PRINCIPAL: CURRIE'S

APPOINTMENT - CONGRATULATIONS

1920

L.

Ottawa, 15th June, 1920.

My dear Langley,-

I thank you very much indeed for your kind letter of the 8th instant offering me your congratulations on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill, and also on receiving the sword of honour from the commanding officers of the units in the corps. Nothing which I have ever received pleased me more than the last mentioned gift. The sword is a most beautiful one in silver and gold with my initials in diamonds and rubies. It is very handsomely engraved and suitably inscribed. It also bears a reproduction of the different orders and decorations which I have received. What I most appreciate, though, are the terms of the address and the unanimity with which it was signed.

Regarding the appointment to McGill I assure you that I am going to Montreal with the most pleasant anticipations of the work there. Naturally one regrets severing direct association with the service with which I have been so intimately connected during recent years. I had many plans in mind for the good of the Militia, yet I have been long enough here to know that these plans were due for long and painful periods of incubation.

I cannot tell you with what relief I give up a Government position. I never liked being placed in the same class as the man who is rewarded for active political support, and I know that many people considered I had been given this position as a reward for my services and that I ought to be jolly well satisfied. I did not want to hold the position if I was not the best man for it, and I did not want to receive a cent more than the position is worth. If the Canadian Government thought I was rewarded for my services by this position they may keep the reward.

It is a gratification to me to know that an institution like McGill, whose Governors are the leading business men of Canada, considered my services to them are likely to be worth more, much more I may say, than the value placed upon them by the Government of Canada. I believe McGill offers splendid opportunities for useful service to Canada and to Canadians, and I hope that my direction of its affairs will not be a disappointment to my friends.

Next to Victoria, to which I shall always be loyal, there is no place in Canada in which I would rather live than in Montreal. It is a big city and there are many real big men living there. I have never become enamoured of Ottawa "beautiful as the city is with its atmosphere full of suspicion and intrigue". I hope some day to be able to retire and live in Victoria.

Please remember me most kindly to Mrs. Langley and to my friends there. With best of good wishes to yourself, old man, I am

My dear General,

Permit me to congratulate you upon the great honours conferred upon you, in your appointment to the rank of the permanent, of the Sword of Honour - I am only sorry that as one who served under you I had no opportunity of being included amongst your comrades ^{who} gave it to you - However there must be a limit, I suppose in those

and more universal expression

the arrangements of your personal friends here ✓ did not quite know what to make of your appointment to the residue of life.

It is, however, if I may say so, a very honourable, dignified and useful position, quite clear & above all political strife, and one from which you can very conveniently step should the needs of Canada

& the Empire require your services in a larger sphere.

I personally am very glad that you have resisted all temptations to go into politics, at the time, at least.

It is pleasant to think that you will not be in one of those atmospheres which kill, kill, and tend to dim the brightest of scutcheons.

And, as I said before you will be ready, if & when the time does come that your Combs's demands are once again greater than every other thing.

Things are pretty quiet here but now. It is an extraordinary tion this. There are more people here than ever, but what they all do is a deep & dark nothing. The ship building is to come to an end soon —

It is true we are to have a Drydock (God knows when!)
& a Johnson's Bridge —

These are only spasms however & I see no chance of any large permanent pay. rolls.
We can deliver the goods
as far as scenery & climate goes, & it may be that we will be a peer country after the next referendum but I am not optimistic enough

My dear General,

I duly received your

for which many thanks -

I appreciate the portrait - which by the way I like very much - your feeling regarding your

the perhaps your language then would have been slightly more forcible!

You will agree with me
perhaps that in no instance has the Government of the day in Canada measured up to the standard of the real bulk of public opinion of its citizens, nor has any real measure ever been taken through except under pressure from the people themselves - This is not altogether peculiar to Canada, but is exaggerated because of our weakness, and of the utter incapacity for various reasons of our public men to rise from party politics to Statecraftship - Of course as regards the present Administration I, with many others, have long since ceased to think that it enjoys the confidence of the people. In fact I am sure that it does not -

I see that that discredited politician Sam Hughes, has made another dastardly attack upon you - It is characteristic of the man that he should make it under the bomb-proof shelter of Parliamentary privilege - Is it not time that this so long should be flattered out? He has been punctured more than once & has apparently plugged up the holes with his usual mendacity, effrontery & conceit.

I have felt for a long time that this man represents all that is worst in Canadian public life -

I am intimate with his doings in S. A. from first hand information from those who were with him -

I know a great deal about the scandals in his administration of the Militia Dept. and I regret that for months I

My dear General,

You know how the Corps feels towards you.

But perhaps you do not know that since you came to Militia Headquarters you have won the confidence, respect and affection of those also who, like myself, never had the privilege of serving under you at the front; and we hope you will treat with silent contempt the cowardly attack that ruffian made on you.

I am leaving the Army; and I shall always remember with pleasure and pride that you were my last Chief.

Ottawa, 8th June, 1920.

Dear George,-

Thank you very much for your letter of May 14th, and for your good wishes regarding my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University. I dare say the announcement did surprise a good many of my friends over there. The offer came like a bolt from the blue here, and I immediately pointed out to the Board of Governors that I possessed no academic qualifications. The Board's emissary to me was Lieut. Colonel Molson who assured me that the Board had taken all that into consideration, and that they were still desirous for me to go to McGill. The financial considerations are very much more attractive than the present position, where I am receiving $12,000 per year, but you will see Herbut Molson in England who can give you the details.

Naturally I am very sorry to give up my work with the Militia Department. Things have been going very well, and I am a Commander-in-Chief of all but name. All Departments have been bringing their troubles to me, something which adds very much to the work, but which gives me a very great insight into what is going on everywhere. The reorganisation is getting on very well and has been sympathetically received. It is not yet completed because we find it difficult to induce the Government to see the necessity for many things which we regard as essential. For instance, they see no reason why we should have a Signal Corps, neither do they appreciate the value of paid Adjutants and Q.M.S. instructors for our Militia Units. The Permanent Force is nothing more than a training cadre. Canada is not in a humour to accept the principle of universal training, and will continue to look to the volunteer for any military effort she may require to put forth. This is all right in a way, but it is only fair to the Militia Units to give them proper armouries, proper equipment and proper staff to supervise their training.

I have many ideas which I think if put into effect would result in an increased efficiency to the Militia but in the present state of political uncertainty I am afraid these ideas were due for a long and painful period of incubation.

MacBrien is back, looks well but has not taken over yet. You know the violence of his opposition to those who did not serve in the front line, and it is that opposition which is delaying his taking up his work. However, I think things will come out all right. We pride off a good many of these barnacles but there are yet remaining a few to be disposed of. Many of our officers, you know, gained their positions on account of their political affiliations and these same influences are at work in keeping them in the service. We are getting our way slowly but surely.

When I go the position I occupy will be done away with. Burstall will likely be Inspector General but will have no place on the Militia Council. MacBrien will be first military member and Chief of the General Staff, Elmsley is likely to be Adjutant General, Morrison will be Mastergeneral of Ordnance, while Ashton, of whom you have no doubt heard, is likely to transfer from the A.G.'s branch to the Q.M.G.'s branch. I expect to be here for another month, then after a few weeks vacation I take over at McGill on the 1st of August.

I am looking forward to the work there with a very great deal of interest. The Governors say they will give me the Professors I want, otherwise they will give me the staff I need. They don't expect me to attempt to teach anything; I am simply the Manager of the Institution. They say they want a Canadian, one who will administer the affairs of the University well and who will build up and maintain a good esprit de corps. I look forward to living in Montreal for I like the people there very much indeed and they have been exceedingly kind to me. The press throughout Canada have received the news of the appointment well, and have commented most favourably upon it. I will be away from political turmoil and strife, and you can imagine how pleasing a prospect that is.

I hope that you will continue at Camberley where the work has been so congenial. You will not forget, I hope, your promise to visit Canada. We are not very far away, and a trip will give you an opportunity of renewing your friendships here.

This would be a pleasure for thousands of Canadian Officers, for you have a very warm place in their hearts. I believe, also, that you would find it exceedingly interesting and instructive.

Please remember my wife and I most kindly to Mrs. Farmar, and with our best wishes to you both, I am dear George

My dear Wrong.-

I appreciate very much indeed your letter of the 16th instant, in which you are kind enough to congratulate me on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University.

Naturally, I accepted the position with every diffidence, knowing full well my limitations from an academic point of view; yet I look forward to the work in Montreal with a great interest and pleasure. I believe it offers opportunities for useful service to Canada, and I hope that my direction of affairs at McGill will merit the approval of my friends.

