THE HERALD.
FREDERICTON, NOVEMBER 24, 1894.

COME TO THE MEETING.
THE HERALD can now definitely announce the program of next Wednesday evening's Liberal meeting at the City Hall here. The leading speakers will be Hon. L. H. Davies, M. P., of Charlottetown; Hon. W. S. Fielding, Premier of Nova Scotia; Hon. A. G. Blair, Premier of New Brunswick, and John V. Ellis, ex-M. P., of St. John, and to these will be added two or three addresses from local members of the party. Every Liberal within reach of the city should be present at the meeting, and Conservatives, too, will be welcomed. It is among the latter that the missionary work must be done.

NEXT WEEK'S VISITORS.
Readers of THE HERALD and others who propose hearing Hon. L. H. Davies, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Hon. A. G. Blair, Mr. Ellis, and the other Liberal orators, who are to speak in the Fredericton city hall, next Wednesday evening, will be interested in knowing some particulars of the personal and political history of the gentlemen.

Hon. Louis Henry Davis, Q. C., M. P., or as he is popularly known among his personal friends and political intimates, "Lou" Davis, will be fifty years old, next day and was born at Charlottetown, P. E. Island, the son of Benjamin Davis, M. P. P. He graduated at Prince of Wales college, Charlottetown, studied law, and enjoys an excellent reputation at the bar. He was first elected to the P. E. Island legislature in 1872, when only twenty-seven years old, and sat continuously in that body until 1879, when he was defeated. He was Solicitor General of the Island, 1872-3, and became Premier and Attorney General in 1876, holding those positions for three years. He was elected to the House of Commons in the general election of 1882, and has represented the county of Queens in that body ever since then. Mr. Davis, on entering the Commons, at once took a leading position among the members of that body, and as a debater has few peers. He is an aggressive, fearless speaker, gives hard blows and can take them, and on the stump as a campaigner, has few equals in Canada. Mr. Davis is the recognized Liberal parliamentary chief in the Maritime provinces, and in the party management at Ottawa, stands close to Hon. Mr. Laurier, and enjoys his leader's full confidence.

Hon. William Stevens Fielding, the popular Nova Scotia premier, was born at Halifax, Nov. 24th, 1848, and has therefore just passed his forty-sixth birthday. He commenced life as a clerk and reporter in the Halifax Daily Chronicle office, and was editor of that journal when twenty-five years of age. He exhibited wonderful ability in his profession, in the discussion of the great public questions, which agitated Nova Scotia, showing remarkable knowledge, energy and skill. He was elected to the Maritime assembly from Halifax, in the general elections of 1882, when the Conservative government, led by Hon. S. H. Holmes and Hon. J. S. D. Thompson, now premier of Canada, was disastrously defeated. When the victorious Liberals met at Halifax for organization, the positions of premier and provincial secretary were offered to Mr. Fielding, although, up to that time, he had never sat a day in the legislature. He, however, not only declined the honors held out to him, but also declined a seat in the executive without office. Hon. W. T. Pipes became premier, and Mr. Fielding, before the meeting of the legislature, was pressed into the government without office. Mr. Pipes resigned the following year, and Mr. Fielding succeeded him as premier, accepting also the position of provincial secretary, and has held those positions ever since, winning the general elections of 1886, 1890 and 1894, by large majorities, and carrying Halifax with him, colleagues on the occasion, except the last, when one of them was defeated. In the present assembly, Mr. Fielding counts twenty-eight supporters of the thirty-eight members composing that body, and enjoys, as he has ever since he entered public life, the warm confidence of the people of Nova Scotia. He is an excellent speaker, a genial, popular man, and no doubt with Mr. Davies, will receive a warm welcome in Fredericton. Mr. Fielding came to New Brunswick for his wife, who was Miss Rankin, daughter of the Hon. J. Rankin, of the Liberal candidates in St. John, in the last Dominion election. In relation he is a Baptist.

THE HERALD does not think that the other prominent speakers for next Wednesday evening's meeting require an extended introduction to its readers. J. V. Ellis, ex-M. P., of St. John, editor of the Globe, is almost as well known here as in St. John as a journalist, and public spirited man. He sat in the House of Assembly for one term from 1886, and was subsequently elected to the House of Commons, suffering defeat however in the last general election. Mr. Ellis is a pleasant speaker, practical and concise, and will be heard with pleasure in Fredericton.

