KAPP IS REPORTED TO HAVE COMMITTED SUICIDE

DR. WOLFGANG KAPP, LEADER OF GERMAN REACTIONARY PARTY, IS SAID TO HAVE KILLED HIMSELF

Great Danger From Bolshevism Prevails in Many Parts of Germany—Kappist Forces Leaving Berlin—Spartacan Troops Are Expected To Attack the City At Any Time.

London, March 18.—Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, head of the reactionary government set up in Berlin last Saturday, and whose resignation was reported yesterday, has committed suicide, according to a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Amsterdam, quoting a telephone message from Berlin.

TURKISH CAPITAL IS CALM AFTER OCCUPATION BY ALLIED FORCES

Essad Pasha, the Nationalist Leader, Among Prisoners Taken.

SERVICES ARE RESTORED

Majority of Troops in Constantinople Are British.

Constantinople, March 18.—The second day of the inter-allied occupation of Constantinople carried out on Tuesday by large forces of the imposing war fleet in the Bosphorus passed with entire calm, the Turkish police co-operating in keeping order. The ferry and telephone services have been resumed. Only small detachments of allied soldiers are visible in the streets and about the public buildings.

The French and the Italians had only small forces here, and they are far less active than the British troops, which are excellently organized and took the city over with the precision of clockwork.

Among the prisoners taken were Essad Pasha, Nationalist leader, and Mohammed Pasha, who was minister of war just before the great war opened, and has been the chief organizer of the propaganda for an American mandate.

The Turkish newspapers and the foreign office are so heavily censored that it is impossible to obtain the authoritative Turkish view of the situation. The Turks with whom the correspondent spoke, however, were free in declaring their opinion that Constantinople was about to repeat the history of Cairo; that the British would remain in Turkey as has been done in Egypt.

DR. KIDD HAS BOTH HIPS FRACTURED IN CRASH AT CROSSING

Struck by G. T. R. Locomotive At Maitland Street While On Way To Patient.

Dr. J. E. Kidd, 477 Dundas street, was seriously injured about 5:30 o'clock this morning, as he was responding to a sick call, when his car was struck at the Maitland street crossing of the Grand Trunk Railway by an extra westbound engine, No. 561, en route from Toronto to Sarnia, and in charge of Engineer Woodcock and Conductor Melick both of Sarnia.

Dr. Kidd suffered severe fractures of both hips, but no internal injuries so far as is known at present. Dr. F. R. Clegg was called to attend him, and he was removed at once to Victoria Hospital. He was unconscious for some time, and suffered greatly from shock.

The automobile was badly damaged. Dr. Kidd had been up all night attending patients, and was, it is stated, very tired when he was called out again shortly after 5. He was driving south on Maitland street when his car was struck.

POLISH DEPUTATION HAS NOT CONFERRED WITH THE POLES YET

Warsaw, March 18.—The Rumanian delegation sent here to confer with the Poles relative to peace negotiations with Soviet Russia has not as yet met with Polish officials owing to the recent change in the Rumanian Government.

Members of the Lettish delegation have left for Riga after having completed preliminary negotiations, and it is expected that as soon as the Lettish Government gives the delegation necessary instructions it will return here to complete arrangements to open peace conversations with the Bolsheviki.

SIMS CITES SPECIFIC INSTANCES TO PROVE U. S. NAVAL BLUNDERS

American Admiral Completes Scorching Arraignment of Naval Officials.

LENGTHY TESTIMONY

Secretary Daniels and Others To Be Called by Investigating Committee.

Washington, March 18.—Concluding his long arraignment of the navy department's conduct of the war, Rear Admiral Sims laid before the United States Senate investigating committee today a number of specific counts in his indictment charging mistakes and costly delays.

Some of the principal points in the admiral's summary of his charges follow:

"That in spite of the fact that war had been going on for nearly three years and America's entry into it had been imminent at least from February 2, 1917, the vessels of the naval department were not ready for war service when the United States entered.

"That, having information as to the critical situation of the Allies due to Germany's submarine campaign, the United States navy department did ont promptly assist them, and thereby prolonged the war by delaying the sending of anti-submarine vessels, none reaching Europe for nearly a month after war was declared, and 2½ months elapsing before thirty vessels arrived.

"That the navy department in the first months of the war attempted the direction of details, although three thousand miles distant from the scene of active operation, where the situation was changing from day to day.

Admiral Sims' direct testimony filled nearly 200 large printed pages, and it took him nearly 16 hours to read it. His cross examination by members of the committee probably will be started on Friday, after which members of his staff will be heard before Secretary Daniels and officials of the navy department are called.

BOLSHEVIKI COMPEL FINNISH TROOPS TO EVACUATE POSITIONS

Village of Soutjaervi Is Reported To Have Been Destroyed.

Helsingfors, March 18.—Finnish troops have been forced to evacuate their positions at Soutjaervi, north of Lake Ladoga, and retire northwestward in the direction of Porajaervi, according to an official statement by the Finnish general staff, which reports severe fighting with the Bolsheviki yesterday. The village of Soutjaervi is said to have been almost destroyed. This front is just to the north of the one along which there was serious fighting about a fortnight ago.

FOOD FOR STARVING TROOPS BEING SENT FROM HELSINGFORS

Reval, March 18.—Trains of sledges are rushing food from Helsingfors to Abo, 100 miles west, where the exhausted and starving survivors of the central column of the North Russian army have just arrived. This column, which was under the command of Gen. Skobelstin, recently cut its way through the Bolshevik lines on the eastern Finnish border. Survivors of the column will eventually be interned at Helsingfors, it is announced.

BRIAND CONTRADICTS CAILLAUX.

Paris, March 18.—Former Premier Briand, testifying yesterday at the trial of Joseph Caillaux, also a former prime minister of France, who is charged with having had intercourse with the enemy, flatly contradicted a statement made by Caillaux that Caillaux had informed Briand that proposals of peace had been conveyed by one Lipscher on behalf of Baron von der Lancken, German civil governor of Prussia.

ONTARIO'S NEW PROPOSED ROADS

The roads indicated will be built by the Province during the next five years at an expenditure in the neighborhood of eighteen million dollars. The Federal Government pays six million dollars; or forty per cent., the Province forty per cent., and the municipalities through which the highway passes 20 per cent. of the cost of construction. The maintenance charges will be borne by the Province and municipalities.

FORMER KAISER IS GUARDED AS WELL AS IF IN REAL PRISON

Amerongen, March 18.—By the Associated Press.—Reinforcement of the Dutch guard at von Bentinck Castle, which since the middle ages has been protected by moats and drawbridges, has made the former German emperor's refuge a veritable prison fortress, capable of defence even in the unexpected event of an attack by raiders desiring to free the exile.

The castle is situated in a big square. The four sides are moated, while two of them have additional walls. The latter two sides, are on the public road, and on the other two sides, which have no walls are private paths belonging to the von Bentincks. Constables and military police patrol the roads with loaded rifles night and day. The guards are not permitted to put down their rifles for a minute. When motor cars occupied by members of the Bentinck family or their employees desire to leave the castle they are halted at the gate, and searched by police inspectors.

The nervousness of former Emperor William continues, as he follows the news of the varying fortunes of the Kapp adventures. He sits most of the time in an odd posture on chairs in his apartment straddling each chair, and grasping its back, and rocking it to and fro.

400,000 Gallons Of Crude Oil Is Destroyed

Montreal Fire, Which Was a Spectacular One, Is Isolated.

Montreal, March 18.—Four hundred thousand gallons of crude oil blazed throughout the night at the plant of the Barrett Company, Limited. The fire started at 12:20 this morning. The whole fire-fighting force of the city was called out and the blaze was successfully isolated to two tanks.

The firemen announced that the oil in the containers would burn itself out. The fire temporarily disrupted the system of the Canadian Pacific Railway's telegraphs between Montreal and Quebec.

CASTAWAYS RESCUED AFTER 11 DAYS OUT

New York, March 18.—For eleven days Capt. A. Andreassen and eleven members of the crew of the Norwegian bark Sydnaes were afloat in an open boat in heavy gales, part of the time without water and food. On the morning of March 13, just as the captain was thinking of cutting the throat of the ship's puppy in order to drink its blood, the tanker Vaarli noticed the boat's last signal flash and picked up the castaways. A second boat, containing the mate and the rest of the crew, has not been found.

YOUTHFUL PURSE SNATCHERS WERE QUICKLY CAPTURED

Leo Pariselli and a Small Boy Robbed Woman in Broad Daylight—Arrested While On Their Way Into Theatre Half an Hour Later.

Leo Pariselli, an Italian boy, apparently about 17 years of age, has proved himself to be the boldest local youth yet brought to police court, for on Wednesday in broad daylight he overtook Mrs. L. T. Smythe at the corner of Colborne street and Dufferin avenue, and snatched her purse. A juvenile, whose 15th birthday is on Friday, assisted him. Both pleaded guilty, and were remanded for a week for sentence.

According to their own confessions their first intended victim was a woman whom they saw walking on Waterloo street, between King and Dundas streets. They snatched her purse, but she was not to be beaten. She fought to retain it, until the two boys, fearing interference, ran away.

At 3:30 o'clock the other robbery was committed. About 4 o'clock Detective Harry Down was notified of the theft, and within a half hour he had arrested the boys and recovered the stolen goods. They were entering a local theatre when Detective Down apprehended them. They gave him the money, and secured the rest of the goods for him. The handbag had been hidden in an M. C. R. boxcar, and the purse had been placed under a doorstep at the London Box Company's plant.

Pariselli did not know how old he was, but thought that his mother could give the necessary information.

Girl Is Compelled To Become Professional Beggar by Father

Montreal, March 18.—Before the juvenile court yesterday two girls under 16 were arraigned for begging. They had mastered the art of professional beggars, who paint themselves to look scarred and infirm, and the charge against one of them was laid by her father. Under cross-examination the father confessed that he had sent the girl out to beg, and his complaint really was that she did not bring enough money home! The father's business was that of breeding fighting cocks, two dozen of which were found in his yard.

NURSES' FEES ARE LATEST ADDITION TO HIGH COST OF LIVING

General Nursing To Cost $30 a Week and Contagious Cases $35.

A special meeting of the Victoria Hospital Alumnae was recently called to discuss the question of raising their rates for nursing service in the city. The result is the raising of the straight $25 fee to $30 a week for general nursing, and $35 a week for contagious and obstetrical cases.

This move was made by the St. Joseph nurses some time ago, but the Victoria Alumnae decided to wait until after the influenza epidemic was over before increasing their rates.

To avoid any misunderstanding with the public, who may think that the nurses are overcharging, the Victoria Alumnae has arranged for the printing of cards bearing the new rates, and these will be in the possession of the nurses for the public to see.

The Victoria Alumnae has considered carefully the question of raising the nursing rate in London. Above all they do not want to prevent the poorer people from getting adequate nursing aid. They feel, however, that the city is now well enough supplied with such skilled nurses as those of the Victorian Order, tubercular nurses, child welfare nurses and public health nurse, that there will be no question of anyone not being able to have skilled attention at the time of illness, even though the regular rates are raised.

The reason for making the rates higher was stated to be the high cost of living, which made it very difficult for nurses to get their laundry and board at a reasonable rate. Mrs. A. C. Joseph presided at the meeting.

ASKS FOR ROAD GRANTS.

Toronto, March 18.—The Toronto-Hamilton highway commission is today applying to the railway board for an order adjusting the cost of widening the road west of Toronto, and the cost of constructing the bridge over Mimico Creek. The amounts to be asked are $146,000 for widening of the road, and $9,511 for the construction of the bridge.

LINDSAY CRAWFORD SAYS CANADIANS ARE TALKING OF REPUBLIC

Toronto Writer's Reception At New York Almost Equals De Valera's.

New York, March 18.—Lindsay Crawford of Toronto figured prominently in the St. Patrick's Day celebration of the supporters of the "Irish Republic" here yesterday. With "President" DeValera he was among the guests of honor at the Queen's Borough St. Patrick's Society dinner at the Biltmore Hotel. According to reports printed in today's papers, he contributed a speech which contained several surprising statements and was given a reception second only to that of DeValera, by the "friends of Iris hfreedom," who assembled to hear the chief of the Irish republican faction.

"We are talkin today of a republic in Canada," Mr. Crawford is reported to have declared.

According to the New York Timees' reporter the Queen's diners loudly applauded when Lindsay Crawford, a native of Ulster, and formerly president of the Irishmen's Association, asserted that Canadians, among whom he had lived for ten years, are also talking of a republic.

Problem of Imperialism.

Mr. Crawford said that there is growing up a young Ulster, which is standing on the side of an independent Ireland. He declared Ireland is in the same position today as the thirteen colonies were at the end of the eighteenth century.

The problem for Ireland, Canada, Australia and South Africa, Mr. Crawford added, is a problem of imperialism in the twentieth century. He said it is impossible to evolve a system by which popular opinion can fully express itself within an empire, and unless England can find such a system, she will lose all her colonies.

Hundreds of banners and signs, most of them uncomplimentary to Great Britain, were carried in yesterday's parade. The one which made the greatest hit with the spectators who lined the route of the procession was one which bore the legend, "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death!" and underneath these memorable words was printed, "Hoboken."

SWISS TRAIN BURIED BY ALPS AVALANCHE

MARITAL LAW PROCLAIMED.

Vienna, March 18.—Dispatches from the Duchy of Teschen, where Poles and Czechs recently clashed, resulting in the establishment of martial law, says the situation is much easier there. Czech miners are returning to work, but the Poles are still on strike.

Felt Boy Needed Girl To Fight For

Wartime Wife, 19, Now Asks Divorce From Soldier.

Detroit, March 18.—Lillian Ambuhl Day, 19 years old, and strikingly pretty, told Judge George S. Hosmer in circuit court that she married Chipman Lee Day in 1918 because she felt "a soldier would be a better soldier if he had somebody to fight for." In proceedings begun by her mother, as next friend, the young woman asks that her marriage to Day be annulled.

Lillian and Day met one day when she was taking snapshots with a camera. She consented to go on automobile rides with him, she said, because she felt that "everybody owed a certain duty to the soldiers" and Day, although only 17 years old at the time, was in the service. One day in June they drove to Mount Clemens. Day produced a marriage license and they were made husband and wife. Mrs. Day informed Judge Hosmer that they never lived together. The couple told nobody about the marriage, and shortly afterward Day went overseas.

Because the young man was not represented in court, Judge Hosmer did not take final action Wednesday, stating that the case would be considered as heard and submitted.

Mrs. Day is private secretary for a Detroit lumber dealer.

GOVERNMENT NOT TO MAKE ANY FURTHER GRATUITY INCREASES

Only Two Millions Expended This Winter for Needy Cases.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, March 18.—While the Government has decided to again appoint a special parliamentary committee to further consider the question of soldiers' civil re-establishment, it is understood that it has not changed its mind with regard to the question of gratuity.

Col. Peck, V. C., of Skeen, declared yesterday that the committee should consider in order of importance the question of pensions re-establishment and gratuities. Pensions will be considerd by another committee.

Re-establishment will be considred by the committee promised yesterday, and while gratuities will undoubtedly come up again, it may safely be predicted that the Government will not order any further grants of the kind, however strong the pressure may be.

At the last session of Parliament the sum of $40,000,000 was appropriated for the purpose of equalizing the gratuities paid Canadians in the imperial forces with those paid to men in the expeditionary force to recompense the dependents of soldiers who had paid their own passage money back to Canada, and to provide an emergency fund for persons in need and out of employment during the present winter. The winter is nearly over, and not more than $2,000,000 has so far been expended for the latter purpose, the majority of the needy ones preferring to take work when it was offered.

The fact that neither the minister, the deputy minister nor the assistant deputy minister of soldiers' civil re-establishment is a returned soldier has created considerable criticism and changes in the personnel may be anticipated.

REVIEWS GOVERNMENT RECORD.

Winnipeg, March 18.—In the Legislature yesterday, claiming that no legislature in the British Empire had enacted the same amount of important legislation in the same time, Hon. A. B. Hudson, former attorney-general of Manitoba, gave a comprehensive review of the work of the Norris administration during the past five years. He spoke during the budget debate.

WAVE OF BOLSHEVISM THREATENS TO ENGULF GERMANY; RADICALS ASSUME CONTROL IN MANY PLACES

Gustav Noske, Minister of Defence, Arrives in Berlin and Announces That the Ebert Government Will Again Take Over the Direction of Affairs—Proletarian Dictatorships Have Been Set Up in Larger Cities.

The collapse of the reactionary dictatorship in Berlin has been quickly followed by the resumption of authority on the part of the old government. Its chief task for the moment, it appears, will be to deal with the disordered conditions which the Spartacans are endeavoring to prolong for their own purposes.

Dispatches stating that Minister of Defence Noske was back on the scene in Berlin, have been followed by reports that President Ebert also had returned to the capital from Stuttgart. Pending his return Vice-Premier Schiffer of the Bauer cabinet, took over the direction of affairs relinquished by Dr. Kapp when he gave up his effort to establish a new government.

There are reports current in Berlin that ex-Chancellor Kapp had committed suicide, but these so far lack confirmation. His prosecution, together with that of other leaders of the reactionary movement, is said to have been ordered by President Ebert.

Germany has cast off the governmental regime suddenly set up by the reactionary elements last Saturday morning, but advices indicate she is now facing another extreme peril in the form of a wave of radicalism.

Reports from Berlin say Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, the reactionary chancellor, and his adherents, have either fled from the city or contemplate going at once. Rumors that Kapp had committed suicide were received at Amsterdam by telephone from Berlin this morning. Armed forces of the reactionary element are leaving Berlin today, and the presence of Gustav Noske, minister of defence in the Ebert cabinet, who arrived in Berlin last night by airplane from Stuttgart, would seem to indicate that the constitutional government intends to assume control immediately. General von Seecht, President Ebert's chief of staff, has been named commander of government forces in Berlin. Announcements by Dr. Kapp, as well as official statements from the officials of the Ebert Government, reflect the fear of a radical uprising in Germany. In fact Dr. Kapp's announcement stated he had resigned from the direction of affairs so that the country might be enabled to fight Bolshevism. From various cities come reports of uprisings of workers, and advices from Berlin state that red forces, under command of Spartacist leaders, are marching on that city. As the Ebert troops have not as yet resumed full control, an attack by the reds is feared

Throughout Germany radical elements have in many places taken over direction of affairs, at least temporarily.

Proletarian dictatorships have been set up at Dortmund, Gera, Halle, Ohlige, Unna and Gelsenkirchen, according to reports, while in Leipsic workers have driven government troops from the suburbs of the city, and were engaged late yesterday in street fighting. In the Rhenish and Westphalian industrial districts it is said the workers are ready to follow radical leaders.

REACTIONARY FORCES ARE LEAVING BERLIN

Berlin, March 18.—Troops commanded by General von Luttwitz, which have been supporting the reactionary revolt here, will have left Berlin by tonight at the latest, according to an announcement by Dr. Hirch, Prussian premier. Security guards and loyal regular troops will then take over control of the city, the capital.

DUTCH WITHDRAW TORPEDOBOAT SENT TO GUARD EX-PRINCE

Weirengen, Holland, March 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Dutch torpedo boat which arrived here on Monday, presumably to guard former Crown Prince Frederick William, departed yesterday by order of the Dutch Government. Frederick William, who is thoroughly informed of the progress of events in Germany, is greatly interested, but seems not to be perturbed at the failing fortunes of the Kapp regime. Yesterday he boxed with the son of Burgomaster Perobboom, who was a good match for him, but much younger.

No special guards have as yet arrived here, and the former crown prince is quite free to move about the island. He reiterates that he would like to return to Germany some time, but not under present circumstances.

SPARTACAN FORCES ARE EXPECTED TO ATTACK BERLIN AT ANY TIME

Paris, March 18.—Gustav Noske the minister of defence in the Ebert cabinet, arrived in Berlin by aeroplane late yesterday, having made the trip from Stuttgart. Gen. von Seecht, chief of staff for the constitutional government, has replaced Gen. von Luettwitz as commander at Berlin, according to advices.

The danger from Bolshevism seems to be extreme. The Kappist troops are withdrawing from Berlin, and forces commanded by Spartacan leaders are expected to attack the city at any time. A consolidation of all parties to fight Bolshevism has been formed, only the Independent Socialists not being included. Elections will be held no later than June, according to latest dispatches from Stuttgart.

IND. SOCIALISTS HAVE 12,000 MEN READY TO FIGHT

Paris, March 18.—Official advices from Berlin, describing conditions there last night, said the public places of the city were filled with crowds in an ugly humor. The military appeared to be of a panicky disposition. Many of the Baltic troops, the advices added, had joined forces with the Independent Socialists, who were reported to have 12,000 armed men at their command.

FIGHTING IN LEIPSIC.

Copenhagen, March 18.—Advices from Leipsic stated that armed workmen who yesterday occupied a number of the suburbs, have advanced toward the centre of the city, which is being defended by volunteer troops. Lively fighting has been going on in the streets since yesterday.

SOVIET REPUBLICS FORMED.

The Hague, March 18.—Soviet republics have been formed at Dortmund, in Westphalia, and at Gera, 35 miles southwest of Leipsic, according to dispatches received here. At the latter place, which was formerly the capital of the principality of Reuss-Schleiz, there has been savage fighting, it is said.

In the fighting at Dresden 50 persons have been killed and 495 wounded, reports state, and the city is isolated from the rest of Germany.

ASSEMBLY MEMBERS CONFER.

Stuttgart, March 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Two hundred and fifty members of the German National Assembly held a meeting in the art hall here this afternoon. Military forces are occupying the great open place before the hall. No disorders occurred while the members were assembling.

Aeroplanes are flying over the city warning the people against demonstrations.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS.

London, March 18.—The London Times understands that telegrams from a well-informed source in Berlin received in London Wednesday convey the impression that the situation in Germany is serious. The question as to what particular government shall hold office—that of Ebert, or possibly some fresh combination—is thought in some quarters to be of less importance than the menace of extreme Socialist and communist activities.

Signs of this are not wanting, says the Times, and the action of some of the Independent Socialists in joining the workmen's councils is regarded as significant. It is also stated that Noske considers the Spartacist outrages in some of the provinces as serious.

No confirmation of the reported resignation of Chancellor Kapp, the Times adds, has been received in official circles in London, but there is ground for believing that his action may in part be ascribed to loss of nerve. He may, too, have been influenced by news of the

Keeping Track of the Straws

By H. F. Gadsby

The first division in the new building will not soon be passed on to the limbo of forgotten things. It was full of significances. It showed how all the winds of opinion blew.

The division and the debate which led up to it showed first and foremost that Union Government intends to hang on, accidents barred, until it perishes by effluxion of time. It is going to eat, drink and be merry for the day after tomorrow it may get better. Wait and see—that is the cue. Its tired heart may be beating funeral marches to the grave, but the expectations are that the funeral will not reach the cemetery for two years yet.

The Government still has a majority of thirty-four between it and destruction. There is little danger that the thirty-four will melt away because they know that when Union Government goes they go. Consequently they stick until death does them part. It is Hobson's choice. Their friends expect them to be brave and to do certain necessary but disagreeable things, which, only a government dedicated to death can properly do. For instance, they can frame a franchise act, neatly blended of rep-by-pop for the cities and proportional representatives for the country, which will take most of the fever out of the farmer's movement by making the city man's vote of equal value with his country brother's. To build such a franchise act and accomplish the redistribution of seats gives the Government an excellent exbased upon it means waiting on the decennial census next year, which cuse for lingering a year after that. The Government may well exclaim "The farmers' movement saves our life."

Precarious Existence.

With two years of precarious existence ahead of it a deep gloom settles on the Government which is reflected in the faces of Messrs. Meighen, Rowell and Calder, who begin to realize that, whoever comes out on top, what he leads is nothing but a case of suspended animation. Brother Calder is probably the most resigned of the three. Feeling that his future in the West is largely past he seems to have settled down to the idea that a big Government job in the East will be a fitting crown to his career. There is that in his fact which advertises a heart for any fate which will draw a salary as big as Frank Carvell's. Jim is full of silence, serenely and sunshiny, because he knows that he will go the way all good Liberals go who leave Union Government for the higher life on some royal commission or other.

