CHAPTER XIX.

Patience found a fresh and not altogether unexpected trouble awaiting her when she reached the house. It was Sarah who warned her, for she had entered at one of the windows opening upon the garden and her advent had been unnoticed. It appeared that certain waiters who had been hired for the occasion of the house-party had not received the pay due to them and they had taken alarm from the sudden and unexpected disappearance of the master of the house. Also there was a pile of accounts that had come in by the morning's post, some of which pressed for immediate settlement.

Patience was not unaccustomed to this sort of thing, for in the wandering life which she had led she had made acquaintance with duns and bailiffs; but here, at Barrington Lodge, it seemed disastrous that such a thing should happen.

She wondered if it had been an oversight on her father's part, for he had been most careful to keep on the right side of his credit while playing the part of a country gentleman. But now, and also from what he had said to her the day before, she began to realize that he had come very near to the end of his resources. Was it possible that he had alienated his creditors who would presently swarm around? She did not believe her father capable of so mean a thing as to neglect to pay his bills, and left her practically without money. But she felt confident that he would write in a few days and send her enough to meet pressing liabilities. The position was unpleasant, yet it was not one that inspired her with any actual fear.

She had enough ready money to settle with the importunate waiters, but this done, she found herself very low in pocket. And it might be days before her father wrote to her. He was evidently intent on throwing himself once more into the heart of the old life from which he had detached himself. If he had taken money away with him, as of course he had, it was all too possible that he might have gambled it away in a single sitting.

Patience remembered—and not without a shudder—a time when she, Vivienne and Sarah had been at a fashionable hotel in the south of France with hardly a penny among them to meet daily expenses or to settle the rapidly growing hotel account. It had been a terrible time. The week had come to an end, and the hotel keeper had demanded settlement of his account. They had begged him to wait a little longer, but he would not do so. He had kept their luggage, the handsome dresses, all the pretty knick-knacks which the two girls had valued in those days, and turned them out heartlessly into the street. They might have starved if it had not been for a kind-hearted English woman who had taken them under her charge, and though poor herself, provided them with food and lodging. Days later their father had found them, came back cheerfully with money in his pocket, laughed at the story of their woes, and thanked the whole thing as a big joke. He had redeemed their belongings from the hotel, and they had started off to another town where they were unknown.

Other events in her life of a like nature crowded into Patience's mind. She had thought all this over for ever, but now it bade fair to recommence. Sarah, too, was unknown.

GOT A PAIN IN YOUR BACK?

You get a pain in your back, and you wonder what is the matter. You perhaps pay no attention to it. Backache is caused by imperfect action of the kidneys, in fact, is the first sign of kidney trouble to follow.

The kidneys, proper, are composed of a mass of soft, fleshy, lobes, interlarded with tiny elastic fibres. Their object is the excretion of the uric acid, and other poisonous matter composing the urine, from the blood.

They are continuously at work to preserve the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some form of kidney trouble, but do not suspect it.

Some of the symptoms are: A feeling of weakness in the small of the back, sharp pains in back, puffiness under the eyes, and swelling of the feet and ankles, urinary deposits such as gravel, uric acid, excessive micturition, cloudy, thick or highly colored urine, etc.

Mr. J. L. Whiting, Cambridge, Ontario, writes: "I suffered two years with kidney trouble. I had terrible pains in my back, hips and legs. I could not sleep and had a nervous system. I was told to get Dr. J. L. Whiting's Pills, and the pills did me, my appetite returned and I was well. I can recommend Dr. J. L. Whiting's Pills to anyone suffering from kidney trouble."

Dr. J. L. Whiting's Pills are 40 cents per box or 8 boxes for $3.50 at all drug stores or by mail direct from Dr. J. L. Whiting, The Dr. J. L. Whiting Co., Toronto, Ont.

FIRE AT ST. AGATHE

Ten Buildings Burned in Quebec Village Yesterday Afternoon.

Montreal, June 12.—St. Agathe, a village on Lake St. Agathe, about thirty miles from this city, was the scene of a disastrous fire this afternoon, which broke out in the centre of the village about 3 o'clock and completely destroyed ten stores and residences and resulted in heavy loss.

