JOHN T. G. CARR

SIR G. E. FOSTER AND B. F. SMITH

Addresses a Large Audience on the Political Question of the Day

A large crowd greeted Sir George E. Foster and Hon. B. F. Smith at the Star Theatre last evening. The presence of Sir George, so long a familiar character in the familiar life of Canada, was doubly interesting from the fact that the veteran statesman was born directly across the river from the Hartland post office.

Ald. R. B. Hagerman presided and in places of honor on the platform were a number of more or less distinguished citizens. Mr. Smith was the first speaker. He said that one benefit of the war was the elimination of that old time vitriolic party feeling that had existed in this constituency. As a result since the issue was between himself and a progressive, hundreds of liberal votes, he stated, were coming his way. He touched on the financial and employment questions, stating that never was there a time in Canada when these and other like questions needed such a careful and intelligent thought; and never did Canada need more a competent government. The obligations created by the war and the vast extent of our Canadian heritage make it doubly important that we should guard against many mistakes and pitfalls that other countries have been led into. We have a new element to consider here in Canada, and that is the policy of the Grain Growers of the west that has been brought down here and thoughtlessly accepted by our farmers. "Is it reasonable to suppose," the speaker asked, "that I would be found opposed to a policy favorable to the farmer? The farmer is intelligent—I belong to that class myself—and every farmer knows that for years I have been looking up and developing avenues of trade. Since the farmers' future is most essential to my future am I not consistent in claiming the farmers' support as a farmer representative? There is nothing in the eastern farmer to do but stand to present conditions." He assured his audience that at all times he could be trusted to work for their interests in protecting markets and in creating new ones.

Mr. Foster said that Carleton was noted for its Agricultural products, and for producing men of marked ability. We had heard Hon. Mr. Smith—the Solomon of the occasion—and behold a greater than Solomon was there! Accepting this original introduction as his cue Sir George's first few sentences were in a lucid and happy vein than immediately put him on a good footing with his audience. As to this election and its outcome, he viewed it as having more vital interest to Canada than any previous election since confederation. He dealt some length on the late war and its deleterious effect on the world. One effect is world wide unemployment and to this cause, and not because of a Borden or Meighen Government does Canadian unemployment exist. He proceeded to detail at some length the origin of the so called progressive movement and characterized their policy as being suitable to the west alone as the interest of the east are necessarily the opposite of those in the west. Referring to the introduction of the N. E. and its effect on the manufacturing industries of Canada he stated the number of factories established up to 1912 (but failed to state that 50 per cent of these were established during the Laurier government and that the records of 1921 show that the number of Canadian factories had decreased by 33 1-3 per cent, thus leaving Canada, insofar as her factories go, just where she was in 1909).

In summing up the Greater policy, after somewhat detailed analysis, he characterized it as an instrument of absurd and colossal folly.

SIR GEO. E. FOSTER AT ANDOVER

The Andover correspondent writes: Sir George and Lady Foster of Ottawa arrived in town in their private car on Tuesday afternoon and were tendered a reception from four to six o'clock, at the home of Mrs. George T. Baird. The distinguished guests were accompanied by B. F. Smith in whose honor, Mrs. Baird also entertained. Those in the receiving line were Mrs. Baird, Lady Foster, Mrs. A. H. Baird, Mrs. N. J. Wootton, and B. F. Smith. On account of fatigue Sir George did not appear until later. A delightful luncheon was served by Miss Edith Jones. Miss Ellen Robinson, Miss Muriel Baird and Miss Dorothy O'Riordan, Mrs. B. F. White and Mrs. N. Kilburn of Kilburn poured the tea and coffee. About one hundred guests partook of Mrs. Baird's hospitality. A most enjoyable time was spent by those present and all hope to meet Sir George and Lady Foster and Mr. Smith again at some future date. Dr. Dickson's orchestra was in attendance.

FINED FOR KILLING A COW MOOSE

Two Men From Hartland Hunted Cow Moose at Cloverdale—Attempted to Prove Alibi

As the result of a prosecution at Woodstock for violation of the Game Act by hunting a cow-moose, prosecution for perjury may follow, says the Fredericton Mail. Warden Bradbury was conducting the prosecution. He is here in consultation with Chief Game Warden Burden today.

Magistrate Comben in imposing sentence gave a penalty of a fine of one hundred and fifty dollars in each case with costs amounting to $47.50 to each. Vernon Shaw of Hartland was unable to pay and went to jail for three months. Elias Crabb of the same place was allowed to go on $1,500 bail until Saturday, when his fine must be paid or he will go to jail.

The defence entered by the accused was an alibi based on their sworn statement that they had gone to work for a certain man and were at work for him on the day the offence was alleged to have been committed. The prosecution was able to produce evidence that they were not at work at the place stated on that day. The alleged offence against the Game Act took place at Cloverdale.

The various officials of the Chief Game Warden's department are active in all parts of the province.

SERIOUS CASE AT CENTREVILLE

Little Girl Attacked—Son of Galus Steeves Arrested

One of the most horrible cases came to light with the arrest Friday night at Centreville, of Curtis Steeves charged with a crime against a girl. The child is a daughter of Nelson Steves, a farmer, living about four miles out of Centreville town.

Sheriff Foster and Deputy Sheriff Moores drove to the place Friday, a distance of forty-eight miles and arrested Steeves, bringing him to Woodstock Saturday morning. The child is reported in a very serious condition and the prisoner will be remanded pending the result of her injuries.

Steeves is from Albert County and is a son of Galus Steeves who was recently tried in connection with the tragic death of his wife and six children, when their home burned. He drifted here in the early fall and has been employed in different places picking potatoes.

HARTLAND WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Gave Fifty Dollars to Fisher Memorial Hospital

The Hartland Women's Institute will hold its monthly meeting in the K. of P. Hall tomorrow (Friday). The roll call will be answered by an "Historic Event." After the transaction of business there will be a debate on "Hereditry vs. Environment," a demonstration, a solo and some readings. Refreshments will be served. New members are always welcome.

The Institute held its October meeting in the K. of P. Hall on Friday evening. The roll call was answered by a comic quotation. After the transaction of business a nice program was rendered consisting of a solo by Miss Naege; dialogue by Mrs. Harris and Mrs. McDougall; and a reading by Mrs. James McLeod. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. At this meeting $50.00 was voted to the Woodstock Hospital.

