CALL ON F. M. SPROUL, M. P. P.

To Clear Himself of Charge of Resign His Seat in Legislature.

THEY MEAN BUSINESS.

Temperance Federation Also Wants Bar of House of Commons Abolished.

Many prominent men from Churches, Sunday Schools and temperance societies of Kings County, met at Norton on Thursday and deliberated on ways and means respecting the enforcement of law, etc., at the coming Federal elections.

The result of the deliberations was summed up by a resolution moved by W. D. Fowler that a committee to be known as the Political Parity Committee of the Temperance Federation of Kings Co. be appointed to press the work of the federation in the approaching election campaign. The resolution carried and a committee was appointed.

Different members claimed that owing to the pledge given by Fred M. Sproul, M. P. P., before the last election, to the temperance people upon which they claim he gained his election that the following resolution in justice to the federation should be passed.

Whereas, It has been reported on what seems to be reliable testimony, that Mr. F. M. Sproul has been frequently intoxicated since he was elected as a member of the provincial legislature, and whereas Mr. Sproul had the support of many temperance people on the pledge that he abstain from the use of intoxicating liquor while he remained a representative in the legislature, therefore resolved that a committee be appointed to interview Mr. Sproul and unless he is prepared to deny the charge the Temperance Federation of Kings Co. hold that in all fairness to temperance people of the county he should resign.

Carried unanimously. The committee appointed consisted of Rev. E. J. Grant and C. W. Weyman.

Rev. Mr. Baird gave notice that at the evening meeting he would move the following resolution: That whereas he had been led to believe that the bar in the House of Commons was closed and whereas he has learned on good authority that this is not so, therefore it is considered that the federation take action on this matter and try to get the pledge of the present candidates to investigate the matter and do what is possible if elected to have said bar removed.

RUSH OF ENGLISH MAIL MATTER.

New York, Oct. 6.—Working overtime, staff of foreign branch of the post office managed yesterday morning to get off the heavy British mail, which marked the first day of the reduced rate of postage. About 90,000 more letters than usual were despatched to Europe by the Amerika, Baltic and La Provence. Of these a large proportion had been saved up by the business houses to take advantage of the two cent rate. Postmaster Morgan said it is too soon as yet to tell what the effect of the reduction of postage will be.

NEGRO MURDERER TALKS FREELY.

STRATHFORD, Ont., Friday.—In an interview this morning Frank W. Richmond, the negro who is accused of having assaulted and murdered Mrs. Peake at her home on Wednesday afternoon, talked freely about himself.

He claims to have spent most of his life in various Quebec towns and to have followed railroad work as an occupation, when he worked at all. He was born at Little Carlisle, and claims to have only one brother alive, living at Three Rivers, Quebec, and that his father and mother are dead. Richmond talks sanely, giving the impression that he is rather intelligent, with a fair education.

J. C. Makina, barrister, of this city has been engaged to defend the prisoner.

CHILD THAT SPENDS $11,500 PER YEAR.

NEW YORK, Thursday.—That it has cost him $11,500 a year to feed, clothe, house and educate 12 year old Carolyn Dorsett, is asserted by her father and guardian, R. Clarence Dorsett, a lawyer of this city, according to an accounting filed by him in the surrogate's office in Newark, N. J. The child's income is $40,000 a year.

Miss Dorsett is the only granddaughter of the late Mrs. Theodore Macknet, whose estate was left in trust for her little girl. She lives with her father at 53 West Seventeenth street.

EXCITING SCENE AT WOMEN'S CONVENTION

Catholic Priest from the Platform Denounced Head of the Order.

DETROIT, Saturday.—A riotous scene occurred at yesterday's session of the biennial convention of the Women's Catholic Order of Forestry, when Rev. Father McCorry, from the platform, denounced high chief ranger Mrs. Elizabeth Rodgers for having ordered priests excluded from the convention.

Supporters of Mrs. Rodgers declared that the temporary exclusion of Father McCorry and another priest yesterday was due to a mistake of the door tenders.

Father McCorry, however, declared that the colored waiters, who acted as door tenders, insulted him, and laid violent hands on him at the order of the high chief ranger.

The session adjourned in a tumult of recriminations among the delegates. Mrs. Rodgers was assisted from the room in a fainting condition.

MONTREAL BEER WAS SEIZED

FREDERICTON, N. B., Friday.—Several kegs of Labatt's ale, shipped from Montreal to a local firm, were seized at the C. P. R. freight shed here today.

The beer was taken to the police station. It is not known who will be proceeded against, but it may be the C. P. R.

Boats and trains are watched each day, and have been for some time, so that a line has been kept on shipments and more seizures are likely to take place at any time.

No action has as yet been taken against the Hotels from which the seizures were made on Wednesday.

DEPORT MILLIONAIRE WHO HAS TWO WIVES.

British Resident of Hong Kong, is Refused Permission to Stay in the United States.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Saturday.—Henry T. Bosman, a Hong Kong millionaire, and a legislative member of the British colony, has decided to abandon the idea of an appeal to the department of commerce and labor in an effort to secure the reversal of the order of deportation made in his case when he landed in this city a few days ago with two wives.

Bosman's attorneys, it is said, have advised him that such an appeal will be useless. He is still a patient in a local hospital under bonds to appear for deportation, when physicians shall consider him sufficiently recovered from an attack of illness to withstand the return voyage to Hong Kong.

Although a British subject, Bosman bases his defence of polygamy upon the customs of the Chinese, from which race he is descended on his mother's side, saying:

"The worship of the family is one of the leading tenets of Confucianism and polygamy is a part of this religion, partly in order that the family name may live forever."

SCOUTS AND MOROS MET IN BATTLE.

MANILA, Saturday.—A belated report received today from the island of Mindanao, tells of a battle between scouts and outlaw Moros in which more than a dozen casualties occurred.

An outpost company of scouts was attacked on Kethley road by a band of fifty Moros. In the first sudden onslaught one of the scouts was killed and two were wounded. The company rallied, however, driving off the superior force with a loss of nine killed and several wounded.

SYDNEY, C. B., Friday.—Sixty of the men in the Dominion Iron & Steel Company's plant quit work this morning on account of dissatisfaction with the new rate of wages put into effect yesterday. The men were all employed in the rail finishing mill.

A deputaion waited upon Mr. Rice, the superintendent, this morning, refusing to accept the schedule, claiming that they could not make a living under the new conditions.

They were told that if they could not accept the wages offered, they could quit, which they did tonight. F. P. Jones said that few men had quit and that they had plenty more to take their places.

On the 5th instant, Mr. Loggie spoke in Douglassfield. To-night he will address a meeting at Barnaby River, and tomorrow night at Chelmsford.

Mr. Loggie has been well received everywhere and feels confident of victory on Oct. 20th.

A CANADIAN FOR STRENGTH.

Edward Moot Cut and Piled 5 1-8 Cords of Wood in Less Than a Day.

WINDSOR, Vt., Thursday.—As the result of a wager between Maxwell Everts of this place and Samuel G. Blythe of Washington, D. C., Edward Moot, of Amherst, Vt., cut and piled five and one-eighth cords of wood between sunrise and 4:15 this afternoon. In addition a half cord of chopped and split wood lay on the ground unpiled.

Moot, who is a French-Canadian, about fifty years of age, began his stunt at 5:52 this morning, and at 4:15 in the afternoon finished. He used four axes, weighing 3-4 pounds each, and cut down 24 white pine trees that averaged 12 inches at the butt, and were about 75 feet high. He started after a breakfast of eight boiled eggs.

The first three trees were cut in 30, 30 and 60 seconds respectively, C. M. Lawrence, of Felchville, Vt., was referee. The contest took place on the estate of Maxwell Everts and was witnessed by about a thousand people.

Moot, a powerful man, stopped 10 minutes at noon for a cold lunch, with some liquid refreshments. Among the number of people present were Stephen S. Palmer and Charles A. Moore of New York, L. A. Coolidge, assistant secretary of the treasury, Elisha Theall, clerk of the committee of naval affairs, J. C. Hoos, of Virginia, Editor Frank Greene, of St. Albans, Vt., and Smith Ballard, of Montpelier, Vt.

The amount of the wager was not made public, but was estimated as high as $6,000.

Moot's shirt was hanging from his back in shreds when he finished, and he said: "I could do a lot more."

Mr. Moot, besides receiving $100 for his day's work from Mr. Everts, won $100 on one side wager, and it is understood netted considerable more on other bets.

The test was the result of a boast of Maxwell Everts, a loyal son of Vermont, who said that the old Green Mountain state possessed a wood chopper who could go out into the woods, cut down, chop up, split and pile five cords of wood between sunrise and sunset.

Experiences Of Women in The west.

Position Of Women There Has Vastly Improved In Last Five Years.

EDMONTON, Tuesday.—The experience of women in the west, especially those on the farms, have long been a subject of curiosity to persons not familiar with the conditions which prevail in the prairie country. The alleged suffering and inconvenience which have been associated with the lot of the latter sex in accounts circulated from time to time in older parts of Canada do not appear to be conspicuous at the present time. The "fate" of womanhood in these parts is indicated by the experience of a farmer's wife, published in a special number of the Alberta Homestead, over the signature of Mrs. Gertrude Balmer Watt. The article is entitled "Alberta From a Woman's Standpoint," and summarizes a few of the attractions which this Province offers a woman on the farm. It is in part as follows:

The Joy of Living.
From far off, persecuted Russia, from India, Germany, France, from the north and the south and the east, westward the star of empire makes its way. Today this vast area contains one of the most marvellous mixtures of nationalities civilization has probably ever seen. And how is it working out? Board the C. N. R. train at Winnipeg and come to Edmonton; take the C. P. R. line and travel southward to your starting point. Go through the most interestingly bustling towns you have ever seen. Note the brand new buildings, the large hotels, see the class of immigrants who have taken up their homes in these wonderful new Provinces; look at the crowds around the real estate offices, see the loads of prospective settlers starting out for their future homes. And then go out and drive through a country where fences are not, where you will see the most boundless stretches of fertile land your mind has ever conceived where you will encounter a new air, and a new sky, the joy of living, hope, youth, your fairy tale comes true.