Not so Leader Rowell, who cherished at one time the ambition to be premier, if only for fifteen minutes. But what is that premiership now? Ashes in the mouth! Dead Sea apples! Nothing to it, because the Unionist party is appointed to die. It lives only so long as Sir Robert Borden says so. It hangs on his breath, so to speak, and when his breath gives out or goes on strike, Union Government is at liberty to hang itself somewhere else. There is no great pleasure in acting as the central figure of a funeral procession.

W. O. CREAMERYMEN APPROVE OFFER OF A BUTTER PREMIUM

For Butter Made From Pasteurized Milk.

FAVOR FIXED STANDARD

Of Pasteurization of Cream For Butter For the Export Trade.

Western Ontario creamerymen, who met in conference yesterday with J. H. Scott of the dairy branch of the department of agriculture, Toronto, in the Chamber of Commerce board room at the Tecumseh House, passed a resolution approving the offer of the Canadian Produce Association to pay a premium on graded butter, made from pasteurized milk. The resolution, in addition to approving of the proposal for grading butter, committed the creamerymen in favor of a fixed standard of pasteurization of cream for butter for export trade, pasteurization to be made at a temperature of 170 degrees, but favored the framing of any legislation which may follow to permit a continuance of the custom of pasteurizing cream at a temperature of only 145 degrees for butter to be sold on the home market. The resolution was moved by W. C. Jackson of Silverwoods, Limited, and seconded by S. E. Rozelle of Clinton.

Creamerymen present told of satisfactory experiences with butter made from butter pasteurized at 145 degrees, and held that butter for the home market made from such cream would keep fresh quite long enough. Several speakers expressed the opinion that slightly less butterfat was lost in churning from cream pasteurized at high temperatures ranging from 150 to 170 degrees. Low temperature pasteurization can be affectively accomplished in ten minutes.

The probability of a grading station for butter being established in London in the near future was discussed. Samples of butter sometimes suffer in transit when expressed long distances to the grading stations at Guelph and Toronto now.

W. G. Medd of Exeter, was chairman of the conference, and Malcolm Waddell of Strathroy was appointed secretary.

EXCUSE FAILED TO PREVENT FINE OF $5

Charles Singleton, a local taxi driver, was fined $5 and costs in police court today for passing a standing street car on the left. His excuse that he was hurrying to catch a train was of no avail.

John Burgess, Harold Logan and A. Luimagella, each paid Police Court Clerk John Moule $2 for breaking the Lord's Day act.

M. Stevely, Charles Spittal, A. Westland, C. S. Parker, O. E. Smith and Charles Wakeling, each were fined $2 for violating the motor vehicles act.

LITTLE CHANCE OF OLD BOYS' REUNION IN CITY THIS YEAR

Lack of Organization Among Former Londoners Is Partly the Cause.

Owing to a lack of organization among former Londoners living in other cities, there is little likelihood an Old Boys' reunion being held in this city this year. While a definite decision has not been reached by the reunion committee, Edwin Smith, the secretary, said today that it would be impossible to stage a successful reunion before another year.

The reason given was the failure on the part of former Londoners to answer the letters and queries sent out by the committee here. Although letters had been sent to practically all cities in Canada and to many in the United States where it was known that former Londoners lived and were organized, only five answers had been received.

It is thought by the members of the committee that the war has disorganized the associations formed by former residents in many of the cities. Nearly six years have elapsed since the last celebration, and in that time many deaths might have occurred among the old executives, while many of the younger men had left their homes to go to France, and as yet had not settled down again. Mr. Smith pointed out that even though a reunion was decided upon for this year, only four or five months remained in which to do at least nine months' work.

He said that the most probable course to be adopetd by the committee would be to postpone the reunion until next year. In the early fall a start would be made to organize the cities all over the continent, and early in 1921 preparations for the celebration would be started. By this plan a successful reunion would be assured to take place in the following August.

LOVE-NOTT NUPTIALS

OTTAWA, March 17.—A pretty house wedding took place at the residence of Lieut.-Col S. B. Ware, D. S. O., Ottawa, on Wednesday evening, when Jessie Campbell Edgar, youngest daughter of the late Police Magistrate Francis Love of London, Ontario, was married to Mr. Gordon Eugene Nott, only son of Mr. and Mrs. William Nott of Los Angeles, the Rev. Major Kilpatrick of St. Andrew's church, performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Col. Ware, wore white lace over satin and her veil was caught in mob cap effect with real orange blossoms sent by the groom's father from California.

Her bouquet was of white roses with showers of pink sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. She wore the groom's gift, a platinum and diamond ring, in princess setting. Her sister, Miss Sterling Love, was her only attendant. Her frock was of pale pink brocaded satin with draped skirt and lace corsage and her bouquet, a sheaf of pink roses. She wore the groom's gift, a platinum bar pin, set with pearls. Lieut. Frank Merry, M. C., was the best man and the groom's gift to him was a platinum and pearl scarf pin. Valentine's orchestra provided the wedding music and during the signing of the register, the bride's sister, Mrs. Eldred Archibald of Montreal, sang "Oh Fair, Oh Sweet and Holy." Mrs. Archibald's gown was black and gold brocade, mounted on old gold satin, with jet ornaments and corsage bouquet of sweet peas. She wore the groom's gift, an arrow pin, set with brilliants.

Mrs. Ware wore a lovely frock of orchid georgette, heavily embroidered with pearls and carried American Beauty roses. Miss Mary Love of London wore black satin with rhinestone trimming and corsage bouquet of sweet peas. The house decorations were pink carnations and sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Nott left for California, via Chicago and the Grand Canyon, and will motor through California before settling in Los Angeles. The bride travelled in delft blue velours with taupe georgette blouse embroidered in blue, and soft taupe silk hat embroidered in blue chennelle with fox furs.

Among the guests were Sir Walter and Lady Cassels, His Honor Judge Wells, Major and Mrs. Orde, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bate, Captain S. B. Patterson, Col. Evans Davis, C. M. G.; Capt. Jeffrey Maynard, Dr. Locke, Mr. Stuart Bate, Mrs. Kilpatrick, the Misses Susie Cassels, Katherine Scott, Phyllis Burstall, Edna and Nancy Thackray and Florence Fraser.

ELECTION EXPENSES COST CITIZENS $2,033

Council Must Settle for Three-Fifths of General Account.

Voting on thirteen bylaws, not to mention a few mayors, aldermen, utilities commissioners and school trustees last January cost the citizens of London $2,033.97, according to a statement just compiled by City Clerk Baker.

General election expenses amounted to $1,857.12. Of this amount the city council will pay three-fifths, one-fifth for the cost of voting for members of the council, one-fifth for the vote on bylaws affecting the council, and one-fifth for the plebiscites affecting the council. The board of education will be asked to pay one-fifth of the general amount, and $31.29 for printing ballots. The utilities commission will be requested to pay the remaining fifth and in addition $31.29 for ballots for commissioners; $17.97 for ballots for bylaws, and $40.50 for advertising the bylaws.

PRELIMINARY WORK ON NEW RESERVOIR COMMENCED TODAY

Capacity of Storage Will Be Increased by 10,000,000 Gallons.

ANOTHER ONE NEXT YEAR

Commissioners Plan To Have Twenty Million Gallons Available.

Preliminary work on the 10,000,000-gallon addition to Springbank reservoir was commenced today. Holes were drilled at the four corners of the proposed site and in the centre, to learn what kind of ground will be encountered when excavating is started.

If conditions are found to be satisfactory a steam shovel will be obtained and the real work will be commenced at once. The project, which will cost $100,000, promises to be an interesting engineering feat. A temporary incline railway will likely be built up the side of the hill to carry material to the top.

This addition represents only half of what is planned. If the work on this section is completed this year the citizens will be asked at the next election to approve another addition of the same size.

Present Capacity.

At the present time the total storage capacity is about 6,000,000 gallons, or about one average day's supply. For fire protection alone this is insufficient, and the fire underwriters' in their regulations call for a reservoir of at least 8,500,000 gallons capacity for a city of 60,000 inhabitants, while other authorities state that a city should have a reservoir capacity of from three to ten days' supply.

The average daily consumption of water in the city is approximately 5,000,000 gallons, while the maximum consumption during any one day has been as high as 6,500,000 gallons. To meet this maximum demand there is available from all three sources of supply, Springbank, Horton street and Crystal Park, about 6,000,000 gallons. While this is an adequate margin under average conditions, a period of two or three days of heavy drought threatens a shortage.

Would Help Materially.

The additional reservoir, containing 30,000,000 gallons of water, will be capable of supplying a deficiency of 500,000 gallons per day for 40 days, which would be sufficient to carry the city over any prolonged period of hot or cold weather.

It is estimated that the new reservoir adjoining the present one will give a pressure of 75 to 80 pounds in the downtown district, without the need of pumps. If another main is laid this will insure ample fire pressure even in the event of a breakdown in the pumping machinery. It will be possible to do nearly all the pumping during the night when plenty of power is available at low cost.

It is expected that this work will postpone the necessity for addition to the present supply, and that in any event it ill form an integral part of any water supply system which the city may adopt.

SAYS CANADA AND BRITISH EMPIRE ARE RECUPERATING FAST

Financial Recovery Is Little Short of Amazing, Banker States.

Canada is fast recuperating, financially, J. E. Magee, manager of the Merchants' Bank, told the members of the Businessmen's Forum at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday night.

"Before the war 99 per cent of Canada's debt was held in Old London," he said. "At the end of January, 1920, 84 per cent of the debt was shown as held in Canada, 12 per cent in Old London, and 4 per cent in New York. It will not be long now until our heads will be above water. This is true of the British Empire as well. It is amazing to note the financial recovery of Canada and the United Kingdom."

Canadian banks, the speaker said, were democratic institutions, very few of the shareholders, owning more than 1,000 shares. In the United States many of the banks were family affairs. The majority of the stockholders in Canadian banks were widows, orphans, trusts, ministers, and teachers and other professional men. Because of this fact, the banks had to be democratic or they could not carry on business.

Banking activities had increased tremendously since the termination of the war, according to figures given. There were 3,028 branch banks in Canada in 1913. During the war no additional ones were opened. In January, 1920, there were 4,481 bank branches carrying on business. This showed that since the war, 1,453 branches had come into being.

Newfoundland's iron were said to contain North America's industrial promise, by J. F. White of the London Rolling Mills, in the course of a talk on "Iron." Although the speaker was used to using technical terms in regard to the processes necessary to bring the iron from ore to the finished product, he described the methods employed in language that could be understood by all.

Canada's future in the iron industry was said to lie in the use of the electric furnace rather than the coal-blast method.

In the Newfoundland field, four billions of tons of iron ore were not mined as yet. This was double the amount possessed by the United States Steel Corporation.

ST. THOMAS MAN UNDER REMAND AT KITCHENER

Joe Dempsey Denies That He Stole Motor Car He Was Driving.

KITCHENER, March 17.—Joseph Dempsey of St. Thomas when arraigned in police court this morning charged with stealing a motor car, which he was found driving Monday night, pleaded "not guilty," and declared that he was induced to get in the car with some men he did not know. The men asked him to drive the car to a restaurant and got out. The case was adjourned for a week to give Dempsey a chance to produce two men he claims had the car.

Rev. William Kloepfer, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, left today for Chicago, where he will assume charge of a church. Father Kloepfer was connected with St. Mary's Church for about six years.

The case of three Kitchener men, Alfred Hooper, Her Pelz and Harry Hooper, charged with stealing from a freight car was adjourned a week. The men are alleged to have stolen whiskey.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Hastening to clear the way for final action on the peace treaty, the Senate today choked off a St. Patrick's Day debate on the Irish question by tabling, 54 to 21, a proposal to declare by reservation that Great Britain should proclaim Ireland free.

DENY THEY ASSAULTED THEIR EMPLOYER

Greek Lads Coming Up For Trial This Afternoon At Special Session.

Stephen Mitgis, Thomas Mitgis, William Mitgis and Kandis Kochopolas appeared in police court Thursday charged with assaulting and wounding George Strapholous, a fellow-Greek, who owns a shoeshine parlor at 401 Richmond street, and who resides at 301 Richmond street.

Strapholous' daughter, a mere child, acted as interpreter for a short while. However, she had a tendency to answer the questions herself instead of putting them to her father. It was decided to adjourn until 4 o'clock this afternoon, when a capable interpreter will be present.

All four accused pleaded not guilty. They were bailed out.

From what little evidence was given, it appears that the dispute, which occurred on Sunday at the plaintiff's house, was concerning pay. The three Mitgis boys work in the shoeshine parlor for the plaintiff. One of them apparently demanded that he be given his pay on Sunday, and Strapholous refused, saying that he would pay on Monday. It was said that Thomas Mitgis then went out and brought back Kochopolas. The fracas followed.

THREE MEN KILLED AS WALL COLLAPSES

MONTREAL, March 17.—Three men were killed and six others seriously injured, one of whom is not expected to live, when the concrete wall of a building being erected for the Singer Manufacturing Company at St. Johns, Que., collapsed this afternoon and buried the men in the debris. The accident is thought to have been caused by the giving way of two concrete beams which resulted in the heavy cement roof falling through the building into the cellar. The collapse is thought to have been caused by frost having got into the cement before it was thoroughly set.

"FLU," GRIP, COLDS,

Pneumonia, Fevers, Hard Coughs, Tonsilitis.

Read this plain statement.

First, this whole brood of wicked enemies of health may be kept at bay, the medical authorities say, by keeping up high quality of the blood, and observing the ordinary laws relating to sanitation and health.

That is why Hood's Sarsaparilla is recommended as a preventive of "flu" and other diseases—it is the standard blood-purifier and vitalizer.

Second, for a definite case of any of the prevailing complaints, it is wise immediately to call a physician.

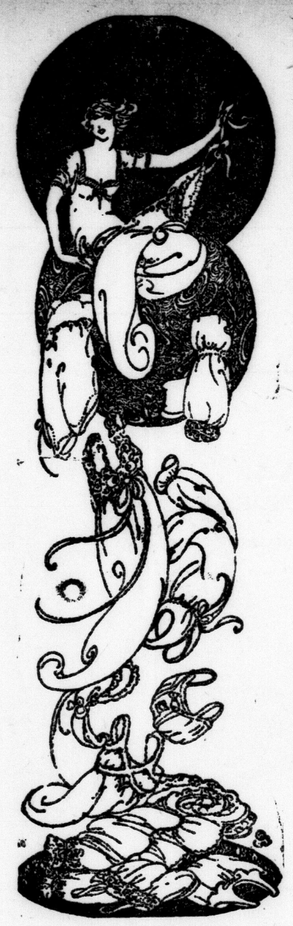

Third, for that weakness and prostration following the "flu," grip and other diseases, Hood's Sarsaparilla by renewing the red blood corpuscles wonderfully restores health, builds up the whole system, creates an appetite and "makes food taste good." If a cathartic is needed Hood's Pills are recommended.

PRESENTED WITH PAIR OF SILVER CANDLESTICKS

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Barnes Honored On Removal to Montreal.

GALT, March 17.—On the event of their departure for Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Barnes were the guests of the officers and members of the Children's Aid Society last evening. In recognition of Mr. Barnes' valued services to the society as president for the past two and a half years, he was presented with a pair of silver candlesticks. Mr. Barnes, formerly general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., has been appointed community secretary of the Montreal Y. M. C. A.

St. Patrick's Club held a very successful St. Patrick's concert at the city hall tonight. The program was appropriate for the occasion, and included numbers by the Maple Leaf Quartet, solos by Miss M. Bell, violin solos by Miss N. Kanner and xylophone solos by W. Benham. The large hall was filled.

J. W. Smith of this city was quietly married this afternoon in Kitchener, to Mrs. M. Townsend of that city.

SOCIALIST REFUSES TO HOIST FLAG, QUITS

MILAN, March 17.—Signor Caldara, the Socialist mayor of Milan, refused to hoist the flag on the municipal buildings last Sunday on the occasion of the centennary of the birth of Victor Emmanuel II, and the people made a hostile demonstration. The mayor and the municipal council, composed entirely of socialists, resigned.

BATHHOUSE KEEPER GUILTY OF SELLING LIQUOR; FINED $200

BRANTFORD, March 17. — The Brant County Board of Agriculture has organized for the year with the following officers: President, M. N. Simpson; vice-president, Fred Luck; secretary-treasurer, A. W. Patesy; executive committee, Earl Kitchen, Ernest Potruff, Ford Papple, A. W. Eddy, J. R. Summerhayes and Francis Knight. The previous year's program of activities will be repeated, and the seed fair will be held here next fall. Relations of the board with the Brantford Chamber of Commerce will be maintained.

BODY OF INFANT.

An unpleasant find was made by an employee of the garage at the corner of Clarence and Dalhousie streets last night, when he discovered the remains of a six-weeks-old infant, of very diminutive form, in a newspaper. The remains had apparently been there for about a week. Coroner Fishette was called, but deemed an inquest unnecessary. The room where the discovery was made had been closed for some time. It was evident that the remains had been placed through the window from the street.

FINED $200 AND COSTS.

The Wadsworth street "bath-house" liquor dispensary case was again reviewed in the police court this morning. Annie Jolta, one of the keepers of the bath-house, was found guilty of keeping liquor for sale and was fined $200 and costs. She had sent her little 9-year-old girl to an opposition "dive" to get the booze.

PLENTY OF WORK.

T. Y. Thompson of the Ontario Government Employment Bureau stated today that he could find no unemployment in Brantford. He could place lots of men if they were available. Every day farmers were after help, and it was difficult to meet their request as well as provide men for local factory work.

The policy of taking on no new customers is still being adhered to by the local hydro commission. There is still a sufficiency of power for all purposes, but Brantford has been unable to get any additional supply, and therefore new business cannot be touched.

WAS ALREADY MARRIED.

On March 4 last there was celebrated at Simcoe the marriage of a former trusted employe of a local firm, who had been serving in the capacity of timekeeper and who had announced his intention of going south. Before he departed he was regaled with presentations of money and gifts of value, but he left his wife and 9-year-old child behind. The father of the Simcoe girl has placed the matter in the hands of the police following inquiries made by the man's wife.

BISHOP PLANS TO MAKE THIS CITY EDUCATIONAL CENTRE

Assumption College, Windsor, May Be Moved to London.

URSULINES COMING, TOO

Building of Seminary Will Not Be Commenced This Year.

London will become one of the greatest Roman Catholic educational centres in the Dominion of Canada within the next few years, when the plans of Bishop M. F. Fallon are fully realized. His lordship stated to The Advertiser today that a large seminary for boys would be erected here, that the Ursuline College for young women now located in Chatham, and possibly the Assumption College for young men, at pregent in Sandwich, are to be brought to this city.

Although it had been definitely decided to bring the Ursuline College here, and to build the seminary, the building program would not be started this year, he said, owing to the high cost of building material. Two splendid sites have been chosen, and the work would be started as soon as building material became cheaper. The freshmen class of the Ursuline College would be located in this city in the fall, but a classroom had not been chosen yet.

The Ursuline College is the greatest preparatory school for girls under the jurisdiction of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada. At the present time there are nearly two hundred students attending it, and it is expected that the number will be greatly increased when the school is moved to London. The new site will adjoin the grounds of the new Western University on the north branch of the Thames. It is on an elevation that overlooks the whole city.

Plans for the seminary have been prepared and the building funds have been raised by special subscriptions raised by the bishop from the members of the diocese. The buildings will be erected on a site known as Sunshine Park, which also is located on the north branch of the river, but in the vicinity of Waterloo or Wellington streets.

The bishop said that he hoped to bring the Assumption College here, but nothing definite could be given out about it yet.

W. MIDDLESEX MEMBER TO ASK QUESTION ON RURAL CREDITS ISSUE

Duncan Ross Wants to Know When Legislation Will Be Introduced.

Ottawa, March 18.—(Canadian Press).—Establishment of a system of rural credits in Canada is the theme of a question to be placed before the ministry in the Commons tomorrow by Duncan Ross, West Middlesex. He asks if the Government has considered this question, and when it intends introducing such legislation.

Mr. Ross is also seeking information regarding the importation of automobiles into Canada during the years 1918 and 1919. He asks the number of cars imported in those years valued at less than $1,000 and those over that, also what amount was collected in duty on those automobiles and parts of automobiles imported and what amount of excise duty was collected on automobiles and parts during the years mentioned.

WANTS TO KNOW COST OF SENDING CANADIAN FORCES TO RUSSIA

Ottawa, March 18.—(By the Canadian Press).—A list of fourteen questions pertaining to the sending of a military expeditionary force from Canada to Russia are down for the Commons tomorrow from P. F. Casgrain, Charlesteix-Montmorency. He wants to know the total cost of the expedition, the number of officers and men in the force, when did they leave and when did they return; were there any casualties, if so how many were killed, and how many wounded; how many died of disease; how many are entitled to pensions; what is the total amount of annual pensions; how far from Vladivostok did the Canadian army penetrate into Russia; by what authority was this expedition sent; what became of the balance of supplies, ammunition, etc., were these articles sold by auction or private sale; who were the purchasers, and what amount was realized by said sale and how was it paid?

Mr. Gasgrain will also ask several questions affecting the Canadian newsprint situation.

SOLDIERS' WIVES WERE HOSTESSES AT EUCHRE

Wives of the soldiers were hostesses to the members of the Princess Patricia Light Infantry Regiment at an enjoyable euchre party and dance at Tecumseh Barracks last night. Following the program, supper was served. Appropriate reference to the fact that it was the birthday anniversary of Lady Patricia Ramsay, honorary colonel-in-chief of the regiment, was made by Sergt.-Major Gillingham, in a brief but excellent speech. The entertainment was a successful one from every standpoint.

Tonight a concert in the Y. M. C. A. hut will be provided by Mrs. Grant Harris and assisting artists.

RECORD DEMAND FOR ROOMS AT HOSPITAL, SAYS SUPT. HEARD

Ever Since First of Year Congestion Has Been Acute.

Want to go to the hospital? Then you'll have to meet with a violent accident or fall down on the street in a fit, or else wait your turn until a vacant room can be found for you. Money and influence are of little avail unless you are very dangerously ill. In cases of life and death importance room is made just somehow, but if it's only a vacation from work and a little humoring from doctor and nurse you want, you are perfectly safe in taking a trip to Florida and back while they are considering your application for room and board.

In Great Demand.

According to Superintendent Heard, since the first of the year the number of applications for admission to Victoria Hospital in excess of the rooms and beds available has ranged steadily from fifteen to twenty. Congestion at St. Joseph's Hospital is reported to be just as great.

Vacation of the building formerly occupied by military patients and latterly by the influenza patients will be made on Saturday. This will provide accommodation for 80 more patients, but the hospital board has planned to renovate and redecorate the building first. The painters' strike has held up this work.

Private Rooms Score.

Even with the additional accommodation provided by what has been recently the influenza hospital, there will be a dearth of private rooms, although the congestion in the public wards will be considerably relieved.

The hospital board of trustees will meet next week, but it is doubtful if the question of building further additions will be seriously considered. Members of the board feel that the city would scarcely feel ready to undertake further building at the present inflation of building material prices. A new wing to accommodate 50 additional patients would cost at the present time in the neighborhood of $200,000, it is estimated.

ONLY WAY TO END LEVEL CROSSINGS IS BY LEGISLATION

Town Planners Can Do Nothing Until Such Action Is Taken.

The serious injury of Dr. J. E. Kidd today, when his car was struck by a Grand Trunk engine, has brought home again to Londoners the deadliness of the level crossings. This makes the eighth London physician who has been injured at London railway crossings, it is stated.

Track elevation in London is one of the things Londoners have been dreamily looking forward to for many years, like the dawn of universal peace, the end of graft and high prices and the millenial dawn. To most people it is a pleasantly ephemeral dream, which promises not to raise their taxes for at least another five or six years, but to a few Londoners mathematically gifted and not morbidly interested in reading of tragic accidents in the newspapers, another five or six years means anywhere from ten to forty people killed and maimed at level crossings.

Legislation Essential.

John Cottam, town-planning enthusiast, looks forward to the granting of legislation now being sought, which will vest in the town-planning commissions power to abolish level crossings. Pending the passing of this legislation, the town-planning commission can do nothing, says Mr. Cottam.

It is regrettable, he points out, that the city council in power at the time changes were made at the Cove bridge, did not compel the Grand Trunk to raise its tracks all the way through London. The Grand Trunk station is really in a valley. Richmond and Wellington street crossings are about twenty feet below the level of boundaries of the city on either side. Some day the Grand Trunk for its own economy of locomotive power, he believes, will build a causeway through the valley of London by elevating its tracks. Each year that track elevation is delayed means anywhere from two to half a dozen more human lives needlessly sacrificed.