BOOZE FOR YANKEES

Recently a number of Americans came over from Buffalo, cut up high jinks in Toronto and landed in the calaboose. A reporter on The Telegram was inspired by the occasion and produced this one:

Sing a song of sixpence,
Four bottles full of rye,
Four and twenty Yankees,
Feeling good and dry.
When the rye was opened,
They all began to sing
"To please with the U. S. A.,
God Save the King."

FARMERS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

The Hon. B. Franklin Smith Having
Rough Sledding in Carleton-Victoria—Farmer Majority
Last Time Was More Than 3,500

Perhaps in no part of Canada have elections been so viciously fought in the past as in this constituency of Carleton-Victoria. It was a fight from the drop of the hat and everyone knew there was an election on. In this campaign, however, although there is a certain amount of activity noticeable, the old "pep" is missing and a certain calm prevails, at least on the surface; for it is taken for granted that the Farmer candidate will win handsomely.

The work is being carried on in a sort of still hunt way, especially on the side of the Conservatives. It is known that their organization is rapidly assuming tactics of the past, which is possible to cover up as the contest progresses. The old party workers are in harness, and their methods are hard to change. B. F. Smith is always on the defensive. It is well known that the Conservative candidate was not the unanimous choice of the party, but was able to thrust himself upon it.

As the contest goes along a fresh report as to defections from the United Farmers' ranks reaches the public every day together with other sinister warnings that the farmer combination is going to pieces. These reports, of course, emanate from the Conservative headquarters, and like the poster campaign are beginning to fall flat.

The meeting of the United Farmers held in the different sections indicate that the party is standing together, and in T. W. Caldwell they have a candidate with no political aims to answer for. It is hard to figure where Mr. Smith can hope to do much with the majority of Mr. Caldwell in the last election—about 3,500. There is a very large voting list in the town of Woodstock, and Mr. Smith expects to leave the town with a large proportion of this vote intact, so large that it will not be overcome in the county, but if the Liberal party will come out and vote—and it will—Mr. Smith will be badly disappointed. There is no use concealing the fact. Mr. Smith is looked upon as the natural enemy of anything Liberal. Perhaps some other candidate might have captured a few Liberal votes—but not Mr. Smith. The United Farmers claim there has been no defection from their ranks, and they will win handsily in spite of the Conservatives' vigorous campaign, and the rumored intention of certain means to win at all cost. So far the only canvass being made by Mr. Smith and his assistant workers is personal abuse of the United Farmers and the lamination of Mr. Smith himself, whom the farmers are surprised to learn has their interest as much at heart.

It will be remembered that the Hon. B. F. Smith was defeated by the United Farmers in the last local contest, and he met defeat on every occasion that he hoped for federal honors. He dies hard and is always a poor loser. He has a stiff proposition this time, and it is hard to see where he can make a very good showing in the fact of Mr. Caldwell's tremendous majority over Colonel Melville.—Telegraph cor.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT, SAYS R. K. TRACEY, M. L. A.

R. K. Tracey, M.L.A., was doing business here between trains yesterday. In a few minutes interview he expressed himself as feeling optimistic over the result of the present campaign and said his one regret was that ill health prevented him from taking an active part in the election of Caldwell. Being asked as to the reported general disaffection among the United Farmers over financial and managerial matters he stated that this was not as general as some would intimate and was daily losing its force, as the situation was becoming better understood by the United Farmers membership. Quite naturally as Mr. Caldwell and his staff speakers move about through the constituency, occasions come up to discuss these matters and gradually the, at no time disconcerting, clouds were dispelled. As to the situation in his own parish, Wicklow, Mr. Tracey said the prospects were satisfactory from the United Farmers' standpoint.

SO MANY PEOPLE ARE NERVOUS

"Fruit-a-lives" the Greatest of all Nerve Remedies

This Fruit Medicine Restores Health

The increase in the number of persons suffering from Nervousness is world-wide; due, in a measure, to the reaction following the war. Sleeplessness, Headaches, Mental Depression, Rheumatism, Nervous Dyspepsia, Bad Heart Action, are the results of a disturbed condition of the Nervous System.

The nerves and the blood are so intimately, so vitally, connected that the condition of one is bound to affect the condition of the other. If the blood is laden with impurities, it is impossible to have strong, steady nerves.

The first essential in treating nervous troubles is to purify and enrich the blood. This, "FRUIT-A-LIVES" will do.

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" stimulates the bowels, kidneys and skin and purifies the blood. "Fruit-a-lives" improves appetite and digestion and insures food being properly digested, thus enabling the blood to carry wholesome nourishment to build up the body, particularly the nerves.

Men and women who take "Fruit-a-lives" for some form of nervousness—because they cannot eat or sleep or work or enjoy life—say that this fruit medicine is simply marvellous in its action.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

This is a Short Letter, But It Proves the Reliability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bothwell, Ont.—"I was weak and run down, had no appetite and was nervous. The nurse who took care of me told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am getting strong. I recommend your medicine to my friends, and you may use my testimonial."—Mrs. W. J. Brady, R. R. 2, Bothwell, Ont.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old-fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are constantly testifying to its strengthening, beneficial influence, and as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs it is a safe medicine for women.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham-Medicine Co. (Confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.

with "Keep to the Right" on them will be put up and large banners bearing the same caution will be strung across the principal streets of the cities and towns in the area affected.

Pedestrians will also be looked after. All street cars will carry signs, both front and rear for two weeks, instructing every one to keep to the right and permanent white lines will be painted on the down-town streets showing pedestrians the proper crossing places.

CONVENTION OF WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Various Recommendations Were Made by the Convention During Ending Hours

The Ninth Annual Convention of the New Brunswick Women's Institute closed, at Woodstock on Friday evening, after a very busy three days with interesting speeches by R. W. Maxwell, Director of the Woodstock Vocational School, "on vocational education," and by Mrs. Richard Hooper, of St. John, on "Child Welfare." Mrs. Wm. Todd president of the Women's Federated Institutes of Canada, left for her home in Toronto, this afternoon. The afternoon session of the convention of the Women's Institute proved to be the most interesting one during the convention.

Mrs. Crocker for the Resolution Committee submitted her report. Voted that the following convenors retain their positions for another year:

Publicity, Mrs. Alex. Ogilvie, Woodstock; Immigration, Mrs. Lawrence, Legislation, Mrs. C. J. Osman, Hillsboro; Education, Mrs. Chas. Comben, Woodstock; Child Welfare, Mrs. Richard Hooper, St. John.