Everybody who has heard Hon. A. G. Blair on the public platform, will expect a rattling speech from him Wednesday evening, and they will not be disappointed. Mr. Blair has enjoyed the confidence of New Brunswick electors to a remarkable degree for many years, and in the present legislature his following numbers more than two thirds of the forty-one members. He was first elected in 1878—became at once the leader of the Opposition, was re-elected in 1882—at the session of 1883 drove the Hanington government out of power, and became premier and attorney general, which positions he has occupied ever since. Mr. Blair, while giving much of his attention to the management of local affairs, has also taken an active interest in federal politics, and the Liberals who assemble here Wednesday evening will welcome him as a leader among them, and as a gentleman who is fitted to take his place among the ablest public speakers in Canada.

With such an array of orators, supplemented by prominent local speakers, the coming meeting promises to be one of the most successful ever held in this city. All will be welcomed, whether they subscribe to Liberal doctrines or not, and no doubt many conversions from Toryism will be the result of the great Liberal gathering.

A GREAT LIBERAL VICTORY.
The city of London, Ontario, has at last been redeemed from Conservative misrepresentation. For twenty-two years during his whole political life, Hon. W. F. Meredith, now Chief Justice of Ontario, sat for that city in the Ontario legislature, defying the most persistent efforts of Sir Oliver Mowatt to dislodge him. Only last June Mr. Meredith carried the constituency by a majority of one hundred and thirty-seven, but on Tuesday last the Conservatives met their Waterloo. Mr. Meredith having resigned, a new election was ordered, and Thos. Hobbs, who gave the late opposition leader such a close run in June was again chosen as the Liberal standard bearer, and the Conservatives put up Mayor Essery who had twice been elected to the majority by rousing majorities and was considered an exceptionally strong man. The new opposition leader, Mr. Marter, took charge of the campaign for the Conservatives and they counted on certain victory, but imagine their bitter disappointment Tuesday night when the returns showed a majority of eight hundred for Mr. Hobbs.

The victory is significant in several ways: first, it assures to Sir Oliver Mowatt a certain majority in the Ontario legislature over Conservatives, Patrons and P. P. A.'s combined; second, it destroys the popular fallacy that London was irredeemably Conservative; and third, and most important of all, it shows that the country even in the hitherto most hidebound Tory constituencies, is in sympathy with the Liberal party and its principles. The next Dominion election will show the greatest political upheaval in Ontario witnessed in modern times; in spite of gerrymandering, election lists, partisan polling officers, and government boodle, Ontario will return to its Liberal allegiance and materially assist in dismissing the present corrupt administration from power.

Mr. Hobbs who has carried London by such a magnificent majority for the Liberals, is a young man who has made his way to prominence by his own unaided efforts. He is an Englishman by birth, and not many years ago was working in London, his present home, for one dollar per day. Until selected to stand against Mr. Meredith in June he had never entered the public arena and was known only as an enterprising merchant and manufacturer. His nomination was a surprise to the rank and file, but his candidature had been unexpected strength, as was shown by the close brush he gave the most popular Conservative in Ontario—Mr. Meredith. Mr. Hobbs advanced from a day laborer to a clerkship in a hardware store and advanced with fidelity persistency until he was able to start in business on his own account. He and his brother subsequently branched into the wholesale trade, in addition to which they are now manufacturers of plate glass, wire nails, etc. Mr. Hobbs' mercantile career has been successful and he is rated a rich man.

MR. PALMER'S DEATH.
THE HERALD regrets to announce the death of Albert Palmer, ex-M. P., for Queens county, which occurred at his home at Hampstead on Saturday last. Mr. Palmer was for many years prominently identified with the interests of Queens, his native county. He served as a member of the municipal council, of which he became Warden, and in 1882, with Mr. Hetherington he was elected to the House of Assembly. He was re-elected in 1886 and 1890, and between these two dates he acceptably filled the position of deputy speaker. He was a strong Liberal, an unflinching supporter of the present local administration, and a man of excellent character and genial manners. Admiring friends all over Queens county, and in fact wherever the deceased was known, will read of his death with sincere regret.

SOME CHEESE.
Mr. Hodgins, a big cheese shipper of Montreal, visited P. E. Island this week and bought the entire season's output of the fourteen cheese factories, paying ten cents per pound for it. There were 9,000 cases, or say nearly six hundred thousand pounds of cheese. It will be shipped to the English market. Three years ago, P. E. Island had only three cheese factories, with no export to speak of. The progress made in this industry, and it has not been as great as in New Brunswick, shows our farmers the splendid possibilities of that branch of their vocation, when directed by intelligence and zeal.

