ESCAPED BALLOT SWITCHER IN PREMIER ROSS' EMPLOY

Name of Duncan Bole on Document Signed Last Month by Mr. Ross—Sent to Jamaica to be out of the Way—The Machine Traced Home to Premier.

Orono, May 22.—A startling revelation was made at a meeting held here to-night in the interests of Mr. W. H. Reid, the Conservative candidate in West Durham. Mr. C. C. Robinson, of Toronto, produced a photograph of an insurance receipt issued by the Manufacturers Life in Jamaica, dated just a month ago, signed and countersigned by Duncan Bole, the West Elgin ballot-switcher, now a fugitive from justice, and by Hon. Geo. W. Ross, the president of the company.

Mr. F. B. Lovick, ex-reeve of Clarke, took the chair, and made a few remarks, introducing the speaker.

Mr. E. H. McLean, of Newcastle, then spoke briefly on the local features of the campaign, appealing to the electors to support W. H. Reid, as a man who told the truth.

MR. ROBINSON'S BOMB.

Mr. C. C. Robinson said:—

"You all, I have no doubt, have read the celebrated confession, made in July, 1899, of Mr. Donald Macnish, the Grit ex-member, who was unseated on account of the infamous practices which prevailed during his campaign in 1898. He confessed that a large number of persons were especial-eight electors swore to the fact that ballots had been wrongfully counted for Macnish, which were deposited for McDiarmid.

"A warrant was issued for Bole's arrest, charging him with five offences against the Criminal Code and the Election Act. He was arrested at the Sault, and from time to time remained on bail. Mr. Donohue, the Crown Attorney, insisted, contrary to the wishes of the Conservative lawyers, on conducting the prosecution, and on May 10th, wrote to the Attorney-General's office for the ballots which had been used in this polling booth. An answer was received that these documents were not under the control of the Attorney-General. This letter was on May 18th, 1899. It would be a surprise to everybody—if one could be surprised at anything—in connection with the West Elgin business—to be told that the Government Commissioner found as a fact that these ballots had been burnt in the Parliament Buildings, on April 12th or 13th, one month before the Attorney-General said they were not under the control of his department.

WHAT MR. ROSS SAID.

"The ease dragged on for weeks, and at last Duncan Bole skipped his bail and went over to the American side. Since July, 1900, his place of residence has, until very recently, been unknown. Now, at Whitby, on Nov. 14, 1899, after Bole's arrest, and escape through the negligence, or worse, of mier and strengtheners of the 'moral foundations' of the country. And Duncan Bole, the escaped ballot switcher, the fugitive from justice of this Province.

"This, I think needs no comment from me. The fact is clear. The evidence is incontrovertible. It speaks for itself."

FRASER AHEAD

A discussion arose between a couple of the men at Gray's factory Thursday over the election and so an election was held fore fun just to see who would win. The ballot was taken as the men went out from work. It resulted in a majority of 11 for Mr. Fraser.

GOES TO ENGLAND

Col. J. B. Rankin received a telegram yesterday from Col. Peters, D. O. C., to the effect that Color Sergeant Max Fraser had been chosen from the 24th Regiment for the Coronation contingent. Mr. Fraser has been given six weeks' leave of absence from the bank with pay. He is busy getting his kit ready for the trip. Mr. Fraser is a fine specimen of young manhood, and Chatham will have a good representative in Max.

The Liberals held a meeting at the school house, 11th Con, Chatham T. Jones occupied the chair and made a good master of ceremonies. Good addresses were delivered by J. W. White, Dr. Fleming, N. H. Stevens and Dr. Russell. There was no opposition.

J. W. Knight has returned from Northwood. He says John Lee held a meeting there this week, but it wasn't at all an enthusiastic one.

EXPERT SAFE CRACKSMEN SECURE A BIG BOOTY

Entered the Store of James H. Bogart Shortly After Midnight—Blew Open the Safe and Secured Over $126 in Cash—A Daring Deed.

Bogart's store on Queen St., was burglarized last evening. The safe was blown open and over $126 abstracted therefrom. The job was neatly done and nothing about the safe was injured, except the combination. The deed was undoubtedly the work of experts.

The robbery was discovered this morning at 8:30 and the police notified. The burglars had evidently a key to the front door and left by the back. The explosion was heard about one o'clock. Both Mr. Putnam and Mr. Cuckey heard the noise of the explosion. They say it sounded like the report of a cannon firecracker.

P. C. Tom Groves inspected the safe. He said that the job as far as the drilling was concerned was done clean and nice, and wasn't bungled in the least. The combination had first been knocked off and then two holes had been drilled to the left of the combination. One hole was about a quarter of an inch in diameter and was drilled about an inch from the handle. The other hole was right in line with the first hole but was larger, being a half inch in diameter. The explosion broke the combination and the safe door was swung open.

The robbers showed a knowledge of safes and were no novices at the business. Mr. Bogart had banked $75 yesterday and there was about $196 in the safe, $50 in silver and the rest in bills.

When the baker, Mr. Moore, went to work at 1:45 a. m., he noticed the back gate open. The gate was always locked but as the store door was fastened Mr. Moore thought nothing of the gate being opened. He went to work, and the robbery was not discovered till morning.

TEACHERS IN CONVENTION

Successful Gathering of East Kent Association at Ridgetown.

Mrs. John Cooper Contributed to the Evening Concert—Delightful Program.

The teachers of East Kent are holding their annual convention in Ridgetown Thursday and Friday. There are about 70 teachers in attendance and the subjects under discussion are well dealt with and prove very interesting and beneficial.

The convention was opened with an address of welcome by the president, J. C. Black. He urged the teachers to be punctual in their attendance, as much good can be got from meetings of this kind.

A paper on promotion was then read by O. B. Edwards, principal of the Bothwell public school. Mr. Edwards dealt with his subject thoroughly and showed that he has given the subject much careful thought and preparation.

A paper on geometry for beginners was then read by J. D. Campbell. This also is well deserving of special mention. After considerable amount of routine the meeting adjourned for lunch.

The afternoon session was just as successful as that of the morning. Upon opening short complimentary addresses were delivered to the teachers by county commissioners R. J. Morrison, of Raleigh, and W. C. Sifton, of Palmyra.

A carefully prepared paper on drawing was then read by Miss A. B. Stone.

"Our public school reader" was ably dealt with by J. E. Caldwell.

Dr. R. V. Bray, of this city, executive officer of the Children's Aid Society, then took the platform and addressed the teachers on the neglected children.

He dealt with the object of the Children's Aid Society and the causes for which they could take children under their care. He also explained the routine through which the case travels from the time the complaint is made until the judge gives his final decision. He then gave a number of statistics regarding the work accomplished by the Society during the last four years and pointed out that one good which has been accomplished was that where formerly they had taken children away from their parents, now they gave a warning by careful observation, thus making the children more comfortable in their own homes. He also exhibited a number of pictures of children who have been placed in good homes by the Society. He thanked the teachers of the different schools who have contributed to the Society, pointing out that as the Society receives no government grant they are entirely dependant on donations and charity.

On the whole, Dr. Bray's address, which lasted for about half an hour, was very interesting and keenly enjoyed by the teachers, who could not but be interested in the work of the Society.

Dr. Bray was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for his excellent address.