There was a good breeze blowing from the lake when the fire broke out and it spread very quickly, indeed for a time the fire burned so fiercely that it was feared that the whole village was doomed. The fire started in a barber shop kept by a man named St. Louis, who lit a gasolene stove in the rear of his place and then went out. The wind caused the stove to explode and in a short while the whole place was in flames.

Amongst the buildings destroyed were a two story building occupied by the C. P. R. telegraph office and also used as a residence by the local manager, and a building occupied by the Bell telephone exchange. The loss by the fire is roughly estimated at $25,000.

BISHOP RICHARDSON WILL GET A DEGREE

Educational Institutions at Windsor Will Have Closing Exercises Next Week.

The closing exercises in connection with Edgemoor School and the collegiate school at Windsor (N. S.), will take place next week. Some special interest will attach to the exercises, as the right Rev. J. A. Richardson, the coadjutor bishop of Fredericton, will have the honorary degree of doctor of divinity conferred upon him on the day of the exercises. The exercises will take place in the convocation hall at 2 p. m., the Bishop of Nova Scotia presiding. In addition to the honorary degree of D. D. which will be conferred on Bishop Richardson, the honorary degree of D. C. L. will be bestowed upon Rev. D. W. Pickett, for many years rector of Oak Point. Mr. Pickett is one of the oldest graduates of the college.

WHERE DOES THE PAPER GO?

The first question asked by a general advertiser. The Telegraph and Times reach that class of people who subscribe and agree to pay for the reading privilege. These papers go first hand from the publishers by carrier and not through street boys to be left in office or store by purchaser after reading. Common sense teaches that every paper passed into homes direct will be read. The Telegraph and Times are home papers. Do they contain your advertisement?

ANALYSTS and Health Authorities strongly emphasize the fact that the Royal Baking Powder is always uniform in leavening strength. It always does perfect work, each spoonful the same as every other. It makes every cake or batch of biscuits uniformly light, sweet and wholesome. This important quality results from a scientific combination of the most highly refined ingredients, and no other powder possesses it. Many of the cheaper-made baking powders, imperfectly combined, have spoiled upon the hands of the grocers.

THE FIRST OUTING

The first of the summer series of field meetings will be held next Saturday at Piquet Lake (Melville word for welcome), J. W. Bank's camp, near Dark Lake. This is perhaps the most beautiful of the smaller lakes near St. John, and an ideal place for spending a pleasant afternoon. The outing will take the form of a basket picnic. Buckboards will be in attendance, and for a reasonable charge will convey members to and from the lake, leaving the museum at 2 o'clock sharp. This will be the first of a series of outings to be held by the society this summer. Other places to be visited are Clinton, Nepesic, Bay Shore, Kennedecassis and Courtney Bay.

RETURNS OF INVESTMENT

Yield of Stocks at 1906 High Level Compared With Current Returns.

(Montreal Witness, Monday.)

When contrasted with the investment returns, based upon the highest prices ruling in 1906, the average return of seven industrial and railway stocks on current selling prices, shows a very wide range, and demonstrates a remarkable extent of the decline in the market value of securities since the highest of last year. The following representative Canadian securities illustrate the point in the simplest manner. The average return on seventeen of the twenty stocks appended at the highest respective point in 1906, gives a return of only 4.4 per cent, compared with 6.1 per cent on the present prices. This estimate has been made by ignoring completely those stocks which have received dividends since 1906. Richelleu, Nova Scotia Steel and Dominion Coal, because the average would be unduly raised, and would not show the strictly relative advance in the investment return in the manner intended.

The table will speak for itself in the individual changes that have taken place in the investment returns on the market prices of the securities attached.

THE EVENING TIMES.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 13, 1907.

The St. John Evening Times is published at 27 and 28 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

JOHN RUSSELL, JR., President.

A. M. BELLING, Editor.

The Times has the largest circulation in the Maritime Provinces.

THE NEW ASSOCIATION

The objects for which the New Brunswick Fish, Forest and Game Association was organized at Fredericton on Wednesday evening are so clearly in the public interest that the formation of branches in all the counties should follow as a matter of course.

