RECEIVED BY WIRE. HARRY WILSON

Rich Gold Hill Miner Commits Suicide in South Omaha.

IDENTITY NOT FULLY ESTABLISHED

One Wealthy Wilson left in September With a Broken Heart.

FIRE IN CITY OF DESTINY.

Duke of Manchester Weds for Love—Calderhead Reaches Skagway—Mysterious Disappearance.

Seattle, Nov. 20, via Skagway, Nov. 26.—H. R. Wilson committed suicide at So. Omaha on the 16th and his identity was established by the police here. Papers, drafts and other effects found on his person indicated that he was from Seattle, but the police found he belonged in Juneau and owns property on Gold Hill in the Klondike. He arrived in Seattle from Dawson Sept. 29, and deposited $10,000 in a local bank and had certificates of deposit for that amount in his pockets when he killed himself. No cause is assigned for Wilson's rash act.

Investigation here today failed to fully establish the identity of the Wilson above mentioned. One Harry Wilson came here from Juneau and married Sadie O'Hara, but it is not known that he ever mined on Gold Hill or had any $10,000 to deposit in a bank. One man who knew him well said that Wilson has not been here for over a year.

Another Wilson, a Swede, left here for the outside in September and took with him a large amount of gold. He is said to have left here heart broken because "Babe" Wallace would not marry him. A call at "Babe's" house this afternoon failed to elicit any information as that lady was enjoying her beauty sleep and the landlady would not have it disturbed. People who knew the two Wilsons, incline to the belief that the latter is the one who killed himself, although it is not known here that his name was Harry.)

Fire at Tacoma.
Tacoma, Nov. 20, via Skagway, Nov. 26.—Fire on the dock near Fifteenth street last night destroyed property to the value of $30,000, including the Thewald Company, asbestos factory, S. D. Brear, steam boilers, Port Addison planning mill and the offices of the Young Lumber Company.

Cabinet to Stay.
Washington, Nov. 20, via Skagway, Nov. 26.—President McKinley has personally requested all his cabinet to arrange to remain during his next term.

Married For Love.
London, Nov. 20, via Skagway, Nov. 26.—The Duke of Manchester has married Helene Zimmerman, daughter of Eugene Zimmerman, the Cincinnati millionaire. The duke wishes it to be known that he seeks no dowry, but married only for love. The dowager duchess is very much displeased over what she considers her sons' misalliance.

Skagway News.
Skagway, Nov. 26.—R. W. Calderhead reached here Saturday after a hard trip. He says the trail is good to Selkirk, but hard from there to Lebarge. The Tasmanian is still plying on the lake.

News comes from Vancouver that the Seattle's passengers were released from quarantine on the 16th.

Seattle papers assert that the hotels are full of people who are awaiting news that the river trail is in good condition before starting for Dawson.

C. B. Harraden, of the Ross Higgins Co., went aboard the Topeka Saturday night to say goodbye to friends and has not since been seen. He was to have left with his family on the Dolphin for Seattle yesterday. He was either accidentally carried away on the Topeka or slipped unnoticed from the gang plank into the bay and was drowned.

Public Schools

The meeting of the Yukon council last Saturday afternoon was devoted almost wholly to the site for the proposed new public school building, and to a general discussion of the subject. A letter was laid before the meeting by Commissioner Ogilvie who had received it from the manager of the town-site company giving a price on various properties centrally located and after going over the properties and prices submitted, it was decided to secure lots 12, 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17 in block T of the Harper and Ladue townsite, which were quoted at $700 each, and the commissioner was instructed to ascertain what price would have to be paid to secure lot 11.

The commissioner was further asked to furnish estimates of the cost of erecting a public school building on the site agreed upon.

Concerning temporary quarters for the school, it was learned that McDonald hall could be had for $175 per month and Pioneer hall for $100. The Salvation Army offered a building allowing the council to fix the rent. Finally the whole matter was left to the commissioner to decide, and the appointment of an extra teacher was laid over till next meeting.

The site decided upon is on the west side of Fifth avenue, between First and Second streets.

The Manly Art.
On Saturday night last an exhibition of the manly art was given at Prof. Anperson's gymnasium which attracted considerable interest among the sporting fraternity, as the tip was given out that a lively time could be expected. A ten-round go between Harry Agee and Young Brooks was the drawing card, both men agreeing to stay in the ring until too tired to take any further interest in the proceedings. Agee was seconded by Jack Merrit and his brother Roy Agee. Brooks by Carroll and Caribou.

