THE LIBERAL LEADERSHIP

Rosebery Resigns — His Reasons — Harcourt the Coming Man-Prass Comment.

London, Oct. 8.-Lord Rosebery has written a letter to Thomas Edward Ellis, M.P., and first whip of the Liberals, resigning the leadership of ly act to Turkey, in view of all the the party. The reason given for his circumstances of the case, and that lordship's resignation is that he disagrees with Mr. Gladstone and other cessary. leading Liberals regarding the proper policy to be adopted in the eastern question. Lord Rosebery's letter is dated at his seat, Dalmeny Park, Linlithgowshire, Oct. 6. In the communication his lordship says: "The recent course of events makes it necessary to clear the I find myself in apparent difference with a considerable mass of the Liberal party on the eastern question, and in some conflict with the opinion of Mr. Gladstone, who must necessarily always exercise matchless authority with the party, while scarcely from any quarter do I receive explicit support. This situation, except as regards Mr. stone, is not altogether new, but in saying this I complain of no one, and regret only that I should appear to divide the energies and try the faith of the Liberals. The question, however, is above and beyond personal considerations, and when I speak, which I do this week. I must speak Day mind without reference to party. Under those circumstances it is best for the party and for myself that I speak not as a leader, but as a free man. Consequently, I beg to notify you that the leadership of the party, so far as I am concerned is vacant, and that I resume my liberty of ac-I can feel only the deepest gratitude and regret at parting from you and those like you who have given me such loyal co-operation under circumstances so difficult."

PRESS COMMENT. The Daily News, Liberal, commenting on the Earl of Rosebery's withdrawal, says: Lord Rosebery has allowed himself to be maneuvered out of the leadership. Before he can be asked to resume the position he must be accorded a vote of confidence by his colleagues and party. The step taken by his lordship is a very grave and lamentable one. It is Mr. Gladstone's return to the field that has been the immediate and perhaps the inevitable cause. Mr. Gladstone's enunciated in favor of Great Britain's single-handed action in the east, regardless of consequences, conflict with the principles to which Lord Rosebery has adhered. In the present crisis Mr. Gladstone certainly has not got the whole nation nor the whole party behind him in that policy. The News argues that though Mr. Gladstone explained that he spoke as a private citizen, he cannot divest himself of the glamor of his old position, and the matchless authority which he exercised in the party, and that, therefore, when he intervened in practical politics in a sense out of harmony with the de-clarations of the recognized leader of the party, he made the latter's position very difficult. The pa-per concludes by saying that apart from the consideration of his age and leadership of his party. If he ready for this, assuredly everybody will acquiesce. Otherwise, Lord Rosebery holds the field and must be reelected. His lordship has altogether exaggerated and misconceived the opposition to him. The Daily Chronicle, which has always opposed Lord Rosebery's leadership, contends that the general tone of the Liberal policy, as regards the east, is not represented by Lord Rosebery. The Chronicle pays a high tribute to his honesty, and states that it recognizes his high qualities, etc., but accepts his decision. The paper adds that the immediate duty of the Liberals and Radicals is clear. Sir William Vernon Harcourt should succeed Lord

Chicago, Oct. 8 .- Dr. Carl F. Nitz, a German physician, vivisected his wife and then killed himself yesterday afternoon. The murder of the

As shown by notes that were found after his death, Nitz sat by the woman's side watching her die slowly, and now and then, to note the effect of another wound, he would stab his knife into her again. He carefully noted all the symptoms of the woman's approaching death, wrote them down,

SCARCITY OF GOOD GELDINGS. The scarcity of good-looking, good ing and sound geldings and mares use by drivers of both heavy and light roadsters is becoming proverbial the United States over, says aral World. In conversation the other day with a dealer who is on the road most of the time, and continually on the lookout for good geldings, es-pecially, he volunteered the remark that "I now know of but two really good geldings the kind that are now ready sale at nearly old-time prices, ine of them being in the country north of St. Louis and the other in a small town near Chicago." THE WHEET. AFTER THE RACE.