It is quite proper that Fredericton, which is the capital of the province, should be the headquarters of the association, and as a matter of fact Fredericton men have been the most active promoters of the organization. But the interests to be promoted are not local. They are the interests of the people of the whole province. To take action for the better protection of fish and game, and to prevent forest fires, is to benefit the province in a very important material sense. An educative campaign designed to enlist the sympathies of the people in the aims of the association will contribute largely to the conservation of valuable resources. There is too much carelessness in regard to brush fires which may become great forest conflagrations, and too much wanton destruction of fish and game. Public sentiment must be aroused, and there is no means so effective as a general organization with many branches scattered through the province. There should be no excuse on the part of young or old that they did not know the value of these resources, and instead of indifference there should be developed a lively interest in the making and enforcement of such regulations as will prove effective along the lines suggested by the new association. New Brunswick people have been slow to move in this matter. Such an organization as that now in formation will be a valuable ally of tourist associations, the lumbermen's association and crown lands department. It should meet with hearty support in every county in the province.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

The following statement of the effect of woman suffrage in New Zealand was made by Sir Joseph Ward, premier of the colony:

"The women care for the vote, and use it. In 1903, when women were enfranchised, 83 per cent. of them went to the polls, while less than 70 per cent. of the men voted. It appears, however, that this aroused the men to a sense of their duty, and the percentage of male voters has consistently risen, until at the last election approximately the same percentage of men and women went to the polls. The statement that the right to vote renders woman less attractive and companionable is nonsense. It is useful to provide intelligent topics for men and women to talk about apart from their own private affairs. It enlarges their mental horizon. A point that has especially struck me in the behavior of women in relation to politics is the absence of wrangling and bitterness. Altogether, we take our politics more good-naturedly in New Zealand. The woman's influence is felt in all legislation, and it is a sane, healthy influence, which makes for purity in politics. Woman suffrage was granted by a very large majority of two votes. Now it is doubtful if in the whole house there would be two to oppose it."

RAILROAD RATES

Judge Gaylor of the supreme court of New York proposes a radical method of compelling railroads to give up the habit of discriminating rates. He would have the government appoint the general freight agent, and hold him responsible. He would not have this officer fix the schedule of rates, but see to it that when the rate was fixed all patrons should be treated alike. Merely to pass a law against discrimination does not, he contends, stop the practice. Nor, it may be added, would the appointment of a government freight agent do so, unless in every case this official were a man of proved integrity. Judge Gaylor's remarks on the relation of the people to the railroads are, however, right to the point. He says:—

"From the beginning of the world the public highways always had been built by the government. In the same way the government could have built our railroads—the railroads, and even though privately built, the railroads of the country are still public highways. This is the decision of the courts in the land. The corporations cannot do with them as they will. They are mere trustees, or agencies of the government, to run them as public highways for the benefit of all, and without any favoritism or discrimination to anyone."

The judge contends, however, that private enterprise is "too valuable to be eliminated from railroad building and management if it can be avoided," and hence his proposal of government enforcement of an equal rate to all patrons rather than government ownership of the roads. The subject is one of increasing interest throughout the United States and Canada, and the tendency of the times is clearly in the direction of a more extended government control, in the interests of the people.

THE NEW EAST

That China, Korea and Siberia are able to supply western Canada with oak lumber at about one-third of the present quotations in that market is the confident assertion of Mr. Thomas W. Kydd, who has arrived in Victoria, B. C., from Vladivostok and Shanghai. He is originally from Montreal, but has spent the past four years in the far east. We quote from an interview in the Victoria Colonist:—

"When Mr. Kydd was last in Vladivostok, about two months ago, that city was experiencing a building boom that would compare with any of the rapidly growing cities in Canada or the United States. There were 1,200 houses under course of construction, and prospects for many more. Immigrants were being encouraged into the surrounding country and the timbered land was being rapidly cleared and placed under cultivation.

"The particular class of lumber that Mr. Kydd would offer for sale on the Pacific coast is oak flooring, and he is confident that he can lay it down here at one-third of the prevailing quotations and yet make a profit. In Manchuria, Korea and Siberia, there is, according to Mr. Kydd, an almost inexhaustible supply of splendid oak, the cutting and carrying away rights to which can be easily secured, while the cost of labor is but a small item in the product of the finished article.