The Officers of Advisory Board, elected are four directors and three of floors.

Directors, Mrs. Paul Doyle, Mrs. H. Bridges, Mrs. E. Crocker, Mrs. A. Ogilvie. Officers, Mrs. C. J. Osman, President; Mrs. John Harvey, Vice-President; Madam Pauline, Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. Harry Crocker, formerly of Moncton, nee Miss Winter, formerly supervisor of the N. B. Women's Institutes, chairman of the Resolution Committee read her report which was carried after much discussion.

The Committee recommends that the Department of Agriculture change the dates for conventions from May to June; that the Board of Directors appoint an officer to visit Institutes that are dropping off in membership and to organize new branches; that the Government pay the bills; that the women buy home made goods thus encouraging Canadian manufactures and relieving unemployment; that, in the interests of children, the Minister of Health take the matter up with the Board of Education, insisting that lessons must be studied in school and that books should never be taken from the school room. Objection was taken to this resolution on the ground that the country school teacher, in a mixed school, had not the time necessary to do this, but the resolution carried; that having both Federal and Provincial franchise, women should be granted full municipal franchise; expressing pleasure at the success of the referendum and petitioning the Dominion Government to put the law in force without delay; petitioning the Government to aid handicraft work; encouraging more singing and social society at the Institute meetings; suggesting the employment of an officer for the segregation of feeble minded children; petitioning the Government to pass legislation to enable a woman to occupy a place on the Board of Education; petitioning the Government to look into the question of providing suitable residences for the young women attending the Normal School and University.

HE COULDN'T ASK ANYTHING BETTER

"Didn't Take Me Long To See Tanlac Was What I Needed," Says Winnipeg Man

"I'm one man that will always believe in Tanlac for it has certainly proved its worth in my case," said J. C. Erin, 688 Sargent Ave., Winnipeg, Man.

"I was in a bad fix, in fact was in such a shape that every now and then I had to give up and lay off from work and rest. My stomach and kidneys were all out of order and I was all the time having headaches that nearly drove me frantic. I could hardly eat a thing but what it would sour and gas would form and cause such an awful pressure against my heart that I became alarmed for fear I had heart trouble.

"My back ached and pained me a lot and my nerves were so shattered that many a time I would lie awake nearly all night rolling and tossing. I went down in weight and got so weak it took all the nerve and will power I had to keep going.

"Well, it didn't take me long to see that Tanlac was just what I needed and by the time I finished my second bottle my appetite was so big I could hardly get enough to eat. I have taken five bottles now and I don't believe there was ever a day in my life when I felt better. I have picked up in weight, feel strong and healthy, and couldn't ask for Tanlac to do any more for me than it has."

Tanlac is sold in Hartland by Estey & Curtis Ltd., and by leading druggists everywhere.

NO LUMBERING ON RESTIGOUCHE

Campbellton Tribune: Those who have been hoping that perhaps the lumbermen on the Restigouche would get out forty or fifty per cent of their usual winter's cut will be disappointed in learning that it is very unlikely any lumber whatever in this district will be got out. So far the mill owners have made no move whatever in engaging men for the woods, nor are any arrangements made for the opening up of the various camps, which arrangements are generally made months ahead. It is almost safe to predict that no lumber on the Restigouche will be got out this winter. The lumber market is indeed very dull. The dry season last spring was the means of holding up much of last winter's cut. The recent rains have been the means of getting some of this lumber now in the boom. The corporation drive is expected to all be in the boom this evening. This drive will amount to some forty million, and will be held in the boom all winter. In addition to this quantity of lumber there are other large quantities held in the various streams which will not be moved at present. All the lumber mills are now down with the exception of Fraser's mill, which will in all probability be kept running for another week or so.

PERTH ITEMS

S. E. Waugh of this place and H. Lee Bedell of Andover left on Thursday for Toronto where they will spend several days.

Miss Mary Millin of Lewiston, Me., is spending three weeks here with her father, D. Millin, and the Misses Millin.

Mrs. E. W. Larlee's many friends will be pleased to learn that she is able to be around again after her recent illness of tonsillitis.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. F. Dickson of this place, entertained the young friends of their son, Vernon, very pleasantly, at a dancing party given in the Specialty on Monday evening.

A. M. Bird, formerly of this place, but now of Megantic, Que., spent a few days here last week. He spent the week-end with Mrs. Bird's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McDougall, of Three Brooks.

E. Ingraham, trainman on the Quebec Branch, made a business trip to St. John on Saturday, returning to his duties on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ferguson, of Riley Brook, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Larlee, the first of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bragdon, of Fort Fairfield were in town on Friday. Mr. Bragdon had been visiting at his former home in Grafton.

Mrs. F. D. Sadler was in Woodstock during the week.

William, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Anderson, had the end of one of his fingers jammed off in the wringer one day last week.

It is expected that the Pentecostal Mission, which is being built on the hill, will be completed by the latter part of December.

W. E. McMONAGLE GOES TO MONCTON

Grand Falls, N. B., Oct 31—Friends of W. Emmet McMonagle, B.C.L., will regret his departure from Grand Falls, where he has been practicing law with marked success for the past three years, but will rejoice in the fact that he is to locate in Moncton, a larger field in his profession. Since

Mr. McMonagle's arrival here he has made many friends by his kind and courteous manner, ability and business integrity. Although the practice of his profession occupied his time, he was always available for any work of a philanthropic nature and willingly gave his time. Recently a delegation of prominent citizens waited upon him and it is reported offered some inducements for him to remain. It is understood that he is to take over the offices of the late Frank J. Sweeney at Moncton. His many friends throughout the Province will join with the citizens of Grand Falls in their best wishes for his success.

POTATOES FOR SEED

IN-AROSTOOK CO.

Two Cars of Green Mountains From Restigouche County Have Been Bought

New Brunswick is supplying

Maine's famous potato belt with seed potatoes in the Aroostook growers' efforts to obtain disease-free stock.

The Fort Fairfield Review announces the arrival of two cars of Green Mountain potatoes imported by Geo. Findlen, of Fort Fairfield, one car being placed at Stevensville and the other at Maple Grove, two centres in the potato belt.

These potatoes, according to The Review, were secured through the Aroostook Farm Bureau, and put up by G. O. Cunningham, the Federal government plant pathologist for New Brunswick, who makes his headquarters here. The prevailing east winds under which they are grown on the north shore of New Brunswick are declared to make potatoes grown there particularly free from disease.

