

"Had no strength to walk" After taking her second bottle of Carnol, Mrs. George Brown says, "I am a new woman and I would not be an hour without Carnol."

The benefits derived from Carnol are in many cases almost miraculous. It has proved of wonderful benefit in cases of weakness and other "run down" conditions. Where other remedies have failed to do good, Carnol has given almost immediate relief, as in the case of Mrs. George Brown.

hat—I wronged you both; and I am sorry for it now, when it is too late." "Not too late, sonor. I am certain she hears and forgives you."

"Thank you! was she angry with me that day when I left?" "No, only grieved and hurt. Your words went to her heart, because—"

Parking in Streets Must be Controlled TRAFFIC EXPERTS SAY.

Atlantic City, Oct. 8. (A.P.)—City traffic congestion cannot continue at its present rate, and taxpayers must decide whether they will prohibit downtown parking and keep traffic moving or build new thoroughfares.

The most important means of increasing the street flow is the elimination of the standing vehicle during at least peak hour periods, the report said. "The capacity of any channel is measured by its narrowest point. A street may be 50 feet from curb to curb throughout the entire congested district, but if it is called upon to carry a 50-foot traffic capacity, a single automobile standing at any point within the congested district makes it but little better than a 40-foot street in that block and dams up consequently nearly 20 per cent of the traffic flow behind it."

"All of us who drive our own machines appreciate the inconvenience of not being allowed to stop in the congested area, or anywhere else, for the transaction of business. But the city cannot be operated for the convenience of the mass. There is no more reason why the individual customer of the tradesman should be allowed to destroy a portion of the street width at a time when the community needs the entire street width for immediate use, than there is reason for permitting the tradesman himself to use the same amount of space for the storage of goods or display of his wares."

"The seriousness of this situation, and the importance of removing this particular form of interference with the traffic flow, is emphasized by the fact that out of the 30 cities selected by your committee, as typical of traffic conditions in the United States and Canada, not a single one fails to emphasize the elimination of parking during the peak hour as the most important possibility of relief. Nor is there one that has not advocated some means of protecting the flow of traffic after the taking effect of a non-storage rule."

The problem is growing more serious daily and demands the co-operation of everyone, the committee declared.

London to Seek Hold Well of Ancient Era IN MIDDLE OF THE STRAND.

London, Sept. 20. (A.P.)—A quest for a holy well, which dates back to the very beginning of Christianity, is shortly to be undertaken in the middle of the famous Strand, the thoroughfare which unites Charing Cross to the ancient City of London.

History makes frequent mention of St. Clement's well, which played an important part in early Saxon and medieval English Christianity. Its uncovering will have a great antiquarian and archaeological interest to many who do not care a fig about its spiritual significance, although tradition has it that the waters of St. Clement's well were specially efficacious in the cure of skin diseases.

A QUEEN UNCROWNED THE STORY IN THE LONE INN.

CHAPTER XVIII

"Keep your pity, my young friend, until I ask for it," said Disbrowe, with a look half disdainful, half cynical, "and dry your tears. I really don't require them."

"Oh, Captain Disbrowe, what have I done to you? I never—never meant to offend you; and I am sorry if I have done so. Oh! if you only would believe me, and not treat me so coldly!" said the boy, clasping his hands fervently.

"I never meant to offend you—I never did! You hate me, and I—would die for you!" He turned to go. Disbrowe thought of the time he had saved his life at the risk of his own, and a pang of self-reproach smote his heart.

"And so you really like me, my dear boy?" said Disbrowe, half puzzled and half touched, and thinking involuntarily of little Orrie.

"Oh, yes!" exclaimed the boy, lifting his sparkling eyes fervently to the handsome face of the young guardsman.

"Yet, I do not know why you should—I have never done anything to you."

"I thought so for a good many moments, my dear fellow. I wronged you."

as I am aware of to merit any affection from you."

"That would be loving from gratitude, senor. Do we never love any save those who have done something to merit that love?"

"Well, I don't know—if you were a woman I might understand it, but as it is—well, never mind, I am glad you do like me, and we will not puzzle ourselves trying to discover the reason."

"Never look a gift-horse in the mouth," you know. We will account for it on the principle that scapegraces, and those who least deserve it, are always best beloved, and so is life!"

