Knock Down

Motor Engines.

H.P., $110.00; 8 H.P., 2 CYLINDER, $175.00.

A new idea in Motors.

We have secured the agency for the celebrated "Knock Down Motor Engines." Each part of these engines is made so perfect that it is not necessary to assemble and test the engine before shipment. You save the cost of all that work by doing the work yourself.

All parts of the engine are carefully packed and shipped just as they come from the automatic machines at the factory—not even painted—fill directions for assembling, including a picture with number and name of each part, are sent you. The Company guarantees that every part will fit perfectly, and that any man who can read English and use a wrench can set them up.

These engines are guaranteed exactly the same as common engines that have been fitted and tested at the factory and sold at double the price. Why not save a month's wages by setting up your own engine?

These engines are 2 cycle. Price guaranteed to May 15. Terms: half cash with order, balance on arrival.

On rush orders, can wire order and have engine sent by express. Purchase to pay difference in charges.

A Terrible Disclosure ;

What Fools Men Are!

CHAPTER VI.
"Ah, I see you agree to accept the role, my dear Nagle. When? I am not quite sure. Soon, very soon, I think. But I will give you due notice. Come, you will be doing a good action! It is not given to every one to have the opportunity of saving the heir to a marquisate from a mesalliance. There is one point I wished to speak to you about: You said just now that you did not think my friend who relieved you the other night would recognize you?"

Nagle sprang from the table as if he had been shot.
"What!" he cried. "Is it he?"
"Yes, that was Lord Fane, the Marquis of Farintosh's only son and heir! What's the matter?"

"Nothing! nothing!" said Nagle, but his face was white and his hand trembled as he leaned it on the table. "And it is he! the man who saved me from starvation—death! He!"
"Yes," said Clifford Revel. "Quite dramatic, isn't it? You ought to be grateful to fate for providing you with an opportunity of repaying him for his benevolence. He saved you from death, you save him from social ruin! Do you see?"

"Stop! Silence! Let me think!" exclaimed Nagle, hoarsely, and he paced the room, with his hand pressed to his brow.

He filled himself a glass of brandy and water, and drained it off, flung the cup upon the table, and, with a strange look in his eyes, confronted the tempter.

"Well?" said Clifford Revel. "What do you say? Will you play the part?"

Nagle laughed wildly.
"The sum—the blood money, how much is it to be?" he demanded.
"Two hundred pounds paid down the day of the marriage," and he smiled. "And if you say 'yes,' I'll add this as a retainer, and he took out his purse and laid a ten-pound note on the table. "Come, say yes, and thank Heaven for a good day's work."

Nagle stood as if rapt in a dream. "What are you afraid of? If you dread the consequences, why not leave England? You can have a fine ring abroad for two hundred pounds. See here, I'll make it another fifty. With that sum a man of your talents can make his way to the other side of the herring pond. Really, it is too much for half an hour's performance of a simple character like a clergyman, but for old acquaintance sake I must be generous. Come, what do you say? Yes, or no?"

Nagle started as if he had been absorbed in some deep, mental calculation.
"What do I say?" he said, hoarsely. "What should such a man as I am say to such a proposal? I am without a penny; you have seen my dinner. Unless I take that ten-pound note, I do not know where I shall find money to purchase another meal. What do I say? What can I say but 'Yes!'"
"Right," said Clifford Revel, rising

MRS. DE WESE COULD NOT STAND

Because of Functional Disorder—Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oakland, Cal.—"I suffered from irregularities and congestion, so I could not stand on my feet for any long period of time and did not sleep well. The physician who treated me did not seem to help me any and a friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and before I realized it I was well. I shall recommend your vegetable remedy to my friends."—Mrs. H. De Wesse, 605 Alcatraz Ave., Oakland, Cal.

Every woman at some period or other in her life suffers from just such disturbances as did Mrs. Wesse, and if there is no interested friend to advise, let this be a reminder that this famous root and herb remedy has been overcoming these ailments of women for more than 40 years.

and looking at his watch, "and if you would have said it half an hour ago! Yes! There is the note. Put it out of sight of that grimy slavey or you'll lose it."

Nagle took it up and crushed it in the palm of his hand, and Clifford Revel nodded, with a gleam of satisfaction in his eyes.

"Good-by, my dear fellow. Don't spend that ten pounds for brandy, and be ready when I send for you. I'll leave the 'properties' to you. Play your part well, and there are two hundred and fifty pounds and a fresh life for you. Good-by!" and he held out his hand.

Nagle did not take it; he had moved toward the door and opened it, and Clifford Revel passed out.

Nagle stood for a moment looking at vacancy; then, with a gesture of supreme loathing, he took the note, and, lighting a candle, held it to the flame; but suddenly a thought seemed to strike him, and he crushed out the part that had taken fire, and thrust the note in his pocket.

CHAPTER VII.

Lord Edgar took the train to Sunbury, in a frame of mind not to be described. He had waited as he had promised for Clifford Revel, and had received a letter which startled and excited him. He walked from Sunbury to Larkworthy, in a state of excitement, and reached the old churchyard gate half an hour before his time. The night was dark, but the moon came through the clouds at intervals, and lit up the quaint, old place in an effective fashion, enabling him to see a slim figure hastening toward him from the little lane, and he held Lela in his arms.

"Have you been waiting long?" she asked. "I am so sorry! Grandpapa would not let me leave him for some time."

"It doesn't matter, darling. I would willingly wait an hour to have you with me for five minutes."

She looked up at him, with a fond smile. She seemed to have gained color since last night, seemed to be something more like her old self. Happiness is a wonderful elixir! It laughs doctors to scorn; it is the most potent medicine under the sun, and if one could only put it into bottles and sell it at one shilling and three halfpence, what a fortune one would make.

"And did you ride?" she asked, in a low, soft, voice, that Lord Edgar thought the sweetest music under heaven.

"No," he said; "I came by train; the chestnut was not quick enough for me—why, the train seemed to crawl. But Lela, my darling, now I have come I have something very important to say to you."

She shrank, and trembled instinctively, for, though his eyes were bright and eager with happiness, his voice was grave.

"What is it, Edgar? Not bad news! If so, don't tell me. I am so happy, that I cannot bear to hear of anything that—that might part us!" And she clung to him. "And that is the only bad news that can come to me."

What could he do but unfold her in his strong arms and kiss her? "It is not bad news, and it will not part us; in fact—now, prepare to be startled, darling!"

"I am prepared," she said, with a touch of her old naivete.

"Well, then, listen!" he said. "You know this state of things can't continue."

This state of things—namely, nestling against his heart—seemed so sweet, that she did not feel convinced.

"No?" he said, decidedly, "we can't go on like this. I mean that we cannot go on like this forever."

"Forever is a long time," she murmured.

"For any time, then," he said. "I couldn't live without seeing you, say, once a day; and to do that you must meet in this—this clandestine kind of fashion, which I don't like."

"If grandpapa knew, I should never be able to meet you again," she whispered.

"Exactly," he assented, as if she had given him a fresh advantage in argument; "exactly, and so we must bring it to an end."

She clung to him with her arms, but threw her head back, and looked at him, with alarm in her beautiful eyes.

"Are you—do you mean that—that we must not see each other?" she said, almost faintly.

"Heaven forbid! I mean that we must see each other every hour in the day, that we must be always together—together!" he said, fervently.

"I don't understand," she murmured.

"Let me tell you. You must know when I left you that I went to my Cousin Clifford and told him that I had found you."

"Yes."

"Well, I need not tell you that he was delighted! Clifford is always delighted at any good fortune that befalls me. Besides, he had tried to help me in finding you, you know!"

"Yes," she said again, her eyes fixed on his.

"And when I told him, he saw that this state of things could not go on. Why, think of it! I might not be able to see you; Mr. Temple might find out that you meet me here! Oh, there are a hundred things to prevent our meeting!"

"Ah, yes!" she sighed.

"And so Clifford Revel suggested, advised that—"

"Why do you hesitate?" she murmured.

"Because I don't want to frighten you; because it seems so sudden and precipitate. Well, my darling, he agrees with me that we ought to be married!"

She started, and threw her head back, and her face paled in the moonlight.

"Be—married! Yes, so we shall some day," she whispered, faintly.

"Some day, yes; but I mean now, at once!" he said, as quietly and with as matter-of-fact a voice as he could manage, seeing that his heart was beating nineteen to the dozen.

She trembled in silence for a moment.

"Now!" she breathed; "now! But grandpapa would never consent—never!"

"Then we must be married without his consent!" he said.

Rheumatism Entirely Gone.

After Twenty-seven Years of Suffering—Swelling and Painfulness Has Disappeared—Not a Pain or an Ache Left.

A most astonishing cure of rheumatism and eczema has been reported here, and Mrs. Ray is enthusiastic in telling her many friends how cures were effected.

Rheumatism and eczema frequently go together, and in this case caused the most keen distress imaginable. All the swelling and puffiness resulting from many years of rheumatism have disappeared, and there is not a pain or an ache left.

Mr. G. H. Ray, R. R. No. 1, Knardin, Ont., writes: "Mrs. Ray has been using your Kidney-Liver Pills. She was very bad with rheumatism and eczema, and had had that fearful itch for twenty-seven years. It was simply terrible what she suffered. I persuaded her to try $1.00 worth of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. She is now on the last box, and let me tell you she scarcely knows herself, she is so free from both these diseases. All the swelling and puffiness caused by the rheumatism has gone away, and she has gone down in weight 18½ pounds. She never has an ache nor pain, biliousness nor sick headache all these months. She often says herself 'How glad I am that I know 'what to do instead of paying doctors so much to make me worse.'"

There is only one way that the poisons in the blood can be cleaned away and the cause of pains and aches removed, and that is by the healthful action of the kidneys, liver and bowels. Because Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act directly and specifically on these organs and insure their activity they remove the cause of rheumatism and other dreadfully painful and fatal diseases. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanston, Boston, Co. Limited, Toronto.

Look for the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, on the box you buy.

wildly against his heart, her hand working nervously, her whole slender frame agitated by the thought.

"Yes, Lela! Come, darling, I don't want to frighten you: I meant to break it gently, but I am such a rough idiot, without the least tact! But think, Lela—why should we not be married?"

She thought. There seemed a hundred reasons, and yet not one, excepting that concerning her grandfather, which she could put into words.

"Why not?" he persisted. "If we waited for Mr. Temple's consent, after the way in which my father insulted him, we might wait for years, and—with a deep breath—"I could not do that!"

"Your father, the marquis?" she said, with a sudden shiver. "What would he say?"

Lord Edgar's face darkened.

"Don't let us think of that," he said.

"Ah, dear, dear Edgar, but I must think, if you don't! I know what he thinks, and he will tell me! and so plainly!"

"Not a word of that!" he said, in his impetuous way. "Forget all that, Lela. Between my father and myself yawns a wide gulf. He has done his best to ruin my happiness; he has wronged me past words. It is he who would have separated us, and who nearly succeeded in doing so."

"Ah, Edgar! But he is still your father!" said Lela.

"He is the Marquis of Farintosh," he said, coldly, and until now she did not know how coldly he could speak. "He has fought against me with edged tools; he cannot complain if I use them in my turn, and against him!"

