Prison Reform Committee Hears More Evidence at Kingston Penitentiary.

NO CRUELTY PRACTICED

Men Were Given "Tubbing," But Not in Any Way as Punishment.

[Canadian Press.]

Kingston, Dec. 4.-When the prison reform committee resumed its session today, Dr. Edwards, M.P., exploded the expected sensation by stating that since the last session, one of th convicts. Rose, who gave evidence against Guard Frederick Ingledew, had confessed that his statement was untrue, and that what he had said was "a frame-up" between him and Over veer Wilson, of the hospital. It was announced that this would be inquired into later, and the committee then resumed their sessions, inquiring into the conduct of Deputy Warden O'Leary. It was intimated that Jones and Bonnar, two of the western desperadoes, would be called to give evidence. Their evidence will probably be in regard to the much talked about "hosing" treatment alleged to have been administered to convicts.

Guard Was Called. Reuben Bryant, guard for 18 years, was called in the charge against the race over mud-coated roads from deputy warden of persecution and showing discrimination. Witness de-tiared that seventeen years ago he tion of Cruelty to Animals, dramatic-ally blocked the progress of the steam was suffering from a sprained wrist, claimed that he was kept at work, which made it a hardship for him while he might have been given a job with an assistant. Witness could not have carried on his work had he not been "handy" with his left hand. The chairman and Mr. Downey ruled this evidence out, stating that witness in his condition should not have been

Were Not Cruel.

"If there is any place where there is need of two-fisted men," said Mr. Downey, "It is in this penitentiary." Witness told the chairman he had never seen a man given a "tubbing." had seen men given cold baths, but did not consider the treatment cruel. On being pressed by Dr. Ed wards, the witness admitted there was harness in the penitentiary used for strapping men down. He had assisted in "tubbing" the convicts' heads under water. The warden, deputy, or surgeon, were not present at any time he took part in the "tubbing."

Not For Punishment. To Mr. Whiting witness said the convicts given "tubbing" were on the insane ward. The bath was not given for punishment, but for their benefit. He did not think it hurt them. He thought it did them good. The straps were only used when the convicts refused to get in the tub. Some were very noisy. Witness regarded this penitentiary as a dumping ground for insane convicts. The chairman objected to the in

"You can't bluff me," said Dr. Edwards hotly to the chairman. The latter stated if Dr. Edwards persisted in interfering he would have to retire. The doctor thereupon challenged the PARLIAMENT MAY chairman to put him out. He accepted the charge that he had caused a great deal of trouble during the in vestigation, and said he would cause a whole lot more before he was

Here We Are Again, Said the Clown in the Circus

No circus is worth a cent without a clown, grinning, chuckling and hopping around the ring and saying funny things.

And Toy-Town would not be complete without its clowns. Any little boy who has visited Toy-Town can tell you about the clowns. They are here with all the rest of the funny people. Everything is on the "go" now-a world of moving things - railroad trains (far better than the Port Stanley cars), trolleys, horses, monkeys, carts, soldiers, sailors, ships, boats and dolls. Kewpies, buggies, sleighs, moving pictures and hosts of things from Santa Claus's workshop. The biggest and best Toy-Town yet.

It was upon a suite of rooms that bore the number seven on their door that Mr. Magee's choice fell. A large parlor with a fireplace that a few blazing logs would cheer, a bedroom whose bed was destitute of all save mattress and springs, and a bathroom, comprised his kingdom. Here, too, all the furniture was piled in the centre of the rooms. After Quimby had opened the windows, he began straightening the furniture about. Mr. Magee inspected his apartment The windows were all of the low Frence variety, and opened out upon a broad snow-covered balcony which was in reality the roof of the first floor verandah. On this balcony Magee stood a moment, watching the trees on Baldpate wave their black arms in the wind, and the lights of Upper Asquewan Fally wink knowingly up at him. Then he came inside, and his investigations brought him presently to the tub in the bathroom. presently to the tub in the bathroom.

"Of course," replied Magee less blithely. His ardor was somewhat dampened—a paradox—by the failure of the spigot to gush forth a response. "There's nothing I'd enjoy more than carrying eight pails of water upstairs every morning to get up an appetite for—what? Oh, well, the Lord will provide. If we propose to heat up the great American outdoors, Quimby. up the great American outdoors, Quimby, I think it's time we had a fire." Mr. Quimby went out without comment, and left Magee to light his first candle in the dark. For a time he occuled himself with lighting a few of the forty, and distributing them all about the room. Soon Quimby came back with kindling and logs, and subsequently a night.

