THE COWS AND THE DRUM.

In our advertising column public notice is given of two important by-laws passed at the recent session of the Council, one prohibiting cows to go at large on the public streets within certain limits and the other concerning public parks. The result of the latter if carried into effect will no doubt be the suppression of the Big Drum and other musical instruments used in the Salvation Army parades. There is much objection to the former by the owners of cows, who complain that they cannot find pasture for their animals. There is probably good ground for this complaint and the by-law may bear heavily on some poor people, but that, like many other things, will have to give way to what is generally considered for the public good. The cows nuisance has been a long and grievous one and those who delight in keeping their gardens and private grounds in order and have a desire for the cleanliness of the town will be pleased at the action taken by the Council.

The Salvation Army will no doubt contest the strength and legality of the second by-law. Experience has shown that the Army is made of the stuff that fights, that in fact it enjoys having breakers ahead. If the law is finally enforced and the Army considers it a hardship they must admit that they brought the action of the Council upon themselves. Unfortunately for their own welfare and the work they are eager to carry on, they have shown at times too little consideration for the rights of others, and it was no doubt the danger of accident that constantly exists to persons driving while the drum is on parade that moved the Council in the matter.

County Council.

Coun. Morrison read and submitted a report signed by himself and Coun. Watt of the Committee to whom was referred the petition of R. L. Call for the redemption of rental of the Public Wharf, Newcastle, now under lease to him. The report stated that Mr. Call had been leased of three lots, viz. Nos. 6 and 7 and the Public Wharf lot. In respect of the former two they would recommend that no action whatever be taken. In reference to the Wharf or front lot their enquiries led them to believe that the rental paid by Mr. Call was more than anyone at the present time would be justified in giving for the lease. He had made considerable repairs to the wharf, which he was not, by the terms of his lease, required to do, and the committee—or the majority thereof—had arrived at the conclusion that Mr. Call was in equity entitled to consideration. They would not recommend any change in the lease, but that Mr. Call be allowed $100 in consideration of the outlay he had made for repairs.

Coun. Ryan, the other member of the committee, argued that Mr. Call had not shown he was entitled to anything, which he stated, was the opinion of the committee. Mr. Call, a member of the committee had refused to sign the report. Mr. Call replied that he should have been prepared with his accounts for the work to show what his outlay had been. He had not done so.

Coun. Watt said Mr. Call had been under the impression that he was bound by his lease to keep the wharf in repair. He had, therefore, done the work and taken no care to keep vouchers for his outlay, because he had never expected to account to anyone. That was a matter easily understood by anyone. Mr. Call had made repairs which the public should, by right, have made and $100 was much less than the compensation to which he was entitled.

Coun. Adams opposed the allowance to Mr. Call proposed by the Committee. Coun. Morrison again spoke, showing that Mr. Call had spent several hundred dollars in repairs during the last three or four years.

The report was adopted on division: Yous—Flanagan, Watt, Morrison, Eyles, Cameron, McNaughton, Fowle, Robinson, Lawley, Sullivan, Tozer, Underhill, Bamford, Sutherland, 14.

Nays—Anderson, Adams, Bamford, Thibodeau, Ryan, Jones, 5.

Coun. Morrison presented a communication from Assessor Wm. Gordon of Lower District, Newcastle, in reference to his list of the percentage for the year 1887. He had been allowed only the percentage on the assessment of his own district, when, in former times, he received an equal share with the other assessors for the work of the whole parish.

After some discussion, the Sec. Treas. said the law compelled the work being done equally by all the assessors and therefore one was entitled to the same share of percentage as the other.

On motion of Coun. Morrison it was ordered that Assessor Wm. Gordon of the upper district refund $13.23 overcharge on his assessment percentage. This will enable Mr. Gordon to receive his legal claim of the percentage.

Ordered that Wm. Russell, commissioner roads, upper district, Newcastle, pay over $30 balance in hand to his successor in office.

In reply to Coun. Adams, the Sec. Treas. said he had received proper returns from Eubank McCallum, by-road commissioner Middle District, Alnwick.

On motion of Coun. Flanagan $10 was added to the $20 voted at January session to pay for getting out a report in French of the proceedings of both sessions.

Coun. O'Brien brought to notice of Council the case of Pierce Quilly who was assessed $2.07 in the parish of Nelson where he had neither property nor income, but was obliged to pay, with costs, in all $3.35, which was furnished by friends. Ordered that the collector of rates refund $2.07 to Mr. Quilly.

Considerable discussion ensued on the by-law forbidding cows to go at large in the streets of Newcastle or Chatham.

Coun. Adams moved to defer the matter until January session.

Couns. Watt and Morrison said if Coun. Adams had not time to attend to the public business, Alnwick had better send someone here who had.