The Globe in noting the death of Mr. Palmer, ex-M. P., for Queens, calls attention to the fact that of the twenty-two members of the House of Assembly who voted the Hanington government out of power in March 1883, only four, Hon. Mr. Blair, Hon. Mr. Mitchell, Hon. Mr. La Billois and Speaker Burchill, are members of the present legislature. The death roll includes Hon. Mr. Elder, Hon. G. S. Turner, Hon. T. F. Gillespie, Hon. Dr. Yell, Hon. John McAdam, Mr. Sterling, of Sunbury, and Mr. Palmer, of Queens.

Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian High Commissioner at London, has been dabbling in Imperial politics, and the Conservative candidate for whom he spoke in Forfarshire was successful, but it would seem that Sir Charles was somewhat out of place in the contest. He can gain no advantage to Canada by antagonizing the Rosebery government, and the best advice the Dominion government could give him, would be to attend strictly to the business for which the country pays him $10,000 a year and expenses.

THAT it is not always oratory that wins an election, was well evidenced in the London contest. At the nomination proceedings, Mayor Essery, who was defeated by 803 votes, spoke eloquently for three hours, while his successful rival held the fort just six minutes.

A PUGILIST KILLED.
Riordon, the pugilist, who was knocked down by Robert Fitzsimmons the other night in Syracuse, N. Y., died the next morning. Fitzsimmons had been arrested. The affair has created a great deal of excitement in sporting circles and came about this way: Fitzsimmons and Riordon were in the first round of their usual exhibition, which closed the program of a vaudeville show. "Fitz" delivered a right-hander, and caught Riordon square on the chin. He did not fall to the floor from the force of the blow, but sank slowly until he measured his length on the stage. Instantly there was an attempt made to resuscitate the man, but all efforts were unavailing. The blow was struck at half-past ten, and though the doctors worked unceasingly up to the hour of Riordon's death, he did not regain consciousness. His death was due to concussion of the brain. Fitzsimmons is very much exercised over his partner's fate. There was no bad blood between the men, and the force of the blow, he says was not intentionally great enough to kill a man. The coroner's jury acquitted Fitzsimmons.

LONDON GOES LIBERAL.
Hobbs Carries the Constituency by 803 Majority.
Great Enthusiasm Throughout Canada.

The greatest political victory ever achieved in Western Ontario, marked Tuesday's contest in London, Ontario. The seat which Mr. Meredith had for twenty-two years, and which John Carling held from Confederation till Meredith succeeded him, was carried by Thos. S. Hobbs, Liberal, by the overwhelming majority of 803 votes, a majority in every ward being registered.

Mr. Hobbs' opponent was Mayor E. T. Essery, and a leader in the P. P. A. movement. He had the support of the Dominion Conservative organization, and his most active agents were Dr. Roome and Mr. Marshall, Conservative M. P.'s for East and West Middlesex. The contest was notable because it was the first by-election that has taken place since the Liberals were returned to power in the province in June last.

Mr. Marter, the new Conservative leader, visited the constituency with his lieutenants. They, like the Conservative candidate, made their chief plank the making of the separate schools unworkable as possible at present, with the object they asserted, of having them abolished whenever a law could be obtained to do so. The result has been an overwhelming defeat of the Conservative candidate.

Tuesday night the Liberals celebrated the great victory with a procession, miles in length, bands of music and fireworks. Then came a great mass meeting in the Opera House which was crowded in every part, thousands being unable to gain admittance. The enthusiasm was unbounded when a telegram of congratulation from Ontario's Grand Old Man was received. Among others who spoke was Mr. Hobbs, the new Liberal M. P., and Mr. Hyman, M. P., who received an ovation. All the speakers prophesied that Mr. Hyman would get the seat which was stolen from him whenever the voters are given a chance to vote.

Another despatch says: After a short and sharp campaign, in which the eyes of the whole Dominion have been upon the city of London, the Liberal party have won by the largest majority ever rolled up by any candidate in that city. Although the Liberals confidently looked forward to a victory, they were completely surprised at the majority, as the opinion on all sides was that the majority either way would be narrow. When the returns began to be received, showing majorities for Hobbs, the excitement became intense and the jubilant Liberals expressed their satisfaction by making the city ring with their cheering, intermingled with horns and anything that would swell the noise. A large procession was formed which finally brought up at the Opera House, where speeches were delivered by the prominent members of the party.

