifice. They have gone to their reward and doubtless are now enjoying that peace, which we have obtained through their sacrifice. But by their deaths they have given us a duty to perform. We still have the living, the dependents of those who have fallen, and their chums who have returned. Upon each and every one of you falls the duty of seeing that these are properly cared and provided for. Our hospitals are crowded with men, men who have suffered untold agonies and who will never be able again to enjoy health and happiness. Canada has done remarkably well in providing for the returned men. I think in this regard she is second to none. But as time passes, man's memory grows dim and the tendency will to forget ones obligation and to shirk ones duty. We cannot repay the dead, but we can and must recompense the living in any way possible.

Moreover these men have ransomed this country with their life blood. Is not the duty ours to make it a country worthy of the sacrifice of its sons. Just as the fellows in France, saw their differences and united against a common foe, so let us unite. The war was won by the men in will you win the peace? Sink your class interests, your political interests, your religious interests and unite your efforts for the good of this great Canada of ours. You young people, you who could not join your brothers in France France, here is your opportunity. Determine to make this country as great as the men who died for it. What matter it, if you can make a few more dollars by going to the States. Remain at home, devote your energies towards building up your own land and in a few years we will have a nation here that will be second to none, a nation that can turn reverent eyes towards that great silent army of occupation and say, we have kept the faith.

This then is the message that comes from those 29 graves, their last request. Provide for our relatives, care for our comrades and live for Canada as we have died for Canada.

To you from failing hands we throw The Torch, be yours to hold it high; If ye break faith with us who die We shall not sleep though poppies grow In Flanders Field.

At the close of the address "The Last Post" was sounded by Bugler Lake and the ceremony closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. C. Coombs moved on Tuesday into their new residence just completed on Earncliffe avenue, by Mr. C. H. Wright. Mr. Wright has begun the erection of another dwelling—a bungalow—on the same street.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

The pastor having been called to Cape Breton by the death of his brother-in-law, the services last Sunday were conducted by Rev. Dr. Spidle. In the morning, he gave a very practical and interesting sermon from Exodus 15:27, "And they came to Elim". The choir was attired in cap and gown and looked very nice in their new robes. Mr. A. J. Mason sang a beautiful solo, which was greatly appreciated by the congregation.

The evening service was called a musical service. After the usual service of song, Mrs. (Dr.) Thompson gave one of her delightful violin solos and Mrs. Bartheaux sang in her usual pleasing manner. Instead of the usual sermon, Dr. Spidle gave a very interesting account of a number of well known old hymns telling about their writers and occasions when they were composed. Each hymn after being described, was sung by choir and congregation. The service was unique and greatly enjoyed by the large audience present and we hope for a similar service in the near future. The King's, Hants and Annapolis Exhibition, which is to be held this year at Windsor, will open on Tuesday, Oct. 4th and last three days.

Mr. E. J. Delaney has purchased the old Bank of Montreal building and will remove it to a site south of his present residence and fit it up as a tenement. The building is a good one and will make a comfortable dwelling.

If friends of the Wolfville boys whose names appear on the tablet unveiled on Wednesday afternoon desire to secure extra copies of the program of the day's proceedings they may do so on application to THE ACADIAN, a number still remaining on hand.

Mr. E. J. Westcott began last week the erection of a building in the rear of his store to be used as a garage and McLaughlin service station. The building will be of concrete and wood veneered with brick and will be finished and ready for use as soon as possible.

The Wolfville baseball team played a friendly game at Hantsport with the team of that town on Wednesday afternoon, the score being 26-9 in favour of Wolfville. Hantsport has a good bunch of players and the game was not so one-sided as the score indicates. The best of feeling prevailed throughout.

The annual bulletin of Acadia Collegiate and Business Academy has been received at this office. It contains a fund of useful information regarding this deservedly popular preparatory school for boys attractively arranged and generously illustrated. Organized nearly a hundred years ago the Academy has to its credit a very long list of students who have made good in the World's activities and is today better prepared than ever to undertake the important work of fitting boys and young men to be of real service in the world. The Academy has just closed a most successful year and its principal and friends are anticipating great things in the year to come.

SCHOOL MEETING'S NOT SECRET

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN.
 Dear Sir:—The printed word carries with it a wonderful force and a tremendous power for good or evil, leaving on the mind of the reader, as it does, an indelible impression. An inexact or unreliable statement made in print carries with it all the ear-marks of truth and may be quoted as a fact years after it is written. It is both natural and easy to believe what we read and so we are alarmed at the statement made by Elaine La Foye (naturally we wonder what nice old gentleman masquerades under this fanciful nom de plumet) in last week's Acadian that the School Board hold secret meetings. This is either a fact or not a fact. The Chairman of the School Board and other members assure me that every meeting of the Board—Committee or otherwise—is open to the public and that their only complaint is that the general public do not attend as much as they would like. Occasionally when Town Hall is occupied the Clerk's Office is used. Even the tenders for the new School Building were opened and read with rate-payers present. One is led to wonder in amazement: Why is a Town Councillor? With no emolument, no honor, no praise they freely give their time, their skilled services, for what? Apparently to be the butt of destructive and disgruntled criticism, but in reality to bestow upon us the best they have to offer for the upbuilding and development of our own loved community.

