Stormy Debate by French Deputies Over Official Irregularities.

"Holy War" Proclaimed Against Italians by the Mahdi-Honors for Lansdowne-Ethics of Interviewing.

Lansdowne Honored. LONDON, Oct. 29 .- The Order of the Garter has been conferred upon Lord Lansdowne, formerly Governor-General of India. William's New Brooms.

BERLIN, Oct. 29 .- Baron Von Koeller has formally assumed the office of Prussian Minister of the Interior. Prince Hohenlohe has assumed the Chancellorship and Presidency of the Council. A "Holy War."

Rome, Oct. 29 .- The Riforma has advices from Kassala, stating that the Mahdi has proclaimed a holy war against the Italians. The Governor of Massawah has ordered the Fifth Battalion to be in readinest by Nov. 1, when the Italian troops at Kassala will number 7,000 and the Mahdi's army 12,000. The Irish Political Prisoners.

DUBLIN, Oct. 29 .- Mr. John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, received today a deputation who had called upon him to demand the release of the Irish political prisoners now confined in Irish and English prisons. Mr. Morley informed the deputation that the Cabinet had decided that the law must take its course. He would not say that the Government would never release these prisoners, as the decision of the Cabinet might be reconsidered.

Canada's New Loan. LONDON, Oct. 29 .- The new Canadian loan has been very greatly over-subscribed. Tenders at £97 9 shillings will receive the full amount subscribed for. Tenders at £97 8 shillings 6 pence will receive 45 per

The subscriptions for the 3 per cent loan of the Government of the Dominion of Canada have aggregated over $56,000,000, although the loan only called for $11,250, 000 (£2,500,000). The minimum price was fixed at 95, but the bulk of the loan was subscribed for at an average of 971. Discount Rates.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The rates of discount last week were 1 for three months and 1 for 30 days. The abundance of gold was unexpected, but the Canadian and Chinese loans will greatly influence the floating supply. Silver was stronger, China buying steadily. The prospects of a Chinese loan strengthened it further, although it is believed that most of the loan will be spent in Europe for war materials. The Stock Exchange was quiet; consols rose 1. American railroad securities were weak, awaiting a revival in New York.

The Much-Discussed Marriage.

London, Oct. 29 .- A dispatch from Corfu says that the Metropolitan of St. Petersburg arrived there this morning to perform the ceremony of uniting Princess Alix. For the next four days the Princess will attend the services of the orthodox church, and at the final service will partake of communion, after which the marriage ceremony may be performed at any time. The date of the marriage, however, has not been definitely

The German ambassador to Russia, Gen. Von Werder, has arrived at Livadia for the purpose of being present at the ceremony. The Czar Not So Well.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 29 .- The official bulletin sent from Livadia at 8 o'clock this evening says the Emperor ate little today. He felt weaker. The cough with which he has been long troubled in consequence of chronic catarrh of the throat and trachea has grown perceptibly worse and interferes with his breathing. His expectoration is tinged with blood.

The anniversary of the Czar's escape in the railway accident near Borki was celebrated with a special Te Deum in the chapel at Livadia today. Among those present were the Czarina, the Czarewitch and Princess Alix of Hesse.

"Irregularities" Don't Go.

Paris, Oct. 29.-There was a stormy debate in the Chamber of Deputies today over the accounts of M. Favette, a high official in the Ministry of Commerce. In the accounts were included bills for dinners at Voissons on 640 occasions and cabs each for the use of Deputy Guerin and Senator

Premier Dupuy admitted that these bills were "irregular," but thought there was no circumstance connected with them that would justify the prosecution of the offenders. M. Joures, however, demanded that the persons contracting these bills be

M. Guerin challenged the Government to prosecute him, declaring that he had been guilty of no misconduct. The Chamber approved of M. Joure's

The Pope on Union. Rome, Oct. 29 .- The text of the Pope's speech to the conference held to consider the union oi the eastern and western churches has just been made public. After praising all who had helped to bring about the conference, he said: "We wish that all governments alike had embraced this grand ideal, inasmuch as the union if achieved will be for the interest and benefit of the entire world; but political views and still more, we regret to sav. the unreasonable jealousies of some eyes, surrounded with LEADEN CIRCLES, oily of the governments which show in what condition the Papacy is placed, have prevented these reunions from having the large and solid results rightly expected eyes, surrounded with LEADEN CIRCLES, only looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension every function wanes in confrom them. Above all we must lament the absence of the Patriarch of the 'Armenians. We shall not, on this account, however, recede from our purpose, and even if we can count only within certain limits on political unior, nothing will prevent us from solving the while awaiting more propitious times for the rest of the work.

The Ethics of Interviewing.

LONDON, Oct. 29 .- Not long ago a London news agency obtained an interview with a prominent admiral in her Majesty's navy about the lessons of the Chinese. Japanese battle at the mouth of the Yalu River. A few days later the manager of the agency received a polite note from the admiral begging that a fee be sent him for answering the reporter's questions.

A somewhat similar phase of the ethics of interviewing is presented by a letter to the Times from Mr. W. S. Gilbert. A person styling herself the Comtesse de Brement sought an interview with the well-known playwright for St. Paul's, a new nondescript weekly. Mr. Gilbert the effect that my terms for an inter-Bremont presents her compliments to Mr. Gilbert, and in reply to his answer to her request for an interview for St. Paul's, in which he states his terms as twenty guineas for that privilege, begs to say that she anticipates the pleasure of writing his obituary notice for nothing." Now the Comtesse threatens Mr. Gilbert with a suit for making the matter public.

China Alarmed. LONDON, Oct. 29 .- A dispatch to the Globe from Tien Tsin says the rout of the Chinese troops on the Yalu River and the failure of the Chinese army to arrest the advance of the Japanese have spread consternation among the Chinese officials, who do not deny that the Chinese army has met with serious disaster. The Japanese legation here has a dispatch saying that the second army, under Gen. Oyama, left its rendezvous in Corea on Oct. 23, and made a successful landing at Talien Wan.

The Central News correspondent in Shanghai says it is rumored in Tien Tsin that the young Empress, is dead, but the tact will not be announced nor mourning be worn by the court until after the birthday of the Dowager Empress. The Central News correspondent in Tokio telegraphs: It is not believed here that the Japanese will attack Port Arthur before the end of the week. Gen. Nodzu, who commands the advance force of the Japanese army, has abandoned the pursuit of the fugitives from Kulienchao, as he does not wish to be burdened with more Chinese prisoners. The Japanese march upon Feng Huang Chang has begun.

The Times has these dispatches from the Yokohama-Another Japanese army. 24,000 strong, is assembling at Hiroshima. Shanghai-It is reported that Port Arthur has been completely invested by the Japanese and cannot hold out long. It is believed at Moukden that Japanese will require a much larger army than they possess to secure the Chinese palace treasure. William Hill, an American, has been fined $100 for sketching the defenses of Hong Kong.