In the evening a concert was given in the Opera House, at which a large number of teachers and the public were in attendance. Mrs. Cooper, the talented soloist of this city, was there and gave a number of excellent vocal selections. D. McGregor, baritone, of Toronto, was also present and appeared a number of times on the program. Prof. Workman presided at the piano, and besides playing the accompaniments, gave a number of instrumental solos.

MARCH-OUT

Weekly Parade of the 24th Kent Regiment Draw Many Enthusiastic Spectators.

The 24th Regiment held another march-out last evening, which was very largely attended by spectators. The ranks, however, were somewhat thin and this fact was commented upon by the Colonel after the parade. This was partly owing to the fact that a number of the members of the regiment have left the city to spend the holidays at their homes.

The members who did turn out, however, made a very good showing and received generous applause from the citizens who lined King street. While the regiment was passing the Garner House a red light was thrown upon the soldiers from the balcony, which produced a very novel effect.

Upon the return of the regiment to the drill hall the regimental orders for the week were read. There will be no drills on Monday, owing to that day being observed as a public holiday. Requests have been made to the Colonel by the members of the regiment to attend the celebration at Windsor in the uniform of the 24th Regiment. This was strictly forbidden by the Colonel. Col. Rankin also announced that the looked for uniforms for the bugle band would in all probability be here for the next marchout, when the bugle band will turnout with the regiment.

CAMPAIGN MEETING

A meeting was held last evening in the interests of the Liberal candidate, T. L. Pardo. Ald. McCoig, of this city, was the first speaker, speaking along the usual lines and was responded to by J. M. Pike for the opposition. Mr. Mulvey, of Toronto, was the next speaker for Pardo. It will be remembered that this gentleman was here in the Smith-Stephens campaign, but the constituency became too warm for him at that time and he was forced to retire from the field.

Mr. Fyran then spoke for Mr. Fraser, answering Mulvey.

A. H. White followed for Pardo and the meeting broke up with the usual cheers.

Joseph Tait, who has been spending a few days in the city, left yesterday for Windsor.

ly sent into the constituency by men working on behalf of the Liberal party for the express purpose of taking part in Mr. Macnish's behalf in the election, and he believed that fraudulent and corrupt means were used by some of such persons to secure his election; that some of said persons illegally and without authority acted as deputy returning officers, and in at least three cases so acted in the names of reputable local men, having under assumed names been introduced to the returning officer by local agents of Mr. Macnish. That the declared number of votes for Mr. Macnish largely exceeded the number of bona-fide votes cast for him.

WHO BOLE IS.
"Duncan Bole was one of these fraudulent deputy returning officers. He took the place of a Mr. Stafford, since dead, who had been appointed deputy in polling division No. 4, Southwold, without warrant from the returning officer. From Stafford he wrongfully got possession of the ballot box, ballot papers, etc., and, as found by the commission appointed by the Ross Government, illegally acted as deputy returning officer.

"In his polling booth, from 40 to 50 McDiarmid ballots were converted into Macnish votes by this expert, making a difference of between 80 and 100 votes at this one place, and totally changing the result of the count over to Mr. Macnish. Bole was a Government officer at Sault Ste. Marie, but while in West Elgin he registered as from Ingersoll. About

Crown officers, the Premier spoke as follows:
"I... shall devote all my energies, not simply to the development of the country, but to the moral development of the people. Righteousness exalteth a nation. Let us strengthen the moral foundations of this country, thus purifying elections where they are impure."

"You would not think that this highly moral statesman would have any connection with a man like Duncan Bole. You would deny at once the charge that during all these three years the Premier of Ontario has known—or ought to have known—where this 'fugitive from justice' as he has been described by a leading Liberal statesman, has been carrying on business.

WHAT MR. ROSS SAID.
"You would be horrified if I told you that Duncan Bole, the man who fled from charges of perjury, fraud, and other criminal offences, has acted while still a fugitive from justice, with the knowledge and consent of Hon. George W. Ross, in a position of trust in a company of which George W. Ross is president. But I tell you now that this is true. Photographs cannot lie—they differ from Grit journals in that respect. I have here a photograph of an insurance receipt, issued by the Manufacturers and Temperance and General Life Assurance Company, to Adam Rosenberg, in Jamaica. This receipt is dated April 15th, 1902, just a month ago. It is signed—by whom? By Duncan Bole. It is countersigned by Duncan Bole.

"And who do you think has also signed this interesting document?—George W. Ross, the president of the company for which Duncan Bole acts as agent; George W. Ross, the Pre-

PIONEER CALLED

Sarah Ann Colby, beloved wife of Jacob Colby, Murray street, died on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, aged 67 years and three months.

Deceased has been sick for the last four weeks with heart disease, and her death was not entirely unexpected. She has been in poor health ever since she moved to Chatham, and her death was deserved of some time ago. She recovered somewhat, but became suddenly worse four weeks ago.

Deceased is one of the pioneers of Kent, and has lived here all of her life. Her maiden name was McGloaghton, and after her marriage to Mr. Colby they settled down on the 6th concession of Harwich. A year ago Mr. Colby retired, and they moved to the city and took up their residence on Murray street. Besides a husband she leaves two children to mourn her loss. They are Mrs. Lampman, of this city and W. D. Colby on the old homestead. Three sisters and two brothers also survive her. They are Mrs. J. H. Golden, Lacota, Mich.; Mrs. J. C. Colby, city; Mrs. J. O. Leitch, of Dover, Ohio; Mrs. J. E. McGloaghton, Dresden, and W. E. McGloaghton, of Everett, Wash.

Deceased was a member of the Park St. Methodist church and all during her illness she was comforted by Christian faith and fortitude.

The funeral will take place on Sunday at two o'clock to the Maple Leaf Cemetery. Rev. Dr. Hannon will conduct the obsequies.

Ferdinand Pare, drowned in Windsor, was at one time a resident of this city. He was a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. William McPaul, Taylor avenue. Mrs. McPaul and son have gone to Windsor.

People's Day—May 29th

SATURDAY, MAY 24.

WAS THIS HONEST?

The people of Kent who assembled in such large force at the recent meeting in Chatham at which Premier Ross spoke will remember the self-righteous way in which he extolled himself and his Government for prosecuting—as he put it—"those who took part in the corruption of the ballot." Thirty convictions had, he said, been made and fines imposed to the amount of $7,500. And Mr. Ross added impressively that he had kept his word when he promised "to take steps towards prosecuting those who took part in the corruption of the ballot."

But, as Mr. Clancy pointed out in his address at Ridgeway, Mr. Ross did not tell the people that the fines were all collected from the prosecution of the poor dupes who took the money. Of Ross' machine men, who distributed it, not one cent was collected, not one prosecution was made. These machine men were punished as follows:

W. T. R. Preston—the gentleman of "Hug the Machine" notoriety—who managed the West Elgin election, Immigration Commissioner in England, $3,000 a year at first, $5,000 a year now.

D. F. Macdonald, organizer, re-appointed Forest Ranger and Inspector of Timber Limits.

Thos. Coleman, who introduced a Deputy Returning Officer to Sheriff, appointed License Inspector.

James Robertson, who burned the ballots by mistake, given a raise of $100 a year in his salary.

Duncan Bole, the ballot switcher, a fugitive from justice, now in Jamaica employed by the company of which Premier Ross is president and whose signature appears with Ross on the company's receipts.

Election of Kent, judge for yourself, is this man Ross a hypocrite? Is he honest?

THE CONTEST.

