THE LEGISLATURE OPENS NEXT WEEK

The Member for Gloucester
Mr. J. B. Hachey to Second the Address

Fredericton, Feb. 6.—The completion of arrangements for the opening of the first session of the new provincial Legislature is one of the matters to which Premier Flemming
and the members of the government are giving their attention to-day.

The session opens Thursday, February 13th, and already the preparations of the legislative programme of the government is well under way, so that the business of the House will be able to go along without delay from the start. Indications now point to a session of five weeks.

This morning announcement was made by the Premier that the address in reply to the speech from the throne would be moved by Mr. L.
P. E. Tilley of St. John City, and seconded by Mr. J. B. Hachey of Gloucester.

The military orders call for the 19th Field Battery of Moncton to furnish the detachment to fire the salute of fifteen guns upon the arrival of Lieutenant Governor Wood at the Parliament Buildings. The guns with which the salute will be fired will be 4-12 pounders, and they will be brought from the advance stores,
St. John.

The Guard of Honor will be composed of H Company, Royal Canadian Regiment, and the company and regimental band from the 71st York Regiment.

The members of the new House will be sworn in on the morning of the opening of the session by the Judge of the Supreme Court. Chief Justice Barker will be out of the province at that time, and another judge will be named to perform the duty.

J. B. Hachey M. P. P. of Bathurst is one of the youngest and most popular members of the Local government and many friends at the North Shore will congratulate him at this deserved honor.

THE DEATH OF AN AGED RESIDENTER

We record the death of Benjamin Goodwin, one of Campbellton's oldest inhabitants who passed away
last Saturday at the age of 83.
Deceased had been in failing health for some time sustained a shock of paralysis some little time ago from which he never rallied.
The funeral was held on Monday
at the Rural cemetery.

Benjamin Goodwin was born in Oldham, Eng., in 1830 and came to this province in 1862. He was employed as a fireman on an engine engaged in this construction work of the old "Windsor Branch" line between Halifax and the town Windsor. About the year 1867, the old Windsor and Annapolis road (now the Dominion Atlantic) was under construction and Mr. Goodwin was for some time employed on it as the engineer of the "Joe Howe," an old wood-burning locomotive which has since become famous in story
throughout the Annapolis Valley.

When the construction of the North Shore branch of the I. C. R.
was commenced, about 1872, Mr.
Goodwin came to New Brunswick and took charge of an engine engaged in the ballasting of the new line. When the road was finally opened for traffic he was retained as one of regular engineers. He retired from the road service many years ago and was for a time employed as a fish engine on one of the switch engines in the Campbellton yard. In 1887 he retired from the service of the Intercolonial and settled down in Campbellton.

From the time of his retirement until the great fire which swept the town a few years ago, he lived with Mr. Daniel O'Keefe, at the Intercolonial House in Campbellton.
Since then he has been living with friends near Campbellton. He was well known to the employees of the road throughout the Maritime Provinces, and news of his death will be received with regret by hundreds of friends all over the I. C.
R. system.

NEW BRUNSWICK GETS A SET BACK

Member for Gloucester Scores
Navy Minister For Cancelling Ship Building Contract

In the debate on the Naval bill
now before the House of Commons
Mr. O. Ferguson in his speech last Friday spoke strongly on the action of Hon. J. D. Hazen when he declined St. John of the proposed ship building works. He said:

"When I saw my hon. friend assuming the position of Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and of the Naval Service I hoped that it meant the beginning of the construction of ships in this country and that necessarily in the hands of his leader,
I would have ships built out of our own material, by our own labour and by the industry and skill of our own people. I felt certain that when he assumed the portfolio of the Naval Service, he would be ready and willing to put into effect the policy which he had inherited from his predecessors in office and sign the contract for the building of the ships in Canada, which would have conferred untold benefits on his native city of St. John, on the province of New Brunswick, and on the Maritime provinces generally. I felt that under the influence of the hon.
gentleman there would be started in the province of New Brunswick, shipyards for the building of ships of war in the first place and for the building of ships of commerce later-on. If any man more than another has been disappointed by the conduct of my good friend the Minister of Marine, it is the member for Gloucester. No one knows better than the Minister of Marine: that we have in the province of New Brunswick vast deposits of coal and iron ore which could have been turned into steel for the building of ships, and that we have harbours open all the year round which could have accommodated the shipyards.
No man knew better than the Minister of Marine the wealth of the natural resources of New Brunswick in this respect, because, as Premier of that province, gave his generous and patriotic co-operation for the development of the iron mines on the North shore. We have enough iron ore there to supply even the vast demands of Great Britain for generations. As everybody knows Canada has to keep going because every time we make a halt
we go backward instead of going forward, and one way to keep going is to establish a ship-building industry in this country. Our iron and our coal deposits lie side by side, and on the Nipisiquit river
we have splendid water powers
almost traversing the mountains of iron, and here the electric furnaces could have been started immediately, if the Government had only decided to build the ships in St. John. Meanwhile that iron ore has to be shipped to American markets for want of a market at home. I cannot understand how my good friend, immediately after he took office, by a stroke of his pen cancelled a contract which would have made for the immediate prosperity of his own constituency and conferred lasting benefits on his native province. I believe there must have been a secret power that directed his hand to cancel that contract, and that power must have been the power of the Quebec Nationalists
in the Cabinet with him.