The Women on the Homestead.
Yesterday a woman from Chicago dropped in to see me. She has been in the west for a year, and formerly did sewing for me. Now she has just returned from putting in a six-months in the year residence on her and her husband's homestead near Manville, as required by the homestead laws. Here, said I to myself, is the one I have been wanting to interview—a delicate little woman, unused to hardships, who will tell me the truth about things.

"I suppose you're glad to get back to town," I began. "Must have been rather uncomfortable in all that cold snap."

"Well, do you know, we honestly didn't notice it," from this miniature five-footer. "You see, we never so busy, and then the cold in Alberta is, to my mind, the cheeriest, kindest sort of cold I ever experienced. I just feel splendid."

Happy and Hopeful.
"She looked it; for all the tiny, delicately-moulded figure, here was a woman full of the joy of living, happy, hopeful in the prospect of the future their quarter section was to bring them. Bit by bit I learned the whole of her story. Last September they bought a team, and laden with the most of their winter supplies, two tents, and with no live stock but nine chickens, they left Edmonton to drive to their homestead. The journey out was perfectly delightful, the little woman assured me. In the daytime they moved along fairly rapidly, and at night pitched a tent and built a small camp-fire where they had a good dinner. In time the quarter section was reached, and operations begun to erect a small house and barn. The lumber for the house had been taken out with them, and soon she and her husband had a crude but cozy little home for themselves. The horses had then to be thought of, and with the aid of neighbors logs were cut and hauled. In a short time a good, substantial log barn was reared, and my friends began to feel all the delight of landed proprietors.

Sat and grinned at each Other.
"If you had ever lived in Chicago, and never owned a foot of ground or even the nails in your home, you'd know something of how we felt over the possession of our homestead," went on this well-satisfied new settler. "At night we used to sit and grin at each other as we discussed the prospects of soon purchasing a cow, more chickens, and sundry additions to our stock-in-trade. This year the neighbors kept us pretty well supplied with milk, and when they failed we used condensed milk or went without. We could always get fresh meat, and with that and good, substantial vegetables you can't starve, can you?"

Had No Time For Blues.
"At the query that it must be rather lonesome at times this light-hearted homesteader only laughed. 'Lonesome? Well, I guess not. We have splendid neighbors, and then we haven't time for the blues.' It appeared that when her household duties were over she sewed for nearby settlers, and thus added to her small supply of ready money. Next year they are to sow their first crop, when she expects to help seed and to share all the other outdoor labors. The prospect tickles her immensely.

Industry and Enterprise.
"You may think I'm smart," she said, "but I think you ought to know about some neighbors of yours. Mr. and Mrs. and his four children—a girl of twelve, two boys of six and eight and a five-months old baby. They are all French, the mother a dressmaker and the father a baker. Ready money being sorely needed she left the homestead and went in to Vermillion to take in sewing. She is now earning $20 a week, the father runs the farm and the little girl takes care of the children. Every Saturday the mother drives out, does the washing, such sewing as is needed, and tidies up generally, and when the father drives her back to town he does enough baking to last her through the week."

"And the baby?" I inquired.
"Oh, it seems to thrive all right, my narrator assured me. 'The father and daughter seem to manage beautifully.' It's funny," she went on, "the way the young bachelors around the country are chasing after the widows for wives. You see, a widow can claim her hundred and sixty acres on her own and her children's account, so husband No. 2 really gets the benefit of a half instead of a quarter section."

Only a Sample.
"This small dressmaker's story is only a sample of the satisfaction expressed by every settler I have interviewed. If there are knockers in Alberta, I haven't struck one. In the eyes of the farmers of the future with whom I have come into contact shines the gleam of to-morrow's greatness. They are themselves part and parcel of the growth of the country that is astonishing the world. Out on the prairies, face to face with their naked soul, men and women come into possession of a depth of wisdom seemingly impossible to obtain when surrounded by the distractions of the town. And after all, is the secret of the spirit that animates the whole west, from the centre of the newest cities to the uttermost end of the distant homesteads, but the joy of labor, and satisfaction of knowing that in each man's hands lies the possibility of his own future?"

Improvement Will Continue.
There is no doubt that the position of woman has vastly improved during the past five years. In the cities and towns she has almost always been as well situated as other women in communities of similar size elsewhere, but

SURPLUSES NOT DEFICITS (Morning Graphic)

Mr. George E. Foster, who was Minister of Finance from 1888 to 1896, when the Conservative government was driven from power, had a task far from enviable in undertaking a contemporary, to criticize the financial statement of the Dominion's finances presented in the House of Commons by Mr. Fielding. It was Mr. Fielding's twelfth budget speech and his eleventh successive announcement of a surplus. With the single exception of his first budget speech Mr. Fielding has never made a budget speech without having a surplus to announce. His first budget speech, covering the fiscal year 1896-7, was the speech in which he announced the new Liberal tariff, known by his name which, with its British preference feature, set an epoch making precedent in the history of the empire, while inaugurating an era of unprecedented progress and prosperity for Canada.

The fiscal year, 1896-7, which except for its first month and a half, was the Liberal Government's first year in office, was the closing year of the operation of the Conservative tariff. Like the year preceding it was a year of deficit. And it fell to Mr. Fielding, as part of his duty in making the first budget speech, to announce that deficit, as his predecessor in the office of Minister of Finance, Mr. George E. Foster, had been announcing deficits in his budget speeches year after year.

The following is the record of Mr. Fielding to date, as Finance Minister:

Fiscal year	Surplus	Deficit
1896-7	.....	$519,981
1897-8	.....	$1,722,712
1898-9	.....	4,837,749
1899-1900	.....	8,054,714
1900-1	.....	5,648,333
1901-2	.....	7,291,398
1902-3	.....	14,345,166
1903-4	.....	15,656,984
1904-5	.....	7,871,733
1905-6	.....	15,938,118
1906-7	.....	15,518,949
1907-8	.....	19,009,006

Mr. Fielding has already far exceeded the total of ten years of office of any of his predecessors as Minister of Finance, while Mr. Foster, as Minister of Finance or Chancellor of the Exchequer in any British Government, including the Imperial Government, for a century or more, in quality of service as in length of service his record is unsurpassed. As for Mr. Foster, it may be noted, that in his last budget speech he had to announce a deficit of $330,551, for the fiscal year 1895-6. The year before he had to announce a deficit of $4,153,875 for 1894-5 and the year before that a deficit of $1,210,392 for 1893-4.

ROBLIN, BLATHERSKITE.

Rarely has the windbag of a blatherer been so effectively punctured as that of Premier Roblin.

The hero of the pin act is J. S. Willison, editor of the Toronto News, who held a prominent position on the platform at Mr. Borden's meeting in Toronto, on which occasion Roblin made the slanderous statement which brought him to grief.

Roblin charged the Globe with robbery in connection with the building of the Crow's Nest Railway, and its editor with aiding and abetting that robbery. The irresponsible politician from the west had got more than usually beyond his depth; he had forgotten or did not know that the editor of the Globe, at the time referred to, was not J. A. Macdonald, whom he wished to knife, but J. S. Willison, at present, from circumstances which he could not control, one of the vehement of the journalistic supporters of the Conservative party.

Willison now says that the Crow's Nest Railway campaign originated entirely with himself, and that he did not know a Globe director was interested in the project, that he did not consult any Globe director on the subject, and he intimates pretty plainly that Roblin is a liar and that the truth is not in him.

The Free Press has already had one on the homesteads she had a lonely existence. The building of railways—thousands of miles—and of telephone systems, with the accompanying improvement in facilities for living, and the increase and expansion of settlement have affected a wonderful change. The improvement is certain to continue.

occasion to point out this last fact to its readers, but the confirmation has come from an unexpected quarter.

It becomes more and more evident that Roblin has been imported into this campaign for the very purpose of assisting in the work of distortion and misrepresentation. He is the bright and shining star of the slanderfest. His speeches contain a minimum of truth and a maximum of falsehoods.

His charges against the government are all as false and have been proven to be so, as the slanderer which is now denounced by a pillar in his own party.

A pretty minister of the Interior R. P. Roblin would make!

Mr. Willison's statement is satisfactory so far as it goes, but the pity is that it was not given earlier. He sat on the platform at Massey Hall and heard Mr. Roblin's statement and attack upon Mr. J. A. Macdonald, which he knew to be untrue, and yet he allowed the whole of the next day to pass without putting pencil to paper to make the statement which he only could make and which he knew it was his duty to make. It was not until Mr. Macdonald came out in Friday's Globe that Mr. Willison felt impelled to take the course which any man of honor should have taken half an hour after Mr. Roblin's speech.

Mr. Willison was within touch of the newspaper offices when he heard Mr. Roblin's slander—and he knew it to be both a slander and a falsehood—yet the index never occurred to him to indite a letter which would set the public mind right and would have been published in the same issue of the newspapers as the slander itself.

It would have been such a simple thing to do. It would have been the honorable thing to do. And it is the thing which the J. S. Willison of two years ago would have done.

