JUDGE MILLER ON TRIAL

MR. BAGER'S CHARGES AGAINST HALION'S JUSTICE.

ice That Deputy Attorney General

MILTON, Dec. 20 .- As an out tain charges made on the nomination day be-fore the last election at Milton by Mr. W. L. P. Eager against Thomas Miller, Esq., Judge of Halton County, an investigation into these charges at the latter's request was held here of outsiders.

Mr. Eager has been a resident of Milton for thirty-five years and has held the position of Registra and County Court Clerk since 1855. The charge he has made against Judge Miller is a grave one, and if sustained would affect his judicial position very seriously. It is that of partiality in judgments which he has given in cases in which Mr. Eager has been interested. It has arisen from his refinal to collect tees for the granting of probases of will and of letters of administration, on the ground that such fees were unwarrantably high.

Mr. Johnston gave no decision to-day, but will place a mass of evidence before the Ontario Government for consideration.

There were eminent counsel present in the person of Mr. S. H. Blake, Q.C., who appeared for Mr. Eager, and Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., of or Judge Miller.

The first witness called was George W. Blaxell, a clerk in Mr. Eager's office.

He said he had reported Mr. Eager's speech in Milton Town Hall on Aug. 15—when the charges are said to have been made—and gave a summary of it to The Globe, It was a correct report published in The Globe, It was a correct report published in The Globe of Aug. 16.

understanding between Mr. Eager and himself or not.

Mr. Eager called stated that Judge Miller had made a tariff about 1873 to fix the surrogate fees to be received by him and purporting to be under the statute. He said the judge had given verbal instructions to his (Eager's) clerk to collect certain surrogate fees which Mr. Eager refused to allow unless written instructions were furnished. The difference in tariff under the statute and the judge's tariff on probate grants was in the fees ranging from $4000 to $8000. The judge, witness alleges, made a sharge of $5 m place of $5. Witness then mentioned a number of cases in which the $5 had been collected. Mr. Eager was about to cite a case of Campbell v Burger when Mr. Osler objected, as he claimed Mr. Eager had nothing to do with this, and if this case was permitted to be brought up it would open nothing to do with this, and if this case was permitted to be brought up it would open every case tried by Judge Miller.

Mr. Blake contended that the Commissioner about oursel had adduced their arguments the Commissioner decided to hear the evidence autject to Mr. Osler's objections.

The witness, continuing, said he had stopped making excessive charges in the Surrogate Court. His clerk told the judge of this refusal to collect the extra fees, "and when I asw Judge Millar," said the witness, "he told me I should obey his orders. Judge Miller. The Professor showed the importance of localization in the brain, especially with reference to zertain discussed to get justice in any case tried before him, are interested and the balances of cases where suggeons were sale from certain symptons in various parts of the body, to locate the court. I got advice from a Toronto lawyer showing that he had authority for granting such a certificate; but the judge refused. The case was then tried before a judge and a jury. My complaint in the Hawthorn v. Eager suit is cases in which he alleged justice had not been done him.

At the Court of Revision in Milton in 1880, with Mr. John White as chairman, witness said, 'Judge Miller was present and insisted on my assessment being raised." Mr. Eager entered in to the details of this charge. anid, "Judge Miller was present and insisted on my assessment being raised." Mr. Eager entered in to the details of this charge.

A host of other witnesses was then examined until the name of Judge Miller was called. The circuid of Miltonites pricked up their ears to hear what the judge would have be say in refutation of the charges made against life. He had been a judge miller was closed on the charges made against life. He had been a judge in Halton since the county court judges, when it is judges, the conclusion that all judges were entitled to collect a fee on amounts between $4000 and $8000, and the judges, it believe, arrived at the conclusion that all judges were entitled to collect a fee on amounts between $4000 and $8000, and the life is pleased. The fees were collected until Mr. Eager refused and I said he could do as be pleased. Tays a decision on the Dalpy case to the best of my judgment. I never had any feeling against Mr. Eager.

Bennett and White Refuse to go to Boston.

DETROIT, Dec. 20.—Difector Billings of the Bostons came to Detroit last evening to sign Bennett and White but signed neither. Bennett demanded $4000 salary and $1000 for sighing. Billings was wifting to give him $3500 and $500. Stearns was disappointed and showed it. He said that Rowe would play in Pittaburg notwithstanding his purchase with White of the Buffalo franchise, and showed a telegram from President Young, in which the latter said Rowe and White could not play with Buffalo. Mr. Billings also saw White but did nothing with the "Deacon," who insisted that he was going to Buffalo. White says that he and Rowe mids with Buffalo.

