

BOLSHEVIK RULE IN RUSSIA FAILS

Members of Constituent Assembly Defy Government Opposition to Maximalist Through Russia Grows

Social Revolutionists Refuse to Submit to Lenine and Trotsky; Ukrainians Remain in Alliance With Cossacks Against Bolsheviki

By Courier Leased Wire.

Petrograd, Friday, Dec. 21.—M. Tchernoff, former minister of agriculture and Mme. Catherine Breshkovskaya and other Social Revolutionist members of the Constituent Assembly, have proclaimed their determination not to submit to Premier Lenine and Foreign Minister Trotsky, but to convene the assembly and to endeavor through it to carry out a program of peace and land freedom.

The total number of members elected to the Constituent Assembly is now 368, but only 48 of these have been registered as members by the Bolsheviki.

PEASANTS' CONGRESS DIVIDED

London, Dec. 22.—The meagre news reports from Petrograd indicate a serious division in the Peasants' Congress, which has been in session for a fortnight in Petrograd. The right wing, led by M. Tchernoff, insists that all power shall be given to the Constituent Assembly, which will decide upon peace, the land question and other reforms, while the left is dominated by the Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates. The latter take the position that the Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates should be given attempts to heal the breach have failed. The left wing authority above that of the Constituent Assembly. All has a slight majority.

Officers of the Baltic fleet have adopted a resolution protesting against the latest reform which places the supreme command of the fleet in the hands of the elected sailors and makes all posts elective. The resolution of the present declares that the reform, if carried out, will paralyze the fleet and prevent peace on a democratic basis, because if impotent Russia peace will be dictated by the imperialists of the enemy.

Bolsheviki Rule Failing.
Opposition by the Ukrainians and the followers of General Kaledines to the Bolsheviki movement, together with an unconfirmed report that the Germans have rejected the peace proposals of the Bolsheviki delegates, continue to overshadow military operations in the European war. The report that a definite alliance has been formed between the Ukrainians and the Don Cossacks gives credence to another rumor that the Ukrainian Rada has definitely notified the Bolsheviki commissioners that it will not reconsider its action in aiding the Kaledines force.

The German attacks in Alsace have been repulsed, according to the French war office. The chief of these attacks at Hartmanns-Werkopf took the Germans into the first line French trenches, but in the engagement that followed they were driven out with heavy losses. At other points along the French front, artillery activity has been intermittent, except at Courieres wood in the Campagne region. Rheims has again been shelled by the Germans. In Flanders the Belgian war office reports artillery activity, though less intense because of fog.

WEATHER BULLETIN

Toronto, Dec. 22.—The weather has turned much colder in Ontario and Quebec, while in the West it has been very little change in temperature.

Forecast: Fair and cold to-day. Sunday—Some local snow flurries, but generally fair, stationary or a little higher temperature.

VICTORY LOAN PRIZE ESSAYS IN THE COUNTY

Excellent Results From the Rural Pupils—The Prize Winners

The Victory Loan essay competition among pupils of the public schools of the county for prizes amounting to twenty-five dollars, offered by Messrs. Hope and A. K. Bunnell, who organized the Victory Loan campaign for this county, resulted as given below. For each of the five grades from the second form to the senior fourth, three prizes of $2.50, $1.50 and $1 respectively are awarded. About 280 pupils, representing every municipality in the county, contributed essays, consequently the competition was keen. Naturally most of them followed more or less closely the lines of the literature of the campaign, but here and there a good deal of originality was shown and, needless to say, many schools that are not represented in the prize list, did good work. While the competition no doubt assisted in promoting the campaign for the loan, it also proved a valuable exercise in practical composition for the schools.

The following is the award of prizes:

- Senior Fourth—1, Ernest Buck, No. 5 E. Dumfries; 2, Florence McArter, Burford, P.S.; 3, Mary Sullivan, Cainsville.
- Junior Fourth—1, Agnes Morton, Glenmorris; 2, Nancy Askew, Grandview; 3, Myrtle Clement, No. 1 A. Brantford.
- Senior Third—1, Madeline Martin, Burford P.S.; 2, Dorothy Bringle, Paris P.S.; 3, James Macauley, Glenmorris.
- Junior Third—1, George Alderson, Grandview; 2, Jean Edmondson, Paris P.S.; 3, Ida Briggs, Mt. Pleasant.
- Second—1, Dorothy Meadows, Mt. Vernon; 2, Gwendyth Pryce, Grandview; 3, David Armstrong, Paris P.S.

LEAVE FROM FRONT
Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Marsh have received word from Branshott camp in England, of the arrival of their son Irvin, on six weeks' leave of absence from the trenches. Pte. Marsh has seen 14 months active service in France, going over in the first draft from the 125th battalion, and has so far escaped without a scratch.

SCENES FROM THE HALIFAX DISASTER

ONLY THE WALLS REMAIN, LIKE A CHURCH IN DEVASTATED BELGIUM. Five hundred of the congregation of St. Joseph's Church, seen at the right hand side of the picture, were killed and many injured while at mass. Yet, this church was situated about a mile from the place where the explosion took place.