"Which accounts for the desperate mistakes he makes sometimes. But, my lad, there is a subject painful to both of us, but on which I must speak, now or never. I mean the scene I saw that evening going to the library. You know to what I allude?"

"His face flushed slightly, as he spoke, and as quickly grew pale again."

"Yes," said Jaclinto, looking straight before him; "and I have often and often wished to explain what I saw you misunderstood."

"Well, speak out freely, do not fear that I will flinch from the stroke."

"There is no stroke to fall. We loved each other like brother and sister—nothing more."

"Nothing more! 'Are you sure?' said Disbrowe, turning, and looking searchingly in his face.

New Zealand Determined to Settle Immigration Questions for Herself

Communists Resolve to Oppose Speaker Whitley—British Commander Prevents the Landing of Chinese Troops—Duke of Devonshire Denounces Soviet Treaty.

ANCIENT ILLS.
NEW YORK, Oct. 16. Examination of Egyptian mummies has revealed that the Pharaoh of the Hyksos had hardened arteries, while Ramses V. suffered from skin affliction, suggestive of smallpox. Prof. G. Elliott Smith, Egyptologist of University College, London, said last night in an address at the Academy of Medicine. Cancer, rheumatism and mastoiditis were common 4,000 years ago. Prof. Smith declares, although thousands of human bodies unearthed, only one case of gout and one of leprosy was discovered. Tuberculosis was extremely rare, while rickets, he said, was entirely absent. One mummy found in the pyramids had suffered from cancer.

NO JAPS NEED APPLY.
WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Oct. 16. Premier Massey, replying to a question by an Opposition member in the Assembly, to-day, on the success of Japan's efforts to alter the League of Nations' protocol on arbitration, and security, in connection with submission to the League, of disputes arising from internal domestic considerations of various nations, declared: "We are not going to arbitrate. We simply say they cannot come here, unless we give permission, League of Nations or no League of Nations. That is the law of our country, and we will stand by it."

COMMUNIST ACTIVITY.
LONDON, Oct. 16. An unexpected situation has developed in Halifax where Speaker J. H. Whitley, probably will have a Communist opponent in Notting Roy, who is said to be a member of the Indian National Constitutional Party. The local Labour party of Halifax recently decided not to oppose Speaker Whitley. Last night, however, Communists in the Labor Party of Halifax resolved to run Roy. They admitted to-day that the actual nomination of Roy depended upon whether sufficient support of his candidacy was forthcoming in the next couple of days.

BRITISH COMMANDER INTERVENES.
SHANGHAI, Oct. 16. The landing of 7,000 Central Chinese Government's troops at Chinwangtao was prevented to-day by orders of the commander of the British garrison, according to a despatch to a Japanese news agency. The despatch said that the commander declared such a landing would be incompatible with the protocol of 1901. The final protocol made between China and eleven powers in 1901, closing the situation, brought about by the Boxer rebellion, provided, in part, for the occupation of Chinwangtao and other points for maintenance of communication between the capital and the sea.

SKELTON OVER 1,000 YEARS OLD.
MONTREAL, Oct. 16. While digging the foundation of a new warehouse at the corner of Van Horne Avenue and Pratt Street, in Outremont, the laborers discovered the skeleton of an Indian brave, which is believed to be over a thousand years old.

STREET FIGHTING IN CANTON.
CANTON, Oct. 16. Though gunfire had abated and the ruins of burned houses only smoldered, Canton, nevertheless, looked forward to more severe trouble to-night, to add to the street fighting between local factions which have disturbed the city during the past few days.

FRATERNIZING WITH THE ENEMIES OF CIVILIZATION.
LONDON, Oct. 16. The Duke of Devonshire, speaking at Rochdale to-day, declared that "the sinister and evil forces dominated the Councils of the Labour Government, which made gestures to the enemies of civilization. With regard to the Russian issue, the Duke said there had been mysterious comings and goings, and odd meetings had been held in various rooms and offices, and in a very short time the country bewildered, surprised andasperated, had found out that he had to all denials, a treaty had been effected."