AMERICAN COMPANY WITH LARGE CAPITAL TO ENTER QUEBEC FORESTS

Direct Result of Premier Gouin's Act in Raising Embargo
Upon Export of Pulpwood Cut on Crown Lands—
Statement by Mr. J. Hall Kelly

Recently Mr. John Hall Kelly, M. L. A., for Bonaventure, acting on behalf of the St. Lawrence Pulp and Lumber Corporation, a company formed under the laws of the State of New York, filed with the Secretary of the Province the documents in order to authorize the company to do business in this province. The authorized capital is four millions, paid up, two millions of which will be immediately invested in the Province in pulp and paper mills and in the lumber business. For the requirements of the Quebec Joint Stock Company Act, the head office of the new company will be at New Carlisle Co., Bonaventure, with the Mr. Kelly as the Canadian legal representative.

The new company has also filed with the Crown Lands Department a transfer of the Grand Pabos Lumber Company limits to the St. Lawrence Pulp and Lumber Corporation. These limits were formerly owned by the King Brothers, and are situated in the Gaspé Peninsula. The new company has taken over all the holdings, mills, etc. of the Grand Pabos Company, and while the titles of record do not disclose the purchase price, it is understood that the valuation of the properties is over one million of dollars. The sellers were represented by their Atty., Mr. Kelly, and the buyers by the firm of Tarchereau, Roy, Cannon Parent and Fitzpatrick.

Interviewed, Mr. Kelly stated that he was not in a position to divulge what his clients' plans were for the development of their properties and the location of their pulp and paper mills, but he stated that the engineers were now at work, and that work would commence in the Spring. Asked as to what effect the recent Order in Council, passed by the Quebec Government, allowing for pulp wood in the raw state, would have upon the pulp and paper business, Mr. Kelly said:

"The policy of the Gouin Government, as enacted a few years ago, was to bring the pulp and paper mills to the Province of Quebec, and in order to bring about that result, Sir Lomer's Government was prepared to offer all possible inducements. This recent Order-in-Council, whereby four large paper mills are relieved from the obligation to manufacture their pulp wood in this province and are allowed to ship it into the United States in the raw state, can be interpreted in one or two ways:

"(1) As a backdown from his old policy, or (2) as another proof of his determination to persist in his policy and to encourage the paper mills to come to Canada. Anyone who has followed his public utterances during the past few years, knows when he says a thing he means it, and, as he has stated that his policy is to prevent the export of pulp wood in the raw state, and to encourage the pulp to come to Canada, we can rest assured that the recent order-in-Council is only the reaffirmation of his cherished policy.

"But if that is so, why has he passed an Order-in-Council, allowing these four companies to export their pulp wood in the raw state?

"Here is the position. The United States tariff law provides that if any country passes laws or regulations whereby that country prevents the export of pulp wood in the raw state from any of its lands, then the United States retaliates by saying: Very well; keep your pulp wood, but if you manufacture it into paper before you will bring your manufactured article into the United States, you will pay five dollars and sixty-six cents a ton on your paper."

"Now, by passing the Order-in-Council whereby the four paper mills in the province are no longer subject to the prohibition, not to export their wood, the government has placed these companies in the position that they can go to the United States Customs and show that their manufactured papers does not come from land on which any restriction exists, and they will thus save the Custom duty of $5.66 per ton on their paper, which is a very great consideration, and a great encouragement to the paper industry in this province."