Hippolyte to Resign. KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 29.—Advices from Port au Prince state that President Hippolyte of Hayti is about to resign in favor of Nordalexis.

A Viscount Suicides,

LONDON, Oct. 30.-The fact has been carefully suppressed that Viscount Drum lanrig, the eldest son of the Marquis of Queensberry, whose death was announced last week, committed suicide. The young man was recently engaged, and the announcement caused two other women, with whom he had relations, to threaten him. The young man blew his brains out.

The Release of the Paris Funds, LONDON, Oct. 29 .- The release of the Paris funds is a matter of great importance to the Irish party, and may have an indirect effect to lessen the bitterness of the feuds in Irish politics. It will remove the heavy financial embarrassment under which the party is laboring, for the expenditure of $60,000 to $75,000 annually for the relief of evicted tenants is now provided for two years to come. The amount of these funds now exceeds $200,000. The settlement was reached by Messrs. Harrington and Kenny, representing the Parnellites, and Dillon and Davitt, of the Irish Nationalists. The terms are that nearly $150,000 be placed at the unconditional disposal of Davitt and Dillon for the relief of evicted tenants. The remainder, about $60,000, constitutes a fund for the payment of what are known as prior claims. It is not admitted that any such claims exist. That must be proved before the arbitration board, consisting of Messrs. Davitt, Dillon and Harrington. The only claims possible are for expenditures in behalf of the Irish cause by Mr. Parnell or by his direction prior to the split. The political effects of this settlement are twofold. It destroys the calculations of Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain that the Irish party will be ruined by bankruptey, and it deprives the Healy faction of its chief excuse for revolt. Mr. Healy has asserted that the Paris funds could never be secured by arbitration, and could be obtained only by legal proceedings. As a matter of fact, the Paris counsel assured Mr. McCarthy that the French law is so peculiar that it was by no means certain that it was not within the power of any of the original subscribers to the fund to prolong the litigation for many years. For a long time it has been clear that nothing ALL MEN effect throughout Ireland. To Push the Siberian Railway. London, Oct. 29 .- At St. Petersburg plans for pushing the construction of the famous trans-Siberian railway are being discussed. The section of the line which presents the most difficulties is that through the Amoor Valley connecting Irkutsk with Knabarowka, from where a line under construction proceeds southward to the port of Vladivostock. Six hundred miles from Irkutsk the Amoor, which marks the present boundary between Russian and Chinese territory, makes a great Caledonian Some bend to the north, thus adding 808 miles to on that night. the road. It is now proposed to abandon this route and to run the line from Irsays: "I replied politely, but evasively, to kutsk to Kiachta, where the tea caravans halt, and thence through Chinese territory view were twenty guineas." He received to Vladivostock. China has to be conthe following note: "The Comtesse de sulted about this, however, and thus far sulted about this, however, and thus far has not taken kindly to the proposal. The Russian engineers, however, claim that a new survey will give them a large slice of what is now regarded as Chinese territory in this region and that they will then have rights the celestial empire must respect. This change in the route of this great road is thought to have something to do with Russian antipathy to China in the present

MERCIER IS DEAD!

The Great French-Canadian Succumbs After Long Suffering.

His Dying Hours-- Unconscious at the Last-Peculiar Prophecy.

MONTREAL, Oct. 30 .- Honore Mercier died this morning at 8:45. The end had been expected any time during the preceding 24 hours. Mr. Mercier has been suffering from a complication of diseases for years past, diabetes predominating. After his defeat at the general elections of March, 1892, his friends expressed the opinion that he had only six menths to live, but by dint of adopting abstemious habits of living he managed to prolong existence longer than had been expected. The last rites of the church were administered by the Rev. Father Garceau. S. J. It is a remarkable fact that a spiritualist here had foretold about ten days ago that the end would come on Oct. 30. Yesterday Mr. Mercier was unconscious most of the time. For ten hours of the day he lay in a coma tose condition, reviving at intervals for a few seconds and then relapsing into a state that was almost akin to death. Mr. Mercier at a late hour last evening was very weak. Morphine was administered at 10:40 and the patient became much agitated. It was then feared by the physicians that a reaction would take place and the end might come any minute. Throughout the night the vital spark flickered, growing lower and lower until the end came. Mr. Mercier in his prime would have weighed close onto 185 pounds. His dead body is now a mere skeleton, so much has he wasted away. Notwithstanding that Mr. Mercier's death was expected at any time the news has created great interest here and the bulletin boards containing the information were soon surrounded by growds eager to learn the particulars of the once great French-Canadian's last hours. He was surrounded at death by Madame Mercier and his children, Madame Decahe, her sister and his brother, Edward. The funeral will take place on Friday at the Church of the Jesn.

THE GRAND TRUNK!

Sir Henry Tyler Defeated on the First Vote.

On a Motion to Pass Accounts-Another Ballot Will Be Taken-Hisses and Cheers.

London, England, Oct. 30. -At a meet ing of shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railway this afternoon, Sir Henry Tyler, president of the company, moved to adopt the report and accounts. Mr. Searle, a shareholder, moved an amendment that the report and accounts be received, but that their adoption be postponed until result of investigation of accounts to be made in Canada by an expert shall be made. The amendment was voted upon and carried by a vote of 161 to 160. Sir Henry Tyler challenged the vote, and it was decided to have a reballot tonight, the result to be announced at 11 o'clock tomorrow. The directors upon entering the meeting were greeted with hisses and cheers in about even proportion. Sir Henry Tyler said he had always hitherto spent two months in Canada in the autumn of each year but everything had become so astrous and wages so greatly reduced during 1894 that he had not gone this year, because his presence there would have caused applications for an increase of wages, as well as applications for employment which could not be granted.

A NEW YORK HORROR.

A $300 Fire Causes the Loss of Seven Lives

In a Tenement - Freedman's Thrilling Escape-Most of the Victims Died Peace ully.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.-Flames flashed with marvelous rapidity from the cellar to the roof of the five-story single tenement, No. 216, west Thirty-second street, early this morning. Smoke filled the entire house, and seven of the tenants were suffocated in their rooms. Their names are: Andie Appleblam, 22 years old; George Freedman, 4 years; Levi Freedman, 3 years; Mrs. Margaret Killian, 70 years old; Jacob Killian, 4 years old, son of Mrs. Margaret Killian; George Lorey, 20 years old, grandson of Mrs. Killian; Mrs. Lena Mitchell, 24 years old, a cousin cf Mrs. Lena Freedman old, leaped from a window.