Throwing oc his great coat, Mr. Magee noisily attacked the fire. The blaze flared red on his strong humorous mouth, flared red on his strong humorous mouth, in his smiling eyes. Next, in the flicker-ing half-light of suite seven, he distrib-uted the contents of his travelling-bags about. On the table he placed a number of new magazines and a few books. Then Mr. Magee sat down in the big leather chair before the fire, and caught his breath. Here he was at last. The wild plan he and Hal Bentley had cooked up in that Forty-fourth street club had actually come to be. "Seclusion," Magee Quimby.

At the left of the door was the clerk's desk; behind it loomed a great safe, and a series of pigeon-holes for the mail of the guests. Opposite the front door a wide stairway led to a landing half-way up, where the stairs were divorced and went to the right and left in search of the floor above. Mr. Magee surveyed the stairway critically.

Actually come to be. "Seclusion," Magee had cried. "Bermuda," Bentley had suggested. "A mixture of sea, hotel clerks and honeymooners! the seeker for solitude had sneered. "Some winter place down south," from Bentley. "And a flirtation lurking in every corner!" from Magee. "A country town where you don't know anyone." "The easiest place in the stairway critically."

The easiest place in the world to get acquainted. I must be alone, world to get acquainted. I must be alone, world to get acquainted. I must be alone. the floor above. Mr. Magee surveyed the stairway critically.

"A great place," he remarked, "to show off the talents of your dressmaker, eh, Quimby? Can't you just see the stuneh, Quimby? Can't you just see the stunehold. The stair in the Yes, here he was. And here was the solitude he had come to find. Mr. Magee looked nervously about, and the smile died out of his gray eyes. For the first time misgivings smote him. Might not one have too much of a good thing? A silence like that of the tomb had descended. He recalled stories of men who went mad from loneliness. What place lonelier than this? The wind howled along the balcony. It rattled the windows. Outside his door lay a great black cave—in summer gay with men and maids—now like Crusoe's Island before the old

RUNAWAY AT BELMONT Bolt Falling From Wagon Shaft Caused Horses to Start.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Belmont, Dec. 4 .- As Roy Wintermute, of concession 6, North Dorchetter, was on his way to the local milk powder factory today a bolt in one of the shafts broke, causing his horses to run away. Mr. Wintermute was hurled to the road and shaken up, but was not severely hurt. The horses ran into Belmont, and after dashing in between two buildings, were caught before they could get away again.

CHRISTMAS BUYING AND GIVING.

ing more of that "human derelict" For the next two or three weeks there will not be much use in trying to keep the political pot boiling hot. There will be no enthusiasm over the navy question; and no one will sit up nights worrying about the outcome of the election in South Lanark. There will be more attention paid to the grave question of what, where and not have been $800 in the lot. We can how we shall procure those Christmas supplies for which the season calls. The high cost of living is certainly a very serious matter; but we will not take much interest in the political remedies proposed, because we know they will not be operative for this year, no matter what party is in power. We will simply have to count our spare money, if we have any, and lay out our program for purchases.

And the first thing to be decided is to know what you are going to buy, and buy it right away. Start out on your shopping expedition without delay. The earlier you go, the better you will be served, and the larger and more varied supply you will have from which to make your choice. Do not disregard the comfort of the store clerk. Do not throw all the burden on him or her during the last week, in his clothes than we ever hope to with the result that he or she will be see. so tired on Christmas Eve that there be no appetite for Christmas dinner. Besides, it will be a great comfort to yourself to get the job over as soon as possible. The everage man or woman with a big a wearisome time during Christmas shopping, even though the money to mixture of common-sense. buy with is ample. And when the Get busy, therecondition is worse. fore, and finish the job.

The next point to remember is, buy at home. You do not need to go outside of London to do your shopping. Many people seem anxious to go away from home to buy things. That is only a fad anyway. They make little trips to neighboring cities; and they consult the catalogues of the big departmental stores. That is only taking an additional labor, for no appreciable result. You can get what you want right here; save time, and save money as well. It is not only to your advantage to do your shopping at home, but it is a duty. Here is where you make your living; this is your own home town. Spend your money among your fellow citizens. Help London's business all you can. The more you help your neighbors, the more they will be able to help you. And in making out your Christmas program do not confine yourself to your own friends and relatives; do not give only to those who are likely to give in return. Think a little of the people who have no money to buy with, and no friends to give. Get something for those who are not able to get anything for you. Too much of our Christmas giving is on the mutual system. "You give me, and I will give you." Too many of us ignore the idea that "it is more blessed to give than to receive." And we soon drop from our Christmas list those who appear to have forgotten us.