I appreciate very much your good wishes, and your assurance that I may rely on your assistance and advice.

My dear Gosnell,-

I wish to thank you sincerely for your letter of June the 5th, offering me your congratulations on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University. I am looking forward with a great deal of interest and pleasure to the work there. It opens up a new field in a way, and a very attractive one at that. I appreciate very much the opportunity of coming in such close contact with so many young men and women each year. I know the attachment which all graduates bear for their Alma Mater, and perhaps one may be able to do some good.

I am in most cordial sympathy with your suggestion. I don't want to see McGill simply a factory for turning out so many engineers, doctors, lawyers, teachers, etc. I would like to see it an institution of such a character that its graduates would be all-round men generous in mind and body, able to approach their own problems and the world's problems, determined to overcome all difficulties and to find a solution along the line only of what is right and just.

Another thing, Gosnell, which you will probably appreciate and that is I am very happy to get away from Government employ. I do not like a position where one's actions and sayings are governed so often by the limitations of expediency. I hope that before I leave Ottawa, I may have an opportunity of having a decent chat with you.

Most cordially reciprocating your good wishes,

I am,

Ever yours faithfully,

Dear Sir Arthur,

I had intended writing you sooner congratulating you on your new distinction. It certainly was a surprise to me when I saw the announcement. The surprise consisted in the fact that an almost venerable institution of learning like McGill should break away from all traditions and go outside of the ranks of schoolmen for a President. To my mind it marks a new and hopeful era in education.

University men for generations have erected themselves into a select class who by virtue of a degree have imagined themselves superior to the man whose alma mater has been Hard Knocks or whose education has been the result of experience and private study and investigation. I have long been convinced that our system of education--primary, secondary and superior--is full of fallacies and false standards. The very fact that McGill had practically felt compelled to go outside of an army of graduates to get a man like yourself for organizing and directing ~~purposes~~ purposes is proof of the limited extent to which universities qualify men for responsible ~~men~~ positions. Of course, in your case there are the personality and distinction which make the selection one of advantage and especial value to the institution over which you will preside.

I often smile when I think of the time when Sir Richard McBride was asked to deliver the annual address at California University, Berkeley. He telephoned for me and told me about it. He mentioned a list of men who had preceded him in that capacity, men like Taft, Roosevelt and Bryce and then asked me if I thought I could "measure up"--a favorite expression of his--with them. I told him I would try. The address was well received and much commented upon. I have often thought that if the dons had known that a humble individual like myself who had never been outside of a country school and not much in one had written that address they would have been shocked at the audacity of Sir Richard invoking my services for such an occasion. There is nothing very wonderful about ^{it} because the glamor of a name and high position counts for most--although, of course, the men whose names I have mentioned were scholars in a high degree and worthy of the distinction.

If I might venture to make a suggestion, I would urge on you to impress on McGill students that it is not degrees and sheepskins that count, but the education which comes from each one going through all the mental processes and solving all the problems of school and life for himself as though no master and no textbook existed and that the less exalted and spectacular avocations of life have their problems equally important, requiring not less intellectual powers and development to solve

I had only a brief opportunity last night to thank you for your kind telegram of congratulation. I wish to assure you that I appreciate what you have said very very much indeed. It is an encouragement to know that the associations formed during the war are real and lasting.

I am looking forward to my work at McGill with much interest. Possibly I may be able to help the University to instil into the lives of its graduates something of the spirit of the old Corps.

Sir:-

I have the honour to enclose you an editorial from the "Christian Science Monitor" of Boston, which I presume you have already seen but which you may be glad to have for your file.

I presume you have been over-whelmed with congratulations on your election to this most important office. May I add mine and my best wishes for your success. As a university graduate, I naturally feel that McGill is making a great experiment. That feeling however is tempered materially by my knowledge of your organizing and directing abilities and my recognition of your high ideals in the realm of citizenship. After all, honest, patriotic and intelligent citizenship is the only foundation upon which national greatness may be built.

With kindest regards, believe me

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. King,-

I thank you very much for your letter of May the 14th in which you offer me your congratulations on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University.

I appreciate the honour involved and believe that it opens an avenue for service to Canada which would be denied me in my present capacity. I hope that my conduct of the affairs of McGill will not be a disappointment to my friends.

Ever yours faithfully,

My dear Godley,-

On my return to Ottawa after a fortnight's absence, I found awaiting me your letter of May the 15th, in which you have been kind enough to congratulate me on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University. No doubt the appointment came as a surprise to many people; yet I did not accept it because I was wearied of the profession of "armyng".

Naturally one regrets severing connection with the service with which I have been so intimately associated during recent years. Yet, in the new sphere I may still be of some use to the Militia. It does not take long to make good soldiers out of good citizens and I shall not lose an opportunity of impressing upon the young Canadians just what Canada owes to the Service and the Sacrifice of her army in the Great War; nor what the value to be placed on the traditions then created.

The position I held in the Militia Service here was a satisfactory one, but I fear that many of my plans for the betterment of Canada's Militia were due for long periods of incubation. The offer of the position at McGill was very attractive when one realized the opportunities it afforded for useful service to Canada and to Canadians, and it was attractive from a financial point of view as well.

I do sincerely hope that you and Lady Godley will come to Montreal again, and when you do come you must stay with us. Lady Currie joins me in all good wishes to Lady Godley and yourself.

Ever yours faithfully,

Dear Doctor Adami,-

On my return to Ottawa after a fortnight's absence I found awaiting me your very kind letter of May 19th in which you have, in most generous terms, offered me your congratulations on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University. I assure you, Sir, that I shall take over the work with all diffidence, but yet with keen interest and much pleasure. Not only do I realise my own limitations but I fully appreciate the opportunities afforded by the position for useful service not only to Canada and Canadians but to the Empire as well. The privilege of coming into such close contact with so many young Canadians, and with so many ex-graduates of the University is indeed a wonderful one, and not to be casually regarded.

I am studying the history of the University, familiarising myself with its problems, its past successes and its traditions. It occupies a unique place amongst Canada's educational institutions, and I will do my best not only to maintain but enhance its reputation. I look forward to seeing McGill not only a great University and seat of learning but an instrument which will have a very direct, powerful and beneficial influence on the National life of Canada.

While the times are to some extent out of joint and many complex problems await solution, yet the future is full of promises, and success follows upon the heels of effort. I hesitate to say what I regard as Canada's destiny, but I have great faith in our Country and in the ability of her citizens to accomplish successfully the demands of her future destinies.

I hope my direction of the University's affairs will not be a disappointment to my friends.

Ever yours faithfully,

FROM THE VICE-CHANCELLOR
THE UNIVERSITY OF LIVERPOOL

19th May 1920.

Dear Sir Arthur,

Please accept from me - an old Professor of McGill, a fellow head of the University, and an old member of the C.E.F. - my most hearty congratulations to the University upon having succeeded in obtaining you as Principal. It is the best news that has come from McGill for a long time, and I do not know of anything that could have given me greater pleasure. Ever since I heard your thoughtful speeches at the Mansion House and elsewhere in London last year I have been talking you up as the coming great man in Canada, and this appointment, besides attaching you to one of the great institutions and helping it forward in an extraordinary degree, is of huge importance to Canada, as giving you the opportunity to lead public opinion upon broad national and imperial lines.

I shall never forget an evening I spent with Earl Grey in Montreal when he laid down that Canada had in the first place to realise her position as a nation if she was to fulfil her great destiny as the leader of all English-speaking people, the keystone and geographical centre of a federation all powerful for good in the government of the world. The biggest opportunity that ever presented itself was lost for the time being - and this has been confirmed by what Lord Robert Cecil has told me - when Wilson, after a few weeks in Paris, came to realise that the great hope of a sure peace lay in the co-ordinated action of Great Britain and her Dominions and the States, irrespective of the other Allies. If Britain and the States presented a united front, the others had to follow; and Lloyd George, lover of compromise, failed to seize the opportunity, having already come to an understanding with Clemenceau, so that for the rest of the Conference he tried to have a foot in both camps and Wilson left thoroughly distrustful of British policy.

You have a great opportunity: all strength to your right hand.

Yours ever,

J. George Adams.

My dear Owen,-

Quote [This morning I received your kind letter of the 24th inst., and I wish to take the earliest opportunity of thanking you most sincerely for your congratulations and good wishes in connection with my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University. I assure you that I regret leaving this Service; for one thing it deprives me of direct association with so many good fellows one learned to like and respect so much over there.]