The Tax Rate.

An appeal to the railway commission, some Londoners believe, might result in an order for track elevation at once, but London would doubtless be required to pay part of the expense. Fear of this increasing the tax rate has dampened the enthusiasm of many who otherwise would be out and out advocates of track elevation.

That the town-planning advocates have no desire to delay track elevation in order to harmonize it with union depot and other civic improvement plans was emphatically stated by Mr. Cottam. Track elevation is one of the first improvements needed in London and one of the first things that the town-planners would authorize if their commission had the power it desires, he declares.

WILL REARRANGE PARK EXPENDITURES

While estimates for the year have been cleared up, the utilities commission will still have a fairly busy time at the regular meeting this afternoon.

The action of the council in reducing the parks estimate from approximately three-quarters of a mill to half a mill, will likely be discussed. Plans for this department will have to be rearranged, as there will be no funds for some of the work which was contemplated.

Several plans for providing additional amusement at Springbank will be discussed. One proposition being made to the board is to build a miniature steam railway on the grounds. Another is to erect a dance hall and other amusement devices. Proposals along this line which have been made so far have not been entirely satisfactory to the board, as the city would derive little revenue from them in return for the privileges granted.

HOUSING TENDERS TO BE OPENED TONIGHT

Tenders for the erection of 54 houses will be opened at the meeting of the housing commission tonight. Chairman E. R. Dennis said today that he believed a considerable number of tenders had been received.

If one of them is suitable it will be accepted tonight and the contractor will be permitted to commence work at once. Forty-two of the houses will be built on the Hamilton road, where the commission has purchased a site known as Pine Lawn. The remaining twelve will be built in the vicinity of the McCormick Manufacturing Company's plant for a number of employees.

It is expected that by getting a large number of dwellings under way at one time a considerable amount will be saved on building materials. Last year great difficulty was experienced in getting contractors to erect single houses. As the number contemplated by the commission will supply a good season's work it is expected that this condition will be avoided this year.

COURT ABOLISHES RACE TRACK.

Annapolis, Md., March 18.—The court of appeals rendered a decision yesterday putting the Bowie race track out of business unless the Legislature passes the pending bill to create a racing commission for Prince George's County, and the meet scheduled for the first week in April cannot be held. This is the second decision of the court against the Bowie track.

MANY CURIOUS LETTERS

Ad Inserted To Advertise London Brings All Sorts of Answers.

Considerable money will be spent by the local chamber of commerce in advertising the city of London in various newspapers throughout the United States, according to Gordon Philip, secretary of the organization. The city has already been advertised in a New York paper and results have been noticed in the many inquiries received daily from all parts of the continent.

The staff of the chamber of commerce has been forced to become a veritable encyclopaedia concerning the conditions prevailing in this city and in the surrounding districts, as it is called upon to give advice and solve problems on matters ranging from matrimonial problems to the building of huge factories and hotels. By no means does it confine its attention, as is popularly believed, to the angling for factories with which to build up industrial London.

Today a letter was received from a clergyman who wished to buy a farm in the vicinity of the city, where he might raise fruit and keep bees. He told of his experience in farming, and described his family fully, but he omitted telling his name or giving his address.

The same mail brought a letter from a man in Minersville, Pa., inquiring if the secretary knew of any widow possessing a farm, who might want a man to work it for her. The man was in possession of a fair-sized family of tender ages.

A letter was also received from Salisbury, Maryland, from a firm which wished to know all about the city. Two days ago the secretary was called upon to secure a supply of knives and forks for a banquet which was to be held in Petrolea.

Letters are received from all parts of Europe as well as America. Firms in England are continually seeking the names of firms through whom they might do business. A letter was received from a firm in Prague, the capital of the new republic of Czecho-Slovakia, a week ago.

UNITED STATES IS ADDING TO FLEET AT RAPID RATE

Constructing More Naval Vessels Than Any Other Power.

Washington, March 18.—The United States, American naval experts say, is building more warship tonnage than any other nation.

Twelve super-dreadnoughts and six great battle cruisers, aggregating 665,400 tons, are under construction in private and naval yards. They will carry a total of 152 sixteen-inch rifles and 24 fourteen-inch rifles, and all will have the new electric-drive engines.

With the completion of this fleet, probably in 1923, the United States will have a battle force of 19 super-dreadnoughts and six battle cruisers in the first line and eight dreadnoughts and a number of smaller battleships in the second line.

The cruisers will have a speed of about 33 knots—37 land miles, and each will carry eight sixteen-inch guns. They will be 874 feet long over all, 90 feet wide, will displace 33,500 tons and have 180,000 horse-power.

PARKS BOARD MAY CONTROL PLAYGROUNDS

Control of playgrounds for which the council has appropriated $11,000 this year is a matter which will be discussed soon. It is possible that this new venture may be placed under the direction of the parks department or retained under the supervision of the city council. All suggestions on the matter will be considered, and the most feasible policy determined on.

One suggestion is that all the money be used to purchase equipment to be placed in the school yards and that no new property be purchased. It is doubtful, however, whether this can be done. Several school yards have been used as summer playgrounds in the past and residents in the vicinity have always objected. Last year the board of education was threatened with four injunctions to stop the use of school yards as playgrounds.

BOLIVIA APOLOGIZES FOR ATTACK MADE ON PERUVIAN LEGATION

Reparation Asked For Damage Done At La Paz.

Lima, Peru, March 18.—The aide-de-camp of President Guerra of Bolivia called at the Peruvian legation at La Paz yesterday and expressed the Bolivian Government's regrets for the attack on the legation last Sunday night, according to official advices received here today. Following the receipt of this information Foreign Minister Perras forwarded a note to La Paz asking for material reparation for the loss incurred and the arrest of officials involved in the demonstration.

Detailed reports of the incident indicate that many Peruvian commercial houses were looted during the disorder at La Paz, and confirmation has been received of the report that the office of the newspaper La Razon was destroyed.

A small crowd attacked the Bolivian mission here this morning, but was driven off by the troops on guard before any damage was done. The prefect of Lima immediately called at the legation and expressed regrets for the incident.

TORONTO'S DEATH RATE WAS HIGH IN FEB.

Toronto, March 18.—A February death rate of 30.1 per thousand of the population in Toronto, in comparison with 11.6 in February, 1919, was announced by Dr. C. J. O. Hastings today. These figures include 466 deaths from influenza, and 190 from pneumonia, and therefore, according to the M. O. H., do not represent a fair comparison with other years. The toll of life from influenza this year was only half that of the epidemic last year. The report showed that whereas last year the ages at which the epidemic rate was the greatest, ranged from 20 to 39, this year the greatest risk was at ages over 60.

GOOD HEALTH IS MAGNETIC

All Admire Strong, Robust, Healthy, Vigorous Men and Women.

If You Are Weak, Run-Down and Ailing, Let Vinol Enrich Your Blood and Create Strength and Vitality for You.

For the weak, rundown, anaemic, overworked, ailing men and women there is little joy in life. It is easy to drift into this condition, overwork, a neglected cold, or a severe sickness may have left in its wake, poor, thin, devitalized blood, a sluggish circulation, no vitality and you are simply dragging around from day to day, getting up each morning just as tired as you went to bed.

Now, why not change all this by taking advantage of your druggist's guarantee that VINOL will enrich your blood, quicken your circulation and carry strength and vigor to every part of your body, or return your money if it fails. Mrs. W. J. Nixon of Vankleek Hill, Ont., says: "I was sick for months. I had no appetite and could not seem to get my strength back. I told my doctor I was going to try VINOL and he said it was fine. I found it gave me a good appetite and I rapidly gained in strength."

For all rundown, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children there is nothing like VINOL.

WOMEN! MOTHERS! DAUGHTERS!

You who are easily ars pale, haggard and worn; nervous or irritable; who are subject to fits of melancholy or the "blues" get your blood examined for iron deficiency. Auxated Iron taken three times a day after meals will increase your strength and endurance in two weeks' time in many cases. —Ferdinand King, M. D.

Auxated Iron mentioned above by Dr. King can be obtained from any good druggist on an absolute guarantee of success or money refunded. Doctors usually prescribe two five-grain tablets to be taken three times per day after meals.

BEWARE OF TENDER GUMS

Unhealthy soil kills the best of wheat. Unhealthy gums kill the best of teeth. To keep the teeth sound keep the gums well. Watch for tender and bleeding gums. This is a symptom of Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

Pyorrhea menaces the body as well as the teeth. Not only do the gums recede and cause the teeth to decay, loosen and fall out, but the infecting Pyorrhea germs lower the body's vitality and cause many serious ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection. And use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

DOHERTY HOLDS UNIONIST TARIFF UNJUST, WICKED

Ontario Minister of Agriculture Condemns Law As Iniquitous.

CLARKE TAKES STAND

West Northumberland Member Favors Present Importation of Liquor.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, March 17.—Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture, in continuing the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne, today dealt with many of the farming problems and in much the same vein as Premier Drury defended the farmers' movement. He took the opportunity given by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson's speech to say something about the tariff. While admitting he was not a free trader, he condemned the present tariff as "unscientific, unjust and iniquitous."

Sam Clarke of West Northumberland, who followed, also got in a slap at the tariff, although it is foreign to provincial affairs. Mr. Clarke had much amusement at the expense of the Farmers and the Conservatives. He rather surprised the House in his attitude on temperance, practically upholding the system that now exists, including the allowing of importation of liquor. Labor will be heard from tomorrow, when M. M. MacBride of Brantford speaks.

Control of Packers.

The U. F. O., said Mr. Doherty, had during the last thirteen months done more to take the country from the control of packers than past governments had done in 30 years. The U. F. O. through its own branch in the Union Stockyards was now doing a business of $1,000,000 a month.

Referring to East Kent, and the Liberal leader's visit there, the minister of agriculture said that the only pair of cold feet was that brought back by the Liberal leader, after his entry had developed "bog spavin and was scratched." The only reason that put the U. F. O. into politics was that they couldn't rely on either of the old parties to get what they required. The U. F. O. had not taken advantage of the unrest of war to create a new party. The farmers being property owners realized the sacredness of property, but they also realized the sacredness of humanity, and in that there was sufficient bond for the union with the Labor party.

Prepared to Pay.

"The farmers are prepared to pay their share of the burden of national responsibility, but their share only," said Mr. Doherty. There could be no policy to bring permanent prosperity to the country unless it had its genesis in agriculture. He denied that the farmers were disregarding industrial developments, and regarded those who tried to bring dissention between the urban and rural parts as criminals as great as robbers.

"I am not afraid to announce myself on the tariff," continued the minister. "I am not a free trader. I don't think that the majority of the members on this side of the House want to see the tariff completely torn out in a month or a year and many years. But I do consider the present tariff as most unscientific, most unjust and the most iniquitous that any country has ever had. No country has a tariff that so disregards the scientific and economic conditions that should underlie all tariffs."

Cause is Economic.

The fundamental cause of depopulation, he said, was an economic one. The country had been erroneously led to believe in the past that industrial vastness would spell prosperity. He referred to the matter of farm surveys in Ontario, and gave the Hearst administration credit for starting it. It had been proved that the average labor income to the farmer and his whole family had been under 40 cents an hour. He wanted the towns and cities to know that and then there would be less cry of farmers profiteering. He hoped he would have the support of the House when the estimates were brought down, showing a greater outlay for the furtherance of this work.

The salvation to the farmer, he said, was coming in the co-operative marketing of farm products. It would result in better financial return to the farmer, improved products and a decrease to the consumer. That was the second bond joining the U. F. O. and Labor. The present marketing, he regarded as wasteful and extravagant and a disgrace to a highly civilized country.

Protection of Milk.

The minister of agriculture announced the introduction at the present session of a bill for the protection of the milk and cream shippers of the province, who, he declared, had been the losers of hundreds of thousands of dollars a year. And the Government would ask the House when the estimates are brought down for a grant toward investigating the matter of rural credits.

"I am in favor," said Hon. Mr. Doherty, "of carrying on an energetic campaign of the bringing in of immigrants, providing they are prepared to abide by our laws, but the best agricultural settlers this province can ever obtain is the second and third son of the farmer."

Efforts of the Government would be directed towards placing the farmers on an equal footing economically with those in all other walks of life.

He referred to it as a peculiar coincidence that Hon. Dr. Cole's resignation should have been handed in immediately after the forward movement had been assured of financial success. "It would appear to me, probably," he declared, "that the doctor felt that he would like to keep going where the sledding is good."

Duty of Department.

"In my opinion it is the duty of my department and the whole House to see to it that conditions are made in this province which will make it possible for the farmers to make returns on their capital invested and for their labor which will compare favorably with the returns of those in other walks of life."

Sam Clarke (West Northumberland), referred to the minister of agriculture's declaration that the working people were to get food at less cost and the farmer get more for it as "a little bit oily."

He admitted, however, that there were too many toll gates between the producers and the consumers.

He was surprised at Mr. Doherty's declaration on the tariff. He thought farmers were agreed on that question. He pointed out that farmers had never had any one behind them, except their own labor, while the wealthy manufacturers had "providence and a providential government."

Mr. Clarke's caricature of Hon. Newton Wesley Rowell as a man with a beautiful demeanor, lofty ideals, and great persuasive powers gone absolutely wrong, brought the House down with roars of laughter. "God knows where he is," Mr. Clarke exclaimed, "but look at him today. He is gone, gone for the bright lights of Ottawa. He stands today a man with no future before him."

He charged Hon. Mr. Ferguson, when he referred to the United States as merely attempting to boost the old Tory party, which struggling, turning, twisting and squirming, knew that the time was at hand when the people were going to demand the abolition of tariff privileges.

With Reservations.

He would uphold temperance "to the limit, with reservations." He reminded the attorney-general that the world was not made in a day, the Parliament Buildings were not constructed in a day, and that he, with numerous others in the province of Ontario, was no believer in instantaneous religion. The abolition of the bar was a God-send, and believed that 90 per cent of the people favored that step. Ten years hence 90 per cent of the people might be in favor of the stringent liquor laws enforced prior to January 1. Repressive legislation, for which huge sections of the people were unprepared, would make "scrappers, fighters and traitors."

Some measure of freedom, he said, was the finest blessing in the world. Don't listen to the extremes; don't go into the highways and byways and get some fanatic to give you an opinion. Use the common sense of the people at large. Treat them fairly. I submit that the law we had prior to January 1 last was extreme, so far as the progress of this province and other provinces are concerned.

He contended that Eastern Ontario had not had its fair share of hydro.

REPUBLICAN "POLICY" RESERVATION VOTED DOWN BY SENATORS

"Grave Concern" Attitude Not Approved.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 17.—The Republican irreconcilables, combining with the Democrats, overturned on the Senate floor today the plan of Republican leaders to attach to the peace treaty a general declaration of American policy toward future European wars.

The declaratory reservation, which would pledge the United States to regard with "grave concern" any threat to Europe's peace or freedom, was voted down, 25 to 39, after the irreconcilables had tried in vain to amend it. Intended as an offset to the reservations denying the obligations of article ten, the proposal had been expected by the Republican leaders to attract many Democratic votes, but on the roll call only two senators on the Democrat side supported it.

Discussion of the reservation was regarded as clearing up the last doubtful issue of the treaty fight, and the leaders immediately made plans to bring a vote on ratification by Friday. By unanimous consent, it was agreed to limit speeches on all other pending reservations to fifteen minutes, and to continue tomorrow's session into the evening, if necessary, to put the ratification reservation into final form. About a dozen reservations remain to be voted on, but it is generally conceded that none of them will be adopted.

As the ratification controversy neared a conclusion, William Jennings Bryan began a series of conferences with Democratic senators throwing the weight of his influence against the advice of President Wilson that the administration senate forces vote against ratification with the Republican reservations. Mr. Bryan is understood to have told his friends in the Senate to take the best ratification they could get, but there was no evidence tonight that he had materially weakened the Democratic forces standing out against the Republican program.

UNITED STATES GOVT. REQUESTING BOLIVIA NOT TO BREAK PEACE

Has Sent Two Notes—Preparing Third.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The United States Government has sent two notes to Bolivia, and is preparing to send a third requesting that there be no breach of peace in South America.

Peru, through Ambassador Peset, has asked the American Government to use its friendly offices to prevent a breach of the peace in South America growing out of the attack by Bolivians on the Peruvian legation at Lapaz.

Ambassador Peset called at the state department today for another conference with Under-Secretary Polk. He was understood to have informed him of the latest advices from his government. He told of the reported mobilization of Bolivian forces under Gen. Montes, a candidate for the presidency of Bolivia, and charged that the agitation in Bolivia against Peru was the result of Chilean activity.

At the state department it was said that the representations made to Bolivia had been "urgent," and that a second note had been dispatched, and a third prepared because no reply to the first had come from Bolivia.

DE VALERA REVIEWS MONSTER NEW YORK ST. PATRICK PARADE

Calls On All Irishmen To Support Nation's Cause.

NEW YORK, March 17.—At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon a St. Patrick's Day parade, which was declared to be a "recorder-breaker," started from Fifth avenue. It was estimated that twenty-five thousand citizens participated and the avenue was lined by many thousands of spectators.

The parade this year took the form of a big demonstration in support of the "Irish Republic," with its "President," De Valera, one of the principal actors. He reviewed the parade, in company with Mayor Hylan, Archbishop Hayes and Governor Smith. This morning he issued a St. Patrick's Day greeting, in which he called upon Irishmen of the United States to support the Irish nationalist cause.

Representatives of several Canadian-Irish battalions were to have participated in today's parade, but the organizers last night announced that this feature had been called off.

SENATE ADJOURNS.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 17.—For the first time in its history, the New York State Senate today formally recognized St. Patrick's Day. The calendar of bills, instead of appearing in its customary dress of black type, was printed in bright green ink.

Senator Bernard Downing, Democrat, of New York, introduced a resolution which was adopted, that the Senate adjourn "out of respect for the day in which we rejoice here, and the promise of a better day across the seas."

LLOYD GEORGE PLAN TO FORM NEW PARTY GETS SEVERE CHECK

LONDON, March 17.—Premier Lloyd George's plan of fusing two wings of the coalition into a new party met an unexpected check Tuesday, according to the London Times, when he privately addressed Liberal members of the ministry and urged that it was impossible at present to establish a purely Liberal government, and that if the Liberals were to share in molding events at this critical time they could only do so in association with others.

Such a large proportion of his colleagues, says the Times, objected to the premier's views that he was inclined to promise that he would go slow when discussing the situation at a meeting of all the Coalitionists and Liberal members of Parliament fixed for Thursday.

SIMS RECOMMENDED UNITY OF COMMAND IN JULY, 1917 BUT DEPARTMENT REFUSED

Admiral Tells United States Senate Committee That Attempt To Drect Men and Ships From America Permitted Misunderstandings.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Unity of command of the allied and American naval forces overseas, similar to that which afterwards obtained on the western front was recommended by him to the navy department as early as July, 1917, but was not approved, Rear Admiral Sims today told the Senate committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war.

The admiral said that efforts to direct a large force of American ships and men by cable and letter from a point 3,000 miles away, gave too many opportunities for misunderstandings of messages and for their interception by the enemy.

"The enemy secret service proved itself to be extraordinarily efficient," he said.

In his letter recommending that naval authority be concentrated at London, Admiral Sims said it was unquestionable that efficiency would be greatly improved if any one of the Allies was selected to direct all operations, "the others merely keeping the one selected fully informed of their resources available."

"I realize my position in London renders me open to suspicion that I may be unduly influenced by the British viewpoint of the war," the admiral's letter stated. "It should not be necessary to state, however, that I have done everything within my ability to maintain a broad viewpoint."

BOYS CONFESS TO KILLING COMRADE

PUEBLA, Colo., March 17.—Five school boys arrested in connection with the death of the 11-year-old son of Mrs. H. A. Kuykendall confessed today, according to the police, that they kicked the boy to death because they were jealous of his high standing in the school the boys attended.

TWENTY-NINE PIGS AND TWO CALVES DROWNED

Huron Farmer's Loss by Flood Estimated At Over $600.

RIPLEY, March 17.—During the recent thaw the stables of Mr. William Robertson, concession 4, Huron, became flooded overnight, causing the drowning of 29 young pigs, averaging 100 pounds each in weight, and two calves. The loss is estimated at about $600.

The funeral of the late Christina McLeod, beloved wife of Angus Martin, sen., who died on Friday, was held on Monday to Kincardine Cemetery. Owing to the condition of the roads, the remains were conveyed to the Grand Trunk mid-day train and were accompanied by a large number of friends.

PROVINCIAL MINISTERS TO SPEAK AT STRATFORD

Burglars Paid Fruitless Visit to Stratford Bed Factory.

STRATFORD, March 17.—Indications point to a large attendance here on Saturday when Hon. Manning and Hon. Peter Smith will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce agricultural section. Both ministers will give addresses following the 1 o'clock luncheon.

The Victorian nurses will soon be in their new uptown headquarters, it was reported at the monthly meeting last night. During February 268 visits were made.

Burglars visited the premises of the Stratford Bed Company last evening, entering through a rear window. Nothing of value was secured, though a thorough search of the premises was made.

BANKERS OPPOSED TO TAX ON WAR WEALTH

LONDON, March 17.—(By Canadian Press).—Two eminent bankers giving evidence before the war wealth commission declared strongly against a tax on war wealth. They insisted it could penalize severely against spenders and declared that nobody could believe that a capital levy once raised would not be repeated.

A PIMPLY FACE OR POOR COMPLEXION QUICKLY RESTORED

Thousands of young men and women would be handsome and attractive were it not for unsightly pimples, blackheads and rough, uneven skin. Custom seems to recommend lotions and salves, but unfortunately their effect is but temporary. These disfiguring blemishes do not originate in the skin—their birth in every case goes further back, to the blood, which must be cleansed of humors before the pimples depart for good.

A physician who has made a careful study of such cases says that the quickest cure comes from a blood-building medicine like Ferrozone. The minute Ferrozone strikes the blood its good work begins. Poisons and foul matter are expelled. Every trace of humor is driven out, and the whole life current is supplied with nutriment and health giving qualities. You can always tell a Ferrozone complexion when you see it—the cheeks are clear and rosy, no signs of sallowness—the eyes are bright and expressive because rich, red blood is circulating through the whole system, carrying health, energy and strength with it. Not only will all skin eruptions disappear, but an increase in vital strength, an all-round improvement will be apparent. No rebuilding tonic could be more efficient. Get Ferrozone today—good for young and old, for well folks and sick ones, too. 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

and that is the most Leader Rowell can aspire to now.

No Home For Him.

There is no home for him in the Liberal party—the home having moved in the direction of the Farmers' party which leaves even such a militant crusader as Mr. Rowell a long way behind. Mr. Rowell is sad and dispirited, and does not show a cheerful countenance to the world. He lacks Mr. Calder's adjustable philosophy. His zeal for public life is not surfeited with six years in the limelight. He would fain have more of it. A judgeship in the supreme court is worse than burial for such a flaming patriot, and yet what else is there when the Liberal party waves "Good-bye," and the Conservative party says, "What's your hurry? Here's your hat."

Beyond doubt Mr. Rowell is downhearted. So is Arthur Meighen—though not quite so downhearted as Comrade Rowell. For Mr. Meighen there is still shelter in the Conservative party, though not as leader. That proud eminence goes to an eastern man of greater vision and more popular gifts than the member for Portage la Prairie. Mr. Meighen had nourished the project of continuing the Unionist party, not so much for the party's sake as for his own. He had his eye on the job of first fiddler and had the party showed stamina he might have carried his plan through and landed the job. Even yet he may be leader of the Unionist party, but what's the use when the word has already gone out to kill it. At the end of two years or sooner Mr. Meighen would be dragging a corpse around. He is a young man with a future and he can't afford to be balled-up with a corpus delicti that way.

Project Well Conceived.

Mr. Meighen's project was well conceived. He was going to disinfect the Unionist party, pack it in mothballs, and call it the Moderate party, but all this went glimmering when the big fellows put up their man to say that the party they intended to revive was the Liberal-Conservative party, and that the best the Unionist party could expect was a two-year's reprieve. Thus and so were Mr. Meighen's great hopes crucified. He still has a career in the Conservative party, but it is as able lieutenant. The captain will be somebody else.