Asked if he thought these companies would now ship their wood in the raw state, Mr. Kelly replied:

"No; first of all because it would not pay them to do so, now that they have their paper mills built here and can thus save the United States Customs duty; secondly, because these men know the value of their standing lumber and did not ship it in the raw state when they had the right to do so; that is to say, before the Order-in-Council, prohibiting the export was enacted; and thirdly because the government, having passed the recent Order-in-Council in order to help these companies to avoid the United States Customs, and not with the object of allowing them to export the raw material, would certainly resent any move whereby its policy to prevent the export of the raw material would immediately repeal the concession in the case of the offending company.

WANT PROVINCIAL PROHIBITION

During the coming session of the Provincial Legislature the question of prohibition is likely to come before that body.

The N. B. Branch of the Dominion Alliance is calling a convention to be held in Fredericton during the session, which will wait upon the government and the Provincial Legislature and present a request for the enactment of a provincial prohibitory liquor law.

erial, would certainly resent any move whereby its policy to prevent the export of the raw material would immediately repeal the concession in the case of the offending company.

"That is why the Order-in-Council relates to specified companies, not to all companies generally. As it is, they can reach any special company by a mere Order-in-Council, which they could not do if the law was one in general terms."

Asked if he thought the United States Government would not pass some tariff regulation to check mate Sir Lomer's move, Mr. Kelly said:

"Undoubtedly the paper manufacturers across the line will do all they can in that direction, but on the other hand the newspapers of the United States are all in favor of getting their paper as cheap as possible, and the question is which of the two will win out at Washington. Past experience would seem to indicate that the chances are in favor of the newspapers; the next few days will soon decide between the two."

"Will the Gouin Government grant the same privileges to the other Companies putting up proper mills?" Mr. Kelly was asked. "I understand that such is the policy," he replied, "and Sir Lomer's past record is there to show that what he does for one he will do for all. In fact he informed me this morning that he was delighted to hear of the St. Lawrence Pulp and Lumber Corporation coming to Canada, and that if they put up a paper mill, they would receive the same concession as the four other new companies."

$3,000 PAID FOR SILVER FOX PELT

(New York World)

Some years ago one Lamb (a Canadian farmer of that name, and not a quadruped cherished a hereditary resentment), while seeking some strayed cattle in the woods, found two silver fox pups, a male and a female, in a hollow log. He contrived to carry them home, says a writer in the Strand, and swapped them with a neighbor for a cow and a few dollars to boot. The neighbor experimented for several years with various kinds of pens and treatment, but finally became discouraged and sold the foxes for $80 to another neighbor, who also was no more successful than the late owner.

This second man gave over his experiment to a third man, who lived on an island in Casumpec Bay. The quiet of the place, the increasing tameness of the foxes, and the intelligence of the keeper produced conditions that relieved Mme Reynard's nervous apprehension for her young's safety, and three pups were reared to maturity in two seasons.

This success, the result of eight years' experimentation, gave a strong impulse to a new industry. Farmers have not many new industries to turn to nowadays, and this one began in earnest. About six men possessed a knowledge of the fine art of rearing foxes in captivity, and jealously guarded their secret until 1910. Up to that time no live foxes were sold except some light "silvers" to distant places.

The surplus animals were killed and the pelts marketed in London. One dark silver pelt was sold for $3,000 at a London auction, and in 1910-1911 prices of $2,700 and $2,500 were obtained. Since then as much as $5,500 has been realized, the highest price ever paid for the pelt of any kind of animal.

For a sprain you will find Chamberlain's Liniment excellent. It allays the pain, removes the soreness, and restores the parts to a healthy condition. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers.

WHAT FOR?

In the estimates brought down to the House this week there appears two items of special interest to us in Campbellton. Here they are—

Campbellton—Deep water wharf accommodation, $50,000.
Campbellton—Public building, $1,600.

The first named is well understood, the surveys having been made for this wharf extension a long time ago, but what does the second mean.

Is this sum being set aside to provide us with that long promised illuminated clock with four faces and its accompanying peal of chimes, or is it to pay for the plans of the clock which we understood were being drawn in the old country.

Some one suggested, but we are sure they were joking, that the sum was required to purchase and refit Rainey's Cottage as an asylum for some disappointed office-seekers, but we surely need the clock more than that.