SCENE DIRECTLY NORTH OF NORTH STREET STATION WITHIN HOUR OF ACCIDENT. Already crowds were beginning to survey the destruction wrought and some of it is apparent from the photograph. Telegraph poles have snapped off in the middle as by high explosive shells, their broken tops lying across the street on tracks. On the extreme left may be seen a squad of soldiers mobilizing, the officer turning round as if trying to figure out just where he means to start work.

ANOTHER VIEW OF RICHMOND PRINTING CO.'S BUILDING. This plant was situated on Old Campbell road and when it collapsed 30 girls and several men lost their lives. A wrecking party including a number of soldiers, are already beginning the seemingly hopeless task of shifting some of the debris in an effort to find the bodies.

FACTORYMEN CALLED THE MAYOR LAST NIGHT

Workmen's Branch of Patriotic Fund Association Demanded Proof That Soldiers' Wives Had Been Intimated

Complete endorsement of the action of the president and secretary thus far regarding the sweeping statement made by Mayor Bowly on election night when he alleged wholesale corruption in the administration of the patriotic fund, to a large gathering in the Liberal club rooms, was given by the factories patriotic league at their meeting held in the public library last night. A deputa-tion from the executive of the fund waited on the league and explained the situation since the unqualified charge was made by His Worship on Monday night. A strong resolution was passed expressing approval of the course of action thus far pursued by the members of the executive in seeking to secure a retraction from Mayor Bowly. The Factories Patriotic League have eight representatives on the executive of the fund, and the resolution expressed the belief and conviction of the league that politics was not a factor in the work of the fund. Such being the case, the league desired Mayor Bowly publicly to give evidence to the contrary, if such is in his possession or to publicly state that he did not infer that the officials of the fund had stooped to intimidation during the election, nor had used their office toward the furtherance of the cause of any candidate.

Ex-Mayor John Spence explained the situation since its development. The statement had been made on election night by Mayor Bowly in the Liberal Club room that pressure had been exerted on soldiers' wives to vote for W. B. Cockshutt. His statement on that occasion was a sweeping one, and intimated wholesale corruption, leaving of course, the inference that the threats came from the office of the patriotic fund. Mayor Bowly, at a subsequent day during the week, in conversation with Mr. Spence, had said that a woman "with tears streaming down her face" had come into his office and claimed that she had been told in the office of the patriotic fund, that if she did not vote for Mr. Cockshutt that her patriotic allowance would be cut off.

The true circumstances, said Mr. Spence, were these: The woman had been refused her regular check when it came due, by Secretary Thompson, acting under instructions from the executive, until such time as certain conditions were remedied. The lady, doubtless angered at the refusal, had expressed her intention before leaving the office, of interviewing Mayor Bowly and having him take up the matter.

Mr. Spence explained that it was due the public of Brantford to know that in the administration of the fund, politics and religion were not considered. The slur and slander that had been made before a large public gathering, by a man occupying such a position as did His Worship, could not be allowed to go unchallenged.

FRENCHMAN WOULD FORM NEW UNION

Alderman of Quebec City Would Unite Quebec and Maritime Provinces NEW CONFEDERATION Proposal That Quebec Withdraw From Dominion Not Taken Seriously

By Courier Leased Wire

Quebec, Dec. 22.—Alderman Eugene Dussalt, who took such an active part in the anti-conscription demonstrations here last summer, gave notice at the meeting of the city council last night of a motion to petition the Quebec Legislature to form a new confederation between the Province of Quebec and the Maritime provinces. Mayor Lavigne, Alderman Collier and Alderman Flest endeavored to induce the youthful member of the council to withdraw his motion, but he refused to do so.

Montreal, Dec. 22.—The Gazette does not regard seriously the proposal to separate Quebec from the other provinces. It says to-day editorially: "Mr. Francoeur, member for Lotbiniere, in the Legislative Assembly, has given notice of his intention to propose that Quebec should declare its readiness to secede from the confederation if, in the opinion of the other provinces, this province is an obstacle to the union and progress and development of Canada. Such a declaration requires little comment. It is the product of a narrow mind and others with narrow minds may be left to become excited over it. The wise and solid opinion of Quebec can be depended upon to treat it accordingly to its insignificance."

Laurier Not for Cabinet
Montreal, Dec. 22.—With reference to the suggestion that Sir Wilfrid Laurier might be offered a place in the Union Government, and information from Ottawa that the offer is not likely to be made, The Gazette said to-day: "Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who, in spite of his wrong policy and his defeat, was an outstanding figure during the campaign, and will not be a negligible figure in the future, is best in his old place as leader of the Opposition."

Laborites Kicking
Ottawa, Dec. 22.—At the meeting of the Allied Trades and Labor Association this evening, Delegate McDowell expressed himself as very pessimistic regarding the future of the recently formed Independent Labor Party, owing to the lack of support it had received so far from the Labor movement. He stated that in spite of the gas and hot air which was "shot off" at the Trades and Labor Congress he thought from present indications the day was still very far distant when Labor would be represented on the floor of the House of Commons. That such a state of things existed was to the everlasting shame of organized labor. He thought it a crying shame that throughout Canada, during the last election, labor had not been able to send a single man to parliament.

Mr. Spence never known to tell a lie.
Mr. Spence did not think that the custodian of the council chamber was entitled "to have wrapped about his majestic figure the mantle of George Washington," but expressed the belief that he would be more at home with that of certain biblical characters not noted for veracity.