"It may be surprising to the people of this country to be told that in the timber business they have successful competitors in the far east, but such is nevertheless the case," said Mr. Kydd to a reporter for the Colonist, "and it is not only in oak that competition is carried on. From Vladivostok today there are steady shipments of pine and spruce poles. In fact nearly all the poles that are now being used for telephone and telegraph purposes in Mexico are being imported there from the Siberian coast."

WILL PAY THE BILL

The Boston Transcript takes a sane and reasonable view of the Japanese incident and the sensational talk about a possible war between the United States and Japan. It points out that the opposition party in Japan is taking advantage of the San Francisco affair to worry the home government, and that the case is not over parallel in United States history. We quote:—

"Do we not recall a similar situation in the United States about twenty years ago, when the Administration was denounced at mass meetings because it did not twist the British lion's tail until he howled again for laying his paw on naturalized American citizens who in Ireland participated in the most militant operations of the Home Rule agitation? Was not James Russell Lowell, one of the trust of Americans, held up to scorn on these occasions for not being able to see how the same agitator could be an Irishman in the United States and an American in Ireland? Substituting Viscount Aoki for Lowell, and assigning the role of his critic to the Japanese jingo, the situation repeats itself on another stage, with a locally colored setting. And Viscount Aoki, after the manner of trained diplomatists, is not to be hurried into delivering ultimatums because the Japanese opposition tells him he ought to deliver them, thereby completing the resemblance. He is waiting for the report of the United States district attorney to whom the State Department has referred the claim of Japanese whose restaurants and bath houses were wrecked by the San Francisco mob during the recent strike riot. Doubtless he will do his utmost to secure compensation for the sufferers who were by treaty and by our own laws entitled to protection, failing to receive which they have a just claim to some measure of reparation for their destroyed property."

The Transcript takes it for granted that when the facts are fully stated the United States will have a bill to settle, and will settle it,—just as was done when Italian subjects were mistreated in the south. The Japanese government, with equal confidence in the American government when the case has been fully investigated, declines to be worried by the jingoes into a course that might end in war. It will be found that this confidence is not misplaced. The bill will be settled and there will be no war."

The situation in Ireland appears to be more serious than for some years past. The spread of the agitation against the graziers, which has for its object the abandonment to the people of the rich grazing lands, has become so general in some sections as to overtax the resources of the local constabulary. Moreover, the Irish parliamentary party has decided to oppose the government most vigorously, in and out of parliament, in order to keep Irish affairs continually to the front. With agrarian and political agitation in progress at the same time, there is danger of excesses and a return to conditions which it was hoped had passed away forever.

The Presbyterian General Assembly following the lead of the Methodists, has decided to appoint a standing committee on temperance and moral reform, with a special agent to devote his time to the work. This is another recognition of a growing sense of responsibility in the church with regard to the social life of the people, and those evils which are the most powerful in opposing the growth of true religion.

C. P. R. EARNINGS

Canadian Pacific Railway earnings for week ending June 1, were as follows:

1907.....$1,564,999

Increase.....$337,000

The three-year-old son of James McLease, a fisherman of Back Bay, Charlotte Co., was drowned on Monday last. Mr. McLease's house is near the shore of Back Bay harbor, and it is thought that the high wind drove the little fellow into the water. A fisherman coming to the shore picked up the body about 25 yards from the shore.

DR. DRUMMOND

(Dr. & Weir Mitchell)

Peace to this post-soul. Full well he knew To sing for those who knew not how to grieve. The woodman's life, the farmer's patient. The peaceful drama of laborious days. He made his own the thoughts of simple men. And with the touch that makes the world akin, A welcome must of lonely cabin homes. Found, too, no heart he could not enter in. The towlown doctor, women, children, men. The humble hermit of the lumber-drives. Love, laugh or weep along his peopled vines. Blithe with the pulses of their message lives. While thus the poet love interpreted. He left us pictures no one may forget: Courteau, Baileys, Camille Men Frere, and best. The good brave cure, he of Calumette. Some mystery of genius haunts his page. Some wonder secret of the poet's spell. Died with this master of the peasant's thoughts—Peace to your northland poet, and farewell!

IN LIGHTER VEIN WOULD TAKE NO RISKS.