It is a long time since we were told that the government were purchasing four clocks in the old country they being of a special design, and one would be put in our post office right away, and a bell too, to strike the half hours and the quarters which would be very useful in keeping all the mill and factory whistles in line, so that they would all be unanimous in stating it was high noon, but alas up till now it has been Sister Anne, Sister Anne, Do you see any one coming?

However this appropriation of $1,600 has cheered our hearts greatly although we are still a little in suspense as to what it is for.

Just sixteen hundred can any one tell, Is this for our new post office bell.

GOOD ROADS.

The benefit of good highways to the citizen of any community is very well shown in the following extract from the address of Mr. A. J. McPherson, Chairman of the Board of Highway Commissioners of Saskatchewan, given at the Convention of the Canadian Highway Association in Winnipeg.

"A farm adjoining a good road will sell for a higher price and is worth more than one on a poor road. There is a great advantage in having a farm with—in reasonable distance of a railway station. So much so is this the case that the matter of the distance from the railway has a very material effect on the price of land. Anything grown on a farm has little value unless it can be transported to a market, and many homesteaders' lack to the improvement of means of communication to give a value to their homesteads which they have no now. Anything that will facilitate the ready access to market from the farms cannot but add to the value of them. Good roads are as essential to the machinery for doing successful business in the country as the houses, stables and other things which farmers recognize as being absolutely necessary. Much money is wasted in the construction of roads that are not good, and the roads that are good are the greatest dividends."

Many sections at certain times are in such a condition that the people lose their interest in them, and become dissatisfied in a position to carry on their business which the enthusiasm which is so necessary to make a success of it. Bad roads react in this way so as to effect all the departments of life and improving the roads indirectly raises the standard of living all along the line."

TORY DECLARES FOR CANADIAN NAVY

Conservative Member for South York Says Build, Man and Maintain Navy

NO EMERGENCY

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—After being in dry dock for two weeks the Borden naval policy was floated out yesterday into the house of commons for examination. It is just a fortnight since the emergency grant has been pressed upon parliament. Yesterday four men spoke upon it. Three were Liberals and the other an Independent Conservative.

Emanuel Devlin, the first speaker, roared the loyalty that would send empty ships to the empire's battle line.

Dr. Beland, Liberal, declared that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the face of the greatest opposition, had converted the province of Quebec to the support of naval aid.

"It is a permanent policy—the beginning of a permanent policy, a vote of money and a declaration of faith," thus spoke W. F. MacLean, the Conservative member for South York, of the Borden proposals. "We can't withdraw from what we are doing now. What we do in the future must be based on what we are doing now," he continued.

"So we are to continue contribution permanently?" inquired Mr. MacDonald, of Pictou.

"Speak for yourself," responded the South York man.

"I say that the whole thing is converted into a permanent policy. We're in it now to stay. This talk about a temporary measure based on emergency—that have no value. It is part of a permanent policy enabling us to have a say in the affairs of empire."

"Very interesting," commented Mr. McCraney, of Saskatoon. "And very frank," supplement Dr. Michael Clark, of Red Deer.

"The far-reaching resolution of Sir Wilfrid Laurier converts the whole thing into a permanent policy," continued Mr. MacLean while Premier Borden continued to sit silent. "Because it's a permanent policy I'd like to see the two parties run abreast."

"They were abreast in 1909," suggested Mr. Lemieux.

"I'd like to see the development of a Canadian navy later on," persisted Mr. MacLean, "and the creation of a seapower by Canada on this continent and the development of a shipbuilding industry. I'd like to see a declaration on that point."

"Why not ask your government for one," suggested Mr. Pardee.

Mr. MacLean said he believed in a Canadian navy also. Canada could build, man and maintain a navy, and could become one of the greatest shipbuilding countries in the world.

"A Canadian navy is no bugaboo to me," he declared. "I spoke in favor of it in 1909 and I have not changed my mind. I hope that the policy of the government will develop along that line."

He was willing to adopt a policy of conscription if such were necessary.

Mr. MacLean concluded by urging the parties to get together.

Mr. Turgeon, of Gloucester N.B., declared that the Laurier naval policy was the best for the empire, the best for Canada and very much the best for the province of New Brunswick, especially the North Shore and the city of St. John. If the Laurier policy had been adopted there would now be a shipyard in the city of St. John and the firm of Cammell, Laird & Co., would be about ready to launch the first of the war vessels there and hand them over to the minister of naval defence.

Though a St. John man, Mr. Hazen, it seemed, did not want to have this programme carried out for he had refused the offer of the great British shipbuilders and there was now no shipbuilding industry in St. John.

