GENTILE CAFE KEEPER WAS STORE ROBBER

Surprised Police of Brooklyn Worm Out Story of 75 Hold-ups

Mild-mannered, curly-headed Edward Dougherty is Forced to a Confession by Persistence of One of His Victims in Daylight Series

(Canadian Press) New York, April 7.—With the arrest of a mild-mannered curly-headed restaurant proprietor of Brooklyn, as the operator in seventy-five hold-up daylight holdups, the imposition of several heavy sentences, a long series of arrests and a slight shake-up at police headquarters, police officials assert that the outbreak of crime was well in hand.

The alleged bandit ace of aces is Edward Dougherty, 27 years of age, whose business associates looked on him as a respectable restaurant keeper, and whose new wife described him as a model of young husband. According to the police Dougherty is the most retiring and courteous young fellow that ever held up a chain store. It took nearly twenty-four hours of questioning at Brooklyn headquarters to get the witness out of him. He was dressed young business man, and, on being led to his cell at the end of it, he tried to kill himself by biting an artery in his wrist. He tried this method of suicide in all seriousness, according to the police, and did actually inflict a painful wound.

Then reports on Dougherty's finger-prints came back. He did have a criminal record. Then Dougherty's fingerprints were taken and he was identified as the man behind the revolver when they were robbed.

Other chain store keepers who had been held up by daytime robbers were sent for. One after another they identified the man looking like a young business man as the man behind the revolver when they were robbed.

Then reports on Dougherty's fingerprints came back. He did have a criminal record. Then Dougherty's fingerprints were taken and he was identified as the man behind the revolver when they were robbed.

BANK REPORT GIVEN DENIAL

London, April 7.—The Canadian Press learns that there is absolutely no foundation for a report in circulation that Lloyd's Bank of Canada has been absorbed by the Union Bank of Canada. The report is derived in responsible circles here.

Special despatches were sent out from Winnipeg yesterday to the effect that private advice had been received in that city that Lloyd's Bank and the Union Bank of Canada had consummated a union of forces.

PARIS STIRRED BY DEATH OF CARNARON

Paris, April 7.—Lord Carnarvon's tragic death has appealed to the French imagination and has started a controversy over the subject of the hidden magic of the east which the mystic world held by the exoticism of the Pharaohs. The Paris press is printing numerous interviews with followers of the occult, with the superstitious, and with Egyptologists of repute, in which the most favored query expounded is as to how far the ends of archaeology are justified in despoiling the tombs of the ancient dead.

St. John Operator Gets Promotion

Daniel I. Heneberry, an operator for the C. P. R. Telegraph Co. here, has been promoted to the position of register chief of the same company at Sibley, Ont., and will leave on Tuesday to take over his new duties. Mr. Heneberry and his wife have many friends in St. John who will regret their departure, but the best wishes of many will be extended to him on his promotion.

CANADIAN EDUCATIONISTS AT TORONTO

Canada's finest educationists and thinkers are in attendance at the convention of the National Council of Education. Three of them are shown in the group above. At the left, Sir Robert Falconer, head of Toronto University, in the center, Archbishop Matheson, Anglican Primate of all Canada, and right, Dr. Tor, President of Alberta University.

Utilities Board To Control Stock Sales In New Brunswick

This Province to Have a Blue Sky Law Is Announcement From Fredericton Today.

(Canadian Press) Fredericton, N. B., April 7.—New Brunswick is to have a blue sky law. A bill to be presented to the Legislature next week by the Government has already been printed.

Attorney General Byrne outlined some of its most important provisions today. It will be similar in many respects to blue sky laws in other provinces, and will place control of sale of stock under the Board of Public Utilities.

The provisions of the bill will not include, federal, provincial or municipal bonds or those of foreign countries. Stocks listed on exchanges approved by the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners, or stocks issued in lieu of stocks must be made to the board's setting forth assets, plans of operation, and have certificates issued. Agents will then be licensed to sell the stocks, which are approved.

Fines and imprisonment are provided as penalties for infraction of the proposed law.

A blue sky law in this province will be the direct result of the recent collapse of the L. R. Steel Company in New Brunswick. The need of such a law was suggested by Hon. Dr. J. E. Hetherington, provincial secretary, in his budget speech recently.

North End Grocer Tells His Story As a Warning

The Times is in receipt of a letter from a well known grocer in the north end in which he issues a warning to other merchants in the city. He alleges that some time ago a representative of a Toronto firm called at his store, as well as others, and asked permission to place a sewing machine on exhibit, while he canvassed and sold them, promising to pay the merchants a commission for the privilege. He then, it is alleged, got them to sign what they considered a receipt. The machine was not disposed of, but he received a communication from the Toronto firm pressing for payment. This the grocer claims he refused to do, as he considered it a fraudulent sale. A solicitor was appointed by the firm, it is alleged, to collect payments for the machines. The grocer acknowledges the receipt he signed, but on hearing the matter explained and being busy at the time, he neglected to do so. He cites a number of instances where others were taken in and feels that something should be done to prohibit a recurrence of the like in the future.

PRESENTATIONS TO KEITH BARBER

A very handsome pair of hunting boots and a fine smoking set were presented to Keith A. Barber this morning in the Customs House from his former associates there as a token of their respect and regret that he was leaving them. Mr. Barber was making a visit to the scenes of his former work and was called into the Long Room. C. B. Lockhart, the collector of customs, and the members of the staff gathered from the various parts of the building to join in making the presentation a success.

FRENCH IMPROVE WORK OF BATTLESHIP GUNS

Paris, April 7.—Preliminary tests recently made with the modernized French battleships indicate that the firing elevations have improved from 30 to 40 per cent.

LABOR TROUBLES IN BRITAIN ARE CAUSE OF ANXIETY

Nearly 700,000 Workers are Involved in Disputes With Employers.

Building Trades and Railway Shopmen Face Trouble—Making it Harder Sliding for Bonar Law Government—12,000 Miners Demand Return to Work.

(Canadian Press) London, April 7.—It is said that in Great Britain at present there are nearly 700,000 workers involved in disputes with their employers, and that some 30,000 are already on strike. These include the Welsh miners and the Norfolk farm workers.

The employers of the building trades announce today a new schedule of wages and hours which will become effective on April 14. If the men do not accept a lockout of nearly 60,000 workers may result. Arbitration is proposed, but the issues are involved and it is uncertain what course will be decided upon when the leaders of the fourteen unions to which the building operatives belong today in London Monday to discuss the new schedule.

Another source of industrial and national anxiety is the differences which have arisen over the railway shopmen's wages. The employers propose an extensive reduction, and this is regarded as holding the possibility of a general railwaymen's strike throughout Great Britain.

A dispute in the pottery trades involves about 60,000 men. The effect of the industrial unrest is discussed today in an editorial article in the Daily Telegraph. The newspaper takes a pessimistic view of the situation, but it is not so gloomy as the Daily Telegraph.

The Telegraph, a supporter of the Government, says that the Government's position is not so strong as it appears. It says that the Government's position is not so strong as it appears.

The production of steel ingots and castings in February amounted to 707,100 tons, the highest since December, 1920.

On the other hand, the review says the Lancashire cotton industry is still depressed.

The survey notes a one point drop in the cost of living to seventy-six per cent. above the figures for July, 1914.

The number of unemployed in London was 120,000, or 300,000 less than in January. This figure does not take into account the strike of farm laborers.

Cardiff, Wales, April 7.—The 12,000 coal miners employed in the province of Glamorgan, Rhondda, are demanding that the Welsh coal strike be discontinued.

THREE BARNS AT SEA DOG COVE ARE DESTROYED

Thousands of dollars damage was done by fire last night which destroyed three barns and practically all their contents belonging to Mrs. Herbert Hughes, post mistress of Sea Dog Cove Post Office, near Summerville on the Kingston Peninsula. The blaze started about 8:30 o'clock and the reflection was seen by suburban residents as far as Hampton.

The fire is thought to have started from the overturning of a lantern on the floor of one of the barns. Before long that building was in flames. The fire spread to two adjoining barns, completely demolishing the three, one of which was a fine concrete structure.

A few minutes after the fire was out the telephone operator at Summerville did good work in summoning the men from the surrounding country to assist in fighting it. It was almost impossible to save the barns so they concentrated their efforts on preventing the house from going. A long shed which joined the house to the barns was torn down, and several hens and chickens were saved. A quantity of oats and feed and several hens and sheep were burned, while neighbors assisted in rescuing a horse, three cows and two heifers. Mrs. Hughes resided with her three children.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I read the Chatham World that a convention of Miramichi Crow was held last week in a birch tree, and after addresses by the Rev. Peter Corbin, Dinah Crow and Mr. Jim Crow, and a discussion in which all took part, a resolution denouncing the climate of New Brunswick was unanimously adopted and the whole convention started south."

"Well," said Hiram, "that's what you might expect up in the Black North. They've alius had a chip on their shoulder up there since the days of Peter Mitchell. Even the crows has got the habit—but I'll bet a big apple they didn't go for. I guess they find they just flew down into Kent County to see if they was any bran mash layin' around in the woods."

LARGE LOSS IN OTTAWA FIRE

Estimate of Half Million Dollars—Hurd & Co.'s, Hugh Carson's and Paquet Co. Premises.

Ottawa, April 7.—The Sparks street chambers were last night completely gutted by fire which for some time threatened the entire block of business offices and stores in Sparks street. The premises of Hurd & Co., sporting goods; Hugh Carson, Ltd., leather goods; Paquet Co., wholesale furs, were completely destroyed, while the tenants of apartments on the upper floors lost everything. The damage had not been estimated at an early hour this morning, but unofficial figures run around $500,000.

At one-forty-five the roof of the building fell in and the sparks showered down on the street.

The cause is a plain cavity officer, not even excessively burdened with good looks, and his title is as title goes in Italy, comparatively new. It was his daring riding that first drew the princess' admiration and regard.

IN A COLLISION NEAR BALTIMORE

Baltimore, April 7.—The Danish steamer Nordvalen was sunk in a collision with the British steamer Barrow in the Chesapeake Channel, about forty miles from Baltimore last night. The Nordvalen lay in about twenty feet of water with her superstructure exposed. No lives were lost. Both are freighters.

The crew of the Nordvalen remained aboard. The Barrow was damaged but proceeded to this port and anchored in the harbor.

The weather was clear and each steamer was in charge of a pilot. The Nordvalen was under the command of St. Vlasara, France, and the barrow was in ballast, coming to Baltimore from New York.

WEATHER REPORT

Summary—A depression which was in the North Pacific states yesterday morning is now centered in Iowa, while pressure is now much above the normal. The weather has been fair over the Dominion with the exception of a few light snowfalls in eastern Quebec, St. Vlasara, France, and the barrow was in ballast, coming to Baltimore from New York.

THEY RESIGN GRATUITIES

Statement re Former Grand Trunk Men Now With C. N. R.—A Former St. John Man is One.

Ottawa, April 7.—(Canadian Press) Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C. N. R., announces that former officers of the Grand Trunk Railway Company now employed by the C. N. R. have voluntarily resigned the gratuities which were voted to them when the Grand Trunk was taken over by the government.

The officers are W. D. Robb and J. E. Dalrymple, vice-presidents; D. E. Galloway, special assistant to the president; G. T. Bell, executive assistant to the traffic vice-president; H. C. Martin, general freight traffic manager; J. H. H. Hansard, general comptroller, and H. H. Hansard, solicitor.

Love-Match Of Crown Princess Yolanda Is Consummated April 9

Princess Yolanda

Rome, April 7.—George Barr McCutcheon to the contrary notwithstanding, it is still rare for a crown princess to marry for love a man of lowly rank. Therefore the surprise occasioned in Europe by the announcement that Crown Princess Yolanda of Italy will wed Count Carlo Calvi di Bergoglio on April 9.

The count is a plain cavalry officer, not even excessively burdened with good looks, and his title is as title goes in Italy, comparatively new. It was his daring riding that first drew the princess' admiration and regard.

As evidence of her belief in Fascist principles of economy she will make her wedding gown herself.

For love of the count, the strong-minded young crown princess said aside court proposals that she be wed to the Prince of Wales, the Crown Prince of Belgium, or one of a number of other European monarchs-to-be.

The marriage of the princess closely parallels in many ways two recent alliances in the House of Windsor, the English royal family—the marriage of Princess Mary to a commoner Lord Lascelles, by which she renounced all right to royal succession for herself and her children, and the coming marriage of her second brother, The Duke of York, to the daughter of a plain English earl, Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon.

One of the most recent inter-royal weddings in Europe, that of Prince Carol of Rumania to the Princess Helen of Greece was accomplished only after the young prince had been torn from the arms of his morganatic wife a young woman without title of any sort.