Prior to the opening of hostilities between the gents with the mitts the decision was given to Agee by the sports, who declared him an easy winner on form alone. While subsequent events corroborated their opinion in a measure, Agee pounding his opponent all over the ring, still a chance came in the way of the white man, and a blow in the wind delivered in a frenzy by the rattled youth brought the colored boy to the floor when he was counted out.

The go lasted not quite three rounds. No admission was charged to see the go, it being a members meeting. A purse of $100 was collected at the ring side for the men, the winner, Brooks, getting $75 and Agee $25.

Eddie O'Donnell acted as referee and W. H. B. Lyons timekeeper. Leroy Tozier was master of ceremonies, and by the magnetic charm of his voice chased many a hidden dollar from the pockets of the onlookers. An amusing preliminary was given by Smith and Lamb.

The Automobiles Are Coming.
The teams of Sonnicksen & Henry arrived last night from Stewart river loaded with fresh halibut and merchandises for Swan & Anderson. The firm are sending teams about Wednesday Nov. 26, to Fort Selkirk for the automobiles for A. E. Clear. If you have any business between here and Hellsgate you had better call on Sonnicksen & Henry at once. They will take freight both ways, take passengers and do anything in this line for the public on the trip. Office Boyles' wharf. c28

The Weather.
For the 24 hours previous to 9 o'clock this morning the minimum temperature was 24.5, the maximum temperature 5 degrees below zero.

Concert Tomorrow Night.
The concert to be given tomorrow night at McDonald hall in aid of St. Paul's church will be one of the best ever given in Dawson, for the reason that all the best talent in the city has been engaged to appear on this occasion, and a rare evening's entertainment will be afforded to all who are so fortunate as to be present. Tickets are on sale at Reid's drug store.

Post Office Will Move

As soon as the mail which is expected to arrive tomorrow can be disposed of the office and its contents will be removed to its new and more commodious home in the new government building recently completed at the corner of Third avenue and Third street.

The moving will probably take place next Saturday, and if the distribution of mail ceases for a day the interruption to business will be no longer.

No Mail Reported.
At 11 o'clock this forenoon the mail which passed Selwyn at noon on Friday had not been reported as having reached Stewart, which precludes the possibility of its arriving in Dawson before tomorrow evening at the earliest.

Best of Excuses.
A teacher in a certain school recently received the following note from the mother of a boy who had been absent for a day or two: "Dere Mam—please excuse Willy. He didn't hav but one pair of trowsers, an I kep him home to wash and mend them, and Mrs. O'toole's cow come and et them up off the line, and that awt to be excuse enuff, goodness nose. Yours with respect—Mrs. B."—Tit-Bits.

RECEIVED BY WIRE. THE WORK RESUMED

Anglo-American Commission Again Getting Down to Business.

ALVERSTONE SUCCEEDS HERSCHELL

Modus Vivendi Regarding Boundary Line May Stand.

MANY MATTERS TO CONSIDER

Czar Was Poisoned Instead of Having Typhoid—Roseberry Leads Liberals—Welcomes Soldiers.

Washington, Nov. 20, via Skagway, Nov. 26.—Steps are being taken looking to the resumption of the important work of the Anglo-American commission, which was interrupted by the death of Lord Herschell, who has been succeeded on the board by Lord Alverstone, formerly Sir Richard Webster, whose associates on the board are Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Louis Davis, minister of marine and fisheries, and the premier of Newfoundland.

America's representatives on the commission are Senator Fairbanks, chairman, John W. Foster, the reciprocity commission, John A. Kasson, Ex-Senator Falkner, T. Jefferson Coolidge and Sereno Payne.

It is believed as regards the boundary line between the United States and Canada that the present modus vivendi will be allowed to stand. Among other things discussed will be the matter of reciprocal mining privileges in the Klondike and other parts of British North America where reciprocal regulations relative to the bonding system, international railroads and such like will benefit and aid international commercial relations. Considerable progress has already been made as to the settlement of these latter questions, and it is possible that they will be satisfactorily adjusted and that action on the boundary question will be omitted.