The National Assurance company of Ireland, one of the best companies engaged in the fire business, was taken over in 1882, and has its head office at College Green, Dublin. Its annual income is over $1,400,000, its accumulated funds amount to $2,400,000, and its subscribed capital is $5,000,000. Its directors include a long list of names eminent in Ireland's commercial world, as follows: Samuel Bewley, Major William Giron, Henry Perry Goodbody, Jonathan Hogg, director of the bank of Ireland, Brindley Hone, director of the Royal Bank of Ireland, William Hone, director Dublin and Kingston Railway company, Thomas Allaga Kelly, George Kinahan, director of the Bank of Ireland, Hugh O'Connor, Joseph R. O'Reilly, Sir George B. Owens, Frederick C. Pilkington, J. P., Thomas Pin, James Talbot Power, Edward Robert Read, J. Hamilton Field, William Robertson, director of the Bank of Ireland, George Black Thompson, Graves Swan Waters, director of the Dublin and Kingston railway company. Its excellent financial standing is known throughout the world. Prompt payment of losses, and generous treatment to its patrons have rendered the National a popular company, and there are many in this country who can speak personally of the handsome manner in which the National treated them when the occasion offered. The Canadian manager of the National is Matthew C. Hinshaw, 1735, Notre Dame street, Montreal, and the agent in Fredericton is Frank I. Morrison.

The Montreal Witness.
One of the sights of Montreal, is a visit to the Witness office, which, for internal elegance, convenience and completeness of equipment has few rivals anywhere. One's attention is arrested on the sidewalk by seeing through a window a Chinaman patiently turning a crank with the air of one who has a contract for a century of faithful labor, and means to fulfil it. The Chinaman is made of wood, and for steady, patient, endless toil, commend us to a Chinaman. Making bold to go in, we find ourselves in an enviable public office with tiled floor, hot-house fowers and what not. Then we were placed on a spiral stair through the great editorial room, to the battery of linotypes which are the marvel of the nineteenth century, as Gutenberg's movable types were of the awakening life of the fifteenth. The great Hoe press of the Witness, which prints almost any number of pages, from two to thirty-two, is the most complete machine anywhere. Close beside it you are struck on enquiry, a patch on the floor, which marks the spot where exploded the famous bomb some months ago, which the Witness doubtless owed to its active and effective war against gamblers and bunco steers, a class which by exposure and clever caricature, it has managed to drive from the city, or at least to deprive of the open tolerance and public freedom which they before enjoyed at the hands of sympathetic officials. The stand for law and order taken by the Witness lately, resulted in an investigation of the police and detective system of Montreal, which has revealed the need of some revolutionary change. The paper is devoted to temperance and all good things. It claims to be independent in politics, and has certainly opposed with equal vigor the Standard government at Ottawa and the Liberal Mercier government at Quebec. It is at all events a clean family paper, very carefully edited, and one of the pretties in get up and typography that comes to our office.

Last week's big fire in Winnipeg has caused a great outcry about the insufficiency of Winnipeg's water supply and fire protection. It is proposed to at once spend $200,000 for a system of water works for fire protection, which system will be increased to furnish the entire city water supply when the monopoly of the present water works company expires.

AROUND THE WORLD.
The News of the World in Brief—The Cream of our Exchanges.
The Quebec legislature is in session. Chicago claims a population of 2,236,000. The Japanese army have captured Port Arthur, China's chief naval station, after eighteen hours fighting.

The Methodists of the United States are preparing to erect a $5,000,000 University in the suburbs of Washington, D. C. Buffalo police made a general raid on the dives of that city the other night and gathered in about 500 loose women. Mrs. B. R. Stevenson, of St. Andrews, is a guest at the Prince of Wales hotel, Toronto, N. S., where she will remain for the winter.

Rev. James Neales, for many years Church of England clergyman at Gagetown, Queens County, died at Woodstock, Monday, aged 81 years. The Kings County News is the name of a new Conservative weekly newspaper issued this week at Hampton by Clarence Spooner formerly of the Sussex Record. Robert Birmingham, who accompanied Hon. J. C. Patterson to the lower provinces recently, caught cold while down east and is dangerously ill at Toronto. Freeman Marshall, a retired ship captain, living at Bear River, N. S., and father of Mrs. McAllister, formerly of Fredericton, is dead, aged 78 years.