Toronto Globe: Challenges of all sorts for a team race are flying from one club to another just now, and there is a prospect of a revival of the Dunlop race on a small scale. The many spills which characterized Saturday's race at London hardly gave of the clubs a chance to show some of the clubs a chance to show what they were capable of doing, and although the favorites pulled off the trick in good style, there are those who claim that the fastest team did not win. Luck is a factor that enters targely into every road race, and some individuals are favored to a greater degree than others by Dame Fortune. The Queen City Club are sanguine that under favorable conditions they can reverse Saturday's result, and it is said that the Torontos would like to have an opportunity of engaging the Royal Canadians or any team from any club in the country match race at twenty miles over the Kingston road course. It can be taken for granted that every club that started representatives in the Dunlop with the exception of London and Ingersoll, would like to have another opportunity of squaring them-selves in the eyes of their friends. It will be interesting to watch further developments.

BALD AND COOPER TIED. Washington, D. C., Oct. 8 .- According to the figures prepared by Ed Spooner, the National Circuit bicycle follower, Eddie Bald and Tom Cooper are tied for championship honors, each having 65 points to his credit, The earlier report that Bald led by two points was due to the different system of keeping points, but the official figures place the men as even. Cooper says he will challenge Bald to a match race for $500 a side to settle the matter. The friends of Bald continue to assert that his record for the season is two points more than his opponent, and that he is champion. SPOKES.

Seventh Battalion Shots and Their Rifles.

It Is Decided to be Perfectly Fair That a Man Should Shoot With His Own Firearm.

A meeting of the Seventh Battalion officers was held at their headquarters I w will describe it to you with my last evening. Capt. Moore reported that he had not as yet secured all the prizes which had been promise. had, therefore, not completed prize list. Sergt. Freeland was delegated to look after the targets and see that everything is in readiness for the matches on Wednesday next. At the meeting on Monday night there was considerable talk and some objection about certain members of the battalion shooting with their own rifles. Some of the men thought this was hardly fair, as those members who own their rifles should be compelled to use a rifle from the company ur Canadian people would prize it the same as the other men. Those the same as the other men. Those gentlemen who owned their rifles contended that the men who raised objection had picked what they considered to be the best rifles and had there no one but me to sing of practiced with them, so that they shot under exactly the same conditions.

The meeting last night decided to What is there in Nature that's great allow these members to shoot with hat Canadians have not in their own their own rifles, as those men to whom objection had been taken were practically the life and soul of shooting in the battalion. A member of the battalion today said the impression was general in it that the objection to men shooting with their own rifles is really political! er. After singing that beautiful hymn, "There Shall Be Showers of Blessing," Rev. Mr. Harris, Mr. MacLachlan, of Watford, favored his hearers with a vocal selection entitled "The Great Salvation." Mr. MacLachlan has a voice of rare sweetness, which he uses to excellent advantage. Rev. J. McDeKerr, of Toronto, was then introduced by the pastor. Mr. McDeKerr has been making a specialty of this work for some time past, having visited a large number of cities in the TOWN DESTROYED BY EARTH-United States and elsewhere. He was holding meetings in Port Rowan just previous to his coming here, and they would have liked to keep him for a longer period but for his engagement In opening his remarks he took ha received a letter reporting the the 51st Psalm for his subject, also totl destruction by earthquake Romans, xii. Mr. McDeKerr made an eloquent appeal to those who were sinners to accept Christ and be saved, THE PROHIBITION PLEBISCITE. expounding to them the Gospel in a very able manner. After Mr. Mac-Lachlan had sung another hymn and emphasized the remarks of the former speaker, he called on those who wished to accept Christ to come forward and kneel at the platform. About 25 or 30 persons complied. After an diatly. earnest prayer had been offered and they had proclaimed themselves fol-lowers of Christ, the meeting was brought to a close by the pastor pronouncing the benediction.

These meetings will be held every deciled to urge prohibitionists to take an ctive part in the municipal elecevening until Oct. 18. Montreal, Oct. 8.-The C. P. R. Com-

"The men are to go back to work upon the understanding that the general superintendents will be instructed to hear the grievances of the men, and redress them if such are proved to exist. "The board of conciliation," said Mr. Pierson, "gave a promise to the company that the terms of the settlement—that is, the exact terms should not be made public. C. P. B. Earnings in September-G. T. Arrangements in Detroit. There is a car famine in Ohio.