It is no use to dogmatize, or to lay down general rules for the Christmas season. But there are certain things that would seem to be self-evidentwhich most of us will admit, but not all of us practice. Be moderate in your expenditures. Confine your gifts in the first place to your own immediate circle who will appreciate what you give for your own sake, and not for its value. Remember the poor, and make their Christmas as joyful as you can. The sole object of Christmas giving should be to add to the comfort and $825 a year. Is any comment neceshappiness of others. If it is anything else it is a folly and a farce.

CADETS AT RIFLE PRACTICE.

The Toronto School Board has been having its first trouble with its juvenile riflemen, which has grown out of the fact that some street car passengers do not enjoy having the cadets taking "a bead on them" along the barrels of the Ross rifles with which they are armed. Some people might think it more serious, others less so, that the youths were also using the polished butts of the rifles for shinnysticks. The officer in charge of the rifles at the armories disclaims blame always in charge.

So far all that has come of it is that the board has laid down the rule that the children are not to take the rifles to their homes, and that any one of them found guilty of misuse of a weapon will have it, as well as his uniform, taken from him.

poetry. Exit the trousers. It must be explained that the finding of the $800 in those shank tubes is not the means of establishing identity. Those trousers had done service for many years, but if all the memory nickels and dimes and unopened payenvelopes had by chance been materialized by a magic lining, there would only imagine so much money when we think of the moving picture shows. And on sober reflection we had become convinced that only a Wallingford of Weary Willies, a Cassie Chadwick of Can Carriers, could have parted us from those trousers. We wonder if a habeas corpus proceeding would work for the release of trousers? Surely our trousers are as respectable as Harry K. Thaw. Perhaps if we could establish claim the Goderich' magistrate would insist on having the $800 left intact in the trousers. We have no sympathy with the tramp. We had enshrined him as we enshrine all unfortunates who give us a chance to give. And he proves, like the rest of us, to be a gross materialist, who would take our only trousers if he had the chance, while he carried more money

IN SANTA-LAND.

Outside the door of Santa Claus' home stood the reindeer ready for the Christmas night dash, meanwhile nibbling daintily at an iceberg. The packs were aboard, heavy with presents. Across the way a blond Eskimo flirted with Stefansson's first mate.

Santa Claus tightened his belt, and for the last time checked over the gifts with his secretary:

"New fad for the Kaiser?"

"New holdout for Ty Cobb?" "New rebellion for Mexico?"

"New jokes for the newspapers?"

"New 'rag' for Irving Berlin?"

"New brick for Mrs. Pankhurst?"

"Yes." "Well, then, let 'er go, and if Doo Cook butts in while I am away give him that second-hand north pole to play with. So long!"

BY MME. CECILE DILLON.

Striped materials will surely be one of the season's most popular suitings. They are especially good for young girls' frocks.

A simple afternoon gown I have just finished for a young girl away at school is of brown and tan striped charmeuse with a plain skirt narrow running a different way from those on the skirt and it has a wide brown velvet belt and a white silk collar trimmed with the fur.

This little frock could be made of plain wool material without the fur and still be most stylish.

Not only must the hat or gown be becoming and in good taste, but it must look right. The schoolboy has confessed to suffering agonies of torture for fear lest his mother and sisters won't appear as well dressed as the other fellows' families when they come up to school on a special occasion.

Some people think that the small boy's power of observance, no matter how acute they seem, are confined to turtles and fishing tackle, baseball mitt and such articles of interest. They are really quite amazed when young Tom looks up and makes critical remarks about mother's skirt and shirt waist which do not make proper connections, or about his sister's over powdered cheeks or carelessly arranged hair.

The schoolboy is at heart an affectionate creature, and it is really his

WINTER TOURS TO THE LAND OF SUNSHINE AND SUMMER DAYS.

At this season of the year a great many are planning their winter tours. Considerable numbers annually visit the ever-popular California Resorts, while many prefer the flowers and very even climate. Numerous people in comfortable that a trip of this nature is most expensive. This is not so. Thanks to modern railway facilities, an extensive trip both interesting and educational can be made with speed and comfort at a comparatively small cost. Why not investigate?

The Canadian Pacific Railway offers particularly good service to Detroit, where direct connection is made for Florida, via Cincinnati, Ohio, and At-Ga. Jacksonville, Florida, is reached second morning after leaving Florida can also be made via Buffalo. rne Canadian Pacine-Wabash route will be found the ideal line to Chicago, where direct connection is made for the Southern States. New Orleans is reached second morning after leaving Toronto.