She listened, trembling and uncertain.

"No!" he continued. "By stratagem he sought to part us—we who love each other so dearly, and it is only just that by stratagem he should be met."

"Edgar, dear," she murmured, "this is not your language; it is that of some one else—your cousin."

He started, remembering that he had used the very words which Clifford Revel had spoken just before they parted.

"They are good words, let them be whose they may, Lela," he said. "I owe the marquis nothing. I shall not consult him. I shall not need to do so. He has been kind to me, but he has balanced that kindness by his conduct toward you. Don't speak of him again, dear! After all, it will not matter to him. He cares nothing for me, and why, therefore, should I sacrifice to him?"

Loss of Kemmel Enemy Occurred

PREPARING THE PUBLIC.
LONDON, April 28. Some of the newspapers appear to be preparing the public for the loss of the Channel ports. The Times today says: "There is no denying that the loss of Kemmel Hill is a considerable tactical success for the enemy, and it will be well therefore to prepare for the receipt of other disagreeable news. If the enemy is able to extend his grip on Kemmel, we may be compelled to evacuate Ypres. Such evacuation would not inevitably entail the evacuation of Dunkirk, Calais and Boulogne, but it is well to realize that these consequences might ensue. We must remember that the Germans cannot win the war by the occupation of Ypres and the Channel ports. The British News said last night that the capture of Kemmel Hill undoubtedly is a useful step in the direction of Calais and Boulogne, and it is frankly admitted that its loss gravely imperils Ypres. We hope and believe the Channel ports will be saved, yet we must face the fact that their loss comes within the range of contingency to be reckoned with."

BRITISH OFFICIAL.
LONDON, April 27. (Official)—There was great artillery activity during the night on the whole battlefield north of the Lys River. The fighting in this area was very severe, the enemy making repeated and determined attempts to develop the advantage gained by him on the previous day. After many hours of fluctuating battles the enemy's advance was held at all points. Heavy casualties were suffered by his troops in the course of his many unsuccessful attacks. The enemy's assaults on the French positions from Loivre to Lacluyte were pressed with extreme violence, and after three attacks had been beaten off with great loss, his troops succeeded at the fourth attempt in carrying the village of Loivre. In the evening our Allies counter attacked and drove the enemy out, regaining possession of the village. At other points all the enemy's attacks were repulsed. Fierce fighting took place north of Kemmel Hill and in the neighborhood of Voomezeele, which after a prolonged struggle remains in the hands of our troops. In the afternoon the enemy again heavily attacked our positions at the Ridge Wood southwest of Voomezeele and was completely repulsed. Some hundreds of prisoners were captured by us in this fighting. Local fighting also took place yesterday afternoon on the Lys battlefield in the neighborhood of Givenchy, as a result of which forty prisoners were captured by us. South of the Somme the fighting continued during the afternoon to the advantage of the Allied troops. In the Hangard-Villers-Bretonneux sector our line was again advanced at certain points and a hostile attack with tanks early in the afternoon was broken up by our fire and failed to develop. The number of prisoners captured by us in this area is over 900. Successful raids were carried out by us during the night in the neighborhood of Arleux, northwest of Arras, and in the Vieux-Berquin sector, southwest of Hazebrouck we captured twenty prisoners. On the remainder of the front there is nothing to report.

RETIREMENT ON FLANDERS FRONT.
BERLIN, April 27. (Via London, April 28.)—The British have made a retirement on the Flanders front in the sector west of Ypres, it was announced officially this evening. The statement says the Germans advanced to a line from a point southwest of Langemarck, four and a half miles northeast of Ypres to Verlorenhoek two miles northeast of Ypres, Hooge, two miles east of Ypres, and Zillebeke, two miles southeast of Ypres.

SITUATION CHANGED FOR THE WORST.
LONDON, April 27. The Daily News, in an editorial says the situation has changed seriously for the worst as a result of the German drive toward the Channel. It is a matter of serious concern. Nevertheless it regards the situation as in no wise established, and says that if the Germans mean to break through they must do it quickly before the American reinforcements turn up. The effect of the capture of Mount Kemmel upon the situation at Ypres is canvassed anxiously by some papers. The Daily Chronicle thinks that Ypres could be held, despite the loss at Mount Kemmel, but the tenor

London Press Opinion.

Loss of Kemmel Hill Tactical Success for Enemy Occupation of Calais, Dunkirk and Boulogne Possible.

PREPARING THE PUBLIC.

LONDON, April 28. Some of the newspapers appear to be preparing the public for the loss of the Channel ports. The Times to-day says: "There is no denying that the loss of Kemmel Hill is a considerable tactical success for the enemy, and it will be well therefore to prepare for the receipt of other disagreeable news. If the enemy is able to extend his grip on Kemmel we may be compelled to evacuate Ypres. Such evacuation would not inevitably entail the evacuation of Dunkirk, Calais and Boulogne, but it is well to realize that these consequences might ensue. We must remember that the Germans cannot win the war by the occupation of Ypres and the Channel ports. The Evening News said last night that the capture of Kemmel Hill undoubtedly is a useful step in the direction of Calais and Boulogne, and it is frankly admitted that its loss gravely imperils Ypres. We hope and believe the Channel ports will be saved, yet we must face the fact that their loss comes within the range of contingency to be reckoned with."

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

LONDON, April 27. (Official.)—There was great artillery activity during the night on the whole battlefield north of the Lys River. The fighting in this area was very severe, the enemy making repeated and determined attempts to develop the advantage gained by him on the previous day. After many hours of fluctuating battles the enemy's advance was held at all points. Heavy casualties were suffered by his troops in the course of his many unsuccessful attacks. The enemy's assaults on the French positions from Leclre to Lacytte were pressed with extreme violence, and after three attacks had been beaten off with great loss, his troops succeeded at the fourth attempt in carrying the village of Leclre. In the evening our Allies counter attacked and drove the enemy out, regaining possession of the village. At other points all the enemy's attacks were repulsed. Pierce fighting took place north of Kemmel Village and in the neighborhood of Voormezele, which after a prolonged struggle remains in the hands of our troops. In the afternoon the enemy again heavily attacked our positions at the Ridge Wood southwest of Voormezele and was completely repulsed. Some hundreds of prisoners were captured by us in this fighting. Local fighting also took place yesterday afternoon on the Lys battlefield in the neighborhood of Ginchy, as a result of which forty prisoners were captured by us. South of the Somme the fighting continued during the afternoon to the advantage of the Allied troops. In the Hangard-Villers-Bretonneux sector our line was again advanced at certain points and a hostile attack with tanks early in the afternoon was broken up by our fire and failed to develop. The number of prisoners captured by us in this area is over 900. Successful raids were carried out by us during the night in the neighborhood of Arieux, northwest of Arras, and in the Vieux-Berquin sector, southwest of Hazebrouck we captured twenty prisoners. On the remainder of the front there is nothing to report.

RETIREMENT ON FLANDERS FRONT.
BERLIN, April 27. (Via London, April 28.)—The British have made a retirement on the Flanders front in the sector west of Ypres, it was announced officially this evening. The statement says the Germans advanced to a line from a point southwest of Langemarck, four and a half miles northeast of Ypres to Verlorenhoek two miles northeast of Ypres, Hooge, two miles east of Ypres, and Zillebeke, two miles southeast of Ypres.

SITUATION CHANGED FOR THE WORST.
LONDON, April 27. The Daily News, in an editorial says the situation has changed seriously for the worst as a result of the fighting of the past two days, and that the German drive toward the Channel is a matter of serious concern. Nevertheless it regards the situation as in no way established, and says that if the Germans mean to break through they must do it quickly before the American reinforcements turn up. The effect of the capture of Mount Kemmel upon the situation at Ypres is canvassed anxiously by some papers. The Daily Chronicle thinks that Ypres could be held, despite the loss of Mount Kemmel, but the tenure would be costly and precarious. It hopes that it will be found possible to dislodge the enemy as at Villers-Bretonneux. Otherwise it says a further withdrawal of the Ypres line may be desirable. The Chronicle contends, however, that the present value of Ypres is only secondary. The Daily Mail says it would be folly to minimize the success the enemy has achieved, and if the loss of Kemmel should prove permanent the difficulty in holding Ypres would be increased materially. It concludes by arguing the necessity of maintaining the supply of men.

THE GERMAN BIG GUN.
PARIS, April 27. A description of the destruction by French artillery of one of the long range cannon with which the Germans have been bombarding Paris, is published to-day by the Petit Parisien. All the signs that "Bertha," a French nickname for the big German guns, was going to fire, had been noticed. The smoke curtain had gone and up all around there was a chorus of loud reports. Undoubtedly "Bertha" and two or three hundred millimetre naval guns were all firing simultaneously to disguise the whereabouts of the big cannon. After a short pause the firing was resumed. This time ten naval guns supplied the oblige. French air observers were on the lookout, however, and French aviators signalled quickly that the result of the first salvo was promising, two heavy shells exploding 250 yards north of the big gun, tearing up the railroad tracks leading to the concrete gun platform. The firing was continued, getting closer and closer until finally two enormous shells went through the camouflage. Two formidable explosions were heard and the discomfited Germans saw "Bertha" damaged beyond repair with a rent fifty feet long in the barrel. The aviators reported that they could see plainly through the camouflage two gaping craters in the platform. The French gunners then set about preparing to destroy the third "Bertha," but thus far they have not succeeded for shells arrived in France again during the small hours of the night.

ALLIED NAVAL COUNCIL.
PARIS, April 27. The Inter-Allied Naval Council which met yesterday at the Ministry of Marine, concludes its sittings this afternoon. Important decisions were taken with a view to obtaining closer collaboration between the Allied Naval forces. The following resolution was proposed by the French Minister of Marine, who presided and was adopted. The Inter-Allied Naval Council expresses its admiration for the coolness, daring and splendid courage displayed by the British Navy in the attacks on Ostend and Zeebrugge and for the rapidity with which it gained its objectives despite the immense difficulties of the enterprise and the desperate resistance of the enemy.

SENSATION IN VIENNA.
LONDON, April 27. The correspondent of the Hague of the Exchange Telegraph Co. reports that a great sensation has been caused in Vienna by the announcement that the Nuncio there has begun a disciplinary enquiry, at the request of the Austrian Government, into the case of the Archbishop of Salzburg. He is charged with having placed himself at the head of the Southern Slav movement, the aims of which are said to constitute high treason.

PAYING LAST RESPECT.
DOVER, April 28. A large party of American airmen attended the funeral this afternoon of the seaman and marines killed in the Zeebrugge raid early this week. Business was practically suspended during the services. The procession started from the market place where the flag-draped coffins of those who had given their lives in the dash on the Belgian coast base were placed in motor lorries for the three mile procession through the city streets to the cemetery.

BURNED AT ANCHORAGE.
BOGOTA, Colombia, April 27. The German steamer, Prince Eitel Fredrick, which has been interned at Puerto Colombia, was burned and sunk at her anchorage there to-day. The steamer was owned by the Hamburg-American Line and displaced 4,600 tons.