The house contained seven families. All those in the front escaped, but while they were being rescued a tragedy was being enacted in the rear apartments on the second floor where Nathan Freedman, a furrier, was making a mad fight to save his family and himself from death. He awoke to find his bedroom full of smoke, and picking up Esther, the youngest of his three children, a babe of 4 months, Freedman made his way to the hall door, The flames had reached that floor, and the fire drove him dazed and half fainting from the intense heat to the kitchen. He called his wife and bade her follow him, but the woman became crazed and did not obey. Freedman made his way to a corner window and rapidly descended a ladder, expecting his wife would follow. He heard a scream and saw his wife shoot downward from a window. She sustained no broken bones, but her clothing were ablaze, and before it could be extinguished the woman was probably fatally burned. Freedman started back to get his other children. It was too late. Mrs. Freedman's heartrending cries for her children were pitiful. The two Freedman children, George and tribute light, heat and power to London Levi, were found lying dead, side by and vicinity. hair of their head had been singed. Mr. John Michall In the bedroom were the bodies of Lena Mitchell, a cousin of Mrs. Freedman and Annie Appleblam, who boarded with the family. Neither of the girls had moved, apparently, and their faces looked peaceful enough. On the floor above, Jacob Killian was found doubled up as if he had made an effort to crawl through the window and had been overcome in the act. Geo. Lovey had also managed to get out of bed and his body was found on the floor. Aged Mrs. Killian had died just as she slept, and a peaceful smile rested on her furrowed face. The damage to the building is estimated at not more than $300. The losses of the tenants, however, will swell the total damage to a

Dr. Oronhyatekha Visits Court Maple, St. Thomas-A Notable Gathering. Court Maple, I. O. F., of St. Thomas, neld their regular meeting last evening in their hall on Talbot street. The officers of the court had prepared for a visit of the supreme chief ranger, Dr. Oronhyatekha. About 150 Foresters were present, a large delegation from Aylmer attending. After the regular routine of work, Dr. Dancombe was moved to the chair. He first called upon A. H. Backus, of Aylmer, high counselor of Ontario, who gave a short and instructive outline of the many advantages fair to live in three centuries-1700, 1800 gained by a member of the I. O. F. LONDON AND ENVIRONS

Wanted-Police.

The near appreach of Hallowe'en has caused the annual restlessness among small boys and a corresponding desire to stay out late at nights. A Clarence street woman appeared at the Police Court this morning and wanted a summons issued for a boy who struck her little daughter with a stone last night. She left to find the names of the rest of the gang. The East End was well nigh depopulated of gates last night, and more than one window was broken. Boys pay special attention to buildings in course of erection, and malicious damage has been done in more than one instance. The police will have their hands full for the next few nights.

Women Club Frequenters.

Two young women were arrested at 1 o'clock this morning at a King street club room. At the police court this morning they were registered as Jennie Riddle and Elizabeth Murray. Both were well dressed and between 20 and 25 years of age. They were remanded for a week at the chief's request, to allow of the summoning of several young men who frequent the club and who had been in the company of the girls. The police will make a determined effort to put an end to practices of like nature which are alleged to be on the increase in the down town portions of the city. "Dublin" Burris was in again and was fined $2 or five days.

Mr. John Michell, of Dorchester township, celebrated his 101st birthday today. This remarkably old gentlemen has a son whose age is 77 and a little daughter of 75 years. Three daughters-Ann, Jane, and Ellen - and one son live at home. A son, James, is married and has ten children. A married daughter, Mrs. Nixon, of Westminster, has seven of a family, including three married daughters. The aged man refers to his children who have already passed the three score years and ten mark as "the boys" and "the girls." The celebration today was a quiet family affair. Mr. Mitchell's mental powers are undimmed, his hearing is good and he can read with comfort and without spectacles. He was born in the parish of Bellie, Banfishire, Scotland, on Oct. 30, 1793, and started life with the hardy vigor of the north of Scotland to his credit. When the battle of Waterloo was fought he was a young man of 22, and he has been a living witness of all the progress of this wonderful century. He followed the trade of a blacksmith, and was married in 1818 to Jane Bruce, also a native of Bellie. Thirteen children were born to them. Seven are now living, and three of the dead are resting in a Scotch burying ground. In 1847, at the age of 50, Mr. Mitchell emigrated to Canada with his wife and family and located at Pond Mills. Mrs. Mitchell died sixteen years ago. Mr. Mitchell bids

LIVE STOCK CREMATED.

Seventy Cows and Several Valuable Horses Burned to Death.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 29 .- The Ottawa dairy buildings, situated four miles north of the city, were burned to the ground Friday night. Seventy-three head of cattle and two horses were cremated. The loss is ing very tired. I am telling my friends and $12,000.

REDOAK, Ind., Oct. 29 .- Yesterday the barn belonging to N. Yager, of Omaha, was destroyed. It was used as winter quarters for trotters in charge of J. Tilden. The 3-year-old stallion Antwerp, 2:161, and Elgin Girl, 2:191, valued at $5,000, were burned. A yearing colt by Redwald was also lost. The fire was incendiary.

Leaving Rideau Hall for Montreal. MONTREAL, Oct. 29 .- That Lord Aberdeen and his family will reside in Montreal this winter is now a certainty. He will occupy the residence of the late Premier Sir John Abbott on Sherbrooke street and will move in on Nov. 15. The house is now being prepared for the reception.

Boy Killed by a Bran Elevator. New York, Oct. 29 .- While playing near a bran elevator on the farm of Robt. Bayne, a boy named Alfred Pimsworth. while shooting bran into the hopper slipped and fell in. Before the machinery could be stopped a large quantity of bran had been forced into his lungs, and he died at 11 o'clock in the evening. Shot by a Windsor Man DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 29 .- Sarah Dales, aged 25, a colored woman, was shot and killed last night by Frank White, aged 27, a colored cook, who resides in Windsor, Ont. The ball evidently passed through the woman's heart, as she died almost instantly. White tried to get away, but he was caught. He claimed the shooting was accidental, but a statement of an eye-witness does not entirely carry this idea.

The couple have been living together as man and wife for the past nine years. A "Didn't-Know-It-Was-Open"

Past Attacks of "Grippe" Have Left the Seeds of Death, Ordinary Prescriptions Fail to Cleanse the System.

Paine's Celery Compound Is Curing the Poisoned Victims.

The ablest medical men in the world say that all who have been attacked by "Grippe," and who have not thoroughly recovered, have the seeds of disease in their bodies working surely towards death. A deadly poison is implanted in all the nerves of the body. We see around us nervous and trembling men and women; we see the muslin goods, worth 25c, Whiskard's | melancholic, despondent and sleepless who are weary of life, and we note with alarm the haggard appearance of hundreds whose expression of face indicates coming in-

For such unfortunate individuals wise and prudent physicians have recommended at $175. Paine's Celery Compound as the safest, surest and most efficacious medicine for 25c EACH eradicating all traces of poison and impurities from the system. Past experience has fully proved the superiority of Paine's Celery Compound over every other form of medicine. It quickly purifies the blood, braces the nervous system, gives tone and vigor, health and great bodily strength.

The following letter of testimony from Mrs. Mary E. Lampman, of Woodstock, Ont., is assuring, comforting and consoling for every sufferer:

"After serious consideration, I think it my duty to acknowledge the great good that I have derived from Paine's Celery Compound. No living mortal can imagine the sufferings that I endured for four months. That demon 'La Grippe' got a fast hold of me; I became nervous, and was so prostrated that I could not sleep night

"Life became a burden, and I was reperson in the room with me.