In the second place, I feel that there was a great and necessary work to be done in the placing of our Military Services in Canada, on a proper footing. To me, it would be nothing short of criminal if the lessons of the war were to count as naught. I believe much good has been accomplished in the last few months; yet, one must acknowledge that a very very great deal yet remains to be done. Putting things on a right basis requires a great deal of patience and perseverance for ones actions are very much circumscribed by political, personal and financial considerations. Also when one is a servant of the Government he is not expected to speak his mind freely. If his views are at variance with the party in power he is thought to be disloyal: if they coincide with that party platform, he is thought to be a political agent, so that almost always he is misunderstood by some section of the community. I believe that McGill affords wider scope for influencing Canadian thought and Canadian citizenship so I am looking forward to going there with a very great deal of interest and pleasure.

I am glad that things have turned out so that you are congenially situated and I most cordially

My dear Livesay,-

If it gave you any pleasure to send me your kind letter of the 25th it gives me equal pleasure to acknowledge such kindness and courtesy. As you have intimated I do look forward to going to Montreal with a very great deal of pleasure.

Most of us on returning to Canada experienced a feeling of disappointment in the atmosphere which prevailed, and that feeling has not been removed by anything we have observed since. Our pride of country and our belief in her future destiny has not been lessened in any way, and I eagerly grasped the opportunity of going to McGill because I realise the position affords so much opportunity for useful service to Canada and to Canadians. I intend to leave Ottawa in about a week's time and after a brief vacation will take over at Montreal about August 1st.

I hope that any time you are there you will look me up.

My dear Sir Arthur Currie:-

I made up my mind when I heard of your appointment that I would venture to offer my congratulations, but I have been exceedingly busy with the reorganization of our Association, now completed. I believe, too, that I had the good sense to recognise that my humble little mite would have a trifle more value if it arrived after the banquet--for among so many great ones it must have scaped your notice entire.

I don't know that I have been more pleased with anything for many a day. In honoring you McGill honors herself-trite but true. It was my great good fortune to see you at close quarters in very difficult days and it was then I came to realise your great spirit and how great an asset it was for the Corps. It has worried me not a little to think that you were being wasted on a job at Ottawa that however interesting and valuable it might be nevertheless gave no scope for your qualities of leadership. I can guess how you prize the opportunity you now have of doing much to mould the youth of Canada and inspire them with just those ideals that were of such immense value to the Canadian Corps as a fighting force.

Don't bother to acknowledge this as of course you must be very busy. But it is a little satisfaction I cannot refuse myself.

By the way, I have just got hold of Monash's book which I shall read with a good deal of curiosity. I suppose you have seen it. I ~~wk~~ would like to see an intelligent précis of quite another book--that of Ludendorff--go into every high school in Canada.

Sincerely yours,

My dear Theodore,-

I do indeed appreciate your letter of May 12th, in which you were good enough to offer me your congratulations on my accepting the Principalship of McGill University. To have one's old friends say they are pleased with the step, is very pleasant and encouraging.

I am sorry you ever had any idea, (and I really do not believe you had) that I considered you of the same kidney as some others who were in the Records Office. I was very glad in a way that you were there because I knew there was a greater likelihood of things being portrayed in their correct light. I have forgotten what I said about your little 10th Battalion history; it was probably an opinion that I considered Fiction writers ought never attempt to write history.

I am glad the "Youth's Companion", Boston have accepted one of your war stories, and I shall look forward to receiving the copies.

With reference to the last paragraph of your letter, please come down and see me some time. Willis is more likely to know just where the copies of my special orders are; you are indeed very welcome to them.

I think my boyhood days were probably a little different from those of any other young Canadian; I cannot say that I read any books in particular, but if I had any preference in later years, it was for the works of Kipling and Shakespeare.

Come and see me when you can and I shall give you what information you desire.

With best wishes,

Dear General,

I feel that congratulations are due to McGill University rather than to you; and yet I want to congratulate you on again doing a big and distinguished thing. Plenty of us can imagine fine things to make of life - but few of us, more's the pity, can make them after the imagining. My admiration for you has increased; and that is saying a great deal. I do not think that it will be out of place now for me to tell you that when I left you and went to the War Records in London in the spring of 1918 I did so to work for the Corps and remained, in spirit, a member of your staff. And I rode straight - so straight that though I worked hard I was not particularly popular, except with the few others in the office who had acquired their sense of the true fitness of things under you in France. I tell you this now because I have sometimes feared that you considered me a backslider, an intriguer, a Lord-knows-what! I never faltered in my loyal and undiplomatic methods even after the shog/you gave my little Tenth Battalion History. Now that I have got this off my chest I shall think no more of it.

The Youth's Companion, of Boston, is now publishing a Canadian war story of mine in ten chapters - an unusual thing for an American magazine to do just now. I am taking the liberty of having copies of this yarn sent to you. In the autumn they will print another of my Canadian yarns of the same length; and now they want a special article from me on some Canadian subject. I have decided to take a few days off from the novel I am now hammering at and write them something about you in the light of your new line of action. My idea is not of a gossipy or very personal paper, but ^{of} a dignified effort in a somewhat philosophical vein, dealing with what you have done and what you stand for rather than with the colour of your hair. You are an institution, and your career should be an inspiration to thousands of young people: And that is the way I want to write of you. May I know where you got your size from, if there are military traditions in your family, and your favorite books when a boy and later? And can you let me have copies of your Special Orders? - and oblige,

Yours Sincerely, as ever,

Theodore Goodridge Roberts

My dear Mrs. Powell,-

On my return to Ottawa after a fortnight's absence I found awaiting me your very kind letter of May 24th in which you have been good enough to offer your congratulations on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University. I assure you that I look forward to the work there with very great interest and pleasure, fully appreciative of the opportunities afforded for useful service to Canada and to Canadians.

Let me at once correct the impression that the Government has had anything to do with my receiving the appointment. Far from being honoured by the Government of Canada, I am in the unique position of being the only Commander of a British Force who has not received from his Government even a vote of thanks. I assure you also that I have no regrets at giving up residence in Ottawa where the atmosphere is impregnated with suspicion and intrigue.

Next to Victoria, or the coast towns of the lower main line I think I shall prefer living in Montreal to any other place in Canada. It is a big city and there are many real big men in it. Montreal has been extremely kind to me since my return to Canada, and I look forward with pleasure to living there. I hope I may be spared long enough though to retire and spend my last days in Victoria.

On my return to Ottawa I took up the matter of Robbie's promotion but I found there was nothing that could be done. It is right that I should correct in your mind the impression that his acting as Liaison officer meant promotion being made. Liaison officer simply meant that he acted in such a capacity to a unit associated with his own in battle. It was a position of responsibility but did not necessarily carry with it any promotion. Had the poor boy been spared but a short time longer he would have received promotion in the ordinary course, but his case is similar to that of thousands of others, and the Department has decided to abide by the regulations, otherwise there would be great confusion. There is no doubt whatever, Mrs. Powell, that many young Canadians deserve far more recognition than what was accorded them, and none deserved it more than your son. Still in the matter of rank we are not allowed to exceed the number provided for in the establishment of a unit.

As far as I know after a man once arrived at the front friends and influence counted for naught in the matter of promotion and honours. Away from the actual theatre of war such things did happen, but at the front we did our best to treat all fairly and alike. Although Robbie well deserved promotion, and more than probable was entitled to some mark of distinction, yet nothing can be done now, and you must be content with the consciousness that he did his full duty before sacrificing for honour and for principle man's dearest possession---life itself. That must be your consolation for having laid upon the altar of freedom so generous a sacrifice. In the life of the race a single generation passes like a heart beat, but those whose names are in the lists of the lost are secure for all time in their fame and in their power. That God will comfort you always is my sincere prayer.

Ever yours faithfully,

we are pretty proud.

I fancy it will not give

And when your father needs a leave, you can turn to you may always feel happy in the thought that we shall be glad to see you.

With regard to my

feel that it was singular
he did not get his captaincy he had worked hard at his told me - no relogation, and when made Lieut. officer a step that meant promotion.

Dear Sir William Peterson,-

On my return to Ottawa after a fortnight's absence I found awaiting me your kind letter of May 24th. I thank you sincerely for the generous terms in which you have referred to my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill, and for the clear and concise way in which you have pointed out the opportunities for useful service to Canada and Canadians which the position affords. Your letter will serve as an inspiration, and I trust that my direction of the University's affairs which are so near and dear to your heart will not be of a disappointing character. I recognise the unique position which Canada enjoys as the key stone of the British Empire, and my aim will be to make McGill exercise a direct potent and recognised influence on all that pertains to the well being of our country, the British Empire and the English speaking peoples of the World.