AUSTRIAN DESTROYERS DEFEATED.
LONDON, April 27. Two British destroyers defeated five Austrian destroyers in the Adriatic the British Admiralty announced to-day. "Two of our destroyers in the Adriatic engaged five Austrians, the report said. The enemy fled to Durazzo for shelter. British air forces raided the seaplane base at Durazzo, Tuesday, and apparently were successful. Five more British and French destroyers joined in the pursuit toward Durazzo which continued until after midnight on Monday. Our casualties were seven killed and nineteen wounded."

CHASING THE GERMANS.
LONDON, April 27. Reporting military operations in the East African battle zone an official statement issued to-day by the War Office says the advance of British and Portuguese forces which are pursuing the Germans in East Africa into Mozambique is proceeding under more favorable weather conditions.

A MATTER FOR THE IRISH EPISCOPACY.
ROME, April 27. The Courier De Ditalia, a semi-official Vatican organ, speaking with reference to the attitude of Cardinal Logue concerning conscription in Ireland says, "The Holy See always let the episcopacy of each country free to take the attitude they think best in the internal affairs of their country. Thus whatever Cardinal Logue may consider expedient to deal with conscription in Ireland cannot affect the impartiality and neutrality of the Vatican in this war, nor be considered as a violation of the policy constantly followed by the Holy See since the war began."

"THEY SHALL NOT PASS" THROUGH HOLLAND.
AMSTERDAM, April 27. According to the Hague Vaterland the agreement between Holland and Germany has slightly improved since yesterday. While it has been agreed to re-open the Limbourg railway there is still a difference regarding the nature and extent of the transport over the road and by waterway. The "Telegraaf" under the heading, "If it must be," recalls the German attack on Belgium and says "if Holland is now to be placed at the same cross roads as Belgium, then the Government may be certain that the nation will rally round it in the hour of danger. Everyone will ardently hope that this cup may be spared us and is it not almost unthinkable that the crime which has branded Cain's mark on the forehead of the violator should be repeated against us? But if it must be, our motto will be that 'they shall not pass' neither they, nor their war necessities. We want peace but we fear dishonor more than war. Holland will remain herself."

RETIREMENT IN SOLONIKI.
LONDON, April 28. A retirement by the British troops in the Saloniki front from villages which were recently captured is reported in an official statement issued by the war office yesterday in operations in the Macedonian theatre of war.

AUSTRIAN PREMIER WANTS TO QUIT.
LONDON, April 27. Dr. Von Seydler the Austrian Premier has for the second time presented his resignation, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Zurich to-day. The Premier is quoted as saying that he desired to quit office because he found the situation untenable.

RUSSIAN COUNTER-REVOLUTION.
LONDON, April 28. A despatch from Copenhagen to the Exchange Telegraph Company says: It is reported there that a counter-revolution has broken out in Petrograd. It reports that while no telegrams have been received from Petrograd for several days, there are rumors from Finland that there is serious rioting at the capital and that the rumor is persistent that Grand Duke Alexia Nikolavitch is the real leader in Russian Affairs.

RAID CASUALTIES.
LONDON, April 28. The total British casualties in the operations on Tuesday against Zeebrugge and Ostend were 688, according to an official announcement last night, those were divided as follows: Officers killed 16, died of wounds 3, missing 2, wounded 29; men killed 144, died of wounds 25, missing 14, wounded 655.

What About Bourassa?
(From the Toronto Globe.)
The disturbances in Quebec have died down, but so long as the arch-detractor of the peace of the Province and of the Dominion remains "tongue free" there is danger that they will be renewed. Mr. Bourassa is not only an open enemy of the Military Service Act, but he is an enemy of the British Empire. It is from Le Devoir that the people of Quebec have absorbed the idea that this is not Canada's war, and that to the French Canadian it is a matter of the utmost indifference which of two groups of land-hungry powers, all of them oppressors of the little nations, will be the victors in the spoils. Some time ago the Globe pointed out that the Nationalist Leader has been poisoning the wells of public opinion in his native Province for almost twenty years, and that the responsible leaders of the people, save during the agitation over the Naval Service Act in 1910-11, when Sir Wilfred Laurier and his lieutenants were fighting for the life of the Government against the Nationalist-Conservative combination, have never attempted to destroy his pernicious influence by public discussion, and a campaign of enlightenment. The toleration displayed by the Union Government toward Bourassa and his crew of disloyalists is disquieting. Are there still secrets of 1911 undisclosed that may leap to light if Bourassa strikes at Bourassa? A leader in the industrial life of Ontario, writing to the Globe, says: "It is the surprise of thousands loyal Canadians that the Government has allowed Bourassa to poison the minds of the Quebec peasantry, and to issue pamphlets to infuse hatred against Great Britain and the Allies. It appears to me that the patience of the people who are supporting the Allies has almost passed the limit, when we consider the sumpiness of our Government in allowing rank treason to be published for years and circulated not only in Canada, but in France and Italy." There are many other supporters of the Government who think as this man speaks. If the disturbances in Quebec are renewed, the Government should not devote all its attention to the dupes who translate into violent deeds the anti-British policies of the Nationalist Leader. Let the axe be laid to the root of the tree.

Public Notice

I am directed by His Excellency the Governor in Council to issue the following notice under Authority of Minute in Council passed 28th February, 1918.

Augmentation of the Pay of Royal Naval Reservists Newfoundland.

The Government of Newfoundland have decided to augment the pay of Newfoundland Royal Naval Reservists so as to place them on the same footing as men of the Newfoundland Regiment.

Under the provision of the War Measure Act, authority is given to the Minister of Militia to deal with the matter of augmentation of pay of the Royal Naval Reservists. Now, in consultation with the Senior Naval Officer, St. John's.

It is ordered that a sum of 20c per day be placed to the credit of each Naval Reservist from the time of commencement of the war, in cases where men were then serving, or otherwise, from the time when their services began up to the time of discharge or of death, or to the 30th of September, 1917, inclusive.

As the rate of pay of the Royal Naval Reservists is fixed by the Naval Reserve Act, 1914, and the Naval Reserve Regulations, 1914, it is necessary to amend the said Act and Regulations in order to give effect to the above order. The amendments proposed are as follows:—

(a) The words "and the Naval Reserve Regulations, 1914" shall be deleted from section 1 of the said Act.

(b) The words "and the Naval Reserve Regulations, 1914" shall be deleted from section 2 of the said Act.

(c) The words "and the Naval Reserve Regulations, 1914" shall be deleted from section 3 of the said Act.

(d) The words "and the Naval Reserve Regulations, 1914" shall be deleted from section 4 of the said Act.

The following form is to be compiled and forwarded direct to the Minister of Militia, St. John's, Newfoundland, at the earliest possible date:—

NAME AND OFFICIAL NO.	WHAT IS DESIRED DISPOSAL OF AMOUNT DUE UNDER ORDER 1, 2, or 3. (IN CASE OF 2, FULL NAME AND ADDRESS MUST BE GIVEN.)	SIGNATURE AUTHORIZING DISPOSAL.

All communications of any description with regard to these payments are to be made to the Minister of Militia, St. John's, direct.

Payment will commence on 1st May, 1918.

In cases where members of the Royal Naval Reserve (Newfoundland) have been killed in action or died of wounds or sickness, or through any other cause, the amount due as Augmentation Pay will go to the Estate of the deceased. The authority to obtain the Estate of the deceased is, in case of a Will, Letters of Probate; and in case there is not a Will, Letters of Administration. Such letters are issued by the Supreme Court of Newfoundland on the Petition and Proofs of Executor of the Will, or the next of kin. If the Estate does not exceed $500.00, after the proof of the facts has been obtained the petition can be applied for by the Minister of Justice.

An Uncon-stitutional House.

The Government organs ignore the fact that the Legislative Assembly, as at present constituted, is an unrepresentative and unconstitutional body, comprising as it does, not two thirds of the number of members, elected in 1913, to represent the eight electoral districts of the Dominion. It has already been pointed out to His Excellency that the present House, as constituted is NOT A REPRESENTATIVE BODY, AND THAT THEREFORE THE NECESSARY MEASURES SHOULD BE TAKEN TO AT ONCE BRING IT TO ITS CONSTITUTIONAL STRENGTH. Our correspondent "Vigilance" in his able and convincing letters dilates on this aspect, and shows to whom the blame belonged, and why the machinery was not put in motion to fill the vacancies created by death, expatriation, and the acceptance of offices of emolument. Over six months have elapsed since the majority of the vacancies ensued and apparently time may go on for ever, without bye-elections being held to give proper representation to districts which are disfranchised and have no member in the House to maintain their rights and privileges. Is this state of affairs to continue? We respectfully ask His Excellency to take cognizance of the formation of the present House, and to safeguard the rights of the vacant constituencies by issuing his writ for the holding of bye-elections. The Prime Minister in his speech on opening day said: "the will of the country is represented by the majority on this side of the House." Therein he made an inaccurate statement. THE WILL OF THE COUNTRY IS ABSOLUTELY UNREPRESENTED IN THE PRESENT HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY, and no person knows this better than the Prime Minister, and he knew at the time he made this assertion that it was untrue and the country knows that it is untrue.

The will of the country CANNOT be represented until every existing vacancy has been filled. Is St. John's East and West represented in the present House? Is Placentia and St. Mary's? Is Fortune Bay? Is Burgeo and LaPolla? Is St. Barbe? Is Bonavista? What of the ten unfilled seats belonging to these districts? Does the Premier or any of his followers say that they represent the will of the people? Dare they take their political courage in their hands and test the feeling of the people by opening simultaneously, or one by one, the neglected districts mentioned? If the Premier is "prepared to accept the verdict of the people uncomplainingly," and having nailed his colors to the mast, is ready to accept his doom, why not risk the hazard and give the voters the opportunity for which they have long waited. St. John's East and West, would welcome the call to battle and none the less would these other districts which have been bearing the burden of "taxation without representation."

The Mailed Fist.

The veiled threat of the titled editor of the Herald on Saturday will not deter the Telegram from "carrying on" its condemnation of any act or acts of the Government which merit strictures. The attitude of the Herald is thoroughly understood, not only in this city, but in the outports as well, and its present simulated horror at anything that smacks of opposition to its own interests and well being is too thin. The Herald and constitutional procedure have not been united in the bonds of matrimony for very many years, and if any union now exists between them it is either a marriage de convenience or a moribund connection, which may be easily annulled for political infelicity, without recourse to the divorce courts. So long as it suits our Prescott Street contemporary, it is prepared to defend anything on constitutional grounds, and if none exist to manufacture them to suit the need of the moment. Time was when former Governors of Newfoundland were subjected to all manner of complimentary epithets from the Herald, but the paper to-day has endured a change of heart. "The wild ass brayeth not when full of grass," and the Herald being in clover just now is not willing to leave its stall. We, too, are quite sure that the Legislative Council will do its duty when the time comes, particularly those members who are prepared to sacrifice principle at the behest of their boss, and vote as he dictates. The mailed fist rightly belongs to Prussia and the Kaiser, but there are those in Newfoundland who have made a beginning in the use thereof.

Yesterday's Church Parade.