All the indications are that Ross will be defeated on Thursday next.

There is a popular wave sweeping over the province that will engulf the ministers and the Liberals with them.

Mr. Whitney has the people with him.

Everybody has caught on to the idea that after 30 years of office it is time to count the cash.

The hypocrisy of Mr. Ross on the question of prohibition has disgusted many honest Liberals who are prohibitionists.

The people are for a change, for new men, a new policy, fresh officials, a turning inside out of the government machine.

The people think it is time to break away from the rule of corporations, imposed upon them by the Liberals.

The fact that nearly every minister is an adventurer as president or director of a total of some 38 corporations, has made the people think.

The men who are in the liquor business only want a chance, and they see it at hand, to get away from the political thralldom that now enmeshes their business.

Half the Liberals who have been forced by pressure of one kind or another from Ottawa to throw in their services are doing it in a half-hearted way.

The men who have run the machine in previous elections have a fear of being caught this time if they try to repeat their frauds.

There is a pugnacious feeling in the inner Liberal circles, especially since it has dawned upon them that money cannot save them.

The Honorable Elihu J. Davis is already beaten in North York.

The Conservatives boldly declare that they will carry every one of the six seats that centre about Belleville.

In the West the Liberals are surprised at the number of their seats that have passed into the doubtful class.

London will return Adam Beck, and Peel, Mr. Charters.

The new constituencies of New Ontario are for a new policy.

And Whitney's friends were first and second in the King's Plate—Toronto World.

FOR THE YOUNG MEN.

It was in the interests of the young men of this Province that Finlay G. Macdormid brought in a bill to abolish poll tax. Mr. Macdormid urged that either those in our towns and cities who are called upon to pay the tax should be allowed all the privileges of full-fledged citizens, or that the poll tax should be abolished. Mr. Macdormid's bill to abolish this unfair tax was thrown out by the machine Government. But in the next session, with Mr. Whitney as Premier, the young men can rest assured that the days of the poll tax are over.—St. Thomas Times.

POLITICAL PUZZLE.

The following estimates of the Liberal-Conservative chieftain present an interesting enigma:

At Sarnia Whitney called Mr. Ross a "slimy reptile," and at other places, including Chatham, he has been no less indecent. Mr. Cowan said he could go to Detroit and get a drunken fishwife out of the city who could give Mr. Whitney cards and spades. Mr. Cowan is quite mistaken. There never was a fishwife in any land who in lungs and vocabulary could compete with the leader of the Ontario Opposition. His presence in politics is a disgrace to the Province.—Banner.

Mr. Whitney is a man who commands admiration for his conscientious and courageous convictions.—John Lee, Liberal candidate for East Kent.

"Puzzle—Find the vituperative fishwife."

MR. CLERGUE WELCOMED WHITNEY.

Mr. J. P. Whitney and his party have scored a success in New Ontario beyond the fondest hopes of their friends. Everywhere they were greeted by thousands, who cheered the coming Premier of Ontario to the echo. Mr. F. H. Clergue, the great developer of Sault Ste. Marie, entertained the opposition representatives in a most hearty manner. Mr. Clergue's reception of Mr. Whitney, and the very large attendance at the meetings addressed by the Conservative leader, are fitting answers to Mr. Ross' declaration, that if Mr. Whitney is returned to power, the industries of Ontario will be paralyzed. Mr. Clergue has every confidence in Mr. Whitney, whose untiring advocacy of the development of Old Ontario and New Ontario forced Mr. Ross to adopt measures which the Liberal Government fought against tooth and nail. The revolt in New Ontario against a Government of neglect and oppression has wiped out all doubts as to who will be the next Premier of Ontario. "Mr. Whitney will be returned by a substantial majority," is the consensus of opinion in all parts of the Province.

IT'S UP TO YOU.

That is where some people feel weak all the time.

They are likely to be despondent and it is not unusual to find them borrowing trouble as if they hadn't enough already.

The fact is their kidneys are weak, either naturally or because of sickness, exposure, worry or other influences.

"I was taken ill with a kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Thomas Lamb, of Wallaceburg, Ont., "and became so weak I could scarcely get around. I had headache, and cramps in my stomach, and my food did not digest. I took medicine without benefit, and finally decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. After the first bottle I felt so much better I continued its use and six bottles made me a new woman."

Turning into the home stretch and well in the lead.

To-morrow, Mr. Pardo, is the Sabbath. And we would suggest that you keep your heels at home. Their desecration of the day two weeks ago must not be repeated.

John Lee, the Liberal candidate for East Kent, should explain what he meant by "the riff-raff and rag-tail working class." And his colleague, Mr. Pardo, should say whether he spoke for him, too.

And the Banner quotes M. K. Cowan, M. P., on the subject of invective and personal abuse. It could quote no one more apt or experienced therein—begging its pardon, itself excepted.

"In my opinion, the cost of the school books can be materially lowered, and, if in no other way, that result can be attained by the publication of them by the Government."

—Mr. J. P. Whitney.

George Johns says that even in the last Parliament the people had to appeal to Mr. Whitney, leader of the opposition, to secure their rights. He'll be in a better position to protect and advance them after next Thursday.

After the nomination of candidates for the east riding of Kent at Ridgeway yesterday, a public meeting was organized, Dr. Samson of Windsor, and Mr. J. C. Clancy, M. P., of Wallaceburg, addressing the electors.—Banner report in full.

You don't say! There really was a meeting in Ridgeway, then? And the Banner, like Mr. Pardo—evidently knew enough to hold its tongue.

At Sarnia Whitney called Mr. Ross a "slimy reptile," and at other places, including Chatham, he has been no less indecent.—Banner.

We must beg to call the attention of the Pardo organ to the fact that Mr. Whitney used no such expression at Sarnia, or anywhere else for that matter. We are afraid the Banner has again been led astray "on the authority of Mr. Ross himself, as reported in the daily press." First thing we know the Banner will have good reason to remember Ross.

Health is a touchy possession; disobey one of its commands and off it goes.

A grain of sand in the eye can cause excruciating agony. A grain of pepper in place of the grain of sand intensifies the torment. The pain is not confined to the organs affected. The whole body feels the shock of that little irritating particle. It is so when there is any derangement or disorder of the delicate womanly organs. The "wonder" may seem trivial but the whole body feels it. The nervous system is disordered. There are fretfulness, irritability, sullenness and depression of spirits. The general health of woman depends on the local health of the organs peculiarly feminine. Remove the drains, ulcerations, bearing down pains, and other afflictions of woman, and the whole body feels the benefit. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a specific for the diseases that undermine the strength of women. It is free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics, poisons which enter into many other preparations for women's use. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

WORLD OF SPORT

LAWN BOWLING.

The bowling ground on Tuesday evening was the scene of a keenly contested match between teams picked by President James Rutherford and Vice-President Dr. Gibb. Owing to illness, the president was unable to be present, but this seemed only to spur the men of his choice to such efforts that they won out with six points to spare.

An invitation has been received from the St. Thomas club to play a match there on Monday next, 28th inst., and it is expected that at least twelve players will go from Blenheim.

Blenheim News.

THE GUN.

The Ridgetown Gun Club have joined the Dominion Trap Shooting and Game Protection Association, registered their entry for the tournament team shoot to take place in Hamilton on Aug. 14, 15 and 16.

Our local gun club will take part in the shooting tournament to be held in Chatham next month—Highgate Monitor.