The traffic receipts of the C. P. R. for the week ending September 30 were $509,000; for the same week last year, $588,000; decrease, $79,000. The Grand Trunk has completed arrangements with the Detroit Railroad Elevator Company so that grain going to New England will be transhipped from lake boats to its rail line at De-troit hereafter. This arrangement is similar to the one with the elevators at Port Huron, and is to relieve the Grand Trunk line running east from Sarnia. The first boat chartered for the new route was the Egyptian. The traffic will give employment to a large number of men this winter. This arrangement will probably be permanen as the Grand Trunk's business is largely increasing under the managemen of Mr. Hays. The grain will be brought from Chicago in steamers and consorts stored in the elevator, and run out into cars as fast as possible.

This body includes men of the most various pursuits, connections and opinions. The vacations, during which the men mingle with the world without or travel, extend over half the year. In no place is there more social life or more active interchange of ideas. Oxford being within easy reach of London is the constant resort of eminent of the world. It is assumed by Principal Grant that I brought here a confirmed and easoning prejudice in favor of my present opinions. He is mistaken. My first impression was strongly in favor of Canadian nationality. I was intimately connected with "Canada First" and wrote in its organ, The Nation. The "Canada First" men knew, I suppose, not less about the "deeper feelings" of Canadians than

Principal Grant is right in referring to the Duke of Newcastle as a strenuous upholder of the present colonial system. I found the other day some old papers of note written by the duke to a friend. It said, "Come and dine with me tomorrow; I shall have two or three colonists to roast you." Such is the temper in which France dreams of effecting a British statesman treats, socially,

Dr. Grant seems to think that unless I see eye to eye with him I can have no soul for the greatness of my country. What have I said to make him believe that I regard the Empire as a myth? What have I said to make him believe that I undervalue colonies? A colony remains a colony and equally a glory to its mother country when it has become politically

The only way in which I could possibly contribute to Canadian eminence was by playing my part in the effort to make the center of British Canada a literary and intellectual center. This I have done, and if with little or no success, without stint of labor or any other means at my command. A University worthy of the name was another requisite; and it was attainable eration, which, for a series of years, I continued to advocate and promote to

If I have been false, or to use the gracious epithet constantly hurled at me, a "traitor" to England, English-Kingdom, the heart and keystone of the Empire, was threatened with dismemberment, I did my best for the preservation of its integrity both in England and in Canada. In Canada I did my best, while zealous loyalists, who now denounce me as a traitor to England, were either standing discreetly aloof or angling by Home pressed in Dr. Johnson's serene con- Rule subscriptions and resolutions for the Irish vote. It was with this, I believe, and the protectionists duties on British goods in my mind that I made the allusion, which offends Principal Grant, to the daughters of Lear. I left England too late for a change of affection. Her honor and interest must always be uppermost in heart and I have not the shadow of a doubt that reunion of her offspring on this continent, with her goodwill and of his head that a friend of mine, a benediction, would conduce both to her graduate of the University of Toron-real interest and her honor. real interest and her honor. Much harm will never be done to national character by a man who, when he is convinced of the soundness of his opinions, shows that he can stand on his feet and if necessary stand alone. Such is the political tradition of England. Not that I am really alone in my views. Abundan proof could be given that there exists among the people a great amount of repressed opinion and not a little of repressed desire for free discussion. There is, I am persuaded, more of class division, of sentiment, and of consequent misunderstanding on this Oxford, which Principal Grant subject than is commonly supposed. opportunities of looking into the mind

More than once I have expressed the pain which I most sincerely feel in finding myself at variance on these questions with many with whom I should desire to be at one and who form for the most part my social circle. Of opponents who treated me with common decency I hope I have never spoken a discourteous or disrespectful word. Attempts at social persecution, personal insults, and anonymous threats I have passed over as far as possible in silence. Dr.Grant knows to what series of these his article is the sequel. He once felt called upon himself to express disapprobation of an outrage committed by a journal of which he was supposed to be a proprietor.