"Arise, you nearly ready to start?" asked the amateur gunner. "Yes," replied the guide, "I'll be ready just as soon as I can borrow a dog. 'Why, where's your own dog?' What has happened to them?" "Nothing, and I mean to see that nothing shall—Philadelphia Press."

NO, INDEED!

I try to love my neighbor, To be gentle, kind and true, An' be cheerful all the time, I nearly always do. But there ain't nobody livin' Whose disposition is Contented an' forgivin' When he's got the rheumatiz. —Washington Star.

"I fear," said the poet, "that I am writing over the heads of the people." "Can't see any help for you, old man," replied the critic. "You'll never be able to have your desk in anything but an attic." —Washington Herald.

Little Solly (his brow puckered by intellectual strain as he scans on the blackboard a sketch of a milkmaid and cattle) One, two, three—three cows. Teacher—And what else? Little Solly (in triumphant haste)—And one lady.

Teacher—How many altogether? Little Solly—One, two three—(Stops and draws his right foot up and down his leg.) One, two, three—three. (Pauses in a desperate effort to count a little further, then gasps)—O-o-o-o-o-o-o-o, teacher, I don't know how to add up cows and ladies! —Harpur's Weekly.

"To travel incognito is too often associated with something disagreeable," he said. "Witness the story of the tramp, who at a magistrate's early morning hearing did not answer as his name was shouted four or five times. When matters finally righted themselves, the magistrate said angrily: 'Why didn't you answer to your name?'"

"'Bey pardon, yer Honor, but I forgot who name I giv last night,' replied the tramp."

"'What?' thundered the magistrate. 'Didn't you give your right name?'"

"'No, yer Honor,' said the tramp. 'I'm a-travelin' incog.'"

MORE CONGO WHITEWASH

(Montreal Witness.)

What is evidently a whitewashing report has been issued by the Belgian government on the economical and political situation in the Congo Free State. Though it is a volume of two hundred and forty pages, it is described as not satisfactory on important points. It maintains that King Leopold's 'Crown Domain' claim is perfectly legal and it is largely devoted to an attempted refutation of the charges of misadministration on the part of the government of the Congo. It asserts that the officials have not forgotten the duties proclaimed by the Berlin convention, defends the system by which the negroes pay taxes in labor and says no more is taken from the natives than they are able to pay. It protests against the accusation that King Leopold has enriched himself at the price of the blood of the natives, asserting that he sacrificed everything for the Congo and obtained no profit from the African possessions. The financial exhibit, which parliament particularly desired, is not included in the report, which merely says the finances of the Congo are normal and satisfactory and concludes with a protest against the charge that the state is exploiting negroes for commercial purposes, adding that the government has nothing to conceal, but wishes to remain completely independent. All this is very nice in the way, but it certainly is far from satisfactory, since it does not refute the many direct and circumstantial charges made by missionaries who had no object but to make the truth known to the Christian world. It is quite probable that the Congo officials have been frightened into better behavior by the extraordinary thing about the matter, but the whitewashing report will deceive no body.

BAD FIRE IN AMHERST

Amherst, N. S., June 12.—At 11 o'clock tonight fire practically wiped out one of Amherst's newest and most progressive industries and there are some twenty employees out of work. The Amherst Suspenders Company, situated on East Highland, being the sufferer.

The fire started about midway of the lower flat and made such rapid progress that before the firemen could get the building and contents were a mass of flames and it was impossible to save anything.

The building is a two story one only built last season and is valued at $2,000. The stock and machinery was valued at about $8,000.

The insurance is $5,000. J. Alder Davis is president of the company.

The concern was working full capacity, turning out from 100 to 200 pairs of suspenders per day and they had only recently installed some new and valuable machinery. It is supposed the fire caught from a stove in which the rubbish is consumed.

METHODIST DISTRICT MEETING

J. E. Shanklin and Spencer S. Crisp Pass for the Ministry and Are Recommended for Ordination —Conference Committees Elected.

HAMPTON, June 12.—The morning session of the Methodist Conference District meeting yesterday was devoted largely to the reception of reports dealing with circuit statistics.

