LAST OF WELL KNOWN FAMILY

Mrs. E. H. Garden, Sister of Judge Savary, Formerly of Marysville, N. B.

The last of the well known Savary family of Annapolis and Digby counties has passed away. Mrs. E. H. Garden, widow of James A. Garden, of Lynnton, died on Sunday. She was the second daughter of the late Sabine Savary and was a sister of the late Judge A. W. Savary, of Annapolis Royal, until his death the last survivor but one of the first parliament of Canada. Judge Savary, who died last summer, was prominent as an author and Loyalist historian and as a leader in the Church of England in Canada.

Mrs. Garden was a devoted member of the Anglican church. She is survived by one son, Rev. A. W. S. Garden, formerly an Episcopal rector in San Antonio (Tex.), and now of Erie (Pa.) A sister, Miss Margaret Savary, died last September.

Mrs. Garden's late husband was, for many years, postmaster at Marysville, N. B.

FREE PUBLICITY

Brother Newspaper Men, Has It Made You Rich?

A number of weekly newspapers are inserting an alleged piece of humor of a city man who bought a farm and then had an auction sale. Our members might note that this nice little piece has a fine advertisement for DeLaval separators John Deere binders and Ford cars. Read over all items before inserting. They sometimes contain advertisements. Be fair to your locality, your merchants and business men, and do not permit free publicity to enter your columns.

SUNDAY EVENING IN ST. JAMES

The Rector Made a Strong Plea for Serious Thought on the Need of a Spiritual Revival

Preaching in St. James Church on Sunday evening, from the words—"and Isaac digged again the wells of water, which they had digged in the days of Abraham his Father; for the Philistines had stopped them after the death of Abraham; and he called their names after the names by which his father had called them"—Genesis 26:18.—The Rector made a strong plea for serious thought as to the acknowledged felt need on every hand of a true and deep Religious and Spiritual Revival.

He suggested a patient digging again of the Wells of Water which our fathers dug but which manifestly in many quarters had become stopped, instancing the following:

1. Observance of the first day of the Week as the Lord's Day.
2. Public Worship in the House of the Lord.
3. The restoration of the family Altar (Daily Family Prayer).
4. The recognition of God's good providence by invoking His blessing on every meal.
5. Regular and thoughtful private Prayer.
6. Regular participation of the Sacrament of "Holy Communion".
7. Systematic Bible reading.

These are the "Wells" from which our fathers drew that sustenance which has made our Empire in all that is truly great our Empire in all that is truly good, and they are the "Wells" from which we today must draw if we would live a healthy and well nourished Christian life.

The stopping of these "Wells" in many lives has come about little by little, in fact, almost imperceptibly, but the cumulative effect has been such as cannot be mistaken.

He then pleaded that this season of Lent might well be used to dig again and unstop these "Wells" in order that "living water" might flow into our lives bringing about that revival which is so much to be desired not only for our own individual spiritual well being but for the uplift of the world at large.

Attention is called to a Pastor's letter by the Archbishop of Nova Scotia which follows this article.

A LETTER FROM THE BISHOP

Bishop's Lodge, Halifax, N.S., Jan. 26th, 1921.

To the members of the Church of England in the Diocese of Nova Scotia: My Dear Brothers and Sisters:

Since the Forward Movement Campaign there has been a year of testing, and now it is for the Church and all its members to ask how far the hopes then expressed have been fulfilled.

So far as the subscriptions are concerned there was everything to bring satisfaction. The objectives were almost everywhere reached, and in many cases exceeded. But the real call was not for money, except as a result of the increased spiritual life which was expected. It was hoped that the Church would be thoroughly aroused to a full sense of its responsibility, and the Kingdom of Christ be strengthened at home and extended abroad.

With a view to gaining this end, the House of Bishops has made the following suggestions:

- (1) That the autumn of 1920 should have a campaign for increasing Church attendance and recruiting volunteers for Church work.
- (2) In the spring of 1921 an effort should be made to cultivate the Prayer Life of the Church, including Family Prayer, following the use of the Prayer Cycle and the plan of the General Board of Religious Education.
- (3) In the autumn of 1921, Retreats, or special days of devotion, should be provided for both clergy and laity, and followed by Parochial Missions either in the same season or in the spring of 1922.

"CASCARETS" TONIGHT FOR CONSTIPATION

Just think! A pleasant harmless Cascarets works while you sleep and has your liver active, head clear, stomach sweet and bowels moving as regular as a clock by morning. No gripping or inconvenience. 10, 25, or 50 cent boxes. Children love this candy cathartic too.

By this you will see that the Church throughout the Dominion is called upon to work up to special Parochial Missions at such time as the various Dioceses or Parishes may find best, but in every case before the end of Lent, 1922.

The LENT of this year is an important factor in this preparation, and no effort should be spared to strengthen and deepen the Prayer life of those who are and those who ought to be members of the Church.

Make no mistake. The means provided by the Church are ample and sufficient. All that is needed is to make use of them.

In every congregation there will be special opportunities for Divine Service. Do not treat these lightly or perfunctorily. They can be of untold benefit if taken up loyally and entered into with spirit.

Gathering together for worship must increase the fellowship which ought to exist between all members of the Church. With common interests and common aims and common hopes, let us in common prayer join in mutual intercession for all sorts and conditions of men. Let our Communions be regular, and the result of careful self-examination and preparation. And then let us strive to live more nearly as we pray, devoting more time and thought to the work of the Church and all that the Church stands for.

A Lent entered upon with such purpose cannot fail to bring to us satisfaction and comfort and joy. As the Lord Jesus said to His Disciples, "Come ye yourselves apart," when He sought to commune with them and help them spiritually. So now let us go apart from the ordinary scenes of pleasure and excitement, and be with Him a while, that we may go back to our daily tasks refreshed and buoyed with the loving Spirit of the risen Christ.

With best wishes,
Believe me,
Very truly yours,
CLARE L.
Nova Scotia.

TWO BRIDGETOWN SOLOISTS PERFORM IN HALIFAX

The Halifax Acadian Recorder of Friday last says:

"One of the best musical treats ever given in Halifax was that which took place in St. Paul's Church last evening, the occasion being the rendition of Handel's oratorio, 'The Messiah,' by the members of St. Paul's choir, under the leadership of Mr. Horace Wilson, organist. The audience in attendance was the largest that has been present at the recitals at this church, and everybody was pleased to the highest degree. The singing by the chorists was all that could be desired, the solos and duets being particularly features, the singers being all in good voice."

Two of the soloists on the above occasion were former Bridgetown vocalists, viz.: Mrs. W. Cook (nee Mariel Troop) and Dr. W. H. H. Beckwith. Both received most favorable criticism from the press and musical critics of Halifax. The Evening Echo of Jan. 1st also makes the following comment of Mrs. Cook's singing at the Christmas services in St. Paul's Church:

"Mrs. Wm. Cook is a soprano of bird-like charm. Halifax lovers of song will give a warm welcome to this brilliant soloist, and none the less because she is a native of the Province."

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES AT ST. JAMES' CHURCH

The past week has been a busy one with the social activities of St. James' Church. On Wednesday the last for this season of the series of social gatherings held monthly under the auspices of the Organized Bible Class, took place in the school room, and was a great success, the program being exceptionally good.

On Thursday another social gathering was held for the Sunday School children, and probably no merrier party ever gathered. This was in lieu of a similar entertainment at Christmas.

On Monday of this week the Pioneer Trail Rangers entertained the Junior G.L.I.T. group and other friends at a banquet, after which they spent a very pleasant evening playing games.

Last night the venue was changed, activities centering in Belleisle Hall, where St. Mary's Church congregation held their annual "At Home," which takes the form of a supper and entertainment. This, as in former years, was very enjoyable, and added one more to a growing list of successful family gatherings in connection with St. Mary's.

Miss Marjorie Whitman, of Hants Border, is visiting relatives in Annapolis Co.

A THRILLING TALE OF THE SEA

Schooner Emma Belliveau's Crew Fought for Life Against the Raging Elements

ST. JOHN, Feb. 1.—A thrilling tale of a struggle with the sea was unfolded by the crew of the former Weymouth (N. S.) three masted schooner Emma Belliveau, they having arrived here on the way to their homes in Newfoundland where the schooner was owned.

The vessel, of 223 tons register, from St. John's, Nfld, was off the coast of Portugal, when she encountered a heavy gale. She ran towards the Azores. When the gale was at its height she sprang a bad leak, and all hands were ordered to the pumps, but their most strenuous efforts failed to keep the water down, and the hold filled rapidly.

The ship became unmanageable, and the gale carried all the sails away, leaving her helpless, with the huge seas striking her broadside on.

As she was now a mere derelict, and within twenty miles of the Azores it was decided to abandon her, and the crew, consisting of the captain and six men, took to their only boat.

Then followed such a fight for it, against the elements as only those go down to the sea in ships can conceive of. The little craft buffeted about by the mountainous seas at will and the rowers were able to do little more than make some attempt to steer before the wind. Drenched with rain and spray their condition was pitiable as for hours they drifted at the mercy of the elements. Fortunately the storm drove them toward the Island of Corvo, and after almost superhuman labor they were able to reach land, over eighteen hours being taken to cover twenty miles.

On the island assistance was given by the inhabitants, and from there they made their way to Flores, and thence to St. Michael's Island, where they were taken aboard the French steamer Britannia, which landed them in Providence.

They took the train here for Sydney enroute home. The men are: Captain Doody, Boatswain W. Jerrett, H. Harvey, H. Green, A. Green and R. Buckler. R. Salter, another member of the crew, did not return, as he found employment in the Azores.

CANADA'S MAPLE PRODUCTS

The manufacture of sugar and syrup from the sap of the sugar maple is an important part of industry in the Eastern provinces of Canada, and particularly in Quebec.

Long before the white man settled the country, maple syrup was known to the aborigines and apart from wild honey was the only intensely sweet product at their command.

The methods of procuring it were naturally of a very crude description. Modern methods have greatly improved the product and have led to ever increasing demand. Quebec province is the centre of the industry. Of the 20,000,000 pounds or thereabouts, produced annually in Canada, more than two thirds have to be credited to Quebec. Ontario is officially reported to be responsible for five million pounds and the Maritime Provinces for half a million pounds only.