In accepting the position I do so with a full knowledge of my own limitations, but I am studying the history of the University, its problems and traditions and I hope, with the help of a staff and the advice of the Board, to be able not only to maintain but to enhance the reputation you did so much to create. In 1921 I intend to visit England when I shall do myself the honour of calling upon you and receiving first hand the benefit of your advice.

I hope that your health will improve, and that you will long be spared to enjoy, even if greatly handicapped, many years of rest after a life so full of useful service to man kind. Most cordially reciprocating your good wishes, I am

Dear Sir Arthur Currie

I was greatly touched by the generous tone in which you acknowledged my cable. My impulse was to write you more fully at once, as in fact I had intended to do even apart from cabling; but as you will notice from this, I am still unable to write with my own hand. And in the meantime we have been busy moving from Bath to Sidmouth en route for the permanent address which is written at the top of this letter.

Let me assure you that you will be very much in my thoughts in entering on your new election. For Dr. Gill is very dear to me, & I think it fortunate that she should have been able to attract to her service, at this stage of her development, one with so brilliant a record.

You are of the number of those who, especially in these later years have enjoyed notable opportunities of getting things done, & that is what Dr. Gill needs above everything. In Montreal you will be able to stand forward as a captain & leader, enforcing by practical application the teachings of the class room & stimulating all alike, both inside & outside the University, to a higher conception of the obligations of Citizenship & Patriotism. Dr. Gill is no more an academic ornament, to such qualifications as you possess, I do not know of any position in Canada which offers immeasurable opportunities of public usefulness.

You will be supported by a distinguished staff of teachers & with the wise co-operation of the Board of Goodness you will be able, I am sure, to raise Dr. Gill in the future to a pinnacle of greatness to which she had not yet attained.

With heart felt wishes that you may find every thing congenial in your new sphere I am

Yours sincerely

My dear Embury,-

On my return to Ottawa, after a fortnight's absence, I found awaiting me your letter of May 24th, in which you have been good enough to offer me your congratulations on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University.

One naturally regrets leaving the Service with which has been so closely allied during the past five years, and the many good fellows one became associated with during that time. Yet I look forward with keen interest and pleasure to my work in Montreal, feeling as I do that it affords many opportunities for good service to my country, and I trust that my direction of the University's affairs will not be a disappointment to my friends.

I was also very glad to receive your photograph which both Tom Gibsone and myself consider a most excellent likeness of a very distinguished man. I am very glad you did not overlook your promise to send it.

I was

It is a great position &

HOUSE OF COMMONS
CANADA

Leader of the Opposition

Ottawa, May 14, 1920

My dear Sir Arthur:

It was with very great pleasure that I learned of your acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University, and of the honour the University had conferred upon you upon your assuming your new office. Will you please accept, with my heartiest congratulations, the expression also of my very sincere wishes for your own enjoyment and achievement in this new field of activity and opportunity.

I am glad that your splendid organizing abilities and high purpose have found this particular medium for their fuller expression.

Yours very sincerely,

M. Macdonald King

General Sir Arthur W. Currie, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., LL.D., O t t a w a .

E.H.

Ottawa, 18th May, 1920.

My dear Brothers,-

I thank you for your letter of the 14th instant with clipping enclosed. I also wish to thank you again for your wire, which I acknowledged on Saturday.

I may also mention that I am sorry that it is not possible for me to go to Boston on May 24th. I have tried very hard to make this trip but I am so exceedingly busy here that almost every minute counts. I most likely shall have to work in the office on Sunday and Monday next.

Between ourselves, and about this I wish you would not make any mention to Mr. Davison, but it seemed he was not quite satisfied to have me address the Canadian Club alone. He was arranging for me to address a Convocation at some Memorial Service next Sunday and on Monday I was to review a Parade of some sort. I always find the trouble is that when you agree to go to a place for one purpose, you are asked to do a dozen other things. This always takes a little of the gilt off the ginger bread.

I am looking forward to going to McGill with a very great deal of pleasure, and I believe there are wonderful opportunities ahead there, while it will also take one away from this politically charged atmosphere.

With all good wishes to Mrs.

Brothers and yourself,

Lt.-Colonel O.F. Brothers, O.B.E.,

Ever yours faithfully,

My dear Chief:-

Your new appointment has taken my breath away, although Willis, in a letter dated the 7th of May, told me I should be hearing some news one day which would interest me quite a bit.

I am enclosing a page out of the "Boston Transcript", which will interest you. As it is only to be expected, they have got rather mixed up about your record, it being about ~~four~~ years behind the times.

I presume you will take hold of your new work very soon and will be located in Montreal. I hope to be up those parts within a month or two and will see you.

I am still jogging on here and am now settling down, I presume, to commercial life. We have got a new Company coming along, not leather; which I think will be a very payable proposition.

I will write you more about it when we are further advanced. I wont worry you with more now.

With all good wishes,

Yours ever,

General, Sir Arthur Currie, G.C.M.G., K.C.B.,

My dear Jim,-

Let me thank you very much for your letter of May 10th. I appreciate your congratulations and good wishes. I am looking forward to my work in Montreal with a great deal of pleasure. Naturally I have regrets at leaving the Militia Service. I had many hopes for its future, but probably most of these were doomed to disappointment.

In the re-adjustment that must take place here I hope you will be brought to Ottawa, and will be given a position on the Militia Council. I suppose the position which I fill will be done away with, and the old Inspector Generalship recreated. Possibly this will be given to General Burstall, and so a vacancy will occur there.

With all good wishes and many thanks,

I am, dear Jim,

Ever yours faithfully,

Dear Sir Arthur

If it is true that you are going to McGill University may I congratulate you. In my humble opinion you are wiser to leave the service of a country that demands every sacrifice from you and ^{in return} is not prepared to recompense their services adequately. You will find them, at McGill you will lead a congenial life in a prominent position and with this would in front of you. At N. H. D. you would spend your time in fighting politicians in the interests of the Militia. The very best of good luck to you.

Dear Sir,-

I acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 15th, and beg to thank you for the kind invitation to take part in the ceremony to be held at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel on the afternoon of Saturday, June 5th. I regret that it will not be possible for me to be present on that occasion as I have certain long standing engagements in Ontario.

I am disappointed in the necessity of my replying in this strain for two reasons. I would like to join with you in tribute to those members of your Association who made the supreme sacrifice while serving in the Canadian Corps, and in the second place I have a high regard for the members of your Association in which I have many friends and all of whom I would like to know better.

Ever yours faithfully,

General Sir Arthur Currie,

Sir,

It is the intention of this Association to present souvenirs to the members who enlisted for overseas service, these souvenirs to take the form of gold cuff-links suitably inscribed. In the case of members who were killed on active service the articles will be presented to the next of kin. The presentation will be held at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel on Saturday afternoon, June 5th, at 3.30 o'clock.

I have been instructed to communicate with you in order to find out if it would be possible for you to honour the Association by your presence at the ceremony, and if so to see if you would favour us by making a few remarks. The members of the Executive would appreciate it if you would be so kind as to present the souvenirs to the next of kin of those who gave their lives in the great War.

Among those who are being invited to participate in the presentation are, Captain Mathews as representing the Navy, Brigadier-General Labelle, Lt-Colonel C.F. Smith, and the Honourable Mederic Martin, Mayor of Montreal.

DOMINION COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS' ASSOCIATION

I might mention that about 330 members of this Association enlisted for overseas service, and of that number 35 made the supreme sacrifice.

In the event of your being able to be present at the ceremony I trust that you will further favour the Association by attending an informal dinner to be held after the presentation of the souvenirs.

I would bespeak the favour of an early reply from you as there will be a meeting of the Committee next Saturday, on which date I shall be expected to make a report as to progress made.

I am, Sir,

Dear Rev. Morrison,-

I appreciate very much indeed your kind letter of May 13th offering me your congratulations on my acceptance of the Principalship of your old University.

I look forward to taking up the work there with a great deal of pleasure and interest, for I feel that if we seek to make the necessary change in the outlook of our people we must do it through the coming generation. Older people seem to be too set in their ways and too much committed to the material associations and influences of their daily avocations.

I hope that in my new work and service to Canada I shall not disappoint my friends.

My Dear Sir Arthur -

A few hours ago, on returning from a short trip in the U. States, I received the very satisfying news of your appointment to, and acceptance by the Principalship of old McGill. I hasten to extend my most cordial felicitations - a most worthy appointment, and one which reflects and shows sound judgement - on the part of those making it.

I was - nearly 30 years ago - an undergraduate of McGill. so I am touched personally that my good friend should receive the place, and I am confident great success will attend your work.

My sincere regards to Lady Currie your daughter and self.