WORRIED OVER DEATH OF EARL

Some People Giving Way to Belief in Curse on Invader of Egyptian Tomb.

London, April 7.—The death of the Earl of Carnarvon has caused panic among private collectors of Egyptian antiquities, according to the Daily Express, which declares that some people are sending their treasures to the British Museum in London, fearing to retain them as they believe that Carnarvon was killed by Tutankhamen's "ka"—his soul's double, as it is called.

The paper says that an avalanche of parcels containing mummies, shivalich hands and feet, porcelain and wooden statuettes and other relics from Egyptian tombs, has descended on the museum in the last two days. The majority of the parcels do not bear sender's names.

The statement made by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in New York regarding a mummy that had been in the British Museum, "which became noted because of the series of misfortunes which befell those who had anything to do with it," is prominently printed. Museum officials however, asserted that they were not aware of the existence of any such mummy. The public probably was confused regarding a mummy case and some papyrus said to have a curse at the end of it. This papyrus was not found with the mummy case and had no connection with it.

Certain stories concerning the mummy case with the disaster to the steamer Titanic were characterized as absolutely untrue by the officials, who added that they had no time to go further into such nonsense.

Will Go On With Work. London, April 7.—A despatch to the Times from Cairo referring to the natural curiosity as to what effect Lord Carnarvon's death will have on the work now in progress, says: "It is understood that nothing is to be allowed to interfere with the completion of the work, which was so dear to the heart of Carnarvon that, in fact, it is to be carried out as a memorial to him." It adds that Howard Carter will continue the excavation work as previously.

opinion of Attorney Gen. Edward J. Brundage, who returned today from a trip to the heart of Carnarvon that, in fact, it is to be carried out as a memorial to him." It adds that Howard Carter will continue the excavation work as previously.

FRENCH HOPEFUL AS LOUCHEUR IS BACK FROM LONDON

Reported Change in British Opinion Over Ruhr Occupation

Germany Declared Opposed to Suggested Plan—Printing Money in Newspaper Office to Pay Strikers in Ruhr—It is Seized.

(Canadian Press) Paris, April 7.—Low Loucheur, returning from London last evening, disclaimed the views on the reparations question attributed to him in the press, but told the foreign editor of Le Matin that he had brought back a conviction that British opinion had changed and that the great majority of the public sentiment in England was clearly favorable to France.

This attitude, the former minister said, was also evident in the political world, except that there was mingled with it an uneasiness as to the possible consequences of the French Ruhr policy.

Le Petit Parisien says an entente agreement may be reached as a result of Mr. Loucheur's visit to Britain. Pointing out that he is not a member of the Government and that the British ministers whom he saw will not speak, the newspaper says: "We shall soon be enlightened as to the consequences of M. Loucheur's vacation." The former minister and his British friends, the newspaper affirms, are both satisfied with the result of the exchange of views.

Le Matin asks whether one may conclude from the somewhat disingenuous that a change in England's attitude toward the Ruhr occupation is imminent and that the French will be able to bring back from Premier Bonar Law suggestions of a nature which will hasten the abandonment of British neutrality?

Berlin, April 7.—Official quarters in Berlin, that the German government disclaimed to react to the reparations plan Louis Loucheur is alleged to have submitted in London.

Aside from rejecting its reported financial feature as wholly outside the range of serious discussion, the opinion of the foreign office, as revealed in a dispatch from Berlin, is that the project is viewed in German official quarters as a thinly disguised attempt to detach the territory on the left bank of the Rhine from Prussia.

Money Seized. Raean, April 7.—Belgian troops yesterday seized a billion francs in paper money in the printing plant of the General Anseret, at Mulin, in Belgium. This money was supposed to have been printed in the newspaper plant and intended for use by the rebels in the Ruhr district. Mulin is the headquarters of the Stines works.

Additional sums, also supposed to have been printed for the strikers were seized by the French at Bochum and Dortmund. All the money will be applied as part payment to the expenses of occupation of the Ruhr.

Meanwhile the French authorities to the printing of money on the spot because of the difficulties of transporting it.

Berlin, April 7.—A French court has increased to three years, on appeal, the prison sentence imposed on Vice Lord Mayor Schaefer, of Essen. His one has been increased by six million marks. Herr Schaefer was arrested in February on charges of not supplying French troops with automobiles and coal.

STILL DRINKING IN CONSTANTIOPLE

Another Respite of Two Weeks from Enforcement of Prohibition.

Constantinople, April 7.—Another fortnight's respite from the enforcement of prohibition has been proclaimed. The suspension is gaining ground that enforcement will never actually be applied in Constantinople. The evasive tactics by the "swerts" will be used until the new assembly meets, when an effort to repeal the law will be made.

Meanwhile the allies have designated drinking resorts for all allied officers and men.

JUVENILE TEMPLARS

Thorne Lodge Juvenile Temple met in Thorne Lodge hall last night with Miss Marion Brown acting as superintendent. There were about thirty of the juveniles present to greet the grand superintendent of Juvenile work, Mrs. B. L. Kirkpatrick. At present this is the only juvenile temple in St. John, but it is expected that one will be organized by Dominion Lodge in the near future. The officers of Thorne Lodge Juvenile are: Chief Templar, Margaret Kingston; vice-templar, Olive Wannamaker; secretary, Janet Thorne; marshal, Ruth Wannamaker; D. M., Austin Thorne; chaplain, Geneva Case; guard, Ernest McInnes; sentinel, Ralph Wannamaker; treasurer, William Thorne.

SEEK MEN WITH SCRATCHED FACES AS MURDERERS

Police Hold to Blackhand Theory in the Slaying of Women on Staten Island.

New York, April 7.—Men with scratched faces were being sought today by police as the murderers of the two young married women found hacked to death near the Staten Island shore yesterday. The police found pieces of flesh under the finger nails of the two women, Mrs. Irene Blandino, of Jersey City, and Mrs. Bessie McMahon, of Utica, N. Y.

A theory that the blackhand may be involved was advanced after police learned that Mrs. Blandino's first husband, Frank Bongiovanni, had been stabbed to death by a man unknown to the police but who had lived with the woman before she met Bongiovanni. That killing, the police think, was actuated by revenge.

Although he lived ten days after being stabbed, Bongiovanni refused to reveal the name of the man who had attacked him and after he died Mrs. Blandino refused to say because she was afraid of "that gang."

"That gang," the police are convinced, was a blackhand organization. The Jersey City police were holding Blandino and Rosario Di Lorenzo, an employee in the former's barber shop, who did not satisfy the police with accounts of their movements the night of the murder. Both were held as material witnesses though each said he was asleep at the time the murders were committed.

THE AMUSEMENT TAX

Fredrickton, N. B., April 7.—While a bill has been prepared under the provisions of which taxes upon amusement tickets would be doubled, Premier Veniot declared today that the government had not formally considered the matter as yet, although it had been under discussion for some time.

FREDRICKTON TAXES

Fredrickton, N. B., April 7.—Mayor Reid expressed the opinion this morning that although the civic assessment for 1929 is advanced from $840,000 to $245,000, the civic tax rate may not be higher this year than in 1928, and if there is an increase it will not be more than two cents on the $100. The 1928 tax rate was $2.20.

LATE REPORTS ON STOCKS AND THE MONEY MARKET

New York, April 7.—Another sharp setback in prices took place in today's brief session of the stock market. Reduction of the short interest by the recent spirited advance in certain stocks and the lack of sufficient buying support at the higher levels had left the market in a weakened technical position, which bear traders were quick to sense and take advantage of. Barnfield Oil shares were the principal target of the bear drive in this group setting off a number of stop-loss orders.

"We must practice economy in this province in every possible way," said the Premier, "but we will be fortunate if we get back on our feet in the next few years."

Greenfield came out flatly with the proposal of W. M. Davidson, that an independent committee be appointed to study the proposed deficit of $1,016,000 on the estimates.

Drop Captain Overboard And Escape

New York, April 7.—Two run runners, captured in the motor launch, Defi, 18 miles off the Jersey coast, dropped Captain Ryan, of the coast guard cutter Manhattan, overboard and the cutter docked here today and made their escape.

Capt. Ryan, who had scented the Defi, ordered the two prisoners to lower him overboard and the cutter proceeded to the rescue of the Defi's crew.

He ordered the two prisoners to lower him overboard and the cutter proceeded to the rescue of the Defi's crew.

COLONEL HAM WAS HERE

Colonel George Ham, veteran C. P. R. official, was in the city yesterday, coming here to say farewell to his daughter and grandchildren as they sailed on the S. S. Montcalm on a visit to England. Another grandson accompanied Colonel Ham and will be with him to Montreal last evening. Joe Page also of the C. P. R. department was with Mr. Ham and returned to Montreal also.

EARLY MORNING FIRE

An alarm at 4:55 this morning from Box 5 gave the fire department a run to the gear shed of Swanston Brothers at the foot of Union street. The fire had started about some of the gear stored there. It was extinguished without great damage.

OIL VS. COAL

Asked this morning concerning a proposal to install oil-burning boilers in the Carlton ferry steamers, Commissioner Bullock said that, at present price, coal was just as cheap for the operation as oil. He said that where there was an oil or perhaps two stokers the saving in labor would not enter into the question.

DANGEROUS TRAVELING

Many citizens have complained at City Hall and elsewhere recently regarding the darkness of the city streets, caused primarily by the poor lighting and aggravated by the deep shadows cast by the piles of snow and ice. Several people have reported, during the present thaw, of getting wet feet from the sidewalks and which were not easily detected on account of the present lighting. The answer, of course, is Hydro.

BOYS IN COURT

Three juveniles were arrested last night charged with breaking glass in the shop of Michael Kelly at the corner of Richmond and St. Patrick street. They were in the police court this morning but no evidence was taken.

BURIED TODAY

The funeral of Joseph McHugh was held this afternoon from 106 Prince Edward street to the Cathedral for requiem high mass by Rev. N. Nugent. Relatives were pallbearers and floral offerings were received, including a sheet from the employees of K. E. Harbour Co., Ltd. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery.

MAY BE RE-FLOATED

Chatham, Mass., April 7.—The British steamer Competitor, which grounded on her side yesterday, shifted her position in the sand somewhat during the night, but it is believed there is an even chance of floating her. Wrecking tugs will make the attempt at the next high tide. The weather today was favorable.

A basketball team from Fredrickton High School arrived in the city at noon today to play the senior school girls of the Y. W. C. A. this afternoon.

SAYS ALBERTA MUST ECONOMIZE

Edmonton, April 7.—A financial expert of undoubted ability will be engaged by the Alberta Government at the close of the present session to "scrutinize" the affairs of the province, so Premier Greenfield announced in the legislature last night. He said the expert would possibly be selected by a small committee of the Government.

"We must practice economy in this province in every possible way," said the Premier, "but we will be fortunate if we get back on our feet in the next few years."

Greenfield came out flatly with the proposal of W. M. Davidson, that an independent committee be appointed to study the proposed deficit of $1,016,000 on the estimates.

NO MORE PANTRY SALES THERE FOR A TIME AT LEAST

Upwards of 500 Have Been Held at the Imperial—Art Gallery Coming.

Because of the extensive renovations and improvements, such as upholstering, painting, papering, etc. the lobby sitting rooms of Imperial Theatre will not be available for pantry sales, etc. for a few months at least. A sale held today marked the wind-up of the season, as it were. It is understood the theatre management have ambitious plans for converting the waiting rooms into art galleries next season. The gallery will be decorated with graphic extracts from coming film attractions but for the paintings and drawings of artists who have been invited to exhibit, all of which will be free to the public. The gallery will be open at present to arrange an exhibition of the water coloring and oil paintings of these have been in the gallery in St. John's. It is understood there are more than twenty in the estate.

During the last few years upwards of five hundred pantry sales have been held in the Imperial lobbies representing all denominations of church-work, philanthropic and patriotic organizations. The average receipts of these have been in the neighborhood of $1,000. The tables and accessories, as well as use of the screen for advertising of the sales were donated by the theatre.

More Attempts Made to Destroy Catholic Schools

Montreal, April 7.—Three criminal attempts last week to set fire to the St. Edward Academy, a Catholic institution, and also to start fires in other schools in the same locality have been reported to the police of Montreal, in the case of pupils discovered lighting paper upon which petrol had been thrown.

WILL WE BANISH THE RESCUE LEAGUE?

(By Frances Reside Patterson)

A little girl whose pet had strayed was plunged in childish woe. What a pesty scourge to a way amid the cold and snow. Pursued by dogs and teased by boys and meeting new alarms. It was saved by the Animal Rescue League and restored to its mistress's arms.