WHAT ARE AMUSEMENTS FOR

"We need amusements in life. We ought to try and get along without them. But what are amusements for? They are for recreation; they should recreate our strength, mental and physical; and they should do this in a way that harms no one. They are not the chief business of life; they have a place in life in order that we may turn from them better able to do our best. There are plenty of amusements that fulfill these conditions. But card playing and dancing are not among them. "Card playing while perhaps innocent in itself, has two objections. It is a game of chance. Skill enters into it also. But chance is a chief factor in the game; and card playing tends to place an unhealthy emphasis upon chance as a factor in life. Moreover, card playing has associations that are demoralizing. It is a game that, while played in all classes of society is peculiarly appropriated by the most disreputable. It would surprise everybody to see such men as D. L. Moody, or J. Wilbur Chapman, or Billy Sunday, or John G. Paton, or Robert E. Speer, playing a game of cards. Are the card players in any community conspicuous for their active evangelistic Christian service?"

"Dancing is openly disreputable. It sanctions physical liberties between men and women that would not be tolerated under any other circumstances. It would at once lose its grip on society if there were no dancing between the sexes—men dancing only with men, and women dancing only with women. Can we imagine our Lord Jesus Christ, while on earth as a man dancing?"—The S. S. Times

I SEE BY THE PAPER

(From the Bay City Times.)
 About 28 million copies of newspapers are now sold daily in the United States. Practically everybody reads a newspaper.

Hence the average paper is read by four persons. In many communities the popular paper has an average of five readers for every paper sold.

That should interest advertisers. Incidentally, we wonder how many times a paper is read after you throw it into your waste basket and before it reaches the machine which makes it into pulp that in turn becomes strawboard or wrapping paper.

For who except a rag-picker, can resist glancing at the headlines of a newspaper, no matter how old it may be or where it is discovered.

Housewives who, in changing newspapers on pantry shelves, stop to read the headlines or look at the pictures, will vouch for that.

According to a report from the marriage license bureau most of the Boston women who marry to-day are between 27 and 33 years of age. Most of the bridegrooms are between 30 and 40.

The Monthly Cheque That Never Fails

How the Money was Lost

"You see I had only a few thousand dollars left after the estate was settled—" and my brother borrowed some to help him along; of course that went and then—

I simply had to help father with his business, he was so worried—and I thought it best to invest something in real estate at once. Well, that failed—and, really, if it were not for the monthly income cheque from the Canada Life I don't know how I should be getting along now."

It is all so simple and effective!

Just a few dollars set aside regularly, and the Canada Life will guarantee to your home a continuous monthly income.

While you will probably live to draw the proceeds of the policy yourself, what a relief to know that no matter what may happen, the monthly cheque that never fails, issued regularly by the Canada Life, will come to your home.

Your present Life Insurance will no doubt "clear the mortgage," pay off the obligations of your estate, and leave something for your family, but

Consider This:

In addition to a "lump sum" of money, you should provide a definite income that cannot fail.

A weekly or monthly income is the natural thing for most people.

A woman can keep a family together on even a small income, provided it is regular.

Financial problems should not be thrust upon a woman who is not used to business deals.

The hands of unscrupulous men are always outstretched for money held by the unwary.

The Monthly Income Plan

You will be surprised to learn what a reasonable proposition can be made to you; how only a few dollars saved and set aside from your regular earnings can be multiplied into a substantial income for your Beneficiary.

THE NATION'S DRINK BILL

(From the London Economist.)
We have received from the United Kingdom Alliance statistical estimates of the national consumption of and expenditure upon alcoholic liquor. It is estimated that the expenditure on alcoholic beverages in 1920 showed an advance of 21 per cent. over 1919 and of 183 per cent. over 1913. The 1920 consumption, "measured in terms of absolute alcohol," is said to have been 15 per cent. higher than in 1919, but 24 per cent. lower than in 1913. Thus alcohol consumers in 1920 paid 183 per cent. more for 24 per cent. less alcohol than in 1913. The actual expenditure of the people of the United Kingdom on alcoholic drinks in 1920 is estimated at 469,700,000 pounds Sterling, of which 42 per cent. went to the Exchequer in taxation, the comparable estimated for 1919 being 386,000,000 pounds Sterling and 314 per cent., and for 1913 166,700,000 pounds Sterling and 23 per cent.