Poison for the Czar.
St. Petersburg, Nov. 20, via Skagway, Nov. 26.—The czar is not suffering from typhoid, but has been poisoned. There are hopes of his recovery.

Roseberry Leads Liberals.
London, Nov. 20, via Skagway, Nov. 26.—Roseberry has been called to be the leader of the Liberal party.

RECIPROCAL RELATIONS.

In our telegraphic columns today will be found an announcement of the fact that the Anglo-American commission will shortly resume its labors. An important matter to be considered by the commission is an arrangement for reciprocal mining privileges between Alaska and the British North American provinces.

It will be remembered that an effort along the same line was made some time ago, progressing to the extent of an act being passed by the congress of the United States in which all privileges granted American citizens by the Canadian government were granted to British subjects in Alaska. A clause in the act which provided that no rights could be granted to British subjects in Alaska which were not enjoyed by American citizens themselves, neutralized the effect of the law to such an extent that it has no value whatsoever.

For instance, title to mining property in this territory rests in a lease from the government to the locators, while in Alaska a straight title is given and no leases granted. In consequence of this dissimilarity in the laws of the two countries, British subjects are practically without rights in Alaska.

It is for the purpose of equalizing these conditions somewhat that the commission purposes taking up the matter of reciprocal privileges. Certainly it is due from the United States government that privileges equal in value to those enjoyed by American citizens in Canada should be granted to British subjects who may desire to secure mining locations in Alaska.

The favors should not come from one side alone, nor do we believe there is any intention on the part of the United States government that such should be the case. It may be anticipated, we think, that before the conclusion of negotiations about to begin, the matter will be settled equitably to both sides.

It is to the interests of the two governments that their northern possessions should be opened up and developed as early as possible. There will be nothing lost to either by granting liberal concessions to the other, and the earlier such reciprocal arrangements are entered into as are now contemplated the better the results will be for both.

THE AMENDE HONORABLE.

As was pointed out in these columns would prove to be the case, the News has offered a lengthy explanation of its editorial article entitled "The French in Canada." In the light of this explanation the whole matter has now simmered down to a question of veracity between the News and Attorney Woodworth, which question itself, presents difficulties of solution which will readily suggest themselves to the public.

The News says that the interview upon which the editorial was based had been submitted to Mr. Woodworth and was published with his approval and that so far as the News is concerned it "has the very highest appreciation of the great genius of the French people" and that it has taken the "occasion" of this discussion to pay a high compliment to the French as a people and to the French Canadians in particular. While there will be those who will regard the News' method of "paying a compliment" as a peculiar one, we suggest that here is an opportunity to use the broad mantle of charity. Mr. Woodworth repudiates the sentiments attributed to him and says he knows nothing about such expressions as "unprogressive French." Apparently there is a discrepancy somewhere, but to determine its exact location is not only a delicate but extremely difficult task. Inasmuch, however, as both parties have made the "amende honorable" to the best of their ability, it may be considered that an unfortunate incident is closed.

The completion of the railroad to Whitehorse and the various cutoffs which have been made in the trail up the river render the work of delivering mail in Dawson a much simpler matter than ever before. The mail service ought to be far better this winter than ever before. The facilities for handling mail are better, and the time necessary to be consumed in landing it in Dawson is much shorter. The Board of Trade ought to wake up and take hold of the matter.

We have not heard from the Board of Trade for some time. It appears to us that the board might well exert itself now for the purpose of securing delivery of mail throughout the winter.

Death of Peter McDonald.
Peter McDonald, of 48 below on Bonanza, a well known mining man, died at St. Mary's hospital from heart failure this morning. He took sick on his claim several days ago and was brought down to the hospital. He first came to the Yukon a dozen years or more ago and was a pioneer among pioneers. He was 38 years old and unmarried. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

COMING AND GOING.

Col. S. S. Wright left Quartz creek 3 o'clock this morning and arrived in town shortly before 11. He reports things on Quartz creek looking very promising for the miners. The colonel will remain only a day or two before starting again for 27.

J. R. McGovern was out with his hammer this morning, but his intent was not vicious. He had been repairing one of the bank vaults. He leaves for the outside the day after tomorrow.

Robert Lucas, of Gold Run, is down on a short business trip. He is stopping at the Yukon hotel.

The Bohemian club will give another party tomorrow evening at Pioneer hall. The club has substituted a piano for the harp used on former occasions and good music will be one of the features of the evening.