It is a great thing for the country of

SMUGGLING—THE INTERNATIONAL PASTIME

It is, of course, true that all smuggling is wrong, as well as illegal, but it is a broader of good stories of adventure and keen wit. R. Jason Black, in February CANADA MONTHLY, tells some of these latter, among them being the tale of the outwitted customs officer at Father Point.

"When an enterprising citizen takes out his papers as a smuggler, it is often from the lack of a contest of wits as much as the incentive to make money illegitimately. A few years ago one of the ablest sea-captains on the Atlantic Coast, the son of a daring smuggler of the older and more piratical days, gave notice to his company and disappeared for many years. As master of a smuggling ship he turned up once more in the neighborhood of Father Point in the St. Lawrence River, and a Government cutter was sent to watch his movements. On a Wednesday morning while the cutter lay at the wharf of the isolated wind-swept hamlet the captain was called ashore to receive an important telephone message from an alleged French-Canadian farmer some miles to the east.

"There's a smuggling ship just off the farm," said an excited voice, "and the crew is busy unloading the goods."

"Assuring him of a handsome reward, the captain hurried back to his vessel, got up steam and bore off to the east at full speed. Meantime the smuggler, who had himself been speaking to the captain from a point many miles west of Father Point, steamed down the river to the Government dock and, while the revenue ship grew smaller and smaller in the eastern sky he impudently unloaded his illicit cargo on the King's property where French-Canadian agents carted it inland during the whole of an afternoon. When the angry commander returned from the east at nightfall, Master Smuggler was again far on his way to Boston for another cargo and

COLLISION ON THE INTERCOLONIAL

Ocean Limited Was Delayed About Seven Hours on Sunday at St. Moise

The Ocean Limited from Montreal which is due to arrive here at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon did not arrive on Sunday until after five o'clock in the evening and was therefore six hours and a half late. The train was delayed for about seven hours at St. Moise, Que. owing to a rear-end collision at that place early on Sunday morning. Considerable freight and a number of cars were damaged in the collision, but fortunately nobody was injured.

When the delayed train arrived here in Moncton Sunday night, the engine-men in charge of the locomotive which was to have taken the train on to Truro discovered that the pump of their engine was not working properly, and it was found necessary to take the engine back to the round-house and requisition another to take the Limited out east.

A car on a north-bound freight special jumped the track near Harcourt, early Sunday evening. The auxiliary crew was sent out from Moncton and cleared up the wreck in a short time.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Campbellton, Feb. 8rd 1913
Editor of the Graphic.

Dear Sir:—In your paper of Jan. 2nd I notice replies to my letter re License Law for the sale of liquor in our town.

The writer from Bathurst, signed "One Interested" like the Rev. T. P. Drumm, seems to have misunderstood my letter of a previous issue. Most of us will have to admit that the liquor trade is an evil. But the question to decide is which is the best way to regulate the sale, as it seems out of all power of the people to prohibit when it is allowed to be manufactured and brought into our country. "One Interested" admits that the Scott Act is a farce, but beyond this does not give us causes, or why is it not better than license.

My Rev. friend, T. P. Drumm starts in to reply to my letter and calls me a "Political Economist" then goes on to deliver a temperance lecture in which he strikes out from the shoulder at the liquor business and the evils of same.

I, in common with many others would like to have more facts and if the writers would tell the people just how much less liquor has been sold under the present law, the benefits from same; the reasons it is not better enforced, it would be more to the point. Is it the courts, the inspector's or the fault of the temperance people themselves.

The writer of the letter "No License Law" like the other two, drifts away from his subject and goes to extremes in his statements and is so long winded. Let him devote half the space and words in giving a remedy and prove that no license has made the sale of liquor less in the past year. If he can prove this, then when the election comes on and the people have to vote on this question they can do so with feeling that we have acted in the best interests of our families, friends and the town in general.

DO HIGH PRICES ATTRACT YOU?

When a sharp dealer found he could move merchandise by putting a high price on it, he tapped a principal that rules buying with a lot of people.

But is that method safe? Is it common sense? Wouldn't you do better to entrust your purchases with a merchant whose reputation for careful buying and honest prices enables you to put faith in his judgment?

It's so easy to be mistaken about Furniture. We believe our prices are lower than average, quality for quality, because our expenses are lower.