The other provinces of Canada do not net figure in the calculations. These facts are gathered from a timely pamphlet just issued by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, of which J. B. Spencer, Director of Publicity, is the author. From this well illustrated and technically detailed publication it is also learned that the production of maple sugar, and its equivalent in syrups, of late years has shown a tendency to decrease. From 1851

GIRLS! HAVE THICK SOFT HEAVY HAIR

A 25 cent bottle of "Danderine" will not only rid your scalp of destructive dandruff and stop falling hair, but immediately your hair seems twice as abundant and so wondrous glossy. Let "Danderine" save your hair. Have lots of long, heavy hair, radiant with life and beauty.

to 1861 we are told the average yearly production was about 13,500,000 pounds from 1861 to 1871 about 17,500,000 pounds, from 1871 to 1881, 19,000,000 pounds and from 1881 to 1891, 22,500,000 pounds. The latter was the pinnacle of annual production, for in the next decade the average per year was 21,200,000 pounds, and in later years the average has been little less than 20,000,000 pounds. It is thought that perhaps with the increase in price that has taken place recently greater production may be looked for. It is estimated that the value of the yearly manufacture of sugar, and syrup is $2,000,000 and that 50,000 people are employed in the industry at the height of the height of the season, which is of very short duration, extending only five or six weeks at the most. Stringent laws against the adulteration of the product have been passed especially in Quebec, where schools of instruction have been established and the Pure Maple Sugar and Syrup Co operative Agricultural Association has been organized.

YARMOUTH, Feb. 1.—W. D. Sweeney's schr Grace and Ruby, Capt Wilcy Ross, arrived this morning, from a ten days' fish trip with a fare of $5,000 pounds of fish. Capt Ross reports the weather during the trip very favorable and fishing fair.

The schooner left Brown's Bank on Sunday evening for this port and yesterday experienced somewhat heavy weather. As she came in this morning her hull and a considerable part of her rigging was heavily iced. The Grace and Ruby tied up at A. E. Nickerson's dock and this afternoon had failed to find a market among the local buyers. Consequently the schooner will probably go to Digby and sell to the Maritime Fish Corporation.

NOVA SCOTIA CAPTAIN DEAD AT ST. JOHN

ST. JOHN, Feb. 1.—After an illness of about three months, Captain Richard Parker, a native of Bear River, Digby Co., died here yesterday afternoon at the advanced age of eighty years. He had followed the sea as a calling until he retired from an active life and came to make his home in St. John about sixteen years ago. He had commanded sailing vessels which made long voyages and could relate many thrilling tales of his adventures. He was very proud of the fact that he brought the first cargo of Bermuda onions that was ever shipped to the port of St. John, sixty six years ago.

ONE HUNDRED AND ONE YEARS OLD

Mrs. Lois Caswell Enjoyed a Birthday Celebration at Granville Ferry

On Thursday evening, Jan. 20th, about forty friends gathered at the home of Mrs. E. D. Caswell to celebrate the 101st birthday of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Lois Caswell.

The house was prettily decorated with cut flowers and ferns, presented by friends in St. John, N.B.

During the evening letters of congratulation were read from former pastors and other friends, also a piece of poetry composed by Mr. E. C. Bowers, of Westport.

Addresses were then made by Pastor Gibson, Mrs. C. S. McLearn and W. H. Weatherspoons.

Pastor Gibson, on behalf of the company, presented "Grammie" Caswell with a purse of money. Although taken by surprise, she thanked the friends in a very pleasing manner.

"Grammie" Caswell as she is familiarly known, was born in Hopewell, Albert Co., N.B., on January 20th, 1820. She was Miss Lois Edgett.

When eighteen years of age she united with the Baptist Church at Hopewell.

Later she united by letter with the German St. Church, where she is still a member. She then went to the United States, where she was married to Benjamin Caswell at the Park St. Baptist Church, Boston, Mass. They had three children, two sons and one daughter, all of whom have predeceased her. After her husband's death she came to Nova Scotia, where she has since resided.

She has four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

She enjoys good health with full possession of all her faculties.

A splendid lunch was served, "Grammie" Caswell being presented with a birthday cake, beautifully decorated with silver, white and lavender hychines.

The company then sang the closing hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," in which "Grammie" joined in heartily.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, dimly sounds in the ear, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness should be heeded by middle-aged women, and let Lydia E. GOOD HEALTH AND GOOD SPIRITS

Depend Upon the Condition of the Blood—Keep it Rich, Red and Pure.

When a doctor tells you that you are anaemic, he simply means, in plain English, that your blood is weak and watery. But this condition is one that may easily pass into a hopeless decline if prompt steps are not taken to enrich the blood. Poor blood, weak, watery blood is the cause of headaches and backaches, loss of appetite, poor digestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous irritability and many other troubles. To poor blood is due the pimples and blotches, the muddy complexion that disfigures so many faces. To have good health a good complexion and a cheerful manner, the blood must be kept rich, red and pure. This is easily done through the use of a blood enriching tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The whole mission of this medicine is to help enrich the blood which reaches every nerve and every organ in the body, bringing with it health, strength and new activity. That is why people who occasionally use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always feel bright, active and strong.

Mrs. E. E. Cook, Simcoe, Ont., gives strong testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when the blood is in an anaemic condition, she says: "I have been a sufferer for some years from a run down condition of the system. I suffered from pains in the back, twitching of the nerves and muscles, my appetite was poor, I had indigestion and would get drowsy after eating. My hands and feet were almost always cold, and though I was constantly doctoring, the medicine I took did not help me. I had practically given up hope of good health, until a friend from Hamilton came to visit me, and urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took some persuasion, but finally I consented to try them. I felt like a new person. I have gained in weight, have a better color and my work is now a pleasure. For this condition my thanks are due Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I cannot praise them too highly. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Then, a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives'. Now I am free of indigestion and headaches; the constipation is cured, and I have gained considerable weight; and my general health is fine. 'Fruit-a-tives' is a grand medicine and I cannot say enough in its favor."

UPPER GRANVILLE

Mrs. Robt. Bath is visiting friends in Halifax.

Bright, clear, cold weather at present time is good for wood and lumbering industries.

The Social held in Upper Granville Hall on the 20th ult. was successful, the sum of thirty-eight dollars being realized.

Mr. Ralph Parker left shortly after Christmas for Philadelphia, where he has obtained employment, and will remain indefinitely.

Mr. Charles Cook, of Bridgewater, and Mark Rhodesizer, of the same town, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Max D. Newcombe during the Farmers' Association.

A cold wave is passing over the Valley. There is fair sleighing, and with ice harvest is in evidence, with quite somewhat poorer than last year, owing doubtless, to a broken winter.

GROCERS TAKING LESS PROFIT ON MANY LINES

Red Rose Tea People Make a Further Statement

Some of our friends among the grocers, in speaking of our letter to the press on grocers' profits have indicated that apparently it has been construed by some readers to mean that Red Rose Tea was the only article on which the grocer takes a smaller profit, in order to give his customers a higher quality. It was not our intention to convey such an impression, as we know the profit of other goods at less profit than they could make on some brands equally well known, and for the same reason that they recommend Red Rose Tea, simply to give their customers the best possible value.

In our letter we mentioned Red Rose Tea because it naturally came first to our mind and because we knew that grocers were selling it at a less profit than they make on other teas.—T. H. Estabrooks Co., Limited, St. John, N. B.

N. S. VETERINARY MED. ASSOCIATION

Annual Meeting Held at Truro, Officers Elected and Other Matters of Interest.

Dr. C. B. Sims, Sanitary Inspector, has just returned from Truro, where he attended the annual meeting of the above Association, at which there was a good attendance from all parts of the Province.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Dr. Gough, Halifax.

Vice-President—Dr. Townsend, New Glasgow.

Treasurer—Dr. Gill, Truro.

Examiners—Dr. McIsaac, Dr. Keys, Dr. Gill, Dr. Sims.

There was a lengthy discussion at the meeting on the disastrous effects of animal diseases and their relation to public health.

Various matters of interest in reference to the profession were dealt with, one being that the Association decided the law in respect to non-graduate Veterinarians be enforced.

In view of the fact that this country is gradually becoming settled to a pre-war basis, the Association considers it their duty to enforce the law in respect to "Quacks," thus giving the general public as much protection as remains in their power.

A REAL LIVE TESTIMONIAL

Given to Professor Hamilton, of Hampton, N. S.

Westville, N.S., Jan. 1st, 1921.

Dear Sir:—I wish to state for the benefit of others who are afflicted that the New Year can bring them health as it has done for me when I was given up to die. It is sixteen years past I was taken with Exophthalmic Goitre, or Graves' disease. At that time my weight was 200 pounds, and as the disease developed I became a living skeleton. My eyes were pushed forward and I could not close them night or day, and a glassy stare which gave to me an remarkably wild and strange appearance, frightful to others. My heart kept jumping and beating all the time, in fact, I got so weak I could hardly walk or stand. We tried several doctors with no avail, so they took me to the Hospital in New Glasgow, with the same results—no help. So my parents concluded to send me to the General Hospital, Boston. My brother started with me, and on my arrival there I was examined by twenty-six doctors, who held a consultation over my case, then told my brother to take me home, that it was impossible for me to live one month. On my arrival home to die, by the hand of Providence Prof. Hamilton came to Westville, so my parents sent for the Professor at once and I commenced his treatment, and after a few treatments I could notice an improvement for the better, and in three months' time the lump disappeared, eyes went back to their place and I could shut them, eat and sleep good; my heart beat normal once again, I gained flesh and strength every day, and in five months my weight was back to its 200 lbs. I went to work in the mines, and up to this day have felt no effects of my former trouble. Words cannot express the gratitude and thankfulness I owe the Professor for saving my life after being given up by other sources. May he be spared for years to come to continue his good work in helping suffering ones.

KENNETH MCKENZIE.

'Chaps'—Read This

Once you know how "chaps" are caused, you will appreciate why your skin needs Zam-Buk. The keen frosty winds of winter and early spring dry up the skin—make it hard, brittle and without elasticity. Thus the outer tissues break open into smarting cracks and painful sores. That's how the trouble starts.

In cracked hands, chilblains, frost-bite, eczema and other obstinate skin troubles, use nothing but Zam-Buk. This unique healing balm, derived from a blending of rich herbal essences supplies the skin's deficiency of natural oils. If your trouble is on the hands, use Zam-Buk at night and slip on a pair of old gloves with Zam-Buk smeared inside. This precious balm will soothe away pain, inflammation and irritation, and grow new soft flexible skin.

Redness, roughness, smarting or soreness is readily healed, through Zam-Buk's refined herbal ingredients being absorbed into the underlying tissues. Zam-Buk is powerfully antiseptic. The germs of skin trouble simply can't exist wherever it penetrates.