On a hospital bed a blind man lay, too ill to know or heed. That the faithful dog, his friend and guide, was alone and in bitter need. Sad the thought that his mistress would miss him, and the Rescue League found him then.

And in the Home he had food and care till his master was well again.

There is many a family moves away, leaving pets on the street to roam. Legion the number of cats and dogs that come to the Animal Rescue League. They are housed till new homes are found, if so be that their illness will mend.

But many, diseased or badly hurt, are given a pained end.

Sick mercy to suffering animals is a welfare work for all. For sickly beasts with germ-laden fur, carry ills that may welladen fall. Suffering, neglected, pitiable, infection and death to spread, the homeless roam. Roaming unclaimed on the city streets, a menace to living and dead.

With comfort for those that may be saved, for the others, an end to their pain.

Is it in St. John carried on such a labor of love and pity? Or are we not to know those who strive a Rescue League for their city?

COAL FACILITIES NEEDED.

To the Editor of the Times,

Sir—Now that the winter is about over and all danger of a coal famine has passed, it seems a fitting time to call to the attention of the citizens. At a time last winter when the coal situation was most serious, the Hon. Dr. W. E. Foster, then Premier, had about arranged for the importation of Welsh anthracite coal, valued at $200,000 to $250,000 extra for 8,000 tons of coal and the whole province suffered.

Tragedy In Vineyard Sound

Vessel Seen to Sink there Yesterday: Five Bodies Are Recovered.

Vineyard Haven April 7.—Five bodies were recovered today from Vineyard Sound, believed to be those of a vessel, which Cuttyhunk coastguards saw sink in the Sound yesterday. They were life preservers bearing the name, "John Dwight, New York."

The bodies were picked up by fishermen. A craft named the John Dwight is said to have been engaged recently in salvage of cargoes of wrecked vessels in nearby waters.

The sinking of the vessel came shortly after the lifting of a heavy fog yesterday morning. As the weather cleared the Cuttyhunk coastguards caught sight of the ship's mast, about 150 feet long, evidently in distress, and with her deck awning outboard, indicating that the ship's mast had been launched. While the lookout was watching the vessel suddenly sank. The coastguards were cruised about for hours yesterday, but found no trace of the vessel. It was assumed that she had been in collision with a larger vessel.

Newport, R. I., April 7.—The steamer John Dwight, left this port late Wednesday afternoon but her destination was not announced. She had been listed as a large part of the winter and her crew came from New York. It was understood that she had changed ownership at that time.

DECLARES TEACHERS MUST STUDY CHILDREN

Headmaster Flinn Thinks Classes of 35 to 50 too Large.

Speaking recently at a meeting of Boston elementary school principals held at the Lincoln school, Headmaster Ira A. Flinn of the Huntington school declared the present problems would not be solved until emphasis in educational work was transferred from the child to the one learning. The individual differences of children must be recognized if serious work is to be done. The teacher must be recognized as the one to rise to his maximum possibilities.

If the public schools were to spend twice the sum in education they now spend they would then only be doing a full-time job, he asserted. Problems could not be properly studied and trained in groups of 35 to 50. Not until the child is individually studied in order that his native ability and facts about his emotional, social and physical life might be determined, could he be educated wisely. Children of superior talents who were not given opportunity to develop fully became mediocre, and society lost valuable leadership.

GIRL ACCUSED OF BIGAMY

Husband Brings Box of Candy and Offers to Help Her.

New York, April 7.—May Leaders, nineteen years old, arrested Tuesday on a bigamy charge, found a loyal defender in her first husband, Lewis E. Brumwick, of Manhattan. For as soon as police headquarters were with a large box of candy for his wife, she was charged with bigamy.

She was arrested on complaint of the Children's Aid Society of New York. She had been married in London and Rotterdam.

The Thorold is due about April 23 from Cuba with raw sugar.

The Dunbar Head is due on Monday according to a wireless today.

The Tyrrethia arrived in Halifax this morning from Liverpool.

The Satorian sailed from Halifax yesterday morning for Glasgow.

FINAL DEBATE ON NEXT SUNDAY

On account of the enforced absence from the city of one of the members of the debating team of the Men's Society of the Assumption Church, West St. John, the final debate in the Inter-Society Debating League scheduled for tomorrow, has been postponed one week. This decision was reached at a meeting of the league executive held this week.

The Assumption team, last year's champions, is tied with the Knights of Columbus for the leadership this year and next Sunday's contest will decide the issue. The resolution to be argued will be: "Resolved, that the United States should enter the League of Nations." The West Side team upholding the affirmative.

The board of judges will consist of Joseph Harrington, E. J. Henneberry and T. E. O'Leary, F. O. Conlon and Richmond Gramann will argue for the Knights and E. J. Owens and C. J. Callaghan, for the Assumption Society.

JAZZ MUSIC IN BRITAIN SAID TO BE ON DECLINE

London, March 18.—(By Mail).—"Jazz music is not played now; it has gone out," said a dancing master before Justice Bray recently.

This is a much disputed question, according to "The Westminster Gazette," some people saying that jazz music has not gone out of fashion and never will, and others contending that it died with the departure of sirens and "bottles" from the modern dance orchestra.

The rattles and whistles and jazz "noises" were never popular in England, another expert declared, "and we do not sell many jazz outfits now."

Vancouver, B. C., April 7.—Because her psychic powers have been disarranged by a sprained ankle and back, received when alighting from a street car, a supreme court jury here yesterday awarded Mrs. Rose MacLaren $1,250 damages against the British Columbia Electric Railway Company.

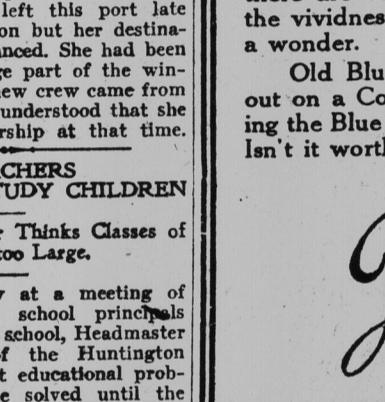

Every Nice Rug

Wiltons, Axminsters, Brussels—the three leading lines of Rugs appear throughout our windows today exhibiting still later successes in color and design.

The show piece is perhaps a deep, velvety Wilton showing Chinese medallions of Black lined Blue on a field of Platinum. The border is mostly Black, but everywhere there are variations. Forgetting the Oriental patterning, the vividness and softness of the coloring make you call it a wonder.

Old Blue Medallions joined by a floral tracery stand out on a Cocoa Brown ground, the border pattern repeating the Blue in reverse effect. And we have just noted two. Isn't it worth while looking further?

CRIPPLED VIOLIN SAID TO PLAY WITHOUT HELP

Story of Haunted Village Includes a Visitation From a Dead Neighbor.

London, March 18.—(By Mail).—A violin with two strings missing struck upon its case and began to play about the hour of midnight in the village of Allerton, near Pontardawe, declares the Swansea correspondent of "The London Daily Express."

This is one of two remarkable incidents reported by the village of Allerton, which were said to be the work of a neighbor who died weeks ago, yet has been telling his garden and leaving over the garden gate as if he were still flesh and blood.

"I met my husband for practicing the fiddle at night," said Mrs. Heard, in whose home the ghostly nocturne is played, "but I soon found that I was mistaken. One night he and I went downstairs about the hour the fiddle usually played."

"Suddenly we saw the case fly open, and we heard sounds like those the fiddle makes when they tune up. Then the fiddle lifted itself sideways and played."

The other ghost is said to have passed his former charwoman on the stairs, and so startled her that she fell to the ground, even though they say him in the garden.

TWO WOMEN ON HUNGER STRIKE IN KILMAINHAM JAIL

Dublin, April 7.—Miss Nellie Lyons, sister-in-law of Richard Mulcahy, minister of defence, and of Sean O'Casey, former republican envoy in Paris, is now on the 10th day of a hunger strike in Kilmainham jail.

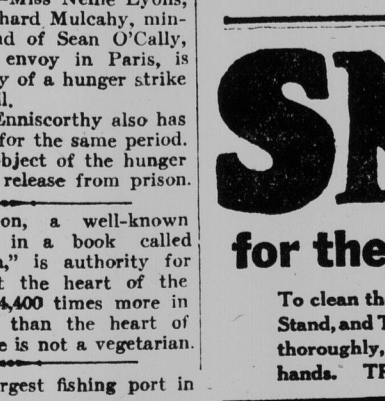

Miss O'Neill of Enniscoorthy also has been refusing food for the same period. It is believed the object of the hunger strike is to secure release from prison.

Dr. Webb-Johnson, a well-known London physician, in a book called "Det For Women" is authority for the statement that the heart of the meat eater beats 14,000 times more in twenty-four hours than the heart of the vegetarian. He is not a vegetarian.

Danced 27 Hours To Win World's Record;
Texas Maid Triumphs

MISS CUMMINGS
WITH ONE OF HER
SIX DANCING PARTNERS

San Antonio, Texas, April 7.—After dancing exactly 27 hours to the minute without stopping at the Audubon Ballroom at 16th Street and Broadway, New York City, last Saturday night and Sunday, Miss Alma Cummings of this city took her newly-won world's record and went home, where she discarded a pair of dancing slippers in the sole of each of which had been worn a great round hole, took off a pair of hose from which the feet had almost entirely disappeared, gave her feet a hot bath and went to bed.

Friday morning Miss Cummings faced a battery of moving-picture and other cameras with sparkling eyes and undiminished pep. "Fixed" replied Miss Cummings brightly, to the solicitous inquirer of reporters. "Why, no, I'm not tired. Just a night's sleep was all I needed." Miss Cummings, who now holds the world non-stop record for dancing, attributed her success in part to Texas and in part to nine years of a vegetable diet.

She started dancing at 6.57 o'clock Saturday evening and stopped at exactly 6.57 o'clock Sunday night. She says she paused then only because her shoes, stockings and partners were worn out.

During her 27 hours on the dance floor she ate as sustained only by sandwiches and sips of ginger and beer. One by one her partners dropped out. They were neither Texans nor vegetarians. As each partner without another took his place in the clasp of the tireless young woman.

The previous world's record of 25 hours was held by Victor Hindmarch of Northumberland, England.

Girl Spy Chained to Rocks and Left To Die of Hunger

Vengeance Wreaked on Red Agent Who Discovers by Peasant Who Takes Refuge in Cave in Bessarabia.

London, March 18.—(By Mail).—The skeleton of a beautiful girl spy chained to a rock and left to die of starvation has been discovered at Hotin, Bessarabia, writes the Berlin correspondent of "The London Daily Express."

Hotin and kidnapped. Her captors carried her to the lonely cavern, chained her to the rock, and left her to die. The girl set down in her notebook full details of what had occurred, and then, in order to escape the tortures of starvation, took poison, with which one of her more compassionate executioners had supplied her.

The notebook is dated "October 23, 1921."

POLICE TO CONTROL MASSAGE PARLORS

Executive Committee Submitting By-law to Aldermen, After Complaints.

Montreal, April 7.—Massage parlors in Montreal are to be placed under police control, a step decided on owing to complaints which have reached the City Hall as to the management of some of these establishments. The executive committee after studying the matter have submitted a by-law to the City Council, which declares that no person, corporation, or firm shall keep any establishment where massage is practiced, or where the trade of a masseur is carried on, without having previously obtained a license from the city for the sum of $6. Such license shall not be required of a masseur who carries on his trade in a licensed establishment. The important clause of the by-law then follows to the effect that such a license shall only be issued on the written recommendation of the chief of police.

RECENT DEATHS

The Late Thomas Rouke.

Thomas Rouke, whose death occurred in Boston, is survived by his wife, who was formerly Rebecca Moore of this city; two sons, George and Alexander of Boston; and three nephews, Peter Rouke of West St. John, Arthur Rouke of this city, and William J. Rouke of Bristol, Conn.

Doctine Richard.

The death took place Wednesday in Sackville of Doctine Richard at the age of 87 years and 8 months. Besides a wife, he leaves four daughters, Em-eric, Delia, Alice and Bertha all at home; also his father, John T. Richard, of Sackville, and nine brothers, Andrew, of Montreal; Eugene, of Hackensack, New Jersey; Ernest of St. John; Fred, Tillman, Leon, Napoleon, Alphe and Amede of Sackville and one sister, Mrs. Frank Cormier, also of Sackville. The mother of the deceased passed away recently.

Miss Sarah Anne Rowe.

After a lingering illness, the death of Miss Sarah Anne Rowe occurred yesterday at the Old Ladies' Home, where she had resided for several years. Many friends will learn of her death with sincere regret. Miss Rowe was the youngest daughter of the late R. A. Rowe, who was at one time a professor of music in this city. The next relatives surviving are sisters. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 8 o'clock from the home.