LACROSSE.

The lacrosse team in Blenheim has been undergoing hard and systematic training, and the boys are in excellent condition for their two games on Monday with Rodney and St. Thomas, says the Blenheim News. Many who have not seen the players at practice, have had the idea that this year's team will be inferior to last year's, on account of the absence of some of the old players; but such is not the case. Those who are best qualified to know say that the team is considerably superior to what it was last season.

A feature in the Kent's style of play this year will probably be the adoption of the tipping game by defence as well as offence. Long throws have been considered a weakness, and will probably be discontinued. The team for Monday will probably be as follows:

Goal—James Burk.
Point—Frank Knight.
Cover point—John Blewett.
1st defence—G. Fanst.
2nd defence—A. Cox.
3rd defence—Willis Bell.
Centre—C. F. Gibson.
3rd home—W. Grant.
2nd home—R. Clements.
1st home—S. Burk.
Outside home—D. Stephenson.
Inside home—A. Shillington.

WHERE THERE'S SMOKE

There's fire, the saying runs, and so as a general rule the saying holds true. The fire is unseen, hidden, but the ascending smoke makes its presence undoubted.

Similarly you can argue from eruptions of the skin to corrupt blood. You can't see the blood, but the pimples, boils, etc., which mar the skin surely indicate impure blood. For this reason the medicine which cures these surface blemishes must cure them through the blood.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood, removes the waste and poisonous substances which corrupt it, and thus cures diseases which originate in impure blood, such as boils, pimples, salt-rheum, tetter, eczema, sores, and other painful and disfiguring diseases.

"Golden Medical Discovery" also increases the activity of the blood-making glands, thus increasing the supply of pure blood, rich in the red corpuscles of health.

"It gives me much pleasure to testify to the cures effected by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Miss Annie Wells of Ferguson's Wharf, Isle of Wight Co., Va. "I can say honestly and candidly that it is the grandest medicine ever compounded for purifying the blood. I suffered terribly with rheumatism, and pimples on the skin and swelling in my knees and feet so that I could not walk. I spent about twenty dollars paying doctors bills but received no benefit. A year or two ago I was reading one of your Medical Remedies and I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' and an entirely cured."

Accept no substitute for 'Golden Medical Discovery.' There is nothing 'just as good' for diseases of the stomach, blood, and lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the bowels.

NANTUCKET LIGHTSHIP.

Out upon the restless ocean
Off Nantucket's treacherous shore,
Two bright lights are always gleaming.

Where you hear the fog horn's roar,
Like a watchful sentry posted
Rides the lightship on the waves,
And from hidden death and danger
Many a storm-tossed sailor saved.

He who guides the stately liner
Swiftly on her westward way
Breathes a prayer of thanksgiving
When he sees that friendly ray,
As with caution slowly steaming
Through the mist that wraps him round,
Off the starboard bow like music
Hears the whistle's welcome sound.

But of late a noble genius
Added to the lightship's worth.
On the waves of air a message
Now can glide like a bird on earth.
And by wireless telegraph
Forty miles at sea or more
Vessels send a final greeting.
Through the lightship to the shore.

Thus dear friends from distant countries
Speeding homeward o'er the main
Send ahead the welcome tidings
"We are nearing home again."
Or upon the eastward journey
As across the foam they fly,
To the loved ones they are leaving
Wait a final fond good-bye.

A life of pleasure makes even the strongest feel a frivolous at last.

He who wishes to secure the good of others has already secured his own.

Indigestion

and nervousness are often the result of hurried meals.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt

stimulates and tones the digestive organs enabling the stomach to digest perfectly.

Those who suffer will find Abbey's Salt a perfect corrective of all stomach disorders. Dyspepsia cannot be cured by doctoring the effect. Abbey's Salt removes the causes by enabling the stomach to do its work properly. A mild laxative.

District Dashes

Miss Lizzie Nonack has been engaged as principal of the Charing Cross school for the remainder of the year.

Miss Eliza Cumberland, the colored lady who has so faithfully fulfilled the duties of caring for the orphans left in her charge a number of years ago, was taken to the hospital at Chatham on Saturday, suffering from severe illness.—Blenheim News.

Mr. Wm. Morgan, who recently disposed of his property near the L. E. & D. R. R., has moved to Renwick, five miles from where his son Charles lately located. He has bought a forty-five acres of farm land, the price paid being $2300.—Blenheim News.

While a number of young lads were amusing themselves with the other day with powder and an old gun barrel, an unexpected discharge occurred and Arthur Peacock was struck in the face, causing wounds of a very nasty nature.—Blenheim News.

Dr. Langford returned home on Monday after a pleasant and profitable trip to New York and Baltimore, where he took up clinical work in the New York Polytechnic and John Hopkins University and Hospital.—Blenheim Tribune.

That things are booming in Dresden is clearly seen by the fact that there are many new houses being built and contracts are about to be let for a number of others. The state of affairs we are all pleased to see. Let the good work in this line continue.—Dresden Standard.

While working at Erieau, building a cottage for Mr. Glenn, Elijah Courtney, of Chatham, fell from the scaffold Thursday evening, sustaining injuries which will keep him from work for some time. At first he thought the injury was slight, but was at last obliged to get assistance. As there was no doctor at the Eau, he was brought to Blenheim on a handcar, Saturday morning, and thence by train to Chatham.—Blenheim News.

The threshers of Tilbury North and Tilbury West, at a meeting in Essex on Saturday, decided to fix the price for threshing at $12 per day. In the other portions of the county the price will be 2c per bushel all around—a considerably higher price. The former price in the Tilburys was $10 per day, while the prices of the new competitors of the alleged combine has already been fixed at $14 per day, so that the price in this line will be $2 out.

A boom seems to have struck Erieau, and it will probably be more popular this year as a summer resort than ever before. Preparations for the installation of the new coal hoist are well underway, and the appearance of things near what was formerly the railroad terminus has been greatly changed, by moving the station, switches, etc. Last fall a new cottage was built by Dr. Young, of Ridgetown, near the Mallory home. This spring, besides the Mallory boarding house, cottages have been erected by Messrs. John Sheldon, of Blenheim, and John Barnett, of Cleveland.

Glenn, of Chatham, has also commenced the erection of two more cottages at Centreville, having early in the season rented all his present buildings to Cleveland people. Mr. George Raymond, of Chatham, will move his cottage from where it stood at Centreville to property that he has leased near Capt. Post's land. Mr. John S. Laing will improve his building by the addition of a verandah.—Blenheim News.

REGIMENT ORDERS

Headquarters 24th "Kent" Regiment.

1. The company drills will be continued next week on the usual nights (except Monday) at 8 o'clock.

2. The Regiment will be graded on Friday night at 8 o'clock for Battalion drill and march-out.

3. The officers' class will be held every morning except Sunday and Monday at 8 o'clock.

4. It is announced for the information of all ranks, that Color-Sergeant M. D. Fraser has been selected by the authorities at Headquarters to represent the 24th Regiment on the Coronation Contingent.

By Order,
WM. MOWBRAY, Capt.
Acting-Adjutant.

His Obligation.

The Duc de Roquelaure was far, very far, from being handsome. One day he met in the street an ugly Auvergnat who had some petition or memorial to present at Versailles. He immediately introduced him to Louis XIV., remarking that he was under a special obligation to the gentleman. The king granted the favor asked and then inquired of the duke what was this pressing obligation. "But for him, your majesty, I should be the ugliest man in your dominions."

