As an evidence of the immease quantity of rain that has fall a during the last month in the vicinity of the Great Lakes and their tributary streams, we may mention that the water is now higher at our wherees by 18 inches, than it was in the spring when swelled by all the melted anow. Let Sunday it rained heavily all day till late at night.—Kingston Herald.

An act of robbery was perpetrated in this town last week, under the following vary atrocious circumstances. It appears that a Mr. Wilsoon, an English gentlemen, who arrived at Quebec in July last, by the Mary, from London, and whose object in visiting this constry was, we understand, the purchasing of land, on his reaching Kingston took up his abode in the Canal Coffee House, kept by W. Carrol, bringing with him a very heavy square box, covered with matting, and corded. This box weighed about 200 weight, and Mr. Wilson very imprudently, as the event has proved, not only acquainted his landlord, Carrol, that the box was filled with Spanish dollars, but entrusted it to his care, fallaciously supposing that the treasure would be afer in Carrol's bed room than in his ows keeping. After making this strangement, Mr. Wilson, it seems, left town for Toronto. The absence of his lodger was immediately laid hold of by Carrol for appropriating the property of Mr. Wilson to his own uses. Nor did he, as we are informed, attempt the matter without first entering into a calculation to assertain how much the town late week, under the following vary stream of the fills was 35, the least, and the fills was 35, the least of the fills was 45, the fills was 35, the least of the fills was 35, the

Some farther details are given of the attempt upon the life of the King. Girard, the assassin, is said to have declared that he was instigated by the Carlista. Another man, named Boireau, had been arrested, and is said to have confessed his participation in the plot. Suspicion was directed to him by the fact that he was visited on the night previous at his workshop, by two persons righty dressed, and that after they had left him, he advised his employer not to go to the review, as there would be trouble.

Gerard was somewhat better, but by no means out of danger. The physicians were with him constantly. He had been visited by the Ministers, anxious to obtain information. The number of parsons arrested on the 31st was 59, among whom was Armand Carrel, editor of the National. come the mere tool of another's will. We admire the true patriot, who voluntarily undergoes personal hardships and privations, for his country's cake, but we deteat the false one, who would plunge his fellow-cutisens into political or mortal conflicts, with a view, by their troubles, to raise himself to rank and afficence. That of the last is the character of our pseudo-Patriots.

The Vindicator entitles our assertion "A mand mark." We were conscious whom we made it, that we vere not throwing a spark among gunpowder. As the Canadian population suffers no rank or felt tyranny, we hold it as an impossibility to rouse it in its present stage of intellectual culture, to rebellion, by exhibiting to it wrongs purely fictious. This is no idle assertion, for it is capable of as sexisfactory proof as most subjects of the kind are. We would invite the unprejudiced to consider the mass of sedition which has for-wars back been constantly preached to the Canadians, as a separate race, and who are four to one of their felsow-colonists—to the innumerable inflammatory harangees which daily asset from the prose of that party—and we predict that one or other of the following conclusions will be confidently arrived at. First, that the Canadian people has no personal sense of political grievances to overcome the perfect security of property which is enjoyed under British dominion; or second, that if the representations of demagogues be true, the honour of French valour has departed from the Canadians. It is paying but a poor compliment to them, to represent them as ensured and continued and pliment to them, to represent them as enslaved, as crushed and oppressed by a grinding tyranny, when all the world beholds them peaceable and contented under the represented accumulation of such evils as ought, if real, to drive them to a desperate rebellion. In sector, as our remark can be