Evil associations corrupt good manners. Mr. Willison's association with his Tory bosses seems to have weakened his sense of personal and political honor to a pitiful degree.

As to his charge that Mr. Macdonald is hiding behind another man's coat tail, it seems to us that if any man is doing any "hiding" it is J. S. Willison. Mr. Macdonald has nothing to hide, for he had no connection at all with the transaction. Mr. Willison on the other hand, who conducted the whole campaign which is the subject of controversy, not only kept silent for thirty six hours, but only spoke when forced to do so by the publication of the fact, forced upon the Globe, that he was the author of the articles in question. The least Mr. Willison says about hiding behind other people's coat tails the better.—Ottawa Free Press.

There has been established in the city of Hamilton a tuberculosis museum, the object of which is to educate the public as to the causes of tuberculosis, its cure, prevention, etc.

The largest grain elevator in the world is to be built at Milwaukee. The temperance people of that city have no doubt insisted on something else than beer to make Milwaukee famous.

The total revenue of the United States Government in 1907 from spirits and malt liquors and from tobacco was $247,458,911, or 2.88 per capita, equal to $14.40 tax on every family.

After the lapse of fifteen years London will again have in November a Catholic Lord Mayor in the person of Sir John Stuart Knill, Bart, alderman of the Bridge ward, who stands next in succession for the office. The last Catholic Lord Mayor was the coming Mayor's father.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

To heal an open cut apply alum water twice a day.

A drink of warm sage tea will often soothe a restless child.

Half a teaspoonful of lime water will usually cure colic and hiccup.

For a scald of burn apply immediately pulverized charcoal and linned oil.

To bathe tired eyes in water as hot as one can bear it will give great relief.

To cure sleeplessness take a cupful of hot Indian meal gruel just before retiring. Sip it slowly.

When tired out and hungry take a cup of hot soup for quick refreshment rather than tea or coffee.

Never leave a patient's untasted food by his or her side from meal to meal. It will destroy the appetite.

IN THE SEWING ROOM.

REMODELING A WAIST.—In remodeling a waist attention must be given to the sleeve as the first consideration. There is no style which can be so easily employed in the remodeling of a waist as the Japanese or kimono, and it is practicable for almost any waist. After the sleeve has been removed, the armhole is cut larger at the bottom. Silk or braid of a corresponding color may be used to make the kimono sleeves, which may be made either on the bias or on the straight of the goods. They are made in the form of a straight band and are from an inch and a half to three inches in width. These are sewed plainly into the enlarged armhole. When a waist has been treated in this manner it is usually worn with an underwaist as a jumper.

MENDING OF PLAID MATERIALS.—When plaid materials are ripped or torn the question at once arises as to what color silk should be used in mending so that the mend will not show. The best way to do is to use a color which harmonizes with the different colors, choosing those that will harmonize with the predominant colors of the material. The mend part will scarcely show if it is neatly darned and pressed.

PIN CUSHION ON THE WRIST.—There are some home dressmakers, who find it a great convenience to wear a soft hair pin cushion on the wrist. This pin cushion is sewed to a band of elastic an inch wide so that it will fit snugly, but not tightly on the wrist. For the pin cushion, which should be only two or three inches square, and light of weight, may be fastened to the front of the waist or hung by a short tape from the belt.

BREAD WAFFLES.—Take stale bread and put it in water to soak, letting it stand all day and night. Mash well the next morning, adding a little flour, salt and sugar, three or four eggs, a pinch of soda and bake. In the winter it is a good plan to leave the batter from one morning to the next and then use it by mixing more to it in the usual way, making with milk or water. A good syrup for the waffles is made by placing a little granulated sugar in a saucepan, letting it brown or melt then adding boiling water and more sugar. It makes a very agreeable change from the usual maple syrup.

GREEN CORN FRITTERS.—To one pint of grated corn pulp add enough sifted cracker crumbs to hold the mixture together and half a teaspoonful of baking powder and salt and pepper to taste. Drop the mixture from a teaspoon into hot fat, making the fritters the size of an oyster. Fry in a light brown and drain on soft paper. Serve on a folded napkin.

IN THE SEWING ROOM.

LITTLE TOUCHES THAT COUNT.—If you want to know the real value of the little dress accessories, just try wearing an old fashioned unbecoming necktie with your newest and smartest shirt waist and you will see how wearing the wrong thing at your neck will spoil the style and smartness of your waist. The little touches such as these surely play an important part behind without them the toilet lacks finish and individuality. Neckties and jabots are growing narrower and the bows that are now worn are small. The latest Parisian novelty is decidedly smart, and is quickly made. It is a narrow tie, scarcely more than half an inch in width, of a brilliant shade of satin. It is finished on each end with a dainty silk tassel. This tie is worn around the base of the collar and is tied in a bow knot in front, while the ends are let hang unevenly.

ATTRACTIVE CENTREPIECE.—Take the silver part of your baking dish and fill with ferns. This, placed in the middle of the table is attractive. Sweet peas or any flower may be combined with the ferns, and you have a centerpiece which is cool and restful.

The Countess of Yarmouth has, according to a despatch to the New York Times, decided to abandon her title, and in future be known as Mrs. Cople Thaw. Such a renunciation is very rare for a peeress. She has the inclination right to the title, as demonstrated by her famous Cowley case, when Lady Cowley, despite Earl Cowley's opposition, vindicated her right to use the title of countess, though divorced from the Earl and re-married to a commoner.

Rockefeller And Payne Found That Out Long Ago And Formed a Trust.

MUNICIPAL UNIVERSITY.

Organized In Kansas City to Stop Political Fighting.

The following article is reprinted from "The Elyrian," a little journal published in Elyria, Ohio, and is full of good, wholesome matter each month.

Many years in a certain town of the Middle West two men were competing with each other in the same industry and with neighboring offices on the same street. They were friendly enough personally and all that, but neither, on account of the other, was making any money. Like two farmers in a line-fence row each was expending large sums in harassing the other.

Now, these men were too eminently wise in their own affairs; they saw the fallacy of feudism, and one day they got together in the stern of a bank and gave birth to a great idea and a great business.

One of these men was H. B. Payne and the other John D. Rockefeller.

The name of the infant was Standard Oil.

In its youth and manhood Standard Oil has taught us some principles in the supply of necessities to a great and growing population no matter who owns it or who gets the profits.

If it did nothing more than teach us to get together, why, it is worth all it cost.

These men sewed a seed; for since the meeting in the stern of that bank hundreds of competitors in nearly every industry have gotten together and Quit Fighting.

Now, if the cessation of hostilities is profitable in the case of individuals, business, why will it not be just as profitable for all the elements of a community to get together and quit fighting?

If it has worked so well by a few individuals of a class why will not an enlargement of the idea supply the mass?

It is just exactly what has been started, and what will be done all over this country.

Instead of it being in a bank it was in the stern of a little Unitarian church in Kansas City. The meeting wasn't large—neither was the meeting in the back of a bank.

It was small, but it consisted of the diverse elements of the community—the people who had been fighting—several politicians, some preachers of different religious brands, a labor leader, some working men, a few employers in the way of manufacturers, and merchants—and no gathering of diverse elements is complete without a lawyer or two.

All ideas are old—they are simply new in application.

The man who applied it was Charles Ferguson.

The first thing in the order of the meeting was, "Let's get together—quit fighting"—just as it was the first order of John D. Rockefeller and H. B. Payne. Yes, and the purpose was the same—economy. They got together and took up the details of economy afterwards—as the diverse elements of Kansas city did.

Just an enlargement of the Rockefeller-Payne idea; for instead of getting together for themselves they got together for the good of the community—not the good to the greatest number and bad to some, but the good of all.

Isn't economical to fight—Rockefeller and Payne didn't find it so, and what is true in the case of individuals is true in the case of a community.

If a people only realize it, they can use the fighting element for progress and development.

Municipal University isn't a very good name for a democratic organization; for when you mention the word "university" to a low-bray he pictures a large brick building in the middle of a lawn thick with forest trees, and an attendant whiskers, and cap like a plasterer's mortar board.

The masses do not understand that a university may mean an association a society or guild.

The man on the street doesn't understand any language but his own.

But the name will have to stand till a better one is found—in the mean time the organization is a power for good; for the other day, after a municipal election, found the successful candidate for mayor and the defeated candidate, as a committee of the Municipal University, seated at the same table in a room working on a new city charter to present to the Legislature.

Those eminent in the movement realize that conditions cannot be made ideal in a day; that an approach is made only by a gradual and elevating scale, and they are doing their work by a process of informing rather than reforming.

Therefore it is the purpose of this organization to obtain the best thought of the best minds on all matters of public interest that they may be solved economically for all the people.

The Municipal University is bringing all the high-minded ones together of all classes—they are freeing themselves from the mob by informing the mob in their ideals.

It is all a process to bring respectability to a higher standard; for it used to be that a man could be honest in his family relations, honest in his business relations to the extent of paying what he promised, he could go to church on Sunday and then walk into a director's meeting and vote a corruption fund—all this, and still be respectable.

Corruption is ceasing simply because it is being disrespected by publicity—the effort of such organization as the Municipal University. It is the process of economy applied to a community the same as Rockefeller and Payne applied them after they got together and resolved to "Quit Fighting."

It is all a process where dollars will not be expensive for all—thrift rich and the poor.

A great city is nothing more than a great business.

Industry, commerce, politics, religion and the various social classes and casts are nothing more than the departments of that business.

The departments of a great business do not fight.

It is a part of the general manager's business to keep them working in harmony for the interests of that business.

Business is simply a system for the economical expenditure of time, money and effort.

A city is simply a business of civilization, and civilization is simply being civil—it is not feudism.