Keep Zam-Buk always at hand for dealing with cuts, burns, scalds, scalp sores, ulcers, abscesses, piles, eczema, poisoned wounds, salt rheum and all skin sores and injuries. All dealers 50c. box, 9 for $4.25. For TRIAL SAMPLE send 1c. stamp to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

ANOTHER GOOD SHOW

A ruined castle, a ghost, a mysterious tower, an American novelist, a wicked Count—these are the skillfully mixed ingredients in "A Fool and His Money," a Selznick Picture adapted from the story by George Barr McCutcheon, which appears at the Primrose Theatre Monday and Tuesday night, 14th and 15th.

Eugene O'Brien is the star of "A Fool and His Money." He appears as an American best-selling author who purchases a castle in the Swiss Tyrol. He is regarded as a fool for having made the purchase, but as it turns out, he gets the best of all sorts of exciting and amusing experiences, wins a charming wife, and gets material and "atmosphere" for a record-breaking best-seller.

The director, Robert Ellis, has provided a picturesque setting for the action of the story—castles, snow-covered hills, a bit of the "beautiful blue Danube," a yachting scene, dungeons, and vast medieval halls, accurately presented in accordance with historical detail. The scenery is from the St. Lawrence River.

THREE MINISTERS OF UNITED CHURCHES ON THE PLATFORM

The first quarterly congregational "At Home" of the G. P. U. Church was held on Monday evening, and proved to be, from every standpoint, a great success. The choir and other friends, including the Tuxis Boys and C. G. I. T., gave a splendid entertainment, consisting of choruses, quartets, duets, solos and readings. The boys and girls were in their usual fine form. Addresses suited to the occasion were given by Revs. Dr. Jost, C. J. Crowds, C. A. Munro, G. T. Bryant and Mr. H. B. Hicks.

One very interesting feature was the presence on the same platform of three ministers each of whom is the pastor of a united church, blazoning a trail for the larger union of the parent churches. A delicious luncheon was served, at the conclusion of which the National Anthem was sung, and the large gathering dispersed, all feeling that the "At Home" had been a very sociable occasion.

LAST NIGHT'S ADDRESS

The visit of the Rev. S. D. Chown, the official head of the Methodist Church, was a big event in local church circles. On Tuesday evening in G. P. U. Church he delivered an illuminating address on the "Orient," from which he has just returned. The direct effect of this will be the broadening of the church's conception of missionary duty and privilege. The choir again gave inspiring music. The whole service was most impressive and uplifting.

LOCAL DEATH ROLL

CHARLES RITCHIE (From the Spectator)

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 11th, 1921, when the curtain of darkness was drawn over the earth, one of the residents of Moschelle in the person of Charles Ritchie concluded the first chapter in his life's history and began with a fresh page in chapter two. The Psalmist in "the prayer of Moses, the man of God," had stated that the days of our old age are three-score years and ten, yet our friend Mr. Ritchie had passed this by a full score years, having lived a life of remarkable longevity and having attained almost four-score years and eleven. He was born on the 20th of January, 1850, in the days of "the first gentleman of Europe"—George IV. He lived all through the years of the reign of the Sailor King, William IV., the long reign of Victoria the Good, the reign of Edward the Peacemaker, and up to the present year in the reign of George the sincere. Thus since his arrival upon the stage of the world, five sovereigns have adorned the throne of the British Empire. During his lifetime what wonderful and stupendous changes have taken place! In the first year France was in the throes of her second revolution and poor Belgium struggling heroically in the first year, too, the first railroad was opened, that between Liverpool and Manchester. What changes in railroads have been made since then! The whole round world has been girt with an iron girdle. When he first saw the light there were no telegrams, no submarine cables, no electric cars, no X-ray rays, no anaesthetics which have now become so helpful in surgical operations, no phonographs, etc. It would certainly take up too much time to indicate the developments that have been made in the different branches of knowledge since his birth. Like Moses of old, he had seen one generation of men go and another come, yet the time came to him, too, that the golden bowl must be broken, the silver cord must be loosed, the pitcher must be broken at the fountain, and the wheel broken at the cistern.

Mr. Ritchie had been in failing health for some months and was feeling the weight of the burden of his increasing years. His intellect was keen and active to the very end, and the prominent thought in his mind whilst he was calmly waiting for the great change was "rest." His life was a quiet one, matching his disposition. He seemed to be an embodiment of certain clauses in the catechism of the grand old church of the English speaking race: "To hurt nobody by word or deed, to bear no malice or hatred in my heart." He lived as he died and died as he lived, quiet, unassuming, gentle, peaceable.

The funeral service was held at his late residence on Jan. 13th, and taken by the rector of the parish, Rev. John Beeks. The interment took place in the Harris burial ground, Moschelle. Mr. Ritchie leaves behind to mourn their great loss, three daughters, Mrs. George Starrett, of Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. Wm. Tupper, Moschelle; and Jean, at home; five sons, William, Leonard, Henry and Robert Myers, Moschelle; and James, of Annapolis Royal; and two brothers, Edwin, of Moschelle, and Albert, of Round Hill.

The entire community of Moschelle extend their sympathy to the relatives who have been bereft of a kind father and brother.

JAMES SPINNEY

Mr. James Spinney passed away early on Friday morning, Jan 28th, at his home in South Greenwood, Kings County, after an illness of about four weeks. At the last he was stricken with paralysis and was unconscious about three days, when the end came. He leaves to mourn their loss his widow, who was May Fitch, daughter of the late John Fitch, of Greenwood, and three daughters, Helen and Annie who teach at Granville and Rockland respectively and Laura who teaches at home; also two sisters, Mrs. Benson, of Bear River and Mrs. Parne Nelson, of Massachusetts.

Mr. Spinney will be greatly missed from the community and countryside, as he was a good citizen, a good neighbor and a devoted husband and father. He was laid to rest on Sunday afternoon in the family lot in Greenwood cemetery. The services were held in the church, conducted by his pastor Rev. T. McWilliams, assisted by Rev. E. H. Howe. The church was crowded to capacity by friends and neighbors who had gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to one who had always lived among them. The singing was of a high order of excellence. The Griffin Quartette sang "We are going down the Valley one by one." The pastor preached from the last verse in the book of Daniel.

Craig, of Cambridge and Edward Craig, of Bridgetown, are all that are left of a family of eight children. Mrs. ILLSLEY was a woman of sterling Christian character, a faithful member of the Berwick Baptist Church and a devoted worker in the cause of missions. Four of her nieces were made life members of the W. M. A. S. last year through her kindness. Rev. P. R. Hayden conducted the funeral services on Thursday afternoon, interment being in the Berwick Cemetery. Among the floral offerings was sheaf of roses from Miss Eva Cox; carnations from Mrs. K. N. WEDDING BELLS

FLETT—LONGMIRE

A wedding of much interest was solemnized at the home of Capt and Mrs. W. R. Longmire, Bridgetown, yesterday (Tuesday) morning, at 10 o'clock when their only daughter, Edith Dorothy, was united in marriage to Mr. Walter Wilson Flett, accountant with the Engineers & Contractors Ltd., Annapolis Royal, and eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Flett, New Glasgow, formerly of Amherst. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ernest Underwood, Rector of St. James Church, in the presence of the immediate family and young friends of the bride and groom. The bride, who was unattended, looked charming in a navy blue suit, with hat to match and black fox fur, carrying a bride's bouquet of pink and white sweetheart roses, entered the drawing room to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by her aunt, Mrs. H. O. Bent. The house beautifully decorated by friends of the bride, was a veritable bower of green and white, the bride and groom standing under a large floral wedding bell. The color scheme in the dining room was in pink and white and the brothers of the bride and groom served in the dining room. The groom's gift to the bride was a black fox fur muff and to the pianist a dainty bar bin. The popularity of both bride and groom was shown by numerous gifts—substantial cheques from the parents of both bride and groom, the Engineers & Contractors and others. After a very delightful wedding breakfast the young couple left on the noon train for St. John and other points west.

The out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Flett, of New Glasgow; Mr. Arthur P. Flett, Bank of Montreal, St. John, N. B.; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. On Saturday evening the Royal Bank staff, of which the bride was a member, were entertained at the residence of the manager, Mr. A. F. Little. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played by Mrs. Stanley Bagnell, sister of the bride. The color scheme in both the drawing room and dining room was pink and white floral decorations, being carnations. At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal party and guests partook of a dainty wedding supper. Mr. and Mrs. Ruggles left later on a trip to Montreal, New York and Washington. 10 patients are confined to their beds on account of infirmities.

During the year there have been two births at the County Home.

Of the seven deaths, three were due to Tuberculosis, the patients having the disease in an advanced stage when admitted. Tuberculosis also claimed a patient at the Hospital. Otherwise the general health of all has been good, and they have been well cared for and are contented and happy as possible under the circumstances.

The installing of the electric light throughout both Institutions is a most meritorious improvement, and will be found a very economical one in the long run.

During the fall months Dr. Hattie made his usual inspection and expressed himself as well satisfied with both Institutions, save in certain sanitary arrangements in the toilets, etc. As these were built some years ago they are not as good as they could be made under modern sanitary engineering, and will no doubt in due time receive the attention of your Committee and be renovated to make them measure to the standard maintained in the other parts of the building.

We also had a visit at same time from Dr. Hincks, of Toronto, who was making a Mental Survey of the Provinces.

Dr. Hincks is particularly interested in the children meretrically deficient and in the causes that produce this unfortunate condition. Here his attention was attracted by the number of these cases that were related, and called our attention to the increase of this class of dependants that is due to consanguineous marriages from generation to generation. In his visits to our schools, to the Asylum and in the Alms House, he was able to trace and connect these cases, and it was very easy to see we are spending considerable to care for these unfortunates that have been cast on our hands by a laxness in social regulations or laws. From these same conditions develop great part of the work of our Courts, great and small, and if we add together what we are paying for such cases in Reformatory Schools and Homes, to Children's Aid Societies and the cost of supporting many of these all their lives in the County Home, Asylum or elsewhere, it will be found to make up a large item in our annual expenditure.

A good part of this could be avoided, we believe, as well as an inestimable amount of misery, if due respect was paid to our laws regarding marriage, and possibly the control of marriage, in the mentally deficient.

There is a great field for a few missionaries, too, in our own land in this work for social betterment and Christian civilization; some way we have got our eyes on the foreign fields and overlooked the home ones. The burden is not alone a Municipal one.

I believe that if some organization was to make a survey of conditions in our Municipality along the lines here suggested that it would be found that we are permitting and tolerating a laxness in social and moral conditions that to say the least should not be.

Dr. Hincks' visit to the Province was provided for by a Dominion organization, and his report of conditions found in this Mental Survey of the Province will no doubt give some valuable suggestions as to methods of dealing with this end of society.

My only apology for introducing it here was the visit during the past year of this expert, and also the prominence given had social conditions and immorality in the County by certain cases in our Courts the past year.