FRANCE RECOGNIZES SOVIET RUSSIA.
PARIS, Oct. 16. Recognition of the Soviet Government of Russia by France was formally recommended in a report headed "Le Travail" to Premier Herriot, by the special commission which has been studying Franco-Russian relations. The Cabinet will consider the report to-morrow and, it is expected, will immediately accord Russian recognition, or, at least, declare the intention of the Government's doing as soon as details are arranged. The Commission, however, will continue its work, discussing a multitude of questions which must be settled, and arranging data and plans for the use of the Government, later on, in negotiations with Moscow, regarding debts, reparations, exiled Russians, etc.

MOTOR RACER KILLED.
CHARLOTTE, N.C., Oct. 16. Ernie Ansterberg, world famous automobile racer, was killed here to-day on the new Charlotte speedway, when he lost control of his car while trying the new track. He struck the upper rail of the grandstand, and died on the way to the hospital.

CHINESE REDS SET FIRE TO CANTON.
HONG KONG, Oct. 16. Fires started by Chinese Reds were burning fiercely in five parts of Canton last night according to word received here from that city. The situation is described as serious. The Reds are said to be starting blazes by pouring kerosene in the gutters and setting fire to it, thus igniting inflammable buildings.

ZR-3 REPRESENTS A REPARATION PAYMENT.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. Approximately $2,200,000 will be credited as a German reparation payment to the United States when ZR-3 is formally accepted by this Government. The air cruiser represents the United States' share of special reparation assessed against Germany because of destruction after armistice of the Friedrichshafen plant of Zeppelin complete or practically complete. The war zeppelins which, under armistice terms, Germany had agreed to turn over to her late enemies.

SCIENCE VERSUS DISCIPLINE.
NEW YORK, Oct. 16. A five year holiday for police truant and probation officers to enable study of the effect of such action on delinquency, was suggested last night by Dr. Bernard J. Glueck, the Psychiatrist for the defence in the Leopold-Loeb trial at the Fifteenth New York Conference of Charity and Correction. The University Professors who tell their pupils that they "can do anything they like and should never feel sorry" were scored by the chief probation officer, Edwin J. Cooley, in his talk to the Conference.

AVOIDING THREE-CORNERED CONTESTS.
LONDON, Oct. 16. It is calculated that local pacts between the Conservatives and Liberals have been reached in 44 out of 70 constituencies in which Labor candidates won in the last election through a split vote. In 33 of 44 ridings the Liberals have withdrawn candidates and in the other six, Conservatives have left the field to Liberals.

PRINCE'S HOLIDAY UNFETTERED BY FORMAL ENGAGEMENTS.
OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 16. Aside from the State dinner and reception in honor of the Prince of Wales at Government House to-night and the dance there on Friday evening, no definite plans have been made for the entertainment of the Royal visitor.

MORE WOMEN CANDIDATES IN THE FIELD.
LONDON, Oct. 16. Thirty-nine women candidates have been nominated already; five more than in the last election contest.

400 LIVES LOST BY FLOODS IN WEST ASIA.
MOSCOW, Oct. 16. A rise of twelve feet in the level of the River Amur has caused disastrous floods in the Nikolaevsk region where 400 native villages were submerged with the loss of 400 lives.

CHINESE "REDS" LOOSE IN CANTON.
HONG KONG, Oct. 16. The Merchant Volunteer Corps of Canton, known as the Chinese "Reds," have been defeated by the forces of the "Red Army," composed of Chinese laborers, after warfare in the streets of Canton, lasting two days, according to a wireless message picked up here to-day from Canton, by naval authorities.

M.O.'s Opinion on Conditions at Hampden

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—In view of the fact that so many exaggerated rumours regarding the health situation at Hampden have obtained wide circulation, I desire to make a statement as to what I consider to be the true facts of the case. As I have been in medical charge of the place for three weeks I feel justified in doing this. Also as I have had considerable experience with mining and lumbering camps, I feel that I am in a position to give a fairly accurate opinion.

In view of the large number of men, women and children who flocked to this place last fall, many coming from almost destitute homes in a low state of vitality from sickness and lack of nourishment, and considerable sickness in this place was to be expected but it was by no means all due to Typhoid which I am aware there have been a number of cases. But many of the people were and are suffering from pulmonary trouble or to put it simply, consumption, in various stages of a number of years standing. I would not mind in the least if the true situation were presented fairly to the public. But the reports regarding sickness at Hampden have been so grossly exaggerated that at first sight one would feel like ignoring them. However, they are so manifestly unfair to the place that they must be denied. As an example, while I was taking an accident case from here to St. Anthony by motor boat I was asked point blank if it was true that we had recently had seven deaths and that several shacks had been burned down because they were unsanitary. Moreover it was stated that the news was brought by a man who had been travelling on. The reality is that the statement as to the deaths was merely an exaggeration and the burning a deliberate lie.