My dear Murray,-

I thank you very much indeed for your letter of May 14th offering me your congratulations on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University.

I am looking forward with much interest to my work in Montreal for I believe it opens up an avenue of useful service to my country denied me in my present position. To become so closely associated with so many young men each year is a privilege and an opportunity, and I have decided that we must look to the coming generations for any decided change in the moral standard of our people. To receive so many good wishes from old comrades is very gratifying. I remember you very well overseas.

Dear General Currie. Permit me to add my word of satisfaction and congratulations to you on having accepted the principality of McGill University. While serving as a Chaplain overseas under your command, we were taught that when competitions took place amongst battalions of one brigade we should support our own battalion and when in divisional competitions our support should be behind those of our brigade, thus establishing an esprit de corps proper to each unit, which when united fostered a spirit of unity throughout the whole corps, so, even though a Toronto Varsity graduate

My dear Spry,-

I beg to acknowledge receipt with thanks your letter of May 13th in which you were good enough to offer congratulations on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University.

I sever my direct connections with this Department in July, and I do so not without many feelings of regret. There were many ideas I had for the placing of the Militia on its feet which I feel sure would have had a long and trying period of incubation. Directing the affairs of the Militia in peace time is a far different matter than commanding the Canadian Corps in war. It seems a most difficult matter to get direct and necessary action. McGill offers a splendid opportunity for rendering useful service to our country.

I cannot tell you how much I appreciate the good wishes of my old comrades.

Dear Sir Arthur Currie;

Local newspapers in despatches from Ottawa and Montreal, announce your selection as President of McGill University.

Everyone who knows you and counts you as a friend (in which group I associate myself) will be gratified at this further signal honour bestowed on you. May I voice the sentiment of dozens of officers here who hope that your acceptance of the Presidency of "Old McGill" will not mean your withdrawal from the task of getting the Militia on its feet, nor your relinquishing the post of Inspector General and Military Counsellor.

Dear Sir Arthur;-

Probably you will have been deluged with congratulations on your McGill appointment, but I should like to add to them my own, though they may arrive a bit late in the day. I should imagine that you will be enormously relieved to throw off the shackles of your present post and have no doubt that McGill is extremely lucky to have secured your services.

I am enclosing an unmounted photograph of yourself and should be grateful if you would sign it for me. Most of us who were fortunate enough to serve under you in France will find it rather difficult to think of you arrayed in cap and gown. The enclosed will take its place in due course in my little gallery, among those pictures which serve to call to mind memories of days, at times full of strain and hardship perhaps, but not without a great deal of fascination as one looks back on them. I stopped off at a number of places all through the country in March and it is remarkable that one cannot go into any town now without meeting some man one knew in France. I think the friendships one formed then will always remain one's most treasured possessions.

Please do not bother to reply to this--except to forward the photograph.

Yours sincerely,

Leslie Johnston

My dear Rattray,-

I thank you very much for your letter of the 16th inst., offering me your congratulations on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University.

Naturally it is a matter of regret in one way that I am leaving the Military Service. I had many ideas as to reforms but I feel that in the present state of mind of the Government and the people generally, they were due for a long and painful period of incubation. I have not altogether been happy in Ottawa. I find being in charge here, or rather, partly in charge here, is rather a different thing to commanding troops in the field. The offer to go to McGill came like a bolt from the blue. I hesitated much before accepting it because I realized my lack of academic qualifications, but the Board of Governors were insistent that they did not want a person of outstanding academic qualifications. I realize that at McGill there are splendid opportunities for doing good service to Canada - probably more opportunities than my present position affords. The financial inducements also were very strong, and altogether I think I shall be much better off there than here. I am glad that so many of my old comrades have approved of the step; I believe the most of them on honest grounds; possibly some were glad to see me go.

I am quite sure that what you said to the Masons of Winnipeg would be decidedly interesting and instructive, and I am glad to know that at a future meeting you propose to finish your talk.

I shall be here until about the end of July as I am to take over in Montreal on August 1st.

With all good wishes, and many thanks for your letter, I am,

dear Rattray,

Ever yours faithfully,

Dear General Currie

It was with much surprise that I read of your acceptance of the principalship of McGill.

To become the head of the greatest educational institution in Canada is something to aspire to and I most sincerely congratulate you on your appointment.

I had looked forward to you as being the means of emancipating the Canadians

Militia from the past and present.
Joblessness and lack of business but I presume the pressure of politics and pull of church was too great to be overcome at the present and in that way discouraging.

The Canadian Military forces is like the Senate. A nice place to put useless, brainless, effete and effeminate relations and friends when they can have an easy lazy life of the "Rily"
type at the government expense.
And the thought of putting virile active men in charge was too great a change for the "old gang" in Ottawa to swallow.

I am sorry in a way that you are giving up your position. Because it will be a source of satisfaction to the outfit who get out to "get you". They will now think they will be successful.

But on the other hand, if you met with official opposition to any reforms you wanted to introduce, then was no use of you was any your time, when another greater opportunity of using your powers of organization and leadership presented itself.

No doubt in due course you will let us know the real reason of your change.

My talk to the Masonic brethren brought out the largest meeting ever held. I did not get any farther than Paschendale, although I spoke an hour and a half. I am to finish the rest at another meeting.

My address got a fine reception and the announcement the following day that you were going to McGill made it appear as if it were a set of facts. But ~~but~~ I left a decidedly different impression on the minds of those present as to the worth & merit of the Canadian Corp Announcements than what some of them had previously.

I was looking forward to the time that when you got affairs military into your way of running that I might be called in to help. But I must now put that idea away.

I hope you will like your new work. That it will succeed is axiomatic.

Again congratulatory you and with best wishes

Sincerely
J. H. Murray

Dear Mr. McGreer,-

This morning's mail brought me your kind letter of May 12th, and I wish to thank you very much for your thoughtfulness in offering me your congratulations on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University. I am looking forward to my work there with very great interest and pleasure. I realise the opportunities it creates for service to Canada. To become as closely associated with young men as the Principal of a University must become is indeed a wonderful privilege, and I quite agree with you that the Universities are the strategical points in the world's life. Naturally it is with feelings of regret that one parts from the life with which one has been so closely associated during recent years, but I find the work in my present position vastly different than commanding the Canadian Corps in the field.

I am glad that you are enjoying your life at Oxford. Please remember me kindly to Mrs. McGreer. She probably knows that Lady Markham was good enough to spend a few days with us earlier in the year, and we are hoping to see her again soon. We as yet have had no opportunity of seeing the McCans. Lady Currie joins me in most cordially reciprocating your good wishes.

Ever yours faithfully,

Dear Madam,-

Please forgive me for not before this answering your letter of May 12th in which you were good enough to extend to me an invitation to address the Montreal Women's Club on Monday, October 25th, next. I will consider it an honour to comply with your request, but please do not ask me at present to give you the subject of my address.

I hope to be living in Montreal after the 1st of August, and assure you that I am looking forward to my work there with very great interest and pleasure. I thank you for your kind words with reference to my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University. I hope that my direction of its affairs shall not disappointment my friends.

Dear Sir: -

As President of the Montreal Women's Club, I have the honour of extending to you an earnest invitation to address us on our first lecture-day, next season, Monday, October twenty-fifth on a subject of your own choosing.

Our Club - founded in 1892 and numbering four hundred members - has always taken a leading part in civic, educational and social reforms; as an example of what has been accomplished in the past,

Medical School Inspection and the Juvenile Court in our city owe their inception to the efforts of the Montreal Women's Club.

Last October our opening lecture was to have been delivered by Sir Auckland Geddes, but in his absence, Acting-Principal Dean Adams addressed us.

Other lecturers of the last session were Sir George Foster, Sir Robert Falconer, Principal of Toronto University

Generable Archdeacon Cody - ex-Ministry of Education for Ontario, Baronness Guard of Paris, Honourable Walter Mitchell, our Provincial Treasurer, Dr. Whidden, U.P.
for Brandon and President of Brandon University
etc. etc.

We would esteem it a very great honour to have our opening lecture delivered by the new Principal of Mc Gill University and may I here, speaking for myself, my Board of Management and the whole membership of the Club, express our deep gratification that the head of our noble Canadian army in France has been induced to become the head of the great university in our city

As we are now arranging our programme for next year, preparatory to printing our Club Calendar, an early reply would be greatly appreciated.