Direct connection is also made as Chicago for points in California, Texas

Arizona, etc.

The Dining, Parlor and Sleeping Car service between Toronto, Detroit and Chicago is up-to-date in every particular. Connecting lines also operate through Sleeping anl Dining Cars.

Those contemplating a trip of any nature will receive full information from any C. P. R. Agent; or write M. G. Murphy, District Passenger Agent,

THIS TIME BY ALPHAS He Is a Powerful Factor of World's Champion Team.

It's hard to imagine Connie Mack, thrice winner of the world's baseball championship, following another manager's footsteps.

Cannie Connie is usually out in front ring-tailing the field, but he isn't too all-fired wice to learn, which is a reason why he develops world's champions. Other reasons are Collins,

When Mack heard Comiskey had signed an assistant-to-the-manager, his brain machine turning out baseball patterns clicked. The idea echoed like a winner, and Mack needed one, not having had a world's title for a whole

Harry Davis, who had been leading hard life in Cleveland, was signed as assistant manager. And he made good. Just how good is readily understood upon conning the Mackmen's record

In 1910-11, with Davis on first, the Athletics "busted" through the American League and then successfully downed the Cubs and Giants. The fag end of 1911 Davis was slowing and "Stuffy" McInnes filled in at first. His hitting was better than Davis', but in the world's series Davis went to first, McInnes being allowed to retire the

In 1912 Davis started to manage the Cleveland team, but stubbed his toe, an assist being awarded the Nap the Reds for Tinker's release, it is players on the play. The Macknen slumped to third place.

SAN JOSE SCALE

Dread Tree Scourge in Adjoining Orchards, Says Prot. Dearness.

DISCRETION IS URGED

No Necessity For Immediate Destruction of Trees, as the Danger Is in Spring.

Vice-Principal John Dearness, of the London Normal School, and a member of the commission that examined the districts affected by the dread San Jose scale in 1899, says that there is every probability that the tree plague may exist in the waterworks park at Springbank, as it has been in adjoining orchards for several years. Several days ago it was announced in The Advertiser that the scale existed there, and, on it being drawn to his attention Of London Shrine General Manager H. J. Glaubitz, of the water commission, declared that a rigid investigation would be made.

Professor Dearness, who is an expert on the San Jose scale question, in an interview with The Advertiser on the Springbank situation says: Presence of Scale Known. "For several years there has been San Jose scale in an orchard adjoining the Waterworks Park, a fact that pointed out to the owner, so that it is not wholly improbable that there may be some in the park itself. "A few years ago I found two three small shrubs of Pyrus coronaria in the park mildly infested with scale. cut these shrubs down and took away what material I needed as specimens for teaching purposes.

"Certainly not all the apple trees in the park are infested with the inthat are free from it. "It should be kept in mind that there are other species of comparatively harmless aspidiums that are easily mistaken for the San Jose scale, and good trees have been destroyed on their

Should Be No Haste. "There is no need for haste in laying the axe to the Springbank trees, because the scale insect cannot now pread from one tree to another until June. The winged males are all dead HAIR SLIPPED OFF now, and the fertile females never move and indeed cannot move the spot where they are now attached Of course, if the trees are worth spraying with lime and sulphur, the winter are early spring is a good time to give them one application."

CONFESSES MURDER

Cripple Says He Killed Wealthy Farmer to Get Gold.

[Canadian Press.]

Wellsburg, W. Va., Dec. 4.—Daniel Lee, of Steubenville, Ohio, a 19-year-old cripple, late yesterday confessed to having murdered George Mooney, aged 80, a wealthy farmer, who was found dead in his home with a bullet hole in his head. Lee said robbery was his motive, but stated that a search of his victim's house, where considerable gold was supposed to be hidden, was unproductive. Soon after Lee's statement to the police, a coroner's jury charged him with the murder of Mooney. Lee was arrested on murder of Mooney. Lee was arrested on Tuesday night in connection with the case. He admitted being near the scene of the crime, but claimed a negro killed

ALLEGED BRIBER

Member for South Essex Says That Statement Was Exaggerated.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Leamington, Dec. 4.-Rev. Mr. Moore and Rev. Mr. Shearer, of the Dominion Alliance, have written to Dr. Anderson, M. P. P. for South Essex, that a certain member of Parliament stated that 50 per terret by the correction of the c cent of his constituency was open to corruption by bribery, and probably 70 or 80 per cent was nearer the limit. They asked for his opinion of such conditions asked for his opinion of such conditions in South Essex. The doctor replied that he did not think more than 1 per cent of the vote of his riding could, be affected in that way, and would like to know the

[Special to The Advertiser.] Learnington, Dec. 4.—Licence Inspec-tor Stone, of Essex, seized two fruit cases loaded with Imperial whiskey, which were for parties in Leamington, but in mistake put off at Essex. The result was a visit to Leamington, where he summoned the owners to appear before the police magistrate to answer the charge of vio-lation of the local option law. Much

WOULD COUGH SO HARD Would Turn Black In The Face.