The St. Lawrence Lumber company, of which Senator Brown, of Baddeck, is manager, is in financial difficulties. The stockholders are mostly in England. The Liberal leaders who are to speak here next Wednesday evening, will also address meetings at St. John Tuesday evening and at Woodstock Friday evening. Warden McBride, of the British Columbia penitentiary, Deputy Warden Fitzsimmons and Accountant Kearney have been dismissed for gross irregularities in their positions. Walter C. Fairweather, a popular young citizen of St. John, and son of Geo. E. Fairweather, the well known insurance agent, died Sunday morning after a long illness, aged 29 years.

Charles A. Lawford, of the Bank of Montreal staff, St. John, was found dead in his room on Thursday afternoon from heart disease. Deceased was unmarried, an Englishman, and was thirty-five years old. It is said that the Duke of Westminster has settled upon Prince Adolphus of Teck, who is to marry his daughter, a dowry of $500,000, and $25,000 to the young couple. The wedding is expected next week. The Halifax firemen who were recently dismissed and afterwards arrested for taking property from the engine houses which they claimed as their own, have been committed for trial on the charge of theft. The Maritime Liberal campaign will be opened at Moncton, Monday evening, by addresses from Hon. L. H. Davies, Hon. A. G. Blair, Hon. H. R. Emmerson, C. G. King, ex-M. P. for Queens, and other prominent gentlemen. It is stated that Smith Messervey, of Fredericton Junction, who was badly injured in the railway collision at Nixon's siding, Carleton Co., and was for many months laid up after the amputation of one leg, will bring an action for damages against the C. P. R.

After the suicide of Editor James Liddell, at Lyons, Ia., it was rumored that a man had written a description of his throwing himself in front of a railway train, stating that he had contemplated it for a year. The press of the Times was stopped and the article inserted. Between one and two o'clock Saturday morning a burglar entered the house of Mrs. Adam Saunders, a widow living near Belleville, Ontario, and went to her room. Upon being awakened by the noise, Mrs. Saunders was shot by the intruder in the left nostril. He then demanded her money. She gave him her purse containing $14.50, whereupon he shot her a second time through the left ear and left the house. The wounds are not dangerous.

On September 14, 1893, a citizen of Bangor was committed to goal for contempt of court, and he is there to-day, never having been outside during that time. He was sued for $2000, and the decision being against him, he withdrew some $4000 that he had in the savings bank and put it away, refusing to disclose where the money was, with the result that he was sent to goal for contempt of court. He says he will stay in goal till he dies before he will tell the money is.

Sarah Scott, aged 30, living at Oak Grove Village, Mass., is attracting much attention from the medical fraternity. In 1893, while on her way to the Massachusetts General Hospital, she broke her leg in a slighting from a car. Her leg was amputated. While turning in bed at the hospital her other leg was broken. After it had healed she was removed to her home. Two weeks ago, while chewing, she broke her jawbone, and while attempting to put her hand behind her, she broke the bones of her arm. A daring operation was performed on the safe at the old Theatre Royal, Montreal, during the early morning of Saturday. When the employees of the Royal arrived they found that the safe belonging to Messrs. Spangol & Jacobs had been burglarized and $30,000 in United States bonds carried away. The receipts from the previous day's performances, amounting to a considerable sum, had also been stolen, besides other articles of more or less value. The stolen bonds are the property of H. R. Jacobs, co-proprietor of the Theatre Royal. As yet no clue has been discovered, although the detectives have been put to work on the case.

TRIED TO HOLD UP A TRAIN.
The Engineer saw the Red Light, but Pulled Open the throttle.
There was an attempt Monday morning to hold up passenger train No. 5, south bound, on the Yazo and Mississippi Valley branch of the Illinois Central road at Panther Burn, two hundred miles south of Memphis, Nevada. The engine was in charge of Engineer Elmer and Fireman George Cole of Memphis, and the train left there on Saturday evening. A stop was made at Panther Burn. When the train started again, the engineer noticed a red light ahead, waving a signal to stop. Instead of obeying he pulled out the throttle. As the train sped on at Saturday night, it passed a party of six unmasked men, all armed, who opened fire with their revolvers. They stood on the left side of the track, and therefore their bullets went nearest Fireman Cole, whose right arm was fractured by one. The train did not stop till it reached Rolling Rock, where Sheriff Wright was put in possession of the facts and sent in pursuit. Panther Burn contains only the station and one general store. Early on Saturday