Faithfully yours,
M. E. ARMSTRONG,
Attending Physician.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF COUNTY HOSPITAL

To the Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of Annapolis County:
GENTLEMEN:—I beg leave to present the following report of the Annapolis County Hospital for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1920:

Table Showing Admissions, Deaths, etc.	41

Enregistered Dec. 31st, 1920	46

Sex—22 Female; 24 Male.
Civil state—9 married; 37 single.
In presenting my report at this time I am confronted with the same difficulty so often experienced in former reports, namely—the absence of an institution of this kind the routine remains practically the same as year succeeds year; to my mind, however, it is essential that we refer to the elements which go to make up the routine, even at the risk of repetition.
It will be noted from the statistical report that there were 9 admissions during the year. Of these, 5 were transferred from the N.S. Hospital; the remaining 4 were admitted from their respective homes. The residence of each is as follows: Annapolis Royal, 1; Yarmouth, 2; Windsor, 1; Annapolis County, 5 (2 private).
We have at present the largest number of female patients yet on record for any one year. All available rooms are occupied.
During the month of May Mr. Piggott and myself were commissioned to go to the N.S. Hospital and investigate as to the condition of patients from this Municipality confined there, and transfer any suitable cases to our own institution. From what we have seen and from information received from those in charge, we only found 2 who were at all suitable for transfer. At the request of the Yarmouth officials we transferred 2 of their patients together with the 2 mentioned.
But one patient was discharged during the year; this was a girl still in her early teens, and was sent home soon after being transferred from the N.S. Hospital. According to a recent report, she is quite well, and looking forward to a life of usefulness.
Of the 3 deaths reported, 2 died from tuberculosis, one being in the advanced stage of the disease before admission, and from which he died a few months after.
We have an unusual number of elderly and more or less infirm patients, especially among the women; we also have several who are destructive to clothing, all of which adds materially to the arduous duties of a small staff.
During the year I have received the usual number of one minute notices that a patient was about to be sent to the Hospital. Either those who attempt this sort of procedure are ignorant of the lunacy act, or they entirely ignore the same and expect those in charge to do likewise. Even some medical men are not the exception.
It has been our aim during the past year to provide employment for those patients who are able and who desire work. The excellent farm in connection with the institutions provide ample room for the distribution of various kinds of work; adding not only to their own contentment, but by their efficiency aiding materially in the upkeep of so large and productive a farm.
The usual outdoor exercises have been provided for those whose condition does not permit of their participation in any outdoor work. It has also been our aim to allow those whose condition permitted to as much liberty as conditions permit.
The long hoped-for electric lights have now become a reality. This is very much appreciated by those in charge, and a vast improvement over the old system of lighting with the dangerous and inefficient oil lamp.
It affords me much pleasure in recording my appreciation for the many acts of kindness and the interest taken by friends in behalf of the patients. Several entertainments have been provided by local talent, the honor one being, as usual, the Christmas entertainment. Dr. Jos has, as usual, conducted services at various times, also the Deacons of the Baptist Church. The weekly Monitor and the Annapolis Spectator are also welcome and regular visitors at the institutions. To all we again extend hearty thanks.
In concluding, I wish to take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation for the many acts of courtesy and assistance accorded me by the Committee and to all those associated with me in the work of the Hospital.
Your obedient servant,
A. F. HILTZ.

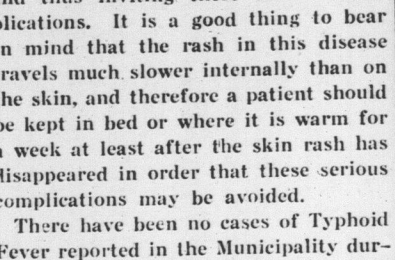

REPORT OF MEDICAL HEALTH OFFICER

To W. G. Clarke, Esq.,
Warden, Municipality of Annapolis County:
SIR:—I herewith beg to submit the following brief report for the year 1920 of matters pertaining to public health of the Municipality.
During the year we have had less loss of time and fewer deaths from contagious diseases than for some years. This has been due in part to the absence of Epidemic influenza and also to the other contagious diseases being less severe than during the war years.
In January we had an outbreak of Smallpox at Ingleswood with about 15 cases of the mild form. With a sanitary officer to watch and wait on the infected houses, it did not get beyond its first limits. A case or two also occurred at Granville Ferry.
Diphtheria has occurred twice during the year at Victoria Beach. Scarlet Fever at several points in the County, but of a mild nature compared with what we had a few years ago, and families who have got through with this simple type are immune from the severer forms, and are to be congratulated. The main danger from Scarlet Fever in our country is not from the disease itself, but from the sequela that follow an attack, such as Ear, Gland or Kidney complications, and usually caused by children being allowed to get about too quickly or being allowed to go out unattended and exposing themselves on the cold ground or in water or snow, and thus inviting these serious complications. It is a good thing to bear in mind that the rash in this disease which usually comes to us through our water supply. A few decades ago Typhoid Fever exacted a toll in lives in our villages and towns that to-day would seem appalling.
The past year has been conspicuous for the increased interest and activity in hygiene and public health matters relating to families or communities. Child welfare, healthy babies, disease prevention and hygienic improvement and education have become very common terms, and mean much more than they ever have before.
Along this line we had a visit in the summer from the Red Cross Health Caravan, a fully equipped Field Hospital and with experts in Nose, Throat and Lung diseases, who furnished free treatment and advice to those in need of it, to the extent of the time allotted to our County. Dental work was also carried on under similar conditions by the Caravan. This work was undertaken by the Red Cross Society and is the first item of their proposed Peace Program. It was the intention for the Caravan to have made Hampton its stopping place in this County, but it was found impossible to get the heavy motors up the Mountain; they therefore pitched their tents at Bridgetown.
Owing to bed accommodation in the Field Hospital being limited, there only being 18 beds, it was impossible to do as much operative work as presented, but upwards of 100 patients of various natures were treated in the two days' visit here, and a great deal of educational work done by the "movies" shown and lectures, etc., all of which were well attended. The spectacular effect of these great ambulance trucks and lorries was sufficient to draw a crowd, and quite rivalled a circus in this respect. Another reason, if the Caravan is continued, another part of the County will be visited, the plan for this work being to bring medical and dental aid to the outposts as far as possible, or where they can be of easy access to out-of-the-way districts.
At the last meeting of the Municipal Council your attention was called by a communication from Dr. Hattie, Provincial Health Officer, to the proposed establishment in each County of a Public Health Nurse and also of the establishment of a County Health Clinic. Legislation for these having been added to the Public Health Act quite recently. A Committee from this Council was appointed to meet with a similar representation from the towns in the County. In September this joint Committee met at Annapolis Royal at the call of Dr. Hattie, and the joint Committee was asked to select a centre location for the Health Clinic. Bridgetown was eventually selected, the Town of Bridgetown offering to furnish free rent, heat, light and water for the same. Arrangements are now being made to open this Clinic at once, and probably by the middle of this month it will be in operation. The Health Clinic will be held weekly in full running order, and will be on Friday afternoons, and will furnish free medical and dental advice and treatment as far as possible to the necessitous classes of the County in certain lines of troubles in particular, viz.: Diseases of children, infants, and lung diseases or chest troubles of adults where there is a suspicion or possibility of a tuberculous tendency. In this latter class a Tuberculosis specialist will visit the Clinic from time to time and furnish expert advice in cases of doubtful diagnosis.

The Public Health Nurse, who will assist at these weekly clinics, becomes a permanent worker in the County and spends all her time in the public service. Her duties include the visiting of all the schools in the County and the examination of all school children as to the presence of faulty vision or sight, diseases of nose, throat or ears, and also the condition of the teeth. Her records will be sent to the parents and every assistance rendered to have any remedial cases corrected. She will also visit the homes of children and give any service she can to mothers wanting advice or instruction in infant care or feeding; teach and assist cases of Tuberculosis in the best methods of care for themselves; and make herself generally useful for the betterment of our people. At all times she will be glad to confer with Church or Social Welfare Societies, with Women's Institutes, Clubs, Boards of Trade, Teachers and Municipal Councilors or Councils, if she can in anywise be of service or assist in improving conditions to make a more efficient adult from a helpless, weak or handicapped child.

The County Health Nurse is supported for the present by the Canadian Red Cross Society, and is so far another step in their peace program, of which the Health Caravans was the first great movement.

It has been impossible to secure fully trained Public Health Nurses for this great work so far, as it is a new profession with us, and the supply does not equal the demand. However, the Board of Health has secured for us the services of Miss Pearl Chute, a regular nurse, and had her attend Public Health Work in Halifax for a few weeks, and until one with complete training in this work is available, Miss Chute will carry on.

During the winter months the Nurse will visit the schools and sections in the Valley largely, but in the summer months all parts of the County will receive equal attention.

Miss Chute is young, enthusiastic and in thorough love with this work, and will make good in this great humane and patriotic service, and her mission is such that it will commend itself to all good citizens, and that all will join in giving every aid to this new "handmaid of mercy" in our midst, every kindness and assistance in her work.

For the present Miss Chute will serve also the Municipality of Digby, owing to the shortness of nurses. She therefore will only be in Annapolis County every alternate week. Her headquarters will be in Bridgetown when in this County, and those wishing to communicate with her can address her here or apply to the County Medical Health Officer.

With this additional machinery looking toward the betterment of people in infant care, child welfare and oversight of school children and stricter observation regarding communicable diseases in children or adults, we surely are entering on a better day and may hope, as has been suggested, to be able to convert many C-3 children into A-1 adults.

Faithfully submitted,
J. E. ARMSTRONG,
Medical Health Officer.

REPORT OF THE ANNAPOLIS CO. FARMERS' ASSOCIATION FOR 1920

To the Municipal Council of Annapolis County:

Mr. Warden and Gentlemen:
The Annapolis County Farmers' Association wish to present a report of some of the subjects that have been under their consideration during the past year.

In January last the Government Clover Huller was located in Clarence, and the farmers realized 1,735 lbs. of good clover seed.

In March, Dr. I. W. Robertson, celebrated and learned agricultural expert and traveller, who was a representative of Canada at the Armistice Conference at Versailles, in company with Dr. Cumming, Secretary for Agriculture, ad-

HE WANTS TO PASS THE GOOD NEWS ON

"It's Wonderful the Way Tanlac Has Improved My Wife's Health" He Declares.