A petition has been received by the council asking for the passage of a game act, as some doubt exists as to dates in the law in force here, or rather as to what law it is. Whether a Dominion law or one of the Northwest territory.

The government telegraph office will be moved into the new postoffice building Thursday or Friday of this week.

The postoffice, owing to the work of moving into the new building, will be closed to the public on Saturday.

A party of six persons whose names were not given will leave for Whitehorse on sleds on Wednesday.

Dreyfus in His Mountain Home.
The spacious country house inhabited by Captain Dreyfus is about two miles from Geneva, separated from the road to the village of Cognin by a high wall. It is only possible to see the roof of the building. The front of the villa has a terrace which looks over the lake, with a splendid view of the Jura mountains and the castle of Baron Rothschild. Before the house is a terraced lawn that runs down to the edge of the lake. Very large trees surround the villa on the other sides. On the left is the gardener's house, and in the same direction, about five minutes' walk, is the house which Lord Byron inhabited while at Geneva.

Captain Dreyfus, along with his wife and his two children, intends to stay here until October. Since his arrival, with his nephew, M. Paul Valabregue, two visitors have dined with him, along with a gentleman who came the same day as he did. Nobody knows who this gentleman is. One or two tourists walk in the gardens on the opposite side of the lake and with their glasses try to see Captain Dreyfus on his terrace. With the exception of this no attempt has been made to intrude on the captain in his seclusion.—Switzerland Letter to Chicago Record.

The Longest Words.
A correspondent gives "Nonintercommunicability" as the largest word in the English language. While reading the life of Archbishop Benson recently I came across the following extract from his diary for September, 1892 (page 441): "The Free Kirk of the North of Scotland are strong anti-disestablishmentarians"—ten syllables.

26 letters! The longest Italian word contains 11 syllables and 26 letters, and forms a whole line of a rhyme which is a well known proverb:
Chi troppo in alto sal. cade sevente
Precipitevolissimevolmente.
(He who rises too high often falls most precipitately.)
—Cor. of Pall Mall Gazette.

Cricket Versus Baseball.
Life is more strenuous in America than in England, and this is shown in the sports of the two nations. Take the game of football as an illustration. In the American college game the tackling is lower, harder and surer than in the English game. The backs hit the line as one man, like a battering ram. Every yard gained or lost is of great importance. Year by year the game grows more complicated, more fierce, and more perfect mechanically. It is getting to be like a fine piece of machinery in the harmony of the several parts. In England they play the game more loosely, much as their fathers did before them. Cricket and baseball are the national games of the respective countries, and nowhere do national characteristics appear more in evidence. Cricket is an all day, leisurely, social event; baseball is an hour of wild excitement. The English game cultivates the amenities of life, and courtesy is a canon of the game. Baseball keeps the nerves too near the edge to leave much room for the interchange of fellowship and good will toward the opposing team.—Self Culture.

Franklin Set It Up.
The North American Notes and Queries says the first printing press in Montreal was set up by Benjamin Franklin in 1775, in order to print manifestoes appealing to the Canadians to cast their lot with the colonies farther south. The press was not long in operation, and was removed to the United States, but the vault in which it was set up is still standing. It is in the Chateau de Ramezay, a quaint old building whose history is contemporary with that of the city, and which is carefully preserved as a relic of the French regime in New France. Franklin's idea from the first was to include Canada in the confederation, and he wished to include Ireland as well. His journey to Canada later, however, convinced him that there was no possibility of the Canadian possessions joining in the revolt.

CAPTAIN OBERLIN M. CARTER

For Defrauding the Government Must Serve Five Years.

Has Been a High Roller and Prison Life Will Be Hard for Him to Endure.

Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, the United States army officer recently convicted of immense frauds in connection with the improvement of Savannah harbor, Georgia, a work of which he had charge as the government engineer, was sentenced to the Fort Leavenworth (Kansas) penitentiary for five years' imprisonment at hard labor, deprivation of his rank in the army, and dismissal and $5000 fine.

The contrast between Carter's life for the next five years and his life for the preceding ones could not be more dissimilar. Carter's rooms were always models of luxury. No society girl, nurtured in the lap of wealth, ever excelled this luxury-loving officer in the costly, artistic elegance of boudoir and bedroom. Priceless tapestries, rare old furniture, toilet trappings in solid gold and silver, fine linens, dainty perumes—all these and a thousand other elegancies are as much a part of Oberlin M. Carter's life as the air he breathes.