The C.L.B., accompanied by a number of volunteers, had a Church parade yesterday morning, attending Divine Service at St. Mary's Church, Southside. The Rector, Rev. H. Uphill, Chaplain, preached an eloquent and impressive sermon urging the laity to be loyal to their brigade as in doing so they would be worthy sons of the Empire. Following the service the Roman Catholic and Methodist volunteers joined the ranks. Headed by the C.L.B. band under Lieut. Morris and the Regimental Bugle Band, the battalion marched down Water St. up Cochrane St. and along Military and Harvey Roads to the Armoury. The turn-out numbered over 500.

Women's Patriotic Association.

It will be noted from the advertisement in another column, that the Women's Patriotic Association, being now in a position to keep its work-rooms at Headquarters open permanently, will continue the work there throughout the summer months. The convenors and directors of the various departments have signified their willingness to go on with their arduous duties as usual, and we appeal to all our members to give their hearty co-operation and assistance. We want all our old workers and as many new ones as can come. The necessity of increasing the supply of hospital requisites is obvious; and the prospect of a considerable increase in the fighting forces from this Dominion will mean increased industry on our part if our men are to be provided with comforts on the same liberal scale as heretofore. The need for shirts is specially urgent at present.

Sealing Voyage Closed

Diana and Viking Bring the Keys. The S.S. Viking, Capt. W. Bartlett, reached port on Saturday night from the Gulf sealfishery, hauling for about 1,000 seals. Captain Bartlett reports conditions in the Gulf the worst he ever experienced. Thousands of seals were seen but owing to the heavy ice it was impossible to force the Viking within reasonable distance of the patch. All on board are well. The S.S. Diana, Captain Jacob Kean, who was out to the ice for the second trip this spring, also made port on Saturday night, hauling for 2700 seals, 1300 of which are young fat. Numerous seals were seen but the ice and weather conditions hampered operations. For several days the ship was in the seals but owing to a dense fog and loose ice the crew could not venture over the side. Having only a limited supply of coal, Captain Kean was prevented from chasing up the old seals.

SLIGHT FIRES.—The Central and East End Fire Brigades were called out at 6 o'clock on Saturday evening to extinguish a fire which had broken out in the home of Mr. J. Barrington, McDougall Street. The application of a few buckets of water was sufficient to extinguish the flames. Both Fire Brigades were again called out at 4.45 p.m. yesterday to attend to a fire at the residence of Mrs. Brookings, Duckworth Street, caused by the explosion of a kerosene oil stove. Very little damage was done and three minutes after the "fall out" signal was sent in.

The Degradation of Parliament.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Sir,—There are two simple plans of Government on which all Constitutions are constructed. One of them declares that "the people are the rightful source of power, both ultimate and direct"; the other denies this proposition. When Charles I. of England stood upon the scaffold, he declared with his dying breath that "the people's right was only to have their life and their goods their own, a share in the Government being nothing pertaining to them." His theory brought the administration of public affairs down to the level of Oriental despotism. The revolution of 1688 ended that nonsense, and for centuries the glorious Constitution under which we rejoice to live, and under which our brave boys are battling and dying to-day in France and Flanders, has been jealously and firmly guarded. Henry, Lord Brougham, probably the greatest expounder of the principles of Constitutional Polity, said, that any interference, under any pretence, with the rights of the people to full representation in Parliament is a serious infringement of the fundamental principle of the British Constitution, and adds,—"The encroachment of the Sovereign upon the rights of the subject, his trampling upon the liberties which the Constitution secures to the people, is a full justification of resistance to his authority." Now, as I pointed out in a previous letter, it is a right of the people of this country, as established by law, that "whenever a vacancy shall occur in the House of Assembly of the Governor, (the representative of the Sovereign) shall within six months after the happening of such vacancy issue a Writ for the election and return of a member for the district in respect of which such vacancy has occurred." When the late Governor ignored this written law, and treated it as a "mere scrap of paper," there was unquestionably an irregular, unconstitutional and reprehensible act committed; there was "an encroachment upon the rights of the subject," which, according to the dictum of that constitutional authority, Lord Brougham, was a "full justification of resistance to his authority." Resistance was threatened, and threatened to by the leaders of the present Government, Dr. Lloyd, Mr. Coakley, Mr. Halfyard, and by their supporters in the House of Assembly, and throughout the country. The threat was not carried out, because the threatening power, the Editor of the Herald, or any of his ilk, to influence them in their decisions on public matters, the patriotism which he is out for is the patriotism that pays. I wish to call public attention to a statement in his editorial of Saturday last. Here it is:

"It is sheer nonsense for a few scribblers, who represent nobody, and who would not be taken seriously by the public, if their identity was known, to be trying to hamper the Government in its efforts to cope with a very critical situation such as that which exists in every British community, and among our Allies as well. The most notable fact about the situation is that these writers are mainly men who have done nothing whatever for the Colony in its war work since the war began."

"Citizen" on the "Evening Herald."

Dear Sir,—One of the most amusing features about the now almost unanimous discussion in favor of Selective Conscription is the attitude adopted by the Evening Herald editor. From almost open hostility to the measure prior to the big meeting in the Casino Theatre on April 3rd, he would now have the public to believe that he is, and always was, in favor of it. Months ago when others were urging the Government to introduce it to save the Regiment, he wasted a lot of time in arguing against it. There is left yet, thank God, among some of the people of this country, an appreciation of common sense and decency, and they will not permit such political parasites as the Editor of the Herald, or any of his ilk, to influence them in their decisions on public matters. The patriotism which he is out for is the patriotism that pays. I wish to call public attention to a statement in his editorial of Saturday last. Here it is:

"It is sheer nonsense for a few scribblers, who represent nobody, and who would not be taken seriously by the public, if their identity was known, to be trying to hamper the Government in its efforts to cope with a very critical situation such as that which exists in every British community, and among our Allies as well. Wedding Bells.

On Monday afternoon, April 22nd, a very pretty wedding took place at the Wesley Church Parsonage, when Miss Ada Hiscock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hiscock, and Mr. Jackson Baker, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Baker, Harry's Hr., N.D.B., were united in holy matrimony by the Rev. H. Royle. The bride who was nearly attired in Copenhagen blue silk, with hat to match, was attended by Miss Pearl Snow, while Mr. Edgar Baker, brother of the groom, acted as best man. After the ceremony a supper was partaken at Wood's Restaurant, after which they were driven to the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. Hugh Hiscock, Spencer Street, where a very enjoyable evening was spent. The groom's present to the bride was a piece of silver plate and to the bridesmaids silver hatpins, and bridesmaids gold stick pins. The happy couple who were the recipients of many valuable and useful presents, will reside in future on Prescott St.

STERN OPPOSITION.
THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE.
To-day.—(By A.P.)—The stern opposition encountered by the German offensive in the region of the Somme and in Flanders, near Kemmel Hill, has prevented them, thus far, from developing a scale which they undoubtedly intended. Most of their attacks may now be regarded as an effort to prepare the way for a more extended operation, in the event of an important success at either point, but the resistance offered at both places, apparently discouraged the German Commanders from launching more serious attempts to break through in Picardy, where the Germans attempted to divide the French from the British, around Villers-Bretonneux, and Hangard, the line remained closed very much the same as it was before the attack was begun three days ago. There has been no resumption of infantry fighting since last night. The only result of the German onslaught was the loss of a large number of men without any advance, and certainly without obtaining a jumping off place for the hope for a real attack, which they had planned to make, if successful. The Allied Commander-in-Chief decided when the Germans occupied Villers and Hangard, that their continued possessions, by the enemy, would endanger the security of the line in front of Amiens, and immediately sent forces with orders to recapture them. The attacks at these points were executed with the greatest success, and success. Further north the Germans gained Kemmel Hill by the employment of nine divisions. The Allied Commander-in-Chief regarded it as unnecessary to make the sacrifice, which would have been made in regaining the lost territory, since it is not necessary to restore the maintenance of the Allied positions. In this way the Allied reserves are spared intact for future use. Meanwhile, the Germans are using up large numbers of their effectives, without obtaining the important objectives at which they aimed. There is confidence among the Allies in their ability to hold the Germans, wherever they choose to make a stand.

TRUTH FROM GERMANY.
LONDON, To-day.
A telephone from Reuter's correspondent at Amsterdam says: Extraordinary nervousness and depression prevails in Germany, owing to the losses in the western offensive, revealed with remarkable frankness by Capt. Von Salzmann, in the Vossische Zeitung, which he intends to restore their lost confidence in the Germans, by emphasizing the importance of the capture of Kemmel Hill. Capt. Von Salzmann enumerated a few of the serious rumors current in Germany, and all these stories are preceded by his remarks in the Reichstag. It is said, and proceeds to say our losses have been enormous. The offensive in the West has arrived at a deadlock; the enemy is much stronger than the French command assumed and we are unable to continue the offensive owing to lack of horses. The region before Ypres is a great lake and therefore impassable. The whole country, between our Amiens front and Paris, is mined, and will be blown up. The people, continues Salzmann, have begun to lose their nerves. Replying in the Reichstag the Minister of War said something like this: It goes without saying there is great losses in a struggle, and our losses on one part of the front have been very heavy. Two-thirds of the company leaders, in many regiments, have fallen. It is said that a certain deputy, thereupon told his electors in North Germany, "The Minister of War has openly declared our losses to be so heavy that the offensive must be abandoned."

FRENCH RE-CAPTURE LOCRE.
LONDON, To-day.
Heavy fighting has occurred at Loivre, since the French re-captured it Friday, with fluctuating results. According to the Reuter's correspondent, at least three German battalions, last evening, the French were reported to be again in possession, but the confusion in this sector, the correspondent adds, remains obscure, and the fighting continues.

Recent despatches have reported success for the Turks in Trans-Caucasia, where they have already captured the port of Batumi, on the eastern shores of the Black Sea, and were pressing on towards Kar's. Kar's was a strong fortified town and of great strategic importance to Russia. It lies on a steppes of 6,000 feet, and is connected by railway with Tiflis; it several times has been the scene of

STERN OPPOSITION.
THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, To-day.—(By A.P.)—The stern opposition encountered by the Germans, in the region of the Somme and in Flanders, near Kemmel Hill, has prevented them, thus far, from developing their renewed offensive on the great scale which they undoubtedly intended. Most of their attacks may be regarded as an effort to prepare the way for a more extended action, in the event of an important tactical success at either point, but the resistance offered at both places, apparently discouraged the German commanders from launching more serious attempts to break through. In Picardy, where the Germans attempted to divide the French front from the Ypres sector, they were heavily repulsed. A hostile attack in the neighborhood of Loivre was reported to be developing this afternoon. Otherwise the infantry action to-day has been confined to local engagements on different parts of the battle front. South of the Somme a number of prisoners have been brought in by our patrols. In the neighborhood of Villers-Bretonneux, artillery activity continued on both sides and this afternoon, the hostile artillery heavily bombarded our positions on the Ypres sector. The thick fog Saturday prevented aerial operations.

AND MANY OTHERS.
Speaking before the main committee of the German Reichstag, on Friday, according to Vorwärts, General Von Eisberg stated that on March 31st, the number of German missing had reached a total of 664,104. Of this number he said, 226,976 were prisoners in France, 119,000 in England, 157,000 in Russia and Rumania, and the remainder could be regarded as dead.