CONSIDER THIS CONTRAST (Morning Graphic).

As an evidence of careful management of the public moneys, the Conservatives in eighteen years expended $187,000,000 on capital and special expenditure. To do this they had to borrow $118,000,000. In twelve years the Liberals have spent $162,000,000 for the same purposes, and only added $14,000,000 to the public debt. That is, $143,000,000 was expended for these purposes and provided out of the ordinary revenue.

The Conservative government, of which Mr. Foster is a member, never saw a surplus in the Post Office department. The Liberal government has had a surplus for years, and last year the surplus was $1,100,000 after paying out $450,000 odd as increase to postmasters' salaries, and $750,000 for extending the service. The last year of Conservative rule saw a deficit in the Post Office of $700,000.

Do the people want to employ Mr. Foster again as Finance Minister?

Apart altogether from the notorious corrupt character of the government with which he was formerly associated, will the people be willing to turn affairs over to a man whose sole idea is borrowing money and doing away with surpluses? A man who falls far short of grasping the problems presented day by day in the administration of Canadian affairs.

The Conservatives in the House, headed by Mr. Foster, who are denouncing excessive expenditures are at the same time clamouring for the government to build post offices, wharves, piers, armories and what not, in their own constituencies. They would never raise their voices against a vote to spend twenty millions more in Conservative ridings.

FALSE CANVASSES.

Among the false canvasses being used in this county to defeat Mr. Loggie is the one that is being used by the North West. The government has arranged that henceforth, instead of being tri-weekly, the mail to Redbank shall be daily from May 1st to October 31st each year and tri-weekly the remaining six months. It is being freely charged that this is only an election dodge for this year. On the contrary, it is a permanent arrangement, which was put into force as soon as the old mail-carrying contract ran out.

Many other such canvasses are being used in certain districts to confuse the voters. Many an opposition has gained power under false pretences. But the electors are getting wiser each year. If they only think for themselves the country will be safe.

STRIKES.

Industrial strikes are an evil—some times a necessary evil, no doubt; but always an evil. They should be resorted to only when all peaceful efforts have failed; for a strike is civil war.

The C. P. R. machinists and St. John shingle sawyers have had to capitulate and go back to work on the companies' terms.

They were unwise in striking as they did without being certain of being able to fight the matter out to a victory. In each case the men were not sufficiently supported by their brethren of allied trades.

In the case of the C. P. R., at least, the Government should have the fixing of the minimum wages of employees; for the country built the C. P. R.—that is, the company built it out of the proceeds of Government subsidies. Having gained their wealth in such a suspicious manner, the C. P. R. should be very careful about offending public opinion. Their hold upon the political parties of Canada is perceptibly weakening. They used to own the Conservative party, from whom they got their original concessions, body and soul; but even in the Conservative camp there are independent men like W. F. MacLean, M. P. for Toronto, who are determined that that henceforth the C. P. R. shall pay more deference to public opinion and consult more carefully the needs of its patrons and the rights of its employees.

UNNECESSARY TROUBLE.

New Zealand and Australia fearful of an early attempt by Japan or China to seize their land and settle it with yellow men, are straining every nerve to create a great army and navy for their defense. Brazil, Argentina, Chili, and Peru are also building as many warships as they can afford, presumably from fear of being soon attacked by either Japan or Germany. China is arming as rapidly as possible in order to be able to defend herself from foreign aggression; and so on.

It is time that the leading nations of the world called a conference and divided the vacant lands among them or some plan mutually acceptable. There is room for all for many centuries to come, if they were willing to each take a different share and cease striving for districts already occupied. The time will come when nations will have to settle their differences before a jury of other nations as men are now compelled to do. Nothing but evil ever comes out of war.

ARE WE GROWING CALLOUS?

(Montreal Star.)

We were accustomed to hear in the good old days that a man who ran for office had his "record" looked up and his character dissected until his best friends would not know him. This was regarded as one of the burdens which a man willingly to serve his country had to carry; and it kept many a good man from venturing within range of the "mud-slinging brigade." Now, however, all this is changed. Men rush into the limelight who have records that look like an old pen-wiper, and seem to enjoy a pachyderm immunity from suffering when these "ink stains" are pointed out. Nor does it appear to hurt a candidate to have a bad record. His partisans march up to the polls and vote for him just the same. The old feeling that a man with a vulnerable past should not stand for office has disappeared. He has too much company.

But the people are making a mistake to permit themselves to grow callous on this point. They should always remember that the choosing of a member of Parliament is not a business of selecting the least unworthy from four or five "bad eggs," but the picking out of the very best man from among many thousands. They need not put up with "calls" or "windfalls"; they may pick the finest fruit from the topmost branches. It makes a difference what sort of a man we get to represent us in Parliament; quite as much—if not more—than which party he will support when he gets there.

But if there grows up a notion that the people do not really care what sort of a man they are asked to vote for, so long as he has the right party brand burned in his back, we will find Parliament getting worse in this respect instead of better. What we want is the old spirit which drove a tainted candidate from the field. Nor is it so old everywhere. They seem to be getting rid of their tainted candidates in the United States.

ONLY FOR THREE WEEKS

(Evening Times.)

If the Conservative speakers believe what they say about Dr. Pugsley they should decline to speak to him on the street or elsewhere. They should call upon the press and pulp to denounce him as an enemy of the country, and upon all honest men to turn their backs upon him. But these orators do not mean what they say. The character of the whole Conservative campaign demands that their opponents be called thieves and robbers, and this will continue until Oct. 20th. After that Dr. MacRae and Mr. Powell will go on doing business with Dr. Pugsley as sociably as before, and Hon. Mr. Maxwell will join his provincial colleagues in urging Dr. Pugsley to help them along with their game at Ottawa. For another three weeks Dr. Pugsley can easily stand the pressure, and afterwards the sunshine of confidence and favor will again be his to bask therein.

DAILY MAIL TO REDBANK.

Starting October 3rd, there will be a daily mail to Redbank during the month of October. Redbank in future will have a daily mail from May 1st to Nov. 1st, and a tri-weekly during the winter season, from Nov. 1st to May 1st. Mr. Clement Ryan has been awarded the contract for this route.

It is anticipated that there will be a semi-weekly mail to Trout Brook and Protectionville in the near future for which the people in those sections have been working for some years.

EDITOR UNION ADVOCATE.

Dear Sir—

With your permission I shall vindicate myself against my being turned down by the men I always supported and voted for, namely Morrison and Morrissey.

I have had a certificate of competency as Government scaler from the late Gov't these last eight or nine years but got no appointment. At the death of Mr. Christopher Craig, I asked Robt. Murray, Esq., at Chatham who is slightly related to me by marriage, and Mayor Miller of Newcastle, to do what they could to get me the position. They both knew I was a "dyed in the wool" Conservative but they did not hesitate to do what I asked them. Now I am blamed for taking an active part in favor of the late Gov't during the last election.

Let me briefly tell you of my activity. I chose to go to Chatham that day, and after having gone to the Court and having voted, I went into the Hotel Miramichi, and Matthew Daley, one of the clerks, asked me to drive him to the Court House which I did. I brought Mat back again and Police-man Ashford asked me to do the same for him. I did not know at that time, for whom they voted, and did not care but have found out since from the men themselves, that one voted Opposition straight and the other half and half. That is the amount of the driving to the poll I did, and I defy any man to prove otherwise.

I was always against Tweedie never voted for him but once in my life, and voted for the others, surreptitiously sometimes, and worked openly when I could do so, and not endanger my livelihood, even turned down John Burchill; and now when my Government mounts the steps headed by a clean Conservative or Tory if you will I am left out in the cold for what?

There has no greater mistake been made in these dismals than in many own. I had the position one winter only. I was fair and just to everyone, and fair and just men were satisfied, but those that wanted a large discount were disgruntled. I have told the straight truth in this matter and it cannot be contradicted successfully. In conclusion, I frankly say that I voted for the two men who got me the spot and I think I should have proved myself an ingrate if I had not done so.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor for your space I remain yours very truly

WEDDING BELLS.

JONES—COLPITTS

An interesting event took place on Wednesday evening in the new Baptist church at Grandville, when Rupert Jones, son of O. S. Jones, was married to Miss Beulah Colpitts, daughter of Mr. Melbourne Colpitts. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. Seely, uncle of the groom, and was witnessed by a large number of guests. The bride who was unattended was very prettily gowned in white cashmere and carried a bouquet of white flowers. After the ceremony the party adjourned to the home of the bride's father where a sumptuous collation was partaken of. Her going away gown was of green velvet hat to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a very pretty gray squirrel stole and muff.

COWLES—ALEXANDER.

At the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. N. A. Clark, Tacoma, Wash., U. S. A., on September ninth, Lelon B. Cowles of that City was married to Miss Lottie Clark Alexander daughter of G. W. Alexander, of Blissfield, N. B.

WILLISTON—NOBLE.

The Rev. A. J. Wm. Myers, B. D., performed the ceremony. The bride and groom were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Williston left immediately on a short trip.

WORLD INDEBTED TO U. S. FOR MORAL TEACHING.

DALHOUSIE, N. B., Friday.—A prominent citizen of New Richmond P. Q. was in town yesterday, and questioned as to the political outlook in Bonaventure Co., he said that both the Liberals and Conservatives in the county desire the reelection of Mr. Marcell by acclamation. No man in the county can be found willing to oppose him. The leaders of the Conservative party in Quebec may send down a man to keep Mr. Marcell in his own county. The stranger will meet with the same fate Dr. Verge did when he opposed John Hall Kelly—lose his deposit.