There has been a splendid situation in the camp of late, having been brought about by the fact that the people here have done their best to improve the sanitary conditions. The shacks have been cleaned up and the people have been supplied with two sanitary staff in each shack. Another is now being sent to take charge of the two sanitary staffs and all used water twice a day from the houses and to attend to the toilets. Numerous water closets were built and supplied with improved sewer. So if anything is wrong from this source, it is due to the residents and I regret to say owing to habits of long practice, the residents have not all co-operated with the staff as fully as they should in this particular. The shacks themselves are all right and steps are now being taken to make them warmer for the winter.

A good school has been provided for the children under the efficient direction of Miss Laurie, an experienced Kindergarten primary teacher secured from the model training school, Toronto. This school should greatly help in improving the education and general welfare of the people. I personally inspected this school and was quite impressed with the equipment and modern methods employed for the development of the children.

I am often asked as to the cause of the sickness. It is a difficult question to answer as so many factors have to be taken into consideration. Water and milk, the two classical causes of Typhoid, can be eliminated as far as Hampden is concerned. In my opinion, flies are responsible for many diseases, especially those affecting the bowels. Typhoid, except in rare cases is not considered to be catching through the air in the sense that Scarlet Fever and Smallpox for example are. As one man put it, "You've got to eat it or drink it." Flies have been pretty prevalent this year and are pretty hard to get rid of.

There is in my opinion another potent cause of the sickness. As I have already intimated, many of the employees came from districts which were severely affected by the great business depression of the past few years. This resulted in a lowered vitality and a lessening of the powers of resistance to disease. This is personal knowledge as during the last few years I have had considerable connection with some of these districts.

Hampden should be a place where people could work and enjoy good health if the residents live properly and co-operate with the staff in sanitation and cleanliness. In this I believe there will be a marked improvement in the near future.

I would particularly like to state that in writing this I have given an unbiased opinion, and I trust that it will do something to counteract the unwarranted rumours that have been put into circulation.

Yours sincerely,
A. E. LIDSTONE, M.D.

BRILLIANCE.

One was very clever and one was very strong,
And one could play the violin and one could sing a song.
But he who had the clever mind thought all the good are wise,
And he who had the strength believed in strength all virtues lies.

The one who played the violin to music gave his years,
He'd little time for common things, for sorrow's hurts and tears.
And he who had the lovely voice forgot the passing throner,
He thought it was enough to do to give the world his song.

Yet life wants more than cleverness and more than strength it needs,
The thing called "soul" is really shaped by countless little deeds;
And better than the clever man the kindly man may be,
And strength cheers not so many hearts as gentle sympathy.

The violin is sweet to hear, and sweet the gift of song,
But sweeter still is friendliness when trouble sweeps along;
And love is never born of fame, nor gratitude, nor skill,
For kindness touches countless hearts that brilliance never will.

Modern Girls Heartily Endorsed in England

LONDON, Sept. 23 (A.P.)—The modern girl, whose ways not infrequently shock her elders nowadays, has a staunch defender in Edward Carpenter, the poet and philosopher who renounced wealth and position half a century ago to become a socialistic pioneer.

Four score years have given Mr. Carpenter ample opportunities for observing the way of women, and he now celebrates his eightieth birthday with a poem in praise of the girl of the twentieth century. "While I am overwhelmed at the incapacity of the average man, I have nothing but admiration for the modern woman," said Mr. Carpenter. "She is a marvellous product of the age."
"I remember the women of the last generation and their limited lives, dabbling with water colors, doing a little embroidery, and having no opinions whatever used to be considered not only a suitable, but the only life for a girl. In those days, if a girl had opinions on anything more important than her dresses, she was considered a freak by the other girls, and heavily set on by the married women."

"The war offered the opportunity at the psychological moment for woman to find her freedom. Now all the problems that she has to face arise from the fact that she still is obliged to conform to certain standards that were intended for a totally different creature, the woman of yesterday."
"One of the most striking differences between this generation and the last is the way in which women say what they mean with what used to be masculine directness. They once seemed to make a point of saying what they did not mean. I never knew why this was so."