It Wasn't Lighted.

A mother was calling the attention of her little boy to the moon, when he was to be seen clearly but pallidly in the early afternoon.

"Why, you can't see the moon in the daytime," replied the youngster.

"Oh, yes, you can. There it is over the trees."

The little fellow looked hard and had to admit the fact that he saw it, but he added, "Tal't lighted, anyhow."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. WARRANT ISSUED TO-DAY AGAINST ELECTION PERJURER

Men Who Took False Oaths at the Recent Registration Courts to be Prosecuted—Other Cases Being Investigated.

This morning, acting on the instructions of Judge Houston, to whom the matter was reported, Officer Tom Groves commenced a vigorous investigation of several cases of alleged perjury in connection with the recent sittings of the Registration courts.

A series of serious misdemeanors have been brought to the notice of the officials and Officer Groves is in charge of their investigation and prosecution.

As a result a warrant was this afternoon issued against Leon Reaume, the man to whom reference was made in Thursday's Planet. Reaume is alleged to have been brought from Detroit for the object of registration.

Several other cases are under investigation, and, if proof is forthcoming, Judge Houston says warrants will be immediately issued.

CELEBRATED EMPIRE DAY

Occasion was Fittingly Commemorated at Maple City Schools.

Pleasing Program at Central—Doing as McKeough—A Memorable Day.

Empire day was right royally celebrated yesterday in the Central school and the new rooms on the top floor were at the same time opened for the inspection of the public.

Great credit is due of the day's program. The school was prettily decorated, and the program shows the excellent talent of the pupils and how it has been brought out by the work of the teachers as follows:—

UPPER HALL.

God Save the King.

Chairman's Address—Dr. R. V. Bray.

Chorus, Prince George—School.

Address—Rev. W. E. Knowles.

Solo, His Majesty—Miss Gertrude Potter.

Recitation—Miss Edna Hicklin.

Address—Rev. T. B. Smith.

Solo—Miss Pearl White.

Chorus, A Song for all the Britons—School.

Recitation—Inspector Park.

Class Recitation, A Summer Day in Church—Fourteen Girls.

Solo and Chorus, Listen to the Band—Miss Gertrude Potter and School.

Recitation—When the Minister Comes to Tea—Mildred McLean.

Address—Dr. A. W. Thornton.

Class Recitation, A Summer Day in Church—Fourteen Pupils.

Address—Rev. W. E. Knowles.

Solo and Chorus, Prince George—Jas. Barfoot and School.

Recitation—Miss Edna Hicklin.

Address—Inspector Park.

Mizpah.

McKeough School, pupils and teachers alike, celebrated the Empire Day with games, races, patriotic songs, and readings on the extent and history of the British Empire.

The first half hour of the afternoon was taken up with the study of the British Empire, showing its vastness, its power and what it has done. Patriotic songs, including the "Maple Leaf," "The Song of all the Britons," "Greeting to the King," and others.

On the school grounds were seen the smaller girls playing pom pom pull away, ring around a rosy, drop the handkerchief, old-fashioned baseball, etc., while the larger boys were at their game of baseball, one side of which was captained by the principal, James Brackin, who takes a great interest in the sports.

Then again the larger girls and the smaller boys were seen inside the school house, playing at pin-pong, parchees, parlor quills, fish pond, etc. Altogether it was a very happy day.

COURT IN CHINA.

The Chang's Conditions in Peking—Sir Robert Hart Received for First Time After Forty Years' Service.

Sir Robert Hart, who has been in the Chinese service for nearly 40 years, was for the first time received at the Imperial Court in Peking on the last Monday in February, being accorded an audience by the Emperor and the Dowager Empress.

Monsieur Favier, the French Bishop, and M. Polakoff, manager of the Russo-Chinese Bank, also had an audience. Sir Robert Hart afterwards said the Dowager Empress impressed him as being honestly anxious to do whatever might be for her country's good.

The siege was mentioned only once, and that was when the Dowager Empress referred to Sir Robert's house. He explained that the house was destroyed with the others.

The Dowager Empress exclaimed apologetically in a Chinese idiom meaning, "You hold me guilty."

Despite these innovations the majority of Chinese reformers take a pessimistic view of the future. They hold that the Manchurian Dynasty, whatever its intentions may be, is mentally and morally incapable of genuine reform, which must begin by uprooting the financial corruption which permeates the present system.

They think that the original sin of the Empire, just as desirable or even more so, than those they originally held. The increase of the Dowager Empress' prestige is the one unmistakable fact in the present transitory condition of affairs.

The Ministers who, before the return of the Court, believed that foreign Governments should use their influence to make the Emperor's nominal position a real one have changed their mind, and are convinced that the Dowager Empress should be recognized as ruler.

Metals That Cost.

One of the most curious of the rare metals is vanadium, which melts at 2,000 degrees F. and is not attacked by either muriatic acid or nitric acid. It increases the ductility of copper and iron and would be very valuable to electro metallurgists on account of the properties named if the price of it were not so high, $592 a pound. Its chief use at present is for coloring glass.

Uranium is likewise employed in the making of glass and porcelain, though it is expensive, being worth $86 a pound.

Iridium is valued to-day at $730 a pound and is the hardest metal known. It is used for tips of gold pens. Palladium costs $482 a pound and is employed for astronomical instruments.

Lithium, which is quoted at $1,100 a pound, is prescribed by doctors for rheumatism—its salts, that is to say—but no use has been found for it outside of medicine.

Like a Great Fossil Lord.

Lord Rosebery, according to T. P. O'Connor, lives the life of a great fossil lord on his estates. He has a host of retainers, splendid equipages, and everywhere his coronet is in evidence. He travels from one of his great houses to another with postillions as if railways had not been invented. The Liberal leader is a great noble, and the people like him all the better for being apart from them in the pomp and circumstance of his life.

THE MARKETS

There was a very poor Saturday market this morning. This is, doubtless, owing to the recent heavy rain-storm and the subsequent bad condition of the roads. In the vegetables green stuff was the chief product of fered and it sold at unchanged prices from last Saturday. Dairy produce also was very scarce. A limited amount of butter was sold at from 17 to 20 cents a pound. Eggs brought 12 cents and chickens from 30 to 55 cents each.

The following is the full price list:

IN THE SHEEDS.
Eggs, 12c. per doz.
Butter, 17c. to 20c. per lb.
Chickens, each, 30c. to 55c.

VEGETABLES.

"CONSENT THOU NOT"

Solomon Warns Young Man of Life's Temptations.

ALSO AGAINST FALSE FRIENDS

"Whoever a Man Soweth That Shall He Reap"—Impudence of Starting Right—Once Having Yielded to Sin We Can Never Be the Same Again—A Young Man's Best Friends.

Entered According to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1902, by William Baily, of Toronto, at the Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Chicago, May 18.—In this sermon the Rev. Frank De Witt Talnage warns young people against the temptations which would lead them to ruin; text, Proverbs 1:10, "My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not."

No cathedral, it matters not how lofty the spires or how wonderful the statuary or how many and bewildering the architecture, awes the tourist into reverence unless time has hallowed it. Then the centuries have covered up the crumbling walls with moss and creeping ivy; then Westminster Abbey, with its dark, damp, dripping vaults, has become the sepulchre of dead kings and queens. In the same way no man has a right to give advice or tell us what to do unless he has first lived through the temptations which would lead them to ruin; text, Proverbs 1:10, "My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not."