Mayor Bowly, pointed out Mr. Spence, by virtue of his office as Mayor of the city, was a member of the executive of the patriotic fund, but since the inception of the fund, although he received a notice of every meeting, had not attended one. If the fund were not properly administered, Mayor Bowly should know of it through his connection, and if he did not know, it was an indication that he was not discharging his duties.

H. T. Watt also addressed the members. He assured them, that politics nor religion were no factors (Continued on page three)

A very successful "Dolls of the Allies" bazaar was held by the Kitchener club in the Great War Veterans' Home last Saturday afternoon and evening, large crowds attending, and the very satisfactory sum of $200 was realized for Brantford's wounded soldiers, enabling the Kitchener club to pay for the automobile which was presented to the soldiers some time ago by them, and leaving a substantial balance for the wounded as well. The beautiful war was won by Mrs. Vanstone, Charlotte street, while the dainty maid of honor was won by Mrs. Angus, Nelson street. The bridegroom and Sergeant O'Leary, which were disposed of on Monday night, brought in the sum of $48. This organization of little girls and their big sisters are to be congratulated on the splendid work they have done. Since the war commenced, they have made over $900 for the soldiers of Brantford.

The following from The Record-Herald refers to a little Chicago boy, Billie Remien, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Remien of 628 Addison street, is more than ambidextrous. He not only knits with both hands, but can sew verses to accompany his gifts for soldiers. He admits he's a boy and is proud, too, that he is the youngest member of the St. Elizabeth's Business Women's Home Auxiliary of the Red Cross. Billie has just finished knitting a sweater for a soldier. Accompanying it are his verses, as follows: Oh! Soldier Man, I'm just a kid, But I knit this sweater, honest I did. My name is Bill, I'm six years old. Put it on and don't be cold.

My mother taught me how to knit. So I am sure it will fit. And when you wear it in old France Just shoot the Germans in the pants.

The important appointment of leading soprano soloist at Zion Presbyterian Church, Brantford, has been given to Miss E. Marie Underhill, a recent and brilliant graduate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music and pupil of Miss Jean Williams. Miss Underhill has also been appointed as teacher of singing at the Brantford Academy, Toronto Saturday Night. Miss Underhill will sing at both services in Zion church to-morrow.

Pearl Steinhoff, L.T.C.M., a young contralto possessing a voice of unusually fine texture, gave a graduating recital at the Conservatory of Music on Dec. 5th, which revealed her as a young artiste of rare promise. She is a pupil of the well-known vocal instructor, M. M. Stevenson. She was assisted by Marjory E. Jones, a pleasing young violinist and a pupil of Mr. Brantford. The above extract from the Toronto Saturday Night refers to Miss Marjory Jones of this city.

OFFICIAL RETURNS FOR NORFOLK

The following figures have been compiled from the official returns given by Sheriff Snider yesterday in his official declaration:

Table with columns for Township, No., and counts for various categories like Charlton, Wallace, and Simcoe.

With all the thawing there are still a few piles of snow almost four feet high about town.

About the best-Laurierite canvassing argument that we have heard of was that of the fellow who told some soldiers wives that unless they voted for Wallace their patriotic money would cease.

The author of this was a clever fellow. The local butchers have an unusually good Christmas stall of meat.

Turkeys are selling at 40c and some of the larger birds run up to $12 or $14.

Some of us have seen yearling steers sold for less.

When one hears all this cry about how scarce farm help was last summer, he is reminded of the day and a half Turkey spent telephoning about the countryside to find harvest employment for a couple of clerks from Toronto who came out to work in their vacation on the farm.

Municipal Matters The township political caucuses are now preparing the slate for the elections.

There was a Reform meeting in Windham Thursday evening, we believe, and the Conservatives will meet next Tuesday.

Charlotteville Liberals met at Walsh last night. We have not yet heard of any movement to oust County Councilors on account of the adoption of the good roads project.

The Boys We commend our delivery staff to such of our customers as have had a faithful and satisfactory service from the boys during the past year.

The little fellows have had their discouragements but like the rest of us—and by the way, a copy of The Courier as a Christmas gift to absent ones, a daily reminder of the donor for the period covered.

W. C. Everett, of Simcoe, had some of the best white rocks.

Brantford and Paris apparently did not care to go up against a collection containing so many birds that had led at the big shows.

presence of a brass band for an hour's programme each afternoon, to draw the crowd.

The building is commodious and comfortable for the birds, and the patrons of the show, and we believe the financial aspect of the venture is not embarrassing.

Parcels have been received from the Lantville Women's Institute and from Langton.

The Mayors of Simcoe One year ago we published a list of the Warden's of Norfolk.

Through the courtesy of Town Clerk W. C. McCall, we are able to give our readers to-day a list of the names of the municipal heads of the county town, since it attained its status of a town.

For many years, the chief magistrate was known as "The Town Reeve." It was not until 1879 that the title "Mayor" appeared.

The following items were too late for insertion yesterday.

Perhaps They'll Build. From all accounts the Presbyterians will have to build a new church for Thornley Chadwick with his Boys' Band, in an original extra at Christmas concert last night "brought down the house." There was the usual presentation of the cantata, candies and cents for the kiddies and other numbers of a varied program. The splendid collection will go to the school fund.