HOT STUFF ON THE LINKS

On opening a new golf course at Tankerton, Whitstable, England, recently Mr. Akers Douglas related a good story. A golfer at Hale had an irritating experience with a local cad die. He followed so closely, and was so anxious to please by intelligent anticipation, that the player had several narrow escapes of disfiguring him. After a tedious and unprofitable round he paid him off, gave him his lunch ticket, and thenceforward for clean his clubs and addressed him. "You know you are not quite perfect as a caddy. There is room for improvement. But as an agent for an accident insurance company you are perfectly hot stuff. What is your name?" The caddy, a solid looking and hitherto silent youth moved, like Balaam's ass, by the exigencies of the situation, opened his mouth and replied, "Mustard."

Chatham Cleanings.

CHATHAM, Friday.—Arch Frazier who was sentenced in January to one year in jail for assault upon J. Y. Mercereau has been released.

Tuesday and Wednesday were warm autumn days but on Wednesday night the thermometer dropped to 40 above zero and an exceptionally heavy mist hung over the river for several hours. The down river boat was delayed a short while until the vapor cleared away.

The Liberal party has opened a room in the Hocken building and have it plentifully supplied with literature. The room is bright and attractive and quite a number are attracted there. Effective cartoons showing Canada's progress under Liberal rule, are in evidence, and no doubt have a distinct educative effect.

CHATHAM, Saturday.—The preliminary trial of Paul Gallant was concluded this morning and the prisoner was sent up by Magistrate Connors.

The only witness on the stand was Officer Coughlan, who gave the particulars regarding the arrest.

Gallant, when he confessed to the robbery, told him he had done it at the captain's instigation. The devil must have been in him, for he had never done such a thing before, he said.

The magistrate asked the prisoner if he had anything to say. The latter seemed dazed and did not seem to comprehend what the magistrate meant. However, on advice of his counsel, he said nothing. The magistrate then made known his decision.

Captain Cain, and the steward previously gave bonds to appear at the county court which meets at Newcastle.

The prisoner, Gallant, is a young fellow, well built and of rather prepossessing appearance. He does not look hardened to crime and his statement is probably true that this was the first case of this nature in which he had been mixed up.

The cold snap still continues today and there was a great rush to get stoves and pipes in place. The tin-smiths are doing a great business.

CAST YOUR BALLOT IN FAVOR OF W. S. LOGGIE ON OCTOBER 26TH

THE TORTURES OF NERVOUSNESS

The Sufferer Feels That Unless Relief Comes Insanity will follow.

There is no torture more intolerable than nervousness. A nervous person is in a state of constant irritation by day and sleeplessness by night. The sufferer starts at every noise, is shaky and depressed. Often although in a completely exhausted state is unable to sit or lie still. For trouble of this kind absolutely the best thing in the world is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The nerves are jaded and jangled because they are being starved by poor watery blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new rich blood which feeds and soothes the irritated nerves. There is absolutely no doubt about this; thousands can testify of the blood-making, nerve-restoring qualities of these Pills, among them is Mrs. Thos. Harpell, Wallace Bridge, N. S., who says: "Some years ago I took sick and the doctor pronounced the trouble nervous prostration. To describe the tortures of it is impossible. God and myself only know what I endured. The doctor gave me medicine but it did not seem to help me. They ordered me away for a change, but I was afraid to go, as I always seemed to fear some impending calamity, and was afraid to spend the night alone, as I used to think each night that I would die before morning. I tried different kinds of medicines but with no better results, and finally decided I would go to my parents to see if the change would benefit me. I went to their doctor but with no better results. My mother urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and got me a box, of course I did not expect a box would help me, but I continued taking them and in about a month began to feel better. From that on there was an improvement in my condition every day, and in the course of about three months I was again enjoying the great blessing of perfect health. I gained about twenty pounds in weight and my friends could hardly believe I was the same person. I believe I would have been in my grave long ago if it had not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are good for any disease due to bad blood or weak nerves. That is why they cure such troubles as anemia, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, paralysis, and the ailments of girlhood and womanhood. Sold by medicine dealers at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 or may be had by mail from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DIAMONDS MISSING.

NEW YORK, Friday.—An investigation which followed the discovery of a diamond stonemason missing from the warehouses of Jos Ferrand, a Maiden Lane diamond importer, has disclosed what may prove to be one of the biggest robberies in the diamond district.

Already it is said that jewels, amounting to over $50,000 in value, are known to have been missing, and an inventory of the stock has not yet been completed. It has been disclosed that robberies have also been committed during a period extending over a number of years, and it seems possible that before the inventory has been completed the total will be far in excess of the amount known to be involved.

Dalhousie News and Notes.

DALHOUSIE, Friday.—Miss Stella Troy returned home this week after spending a few weeks with friends in St. John.

The question of placing some lights on our streets will be brought up before our town council at its next meeting by His Worship Mayor Montgomery. It is to be hoped that our aldermen will look favorably upon this subject as during these fall evenings it is really dangerous for pedestrians to venture out on the sidewalks.

POLITICS SETTING IN

SONS OF TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

The Grand Division of New Brunswick will meet on November 2nd and 3rd in St. John. Considering that recently no organizer has been abroad, the order stands well in the province. Much activity is noticeable in some sections. The opposite prevails in too many instances, which would probably have been fewer had a special agent been abroad. Since the last meeting of the Grand Division there have been started or prepared to start one Division in Charlotte, one in Northumberland, and four in Kent County. The membership of the Division at Richibucto has been double during the year while smaller gains have been made by fifteen others in the same time.

Some progress in work for the young has been made, notably at Tabusintac, Waterford, Richibucto, Harcourt and Lower Millstream. This is work which, more than any other, always tells for the 'good of the order' and also for the well-being of the community.

WIRELESS TELEPHONES.

LONDON, Saturday.—Dr. Lee DeForest, working under instructions from the admiralty, has just concluded a very successful succession of wireless telephony between warships in Portsmouth Harbor.

Dr. DeForest operated the transmitter on board the cruiser Furiosus, while Mrs. DeForest was at the receiver on the schooner Vernon, both of which vessels steamed at full speed fifty miles apart.

As a result of the tests, Admiral Gamble, who superintended the experiments, has recommended that the admiralty install two complete sets of instruments.

BOY INMATES TRY TO BURN ORPHANAGE.

QUEBEC, Thursday.—Adelard Guay and Thomas Duchesneau, two boys of thirteen, boarders of St. Joseph's Orphanage, Levis, were caught yesterday trying to set fire to the building, sheltering 750 orphans and nuns. This morning they were sentenced to three years in the reformatory.

SULTAN APPEALS TO THE POWERS FOR AID.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Thursday.—The Porte has appealed to the powers against the occupation of the Eastern Roumelian section of the Oriental railway by Bulgarian troops.

Bulgaria took advantage of the recent strike, to occupy the line, but it was the understanding that the troops would be withdrawn when the strike was over. The strike collapsed on Sept. 29th, but the troops are still in occupation.

The occupation of the line has created a diplomatic incident of extreme gravity.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

NELSON, B. C., Wednesday.—Harold Green and Jack Rice, two assisted Salvation Army immigrants, who have been under surveillance for three weeks, were brought in here and lodged in the provincial jail by Constable Aston, of Midway, who arrested them for the murder of Charles Thomet on August 25th at Midway. The men answered to the description. They disappeared the night after the tragedy, previous to which they had been working on a mining claim and been working on a mining claim nearby and they were seen running away after the shots were fired.

MURDEROUSLY ATTACKED BY A DRUNKEN BABOON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Thursday.—Miller Medley, a negro hostler, is at the Emergency Hospital in a serious condition from wounds inflicted by a drunken baboon, which sprang upon him and bit his teeth in his left leg and thigh.

The baboon, known as "Johnny," has for nine years occupied a stall in a livery stable in the downtown district. It jumped on Medley in the dark and bit him ferociously before either employees with pitchforks and clubs could drive the animal off. The physicians fear blood-poisoning will set in.

The baboon had previously attacked another man, but his owner says it is vicious only after it has been drinking whiskey, which the stablemen frequently give it.

To Humane Society holds that the baboon has been subjected to cruelty in being made drunk and also in being teased, but is in doubt whether it can be regarded as a domestic animal.

BATHURST.

BATHURST, Friday.—Quite a disturbance was caused last evening, just as people were returning home from the opera house by a number of boys tormenting a squaw who had been indulging in fire water.

The heavy fall of rain last night and this morning should make many glad hearts, by filling a long felt need.

A large audience greeted the Toy makers at the opera house last evening.

The peddling of game licences on the train has become quite a common affair this season. It seems hardly a square deal to the hunting district sportsmen going to that district can procure their licences elsewhere.

Three sportsmen arrived here yesterday morning, each provided with a licence. This amount of $150 will be placed to the credit of the district sportsmen going to that district can procure their licences elsewhere.

Yesterday morning, Michael Lavigne, who is employed by Mr. P. J. Burns, was meddling with powder, when it exploded, doing great injury to the boy's face. At first it was feared that the eyesight would be ruined, but hopes are now held out that this will be averted.

We wish to correct an error which has been made through some of the papers. Ellie Albert, who is under arrest at Rimouski is not the man who ran a hotel at Caracquet or Shicla. He is also unmarried, but does belong to Caracquet.

BOOT AND SHOE WORKERS WILL FORM A UNION

FREDERICTON, Thursday.—At a meeting last evening it was decided to form a boot and shoe workers' union in this city among the employees of the Hartt Boot and Shoe Co., and at a future date unions among the boot and shoe makers of this city will also likely be formed. An endeavor will be made to have the Hartt Company adopt the union label for their shoes.