"One Sabbath afternoon I read one of your papers, 'Our Album,' and found that Paine's Celery Compound had cured many people. I thought I would try a bottle, and bought one that afternoon, and commenced to take it according to directions. The relief was almost instant. I continued the use of the Compound, with the result that I can now sleep well all night and feel well when morning comes. My appetite is good; I am gaining in flesh and feel like a charge will be fully investigated. new person.

"I cannot find words to express my gratitude for your great Paine's Celery Compound, and for the wonderful cure it has brought about. I am 73 years of age and can now walk five miles without feelneighbors, who are sleepless and nervous and suffering as I was, about your medicine. Wishing you unbounded success, and hoping this may be read by some one who is afflicted and axious for relief."

DRILL IN THE COLLEGIATE.

Inspector Hodgson Places It in Class C-Distribution of Medals.

No. 1 committee of the Board of Education met yesterday afternoon and considered question which was mentioned in Inspector Hodgson's report on the Collegiate Institute. Mr. Hodgson had stated that the drill instruction of the school could only be rated in class C. The matter was referred to committee and a report from Principal Merchant requested. This was not produced, but Mr. Merchant said that the whole trouble lay in Mr. Baxter's inability to keep order. The instructor had difficulty in this respect ever since his appointment. He could keep the girls in order, but the boys were too much for him. "It looks as though Mr. Hodgson's report was based upon Mr. Merchant's remarks," said Mr. Griffin. "Well, but it isn't. Mr. Hodgson complained to me after the inspection," said the principal. Mr. Baxter will be summoned to appear before the committee at its next meeting. A lengthy conversation followed in regard to the distribution of the Governor-General's, the Boyle memorial and the Robb memorial medals. Under the present conditions it is possible for pupils of one school to win the three medals, and it was to prevent this that the present question was brought up. Many ways of distributing the medals were talked of and many suggestions were offered. The Governor-General's and the Robb medals were to be given to the pupils making the largest number of marks at the high school entrance exams. Mr. Jeffrey moved that the pupil securing the highest number of marks have the choice of the Robb or the Governor-General's medals, the pupil standing second to take the remaining one. and in case both medals went to one school the Boyle memorial to go elsewhere. "I do not think the Governor-General will object to that," said Dr. Campbell. "The whole committee agreed, and the recommendation will be presented to the board for approval. The drawing teacher at the Collegiate Institute, Mr. Davidson, will be engaged for another half-day a week at an additional salary of $100 per year.

Messrs. J. I. Anderson & Co., will be given the contract for supplying ink for the Collegiate Institute at the same figures as last year.
Mr. Jeffery informed the committee that the late George Robinson, ex-city engineer, had made a bequest to the board—for what he did not know. Principal Merchant stated that Mr. J.

W. Little had volunteered to give a prize annually for the most proficient scholar in any subject he (Mr. Merchant) would

A correspondent of the Sarnia Observer writes: Quite a breeze has been created in Courtright and vicinity by the attempt of a certain follower of Rev. Mr. Madill in political matters to bulldoze the trustees of the Methodist Church there into including him in the list of speakers to take part in the special services and entertainment to be held on Sunday next. The programme in-cluded the names of the Methodist clergymen in the district and resident ministers of other denominations. Before its publication a prominent member of the P. P. A. there went to Rev. Mr. Tyler and stated that unless Rev. Mr. Madill's name was placed on the list and he was invited to take part they would boycott the entertainment, and he (Mr. Tyler) might as well close the doors. DEATH OF COUNT MERCIER. Count Honore Mercier, ex-Premier of Quebec, died at his home in Montreal today, after a lingering illness, borne with remarkable fortitude.

Mr. Mercier had many virtues and many faults. It seems to be the universal custom of mankind, when the grave is closing over the mortal remains of a man, to think more of his good points, and leave his faults to the arbitrament of a higher Power. Though it must be confessed that when Mr. Mercier attained power in Quebec, he imitated far too closely the methods of the late Dominion Premier, who so long of public moneys, it cannot be denied that he was in many respects an able statesman. At no time was his conduct more reprehensible than that of the Ottawa politicians who professed so much horror when they discovered he had been fighting them with their own weapons. He was a man of generous instincts, and he knew how to make and

By Mr. Mercier's death is removed, next to Mr. Laurier and Mr. Chapleau, the most eloquent speaker of French origin in Canada.

-Chief Justice Meredith declined a congratulatory address from the bar of Lincoln when he held his first assize sitting at St. Catharines yesterday. The Chief Justice has exhibited good sense. Congratulatory addresses have in late years become a nuisance to public men.

WORK FIRST, TALK AFTERWARDS. While we question the usefulness of a mere mouth competition in the present campaign, after the very full discussion of Provincial affairs last June, when Sir Oliver Mowat was again returned to power, we have no objection if anyone desires to open out in talk on any day, at any hour, at any minute, in the twenty days that will elapse before polling day. Let anyone who pines for that sort of campaign open out when he will, and traduce Mr. Hobbs as he will; it will but add to the majority that is being rolled up for him on all hands.

When Mr. Hobbs was running against the Opposition leader in June last it was hoped that Mr. Meredith would soon be Premier, and be able to fulfill the promises of offices made by his leading supporters. At that time Mr. Hobbs was defeated by so small a majority that his opponents asserted no other man but Mr. Meredith could have defeated him. When Mr. Meredith found that Sir Oliver was again the victor he withdrew from public life, and Mr. Hobbs, by the logic of his former oppon. ents-many of whom now support him-is the strongest candidate that could be put in the field. No amount of talking, whether indulged in every day, and at 8 a.m., 8 a.m., 12 noon, 4 p.m., 6 p.m., or midnight, by professional talkers, or by amateurs, can change that fact. Let the telligent race, thoroughly imbued with talk go on, if any one wants it at this stage. A mere jaw competition will affect no one. In due time, doubtless, there will be a calm, dispassionate platform discussion of the affairs of the Province. Meanwhile, Sir Oliver Mowat's Government is in power for four years to come, and Mr. Hobbs will give it an independent support, and continue to work to advance the interests of and west." this fine city. Every progressive Londoner should lend him his aid.

-The Montreal Witness, referring to the of the Province of Quebec are law-abiding, but the administration of justice does not work as speedily or as certainly as in Ontario."

THE PAST RECORD AND FUTURE PROSPECTS.

The Government of Sir Oliver Mowat is in power to stay for the next four years, beyond a doubt. The interests of London will certainly be best served by sending a representative progressive merchant and manufacturer to give an independent support to the Administration. But it is a proper thing to fairly discuss what the Government has accomplished in the past, and take that as an earnest of what it will do in the future.