Local potato dealers believe that, despite the Fordney bill, there will later on develop an active demand for New Brunswick potatoes for the general market in the United States as well as for seed purposes.

Late reports received from the United States official sources show that although this year's potato crop is 35 million bushels short of the average for five years and last year's crop was 45 million bushels over the five-year average, over 24,000 more carloads of potatoes had been moved this year up until October 28th than were moved all last year.

Last year 196,101 carloads of potatoes were shipped over the different railways. This year up to October 28th, 119,593 carloads have been shipped, and for the same period last year 94,992 carloads.

This indicates a scarcity of potatoes in the United States, the dealers believe, and consequently an increase in price; but the dealers say that while flour, sugar and other necessities remain down the public will not be inclined to buy high-priced potatoes.

Shipments have fallen off from the average of 2,100 carloads per day to an average of 700 carloads per day at the present time, unless the November report will show an increase.

SIR GEORGE AND LADY FOSTER IN ANDOVER

A large gathering of people met at Andover Tuesday evening and B. F. Smith spoke on the coming election at 8 o'clock. The meeting was at 8 o'clock. The meeting was called to order by N. J. Wootton who acted as chairman and in a few words, Mr. Wootton introduced the visitors. The first speaker was Mr. Smith who spoke for thirty minutes. Sir George Foster held the attention of the audience for one hour and thirty minutes and all who had the pleasure of hearing Sir George enjoyed a treat that they will not soon forget. A large number of ladies and gentlemen sat on the platform with the speakers, prominent among them were the Councilors of Victoria county. At the close of the evening it was moved by Stephen Scott, seconded by Mr. Smith, that a vote of thanks be extended to Sir George, after which all joined in singing God save the King.

PRODUCE PRICES

Today dealers are paying for potatoes, $1.50; hay, $15 to $18; oats, 40¢ to 45¢; pork, 9¢; chickens, 14¢; live and 20¢; dressed, 14¢; live geese, 15¢; live ducks, 14¢; geese, 25¢; butter, 25¢ to 30¢; eggs, 30¢; fresh

DON'T BE FOOLED

Evidence is at hand that the government campaign organization is preparing literature containing vicious attacks upon the farmers' organization to be spread all over the province just a few days before the date of the election. They hope to stampede the farmers of Canada into voting against the farmer candidates. Readers may expect to receive this slanderous literature in large quantities when it is too late to answer. The only safe course to pursue is to ignore it and work all the harder to bring to an end a government capable of such miserable tactics as the present government is pursuing.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS

The great clearing sale conducted during the past week by A. W. Phillips at his Bristol store proved such a great success that it has been decided to continue it at least for another week. A Hartland man visited that busy store a few days ago and dropped in on his return to tell The Observer about it.

"It would have done your soul good, Stevens, to have been where I was today," he said. "You, the High Priest of Advertising, would have received new inspiration had you seen the eager crowd of cash buyers at that store. Really, it would have been a revelation to any merchant in the country to have been there today and witnessed the result of bold advertising, the good merchandising and finesse in salesmanship."

REV. W. P. HAIGH TAKES SERVICES AGAIN

On Sunday Rev. W. P. Haigh took the morning and evening services at Holy Trinity for the first time since his grievous accident of fourteen weeks ago. Although still very much of an invalid, and laboring under severe physical handicap, he preached the Harvest Thanksgiving sermons with impressive force. The congregation and his many friends outside his immediate fold were delighted to have him minister to them again. At both services the church was filled to capacity, and was decorated appropriately for the occasion. The singing was excellent. Miss Nass rendered a very fine solo.

CHRISTMAS ADVERTISING

Merchants who desire space in The Observer for holiday advertising should make reservations at once. This is most important as there is a limit, of course, to the space that can be sold. This week's issue consists of 12 pages in order that the advertisers may all be accommodated.

The Observer for Dec. 8 will have 16 or 20 pages and a great many extra copies will be printed with the idea of placing a copy in every home in the county. For this special issue the regular advertising rate plus 25 per cent will necessarily be charged. Already most of the available space has been contracted for.

AN OUTSIDE VIEW

Viewed from a distance says the Fredericton Mail, it looks like this: To see Premier Meighen's portrait published in the newspapers alongside of that of B. Frank Smith of Patriotic potato fame, is not a very inspiring sight to those who want to see honest government in this country. A man is sometimes known by the company he keeps.

SMALLPOX AT EDMUNDSTON

The Department of Health of the province has been notified of the discovery of a case of smallpox at Edmundston. Several cases of the disease have occurred lately in that section of the province. The usual precaution will be taken.

It Is Not True!

that the Farmers' Store at Woodstock ceases to be under the control of the Maritime United Farmers Co-Operative Company.

Neither is it True that the Maritime United Farmers are financially insolvent, as can be proved by the financial statement of the Maritime United Farmers Co-Op. standing taken on November 1st. The statement was taken from the books of the Company and accepted by the Creditors Committee. This statement with any other information can be seen at the United Farmers' Office in the Farmers' Building, Woodstock. This statement shows that the Assets of the Company exceeds all Liabilities by more than a quarter of a million dollars. We have never had sufficient capital in the Company to carry on the large volume of business which we have undertaken. We, therefore, ask you to get in touch with the United Farmers Association Office in Woodstock regarding the great Forward Movement of our Association and Company to begin on November 28th, 1921.

The monthly missionary meeting will be held in the R. B. church on Friday evening at 7:30. Everybody welcome.

L. A. J. Ward, manager of the local branch of the Maritime Farmers' Co-operative, Ltd., goes to Moncton on business today.

B. F. Smith stated last night that hundreds of Liberal votes were coming his way. Doubtful, though, if they arrive by Dec. 6.

Elia Crabbie called at The Observer office today to say that he was not convicted of shooting either a cow or calf moose but was fined merely for hunting in close season.

Miss Fernie McGoldrick entertained a few of her friends at her home on Monday evening. Delicious refreshments and numerous games were delightful features of the evening's entertainment.

The skating rink has been completed and is ready for flooding as soon as hard freezing weather comes. Tomorrow evening there will be a meeting at which all persons interested in the rink are asked to attend.

T. W. Caldwell, candidate for the National Progressive Party, will address the electors in the Star Theatre, Hartland, next Monday evening. Having heard his opponent, B. F. Smith's, argument, it is only fair that the voters should go to hear Mr. Caldwell.