There were also communications from the committee on education as to the appointment of members to the committee of conference from the Sunday school board, asking that each circuit assess itself for Sunday school purposes; from the committee on temperance and moral reform submitting questions to be answered and calling for a committee to attend to this business; on local preachers and ministers and on changes in sustentation funds. The reading of statistics of the circuit was continued. The membership and total amount of contributions were: Apohaqui, 271, $2,263.74; Springfield, 127, $6,662.15; Hampton, 100, $1,435.33; St. Martins, 91, $318.90; Jerusalem, 100, $691.24; Welsford, 122, $1,000.71; Kingston, 105, $787.65.

This afternoon a letter was read from the Rev. F. H. W. Dickie, who is residing at Yarmouth (N. S.), in the interests of his sick daughter and himself in which he expressed his sympathy with the objects of conference and asked to be remembered in their prayers.

H. F. Ball, a probationer, sent in a certificate of standing which was read and a minute adopted recommending his continuance on trial.

Two probationers, J. E. Shanklin and Spencer S. Crisp, passed successful examination under the questioning of the Rev. Dr. Evans in matters of faith and practice and church order, after which the former was recommended to the general conference for ordination. The latter has been on circuit the past year.

The report of the lay delegates on representation to the general conference was adopted.

DR. PETERS URGES MARRIAGE REFORM

Save the Children from Unholy Alliances, is Appeal of the Preacher.

NEW YORK, June 11.—In his remarks preceding his sermon in the Majestic Theatre the Rev. Dr. Madison C. Peters said: "Without a marriage license law in the State of New York any irresponsible person can enter into the marriage relation with any other irresponsible person provided they could get some one with authority to perform the ceremony, and a telephone call always succeeds in getting such a person, with a result that promising lives have been blighted and blasted, homes ruined and parents bowed down in shame."

"It is estimated that more than two thousand every year in Manhattan go into civil contracts performed by notaries and aldermen, while there are many more of which no record is made. Young women are being daily deceived and irrevocably ruined."

"Even the church, and I blush to say it, has lent herself to this traffic in vice by giving the unholy alliance her benediction. The Congregationalists recently spoke out when one of their ministers offended only once, but what of the other clergies who offend, not once, but every time they get the chance, and every time perfectly conscious of the wrong they are doing?"

"Is it not time to draw the line when unscrupulous men degrade their high and holy calling for the sake of filthy lucre and bring disgrace on the church, when the conservators of the people's morals put a premium on immorality by giving it a license in the name of the spotless Christ?"

"Is a clergyman upholding the dignity of his own personality or the dignity of the church when he marries unknown persons at all hours of the day and night in public places—in hotels and cafes, while the drunken crowd looks on and during the ceremony sings 'No Wedding Bells for Me' and 'He's a Jolly Good Fellow'?"

"The Cabbill, regulating marriage licenses in this state, has passed the legislature, and is now before Governor Hughes for his signature. It is the duty of every right thinking man and woman in the city and state to urge the governor to make a law. I call on all the good men and women in the congregation to write to the executive, praying him to sign the bill."

"Fathers, you have daughters; their future welfare is dear to your hearts; you see them budding into a glorious womanhood; they are now as pure as the waxen chalice of the lily when kissed by the rays of the morning sun—would you not preserve the virgin shrine that holds that purity with the last red drop in your veins?"

"Then guard it well lest thieves break in and steal. Mothers, you have sons; you see them budding into a glorious manhood; they are now as pure as the waxen chalice of the lily when kissed by the rays of the morning sun—would you not preserve the virgin shrine that holds that purity with the last red drop in your veins?"

"Then throw the shield of your motherhood over them; save them from themselves and save them from the monsters lying in ambush seeking the opportune moment to spring on them and drag them to ruin, temporal and eternal. Write to Governor Hughes, appeal to him through your motherhood and he cannot refuse."

"I'll stop your pain free. To show you first—before you spend a penny—what my Pink Pain Tablets can do, I will mail you free, a Trial Package of them—Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache, Period pains, etc., are due alone to blood congestion. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets simply kill pain by coaxing away the unnatural blood pressure. That is all. Address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Sold by all Druggists."

NOT MUCH CONSOLATION.

"That fellow Simms you introduced me to last night is an impudent young cub. We hadn't been talking more than five minutes before he as good as called me a liar."