The Methodist school room was the scene of a similar festive gathering with a visit from Santa. St. James' always divides the sum of the Santa Claus entertainment and the Christmas collection between the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, and the Children's Aid Society here. Last night's collection was about $20.

Some Record This. Six of the seven sons of M. McClinton, of Detroit, have just left for overseas in the United States expeditionary force. The seventh is too young. The mother of these boys was formerly Miss Mary Ward of Windham, sister of Mr. Ed. Ward, of that township. Needless to say, the "genus homo" about Vanessa, farther north, is not of the Ward

The British-Canadian says Colon La Fortune was the oldest voter in Canada who marked a ballot on Monday. We hope it is true. But how does Brer. Wallace know?

Miss Ola O'Connor was the recipient of a timely address from the Canada who marked a ballot on Monday. We hope it is true. But how does Brer. Wallace know?

The Dead Must Build. In a previous paragraph you have read that an invalid mother is coming home to her children after eight weeks' absence in the hospital in Brantford. Why was she not in a hospital here. The dead will have need our money for cars. Remember in your wills the country's need of a hospital.

Looks Like Permanent Roads. Sentiment about town favors permanent road building—some of it right away—the present situation cannot be defended. The streets are continually getting worse. If the Council's 5-1-2 per cent. instalment debentures to be offered in January, are taken up locally, the Council are best encouraged in the belief that those with money to invest are ready to back up the home town. Three per cent. bank deposits are generally backing up committees elsewhere.

Those who have been studying the question of construction work in 1918 see no other difficulty except selling the bonds, and a town that purchased so much Victory Loan bonds will doubtless get rid of the necessary roadway debentures.

THE SITUATION.

The news from Italy is much more heartening. General Diaz assumed the offensive between the Brenta and Piave Rivers and made seven assaults upon the Teutons. These were successful to the extent of regaining quite a lot of ground previously lost. A few more days and weather conditions will also help to bring the work of the invaders very much to a standstill.

From Great Britain comes the announcement that it is the general feeling that the growing menace of the Germans on the Western front must be met by increased demands on the man power of the Allies. Meanwhile the statement is made that arrangements have been completed whereby the Allied forces on the front named, can rush troops to any threatened point without restriction.

It would seem to be evident that in Russia the Bolshevik Government is about to go the way of the Kerensky ditto. The Ukrainians are reported to have joined the Cossacks in opposition to the German peace proposals and it is said that Grand Duke Nicholas is once more looming up as a powerful figure.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL

The County Council has just closed a very strenuous year and the members deserve to be heartily congratulated upon the amount of excellent work accomplished, chief among which must be classed the inauguration of the county roads system. For patriotic purposes the handsome amount of $38,500 has been voted and paid without the floating of debentures. In fact Brant County always pays cash for everything, even with regard to items of capital account, and the finances are in first class shape.

Warden Rose has made an excellent and hard working occupant of that position, in fact the office has never been better filled. It was characteristic of him that he should give up the annual Warden's banquet in order to devote the amount usually so spent to some worthy object.

County Clerk Watts was the recipient of hearty commendations at the closing meeting, and he thoroughly deserved them all. His sound sense and excellent advice are recognized by all of the Council's year after year as a tower of strength.

A LAURER RUMOR SPEEDILY DENIED.

Somebody or other started the rumor that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was to be asked to become a member of the Union Government Cabinet.

The very suggestion was on the face of it, too grotesque for belief, and yet it seems to have found credence in certain quarters.

Laurier was asked by Sir Robert Borden to co-operate with him many months ago and emphatically declined to do so. More than that, he forced an election on the very subject with regard to which his help had been requested, and refused.

Under such circumstances, the statement is made that Sir Robert Borden and his associates have had no thought whatever of making the advance named, and it is altogether unlikely that Sir Wilfrid would accede if they did. With his eyes wide open, the Liberal leader chafes the Quebec demand and attitude, as against the rest of the Dominion, and he must now abide by the fact that in so doing, he has alienated just about all of his former followers of any moment and has in the eyes of the world, lacked the part of true statesmanship at a time of great crisis.

It is announced that in order to give further Liberal and Labor representation in the Cabinet, Hon. Mr. Burrill and Hon. Mr. Crothers may step out, also that despite the solid Quebec vote, French Canadians will be duly represented.

All these things, however, are likely to await the receipt of the overseas soldier vote, which will not be counted for some time yet.

THE CASE OF KITCHENER.

The change of name has evidently not in any sense changed the heart of the majority of the people in the Ontario city formerly known as "Berlin." That fact was demonstrated when Premier Borden was sought to address the electors in public meeting, and it has been further emphasized by the result of the voting on Monday last and the subsequent conduct of some of the opponents of Union Government.

The vote and the sentiment was anti-Canadian and anti-British not alone in Kitchener itself, but also throughout the County of Waterloo as will be seen by the following table of the majorities cast for

Euler, the Laurierite candidate:
Kitchener	606
Waterloo	357
Wellesley Township	547
Elmira	319
Waterloo Township	371
Woolwich Township	469
Total	2339

The vote polled by Euler was 5,303 and that by his Unionist opponent, Weichel (former member), 2,914, so that the latter lost his deposit.