Coun. Flanagan said if this by-law was ordered it would cause inconvenience to a good many people most of whom were poor. There was difficulty in obtaining pasture and the proposed by-law would interfere with cows getting to such pasture as there was.

Coun. Watt said the people who pastured their cows on the streets were the poor ones, but those who could afford to pasture them elsewhere or procure milk from the farmers in the vicinity of the town. He saw 14 cows on Lower Water St., Chatham, last Sunday, which was rather too much of a good thing.

Coun. Jones said they were now taking the Locke lot in Newcastle, which was given for a pasture, to make a driving track of and it would be an injustice.

On motion of Coun. Adams $1400 was voted to be expended by the committee on the new jail for the purpose of finishing it.

The committee appointed at January session to define the public alleys, etc., of Chatham was continued and the Sec. Treas. was directed to attend to the execution of the work in the prosecution of their work.

Adjourned sine die.

Concert at Black Land School.

On the evening of the 4th inst., the children of the Black Land School gave a highly successful concert on the school grounds. The programme consisted of quartet, solo, etc., were the order of the evening. There was an exceedingly large audience, and we are quite confident that all were perfectly well satisfied with the evening's entertainment. The promptness with which each pupil responded to the call of his name, the clearness of expression, the accuracy with which each juvenile solo performer hit his little part, and the general excellence of the entire work were very commendable.

The entire concert throws great credit on the teacher—Miss A. Miller. It shows her forth as a person well worthy of the honored name of teacher in every sense of the word. It exhibited and displayed not only in day school exercises, but even in juvenile theatricals. Her friends may well feel proud of the talent which is being so rapidly developed in this young, amiable and accomplished lady. The school district in which she labors ought to cherish and fondle such a prize, and be very cautious how it treats her. It is not only in day school exercises, but even in juvenile theatricals. Her friends may well feel proud of the talent which is being so rapidly developed in this young, amiable and accomplished lady. The school district in which she labors ought to cherish and fondle such a prize, and be very cautious how it treats her.

Since writing the above I have had occasion to converse with Mr. Call and learned some very interesting facts respecting her work in this corner of the Province. Perhaps a few of these may not be out of place, and not uninteresting to a general public.

Miss Miller, a native of Restigouche County, was born in Black Land, and educated in the same school in which she is now teacher. She has taught school in several districts of the county, in each place filling the position of teacher to the great satisfaction of all concerned. A few years ago the school at her home became vacant, owing to the untimely illness of the teacher then in charge. Miss Miller, very naturally, applied for the school, and was immediately engaged by the trustees. Since that time she has continued to fill the position with unfailing perseverance and determination.

She not only teaches in the day school but takes a very active part in the Sabbath School held in the same building. She has also distinguished herself as a lady lecturer on several subjects, her favorites being, temperance and teaching.

In all her exhibitions Miss Miller gives great prominence to the three characteristic virtues of the teaching profession—purity, determination and self-confidence. She firmly believes in imbuing the minds of the young with the same, and she has succeeded in accomplishing her object here. These virtues are found to be wanting in many of the middle aged gentlemen of this county. It is highly profitable Miss Miller's convictions have been deepened from noting the fact that the same neighboring ladies are indebted with gentlemen teachers. Miss Miller very properly attributes the cause of these inferior landholders to the want of the above virtues in them and is doing her utmost to prevent this want occurring in the rising generation.

Mr. Editor, I seldom burden your valuable columns with any of my single productions, but, having been compelled through business to spend a few hours at this beautiful summer resort, and having had occasion to see part at least of this excellent concert, I felt constrained to write an account of it for your valuable paper.

I am yours,

DUMKINS.

Bathurst, N. B., July 6, 1888.

The C. H. Tupper.

The government cruiser, C. H. Tupper, Capt. Quigley, came up to town on Saturday for repairs and lay at the Public Wharf until Monday forenoon. She is a beautifully modelled schooner of 99 tons, 75 feet keel, 32 feet beam and 9 feet, 6 inches hold. She was built by Joseph McGill of Shelburne, especially for the fishery protective service, and is well adapted for the work. She was built for speed and Capt. Quigley says that his short experience with her has shown that she will not disappoint the designer. She was built in forty days. The captain looks upon her as the pride of the fleet. Large crowds visited her on Sunday and admired her roomy and comfortable accommodations. She will cruise in Miramichi and Chaleur Bays.

Camp Chatham.

The Brighton Engineers, on Wednesday, constructed a floating bridge across the pool in Canada Wharf. It was built of logs, without spikes, wire or rope, and had floating power and stability enough to carry a field gun. They did the work quickly and substantially, under the direction of Major Vince.

On Thursday evening teams from the Newcastle Battery and the 74th engaged in a tug of war, and the Battery won. The Infantry School and the 73rd were next pitted against each other, and the men of Northumberland won. Then the Battery and the 73rd engaged, and the former got away with the latter, thus winning the tug-of-war championship.