"The wonderful improvement in my wife's general health is entirely due to Tanlac, and I am glad of the chance to tell folks what a splendid medicine we have proved it to be," said William Armstrong of 98 Winter St., St. John, N. B. "No one will ever know what she has suffered during the past few years on account of indigestion and gastritis. Rich or heavy foods acted like poisons on her stomach and she had to be very careful in her diet. But even so the gas would form and bloat her up until she would almost choke and sometimes she would faintly groan with agony on account of the pains which she had after eating. She had frequent bilious attacks that left her so weak that she could hardly stand up, and at one time she was so bad that we had to send her to the hospital. They patched her up for a bit, but it wasn't long before she was just as bad as ever."

"When I saw in the papers that so many people with stomach trouble were being helped by Tanlac, I got some for my wife, for I reasoned that if it didn't do her any good it couldn't do her any harm. She often remarks now what a good thing it was when she tried Tanlac, and after the way it has helped her we have absolute faith in it. She now has a good appetite and can eat anything without fear of any stomach trouble afterwards. She is never bothered with biliousness and indeed feels better in every way. She is more grateful than I can say for all the good Tanlac has done her, and we never miss an opportunity of passing on the good news of what a splendid medicine it is."

Tanlac is sold in Bridgetown by S. N. Wear in Middleton by Clifford A. Mumford and in Bear River by L. V. Parris.

dressed three large audiences in the Demonstration Building at Lawrencetown.

In June, Mr. Thompson, of the Agricultural Department at Ottawa, and Mr. Kinsman, of Lakeville, spoke at three meetings in the county—subject, "Raising of Sheep and Marketing of Wool."

On August 20th a grand Farmers' Picnic was held in the Demonstration Grounds, with games and sports. Speeches were delivered by Dr. Cumming, Prof. Trumen and others.

At the Annual Meeting on December 20th, Professor Geo. E. Sanders, Entomologist, kept the individual attention of those present while he compared Dust and Bordeaux Sprays. This meeting was one of great interest. Several reports were presented, including the Provincial and Municipal allowances, of $88.20, and expenditure $60.31.

J. W. Elliott and V. B. Leonard were elected representatives to the Provincial Association.

Officers for the ensuing year are: Harry Barteaux, President, Williams-ton.

C. S. Bothamly, Vice-President, Paradise.

L. W. Elliott, Secretary-Treasurer, Clarence.

The Executive for past year were re-appointed, with the addition of: I. S. Marshall, Spa Springs; V. B. Leonard, Clarence; Allison FitzRandolph, Bridgetown; F. W. Bishop, Paradise.

L. W. ELLIOTT,
Secretary-Treasurer.

The Government Clover Huller has just completed a very successful season of work at Lawrencetown as a centre for the County. The total production is 4,300 lbs. of most excellent seed. Forty farmers have participated; among these I may mention J. E. Shaffner, Lawrencetown, 430 lbs., and A. W. Phinney, near Bridgetown, 420 lbs.

N. S. TEMPERANCE ACCOUNTS AND INSPECTOR'S REPORT

To the Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of Annapolis County:

GENTLEMEN:—My fourth Annual Report will no doubt be the most satisfactory to you from a financial standpoint of any presented by me, as it shows all bills paid and a balance to your credit of $72.10. Since June 1st complaints have poured in upon me so that efficient service required me to neglect my own work to attend to it, and personal financial loss is the result, beside the worry and care that are undermining my health.

I have made 1 trip to Clementsvalle, 2 to Springfield, 3 to Victoria Vale and the Sandbanks, 1 to Hampton, 1 to Lawrencetown, 2 to Round Hill, 1 to Parker's Cove, 1 to Lequille, 3 to Annapolis and 1 to Bridgetown.

I made about 25 searches, using warrants and taking assistants for self-protection rather than go alone, as in former years, to save a little cost. Seven cases have been tried, 3 convictions were obtained. The defendant in one of these cases has left his country for his country's good; another has paid $117.50; and the third paid $204.82 and is now on a vacation. I have evidence sufficient to convict a fourth, which I will turn over to my successor. I feel very grateful to the few noble spirits who have helped by giving me information and otherwise, and hope that the many others who write anonymous letters will pick up sufficient courage to sign their own names and be willing to give information that can be used by an Inspector. If the rate-payers of this County want the law well enforced, as the vote on Oct. 25th would indicate, they must be willing to pay for it. The new law will encourage the manufacture and sale of home-made beer, and the work of an Inspector will increase considerably unless very active efforts are employed to check it.

My general account, with itemized accounts attached, is herewith presented for your inspection.

C. F. ARMSTRONG,
Inspector N.S.T.A.

WELL SATISFIED WITH BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she will use nothing else. Her use of them leads her to believe there is no other medicine to equal them for any of the many minor ailments of childhood. Concerning them Mrs. Eugene Boisvert, East Aldfield, Que., writes: "My baby was terribly constipated, but after the use of Baby's Own Tablets he is entirely well again. I am so well satisfied with the Tablets that I lose no opportunity in recommending them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CORRESPONDENCE

NOTES BY THE RIVER SIDE

To the Editor of the MONITOR

Dear Mr. Editor, I happened in town on Saturday afternoon last, the 5th instant, and the crowd on the bridge attracted my attention so I walked down and soon found out that some of the local horsemen were on the ice with their flyers, so I took in the sport with the rest.

It took me back to old times when I used to visit your sporty town and enjoy the races on the river, which in those good old days were always exciting and interesting.

I remember horsemen like the late T. Ainsley Foster with Bridgetown Charley always ready for a sport, N. R. Neilly with "Feron" E. G. Langley, Jas R DeWitt, C F DeWitt and the old veteran, Mr. John Hall, of Lawrencetown, Edwin Ruggles and Harry Ruggles and a number of other horsemen too numerous to mention.

In those days the horsemen would get to gether and make up match races, class races and free for alls and advertise and crowds of people would attend and always enjoy an afternoon of good clean sport.

The interest in this sport is coming back fast and in the Eastern end of the Province ice races are taking place every week. Why don't the sports here get together and have such sport? The hotels, restaurants and merchants would all subscribe to a purse, and that with a liberal entrance fee would make a purse worth trying for.

I inquired as to the names of the horses and drivers on Saturday afternoon and was informed as follows:

The trappy looking iron grey, "Ray Bird" owned and driven by N. Dargie seemed to be the speediest one in the party, and I understood it was raised and trained by the owner. This is a good one if she can hang out to fight a heated race, but she looks rather delicate, although in the pink of condition.

Then there's Hebl with "Aeroplane" who took the oats last winter, and is looking for more this. If this horse did not pound the air so much, or had wings he might beat "Ray Bird", anyway "Pop Gears" will never be dead while Hebl is permitted to drive a horse, and he drives from start to finish both ways with no let up, and I wonder he don't suffer from what is called driver's cramps.

The game old sport, C. F. DeWitt, was there with his American bred gelding "Prohibition" and without doubt he was the purest galloped horse on the ice and shows his breeding. I was informed that "Prohibition" had not been in his best form since the first of the month, but is expected to improve when the home brew matures. DeWitt has always had some good well bred imported stock, such as "Daisy DeWitt", Nathaniel, Dash and others and no doubt you will hear from "Prohibition" later.

Elias Ramey was there with "Tattler" which they say is a has been, and will never be again, still the horse and driver seemed to be enjoying the sport, and as Ramey is another game sport he may surprise the boys yet.

The next I noticed was the old veteran, Mr. John Hall, of Lawrencetown Ex-Inspector under the N. S. T. A. with his gang "Arbitration". Brother Hall has owned and driven some good ones in by gone days, and is always ready to help out, providing he can get in the right class. "Arbitration" is only a green one and he looks it, and needs developing.

I would like to see a matched race between "Arbitration" and "Prohibition" for a small purse, say a keg of home made, non alcoholic beer, brother Hall being a temperance man, and I would suggest if this race can be arranged and it is agreeable to Mr. Hall that lawyer Miller drive "Arbitration" as we understand he has handled him before in a race and would have won out except that the judges decided against him on some technical grounds.

I noticed a young man by the name of Darling on the ice with a very likely looking young horse, they called "Turner" and from what I saw of this horse I would say that it's very promising and certainly has a nice way of going.

Some one said that if this animal had a half chance when young that it would have made an extra good one and I hope the present owner will give it a chance to develop and he will be heard from later.

I noticed a young man driving a black horse with a bald face on the road, and upon inquiry I was told it was young Gilliat from Upper Granville, and that this horse has lots of speed when approached by

NOVA SCOTIA APPLES
To the Editor of THE MONITOR:

Dear Sir:-We note with pride in this week's issue of the BRIDGETOWN MONITOR, under the heading "Nova Scotia Apples," a clipping from a London paper to the effect that Nova Scotia apples this year were the best stock that had been delivered in the London market for a long time; that the unloading was completed in twenty-two working hours, which was a remarkably short time; and that this ready delivery was due to the remarkably few breakages. Particular mention was made of the apples from Bridgetown and Windsor.

This certainly reflects great credit on Mr. Graves and his staff of apple packers at Bridgetown and vicinity. The business of buying and shipping apples was undertaken for the first time by M. W. Graves and Co., who employed as their buyer and as the superintendent of their apple packing concern Harry Miller, a veteran apple man. He was assisted by Clarence Young, who had charge of their apple packing establishment at Bridgetown, and Frederick Foster, who had charge of their apple packing establishment at Tapperville.

This is but the commencement of the business by the enterprising firm of Graves and Co., and it is a great benefit to the surrounding country. Your correspondent expresses the hope that this may be the first of many successful years.

Perón Reported Backing Russian Trade; Soviet Sees Byrnes Plan Backward Step

Ships Arrive

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 4.—President Perón who took office today, reportedly is giving his personal encouragement to the "unofficial" Russian trade mission, which arrived in this country from Montevideo, the nearest seat of a Soviet diplomatic agency.

British Send Coal To Russian Zone

London, June 4.—The British zone of occupation in Germany is supplying coal to the Soviet zone under a barter arrangement, the British News Service in Germany reported.

Perón's Objectives

With respect to hides, Russia, in by the Allied nations, but as exchange, is offering trucks and machinery, which the United States refuses to spare for such trade.

The United States always has been the dominant trading nation in Argentina and hides, and it is as reliably reported, Russians are purchasing hides, this could be considered a breach of contract, with Washington, which protests already have emanated.

The Russians, not only in Buenos Aires but in other parts of South America, are offering better prices than those of the United States, Britain, and other nations. For Colonel Perón this is a great inducement, as he is looking for a toning up of national economy so that this can support higher charges to improve military power, and to industrialize the country, and at the same time to appease the workers with extra pay and more social services.

The dilemma has been imposed upon us because the law of the land on the subject of great general strikes is obsolete. The law does not outlaw these calamitous strikes. But the government has nevertheless to outlaw them. Lacking sound law to avert an intolerable condition, the President has had to improvise a bad law.