At the Fort Leavenworth penitentiary he must manage to survive for five long years without his wine suppers, his rapid friends, and his perfumed baths. Five changes of toilet a day are not recognized as essential at the Fort Leavenworth prison. One suit is quite efficient, according to the prison code—a stout suit of coarse gray, with a big straw hat in summer and a small blue denim cap in winter.

The man who has played the high roller for years who has been courted by pleasure-loving fashionables, admired by women, and envied by men, will for the next five years be kept under lock and key as a mere thing, duly ticketed and numbered. His number will be marked in glaring red, stenciled on his prison garments in four places—right across the broad of his back, over the right thigh, and on the all of each leg. A more degrading thing—this branding of the criminal more prominently than the government mule is marked—could not be devised.

Fort Leavenworth is not a place where the tastes of prisoners are consulted. Discipline of the handcuff-shotgun variety is promptly applied as the occasion demands. The prison is a collection of old buildings, entered through a sallyport, guarded night and day by heavily armed men. Inside the sallyport a gloomy archway leads under the offices of the warden and his subordinates, the printing shop, and photograph gallery, to the prison buildings where the convicts are housed, fed and bathed.

At Fort Leavenworth hard labor means just what the term implies. Carter, with hands unused to labor harder than uncorking champagne bottles and throwing away money, will find the conditions far from enjoyable. He will sleep in a regulation prison cell behind a steel-barred door, watched by a guard armed with a shot gun. It is needless to say that the rare carpets and priceless tapestries which have heretofore contributed to his comfort will not figure in his Fort Leavenworth cell.

The bill of fare is not an appetizing outlook for Carter, for this luxurious officer has fattened for years upon the choicest foods prepared by artist chefs. Nothing in the eating and drinking line has been quite good enough for the epicurean captain. Think what five years of Fort Leavenworth prison fare will mean to him—an eternity of gastronomic misery.

The work which falls to the share of almost all new arrivals is with the pick and blasting drill in the quarries two miles from the prison. The stone is for use in the construction of the new penitentiary. Carter comes in for this back-breaking, hand-blistering experience. Fort Leavenworth prison has a set of very severe rules, all rigidly enforced. Should Carter grow disobedient his prison allowance of tobacco will be shut off, he will be denied the privilege of writing or receiving letters, his diet may be restricted to bread and water, and in the event of persistent misconduct he would be handcuffed day and night to the bars of his cell. They stand no nonsense at Fort Leavenworth. Still they work no cruelties and the prisoner who behaves well, takes his medicine, as it were, unflinchingly, is treated as well as he could rightly expect. He can write to his friends and receive their letters; he may subscribe for any reputable newspaper or magazine, and may have books from the prison library.

Every Saturday afternoon Carter will be compelled not only to give himself a cold-water bath with common brown soap accompaniment, but he will be forced to wash and scrub his cell, depressing work for the man who for years has been living in perfumed baths, and relying upon the services of a skilled valet for the simplest tasks of the toilet.—Ex.

Electric Cars in Scotland.

A Scottish paper tells an anecdote in connection with the new electric system just opened in Aberdeen. Two farm servants came to Aberdeen by train, they immediately made their way to the terminus of the electric tramway circuit, where, after looking at the new creation with much wonder, they decided upon having a ride. Getting on to the top of the car, and after getting well along George street, "Wull," said man Jock, "this is a graun' invention. In Edinburgh I saw them drive the cars wi' an iron rape aneth street, in Dundee they pu' them wi' an engine, but, mighty man, wha wad a' thocht they could ca' them wi' a fishing rod!"

His Admission Was Enough.

A story is told of two prominent Chicago lawyers who several years ago were regarded as being among the brightest lawyers the state had produced for a long time, says the Philadelphia Bulletin. There was great rivalry between these men, and one day they were having a heated argument on the steps of the statehouse at Springfield.

"I'll agree to leave it to the first man we meet," said one of the wrangling lawyers, fiercely.

"All right, and that will settle it once for all—ah, here he is, Charley."

"We'll leave it to him."