The weather has been varied, rather cold some nights, rather warm some days, and wet occasionally, but very favorable on the whole. The camp ground was dry, slightly and breezy. The citizens of Chatham have shown officers and men a great deal of appreciative hospitality, which has been cordially reciprocated. The advantages of holding a camp in such a place, on the banks of a noble river, in the clear and bracing atmosphere of the North Shore, are appreciated by all, and if it were left to the men to say where they would go into camp next time they would vote for the Miramichi by a large majority.

Hon. Peter Mitchell visited Camp Chatham, on Thursday afternoon, being escorted over the grounds by Paymaster Tweedie and Quarter Master Murray. Mr. Mitchell, who is an old Militia Quarter Master, expressed himself delighted with the general appearance of the Camp and with the military precision of the Cavalry, Artillery and Infantry. He considered the Princess Louise Cavalry one of the best corps in Canada.

Col. Cotton, Dominion Inspector of Artillery, arrived Thursday morning. A large crowd assembled on Friday to see the sham fight. The troops were drawn up on the drill grounds, south of the camp, at 2:30 and proceeded in column of route through Chatham and towards the Lobban fields, with the customary and regular guard composed of cavalry, artillery and infantry. On arrival at these grounds a place was selected for bivouac, and the advance and rear guards became outposts with their pickets and picket sentries.

Flanking parties were also thrown out and covered in like manner into a quiet with their sentries. The force having rested at this place of bivouac, intelligence was brought to the brigadier of the approach of an enemy in the direct front from the direction of the railway station. The outposts in this quarter were reinforced, and a half battery of artillery was pushed forward to a spot selected by the inspector of artillery, from which fire was at once opened. The fighting line also opened fire, and pushed on rapidly over every piece of open ground. The brigade, in the meanwhile, had been deployed, and was now advancing in four from the right to the Lobban fields, with the camp through the country, partly covered with stunted spruce trees. The enemy being in force, the extended order line had to retire and assemble on the reserve, clearing the front of the line in doing so. This enabled the brigade now in line to open a well-directed fire, and, aided by the artillery, which had been placed in position, they were enabled to push forward to the original position of the enemy, which was completely routed. It was now considered desirable to fall back upon the original position of the bivouac, and the field maneuvers were brought to a close by an advance of cavalry going through pursuing practice, followed by the Infantry and Artillery in a particularly steady advance in line.

About 5 o'clock the presentation of prizes was by the way of the different corps at target practice, at the camp took place on the parade ground south of the park. Hon. Peter Mitchell, who was present at the day's manoeuvre, handed the prizes to the winners at the request of the commandant. He made a ringing speech, commending the government and authorities for honoring the Northumberland by selecting Chatham as the point for concentrating the troops of this military district in brigade camp. He spoke in high terms of praise of the force there assembled, more particularly as to their physique and excellent conduct. He claimed, with Col. Maunsell, that Camp Chatham would rank the port of any military force, of relative numbers, which could be brought together in this Canada of ours. He thanked the Government and the Commandant in Chief for having chosen the Miramichi as the point of concentration for the troops for annual drill this year in New Brunswick.

Col. Cotton, Inspector of Artillery, who had just arrived from what is considered to be the best Camp in Ontario, the Midland Camp—said emphatically in conversation with the Commandant and others that he had never seen a better mounted cavalry corps than Col. Domville's. "And the Newcastle Field Battery," said he enthusiastically, "what a splendid body of men! How I'd like to take that battery around to the different camps and show it off!"

The prize winners in the Newcastle Field Battery were Gunner Kathro, Sergt. McCallum and Gunner Russell. In the 73rd Battalion—P. E. Gaesner, No. 1 Com., best shot; Sergt. Ray, No. 1 Com., 2nd best shot; Sergt. J. Thompson, No. 2 Com., best shot; Corp. B. Falconer, No. 2 Com., 2nd best shot; Sergt. R. L. Liddle, No. 3 Com., best shot; Corp. J. Anthony, No. 3 Com., 2nd best shot; Sergt. J. McNaughton, No. 4 Com., best shot; Corp. J. Cameron, No. 4 Com., 2nd best shot; P. J. Ross, No. 5 Com., best shot; Sergt. F. Fowle, No. 5 Com., 2nd best shot.

The Newcastle Field Battery arrived home on Saturday forenoon. Before being disbanded they were drawn up in front of the Union Hotel and addressed briefly by Lt. Col. Call who thanked them for the attention they had shown to their duties and their good discipline on the field. They had been highly commended, he said, for the satisfactory manner in which they had passed inspection. Lieutenants Lawlor and Davidson also addressed the men. The Hon. Peter Mitchell, who was standing by, spoke briefly to the men, and was cheered by them in return.