At last, the shoe workers have discovered the difference. The glories of a stylish man are shaped to him, while a stylish woman is shaped to her clothes.

INCREASED AMOUNT OF MAIL FROM GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, Friday.—An unprecedented flood of letters addressed to points in the United States poured into the post offices throughout Great Britain and Ireland yesterday and today as the result of the inauguration of the penny postage system between King Edward's Dominion and the land of Uncle Sam. Post office officials declare that never before have they been called upon to handle so much American mail, and it seems that every Englishman and Irishman who has relatives across the sea has taken advantage of the 5d. rate of postage to post 100 or more letters.

Go to the blood, if you are to drive out Rheumatism. A Wisconsin physician, Dr. Shoop, does this with his Rheumatic Remedy and with seeming success. Rubens, says the doctor, never did cure Rheumatism. It is more than skin deep—it is constitutional, always. Because of this principle, Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy is perhaps the most popular in existence. It goes by word of mouth from one to another, everywhere. Grateful patients gladly spread the word of a way to health. Tell some sick one. Sold by all dealers.

FIVE MILLION DOOMED

WASHINGTON, Wednesday.—That 5,000,000 people now living in the United States are doomed to fill consumptive graves unless something is done to prevent it, was the startling declaration of Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale University, in an address on "The Cost of Tuberculosis," before the International Congress on Tuberculosis today.

Prof. Fisher's address, which was the feature of the day, created a sensation among the hundreds who listened to his statements.

Prof. Fisher further declared that the 150,000 persons who die of consumption annually in this country, in hard cash, over one billion dollars a year.

Oct. 11th, 1908.
God's Promise to David.—1 Chron. xvii.

Golden Text.—There hath not failed one word of all his good promise. 1 Kings viii:35.

Verses 1-2.—Should we be as careful for the condition of God's House as we are for our own?

Should God's House be as good or better than the average home of the people?

Verses 3-4.—Why did the Lord speak to Nathan to give his message to David and not to David direct?

Give your conception of how God spoke to Nathan. Did He use actual words with sounds which struck the outward ear, or did He use words of any sort?

If a message from God for B, how may B know that the message is from God?

Why would God not permit David to build him a house?

Verses 5-6.—What sort of a place of worship did the Israelites have up to this time?

So far as God is concerned, and other things being equal, is a tent, or a concert hall, or the open air, just as sacred a place for a devout people to worship God in, as a church formally built and dedicated for that purpose?

Verses 7-8.—Is a babe born in a humble cottage just as sacred to God as one born in a palace? Is a blacksmith, or machinist, or farmer, or a daily laborer personally just as dear to the heart of God as one who is rich and in an exalted position?

Are the chief positions in the country to-day held by those of exalted birth and training, or by men who have come up from the ranks?

To what extent is success, or a prominent position due to God's appointment and to our own efforts? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verses 9-10.—To what general cause was the wanderings of Israel, and the "wasting" of their enemies in the future?

Stomach troubles would more quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause, rather than the effect, would come into practice. A tiny, inside, hidden nerve, says Dr. Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch also goes to the heart, and on to the kidneys. When these "inside nerves" fail, then the organs must suffer. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to these failing nerves. Within 18 hours after starting the Restorative treatment patients say they realize a gain. Sold by all dealers.

IN MAINE.

KINE, Me., Thursday.—The deer-hunting season swung wide open at daylight this morning, and half a hundred hunters in this vicinity were on the lookout for venison until dusk fell.

The sharp report of smokeless powder in singles, doubles and triples woke the echoes at frequent intervals during the day and numerous kills are reported this morning.

What was the general cause of our troubles, and why does God permit them?

Verses 11-15.—Does God know the time when we shall "go to be with our fathers," or is that a matter contingent upon our own actions?

Where are our fathers who have passed away?

Does the future of our sons depend most upon us, upon them, or upon the appointment of God?

Were these promises of God to David, concerning his son Solomon, absolute and unconditional, or were they contingent upon the actions of Solomon?

What is a vision, and to what extent are visions possible to a true Christian to-day?

Verses 16-17.—Where is God, and how may we "sit before him?"

Is it right for us to realize our littleness, and to declare it when we pray? Verses 17-18.—Does God regard us as "children of the dust" and "worms," or as his own sons and daughters; so to speak, "bone of his bone, and flesh of his flesh?"

Is God interested in our "house" and its welfare, as a loving father is in the welfare of his only son?

To what extent does God guarantee our future earthly welfare?

Verses 19-20.—What is the dominant note and thought and prayer of every real Christian?

What have we as the recorded experiences of the good men of the past have had with God?

Verses 21-22.—To what extent was David right in thinking that God had favored Israel more than he had any other nation?

What is real patriotism?

Is it necessary, or wise, that we should think more highly of our country than the facts warrant, in order to true patriotism?

Verses 23-24.—Should our prayers be taken up so much with our own personal matters, as this prayer of David appears to be?

Verses 25-26.—When God blesses our home, need we fear any evil? Lesson for Sunday Oct. 18th, 1908. David's Kindness to Jonathan's son.—1 Sam. ix.

TWO WIDOWS TURN UP TO CLAIM HIS INSURANCE.

NEW YORK, Wednesday.—Two widows were claimants yesterday before Vice Chancellor Howell, in New York, N. Y., for recognition as beneficiaries on an insurance policy of $1,000 issued on the life of Hugh E. Morris, of Easton, Pa., who was killed on the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

Morris directed that the $1,000 be paid to "Carrie V. Morris, wife of the insured." It transpired after his death that while he lived since 1904 with a woman who was known as Mrs. Carrie V. Morris, she was not his legal wife. The law stepped up in the person of Mrs. Morris, who had been married to him for seven years.

WILD TALES OF ADVENTURE.

Told By O. W. Grimsley of Denver. The Viceroy Cow-Boy.

HIS RECORD.

Will Compete in The Great Trans-Continent Struggle for Supremacy.

Shot at and struck—menaced by men and beasts—O. W. Grimsley, of Denver, Col., still lives, not only to tell the tale of his adventures, but to enter into the great trans-continent competition, a struggle for supremacy in the saddle and on the trail in which a competitor must show unusual merit if he takes the palm from the intrepid cowpuncher and all-round horse-wrestling expert, who has won all the principal prizes in South America where he rode the worst Brazilian "brokers" and scored the highest rough riding record ever made in that half of the Western Hemisphere.

He's an old time Coloradoan. He has driven cattle from Silver City, N. M., clear into Canada. He has ridden the range for a dozen of the biggest cattle outfits in the west, and has had more hair-raising experiences than usually fall to the lot even of the reckless and adventuresome cowpuncher.

When asked to go into the reminiscences he, of course, "balked." He turned on his heel and said, "Well, I reckon I'd better be a-pulling out," but upon being aggressively urged, he turned his quid of tobacco over twice in his mouth and said: "Watcher wanter now?"

It was easy to tell him His fame always precedes him. "That time with the Indians," was suggested.

"Oh! that was up in Wyoming," he said, indifferently, "somewhere along about 1892—up in the Big Horn basin. Me and two other fellows—Bill Dillin and Charlie Bernard—was a-drivin' a circuit. We was a-gettin' ready for a round-up. Along about night six Crow Indians run into us. We thought at first they wanted our ponies, and we went after 'em for keeps. They didn't do us much damage. They tried on us and we just dropped everything and went after them.

"We killed two, and the rest got away. None of us got much hurt. I got shot in the left arm, but that didn't count. It was only a flesh wound, and I could see myself in a week as well as ever I could skeered? Well, I reckon I was, but I didn't know about it till afterward. I did happen to think about it that night when I crawled into my blankets. Thought about my mother, you know, down in Tennessee, where I was born—just like a young feller will, you know, and it seemed to me that I was kind of glad that runny-gade rascal picked out my arm to shoot at instead of my head."

That's the way he talked right along—just as unconcernedly; it was really wonderful. Didn't seem to count the hot times he had been through, and actually looked and acted like a fellow who'd like more of them.

"Did I tell you the row we had when the Reds were in the Metetee Creek? Well, that's where it was. We had a camp a little lower down and when we got there and the other boys were all on their muscle gettin' ready to come to our rescue. But shucks! We don't need no rescue—we rescued ourselves."

It was a while and a long while, before Grimsley would tell any more of his adventures. He wanted to tell funny stories, and he had picked up a good many of them in his travels. He has friends from Patagonia to Canada, and interesting tales to tell of them. It was only after more persuasion—some of it decidedly urgent—that he told about the tight place he got in when he was "held up."

"Wasn't expecting nothin'," said Grimsley; "not a thing. It was in the spring of '93. We were going to give a Wild West show at Buenos Ayres, and, say, we had them people right. They knowed we was a-givin' 'em the real stuff and they had some good vaqueros of their own, but they could see by our play that we had 'em skinned. We done a good business the first day, and the second day was a regular hoo-rah. We took in more'n 8,000 doby dollars, and that's about 4,000 of our own."

"Some of the bad ones was on, and that night about two o'clock when we was all a-layin' sound asleep, one of us heard somethin', and it didn't take long for us all to be on our feet. We didn't even have no tent. The horses was put away in sheds, and we throwed down our tarpaulins and blankets any place."

"There was six on a side, but we had no show. We had to put our hands or feel the lead gawling into our vitles—as they call it. Well, we comes our hands—but they was foot, them fellers. We didn't have no money with us. It was all stacked away right, but we had fine saddles, and they made after them. Mine was a jandy, and silver mounted—cost $120 American money—all covered with silver finishin's you know. The other Wink—He didn't use to dodge his rich relatives, but now he does. Blink—Does, eh? And as poor as he is.