A cough cold is one of the most dangerous kind. It leaves the throat or lungs, and sometimes both, affected if not taken care of immediately.

Obstinate coughs and colds yield to the grateful soothing action of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, containing as it does all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree.

Mrs. C. J. Selig, Dartmouth, N.S., writes:—"My little boy, six years old, had a dreadful, hard cough. At night time he would cough so hard he would turn black in the face, and at times he would cough nearly an hour before he would stop. I tried different cough syrups, but they did him no good. The little fellow was wasting away, as he could not eat or sleep, the cough troubled him so. I got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and it did him so much good I got another. Now I am only too glad to be able to write this to tell how thankful I am, and to tell every mother to use nothing else."

Price, 25 and 50 cents. Be sure you get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. See the trade mark; the three pine trees.

NEW ZEALAND NAVAL BILL GIVEN ITS SECOND READING

Colonel Allen Criticizes Admiralty Warmly-Agreement Made With the British Govt. Has Been Violated—Question All Charges Made Against Police of Subsidy Discussed at Length.

London, Dec. 3.-The New Zealand, by imperial officers, and took no hand naval defence bill passed its second himself. Self-respect forbade a dereading yesterday by 31 to 21 votes. Colonel Allen, in moving it, said that the Australian part of the agreement of 1909 had alone been performed. The only part of the China unit in essential? The Government considerexistence was the battle cruiser New ed New Zealand a separate entity, Zealand. When he left the dominion he supposed that the submarines and destroyers would be obtained according to the agreement, but the admiralty declared that such vessels were unsuitable to New Zealand waters, and this decision must be accepted, though he respectfully differed. An of training, why were 24 out of 26 clauses imperial squadron based on Gibraltar was an unsatisfactory arrange-ent policy would have been appropriate if was an unsatisfactory arrangement for Australia, as was also dependence on a foreign alliance for safety on the Pacific.

The Subsidy Question.

The payment of a subsidy without any change of control or right of discussion had no educational value for New Zealand. He looked on and saw the agreements made and broken, and saw the New Zealand's crew trained they had a population of twenty millions. Instead, the Panama Canal would soon open the Pacific to the great navies of the world, and make all that Canada and Australia could do ridiculous.

Pay Fixed Sum.

If the minister had not talked of the New Zealand navy the admiralty would have adhered to the 1909 agreement. What would be the use of the Bristol cruiser or the training ship if the British navy and later circulated a petition to have were defeated? Better pay a fixed sum Chief Lannin removed from office.

Australia. A Single Navy

Sir Joseph Ward quoted three successive first lords of the admiralty as approving a single imperial navy. Why had the agreement of 1909 been broken? If the Government merely intended a scheme they had a population of twenty millions for protection by the greatest fleet the world ever saw or was likely to see. Prime Minister Massey denied that a separate navy or Australian partnership was contemplated. The Government was not responsible for the failure of the 1909 agreement. An Empire Parliament would not work. The Imperial Conference, he said, could be developed. It should meet more frequently, and occasionally in the Warden A. K. Hodgins asked if the construction of a radial line through the township would tend to lower the general power rate

Mr. Purcell's reply was evasive, but he admitted that experience in the past had been that the radial lines did not tend to decrease materially the general power he rapid fire of questions which folowed the speaker's invitation for inquiries.

Many Questions Asked.

He first inquired how far feeders could be run from the main power ine in either direction into the surgeonding country.

Mr. Purcell thought that about eight miles in each direction was about as far as it could be run economically. In reply to other questions he stated that milking machines could be run on 1-horsepower or 1½-horsepower, but this amount of power, but this amount of power would not run a chopper satisfactority.

Cost of Obtaining Power.

He explained that when a municipality had decided to take hydro, the commission would assume the whole Chicago, Dec. 4.—This was another great day for Canadians at the International Live Stock Exhibition. Besides carrying off most honors with sides carrying off most honors with their showing of sheep, Canadians outstripped their American neighbors in the horse department.

All attendance records for the big show were broken today. It was announced that 40,000 persons had passed through the turnstiles.

Shorthorn Prizes.