Anyone who wishes to disparage me probably has in his favor notions respecting my character and history propagated by hostile writers in a country where I was unknown. several years I was the subject of attacks on the part of two of our leading journals. Many people were probably impressed with the belief that I had left England because I had quarreled with my political party, and Cornell University because I had quarreled with the Americans. When I left England I had before me an offer from my party of a nomin-ation for a constituency in which the Liberal majority was sure. A similar offer was made me when I had been some years resident here. Some years later still, during the struggle about home rule, I was again welcomed to the ranks, and again offered a nomination. As the constituency in each of the first two cases was large and popular, it seems that my estrangement from popular sympathy was not, in the eyes of those who knew me best what Principal Grant assumes it to be. Cornell has just made me an Emeritus Professor; and I do not think I have quarreled with the Americans. To say these things about one's self is not graceful, but fiction can only be dispelled by fact.

Dr. Grant represents me as having, on my arrival in this country, provoked dislike by arrogant dogmatism about public affairs. I had been some little time in the country before I wrote or spoke about public affairs at all. I declined to write on politics, when for a few weeks I wrote on literary subjects for the Globe. When tics, when for a few weeks I wrote on literary subjects for the Globe. When the Canadian Monthly was started I joined it at first on the condition that there should be no politics. That re-striction being found impracticable, I wrote a series of neutral articles on Current Events. I am not aware that any body complained of dogmatism.

I had been trained in a high school of English journalism, and, I hope, knew how to address with propriety an educated and self-respecting pub-

As an instance of my superficiality Dr. Grant says I have missed the Gallican element in the Church of Quebec. "Till lately, however, the Church of Quebec remained a true daughter of the Church of Monarchical France, and kept her Gallican tradition, giving Caesar his due, and living at peace with the civil power.' I have not the slightest weight, Principal Grant tells me. I have not the slightest pretension to any influence, or jealousy of those who pos-sess it. What influence facts disseminated through books and journals may have had, neither my critic nor I can exactly tell.

wo Offenders Get Six Months Each for Vagrancy.

At the Police Court today the magstrate's attention was given to two offenders. The first was James Kelly, lias Hawkins. He has been remanded twice to enable the police authorities to inquire into his career. The charge opposite his name was vagrancy. He is an acquaintance of Smith, the pickpocket, who was up a short time ago. Kelly made a vigorous protestation of his innocence of the charge, and promised to get right out of town. Chief Williams explained that the prisoner was known at the Central Prison and several city jails as Hawkins. The P. M. decided to give Kelly-Hawkins six months in the Central Prison. Harriet Chrystler was the other case. She has been in jail on remand for a week. She pleaded very hard for liberty, saying she didn't want to go to jail. The magistrate said it was only a question of whether to send her to the reformatory or the common jail. He finally sentenced her to six months in the common jail.

The Woodland boarding house, kept Prof. T. J. See announces from the Lowell Observatory, Flagstaff, Ariz., that he has rediscovered the lost ting through brick-making. Mrs. Ancompanion of Sirius, a so-called dark," or faintly luminous star, that has not been seen since 1890, when it was observed with the Lick telescope by Prof. Burnham. Since that time all efforts to see it has been unavailing. We quote from Prof. See's dispatch to the New York Herald, his account of how the lost star was found. "On the morning of August 31, about great telescope on Sirius, and I at once entered upon examination. We could then see it in the open field of the telescope without urbs, a disreputable quarter. A number of women were abducted during the use of the bar to exclude the blazing light of Sirius." This observation, Prof. See thinks, shows that the period of revolution of the dark star is about 53 years, instead of 50, as had previously been supposed. And that the orbit is a great deal larger than that of the planet Uranus. The dark star is just half as large as Sirius, and just about shed in course of erection at the corner of Colborne and Bathurst streets "It seems incredible that a body as Though the atmosphere on the next morning was not nearly so steady, and the companion therefore much more diffioult to observe, I could still see it. #### THE CZAR'S GOOD SENSE.

He Is Not Ashamed to Ride in an Ordinary Street Car.

Youth's Companion. No people in the world are more stiff-necked in their own etiquette than the officers of the crack regiments in St. Petersburg. Since Nicholas II. became czar he has endeavored to discredit the notion that an army officer should not ride in a street car. In St. Petersburg the army officer has long considered himself too superior to the common civilian to share with him this "vulgar" mode of conveyance.