"Charley," as the man spoken of approached within hearing distance, "we want you to decide who is the best lawyer in Illinois. We agree to abide by your decision."

"Well," replied Charley, himself an old practitioner, and well known in the capital city, "I plead guilty to being the best lawyer in the state myself."

"Why, Charley, how can it be proved?" inquired the first of the two Chicagoans.

"You don't have to prove it," replied the Springfield man; "I admit it, don't I?"—Chicago Herald.

Dastardly Outrage.

Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 19.—A father, mother, and four young children were blown to atoms last evening at Sells, Montgomery county, 14 miles from Hot Springs.

While the family was at supper their home was wrecked by an explosion of dynamite. The unfortunate people were Jeff and Maggie Jones, and their children, ranging in age from 6 years to four months.

It is believed that a dispute over a homestead claim prompted the outrage. The county officials wired last night that they were close on the tracks of the guilty persons.

Progressive South-Americans.

How swiftly the gospel of labor-saving inventions spreads nowadays! It took a century for printing presses to supersede goose quills, and two centuries and a half before east Europeans adopted the firearms of their western neighbors, but the telephone has already woven its net-work of wires across the old cloister town of Bogota, in the heart of the Andes. Trolley cars are whirring through the streets of Para and Valparaiso, and a speculator of the latter city is going to try his luck with a cable road to a hotel on a lofty terrace of Mt. Aconcagua.—Indianapolis Press.

Not Piety, but Pork.

The following bit of non-conformist humor is taken from "The Farringtons," an English romance. The speakers are Mrs. Bateson and Mrs. Hankey, worthy wives, but not altogether above feeling a certain pleasure in showing up the ways of husbands.

"They've no sense, men haven't," said Mrs. Hankey, "that's what's the matter with them."

"You never spoke a truer word, Mrs. Hankey," replied Mrs. Bateson. "The very best of them don't properly know the difference between their souls and their stomachs, and they fancy they are wrestling with their doubts when really it is their dinners that are wrestling with them."

"Now take Bateson himself," continued Mrs. Bateson. A kinder husband or better Methodist never drew breath, yet so sure as he touches a bit of pork, he begins to worry himself about the doctrine of election till there's no living with him. And then he'll sit in the front parlor and engage in prayer for hours at a time till I say to him:

"Bateson," says I, "I'd be ashamed to go troubling the Lord with a prayer, when a pinch o' carbonate o' soda would set things straight again."

Professor Vambery, the celebrated authority on oriental subjects, has received an invitation from the sultan to pay a visit to Constantinople.

Lord Rosebery, who was for so long a time regarded as the "boy" of the political world, has now outgrown that distinction, for he completed his fifty-third year recently.

Fred H. Rowe of Jacksonville, Ill., the new chairman of the Illinois Republican state committee, is a Vermont man by birth and was educated at Williams college. He has lived in Illinois since he was 18 years old.

Two ex-secretaries of the interior and the present secretary were together in Washington recently, and all of them are from St. Louis. They were General John W. Noble, David R. Francis and Ethan A. Hitchcock.

Captain J. B. Coghlan, one of the heroes of the Spanish war, has been in command of the Puget sound naval station, but has now been given leave of absence because of ill health. He will be succeeded by Captain Dyer of the Boston navy yard.

Former United States Senator James W. Bradbury of Augusta, Me., celebrated his ninety-eighth birthday recently, receiving many callers and messages from all over the United States. He retains his faculties to a remarkable degree and keeps up his interest in current events.

Herr Karl Neufeld, the mahdi's old prisoner, intends, it is said, to return to the Sudan shortly. He has been engaged there as head manager of a large factory, and Mrs. Neufeld, his grown up daughter, his sister and Herr von Natzmer, who was formerly his mother's bailiff, will accompany him.

At the Italian elections there will be some strange parliamentary candidates. Mascagni, the composer, is going to run at Pesaro and thinks he will be elected. He intends to join D'Annunzio in forming a group of "intellectuals" in the legislature. At Fermo it is proposed to put up Ermete Novelli, the actor.

Professor Stoyan Krstoff Vatralsky, a native of Bulgaria, a graduate of Harvard and a writer and lecturer, has finished his studies in this country, but before going home he is furthering a movement for the erection of a monument over the grave in New Lexington, O., of J. A. MacGahan, the war correspondent.

THE GLASS OF FASHION.