C. W. McQuarrie of Hartland, Murray Kelley of Plymouth, Robert Hopkins and James McDonald of Jacksville have returned from a hunting trip to Elliot Brook, Miramichi. They secured a great moose, dressing more than 600 pounds, and three fine buck deer.

Many orders are being received for private greeting Christmas cards. Those desiring them will serve their own best interest if they order early. Customers may see samples at the office any time, day or evening, or, if they prefer, a representative will respond to a phone call. The Observer, Limited.

Snow fell heavily all day Tuesday and since the month commenced nearly two feet has come. Such wintry conditions have not before been known in the locality. The temperature has not been low for the time of year, and, to those who do not mind snow, the weather on the whole has been pleasant.

is one of the things which there is no necessity of importing either on account of the price or quality. The latest report covering the year ending March 31st shows that during the preceding twelve months there was imported from the United States goods of all kinds to the amount of over $800,000,000.00, or an average of $2,197,540.00 every day in the year. These figures of course do not cover importations from other countries, which add twenty-five per cent. to these totals.

There can be but three reasons for buying imported goods of any kind. The first of these is that the required goods are not made in Canada, the second is that the imported goods are of better quality and the third the price is more favorable.

Of the above three reasons, not one applies to fertilizer. Fertilizer is made in large quantities in Canada with the manufacturers ready to increase their capacity at the demands of the farmers require it or as the tendency develops to buy "Made in Canada" goods rather than those imported.

The quality of fertilizers made here is up to the highest standard. This is not only based on the claims of the manufacturers but by the official Government analysis of fertilizer collected and analyzed yearly, with the results of these tests published annually in the official reports.

The price of fertilizers, a most important consideration, is the last point and one in which the imported brands show no advantage. If Canadian farmers bought fertilizers on the price lists for 1922 quoted by U. S. Companies, paying exchange, sale tax and surtax, etc., which the Canadian fertilizer manufacturers must pay, the cost delivered would be higher than he can buy "Made in Canada" fertilizers.

The "Made in Windsor, N. S." fertilizers meet the requirements of farmers in supply, quality and price.

WOODSTOCK IS TO TAKE NEW CENSUS

There has been much dissatisfaction over the census figures as announced for Woodstock, and the town council has instructed the town manager to arrange for taking a census at an early date. The work will probably be carried out by the Women's Institute. In view of the fact that the increased attendance at the schools is twenty-three per cent over ten years ago, and the census taken by the churches is greatly in excess of the official announcement, the council decided to take the above action.

JOHN B. SMITH

John B. Smith, a life long resident of Rockland, died at his home on Rockland Road on Thursday last after a few days illness. Mr. Smith was born at Grand Lake 88 years ago, and moved to Rockland when 11 years of age. His wife who was Miss Emeline Thomas of Rockland died in 1912. He is survived by two sons, Samuel of Rockland and Norris B. of Vancouver, and one daughter, Mrs. M. L. Hayward of Harland, a brother Benjamin of Marquette, Wis., and a sister, Mrs. William Turner of Elmhurst, N. Y., also survive.

THE FARMERS' CAMPAIGN FUND

The Official Agent Explains How it Came and How it Went

The following letters recently appearing in The Press are reprinted by request:

To Editor of Press:

Would it not be in order for Mr. Thomas W. Caldwell to give a statement to the public of the funds which he received from the farmers and others, in the last Election Campaign. Thousands of dollars were contributed. It would be interesting to have the names and the amount, and also a statement of disbursements. Did he not promise this and why has it not been forthcoming?

Inquirer.

Woodstock, Nov. 5, 1921.

Woodstock, N. B., Nov. 18

To the Editor of The Press:

I noticed in this weeks Press some one enquiring as to what Mr. T. W. Caldwell did with all the money which was collected for his campaign in the Bye-Election two years ago. I just wonder why "Enquirer" is so anxious at this time, since we never heard from him before in spite of the fact that money has flowed rather freely in this constituency in so many elections previous to the Bye-Election. However, we have no hesitation in giving him the facts of the Campaign fund which was raised for the Bye-Election. The money which was raised at that time was collected and distributed by Mr. Caldwell's Official Agent. Mr. Caldwell did not handle that fund, he did, however, pay all of his personal expenses in connection with that campaign, and when all bills were in and it was shown that we were six Hundred Dollars short of having money enough to meet our expenses, Mr. Caldwell gave his cheque for this amount to clear all accounts.

We wish also to inform enquirers that the campaign account was audited by a competent Auditor, and a complete statement of all moneys received with the names of all contributors and a detailed statement of all moneys expended, in the election. This statement was sent out to the Secretary of all the Branches of the United Farmers of N. B. in Carleton and Victoria Counties. This statement was brought before the different branches to be affirmed by them. This statement showed that not one cent was expended in that campaign for the purpose of buying votes or supplying booze or cigars or sinners or in any way to corrupt the electorate.

Mr. Caldwell in accepting the Nomination in the Bye-Election said that "if one cent is used except for the legitimate expenses of this election I will resign my seat" and Victoria and Carleton would have another vacancy on their hands. This had the effect of cleaning up the corrupt mess into which politics had been foundering in Victoria and Carleton. Further, we are ready at any time in this present campaign to open our books to anyone to show where our campaign fund is coming from and what it is being expended for.