What has it done to advance the interests of the wage-earners in the Province? The Government now in power, and to which Mr. Hobbs, as M. P. P. for London, will give an independent support during the next four years, passed the Mechanics' Lien Act, the Employers' Liability Act, the Factory Act, the Railway Accidents Act, the Act for the Relief of Co-operative Associations, the Creditors' Relief Act (which applies to wage-earners), and the Franchise and Representation Act of 1885.

It collects valuable statistics on labor, wages, and cost of living, with the object of helping the workers. It passed the Masters' and Servants' Act, and the act to secure compensation to workmen for injuries.

It passed an act to secure to wives and children the benefits of life assurance, an act creating free grants and homesteads, an act providing for the establishment of free libraries, and an act providing exemption from execution under the Free Grants and Homesteads Act.

It passed an act providing for the estabishment of technical schools, an act regulating the closing of shops and the hours of labor therein for children and young persons, an act for the protection and reformation of neglected children, and an act to enforce orders under the act respecting

It passed an act as to truancy and compulsory school attendance, an act for the protection of persons employed in places of business other than factories, and the Manhood Suffrage Act.

It passed an act under which labor organizations may incorporate and register, the Workman's Lien for Wages Act, the Registration of Manhood Suffrage Voters' Act, and the Conciliation and Arbitration Act of 1894, to settle disputes between employers and employes of labor.

It has exempted from taxation living incomes up to $700 a year.

Its labor legislation is regarded as the governed country. In fact, Mr. Alonzo W. Wright, secretary of the Order of kept himself in office by lavish expenditure | Knights of Labor, Philadelphia (formerly of Toronto), says: "While there is a good deal of legislation we labor cranks think should be enacted. I am free to say that Ontario has not much to learn from any State in the Union in this respect, and is immeasurably in advance of most of them.' Mr. Hobbs, as member for London, will he in a position to advise the Government of the day of the desires and aspirations of his constituents, and to promote, by the most effective means possible, such improvements in the laws affecting their welfare as they may from time to time

> A GREAT TRIP AND BIG RESULTS Hon. Wilfrid Laurier has arrived home, after a ten weeks' tour in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, which has proved an unqualified success. Since leaving home Mr. Laurier and the members of Parliament who accompanied him traveled by rail and steamboat no fewer than 10,532 miles; he addressed his fellow countrymen on questions of the day 89 times. On every occasion his message was received with strong sympathy, and there is reason to believe that, with the ballot, until recently denied the people, the next election will see a large Liberal contingent elected to Parliament. Many affirm that at least three-fourths of the delegation from the territory west of Port Arthur will follow Mr. Laurier in the next Parliament. The trip was arranged by Mr. Jas. Sutherland, M. P. for North Oxford, with such carefulness that everything passed off without an accident of any kind.

It is interesting to read in the Montreal Herald Mr. Laurier's impressions of the great Northwest and Pacific Province land.

"It is a magnificent country; it has no superior under the sun, and its resources are illimitable. It can supply the world with bread when its boundless prairies come under cultivation. The soil is exceedingly productive, and under such cultivation as it receives from our people there the yield of grain is something enormous. The climate is the finest in the world, and, taken altogether, the country is beyond nything that can be imagined by those have never been there. It is a truism to say that there is room for an immense population. The day will come when our great west will support its millions. The people are a hardy, ina spirit of loyalty to our British institutions. They are proud of the country and proud of being Canadians. To develop the west, however, the people need to have cheaper commodities, which is not possible with the present tariff legislation. The hard times in Manitoba are not due to soil or climate, but to the legislative system, which every day is causing fresh dissatisfaction among the farmers both in the east

As to the political feeling of the west the leader said: "There is an intensely strong feeling that tariff reform must come very soon, and the demand for it is universal throughspeed with which Jessie Keith's murderer out Manitoba, the Northwest Territories was hunted down, asserts that "the people and British Columbia. The feeling everywhere is that the progress of the country is being, and has too long been, hindered by the protective tariff now in force. There was not a single place, even the smallest, where we did not find this feeling."

THE PEDDLE ELECTION, Our city contemporary revives the Peddle election, in which it bitterly contested the right of the workers of London to put up a candidate for election to the Legislature. Mr. Peddle did not succeed in that contest, though he came within a comparatively few votes of defeating his then powerful opponent. He would have defeated him but for the treachery of friends of the Free Press, who were rewarded by offices from Ottawa for their betrayal of the cause they with their mouths professed to have at heart, while they were secretly intriguing to hand the interests of labor over to the opponents of Mr. Peddle. As to the treatment of Mr. Peddle by the Liberals on that occasion, the labor candidate and his lieutenants publicly declared on the night of the election that they were perfectly satisfied the Liberals had stuck closely to him, and had stood shoulder to shoulder with the wage-earning masses. And let us once more say Mr. Hobbs was

-Many young men think that they can vote in the present London election, without registering this week, because they have applied to be put on the Dominion voters' lists, or because they voted in June last. This is a mistake. No young man will find his name on the new lists, which will be used on Nov. 20, unless he registers this week. Let that be clearly understood. The voters' list is entirely new. By simply registering now every man can vote. Remember, the opponents of Mr. Hobbs wanted no registration, because they know many young men would be left off if the old lists were used.

WHAT FARMERS GAIN BY FREE

[Sarnia Canadian, Conservative.] A considerable portion of the down cargo of the Beatty Line steamers is now composed of flax seed from Manitoba. The passage of the Wilson Bill has raised the price of flax seed in Manitoba 20 cents a bushel, the current figure, which was 80 cents, being now $1. As there are about 500-000 bushels of flax seed raised in Manitoba, the rise in price means a bonus of $100,000 to the flax growers of the Province.

The chair was taken by the president at 8:05 p.m. On roll call, wards 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 were represented. The minutes of meeting Oct. 3 were read and confirmed. Several new members were accepted, who subscribed to platform and

After the transaction of other business, the secretary placed on the table a notice "That this organization drop of motion: the name Workingmen's Legislative Club, and be in future called the ward clubs of the "London Federation of Labor."

On motion it was carried unanimously that the secretary write to the City Council requesting: 1. That a copy of the printed minutes of the proceedings of the City Council be regularly supplied to the secretary of this organization for the benefit and instruction of its members. 2. That the question of publishing in convenient form the assessment rolls of the city of London be submitted a plebiscite of the electors at the coming municipal elections.

On motion the exceutive committee was instructed to draft an educational platform to cover the winter season, to include debates an matters relating to platform planks such as the referendum, the 8-hour day, woman suffrage, municipal ownership,

A report was handed in from the committee managing the Industrial Banner, stating that it was proposed to form a joint stock company to run the same, capital to be $1,000 in shares of $5, payable on call at $1 monthly, the paper to be enlarged and some 5,000 copies to be distributed free as the official organ of the labor party of London.

The secretary was instructed to advertise the alternate Monday meetings of the clubs in the preceding Saturday issue of the city press. It was resolved after an animated discussion that "Whereas, the Workingmen's Legislative Clubs were organized by authority of and in affiliation with the Trades and Labor Council, the secretary be instructed to request that the executive committee of three from each ward club sit as delegates with the Trades and Labor Council in future.'