"Altogether this is a hopeful age. Things are moving in the right direction, towards more freedom and a more sensible outlook. The curse of the age is lack of seriousness. I believe women will do much towards putting the world straight again."

IVORY SOAP is the most Economical Soap

Funnier Than Fiction

The story of the Civil Servant who, after ten years' absence from his office, returned to it to find that he had risen in salary and seniority white away, and was now a principal clerk, has its parallel in real life.

A certain young man became a member of the French Civil Service in 1922, and from that time a hat, a coat, and a pair of gloves at his desk bore mute testimony to his existence. This evidence was confirmed by his regularity in collecting his salary. But, otherwise, he was never seen or heard of at his office.

He was transferred to another office, and his hat, coat, and gloves changed their quarters. But, otherwise, there was no change. Eventually, it was discovered that he was a professional dancer, and was too busy to attend the office.

The authorities were shocked, and resolved that the young man must be punished. But the only two possible punishments were dismissal and reduction in grade. The first seemed too severe; as for the second, the young man was already in the lowest grade. Finally, the Gordian knot was cut—the young man was promoted, and then immediately reduced to his former status.

One's pearls are now a three string necklace of small black or white pearls, reaching about to the waist-line.

STORY HAS APPEAL
The story of "Only 38" doubtless will have wide popular appeal. It is quite different in theme and treatment, because it deals with the love affairs of a middle aged woman and her daughter. Both win happiness in a novel manner.

Canadian Poplar in the Match Industry

TORONTO — (Canadian Press) — Vast expanses of poplar in the timbered districts of Ontario and Quebec are coming into popularity for the first time in the lumbering history of these provinces, owing to the competition which has developed recently between the makers of match splints upon this continent. For various reasons it has been found that manufacturers in Canada are now able to compete in world markets against the match-makers of Scandinavian and other places, most of whom are affiliated in combines of international organization.

A British company recently established a splint making industry in Pembroke, Ont., and the once despised poplar wood is used by them almost exclusively. Their splints are sent to England to be finished into matches. It is said that the Ontario-made splints are of better quality and manufacture than those of the Scandinavian trusts' factories, although the wood used by the latter is slightly superior. Other companies than the Pembroke one are also in the industry with the result that poplar areas are now in demand.

For the first time extensive explorations are being made throughout the poplar belts for suitable limits and the Ontario government has on file several requests that areas be offered for by public auction. The government, consequently, is paying considerable more attention to the care of this once-neglected wood in the hopes of a really brisk market developing. They have found that upon some of the limits sold to private operators outright in the early days of the lumbering industry, and which were bought back a number of years ago by the Crown, are now rich in poplar which has grown heavily to the detriment of the pine on the areas. The Forestry Branch of the Ontario department of Lands, Forests, and Mines is also considering the reforestation features of this new development. Poplar, when there is a market for it matures very quickly and that it is used to best advantage in making matches when cut somewhat before maturity. In twenty years, in the majority of localities, an area denuded of poplar will bear another crop suitable for harvesting for this purpose. It is consequently probable that in the future some definite plan will be devised for the encouragement of the match-splint industry in the province that the huge tracts of this wood may be utilized.

The Possibility of Air Transit

London, Oct.—(By Canadian Press).—Canada to England in two and a half days.

This was one of the possibilities of the air which read like dreams, mentioned in a paper on Imperial Communications delivered by Air Vice-Marshal Sir Seton Brantner at a conference of the Institute of Transport at Wembley. Sir Seton declared that "the rapidity and efficiency of our Imperial communications may well be the measure of our success or failure" and afterwards visualized the future. Among other things he predicted were:

Air services to Australia from Singapore via Dutch East Indies; British East Africa to the Mediterranean; British West Indies to Guiana; Calcutta to Rangoon; British bi-weekly service to India and Australia; the through journey in 11 days, (possible trip and back in a month's holiday); British weekly service to the Cape by way of West Africa in five days; regular Atlantic airship lines; Canada to England in two and a half days; aeroplanes and flying boats between British East Africa and Egypt, saving 14 days in trip to London; flying boat services throughout the West Indies and Guiana; considerable development in cross-channel traffic.