The captain has already declared himself. That declaration was the second significant thing in the debate on the address. It was done toward the end of the debate, and was regarded by all the wise men in the House as Sir Thomas White's straight tip as to what party to bet on. The Liberal-Conservative party, with its girth let out to take in the tariff Liberals—that's the horse for your money, gentlemen. The Liberal-Conservative party with Sir Thomas White up. Make your bets, gentlemen.

Gentle Enough, But Firm.

Not that Sir Thomas said it just that way. It is not in him to be brutal. He was gentle enough, but firm withal, and though Mr. Meighen's face dropped with a dull, sickening thud, as he listened to the words which stopped all new parties or sprightly disguises for old parties so long as the Liberal-Conservative party was able to do business at the old stand, Sir Thomas went through with task. He was cruel to be kind. I think Mr. Meighen flung away ambition right there—at any rate the ambition to break his head against the stone wall the interests have raised. Mr. Meighen must come when Sir Thomas rubs the lamp. As for Mr. Rowell he did not even try to hide his dismay. Other Unionists applauded wildly their impending doom, but Mr. Rowell never lifted a finger by way of praise. Mr. Rowell is in hard luck. One day he gets a facer from Sir Thomas White, and next day the Hon. Charles Murphy strips him to his Nessus undershirt of Uplift, which he finds was financed by Toronto philanthropists. It would perhaps be better for Mr. Rowell if he said less about the sacrifices he made to enter public life, and stood by the good Old Testament doctrine that he who serves the altar lives by the altar. If he did we should probably hear less of this Murphy-Rowell feud, which, sooth to say, grows irksome.

WANTS DRY EUROPE

CHICAGO, March 17.—Mrs. Anna Gordon, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, has left to start a movement in 22 European countries to bring about prohibition. She will go to Plymouth, England, and meet the Countess of Carlisle, president of the World Women's Christian Temperance Union.

England, France, Spain, Italy and the new war republics will be bombarded by Mrs. Gordon.

Irish Republican Flag on Hall of Town of Quebec

PORTAGE DU FORT, Que., March 17.—The flag of the Irish Republic flapped in the breeze over the town hall here this morning, the Sein Fein colors, green, white and orange, causing a sensation, to put it mildly.

Naturally people were demanding reasons, and to all inquiries Mr. Leonary Coyne, secretary-treasurer of the town, invariably replied: "We wish to recognize the right of the Irish people to govern themselves and to show respect to Papineau and McKenzie, who, through their rebellion 83 years ago, obtained self-government for Canada.

"Long live De Valera and the republic."

AGED MAN FOUND DEAD; BURNED PAST RECOGNITION

TILLSONBURG, March 17.—Neighbors becoming anxious at the non-appearance of George Cawte, aged 75 years, who was always an early riser, on investigating shortly after 10 a.m. today, unearthed a horrible and heart-trying tragedy in his home.

The body was lying near the stove face upward, with a terrible cut above the eye and the face and body burned almost beyond recognition. Coroner Dr. Bennett was called, but deemed an inquest unnecessary and the body was removed to J. M. Taylor's undertaking parlors.

From the state of the house it was apparent that the deceased was intoxicated and had evidently, while looking after the fire, fallen face downward on the stove and later to the floor. The nearby walls and ceiling were badly scorched so intense was the heat. Deceased had been almost a life-long resident of the town, the greater part of the time being employed in the municipal road and sewer work.

A sad feature of the tragedy lies in the fact that his wife was only buried last Friday, following a lengthy illness. Deceased had no living relatives in the town, and pending word from outside relatives, the funeral arrangements have been completed.

CURRY, LIBERAL, IS CHAIRMAN OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE

TORONTO, March 17.—J. Walter Curry, K.C., Liberal Opposition member for Southeast Toronto, was selected as chairman of the public accounts committee of the Legislature today. HEART SO BAD

WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE.

Miss Eva P. Yateman, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: "I feel that I must write and tell you of the great benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better, although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls, wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines and took several kinds, but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day, noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them, and before I had taken more than two boxes I could see they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes, and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me, and I advise anyone troubled with their heart to try them, as I am confident they will find relief."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

This Frees Your Skin From Hair or Fuzz

(Toilet Tips.)

The method here suggested for the removal of superfluous hair is quick and certain and unless the growth is extremely stubborn, a single application does the work. Make a stiff paste with some powdered delatone and water; apply this to the hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rub it off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. To avoid disappointment, be sure your druggist sells you delatone.—Advt.

G. W. V. A. PLACES APPROVAL UPON PLAN DRAFTED

Ontario Convention Unanimous For Scheme Submitted in October.

ELIMINATES QUESTIONS

Clause On Needs of Applicant Deleted As To Personal Questions.

PETERBORO, March 17.—A stormy debate on the gratuity question occupied the attention of some two hundred delegates at this afternoon's session of the provincial convention of the G. W. V. A. in session here. The debate opened with a resume of the main points in the issue by Comrade Wilson of Toronto, and three hours later closed with the meeting unanimously adopting the G. W. V. A. soldiers' re-establishment scheme as submitted to the parliamentary committee in October last.

The contentious point in the scheme presented to the convention was the clause in the report dealing with the needs of the applicant. This requires applicants to furnish proof of need and answer many personal questions as to the proposed use of the gratuity money. The majority of the delegates were of the opinion that such questions should not be submitted to the applicant, on the grounds that the applicant was rightfully entitled to the money, and it was nobody's business what he did with it.

This questionnaire was elliminated from the report, and a resolution which was brought in by a special committee that this particular scheme be adopted was carried unanimously.

Was Sole Objector.

Comrade K. Warburton of ingston was the sole objector to the gratuity scheme. He claimed that the soldiers had received all they were entitled to, and said that in other countries, such as Belgium, where gratuities had not been granted to the soldiers, a quick recovery had been made.

A telegram from J. H. Burnham, M.P., read at the meeting, stated that the acting premier, Sir George Foster, had promised to appoint another committee to consider the gratuity claims of the veterans. This brought forth a roar of laughter from the convention.

Comrade R. Warburton of Kingston resenting the Walpole Island branch, made a stirring appeal for the Indians whom he represented. He declared that over three thousand Indians throughout Canada had responded to the call to arms, and on their return had received no adequate reward. He objected to the Government treating the Indian as the Indian was treated 40 or 50 years ago. A committee was named to look into the matter and if necessary prepare a resolution to be forwarded to the Government, asking for more consideration and extension of the white man's privileges to the Indians, especially those who had fought in the great war. It was stated that the Walpole Indian reserve was represented in the Canadian expeditionary forces by 78 per cent of the male population.

Keep Out of Politics.

"Keep out of politics as a soldier body or you will be accused of class legislation, as the farmers were accused in the House yesterday," was Comrade J. MacNamara's admition to the convention. The Riverdale member of the Ontario Legislature is a delegate to the convention. He was invited to address the meeting by President C. E. Jeaking.

Mr. MacNamara deplored the lack of unity that was apparent in the soldiers' ranks, and urged the delegates to stand together and uphold the principles for which they had fought in France. He said he had been accused of running on the "Two-thousand-dollar-ticket." This, he denied, and claimed he was not so much opposed to the two-thousand-dollar scheme as he was to the principle behind the Calgary resolution.

PAYMASTER'S STORY OF HOLD-UP PROVES MERE CAMOUFLAGE

Quizzed by Police, Man Confesses and Implicates Two Other Men.

DETROIT, Mich., March 17.—Quizzed unrelentingly ever since last Monday afternoon, when he rushed into police headquarters and breathlessly related how he had been held up by three negroes and $5,000 belonging to his employers, taken from him, Earl Delbridge, paymaster for the Morton Baking Company, broke down today and admitted that he had "robbed" himself. He implicated Dr. Scott Hodge, a well-known physician, with offices on Third avenue, and John P. Winder, a printer, and these men were also locked up.

Dr. Hodge at first indignantly denied any knowledge of the affair, but later he admitted that he was "taking care" of the money for Delbridge, and was to be paid 10 per cent of it for his trouble. Dr. Hodge, twenty years ago, was sentenced to Ionia state prisoner for life for the death of a girl patient upon whom he had performed an illegal operation.

The trio laid their plans for the "robbery" last Saturday night, and expected to get $23,000 instead of the $5,350 that was in the money bag.

GIVE STOMACH WHAT IT NEEDS

The Alkaline Effect of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Usually Corrects the Stomach Faults That Provoke Attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

To sit back after a good meal and know there is not going to be sour risings, gas, drowsiness and discomfort is the logical result of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets immediately after eating. Most people believe they can trace each attack of indigestion to the something they ate and can still "taste." And it surprises them, invariably, to note how quickly relief comes after using one or two of these tablets. Whether it is highly seasoned food, rich pastry, the heavy hearty foods or some one particular offender the relief comes just the same. Those who are susceptible to attacks of indigestion or dyspepsia should try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as they supply the stomach with an alkaline effect just as it does naturally when it is working in a perfectly healthy condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are so widely known and used that you can get them in any drug store in the United States and Canada at 50 cents a box.

VETERANS ARE OUT TO GET A SQUARE DEAL STATES ANDREWS

Tells Union Government Returned Men Are Going To See That Maimed Comrades and Dependents of Those Left in France Are Properly Cared For, and Nothing Else Will Do.

OTTAWA, March 17.—Re-establishment of returned men monopolized the day's proceedings in the House of Commons. Last year a special committee of the House investigated re-establishment at some length, but there were several fields which the committee admittedly was unable to explore and, today, Major Andrews of Winnipeg (himself a returned man), moved the appointment of another committee.

It being St. Patrick's Day, a large pot of shamrock graced the table by the Speaker's throne.

Early in the debate Sir George Foster, repeating the promise made by Mr. Newton Wesley Rowell a few days ago, declared that it was the intention of the House to appoint a special committee. It would become empowered to "take up and carry on at the point where the old committee left off."

But the Government was not in a position to give its decision "off the cat." On this there was some murmuring among the Opposition.

Take Best Means.

"The Government," Sir George added, "does not intend to smother the question. It proposes to take the best means in its power, after a little consideration, to see that these investigations are carried on."

Major Andrews, in presenting his motion, urged that re-establishment should be settled at home in the same spirit as was shown by the men when they went overseas. Lieut.-Col. Peck, V. C., supporting, thought questions should come before the committee in this order: pensions, re-establishment, gratuities. Support, too, was given to the motion by Captain McGibbon and Captain Manion, the former citing instances of present hardship in civilian life suffered by returned men.

H. B. Morphy (North Perth) adjourned the debate. At 6 o'clock the adjourned until tomorrow, on motion of Mr. Newton Wesley Rowell, who announced that tomorrow would be private members' day.

"We do not claim that all the men who went overseas were saints or heaven-born financiers, but it is a fact that an overwhelming majority of them were of the best type of Canadian citizens," said Major Andrews. The war had been a great educator to those who had come back, and now they were fast lining up behind a movement which had for its object the securing of what was commonly called a square deal.

He gave a vivid word-picture of an average day in the trenches, and how the men, after coming through a bombardment, had sworn among themselves to take a hand in the government of the country if they ever lived to get back home. The men had thought for themselves. They realized that the Government had done its level best while they were away. The military service act, for instance, did not take only the poor man's sons; it took rich and poor alike. "Bpt they are now getting together to see that the dependents of those they left in France, and the maimed who have come back are properly cared for. It is a crusade for a square deal, and nothing else will do. They have, moreover, got all right-thinking Canadians behind them," he said.

Spirit of Sacrifice.

Major Andrews said it was a spirit of self-sacrifice which enabled the men at the front and the people at home to win the war. "If this is not true, Mr. Speaker," he said, "it means anarchy, red anarchy. It means getting back to nature." He said the problem of re-establishment should be tackled at home in the same spirit as the men who had gone overseas had tackled their problems.

Lieut.-Col. C. W. Peck, V. C., (Skenna), said he was satisfied in supporting Major Andrews' resolution that the Government would give the returned men a fair hearing. He had said in this House and to the people in his own constituency that he would not support the extreme demand being put forward. He believed, however, that a committee should be appointed and should deal with all the questions of the returned men in the following order—Pensions, re-establishment, gratuities.

A. B. McCoig, West Kent, said he would support the resolution. There were many questions irritating the returned men, which should be solved. A committee could perhaps find out what could be done to re-establish these men more quickly than was being done at the present time. Men were held up and were unable to get on their farms which they were securing from the Government, and many did not know whether they would be able to start work in the spring or not. At the same time they were faced with a twenty-five per cent increase in the cost of agricultural implements. Capt. Peter McGibbon (Muskoka), said he would support the resolution but not the extreme demand which was being made either inside or outside of this House. The gratuity which had been given was one which had made the returned men feel grateful, but the greatest service which the Government could have given to her soldiers was to give them the support at the front they had received.

There was, however, no doubt, that the widows and orphans had not been sufficiently recompensed for their sacrifices. Canada's pension scale was the highest in the world, but there were cases of pensioners without sufficient money to live on. Administrative action would have removed many evils.

Dr. McGibbon declared that he could cite cases by the dozen of men, though disabled, were drawing only about $15 a month as a pension. He was not blaming the pensions board for this, but he thought that the board was too closely bound down by regulations.

In connection with the re-establishment of soldiers, Mr. McGibbon said that some of these men found it very hard to get back to into civilian life. He instanced the case of a bank clerk who returned from five years' service overseas to have his old job offered to him at the old salary. The men who had formerly been his associates were in advance of him financially by the amount of annual increases. He stood just where he had been when the war broke out. This was unfair.

Something Wrong With Law.

T. W. Caldwell, Carleton, N. B., thought there was something wrong with the pensions law. He also criticized the soldiers settlement act, which, he said, would probably do very little to increase production, at any rate in Eastern Canada. There was little government land being taken up in the east. He thought the object of the soldiers' settlement act was a good one, inasmuch as it was to encourage men to engage in what he considered "the noblest calling on earth."

Capt. Manion said there were several matters considered by last year's speciil committee which should again receive favorable consideration. He instanced pensions, insurance and extension of loans to needy cases.

Sir George Foster remarked that the pensions board had had thousands of cases to investigate, and, being only human, it was inevitable that the board should have to meet some criticism. He praised the work done by the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment and the land settlement board. As to a further inquiry this year, the Government intended to appoint a committee. Either it would be the old committee with additions or a new committee. But it would be a committee empowered to take up and carry on where the committee of last year left off, to examine into what further could be done and what further extensions could be made. The Government was not in favor of coming to a decision off the bat. He thought he had the right to ask that the Government should be given time enough to see what would be the best means of getting the most thorough and complete examination into the different fields yet to be explored. The Government did not propose to burk or to smother the question. They proposed to take the best means in their power, after a little consideration, to see that the investigations were carried on.

Were Not Adequate.

Capt. C. G. Power, Quebec South, said that when the last committee's report was brought before the Commons, he had moved that it be referred back, as the recommendations were not adequate. If they were inadequate then, they certainly were not sufficient at this time. Relief had been provided, but many necessitous cases suffered, because these men would not apply for public charity. He would support the resolution with the hope that the appointment of a committee would not be used as camouflage before the G. W. V. A. convention at Montreal next week by those who had made promises and had not fulfilled them.

The returned men were sick of committees and of having their just claims shelved by being referred to these bodies. He asked if it was intended to appoint a different committee on pensions. He was sure the Government did not intend giving any further gratuity, so this committee would be useless on that ground.

Probe Land Settlement.

Captain Power said land settlement as work should be investigated, but not by a committee of city men who, like himself, "did not know a plow from a harrow." He advised the Governmentt to look to the cross-benchers for advice on land settlement. The Government would also be well advised to pick out the different phases of re-establishment and have a committee on each composed of men who knew what they were dealing with.

The committee on state insurance should have men on it who knew something about "sub-standard insurance."

Questioned by Mr. H. B. Morphy, another member of last year's committee, as to whether he would condemn that committee entirely, Captain Power replied that the committee had served efficiently and the member for Perth had been one of its most efficient members. Mr. D. D. McKenzie charged the Government with deliberately delaying aid to the men and using the appointment of committees to throw dust in their eyes.

Mr. E. W. Nesbitt resented Mr. McKenzie's criticism of the work of the special committee of Parliament which dealt with soldiers' civil re-establishment during the last session.

Did Not Attend.

"Did the honorable gentleman attend any sitting of this committee?" asked Mr. Nesbitt. Mr. McKenzie said he had not.

Mr. Nesbitt then said it was unfair to criticize without attending the meetings. "It is not only unfair," he said, "but seems to me that it is mean." Speaker Rhodes requested him to withdraw the word "mean," and Mr. Nesbitt consented to leave it at "unfair." He strongly commended Hon. J. A. Calder, who acted as chairman of the committee, saying that he had been fair and just, and had made absolutely no attempt to influence any members of the committee. He resented any insinuation that the members of that committee had been selected because the Government desired a certain verdict.

Referring to the land settlement board, Mr. Nesbitt took the ground that there was nothing wrong with this organization. If there was any wrong, it was on the side of the soldier. He held practically the same view with regard to the board of soldiers' civil re-establishment.

Mr. Nicholson of Algoma thought Parliament should make further investigation of conditions surrounding re-establishment before it adopted a criticism which condemned the work along these lines.

The debate was continued by Buchanan (Lethbridge), McQuarry (New Westments) and Devlin (Wright) and adjourned by Morphy (North Perth).

UNION GOVT. SHIES AT EIGHT-HOUR DAY

OTTAWA, March 17.—(By Canadian Press.—Replying to Hon. Charles Murphy in the House of Commons this afternoon, Sir George Foster said that Hector McInnes, K. C., of Halifax, had been appointed one of the counsel in connection with the arbitration proceedings with the Grand Trunk Railway. Mr. McInnes did not fill an official position overseas during the general elections in 1917.

HOW TO HEAL SORE, BLEEDING GUMS, TIGHTEN LOOSE TEETH

BEFORE THEY FALL OUT—DENTIST'S HOME PRESCRIPTION WORKS LIKE MAGIC.

If your teeth are loosening or if your gums are receding and are sore, tender or inflamed, if they bleed when you brush your teeth, are spongy, flabby or colorless or if they discharge pus or develop gum boils, it is a warning of dangerous Pyorrhoea or Riggs disease of the gums and prompt and careful treatment is necessary if you want to save your teeth from falling out.

A prominent New York State dentist has discovered a new prescription—Epithol—for promptly correcting these troubles and it surely seems to work like magic. A few days' use and teeth tighten, the gums grow sound and healthy and the bleeding, poisonous pus discharge soon stops. An ounce jar of Epithol will last for weeks and costs little at Standard Drug Co. or Taylor Drug Co. or any good drug store, and all these leading druggists will refund the full purchase price if, in any case, it fails to bring relief. No one really wants false teeth. So if you have any of the above symptoms you should by all means give this treatment a trial. —Advt.

CANADA'S NATIONHOOD.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King has taken the opportunity in the House of Commons to discuss the claim so frequently advanced by Hon. N. W. Rowell in the last year that Canada's full nationhood has at last been achieved for her by the efforts of Sir Robert Borden. The question of Canada's present status has been brought to the front particularly in connection with the signing of the peace treaty, and on the part of the Unionist ministers the impression has been spread abroad that some entirely new departure has been taken, that by a stroke of the pen, as it were, Canada has gone from the colonial status to a place of independence. Unfortunately for that argument, there remains the fact that the constitution of Canada, the very framework of her body politic, is not today any more in her own control than it was in 1867, and that any amendment to the British North America act must be made, not by the Canadian Parliament, but by the Parliament of Great Britain which framed it more than half a century ago.

Aside from that rather disconcerting fact, it is well in a matter of this kind to see if there have been steps in the past leading in the direction of full nationhood. There are authorities in abundance who might be quoted on the question. Let us take one that should carry weight with the Unionist ministers, John W. Dafoe, editor of the Manitoba Free Press, who attended the Peace Conference in an official capacity on behalf of the present administration. Here is what he says:

> "I do not solely credit one political party in Canada with furthering the policy of National Canadianism. Three of the landmarks along the road were set up by Sir John Macdonald: the declaration of fiscal independence in 1859 when the Canadian Government affirmed 'the right of the Canadian Legislature to adjust the taxation of the people in the way they deemed best, even if it should unfortunately happen to meet with the disapproval of the imperial ministry'; the participation by Canada in the negotiations leading up to the treaty of Washington in 1871; and the refusal of the suggestion made in 1885 by the British Government that Canada should send troops to take part in a war which did not affect the interests of this country."

The same authority recalls the fact that when the confederation of the provinces was under consideration, Sir John Macdonald attempted to have the union named "the Kingdom of Canada," knowing that sovereignty was implicit in a kingdom.

The work that was begun by Sir John Macdonald was continued in the era dominated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, as Mr. King points out. Under both men it was a gradual evolution, step by step, towards the realization of the fullest nationality, to be achieved at some time in the future. In the mind of neither prime minister was there the thought of independence. Both affirmed their belief that Canada must continue to move forward to a status where she would be one of a group of sister nations, while completely in control of her own affairs. Undoubtedly both Macdonald and Laurier would follow the same course were they now alive. The ministry of today has, then, but moved with a currrent that had its origin even before Confederation. They have blazed no new trail, but have only been the means by which a movement quite beyond their control has proceeded.

There are steps yet to be taken to complete the work begun long ago. We must some day have the power to change our own constitution. We should also have no need to go to courts beyond our own Supreme Court. Appeals to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council are not compatible with that full nationhood of which Mr. Rowell speaks. But these changes will come when the convenient time arrives, and they will come without shock or without boasting. The credit will belong to no particular individual, to no particular government, for it will be but further progress of ideas of nationality rooted deep in the people of Canada. The only danger will be if men, impatient at steady, sane progress, should attempt to drive the country into some artificial status, which, while seeming to elevate, should really degrade. There are those who would change the British Empire to the British nation, would make Canada a province instead of a completely self-governing nation. There lies the danger, if there is any. There has been so much loose talking in the last year or two that Canadians may well be excused if they find themselves quite unable to grasp the subtleties of men like Mr. Rowell. It is well that the subject has been aired in the Commons; it will bear much discussion throughout the whole country.

KAPP FLIVVERS.

If the latest news from Germany is correct, Dr. Kapp's counter revolution has petered out ingloriously. Ebert and Noske are reported once more in full control, the monarchists submitting after a three days' revolt. So far as can be judged at present the sudden termination of what appeared to be an attempt to restore the old regime means that the masses of the German people are determined to rule, that what is truly a democratic spirit has at last got hold of the nation. The crisis has shown that the socialists of all shades stood together and were in tremendous strength. Evidently Kapp and his friends misinterpreted the discontent in many parts of the country, wrongly considering it as a protest against a genuinely democratic form of government rather than against the Ebert administration. The collapse of the counter revolution is distinctly a hopeful sign, as it seems to indicate that the German people by a vast majority have no desire for a return to anything that approaches militarism. If the Government is as successful in smothering the Bolshevist movement as it has Kapp's veature, it should mean a more sane and stable Germany, and one that the Allies will find easier to get along with. But you can never tell about Germany!

THE GREAT WATERWAYS PROJECT.

Nothing indicates so clearly the wisdom of unlocking the Great Lakes by a deep waterway to the seaboard, as the growth of the Great Lakes commerce within the last seventy years. At the middle of the last century—in the year 1850—the amount of merchandise carried was 30,000 tons. Contrasted with the figures of four years ago the expansion has been stupendous. In the year 1916 there passed through the Detroit River close to forty thousand vessels, carrying more than a million tons of freight, the value of which was more than $1,000,000,000. The later war years reduced the tonnage carried to some extent, many vessels used for Great Lakes shipping being commandeered or purchased for war purposes, but the outlook for the coming season holds promise of being a record-breaker, and the prospect for industry and commerce in Canada and the United States for many years to come assures Great Lakes shipping business that would more than justify the heavy expenditure of deepening the St. Lawrence. It is certain that Canada for many years to come will be sending enormous quantities of merchandise and foodstuffs to the old world. The western wheat fields and the mineral and agricultural products of this province should have a more direct outlet than is the case at present, if we are to get the most out of the new and vast markets across the Atlantic. The present method of transhipping is a handicap that would be removed by a great waterways from the lakes to the Atlantic.

INDUSTRY AND HUMANITY.