"Five minutes, eh? Simms is a little slow."—Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

ANNUAL REPORT OF MONCTON HOSPITAL

Last Year the Institution Cared for 307 Patients.

Moncton, June 12.—O. S. Legere, who was before the police court today charged with Scott act violation, was committed to jail for a similar term in December last, being liberated upon habeas corpus proceedings.

The annual meeting of the Moncton hospital board was held tonight. The president's report for the past year was a most satisfactory one. The establishment of a nurses' home, free of debt, was reported. The treasurer's report showed receipts for year $10,818.75 and expenditure $11,944.29, leaving an overdraft of $725.54.

BURGLARY IN REXTON

REXTON, N. B., June 11.—Last night J. & W. Brute's store was broken into and a quantity of underclothing, shirts, socks, mitts and some groceries were taken. The locks were forced off the front doors and the back doors were opened from within. Some cash had been left in the tills, but the burglars did not find it. They left behind them a chisel, a large iron bar, a basket and a tin can. Suspicion rested upon some strangers who are here in a small schooner, but a thorough search of their vessel today failed to find anything that would lead to the identity of the guilty parties.

Mrs. A. Corneau, of Portland, Me., is visiting friends here.

W. D. Johnson, of Burdette, D. Scholman, Montreal, J. S. LeClair, Charlottetown, P. E. I., H. A. McArthur, Sussex, C. B. Harnett, Sackville, W. Tardion, Moncton, and H. C. Speare, of St. John were in town Monday and Tuesday.

J. D. Palmer's many friends are pleased to hear that his health is improving.

THE VALUE OF DOLLARS FOR ONE THOUSAND ONLY

This is what Mr. Munroe of Six Mile Brook, N. S., got, when he discovered "Catarhoxone" cured asthma. It gave him health—cured him perfectly and now he rejoices in the fact that others too can be cured in the same way.

BODY FOUND AT SOUTH BRANCH

A ghastly discovery was made by the caretaker of Oranodoc lake on Tuesday last, when he found the body of a man floating at South Branch. A buoy was attached to it, pending the arrival of the authorities. It was reported late last night that the body had not been identified.

Coroner Gove left for the scene of the finding by last night's train, and no particulars have been received from him. It is thought by some that the body is that of Harry Hill, son of ex-Councillor Hill, of Milltown, who disappeared mysteriously while returning from the west about a year ago, and has not since been heard from. He wired his father from McAdam to meet him at St. Stephen, and that was the last heard from him. He was believed to have had $500 with him.

The coachmen of the city are summoned to meet in the mayor's office this afternoon for the purpose of discussing the most suitable site for a stand for coaches and carriages.

A very neat and novel display of straw hats in Oak Hall window is attracting a good deal of attention. The hats are displayed on a background and flooring of loose straw while in the centre is a nest of eggs which two boys are in the act of robbing. A card reading "where is the hen?" directs attention to a fox which is crouched in the front of it as a quantity of feathers. The arrangement is very clever.

RESTORATION OF SAN FRANCISCO

A correspondent of the Times writes:—One year and three months ago San Francisco was visited by an earthquake more terrible than any within the memory of man. On the morning of April 18, at 5.30 o'clock, there came a tremble which shook down every brick chimney in a space of 14,000 square miles, and toppled over brick and stone buildings as if they were a bunch of feathers. Churches, asylums, theatres, all shared the same fate. Several thousand people lost their lives by the falling debris. Then to make matters worse, the fire broke out, and no water to fight it as the main was destroyed by the quake. Chief Sullivan was crushed under a falling wall. The terror-stricken inhabitants fled in every direction. The bravest man quailed before the havoc made by the quake. It will never be forgotten. The city was under martial law. Soldiers were seen everywhere. Dynamite was freely used to blow up the buildings in vain effort to stay the march of the fire. Today a city of 14,000 square miles, and today a great army of building from the hut to the skyscraper, tells of a new city. It took fifty years to build up $250,000,000 worth of property. Men had a fair in the future of the Golden Gate, and while it was smoking commenced to build. The sons of the Forty-Niners said a great "Frisco" shall be built, and today a great army of building from the hut to the skyscraper, tells of a new city.