Suede gloves in the rare tint of old lace are the novelty of the moment.

Very stylish gowns are made of the old fashioned pongee silk trimmed with handsome embroidery matching it in color.

Unlined skirts of mohair, taffeta silk and lightweight cloths to wear with blouse waists are the thing for warm weather.

Cameo buckles and buttons are revived again with great effect on some of the new gowns made by the smartest dressmakers.

Fichus a la Marie Antoinette and a la Pompadour are very much in favor and quite the hall mark of smartness on the latest thin gowns.

Reports of soft, full hat strings of tulle embroidered in colors on the ends come to us from Paris, but the American woman has not adopted them yet.

A new edition of the polonaise which in shape is very much like a cape worn as an apron has appeared in Paris. The rounded ends finish a little below the waist at the back, and in some instances it is covered with tucks.

Lingerie skirts and blouse waists made of fine white lawn with innumerable tucks and many rows of valenciennes insertion are one of the special features of thin gowns and are extremely chic worn with a cloth of gold bolero covered with lace.—New York Sun.

MISSING WITNESS FOUND

And His Testimony Will Be Before The Police Court

Tomorrow Morning According To Notification Served Upon O'Brien's Council.

Once more the O'Brien case comes to light, and tomorrow morning the prisoner will again be before the police court for the first time since long before the snow fell.

Attorney Robertson, counsel for the defense in the now famous trial, has received notice that the case will again be before the court tomorrow morning, and that the testimony of a witness named Powell will be taken.

It has been said that the delay in the preliminary hearing was due to the protracted search for a witness for the prosecution and it is naturally surmised that the testimony given notice of to the defense is that so long and diligently searched for, although the surmise cannot be verified at this hour. If, however, it proves correct there are indications that the trail of George O'Brien for the crime which caused such widespread interest and indignation through both this country and the States will progress rapidly enough from this point on. If the evidence to be heard tomorrow morning is really that of the long sought witness, a most remarkable feat of detective work has been well and speedily done, and those who had it in hand are to be congratulated upon their success.

Last Night's Concert.

The concert given at the Savoy last night was not so well attended as it might have been and as it would have been were not such rigid restrictions placed on Sunday night concerts. The Savoy orchestra, as made up at present under the leadership of Prof. Freimuth, is probably the best ever heard in Dawson and the component features of last night's concert consisted in orchestral renditions and solos by its individual members, each of whom is a master on his special instrument. The fact remains, however, that until the present Sunday night concert restrictions are modified so as to permit of a broader and more varied program.

The entertainments given will not receive the patronage they deserve. The following program was rendered last night, each number of which was well received:

Orchestration; Miss Dorothy Campbell; trombone solo, Wm. Evans; clarinet solo, J. Luke Lyons; descriptive vocalist, Miss Edith Montrose; violin solo, Prof. A. P. Freimuth; Spanish opera, Miss Cecil Marion; cornet solo, Chas. Rennie; operatic duetists, Walthers and Forrest; overture, Savoy orchestra; Prof. Parkes and his wondrouscope; God Save the Queen.

Ready Made Graves.

Many people never saw or heard of such delicacies as canned cabbage, canned potatoes and a hundred other articles, not only of diet but of wear, until they came to this country. "Specially prepared for the Klondike" is a label very frequently seen, and should be shunned as much as possible for the reason that people who make a business of "specially preparing for the Klondike" as a rule have little or no knowledge of what is really needed in the Klondike. (Witness the number of dried peas for soup and yellow macinaw suits brought to the country and never used). But there are many things "specially prepared" which are needed here, among them being the item of an occasional grave. It may not be generally known, but in the Hillside cemetery around the point are from eight to a dozen ready made graves which were dug last fall. They are what might be termed a "gruesome necessity" as it was imperative that they be dug when they were; not that they might become "seasoned" or "cured" but that, without the use of a steam thawer, it would be next to impossible to sink a grave here in the winter season, hence the necessity of preparing them in the fall to have ready when required during the winter.

Telephone Rules.

The following telephone rules are recommended to Capt. D. B. Olson, manager of the local service, for his consideration and adoption if they should meet his approbation:

If you have a telephone in your office or store, call up "Central" and then go wait on a customer.