Sir Seton also spoke of aircraft which could be operated cheaply by performing a heavy oil engine suitable for aircraft. This is already on the experimental bench.

Referring to the development of the airship as a commercial vehicle, the Air Vice-Marshal said that two big ships had been ordered, and while their construction was in progress, the Government would prepare air ports in India and at some half-way station, probably in the Canal Zone. As soon as this half-way station was completed, R-33, one of the old ships, would fly out there and operate from that base to collect data. Two and a half to three years would pass before the first two big British ships were flying, and after that it might be another two years before the establishment of a regular bi-weekly service to India.

Australia was leading the world to-day in the development of air services for the use of the general public, he said. "You can cook on an airship, rather better than on a ship at sea," Sir Seton said in discussion. "I have enjoyed an excellent five-course dinner dished up on an airship by a chef of the Ritz. That was cooked on the exhaust pipe of the engine." Passengers now had not to climb up a perpendicular ladder or the mast to enter an airship. They were shot up in a luxurious electric lift. These would be available at all commercial masts.

Rector's Wife on Women's Privileges

TORONTO, Oct. 10. (Canadian Press).—Does it seem sporting or democratic for the church to allow the women to do nine-tenths of the parish work and practically all the mission financing, yet refuse them a word in the direction of the affairs of the church? Such is the question asked by Mrs. H. P. Plumptre, wife of Rev. Canon Plumptre, St. James' Cathedral, following the refusal of the general synod of the Anglican Church for Canada to see Miss Inez Smith, delegate to the Synod from Hazelton, B.C., because she was a woman. "Polygamy is not in the church, teaching," said Mrs. Plumptre, "but by saying woman's principal work is the bearing of children do they mean that polygamy should be practised? If not how could this system work out with so many thousands of excess women in the world? If the constitution says a woman shall not be admitted the bishop could not overrule that constitution. Other than for that reason I can see no possible reason why the house wouldn't seat a woman if she is chosen as the most capable to represent that district. Think of the church work done by the women!"

This in the Land of Uncle Sam

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (Canadian Press).—Commissioner Thomas Estill, head of the Salvation Army in the United States, states that the Salvation Army is organizing the Salvation Army Home League, the purpose of which is to educate incompetent wives. There would be 5,114 housewives' clubs formed throughout the East, he said, for married women who could not comb their hair.

"Our officers every day meet housewives who have never had a needle in their hands and know absolutely nothing about repairing their children's clothing," stated Commissioner Estill; "women who have never owned a toothbrush or nailbrush and who make use of soap perhaps once or twice a week; women who haven't worn a trim, neat garment but, perhaps, 10 or 12 times; women who know how to cook perhaps two or three simple dishes, that their husbands get weary of eating, and women who haven't the slightest idea as to how to treat minor injuries suffered by their children."

Fads and Fashions.

Buttons were never more fascinating, and many frocks depend on them for interest. A sleeveless tunic frock of reseau green silk has a tassel tie at the center front. Embroidery of colored beads is used on day-time frocks of reps and wool poplins. The becomingness of the small fur neckpiece has again been recognized by Fashion.

SIDE TALKS.

By Ruth Cameron.

"BUT THE PATIENT DIED."

The charity bazaar I attended the other day was a great success. Everyone appeared to have a good time. Except, of course, the inevitable exceptions; the woman who would have won the prize if her partner hadn't made a fool play; the woman whose partner tried to show her how to play; the woman who found she was too much over-dressed.

The house looked charming. The rats were delicious; there was more than anyone could eat, salads and little cakes, and iced cream with thick whipped cream. The prizes were numerous and choice.

An Unimportant Detail. Absolutely the only thing that wasn't entirely satisfactory was the proceeds. They weren't quite as large as we hoped. But then, as one of the members of the committee said, the hospital for which it was given would, of course, be pleased at any sum even if it was small. They didn't have to work for it and they couldn't look a gift horse in the mouth.

A Little Better Proportion. But it does seem as if the good time ought not to be out of all proportion to the good done. Why not tea, and sandwiches, or toast, or little cakes, instead of all that elaborate food? Such a repast would have supplied the sociability that always comes with eating, and would have been much better for us, as we are not of the class who eat an eight o'clock dinner, and salad and soup at quarter of five, do not converse to appetite an hour and a half later.