E. Walter Everett.

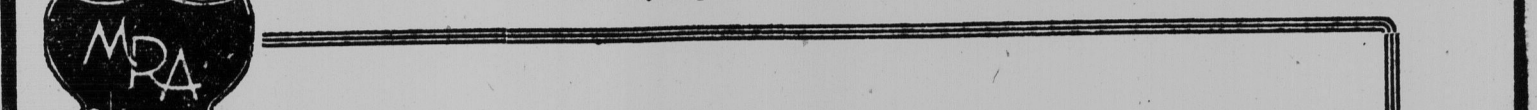

The funeral of E. Walter Everett formerly of St. John, but lately of Chelsea, near Boston, Mass., was held on Thursday morning in Boston. He died in Chelsea at the age of fifty-seven years. He was born in St. John but moved to the United States early in life and was an active citizen. He is survived by his wife, one brother and one sister.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Nova Scotia will drive to the right on and after April 16. The bill providing for the change became law yesterday. The government steamer Aberdeen received a call to Bon Fortage Island, near Yarmouth recently and on arrival there found that the one-year-old son of the keeper had been stricken with convulsions on Monday and had died on Tuesday. The ice had been driven so solidly along the shore that no one could leave the island.

The Rev. Mother Carmela, Mother Superior General of the Community of Missionary Sisters of III Order of St. Francis, died yesterday at Peekskill, N. Y., following an attack of influenza. Hadley Bower, aged fifty-two, was shot through the head yesterday at his home in Shelburne, N. S. A coroner's jury found that he had come to his death from a bullet from a rifle in his own hands. A widow and seven children survive. Rev. Percy G. Cotton, rector of

New Summer Frocks of Varied Duty

From our selection of frocks you'll be able to pick out models to suit every occasion. Sports, Afternoon and Business Costumes compose a collection notable for its diversity of type and detail. Discriminating indeed is she who provides herself beautifully while stocks are so fascinating.

For afternoon wear you will notice many of the new crepe weaves fashioned from plain materials or in smart combination with some of new Persian patterned silks or tapestry panels.

For street wear Tricotines and Poirer Twills are among the most favored and are trimmed with rows of plain braid or enlivened by touches of Oriental colored embroidery.

For sports wear, Dresses of Eponge and Light Weight Homespuns in soft pastel colorings are altogether attractive. Printed Silks, Voiles and "Crashy" materials have been assembled for use later in the season—they are very original and becoming.

Coats and Wraps Distinctly In The Mode. Tailored models for ordinary wear are plain—yet not too plain. They are mostly made with smart box coats with skirts that devote themselves to youthful lines. Tweeds and camels' hair effects are among the most popular materials for sports and everyday suits—while the more dressy models are in fine Poirer Twills. When plain colored materials are used, embroideries are very often seen in happy relief. Three piece suits are also numbered among the season's novelties, the extra garment being a neat costume blouse in color to match or harmonize with coat lining.

Wrappy styles predominate and are fashioned from soft Veldynes, Velours and Poirer Twills. Many times these are elaborately embroidered with self or contrasting color.

Sports models are plainer and are showing in various Tweeds and Camels' hair effects.

HARDING BUYS HIS BIRTHPLACE HOME OF BAREFOOT BOYHOOD Mount Glebe, Ohio, April 7.—President Harding a few days ago bought his birthplace, a farm in North Bloomery field township, Morrow County, where as a barefoot boy he spent his childhood days.

The deal was consummated through French Crow, postmaster at Marion, Ohio, a life-long friend of the President, who acted as his personal agent. The deed was delivered to Mr. Crow by Harry Erikson, who has owned the farm for a number of years. Plans now under consideration, it is understood, call for a complete rearrangement of the premises, including a modern bungalow and golf course. Friends close to President Harding say he contemplates spending much of his time after retirement from the White House on the "old farm" in writing and "getting back to nature."

WASHINGTON IS RELIEVED AS MRS. POINDEXTER GOES

Mrs. Henry C. Wallace, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture, was more amused than anything else over the latest "disclosures" of the wife of the Ambassador to Peru.
"Does any one take them seriously, I wonder?" she asked. "I am quite sure I do not know where Mrs. Poindexter saw such things. At the many functions I attend as the wife of a Cabinet minister I have never seen any drinking or gambling."
Secretary of Labor Davis, who has been an extensive entertainer and lives in the fashionable hotel where so many of the official functions are held, has likewise found them devoid of the wildness attributed by Mrs. Poindexter.
"Bring on the investigators," he said. "We do quite a bit of entertaining here, but if they find any liquor they will have to bring it with them. At the affairs I attend in Washington, I have not observed any liquor or gambling. In fact, I am sure that it does not exist. Such charges can have no basis in fact."
Other members of the President's official family were not so kindly disposed. One cabinet officer said that while such blanket charges as Mrs. Poindexter has made are annoying, they do not warrant a reply.
WOMEN TRACK STARS BARRED FROM OLYMPIAD
New York, April 7.—Women track stars, who have shattered numerous records since being taken into the fold of the National A. U., are doomed to disappointment if they have figured on the status of being merely entertaining and amusing to the point where, in some quarters at least, they are keenly resented and sharply denied. It was said that in some social quarters there was considerable agitation over reports that branches of the W. C. T. U. in various states, taking the statements of Mrs. Poindexter at their face value, are circulating petitions addressed to the Attorney-General asking him to investigate the charges of drinking and gambling.
It also was said that the Anti-Saloon League and other temperance organizations were preparing to use their money in the prosecution of an investigation on their own account into social functions here, which centre about the official circle.

DISAGREE OVER LABOR PARADE IN QUEBEC IN JUNE

Quebec, April 7.—(Canadian Press)—A decision by the Quebec St. Jean-Baptiste Society to permit the members of international labor unions to walk in the procession on St. Jean-Baptiste Day next June and to carry their banners and wear their badges has aroused a storm of protest from the heads of the National Catholic unions and of L'Action Catholique, a local clerical daily.
It is even stated here in labor circles that the members of the National Catholic unions will boycott the parade should the members of the international unions take part.
The farwell entertainment given by the Minnedosa concert party last evening in the Seaman's Institute drew one of the largest audiences of the season and the fine programme earned a large share of applause. Those taking part were Fred Brooks, H. Kerr, H. Frankland, Mr. Coughran, Mr. Brown, Mr. Lach, H. Mason, Frederick Shears and Harry Watkins.

MOVES TO PRESERVE OLD CONSTELLATION

Navy Department Orders Survey of Historic Frigate Built 176 Years Ago.

Washington, April 7.—Survey of the frigate Constellation, venerable forebear of the present American navy, was ordered Wednesday by the Navy Department, with the view of preserving the ship as a national relic. The officers will be sent to Newport, R. I., to inspect the aged but still staunch vessel, and report what repairs will be necessary to maintain her.

The Constellation was built by the United States Government at the expense of $1,000,000, and is 222 feet long and her wooden timbers displaced 1,270 tons. The next of her name, the battle cruiser Constellation, which was ordered scrapped under the naval limitation treaty, measured 874 feet and comprised 43,600 tons of hardened steel. Naval historians show an analogy between the two ships, orders for the scrapping of the uncompleted frigate having been actually issued. A diplomatic situation arose, however, which led to their recall.

SALVE LAURENTIC GOLD.

Admiralty Resuming Operations Off Lough Swilly.

London, April 7.—To resume the recovery of gold from the Lough Swilly, the Admiralty salvage ship Lacer has left Portsmouth for Londonderry. This is the seventh year of the operations. More than 25,000,000 worth of gold is scattered about the bed of the off the north coast of Ireland, and of this there has been salvaged up to August last, when work was stopped on account of rough weather, as much as £1,600,000.

The Laurotic, with a cargo of bullion for America, was torpedoed and sunk in January, 1917.

A much enjoyed programme was given last evening at a meeting of the men of Trinity church in the church hall. Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong presided. Rev. Dr. Heins gave a talk on his experiences in port work. Others taking part were E. C. Lawrence, Ernest Till, Mr. Irvine and F. C. Matthews. Those in charge of the entertainment and refreshments were I. H. Northrup, Fred Kee, Walter Dixon, W. S. Clark, George Peacock and Fred Thomas.

LOCAL NEWS

Miss Olive Estabrooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Estabrooks, Main street, received her cap at the Mount Sinai Training School for Nurses, New York, on Wednesday, having successfully passed her preliminary examinations.

The Ladies' Society of St. John's Baptist church held their regular meeting last night, with Mrs. J. H. Doody in the chair. Gratifying reports of the recent Easter tea were heard. Rev. J. J. McDermott, the parish priest, was present and spoke encouragingly to the members.

The annual Easter dance of the Brunswick Chapter, I. O. O. F., last evening in the West St. John Masonic Hall, was a great social success. The Brunswick orchestra presented a fine musical programme for the evening. The reception committee consisted of Mr. Ernest Wetmore, regent of the chapter, Mrs. Fred Lewis, Mrs. J. H. Barton, and Mrs. Louise Hetherington.

Petitions urging the continuation of the ferry between Indiantown and Pleasant Point are being circulated in the North End and in the presentation to the Municipal Council. It is said that there are about fifty families who will be left out of the present ferry has been condemned but tenders have been called for a new service.

At the Fairville Methodist church last night William McIntosh gave an illustrated address on birds and trees. Rev. J. M. Rice, the pastor, was in the chair and during an interval in the programme, candy was sold by the members of the Epworth League. The lecture was very attentively listened to and proved a treat to the large audience. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mr. McIntosh.

Yesterday a slight fire, caused by the overturning of a lantern, broke out in a box car at Sand Point. The car was loaded with rubber tires and was standing near the grain elevator. An alarm from Box 9 brought the firemen, but they could not get at the blaze because of the strings of freight cars in the way. Employees of the yard fought the fire with buckets and extinguishers and the flames were kept under control. There was little or no damage to the car, but the tires were slightly injured by water.

St. Philip's concert party gave a much enjoyed entertainment in the hall of the Fairville Baptist church last night under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the Fairville church. A large audience was present and thoroughly enjoyed an excellent programme which consisted of instrumental and vocal numbers and a few readings. The pastor, St. Philip's, Rev. C. Stewart, gave an address on the life of William Shakespeare. The chairman of the evening was Mr. C. Clark, pastor of the Fairville church. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the visiting entertainers.

A pleasant surprise party was held last evening in the Union Point Sunday school for Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Arbo of Pleasant Point. An album of public rooster was presented to Mrs. Arbo by Ernest Thorne, of the Golden Rule class. Miss Lena Urquhart, of the Union Point Sunday school, presented a book to Mrs. Arbo. The evening was very enjoyable and a large number of reports were presented and the evening was very enjoyable.

The King's Daughters met yesterday afternoon at her residence. The president, Mrs. H. W. Robertson, in the chair. Mrs. George A. Henderson gave notice of motion to be all the members of the organization to be present at the annual conference which will be held in July. Miss Ruth Ryder, Mrs. O. N. Northrup, Miss S. Hamm, Miss Z. Melanson, Miss G. Irvine, W. Poley and James Northrup.

Mr. Creighton said, in effect, that he did not believe the good news. "I had not met the old gentleman until about five years ago."

BOY OF TWO HURT SLIDING DOWN FIREHOUSE POLE

Boston, April 7.—George Smith, 2-year-old son of Deputy Chief George Smith of the fire department, was hurt yesterday when he slid down a firehouse pole.

Mr. Smith was sliding down the pole when he slipped and fell. He was hurt in the head and arm. He is now recovering in the hospital.

FAREWELL PRESENTATION

More than 150 employees of the Nashua Pulp and Paper Co., Ltd., met at the Orange Hall, Fairville, last evening to witness the presentation of a farewell gift to Ralph Craft, who resigned his position as superintendent a few days ago and who will leave tonight for Maine. Mr. Craft was superintendent for about twelve years. Ronald Miller, the purchasing agent of the company, read an address telling of the regret the company and employees would feel at Mr. Craft's departure. Mr. Craft replied feelingly, saying that he had received the support from all his fellow workers. An impromptu entertainment was given and refreshments and smokes were served.

SHOULD KING VISIT POPE?

(Hamilton Herald).
King Edward VII. visited the Pope. Why should there be an organized protest against the proposal that King George shall call at the Vatican during his projected visit to Rome? Besides, as Britain is diplomatically represented at the Papal Court, the King's neglect to call on the Pope would be an affront.

Matter of Drawing for Car Considered by Social Service Council—Permanent Secretary.