A few weeks ago one of the few entitled officers in the Russian capital ventured to ride in a street car to his barracks. It was a presumptuous and courageous act, for he had to alight before the fashionable cavalryman's club of the city. But it proved an uncomfortable act, for his fellow-officers declared that he had disgraced his uniform, and refused to listen to his quotations of the Czar's remarks

After some days the colonel of the regiment urged upon the officer the propriety of resigning his commission. He gave as reason for his feeling, and that of other officers, that he had committed a degrading offense by associating with the populace in a street car.

In his distress the unfortunate offi-cer turned to a friend in high official rank, who told the Czar of the affair. Nicholas heard the story at 4 in the afternoon. He immediately put on a dark suit, and, with his adjutant, went to the locality where the officer had taken the car, boarded one and rode on it to the barracks. He there alighted, and, getting on a return car, went back to the palace. The next day the colonel of the aristocratic regiment in question received a full autograph account of the trip, which the young ruler ended with these words: "Am I still worthy to wear the uniform of a Russian officer? Nicholas." Of course, there could be but one answer to that question. now in that regiment significant reserve and silence respecting riding with despised plebeians, and titled snobs fall over each other to see who can signal a passing car first. The Czar deserves respect for his conduct. If he shows as sound, common sense in all State matters as he has done in this little affair, his reign will not be a deadly conservatism that clings to old forms and smothers progress and reform in its stagnant em-

MONTREAL. Montreal, Oct. 6.—At the East End Abattoir Market the offerings of live stock were 600 cattle, 400 sheep, 400 lambs and 150 calves. The attendance of local buyers was small, and trade ruled slow. The supply was again in excess of local wants, and owing to the scarcity of ocean freight there was no demand from shippers to speak of. The continued heavy receipts for the past two months have had a depressing effect upon the market, and drovers say it has been almost impossible to realize their own money in this market. The feeling today was easier, and prices for good stock were fully 1-4c per 10 lower. Good to choice steers and heifers sold at 3c to 3 1-4c. a few being bought at the latter figure to feed for shipment next week. Death of Du Maurier. Our cablegrams this afternoon chronicle the death of Du Maurier, cartoonist and novelist. The information was not unexpected, as it has been known for some days that the famous man was dangerously ill. Du Maurier was known to readers of Punch almost exclusively until a year or two since. when he wrote the sensational novel, "Trilby," and at once jumped into the front ranks of writers of modern fiction. His cartoons were admirable pictures of life among the idling uppertendom of England, the willowy, angular girl of the period, and the half stupid lackadaisical young man predominating. His cartoons and odd legends, illustrating "things better left unsaid." were unique. But it was his "Trilby" story, illustrating the dangers of hypnotism, that made the man famous the world over. The story has been praised by many, and their services were not required. it has been condemned by others, but in either case its circulation was aided, and the result inspired the writer to try another book. It was completed just as Du Maurier took ill, and common to good, $2 80 to $3; pigs, common to fair, $2 50 to $3 25.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 15 cars; market fairly active Lambs, good to choice $4 25 to $4 25 to $3 75; Canada lambs—good to choice handy-weight wethers. $3 60 to $3 75; culls and common, $1 50 to $2 50.

At the close: Cattle steady. Hogs steady. Sheep and lambs—Offerings all told were 17 cars, of which 8 cars were from Canada. The market continues dull and weak, but the offerings were all pretty well cleared out. A fow of the Canadas sold before noon at $4 60, the close being the weakest and the prices the poorest for a week back. before the final severe attack he reviszine last month. Topics of Today. The music-loving people of Canada will be glad to hear that Madame Albani will sing in the large cities of Canada this season.

Hon. Mr. Laurier has consented to be the guest of the Club National at Montreal in December. He will deliver an address on public affairs. Fifty years is a long term of married life. Sir Charles and Lady Tupper have lived happily for that period, and celebrated the occasion today. Supporter and opponentalike will wish them many additional days. It is announced that Hon L. H.

Mr. Daly egents of London, England, write Wm. is anxious to enter the Legislature, of directors during the recent Western and he may be allowed to enter it by is not opposed.

Lord Aberdeen sent a gold snuff-box to Sir Charles Tupper on the occasion of his golden wedding. The Governor-General wishes to have himself regarded as a friend at a pinch, even in the case of the politician, who berated him for doing his duty.