I have the honour to remain

Yours very sincerely,

Jennie A. Stewart

My dear Mitch,-

I wish to thank you very much indeed for your kind congratulations on my appointment as Principal of McGill. I appreciate very much having your approval. The offer came like a bolt from the blue, and I hesitated long before accepting it. I realise fully my own limitations and the lack of academic qualifications, but I believe I fully appreciate the opportunities the position affords for useful service to Canada. I regard the Universities as the strategical points in our national life. I hope my direction of McGill will not be a disappointment to my friends. Naturally one regrets very much severing one's connection with the Service, but I believe that many ideas I had regarding the Canadian Militia were due for a long and painful period of incubation.

My dear General

Please accept my heartiest congratulations on your appointment as Prin cipal of McGill. We are so glad you accepted because we think it good for McGill and if I may say it I think it was wise on your own part. I was down in the Maritime Provinces when the news came and I have just now returned. Both down there and at Quebec where I stopped for a couple of days at the Conference of Canadian Universities (representing Toronto with Sir Robert) I found a pretty general feeling of satisfaction and expectation that it was a good move for all concerned.

You will find the University business considerably different from the military! — as I have, having now finished my first year of it — but it is altogether a matter of adaptation both in atmosphere and management. The professorial temperament is a thing that one has to study with some care and I confess I have learned a lot during the past few months.

I wish you the best of success and continued
good fortune.

My wife joins with me
in best regards to Lady Lumie

Yours sincerely

Dear Sir Robert,-

I acknowledge with most grateful thanks receipt of your letter of May 21st in which you were good enough to offer your congratulations on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University. I assure, ^{you} Sir Robert, that I hesitated long before accepting the position for I realise my own limitation. I look forward to my work in Montreal with feelings of keen interest and pleasure. I appreciate that the position affords me opportunities for most useful service to our country. As I have stated in a letter to Gen'l. Mitchell today I regard the Universities of Canada as the strategetical points in the battle line resisting all those influences and agencies which seek to pull down, to corrupt and to destroy a true citizenship. To have the opportunity of coming into close contact with so many of our young men and women each year is a wonderful opportunity. I thank you, Sir Robert, for your promise to give me your advice. I assure you that in all probability I shall often come to you. I most cordially reciprocate your hope that the relations between the Universities of Toronto and McGill will always be of the most cordial character.

It always gives me great satisfaction to know that the University of Toronto was the first to offer me an honorary degree for I am an old boy and at one time in my life looked forward to attending at Toronto having passed the necessary academic examination. I am looking forward with much pleasure to seeing you on June 3rd.

With all good wishes, I am

Ever yours faithfully,

My dear General Currie.

I had expected to meet you in Quebec and then to have had the pleasure of congratulating you on the appointment to the Principalship of McGill University, so I did not write you. Will you allow me now to say that I cordially wish you the greatest success in your new office, and if you will allow me to say so I will regard it as a high privilege to be of any service in my power should you at any time feel that my knowledge of Canadian University affairs may be helpful to you until you have had time to review the general situation.

I am sure that the fact of your taking the principalship will greatly emphasise the function of Education throughout the Dominion, and of course you will have the faculty & students devoted to you.

I hope that the cordial relations which have existed between McGill & Toronto will be maintained & that we shall have constant and profitable intercourse.

In view of your appointment it is most fortunate that we offered you an honorary degree last autumn, because it is a proof that we wished to honour you as a man not as the head of any institution.

You will be glad to hear that on June 3rd General Townshend is to be present to receive an H.D. degree.

With anticipations of the pleasure of seeing you at your movement & of much future good fellowship, I am

Yours sincerely

Dear Arthur:

It was with great delight that I read in the paper this morning of your appointment to the Principalship of McGill University. I need not tell you what personal satisfaction I take from this good news, and I welcome your appointment, not only on the personal ground, but also as an old veteran in the academic world, myself!

It seems strange that you should be coming in it just as I seem to be pulling out. I am not out of it yet, by any means, but am on almost indefinite leave of absence from Columbia University to direct the Economic History of the War, of which I told you, in Paris. You may be interested to know that we are going strong and that I have offices now in London, Paris, Brussels, the Hague and Copenhagen, and shall soon have opened shop in Italy and a few other countries, as well....

Is there any chance of your being in or near Strathroy in the course of the next month? I shall be up home trying to straighten out the old home problem, after the death of my father, and I should like nothing better than the chance to see you again and talk things over.

As ever

Sincerely yours,

Dear General Currie, -

No doubt this letter will be one of very very many congratulating you upon becoming the head of Mc Gill University. However I feel that, as an officer of the old "Corps", and more especially having served on your general staff, I must add my congratulations to those of the multitude.

Having taught civilians to be such splendid soldiers - and the "Corps" was splendid - and later having guided them into safe and sane citizenship, one feels that Mc Gill, and indeed Canada, is more than fortunate in having you in such a position where the scope of your activities

My dear Sir Arthur,

Allow me to congratulate you on your appointment to McGill, and McGill in its wisdom in selecting you. You will find yourself in a constituency which is prepared to stand behind you to any extent and is asking only for leadership to do anything in reason which it is desired to do. McGill is a great University and the fact that it has had to lean upon private support has created an amount of interest in it on the part of the community which no State University can ever gain. In these days when the rewards in commercial life so far exceed the payment that is made to learned or professional men the conducting of the affairs of a University is no light task; but even McGill should be a light matter compared with the enormous responsibilities that you carried during the war. I trust that I may have many opportunities of enjoying your fellowship and profiting by your counsel.

So, welcome to the fraternity of University Presidents! May McGill grow greater and yet more great under your administration.

With every good wish,

You certainly are to be

On the other hand while

I regret to hear that your recovery from your operation is quite slow. I hope that the fine weather we are experiencing now will have the effect of hastening that recovery, and that you will soon be your old self again.

In addition to what I have said in my reply to her, I wish also to say that I shall look forward to living in Montreal with a great deal of pleasure, for I formed during the war, very close associations with many of its citizens. My dear Currie,-

I had hoped to have seen you to congratulate you personally on the honour bestowed upon you in accepting the position as Principal of McGill University, but I have been laid up for a week, and on my return find you are away.

Please accept my most sincere congratulations. I congratulate McGill in obtaining your great services, but it is a frightful blow to the Militia losing you from here, while I am sure you will always be ready and willing to give the country the benefit of your advice and wonderful experience.

I am sure your work at McGill will rebound with great credit to yourself and the country.

With all good luck to you in your undertaking, I am

Always sincerely,

General Sir Arthur Currie, K.C.B.,
Department of Militia & Defence,

Ottawa, 8th June, 1920.

My dear Buster,-

When I saw you yesterday I had not yet opened your letter of May the 24th which awaited my return to Ottawa.

I thank you indeed for your kind congratulations and as we discussed yesterday, perhaps the new position offers as much opportunity for useful service to Canada as that which I am now holding. The thing one most regrets on leaving the Department is the break in the association with so many good fellows with whom one has worked so intimately during recent years. However, the welfare of Canada's Militia will always be very near to my heart, and I hope to be of some service to it yet.

I was glad indeed to see you looking so well yesterday and I hope you soon recover your former robust health.

With all good wishes,
I am, dear Buster,
Ever yours faithfully,

General.

Dear Sir Arthur,

I am a little late in my congratulations but they are no less sincere for that. I am glad that at last some Canadian Institution has had the decency to, in some way, reward you for your services to the Empire.

I, among many others, shall be very sorry that you are relinquishing your post as Military Councillor.

It is too bad that you cannot be suitably rewarded within that Department of the State you served so well. It is too bad that you cannot continue to stand for the serving Soldier against political apathy.

But perhaps at the University you may be able by speech or actions to do more for the Indian Forces than you could when its chief, but restrained by the regulations of office.

You have my very kindest
congratulations

I have the honour to be

My Lord,-

Upon my return to Ottawa after a fortnight's absence, I found awaiting me your kind letter of May the 27th, in which you have been good enough to offer me your best wishes on my acceptance of the Principalship of your old "Alma Mater".

I assure you, Sir, that I appreciate this greeting very much indeed, and such a warm assurance of your loyalty and support will be in inspiration.

I look forward to the work in Montreal with keen interest and much pleasure, fully realizing the wonderful opportunities afforded for service to Canada, and to Canadians. I hope that my direction of McGill's affairs will not be a disappointment to the old graduates.

Dear Sir Arthur:-

As an old graduate of McGill's, I hasten to convey to you a warm greeting, and the assurance of loyalty as the new Principal of my old 'Alma Mater', and to express the hope that you may long be spared to preside over its destiny with the distinguished ability wherewith God has endowed you.

And further to express my deep regret that I shall be unable to be present on the occasion of the Commencement of the University of Toronto, when the University is to honor itself by conferring a Degree upon you. As a matter of fact I expect to have left for England by that time, and therefore, regret my inability to be present.