King Solomon wrote with authority. He had drunk from the chalice of pleasure. He had quaffed to the bitter dregs every cup of woe. He had seen the ups as well as the downs of life. He was no fanatic or adventurer. He was the king who sat upon the richest throne of the then known world. His pillared halls were lined with statuary. The fountains moistened the throats of birds whose ancestors once cleansed their plumage or sang their young to sleep in foreign lands. His cellars were filled with wine of choicest vintage.

The throne room and judgment hall were circled by rooms above rooms. Near by were his harems, in which the king gathered a thousand wives and concubines. As the wit once wrote of Brigham Young, King Solomon was the most married man that ever lived. Not only was he great and increased more than all the kings before him in Jerusalem, but his wisdom remained with him. When two women claimed a little child, Solomon ordered his executioner to cut the baby in twain and give half to each. The real mother fell on her knees and begged him to save the child and if necessary give it to her enemy. Then said Solomon: "She is the true mother. Give her the child." As a gardener, he knew all about flowers; as an equestrian, all about horses; as an architect, all about buildings. He made the art our teacher. As a merchant, he lingered in the busy marts to tell us how to trade. Today, amid wealth and power, within sound of clinking tankards of gold and rumbling chariot wheels, the old sage writes an eternal protest against sin. "My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not."

Young men dislike to be patronized. Although willing to accept other in terms of familiarity, we dislike older people to pat us condescendingly upon the back. So today as a young man, I thought you young people would let me try to interpret these words of the Bible. I would especially interpret them now, because many of you who have come from far away are for the first time living in a great city. You are away from home, away from father and mother. Unless you start right you will never get right. The glory of young men is their strength. The way to keep that strength is to refuse to allow the sinful dissipations to sap the virility of youth.

King Solomon warns the young people against sin, because young folks are apt to be thoughtlessly reckless. They do not want to be bad; they have no intention of throwing overboard all the past teachings of probity and right; they are naturally religious; they say their prayers when they arise in the morning; they say their prayers again before going to bed at night. But they are full of fun and animated spirits. They laugh and sing and frolic just as a colt capers, a kitten plays with her tail and a bird flies hither and thither for the mere pleasure of flying. A full blooded lad cannot keep still. He squirms and twists and whispers and passes notes in the schoolroom. He does about everything that the teacher tells him not to do. If you ask him why he does thus, he could not answer. What schoolboy when out in the country has not tried to see how near he could skate to the hole in the ice? What boy has not fished when standing upon a rolling log or has not tried to walk across a dangerous trestle or has not climbed a steep precipice until his brain was dizzy with vertigo? What boy has not tried to swim across a river merely because the older boys said he could not?

A wealthy gentleman once advertised for a coachman. To every applicant who came he put this one question, "How near can you drive a team of horses to the edge of a precipice without going over?" "Well," answered one would be coachman, "I can go within twenty feet." "Well," answered another, "I could go within twelve feet." "Well," answered a third, "I could go within eight feet," and another said, "Within five feet." At last one applicant said, of Dodd's Kidney Pills are legion. The box is imitated, the outside coating and shape of the pills are imitated and the name—Dodd's Kidney Pills is imitated. Imitations are dangerous. The original is safe. Dodd's Kidney Pills have a reputation. Imitators have none or they wouldn't imitate. So they trade on the reputation of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Do not be deceived. There is only one DODD'S. Dodd's is the original. Dodd's is the name to be careful about—

Imitations

D-O-D-D'S KIDNEY PILLS

"If the horde amounted to anything I would be so frightened that I would take the other side of the road and get as far away from the precipice as I could." "Ah," answered the gentleman, "you are the man I am looking for. I do not want the driver who runs into danger, but the man who will stay away. I'll hire you." Who is the wise navigator—the helmsman who points the ship's prow toward the reef or the coast or the pilot who keeps the keel in deep waters? Are you recklessly going to do that which your father and mother, the Bible, the church and all good men and all good women tell you not to do?

King Solomon warns against sin because young people are apt to become despondent. Perhaps this discouragement will be caused by homesickness. The loneliest place on earth is a great city. In the country town you knew everybody, and everybody knew you. While the village minister was preaching you would be watching the neighbor's daughter, whom you expect some day to make your wife. When you trudged away to school, you were full of good men and all good women tell you not to do? King Solomon warns against sin because young people are apt to become despondent. Perhaps this discouragement will be caused by homesickness. The loneliest place on earth is a great city. In the country town you knew everybody, and everybody knew you. While the village minister was preaching you would be watching the neighbor's daughter, whom you expect some day to make your wife. When you trudged away to school, you were full of good men and all good women tell you not to do?

King Solomon warns the young folks against sin because evil companions are always the first to extend the right hand of welcome. The good young man says: "I cannot afford to associate with every one. I cannot go with every stray acquaintance whom I meet upon the street. I should live in the city as I live at home. I ought not to consort with every one who is a church member. He is too busy to gossip during business hours, and so it will take some time for him and you to become fast friends. After awhile he will invite you to a social or a night school or to some lecture or meeting. He asks you what books you read and then offers to lend you one of the classics. By and by you arrange to take your vacations together. Then the good young man gives to you the highest compliment of his life—he asks you to come home with him and visit his mother. That dear old lady welcomes you as only his mother can. She knows your own home is so far away that it is impossible for you to go there and get back to the store when the two holidays are over.

But the bad young man is never happy. He has been acquainted with him since you enter the store. He offers you a cigarette or invites you later to take a drink. He stops you in the hall and wants in a long talk. He is always laughing when the head of the department is away. After a little while he begins to make fun of your Bible. He ridicules you as stingy and says, "You must get rid of your money home to support a widowed mother and five fatherless children, and then, if you have money to spend, he and his evil companions will get together and spend it. If you will let them, as a field of clover tops will empty all the beehives from far and near. But after your money is gone and position and health gone and honor gone they will care no more for you than for a dead cur in the street. The night you die the saloons will be as crowded, the glasses will click as merrily as ever. At that bar which you now frequent there will not be a tear shed over you. The day your body is buried the same friends who are now laughing at you will grieve just as loudly with others as they now do with you, and if necessary they would be willing to gamble at your grave. King Solomon warns the young people not to consent to sin because after we have once yielded we will never be the same again. It would be pleasant if we could go on sinning and then after awhile say, "I guess I will stop and start over again." But we cannot say or do that. Whoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. If a man make a bed of sin, he will gather only the thorns. He must be lacerated by the thorns. After you have once robbed the firm will never fully trust you. After you have once wrecked your health you can never be anything but a suffering invalid. After you have once led an immortal soul astray and that soul has departed from earth to meet its judgment at the bar of God you can never change its eternal destiny. Many a man to-day would willingly cut off his right arm if he could only change the past. He cannot. The past is forever dead unless that past can be changed in a heavenly scene through the mercy and the pardon of God. Make not the mistake which so

What is the use of trying? Honesty is not the best policy. Perhaps your discouragement came in a cruel way. You had your foot upon the lowest rung and were beginning to climb the ladder of success, when suddenly the hard times came. The firm dissolved and you were discharged. You are now not only looking for a new place, but you have to commence all over again.

Now comes the warning against temptations. Now the old sage tells me to put the hand of love upon your shoulder and say, "My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not."