J. A. Watt, of Elora, carried away several ribbons in the Shorthorn cat-tle department. His Gainford Victor, a two-year-old bull, was given the second-prize in that division after the judges pondered a long time whether to give the animal first prize. The blue ribbon was finally awarded to an animal from Minnesota.

It was announced by the horse judges in the arena that Canada had captured four firsts today to the Americans' three.

A great deal of interest centred around the judging of the Clydesdales. Most of the Canadian winners were raised in Saskatchewan. The Provincial Government of Saskatchewan, in making an effort to correct the popular fallacy that their province is good for nothing but agricultural purposes. brought some magnificent Clydesdales and have won with them.

Claims He Pays More Than Man Unable To Secure Money Although It Was Offered to Him.

> Useless subservience to red tape and general inefficiency when it comes to any actual work are charges that are being made against the attorney general's department of Ontario by local people who have tried to secur justice through this department, and local officials who are at an entire loss to understan dthe slow-working machinery of this department. In Jail Seven Months.

Stanley Campbell, an imbecile youth from Oxford County, convicted of theft, has been confined in the Middlesex jail for the past seven months, following the announcement of the Attorney-General's department that he would be sent to Orillia Asylum. No explanations for the delay have been given. Middlesex County has been earing the cost of his maintenance and his mental condition is being greatly aggravated by confinement in the jail.

Another example of the inefficiency and inexplicable uselessness of the department is found in the failure of Joseph Cantrell to obtain some redress for a loss of $450 occasioned when he went into partnership with John Dear last April, the attorneygeneral's department having refused

Two Years' Probe Into Freight Conditions Will End This Week.

WHOLE CASE REVIEWED

Dispute as to Purpose of the Immense Grants Made to C.P.R.

[Canadian Press.] Ottawa, Dec. 4.-How generous the Dominion Government was to the C. R. in 1881, when the company agreed to construct a railway from the east to the Pacific coast, was recalled today by James Bicknell, K. C., counsel for the Dominion in the western freight rates case before the rail-vav commission. Mr. Bicknell informed the board that the Government gave the C. P. R $25,000,000 and 25,000,000 acres for the construction of 2,000 miles of railway in addition to other concessions. These grants, argued counsel, were given to form a basis on which the company should fix its freight rates, and he endeavored to prove that the schedule of rates on the C. P. R. in the west is much too high at present

ELECTRIC HEAT MAY REDUCE COAL BILLS

Possibility Only, However, and Some Time Before Tried Out Here.

According to General Manager H. J. Glaubitz, of the water commission, electric heating will not become general in London for some time, though It is being used to a limited extent at present.

Recent increases in the price of coal has caused householders to seek another solution for that branch of the "high cost of living" fraternity which is represented by the coal bills. The result has been that attention has been drawn to the possibilities of the Western States by the United States Government, the power being Sold at Cost.

The power is sold to the farmers at cost for the cold season and the result is a rate of one-tenth cent per kilowatt hour. To translate this into plain English it means that the farmers out there can heat their houses about two-thirds the cost of coal, and where, as the efficiency of coal is only about half of the consumed in furnace, the efficiency of electricity is one hundred per cent. means then that the houses are heated for a small fraction of the cost of the coal and all the bother of firing and ashes left out. General Manager Glaubitz 100ks upon the scheme with favor, but believes that it will not be applicable here for some time. At present a certain amount of juice is supplied for operating small heaters, but the department does not handle any large amount of such business. At regular prices, the cost of hydro would be prohibitive for heating, but it is figured that used at times when the consumption was below the peak load, the surplus power could be thus disposed of with satisfaction and economy to the consumer and profit to the department,

During the usual winter recruiting at Wolseley Barracks this year, there have been a large number of would-be recruits rejected. Major C. H. Hill, officer com-manding, declares that applications have been numerous during the last few weeks. The fact that something more than the application is necessary renders the number being taken on the strength of the local company of the Royal Canadlan Regiment much smaller than might be supposed.
"I have rejected about 30 men during the last two months," said Major Hill to

Asked as to the principal cause of rejection, he declared it to be the lack of satisfactory character references.
"I always demand the best of references as to character from the men," he said. "I have turned down many on that account. The medical examination is a account. The medical examination is a very stiff one, also, and a good many are turned down through physical defects—flat feet, pigeon toes, etc. However, I do not think that more than five or six have been turned down by the medical examiners during the past few months. The majority I have refused because they could not furnish satisfactory references as to their character."