HAIG'S REPORT.
LONDON, To-day.—The fighting, to-day, along the British front in France, was largely confined to minor operations. According to Field Marshal Haig's report to-night, the British positions in the Ypres sector were heavily bombarded. A hostile attack in the neighborhood of Loivre was reported to be developing this afternoon. Otherwise the infantry action to-day has been confined to local engagements on different parts of the battle front. South of the Somme a number of prisoners have been brought in by our patrols. In the neighborhood of Villers-Bretonneux, artillery activity continued on both sides and this afternoon, the hostile artillery heavily bombarded our positions on the Ypres sector. The thick fog Saturday prevented aerial operations.

enemy alien. She was in a very nervous condition, and was sent to the prison yard at Bellevue Hospital. Miss Margaret Sullivan, her maid, was held as a material witness. Madame Beviatorica who also has been known as Madame Devussiere, is said to have come to the United States thro' Norway, on January 21st, 1917, as a passenger on the steamer Bergenford. She told Capt. Roger B. Hull, who questioned her that she was born in Buenos Aires. Federal authorities believe her real mission here, was to spread German propaganda among the Irish and is reported to have been chief aide to a Lieut. Commander of the German Navy, who reached home in December, 1916, and who has been working among Sinn Fein sympathizers, trying to get them to enlist in the British Navy in order to plant bombs on warships. The German Naval officer disappeared a few days ago, when he discovered that agents of the department of justice were trailing him. The bombs he wanted planted on British warships are supposed to have been similar to those Franz Von Rintelen and his associates, were convicted of placing on merchant ships. Madame Deviatrica, Government agents said, is known to be confined to bed for several weeks. Baron Hbondda from a very portly person, became in a short time extremely thin. He had boasted that he was able to maintain his health on a far smaller ration than he was imposing on the public. His temporary collapse seems to show that he overdid the short ration regime.

QUITE SATISFACTORY.

NEVER A SUCCESS, ANYHOW.
LONDON, To-day.—Baron Hbondda, Food Controller, who on Thursday tendered his resignation, which has not been accepted by Premier Lloyd George, is perhaps an example of over devotion in practice of his own theories. He has been confined to bed for several weeks. Baron Hbondda from a very portly

THE DUTCH YIELD.
LONDON, To-day.—(Bulletin.)—Holland has yielded to German's demands concerning transport, and the supply of sand and gravel, although it is understood that the amount of sand and gravel will be limited, according to a despatch from the Hague to the Daily Mail, dated Sunday. It is added that a general undertaking will be required from Germany, that the sand and gravel will not be used for military purposes. Rumors are current in the Dutch capital, the despatch adds, that Dr. Loudon, Minister of Foreign Affairs, will resign. This, it is said, is based on the supposition that he could not retain office, not that his undertaking respecting the gravel might be revoked. In summarizing the situation, the despatch continues, it is felt that the crisis with Germany has passed, although the solution is in no wise an ideal one for Holland.

RUSSIA'S BURDEN.
LONDON, April 29.—The Russian troops on the Finnish border, although forbidden to cross the frontier, have been ordered vigorously to resist any hostile attempts of troops to enter Russia, according to a Reuter despatch from Petrograd, dated 23rd April. Reports that the White Guards has occupied Bielostrai, on the Russo-Finland border, was denied officially. There has been fighting between the Red and White Guards, at a holiday resort, and several trains carrying wounded Red Guards have arrived in Petrograd. Viberg has been cut off from communication with Petrograd. The newspapers in Petrograd, it is added, have been forbidden to print news of military developments on the Russo-Finland border, except the bulletins issued by the city authorities.

EASIER ORDERED THAN DONE.
MOSCOW, To-day.—(Via Vladivostok.)—The Council of Commissioners has ordered the disarming of German and Ukrainian troops who invade Russian territory. This action has been taken in accordance with a declaration of the Russo-Finland border, which was confirmed by the Germans, that the military operations in the Ukraine must not be extended beyond the Ukrainian border.

WILL ACCEPT OFFICE.
AMSTERDAM, To-day.—Dr. Alexander Wekerle, according to a Budapest despatch to the Lokal Anzeiger, of Berlin, has accepted the invitation of Emperor Charles to form a Cabinet in succession to the one under his Premiership which resigned recently. He conferred for two hours Saturday, with Count Tisza, former Premier. Dr. Wekerle plans a coalition cabinet on the basis of compromise regarding the Suffrage Reform Bill.

AND STILL THEY COME.
LONDON, To-day.—The newest Russian Government, in Petrograd, according to the Aftonbladet, of Copenhagen, says an Exchange Telegraph Co. despatch, has denounced the Brest-Litovsk treaty, with Germany. It calls for a new treaty, with Estonia under Russian rule.

AUSTRIAN OFFENSIVE EXPECTED.
PARIS, To-day.—Since the beginning of the German offensive, there has been much talk here of an Austrian offensive against Italy. Austrian military critics, however, say such an offensive at the present moment is almost impossible. Great Austrian troop concentrations have taken place in the rear of Austrian lines, however, and it is expected here that an offensive will soon be launched.

WAR OFFICE REPORT.
PARIS Bulletin, To-day.—The War Office announces that the Germans made several attempts last night to advance on French positions in Hangard Wood, on the front before Amiens, but were checked by the French fire.

SPEED UP AMERICA.
WASHINGTON, To-day.—Forman announcement that American troops sent to reinforce the Allied armies, have taken part in the fighting, is made to-day by the War Department, in its weekly review of the situation. The review in emphasizing the immediate need of fresh men to withstand the German onslaught, adds that America's imperative duty is to provide replacement units for the French front.

VILLAGES TAKEN AND RETAKEN.
WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, To-day.—Hard fighting continued about Loivre and Voormezeele, but elsewhere, thus far, to-day has been a day of rest for the infantry as a whole. The battle for Loivre and Voormezeele has become more desperate. Both places have changed hands several times in the past 24 hours, and at the latest reports it was a "open break" for the British were in possession of Voormezeele, while the enemy seems to have succeeded early in the day in getting a foothold in Loivre again. An engagement, north of the Ypres Comines Canal, was in progress throughout most of the night, with the British holding doggedly and inflicting heavy losses on the attacking troops. The German casualties in this part of the front have been very severe. The German artillery was, to-day, smothering the ruins of Ypres in gas, and there was considerable artillery firing all along the line. Loivre has changed hands at least five times since Friday.

The Germans forced their way into the village after a sanguinary battle Friday, but were thrust out by a French counter attack that night, yet in the forenoon the enemy again attacked heavily and recovered the village, only to lose it when the French attacked in the afternoon.

This morning's assault was delivered about four o'clock, and while the Germans apparently had gained an entrance to the place, their tenure of it was being hotly contested by the Poilus. A similar fight has been waged for Voormezeele. The Germans retook the hamlet last night, but were able to hold it only a short time, for the British in a brilliant counter attack, stormed their way through the place and ejected the enemy. An attempted enemy attack near Villers-Bretonneux yesterday was smashed by artillery fire. The Germans concentrated east of the town in the forenoon, but the British gunners put down a heavy barrage among the troops and dispersed them.

GAS AND H. E. SHELLS.
LONDON, To-day.—The Germans this morning opened a heavy bombardment, with high explosive and gas shells, on the entire front between Loivre and Voormezeele, south and southwest of Ypres, the War Office announced to-day. Infantry attacks developed shortly afterwards.

The Latest Call--Startling--But True!

Reinforcements urgently needed to keep the Royal Newfoundland Regiment in the Front Line.

Men of Military Age! What About It?

Don't You Hear It? Won't You Heed It?

The sentiments of the majority of the people in this Dominion are strongly in favor of keeping our GLORIOUS REGIMENT at full strength and in the Front Line by voluntary enlistments if possible--if not--by some form of conscription.

Young Man! What Will You Be--A Volunteer or a Conscript?

This space given to the Regiment by MARSHALL BROTHERS.

So Foolish.

By RUTH CAMERON.

There is no more foolish and fewer common ways of wasting energy than torturing oneself with small, it might have been.

A few days ago, I made an unexpected visit to a friend. She lives at some distance from the station, but her husband's factory is near it and he goes to and from his work in a machine.

As I reached town just about the time he leaves his office, it occurred to me that I would call him up and let him take me home in his car, if convenient.

I had been writing a letter which I wanted to get off, and I looked first for a mail box. I had to go down a side street to find one. Then I retraced my steps, went into a drug store and telephoned.

Only Three Minutes Ago.

"Is Mr. H. there?" I asked.

"Just gone," was the answer.

"How long ago?" I asked (hoping it was a half hour at least).

But the fatal answer came, "About three minutes."

And immediately I was confronted with one of those little devils of regret.

"If I had only called him up before I posted that letter, I could have gotten him," I flattered myself. "Why on earth didn't I? The letter would have gone just as quickly."

The trip on the car consumes three quarters of an hour and includes several tedious waits at turnouts and a change of cars.

I Could Visualize Myself Doing It Over Again.

I was a bit afraid of being late for dinner, and every time the car stopped I flattered myself anew; "If I had only—I might be there by now," and Richard likes company on the trip—And I'll probably have to wait forever at the crossing, etc., etc.

I could visualize myself in my mind's eye telephoning first, and then posting the letter while waiting for Richard. It almost seemed as if, by

SHOE LORE.

When the short skirt was accepted as an institution, women began to be more particular about their footwear. As they grew wiser and surer of themselves and their places in world affairs, they began to use their splendid sense in demanding the proper shoes for their feet. They forced the makers of shoes change their lasts and they were obliged to make shoes for women that approached sane lines, just as they did for the men.

The present shoe has the long vamp and splendid appearance which characterizes the best of custom made shoes. The short vamp and the stubby toe are frowned on by all the best dressers. The long, slender foot, like the long tapering hand, has ever given the impression of aristocracy in the best accepted meaning of the word.

Some may say that there are more flat feet among women now than ever before, but it must be remembered that women are now using their feet as never before and, also, women have ceased to accept any old kind of shoe and are no longer willing to hobble about and suffer in silence. They are not afraid to kick if their feet trouble them and to try by every means to remedy that condition.

Given the consciousness of good shoes and good gloves and a woman can rise above the knowledge that her gown is not of the latest cut. Crown her with a becoming hat and she can forget the shortcomings of the remainder of her clothing.

Owing to the collapse in Russia, which allowed Germany to remove the main part of her Army from the Eastern to the Western front, the Allies have been severely handicapped in meeting the greatest offensive of the war.

There is an urgent call to all parts of the Empire for men.

In the United Kingdom steps are being taken to conscript all men up to the age of 61 years.

As a self-governing Dominion Newfoundland has been called upon to do her part in filling the gaps. We have been specially called upon by the Secretary of State for the Colonies to keep the Royal Newfoundland Regiment at its full war strength. Three hundred men (300) are required immediately and sixty (60) men additional per month. The need for these men is set forth in the despatch received Tuesday, April 9th, from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, which reads as follows:—

"April 9th.—Statement has been received from Army Council to the effect that the Newfoundland Regiment in France is now short of the authorized War Establishment by 170 men, and that the number of men under training in England is not sufficient to make up this deficit. Since very heavy fighting must be anticipated, at least 300 men will be required from Newfoundland as early as possible in order to bring the Battalion up to strength and an additional sixty men per month will be required to maintain it in the field.