I give you this warning gladly and willingly, my brother, because these are the troubles which are fitting you for the mighty successes which are to come. Remember this great lesson—anything which develops quickly dies quickly. The insects are generated and grow to maturity in a few hours, but they also die of old age by night. The gourd which spreads its leaves over the head of the prophet Jonah withered as soon as it was touched of the east wind. The flower which blossoms in the spring goes to seed before the fall. It takes years and years to do a cedar of Lebanon. It takes centuries upon centuries to bury a coal mine. It takes at least one score years to make a man, and the more the friends who will associate with him when he is dying as well as when he is strong and well. As Solomon bids you to beware of evil companions, I will introduce to you one who will be the best friend a young man ever had. Young man, you cannot afford to face the temptations of a great city alone. Perhaps you know about this loving friend to whom I want to introduce you. He was with your sister when she died. Well, you remember how she smiled up into his face. He was with your mother during all her troubles in life. The last words your father spoke on earth was his name. That name—shall I speak it? Jesus! Jesus! Jesus! That is the friend who will see you all the way through if you will only trust him. You must now make a choice—a choice between this dear friend and evil companions. This is a very anxious moment for many of us. It is an anxious moment for Christ as well as for you.

One dark night a watchman fell asleep at his post and failed to signal the light on express. Leaping to his feet when the flying engine, as a shrieking monster, shot by, he saw the train disappear and realized that the drawbridge was open and all the passengers were lost. It was too much for human brain. The man went stark mad. Friends found him shivering and cowering in the corner of his room, a raving maniac, muttering to himself, "Oh, if I only had. If I only had!" Here comes thundering along the limited express full of gospel invitation. The train is flying with the speed of the lightning. Where are you going to do in reference to Christ, before it is too late? Over the dark abyss of sin will you throw the strong, straight beam of the cross, or will you let evil companions crush your hopes into ruins? Shall you be smiled at by the angel of hope or hissed at by the voice of despair? Will you accept this Jesus as your friend? Your loving Saviour and the Holy Spirit await the answer. "My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not."

The man who knows it all is a fit companion for the woman who knows nothing. Displeased. "No," said Colonel Stillwell, "I don't read poetry." "Why not?" "I got tired of waiting for them to quit harping on violets and crocuses and Johnny-jump-ups and sing a word or two about mint."—Washington Star.

This world belongs to the energetic.

many other men have made of having a bad record during the period of youth and then having that record curse all the midnoon and the twilight of your existence and curse you down to the grave.

During the persecution of the Huguenots in France a father and mother had to flee from the city for their lives. They had to leave behind an only girl. Fearing lest he should not recognize his child again, the father took a sharp knife and cut the arm of the child almost to the bone. Time passed on. The war was ended, and the father and mother returned to the French capital. They went everywhere looking for their long lost daughter. When the father thought he saw his child, he would examine the arm just above the wrist. At last he found his child. He found her by the scars. So Satan puts the fatal mark of sin upon every one of his disciples. Though we may repent of our past, though we may agonize before our friends, though we may introduce to our friends, though we may receive a heavenly pardon, we cannot in an earthly sense obliterate the telltale signs of the past.

But the greatest lesson of this text is yet to be spoken. Solomon tells us not to let evil companions entice us away. But man is a social being. He longs for friends. He must have friends who will associate with him when he is dying as well as when he is strong and well. As Solomon bids you to beware of evil companions, I will introduce to you one who will be the best friend a young man ever had. Young man, you cannot afford to face the temptations of a great city alone. Perhaps you know about this loving friend to whom I want to introduce you. He was with your sister when she died. Well, you remember how she smiled up into his face. He was with your mother during all her troubles in life. The last words your father spoke on earth was his name. That name—shall I speak it? Jesus! Jesus! Jesus! That is the friend who will see you all the way through if you will only trust him. You must now make a choice—a choice between this dear friend and evil companions. This is a very anxious moment for many of us. It is an anxious moment for Christ as well as for you.

One dark night a watchman fell asleep at his post and failed to signal the light on express. Leaping to his feet when the flying engine, as a shrieking monster, shot by, he saw the train disappear and realized that the drawbridge was open and all the passengers were lost. It was too much for human brain. The man went stark mad. Friends found him shivering and cowering in the corner of his room, a raving maniac, muttering to himself, "Oh, if I only had. If I only had!" Here comes thundering along the limited express full of gospel invitation. The train is flying with the speed of the lightning. Where are you going to do in reference to Christ, before it is too late? Over the dark abyss of sin will you throw the strong, straight beam of the cross, or will you let evil companions crush your hopes into ruins? Shall you be smiled at by the angel of hope or hissed at by the voice of despair? Will you accept this Jesus as your friend? Your loving Saviour and the Holy Spirit await the answer. "My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not."

The man who knows it all is a fit companion for the woman who knows nothing. Displeased. "No," said Colonel Stillwell, "I don't read poetry." "Why not?" "I got tired of waiting for them to quit harping on violets and crocuses and Johnny-jump-ups and sing a word or two about mint."—Washington Star.

His Oration. The valdeictorian then stepped forward and delivered his oration. His subject was "Some of the Problems That Confront Civilization." He merely enumerated the problems. He had no solution for any of them.—Chicago Tribune.

Comparison. Grocer—"What is it, little girl?" Little Girl—Mamma sent me for a lamp chimney, and she says she hopes it will be as strong as that last butter you sent us.—New York Journal.

His Drawbacks. "Summer will soon be here, Hiram." "Yes; about the time we get warm through once more the flies will begin to bother us."—Indianapolis News.

Nothing Doing. Condoned. Mamma—Did you tell God how naughty you were? Ethel—Yes, and I guess I wasn't so awful naughty after all, 'cause he didn't make any fuss about it.—Philadelphia Press.

A Delicate Point. "It seems to me Scaddington's wife as mad as a hornet every time he boasts that he began at the foot and worked his way up." "Well, he started in as a bootblack, you know."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Gold Brick Brown—Den youse don't want to buy it? Uncle Jon—Well, not just now, sonny. You see, the gilt ain't quite worn off the last one I got from you.

This world belongs to the energetic.

Pardo? No Show! John Lee? Up a tree!

It was Lee's jawin' that got George Johns in the field.

George Johns says that both parties will have an idea that he is running.

A criminal can go to the Banner-News with any old yarn and be believed.

Have you noticed that the Ontario Grit officials aren't saying a word these days.

Clifford told my careless contemporary a nice story of acquittal and was believed.

A Moravian maiden named Snake has been arrested on the charge of snaking finery.

Bellamy's "looking backward" isn't in it in absurdity with Archie McCog's coming race.

If you don't know what the double cross is wait till election day and you will see Ross get it.

We're going to win all along the line. We have already got a start with a seat by acclamation.

Screw-tater having a vivid imagination and fertile brain could fill a book with Pardo's past record.

Mr. Pardo is spending a few days visiting friends in Kent County. He will return home Thursday evening.

Lee roared Johns from the public platform on Monday in Chatham. Thursday Johns cooked Lee's hash.

It was awful mean of those wicked Grits to crack that good Tory's safe and take his money for election purposes.

If bragging about doing things were work, this campaign would be the greatest the Grits ever put up in this riding.

John Lee has never been accused of being shy but he will be shy about 200 votes, more or less, on the evening of May 29th.

I don't think my contemporary should be put on the Indian list just because it appeared in red and was dubbed a red-skin.