With all good wishes for the occasion; and hoping that there will shortly be a grand re-union of McGill Graduates to have the honor of meeting their new Principal, believe me

My dear General,

My heartiest
congratulations.

McGill University in an lifetime is likely to be a much bigger thing than the Canadian military. I dare say you have regrets, but you will probably find that there are extraordinary similarities between the direction of a university and an Army Corps. The chief difference will

It probably be found to be the comparatively long interval between action and its result in the case of the farmer,
and I am sure you will have as brilliant success with the one as with the other.

Sir Arthur Currie's Appointment

THE appointment of Sir Arthur Currie to the high educational office of principal of McGill University is welcome, for many reasons, but particularly, perhaps, because of the evidence it affords of a broadening concept of the term education. Sir Arthur Currie does not profess to be a scholar. Beyond six years' experience as a school-teacher, he has no academic affiliations. But, as the governors of the university point out in their statement on the subject, the qualities which made him an incomparable leader and organizer at the front fit him preeminently for the headship of a great Canadian university. The brilliancy of Sir Arthur Currie's record in the great war, as leader of the Canadian Expeditionary Force in France, won him, the governors declare, a reputation unsurpassed in the British forces. And they add, what is so much to the point, that he achieved what he did "not alone by his skill as a soldier, but also by the patient, constructive and far-seeing qualities as a statesman."

It is just these qualities which are needed so much in McGill, as in other centers of learning, today. Those who know anything about university life and management cannot fail to have recognized, again and again, the sore need, in authoritative quarters, of the broad unacademic view. Education is, of course, much more than academics, and all the tendency of modern education is toward a recognition of this fact. Indeed, there is, in some quarters, an equally undesirable tendency to fly to the other extreme. Sir Arthur Currie, however, is not likely to lean unduly to one side or the other. He comes to McGill very brilliantly recommended. For, not only was his appointment enthusiastically urged by his predecessor, Sir Auckland Geddes, but it was most emphatically approved by such great scholars as the Master of Balliol and Prof. W. G. S. Adams, Fellow of All Souls, Oxford. Both the Master of Balliol and Professor Adams declared that there was no one either in Great Britain or in Canada, whose name they would put alongside that of Sir Arthur Currie for consideration as president of McGill.

Sir Arthur Currie, schoolmaster, business man, and soldier, has been described as "a rock of a man, strong, direct, straightforward, marching direct to the goal, abhorrent of devious paths, yet very human, stern of purpose, but with a deep well of tenderness." He will have a great opportunity at McGill. He knows Canada well, especially the young Canadian man and woman, has shown himself fully awake to the great opportunities lying before his country, and determined in every possible way to take advantage of them. He may, therefore, be depended on to take up his work at McGill with one aim, namely, to do his utmost to place the university in the forefront of the world's great educational centers.

My dear Tom,-

I thank you very much for your letter of the 15th instant, in which you were kind enough to offer me your congratulations on my acceptance of the appointment to McGill.

Naturally, one regrets very much leaving the Militia Service, but I am now convinced that many ideas I had for its good were destined to a long period of incubation.

I am looking forward to the work in Montreal with much pleasure. I hope to have an opportunity of calling upon you in Toronto, for I would gladly avail myself of your advice regarding the true mission of the University.

Lady Currie I know would like to be associated with me in all good wishes to the Gibson family.

My dear Nap,-

This morning I received your letter of May the 12th and wish to thank you very much for your congratulations. The new work will be decidedly interesting, and I am looking forward to taking over the position with a great deal of pleasure. You can well understand that ones work here, although of a military character, has been somewhat different to commanding troops in the field. I am sorry to leave the Militia Service as one had many hopes (probably doomed to disappointment) as to the future of the Militia.

I hope that when you are next in Ottawa you will come to see me. I would like very much to have a yarn with you before you go West again.

Now that you are shortly leaving the Service, I would like to thank you once again Nap. for all your loyal help during the years we were associated in the old Division overseas. I am sorry that your services have not received that tangible recognition which they merited. On more than one occasion I sought to obtain for you a reward solely because I believed your faithful and efficient service, and your devotion to duty merited it. I hope that the condition of your arm has improved and that in time it will fully recover.

With all good wishes, and hoping to see you shortly,

I am,

Dear General Currie,

Please accept my sincere congratulations on your new appointment which I have just seen confirmed. I am sure that the change will be a grateful one to you in many ways, and that you will feel it more of a liberation than anything else, and, from my own knowledge of H. A. C., I imagine you will find a much more congenial atmosphere in your new sphere.

I was in Ottawa during the past two days but knew you would be busy as you had just returned and as I found Willis was away I thought I would not disturb you.

I expect to go up for a medical board in a day or two and to be demobilized, in a week or so and then to take my departure "unsought, unhonoured and unused" but, as yet, I have no definite arrangements for the future, as I could make none until I knew how long they were to keep me here, but I shall not be sorry, in many ways, to get out. My last experience at Halifax while miserably successful as regards my own work, was carried out under such disgusting and disheartening circumstances as to convince me that, now that the war is over, my energies might better be used on my own behalf. While I shall have, at least, the satisfaction of looking back to the fact that I carried out my last military duty successfully in spite of all the obstacles placed in my way, I should willingly have sacrificed a little of that satisfaction if I had not been compelled to take away with me some of the conclusions formed through my experiences at Halifax.

I never thought that the time of my finally doffing my uniform would be almost coincident with your doing so too, that I should have lasted so much longer than so many others after all. Doubtless I have been very foolish for my own interests but I am glad to have carried on to the last end, while I have no bright prospects for the future, I am not afraid of it, and have no doubt that, although a cripple, I shall be able to find a niche where I may fit in.

I expect I shall be passing through Ottawa when I am demobilized when I may have the pleasure of seeing you. With kind regards to Lady Annie and yourself and best wishes for all success and happiness in your new sphere

The great triumph which has just entered your life, has I know made many of your old officers sad, not entirely because of the fact that the service is losing its Commander, but rather that we will no longer have the honour of serving under one whose

I beg to acknowledge, with sincere thanks, your letter of May 12th, in which you have set forth the terms of a Resolution unanimously passed at the Regular Executive Meeting of the Ottawa Command.

Dear Sir & Comrade,-

On my return to Ottawa after a fortnight's absence, I found awaiting me your letter of May 29th, in which you inform me that the Victoria Branch, G.W.V.A. have been good enough to send me their congratulations on my appointment to the Principalship of McGill University.

I am grateful indeed for your good wishes and am glad to know that the appointment meets with the approval of my old comrades.

Naturally one regrets very much severing connection with the Service with which I have been so closely associated during recent years, but perhaps in the new sphere I may yet be of further service. We all know that it is not a difficult matter to make good soldiers out of good citizens, and in my position at McGill it will be my privilege and my duty to impress upon all the students and others with whom I come in contact, the responsibilities and the duties they owe their country. At the same time I hope to be able to make them realize just how much Canada owes to the service and sacrifice of her soldiers in the Great War, and the value to our country of the traditions created by the heroism and devotion to duty of the members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

I am coming to Canada on July 17th with the Imperial Press Conference, and shall be in Montreal together with 150 others some time in August. Of course I have nothing to do with the Canadian programme, but I sincerely trust that it will in some way or other include meeting you.

My dear Bowman,-

On my return to Ottawa after a fortnight's absence I found awaiting me your letter of May 17th in which you have kindly offered your congratulations on my appointment to the Principalship of McGill University.

I am looking forward with very much pleasure and interest to the work in Montreal, fully appreciative of the opportunities the position affords for useful service to Canada and Canadians, and I hope my direction of the affairs of the University will not be disappointing to my friends.

I trust that your new book "The World: Problems and Boundaries" will meet with every success, and I will be very pleased to have in my bookcase a copy of same.

Dear Sir,-

On my return to Ottawa after several weeks' absence I found awaiting me your kind letter of May 17th in which you offer me the cordial greetings and congratulations of the British Great War Veterans Association of America on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University.

It is highly gratifying to me to learn that so many of my old comrades approve of the appointment, and I would ask you to be good enough to convey to them this expression of my gratitude. I am looking forward to the work in Montreal with keen interest and great pleasure, fully realising the opportunities which the position affords for useful service to Canada and to Canadians, and I hope that I may be successful in helping McGill to instill into the lives of its graduates something akin to the spirit which carried the old Corps and the old British Army to Victory in the strenuous days over there.

Let me take this opportunity of wishing your Association all possible success and I hope that it will continue to increase in numbers and in prestige, in power and in influence.

Ever yours faithfully,

My dear Sir Arthur:

The British Great War Veterans Association of America has the honour of sending you its most hearty and cordial greetings and congratulations upon your being made President of McGill University and offers you its best wishes.