ARTICLE NO. 18.

TIME'S CHANGES.

Mackenzie King says: "Nor is the problem of labor and capital any longer one which concerns only, or even mainly, these two essential parties to production. As never before it is a community problem, and a community expanding to the utmost limits of human society. The expressions, 'The labor problem,' 'The problem of capital and labor,' are wholly inadequate to suggest the comprehensive nature of considerations of which account must be taken, if the well-being of persons engaged in industry is to be promoted with any promise of enduring results. They are equally insufficient to convey any idea of the bearing of the problems of industry upon the whole of social life."

In pointing out the changes of time, he says: "The family, the city and the nation has each, in the order named, been outstanding as a main type of social structure; each at one time or another has been the unit of industrial organization."

The war has changed the face of every industry in the world, and affected adversely every question of industry and humanity. The world we live in today is entirely different from the world of ten years ago. The mind of no nation has quite settled down. There is less to settle in Canada than any country in the world. The means of settling all difficulties are also greater and while there are real difficulties to be overcome, they they can be faced with hope and the certainty that every obstacle will be overcome.

Not long ago we were promised a world of brotherhood. Selfishness was to vanish. Those who had fought side by side for an ideal world were sure to have it, but so far the old blots have only been enlarged. The turmoil over all the world is general. Many questions are up in the air, and we must wait till they come down.

THE NEW MONROE DOCTRINE.

[Victoria (B.C.) Times.]

Three South American nations—Argentina, Chili and Paraguay—which were neutral in the war, have announced their adherence to the League of Nations. Brazil, which was a belligerent on the side of the Allies, is already a member of the league. Hence, the most important of the South American states have adhered to the new organization of nations. Article X. of the covenant of the league says: "The members of the league undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all the members of the league. In case of any such aggression, or in the case of any threat or danger of such aggression, the council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled." This would appear to dispose of the Monroe Doctrine as a guarantee of the integrity of the South American states against external aggression. Indeed, to the nations of the southern continent it must be a much more satisfactory provision, since it is one which could have no application to them without their formal acceptance of it and the other obligations of the covenant, whereas they were not consulted when the Monroe Doctrine was promulgated and the protection it guaranteed was virtually foisted upon them whether they wanted it or not. The Monroe Doctrine, which actually originated in London, was not devised out of any particular concern for Central and South America, who were taken under its protection, but was prompted by the special interests of Great Britain and the United States. The national pride of large and important countries like Brazil, Argentina and Chili, which before long may be in the "great power class," is certain to prefer the safeguards involved in their membership in the League of Nations, in which they are on terms of equality with other members, to being under the special guardianship of the great republic in the north.

THE RIGHTS OF McGILL.

[London Daily News.]

The McGill University at Montreal may perhaps be a little surprised to find how many friends it has in this country zealous to vindicate its rights. There is a move which we are convinced will be universally deprecated, except possibly in Downing Street, to deprive it of its principal-elect. That honorable position was early last year offered to and accepted by Sir Auckland Geddes. The new principal should have taken up his duties last September, but owing to his well-known indispensability in this country he was granted a special respite for another twelve months. Latterly grave rumors have begun to reach McGill. Indeed, its new principal himself has gone so far as to hint that he saw no reason for resigning his seat at Basingstoke in the near future. Now a much more sinister report has gained currency. It is said that Sir Auckland Geddes has been offered the post of British ambassador at Washington. McGill is entitled to be indignant, as well as alarmed. She would be even if it were a question of making a good ambassador out of a bad principal. As it is, since Sir Auckland Geddes doubtless possesses all the gifts that would qualify him for Montreal, and certainly possesses not one that would qualify him for Washington, the case of McGill is unassailable. It may rest assured that the mass of the citizens of this country are with it. They would reconcile themselves to releasing Sir Auckland even if it cost as much to take leave of him as it cost the Northeastern to take leave of his brother, Sir Eric.

From Here and There

THE CRY FROM THE EAST.

The South Wind comes like a wavelet
Over the sunny sea,
The North Wind comes from frozen caves—
A roaring monster he.

The West Wind comes all laden
With fragrent flowers for me;
But the East Wind sighs so mournfully:
Oh, tell me, what can it be?

As I sit by the fire at nightfall
It swirls and sighs and moans.
To me it brings a message—
A message all tears and groans.

"Oh, what is that?" said Robbie,
Who cuddled close at my feet.
It sounds like a baby crying—
Crying out on the street."

And I said: "'Tis the cry of starving babies
Wafted across the sea;
Away, away from the East it comes,
Borne on the billows free.

"Till it moaned around our window-pane,
And whispered to you and me,
Calling for help for the little ones
Who are starving across the sea."

Oh, the mothers and fathers of Canada
Will heed that cry, you'll see;
And the starving babes of Eastern lands
All warmed and fed will be.

THE "LEAGUE" IN CAMPAIGN.

[Boston Post.]

We have been spending great thought on the subject of Americanization; we have been hoping to create one great family of Americans, diverse in way and thought, but cherishing a set of like national ideals. The injection of the League of Nations is sure to spoil all that. The orators will begin early their appeals to the Italian, the German, the French, the Irish, the English vote. Prejudices and natural feelings alike will be played on. Bitterness will be aroused and it will be a long time before we settle down against as brothers in America. The result of taking the League of Nations into the campaign will not be wholly advantageous.

WHY NOT PEACE?

[London Daily Chronicle.]

Now, none of the allied governments wants to be at war with Russia. Neither Britain, nor France, nor Italy, nor America, will or can send armies of invasion into Russian territory. Therefore the real question may be narrowed still further: Do we want peace, or do we want to continue the "sort of war" which consists in blockading Russia's ports and frontiers, incurring the hostility of the Russian Government and the risk of military reprisals against the Poles, Czechs, Letts, Rumanians, or against India and Mesopotamia, and depriving ourselves and Central Europe of the Russian grain supply? Surely there can be but one answer: peace would be altogether the better, were it obtainable on proper terms.

DICTATED BY FEAR.

[London Times.]

We have the greatest respect for the Indian Mussulmans and for the religious sentiments of Moslems everywhere. They are entitled to every legitimate consideration, but they are not entitled to dictate the policy of the British Empire. That Empire cannot be governed in accordance with a balance of fears. It can only be governed by frank popular support for principles of foreign policy which the peoples of the Empire can understand, and for which, in case of need, they would be prepared to fight. The inherent weakness and immorality of the decision in regard to Constantinople lie in the fact that it has been governed by no principle. It is open to strong suspicion of having been influenced by the insistence of financiers, foreign and British, that their loans to and investments in Turkey shall be given the greatest possible protection; and it is an outcome of the fatal tendency of the supreme council to seek for compromises because it has sacrificed, by its own mistakes, the authority requisite to enforce a sound decision. On moral and historical grounds the need for putting an end to Turkish rule in Europe is indisputable.

A CHOICE.

[G. E. Biddle.]

Shall I, resigned the lower life to hold,
Ignobly seek the plaudits of the throng,
And never to myself, but them, belong,
With base acceptance striving to enfold
My thoughts and feelings in the common mold;
And speak their placid speech and sing their song,
And praise the things they praise, if right or wrong,
Disdaining all those chivalries of old?
Nay, rather, by a strengthening purpose bent,
Stirred to the quest that beckons me beyond,
Be mine to break the world-impending bars;
Lonely, discredited, yet well content,
Though fewer hands will clasp or hearts respond,
To dare the isolation of the stars!

WOMEN MINISTERS.

[London Daily News].

The refusal of the Lower House of Convocation to allow women to pray and speak in churches ignores a good deal of history. Even in the days of the Pharaohs some of the most sacred religious offices were held by women. In the early days of the Christian church women shared both in the ministry and the administration, playing an important part in the progress made by the Primitive Church. For the first 300 years of the Christian era women were even ordained as priests, and for 800 years they served at the altar and administered communion. It is strange that, today, when the claims of women, and where women do almost all the church and parish work, should deny them admission to the pulpit.

COULD BRITAIN BORROW ONE, PERHAPS.

[Brooklyn Eagle].

Mr. Asquith, indeed, is not a born leader of men. He is a keen and accurate thinker, a fine speaker, not a bad strategist on the conventional lines of party strategy. But the conditions just now have thrown conventional strategy into the scrap heap; issues of the present are not corn law or free trade issues, but go down deep into the roots of things, and Asquith is even farther than Lloyd George from a full grasping of the relations of past with present, and present with future. Whether any English leader is any nearer is another question.

HEARST HIT HARD.

[Chicago Herald, June, 1917.]

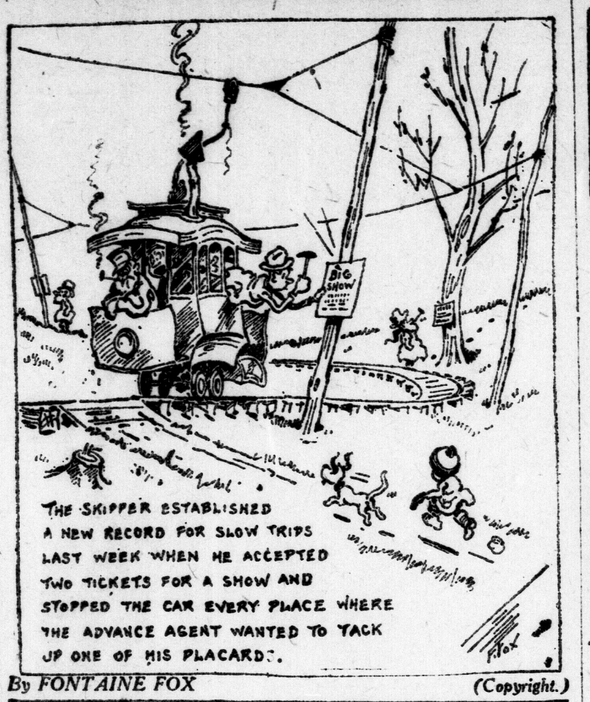

Hearst has been hit, and he is hitting back, and no wildness of theory or extravagance of statement stops his furious pen as he slashes into the hide of John Bull. Yes, Hearst is sore; he has had hate of the head, hate of the hand, hate of the heartt, and all the other varieties of Teutonic hate for Britain for years. Why? Because the Britons refuse to take him seriously, except once in a while, when they kick his dirty sheets out of Canada, or stop his cable privileges in the old land. At most other times they laugh at him. He has spent millions trying to be a force in journalism; the Britons see him only as a farce. They refuse to accept his lurid, grotesque interpretations of American living and thinking as the real thing, because they know better. Hearst told his readers Britons look with contempt upon Americans. This is the usual Hearst lie. They do not, but they would if they believed that the Hearst press represented genuine American sentiment and civilization.

THE GREAT WHITE ELEPHANT.

[Manchester Guardian.]

It is obviously desirable that the kaiser should, if possible, be removed to a safer distance. This course the Allies clearly intimate they would be willing to accept if the Dutch Government should feel able to act upon it, and they would regard it as a friendly recognition of of a real difficulty. But there is, we are glad to see, no threat nor suggestion of pressure. That is as it should be. We do not want the kaiser, though we may talk as though we did, and we do most emphatically want to avoid the remotest appearance of playing the bully against a small and kindly and kindred nation which once knew how to contest with us the mastery of the seas. If the Dutch Government still feels that it can do nothing with the kaiser except let him alone, we had better follow its example. His position, if safe, is inglorious. It is for the Germans themselves to see to it that he does not threaten their peace.

THE TOONERVILLE TROLLEY THAT MEETS ALL THE TRAINS

Love of the Wild

By Archie P. McKishnie

"I heard you speaking," she said. "I heard what you said about Watson. Uncle, dear, let's forget all about Watson. Let's just be happy now, all of us."

But child——" commenced the Colonel.

"How much am I worth to you?" she smiled, throwing her arms about his neck.

"All the world, Gloss, he answered.

"If he had not sent me away with Noah you would never have found me" she whispered.

"It's true,, it's true," cried Hallibut. "Strange I didn't see it that way before."

"Then you won't punish him—nor anybody, will you?" she pleaded, "—not even Amos Broadcrook."

"But Broadcrook burned my boat," cried the Colonel. "It's best to put him in jail, dear, where he can do no harm"

"Amos couldn't live in jail," said the girl, 'for he's of the woods. He'll die if you cage him up.'

Hallibut gathered her close to him.

"Ah, child, but you're like your little mother," he laughed. "She was always pleading for the trapped and downed things, and, egad! she always got her way with me, as you will be bound to get yours."

"Then you'll not punish him," she cried gladly. "Oh, that is so good of you!"

She darted away and Hallibut looked at Big McTavish and shook his head.

"I don't know but that was a mistake on my part," he said. "Those fellows deserve punishment if ever men did. They as much as bribed Broadcrok to burn my boat, and I guess he was after me, too. He tried to steal our dear little Gloss, and intended trying to make you good people believe I did it, and by pretending to be in sympathy with you get in possession of your properties."

The door was thrown open and in sprang Boy. He was panting as from a race.

"Hello," exclaimed his father, "where've you been?"

"I stayed with Bill Paisley last night," explained Boy. "You know we had Amos Broadcrook locked up at his place. We fell asleep for a few minutes and Amos got away. Somebody outside helped him—his brother Hank likely. Anyway, he's got clean away."

"And where do you suppose he has gone?" asked Hallibut.

"Across the border likely," returned Boy. "We're goin' after him, sir, and we've got to start right now, 'cause the creek's risin' and gettin' dangerous. In half an hour we can't get across."

Hallibut looked at Big McTavish, then he turned to Boy.

"Do you think he'll go across the line?" he asked.

"Yes."

"Then let the poor beggar go. I've promised Gloss that I won't prosecute him."

Boy whistled.

"Well—he commenced, then turned abruptly away.

He was glad, glad, glad. He did not know why, nor care why. He could not bear to think of anything of the bush world being shut up without a chance of escape. He passed outside and Hallibut followed him.

"Boy," said the big man, "I guess you think me an old fool, don't you?"

He went over and laid his hand affectionately on the young man's arm.

"I guess I'm getting old and rather childish, Boy. I've just received one of God's great gifts, and there is nothing much in my old heart this spring morning but joy—joy I've had to do without for many years. Well, Boy, you know how the old trees of the bush lean when they've lived their full years. You know how they topple and sag. You have seen them do it, haven't you? But sometimes a strong young sapling props them up and they go on living and throwing out their leaves—but they're not standing alone."

His arms slipped about Boy's shoulders.

"Boy," he said huskily, "I need a prop. I want to hang on because I've just found real happiness. But I'm sagging, lad; I'm just an old tree."

Boy turned and grasped the Colonel's hand. He felt a tear splash down and his throat tightened and burned.

"I guess I understand," he said softly. "I've growed deep into—all this, and there's always a saplin' you can lean on if you care to."

He sprang away down the path toward the log barn and the Colonel watched him, a deep glow in his heart.

From the kitchen came the savory smell of frying bacon and Gloss's happy voice singing an old-fashioned song.

When they all sat down to breakfast Big McTavish bowed his head and asked God's blessing on his bounty in these words.

"We thank thee for feedin' us, O God. We thank the for thy many mercies, and we thank thee greatly for the sunshine after the darkness."

And Granny from her end of the table added a fervent "Amen."

After breakfast the Colonel drew Big McTavish aside and held a whispered controversy with him. Then he turned to the "little ma," and, holding her hand in both of his, he said:

"There is no reward that earth can give you great enough for what you and yours have done for me and mine, but the great reward awaits you all. I have received a great and wondrous blessing," stroking the brown curls of the tall girl beside him, "ah, so great a blessing! I am going now, but I will come back soon, very soon, again."

He turned, his eyes blinking, and glanced about the room at the others.

"God bless you all," he said heartily, and strode outside, followed by Big McTavish and Boy.

Coming up the path was a tired, dripping horse, bestrode by a weary, dripping rider.

"Dick," murmured the Colonel. "Of course, I might have known that he would come searching for me."

"Why, lad," he called, "you're a bigger minny than I thought you. You're half drowned."

Boy ran forward and helped support the man as he dismounted.

"What's wrong, Dick, lad?" asked Hallibut, catching sight of the new arrival's face.

Dick fumbled in one of his pockets.

"Ere's a letter, sir. I found it tacked to a tree houtside the lawn, sir."

Hallibut took the letter. It was a dirty, crumpled thing, and scrawled across it were the words "Kenul Halbut."

"Listen," said the Colonel. "It's from Amos Broadcrook. This is what he says:

"' I intnted to git even with Smyth an Watson but they had skiped fer the stats but i have burnt the stor an hope you will be pissed i am goin away an haifit ever comin back dont you put your dorgs onter me I be goin to live strate 'amos broadcrook.'"

The men exchanged glances.

"Did he do it, Dick?" asked the Colonel.

"Yes sir, the place was in hashes as I passed."

"So endeth the——" began Hallibut, but he was abruptly checked by a wet bedraggled something that hurled itself against him with a low whine of joy.

"Old Zip," cried the Colonel, "you poor, crippled old devil. Zip. Where—how——"

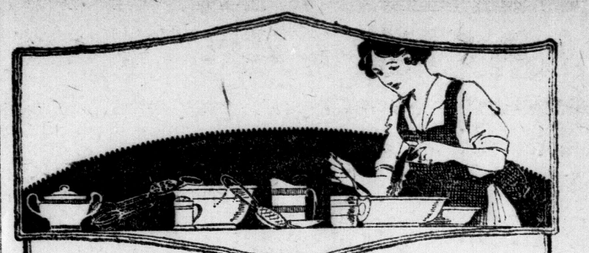

He staggered back, wiping the wet kiss from his cheek, and tears of laughter stood in his eyes.

"'E jist wouldn't stay 'ome, sir," stammered Dick. "'E chewed three good tie-reins clean through, sir, t' git you; 'e did, sir."

Then the Colonel said a most extraordinary thing.

"He'd crawl through hell for me, boys that old dog. And he's come today because we've always shared our joys and sorrows together. Come and meet little Gloss, Zip."

To be continued.

Party-Line Consideration

A two-party line is a single circuit, shared in common by two subscribers. It is not reserved for a single user, and should be used on the share-and-share-alike basis.

On a two-party line it is possible for both users to try to talk out on the same circuit at the same time. There is also the liability of both being wanted at the same time to receive incoming calls.

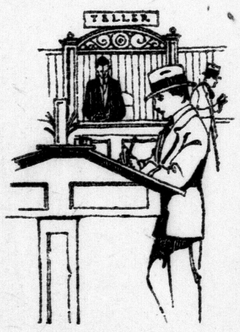

Therefore there are special considerations which we urge a party-line user to keep in mind:

1. Long conversations prevent the use of the line by the other subscriber; therefore, party-line talks should be as brief as possible.
2. Whenever another party-line subscriber requests the use of the line for an emergency, courtesy should prompt the first user temporarily to give up the use of the line.
3. Whenever a party-line subscriber takes the receiver from the hook and finds the line in use, the receiver should be replaced at once in a careful manner.
4. At the end of a conversation the receiver should be replaced upon the hook immediately; otherwise the other subscriber cannot signal the central office.
5. Be sure always to give the operator the letters W or J in calling a party line subscriber.

Co-operation is required to insure good service of any kind.

LONDON-MADE SOCKS GO TO SAILORS ON COAST OF SCOTLAND

Work of Navy League Important in Peace Times As During War.

The following appreciative letter from the Navy League of Canada, addressed to Mrs. Cl. T. Campbell, treasurer of the London I. O. D. E., points this out as a worthy object for the beneficence of members of the order and others:

Dear Mrs. Campbell,—Many thanks for the beautiful donation of 57 pairs of socks, a sweater, two scarfs, two pairs of mitts, and three caps, which were duly received on March 10. I am desired by the executive to extend to you and the Daughters of the Empire their heartfelt thanks for the help and co-operation you have given us in this work, and to say that these comforts will be deeply appreciated by our men. We sent this package direct to our sailors on the east coast of Scotland. On account of the high cost of wool, and the heavy taxation in England, the sailors in this section were in dire distress; and in answer to a call we had, your package was sent on. We appreciate the way it was packed, and hope you will continue to help us with these comforts. This work, you will remember, was carried on in pre-war days, and will continue now that peace is with us. Yours sincerely,

MESSIE M. REYNOLDS,
Secretary Women's Department.

The youthful name of May is peculiarly difficult to discuss. There are two explanations of its existence. Some etymologists claim that it is the final contraction and endearment of Margaret and translate it to mean "a pearl."

But though May is undoubtedly one of the innumerable forms of Margaret, coming through the Scotch stages of evolution from Maisie and Maidie, it is so much simpler and more logical to believe that May is really one of the calendar names bestowed in honor of the fifth month of the year. It is the name of springtime and blossoms and nesting birds, and as such, has a place of distinction all its own. It has antecedents under this theory, and cannot be contracted more than it already is.

The fad for naming babies by the name of the month in which they were born probably brought May into vogue. The sudden spring to fame of April as a feminine name is another instance and August is so honored by Augusta.

It is a curious fact that no other language has an equivalent for May, whether she is a derivative of Margaret or a separate entity. Only the Scotch, which evolved her by the former theory, possess her, even England had to accept her as a new name in the language.

Because of her possible dual origin, May is the lucky possessor of two talismanic gems. Either the pearl of purity or the emerald of prophecy will prove a lucky stone for her. The former gives her charm and friends, the latter intelligence, and prophetic vision. Sunday is her lucky day and five her lucky number.

The High Cost of Sickness. 12—Mr. Miller Has an Abscess.

Soon after the strike was settled Mr. Miller developed a boil. Mrs. Miller had some Valley Salve in which she placed great faith, and she applied a generous dose of it "on a rag." Miller became more and more uncomfortable. Then in happened one of the neighbors who prescribed a hot poultice. The neighbor gave explicit instructions that the flaxseed meal was to go next the skin. Miller endured it two more days, then began to feel pretty sick. He managed, poor fellow, to navigate somehow to the doctor's office.

"Pretty ugly abscess," said the doctor, examining the lesion.

"Why, we thought it was a boil," said Miller.

"Well, a boil is an abscess. An abscess is an accumulation of pus—matter, anywhere, in any quantity. A boil is a small abscess. You have here a plain boil, in a situation where the subcutaneous tissue is loose, and that permits the infection to spread in all directions, making a rather large subcutaneous abscess in a few days. I see you have been applying filthy poultices—feel kind of sorry for the poor, hungry pus-germs, eh? Thought you'd feed 'em and keep 'em nice and warm and moist so they could multiply and thrive and be happy? You're a kind-hearted man, Miller."

The abscess was opened by a mere puncture. The doctor soaked manifolded pieces of clean cheesecloth (cheesecloth which had been boiled five minutes) in a hot solution, and placed them thickly upon the abscess, and applied a bandage to retain the dressing. He gave Miller a pint of the same solution and instructed him to have a few spoonfuls poured on the dressing every hour or often enough to keep it constantly moist, and to apply fresh, clean cheesecloth folds as often as the discharge soiled the dressing.

The patient returned three days later feeling no better. On examination the doctor found a piece of dry, non-absorbent flannel on the dry, sore, swollen abscess. Miller explained that he had run out of cheesecloth, and, it being Sunday, he couldn't get any. So he had omitted the wet dressings since Saturday morning!

Miller hasn't much money, but he could afford to consult a doctor and then ignore the doctor's orders. Expensive amusement.

The solution the doctor applied, and the one he applies for all similar inflamed or infected wounds or regions is this:

Common salt, four heaping teaspoonfuls.

Citrate of soda, four heaping teaspoonfuls.

Boiled water, one pint.

This, if kept constantly applied in the form of a hot wet gauze dressing on a local skin infection which throbs or pains or swells and threatens to suppurate or develop "blood poison," favors drainage, relief of pain and healing. It does all a poultice can do, without doing any harm.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

A Weak Heart.

Is a weak heart hereditary? My baby died from some valve trouble when a few weeks old. Four or five months before the baby was born I had a fainting spell. Would that affect the baby's heart?—Mrs. L. R. F.

Ans.—Weak heart is not hereditary. The fainting had nothing to do with the baby's condition. Fainting is usually not due to any weakness of the heart.

Cotton in the Ear.

For years I have worked in a forge shop where the noise and racket is fearful. I have always worn absorbent cotton in my ears when at work, and I still have good hearing. Most of the men wear nothing of the kind and are very deaf. Yet they tell me it is harmful to wear anything in the ears. I'd appreciate your opinion about that.—W.