PULP AND PAPER INDUSTRY IN U. S.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—Schedule K, about which two political campaigns have been waged, was the subject of today's hearing by the Democratic Ways and Means Committee, and strong protests were made against its downward revision. John P. Wood, of Philadelphia, president of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, who was one of the principal witnesses, told the Ways and Means Committee that the country was accepting in good faith the assurance that the contemplated tariff revision would injure no legitimate business as was stated repeatedly in the course of Woodrow Wilson's campaign but that it remained for the Democratic members of the committee to say whether the faith of the American people was misplaced.

The feature of today's hearing, so far as Canada is concerned, was the presentation to the Ways and Means Committee of a resolution adopted by the American Protective Union League which says:

"We earnestly urge that the pulp and paper industry be given the same just and fair treatment that is given to other industries, in order that growth and expansion instead of stagnation and decay, may once more become the record of a great American industry."

"Through the 'Reciprocity' act, passed at the 1911 session of Congress, providing for the free entry of paper and pulp into the United States from Canada, although the other provisions of the act were nullified through Canada's failure to pass a reciprocal act, the American market today is being ruined through the enormous importation of the lower grades of paper, which, in turn, is affecting all grades of paper and pulp. The removal of this duty has already resulted in driving capital and labor out of the United States into Canada, and there is grave danger, by this favor being granted to Canada, of involving the United States in certain diplomatic complications with other countries, by reason of the 'favor nation' clause in our treaties."

"Now therefore, be it resolved, that the American Protective Tariff League calls upon the President, the party in power, and its representatives, the Congress, and upon all manufacturers who believe in the principle of fair play, if not protection, to use their efforts to secure the rescinding of section 2 of the 'Reciprocity' act, thereby rectifying the wrong that has been done to a great industry, and asks that if a general tariff revision is undertaken, the paper and pulp industry will be put upon the same basis as any other American manufacturing industry."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

New Carlisle, Feb. 3rd, 1913.
To the Editor of the GRAPHIC

Having seen but a small report of the municipal elections I shall be obliged if you would kindly find space for the following effusion:

The Municipal Election is once more over at New Carlisle and the fight was a hard one. There were six candidates in the field namely: Jas. Flowers, J. W. Hall, John Chisholm, Jas. O. Sheper, John Hall, Jr. and Geo. Gilker. The two former ones being first chosen in the Attic of Menard's Hotel by a few of the ratepayers at which private meeting his worship Mayor Blois acted as chairman. The third candidate was a last resort, the voters having failed to elect the election having failed. The temperance people not having any candidates in the field, the majority of them supported the three independent candidates, who were not supported by the hotel-keepers, the beer-bottling works, the Bank Nationale manager or the majority of the municipal council, several of the lawyers (who to say the least of it are not always to be found in their offices) along with the support of the secretary of the council who acted as returning officer.

The three latter candidates who had not the support of the rum-sellers and rum drinkers but the vote of the independent rate-payers were defeated by a small majority.

Strange to say the elected candidate's one and only plea was "We are for license," while the defeated candidates platform was as follows:

As we have been requested by a number of the ratepayers of this Municipality to run as Councilors at the coming election, we beg leave, if elected, to make the following resolutions:

- We pledge ourselves
1. That WE will work to the best of our knowledge for the good of this Municipality.
2. That WE will not vote to cancel licenses, unless the majority of the ratepayers by Petition or Petition lawfully demand it.
3. That WE will use our influence for equal rights to all, and favor to none.
4. That WE will not take part in meetings pertaining to Municipal business, except in the council room.
5. That WE will do all in our power to have the people's money spent in a fair and square manner, and to the best advantage.

WHAT REMOVAL OF RESTRICTION MEANS

The history of the Gouin Government's partial removal of the restrictions regarding the exportation of raw pulp wood from Crown lands in this province is practically as follows:

Through the operation of the pulp and paper clause of the Reciprocity Bill passed by the United States Congress last year, a remarkable situation developed in that industry in Canada. While American paper and pulp manufacturers have been unsparing in their disapproval of the law, Canadian manufacturers for a time were inclined to hail it with pleasure. But within the last few months a situation has developed here that is of high importance to the consumers of paper in the United States, the facts concerning which have not been publicly discussed.

The paper and pulp clause of the Reciprocity Bill passed by Congress provided for the admission of pulp and paper to the United States free of duty, when manufactured from wood that was exported under the regulations of the various Canadian provinces that had passed laws prohibiting the export of pulp wood from Crown lands, i.e., lands held under lease from the Crown.

The provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick, and Ontario had such laws in effect at the time of the passage of the Bill, but as they had no jurisdiction over the products of the freehold lands, wood cut from those lands was exportable, and it has been from this source that a considerable percentage of the United States paper and pulp has been made for years, especially in New England, New York and some of the western mills of the United States that could take water deliveries of wood.

The immediate effects of the law was to place in a superior position in respect to exports of pulp and paper to the United States such Canadian mills as owned considerable areas of freehold lands, while Canadian manufacturers whose wood supply came from Crown lands, soon began to learn that they were in a decidedly inferior position, as they had to face a duty of $5.65 per ton.

A few of the latter class began buying freehold lands pulp wood in open market in competition with American buyers, with the inevitable results of the stiffening of wood prices throughout the producing section of Canada, and more particularly in Eastern Quebec, which for years has been the field of United States buyers of the raw material.

MANY MILLS STARTED

For a while those mills manufacturing paper from Crown lands could pay the heavy duty and still compete with the United States manufacturers, but the large number of new pulp and paper concerns inaugurated in 1910 and starting production in 1911, has caused overproduction and a slump in the home market.

It is necessary, therefore, to turn to the American market, and it is now that the handicap of the American Customs tariff is beginning to be felt.

At present Canadian manufacturers seeking free entry for their paper into the United States must convince the Treasury Department at Washington through its agents, who frequently visit Canada, that they are making their paper from wood cut from freehold lands. In some cases the Canadian manufacturers are able to show the Treasury agents that they have bought all their raw material from freehold lands.

In either case certain manufacturers are able to convince the Treasury agents that a certain percentage of their product is of such origin, and in such cases they pay duty only on such percentage of the exports as is liable to the old duty.

THE NEW SCHEME

The situation therefore divided the Canadian paper manufacturers into two classes, those who are enjoying free entry into the United States markets and those who only partly enjoy it. The former, who have become owners of freehold lands, are naturally opposed to any relaxation of the regulations respecting the export of wood. The latter finally proposed a scheme which in effect is said to amount to an evasion of the United States Customs regulations.

They seek to have their Crown holdings to a certain extent placed outside the prohibition of the export of wood cut from such lands, with an understanding, however, that they will not in fact permit the export of their wood, which they are, of course, quite willing to agree to. The Order-in-Council is the fulfilment of their wishes.

Turn idle hours into concrete fence posts

EVERY farmer finds himself now and then with a few idle hours in which both himself and his help must look for "odd jobs" to keep them busy. Use these hours to make concrete fence posts. You can make a few at a time, storing them until needed. Then when you want a fence in the new field, your posts—everlasting, concrete posts—are all ready to use. The making of fence posts is only one of scores of every-day uses for concrete on the farm described in the book.

DRUNKENNESS CAN BE CURED

Old Fallacy That Drunkenness Can Not Be Cured Exploded

Many men drink who desire to stop the habit. Whiskey, however, has undermined the constitution and created a craving that is not to be denied, and the man must have whiskey or something that will remove the craving and build up the system and restore the nerves.

Samara Prescription stops the craving, steadies the nerves, builds up the health, and makes drink actually distasteful and nauseous. It is tasteless, and odorless, and can be given with or without the patient's knowledge, it is tea, coffee or food. It is used regularly by physicians and hospitals. It has cured thousands in Canada, and restored happiness to hundreds of homes.

"I had what Mrs. G.— of Hull says of it after it did for her:
"It is four months to-day since I started to use your remedy. I followed the directions and had the best of the results. One week after I started using your remedy the patient stopped drinking and has not drunk a glass of liquor since. I hope you will accept my heartfelt thanks. Hoping God will bless your remedy wherever tried, I remain
"Mrs. G.—, Hull, Que."

Now, if there is anyone in your town who needs this Remedy tell them of it. Practical philanthropy can take no better form. If you have a husband, father, brother or friends who drink, help them. Help themselves. Write to-day.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samara Prescription, with booklet giving full particulars, testimonials, price, etc., will be sent absolutely free and postpaid in plain sealed package to anyone asking for it and mentioning this paper. THE WOOLLEN INDUSTRY

Its Expansion Desirable in the Interests of the Whole Country

It is significant to note that the sheep industry has dwindled rapidly since the introduction of the British preference which has resulted in closing a large number of woolen mills in different parts of the country. A partial solution would be to revise the tariff on woolen goods.