Latest reports from Rainy River, Ontario, are to the effect that the prospects for gold mining are very bright. The ore from these mines is known as "free milling ore," and can be treated very cheaply with separators instead of smelters. That is a great advantage, of which capitalists will not be slow to take advantage.

Henry George, the political economist, says that Bryan will carry McKinley's own State of Ohio. Henry ment, however, but there may be sensational developments on election day.

Windsor aldermen, at their recent meeting, indulged in a wordy warfare over the expenditure indulged in on the occasion of the visit of the Govlernor-General. The finance committee reported that it had spent on the Governor-General's visit $13 50 for badges. $38 30 for refreshments, $13 for embossed stationery and $50 for banners. Ald. Bell thought this was unnecessarily extravagant. Mayor Mayass!" and Ald. Bell very courteously replied "You're another." Not to be outdone the mayor said: "You made an ass of yourself at Sandwich when the Governor-General was here." "You made more of an ass of yourself than I did," said the worthy alderman. Arbitration not being called for, the relative asinine qualities were not definitely pronounced upon by the council. Lord Aberdeen will hardly feel complimented when he hears of the rancor which the expenditures voluntarily undertaken by the Windsor solons has stirred up.

Mr. James Huddart has notified the Dominion Government that he intends placing another steamship upon the direct route between Canada and Australia. The New Zealand mails are likely to be carried by the Canadian route in future. Canada grows in importance.

Hon. Geo. W. Ross delivered an eloquent address before the Normal yesterday. DAN MCCARTHY COMING. The popular Irish comedian, Dan McCarthy, who divides the honors in that type of character with Joe Murphy, is billed for London on Saturday afternoon and evening next. Dan has made a hit in his new play, 'The Irish Greenhorn," which producing this week at the Theater Royal, Montreal. The Star, in an independent criticism, says: "Crowded houses at both performances applauded his every move, and if it is a criterion, the success of Greenhorn' is already a fact. The company are a little strange to each other as yet, but with time this will wear away, and the season will no doubt be just as successful to Mr. McCarthy as his many others. Some good singing and dancing is introduced, and go a good way towards helping out the piece. Mr. McCarthy appears as the much persecuted hero, and is ably supported by J. J. Bolger, as Mickey Casey; Mills Hall, as Owen Smith. Miss Lou Ripley is again with the show, and acted the part of Annie O'Moore, an Irish peasant, in her usual good style. Little Lucille Lieth, as Little Jim, carried off the honors of the evening, both in acting her part and singing and dancing. She is a very clever child, and will no doubt be heard from later.

It seemed as if Miriam's thoughts were generally sufficient for her pleasure, for she was rarely busy. She had always time to sit and talk, to see her thus-beautiful and calm, with small hands dropped or folded pressively still, and she could not help and eyes half shut, and mouth closed, remembering the days when it had but ready to smile and dimple if he decided to speak to her.

This summer my young kinsman, Judah Belasco, will come here. He comes to marry you. You will be a happy wife, my dear. He has moneys, and he has the power to make moneys; and he is a good young man. I have been cautious concerning that, my dear."

There was a long pause. He did not hurry her, but sat patiently waiting, with his eyes fixed upon the book in his hand. "I do not want to marry, grand-father. I am so young. I do not know

Henry I., surnamed the Learned was the monarch who introduced a custom of delivering speeches from the throne, which has been transmitted down to the present day. Confusion as to the choice of a lood purifier is unnecessary. There is but one best Sarsaparilla, and that is Ayer's. This important fact was recognized at the World's Fair, Chicago, 1893, being the only blood purifier admitted to be placed on exhibition.

SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT

Every drop of the Sarsaparillian Resolvent communicates through the blood, sweat, urine and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life; for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, consumption, syphilis, uncured and badly treated venereal in its many forms (send ten cents for illustrated book, "Radway on Venereal"), glandular diseases, ulcers in the throat, mouth, tumors, nodes in the glands and other parts of the system, sore eyes, strumous discharges from the ears, and the worst forms of skin diséases, eruptions, fever sores, scald head, ringworm, sait rheum, erysipelas, acne, black spots in the flesh, tumors, cancerous growths, female complaints, and all weakening and painful discharges, night sweats, nocturnal losses, and all wastes of the life principle are within the curative range of this Wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of diseases its potent power to cure them. If the patient, daity becoming reduced by the wastes and decompositions that are continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes and decompositions that are continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes and decompositions that are continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes and erepairs the same with new material made from healthy blood, and this the Sarsaparillian will and does secure, a cure is certain, for when once this remedy commences its work of purification and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better, and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving and flesh and weight increasing.