Ans.—The objection to wearing cotton in the ears is that cotton or other packing tends to obstruct normal drainage and ventilation when there is infection or inflammation present. The objection scarcely applies in your case, and I should think your habit is a wise one. Of course, you remove the cotton when you leave the shop.

Catarrh.

Kindly tell me whether there is any cure for lung catarrh. My brother has been sick for three months with it, in bed part of the time. He has some fever.—Mrs. C. B.

Ans.—There is no such disease. Either you are being deceived or your brother is. If a doctor perpetrates what purports to be a diagnosis of "catarrh" he is either at sea or deliberately deceiving the patient.

MOTHERS' CLUBS ARE LIVE FORCE IN LIFE OF THE COMMUNITY

Working Hand in Hand With Teachers To Benefit School Children.

A very large gathering was present at the St. George's M[illegible]ers' Club meeting held Tuesday night in the school. The speaker was Dr. J. W. Crane of the Western University Medical School, and his subject, "Infectious and Contagious Diseases," treated in a most practical way to give help to mothers of small children. He emphasized the danger of contracting disease through the mouth spray, eating with unwashed hands, and the putting of pencils to the mouth. The mothers were at perfectly liberty to ask questions, and thus gained much valuable advice from the lecture.

In addition to the address there were two very fine piano solos by Mrs. Moore and Miss Marie Forbes.

LORNE AVENUE CLUB.

The members of the Lorne Avenue Mothers' Club are working strenuously towards the war memorial which they propose erecting in the school yard. Already a number of afternoon teas have been held in the homes of the members for the purpose of raising funds to this end. Last week the tea was given at the home of Mrs. Osborne, the conveners in charge being Mrs. Osborne, Mrs. Burk and Mrs. Clift. The result was $8.50 for the fund. This week a tea was held at the home of Mrs. Mason, with Mrs. Sharp assisting her as hostess, and $12.50 more was taken taken in.

These teas have been a great success and will continue every week until a goodly sum has been raised. Already over $100 of the $300 required, has been raised in aid of the war memorial. Next month a bazaar and rubber shower will add to the funds.

This afternoon the teachers of the Lorne avenue school are to be the guests of the Mothers' Club, when afternoon tea will be served by the losing side in a recent membership campaign. This gathering will give opportunity for the teachers to meet the mothers and discuss matters of common interest.

VICTORIA CLUB.

The most important thing which happened at the Victoria Mothers' Club meeting on Tuesday night was, of course, the presentation of the long-anticipated Victrola to the school. The club raised $100 toward the purchase of this instrument, and the rest of the money was collected through the influence of the school children. Victrola records will from now on have a share in the program of the mothers' club meeting and children's Friday afternoon concerts.

The speaker for the occasion was Rev. Thomas Roy, and his subject, "Character Building." In addition there were readings by Miss Baker and Miss Poure, and a vocal solo by Mr. McFadden, the artists by no means forgetting that it was the St. Patrick's season.

BABY WELFARE WEEK WILL BE HELD AGAIN LAST WEEK IN MAY

Child Welfare Association Asking General Campaign Committee For $4,000.

A Baby Welfare Week will be held in the city again this year, probably from May 26 to 28, as decided by the local Child Welfare Association which met in the Western Fair rooms yesterday afternoon, Col. W. Gartshore being in the chair. This year the Social Service Council has asked to co-operate with the Child Welfare Association in putting on the exhibit and bringing lecturers. It is the policy of the Ontario Social Service Council this year to forward the interests of child welfare in the province, and to this end the central council is sending the Provincial Child Welfare Exhibit and accompanying lecturers throughout Ontario. Locally, they are asking to co-operate with the Child Welfare Association, which association gratefully accepted their offer at yesterday's meeting.

Baby Clinics?

The question came up as to whether baby clinics for prizes should be held during Baby Week this year. Miss Bertha Smith, child welfare nurse, pointing out that many mothers missed seeing the exhibit and hearing the lectures last year because of these clinics. The general opinion was, however, that clinics for prizes should not be wholly dropped, as this was an excellent method of stimulating interest in child welfare; that there might be some plan devised, however, whereby the clinics be held on the week previous to the exhibit.

"A baby week without the child would be like playing Hamlet without Hamlet," declared the colonel.

62 Deaths.

Miss Smith's report was most comprehensive, showing that 476 nursing visits had been made during January and February; 43 clinics held, and 165 quarts of milk distributed, as well as groceries given to three needy families. During these months there were 62 baby deaths recorded in the city, 15 from influenza and 29 stillborn or children who died very shortly after birth, the latter also largely due to influenza.

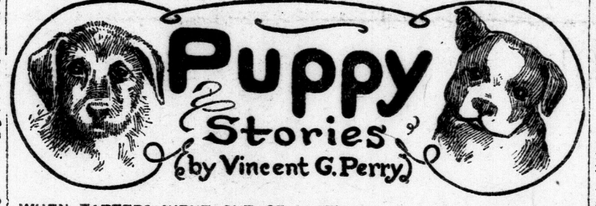

Excellent reports on the pre-natal clinics and on the work being done in the city toward the establishment of a day nursery were given by Dr. Ferguson and Mrs. Partridge, the latter reporting that the city was even going to the extent of building screened-in verandas at the King street building, on which the children might sleep in the summer-time.

$4,000 Budget.

The treasurer's report read by Mr. MacDonald showed receipts of $4,182.36, with a balance of $2,903. Col. Gartshore announced that he had put in a budget to the General Welfare committee, amounting to about $4,000, to carry on the work of the year.

Miss McKenzie's resignation as assistant welfare nurse, was accepted, and Mrs. Allison, who was for some time in charge of the children's ward at Victoria Hospital, appointed in her place.

The annual meeting of the association will be held on April 1.

WHEN TATTERS WENT OUT OF HIS CLASS.

Part I.

Now, Tatters is the last pup you would imagine to have high ambitions, for he was a ragged, saucy-faced little collie, with hardly a good point in his favor. His nose was not long enough, his head was too thick, his eyes were not the right color, his coat was a dirty brown instead of the orange-sable color it should have been, his tail was not long enough, and taking him all in all, he was a very poor type of collie, and would never have been allowed in a dog show looking as he did.

But somewhere away back in his family there had been a great-uncle or a great-great-uncle or some such distant relation, who had been a famous show dog, and would you believe it, Tatters inherited this uncle's high spirit and ambitions.

Tatters' master did not share his puppy's ambitions, for he had bought Tatters for a very small sum, and had been told when he bought him that he would never be a show dog, so he did not take care of the little pup and allowed him to wander about the streets like a tramp dog. Just the same, Tatters did not become a tramp dog. He kept himself aloof from the common street dogs, and what fun the street dogs made of him for being so particular about the company he kept.

Right around the corner from Tatter's home lived two very aristocratic Boston terriers. They were show dogs and had won a great number of prizes, so naturally they were very proud of themselves and were respected by the other dogs of the neighborhood. Tatters had often seen these two handsome dogs, and he had admired them greatly. How he wished they would allow him to play with them, but of course, the Boston dogs ignored him like the other street dogs. One day, however, a nice sunny day it was, too, one of the Bostons spied Tatters looking across the street at them admiringly, so he called him over.

"Would you like to play with us?" asked the dog.

"Yes, sir," replied Tatters politely, for he knew what respect was due to a show dog.

"Then we will let you, seeing our master isn't around to see us playing with a common dog," spoke up the smaller of the two Bostons. "My name is Roselawn Admiration Simplicity Maraduke, and his dog is Roselawn Sylvester King of Princes," he explained. "Of course, those are our kennel names, and are embroidered on our blankets. We are known around the house as Buster and Darkey, but we would much prefer that you call us Mr. Roselawn, the older, and Mr. Roselawn, the younger. I am the older Darkey there is the younger."

"Yes, sir," was the only answer Tatters could think of, for he was much impressed by so many fancy names. Who would ever have had the courage to call such grand dogs such common names as Buster and Darkey, he wondered.

Tatters thought that they would play some quiet game or sit down and discuss dog show gossip, for he could not think of these polished gentlemen dogs being rough, but he was in for a surprise.

"Let'er go," cried Darkey—excuse us, Mr. Roselaw the younger—in just such a tone as a street dog would use. And then what a surprising thing happened. The two Busters flung themselves at poor little Tatters, rolled him over and over, shook him and bit at his ears, chewed his tail and kicked dirt into his eyes. Almost blinded and exhausted, Tatters escaped from them.

"Now run home before someone sees us playing with a common street dog. Our fun is over and we won't play any more," said the older Roselawn.

Poor Tatters, aching and sore, he limped home. What mean wretches the show dogs were, he thought. What had he seen to admire in such rude fellows? How he longed for the day when he could show them he was as good a dog as they were. But what was the use of longing, for he was just a mutt collie, who would never be good for showing. He would be! He just would be! Tatters resolved right there. He was going to be as great a show dog as his great uncle had been, even if he had to turn himself inside out to do so. So, with this resolve firmly fixed in his mind, Tatters marched proudly on.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. ELIZABETH KENT, MacDONALD COLLEGE.

TO SAVE GAS AND OIL.

Either gas or kerosene oil, used as cooking fuel is a considerable item of expense, unless used carefully.

Much fuel is wasted by turning the flame of the burner in a gas or oil stove too high; if the flame comes up around the cooking vessel, it gives little more heat than does the clear flame below, but it uses much more gas. Very often a woman leaves the gas burning, while she goes to the pantry for something, or is preparing some ingredient, because she expects to use it again very soon. She can at least turn it well down, but it is better to turn it out even for a short time, because matches are cheaper than gas and oil.

A steam cooker is a most sensible and convenient economy. It fits one burner, and has three stories, the first a receptacle for water, the other two, receptacles for food to be cooked by the steam from the boiling water. A little whistle or bell is attached, to sound a warning when the water needs to be replenished. This saves the housekeeper from the common catastrophe of the double boiler burned dry, and is a real convenience. This cooker uses the same heat for two foods at once. Even an ordinary steamer can, with watchfulness, be used to cook carrots or steam apples, with the steam from the water which is boiling the potatoes.

The oven should really never be heated for only one dish. Cakes, cookies and pies should be baked on one day, for the cookies and pies will keep fresh for some days. One hot oven can roast the meat, brown the potatoes and bake a pudding and biscuit. A long, slow oven for beans should be utilized for custard or rice pudding, for which the slow oven is equally suitable.

To save gas and oil, use no more than you need, and make what you use do all the work it can.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

It is possible that of the four delegates which the local board of education proposes to send to Toronto to attend the Ontario Educational Association at Easter, two will be women members.

The annual St. Patrick's banquet of "The Merry Workers," Byron Methodist Sunday school, was held at the home of Misses Olive and Elsie Frank on Monday, March 15, when a most enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

A delightful St. Patrick's tea was given by the Ladies' Aid of the Memorial Methodist Church yesterday afternoon. Tea was served in a quaint Irish way, and a splendid sale of home cooking conducted. A very fine program of music completed the afternoon's enjoyment.

Mrs. John Cottam, who is to represent the local W. C. T. U. at the world's W. C. T. U. convention to be held in London, England, this spring, was pleasantly surprised on Tuesday night when the members of her Sunday school class gave her a "Bon-Voyage Shower." This class, which is from the Askin Street Methodist Church, and numbers twenty-nine members, met at the home of Mrs. George A. Young, Beaconsfield avenue, where a delightful evening was spent.

The mode of showering Mrs. Cottam with all imaginable traveling comforts was rather unique. She was blindfolded and led into a ring, encircled with her class members, who deluged her with untold nice things.

STEWART—FISHER.

A very quiet wedding took place at Kinloss Presbyterian manse Wednesday when Jennie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fisher, was united in marriage to Philip Stewart of Stratford, formerly of Lucknow. The ceremony was performed by Rev. K. A. Gollon, after which the bridal party repaired to the bride's home, where a wedding supper was served. The young couple left the next day for their new home in Stratford, followed by the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

From Nazimova.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is my first letter to your Mail-Box, but I have been an interested reader for some time, and would like to get the stocking-foot pattern. Inclosed find 10 cents for the fund. I would also like to correspond with any girl or boy 16 years old. Will leave my address with Miss Grey. What day did July 10, 1904, fall on?

Ans.—Now, surely there'll be correspondents a-plenty for such a distinguished visitor to the Mail-Box.

Sunday.

A Helpful Pansy.

Dear Miss Grey,—I cannot write nice, interesting letters like some, as you have perhaps noticed, but I try to help as often as I can. I am sending edgings for Irish Rosie and daisy chain for Dimpled Dolly.

I am very fond of crocheting and do quite a lot, and would be glad to send directions for lace or other things to anyone wanting them. I will also crochet yokes or lace for anyone willing to pay a reasonable price. Also slippers, tams or sweaters in wool.

You have said to be brief, so I will close now, wishing the Page every success. PANSY.

Ans.—I am sure Irish Rosie and Dimpled Dolly will be exceedingly grateful to you for your kindness in sending them directions, pretty Pansy.

Poor Butterifly.

Dear Miss Grey,—Well, how is everybody? It is quite a while since I have visited the Mail-Box, so thought I would drop in for a little chat. Here's hoping I miss the W. P. B.

I saw in the Mail-Box a little while ago where someone was asking for the words of "Bubbles." As I have them am sending them in. Hope I am not too late.

I wonder if you or any of the readers could supply me with the words of a song; the chorus runs like this:

"I wish I had someone to love me,
Someone to call me his dear;
Someone to say, love, come away,
But it has nay come off up till noo."

I just heard it sung once, and I know the tune, and would like very much to get the words of the verses.

Here are a few recipes for the "corner of good things."

Eggless Oatmeal Pancakes—Two cups cream, 2 cups milk, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 2 cups oatmeal, and flour enough to make a pancake batter. Beat well and bake on a hot griddle.

A Minute Dessert—Take soda crackers (as many as wanted), soak in cold water for one minute; then place in a moderately hot oven, where the heat will cause them to expand to twice their natural size. Spread with any kind of sauce, or with sugar and your favorite spice, and place another cracker on top, and heap this with sauce. Serve with either plain or whipped cream.

I wonder could someone give me some crochet lace patterns. I would like some simple patterns, if I could get them. I am sending a stamped self-addressed envelope for any crochet pattern or song that is received for me. Well, I guess, I had better close. Please find inclosed 10 cents for the children's hospital fund, and I would like to correspond with someone of my own age (15). BUTTERFLY.

Ans.—Song referred to readers. Will forward you song and crotchet patterns when they come. Your contribution received; thanks.

Morning Glory Slips In.

Dear Miss Grey,—Well, I will just slip into your Cosy Corner, as I find it very interesting. I like to read the short stories, "Love of the Wild" and "Helene's Married Life," also Cynthia's Grey's page, which has many helpful hints in it. I see where Musical Harry will accept any of the readers in his little circle, so will you please send me his address; also Jerry's. Next time I come will try and be of some help to you. MORNING GLORY.

Ans.—Addresses mailed you.

Is Pleased With Hints.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am more than pleased with the many useful hints in your valuable paper. I am sure they will be very acceptable to some of the young girls who are getting married, and have never been taught the cares of housekeeping. Foolish mothers, to bring up girls to marriageable age and not know how to cook for their hubbies. Inclosed find 10 cents for H.P.F. SILVERLOCKS FROM WALTON.

Ans.—Glad you enjoy our cosy chats, and find help. Thank you for your inclosure.

Best Wishes, Grandma!

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you send me your stocking-foot pattern? Also the mitten pattern.

Find inclosed 10 cents for children's fund.

I was 74 years old on Saturday the 6th of March, and I am the grandmother of sixteen grandchildren.
MRS. W. W. S.

Ans.—What a lively time you must have with all those little folks! The Pageites join in wishing you many happy returns of your 74th birthday. Thanks for the dime. Patterns mailed.

Poor Petey Dink!

Dear Miss Grey,—Well, here I am, rather at a loss to know which way to proceed, because you know I am a newcomer, and they always get cold feet.

I think I will start and explain matters, I'm 18 years old, and my hair is getting grey. Now, what do you think of that? My hair is black, and ever so often I see a grey hair coming into view. Of course, I want to extract the provoking little things.

Now, I want your verdict, Miss Grey. Do you think more will come in if they are pulled out, or do you think I should leave well enough alone?

Hoping to see my letter in print, and also that some of the readers will give me their opinion of the matter, I remain, yours truly, PETEY DINK.

Ans.—Listen, Petey Dink! I don't think, if I were you, I would pull them out. I know it's a tragedy to one so young, but it is not unusual. I don't know whether it is a fact that for every hair pulled out, several more take its place.

Calle Yarn.

Dear Miss Grey,—As I saw my last letter in print, thought I would write again. Well, as it is nearing spring, our house flowers are all in full bloom, which I enjoy, as I love flowers. I hope you are still well and haven't had the flu. I would like to correspond with a nice boy, 21 or 22 years of age, and would like to see this in print. I would like him to write first. I will leave my address with Miss Grey. I remain,
E. M. F.

Ans.—Yes, I do believe spring is coming. I saw a robin, redbreast this morning, and some laddies playing marbles, and, as they are two of the best signs, I am quite optimistic.

Wants Crochet Pattern.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am writing to you to give my address to all who write to me to the Mail-Box, and they can get it from you. Your Mail-Box is growing lately. Would any of the readers mind sending me the daisy crochet pattern? I will return it if you want it. I would like also to get the words of "Till We Meet Again," or "Memories." Wishing the Mail-Box all kinds of luck, I remain, K. PISTOL.

Ans.—I will send songs, also crochet pattern if I receive them. Thanks for your good wishes.

It Never Fails.

Dear Miss Grey,—Inclosed please find self-addressed envelope, also ten cents for the children's hospital, in return for which will you kindly send me the stocking-foot pattern?

Here is a recipe for cocoa cake that has never once failed me: One egg, 1 cup granulated sugar, ¾ cup butter, ½ cup sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups flour, 2 tablespoons cocoa dissolved in ¼ cup of boiling water, add 1 teaspoon vanilla last, and bake in moderate oven.

A YOUNG GRANDMOTHER.

Ans.—Pattern mailed you. Thanks for dime, and recipe. I feel certain some of us are going to have cocoa cake for next Sunday tea.

Be Careful! Here's Jesse James.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been a silent reader for a long time, and have watched with pleasure the arguments staged at different times. I agree with Suzanne about Canadian authors and music. "The Love of the Wild" can't be beaten. I would like to correspond with Sunny May. I am inclosing a stamped and addressed envelope for the address. Well I'll ring off. Hoping to come again. JESSE JAMES.

Ans.—My noted friend, we are glad to number you amongst our callers. Address mailed you. Slip away from the broad highway again and call on us.

Here's a Helper!

Dear Miss Grey,—I inclose envelope address for mitt pattern, if not too much trouble. Was pleased to see the hospital fund growing, and was surprised at the amount already collected. Inclosed is a little mite from myself and a friend, Mrs. J. B., to whom I gave the S. F. P. Hoping you have escaped the flu, as I have so far.

ONE WHOSE FEET ARE WARMER.

Ans.—I am very grateful indeed for your kind thought in cutting out a fresh supply of patterns for me. You see this particular pattern is so much in demand it keeps my scissors working overtime. Thank you also for your generous inclosure for the fund.

Don't Tell Anybody.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am to bother you again. I see there is a rumor about that you are a man, but as you said, "I don't see how a mere man could possibly be Cynthia Grey," there is a feminine ring to all you write. I don't think an ordinary man could be so interested in hints and recipes. Now for a question. I have been wearing my hair hanging in curls, but will be 13 in the spring, and want it done differently. I don't look well with it straight back and braided. It is a medium brown shade. Could you advise me how to wear it? I am very much interested in the discussion on books lately. I think I like reading better than most anything else. It seems everyone likes L. M. Montgomery's books. I do, too, especially the latest of the Anne books, "Rainbow Valley" is splendid. I think Zane Grey's books are good, too. I think it was Blue-Eyed Audrey wanted the words of "Mickey" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." I did not notice where she had been supplied with them, so am inclosing them for her. Am also sending a good macaroon recipe. Well, guess I had better close or my letter will be in the waste basket. You had better condense it some. I remain,
LITTLE SWEET BRIER.

Ans.—Honest to goodness, I am absolutely not a man—never was, but don't tell anybody.

Don't do your hair up yet, little girl. You'll be sorry if you do. Thirteen isn't so awfully old, you know. We have another "Sweet Brier" in the Mail-Box, so I have added to your pen-name—do you mind?

Sends a Mite.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been reading your most wonderful page and find it very helpful and interesting. I would like to get some yoke patterns if any of the Boxites could spare them. I would return them. I am very glad to see Another Remnant smile. Yankee Farmerette, you had better do the same. I think those girls or those hostile girls are terribly naughty. What do you say? I think Harry E. H. had better do some more writing. How about it, Harry? I will dare you boys to write, and also Nobody's Sweetheart. I think you boys did most wonderful to have such hard luck. Will leave my address with Miss Grey. Inclose a mite for the kiddies.
ANOTHER BUDDY.

Ans.—Will forward you patterns when received. Thanks for your mite. Say, Buddy, we have another who writes to the Mail-Box under the same name. Do you mind the addition I have given your pen-name to make a distinction?

Sudbury Wolves Ate Granites Up

6--2 Score Shows How Northern Intermediates Hopped On Senior O. H. A. Champs—Toronto Fans Amazed, But Have Hopes For Second Game.

TORONTO, March 17. — Granites were completely outplayed by Sudbury here tonight in the first of two games to decide which team should defend the Allan cup, the score being 6 to 2. Doubtless the O. H. A. champions were stale as a result of numerous hard games of late, but the better team won, and won with comparative ease. The Northern Ontario hockey champions conducted such a body-checking campaign that the locals wilted under it. The northerners showed a good defence, a reliable goaler and a forward line that traveled at top speed from bell to bell. McKinnon and the Green brothers swept up and down the ice, carrying trouble to the Granites, and early in the game it was evident that the latter had more than met their match.

The Granite supporters were dumbfounded by the defeat of the O. H. A. senior champions. They were given little opportunity to applaud any play by the home team.

The final game between Sudbury and Granites will be played here on Saturday night, when it is expected that Sudbury will earn the right to play in the semi-finals for the Allan cup.

STOMACH DISORDER

ONLY 6 MONTHS TO LIVE

Read What B. B. B. Did For Him.

Mr. Hanz Kehki, Magnolia, Alta., writes: "Some years ago I became very sick from stomach disorder, which the doctor told me had started from drinking bad water. I tried local doctors, but finding I got worse from day to day I went to a doctor in Edmonton. He told me that I must have an operation, and that if I didn't I couldn't live any longer than six months. I told him I had better die after six months than be cut to pieces. I did not have the operation, but returned home. No one was there to meet me at the station, because they did not know I was coming. I felt so bad I couldn't walk farther than 10 yards without resting. It took me 6 hours to walk 3 miles; the distance from the station to my home.

"Some weeks later I read an advertisement about your Burdock Blood Bitters. After I had used one bottle I felt much better, and after I had used three bottles I was completely cured; therefore you see your B. B. B. has saved my life, and I cannot praise it too highly."

Burdock Blood Bitters puts the stomach into shape by promoting perfect digestion, and restoring health and strength to the system. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

K. OF C.'S CLASS A CHAMPS OF GUELPH AMATEUR LEAGUE

Win Over Partridge Rubber and Now Meet G. W. V. A. in Finals.

GUELPH, March 17.—The Knights of Columbus hockey team, by defeating the Partridge Rubber team tonight by a score of 4 to 2, won the class A championship of the Guelph Amateur Hockey League, and will play off with the G. W. V. A. team, winners of class B, for the championship of the city. The game tonight was the biggest drawing card of the season, and a crowd of 2,000 people packed the new arena. The keenest rivalry existed between the two teams, and much money was wagered on the result. The K. of C. played much better hockey, and they well deserved their victory. They played a good combination, while their defence was excellent. The whole K. of C. game centered on Foster and Cook, and they were responsible for all four goals. The Partridge team played too much of an individual game, and were closely watched by the Knights' defence.

The half-time score was 3 to 2, the Knights scoring the only goal in the second half, although Partridge sent their whole team to the attack. "Toad" Edmunds of Stratford refereed the game to the satisfaction of everybody.