CORRESPONDENCE

Open letter to the Hon. Dr. Pyne Minister of Education for Ontario: Hon. Sir,-On the accession to politi-[Canadian Press.]
St. John, N. B., Dec. 3.—The St. John board of trade is arranging to send a representative to a meeting to be held in Washington on Dec. 18 to discuss a demand made in the United States that an embargo be placed on Canadian potatoes because of alleged powdery scab. St. John will not protest because New Brunswick sends large quantities of potatoes to the States.

Hon. Sir,—On the accession to political power of the Conservative party in Ontario, led by Sir James Whitney, nearly nine years ago, you were intrusted with one of the most important portfolios in the cabinet, that of minister of education. I say one of the most important portfolios inasmuch as the care, fashioning, shaping and directing of the educational affairs of the province cannot well be regarded. the province cannot well be regarded as second in its value and responsi bility to that of any other department of the Government. When you assumed office you found yourself at the head of an educational system which comprised public schools for the majority, and Roman Catholic separate schools for the minority, according to the agreement and pact of Canadian confederation. You also found committed to your care a large number of English-French, or if you will, bilingual schools situated in counties where some 250,000 French-Canadians sir, in the charge intrusted to you as The estate of Mr. Hearn, it is expected, minister of education, your duty was to see that every facility was given -every necessary measure introduced that would add to the progress and development of these schools.

To carry out the educational policy you had fixed upon, you gathered around you certain educators, and you created new offices which are unheard of in the educational administration of any other country, but the thirst for position had to be slaked, and you were an amiable victim to the pressure, though it crushed some of the ribs of your own prerogatives.

sir, the head of your "fidus Achates," your "alter ego," Dr. John Seath was at work. He had been en gaged for years as an educational Warwick with high school inspector's tane-line in hand, making and unmaking teachers in every corner of the province. Educators shrank at the thought that a man who had played such a role for years in Ontario—a role lacking in that fine sense of honor and self-respect which belong invariably to every true scholar-should be intrusted as superintendent of educa tion with the educational questions of justice and right, which are necessarily involved in the impartial administration of the educational affairs of this province. Following Dr. Seath's appointment as superintendent of education, we have had in educational Ontario an era of equipment, during which every public, separate and high, at an enormous expense, equipped chimney-top-everything chilexcept the heads of the dren have been equipped. amidst all this measuring with inspectors' tape-lines and the compelling of school boards to build better woodsheds and add more maps, the opinior greatly prevails, sir, that a very large amount of the work done in our schools, primary and secondary, here in Ontario, is mere rubbish, and makes neither for the true education or culsion of three educators selected from outside of the province, free from political bias, emvisit the secondary schools of Ontario for the purpose of ascertaining the real character and practical worth of the work that is now being done in the high schools and collegiate institutes of Ontario in such subjects as German, composition, French and English. I fear, sir, that the work done in these subjects, as well as in many others, will not measure up to genuine and practical scholarship. It has been said, too, in certain quarters that since your assumption of the portfolio of minister of education much has been done for the catholic schools of this province. I have been examining, sir, with a microscope, and must confess that I have been unable to find the least measure that you have enacted for the benefit of the Catholic schools of this 'Pape's Diapepsin' Is Quickest, province since your regime began. In truth, I can tell nothing that has been done for the separate schools since the pen that is now addressing you this letter led in an agitation more than thirty years ago which resulted in the first and only convention of Catholic teachers of Ontario ever held, pressing upon the Government the need of appointing Catholic inspectors for the separate schools, creating a Catholic need of normal school, and the need of appointing a Catholic deputy-minister of education. Within a short time a Catholic inspector was appointed, and this practically has been the end school system in Ontario.

But where you, hon, sir, and your "After Ego". Dr. Seath, have shone as administrators of education in all the bilingual schools. Permit me to say that you have both made a muddle and mess of it. Let me, however, say that as far as you have endeavored to better these schools and secure qualified and competent teachers for them you deserved registers as you have endeavored to the bilingual schools. The plot had been so carefully laid that the theft might have remained undetected for weeks, but the providential eagerness displayed by two English gentlemen to scan every feature of the masterpiece led swiftly to the undoing of the thieves.

The two gentlemen who unconsciously became the del ex machina of this strange romance entered the parish Church of Santa Marie Maggiore at Spello, in "green Umbria," and were being shown the panel of the "Madonna and the Child," when they complained that the church was insufficiently Staff Correspondence.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 4. - Dr. William B. First-Was Dr. Helene Knabe murdered? The coroner of Indianapolis said "Yes." The police of Indianapolis said "No."

Or-Was Dr. Knabe a suicide victim? The police of Indianapolis, disclaiming the murder theory, insisted that she was.