Dominion Day at Dalhousie.

The annual day of the Dominion was held honored by the local citizens of Dalhousie on Monday last week. Public offices and all places of business were closed and people generally "went in" for a day's recreation. There was quite a gathering of people from Campbellton and points outside and a most enjoyable time was spent. The p.m. was occupied in all manner of sports, jumping, racing, and other athletic exercises being most prominent as benefits the young men of our Canadian confederacy, which must in due time take a prominent position in the annals of the earth—another offshoot of that glorious motherland which has girdled the earth with Empire.

Late in the evening there was quite a display of fireworks both in town and at the Inch Arran Hotel.

Most much praise cannot be accorded to Master John Montgomery who as Secretary of committee and manager for the day made every exertion then and there to see that the previous to make the affair a success.

Below is a list of the principal winners of prizes at the sports.

Address to Rev. F. W. Harrison.

The following address, which is explanatory, has been presented to Rev. F. W. Harrison the retiring pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Church, Chatham.

Rev. F. W. Harrison:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:—We cannot allow you to sever your connection with St. Luke's Church, without expressing our very great appreciation of you as our pastor during the past three years. You have without fear or favor, and with great earnestness and eloquence, expounded to us the Word of God, and so devoted have you been to your sacred calling, that even in times of great physical weakness you have not neglected to break to us the Bread of Life. We greatly regret that your poor health forces you to seek retirement from the active work of the ministry; but we trust that the loss which the church must suffer from your departure will be but temporary, and that the field of the church may speedily restore you to the position which you have so nobly maintained in this cause.

We ask you to accept the accompanying sum as a slight token of our esteem, but regret that it is not larger.

John Hayland, Chairm.
T. H. Fountaine,
P. O. Peterson,
Samuel Irving,
L. H. Abbott,
J. M. Palmer, Secretary.

Personal.

Mr. W. M. Hutchens, who has been in the Miramichi Bank Agency for over a year, left last week for Halifax, where he will take a position in the head office. Mr. Hutchens' departure will be regretted by the many friends he made while here. He is succeeded by Mr. H. MacKenzie formerly of Kingston Agency.

The Hon. Peter Mitchell is on a visit to his constituents.

Pay Up.

Subscribers to the UNION ADVOCATE, as well as other persons indebted to us for advertising or job work will confer a favor by remitting what they owe or a portion of it at least. It takes money to keep a printing office going, with hands to pay, bills for paper and other materials to meet and unless those indebted to us are prompt in their payments it is difficult to have business running smoothly and satisfactorily. The amount due by each individual may be a small matter to them, but when such amounts make a total of between two and three thousand dollars locked up by the careless or thoughtlessness of our patrons it is to us a serious matter at times to meet our business engagements with that promptness we should like. We know that times are hard and we have deferred calling those indebted to us on that account, but if each will do a little to lessen this indebtedness to us on that we should be relieved from much embarrassment for want of the needed. Will each of our patrons be kind enough to perform their duty in this regard.

Yours truly,

THE UNION ADVOCATE.

THE BOTS' FAMILY.

Mr. Hiram G. Bots, who has been in the Methodist Church at Camp Belton on Wednesday evening last, a farewell address was delivered by the Rev. G. W. Fisher, who is about taking a trip to England on leave of absence. At the same time the following address accompanied a purse of gold was presented by the Rev. A. O. Brown on behalf of Mr. Fisher's many friends.

Rev. G. W. Fisher:

DEAR SIR:—On this the eve of your departure from amongst us, we, a few of your many friends beg to express our sincere regret at the severance of the ties which bound you to this place during your sojourn amongst us. Your zeal in the cause of the church, your self and little boys in your recent and benevolent, and pray that He who alone is able, may support you in this sad affliction and that whilst every thing you look dark, you may realize that behind a frowning Providence is hid a smiling face.

We trust that your short visit which you are about to make to your native land may prove beneficial to you, and that you will return safe to your adopted country.

We beg your acceptance of the accompanying purse as a slight token of our esteem and regard.

Signed on behalf of the Presbyterian Church and others.

Camp Adams.

Every season adds more and more to the fame of this notable fishing ground. Its history has been one of successful catches and the record thereof has been to draw additional anglers to the spot. The month of August is the best time to visit the ground, as the fish are then in the best of condition and the weather is generally favorable. The ground is situated on the banks of the Miramichi River, and is accessible by a narrow path which leads from the main road to the river. The ground is a large flat, and is covered with a thick growth of grass and weeds. The fish are caught by means of a long line, which is thrown across the river, and the fish are then caught by means of a net.

This year, with unusual good runs of fish in the river and an additional protection that has been placed upon the ground, the string of pools that reaches for miles down below the camp may always be depended upon to be as responsive to the fly as any eager sportsman would desire.