Argentina agreed to sell her surplus hides, as such, or as surplus to the United States, but it is significant that Russian steamers are still waiting in Buenos Aires, and after arriving two months ago, and no cargo has been taken aboard, apart from miscellaneous lots of wool, tallow, and wool. It is generally suspected that the Russians want hides and the Argentine social services.

The personal interest in the Russian mission and it was due to his encouragement that the trade mission came over the river to Buenos Aires. They and children brought their wives, and children and began searching for more or less permanent accommodations. It was interpreted in Buenos Aires as an indication that diplomatic exchanges would soon follow. Recognition of Russia may be the first major diplomatic act of the new regime.

There are here two main ways in which the Congress will be tempted to take, is to avoid the main issue—whether general strikes shall be outlawed—and restore promptly something of great value to them which they have lost—the esteem and confidence which the railroad brotherhoods have long enjoyed and so justly deserved. Let them come forward as the sponsors of the principle of a full industrial peace, and they will yet confound the enemies of labor who are waxing fat and presumptuous on the mistakes which labor is making.

Many observers believe that Colonel Perón is deliberately

They will have missed the meaning of what happened if they think only about the fact that they were deprived of their right to strike. The fundamental point is that they had a right to strike, and that they were deprived of it. For if it is, then they again exercise the right, they will once again be met by drastic measures.

This is the fixed and fundamental point in the whole business: that the right to conduct general strikes is outlawed, and the real choice of the labor leaders is whether they will now accept this right or whether they will compel the government to spell it out in the form of drastic penalties.

WALTER LIPPMANN says

Railway Union Leaders Violated Social Compact In Calling Strike

Mr. Lewis, Mr. Whitney, and Mr. Johnston brought the United States to a point where there was no good remedy for an intolerable situation. A general railroad strike on top of a general coal strike, and in the near future a general maritime strike, would be a combination of disasters which the nation could not sit out patiently and quietly. The government was compelled to act. It had no choice but to act. Yet there was no way it could act which does not outlaw the principle of liberty which our people cherish.

The violation of the fundamental understanding about general strikes makes it necessary to write the understanding into statutory law. It would have been better to let the understanding develop by custom. But the big labor leaders have not allowed that to happen. So the Congress will have to legislate.

There are here two main ways in which the Congress will be tempted to take, is to avoid the main issue—whether general strikes shall be outlawed—and restore promptly something of great value to them which they have lost—the esteem and confidence which the railroad brotherhoods have long enjoyed and so justly deserved.

then to engage in a complicated effort to outlaw them by indirect means. This will generate measures which, as a result of the push and pull of politics, are too drastic to be enforceable or too weak to be effective.

If the leaders of the big unions are wise in their own interest, they will see that by choosing this second way they will give up nothing they have not already lost. They have already lost the right to conduct general strikes. What happened would happen more spectacularly if the same situation arose again. In accepting the principle that general strikes are outlawed, labor will merely be recognizing an accomplished fact. But by accepting this principle, they will be preserving much that they may otherwise lose: namely, the opportunity to participate in the formation of an industrial code which will rest not on the brute authority of the government but on the consent of the governed.

Weed-Killer

From London Daily Mail

BRITAIN'S new weed killer, which destroys the most important weeds of cereal crops without injury to the crops, is to be made available to farmers this January.

It is called Agroxone, and is the outcome of researches by Imperial Chemical Industries' scientists.

Thousands of gardeners will learn that they can rid their lawns of weeds quickly, simply and cheaply.

The cost of clearing an acre of ornamental land will be about $6.00.

Are We Heading for Housing Slump?

Not Exact Parallel With Previous Postwar Boom— Could Go Too Fast

Commentators on economic trends in United States are taking new interest in the question of whether a recession in house building and capital goods industries is indicated by present inflationary tendencies. Two writers, Leo Grebler and David Wright, deal particularly with the home building outlook. Because their observations are timely and applicable to the Canadian scene, excerpts are republished from Tomorrow's Town and Barron's Weekly.

No Outsiders To Control Valley Growers, Leslie Tells Convention

KENTVILLE, Aug. 2.—Hearing a report of the U. F. C., that officials of the company that works Ojawa note outside interests, more than 200 of the Royce valley growers, from various sections, gathered in the town of the Valley for the annual meeting of the United Fruit Company. The meeting was held in the town of the Valley, and was attended by a large number of growers. Mr. Leslie, general manager of the U. F. C., in his address, pointed out the need for a new organization to control the industry in the Royce valley. He said that the U. F. C. was not a suitable organization for the valley, and that a new organization should be formed. He called for a meeting of the growers to discuss the matter.

It was a carefully worded statement of his views on the situation in the world. He spoke of the need for a new international organization to maintain peace and stability. He also spoke of the need for a new world order, one that would be based on justice and fairness. His speech was widely regarded as a significant contribution to the discussion of world affairs.

Field of 172 Qualify For Open Tourney

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP) — A starting field of 172 golfers for the National Open Golf championship at Cleveland, Ohio, June 13-15, was completed today, pared down from an original entry list of 1,173 by a series of 25 qualifying tests covering all sections of the country.

Ninety-seven professionals and 33 amateurs survived the 36-hole preliminary trials yesterday and when the firing starts in earnest on Cleveland's Canterbury course they will be joined by 42 other players not required to qualify.

Ed (Porky) Oliver, Wilmington, Del., pro, led the way through the sectional grinds with a brilliant 69-67-136 at Philadelphia knocking six strokes off par for the Manufacturers Golf and Country Club layout.

Competition Too Tough — Three former National Amateur champions and a smattering of other well known golfers found the competition too tough in this grand scale tournament for the first Open tournament since the 1941 affair at Fort Worth, Texas, some six months before Pearl Harbor.

Howard Everett of Philadelphia, 1929 titleholder who has since turned pro, was two strokes off at Long Beach, Calif. Harrison R. Johnston, who won the amateur crown in 1929, failed to qualify at Minneapolis, but managed to land an alternate spot.

Oliver's closest competitor based on total scores—was Eddie Burke, Orange, Conn., pro, who fired a one-under-par 67-70-137 to lead the four qualifiers at Waterbury, Conn.

Howard Everett of Philadelphia, low-scoring amateur of the day, and Claude Harmon, pro of the Winged Foot Club at Mamaroneck, N. Y., came through with 139s.

Two Off Record — Everett put together rounds of 60 and 71 at Philadelphia while Harmon followed his 73 with a 66 which clipped two strokes off the field at the Metropolis Country Club at White Plains.

Former amateur champion Wilbur Turnesa and ex-PGA titleholder Bob Hamilton were among the 17 qualifiers at White Plains, along with professionals Jimmy Demaret and Ellsworth Vines and amateur Frank Strafaci, onetime Public Links king.

Thirteen former Open champions, including defending titleholder Craig Wood, will be in the field at Cleveland. All were excused from qualifying.

British Open champion Dick Burton and amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, were not required to qualify, the latter because he played in the British Amateur.

Red Sox Increase As Detroit L

By the Associated Press Detroit's hopes of repeating as American League and world champions were mighty slim today as the result of a series of night game injuries that sidelined such key men as center fielder Hoot Evers, second baseman Eddie Mayo and pitcher Stubby Overmire for "from 10 days to two weeks."

Overmire left the game with a 4-3 lead that shortly turned into a 7-4 Washington triumph when the Nats scored four runs in the home half of the frame.

Kennedy's Win — Bill Kennedy, who replaced starter Dutch Leonard, received credit for the victory that lifted the Sox to a full game ahead of the Tigers in their third-place battle before 27,121 fans. Reliever Hal White was the hero.

Not calculated to add any sunshine to the lives of Detroit followers was Boston's double triumph over Chicago, White Sox in which Dave (Boo) Ferriss, sophomore right-hander, registered his ninth straight victory as the Red Sox defeated Chicago, 6-1. The Pale Hose were even more helpless in the second game when Joe Dobson earned his sixth triumph with a five-hit, 5-2 verdict.

New York's Yankees turned on some old-fashioned power—18 hits—to defeat the St. Louis Browns, 12-2, behind rookie Clarence Marshall. They routed Nelson Potter, an old New York pest, in a seven-run first inning, but even so the Stadium gang lost ground to the Bostonians, who stretched their lead to seven games.

Indians Split — Cleveland and Philadelphia split a pair at Shibe Park, the Athletics coming back to take the second, 3-2, behind Dick Fowler after losing the opener, 6-5, despite a four-run rally in the last of the ninth.

Mel Ott's New York Giants made it three in a row over the Cardinals in St. Louis, Willard Marshall's ninth inning homer with Buddy Blattner on base saving the day for the Giants, 5-4, after the Phillies earned away an early 3-1 lead.

The Phillies kicked their fifth triumph in six games, drubbing Pittsburgh, 8-4, with a 16-hit attack featuring a 400-foot homer by catcher Andy Seminick.

Brooklyn, although idle along with Boston, Chicago, and Cincinnati, upped its first place margin to four full games by virtue of the St. Louis defeat.

Dixie Walker of Brooklyn refreshed from a five-day "vacation" to lead the Yankees to a 4-1 triumph over the Athletics at Philadelphia.

Former Greats of 'Veteran A' — Dick Burton and amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, were not required to qualify, the latter because he played in the British Amateur.

They Can Smell Revolution

A recent Gallup Poll reveals that the Canadian public sees little basic difference between the Liberal and Progressive-Conservative parties. That is to be expected because both are democratic in distinct contrast to the Socialist or Communist parties which are committed to social revolution.

So long as that clear distinction is recognized the average citizen can switch his vote from one major party to the other as his conscience and the general situation may dictate without risking the sacrifice of his personal freedom and the fundamentals of his way of life.

In matters of passing importance as well as in the degree of their progressiveness the two parties may differ from time to time and this provides the country with an opportunity to choose one or the other as immediate circumstances warrant.

Also, under the two-party system the country is able to call on an alternative government at any time when it thinks that the party in power has been abusing its privileges or shirking its responsibilities on the issues of the day.

Too Little as Bad as Too Much — "If the capitalistic system is to function at maximum efficiency, let it be recognized that inadequate profits are just as detrimental to material progress as excessive profits."

That sound warning from the presidential address of G. W. Huggert at the recent annual meeting of C. I. L. shareholders might well serve as a text for Finance Minister Halsey in preparing the coming budget. In recent years all the emphasis has been the other way.

Since the start of the war, the tax collector's only fear seems to have been that profits might grow too large. It is time he recognized the other danger; that profits can be too small. As Mr. Huggert pointed out:

The adequate return on capital comprises the fee for the service of an efficient organization; plus the amount required to insure the risk; plus the interest on the investment.