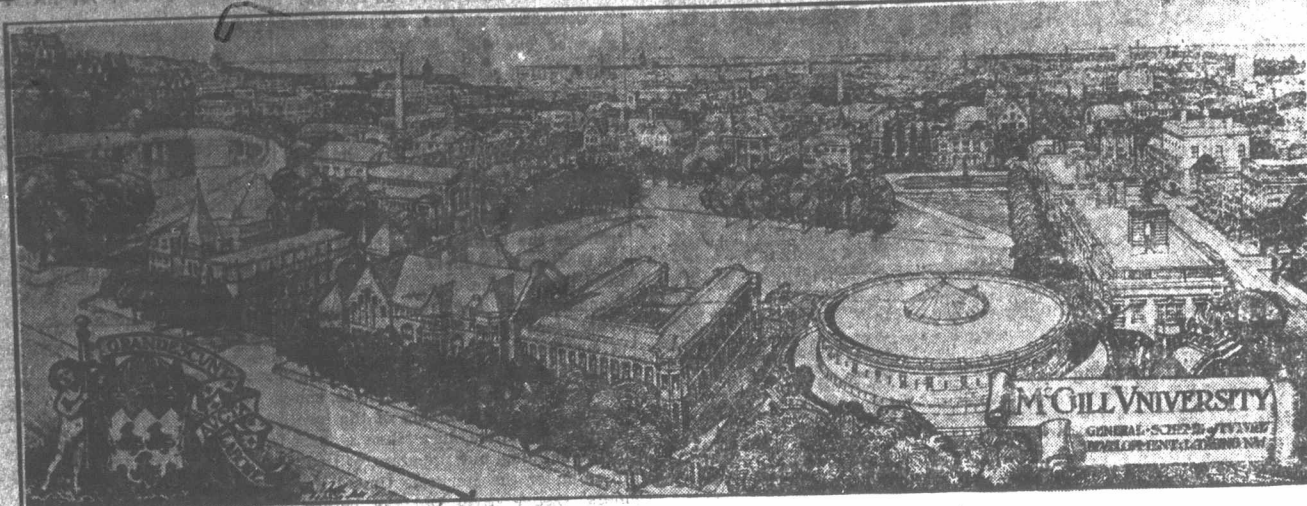

C. GORDON SHARPLE,
Official Agent.

TO STOP SMUGGLING FURS

In view of the number of complaints reaching the Chief Game Warden of the province regarding the custom of trappers and others smuggling pelts across the boundary for sale in the State of Maine, it has been decided by the authorities of Maine and New Brunswick to co-operate in suppressing this smuggling.

The game laws of New Brunswick provide a penalty of $100 or 30 days jail for conviction under this section where resident trappers smuggle pelts which have had no royalty paid on them and for which no license has been taken out. A resident trapper who has pelts for sale outside the province is required to take out a license and to have the fur inspected, stamped and taxed. Pelts may be sold to a resident licensed dealer without stamping and without the license.

will be held at St. James Methodist Church.

A special souvenir button has been designed in honor of the occasion, another of the many important events associated with the history of Montreal.

The special committee in charge of the reunion include: Chairman, Brig-General G. E. McCuaig, Sc. '06; Vice-Chairman, Captain J. G. Ross, Sc. '03; Secretary, E. B. Tilt, M. King, Arts '07 and Mrs. C. McMillan, Arts '10; Entertainment, Gregor Barclay, Arts '08, Law '08, and Jas. C. Kemp, Sc. '08; Transportation, Abner Kingman, Jr. Arts '08, and H. C. Scott, Arts '06; Housing, A. G. Nicholson, Arts '97; Henry Morgan, Arts '13; Prof. N. N. Evans, Sc. '86; J. M. Eakins, Sc. '09 and J. W. Jenkins, Arts '13, Secretary, McGill Graduates Society.

A greater interest has been created in McGill University through the special campaign inaugurated last fall particularly among the graduates. At this campaign over five million dollars were subscribed to carry on the work of old McGill, and to supply additional buildings and equipment commensurate with the growth of the University. This increased interest is duly reflected by the large numbers who are coming to attend the success of this outstanding event in the history of a great university so favorably known in every quarter of the globe.

Professor Cyrus MacMullin has written a history of the university entitled "McGill and its Stories," which S. B. Gundy, of the Oxford University Press, Toronto, has published in time for the Reunion. This contains extracts from many historic records published for the first time and gives a wonderfully interesting account of the progress of education in Lower Canada and Quebec within the last hundred years.

The Foundation of Health is Habit

"For every man who has lost his life by what he did in the last five minutes a hundred men have died because of what they had been doing in the last five years."

Life is made up of habits. There is the health habit. And also the habit of ill-health. It is surprising what a lot of people have developed the latter.

What hosts of women have bilious spells and bilious headaches about every so often, year in and year out, and never think of correcting the action of the liver, and thereby removing the cause of this oft-recurring trouble.

They have formed the habit of being bilious.

Many are the men, indoor workers as well as those who spend their time in the open, who frequently suffer from backache, and yet neglect to get the kidneys in healthful condition.

It is the backache habit which is robbing life of its pleasures for them.

These are dangerous habits.

Some people live for many years with their systems poisoned by impurities—they live and suffer.

Others soon develop Bright's disease, diabetes, high blood pressure or hardening of the arteries, and quickly have their lives snuffed out.

The greatest rule of health is "daily movement of the bowels."

This is also the most valuable of health habits.

To get back to this rule, to awaken the sluggish action of the liver and kidneys, to cleanse the system and purify the blood, there is nothing like Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

By using one pill a dose at bedtime two or three times a week, just as often as is necessary to keep the bowels regular, you will in a few weeks restore the healthful action of these filtering and excretory organs

Bilious Headache

Mrs. John Ireland, R. R. No. 2, King, Ont., writes:

"I was a great sufferer from severe headaches and bilious spells without obtaining any benefit until I was advised to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. These completely relieved me, and made me feel like a new person. I am very grateful to Dr. Chase's medicines for what they have done for me, and you may use my letter for the benefit of others."

Rheumatism

Mr. George Weathers, Huntsville, Ont., writes:

"I was troubled with rheumatism for eighteen years, and although I tried a number of different treatments nothing did me any good. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and can truthfully say they completely relieved me."

and correct any derangements of the digestive system.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will help you as nothing else can to get back to the habit of healthful living.

You will live a longer and a happier life by reason of their use.

These letters will interest you, and a test of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will prove their exceptional merits in relieving the common, every-day ills and preventing the more serious ones. Edmandson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Kidney Trouble

Mr. George Stevenson, Rounthwaite, Man., writes:

"For seven months I suffered from kidney trouble, backache and dizzy turns, and could get no relief. My back ached so severely that I could not turn in bed, and finally I had to quit work. One day I received a copy of Dr. Chase's Almanac through the mail, and after reading how highly Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were recommended, I gave them a trial. I had tried various other pills and remedies with no effect whatever, but immediately I started using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I got relief, and two boxes made me well."

High Blood Pressure

Don't Neglect THAT COUGH!

Persistent coughs lead to chronic bronchitis, asthma and permanent chest weakness. Suffering druggists mixtures into the stomach is useless in bronchial trouble. It needs Peps the breathable remedy which goes direct to the root of your cough.

As Peps tablets dissolve in the mouth, they give off powerful medicinal fumes which soothe and heal the inflamed breathing tubes, and destroy all disease germs. Peps speedily end chest soreness, clear the bronchials of phlegm and mucus, stop the wheeziness and coughing, and make breathing easy.