Take your time in answering your bell, or what is better, do not answer it at all, but in about half an hour ring up and ask who called you, and get mad if "Central" has forgotten who it is. She has nothing else to do but remember. Open the generator box with a knife or an ax and take a look at things. If the interior does not look right pull out a few wires and leave the door open, this improves the service wonderfully.

Hang the receiver big end up, as in this way it gets full of dust.

Bang on the transmitter with a lead pencil as though you intend to knock it through the wall. This invariably makes it talk better.

When through talking, drop the receiver or throw it down. This allows the batteries to run out and breaks the strands in the receiver cord.

Throw metal inkstands, etc., on top of telephone, which will short circuit your instrument, and then go to sleep, no one can call you up.

Never ring off when through talking, as that would notify "Central" you had finished. Let her guess at it. Never speak kindly to the operator, she is more used to being called names.

Paste this on your telephone or future reference.

The Stone of Destiny.

Beneath a false bottom in the coronation chair in Westminster Abbey, London, there rests a block of what appears to be brown sandstone. This stone is known as the stone of destiny, and sitting upon it all the kings of England first, Great Britain afterwards, from the time of Edward first, have been crowned, and with it the boast of the Stuarts of the blood of Solomon is very closely linked. This stone of destiny has a history as interesting as it is long, which is saying a great deal when it is stated that it was a possession of the Irish kings when there were Irish kings, and that it sojourned long in Spain before it came to Ireland.

The legend, for it can scarce be called a history, dates back to the time of the prophet Jeremiah, and the scattering of the ten tribes of Israel. At that time the stone must have formed some part at least of former coronation services in the crowning of kings, and although the legend is silent on this point it is hard to imagine a reason for its being so used afterwards if such was not the case. At any rate, when Jeremiah left that great land of mystery symbolized by the ever silent sphynx, he took with him two daughters of the blood royal and this mysterious stone. He traveled to Spain, and from the land of the dons is traced to Ireland, where one of the princess' mated with the eldest son of one of the reigning monarchs, and from this source comes the boast of the Stuarts regarding their derivation.

The stone, after this was borrowed by an ambitious young king, who had gone over to Scotland and conquered for himself a kingdom, came home and borrowed the stone to be crowned upon so that the crown might lack no item of security. He sailed away with the stone, and in his elation and the natural excitement of the time forgot to return it and it never got back to Ireland afterwards.

It was captured by the English later on and taken to Albion, where it has remained to this day and, having become, by ages of usage and association, so much an integral part of the crown, it is an easy matter to see that its withdrawal from the state could only be accomplished by the downfall of the British empire.

Truly the stone which has been the coronation seat of kings from who knows what ancient date, is rightly named when it is called the stone of destiny.

The above information was drawn from Commissioner Ogilvie during a recent conversation and will no doubt prove of interest to many readers.

Shedding Season.

Johnny Delaney, of 14 below on Bonanza, was in town Saturday wearing a nose that looked very much as though it had been at an Irish wake. When asked how the olfactory member became injured he said:

"Yesterday I returned to Bonanza from a business trip to Sulphur and, as the weather, as you know, was very cold I tied a handkerchief over my nose to protect it. When I got home and removed the handkerchief all that portion of my nose not in evidence came off with it. The worst thing to look forward to now is that my nose will be tender and will blister easily next summer."

POLICE COURT NEWS.

John B. Burchard and Dan McDougall were in police court this morning on the charge of having supplied whisky to Jimmie Buekskin, who says he is an Indian and a Christian. After the case had been opened Burchard stated that he had applied for an attorney, but though some misunderstanding he had not secured one. He was given permission to procure legal assistance which was secured in the person of Attorney Hagel, on whose request the cases were laid over until this afternoon. When Constable James took the two young men into custody they had been engaged in a general fight, with the result that McDougall's face is battered and bruised until it presents the appearance of having been caught in the thick of an ice jam.

Buried Yesterday.

After a short but appropriate funeral service conducted yesterday at Undertaker Green's by Rev. A. E. Heatherington, the body of the late Eldridge Bartlett was buried in the cemetery on the hillside. A number of his old friends from the state of Washington were present to pay the last tribute to their old comrade. Eight years ago Mrs. Bartlett died leaving her husband with six small children, one a babe but a few months old. Four of the children live with relatives at Puyallup, Wash., and two are with relatives in Massachusetts. They will be notified by persons here of their father's death.