After the returns were in Euler, during the course of an interview, openly boasted that his supporters had "registered their objection to the conscription act." In other words, that they had proclaimed themselves as favoring the betrayal of the Canadian soldiers in the trenches and placed themselves on record as against any further Canadian war effort.

Mr. Weichel, ex-M.P., seen at the same time, said:

"Had the electors of North Waterloo a true conception of the position in which their representative was placed, and what a firm stand on all war legislation by their member meant to this riding, would again be their representative. 'Falling to grasp this truth they have voted North Waterloo into isolation."

"As I feel I did my duty for the riding as a British-Canadian I have no regrets. Having done my duty, even though that duty was misunderstood by a majority in North Waterloo, leaves me proud in the knowledge I was true to my country and myself."

"At the same time I feel a throb of sympathy for the good people in this constituency for the unfortunate position in which they are now placed."

"The isolation." That is just what it should prove.

Meanwhile the Brantford City Council has formally protested against the use of Kitchener's name in connection with any such community and other places have followed suit. A despatch from Hamilton in this regard says:

CITY ITEMS

PATIENTS IN HOSPITAL.
Twenty-eight patients received 321 days' treatment at the hospital during November, for which the city is liable. The account amounts to $224.70.

POLICE COURT.
One adjourned case is slated for the Police Court on Monday. There will be no sitting of the court on Christmas Day.

TEN BIRTHS.
There were ten births in the hospital during November, six females and four males.

EMPLOYEES REMEMBERED.
On Friday evening the Brantford Laundry Ltd. presented each one of their employees with a check for five dollars, and a letter expressing appreciation of their services.

BLAZE IN BOXES.
An empty box piled in the basement of a house at 106 Waterloo street, became ignited at 7.15 last night. The blaze was noticed by the occupant of the house, J. Dawson, and the firemen were summoned. Little material loss resulted.

LEAVING FOR OVERSEAS.
Militia headquarters' orders today instruct that when drafts are warned for overseas service, arrangements must be made that last leave is completed a clear week before the date of entraining, in order that final medical examination may be made immediately before the draft leaves camp. Approximately there are 17 different documents for each officer and man to prepare before he leaves, and it is impossible to prepare and complete the large number of nominal rolls necessary unless medical examination be held a clear 36 hours before the time of entraining.

MUNICIPAL COAL DEPOT

On Monday morning, from eight o'clock onward, Brantfordites will place all orders for coal through the central committee sitting in the City Hall. The committee met last night and completed its organization. E. Lavery was elected chairman, and H. D. McIntyre secretary. The application form to be signed by all ordering coal, was approved. No one will be allowed to purchase more than a ton of fuel at a time, and no one will be allowed to buy unless the shortage ceases. Preference will be given to families having sickness in the house, or with children or old people needing heat. Otherwise, all classes will be treated exactly alike. Applicants will be allowed to name the dealer from whom they desire to obtain the coal, but if the latter has none on hand, the committee will place the order with the dealer nearest the applicant's home, in order to prevent long hauling.

TRAIN SERVICE TO BE REDUCED

The Canadian Railway Association on National Defence, composed of representatives from all railways operating in the Dominion, has just completed an important conference at Ottawa with the Dominion Railway Board, at which it was decided to make further reductions in the passenger services in order to enable the railway companies to meet serious shortages in coal supplies, which coincides with a pressing need for an increase of transportation facilities for the movement of freight and munitions. Many parlor cars are also to be cut off.

TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of The Courier. Sir.—Statements have been made regarding my candidature for Mayor, to the effect that I was a new-comer in the city, that I have lived here less than three years, and that I have had only one year's municipal experience. May I be permitted to say that I was born in Brantford and have spent over twenty-four years of my life here. During the time I resided in Toronto I had eleven continuous years of municipal experience, during which time I occupied the position of chairman of the Board of Education, alderman and controller of that city, elected by the city at large. I feel that by reason of my experience I can be of some service to my native city, and for that reason I have acceded to the request of many of my old friends to stand for Mayor. Yours truly, S. ALFRED JONES.

For Mayor of Our City

After serving three consecutive years as an Alderman in Brantford, I have been urged by a large number of the electors to allow my name for nomination as Mayor for 1918.

For the last two years I have been Chairman of Finance and have accepted the responsibility which that office carries. Notwithstanding war conditions and the many financial calls, we are practically free from war debt and our city's financial position to-day is second to none in Canada.

I believe the three years training I have had as Alderman has so familiarized me with all the city's affairs that I am well qualified to serve the city as Mayor.

Will the electors of Brantford, please watch this space in The Courier and I will endeavor to impress upon you why our citizens should give more attention to Civic matters than they now do.

Careful attention to ALL the City's business—no hobbies.

HUN PROPAGANDA AMONG U.S. MINERS

Over 150 Pro-Germans Arrested in Illinois in Past Two Months

By Courier Leased Wire
St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 21.—More than 150 pro-German propagandists have been arrested during the last two months in Southern Illinois, where they have been active among coal miners, according to Government agents, who reported to headquarters here to-day.

According to the reports rumors of the activity of German propagandists came to federal officials late in the summer and Government agents were sent to the mining camps, the result being the arrest and detention of scores of persons who are charged with inciting riots and strikes among the miners.

SORRY OUTLOOK FOR CHRISTMAS.