After transaction of financial and other business, the meeting adjourned at 10:30 p.m. in due order to Monday, Nov. 12.

DEATH-DEALING BLOWS.

Two Men Killed as the Result of Drunken Brawls.

BUFFALO, Oct. 29 .- Adam Eberle was instantly killed today by a blow with the fist struck by John Liske. The men quarreled in a saloon and then fought. Liske, who is a plasterer, struck Eberle, a barber, a vicious blow over the heart, with the result noted.

A SECOND CASE. HARRISON, Mich., Oct. 29 .- James Doyle killed Charles Buck in a drunken brawl. A blow from the fist did the deadly work. wood lumber camp Saturday night. Doyle animal is by Albion, was raised in London and Buck became involved in a fight, which seems to have been prompted by jealousy and liquor combined. They grappled, struggled, then Doyle "hauled off" with morning nobody was any the wiser, but it his elenched fist and dealt a stunning blow was a boast of his that he could trot the on Buck's neck. Buck tottered, gasped, Captain faster than the average runner and fell to the ground dead. The blow had broken his neck.

New firemen have been provided to man the apparatus in case of emergency tonight and until permanent arrangements be made. About the Complexion.

There are two causes of bad complexions -the one dependent upon the conditions of the digestive organs, the other on the conditions of the blood. A remedy like Eseljay's Liver Lozenges, if its use is continued, cannot fail to tone up the complexion, because it acts directly upon the stomach and liver and at the same time purifies the blood. For sallowness or pimples try the continued use of these Lozenges. They are 25 cents a box or five boxes for a dollar.

London City Election, Nev. 20.

The Duty of Every One-Personal Registration Must Be Attended to at Once.

In each of the six wards of the city, place for registration has been provided. There each manhood suffrage voter, each newcomer and every man 21 years of age who finds his name omitted from the lists now existing, must personally attend on either of the four following days of this week-Wednesday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday-to have his name placed on

THE NEW VOTERS' LIST, or he will not be able to vote at the election on Nov. 20 next.

Let no man 21 years of age or upwards take it for granted that he has a vote unless he discovers from the chairman of his sub-division or at the central committee rooms of the Liberal Association, Oddfellows' block, that his name is on the list. It has been found that names of well-known citizens ln various parts of the city, have been dropped from the lists prepared at the City Hall, since last election. See to it also that the name of your neighbor, who is in favor of the election of Mr. Hobbs, is also on the list.

The Liberal rooms in Oddfellows' Hall are open day and night, and there sny elector can easily find out if his name will be on the list without attending personally

The only qualification necessary is residence in the Province for one year before 31st October, 1894, and three months' residence in the city before 31st October, 1894, and residence in the city on that day.

The hours for registration on above days will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m., and from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Workingmen are supposed to have preference between 7 and 8 p.m. Electors, don't fail to have your names

Lactated Food the Best.

Doctors, Mothers and Nurses Say So.

A perfect and intimate knowledge of what babies required for a life-giving diet, produced Lactated Food.

The old-fashioned foods were too heavy, too strong, too irritating for the stomach, and in many cases were positively danger-

Since the advent of Lactated Food the majority of the old foods have disappeared and are almost forgotten. Today infants nourished on Lactated Food are bright, vigorous and happy; they grow fat and strong, and are free from all the common infant sicknesses.

Our ablest physicians strongly recommend Lactated Food for children when weaned. The little ones like it, and are easily led to the important change in diet. Are you using Lactated Food for your baby, dear mother? If not, we strongly urge you to do so; the change will delight your heart and bring joy to your home.

-The Judd suicide case has not ceased to be a matter of considerable speculation by acquaintances of the deceased and many others who read of the sad affair. It may now be stated that certain circumstances in connection therewith are now under advisement by the police officials, and these circumstances, while they could not be made public, because some party, having nothing to do with the affair, might have received unenviable notoriety thereby, they were still sufficient to warrant an inquiry being made. To that end two officers work upon the case in a quiet way. The result of their investigation is that nothing can be learned which in any manner connects any person as being the cause of Judd taking his own life. Whatever may have been the reason. there is nothing to show what it was, and it promises to remain ever under the same heading, "cause unknown."-[Ottawa Free Press.

"I buried them in a field near where the valise was found. I can't describe the place exactly, but if a bloodhound was put on the scent it would find them." "But why did you remove the parts?"

"I don't know; after I found I could not accomplish my purpose I became maddened, and do not know what followed." "Why did you strip the body?" "I don't know."

"There was a strong case against you." "Yes, and the witnesses told the truth for the most part." They say you have been guilty of similar acts before this." "No, never; and I would not do it again for all the world. I am and the scener it is over the better." The officials had time to remark upon the superb physical condition of the man. His flesh is firm and pink, his muscles strong and flexible as a prize fighter's, answering every movement like so many responsive steel cables. There was not a weak spot about him. What with his gigantic hands, his Atlantean chest and his massive stooped shoulders, he is as powerful as Victor Hugo's Quasimodo.

Rosebery Receives Bristol's Freedom. London, Oct. 30.-Lord Rosebery was the recipient this afternoon of the freedom of the city of Bristol, where he afterwards unveiled a statue of Edmund Burke. In speaking in reference to the eminent statesman, author and writer, the Premier attributed his greatness of character to the fact that he loved reform and hated revolution. Politicians he said would derive a great deal of consolation from studying his life. Edmund Burke did not rise to the occupancy of high office and had not lived to see the fruits of his efforts, but success and fame followed.

Truly it had seemed to them, this singular application, as touching closely upon fraud. Dr. Rane argued the matter with them, putting it in the most feasible and favorable light; and it must be acknowledged that, to his mind, it appeared a thing not only that they might do, but that it would be perfectly right and honest to do. All in vain; they heard him with courtesy, but were harder than adamant. Richard North happened to go in upon some business soon after the conclusion of the interview, and the brothers -they were the bankers of North & Gasstold him confidentially of the application. Richard imparted it to his father; hence Mr. North heard Bessy without surprise.

Regarded from the narrow, legal point of view, of course the Messrs. Ticknell might be right; but, taking it broadly and comprehensively, there could be no doubt that it seemed hard upon Oliver Rane and his wife. The chief question that had presented itself to Richard North's mind was; if the money were handed over now, would the Messrs. Ticknell be quite secure from ulterior con-sequences? They said not. Upon Richard North's suggesting that a lawyer might be consulted on the point, Sir Thomas Ticknell answered that, no matter what a lawyer might say, they should never incur the responsibility of parting with the tontine money so long as two of its members were living. "And I think they must be right," Richard remarked afterwards to his father. Turning to Bessy, sitting by him on the bench, Mr. North repeated this. Bessy listened in dutiful silence, but shook her "Papa, much as I respect Richard's judgement, clever as I know him to be, I am sure he is wrong here. It is very strange that he should go against me and Oliver.