"H. M. Government trust that your Government will be able to supply these men.

(Signed) LONG."

Conscription prevails throughout Canada and the United States, and Newfoundlanders in Canada are being conscripted.

Under the War Measures Act the Newfoundland Government have ordered:—

"That no unmarried man between the ages of twenty and thirty-five, who is eligible for the Army or Navy, shall be permitted to leave the Dominion.

"That no person whose name shall be allowed to leave the Dominion without a Passport.

Newfoundland must do its part, and cost what it will, the Regiment must be maintained. Our Regiment has performed deeds of valor equal to any in the history of the British Army.

Its gallantry in the field has won the recognition of the King by the bestowal of the glorious prefix "ROYAL".

It has earned so many encomiums from the Commander in Chief, the Divisional and Brigade Generals, that we cannot allow it to be withdrawn from the scene of conflict.

It has placed the name of Newfoundland on the Honour Roll of the nations. It would be an eternal disgrace to the eligible men of Newfoundland to allow the name to be erased from that Honour Roll by failing to keep the Regiment up to its full fighting strength.

An opportunity is now afforded the young men of the country to join the ranks.

On St. George's Day, the 23rd April, the Legislature will be convened, and immediate attention will be given to the consideration of the steps to be taken to maintain the Royal Newfoundland Regiment at full war strength.

In the meantime the need is urgent, and every effort should be made to answer the call from His Excellency the Governor and from the War Council, to enlist as many men as possible.

House of Assembly.

In the Assembly Saturday, petitions were presented by Messrs. Walsh, Currie and Grimes and Messrs. Currie and Grimes (fishery matters). That of Mr. Walsh was very important, dealing with the present Railway terminus at Placentia, the prayer of the petition being that the present site be reserved to a position inside the prayer which strongly supported the prayer. This petition and showed that at present the travelling public are dissatisfied with the existing conditions, which cause them much inconvenience. The whole West Coast as well as Placentia was anxious for the change and the service could never be successfully operated until the change was effected. Mr. Currie and Grimes gave the petition their complete support and trusted that the matter would be attended to at once. Messrs. Currie and Coaker also supported the petition.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries tabled reply to Mr. Walsh's petition on the operations of the "Priestman." The Minister of Public Works tabled information regarding the cost of remodeling the Stott Building, for the Militia Department asked for by Mr. Currie. The Acting Minister of Shipping promised to table the information asked for by Mr. Currie relative to the "Rutenjell," on Monday.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

The Military Service Act was given a third reading; ordered to be engrossed and sent to the Legislative Council for their concurrence. The Daylight Bill passed the Committee stage without amendment, and will be read a third time to-day.

The third reading of the Bill to extend the life of the present Assembly, was carried by a vote of 13 to 2, Messrs. Currie and Walsh voting against it.

Opposing this Bill Mr. Currie said that not alone was it an unconstitutional act, being forced by a Government which had not been chosen by the people, nor had it the popular consent, but it was ultra vires of the present constituted it has not the power to amend its own rules, which require 24 members to do so. Yet far more than that number (a little over half) are taking upon themselves the right to amend the Constitution, and to take thereunder a further lease of power for at least over eighteen months. He regarded this Bill as an outrage on decency, and asserted that it was the Government's price for passing a Conscription measure. As far as (Mr. Currie) was concerned he gave his support to the latter act, but would offer his strongest opposition to the Extension Bill, which he regarded as a gross violation of the constitutional rights of this Dominion.

Mr. Walsh, the only member representing the district of Placentia and St. Mary's, talked in a straightforward and manly fashion to the honorable gentlemen on the Government benches and told them that in their case they excused everything, on the plea that the war justified it, which was in reality not so, the polls of office being their chief consideration. Men on the Government side of the House have commissions in their pockets and do not intend to seek re-election. They were going to be shelved for life. Mr. Walsh was sure his constituents would stand by him in support of the attitude he had taken and challenged the Government to open the district of Placentia, and send their best man to contest it. He, himself, would at once resign his seat and fight the Government on the issue and come in victorious with an overwhelming majority. He owed it to his constituents and

"Well, well, Boskins! Good-morning!" said Koskins, fulsively. "This is indeed a pleasure! I haven't seen you for a long while!"

"No, not since last night," replied Boskins suspiciously.

"Well, has it been that long, really?" splurged Koskins. "Beautiful day, isn't it? It looked like rain yesterday, rather, didn't it? But Monday day was lovely, wasn't it? By the way, I'm chairman of Liberty Loan Committee No. 108-A. I know you've subscribed already, but—"

"Excuse me, I hear my car coming!" exclaimed Boskins economically. And he broke into a run and was quite out of breath when he boarded his trolley.

"Well, well, if it isn't Boskins!" cried a familiar voice. It was Sloshins. "Well, Boskins, the pleasure's all mine! Splendid day, isn't it? Can't tell what to-morrow'll be like, though, can we? Oh, er, Boskins—I'm Chairman of Liberty Loan Committee No. 867-B, and naturally—"

"Tush, I'd completely forgotten! I'd intended trying walking to the office for a change to cure my fallen arches!" exclaimed Boskins. And he leaped from the car before Sloshins had a chance to follow. Almost immediately he was approached by a stranger of the precisely opposite sex, with a magazine cover face, who, asperged, "You'll pardon me, won't you, but you see I'm pinning one of these cute little roosebuds on every man that gives me a subscription for a Liberty bond. See, I've gone and pinned yours on already!"

"Bully for you, my dear," beamed Boskins. "Would it be too much trouble to put me down for a thousand dollars' worth?"

Everyday Etiquette.

"Should a girl allow a man to call more than once a week?" was Martha's query.

"If she finds his society agreeable, there is no reason why she should not allow him the privilege of calling often," said her aunt.

Wild Scotch Cured Herring.

The arrival in New York of two cargoes of Newfoundland Scotch cured herring of the fall pack had little or no effect upon the market here, so utterly featureless was it. Practically nothing was sold out of either lot, almost most herring houses in New York had shipments. The steamship Prospero, of the Red Cross Line, brought approximately 2,000 barrels of Scotch style herring, along with some small quantities of split and round herring. The stock was offered on the basis of $30 per barrel for large lots, but it is understood that buyers were not interested, except as cold storage went with the purchase. On the other hand, merchants did not seem disposed to cut prices, and the situation thus became a reserved and cautious temperance. The Gordon C., a small cart, built on the lines of an ocean-going tug, brought a cargo which was shared by several importers. This was not sold, although the asking prices were on the level of those at the Red Cross steamer. The cold storage situation appears to have assumed proportions that are far more serious than was believed last week, and merchants in this city are much concerned as to the final outcome. Certainly there will be little trading in Newfoundland herring until relief has been assured; in fact, some of the largest importers have canceled orders for supplies which were shipped to New York. In the light of present developments, it is probable that there will be little trading in spring Newfoundland herring, and it is freely predicted that there will be a marked slump in prices for this product. Those who were prepared to make purchases have withdrawn from the market entirely to await further developments in the situation. At the same time reports from Newfoundland indicate that there will be a large pack during the coming season.—New York Fishing Gazette, April 13.

Household Notes.

Bananas can be made into delicious sauces which take very little seasoning.

A heated nail will drive into a plastered wall without chipping the plaster.

One good meaty soup bone will provide meat for the lunch and stock for soup.

A sleeve board is as necessary in a well fitted kitchen as the large ironing board.

Special Notice.

At the end of this year we will give 5 cts. for every 12 Outside Green Wrappers obtained from "STAFFORD'S LINIMENT."

We will also give $10.00 to the person forwarding us the largest number and $5.00 to the 2nd largest.

We will keep a record of every person forwarding us these wrappers from time to time and at the end of the year we will publish the names of the Winners.

"STAFFORD'S LINIMENT" is the Strongest and most penetrating Liniment for sale in Newfoundland and is sold before 500 stores.

It is the best Liniment you can use for RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO, NEURALGIA and all ACHES and PAINS. Owing to the cost of Bottles and Ingredients used in the manufacturing of this Liniment, we have had to advance the price a little, "but the bottle still remains the same size."

House of Assembly.

In the Assembly Saturday, petitions were presented by Messrs. Walsh, (fishery matters) and Grimes and (fishery matters). That of Mr. Walsh was very important, dealing with the present Railway terminus at Placentia, the prayer of the petition being that the present site be retained to a position inside the Gut. Mr. Walsh strongly supported the prayer of this petition and showed that it was the travelling public are disappointed with the existing conditions, which cause them much inconvenience. The whole West Coast as well as Placentia and the service could never be satisfactorily operated until the change at the terminal was effected. Mr. Walsh gave the petition his complete support and trusted that the matter would be attended to at once. Messrs. Currie and Coaker also supported the petition.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries tabled reply to Mr. Walsh's petition on the operations of the "Frishtman". The Minister of Public Works tabled information regarding the cost of reconstructing the Stott Building, for the Department asked for by Mr. Currie. The Acting Minister of Shipping promised to table the information asked for by Mr. Currie relative to the "Rutenjell", on Monday.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

The Military Service Act was given its third reading; ordered to be engrossed and sent to the Legislative Council for their concurrence.

The Daylight Bill passed the Committee stage without amendment, and will be read a third time to-day.

The third reading of the Bill to extend the life of the present Assembly was carried by a vote of 13 to 2. Messrs. Currie and Walsh voted against it.

Opposing this Bill Mr. Currie said that it was not an unconstitutional act, being forced by a Government which had not been chosen by the people, nor had it the popular confidence, but it was ultra vires of the House to pass the measure, as at present constituted it has not the power to amend its own rules, which require 24 members to do so. Yet far more than that number (a little over 20) are taking upon themselves the right to amend the Constitution, and are thereunder a further lease of power for at least over eighteen months. He regarded this Bill as an outrage on decency, and asserted that it was the Government's price for passing a Conscription measure. As far as he (Mr. Currie) was concerned he gave his support to the latter act but would offer his strongest opposition to the Extension Bill, which he regarded as a gross violation of the constitutional rights of this Dominion.

Mr. Walsh, the only member representing the district of Placentia and St. Mary's, talked in a straightforward and manly fashion to the honorable gentlemen on the Government benches and told them that in their case they excused everything, as the plea that the war justified it, which was in reality not so, the plea of office being their chief contention. Men on the Government side of the House have commissions in their pockets and do not intend to seek re-election. They were going to be elected for life. Mr. Walsh was sure his constituents would stand by him in support of the attitude he had taken and challenged the Government to open the district of Placentia and send their best man to contest it. He himself would at once resign his seat and fight the Government on the issue and come in victorious with an overwhelming majority, as he owed it to his constituents and could do nothing less than oppose the Extension Bill, regarding it as a gross violation of the people's rights, and he felt sure the country would agree with him if given an opportunity to express itself.

Mr. Grimes made a few observations and explained why he had changed his views regarding an election; the burden of which was that the war had now reached such a stage that it would not be right to hold an election.

The remaining Bills on the order paper were deferred until to-day.