To moderate the terrible meat shortage prevalent in the city of Brussels, and all the territory of Belgium occupied by the Germans, hog raising farms have been opened at Luna Parc, Zuen and Dilbeek. From 800 to 900 hogs are fed on potato peelings gathered with other vegetable debris from the private houses of the cities. But, whereas 1,000 pounds of potato peelings could be gathered the shortage of potatoes has reduced the daily collection to 150 pounds.

The difficulty of obtaining food at all in Belgium is increasing daily, and the prospect of passing another Christmas in semi-starvation is inevitable.

Naturally the children will be the chief sufferers, and it is on behalf of these children that the Belgian Relief Committee is asking for a Christmas offering.

"THE LILAC DOMINO"

One of the greatest successes in musical productions which this city has ever known will be presented when "The Lilac Domino" comes to the Grand Opera House next Tuesday, Dec. 25th, Christmas afternoon and evening, with a cast which would be an attraction even in Grand Opera circles and a wealth of scenic paraphernalia, a large chorus of lovely young girls who sing and dance with all the vivacity and charm of happy youth, in costumes regal in magnificence and up-to-the-minute in style and a quintet of famous comedians who draw forth laughs at the rate of two to the minute, this production is one of the events of the season.

"VENGEANCE AND THE WOMAN"

A remarkable illustration of the recklessness in the matter of expense and personal risk, which motion picture makers of to-day display is provided in "Vengeance and the Woman," a fifteen episode serial which will start at the Rex Theatre on Thursday, Manager Moule of the Rex has received some statistics from the Greater Vitagraph Company, producers of "Vengeance and the Woman," which are startling when compared to legitimate stage productions. For instance:—

"A CHILD OF THE WILD"

June Caprice, the dainty little star of William Fox's "A Child of the Wild," swept the Southerners off their feet when she invaded the Southernland to make her latest picture, "A Child of the Wild," vowing never to attend school, but when Frank Trent comes to teach in the Southern wilderness she not only joins his classes but captures the teacher. When June's father dies, Frank undertakes to protect the little girl. He has his sister and her child join him. Bob Gale, an unwelcome suitor for June's hand, tells her Frank's wife and child have arrived. When Frank comes to introduce his sister, June spurns him. The misunderstanding is cleared up by the child who lingers to play with June's puppets. June hears the baby call "Uncle Frank." She feels Gale has fled to her. He attacks her just as Frank returns for his niece. The teacher rescues June who flees to her hero's arms, happy to find he was true to her.

"THE HUNGRY HEART"

The exterior scenes in Pauline Frederick's latest Paramount production, "The Hungry Heart," from David Graham Phillips' novel, were taken on the huge estate at Lake George, New York, of R. C. Peabody, one of the most prominent New York City bankers, who is a personal friend of Miss Frederick's, and gave the use of his estate to Director Robert Vignola for the picture. "The Hungry Heart," which has long been a favorite book of Miss Frederick's, was recommended by that actress for herself. It is to be shown at the Brant theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"RIPPLING RHYMES"

You undergo no grievous strain when you observe a matinee day; so don't get all swelled up and vain, because you choosed the steak away. I hear so many people boast of little seducing tricks; because they did without a roast, they think they're heroes, dandies, bricks. And one man has a swollen head, his Sunday hat it has outgrown, because he cut out wheaten bread, and filled himself with hot corn pone. Great Scott! Before this war is done, before Red Bill's an also ran, we may be thankful for a bun composed of sawdust, hay and brain. Oh, let us take ourselves abroad, and tell the starving people there, how we have felt privation's prod, by cutting down the bill of fare. Let us address the Belgians, and say, "Your sympathy we seek; we, too, have known the pangs of want—we've cut out beef one meal a week. Our children cry for wheaten bread, appeal to us with streaming eyes, and they must hungry go to bed; because we've naught for them but pies. We've sounded all the bells of grief, we've known all throes that men may feel, for once a week we cut out beef, and eat some fish instead of veal." Then would the Belgians realize what anguish has weared on our means, and they would say, "These hungry guys may have our share of pork and beans."

SIDE TALKS

By RUTH CAMERON

"LOST AND FOUND" AGAIN.

Never was there a better response to a column of lost and found advertisements (have you ever noticed by the way, that in these columns there are always five losts to one found. Whatever does become of those other four articles?) than there was to my last batch of lost poems and stories.

Every single one was found. Some several times over.

Everybody is Much Thanked. I have thanked all the friends that I could by mail. Will the rest please consider themselves thanked as usual. Also will the lady who so kindly copied out the music and verses of "The Faded Coat of Blue" please not think me most ungrateful. Her address in some way became separated from the music and I couldn't write her (and speaking of such losses, a very lovely letter friend wrote me an unusually interesting letter about enjoying my talks and telling me how the engineer threw the papers off a train to her and I can't find it. If she reads this I wish she would write again.)

Some of the finders also had losts to advertise.
A Story She Read As A Child
"I have a story I would like to find if possible," writes one such. "It is about a wealthy family who lost their money. In order to get a start again they moved into the country. I believe with the old."