The New Brunswick Social Service Council at its meeting in the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon arranged to have attention drawn to the fact that the drawing of an automobile which had been planned for in St. John on the previous evening was quite illegal. The committee discussed many important subjects. Rev. Dr. J. G. Shearman, secretary of the Social Service Council, the National Council is to hold its annual meeting in St. John in January, 1924, and arrangements in that connection were considered. It was decided to increase the grant to the National body from $600 to $750. The child-welfare committee of the council was asked to take action in bringing a bill for the better protection of the children of unmarried parents before this session of the provincial legislature. The suggestion that the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance be approached informally with a view to seeing if it would join with the Social Service Council in maintaining a paid secretary was favored. Canon Armstrong's promise to be taken to put the matter before the Temperance Alliance meeting.

Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong, the president, was in the chair and there was an unusually large attendance at the meeting.

Miss C. O. McEivern, secretary, reported on notifying the many interested organizations and asking them to appoint delegates to the council. She read the list of delegates.

Rev. H. Goodwin, honorary field secretary, reported having had general supervision of the work of the Moncton council was a matter for pride and gratification. He referred also to the work of the Social Service Council, Dr. J. G. Shearman, secretary of the National Social Service, gave a report on the annual meeting at Ottawa and gave details of various aspects of the work.

Baker's Cocoa

is the ideal drink for growing children

Not only does its delicious flavor and aroma appeal to the palate but it supplies the body with a considerable amount of pure, wholesome and nutritious food.

Children, owing to their almost ceaseless activity, frequently require as large an amount of nourishment as adults, and good cocoa is a valuable aid in the carefully arranged diet. But its quality must be good and no cocoa can quite so well meet the requirements of dietitian, physician, nurse or housekeeper as "BAKER'S."

Y. M. C. A. CIRCUS

The annual Y. M. C. A. circus opening last evening in the association gymnasium drew a packed house and the audience was delighted with the clever programme. The events of the evening were as follows—March past by the entire company; illustrated mass march by fifty boys; comic number; vaulting exhibition by the juniors; senior wand drill; revolving pyramid act by the High School class; cowboy dance by the junior leaders; the unveiling of the "Tut-Ankh-Amen" tomb; parallel bar work; elephant hunt by business boys; junior group Dutch dance; Joe Harding in the Tut-Ankh-Amen glide; tumbling act; flying display by the East End boys; High bar exhibition by the seniors; and a burlesque Derby, with Sparkplug running against time. William Bowler, the physical director, was assisted by Arthur B. Howard and Arnold Kee.

The cast was as follows: "The Copy," Ron Kerr; tumblers, W. Maynard McLean, Wenden Grey, Walter Pollard; fun makers, "Clyde" Lee, "Roos" Ren, "Tug" Stammers, "Bill" Williams, "Alf" Wittern; Sparkplug, (Spark) "Steel Chest" Brown, (Plug) "Ewing" mummy, "Stan" Ellis; Professor Excavata (the archeologist), "Bunt" Shaw; Gold Dust twins, Rom-Freese, Lloyd McFarlane; oriental dancer, Joe Harding; A. B. Horwood; pianist, Miss L. Andrews; musicians, Harold Whittaker; properties (burlesque), Harold Williams; stage manager, William Bowler; assistant manager, Bill Patterson.

Over the heads of the crowd the picture showed hundreds of spectral faces—faces that Sir Arthur said were those of the soldier dead. He said that a group of mediums had been planted in the crowd and that they had drawn the "dead" to the ceremony.

The photograph was taken by Mrs. Dean, an English medium. Sir Arthur learned it the "greatest spirit picture in the world." The faces were stigmatically.

He also showed the cast of a hand dipped in a bucket of paraffine, and then plunged into cold water. The cast, he said, was obtained at a séance conducted under the most rigorous conditions. A spirit having been materialized, he said, they had it plunge a hand into the paraffine as proof to the outside world of its existence.

Sir Arthur called attention to the unbroken outline of the cast as proof that no human hand could have been withdrawn without damaging the thin tissue of paraffine. This cast, he said, was one of the best proofs of the existence of materialized spirits.

WOMEN TRACK STARS BARRED FROM OLYMPIAD

New York, April 7.—Women track stars, who have shattered numerous records since being taken into the fold of the National A. U., are doomed to disappointment if they have figured on the status of being merely entertaining and amusing to the point where, in some quarters at least, they are keenly resented and sharply denied. It was said that in some social quarters there was considerable agitation over reports that branches of the W. C. T. U. in various states, taking the statements of Mrs. Poindexter at their face value, are circulating petitions addressed to the Attorney-General asking him to investigate the charges of drinking and gambling.

It also was said that the Anti-Saloon League and other temperance organizations were preparing to use their money in the prosecution of an investigation on their own account into social functions here, which centre about the official circle.

SALVAGE CORPS CELEBRATES 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Hydro Discussion Interjected Into the Proceedings—Loving Cups Presented to Charter Members.

The members of No. 2 Company of Salvage Corps and Fire Police met last evening in Upton Tea Room to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the founding of the company.

Commissioner Bullock also congratulated the members on their efficient work. He then said that, as the hydro situation was foremost in the citizens' minds at present, would speak briefly on this topic.

MacRae and Lieutenant C. M. Farren. A toast to former members of No. 2 corps was proposed by Captain R. L. Cunningham and responded to by former Captain W. H. Turner and H. G. Harrison.

He declared that the citizens of St. John were going to enjoy the benefit of the Musquash development. He said that while there was no desire to ask any individual or corporation, as citizens must have their own interests from Musquash.

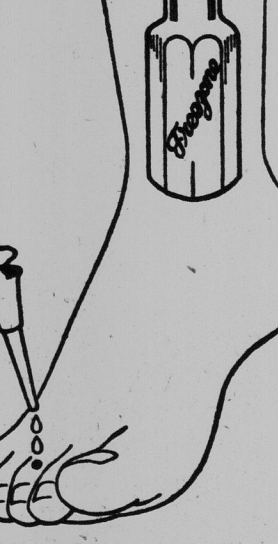

He proposed a toast to the Department of Public Works, which was replied, telling the citizens that they would be proud of their work, and that the firemen would be greatly handicapped without the aid of the salvage corps.

He began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in two weeks I could see an improvement. I continued using them and in six weeks was completely healed.

Hard, Large and Sealed Over. Itched and Burned. My trouble began with a breaking out of pimples on my face which soon spread up into my hair. Some of the pimples were hard and large and scabbed over. They caused much itching and burning and my face was sore and red.

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly the corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers.

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the caluses, without soreness or irritation.

And Her Backache, Rheumatism and Neuralgia Have Nearly All Gone. Lac Beuchette, Que., April 6 (Special).—About five years ago I had the "Grippe" and it left me with backache, rheumatism and neuralgia. I was not able to sleep and my appetite was poor.

The toast to the Press was proposed by Joseph Irvine and responded to briefly by Harry Ervin and T. A. Robinson. Songs were sung during the evening by Ernest Till and F. J. Irvine in a pleasing manner.

Albin Titus and Harley Ward were arrested last evening by Detective Saunders and Plainclothesmen Kilpatrick and McBride on a warrant charging them with being in a diet.

Great fires occurred in Chicago, 1871, and in Boston, 1872.

Wind and dirt age a woman's skin— In the world's big cities women use this famous method to keep their skin fresh and supple

The wind, itself an enemy, conspires with the soot of city smoke stacks and the dirt of the streets to change your skin. Unless you fight this coarsening, it will take away the first smooth freshness and leave your skin dry and coarse, older. In every big city today where the menace is greatest, women are using this famous method to keep their skin fresh and supple.

First the special cleansing that does more than cleanse. Give your skin a nightly cleansing with the cold cream that contains just the right amount and kind of oil to work in and out without clogging—Pond's Cold Cream. So rich it cleans thoroughly and keeps the skin beautifully supple too.

And then the unfailing outdoor protection. Never fail to apply before going out, the delicate vanishing cream known in almost every country for its famous protection—Pond's Vanishing Cream. It contains the most effective softening and soothing ingredient known to skin specialists, keeps your skin smooth, fully protected from coarsening winds.

Use this double method. To meet the two great needs of the skin, Pond's developed these two famous creams. First the cold cream that cleans and oils. Then the famous outdoor protection. Wherever you live, under the most trying conditions, they will keep your skin beautifully smooth and fresh. These creams are found in jars and tubes at 50 cents each in all departmental and drug stores. They contain nothing which promotes the growth of hair. The Pond's Extract Co., 146 Brock Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Queen of Bootleggers Relates Tale of Romance and Rum Running in Ten Stories

Edith Stevens, High Bred, Beautiful Girl of Twenty, Who Risked Life and Good Name in Yacht on High Seas For Love of Antonio Casese, Now Convicted and Sentenced to Two Years in Atlanta

HERB for the first time is the story of Edith Stevens, world famous as the Queen of Rum Runners of the high seas. She was a child of wealth and influence. Then her mother and father were divorced. Her father disappeared and she has not seen or heard of him since. At sixteen, she went to work on an odd job which gave her nightmares. When just past sixteen, she married a man who was seventeen years older. But this was into the fire from the frying pan. The man, Milton Stearns Hirsch, an actor, was settled and prosaic in his way of life. With him the spirit of youth was past. Then came Antonio Casese, millionaire tobacco manufacturer, into her life. Expensive gifts were showered on the girl, and he told her wonderful stories of life and love and luxury and he promised her all her heart desired if she would join in his adventures. She went joyfully. For a year this oddly matched couple were the cynosure of all the admirers of the sea—the little, delicate girl, with her quick wit and reckless courage, and the dashing King of the Rum Runners, Antonio Casese—for this was a quest for wealth in the newest and quietest way—illicit liquor traffic. After a year of defiance of the law, of continuous danger on land and sea, of romance and huge profits, Casese was captured and cast into a Federal prison. He was later released on a $5,000 bond and again set out to sea, taking Edith, then sixteen, with him to the Bahamas for another venture. But, when they returned, Edith was caught and arrested. Edith refused to tell where Casese was. After months in jail she was released and acquitted. She joined Casese and again they set sail for the Islands. But their pretty little yacht, the Iris, one of the three vessels in the Casese fleet, was wrecked off the coast of Georgia. The pair were captured again and brought back to New York. After months in jail, Casese was tried, convicted, and sentenced for two years in Atlanta. He has appealed and today he is waiting in jail for a decision from the higher courts on that appeal. And every day the mail brings a letter to Casese from Edith with an account of every minute of her time while she waits for him. And every day Casese writes to her all the thoughts he has in his prison cell. Edith Stevens might have just come out of one of New York's finishing schools. She is a dainty girl, of many fascinating qualities. She appears much younger than her twenty years. When I saw her just after she was acquitted, her one hundred and eight pounds were almost lost in the depths of a blue chair. She rested her head on a small, ornate hand. She reminded of a clinging vine one minute, but there would come flashes of the determination which made her the intrepid partner of Casese. Beneath her short curled hair was a nice number two bronze-buckled slipper that fit snug around her high-arched ankles. I recall that this distinction is said to be the heritage of blue blood in the ancestry-loving South where this girl must have originated according to the accent into which she occasionally lapses. In her delicate heart-shaped face, there is a strange combination of features which seem to account for the girl's bizarre career. Under a mass of rich brown hair, which is set off with little bangs, curled carefully, are wide-apart, large, far-seeing eyes of the dreaming visionary, romanticist, the sort of person who writes poetry in a freezing garret with crackers and milk for a diet. In contrast to her eyes is a determined, strong mouth—thin and tight—that can set like a trap. The mouth would indicate that the girl has the strength of will to attempt to move heaven and earth in order to put into action those fanciful dreams that the eyes tell about. And now let Edith Stevens tell her story.

torical crises have been changed all because women had neglected a small touch of her toilet. I quickly dabbed some powder on where it would do the most good. I gave my bangs a few whisks of my silver-mounted brush. Then out on deck I popped. My heart already was crowding my mouth. The scene that met me on deck didn't assist me to assume my general attitude of nonchalance with which I desired to impress our visitor. There stood Antonio Casese and our captain in conversation with the revenue officer. Furthermore, participating in that conversation was the nice young man who had first come aboard. I now learned that he was the Mayor's son.