The teams lined up as follows:

Partridge.		K. of C.
Ringler	Goal	Hinchis
Jones	Defence	Little
Hipwell	Defence	Hamilton
Ogg	Centre	Foster
Rundstadtler	Wing	Cook
Craven	Wing	O'Neiley
Hamilton	Sub.	Drohan
O'Halloran	Sub.	Winpenny

Referee—Edmunds, Stratford.

Dodger, Recruit From Medicine Hat, Hurls 17 Scoreless Frames

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 17.—George Moharti, Manager Robinson's prize package from Medicine Hat, hatched four more goose eggs for the Dodgers yesterday. His record now is 17 straight innings without a run scored off him in the race for the Flatbush cheese championship. Counting three innings he worked against the Yankees, the young right-hander has been scored on but once in twenty chapters. That has all spring pitching performances wiped off the book.

HARRY PAYNE, WHITNEY'S DAMASK, CAME THROUGH

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 17.—Damask, Harry Payne Whitney's three-year-old, a strong favorite today won the Louisiana Derby at one and one-eighth miles, $5,000 added. Bulletproof was second, and Breadman third.

That good old phrase "They're all home Brews,"

It's "they've been here for many months,
We don't pay for their chow.
Whatja mean their ringers? Better can that stuff,
They've been here since September First (same old bluff).

The sixteen major league clubs after two weeks down in the southland, have their eyes on the weeds already sprouting in the hot torrid sun of the various baseball gardens. Mooney Gibson is the only rookie gardener amongst the big managers, and his garden was pretty rank to begin with.

But, as rank as the Pirate garden may be, it's nothing to the work that Connie Mack has cut out for him in cutting down his squad to the numbers that sound more like a baseball squad than the month's woods alcohol casualty list of the United States.

The long, deep one, (the only one not kept in a cellar), would need blinders to keep from getting cross-eyed looking after 58 frisky, ambitious Athletic rookies.

The United States have picked their hockey team for the Olympic, practically all Canadians. It is a septette, too, but it might as well be an octette for all the chance it has of getting a look at the submarine base the Hun had on the Belgian Coast. Under Olympic rules, competing athletes must be natives of the country they represent.

If a Yank girls' team is allowed on the Olympic program in field hockey there is no reason why Canada could not enter a team. Field hockey as a sport is not predominant in Canada, but ice hockey is, and the basic principles of the two are the same. Ability to handle a broom wouldn't be considered as Olympic trials, though.

NOT CHEWING—CHEWED..
(From the Rookie's Dream-Book).

To dream of being called away to have private luncheon with the manager of the team means that there'll be a chewing match, but it won't be private.

CONSOLS DOWN.

HAMILTON GETS WILDE IDEA.

Canada may see more of Wilde than was first thought. Following Windsor's lead, Toronto and Hamilton may take a chance of mortgaging the city halls and seeing the little Briton in action—of making money.

A SPRING IDYLL.

People with the Golloff bug are told locally that a nine-hole golf course has been mapped out at Springbank. If they had said a 40-hole course, there might have been a reason for such a statement. As there is no connection between a nine-hole gold course and a 40-mill tax rate, we give it up.

"Y" HEXATHLON

The Y. M. C. A. hexathlon events still show high scores. A large number, of the business boys' classes were run off Tuesday, and some of the senior school boys' on Wednesday.

The number of entrants seems to be growing instead of falling off, while their scores are getting better than they have been at any previous time during the international and national hexathlons, which have been held in which the local "Y" has taken part.

The events are listed in the following order: Standing broad jump, points for standing broad jump; time for potato races, points for potato races; total points for both events. In the potato race, where the time is double or triple that of some, the boys of that particular class have two or more potatoes to carry.

PATSY WALLACE WINS OVER BABE ASHER AT DETROIT A. C.

Johnny Dundee With Temperature of 102 Declared Unfit To Fight.

DETROIT, Mich., March 17.—Patsy Wallace of Philadelphia won over Babe Asher of St. Louis before the National A. C. tonight, taking seven out of the ten rounds. Asher had it on Wallace in both reach and weight. The boys were to have weighed in at 116 pounds, but even though Asher tipped the beam at 120, Wallace did not claim the forfeit for failure to make the prescribed weight.

Asher proved himself to be more of a dancer than a fighter, while Wallace showed much more aggressiveness. Wallace went down in the first round, partly as the result of a blow delivered by his opponent, and partly because he stumbled. He did not stay down long, however.

In the fourth Wallace showed the stuff that is in him by raining frequent rights to his adversary's face.

In the fifth he had the better of the toe to toe fighting. Wallace rocked Asher in the eighth, but the Missourian came back in the ninth and earned a shade for that period of milling.

In the first of the 10-round bouts, Red Cap Wilson broke has hand in the second round of the battle when he hit Toughey Murray a clout on the head. Wilson wanted to get back into the ring with Murray so badly that he fought his seconds and the referee and literally had to be dragged from the ring. The decision, of course, went to Murray.

The preliminary was productive of a knockout when Pete McCloskey kayoed Ben Palmer in the second of what was to have been a four-round scrap.

Dundee Was Ill.

The scheduled ten-round bout between Johnny Dundee and Johnny Mendelsohn did not come off. Dundee entered the ring with a temperature of 102 and was declared unfit. Mel Coogan of Brooklyn was substituted for Dundee, and went the whole distance, getting the decision on points.

London Club Carries Nine Hurlers to the Southland

In One Month More Weitzel's Crew Will Report At Delaware, Ohio—New Southpaw, Ad. Thomas, Awarded Club.

The London Baseball Club's list of hurlers was added to recently by the award of Southpaw Ad Thomas, claimed by the Louisville Club of the American Association to the locals. Secretary Farrell of the National Association of Leagues notified Manager Weitzel a few days ago of the award.

Four port-siders and five starboard heavers are now on Weitzel's staff, and all but three of them are experienced in organized ball.

Grimm from Three I.

Carl Grimm, a right-hander, has played with clubs in the Three I League, while Oscar Delotelle, who won a majority of his games in the Three I last year, is also a right-handed heaver, who had some previous experience in the Ohio Sate League. Wheeler, who was with Bay City last year, but owing to illness before the opening of the season, was unable to win many games as a pitcher, so he was used in the outfield. Christoff, the Grand Rapids lad, comes highly touted by Jack Wisner of Pittsburg.

Mickey Shader, the little Californian, makes the fifth hurler who pitches from the natural side. He was secured in a trade from Petersburg, Va.

The port-siders include Ad Thomas, Carmen, Flesham and Oldham. The first duet is experienced, while the latter pair is just breaking into league baseball, after making promising records in the semi-pro. ranks.

The London squad will have had several day's spring training, one month from now at Ohio Weslyn University at Delaware, Ohio. The equipment for training a team is excellent there, with a good baseball diamond, gymnasium, shower baths, swimming pool and lockers.

Western U. to Stage Basketball Carnival Along With Semi-Final

Co-eds and Alma and "Y" Aces and C. A. A. C. Teams Will Play—Tressider, Canadian Quarter-Mile Champion Is With Central "Y" Visitors.

Not content with one semi-final O. B. A. game for basketball fans on Friday night of the Western University Athletic Association is staging another basketball carnival such as they did at the O. A. C.-Western game some weeks ago. At 7:30 the ladies from Alma College, St. Thomas, who have been smarting under the defeat handed them the night of the season by the local Co-eds, will endeavor to even matters up by defeating the Western girls. The locals have had two or three of their best players off with the flu, and being shy on practice, will have a hard time taking the visitors into camp.

At 8:15 the team from the Catholic Athletic Club will meet the Y. M. C. A. Aces. Each of these teams has won a game on their own floor and wish to play on a neutral floor to decide which is the best junior aggregation, and from the confident remarks made by both teams the battle will be a hummer.

Then at 9 o'clock comes the big game. Western are in nowise downhearted over their one-point defeat in Toronto, and have been practicing hard for this return match. If the locals can win they go into the finals for the intermediate championship and the students are turning out in full force, yells and all, to cheer their favorites on to the first championship since the war. Peever, who has been in bed, will be able to play, so the team will be at full strength. The Toronto aggregation have an old Varsity player, "Red" Campbell, on their team, and this long-geared gentleman, together with Jack Tressider, the Canadian quarter-mile champion, gave the locals a busy time in Toronto last week. With Wainwright and Peever going well, however, they hope to stop the first-named, while Jimmy McGeoch has been practicing crouch-starts all week and says he will catch up to Tress every second time around the floor at any rate. Eddie Buscombe of Toronto will handle the game and he certainly made by the teams play basketball in Toronto. He is an old hand at the game and while he lets the players have a little scope he keeps them well in hand all the way.

Jockey Loftus Denied License by N. Y. Stewards

NEW YORK, March 17.—The application of Jockey Johnny Loftus for a jockey license was denied here today by the board of stewards of the Jockey Club. No reason for the action was given in the board's announcement of its action.

Justice Brooke, 3, 2:08¼, premier stallion at Dromore Farm, St. Claire Mich., probably will be transferred to Philip Hoeffner's Brookeworthy Farm near Goshen, N.Y., and will be in charge of William Gartell of New Hyde Park, L.I., N.Y., who for the past year or two has handled practically all of the young Justice Brooke colts in and around New York. The coming of the good Barongale stallion to Orange County will be a boon to Eastern breeders.

William Hodson will ship the Walter L. Johnson horses of Endicott, N.Y., to Indianapolis for their final preparation, as the stable will make a few of the earlier Ohio half-mile track meetings. The ideal Farm Stable star, Adioo Guy, 2:00¾, is reported to be in top winter form.

PALMERSTON ARE CHAMPIONS OF NORTHERN H. L.

Palmerston-Listowel Combination Beats Galt 11--6, Winning Round by 14 To 10.

PALMERSTON, March 17.—The Palmerston-Listowel crew were returned victors in the Northern League senior finals here tonight, winning from Galt, 11 to 6. A big crowd saw the game, which was played on slow ice, but about which there was nothing else slow. Cully Rocker and his cohorts played unbeatable hockey from the first gong, and never had a chance of losing. This gives Palmerston the championship of the league two consecutive years, and possession of the Free Press cup for another year.

Stratford C. I. Girls To Defend Protest of Woodstock Sisters

Successful Protest Will Give Baby City Another Chance at Cup.

STRATFORD, March 17.—The Collegiate girls' basketball team will defend the protest entered by Woodstock against the outcome of the game played here February 12, with Woodstock. The dispute is over a basket scored by Woodstock after the whistle had blown for a foul. The Woodstock girls claim they did not hear the whistle and they kept on playing and scored. Stratford girls stopped when the whistle blew. The matter is now in the hands of the executive. Should Woodstock win the protest, it would give them a chance for the cup, which at present is held by Stratford. The local girls are not worrying as to the outcome.

ICE JAM ON THAMES MOVES OUT ONE MILE; SITUATION IMPROVED

Dominion Engineer Sent To Prairie Siding To Render Assistance.

POLICE SEIZED WHISKEY

Chatham's Desire For Change in Civic Government Is Disappointed.

CHATHAM, March 17.—A. B. McCoig, M.P., telegraphed from Ottawa today to the effect that the public works department is sending Engineer Craig to Prairie Siding at once to render any assistance in dealing with the serious situation created by the flooding of the River Thames as a result of ice jams. The four-mile jam of ice moved about a mile further yesterday, and the water receded about two feet, but the land in the vicinity is still inundated. In some places the farmers are reported to be moving about in boats. Lighthousekeeper Cartier reports that the ice has partly broken in the channel near the mouth of the river, and the situation is improved. A special committee of the county council has made arrangements for dynamiting the jammed ice at half an hour's notice if this becomes necessary.

POLICE SEIZE LIQUOR.

Forty-five cases of whiskey were seized by the county police at Erieau yesterday, and on March 19 William Punnett will face charges of violating the O. T. A. According to the police, liquor, which was delivered in two shipments, is surrounded with suspicion, but they would make no statement. Punnett, the police say, is 55 years old, a laborer, who works odd days, and on his own admission is not a heavy drinker.

SCHEME SHELVED.

On January 1 by a vote of almost two to one, ratepayers of the city favored a scheme to change the present form of civic government, but there are indications that the scheme may be shelved on account of the heavy expense which would be involved in securing a private bill at this session of the Ontario Legislature. It is reported that there has been delay on the part of the committee in charge of the matter. As notice of such a bill must be published for six weeks in the Ontario Gazette, and this has not been done. The penalties and fines would amount to considerable amount if an effort was made to have the Legislature deal with such a bill at this session.

Local physicians have decided to observe Thursday afternoons as a holiday, and have arranged for four of their number to be on duty to answer emergency calls.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS TRY BITRO-PHOSPHATE

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition.

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorus may now be met by the use of Bitro-Phosphate, which can be obtained from any good druggist in convenient tablet form.

In many instances the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue soon produces a welcome change—nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy and the whole body loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty, and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.—Advt.

LAWLESSNESS CAUSE OF MUCH WORRY TO WINDSOR CITY POLICE

Hold-Ups, Shooting Affrays, Murder, Liquor Smuggling On List.

CARRIED BANNED BOOKS

Essex To Spend $300,000 On County Roads This Year.

WINDSOR, March 17.—Not only have Windsor police to combat an unprecedented series of hold-ups, including two shooting affrays and one murder, within the past few days, but they are now faced with the prospect of having to combat a general tendency to carry concealed weapons as the result of the disorder that has been recently on the increase here. Magistrate Miers today fined S. A. Hindley, Bruce avenue, $200 and costs for breach of the Ontario temperance act, and $25 for carrying a "billy," which he declared he had in his possession to protect himself from bandits.

MORE POLICEMEN.

Finding it necessary to add new members to the police force, Chief of Police Wills has been compelled to advertise for men. Two new officers have already been taken on this week and three more are to be employed.

While waiting for a streetcar near the Michigan Central depot early this morning, Hugh Sutherland, Windsor, was relieved of $43 in his pockets by an armed hold-up man. The robbery occurred in the waiting-room.

HAD BANNED LITERATURE.

For bringing banned literature into Canada, Stephen Hardy, Ford City, arrested by the Canadian Royal Mounted Police, was today fined $10 and costs at Ford.

Thomas Hamilton Astleford, aged 66, retired, a former artist of Ottawa, died here today.

No policy has been dictated to Capt. H. D. Peacock, secretary of the Windsor branch G. W. V. A., who left today to attend conventions of the organization at Peterboro and Toronto.

NOTHING FOR SUBURBAN ROADS.

No provision for a suburban roads area has been made this year by the county council as the result of opposition from the border urban municipalities, following the death of Judge Dromgole, chairman of the commission, and the resignation of Fitzbrides, urban member. County Treasurer Millen, rural representative, refused to act.

Hundreds attended the St. Patrick's masquerade ball held by Border war veterans in the armories here tonight. Dances were also held at St. Alphonsus Parish Hall and the Walkerville Boat Club.

DETROIT RIVER LOW.

Ice jams in the mouth of the Thames River, at the Soo, coupled with the resistance of the ice on Lake St. Clair to warmer weather has made water in the Detroit River exceptionally low this year, navigation men declare. At some places on Lake St. Clair the ice is reported three feet deep and holding solidly. The river here from the lower portion of Lake St. Clair to several miles below Sandwich is running freely, but lake vessel men are dubious as to prospects for an early reopening of navigation, owing to the ice-bound conditions which prevail further up the lakes.

$300,000 FOR ROADS.

An appropriation of $300,000 for road work in the county of Essex was granted this afternoon by the county council in session at Sandwich. This is $70,000 in excess of that asked a year ago, although but two-thirds of the amount then granted was expended. The large sum will be spent on the program already fairly definitely planned, the object of which will be to make Essex roads the best in the province.

STEADY WINTER HAS MADE MAPLE SYRUP SWEETER

Sugarmakers Are Busy—Price of Syrup Will Be Higher.

WABASH, March 17.—Maple trees have been tapped in this vicinity, and quite a run of sap has resulted. The sap is very sweet this year on account of the severe winter. The season will be a short one if spring opens up early. Last year at this time considerable quantities of syrup had been made. Syrup makers have already received quite a number of orders and it is expected the demand will be great, owing to the scarcity and high price of sugar.

Alex Hopper is using his tractor as a power means in cutting supplies of summer fuel for some of the farmers o this district. Gasoline engines are also being used by some farmers for the same purpose.

A number of farmers are making preparations for putting cement foundations under their barns.

A successful sale was recently held on the farm of Jack Farnworth. One thousand bushels of corn were sold at $1.15 per 35 pounds ears, oats at $1.34 a bushel, shoats at from $15 to $20 each, chickens at $1.80 and brood sows at $110. Mr. Farnsworth sold his farm of 130 acres to Will Foster of Dawn, for the sum of $17,000.

Bert Turnbull of Dresden has purchased the farm formerly owned by Ed. Carpenter on the Town Line.

Herk Tiffin has sold his farm to Mr. Arnold, and will soon move to Chatham.

Samuel McCready has purchased a house and lot from Walter Babcock of Cemetery street, Dresden.

William McKerracher has also purchased a house and lot in Dresden.

Doris, the six-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Orton, is very ill with pneumonia.

A number of young people came up from Dresden and spent a very pleasant evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hopper.

ONLY TWO CASES ON SUPREME COURT DOCKET

SARNIA, March 17.—Tonight it was stated that only one civil and one criminal case comprises the docket for the jury sittings of the supreme court of Ontario to be held here on Monday, March 22, with Justice Rose presiding. In the civil action, Fred Richardson and Edith Richardson, the plaintiffs, residing in Adelaide Township, county of Middlesex, claim $3,000 damages from the corporation of the township of Warwick, county of Lambton, for alleged negligence on the part of the defendant in maintaining the highway. Earl Greenwood, indicted last fall on a charge of indecent assault on a young girl in Euphemia Township, will come up for trial. The new trial in the case of George and the Sarnia Street Railway was not brought down for trial at this session.

SUPPORT CALGARY RESOLUTION.

The local delegates to the G. W. V. A. convention in Peterboro were wired today to give their support to the new Calgary resolution in the matter of the compensation of men who served overseas with the Canadian expeditionary forces. The Calgary resolution was read by the Sarnia association and the locals concurred with the western branch, in its revised suggestion to the Federal Government. When the Government turned down the $2,000 gratuity idea it made the suggestion that the Calgary branch present a more feasible plan for consideration.

Although the municipal councils and chambers of commerce of several cities and towns throughout Western Ontario have adopted resolutions urging the Government to take immediate steps to prohibit the circulation of the Hearst newspapers and periodicals in Canada, no action has as yet been taken in Sarnia.

MUIRKIRK DRAMATIC CLUB DELIGHTS BIG AUDIENCE

MUIRKIRK, March 17.—The Muirkirk Dramatic Club, under the auspices of the Women's Institute, presented the play, "The Old Dairy Homestead," to a crowded house Monday night. This is their first appearance before the public, and every member filled their part exceptionally well. The play is the first of a series of plays to be put on by the club.

LAND VALUES INCREASE.

A great many farms have changed hands in this locality during the past few months, and consequently sales of farm stock and machinery are almost a daily occurrence. Land values have advanced during the past year. Farms that were offered a year ago for $10,000 are now bringing $12,000. The raise in value is no doubt due to the growing of tobacco. This crop has proved a money-maker during the past two years. The soil and climate here seems especially adapted to the growth and ripening of tobacco, and the indications are that an immense acreage will be planted this season.

KAPPIST TROOPS LEAVE BERLIN.

Amsterdam, March 18.—Gen. von Luettwitz, who commanded the troops which supported the Kapp regime, has left Berlin with his armed forces, according to a telephone message from Berlin received this morning.

EBERT ARRIVES IN BERLIN.

London, March 18.—President Ebert arrived in Berlin last night, according to a telephone message received by the Amsterdam correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph from the German capital.

BOLSHEVIK MENACE FRIGHTENED KAPP INTO RESIGNATION

BERLIN, March 17.—(By the Associated Press).—After holding the reins of power for less than five days, Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, the self-appointed chancellor and dictator, has retired from office and control. He resigned today and an official communication explained that the chancellor considered his mission fulfilled when the old Government decided to meet the most essential demands addressed to it. He was also moved to this action by the extreme necessity of the Fatherland, which demanded union against the dangers of Bolshevism.

The resignation of Chancellor Dr. Wolfgang Kapp and his chief officials is confirmed by the following official communication:

"Chancellor Dr. Kapp has retired, with the object of bringing about internal peace. General von Luettwitz has retired for similar reasons.

"The vice-chancellor, in the name of the imperial president, has accepted the resignation and has intrusted Major-Gen. von Seecht with the provisional conduct of affairs, as commander-incheif."

Attempts Patriotism.

The official communique announcing the resignation of Chancellor Kapp endeavors to give a patriotic aspect to his withdrawal. It says:

"The Bauer government having voluntarily decided to fulfill the most essential demands addressed to it, the rejection of which on Saturday led to the establishment of the Kapp government, Chancellor Kapp considers his mission fulfilled and retires, resigning the executive power again into the hands of the military commander-in-chief.

"In this he is moved by the conviction of the extreme necessity of the fatherland, which demands solid union of all against the annihilating dangers of Bolshevism."

The real circumstances of Kapp's retirement are still shrouded in mystery. An important factory undoubtedly is to be found in the deliberations of the under-secretaries and the imperial council yesterday, which Major-Gen. von Luettwitz attended. The views of this conference were that both Kapp and von Luettwitz withdrew in order to terminate an intolerable position.

Change His Mind.

Von Luettwitz agreed to this, but when he returned to the chancellor he allowed himself to be persuaded to change his mind and retain office. To him has been delegated the executive power by the former revolutionary chancellor, and it is difficult to say what will happen now that von Luettwitz remains the military dictator at Berlin.

It is reported, however, that Gustav Noske, minister of defence in the old government, is coming here tonight, and von Luettwitz perhaps will transfer his new-found authority to him.

In conference with the foreign correspondents yesterday, Dr. Kapp's press chief dealt particularly with the Bolshevist danger. No effort was made to conceal the fact that the Berlin Government was likely to be of only short duration.

Although the general strike dealt this government a mortal blow, the decisive fact is that Kapp and his supporters had not political prestige, their government being built only on machine guns.

Strange Impression.

The statements made at this conference gave a strange impression and caused a suspicion that the cry of alarm about the Bolshevists was preliminary to the announcement of retreat. The chief of the official press bureau warned the correspondents against showing themselves in the streets, as a Communist uprising was expected hourly.

That any kind of compromise is out of the question now is undoubted. President Ebert of the old Government is strongly entrenched at Stuttgart, where, according to semi-official advices, the council of the empire met today and unanimously approved the old Government and strongly condemned the military coup at Berlin.

Frightened Berliners last night were asking: "The white or red terror—which?" This was in consequence of an official announcement that the reds were planning rising and calling upon the people to save the country from Bolshevism.

Government officials said to the Associated Press: "We fear bloodshed tonight; it is difficult for us to hold the troops back."

Locked Their Doors.

In preparation for the expected rising, officials camped in their offices all night. When the correspondent left the chancellory at nightfall into the darkening Wilhelmstrasse soldiers were bringing in huge boxes of food and cases of wine. Berliners generally scurried to their homes, apprehensively seeking refuge and locking their doors.

Notwithstanding Dr. Kapp's resignation, Berlin seems destined to have troublous times. An influential member of the Government, talking with the correspondent Tuesday, insisted upon the urgency of suppressing the strike movement and communist opposition. He added:

"Time is on the side of the Communists, and every hour we let slip weakens our position. We expect great events between now and tomorrow."

The great events, beginning with the retirement of Kapp, are evidently moving to a climax. Ebert sent an aeroplane over Berlin, dropping leaflets and predicting the early collapse of the Berlin government.

The utter tie-up of the city continued today, and there is no evidence of the breaking-down of the strike. So far as is known, no fresh supplies of food have been received, and prices are jumping almost hourly. The striking water plant employees released a sufficient amount of water to flush the sewers to prevent the outbreak of disease, but little is available for drinking purposes.

Rye opened unchanged for May at $1 92.

Chicago, March 18.—Opening: Corn—May, $1 58; July, $1 50⅝.

Oats—May, 88⅛c;; July, 80⅜c.

Chicago, March 18.—Bullish sentiment continued to dominate the corn market today largely as a result of the smallness of the supply here and the readiness with which current receipts were absorbed. Assertions of the failure of the campaigns to reduce living costs were also of considerable effect in promoting upturns. Buying, however, lacked much of the volume and energy that was apparent yesterday. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 1c higher, were followed by a moderate setback and then by material gains all around.