Others shall see them no more. "When a child," writes "a constant reader," I used to sing:

"The rose that all are praising is not the rose for me,
Too many eyes are gazing upon the costly tree.
But there's a rose in yonder glen that shuns the gaze of other men
For me their praise resigning
Oh, that's the rose for me.
I cannot remember the rest and if anyone could, would like to have it."

folks. The way the children, as well as the grown folks, worked together to make the best of it, impressed me as a child. Would I like to get my matured viewpoint. I remember the children fixing a play house in the barn, using all sorts of old cast-offs. In one part there was something about a fire, I believe, where the older boy played the part of hero.

"Only A Lock of Her Hair."
"I wish some of your numerous readers could tell me," writes another, "where to find the words and music of a song I found in an old Pierson magazine thirty years ago. Title, 'Only a lock of her hair.' All I can remember is, 'Only a lock of her hair' Only the flowers she wore. Years have I treasured them where."

Good Night Stories

DOTTY LEARNS HOW TO MAKE MAMMA'S BED RIGHT.

"I wish you'd learn to make the bed nicely," called Dotty's mamma one day as Dotty, after carelessly drawing the covers up, ran out of the door.

As far as Dotty could see the ground was covered with snow.

"Oh Mother Goose is shaking her feather bed," laughed Dotty, as a snow flake fell on her coat sleeve.

"They look like tiny snow fairies," mused Dotty, and she watched the one on her sleeve. Surely it was a tiny Snow Fairy standing there smiling at her.

"I just happened to hear you mention Mother Goose's name," said the Snow Fairy.

Dotty told her she was sure any one who could shake a bed as hard as Mother Goose was a hard worker. She must know how to make a lovely bed.

"I can't make a bed neatly, mother says," laughed Dotty.

"Mother Goose can, and I'm sure she'll let you watch her," replied the Snow Fairy. "Jump on your sled, and the fairy waved a wand over Dotty's head. This will give you fairy sight," she laughed.

Sure enough, when the next snow flakes floated toward her Dotty saw they were tiny Snow Fairies.

"Why, the whole world is full of them!" cried Dotty, looking above her head.

Then Dotty looked down as her sled gave a jerk, and then two prancing snow-white horses were harnessed. Off she was whisked through the air surrounded by the little snow people.

At a great pace they went until they reached a great big cloud castle. There Snow Fairy hopped out and knocked on the door.

"I can't entertain visitors," called a squeaky voice from behind the door. "I'm busy making my bed."

"That's just why I came!" exclaimed Dotty. "Please let me in, Mother Goose."

Mother Goose opened the door and Dotty and Snow Fairy entered a great big room.

In the centre stood a bed large enough to hold a million Snow Fairies, and at the head the little old woman leaned over it, pounding and punching the feather mattress.

"You see, mamma says I don't know how to make a bed nicely, so I thought perhaps you'd show me how," laughed Dotty.

"Surely, I will," said Mother Goose. "Now watch and listen."

Mother Goose gave the bed such a shake that millions of Snow Fairies who were fast asleep awakened and danced into the air and out of sight.

And as she shook the mattress, this way and that, Mother Goose sang a song that struck light in Dotty's memory.

She finished with a final shake that blew Dotty off her feet and out of the door, and Dotty tumbled through miles of space until she landed right on top of a big pile of snow in her own back yard. She brushed the snow from her clothes and ran into the house.

"Mamma, have you ever heard this song? Now listen:

First you shake it this way,
Then you shake it that,
Shake it well, as I say,
It will always be flat.

"What are you talking about?" laughed mamma, and Dotty told her about seeing Mother Goose make her feather bed.

Next morning Dotty made her mamma's bed very carefully, just as she had seen Mother Goose make hers. Mamma declared she had never seen a bed better made in all her life.

SUNDAY MIXED IT WITH PRO-GERMAN

Evangelist Had Bettena of Scrap on Tabernacle Platform

By Courier Leased Wire.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 21.—Before a screaming, yelling audience of thousands of men and women at the Tabernacle last night, Billy Sunday, when nearing the close of his revival here, fought a fast and furious fist fight with a German sympathizer on the platform. While the exchange of blows was about even, Billy had decidedly the better of the argument before the crowd near the platform separated the contestants. His attack came just after the evangelist had begun a vigorous attack on the Germans and their allies in this war.

He had just said that he "didn't think God would be on the side of a dirty bunch that would stand aside and see a Turk outrage a woman."

At this point there came cries of "look out" and "stop him" and H. W. Beuterbaugh, a carpenter, of 119 South Prior street, pushed by Sunday workers, who were trying to keep him off the platform, and advanced threateningly on the evangelist.

Turning to see the cause of the interruption, Sunday crouched like a prizefighter and looking like a ring general, launched an attack on the intruder. Billy led for the face and missed and the stranger, who outweighed Billy fifty pounds at least, landed a glancing blow on the face.

Then Billy countered with a heavy wallop to the chest, and the crowd was on the platform and tore the fighters apart.

THE UNIFICATION OF ITALY

The Treaty of Paris in 1815 left Austria once more master of Northern Italy. But the Italians, who for fifteen years had lived under the more enlightened rule of the French, were, from the first, restive under the hated yoke. In Southern Italy the Austrians had reinstated Ferdinand of Naples, and it was in his dominions that actual opposition first began. A society, calling themselves the Carbonari, was there formed, whose aim was the freeing of Italy from foreign dominion, and this society rapidly attained to considerable power. Its ramifications extended into Lombardy and Venetia, and liberal ideas very soon secured an important hold on the popular mind.