This Association, composed of over five hundred members, sixty per cent of which had the honour of serving under your command in Flanders, feels sure that McGill University will prosper with you at its head.

The British Great War Veterans Association has been formed along lines similar to the Canadian Great War Veterans and is rapidly growing and has the approval of the British Embassy at Washington. Its aims are to promote friendly relations between Great Britain and the United States and to assist all veterans of the Great War whenever possible.

I am pleased to say that in view of what has already been accomplished, it is hoped that the Association will be able to do much good work.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

Dear Madam,-

I acknowledge with pride and thanks, the receipt of your letter of June the 11th in which you tender the congratulations of the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., on my appointment to the Principalship of McGill University.

I assure you that I look forward to the work in Montreal with great interest, recognizing as I do that the position offers exceptional opportunities for good service to Canada and to Canadians. To come into such close contact with so many young Canadians each year is an extraordinary privilege, and also it permits one to enjoy a close association with the many ex-graduates of the college.

I hope that my direction of the University's affairs will not be a disappointment to my friends.

Dear Sir,-

Permit me to thank you for the very kind letter of June the 16th, signed by the President and Secretary of the McGill Society of Toronto, who are good enough to convey to me the congratulations of the McGill graduates in Toronto, on my acceptance of the Principalship of your alma mater.

I assure you I appreciate greatly this courtesy on your part, and hope that your best wishes for my guidance of McGill may be fully realized.

I am looking forward to the work in Montreal with the greatest degree of interest and pleasure, fully cognizant of the opportunities the position affords for useful service, not only to Canada and Canadians, but to the Empire as well.

I am very busy in the Department here and shall be so for some weeks yet. Then I hope to have a short vacation and on August the 1st, go to Montreal. When I get a bit settled there, I shall be happy indeed to meet the McGill graduates in Toronto and vicinity, and to receive from you the advice as to its affairs which you must have so much at heart.

I shall write to you again regarding this visit to which I look forward with much pleasure.

Dear Sir:

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the McGill Society of Toronto, we were asked to convey to you the congratulations of McGill graduates in Toronto and vicinity, on your appointment to the Principalship of our Alma Mater. At the same time, as fellow graduates of McGill, we wish to extend to you our hearty greetings. We feel that at this critical juncture in the history of McGill you will bring to bear on your work the distinguished ability which has so successfully characterized your career to date.

We trust that at an early date our Society may have the pleasure of meeting you, and we would esteem it a favour if you could let us know when your movements will bring you to Toronto.

On behalf of the McGill Society of Toronto, we beg to remain,

Yours respectfully,

Dear Dr. Badgerow:-

I thank you most sincerely for your letter of June 25th, in which you were good enough to offer your congratulations on my acceptance of the Principalship of McGill University.

I came to Montreal on August 1st and have begun the work here. I am looking forward to it with a great deal of interest and pleasure, but with much fear and trembling as well. I have been received with all possible kindness and have had many assurances of loyal support and co-operation from all concerned with the University's affairs and from the graduates as well.

It seems to me that I recently read in our press that you were on a visit to Canada. If such is the case, I hope I may have an opportunity of seeing you before you return to England.

Lady Currie is very well and is delighted to come to live in Montreal. My children are in good health, although they have both been ill since our return to Canada. Marjorie had a severe attack of scarlet fever this spring, while the boy has been much troubled with a weak ankle. He hurt it on the boat coming over last summer and went lame almost every month afterward. I had it X rayed last February, when there was discovered an erosion of one of the bones of the ankle. I took him to Clarence Starr for treatment, and I am glad to say he is getting on very well. The ankle is in plaster paris and he uses a splint.

Starr assures me, however, that there is no evidence of tubercular trouble.

Lady Currie joins me in most cordially reciprocating your good wishes.

Ever yours faithfully,

My dear Ellacott:-

I was glad indeed to get your letter of August 8th.

Let me thank you very much indeed for your kind message of congratulations. Since the days in Victoria in 1914 many things have happened and the world is greatly changed for most of us. I cannot tell you how honoured I am in coming to Montreal, nor how pleased as well. The more I study the history of McGill, the more I learn of its traditions, the more honoured I feel to be associated with her in this capacity. I have been received with the greatest kindness, and in time hope to prove to my friends my ability to direct the affairs of the University; and certainly the position affords outstanding opportunities for useful service to Canada, to Canadians and to the Empire as well.

I hope that in Mexico you are happy and prosperous. I understand it is a wonderfully rich country, and that when its Government becomes stabilized, prosperous conditions are bound to prevail.

good wishes, I am,

My dear Forman:-

I thank you very much for your letter of June 29th, and for your congratulations on my appointment to the Principalship of McGill University. I received the letter only yesterday, or should have forwarded an earlier acknowledgment.

I am looking forward to the work in Montreal with a great deal of interest and pleasure, fully realizing the opportunities the position affords for useful service to Canada and to Canadians. Not the least of my pleasures in connection with the appointment is the cordial assurances I am receiving from graduates of their loyalty and support. We must do everything possible to increase the liason between the graduates and their Alma Mater.

I am glad you referred to meeting my brother John at the Canadian Good Roads Convention in Winnipeg. He is very much interested in that movement, and I think is sound and practical in his conclusions.

Looking forward to seeing you in Victoria soon, I am,

Ever yours faithfully,

Dear Sir Arthur:-

Kindly accept my heartiest congratulations upon your appointment to the Principalship of McGill.

I did not write earlier knowing you would be flooded with letters.

I believe the primary essentials for the head of McGill University are administrative and executive ability, and you have shown that you possess these qualifications in a marked degree. That the principal should be a McGill Graduate or an Academician, is, in my opinion, of secondary importance. I assure you I shall do everything in my power to assist in making my alma mater under your guidance ever greater and more successful than she has been in the past.

I had the pleasure of meeting your brother John recently at the Canadian Good Roads Convention in Winnipeg, and it was not difficult to see the family resemblance.

My dear Raphael:-

I thank you indeed for the kind thoughtfulness which prompted you to send on August 2nd such an encouraging telegram to me.

It means so much to realize that one has such splendid backing. If I fail in this position it will be entirely my own fault, for from the Board of Governors, the Faculties and the graduates I have had many assurances of loyalty and good wishes.

I assure you that I am taking up the work here with very great interest and pleasure. I am studying the history of McGill, its vicissitudes and its triumphs. It enjoys a unique position, not only among the Universities of Canada, but amongst the colleges of all Overseas Dominions. Our constant effort should be and will be to see that its already proud position is made more secure and more pronounced.

This autumn it is our intention to launch a campaign for more funds. The high cost of living made it imperative to increase the pay of Professors and staff. Our equipment must be kept of the very best, and we desire to begin as soon as possible with the erection of suitable living accommodation for students and staff. I know just how interested in all these things the graduates are, and I feel sure we shall have, not only their good wishes, but their cordial and active support.

I do not know when I may have the opportunity of visiting the West again, but whenever I do I shall be glad, indeed, to meet the members of the McGill Graduates' Society of Vancouver. I still look upon the West as home.

Ever yours faithfully,

Principal.

Dear Reverend Graham:-

I acknowledge receipt of your letter of September 29th, and wish to thank Mrs. Graham and yourself for the kind congratulations on my appointment to the Principalship of McGill.

The term opened yesterday with very large attendance and we are looking forward to a good season.

On Tuesday next I am leaving for a trip through Canada and will visit some of the American cities as well. The purpose of this trip is to get in touch with the McGill Graduates. I am anxious to establish a strong liaison between them and their Alma Mater, believing that from this liaison much good will result to the graduates and to the University.. The itinerary, as you know, does not involve my touching at Moose Jaw, as I go direct from Chicago to Vancouver, and on my return trip come down from Edmonton to Winnipeg. The time at my disposal is very short, because I must return to Montreal for a few days before the big drive for funds is launched. I am very sorry that it is more than likely I shall not see you, but I hope to get out again to the West next year.

I thank you for sending me the Year Book of the College and am much interested in the part it is playing in the educational life of Saskatchewan.

I acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 6th instant and thank you very much for your congratulations on my appointment to the Principalship of this University. Your kind words come as a double pleasure, because you were an old graduate of the University and also one of my old officers.

Naturally I was sorry to leave the service of the Militia, but the principal reason for that sorrow was that being here deprives me of many opportunities of seeing the men with whom I was so intimately associated in France.

I am much interested in what you tell me about taking a position at the R.M.C. I do not know just what it is, but I have every confidence in Macbrian's judgment. I regard him as the hope of the Canadian Militia.