"It is because of that same good judgement, my dear," replied Mr. North simply.
"I'd trust it against the world, on account of his impartiality. When he has to decide between two opposite opinions, he invariably puts himself, or tries to put himself, in either place, weighs each side, and comes to an unbiassed conclussion. Look at this pre-rent strike; Dick has been reproached with leaning to the men's side, with holding familiar argument with them, for and against; a thing that few masters would do; but it is because he sees they really believe they have right on their side, and he wou'd treat their opinions with respect, however mistaken he may know them to be.' "Richard cannot think the men are to exclaimed Mrs. R. "He lays the blame chiefly where, as he mays, it is due-on the Trades Union. The men were deluded into listening to it at first; and they can't help obeying its dictates low. They have given themselves over to it, body and soul, Bessy, and can no more escape from it than a prisoner from a dungeon, That's Richard's view, mind; and it makes him lenient; I'd try and bring them to their senses in a different way, if I had the power and the means left me.'

"In what way, papa?"
"Bessy, if I were what I once was-a wealthy man, independent of business-I'd close the works for good; break them up; burn them if necessary; anything but re-open them. The trade should go where it would, and the men after it; or stay here and starve, just as they chose. I would never have my peace of life worried out of me by these strikes; or let men that I have employed and always done liberally by dictheir cost, as sure as that we two are sitting

Mr. North seized the hoe that was resting beside the beach, and struck it lightly on the ground. Meaning no doubt to give emphasis to his words. Bessy Rane passed from the subject of the strike to that which more immediately concerned her.
"Richard is honest, papa: he would never say what he did not think; but he may be mistaken sometimes. I cannot understand how he can think the Ticknells right in refusing to let us have the money. If there were the slightest, smallest reason for their keeping it back, it would be different; but

"See here, Bessy. If they go by the strict letter of the law, they cannot do it. The tontine deed was drawn up as tightly as any deed can be; it expressly says that nine of the members must be dead, and only the tenth remaining, before the money can be withdrawn from its investment. The Ticknells can't get over this."

"Papa—forgive me—you should not say can't, but won't," spoke Mrs. Rane. "They can do it if they please; there is nothing to prevent it. All power lies with them; they are responsible to none. If they paid over the money to Oliver tomorrow, not an individual in the whole world could call them to account for it. The strictest judge on the bench could not say to them afterwards, You have paid away money that you had no

"Stop, Bessy-that's just where the weak point lies. The Ticknells say that if they parted with the money now, they might be called upon again for it at some future Bessy sat in amezement. "Why! How could that be?" "Dick put it somehow in this way, my dear; that is, Thomas Ticknell put it to him. If you should die, Bessy, leaving your husband a widower with children; or, for the matter of that, if he should die, leav ing you with some; those children might come upon the Ticknells for the money over again. Or Rane might come upon them, if he were the one left; or you, if you were. It was in that way, I think Dick said; but my memory is not as clear as it "As if we should be so dishonorable! Besides-there could be no possibility of claiming the money twice over. Having received it once, the Ticknells would hold our receipt for it.'

Mr. North shook his head. "The law is full of quips and quibbles, Bessy. If the trustees paid over this money to you and your husband now, contrary to the provis-ions of the tontine deed, I suppose it is at least a nice question whether the survivors could not compell them to pay it again."

Bessy held her breath. "Do you think they could be compelled, papa?"

"Well, I don't know, Bessy. I fancy perhaps they might be. Dick says they are right, as prudent men, to refuse. One thing you and O iver may rest assured of, my dear -that, under the doubt, the Ticknells will never be persuaded to do it as long as oak and ash grow.'

Bessy Rane siged, and began to the her bonnet. She had no idea that paying the money would involve the trustees in any liability, real or fancied, and hope went out of her from that moment. By nature she was as just as Richard; and she could not henceforth even wish that the bankers should incur the risk.

"Dick's indoors, my dear, if you'd like to ask him what Thomas Ticknell said; he would explain it to you better than I have. No hurry now, to be off in a morning; there are no works open to go to."

"I have heard enough, papa; I quite un-derstand it now," was Mrs. Rane's answer.
"It will be a dreadful disappointment to O iver when he hears that no chance, or hope, is left. It would have been-oh such a help to us."

"He is not getting on very well, is he, Bessy?"
"No. Especially since the strike set in.

The men can't pay."
"Seeley must feel it as well as Oliver."
"Not half as much; not a quarter. His practice chiefly lies amonust the richer classes. Well, we must have patience. As Oliver says, Fortune does not seem to smile upon us just now."

"If I could put a hundred-pound note, or so, into your hand, whilst these bad times are being tided over, I'd do it, Bessy, with all my heart, Butlcan't. Teil Oliver so. The strike is bringing us no end of embarrassment, and I don't know where it will end. It was bad enough before, as you remember, Bessy; but we always had Richard as a refuge."

"Richard will take care of you still, papa; don't be troubled; in some way or other, I am sure he will. As to ourselves, we are young, and can wait for the good time com-

Very cheerily she spoke. And perhaps felt so. Bessy's gentle nature held a great deal of sunshine. "I wonder Oliver's mother does not help him," remarked Mr. North. "She would gladly do it, papa, but she lives up to every farthing of her income; beyond it, I fancy, sometimes. She is accustomed to luxuries, and her traveling about costs a good deal. Mrs. Cumberland is not one to economize, or to put up with small lodgings and discomforts on her different soourns. Sometimes, as you know, she posts; t is easier, the says; and that is expensive." (To be Continued.)

COMMANDANT H. H. BOOTH.

The General's Son to Speak in London Tonight

In the First Congregational Church-Eis Work as a Soldier.

Commandant Herbert H. Booth, of the Salvation Army, third son of Gen. Booth, will speak at the First Congregational Church tonight, when the inaugural meeting in connection with the new Salvation Army Hotel will be held.

Commandant Booth is an old army worker and has a very interesting history. He was born at Penzance, Cornwall, in August, 1862. His parents were just ther in the midst of the wonderful Cornish revival which made their names household words in that part of England long before the Salvation Army, as a whole, was in existence.

Perhaps he drank in the "war spirit" from the atmosphere around him, for Mrs Booth was once heard to say of him: "A our movement has advanced, step by step and we have been led to adept successive strange and new measures, I never recal that my son Herbert, when once he was convinced of the necessity or utility of a mode of procedure, no matter how against his tastes or his feelings it might be, has besitated or shrunk from it for a moment."