Remember, it is far better to prevent pleurisy, pneumonia and other lung diseases arising from neglected coughs and colds, than to cure them. Therefore take Peps at the first sign of a cough, cold or chill.

50c. box all druggists and stores, or post-paid from The Peps Co., Dupont St., Toronto.

SAMPLE OF PEP'S FREE!
If you cut out this sample, and send it with 1c. stamp, the Peps Co., Toronto will send you a trial sample. For sore throat, laryngitis, coughs, colds, chills, bronchitis, asthma, and other throat and chest troubles, Peps is the only remedy recommended by Dr. Gordon Stables and other medical men.

The Lake of the Hanging Glaciers

(By Frederick Niven).
The name had always intrigued. It went into the same place as the names Llano Estacado, the Barren Lands, Land of Little Sticks. When, by the excellent goodness of God (as it seems to me), I found myself on a late July evening, actually close enough to have Nixon, the long, lean local guide to that wonderland, indicate, if not the range of the hanging glaciers, the direction of our travel to it, I could scarcely believe my good fortune. I felt as one who dreams, at any moment it seemed, I might awaken and find it was not so—that the light of the hotel room behind me (we sat on the verandah discussing the morning's start) was not really streaming out on a pad of paper on Nixon's knee; that his face was not all a big shadow, save the chin, under a high cow-puncher hat; that he was only a figure in a dream, before a dream hotel; that only in a dream was he saying to me: "And what do you folks like to drink, tea or coffee? And in the way of fruit, do you prefer pears or apricots or peaches?" All evening I could hardly believe I was going, even though I laid out my khaki pants and leggings and a Mackinaw coat before turning in that night.

Very early I was awakened, to the reflection of lake ripples on the ceiling above my bed, by the call of a loon. I was indubitably there—where the loon calls; and I counted over some of the causes of my happiness. The call of the loon; the scent of sage-brush and of balsam; the smell of horses in the open air, horses whose tails are not docked; wind-wrinkled lakes dropt among the luxuriant Selkirk or the austere Rockies; and lakes that are like polished jade (to filch a simile from the other day called: "The Canadian Calendar"); and still blue lakes where the ripples from a canoe give to the surface the appearance of watered silk; and the smell of wood-smoke. Enough said. I was a trifle excited as we started out from Invermere in an automobile along a wagon-road to the place where Nixon and the horses were to await us. June bugs and yellow grasshoppers veered and crackled. Dragonflies darted past. Once the wind held upon the wind-screen till we took a curve and he could flutter off. We left behind us a pennon of dust, bobbing away from the hotel where people said: "Where are they going?" and somebody replied, "To the Lake of the Hanging Glaciers." In a meadow beside a bend of Horse Thief Creek, where were three log cabins, the horses waited for us. We came round a twist of the road, brushing cottonwood and poplar and willow branches and, stopping, heard the tinkle of a horse bell; and there they were, Nixon, with his foot against a pack trailing on a rope, in the act of completing the work known as "throwing the diamond hitch."

Going to the Hanging Glaciers is as good as getting there, astounding spectacle though they be. It is an unforgettable journey. Walking in streets is an empty undertaking compared with riding through the Mountains, despite the shows in all the shop-windows and the passing faces. Time is in Oxford Street. The urgent moment is on Wall Street. Eternity is in the pass of Horse Thief Creek, where are no clocks. That is the feeling: it is into Eternity that we ride there. For that cause, all the way I found it hard to believe. The impression persisted that I might awake from sleep and an exquisite dream, that I might awaken to hear the clatter of street-sweepers, honk of late (or very early) taxis, and that Nixon's big cow-puncher hat showing ahead was only out of a story read when a boy. To begin with there were bridges over creeks we had to cross, corduroy bridges, but when we left wagon-road and came to trail the creeks were forded. Usually the horses drank before fording; and of all the charming pictures that have become stereotyped without losing charm, that of horses drinking by a riverbank is one of the finest.

That is only one of the simple delights of going to the Hanging Glaciers; and long may it be before any improvement committee throws bridges over these creeks, for the sake of timid tourists. There are other trails for these trails with every little hillside crack bridged, every precipice shored up, every overhanging tree lopped away as soon as a wind came it over the trail, so that the pilgrim need not even bow, riding along Nixon's cry ahead of: "Low bridge!" was part of the fun. The sleepy little half-purring, half-singing voice of a frog by some reedy-edged unmapped lakelet of the mountain recesses is also part of the pleasure of such a journey. Most of us are all tangled up in law and bye-laws; and Houses of Parliament and Trade Union halls loom over us. That's why it is hard to believe we are there when we find ourselves in such places—where night is not lit by street lamps, but deepens and deepens in the valleys, as if exuding from amid the uncrowned trees. Overhead day lingers on upon the sheer precipices of peaks that we see between the topmost spires of the Douglas firs. How comfortable we can be there! In a few minutes, with a few clips of an axe, we have a mattress of fir-boughs; and then the trees from which they have been clipped make the tent poles over which to cast the canvas sheet.