From among the people themselves sprang leaders of thought, who moulded the national mind to the conception of Italian freedom and unity. Mazzini, the chief of these, founded the party of Young Italy to whose banners flocked the more earnest and more noble-minded of the populace.

In these early stages, Count Cavour, by his writings in Il Risorgimento, began that work which subsequently entitled him to be called the Makeshift of Italy. But in order to act as a visible head, something further was necessary, and for this purpose the patriots turned to Carlo Alberto, King of Piedmont.

The opportunity came with the wave of popular unrest that swept over Europe in 1848. Metternich, the Austrian Foreign Minister, and inveterate enemy of Italian freedom, was overthrown by its violence and fled from Vienna. Upon his fall the policy of Austria became somewhat less oppressive, but it was now too late. The Austrian troops were suddenly expelled from Milan by popular revolt, and at the signal the rest of Northern Italy, previously prepared as it had been by the revolutionaries, rose in sympathy. The Austrians were driven out of every town except the four fortresses of Peschiera, Verona, Legnago, and Mantua, that formed the Italy of the "Quadrilateral," the symbol of Austrian military power in Italy, and Piedmont declared war.

But the Austrians, unversed in war, allowed their enthusiasm to overcome their judgment, and many fatal errors were the result. Eventually Radetzky, the Austrian commander, was obliged to withdraw from the battle of Novara, on March 23rd, 1849, and Carlo Alberto, broken and dispirited by the reverse, abdicated in favor of his son, Victor Emmanuel.

The following years saw the activities of Mazzini and Garibaldi in Rome, and the participation of Piedmont in the Crimean War. The latter was due to the advice of Cavour, who wished to establish his country in the eyes of the world, and to exercise its army in modern war.

In 1859 Austria in her turn attacked Piedmont, with the object of bringing this westernmost province of Italy under her sway. But Napoleon III, who had belonged to the Carbonari himself in his youth, and who since his attempted assassination by Orsini had leaned more and more towards the cause of Italian liberation, threw France into the scale against Austria. The allies won the battles of Magenta and Solferino in Lombardy, and it seemed as though the Austrians must finally be driven from Italian soil. But it was not to be. The Treaty of Peace that followed the war of 1859 left Austria supreme in Venetia, although Lombardy was ceded to Piedmont. The Quadrilateral, with all that it stood for, still remained in alien hands.

The final opportunity did not come until seven years later. Victor Emmanuel had for some time been drawing nearer to Prussia as a possible ally, and when the latter declared war upon Austria in 1866, his policy was justified. Italy declared war in her turn as Prussia's ally, and notwithstanding the defeat of the Italian army by the Austrians under the Archduke A. at Custoza on June 24th, and of the navy by the Austrian fleet under Tegethoff at Lissa on July 18th, fortune favored her. The Prussians defeated the Austrians at Sadowa on July 3rd, and the Austrian troops in Italy were largely withdrawn for the defence of Vienna. Peace brought with it the perpetual menace of the Quadrilateral was removed, and Austria retired beyond the Isonzo.

Meanwhile, in Central and Southern Italy, the process of unification had been proceeding apace. In 1859 the Romagna, Modena, Tuscany, and Parma were added to the dominions of Victor Emmanuel. In 1860 Garibaldi led an expedition into Sicily, that resulted in the addition of Naples, Sicily, Umbria, and the Marches, and Victor Emmanuel was proclaimed King of Italy in his new capital of Florence. In 1870 the last stone of the edifice was laid. Rome was abandoned by its French garrison after the outbreak of the Franco-German war, and was annexed by the Italian nation. Here in 1872 Victor Emmanuel was crowned King of United Italy, which thus came under a single rule for the first time since the decline of the Roman Empire.

Oleomargarine of Canadian manufacture came into the market during the week, but importations from the United States have not yet started. The United States Department of Food Control had not yet issued the necessary licenses to export this commodity. It is expected these licenses will be forthcoming, although nothing definite has been given out. Advances have been numerous during the week and include such commodities as manure, tobacco, vinegar, small sizes of package teas, sauces, jelly powder, pickled and smoked fish, storage eggs. Nuts are moving freely. There is a firm situation in peanuts owing to the shortage of supplies. Brazil nuts were in firmer market with advances recorded in certain quarters. Some Manchurian walnuts in the shell came into the market during the week. While shelled Manchurian walnuts have been brought in heretofore, it is stated that this is perhaps the first time they have been brought to sell in the shell. Rangoon beans gave evidence of an easier market. Ontario beans are scarce and hard to get. Honey continues to be very scarce, with an advance recorded in honey in jars. There are fairly heavy supplies of barrel apples in the Ontario market and it is anticipated lower prices would not be improbable. Potatoes showed an easier tendency, although farmers are still holding for high prices in the Ontario field. Carrots are in abundant supply, but are not moving. Arrangements have been completed for the purchase of the new crop Cuban sugar on the basis of 4.60c f.o.b. Cuba. This should mean a reduction in the price of Canadian refined when the new-crop sugar begins to come on the market early in January. Business in grocery lines was reported very good during the week, and equal to the pre-holiday trade of last year.—Canadian Grocer.