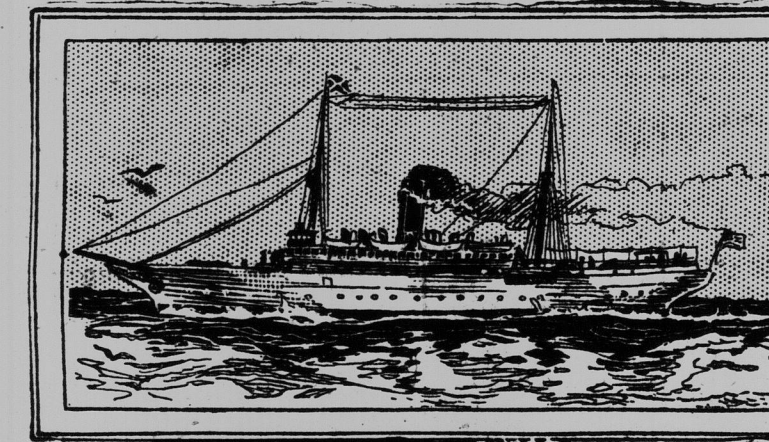

I realized I had to say something at once and that it had to be right. I would get no second chance. I knew that I must do something and I knew that I must not do the wrong thing. I walked over to the little group, just in time to hear the revenue officer repeat this ominous question: "Have you any liquor on board?" "Here's where I put in. I smiled gaily and replied: "Surely we have some. Would you like a drink? We usually keep some on board for ourselves."

Quick Wit Saves Situation. "Oh, I see. Yes, it's a party here," said the Revenue Officer, looking at me—I thought not disinterestedly. "Where are you bound?" "We are having a perfectly glorious time. We are going South," and I waved my hand in that general direction, which was just opposite to where we actually were headed. I continued: "You see, we stop anywhere the spirit moves us to do so."

"You really have some good stuff that we got from the other side, in New York." "All right," the Revenue officer nodded. "Don't mind if I do, but my friend here doesn't exactly drink himself to death. Slip him a bottle of Scotch liquor, the real thing, is hard to get down here."

Antonio Casese, passing me a furtive and approving glance for my timely appearance on deck, led the way into the saloon. I then assumed the duties of hostess. I got out a bottle of Johnnie Walker. I was like the man in Poe's story of the Black Cat. You recall that when he was searching his house with the police, all the time he was tapping on his cellar walls gloating in the fact that he had secreted his slain wife's body so well that he even could tap in front of the very spot where she was hidden—but when he tapped it, a cat entangled there meowed and exposed him. Would these men tap the right spot? I was holding my breath. I feared that the revenue officer would reach out and touch the place that led to a cache of hundreds of cases of precious rye whiskey. The Mayor's son refrained from drinking, gave Government officer, however, tossed his dram off with undisguised zest. "If you have a pleasant trip," he remarked on going over the side of our yacht. He passed the Mayor's son and favored me with a bantering glance. I smiled warmly as he added: "This young fellow," indicating the Mayor's son, "always knows the pretty girls."

He examined our papers and said: "Well, my friends, everything looks all right." "You at last he stepped down to the launch I was about ready to collapse with the sheer joy of my triumph. The Mayor's son also departed in his own launch, however, when I saw the crew all carefully seated on a coal barge next to our boat, undeniably frightened at the sight of the revenue officer. If this had been noticed by our visitor assuredly we would have been betrayed. Furthermore, my woman's intuition led me to believe there was something to be feared in the attitude of these men. I tried in vain to throw

My Experiences as Queen of The Rum Runners

BY EDITH STEVENS

Society favorites, who look down on bootleggers, and yet must rely upon them for supplies, little know the dangers that beset this most modern of illicit professions. I, as the acknowledged queen of the rum runners, at the age of twenty, can look back and say that I have faced death and cheated it more times than the most daring of men. I recall an old song of which the refrain ran: "If a Table at Hector's Could Talk." This could be paraphrased now to "If a Bottle of Scotch Could Talk." And what a story it could tell of its adventures in reaching the rich man's wine cellar. I remember a period of our hectic career that followed in the wake of a terrific hurricane at sea aboard the terrific ditty, our one hundred and twenty-foot steam yacht. Wind and wave ad reached out to drag us to our doom. During the twenty-four hours of the storm's fury, I had seen our crew of fourteen—hardened adventurers drawn from many social levels—stunably mumble prayers as they were being buffeted about. After such an experience nothing could frighten us. We felt as though we had been born again, given new, harmed lives. The storm had occurred off the coast of Jacksonville, Florida, day out from the Bahamas. We jumped into the little port of Fernandina. There we laid up for repairs for two days. Barely had we left our dock, when we ran into a second gale. After fighting it several hours, we had easy sailing.

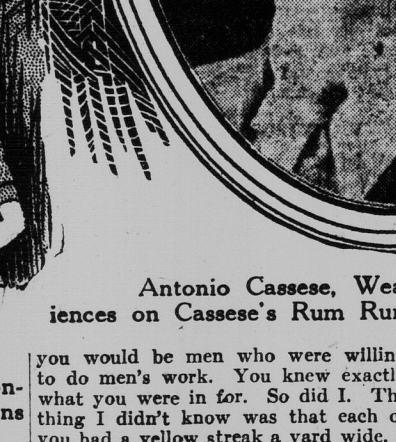

By the Charm of Her Personality, Edith Lulls the Suspicious of the Revenue Officer.

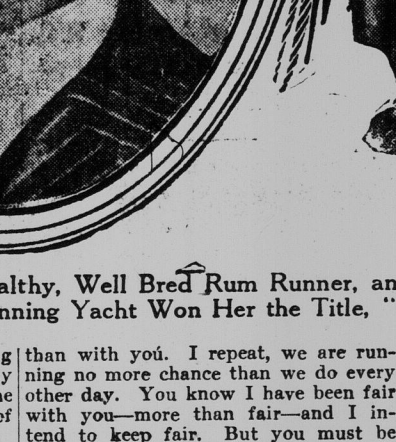

The Captain declares the Crew Will Quit Unless the Liquor is Thrown Overboard.

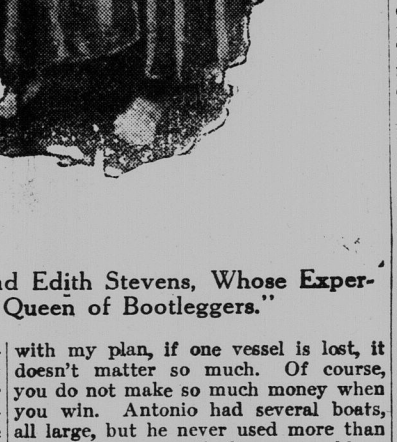

That night the entire crew called in a body in our cabin to talk things over. The Mayor's son was extremely nervous. He said: "When the revenue officer finds out the Young Captain is not in command, he will search the boat. He will do that, here, or he will tip off everybody up the line. Wherever we go, there will be an accurate description of us, stating that we are carrying illicit cargo, and are headed North."

DISTRICT CAMPS FOR BOY SCOUTS IS IN PROSPECT

Matter Will be Discussed at a Meeting Next Week—Gilwell Camp Here Also Planned—Indications of Good Camping This Summer.

If the plans which are now being formulated by the local council of the Boy Scouts Association are brought to a successful issue, the St. John scouts will have a banner summer of camping this year. There is now in prospect the formation of a district camp for the St. John district, opening on July 2 and closing about August 8, when arrangements will be made for the accommodation of the eighteen troops of scouts and about a dozen packs of Wolf Cubs for two weeks each.

In connection with the district camp and running concurrently with it, a branch of the Canadian Gilwell Training Camp for scoutmasters is also being planned. This is similar to the camp held last year in Steviecke, N. S., and includes in its curriculum the last word on woodcraft and other scout training. The tentative dates for the Gilwell course are from July 30 to August 10. Provided that the arrangements materialize, J. Harry Allen of Fredericton, president of the N. B. Guides' Association; Dr. J. D. Tubill of Fredericton, provincial entomologist; F. E. L. Coombs of Ottawa, editor of The Canadian Boy, and other members of the committee of the camping committee of the Boy Scouts' Association here, have accepted invitations to attend.

Matters in connection with the summer camping arrangements will be discussed at a meeting next week by Guy L. Short, district commissioner; Mr. McIntosh, chairman of the camping committee, and the scout masters and cub masters of the units in the district. The quarterly meeting of the district council is scheduled to take place later on the same evening.

FINE OF $200 IN UNION STREET CASE

Second Charge Against Willard Foster is Gone Into—A $208 Fine.

Judgment was given this morning in the case of Willard Foster, charged with selling liquor in his shop in Union street. At the hearing, Mr. W. M. Foster, the prosecutor, who said that the accused had been in court before and had promised to attend, asked the maximum fine of $200 was imposed. G. H. V. Belyea, K. C. appeared for the defence.

Another charge, that of tampering with a witness, Oscar Griffiths, was next taken up against Foster. Mr. Belyea objected to the form of the information, saying that it did not specify the nature of the alleged tampering. It was allowed, subject to objection. Oscar Griffiths, examined by Mr. Ryan, said that he had met the defendant in the hallway of the court as he was going in and the accused had said to him, "What are you going to do about it?" The witness replied, "I'm going to tell the truth." The accused had then said, "This would be my third offense." He had come to court to give evidence against Foster. Inspector F. J. Killen said he remembered the previous hearing in the case. He had notified Griffiths to come to court.

The defense called no witnesses and did not cross-examine. Summing up, Mr. Belyea said his client had not been given a proper chance in the information. "It did not show in what the tampering was alleged consisted." The accused had not threatened or tried to bribe the witness but had merely tried to find out what the case against him would be. That was allowed every accused. Mr. Ryan said it was a mere question of fact and said the defendant had been given notice. He referred the magistrate to sections in the act. The magistrate said he would look into the evidence and give judgment later. John McGinley was charged with being drunk in Charlotte street and with having liquor in his possession. He said he got it from some men off the Sussex train and was carrying it for them. A fine of $208 or 8 months in jail was imposed. Two men, charged with drunkenness were remanded.

EXERCISED OVER TALK OF RAISE IN AMUSEMENT TAX

Motion picture exhibitors are naturally very much exercised respecting the proposed bill for doubling the amusement tax in New Brunswick. The opinion was expressed to the Times that "the probably effect upon the motion picture business throughout the province at this rather critical period would be almost disastrous." It was declared that it would be impractical for the exhibitors to absorb the tax, while such an increase as proposed might very possibly turn sufficient patrons from the theatres to create business chaos. Doubtless, it was said, the government would make no change without careful deliberation with these business men, to whom it is not only a matter of vital, but they are, in turn, it is contended, representing approximately one hundred and seventy-five thousand interested New Brunswickers. It will also be contended by the motion picture men that the new schedule would work out a definite loss in net revenue to the government.

JUDGMENT RESERVED. In the County Court this morning argument was finished in the case of Dean vs Green, an action for some $200 alleged to be due for automobile repairs. Judgment was reserved.

FERRY FLOATS REPAIRS. The foundation on one of the floats on the east side ferry approach has collapsed, according to a report made to Commissioner Bullock by the ferry superintendent today, and repairs will be necessary immediately. The damage done is particularly noticeable at low tide.

TRAFFIC CASE. Arnold Pitt pleaded guilty this morning to making a wrong turn with his motor truck at the corner of Main and Adelaide streets. He said the front wheels stuck in the car tracks and he was afraid of striking a silent policeman. A fine of $10 was allowed to stand.

PRESENTATION. About fifty friends of Miss Louise Gould, who is to leave soon for Boston, gathered last evening at her home in Union street, Fairville, and presented to her a diamond ring, dancing and music were enjoyed. Music was furnished by Joseph Goidic and M. Fenlon.

CHANGE OF FERRY. The ferry steamer Governor Carleton, after her annual overhauling and painting is about ready for the launch and will likely make a trial trip next week. The Ludlow had a good winter this year on the route and only general overhauling is expected to be required when she is replaced by the Gov. Carleton.

RODNEY WHARF PAVING. Commissioner Bullock said this morning that he expected that the laying of asphalt paving on Rodney wharf would be commenced as soon as the Public Works Department assembled its plant for operation in West St. John this spring. The street department has plans for some paving work in King street, West.

TWO FROM HERE. At least two representatives from St. John will attend a conference with Sir Henry Thornton at Montreal, according to present plans. G. E. B. Bour, president of the board of trade, and a representative of the city, will also be present. The meeting will be held at the hotel on Monday night, saying that he would be unable to be present but advising that the meeting would be held on Tuesday.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING. A letter was received by the Board of Trade this morning from Professor Gordon, of the Nova Scotia Technical College, Halifax, who was to speak at a meeting in favor of vocational training for the unemployed. He said that on Monday night, saying that he would be unable to be present but advising that the meeting would be held on Tuesday.

A SCHOOL CASE. A juvenile was in court this morning charged with truancy. His father had kept the boy home on account of his illness. He had been undergoing treatment at the hospital since last Easter. For a time the boy did not have shoes to wear. He thought the father had been punished which he denied that he had drawn blood. The boy and his father were sent to the guard room.