Irregular Attendance to be Put a Stop To.

Janitor's Salary Increased $100-Attendance During September.

The regular monthly meeting of the London West school board was held last night, with the following members present: Chairman Paull, Secretary McPherson, Trustees Glover, Robinson, Crockett, Dell and Head Master Liddicoatt, and Truant Officer

Ward. Complaint was made that some children were in the habit of coming to school irregularly. It was found that they did not come under the Truancy Act, and the head master was instructed that if they did not attend regularly they would have to stay away altogether.

The janitor asked for an increase of salary, and after some discussion it was moved by Trustee Dell and seconded by Trustee Robinson, that he receive $100 more a year.

Trustee McPherson moved in amend-ment, seconded by Trustee Crockett, that he get $50 more a year. The amendment was lost and the motion carried.

As will be seen by the following report for September, the number on the roll is the highest in the history of London West, although the average attendance could be improved on:

ON THE MARKET. The bad weather has made the roads in some parts of the country almost impassable, and this fact had a very DUNDAS STREET adverse effect upon the attendance at the market this morning. There were only about half the usual number present, and prices were low. Some of the finest poultry seen this season Armenia. were offered for sale. Chickens sold for 40 to 50 cents per pair, for extra large ones, and ducks at 70 to 80 cents. There was a large quantity of butter, at 14 to 15 cents per pound. There was, perhaps, more hay offered today than any time during the season. Saturday saw about 30 loads, but there were even more this morning.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES. It was decided not to ask the Board of Managers to provide for the election of officers at the June meeting. A constitution for district work of bylaw to the effect that delegates to the district convention be elected in the proportion of one for every five auxiliary members, three for every circle and one for a band, was not approved of. A motion was carried suggesting that the work of the two corresponding secretaries, who will be appointed at the next annual meeting, be di-vided in this manner: One to be the field secretary, who will correspond with the missionaries present, report on mission station work, etc., and the other to be home secretary, whose duty it will be to correspond with the branches and separate auxiliaries. The bylaw passed at the last branch meeting, which provided for the payment of the traveling expenses f organizers to the briefling from the funds of branch branch, will be rescinded, and the district convention may pay these ex-

STATE OF THE WORK. Mrs. Bond, of Seaforth, the conference organizer, reported that during the past year six new auxiliaries had been formed; eight districts held conventions. There are 2,030 members of auxiliaries, 962 of mission bands. Much faithful work had been done by the organizers. Mrs. Cunningham followed with a review of the report. Mrs. Smth, of Ridgetown, read the report of the supply committee, which contained an account of many needs

MISSION BAND EVENING. The meeting last night was devoted to the mission bands and circles and was quite largely attended. Mrs. Burns presided, and briefly spoke of the importance of mission band work. Mrs. Daly, the corresponding secre-tary of the mission bands, was unable to be present, but her annual repont was read by the branch secretary, Mrs. Cunningham. Progress in mission band work during the past year has been very creditable. Twenty-two bands were reported, with an increase of membership. There were six new bands organized. The total number of members was 922, an increase of 104, and the amount paid to the treasurer of the board was $1,-198 70, which was an increase of $112 52 over that of 1895.

In the choir gallery were about 50 little girls-members of the city mission bands-who, under the direction of Mr. Hewlett, sang very sweetly sevthis eral appropriate choruses. A dis-the sected missionary story was given by eight members of the Colborne Street Mission Band. Addresses, with curio texts, were given on Africa, Chima and Coral Islands, by members of London West, Dundas Center and Wellington Street Circles, respectively. Notes of the prevailing fashions of various heathen countries were given by the Dundas Street Band. Descriptions of a journey over the Pen and Ink Railroad, relating experiences in Siam and other eastern countries, were given by five members of the South London Circle. Miss Mabel Hunt gave a recitation, and was encored. A solo by Miss Ethel McKillop was also decidedly good. The programme concluded with the presentation of the prize banner donated by the late Mrs. Owrey, of this city, for the band having