Mr. Billings also saw White but did nothing with the "Deacon," who insisted that he was going to Buffalo. White says that he and Rowe play with Buffalo if such a thing is possible, but he will not jeopardize the Buffalo franchise. It is thought that Bennett will not yield but will join in the rebellion with White and Rows and either go to Buffalo with them or play in the Detroit International Club, Bennett's refusal to sign with Boston knocks another $4000 out of the old Detroit club's treasury, making a total loss to them now of $11,000.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—In his speech at Scarbor yesterday Lord Salisbury said the ministry had no intention of entangling the country in a new Soudan expedition but they could not abandon Suakim. The English, Egyptian and Turkish ministries was unanimously of opinion that Suakim must not be abandoned.

Lord Salisbury continued: "As long as the Khedive desires it we shall maintain the Red Sea ports. We are bound under the promise made by Mr. Glacktone's Government to do so. A British statesman's first duty is to prevent foreigners from thinking that every change of Governmens must necessarily mean the changing of our foreign policy. It would be madness to surrender Suakim when we are on the eve of suppressing slavery, because the final struggle with the alave dealers must be fought upon the Red Sea. By the treaty of Paris we are bound to uphold the integrity of the Sultan's emirs.

In the afternoon Mr. Gilmore, vice-President of the society, occupied the chair. The following propositions were the subject of discussion:

1. In sending out missionaries in connection with established missions among civilized peoples, why should not preparation be made at home sufficient to enable the missionary at once to enter upon active work, under the direction of missionaries on the field? For example:

The annual ball of the Parkdale Cricket Club was held last night in Masonic Hall at Parkdale. That it was a brilliant success goes without saying, for the management of the affair was excellent, thanks to the efforts of Mr. S. W. Black, the hon, secretary. The hall was tastefully decorated with nagastreamers, mottos and a novelty in the way of plate glass mirrors. The room was just comfortably filled and pleasant for dancing, the only drawback being that the floor was somewhat slippery. It was certainly a most enjoyable gathering and many preity faces among the fair-sex were visible. The refreshments were tempting.

The Leanung of the Master's Mind.

In the course of the discussion the Master said that whether Mr. Campbell acted discreetly or indiscreetly in the redemption of the notes, there was apparently some warrant for their redemption. "But," said he, "apart from this question, it appears to me that if in law the basis was not liable, and can defeat any right of claim by the holders of these Teptes from Osgoods Hall.

Judge McMahon will today fix the date and place of trial in the Halton election petition (Dom.)

The Common Pleas Divisional Court sit toany right of claim by the holders of these notes or deposit receipts, Mr. Campbell cannot be shlowed dredit for these transactions. There is an atmosphere of wrong-doing in respect to these issues. That Mr. Campbell had to do with one of these deposit receipts is clear; but he may have been just as innocent as any one of the banks with whom the receipts were negotiated. Up to the time of the interview between Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Campbell the evidence is not of that kind which I should attach much importance to; in fact, I think I should be inclined to leave it out. The evidence of Mr. O'Brien is important as to whether Mr. Campbell had sufficient knowledge to put him on inquiry, and whether acting after that notice he acted in the interests of the bank. The chref point now to be considered is whether the bank was liable for the issues of the four $10,000 deposit receipts and the $50 bills."

On this point Mr. Bain will address the Master this afternoon.

Every possible scheme is adopted for getting rid of sums of from a quarter of a million to a million at a time. Witness the proposed public buildings, for the site of which the council gave about a million, while the Ontario government, who are also putting up partiament buildings, get a site in our rapidly diminishing Queen's Park, for which we are now paying an annual rental of $6000, besides keeping it mp, while the Ontario Government own several valuable blocks in the city, and are actually at the present time selling build-keeping it no, while the Ontario Government own several valuable blocks in the city, and are actually at the present time selling building lots to the highest bidders by tender. The Don improvement scheme is going to cost an unknown sum, and is a job entirely beyond the capacity of our present council. A vast sum was paid for the land, the purchase of which for some reason, was deferred until the work was well under way; since then of course, it cost twice what it ought. The King street subway is another premature and costly job. The city is paying more than half the cost of the bridges at Dundas-street crossing, besides agreeing to maintain them forever, when, as every one knows, the law compels railways to put up such bridges and to maintain them. Experts have been employed and are now preparing plans and reports for the re-organization of our water and sewer systems, which will, as far a expense goes, eclipse all the other schemes put together. Then there is a Drunkards Homs to be established, and various other, such minor enteriness, two numerous to mension.

It must be quite as evident to many others, as myself, that a change must be brought about in the conduct of our affairs. The elections are appresseding, and it will be in the power of the ratersayers to elect the most competent men to manage their business.