Several notices of question were tabled by Messrs. Currie and Walsh.

Before moving an adjournment, the Prime Minister rose and announced to the House that the Government to-day (Saturday) had taken over the "Placentia" newspaper on account of what he termed its anti-recruiting attitude. Mr. Lloyd informed the Government to deal in like manner with any other paper or person who offers obstruction to the Military Service Act.

The House then adjourned until to-day at 3 o'clock.

FITZGERALD—FINN.

On Sunday, April the 28th, at St. Patrick's Church, Miss Ethel Fitzgerald, daughter of Mrs. Mary and the late Capt. Wm. Fitzgerald, and Mr. Wm. B. Finn, son of our highly esteemed townsman—Mr. Patrick Finn, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The knot was tied by the Rt. Rev. Mons. McCarthy, our zealous and kindhearted pastor. The bride wore a costume of cream whipcord with hat of pink meline, and carried a prayer book. She was given away by her uncle, Mr. John McCarthy, and was attended by her sister, Miss Ellie M. Fitzgerald. Mr. Patrick Finn, brother of the groom acted as best man. After the ceremony, supper was served at the residence of the bride's mother, Central Hotel, Water Street. The presents received by the bride were equal in number to her large circle of friends, and typical in worth of the sincerity of their many good wishes. The groom's present to the bride was gold ear-rings, and to the bridesmaid a gold scarf-pin. Mr. and Mrs. Finn will reside at their new home on Water Street. May their lives be long blest with health, and cheered by prosperity.

The Tessiers "Over There."

A private message was received on Saturday from the old country stating that Sergt. Ralph Tessier, of "Ours" had been wounded, having had his left wrist badly shattered, but was progressing favourably. He is the fourth member of the family to engage in war work, having two brothers and a sister "over there," viz., Sergt. Ernest Tessier of the 15 Battalion, Canadians, who was in the trenches continuously for 23 months before being wounded, and is now attached to the Ontario Reserve Depot. Corp. William Tessier with "Ours" now at Wandsworth Hospital recovering from severe wounds. Miss Ruby Tessier, who graduated as a nurse at Montreal, Canada, is now attached to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Netley, England. Besides those the other members of the family have been actively engaged in war work at home and like other old St. John's families have not counted the cost in their loyalty to the Empire.

Police Court.

As to who is the lawful owner of a 11 months-old "rooster", was the first case that His Honor Judge Morris had to decide this morning. The complainant, a man, stated that his bird strayed away from his home about Xmas and only returned recently. The defendant, a young girl and her mother, claimed that the "cock-a-doodle-do" in question belonged to them, and was not the bird which strayed away from the home of the complainant. To even matters up the defendant captured one of the complainant's roosters and held it in custody, which resulted in the bird trouble being brought into court. The evidence given by the complainant being only "featherweight", His Honor solved the solution by an exchange of birds and dismissed the case. Both parties had to pay their own costs.

For using abusive, vile and insulting language towards a man and his family, who reside at Long Pond, near Kelligrews, a woman of the same place was fined $2 and costs or 5 days in jail. The quarrel was one of the kind that should not be tolerated in decent society. The parties involved were severely censured by His Honor.

Timely Sermon

At the Cathedral last night Rev. O. H. Bartin, M.A., was the preacher and his discourse was listened to with rapt attention. Taking for his text the words "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God," the preacher dwelt on the heroic conduct of the Allied armies in the present combat, and particularly referred to the gallantry of the Royal Newfoundland Regiment, and the prime necessity for immediate reinforcements. The efficacy of prayer for success to our arms was discussed upon. Altogether the sermon was most instructive; the choice language and perfect diction combining to make it one of the best addresses it has been our pleasure to hear.

How Carey Closed the Gap to Amiens.

Got His Orders at 3 a.m. and Proceeded to Gather Men of Every Kind to Fight—Only Knew He Had to Hold—So the Monarch Force Held for Six Days, Inspired by Their Leader, Tireless and Fearless.

London, April 11.—Brig. Gen. Samdeman Carey, to whose splendid achievement during the first phase of the great battle now raging in France Premier Lloyd George paid such a high tribute in the House of Commons, is one of those fortunate individuals to whom chance has come after years of preparation and who has proved himself equal to it.

An old regular officer, sprung from a well-known Guernsey family, he commanded a battery of field artillery in the South African war. In the present war he had won a Commandership of the Bath before his recent feat, and been promoted to a Brigadier, but he was only an artillery General, and he had no reason to hope for an opportunity of special distinction.

His chance came suddenly on the sixth day of the German offensive. The enemy had entered Albert and Roye and were advancing rapidly along the Somme River. The weak spot from the British front, from near Sully-Laurette to the little stream called the Luce River, was right ahead of them, but no troops could be found at the moment to reinforce it. Only some details and odds and ends of the various supply forces were within reach and never had a British Army greater cause to bless the efficiency of its flying men than when they beat off the hostile scouts and prevented them from discovering it.

Somehow such men in khaki as these were must be collected. Somehow they must be organized into a fighting unit and thrown into the breach, and somehow they must hold on, and keep the enemy back until they could be relieved.

At 2 o'clock in the morning of March 26 orders came to General Carey. He must leave his guns, command a force of infantry from the waste around him, and hold on. He went to work at once, and by use of the telephone, by messenger, by flag signals he rounded up every available man.

First there were labor battalions of sturdy middle-aged men, the despair of the military martinet, but strong as oxen, and mighty bruisers at close quarters. An infantry training school nearby provided some members of the fighting force, and machine gunners, electricians, and signallers were quite ready to take to the rifle again. Royal engineers, field companies, and last, but by no means least, a party of American engineers were thrown into the line.

By the middle of the next morning Carey had found a considerable number of men and by the early part of the afternoon he had organized them into some sort of force and had selected and marked out the position it must hold.

For a time he had some guns, but these were hurried away to another point that was even more seriously threatened. He had fifty cavalrymen to do a little scouting, but in the main he had to depend entirely on the sheer grit of his scratch force, who lay in their shallow trenches, firing almost point blank at the gray hordes of Germans, and at every moment of respite seized their shovels to improve their shelters.

For nearly six days they stuck to it, and, as Lord George said, "they held the German Army and closed that gap on the way to Amiens."

After a time they got some artillery behind them and things were easier, but at first it was just a ding-dong fight, with soldiers taking orders from strange officers, officers learning the ground by having to defend it, and every man from the enlisted man to Brigadier jumping at each job as it came along and putting it through with all his might.

During all that six days General Carey was the life and inspiration of the entire force. Careless of danger, he rode along the hastily intrenched line giving an order here and shouting words of encouragement there to his weary and hard-pressed men.

His staff was as hastily recruited as his men. He had no knowledge of how long he must hold out. He was not even certain of getting supplies of ammunition and provisions.

All he had to do was to hang on, and hang on he did against an almost endless series of formidable attacks. He never lost heart or wavered, and so the Germans are still outside of Amiens.

Dummy Dreadnaughts of the British Fleet.

By the use of dummy battleships the British fleet succeeded in deceiving the German naval forces for a period of several months. Indeed, it was the sagacious manoeuvring of a British squadron of dummy battleships mounting dummy guns which deceived the Germans for quite a while in the North Sea, and finally decoyed them into the Dogger Bank battle which ended rather disastrously for them. Dummy battleships were also employed in the naval operations against the German and Turkish forces in the Dardanelles, with presumably good effect. But now that the dummy battleships have served their purpose and the Germans are in on the amazing and jealously guarded secret of the existence of such a fleet, they have more or less lost their value. After all, such a ruse de guerre has a very limited life; its success must be achieved early in the game, otherwise it is doomed to failure, but it shows what is perhaps, the most remarkable kind of camouflage yet undertaken. By providing steamers with wooden and canvas covers, the British camouflagers succeeded in securing the general outlines of well known capital ships of their navy. Guns, turrets, tripod masts and other features were represented in convincing enough scenery. By making use of dummy battleships the British obviously gained a tremendous advantage. While the prototype was doing service elsewhere, the sham battleship was exerting the desired effect on the enemy. As likely as not on more than one occasion the appearance of a fleet of dummy battleships discouraged the enemy from attacking, since in this war the establishment of an apparent superiority of naval forces serves as a check to the enemy, who does not attempt battle in the face of such evident odds.—Scientific American.

Title-Worshippers.

W. F. Nickle, of Kingston, has introduced a resolution in Parliament protesting against the conferring of hereditary titles on persons resident in Canada, and barring the wife of a knight from the title of "Lady." And now we are informed by an esteemed contemporary that the wife of a knight has no right to the title of "Lady," and that it is merely by courtesy she receives the title. A candid friend informed the Sentinel-Review not long ago that it was all nonsense to say that the people of Canada were not title-worshippers. They insist on fixing handles not only to the names of people who have had honors conferred on them, but to people who have no right to them whatever. And the newspapers, according to this candid friend, are among the worst offenders. They insist in printing it "Lady" Jones when the woman has no proper claim to any other distinction than plain Mrs. Jones. They insist on printing it "Capt" Smith or "Major" Brown when plain "Mr." is as much as the law allows. They insist on styling certain people "Honorable" who are entitled to the distinction by neither law nor courtesy. Perhaps we are all in need of light on this subject.—From the Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

AN APPEAL

I am addressing this Appeal to all the people of Newfoundland, but especially to those of the Outports.

Your Government have decided to make another special attempt to obtain further recruits for the duties forced upon us by the War. I am anxious to explain to you in simple and strong words why those duties are yours.

In your sea-girt home you have, I know, your own dangers and anxieties to face. As I write this my mind is still full of the appalling disaster to the Florida. But War you do not realise; you are beyond the sound of the guns which, in the South East corner of England, I have heard day after day breaking in upon the beauty and calmness of the summer air.

That awe-inspiring rumble of the guns which I ask you to imagine—that lurid light on the horizon which I ask you to picture are the signs of a terrible struggle for Right—of a mighty effort to save from ruin, not only France, but every bit of free soil in the world, including this island of which you are so proud. The awful struggle seems to be approaching its climax now and your close kinsmen are in the middle of it.

Some may ask, What is the danger? and it is my purpose to endeavour to make it clear to you.

By some permission of Divine Providence, which we do not understand, a nation of criminals is now attacking all that is just and true in the whole world. Germany has set herself deliberately to violate every law of Right and every principle of Humanity.

Never before in History has a War been planned like this. Hitherto all wars have had some sort of pretext of right or impulse of passion. It has been reserved to the German military party to plot wilfully and wantonly a great crime against the peace of mankind.

And the hypocrisy with which Germany supports the crime makes it still more abominable. As Judas treated the Christ, Germany is treating Civilization. Under appeals to God, Germany masks the utmost malignities of the devil. The German nation to-day knows no Law except that of the pagan, the liar, the ravisher, the murderer. They are a curse let loose on the Earth. And the task demanded of all of us is to fight and conquer this curse just as in our moral life we are bound to fight and conquer Sin. The Cause is a far broader and holier Cause than that which impelled the Crusaders against the Saracens.

We may thank God that the greater nations of the World have realised the justice of the Cause; and I believe that every man in Newfoundland will one day be thankful that he was at least asked to face this question—"Is it not my higher duty to go out and save humanity from destruction?"