WHAT A PACK OF CARDS TELLS

A private soldier was taken before the magistrate of Glasgow Scotland, charged with playing cards during church service. In reply to the charge the defendant pleaded his purity of intention as follows: "I have been about six weeks on the march. I have nothing except a pack of cards, and I hope to satisfy your worship of the purity of my intention." He then informed the court that the ace reminded him of one God; the deuce of the father and son; the trey, the Father Son and Holy Ghost; the four, of the four evangelists, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John; the five of the five wise virgins who trimmed their lamps; the six, of the six days in making heaven and earth; the seven, of the seventh day of rest; the eight of the eight righteous persons saved in the ark; the nine of the lepers, cleansed by the Saviour; the ten of the Ten Commandments; the king of the great King of Heaven; the queen of the Queen of Sheba, a wise woman; the jack, of the constable who, incarcerated him. The soldier also informed the magistrate that a deck of cards could serve the purpose of an almanac. The total number of spots on all the cards amounts to 365, as many days as there are in a year, and the total number of cards is 52 one for each week in the year.

LORD BYNG OF VIMY

Appointed Governor General of Canada

The appointment of Lord Byng of Vimy as Governor General of Canada in succession to the Duke of Devonshire was announced officially on Friday. General Lord Byng of Vimy, G. C. B., G. C. M. G., M. V. C., was created the first Baron of Vimy in 1919, and his title connects him with the famous engagement at Vimy Ridge, from April 9 to May 3, 1917, when under the command of General Byng the Canadian Corps in France attacking on a front of 8,000 yards, penetrated to a depth of six miles, capturing 7,000 prisoners and 67 guns, and with them the strongest position on the British front. The fight was officially known as the Battle of Arras. Gallant troops, superb generalship and elaborate pre-arrangements were factors which contributed to the success of the Canadian Corps.

After Vimy General Byng was promoted to the command of the Third British Army. General Byng first took over the command of the Canadians in February, 1916, succeeding General Alderson. He commanded the Canadians in several victorious actions against the Germans previous to the crowning achievement at Vimy Ridge. Before the Great War he had seen much military service, during the South African War, 1899-1902, and in various African and Egyptian campaigns.

Julian Byng was born on September 11, 1862, and was the seventh son of the second Earl of Stratford. Lady Byng was Mary Evelyn Moreton, daughter of the second Hon. Sir Richard Moreton. They were married in 1902. Lady Byng has written many books.

A MEAL OF CUT WORMS

C. A. Nash, of Toronto, records an experiment with the robin as a cutworm destroyer. One young robin, kept in confinement, ate 165 cutworms in a day. Had he been compelled to find his own food he would probably have varied it somewhat, as he would not likely find so many cutworms. What he could do when he had the opportunity was clearly demonstrated.

TOO MUCH BALLAST

(From the San Francisco Argonaut)
A country housewife of good intentions, but little with culinary knowledge, decided to try her hand at cake-making. The result was somewhat on the heavy side, and, after offering it to the various members of her household she threw it to the ducks in disgust. A short time afterward two urchins tapped at her door. "I say, missus," they shouted, "your ducks have sunk!"

Advertising seems to be an art yet to be discovered by some people—at least the practical part of it. A constant stream of water from one or more fire engines will soon extinguish or get under control a very large fire, while a few buckets of water dashed here and there have little or no effect. The modern fire department is practical and has outgrown the bucket system. So it is with modern advertising—plenty of it, used in a practical common sense and judicious manner, pays.

When will the public buy? Answer, When it gets what it considers worth while goods at reasonable prices sold with courtesy. The way our customers have responded lately to all our Special Sales and Price Reductions makes it very convincing that there is an enormous demand for goods if sold below today's prices. With this idea before us we are continually adjusting prices.

On account of handling such essentials as Implement Repairs, Gasoline, etc., we realize that Wednesday afternoon closing is going to cause considerable inconvenience, so one of us will always be at the store to meet your demands.

Remember we are here to serve.

The Biggest June in Our History

This we are going to do by offering much better values than last year—Values that were impossible a year ago—Values in new and wanted merchandise that no one can afford to overlook—as well as much larger assortments.

We have just unpacked a case of Men's High Grade Worsted and Tweed Suits which start at $31.00 and stop at $42.50. Same qualities cost from $15. to $25. more only six months ago.

Ask to see our All Wool Top Coats with a heavy satin half lining. Just the thing for June evenings. Priced at a price that will sell them, ONLY $30.00.

What do you think of being able to get the celebrated oversize Railway Overalls made of 9 oz. Denim, and fitted with high grade elastic suspenders for $1.95? You can do it here. It certainly sounds better than the Three Dollar Price.

Also Combinations to carry in your car.

All sizes Boys and Youths Overalls, as well as a large range of Childrens Play Suits.