Why not simple prizes, just enough to give the thrill of winning without exciting cupidity? $50,000 For Luncheons But—There is a most interesting article in one of the current magazines on the high cost of conventioning in which the writer tells of luncheons or "breakfasts" held in New York at $4 or $5 a plate, and attended by thousands of women. "In a single month there were nine such luncheons held in New York alone. These were attended by 12,000 women who paid $4 or $5 a plate, a total of more than $50,000."

"Now, set out to raise $50,000 among these same women," comments the author, "for some cause endorsed by the convention and you'd find it no easy task." And in another magazine there is an article on the amount of work that goes into charity bazaars and "dramatics," and the comparative little in the way of money that comes out of them. If you reckoned the cost of the time at, even a very small sum per hour it would bring ten times the net proceeds.

I think when we send out our tickets for the charity bazaar or the charity bazaar we should be more honest if we printed the "charity" in diamond type and the "bazaar" in "bazaar" in great primer type.

British Coal Industry

The total production of coal in Great Britain for the first six months of 1924 was 139,062,000 tons, comparing with 140,792,000 tons for the first six months of 1923, as reported to the Bankers Trust Company of New York by its English Information Service. The exports of coal for the first six months of this year amounted to 231,000 tons at a value of $23,000,000. In addition to direct exports, 3,493,000 tons of coal were marketed to foreign shipping, making the total quantity shipped 53,278,000 tons, comparing with total shipments in the first six months of 1923 of 48,927,000 tons. Shipments abroad for the first half of 1924 show a reduction of nearly 50 per cent as compared with the corresponding period of 1923.

hand, the home demand has expanded sufficiently so that the total output as shown by the figures above quoted, has fallen by only 1.3%. The principal foreign markets for British coal in 1924, in order of their importance, have been France, Germany, Italy, Denmark, Sweden, Belgium, Argentina, and the Netherlands. The heaviest falling off in shipments has been to France and Germany. Prices remained firm during the first quarter of the year, but weakened perceptibly in the second quarter.

T. B. Diminishing in England

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 30. (Canadian Press).—Thanks in large measure to the gradual enlightenment of the public about the disease and to the modern measures taken to control and treat it, tuberculosis in all its forms is rapidly diminishing in this country and America, says the medical correspondent of The Times. How exceedingly rapid this declension is becoming is not, however, generally realized.

During the first 20 years of the period under review, 1871-91, the percentage drop in mortality was 35; during the last 20 years the percentage drop was 45. Taking consumption alone the drop was 32 for the first 20 years and 46 for the last 20 years.

There has thus been an "accelerated drop" in the mortality figures. This possesses immense significance, because it has occurred during a period when improved methods of diagnosis have without question revealed many fresh cases and disclosed unsuspected areas of infection. Further, the drop exceeds that of the general mortality from all diseases which has occurred during the last few decades. It is of a special character, and cannot be accounted for merely by saying that sanitation has improved, or "people are becoming immune." There is reason to believe that it has not occurred in those countries in which anti-tuberculosis campaigns have been neglected.

The Improved Grain Crop.

Washington.—(By Canadian Press) The probable production of wheat in the Northern Hemisphere, outside of Russia, will be about 2,700,000,000 bushels compared with 3,000,000,000 bushels produced last year, says the United States Department of Agriculture, basing its statement on official estimates and forecasts from 25 countries, and unofficial advices from 3 countries. Wheat harvests in the Northern Hemisphere are reported to be practically completed.

Figures for the 25 countries, which exclude France, Germany, Rumania and Russia, show an aggregate of 2,242,000,000 bushels compared with 500,000,000 bushels last year. No reliable estimate of the Russian crop is available but various reports indicate that the exportable surplus will be less than last year. Private forecasts of the French crop range from 245,000,000 bushels to 312,000,000 bushels, as compared with 276,000,000 bushels last year.

The German crop estimated on the basis of forecasts from Prussia and Bavaria is about 92,000,000 bushels compared with 106,000,000 bushels last year, and the Rumanian crop according to private reports will be about 70 per cent. of last year when the harvest was 101,000,000 bushels. The Canadian crop has improved during the past month under favorable weather conditions, the department reports. The September 1 forecast is 291,000,000 bushels, which is an increase of 9,000,000 bushels over the August forecast but 183,000,000 bushels less than the final estimate of last year. Harvesting in the Prairie Provinces is about two weeks late, and there is still some chance of gain or loss in the crop. Rains during August improved conditions generally, but in Alberta rain was too late to save the crop where drought injury was severe. Some damage has been caused by frost but its extent has not yet been determined. Grain yields in Manitoba are reported as considerably above average, but due to the late season the area to be harvested is less than last year. Yields in Saskatchewan and Alberta are considerably below average.