If that return were not forthcoming, capital would merely subsidize society for a time until the depletion of its resources produced industrial stagnation.

Surely as long as living standards can be raised by enlarging plant capacity, and as long as productivity can be increased by new capital investment, it is folly to adhere to a system of taxation which retards industrial expansion.

The right to retain sufficient profits to cover risks will be of the utmost importance in coming years.

First essential in creating new jobs is capital. Plants must be built, machinery installed, raw material purchased and marketing outlets established, before a factory is able to give direct employment to a single worker.

The right to retain sufficient profits to cover risks will be of the utmost importance in coming years. First essential in creating new jobs is capital. Plants must be built, machinery installed, raw material purchased and marketing outlets established, before a factory is able to give direct employment to a single worker.

With the introduction of the communist and socialist philosophies into politics in this country there loomed up a contest between two fundamentally opposed social and political systems. If the socialist or communist party became the second most important group in the country, and the only alternative government, then the public could not vote an existing government out of power without at the same time voting for the revolution.

The public is ahead and wise in seeing that there is little real difference between the two major traditional parties in Canada. And it is equally wise in seeing that communism and socialism are essentially the same thing. As some 7% of those answering the Gallup Poll question said, the only major difference between the communists and the socialists lies in the degree of the dictatorship which they desire to impose upon the people.

Under a free functioning two-party system the opposition has a vital and constructive role. But as pointed out by The Financial Post when the Pro-Con recently issued an election manifesto, they do not play that role well when they simply try to outbid their competitors with vast money-spending promises.

ter, this official referred to a chemical industry which "profited $750 of each employee on the payroll after all taxes were paid." Such a circumstance, he charged, proved that the company was "paying ridiculously low wages in the chemical industry while the owners are reaping millions."

The glib citing of figures and the subsequent charges look startling enough to secure the attention sought. But it requires only a moment's thought to see how many contributing factors were overlooked in that statement.

First and most obvious, of course, is the fact that profits are not made "off employees." They are made on the production and sale of goods. Profits must be related to original investment and cost of supplies as well as labor costs before any reasonable ratio can be established.

Since the labor leader has chosen an extreme for his example, it would not be unfair to point to the other extreme. Some of our biggest power companies, for example, have automatic sub-generating stations which cost as much as $2 million to build and yet employ only two men.

Statistics, one anonymous sage has recorded, are something that enable people to talk with complete authority on subjects they know nothing about, or he might well have added, that they don't want their hearer to know anything about.

NEW YORK, Thursday Feb 10 — In this city about to follow the example of London now nodding in the threat of "sleeping head", deadly lethargic ancephalitis, which still baffles science?

According to a statement issued today by Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner, New York may go its way with no fear of the drowsiness which few ever shake off, despite the fact that sixty six cases are under treatment here at present.

In New York State the disease, which physicians say will not become an epidemic, was responsible for the death at Hornell of Barber Eldrige, forty five, who has lain in a coma for two months. At least six more cases are reported at Hornell.

Dr. Copeland's statement explains that the great danger of the disease lies in its complete mystery. Neither what causes it nor what cure has yet been discovered; the only sure bit of knowledge is that it differs from the "sleeping sickness" of Africa, by the bite of the tsetse fly.

MALADY NOT CONTAGIOUS — However, the many cases following influenza epidemics indicate it relates to that infection, Dr. Copeland said. He continued: "Report of the department shows at this time a year ago we had 149 cases under treatment. There was a gradual decrease to October. In ere 565 cases, n 50 per cent,

The Story of "Omaha Beach"

An Intimate Message from Washington

Registered in U. S. Patent Office

By Richard L. Strout

WASHINGTON — One of the best books yet to appear about the war has, and will, receive no advertising because it is printed by the Government. It is called "Omaha Beachhead" and is lavishly compiled by the Historical Division of the War Department. It is bound in paper, profusely illustrated, and has magnificent folding maps, giving a daily and at times almost hourly account of the great "D-Day" landing in Normandy. It does not cover, except indirectly, the British phase of the landing, nor the parallel American "Utah Beach," which will be made the subject of a later study.

"Omaha" Beach was where the fiercest fighting occurred, and where, in effect, the length of the European phase of the war was largely determined. The book costs $1.50, and if you send a check to the Government Printing Office here in Washington, the Government will send you the book, postage free.

Those who make a hobby of studying the battles of the Civil War were never provided with anything like the material which the War Department has now compiled for the great D-Day adventure, surely one of the most romantic stories in all history. At the end of each chapter there is a compilation of what the Germans were thinking, taken from captured documents and interrogated officers. What strikes one now is the casual manner in which the enemy accepted the attack, his failure to comprehend its threat, or to appreciate its size.

The enemy had "been aware of the impending Allied invasion since the late winter." Hitler, as contrasted to the High Command, had figured out where it would occur. As the result of his views, the area was reinforced in May. Enemy radio intercepts on the afternoon of June 5 led the High Command to expect an invasion next morning.

They did not deem it necessary to inform local commanders in France, since they regarded their state of preparedness as sufficient for further notice. Not until 9 a. m. did enemy GHQ hear from local corps commanders that heavy landings from the sea had taken place from 7:15 on, though they were kept informed of earlier bombardment and parachute landings. At noon, the corps headquarters reported that attempted sea landings from the Vire to the coast northeast of Bayeux had been completely smashed; the 352d division advised the army at 1:35 p. m. that the Allied assault had been "hurled back into the sea"—only at Colleville was fighting still under way, with the Germans counterattacking.

The army reported in turn to group headquarters, at 4:20, that the outlook was reassuring and the forces on hand adequate. At 5 p. m., General von Rundstedt transmitted the command that the Allied bridgehead should be wiped out that evening. He received back word that it might take a little longer, but that all measures were set for counterattack.

The Germans had not made allowance for two things: First, the extraordinary technical equipment and artificial harbors that permitted the landing army to be supplied. At the end of D-Day the Germans apparently had no inkling of the scale of landings on Omaha Beach.

Second, the Germans discovered, too late, when they tried to move up Panzer and other divisions from all over France, the degree to which they had been immobilized by air attack. When Hitler, on June 6, received word of the invasion, he was about to appear at a reception near Salzburg of the new Hungarian Prime Minister. He entered the meeting with radiant face and announced, "It's begun at last." He was confident counterattacks by June 13 would wipe out any beachheads.

The Allied air effort upset all German plans. Motor transport could move only at night; on June 15, the Second Panzer Division, that should have been rushed long since across France by train, was still dribbling in under its own power. The average life of a motor in a Panther tank is 500 miles, and the enemy noted mournfully how the effectiveness of arriving units was lowered by their long overland trip under their own power. Also, there was that item of gasoline.

The brave men on Omaha Beach took most of the fighting, and this is their story.

PATIENCE BETTER THAN PESSIMISM

With present conditions apparently as propitious as could be wished, there is a general feeling that with continued good luck the Annapolis Valley will turn out a good, if not exceptionally large apple crop, this year. That, at least, is the hope that all orchardists are now nursing. But they are also speculating, at the same time, as to how, where and to whom they—or, rather, their Marketing Board—will sell the crop, if it turns out to be in keeping with the promise of present conditions.

A census of the Valley would no doubt show that the great majority of apple growers would consider their presently-complicated marketing problem solved for all time, if Nova Scotia apples were again assured of free access to the British market, in which as much as 90 per cent of the annual crop was sold in the pre-war years that are now commonly referred to as "normal times".

Because wishes are fathers to thoughts, it is natural to assume that those "normal times" will return. It is a delusion. Peaceful and satisfactory conditions may come again, but the future conditions cannot be the same as were the old. It is therefore essential to the solving of the future problem of marketing Nova Scotia apples, that thinking on that problem be based on the realities of the present and on the contingencies that can be foreseen or conceived. The Valley and its orcharding industry are involved in complicated world conditions, and will of necessity be affected by world developments.

One aspect of the British market immediately suggests that it should be very easy to sell a large quantity of Valley apples there, this year. There is evidence that the British populace who consumed Valley apples in pre-war years are still anxious to procure them. This fact is assuredly, if not conclusively, indicated by the following excerpt from a letter received by The Register, this week, from London:

"The British public are extremely eager to obtain your apples. We have lived on such a meagre and unvaried diet it is possible that the health of the people in this country will suffer beyond measure, unless we have a quick and varied diet especially during the coming winter. It is to be hoped that those in authority controlling the apple industry will put forth their best endeavours and service, to induce your government to assist in forwarding a foodstuff in apples, which is of great food value, so beneficial to human lives."

From another letter, also arriving this week from Britain, is this excerpt:

"Great Britain wants N. S. apples, much in preference to B. C. or U.S.A. The British consumer likes your varieties; the fruit usually has a fresher appearance, but above all this, you can put a barrel of apples on the market very much cheaper than any other exporting country."

The foregoing expressions are in line with many others with which Valley apple growers are familiar, and there can be no doubt that as far as desire is concerned, the British market is still open to Valley apples. Why, then, cannot the produce of Valley orchards be readily sold in Great Britain, this year? The answer, of course, is fairly well known: The Labour Socialist Government of Great Britain has taken over, and has throttled free enterprise.

The remedy for that paralysis of free enterprise is being prescribed—by exponents of free enterprise who want a remedy, of course. The remedy is to throttle the Labour Socialist Government. And, again, the wish being father to the thought, it is being predicted that the present government of Great Britain will be swept out of office in the near future—at the next general election, at the latest. That sort of talk is very agreeable to a good many Valley apple growers who would like to regain the British market without loss of time. But, if the proposed remedy is to be applied, the British people will have to apply it. That needs to be remembered, over here.

It is to be considered, however, that the British Labour Socialist Government, and the British people who elected such a Government, are involved in a world-wide struggle between two antithetic principles—human freedom and arbitrary authority. In this country, in this province, in this Valley, we are also involved in the same struggle, although there is no overwhelming evidence of consciousness in Government circles or among the people of that fact.

The present British Government, as a body, is by no means committed to a policy of exercising arbitrary authority and power. Nor is there any apparent reason for assuming that the people of Britain are in the least disposed to accept unadulterated totalitarianism. The Government and the people appear to be seeking the best means of promoting the common welfare and of maintaining the prestige and integrity of the British Empire, or the British Commonwealth of Nations—whichever phrase one prefers.

Recent events and recent pronouncements by British Government spokesmen have clearly shown that Britain is still a bulwark against the spread of totalitarianism. That is a manifestation of the British spirit, which is essentially the spirit of human freedom. There is an old saying that the British always "muddle through". It is an incorrect way of expressing the truth that the British have always been empiricists—having been consciously guided by a definite philosophy of empiricism—of learning through experience, and by the process of trial and error.