COLWELL-WALKER. A wedding of interest to St. John was celebrated on Saturday afternoon, February 10 by Rev. Mr. Land in Newton, Mass., when Gordon C. Colwell, a native of New Brunswick, and Miss Margaret Walker, a native of Nova Scotia, at the home of the bride. The high esteem in which they are held was shown by the number of valuable gifts they received, among which was a casket of gold from the Boston Telephone Company. They were accompanied by 407 guests. Mrs. G. W. Colwell, 45 Exmouth street, mother of the groom, attended the wedding.

C. G. M. M. SAILINGS. The last Canadian Government Merchant Marine steamer of the winter season will be the Canadian Conqueror, which sailed from London for here on Thursday, and is due to return about April 25. This will wind up a busy season, with sailings from this port to London, to Cardiff and Swansea, to Liverpool and to the West Indies. The last boat to Liverpool will be the Canadian Explorer, now in port, which will sail on Wednesday or Thursday. The Cardiff and Swansea sailings will be completed when the Canadian Navigator, due tomorrow, sails. The Canadian Harvester is due to make still another trip on the West Indies route before the season closes.

IN THE MARKET. Eggs have been the erratic members of the group of farm products in the city market for the last two weeks. There were a very small number of fresh eggs this morning, and they brought up to 50c a dozen, while last week there was an abundance and prices ranged from 30 to 35c. It was said that the farmers had become frightened at the comparatively small prices received last week and were holding off for fear of forcing them down still further. Butter was a little higher this morning at 50 to 55c a pound. Again there was only one small lamb shown in the market. The price quoted for spring lamb was from $8.50 to $9.50 for hind-quarters. Other prices were as follows: Beef, 18 to 20c; veal, 15 to 20c; lamb, frozen fresh-killed, 25 to 35c; pork, 25 to 30c; ham, 30 to 35c; bacon, 40c; chicken, 60 to 70c; fowl, 50 to 60c a pound; potatoes, carrots, beets and parsnips, 50c; turnips, 25 to 30c a peck; lettuce and radishes, 10c a bunch; celery, 25 to 30c a head.

MONTREAL HAS 500 COLONISTS

C. P. Liner Brings Passenger List of 998

Talks on Business Conditions in the Motherland and on Continent—Twenty-third Time Before the Privy Council.

Of 998 passengers who arrived here this morning on the Canadian Pacific steamship Montrose from Liverpool and Greenock, 500 are new colonists for the Dominion of Canada, 221 are returning Canadians, twenty-three Scandinavians, who are to be employed on farms in Western Canada; and 198 for the United States, out of which number eleven are citizens returning from abroad, 114 are British subjects, thirty Scandinavians and three Germans.

The large liner docked at seven o'clock and the passengers disembarked about nine o'clock. They were sent forward to their destinations in three special trains on leaving at twelve o'clock, the second at 2:30 and the last at 8:30. Seventy-three cabin were taken on at Liverpool and 815 at Greenock; forty-one third class passengers boarded the steamer at Liverpool and 269 at Greenock.

Prominent among the passengers were: T. Brossau, K. C. of Montreal; Major G. C. A. Cameron of London; H. Houston, A. R. Doble, A. J. Osprey and Henry Joseph and family of Montreal; J. Norman and family of London; W. B. Somerset and family of Toronto; Major and Mrs. H. Ralph of Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. King of Hamilton; G. N. Westgarth of Cardiff and R. H. Boyle of Nottingham.

Henry Joseph and his wife and son, Henry, are returning from an extended pleasure trip to London, France, Belgium and Italy. Mr. Brossau is returning from England, where he argued a case before the Privy Council. It is his fifty-third trip across the Atlantic and the twenty-third time he appeared before the Privy Council.

There was a party of six buyers of Henry Birk & Sons, Ltd., of Montreal, who are returning after an extended buying trip to England through the Continent. The party included C. F. Sturdy, George Eadie, J. H. McKee, A. J. Fox, Robert Price and James W. Elines. The last two are associated with Ryrie Bros. of Toronto, who are affiliated with the firm of Henry Birk & Sons, Ltd. The buyers visited England, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Brussels. They said that the prices of goods there were selling lower and that a better quality is now being manufactured. They spoke highly of the glass production of the Czechs. They said that in England the silver and culinary production is large. In a quiet village in Holland, named Schoonhoven, they found business thriving. The inhabitants are said to have their own printing presses for generations and the work is done principally in their own homes. All visited the British Industries Fair, where they found many of the exhibits better than in former years. They said that the china, leather and sporting goods exhibits were exceptionally good.

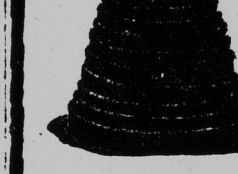

A. R. Doble and his daughter, Miss George are returning to their home in Montreal after a two and a half year trip to the continent. Mr. Doble, who is well known in financial circles, was financial advisor of the Canadian delegation at the general conference held last year. Speaking of conditions in England he said they depended entirely on the European situation being cleared up. He says that the Anglo-Scott could do the business of the world better than any other nation and were hampered only by the strained conditions in other countries. There was a great revival in England, he said, regarding Canadian affairs. He said that there was a great deal of sympathy among Englishmen for France, but very little is being said regarding the strained relations between them and the Germans.

Another prominent passenger on board was Granville Beck, who is to be one of the adjudicators at the Canadian Musical Competition festival, which are to be held in various provinces. He is chairman of music at the University of Birmingham, and has been in Birmingham last year. He is accompanied by Miss D. Parker of London, who is a singer of note and who will sing at the various recitals in Canada and the United States.

They want action and want it now. "I have talked with hundreds of people in the last week," said a business man to the Times today, "and I can tell you they are against any more delay over the distribution system. They are asking if there must be more public meetings, more delegations to City Hall, or another plebiscite before they get what they have already voted for three times. There is a feeling of alarm. People are asking if after all the Power Company is going to put the yoke on their necks again. They see no reason at all for holding up the work. They want the city to go ahead, and later the Power Company comes to reasonable terms, make it pay for what has been done in the meantime. The people want action, and they want it now."

BOARD OF HEALTH FIGURES. Nineteen deaths were recorded this week at the office of the Board of Health. They were from the following causes: Myocarditis and lobar pneumonia, two each; inanition, malnutrition, apoplexy, broncho-pneumonia, acute bronchitis, cancer of stomach, cancer of bowels, carcinoma of lip, heart failure, organic heart disease, mitral regurgitation, cerebral embolism, acute mastoiditis, pulmonary tuberculosis, and chronic articular rheumatism, one each. There were four marriages and twenty-one births—twelve boys and nine girls.

Economy From Inspections.
Inspect the front wheels often, because a fraction of disalignment wears out tires faster than many miles of straight running.

Proper Battery Condition.
The object of charging a battery is to drive the acid from the plates back into the solution, and the charge is not complete until this condition is obtained.

Many Causes for Faulty Engine.
Never adjust the carburetor as soon as the engine works badly. There are such things as clogged feed pipes, poor

Use Best Gasoline.
A good grade of gasoline will burn practically clean, while poor gasoline will deposit carbon on the walls of the cylinders and a black, tarry substance will be left on the bottom.

Inspect Water Hose Connections.
The radiator hose connections in the water system of the engine should be frequently inspected. Oftentimes these hose connections look fair on the outside, but they are bad on the inside. When the walls of the hose become decayed, they have a tendency to swell and close, thereby preventing proper circulation.

A headlight with plain glass gives practically the same effect without glass, since the rays travel in the same direction.

If a decline in power is noted, change the engine oil.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS SENT HOME FOR MORE CLOTHING

Boston, April 7.—In celebration of senior day Wednesday at Lynn English high school the seniors appeared in the costumes they wore at the time of their entrance to the school. Principal Frederick R. Willard took one look at five girls and three boys and sent them home for more clothes.

The girls came in socks and short dresses, but the five offenders wore no stockings under their socks and their dresses were strikingly abbreviated. The three boys were barefoot. When the girls left home in the morning they wore long skirts over their costumes and the boys came in overalls. The banished pupils were barred from the senior day social which was held in the afternoon.

Fill the cuts to prevent their enlargement by moisture or sand.

Cracked insulation on either side of porcelain plugs will usually give trouble.

Chains that are applied too tight will cut the tread and render the tire useless in a short time.

Many tops are ruined by folding them carelessly, as this wrinkles and draws the fabric out of shape.

Always slow down and throw out the clutch at corners and sharp turns. This practice relieves a certain amount of strain and reduces the danger of skidding.

Place old newspapers between the celluloid lights of the folded curtains. This will keep them from rubbing against each other and avoid scratching the surface.

Approximately seventy-five per cent. of motor vehicle accidents are attributed to emergency.

In Case of Emergency.

When a spring becomes broken, a block of wood can be substituted for an emergency period. Jack up the body until it is the height at which the spring should hold it, and then place a block of wood of the proper size between the axle and the frame. Fasten this in place with a wire or rope, and drive carefully.

Loose Rims.

A wobbly rim is sometimes mistaken for a loose wheel. Inspect the rims first, and if they are found to be out of line, loosen the lugs and take them up again, giving each a turn in succession to equalize the alignment.

Repairing a Worn Valve.

THE "PHONOFILM" TALKS AND SINGS

Dr. DeForest Introduces a New Device.

New York, April 7.—Dr. Lee De Forest, inventor of the audion tube, described recently to the New York Electrical Society the development of a motion picture film that talks and makes music. A demonstration of the apparatus, which is called the "Phonofilm," was given. Dr. De Forest speculated as to the future use in the theatre of the phonofilm, which is in all respects like an ordinary motion picture film, except that sound is photographed on the edge, and by an ingenious process is reproduced. The action and sound are photographed simultaneously and reproduced simultaneously, overcoming the weakness of some past attempts at talking drama where the words have not harmonized perfectly with the action.

Dr. De Forest admitted that the technique of building a talking drama for motion picture audiences was something which would require a long time to perfect and predicted that the silent drama would never be transformed into a talking machine drama, merely by superimposing dialogue on the present type of photography. He emphasized the mistake first made in the use of the motion pictures in attempting to photograph drama as it appeared on the legitimate stage.

"But I claim," he continued, "that an entirely new form of screen drama can be worked out, taking advantage of the possibilities of introducing music and voice and appropriate acoustic effects, not necessarily throughout the entire action, but here and there where the effects can be much more startling or theatrical, if you will, or significant, than is possible by pantomime alone."

Its dependability is taken for granted—its economy of operation is proverbial.

Comment, as a rule, is directed to the richness of its fittings, and the dignified beauty of its coach work.

This beauty is not a superficial thing. It goes much deeper than mere external adornments.

Like all creations of genuine excellence, it emanates from the honest value which Dodge Brothers have built into the car.

You sense it in the depth and comfort of the seats—richly upholstered in genuine mohair velvet. It makes itself known the instant you close the doors—which snap solidly shut, like the doors of a safe. It emanates unmistakably from every line and curve of the sturdy body.

It becomes most evident when you discover that in smart company, where a car of less distinction would appear at its worst, Dodge Brothers Type-A Sedan appears at its best.

Chevrolet Anticipates the Requirements of the Public

Last year the increase in Chevrolet production was 50 per cent greater than that of any other motor car manufactured. Why?

There must be some real reason why Chevrolet passed the leaders of the industry in this way.

And the reason is because Chevrolet best anticipates the modern car-buyer's requirements.

To-day common sense rules in the purchase of motor cars. People want to buy transportation—not merely a machine. They want to buy a quality car that will give them the highest degree of satisfactory service—a car whose construction and appearance provide a source of real pride of ownership. And with all this it must be economical in first cost and in upkeep.

Chevrolet is the only car made that combines all these requirements. It is the world's lowest-priced fully-equipped, quality car and is the lowest in operating cost of any car built.

In comfort, speed and durability it fully meets the requirements of the majority of car owners.

That Chevrolet in this way meets the requirements of a great number of car-buyers is proven by the car-buyers themselves in their actual purchase of more Chevrolets by several thousands than any other quality car.

Prices are as follows: 2-passenger Roadster $695; 5-passenger Touring $710; 2-passenger Utility Coupe $910; 5-passenger Touring Coupe $1115; 5-passenger Sedan $1125.

All prices f.o.b. Oshawa. Government taxes extra. Ask about the G. M. A. C. plan of deferred payments.

CELTIC 'JEW' GETS 6 MONTHS

Posed as Deaf and Dumb and Passed Out Hebrew Cards.