Dealing with the sheep industry, the Globe, Toronto, in a recent issue said: "Expansion of the woolen industry and sheep-raising industry in Canada is desirable in the interests of the whole country. There is a sure and constant market for wool, because there is nothing to adequately take its place. To every nation that has taken the industry seriously it has proved highly profitable, one of the best paying for the amount of work involved. Canada has natural conditions adapted to the raising of the finest mutton and wool, as the meagre attempts of our pioneers have proved, and we have proved, and we have plenty of waste land. As products of sheep there are not only wool and mutton but tallow as well."

MAKE THIS TEST
How to Tell If Your Hair Is Diseased

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair, you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. 93% of the people need a hair tonic.

Put a hair out of your head, if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased and requires prompt attention if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want everyone whose hair requires treatment to try Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. It is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, lighten the hair already in the head grow hair and overcome baldness.

It is because of what Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic has done and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store—Thos. Wm. Druggist.

Very Low in Canada Compared With the United States Duty

In view of the charge not infrequently made that the cotton tariff of Canada represents high protection, one may well ask what degree of protection the tariff of the United States on textiles represents. The truth is that the Canadian duty on textiles is little more than a revenue tariff. Here is a comparison:

The average duty on grey cottons entering the United States from foreign markets, is 40%, whilst the duty on these goods entering Canada is only 16%. About 60% of our whole output is composed of grey cottons, on which the duty is 16%.

Reheated cottons enter the United States at a duty of about 60%. The same goods enter into Canada at 17%. About 20% of our output is this class of goods.

Printed cotton goods enter the United States at a duty of about 52%. These same goods enter Canada at a duty of 24%. These facts show that the duty on our goods is 10% of our output.

STEEL INDUSTRY IS HAMPERED

If Iron and Steel Plants are to Extend Present Schedules Must be Overhauled

It is generally recognized that iron and steel are the basic industries of Canada. Think for a moment of the great variety of articles into whose manufacture iron or steel enters. The following despatch, therefore, to the Globe, from Sault Ste. Marie giving a statement of T. J. Drummond of the Lake Superior Corporation is of interest:

"In regard to further extensions, I may say that we have had under consideration certain extensions of our iron and steel plant, but we have decided to postpone such action in the meantime, pending possible consideration and action of the Dominion Government in regard to the iron and steel tariff."

"The existing tariff in iron and steel is so torn up by special dispensations, exemptions and rebates, that the progress of the industry is retarded, and in many cases made absolutely impossible. Under the existing tariff we are encouraged to manufacture in small lines, giving small tonnages, and then discouraged in progression into the manufacture of heavier sections, which give larger tonnages. In other cases industries are practically bonused to purchase their pig iron, merchant steel, etc., abroad, and so in one way and another the industry is hampered, and the tariff is in many cases by these exemptions made absolutely illogical and inconsistent."

"If the iron and steel industry is to go forward this tariff must be overhauled, and such matters as I have referred to must be dealt with in a common sense manner, and especially in connection with pig iron, merchant mill products and structural steel. At present practically one million tons of iron and steel are annually being brought into the country, and the bulk of this tonnage could and should be made in Canada. We placed our case before the Government during the last session of Parliament, and we are hoping that something may be done this session, but pending the outcome of what consideration the Government is giving to our case, we can only mark time, and hope that such action will be taken as will warrant us in going ahead with the extensions we have in view."

INDIANS NOW WORK

Scarcity of Game and Fur Animals
Brought About the Change

That the day is coming to an end when the red man will live as fisherman, hunter and trapper is declared in a report of the Indian Department issued at Ottawa. The growing scarcity of game and fur-bearing animals in many districts is driving many of the hunting tribes into the occupations of the palefaces. The services of Indians are becoming more generally utilized as farm hands and in other industrial pursuits.

The earnings of the red man in agriculture for one year amounted to $1,464,347, and in wages to $1,616,046, while at hunting and trapping during the same time they made $904,857.

Canada's Indian population is placed at 104,956, and the Eskimo population is 4,600. The additions to the Province of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec added 7,619 Indians to the Indian population of these provinces, and reduced the total in the North-West Territories to 5,362. Ontario has more Indians than any other province, a total of 26,393. British Columbia formerly led, but the addition to Ontario brought in 3,337 Indians.