All deliveries of oats went to the highest figures yet this season. Receipts here were next to nothing. After opening ⅛c to ⅝c up, the market scored additional upturns.

PROVISIONS.

Chicago, March 18.—Provisions were lifted by the strength of hogs and grain. Demand, however, was not urgent.

WALL STREET.

New York, March 18—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Advances of 2 to 8 points were made by many issues in the first half hour of today's stock market session, yesterday's late rally assuming wider and more varied impressions. Greatest strength was again shown by shares of companies which are expected to declare stock dividends in the near future. These included the leading motors, steels, railway equipments, leathers, textiles and chemicals. Oils and shippings also made appreciable gains with some of the food issues. Among the more representative industrials, United States Steel was in active demand at a moderate gain.

Noon.—The rapid pace of the opening was maintained throughout the forenoon, short covering adding to the enormous turnover. Stocks with dividend prospects continued to lead, but the entire list, including high grade rails, participated in variable degree. Stutz Motor was the sensational feature, extending yesterday's gain of 17 points with an additional 18½. Other noteworthy features included General Motors, Pierce-Arrow, Motor Accessories, American Woolen, American Car, Baldwin Locomotive, New York Air Brake, Republic, Crucible, Vanadium and United States Steels, Atlantic-Gulf United Fruit, Central Leather, Hide and Leather, Texas Company and Utah Copper at gains of 2½ to 10 points. Call money opened at 7 per cent.

BLENHEIM TO VOTE ON IMPROVED FIRE FIGHTING EQUIPMENT ON MONDAY

BLENHEIM, March 17.—A public meeting was held in the Opera House Monday night to boost the passing of the new fire equipment bylaw which is to be voted upon next Monday. The speakers were Mayor Clunis, W. E. Hall, W. J. Baird, R. L. Gosnell, T. C. Warwick, G. F. Reycraft and R. Bickle of Woodstock.

The mayor occupied the chair and outlined what had been done by the council to bring the matter before the electors. He was of opinion that new fire fighting apparatus was absolutely necessary as property was not safe under present conditions, and it was impossible to fix up the old outfit and make it satisfactory.

W. E. Hall dealt with insurance rates and showed how insurance rates would in all probability be increased one-third of present rates if a better outfit was not obtained.

Town Treasurer W. J. Baird showed by means of illustrated slides that it was cheaper for ratepayers to pay for the new outfit than to pay the increased insurance rates, the difference being considerable.

R. Bickle of the Bickle Company explained the proposed new outfit, showing what it would do. The cost of the engine, which is a 55-horse power,, capacity 450 gallons of water per minute, and chemical apparatus would give splendid protection.

NOTHING LIKE IT FOR BRONCHITIS AND WEAK THROAT

Remarkable Cures in Worst Cases Reported Daily.

CURES WITHOUT USING DRUGS

Doctors now advocate an entirely new method for treating bronchitis and irritable throat. Stomach dosing is no longer necessary.

The most approved treatment consists of a healing vapor resembling the pure air of the Adirondacks.

This soothing vapor is full of germ-destroying substances, and at the same time is a powerful, healing agent. It is sent to the bronchial tubes and lungs through a skillfully devised inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket. Simplicity itself is the keynote of this splendid treatment.

CATARRHOZONE is the name of this wonderful invention that is daily curing chronic cases of weak throat, bronchitis and catarrh. Every breath through the inhaler is laden with soothing, healing substances that destroy all diseased conditions in the breathing organs, it can't fail to cure because it goes where the trouble really exists, and doesn't attempt to cure an illness in the head or throat by means of medicine taken into the stomach. Catarrhozone is a direct breathable, scientific cure.

There is no sufferer from a grippy cold or any winter ill, that won't find a cure in Catarrhozone, which is employed by physicians, ministers, lawyers and public men throughout many foreign lands. Large size lasts two months and costs $1.00, and is guaranteed; small size, 50c; sample size, 25c; all storekeepers and druggists, or the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Canada.

COLDS BRING FLU; CHECK THEM NOW!

Take Grip-Fix and Avoid the Chance of Severe and Dangerous Complications.

"Jump right on every cold when it first appears and your chances of escaping 'flu are good." "Take care of yourself and you are safe." These expressions sum up pretty well the advice that physicians are giving their patients just now.

Suppose you could find a remedy that would knock a bad cold in a single night and do the work safely and surely, you would feel fairly safe from the 'flu, wouldn't you? Well that remedy has been found. Just walk into any drug store. Say "Grip-Fix" and get the box that contains the reliable little capsules that always do the trick.

Grip-Fix is prepared from a formula a well-known physician has been using for many years to check colds. Its contents are plainly printed on every box. If you are afraid of preparations sold over the drug counter, submit the formula of Grip-Fix to your family doctor and ask him what he thinks of the combination of drugs it contains.

Grip-Fix has a record behind it. Thousands of serious colds have vanished through its agency. It is put up in the easily assimilated capsule form and is perfectly safe to take. Just follow the directions carefully—Grip-Fix will do the rest.

You can get Grip-Fix from any druggist at 35 cents per box.

HELENE'S MARRIED LIFE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

XXIX.—Returning Good For Evil.

I stared at Alice with considerable uneasiness. What could that little harum-scarum mean?

"Tony's got me in his power," she reiterated, dismally. "Helene, I'm frightened!"

Deliberately I dried my eyes. I didn't care for Alice. But I felt that concentrating my mind upon her problems might possibly relieve me of my own—even if such relief was only temporary.

Alice had been foolish, doubtless. In fact, the feather-headed little blonde was seldom anything else but foolish. More, she'd evidently been indiscreet. Her rapturous meeting with Master Tony was in itself an indiscretion. But I couldn't believe her capable of actual wickedness.

That she'd robbed the safe of Travis Lloyd—or made an attempt at such a robbery—was something that I couldn't credit. Yet, despite the fact that several of the guests had believed her capable of the attempted theft.

Unless it was that Tony had so bewitched the foolish little woman that no longer did she realize the rights of property! I wondered vaguely just what I was about to hear.

"Alice, I've always acted toward you as a friend," I said—with truthfulness. Although I can't help criticizing Alice and her methods and her selfish views of life, I've acted as a real friend toward her—always.

And she knows it, too.

"Yes, Helene, you've been a dear—invariably. And I've been a spoiled, inconsiderate little beast."

I smile. Extremes of speech are so typical of Alice.

"We don't need to enter into that," I said, patting her hand—for I felt really sorry for her. "Just tell me what is bothering you."

"Oh, nothing! Merely debts! Like the proverbial widow's curse, they're always with me."

I felt relieved. For this particular confession was no news to me, except in so far as Tony was concerned.

"So you owe Tony money, do you?" I rejoined, non-committally. "Well, he's only another on the list of your creditors, Alice. So why worry?"

She narrowed her blue eyes.

"He's getting rather obstreperous, Helene."

"Then snub him—as I do!" I cut in, tartly. "You surely don't take Tony and his nonsense seriously?"

Fair Alice frowned. This comment wasn't flattering to her vanity.

"He's rather — fond — of me — I think——"

"Don't think a thing about it," I rejoined. "Tony's just a butterfly, flitting from flower to flower—and meaning nothing. Unless—" I frowned a little —unless there's going to be some money in the case!"

Personally, I believe that Master Tony is quite capable of blackmail. And I didn't wish to stand by and see Alice's happiness shipwrecked, as mine had been, from lack of wholesome advice.

"I—I thought that you were crazy over him! He's certainly attractive—" she volunteered, half tentatively.

I shrugged my shoulders.

"Listen, Alice! If I had a dear, adoring husband such as yours—" I forced the words with difficulty, for they hurt!—"I'd cut every Tony in the world, and all his kind, from off my list! I'd concentrate on what I'd got! I'd make my husband happy—and incidentally find happiness myself that way! I'd scorn foolish, meaningless, flirtations that are derogatory to one's dignity and one's position—I'd fling away the shadow for the substance—I'd—"

"Stop, stop, Helene!" Alice gave her small, affected laugh. "You're talking like a traveling evangelist, not like a gay, pretty actress-girl with heaps and heaps of beaux!"

"Having 'heaps of beaux' isn't the chief aim and end of feminine existence," I remarked, severely, knowing full well that Alice's views lay to the contrary. "Your flirtations lead you nowhere, Alice, except into awkward corners—"

"And even there you interrupt them," cut in Alice the Incorrigible, pertly, with her foolish giggle.

"Please be serious," I said. "Suppose now, for a moment, that you were to lose your husband's love?"

The baby's stare once more appeared in Alice's blue eyes.

"Oh, but I couldn't—"

"Yes, you could! Do you imagine that he'd have been flattered, for instance, if he'd overheard your affectionate greeting to Tony tonight, instead of me? No, don't get angry, Alice! It's time you had a candid critic! I'm so afraid you're going to lose your happiness—and you won't if I can help it."

A softened look crossed her face. She thawed.

"I don't deserve your kindness, Helene. And I'm not worth your interest, either."

Again I smiled. How long would this mood last? I had grown a little skeptical.

"I wish you'd cut out gambling," I pursued my present advantage. "Why not make a clean breast of everything? Your husband would pay your debts."

"My debts to Tony? Why, he'd kill me first!"

"That's nonsense, Alice. I grant he wouldn't be delighted at the news. But you could talk him around—"

"He'd never let me touch a card again. Oh, what a ghastly life I'd lead! No friends! The dull routine of country life! Stagnation! I'd go crazy!" Alice pouted babyishly. "I'd be so miserable!"

"My dear, you don't know what real misery means!" I caught her hand impulsively. "Real misery lies in losing happiness—through one's own mistake—losing a husband's love———"

She looked startled.

"And am I going to lose it?"

"No—not if I can help it!" I said, quickly.

She gave my hand a squeeze.

"Helene," she cried quickly. "You're a perfect brick! Returning good for evil!"

Tomorrow: Helene Receives a Shock.

FRUIT PROSPECTS ARE EXCELLENT, SAY GROWERS

Thick Coating of Snow Has Protected Orchards From Harm.

ILDERTON, March 17.—Members of the Ilderton Fruit Growers' Association are preparing for the spring spraying, and the secretary reports that many more members will spray and otherwise care for their orchards than in the past. Owing to the depth of snow in the orchards very little prunning has been done as yet, but the fruit trees seem to have wintered well, owing, no doubt, to the good covering of snow. No damage to fruit buds has been reported, and indications point to a good show of bloom on nearly all classes of fruit trees.

SWEETER SYRUP.

No syrup has yet been made in the sugar groves, but the farmers are getting evaporators and other utensils in shape for the run, which it is expected will start soon. Old hands say that owing to the severe weather the sap will be sweeter than usual, and the quality better than the average. The demand is expected to be keen, and the price probably somewhat higher than last year owing to the high prices.

The Ilderton Farmers' Co-Operative Society will hold its final meeting of the shareholders on Thursday, when the committee will present its report and definite action will be taken with regard to the erection of an elevator and mill at Ilderton. Since the old elevator was burned no grain has been shipped or flour and feed received, and the loss has been felt keenly by the farmers of the district.

OVER THE OBJECTIVE.

Owing to the influenza epidemic and blocked roads, the Ivan Presbyterian congregation was not able to make the Forward Movement drive during February, but about a week ago a strong committee was appointed and canvassers went to work determined to reach the objective of $1,950. When the final meeting was held Monday the total reached was $1,933. Rev. Mr. Campbell, who was present, said it would be fine if we could at this meeting square up the balance of $17. There was an immediate ready response by those present, and $24 was subscribed, making the total $1,957, $7 over the objective, with some reports yet to come in.

The roads for the past week have been in a deplorable condition, for either sleighing or wheeling. Many of the concessions are being plowed out, and in some places where snow is too deep, they are being shovelled out. One cut on the 8th concession of Lobo is between five and six feet deep for several rods.

EDUCATION TEST FOR MONTREAL CHILDREN STARTING TO WORK

MONTREAL, March 17.—Beginning next Monday all boys and girls in Montreal, who are under sixteen years of age, and are working must get a certificate of education from the labor department of the province of Quebec.

To secure this they must be able to read and write fluently. Another regulation, which will be enforced is one making it illegal for any child, educated or not, to work after 8 p.m. Newsboys are not excepted.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. —Advt.

ABDUCTED BY "SOPHS," GIRL STUDENT FALLS FROM THIRD STORY

CHICAGO, March 17.—Miss Elizabeth Chapman, president of the freshman class of Northwestern University, was seriously injured as a result of a fall from a third-story window of an apartment building, where she was imprisoned after being abducted from her home by members of the sophomore class to prevent her appearance at a St. Patrick's Day party of the freshmen. She made a rope from sheets and attempted a descent from the window, but fell.

At The Theaters

BEAUTIFUL JAPANESE LOVE STORY, "THE DRAGON PAINTER," STARRING SESSUE HAYAKAWA, AT THE MAJESTIC.

A beautiful love legend of old Japan, filmed in the picturesque Yosemite Valley, and made by an all-Japanese cast —this is "The Dragon Painter," the magnificent Japanese production starring Sessue Hayakawa, Tsuro San and Toyo Fujita at the Majestic today, tomorrow and Saturday. A revelation of artistic photography, a masterwork of scenery and settings effects, reflecting all the ideals, the glory and beauty of age old Japan; in a story which will strike a responsive chord in every heart. Among the many extra attractions are a number of interesting scenic and news films, and a most amusing Christie comedy.

ENGLAND'S GREATEST CINEMA PRODUCTION COMING.

Predicted and heralded to be the biggest box office attraction of the year, "12-10," England's greatest production makes its first appearance in Canada next week at the Majestic Theatre, this city. The call for British-made pictures for the Canadian amusement seeker has grown so pronounced that England's leading statesmen have financed a mammoth corporation and studio, secured the best director available and a star who, for patriotic reasons, returned to the screen after a long retirement. Bearding the lion in his den, they chose for the first American presentation the Capitol Theatre, New York and after the first few days showing "Twelve-Ten" emerged covered with glory with the greatest record ever checked up by any single attraction. London, Canada, gets the next showing, all next week, and London audiences can pass judgment on the most astounding drama ever conceived by the mind of man. There will be no advance in prices, and a special matinee daily with two screenings every evening.

AT THE GRAND TODAY.

Presented at the Grand for the last time today will be Elsie Janis in "A Regular Girl," a big modern comedy-drama with a surprise in every scene. Earning $10,000 in thirty days, winning the hearts of many men, showing the world how women can rule, and whooping things up in general is the idea of a "regular girl." Today will mark the first and only appearance in this city of the celebrated Gilrain Dancers, the biggest dancing bit on the Keith circuit. There are seven artists in the offering, and they will present an artistic dancing novelty, introducing various classical and up-to-date dances. Those who enjoy dancing should make it a point to visit the Grand today, as this will be the only appearance in this city of these famous artists. Comedy films, news reels and scenic films will be added features on the bill.

TYRONE POWER IN "THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE."

Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, the new all-Canadian organization controlling a chain of theatres across the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific, announce their first production, a revival of "The Servant in the House," with the distinguished English actor, Mr. Tyrone Power, in the great role of the Drainman, first made notable by him in 1909 at the Savoy Theatre, New York. This famous play will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House for two days, commencing tomorrow night, with matinee on Saturday.

Charles Rann Kennedy's significant morality play, when first performed ten years ago, created a veritable sensation and Mr. Power's remarkable portrayal of the central character, The Drainman, was heralded by both metropolitan and other dramatic critics as one of the most impressive in a decade.

AT LOEW'S.

When nineteenth century ideas clash with twentieth century ideals, there is sure to be dramatic action. That's what happens in "Erstwhile Susan," the Realart picture adapted from Mrs. Burke's recent stage success of the same name, and Helen R. Martin's novel, "Barnabetta," on which the play was founded. Constance Binney makes her stellar debut in pictures in this story of dramatic suspense laid in the quaint Pennsylvania-Dutch town of Reinhartz. "Erstwhile Susan" will be the feature film attraction at Loew's for the balance of the week.

The vaudeville bill will be headed by the Lee Art Sextet. Six charming young maidens dispense a musical melange of exceptional merit. Each and every member of the troupe being a finished artist. Quigley and Fitzgerald will cut up in a snappy laugh turn entitled "Comicalities." Long and Ward will dispel cold gloom with just a word and a song or two. Harvey De Vora Trio in "Darktown Cabaret," and La Vine Trio in daring aerial oddities, will complete a meritorious bill of amusement. The added attractions for the last half will be a Hank Mann fun comic and the Loew weekly of world events.

DOUBLE FEATURE PROGRAM AT THE ALLEN TODAY, TOMORROW AND SATURDAY—WILL ROGERS AND MARY PICKFORD FEATURES.

Presented at the Allen today, tomorrow and Saturday will be another of those delightful double feature programs, with the famous Zeigfeld Follies star, Will Rogers, in "Jubilo" as the leading feature, and Mary Pickford in "Amarilly of Clothesline Alley," the added attraction.

You wouldn't think a hobo could make love would you? Neither did Jubilo until along came Rose, and then! You should see the fight he puts up when another fellow tries to steal his love, too.

Mary Pickford, the great star, never made a more pleasing picture than her delightful character of the little urchin of the streets, who suddenly becomes the rich little girl of the golden palace of her dreams, than in "Amarilly of Clothesline Alley."

You must let the children see these two features. There's a students' matinee at 4:30 daily, and if they cannot come to this, be sure and let them see the big Saturday afternoon performance. Among the extra attractions will be the Allen News and beautiful scenic pictures.

WOMAN DISAPPEARS; SLIPPERS FOUND ON BANK OF AUXSABLE

Miss Lovie Leaves Home of Her Sister in Early Morning.

PARKHILL, March 17.—Missed from the home of her sister, Mrs. Angus McIntosh, concession B. E., West Williams, with whom she was living, Miss Lovie, aged between 40 and 50 years, early this morning was traced to the banks of the river Auxsable, where her slippers were found, but no signs of her body. The river is in flood, and if, as is feared, the woman has committed suicide, probabilities of finding the body for some time to come are remote, but a close watch is being kept. Miss Lovie has been in ailing health for some time, and it is feared that the death of her brother at Ridley, Ont., about a week ago, affected her mind temporarily.

T. AND L. COUNCIL TO AID IMMIGRANTS COMING TO LONDON

To Prevent Unemployment and Exploitation.

WAS COUNCIL SLIGHTED?

School Board Criticised For Ignoring Recommendation For Appointment.

Because it was believed by the local Trades and Labor Council that on many occasions immigrants coming to this country experienced hardships through inability to find work and through ignorance of prevailing conditions, a committee was appointed at a meeting of the council last night to investigate matters and to devise ways and means of helping those arriving in this city.

The question of giving assistance to immigrants was brought up by Raymond Smith. He said that newcomers were, as a rule, entirely ignorant of conditions prevailing in this country. As the result of this many found difficulty in securing employment, and often employers took advantage of their ignorance by underpaying them. He felt that by taking steps to help these men organized labor would secure protection against the importation of cheap labor as well as giving the immigrant protection from injustice.

A. Moule spoke briefly and pointed out that a large proportion of the men coming from Great Britain belonged to organized labor before leaving the old land, and they would therefore prove valuable acquisitions to the ranks of labor in this country, if they were looked after. He said that there were more than six million members of organized labor in England, and for that reason a large proportion of the immigrants from that country would be union men. A committee consisting of Delegates R. Smith, A. Moule, Miller Cummings and Chambers was appointed to look into the matter.

The Ontario Legislature will be asked to make it permissible for the Trades and Labor Councils throughout the province to appoint their representatives to the advisory committees of the local boards of education. At the present time the boards of education are allowed to choose any labor man they wish to represent organized labor on the committees.

Motion Defeated.

It was claimed by several speakers that the local board of education absolutely refused to allow the Trades and Labor Council to appoint the representative, although the council had requested the privilege on many occasions. A motion was made asking that the present representative, who was appointed by the board of education, be asked to resign, but the motion was turned down. William Tite, who goes to Toronto tomorrow on a delegation from the L. R. C. will be asked to take the matter up with the members from London, and he will request them to bring it before the House.

A donation of $50 will be given to the Painters' Union, the members of which are on strike, to help them in their fight for higher wages. A decision to take this step was made after a letter from the union was read, asking for moral and practical backing.

An appeal was read on behalf of organized labor in the Temiskaming district which is seeking to elect Angus McDonald, a member of the miners' union, to the Federal Government. All delegates were invited to make voluntary contributions to the election funds.

Following a request by H. Wray, the local organizer appointed by the council, that he be allowed to resign the position, because he had received no credentials from the American Federation of Labor, the executive committee was authorized to act as a special committee to devise ways and means of financing the organizer and supplying local credentials until a communication could be received from the A. F. of L. The A. F. of L. was warmly criticized for its slowness in looking after the matter, and each delegate was asked to request his local to communicate with headquarters with a view to having the internationals take up the question with the A. F. of L.

Raymond Smith reported that a special committee, of which he was convener, had waited upon the city council with a request that that body would insist upon contractors keeping separate paysheets for all men employed in civic work. The plan was approved by the city council, and so hereafter all contractors would be forced to turn in a paysheet to the city engineer for every man employed by him in civic work. The sheets would be open for public inspection.

The committee also had asked the city council to publish the names of bread and coal dealers found guilty of giving short weight. The council advised the committee to make application to the Government to give the city officials permission to publish such names.

Each local union in the city will be requested to donate $5 toward prize money for a Labor Day celebration.

Favorable reports were received from all the local unions represented. Steps are to be taken to assist the teamsters in the city to maintain and conduct their union.

A deputation composed of E. A. Pocock and H. B. Ashplant waited upon the meeting and on behalf of the I. L. P. extended an invitation to the delegates to attend the I. L. P. convention for Ontario, which is to be held here April 2 and 3. The deputation said plans had been made to make the convention the greatest labor political convention ever held in Canada.

ANOTHER FINE RECITAL BY VIGGO KIHL ON WEDNESDAY

Famous Danish Pianist Will Give But One More.

Not least of the treats afforded London on the evening of St. Patrick's Day was the recital given by Viggo Kihl at the Institute of Musical Art.

The program consisted of works of modern composers: From Brahams, "Variations and Furgue on a Theme by Handel, Op. 24," finely rendered, as only those of keen musical appreciation could realize; from Rubenstein, "Barcarolle, G. Minor," with its well-marked melody and delivate accompaniment; from Moszkowski, the joyous "La Jongleuse" and the "Caprise Espagnole," so brilliant as to suggest snow-lad forests glittering under northern suns; from Debussy, the exquisite and well-named "Reverie"; from the Spanish Albeniz, "Trianna," and from Glazounoff-Blumenfeld, "Valse de Concert," of restful rhythm and enlivening brilliance. To numerous encores Mr. Kihl responded with the Verdi-Liszt "Rigolette."

Although only one more recital by Mr. Kihl is available to the music-lovers of London for the present, it is a satisfaction to those wha have been attending to know that Mr. Kihl will continue to come to London as head of the piano department of the Institute of Musical Art. A. D. Jordan, musical director, is to be congratulated on having secured so great an artist as the Danish pianist of world fame for this work.

The last recital of the series, March 24, will consist of numbers from Chopin and Liszt. Mrs. McHardy-Smith and A. D. Jordan will assist at a second piano.

Warning Issued to Jewelers to Take No Risks

Police Advise Moving Valuables From Windows—Thieves Working in Ontario.

According to a statement made to The Advertiser yesterday, the jewelers of London have been warned to keep all of their more valuable stock out of their windows for the next few days.

This warning was issued by the police following the breaking of two jewelers' windows at Hamilton and one at Brantford two days ago. The robbers are thought to be some of the gang which has been operating in the larger American cities for some time.

Although no definite word has been received by the police as to the whereabouts of the criminals, precautions have been taken by the local force.

The police department has given no intimation of what it is doing at present in regard to preparing a warm reception of the unwanted visitors, but it is reported that extra patrols are being put on at night.

The stores of this city are practically all downtown and within easy reach and view of at least one policeman at all times. Owing to this location the jewelers, although heeding the warning, are not a great deal alarmed, as most of them carry their more valuable stock in their safes, with the exception of a few rings, which from now on will go with the higher-priced articles into the safe until another customer comes along.