Wink—Sure. All his rich relatives have bought automobiles.

Dick—I thought myself witty, but those college girls don't seem a bit interested in bonnets.

Edna—No, they are more interested in bonbons.

Tom—Yes, I am going to propose to that handsome brunette tonight. She is my only opportunity.

Dick—Then be careful, old man, and don't let your opportunity slip.

Him—They say Miss Flirtleigh was the most popular young girl at the seashore this summer.

Her—Your grammar is bad.

Him—I beg pardon.

Her—You shouldn't use the plural in quoting what Miss Flirtleigh says.

Much happiness is due to ability to forget unpleasant things.

Any boy in town will bet you that when the rain does come, it will arrive on a Saturday.

So Battling Nelson is going to write a book? Well, Mr. Gans, we wish you had hit him just a wee bit harder.

Snow in Alberta, rain in Manitoba and 80 degrees of heat in Toronto. That tells something of the distribution of weather over a large portion of Canada last week.

The Dublin, Ireland, city council has decided that all its public notices should be printed in Irish as well as in English, and that all its official publications be bi-lingual.

A minister in Taylorstown, Pa., attacked powder puffs and their uses. His congregation forced him to resign. This is the first intimation we have had of the explosive force of face powder.

The text of Mr. J. M. Barrie's latest play is that woman was made, not of Adam's rib, but of his funny bone. This is, no doubt, what enables her to make such a fool of him.

boys was fixed the same, but we was took by surprise. Well, they took four of us prisoners and left two of us in the hands of a black faced native, who kept his two guns and his two eyes on us all the time.

"There wasn't no use. We had to keep our hands up if we wanted to live, and that's what we wanted. But Jake Scribner took a dodge on 'em and come back. They took two shots at him, but he was quicker'n a flash and 'dropped dead' as he was used to doin' and we had time to git our guns a-workin'. That settled it. We downed one of them fellers so as he wouldn't git up no more and the others we made shell out all they had took from us, includin' two of as fine saddles as you ever laid eyes on. We turned the whole bunch over to the police, and I was glad of it, for we had no further use for 'em."

There were more stories of an irascible sort, Grimsley delighting in telling them, and then one of the boys said:

"Grimsley, why don't you tell about that time when the Injun stampeded the cattle?"

Grimsley waited a bit and chewed his tobacco cud a while. "Well, I will say," said he, "that I never had a sudden sneer than that, although it was not no stampede at all. The red feller tried it, but they didn't succeed—well, yes they did, too, to a certain extent, but they didn't get away with no cattle."

"It was up pretty near that place where the town of Cody now is—Cody was named after Col. Cody, which everybody calls Buffalo Bill. Anyhow, it was right where the town now is—nothin' there at all then. I was a-workin' for the Pinhook Cattle Company. They went by the name of the brand, you know, and we was on the way to Billings, Mont., and we had about 25,000 head. I reckon it took up pretty near three days to git them cattle all together agin, but we done it and pulled them through proper. It was the Crows and Snowshoes that done this, and we knew it, but we got even ith 'em afterward. I'll tell you about it some time."

There was more general talk, and after a while Grimsley volunteered some reminiscences without having to be urged.

"Once up in Routt County, in 1892, when I was out bear hunting, I run across one I wasn't looking for. I was riding along in some new growth pine trees. They weren't as high as my head, and there was a lot of thick cedars among them too. I was separated from the crowd, and all by myself. Pretty soon I heard something go 'Ay-oo-oh!' hi hi! I looked around and the biggest cinnamon I ever saw was springing at my horse. I turned the horse's head, spurred him suddenly and we both went over an embankment some ten feet high. We landed in fair shape, neither of us much hurt and both in good shape to travel, or I reckon I wouldn't be here telling about it or getting ready to make a try in that endurance ride."—Denver Post.

As showing how effective a weapon publicity is, Hearst's exposure of Senator Foraker's relations with Standard Oil has become in a day or two the talk of the whole United States. President Roosevelt has deemed it necessary to issue a statement repudiating Foraker as the arch enemy of reform and quoting from a letter written by Taft a year ago in which Taft said that he would not accept the nomination of his party in acceptance involved making his peace with Foraker.

Mrs. Hillier, of Southdale Road, Watertree, Liverpool, England, is in the town for several weeks. Mrs. Hillier is a member of the independent labor party, the leading socialist party of Great Britain, and an active suffragette. PAINTING a roof is work.
Buying the paint is expense. Both are needless if your roof is Amatile.

When you finish laying Amatile, take away your ladder, pick up your hammer and knife, go away and leave the roof to take care of itself. A few years later you may go back and look at it if you care to, but it won't be necessary, and there won't be anything to do.

This is due to the fact that Amatile has a real mineral surface—a surface that is too strong to need protection—too durable to require painting.

If you buy one of the smooth surfaced roofings you will have to paint it every two or three years to keep it from leaking. In fact, such roofs depend on the paint almost entirely for their waterproofing qualities.

Amatile on the other hand depends for its waterproofing upon double layers of Coal Tar Pitch—the greatest known enemy to water.

Amatile comes in rolls of 120 square feet ready to lay. No special tools are required, and anyone can lay it properly.

A Sample of Amatile will be forwarded free on request. Send for it and see how much better it is than the kind which requires painting to keep tight.

The most powerful healer in the world is Zam-Buk, and we offer you a free trial box. Zam-Buk combines the knowledge of the ancients with the science of the moderns. The charioters, gladiators, and wrestlers of ancient Greece seldom emerged from their contests without some gaping wound or severe laceration, and to anoint their injuries with secret balms was part of the day's program. In Zam-Buk you have the modern representative of these ancient healers. Ordinary ointments contain mostly rancid animal fat or poisonous mineral substances. Leave the lid off these ointments for a few days and note the result. Zam-Buk, on the contrary, is absolutely free from any trace of animal fat or mineral poison. It is made from purely herbal essences, is so concentrated and purified that it is suitable for the delicate skin of children, and yet so powerful as to be equal to the most stubborn sore, ulcer, or chronic wound. Zam-Buk never goes rancid. It always keeps clean, fresh, and sweet.

Nature has given man the instinct to rub a place that hurts. She has also given him Zam-Buk. Nature's own herbal healer, with which to rub, a cut, a sore, a poisoned wound, a patch of eczema, and at once the healing process begins. It prevents suppuration, blood poisoning, etc. It draws out inflammation, ends pain and smarting, and heals. The best test is a personal test. Send in for a free box and let Zam-Buk prove its own case. See coupon below.

POISONED WOUND COMPLETELY HEALED!

MR. WILLIAM MUMFORD of 12 Louise Street, Stratford, writes: "While walking about in a park I trod on a rusty nail, which penetrated the flesh deeply, leaving a ugly wound. I bathed this foot in a shocking condition, very much inflamed and swollen, and I suffered acute pain. I had to lay off work, as I could not bear to put my foot on the ground. I feared blood-poisoning. For six days I suffered intense pain. Just at this time a friend brought me some Zam-Buk, and after using it a few days my foot was wonderfully improved. I persevered with Zam-Buk, and it soon worked a complete cure. It is a wonderful balm."

Zam-Buk heals sores, eczema, skin eruptions, ulcers, ringworm, itch, barber's rash, blood poison, bad leg, salt rheum, abrasions, abscesses, cuts, burns, scalds, and all skin injuries and diseases. Of all stores and druggists, 50c box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

A LETTER FROM GLOUCESTER.

Strongest Political Opponent of O. Turgeon, M. P., Has no Chance in That County.

WHAT TURGEON HAS DONE

Conservative Convention Largely Composed of Provincial Office Holders.

The strongest political opponent of Mr. O. Turgeon our federal candidate, has absolutely no show of election in this county. Apart from the popularity of the Liberal government and consideration of the immense progress its policy has brought to the Dominion in general the great efforts put forth by Mr. Turgeon to meet the growing needs of his large constituency have placed him beyond the possibility of defeat. Pre-election boasting does not carry much weight in these days of political enlightenment, but it is no boast to say that his majority will be nothing less than 800 votes and it would be no surprise to see it jump to 1000.

When one calmly views the situation and sees all that has been done for this county such as the construction of new wharves, breakwaters, new light-houses, etc. is to be wondered at that Mr. Turgeon's friends are so sanguine of success.

The completion of the great wharf at Petit Pocher and its connection with the I. C. R. will open up a new avenue of traffic for that flourishing district. It will also open a new avenue to the shipping of lumber from Lacquet River, Charle, Camp, and Dalhousie. Shipments can be made here by water four weeks later in the fall and three weeks earlier in the spring than from any port on the North Shore.

Besides this great advantage to outside trade, there is the assurance of a rapid development of local trade and a revival of the fishing industry. The people of this section of our County have for years been suffering for the want of such a wharf.

The addition to the wharf at Stonehaven, rendered necessary by the increasing trade of that locality, notwithstanding its condemnation in parliament by Mr. Crockett, M. P. for York, is a much needed and much appreciated piece of work, and there is no doubt that the sturdy and honest citizens of Stonehaven will give a decisive answer to the slanders, touching this work written to Mr. Crockett, by one of the candidates in the last provincial elections who lost his deposit, and who is now one of the Conservative organizers of this county.

The additions to the Grand Anse breakwater, the Caraque wharf, the Lamèque wharf, the Miscou wharf, all rendered necessary to meet the ever growing needs of these go-ahead and enterprising places, are strong proofs of the indefatigable energy and zeal of Mr. Turgeon.

The dredging of the Caraque hartion works at the entrance of Tracadie harbor, point to what is in store for these places in the near future.