Production of flax seed in Canada is reported to be 10,345,000 bushels compared with 9,500,000 bushels last year. Flax seed production is compared with 50,769,000 bushels compared with 76,898,000 bushels, and oats 463,860,000 bushels compared with 563,988,000 bushels last year.

Ontario Battle on Liquor Issue

TORONTO, Oct. 16. (By Canadian Press)—Ontario is in the throes of another battle over the liquor issue, October 23 being the date for the taking of the plebiscite on the question of continuance or repeal of the present prohibition law known as the Ontario Temperance Act and the substitution of government control of the sale of spirituous liquors for beverage purposes. It is a straight issue between prohibition and government control, only two questions being before the voters. They are:

1. Are you in favor of the continuance of the Ontario Temperance Act?
2. Are you in favor of the sale as a beverage of beer and spirituous liquors in sealed packages under government control?

The voter will place an X after the question he desires to answer in the affirmative. A mark after both questions will spoil the ballot. The questions seemed to call for the answer, "yes" or "no" after each and the first draft of the ballot prepared contemplated that form of verdict, but following a conference called by Premier Ferguson and attended by representatives of both "wets" and "drys," it was announced that the task of the voter had been reduced to the mere placing of a cross after one of the questions.

What Result Will Call For.

While there is no guarantee that the result of the plebiscite will be the repeal of the liquor question, it is generally understood that a majority will mean the early repeal of the Ontario Temperance Act which came into effect by order-in-council in 1916 as a war measure. The possibility of such a development, however, is decidedly uncertain, in view of the fact that Ontario has in the past always voted for more restrictions on the liquor traffic whenever a straight issue has been placed before the people. The temperance people are not resting on past victories, though, but have entered the present campaign with full steam up. Thousands of workers are employed and hundreds of meetings are being held in support of the demand for continuance of the prohibition act. The Moderation League, championing government control, is also organized throughout the province and has many speakers engaged. The League is strongly presenting the flourishing of bootlegging as an argument for government control.

History of the Act.

The Ontario Temperance Act was put into force by the Hearst (Conservative) Government in 1916 with the assurance that the people would be permitted to pass judgment on the act at a convenient time following the end of the war. The first plebiscite was held in 1919, four questions being submitted. The first and most important: "Are you in favor of the repeal of the Ontario Temperance Act?" was given 370,848 affirmative votes while 777,537 voted against repeal. In 1921 by a vote of 539,556 to 372,632 the province of Ontario adopted the Dominion Temperance Act amendment prohibiting the importation of intoxicants from another province or elsewhere.

The O.T.A. prohibits the sale of beer or spirituous liquors except by government vendors on a doctor's prescription.

Women Have Big Say.

More than 2,000,000 ballots have been printed for the present plebiscite, the lists having been greatly enlarged through the heavy enrollment of women voters, and it is generally believed that the 23rd of this month will see the biggest vote ever recorded in the province. The machinery for taking the vote will be similar to that of the last provincial general election. Returning officers will be appointed for each electoral district, and these in turn will name deputies for each subdivision. In many rural municipalities the lists are up to date, but in many of the cities the 1923 lists will be used, with, of course, additions which are being made under the supervision of local election boards. Every British subject, 21 years of age or over who has resided in Canada for a year and in the polling subdivision for three months prior to Oct. 23, will be entitled to vote.

Canada Temperance Act.

In the event of a verdict for sale under government control, the temperance people are said to have a card up their sleeve in the Canada Temperance Act. This is a federal measure which, when endorsed by a majority vote in any province, prohibits importation into that province of beer or spirituous liquors. A vote on the Canada Temperance Act was taken in Ontario in the spring of 1921 and was endorsed by a vote of 539,556 to 372,632. This bar to importation into the province will still apply, some of the "dry" forces claim, even if the provincial government attempts to introduce government control. Neither side, however, has yet raised the question, in the present campaign, of the permanency of the Canada Temperance Act.