New York, April 7.—Detectives Snyder and Patton were in a restaurant Wednesday at Lafayette and Franklin Streets, across from the Criminal Courts Building, when a man of obvious Celtic lineage handed each a card, printed in Hebrew, which one of the other patrons in the place deciphered: "I am deaf and dumb; please help me a little."

One of the detectives lifted a faded derby hat which the merchant had drawn over his eyes, and said: "You're not a Jew." The man made no reply, and the detectives arrested him. Later when he was arraigned on a vagrancy charge before Magistrate Edgar V. Frothingham in the Tombs Court, the prisoner recovered his speech and said that he was John Sullivan, 44 of Brooklyn.

"You are not Jewish, neither are you deaf and dumb," declared the magistrate.

"Indeed, I am not," replied Sullivan. "I'm Irish; but I thought I could get money more easily by passing out those cards."

The magistrate sentenced him to the workhouse for six months.

ALIVE AFTER FALL INTO WHITE-HOT FURNACE

Boston, April 7.—A Bath council employee has escaped alive after falling into a white-hot furnace, says the London Daily Chronicle.

His name is Paradise.

The man was at work shovelling refuse through one of the fire-holes into the city's refuse destructor.

He had just thrown in a big load when he slipped and fell through the fire-hole.

He landed on the heap of refuse which was still unburnt and remained for a moment, unhurt, in the centre of a circle of flames leaping as high as his head all around him.

Immediately another man named Morgan leaped through the hole, caught Paradise's hands, and dragged him to safety.

Paradise was badly burned on the body through touching the sides of the furnace, but is able to restart work.

USED BELL ROPE AS TOURNIQUET

Engineer Stanchd Flow of Blood After Accident on Level Crossing in Montreal.

Montreal, April 7.—Quick action on the part of a G. T. R. locomotive engineer Wednesday morning probably saved the life of W. B. Clark, 40 years of age, of 221 Westmount Boulevard, whose leg was severed by the train in the engineer's charge, at the St. Remi street crossing of the Grand Trunk Railway. The engineer immediately brought his train to a stop and cutting off his bell rope, made a tourniquet which he applied to Mr. Clark's bleeding limb and partly stopped the flow of blood. The leg had been severed below the knee, and when the victim was admitted to the Montreal General Hospital it was found necessary to amputate above the knee. Mr. Clark was reported last night as resting comfortably. The accident occurred as Mr. Clark was on his way to his office at the plant of C. O. Clark and Brothers, Bell Manufacturers. The gates were down at the crossing, but Mr. Clark stepped under them onto the track. He was waiting for one train going city-ward to pass, on the next track, when he saw another train, which was shunting, bearing down on him from the opposite direction. He made an effort to jump out of the way, but his foot slipped and he fell. His right leg lay across a rail and it was severed.

The performance of the Studebaker Light-Six is smooth and instantly responsive to the touch of the throttle. Its powerful six-cylinder motor, with its overlapping power impulses, will accelerate from a walking gait to top speed in a few seconds. Vibration, so common to many cars, is practically eliminated in the Light-Six through machining the crankshaft and connecting rods on all surfaces. In no other car in Canada selling for less than $3000, are these engine parts completely machined. The Light-Six is a proven product of a 71-year-old concern. One hundred thousand Light-Six owners vouch for its dependability and complete satisfaction. Twenty-seven world-wide tests, in which an average of 26.9 miles to the gallon of gasoline was established, offer conclusive proof of its economy.

INTERESTED BY CHANCE

Sought a 'Hobby' While Convalescing From Accident.

London, April 7.—Lord Carnarvon, whose sixteen years of work among the tombs of Egypt has ended so tragically, became interested in Egyptology by a curious chance. During a convalescence which followed a motor accident he asked Sir Ernest Budge, keeper of the Egyptian and Assyrian antiquities at the British Museum, to suggest a hobby which he could follow. Sir Ernest persuaded him to become interested in Egyptology, and from that time onward Lord Carnarvon devoted his time to Egyptian research. Lord Carnarvon had a passion for adventure. Before he was 25 he had been around the world three times. He was a prominent figure on the turf, a pioneer of motoring and of aviation. Big game hunting was one of his hobbies, and he liked yachting. In intervals between traveling Lord Carnarvon lived mainly at his Berkshire seat, where he improved the shooting to such an extent that the Highgate pheasants became famous. He was unconventional in dress, liked loud checks and often wore a white hat, which was a cross between a "bush" and a sombrero. Howard Carter, who lives in Egypt, was Lord Carnarvon's close associate in the work of research, and it was at his summons in the autumn of last year that Lord Carnarvon left all his interests in England to follow the quest of knowledge in the Valley of Kings.

RETURNS HOME

Sudbury, Ont., April 6.—Following her acquittal by an assize jury last night on the charge of murdering John McKee in his own home on the night of Dec. 16 last, Mrs. Sadie Connaughton left for her home in Chapleau today with her husband and son. She spent last night at the home of friends in town. It is understood that the family will continue to reside in Chapleau. A meeting of the Civic Power Commission will be held this afternoon to consider the engineer's report and other business that may be brought forward. Barry Wilson, the Commission's engineer, expects to leave this afternoon for St. Catharines to witness tests of the three transformers and also inspect other distribution systems. Gordon Krebs, chief electrical engineer in the N. B. Power Commission, will accompany Mr. Wilson.

Pay for them out of repairs saved

TO KNOW the real significance of vibration, bumping, jarring, jolting and general hard usage, just compare the life of a motor car to that of the protected stationary engine and machinery at the saw mill. You'll get a revelation!

The most rugged machinery necessarily pays the penalty of constant punishment sooner or later. The problem is to minimize it.

—and that is just how Hassler's pay for themselves over and over again!

Road pounding costs you money. By absorbing the shocks, whether you drop into a hole or go over a bump, Hassler's save repairs—tires and gasoline, too.

They minimize the vibration that takes the life out of the best of steel.

A million users approve Hassler's. You are paying for them now—why not have them? Your dealer knows these Hassler facts.

Chapman, $1,000,000 N. Y. Mail Robber, Escapes at Athens, Ga.—The Second Dash for Liberty in Two Weeks.

Atlanta, Ga., April 7.—Gerald Chapman, $1,000,000 mail robber, who figured in a daring New York mail robbery, and recently made his escape from the Atlanta federal penitentiary, only to be wounded and recaptured within two days, Wednesday night made a sensational escape from the hospital at Athens, where he had been confined. Using his bed clothing for a rope, he got out of a second story window and made his way eighty feet to the ground. To add insult to injury, he took with him the clothes of his guard, who had left the room for a minute.

ST. JOHN INTEREST IN WEDDING IN LONDON SOCIETY

Marriage of Miss Paula Gellibrand and Marquis de Casa Maury

Dope Ring's Grip on London—Spoiling the Prince of Wales' Hunting Season—News Topics in Empire Metropolis.

(From our own Correspondent)
London, March 22.—The young Marquis de Casa Maury, a sophisticated looking foreign nobleman, led this week to the altar in St. James', Spanish Place, the prettiest girl in London. Such titles as this are commonly desirable, but Miss Paula Gellibrand really is an amazingly handsome young lady, and has for some seasons been the acknowledged belle of Mayfair. It was a very smart wedding, although the Roman Catholic ritual required the draping of the altar ornaments in black for a Lent ceremony. The Countess of Birkenhead, who almost rivals Mrs. Asquith as a fashionable grande dame of politics, was one of the smartest women there. The bride looked very beautiful in her wedding attire—in an old-world "Botticelli" style—and was filmed outside the church. She has figured in the movies as a society star, and also acted as a manageress at the Baroness d'Erlanger's Brompton road establishment.

The bride is a granddaughter of the late Senator Dever of St. John.

The Dope Drama.
The sentence of six months' imprisonment and £200 fine on a prosperous city hardware merchant represents many months of close and exciting work by the smartest men and women associated with Scotland Yard's C. I. D. But Scotland Yard is aware, though the newspapers call this man "the Dope King" that he was not the only spider whose bloated energies directed

HAIR STAYS COMBED, GLOSSY

Millions Using this Greaseless Combing Cream—
Few Cents Buys Jar any Drugstore—Not Sticky, Smelly

Even stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions.

Even stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions.

Greaseless, stainless "Hair-Groom" does not show on the hair because it is absorbed by the scalp, therefore your hair remains so soft and pliable and so natural that no one can possibly tell you used it. Not sticky or smelly.

Grandmother's Favorite Still Leads in favor

FOR generations, to own a Pandora has been the mark of a good cook. Today, with its modern improvements, it is an even better range than grandmother knew.

But there is no change in the honest construction that makes the Pandora Oven so reliable.

To replace your old stove with a beautiful modern Pandora is to make your housework easier, pleasanter and your living cost lower.

popular cafe proprietors whose name in Soho is now legion, Pinoli's restaurant is in Wardour Street, just off Leicester Square, and, twenty years ago, the suburban gourmet could dine there, on seven or eight amazing courses that included hors d'oeuvres and either a poulet or a wigdon, for that matter, a lagu Tigg called "the comparatively trifling sum of eightpence." Signor you can still get that second-hand Rolls Royce feeling—quite inexpensively—in Wardour street.

Cross Guns.
Sir Ian Hamilton has been praising the virtues of miniature rifle ranges. I wonder whether he knows the sporting uses to which the old miniature range in Fleet street prospectively established by a private venture as a commercial speculation just before the war was put by some of his beloved Gallipoli Aussies? While they were training in this country a party of about twenty Aussies warriors used regularly to visit this place said to be the longest miniature range in London when they got up to town for a night. Some of them were great shots, too. I recall one private who must have made a small fortune at it. He used to bet his comrades 5s. each on every shot he fired at the silhouette of an Anzac about as big as a large duck's egg and the comrades in turn bet on the shot. Recently he attended his first Speaker's dinner, those perennial fellows having been invited in the old days for all Nationalists. T. P. notes that democratic etiquette now governs these dinner parties. It used to be court dress. Now it is ordinary evening dress except for ministers and if that is not-existent "your Sunday best" will do. But the present speaker insists on court dress for ministers.

Low Necks and High Degrees.
That Queen Mary should have broken with tradition to the extent of wearing a collarless dress is regarded in society as what our most illustrious ex-primier calls "the limit." Ever since Queen Victoria's days the ladies of the royal family, obediently followed by a few die hard peeresses, have always worn high collars. It was de rigueur in the royal circle. Whatever fashions, and the modish omens of younger ladies and the smart set, this Victorian tradition held rigidly. There have been hair-raising tales of Princess Mary's struggles with fate, in the days before her marriage when she was known to be a secretly devout admirer of the Queen of Spain, whose revolt against "frumpery," the moment she was married and her own mistress, took on almost a fanatical aspect of extreme fashion. Now this last Victorian relic has gone. Queen Mary has surrendered at discretion. But who was the daring dressmaker who persuaded her?

The Carlton.
Very soon the many distinguished members of the Carlton Club will have to avail themselves of hospitality offered elsewhere. The club is to be closed temporarily while the building is re-fitted. The famous edifice, erected in 1884, was designed by Sir Robert Smirke, and is an adaptation of Sansoni's library of St. Mark in Venice. In the dining-room is the portrait of Disraeli by Millais. A treasured piece of old furniture bears the inscription, "Lord Beaconsfield's chair" and Sar-gent's picture of Lord Balfour is not far away. It is appropriate that Lord Balfour should be such a prominent figure at the club. Its founder was the Duke of Wellington, godfather to Lord Balfour, who was named Arthur after his

the famous soldier. It was a witty member of the Carlton who was responsible, years and years ago, for a joke which has since been attributed to many other people. Having lost his umbrella, he pinned a notice reading "The nobleman who had taken it." Called over the coat by the committee, the aggrieved one explained that as all the members of the club were either noblemen or gentlemen, the culprit must be a nobleman. No gentleman would have purloined the cherished gamp.

You Can't Get All These Advantages in Any Other Shingle

THE Vulcanite Hexagon Slab Shingle is the only shingle which gives you tile-like beauty, extra protection against weather and fire, long wear, and low cost of application. Its exclusive, patented design gives double thickness everywhere and seals the roof against any weather; lays quickly and accurately. Its exclusive construction by the Glendinning Saturation Process means more and tougher felt more thoroughly impregnated with a greater quantity of better asphalt. It resists fire and weather and wears for years. Its pleasing design makes an unusually beautiful roof. Quickly laid over roof boards or over the old roof. Finished in green or red crushed slate.

The high quality of Vulcanite Hexagon Slabs is found in other Vulcanite Roofing—individual shingles, four-in-one slab shingles and rolls, both slate surface and smooth finish. A roofing to suit every need. Identify them by the Vulcanite name and the Beaver trademark. Ask your dealer for full information or write us. We will send free samples and a booklet on request.