The reason that E. J. MacIntyre didn't give a medal for his afraid he would win it himself.

Why can't the Banner-News talk about such a little thing as a tied class certificate without trying to deceive the electors.

I'll tell you how C will fix Ross. A C in front of Ross, makes cross, and a cross after the Whitney candidate's name will do the deed.

Sixteen hotel keepers at 25 dollars each come to $400. No wonder the Grits boast of their haul. It's a great graft, but it's the last one.

The Grits are crowing about the work they did on the registration vote. The Conservatives will do their crowing on the evening of May 29th.

I have been told that the contest in East Kent is between John Davidson and George Johns and that John Lee has already reached the also ran class.

Carrie Nation, following in the footsteps of Washington, made the matchet famous. Corro-nation is making snuff famous but I guess that's snuff said.

Don't get too anxious and put two crosses after the Whitney name or you may spoil your ballot and give the Friend of All the double cross in more ways than one.

Thirty years hence the Spectator will be pointing with pride to the record of the Conservative Ontario Government which "went into office in 1902."—Hamilton Spectator.

The Maple City liquor men are now giving up good money for the benefit of the Ross Government which thrust upon them the expense of defeating if they can, the Prohibition Act.

Did you feel those hot air waves which struck this burg this week? They were the result of the meetings that the Grits have been holding throughout the county, hot airing the voters.

The Ross Government passed peacefully away in the last year of its age. Cause of death, old age and debility. Friends and acquaintances please attend the last sad rites on May 29th.

John Davidson—When shall we three meet again in thunder, lightning, or in rain?

John Lee and George Johns—in chorus—Any of them would be preferable to this contest. You are making it so warm for us.

There are three starters for the representation plate in East Kent. The race will be pulled off next Thursday. John Davidson has all the odds in the betting and is a warm favorite.

He is fast rounding into shape and all confidently expect the blue will cross the line first an easy winner. He has been training down fine. John Lee has also been showing up well at the parliamentary centre. His supporters claim he is covering lots of ground. It is said he can now do a "smile" in two seconds. George Johns supporters claim that his handlers have him in winning form and he will make an astonishing run. All the entries have a handicap except John Davidson. He only asks for a fair field and no favors.

NATURE'S BLESSING IS FOUND IN HEALTH, STRENGTH AND FREEDOM FROM PAIN.

This Gift is Meant for All—On It the Happiness and Usefulness of Life Depend—Without It Life is an Existence Hard to Endure.

Health is nature's choicest gift to man and should be carefully guarded. Ill-health is a sure sign that the blood is either insufficient, watery or impure, for most of the diseases that afflict mankind are traceable to this cause. Every organ of the body requires rich, red blood to enable it to properly perform its life-sustaining functions, and at the first intimation that nature gives that all is not well, the blood should be cared for. Purifying medicines will not do this—it is a tonic that is needed, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the best.

My appetite became irregular and everything I ate felt like a weight on my stomach. I tried several remedies and was under the care of doctors, but to no avail, and I grew worse as time went on. I became very weak, grew thin, suffered much from indigestion, and was frequently seized with dizziness. One day a friend told me of a case of a young girl who had suffered greatly from this trouble. "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" had fully regained her health and strength, and strongly advised me to try these pills. I was so eager to find a cure that I acted on his advice and procured a supply. From the very first my condition improved and after using the pills for a couple of months I was fully restored to health. I feel that I owe this great benefit to the "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on every box. If your dealer does not keep them they will be sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Have something to say; say it, and stop when you're done.

KEEP THE BALANCE UP.
It has been truthfully said that any disturbance of the even balance of health causes serious trouble. No body can be so careful to keep the balance up. When people begin to lose appetite, or to get tired easily, the least imprudence brings on sickness, weakness, or debility. The system needs a tonic, craves it, and should not be denied it; and the best tonic of which we have any knowledge is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What this medicine has done in keeping healthy people healthy, in keeping up the even balance of health, gives it the same distinction as a preventive that it enjoys as a cure. Its early use has illustrated the wisdom of the old saying that a stitch in time saves nine. Take Hood's for appetite, strength and endurance.

One of the sublime things in the world is plain truth.

"DRINK GRANO, CEREAL COFFEE."

A SONG OF CHOICE.

When up the valleys Spring Comes laughing lovingly, And gold and tawny wing Makes melody.

Then hey for meadow air, With my love there!

When Summer's haze and heat The dreamy landscape blurs, And drowsing in the wheat The crickets chirp.

Then hey for mountain air, With my love there!

When largest from her urn The liquid Autumn spills, And sunset splendours burn On all the hills,

Then hey for woodland air, With my love there!

When Winter grips the land, And chains the long blue lakes, And covers with open hand The fleece-white flocks,

Then hey for ingle air, With my love there!

International Bible Lesson for Tomorrow—Paul at Antioch in Pisidia—Acts xiii, 43-52.

Golden Text—"Through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins."

The missionaries, Paul, Barnabas and Mark, entered Antioch, the capital of the Province of Pisidia, in Asia Minor. The ruler of the Jewish Synagogue invited them to address the congregation. Paul did so, and in such a way that when the service closed numbers of Jews and Gentiles followed them, requesting another sermon the following Sabbath, when the crowd was so great and the interest so deep that it touched the religious envy and pride of the unbelieving Jews. They disputed and blasphemed so much that Paul and his company were constrained to turn to the Gentiles, quoting Isaiah's prophecy, which they were delighted to hear, and those disposed unto eternal life amongst them believed unto salvation; their testimony speedily evangelized that region. The envious, crafty Jews used devout and honorable women as tools and stirred up the chief men of Antioch against Paul, and his company expelling them, who, on leaving, shook the dust from their feet as a witness against these rejecters of the grace of God, while the disciples were filled with joy and the Holy Ghost, as all disciples should be, and, as Jesus said, rejoice and be exceeding glad.

Holiday Furnishings

No holiday in the year comes at a happier time than Victoria Day—the day devoted to the memory of Victoria the Good, and associated for all time with the tender green of young leaves and the promise of springing wheat fields. It is the first general pleasure day after the busy period of early spring, and finds a hearty welcome with all sorts and conditions of men.

It's the way of a young man to be finicky about his dress for this early summer holiday. Everything must be in tune with the time.

Don't matter what your holiday want is, we are waiting here to sell the article. What else have we been getting ready for these last weeks? The furnishing stock is at high tide.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS
The Best Medicine in the world for Children of all Ages.

Baby's Own Tablets are good for children of all ages, from the tiniest, weakest baby to the well grown child, and are certain cure for indigestion, sour stomach, colic, constipation, diarrhoea, teething troubles and the other minor ailments of children. There is no other medicine acts so speedily, so safely and so surely and they contain not one particle of opiates found in the so-called "soothing" medicines. Mrs. R. M. Nesb, Barrie, Ont., says: "I first began using Baby's Own Tablets, when my baby was teething. He was feverish, sleepless, very cross, and suffered from indigestion. After using the Tablets he began to get better almost at once, and slept better, and was no longer cross. I think the Tablets a fine medicine for children and keep them on hand all the time." The Tablets are readily taken by all children, and crushed to a powder can be given to the very youngest baby with a certainty of benefit. Sold by druggists or sent post paid at 25 cents a box by writing direct to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Shenectady, N. Y.

There is a period in every girl's life when she dislikes her surname.