He considers that he was definitely saved at the age of 7.
When just in his teens he went, for a time, to a boarding school, supposed to be most select and religious in its influence. But Mrs. Booth's well-known disapproba-tion of school life for her Christian children received strong support by his experience, although her son's principles were, even at that early age, too firmly established to be shaken. The language and the half-whispered songs indulged in in the dormitories after the masters were well out of hearing would have horrified mothers far less eager to preserve their sons from stain and soil than was Mrs. Booth. But the "Training Home Father" to be used to shut his ears and sing his Christian Mission Hymna aloud to drown the words he would not Having no opportunity to pray and study his beloved Bible alone was a great trial to him. A Christian coachman took pity on him and used to let him make a little oratory of a quiet corner of his stablea building forbidden to the other boys. STATE ELECTIONS.

Twenty-One of Them Take Place Next Week-New York the Point of Greatest Interest. New York, Oct. 29 .- Twenty-one State

Legislatures are to be elected next week. Upon the composition of these State Legislatures will depend the control of the Senate with the same possibility as in the case of the House, that neither Democrats nor Populists may be able to secure independent control, and that the balance of power may be held by the Populists, In Washington the greatest interest is centered in the election of members of the House of Representatives, and all the State elections are lost sight of with the exception of that in New York, which, owing to the peculiar circumstances that surround it, is regarded as being of much more interest than local importance, and is expected to have an important bearing on the Presidential campaign two years

Vice-Chairman Apelev, of the Republican committee, sees Republican victory everywhere, and bids defiance to the united hosts of Democrats and Populists. He says there will be at least 196 Republicans in the next House.

Chairman Faulkner, of the Democratic committee, does not give out any exact figure, but he says the Democrats will have control of the House by a good working majority. He says the Republicans will not know what has happened when they read the returns from some of the southern districts they are claiming.

-A little girl of about 3 years narrowly escaped serious injuries at the corner of William street and the Hamilton road yesterday afternoon. She was crossing the street when a heavy horse hitched to a lumber wagon knocked her down. The driver did not attempt to slow up, and the wagon barely missed running over the child. The man drove right ahead. The case has been reported to the police.

—Lovers of high class society dramas will be delighted to hear that Manager Roote has secured the William Morris Company for the Opera House next Saturday evening, presenting the powerful play, "The Lost Paradise." Mr. Morris as Reuben Warner gives a strong portrayal of a difficult role, and Mr. Frohman has surrounded him with an admirable company, who give one of the most satisfactory per fermances seen in recent years. The play is beautifully staged and the costumes of the ladies very handsome, and the attraction ought to draw large audiences. -The members of Victoria Lodge, No.

Daughters of Rebekab, I. O. O. F., met at Bro. Levine's on Friday evening, when Sister Levine made an appropriate address and presentation to Sisters Tanner and Baker, the former receiving a valuable hanging lamp and the latter a nice sewing chair in appreciation of services rendered to the lodge. Sister Tanner thanked the members for their kindness and assured them that she would work in the future as in the past, having always taken a great interest in the lodge and for the good of the order. Sister Baker briefly responded, thanking the members heartily for their kindness, and hoped to continue in the good work.

-Monday's Hamilton Times: On his return from London this morning Rev. Mungo Fraser, D.D., pastor of Knox Church, was interviewed regarding the story published on Saturday to the effect that he was thinking of sending in his resignation as pastor of the second largest Presbyterian Church in the Dominion. He gave the story a most unqualified denial. He admitted receiving a letter from Mr. James Ogilvie, one of the church elders, criticising his action in regard to the building of the new Sunday school. Rev. Mr. Fraser added that the letter would be brought before the next meeting of the church sassion, but with no idea that anybody would resign over it.

-At the meeting of the Latter Day Saints Association in St. Thomas the following officers were elected by acclamamation: R. C. Evans, superintendent; John Shields, assistant superintendent; Maggie Campbell, secretary; Amelia Braden, assistant secretary; EvaMcMurdo, treasurer. Elder R. C. Evans, London, was appointed delegate to represent the London district at the General Sabbath School Association, which convenes at Independence, Jackson county, Missouri, commencing April 4, 1895. The committee on credentials were Eider J. H. Lake and Wm. Falkner, city. Reports from schools in Toronto, Stratford, Cameron, London, St. Marys, Proton, Egremont and Waterloo showed that the Sunday school work was in a very prosperous condition.

-George Murdock, a London West carpenter, has been committed for trial by Squire J. B. Smyth. Murdock was arrested week ago on a charge of stealing a number of tools from Wm. Rowell, of London township. Rowell is a contractor, and employed Murdock to work on a house in Nissouri. When the job was about completed Rowell shut the place up and left his tools in a chest, which was securely locked. This was on Aug. 20, and when he went back about two weeks ago Rowell found that the tools were gone. Suspicion rested on Murthe new butcher shop, 569 Richmond street | dock, and the execution of a search warrant where first-class meat can be procured. -Mr. J. Hall, of the East End, part proprietor of a horse-power merry-goround, has been visiting all the country fars this fall with his machine. He arraiged with the Oneida fair directors for the sole right to run a merry-go-round during the three-day exhibition, the consideration being $6. Mr. Hall was on hand easly, but was surprised to find that an Indian from the reserve near Brantford was also running a wheel. The Londoner told the fair authorities what he thought of the deal, but continued business, and when the show closed on Friday night offered to pay his fee. The sacred concert in connection with the agniversary of the Dundas Street Methodist Church last night was well attended. The singer of the evening was Mrs. Harrison, of Grimsby, whose sweet yet powerful woice delighted the immense congregations on Sunday. This church is week. Register tomorrow in the ward Miss Ziegler's removal to Detroit, and Mrs. Harrison is mentioned as a likely successor. The applause that greeted each number at last evening's appearance indicates that Mrs. Harrison would at least find a warm welcome should she arrange to come. The cpening solo, duet and chornes, "Spirit Immortal," by Mrs. Harrison, Messrs. Carroll, Skinner and choir, was especially fine, and the quartet, "I am Kneeling at the Threshold," Mrs. Harrison, Miss Ruse, Messrs. Carroll and Skinner, gave much scope for the demonstration of the visitor's power as a vocalist. Mrs. Harrison was power as a vocalist. Mrs. Harrison was accompanied in two soles by Mr. Creatwell accompanied in two soles by Mr. Cress well on the violin. Mrs. Chadwick was at the piano and Mr. Wm. Nellie Ganthony-Six Bold Statements. Miss Nellie Ganthony's business representative makes many strong statements and seems to be in a position to verify

First, that Miss Ganthony is the only woman in the world who has succeeded in thoroughly amusing an audience for a full evening without any external aid.

Second, that she is the most successful young woman on the stage, and that her age is only 21. Third, that she is the only female artist known to theatrical world who writes her own sketches besides arranging her own musical numbers. Fourth, that she is the best gowned actress that ever presented herself to an

Fifth, that no man or woman known to the theater-going public displays the same amount of personal magnetism that this clever young English girl does. Sixth, that she has been the recipient of patronage from more of the smart set and honored by the presence of royalty more times than any young woman of her age, and that she is the only artiste who can show every article that has ever been written commenting on her performances, and that not one single word of criticism has ever appeared against her. Miss Ganthony will appear at the Grand Thursday and Friday evenings.