Remember that your wives, your children, your cottages, your boats, are in positive danger if the German breaks through France. As he is treating the foolish Russians, so he will treat every nation whom he touches—America, Canada, Newfoundland, are to him mere objectives for his greedy brutality. He is entirely evil, he has no sense of right and no feelings of Mercy.

This mass of incarnate selfishness is held back by the strong arm of the Allies in France. Will any man of British race decline to do all he can to defeat and crush it?

At this moment the need is specially great, for the Germans are now desperate. They begin to realise the truth of that dread decree "He that takes the sword, shall perish with the sword." At no horror will they hesitate if they can but escape the punishment that is their due.

Now on every man and woman among us lies the duty to bear a hand in administering that punishment a duty not only to ourselves but to posterity. If age or health prevent some of us from going they do not prevent us from following the greatest example ever set to mankind and making the sacrifice of that which is dearest to our hearts.

You young men I ask to listen carefully to the appeals which will once more be made to you in the next few weeks. Believe me that the voluntary act of a man, impelled by the high sense of duty, is far nobler than the mere obedience to the provisions of a public enactment.

One special word I say to women. Try to realise the sufferings of women and children wherever the Germans come: think of the little children starved in Belgium and slaughtered in cold blood in Armenia. Let your men folk stand out and protect you, for in helping to defeat the Germans they are protecting the honour and safety of all their dear ones at home.

Smallpox and Vaccination.

Smallpox is a disease which has caused the death of millions of people in the eighteenth century smallpox epidemic in Europe. Sixty per cent. of the deaths in England in that century were due to that disease.

In 1788, after years of study and observation, Jenner announced the discovery of a preventive measure in vaccination. Since that time smallpox has prevailed in various countries in practically direct proportion to the number of unvaccinated persons in those countries.

There have always been opponents of vaccination. Until within recent years, there was a possibility that smallpox might be transmitted through operation, although the instances in which this happened were very few in number. Now, however, vaccination is prepared under conditions which entirely eliminate such a possibility, and there is to-day no reasonable ground for opposition to the operation.

After the American occupation of the Philippines, 3,500,000 of the inhabitants of the Islands were vaccinated about any untoward results, and in consequence there are now no deaths of smallpox in the Province so far as is known, although formerly this disease caused in the neighborhood 10,000 lives yearly in these provinces.

In Havana, during the eight years of American occupation, there were 3,132 deaths from smallpox. Americans carried on a general vaccination. In the eight succeeding years, the deaths from this disease averaged seven.

The experience of the French and the American armies, during the Franco-German war, 1870-71 is worth noting. German soldiers were re-vaccinated; although vaccination at that time was optional for the French population. In France, vaccination was carried out very persistently, both amongst civilians and the military. Both armies were struck by smallpox. The French had 25,000 soldiers, the Germans only 15,000. And in the same tent, breathing the same air, the French wounded were heavily visited by the disease, while the German wounded were not.

The extent of the substitution has been so extensive that the gloves, and the leather and the articles of clothing, these substitutes being worn by the soldiers, have been made into shirts, and the same air, when someone was heavily visited by the disease, was not.

The Department of Public Health of Nova Scotia, in the eighteenth century smallpox is said to have caused the death of 100,000 people in Europe. Sixty per cent of the deaths in England that century were due to that disease.
In 1778, after years of study and experiment, Jenner announced the discovery of a preventive measure in vaccination. Since that time smallpox has prevailed in various countries practically in direct proportion to the number of unvaccinated persons in those countries.
There have always been opponents of vaccination. Until within recent years there was a possibility that smallpox might be transmitted through operation, although the instances which this happened were very small in number. Now, however, vaccination is prepared under conditions which entirely eliminate such a possibility, and there is to-day no reasonable ground for opposition to the operation.
After the American occupation of the Philippines, 3,500,000 of the inhabitants of the islands were vaccinated against any untoward results, and in consequence there are now no deaths from smallpox in the Philippines so far as the neighborhood of 100,000 lives yearly in these provinces.

The experience of the French and German armies, during the Franco-German war, 1870-71 is worth noting. The German soldiers were re-vaccinated; although vaccination at that time was optional for the French population. In France, vaccination was carried out very persistently, both amongst civilians and the military. Both armies were vaccinated by smallpox. The French had 23,000 soldiers, the Germans only 100,000. And in the same tent, breathing the same air the French wounded were heavily visited by the disease, while the German wounded, having been re-vaccinated, had not a single case." (Sajon's Annual.)
A few years ago, when smallpox became somewhat prevalent in New York City, 800,000 people were vaccinated without a bad result.
Quite recently smallpox assumed epidemic form in Niagara Falls, N.Y., a city of about 35,000 population. A strong prejudice against vaccination had been developed there and a large proportion of the inhabitants were not protected. The disease became so prevalent that the State Board of Health was obliged to interfere. Within a short time 20,000 people were vaccinated and the disease was stamped out. It is interesting to note that it was particularly amongst the well-to-do people of Niagara Falls, those living under excellent sanitary conditions, that the disease prevailed.
Vaccination has saved millions upon millions of lives. As performed to-day it is a safe operation, seldom causing anything more than a few days of trifling indisposition. If the vaccinated area is kept clean and free from infection by other germs than those contained in the vaccine, a really sore arm does not result. The immunity conferred lasts from five to seven years. Re-vaccination at five year intervals practically guarantees one safety from infection by smallpox.
The vaccinated person is a safe member of the community. Can the same be said of the unvaccinated person?

Substitute for Leather.

UNHARMED BY WATER.
The extremely high price of leather has been a factor in producing a new substitute which is already being used extensively in making workmen's gloves, and other articles, and is proving to be more durable than the split leather used for that purpose, says an article in the May Popular Mechanics Magazine. Unlike leather, this substitute does not harden after being wet, but dries soft and pliable.
The fruit that is in season should be made most of, especially for desserts.
Tomato sauce is far more savory when seasoned with just a sliver of onion.

In Loving Memory

Of Sergeant Ludwig D. Hoddinott, Killed in Action, Somewhere in France, April 14th, 1917, Aged 24 Years.

Ludwig, darling, we are parted,
Yes, parted for a little while,
Till this warfare here is ended,
Then in Glory we shall shine.

Yes, my darling, well we miss you,
And our hearts are torn with care;
You are missing from the circle,
None can fill the vacant chair.

Oh, in fancy you are with us,
And your gentle face we see
As it was in days of childhood,
When you knelt at mother's knee.

But the thought of being a soldier,
And the cry of Empire, come!
Sent you forth to fight for freedom,
And protect your Island Home.

You have fought among the bravest,
Who did fight like Heroes, true,
When upon the fields of battle,
With the enemy in view.

But you are sleeping with the bravest,
Far beyond this life of care,
Away beyond the noise of cannon,
Where you sleep so nobly there.

P. L. HUSSEY.

Coopers' Shavings.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—My attention was called to an item in one of our local papers, that the "Dredger" was about to dredge near the Dry Dock, West End. Now, sir, I would like to ask our City Councilors to get busy and stop the coopers on the South Side from throwing shavings, etc., over the bank owned, I presume, by the city, along the shore from South Side Bridge up to White's, or further. These shavings are thrown out from the coopers' shops and then they are carried down the river and when well soaked float down and sink; this, with the mud fills up the passage below the Bridge, and causes the city to call on the Dredger so often to clear the passage, while there are so many other coves in our harbor that need looking after. Let the Councilors look after this matter and I think they will agree with me that this place should be cleaned up, etc. those who use this for a dumping ground have the place shored up like the Reids have done on the other side, otherwise order them to burn their shavings, and not allow them to continue dumping them into the river as they have been doing so long.
"VISITOR."
April 29, 1918.

John Redmond.

The death of John Redmond the great Irish patriot, is a national loss, especially at this crisis of Irish affairs. For thirty-seven years he has occupied a seat in the British Parliament and whilst he has been uncompromising in presenting the claims of Home Rule, he has been so patient and fair, so moderate and conciliatory as to command the respect and even admiration of those opposed to him. He has fought for Home Rule with great ability, dignity and good judgment. Even Sir Edward Carson, the determined leader of the Ulsterites against Home Rule, recalling that he has known Mr. Redmond for thirty-five years, said he could say with absolute sincerity, that during the whole of that time, "I cannot recollect that one bitter or personal word ever passed between John Redmond and myself."
Premier Lloyd George and ex-Premier Asquith paid high tribute to his memory. When the war broke out Mr. Redmond took an active part in the enlistment campaign. His brother, Major Redmond, gave his life for the nation, and his son has been decorated for conspicuous bravery in action. He was greatly grieved at the extreme and rebellious attitude of the Sinn Feiners. His last words to the Premier were a plea for concord between the two races in his country.
The most fitting possible monument to the memory of this noble patriot would be the early unification of all sections of Ireland under an equitable Home Rule. It is thought that the choice of his successor as Irish Nationalist Leader lies between John Great Municipal Organ Installed in Denver.

Dillon and Joseph Devlin, the former being the more probable.—The West-lyan.

An $85,000 municipal pipe organ whose size and special features make it one of the greatest instruments of its type in this country has just been installed in the Denver Auditorium, a municipal assembling place seating 14,000 persons, says the May Popular Mechanics Magazine. In it are combined the qualities of a cathedral organ and a symphony orchestra. Some conception of its size may be gained from the fact that the largest of the pipes stands two stories high, is 40 in. square at the large end, and weighs 1,250 lb., while the diameter of the smallest pipe is about that of a straw, and it weighs half an ounce.

The success with which orchestral effects can be produced makes the organ particularly suited for giving recitals of a popular character, as well as for accompanying large bodies of singers. With its rich tones, can be produced that are wonderfully like the violin, and the flute, clarinet, and oboe are simulated in an equally striking way, while the mighty tubas and the diapasons furnish tone color that is pronounced truly impressive.

Household Notes.

Left-over chicken can be served in patties.
Scalloped celery is a good luncheon dish.
Apple sauce is nice served with baked beans.
Cold mashed potato may be added to doughnuts.

Household Notes.

The white of an egg makes a good application for a burn.
Shortening for pie crust should be "cut" into the flour.
Potatoes in pudding mixtures are quite possible nowadays.
Apples added to the rhubarb pie make a great improvement.
Ice cream that is coarse grained has been frozen too quickly.
Put raisins in rice pudding and you won't have to use sugar.
Olive oil is excellent with boiled cabbage, lettuce or beet tops.
Skirts should be suspended from the bottom of the clothesline.
Chicken legs can be scalded, skinned and put into the soup pot.
If eggs are plenty make them into a dinner dish and save the meat.
Boiled rice can form part of a child's school lunch to save bread.

Apples can be cooked on top of the stove quite as well as in the oven.
Teach the children to use honey as much as possible to save sugar.
A pinch of salt should be added to cakes and to most puddings.
Apples and oranges will keep better if they do not touch each other.
Salsify is a very wholesome vegetable which should be better known.
The marrow from the soup bone makes a pleasant addition to soup.
Cornstarch should be cooked fifteen minutes to be cooked thoroughly.
As spring comes on it is desirable to use very little meat in the menu.