It is quite within the realm of possibility that the British Government of the present, having already encountered some trouble in attempting to implement pre-election promises, may conclude in the not-distant future, that there is still a good deal of virtue in private enterprise, even in the apple business. The spirit of private enterprise is not dead in Britain. It is somewhat hamstrung, perhaps, but possibly it will recover from that disability. In the meantime, exercise of a little patience on this side of the Atlantic will harm nobody.

Also, in the meantime, the people of this Valley and the people of Canada might be profitably employed in thinking more seriously than they have been doing about the direction in which they are headed, politically and economically. We ought to be asking ourselves whether we want to experiment with socialism, or develop democracy. We are doing neither the one nor the other. But, in failing to strengthen the spirit of democracy we are drifting towards socialism. We are accepting socialism, every day, without protest, while we tolerate two so-called major political parties, neither of which appears to be alive to the threat of totalitarianism that is working underground, all the time, and even showing its head, here and there.

Letter To The Editor

FORESIGHT AND DECISION

Editor The Register.

Sir,—Now that the Apple Blossom Festival is merely a pleasant memory, our good friends from Kentville, who received 99% of the advertising, and about 100% of the revenue, will forgive a few comments from a humble observer.

First, the arrangements indicated foresight and decision. Everyone agrees that the ten Princesses were the sweetest, most beautiful, and most suitable candidates that could have been found anywhere in the province. All could have been Queens.

Opinions on the judges' decisions on floats are something less than enthusiastic. Some are even caustic. Apparently such qualities as balance and beauty, symmetry and originality were not deciding factors.

In conclusion, what a lucky coincidence that Kentville's Princess should be chosen Queen! Lucky, because the Shiretown apparently had not provided a float for a Kentville Princess. One cannot believe that Kentville's 60th Anniversary atrocity was intended for a Princess. Easier to believe that some people are psychic!

As I said before, the arrangements and indicated foresight and decision, especially foresight.

The public has forgotten about atomic power in a pursuit of new automobiles and butter and an escape from reality. That's the opinion of Dr. F. H. Sexton, President of the Nova Scotia Technical College.

"The implications of atomic fission for the purposes of both war and peace are by far the most important that confront humanity today," he told college graduates at the annual convocation, "but they seem to have drifted quietly into the backs of the minds of the public, while the scarcity of butter, the dearth of automobiles, horse races and baseball scores seem to be our main concern."

About Town AND ELSEWHERE

It is in the cards that the number of members in the House of Commons is to be increased from 245 to 255. That will mean another $80,000 a year that the taxpayers will have to dig up, and they may well ask themselves, "Is it worth it?"

So far, this session, the most that the members of the House have done is to waste time over two rather insignificant items of legislation. One is the effort to change the term "Dominion Day" to "Canada Day". The other is the matter of a Canadian flag. Both these may be weighty matters. The Dominion may go to smash and scatteration if they are not settled. But the average Canadian doesn't think so, and he is disgusted with Parliament for wasting so much time over them. Take the case of Dominion Day. For some 78 years we have been calling it that. It has been Dominion Day, and we have celebrated it as such on the first of July. It is true that we have celebrated in our own way. One citizen of this Valley shows his enthusiasm for it by flying his flag at half-mast. But the fact remains that on an insult. He would do that if it were called "Canada Day" or "Confederation Day" or any term that Parliament might invent. Dominion Day seems an appropriate term because it is the anniversary of Canada's birth as a dominion. And Canada is still a dominion. Giving a new name to the anniversary of its birth won't change that fact. It will be time enough to spend a month or so of Parliament's time in inventing a new term for the first of July when Canada becomes something other than a Dominion. That time may come. Perhaps we shall be merely known as Canada. Or may be we'll simply become a state of the American Union, and celebrate the Fourth instead of the First of July. Until that time comes, we need waste no time in grappling with the question of a new name for the anniversary of our birth as a nation.

The matter of a distinctive Canadian flag seems also abortive and futile. We wonder why in the world we should pay men $6,000, a session, to spend such a large part of their time in wrestling with such a problem. It may be all right for Quebec to have a flag of her own. Quebec wants one. But Quebec also wants an independent Canada, and a Catholic Canada. But our not ready voters, the rest of us are not ready to yield to Quebec's desires. We are still a member of the British Commonwealth, and we acknowledge King George as our King. The Union Jack is a good enough flag for us. It means something to us, so why spend so much time in trying to devise a purely Canadian flag?

After all, Canadian unity should not depend so much on a flag, or a term, but upon something in the hearts of the Canadian people. If I am a Canadian citizen, it means that I am just as much a citizen of Quebec, Ontario, or British Columbia as I am of Nova Scotia. I may not be of French origin, nor speak the French language, but I should regard the man who is and does, as a fellow-citizen and treat him as such, even though I may not have a very good understanding of his speech. Canada is a great country—great just because she is made up of so many different provinces and races, each contributing its part to her greatness. I should be proud of her, and of being one of her citizens. That is the basis of Canadian unity.

I know, now, where part of the fee I pay for a radio license goes, and I don't relish it any too well. The federal government sponsors and pays for the radio program, "George's Wife". It's all right for George to have a wife. I'm not objecting to that. I have a wife, myself, and couldn't very well get along without her. But what sort of rube is against the grain in paying over $6,000 a week, to hear the adventures of George's wife put on the air. The thing isn't worth it. It's a waste of money. Let George and his wife hold their conversations and have their experiences in private. They're not worth $6,000 a week, especially when the Canadian taxpayer's money pays the shot.

Rationing System

People Show Restraint As Bread Curb Looms

Plan for new restriction taken calmly—Full success of 'share and share alike' system stands as one of great achievements of any government, reflecting public unity and confidence in war and peace.

By Mary Hornaday

LONDON, June 4.—The Ministry of Food's announcement that it is preparing a bread rationing plan for possible use about the end of July has been received quietly and without any four-boarding rush by the British people—who are eating worse on the whole now than at the war's peak.

This calmness is attributed to the fact that the size of the proposed rations has not been announced, plus the confidence of the average citizen in the Government's proven ability to divide equally the basic supplies between all-size pocketbooks. The average Briton's chief complaint continues to be not about the bulk of his food, but the fact that he has "had the same tastes in his mouth for the last six years."

Rationing Outstanding

Stories frequently appear in Lord Beaverbrook's newspapers trying to make the British people feel they are not getting enough to eat to maintain health, are not in as fortuitous a food position as people on the Continent. But the fact is that despite the hardships entailed both by the world food shortage and Britain's special financial difficulties, British success in maintaining "share and share alike" rationing still remains one of the outstanding accomplishments of any government in the world today.

Public confidence had been built up by the Government's always having had market supplies of food available to comply with the public rations available. But now the British are worried about the possible consequences of lending a second 200,000 tons of wheat to hungry Europe. The wheat stocks on hand now will be enough only to last three or four weeks, compared with wartime supplies of two to three months.

Astute from the grayish loaf resulting from the 90 per cent extraction rate, the biggest consumer kicks recently have been on fats and dried eggs. With six ounces of butter and margarine a week plus one ounce of cooking fat, the housewife has to wait six weeks before she can make any kind of cake.

Meat Ration Slim

The meat ration remains at 1 1/2 lb. worth a week—about enough for two meals. In addition, there is a bacon ration of about two or three rashers. A boon to the housewife who entertains is the increased supply of fish since the end of the war.

Dried eggs are scheduled to come back on June 23 but will be on a basis of firm rationing instead of the storekeeper's judgment. They will take the place of fresh eggs that have been available this spring at the rate of two or three per ration book, instead of two monthly during the fall and winter. The cheese ration recently has been reduced from three to two ounces for the summer.

More "Sparkle" Needed

The lack of sparkle in the British diet is due largely to the absence of fruit. There is a little rhubarb on the market this spring, but it takes more sugar than most housewives can spare.

Hot-house peaches sell at $2 and $3 apiece.

Dutch strawberries, selling at 6s. for a handful, disappeared from the market entirely when the Government ordered the price down.

Recovered from last year's stunted frosts, apple and plum crops should be adequate, and the Government is adding one extra pound of sugar to the regular half-pound weekly ration for jam-making.

With the sugar saved from cake curtailment, the candy ration is to be increased three quarters to 14 ounces monthly.

Milk Situation

The milk ration now stands at three pints a week, with additional amounts for young children, who today are, as the British say, "bonny." Official figures, surprisingly enough, show the fluid milk consumption 38 per cent above pre-war years. There also have been substantial increases in starch foods, offsetting 20 to 30 per cent decreases in meats, poultry, fats, oils, sugar, and fruit.

The nation's potato output has been nearly doubled since the war.

An extra bit of freedom will be injected into the rationing system when the new books come into use on July 21. Housewives can change their grocers and butchers at that time, but not their dairymen.

U. S. Parcels Welcomed

Much appreciation is expressed here at the variety furnished by the large number of food parcels received from the United States these days, but these reach only that small portion of the British population with personal trans-Atlantic friendships.

A Government scheme just announced by Miss Ellen Wilkinson, Minister of Education, recognizing that Britain's food problem for some time to come is one of monotony of taste rather than deficiency of volume, tackles it at the education level—with basic training for young persons, specialized and professional training for hotel and cafe chefs, and even lectures and demonstrations for boardinghouse keepers.

SLEEPING SICKNESS Baffles Science

N. Y. Health Commissioner Has No Fear of Epidemic, Says Malady Not Contagious.

NEW YORK, Thursday Feb 10.—In this city about to follow the example of London now nodding in the throes of "sleepy head", deadly lethargic encephalitis, which still baffles science?

According to a statement issued today by Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner, New York may go its way with no fear of the drowsiness which few ever shake off, despite the fact that sixty six cases are under treatment here at present.

In New York State the disease, which physicians say will not become an epidemic, was responsible for the death of Hornell of Barber Eldridge, forty five, who has lain in a coma for two months. At least six more cases are reported at Hornell.

Dr. Copeland's statement explains that the great danger of the disease lies in its complete mystery. Neither what causes it nor what cure has yet been discovered; the only sure bit of knowledge is that it differs from the "sleeping sickness" of Africa, by the site of the lesion.

MALADY NOT CONTAGIOUS

However, the many cases following influenza epidemics indicate it relates to that infection, Dr. Copeland said. He continued:

"Report of the department shows at this time a year ago we had 149 cases under treatment. There was a gradual decrease to October. In 1935 565 cases, or 50 per cent, sickness is curable, for a number of cases in which the next two months of those March 1920, and sixty deaths reported last year.