The guide having smashed his watch I lent him mine, so that he could have all up and forth early on the next day. I woke to dim light and wondered what the time might be, rose and looked out of my tent and gasped. What scene and perfect beauty! It was not day. It was not night. It was scarce dawn. The creek rushed past, a long grade of grey. The trees were infinitely still. As I looked each outlined itself and gained stability. That was the impression. I glanced up and saw morning on a high gold cloud. All was so perfect, so tranquil, so good, that I had a pang of sorrow for all men in tenements and of regret for all back-courts in the cities of the world. One planet had the appearance of resting on a peak of jasper and chalcodony—an illusion of the witching hour, an actuality of the quality of light. It was unbelievably large. Rays shot from it like a star drawn by a man in the stone age. There was no other planet, no star, visible. And that planet, even as I watched, ignoring the cold of morning at my tent flap, went adrift from the peak; it was left alone in a wash of blue, then dwindled in size. The tremendous moment was over. I turned back and crept under the blankets to warm me—cold and happy—and was awakened again by the clip of an axe, and a crackling noise, and voices. Looking out I saw the camp-fire newly tended, and Nixon washing his hands carefully, preparatory to cooking breakfast. By aid of a mirror hanging from a twig of a tree I shaved; and as our voices grew louder a marmot whistled away up on the peak that had been as of jasper and chalcodony and was then as of smoky haze, with a sudden rattle of talk from our smoke. The shadow of the peak over us drifted off sideways, and there came to our creek-side meadow a wedge of golden light and immediately warm. As for the Glaciers, the announced objective of our journey: I once knew a lonely man who did not care to go out for a walk without a goal. Once he even addressed an envelope to himself before going out so that he could say: "I am going as far as the corner pillar-box, to post a letter." The Hanging Glaciers were our objective; but going up there was as good as getting there. Any objective will serve that takes one out to the roar of creeks and the sight of eagles wheeling in immensity and squirrels swaying on a bough's end. The Glaciers are certainly a spectacle. They hang. They do hang. They are in chains of a league-wide sickle of mountain, eight separate glaciers, with tape tops and great butt ends many feet thick. From a monster one at the bottom of that sweep of mountain, the front of it recalling pictures of the Great Ice Barrier of the Antarctic, chunks break off. It "calves," in the word of those whom Nixon calls "glaciologists." The calves float on the lake, out of which Horse Thief creek flows with plunging noise, and foam. The lake-fronting it, and receiving its broken splinters (and changing, opal-like, in the changes of the light and the rufflings and smoothings of the winds), was once christened "Lake May." But there are limits to human endurance. When old-timer Bruce saw it he said: "Hanging Glaciers! The Lake of the Hanging Glaciers!" And rightness triumphed over levity. The name remains. The Lake of the Hanging Glaciers. On the Alpine meadow on the higher side of that lake a man can sit all day, warm in the summer sun, and watch the plannigan trot across the névés. You cannot walk there but you tread upon an Alpine flower. There are long wedges of phylloids, that look like heath or heather. Between these are wedges of rock-slide, shaped like the glaciers, upturned V's on the mountain-sides, miles along. Ever and again there is a rumble that is not of thunder; it is the rumble of avalanches and rock-slides. Intermittently it punctuates the quiet of the day. The awe of the Glaciers is the journey's end and assuredly lives in the memory; but also much else lives in the memory, drifts into the sub-conscious that, with the advance of man, shall become the conscious—drifts into his heart to his making, if he have any capacity to be made. A thousand memories remain: squirrels springing their rattles; mother plannigan clucking to her brood; little understandings on the way between man and horse; the knocking of a stone from the hollow of his head, and having him rub his muzzle in friendly gesture on one's shoulder, as expression of thanks. These are among the number. From the horrific saw-edged rocky crest, where the taper tips of the fanning glaciers have the appearance of being hooked on down to the valley depths and the dart of blue dragon-flies among rushes, with metallic clank there; from the roar of the rock-slides to the joyous out a nattering in air of a lively grasshopper—all is good. Perhaps it is only because the life we have, mostly, to live, has so frequently a quality rather like nightmare, that going to the Hanging Glaciers has the quality of a dream.

UNITED FARMERS' WOODSTOCK BRANCH

The manager of the Woodstock branch of the United Farmers' Co-operative Co., Ltd., writes as follows:

"Correcting an item on the second page of The Gleaner of November 5 issue, which stated that the Maritime United Farmers' local branch had ceased to have charge of the store. The correct meaning is that the local wholesale warehouse has been disposed of by a meeting of the directors and that the local branch store would transfer the business now being done by the local warehouse, and that the head office of the company, located at Moncton, still have central control. What steps were taken in the matter of purchasing the business by Ellmore Robinson and G. S. Peabody, as stated is that the local committee, consisting of seven members of the local branch committee, has taken a lease of the building, but the store will continue under the Maritime United Farmers' Co-operative, Ltd., as before."

FINE SOLDIERS

The members of the Hardland G. W. V. A., made a splendid showing at the unveiling of the soldiers' monument. A very large number turned out and it was evident that they had not forgotten the training that fitted them for their conspicuous part in the fight for civilization.—Sentinel.

"DAMN THE PLUMBER"

The following from the October issue of the West Coast Lumberman, outlining the sentiments of one of the largest Lumber manufacturers in the United States, is of particular interest to Canadians at this juncture.

"What can we do to help to restore confidence and to start the wheels of industry to hum as they were wont to do?" asks the National Lumber Manufacturers Company of Hingham in a recent sales letter.

"In our judgment one of the first things that we should do is to quit yelling for lower railroad freight rates.

"The threat of promise of a downward revision of rates in the misty distant future is inducing caution on the part of the entire business interests of the country to such an extent that industry is slackened and business of all kinds is retarded.

"The railroads are in a bad way financially, and there is not a ray of hope for them to secure new money from outside sources for needed repairs and improvements as long as the stranglehold of governmental control is fastened at their throats.

"The railroads in the aggregate are the greatest industrial force in the country and when they are in financial difficulties, you and we are going to suffer in like proportion.

"For years railroad baiting has been popular and we chortled with glee when they were hog-tied with rules and regulations, and told where to head in. We smiled when we saw the once proud management talked to sensibly by the common individual that we the 'people' had chosen as our spokesman.

"We now find ourselves like the chap that was bothered by a dog barking under his window, wrapping his nightgown about his shivering legs, he went to put a stop to it. His wife, becoming alarmed at his continued absence, went to investigate, and found him standing in a snow drift, holding the dog by the hind legs. She yelled, 'For the love of Mike, what are you doing?' He cried out, 'Go back to bed, I am going to freeze this beggar to death.'

"It can't be done and we should change our tactics as we are standing on our own foot and not getting anywhere.

"We, on the Pacific Coast, have been harder hit than any other district, as the unscientific, unroadlike horizontal advance of last year hit us a wallop that seemed impossible to withstand. We are still groggy, but are adapting ourselves and realize the necessity of securing better service and freer movement of business.

"We lumbermen roar over the additional cost per thousand on our lumber, but a reduction of 10 per cent on the plumbing bill on a dwelling house would mean a greater saving to the consumer than any reduction in the rate of lumber would bring. So let's damn the plumber awhile and let up on the railroads.

"We hold no brief for any transportation system, nor do we wish to hang wreaths of bay and laurel on the brows of any of the managers, as they are just human like ourselves, and our sole idea is to better our own condition.

"When we view the thousands of worn-out and damaged cars, the many old, rusty locomotives out of commission, when we sway and bump over tracks out of commission, we shudder at our isolation. When business is again normal, we must have service to thrive, and if we suffer you will not be comfortable.

"Think it over, talk it over and get the sub-conscious mind of yours busy on the subject, and we feel sure that you will agree with us—that it is time to hunt for another remedy for our industrial and financial ailments."