The whole Indianapolis Council of Women and a sorority of women physicians say nothing. They simply collected $2,500 and hired private detectives to probe the case. The indictment of Dr. M. B. Craig and Alonzo M. Ragsdale, an Indianapolis undertaker, who acted as Dr. Knabe's executor, resulted. Ragsdale is charged only with being an accessory after the fact, the grand jury having heard he hid evidence against Dr. Craig. Came From Germany.

WAS TROUBLED WITH Weak and Dizzy Spells.

Heart Would Beat Something Awful.

Those feelings of weakness, those dizzy spells which come over people from time to time, are warnings that must not go unheeded.

They indicate an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nerves. One dizzy spell may pass off, but eventually they will come frequently, and at the same time more

Those who are wise will start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills before their case becomes hopeless, for they have no equal for restoring the heart to its usual strength, and making the nerves firm and steady.

Mrs. I.en. Kinney, Moose Mountain, B., writes:—"I was troubled with eak and dizzy spells, and my heart ould beat something awful. I got so I had those spells every day. I got so I would try one medicine, and then another, but nothing did me any good until I got Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I can safely say they did me more good than anything I ever took, for I feel like a very different woman. Some Lights and Shadows of the Most Joyous Season of the Year, Caught by Advertiser Reporters.

WHAT DID MA SAY?

Christmas-time is at once the sadlest and the most joyous season of It works its way beneath the year. the superficial gloss of worldliness and materialism that may cloak the rest H. Galbraith 52, Archie Ashford 52, of the year; it brings to light the un-Russell 52, C. E. Escaf 52, C. Lewis told joys and delights; it reveals the pangs and tortures of remorse and the relentless pinch of poverty that seems to stand forth all the blacker because of the joyous halo that is east about the Yuletide. At no other time the motto that accompanies the play, W. Theronna 45, J. Walsh 45, John of the year are the lights and shadows of the world so clearly depict-

Christmas is a season replete with joy, with humor, a season bubbling over with good-fellowship and happiness. Christmas is a season that is overshadowed with sorrow, with poverty and with pathos.

As the reporters cover every section of the city in their daily search for news, the "human interest" stories of the Christmas season-stories of humor and of pathos-seem to fall across their paths. Some of them form a wonderful thermometer to judge the height of joy and the depth of sorrow of this season. They are a criterio of the wonderful range of Christmas feeling. A little mite of a girl, who would be old if one estimated her age at 14. ccompanied by a little boy, her prother, who must have been four ears her junior, showed more cool adgment and more Christmas tact, in a Dundas street store, where she made some purchases yesterday than half a lozen other persons, who were twice

"Let's go in here," she said to her little brother, after they stood in front of one store a long time looking into the window, and as he seemed to be absolutely in her custody she pushed him ahead of her into the throng that was moving in.

"Get your Christmas candies here, said a pleasing female voice as they got inside. Willie (William was his name), pricked up his ears and put on slow speed. He raised his hand to point out the kind of candy he wanted but the semaphore was lost on the girl as she bumped Willie along with beyond description. the admonition: "Do you want to get sick again eatin' that stuff? What did ma say when we left the house?" Willie's reply, if he made one, was lost in the next pleasing female chortle of "Christmas Toy Counter." This time Willie put on the brakes and came to a full stop, with his eyes popped out at one of those clockwinding trains that will run three minutes on any track. "G'wan buy one?" said Willie, givng his motherly sister a poke in the side that made her gasp. "What do you want with one of them things?" she asked with a scornful curl of her lips. "You wouldn't have it two days before the Smith boy would cave it in with a hammer. the house.'

Another shove, and Willie was gliding away at full speed, from the toy counter to collide with a table full of flashlights, pocketknives, and dollar watches. "Don't look at the watches because you can't tell time," said the sister.

Appeal to Bishop Evans for Permission to Replace Present Building, shortly be replaced by a more pretentious building, providing the sanc tion of Bishop Evans, of Toronto, and financial head of the church, car be secured.

At a meeting of the directors held Monday evening the last details for the reconstruction were submitted and the decision to establish a new church on the site occupied by the present building approved. March 1 was set aside as the most advantageous time for the change, and the board in charge only await the reply of Bishop Evans before proceeding with the copstruction.

The following officers for the succeeding six months were elected: Elder Wm. Fligg, president; P. H. Fillipin, assistant; Bryden Richardson and Walliam Hardie, associate priests, and Walter Parker and W. Juliff, deacons. T. R. Seaton was also elected chorister and Wm. O'Dell organist. Miss Mrs. Edith Cambridge will occupy the position of secretary. The auditors are Albert Fallow and J. Judkin.