The improvements in the different harbors in the way of additional buoys and light houses and especially the addition of gas-buoys to enable our numerous fishermen to reach a safe refuge at night has made of Mr. Turgeon the Napoleon of the seagoing class of our electors.

The strenuous efforts put forth by Mr. Turgeon to encourage the development of our iron deposits have had for result the purchase of these properties by a rich syndicate and have insured the construction of the iron works in Bathurst. Through his efforts a line of railway was surveyed from the mines at Grand Falls to within a mile of the Town of Bathurst, and the government has consented to the construction of the railway to connect the mines with the I. C. R. In order to induce the Drummonds to establish their works in the town of Bathurst Mr. Turgeon has made the necessary arrangements for the deepening of the Bathurst Harbor, at a cost that will mean thousands of dollars. As soon as the Drummond people will make known the site of their smelting works in the town or its vicinity the federal government will be prepared to put a dredge to work. In conversation, the other day, with a representative of the Drummond Company, he told your correspondent that judging from the encouragement given and the work already done by Mr. Turgeon towards the development of these iron deposits he was convinced that his people could rely with confidence on Mr. Turgeon's future efforts in that direction. The establishment of the iron ture of from $300,000 to $400,000 by the government for the permanent improvement of our harbor. This is now being arranged for by our federal representative. In the view, therefore, of the immense benefit such improvements mean to the commercial welfare of our town, would it not be the proper time for our business men to work hand and hand with Mr. Turgeon and thus give new impetus to the great work he is now undertaking in the interests of our little town.

In reading an account of the Conservative convention held in Caraque on the 23rd of September, I was some what struck by the attempted show at enthusiasm and the expressed hope for success. To the outsider, not familiar with political events and the political situation in this county, it might appear that the Conservatives really did have some show of success in the coming election, but to those living here, such attempts are only laughed at. Had the majority of the delegates to the convention consisted of the sturdy rank and file of the Conservatives, one would with some resemblance of truth say that such a convention augured well for success in the pending election, but when one considers the large number of provincial office holders whipped into line as delegates by the dispensers of local government patronage, it must be plain to every right-thinking man, irrespective of politics, that the enthusiasm displayed was a forced one and held no hope of future success.

Among those present at the convention were N. A. Landry, law clerk of the Local Legislature, and Judge of Probate James J. Melanson, Police Magistrate John J. Harrington, Clerk of the Circuit court; George Gilbert, Chairman of the Board of License Commissioners; Dr. J. C. Meahan, Chairman of the Board of Health; J. B. Hachey, revisor of the electoral lists; L. A. Palmer, government vendor of school books; Michael Power, government lumber scaler; Theophile Blanchard, inspector of liquor licenses; James Morrison, sub-inspector of liquor licenses; Chas. M. Doucet, L. Doucet, road superintendents and many others that I could name. Should not such an array of government officials, having at their head as chief marshal of the parade, the High Sheriff of the County, make Mr. Hazen feel uneasy for the principle laid down by him last winter that no official under his government should mix in politics. Oh, but the above is a beautiful array of conservative strength. How Mr. Turgeon must tremble when he looks over such a list.

IN THE KITCHEN.

HOW TO CLEAN TINWARE.—Stains and discolorations on tinware can be removed by dipping a damp cloth in common soda and rubbing briskly. Then wash thoroughly and wipe dry.

PREVENT BOWDS FROM SPLITTING.—If the wooden chopping bowl is stood upside down when not in use there will be no danger of it splitting.

TO FRESHEN HARD LEMONS.—Lemons that have become hard from long standing, can be made usable by covering them with boiling water for a few minutes.

Stub—All the world likes to see a man marry and settle down.

Penn—Except in the case of foreign noblemen. Then their creditors like to see them marry rich American girls and settle up.

TESTED RECEIPTS.

PRUNE SOUFFLE.—Soak half a pound of prunes over night. On the morning drain them well, remove the stones, and mince the prunes finely. Whip the whites of seven eggs to a standing foam. Beat in quickly six spoonfuls of powdered sugar; whip the minced prunes into this meringue; turn into a buttered pudding dish and bake in a hot oven. Twenty minutes should send it to table hot and high—a dream of lightness and deliciousness. Serve whipped cream as sauce.

COTTAGE CHEESE.—Cottage cheese is best made in a porcelain vessel. Cook slowly, drain in cheesecloth bag pinned to a clothes line with clothes pin. Never squeeze bag, as this hardens cheese. Place in cool place and when ready to serve season with salt, pepper and cream. Do not spoil a delicious dish by concocting it into a fancy salad.

BEEF LOAF.—Use two pounds chopped beef, one cup rolled crackers, three eggs, well beaten, two table-spoons butter, one table-spoon salt, a little pepper, and one cup creamy milk. Mix in a smooth loaf; put in a deep pan and bake in oven for one hour.

FRENCH PAN CAKES.—Beat together six eggs and a half pound of flour. Melt four ounces of butter and add to the batter, with one ounce of sugar and a half pint of milk. Put a spoonful at a time into buttered frying pans and spread evenly on the surface.

INDIAN PAN CAKES.—Take a pint of cornmeal, a teaspoonful of salt, one of soda, pour on boiling water to make a thick mush; let stand until cool; add the yolks of four eggs, half a cupful of flour and stir in as much buttermilk as will make a good batter. Beat the whites of the eggs and stir them in. Bake in a well-greased skillet.

CRUSHED WHEAT GRIDDLE CAKES.—One teaspoonful of cracked wheat, two pints of flour, two teaspoonfuls of white sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt, two of baking powder, one egg and one pint of milk. Boil the wheat in a half pint of water one hour before mixing it. Bake brown.

RICE GRIDDLE CAKES.—Two cupfuls of cold boiled rice, one pint of flour, one table-spoonful sugar, half teaspoonful salt, two of baking powder, one egg and a half pint of milk. Bake to a dark brown and serve with honey.

PLAIN WAFFLES.—Take a cake of any good yeast and make a sponge in the evening in the usual way. Next morning add two or three eggs, according to how many you have, one will do if the supply is small. This sponge with milk, add a little sugar and they are ready to bake.

CANDIED PICKLES.—Get a half dozen jumbo pickles from your grocer, slice them thin, (either long or round). Put a layer of brown sugar, pickles, cinnamon, celery seed, and cloves in a crock. Cover this with another layer, and so on until you have used all the pickles. Let stand a day or two in a warm place before eating. The juice that is left is fine for mince-meat.

SOFT BOILED EGGS.—To boil an egg properly, drop it in boiling water, cover, take from stove and let stand five minutes without cooking. In using this method the white is congealed, yet soft and tender, and is easily digested, instead of being tough and indigestible as is often the case when an egg is boiled. Five minutes is the length of time to make an egg medium.

CHEESE CUSTARDS.—Butter some small cups thoroughly, and cut some thin slices of bread and butter into dice, arranging them round the sides of the cups, scatter grated cheese over all. Make a custard with the yolk of two eggs and three-fourths of a pint of milk and the whites of two eggs beaten stiff; fill the cups and bake in a slow oven till firm. Garnish with chopped parsley.

BUTTER ON TOMATOES.—A tablespoonful of sweet butter melted and poured over the tomatoes while boiling hot, just before sealing the can, gives the tomatoes a fine flavor and helps to preserve them. An excellent preventative against scarlet fever or diphtheria in their season is to give a child a small pinch of sulphur every night and morning.

Egg shampoo is well enough, but it is said to make the hair dry. Nothing is better than soap and water, provided the soap is a good sort and especially made for the purpose.

BREAD GRIDDLE CAKES.—Put half a pound of bread free from crust in warm water to soak. Beat one egg, half a pint of milk, and a table-spoonful of brown sugar mixed together, add a scant teaspoonful of salt and two of baking powder. Drain the soaked bread dry and mix in the milk. Thicken with one pint of flour and beat to a smooth batter. Bake on a hot griddle. Sprinkle with powdered sugar.

HOUSE WORK

Thousands of American women in our homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty.

In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo. A female weakness or displacement is often brought on and they suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden. It is to these faithful women that comes as a boon and a blessing, as it did to Mrs. W. Barrett, of 602 Moreau St., Montreal, who writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

"For years I was a great sufferer from female weakness, and despite every remedy given me by doctors for this trouble, I grew worse."

"One day a friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and am thankful to say that it made me strong and well."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ailments and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, nervous prostration. ## Stanfield's Underwear

(Chapter 3)

When wool reaches the Stanfield mills from farmers, who have sent us their best wool for years, it is thoroughly washed. Then it is rendered absolutely unshrinkable.

Combing the Wool

Then it is COMBED. This process consists in passing the wool through a machine that combs out all the short lengths, weak threads and snarled strands of wool—something like one combs the hair.

After the wool has been combed, all the fibres are the same length and strength. The Stanfield Combing Machines are mighty particular, too. They comb only WOOL—and they comb out everything but the longest, strongest strands.

Most Underwear is made of CARDED wool. Now, carding consists in tearing the fibres into short lengths. Mills, using carding machines, put the whole wool through—short wool, weak fibres, even cotton and shoddy—the carding machines make no distinctions.

The "cream" of the best wool—rendered absolutely unshrinkable by the Stanfield process instead of being "eaten" with lime—combed instead of carded—knitted with a lock stitch—that prevents raveling—is it any wonder that Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear wears so well, and is so thoroughly satisfactory?

All sizes from 22 to 70 inch chest measure. 3 weights—RED label for light weight—BLUE label for medium—BLACK label for heavy weight.

Your dealer has all sizes and weights, or can easily get them for you.
