Technical and Bibliographic Notes / Notes techniques et bibliographiques

The Institute has attempted to obtain the best original

L'Institut a microfilmé le meilleur exemplaire qu'il copy available for filming. Features of this copy which may be bibliographically unique, which may alter any of the images in the reproduction, or which may								lui a été possible de se procurer. Les détails de cet exemplaire qui sont peut-être uniques du point de vue bibliographique, qui peuvent modifier une image

	ly change the				e			d	•	métho			-		odification indiqués
3 6	ured covers/ verture de co										ed page: e coule:
1 1	ers damaged/ verture endo									-	amaged ndomm
Covers restored and/or laminated/ Couverture restaurée et/ou pelliculée								Pages restored and/or laminated/ Pages restaurées et/ou pelliculées
1 1	Cover title missing/ Le titre de couverture manque								Pages discoloured, stained or foxed/ Pages décolorées, tachetées ou piquées
3 1	ured maps/ es géographi	ques en cou	leur						- 1	_	etached étachée
1 1	Coloured ink (i.e. other than blue or black)/ Encre de couleur (i.e. autre que bleue ou noire)								Showthrough/ Transparence
1 1	ured plates a ches et/ou ill			r					/ 1	-	of prin		s/ npressio	n
1 71	nd with othe avec d'autr		ıts					Ŀ	7 1		uous pa ion con		on/
Tight binding may cause shadows or distortion along interior margin/ La reliure serrée peut causer de l'ombre ou de la								Includes index(es)/ Comprend un (des) index
disto	distorsion le long de la marge intérieure								Title on header taken from:/ Le titre de l'en-tête provient:
Blank leaves added during restoration may appear within the text. Whenever possible, these have been omitted from filming/								Title page of issue/ Page de titre de la livraison
Il se peut que certaines pages blanches ajoutées lors d'une restauration apparaissent dans le texte, mais, lorsque cela était possible, ces pages n'ont								Caption of issue/ Titre de départ de la livraison
pas été filmées.								Masthead/ Générique (périodiques) de la livraison
1 1	itional comm mentaires su	-	ires:
	is filmed at t ent est filmé					sous.
10X		14X		18X	, ,			22X			2	6X	-		30×
								_								325
	12X		16X			20X				24X			28X			32X

YOL. II.

TORONTO, C.W., SATURDAY, MAY 8, 1852.

No. 13.

NO MORE LET US DIFFER.

DY & Linneus banks.

differ, as oft we have done, belown with the light of the sun, ag of Joy shall give forth in the brea a his smile in the far-distant west. of summer we critical glory, if gent a perfecte and be come and depa atle and kind, beauty behind.

fier! If failschand ör wrong ear pagassal, or ast on an images, and a latest do,—regret be conveyed we have rather than the thousands that held up to heaven, his God to be freely forgives, a nife of fortierance and love, is from mankind what he cake from above?

let us differ! we've plonty to do, unables and sempest we travel life through, up our frail harque fresh drifting astray—falling astray—falling relf "seen our relead to by the way, and to he who forgives and forgets, agar goes down with the sen when he seis, male secure for a height world of blist, fleedship and love it has cherished in this.

THE AZTEC CITY.

The alleged existence of a secluded city of the Aztece there in Central America, has beer much mooted, though by some entirely disbelieved. The preof the Axec children in this city, has given occacoloniderable inquiry and discussion on the subconsiderable inquiry and discussion on the sub-id will continue to do so. We find in the New it Ficulture the following interesting statement, encourages the hope, not only that we may but that the ancient whereabouts of the lost inafter referred to, lend countenance to that opinion. We know nothing of the gentleman who is the Picay-une's authority, but that paper would not make such statements without satisfactory assurance of their truth. The volume spoken of is in the hands of the editor, and of that he speaks from personal inspection of co. rse. We duote now from the Picayune:

About three weeks since, a gentleman, who had recently retarned from Tehuantepec, placed in our hands a volume composed of a number of layers of parchinent, bound together with brazen classis, and presenting apbearances of great antiquity. It was obtained from an Indian curate—there are many in that part of Mexicoand the history of it, as related by himself, is this He said he had purchased it from a native trader who, once a year was in the habit of visiting a city among the a year was in the hapit of visiting a city among the mountains, towards the south, which is inhabited exclusively by Aztecs. The name of this city is Coaxcheneingo, which, in the language of the tribe to which the curate belongs; signifies" the mystery of the mountains." Within an inner appartment of the grand temple of Coaxcheneingo are kept about fifty volumes anyther in appearance to the operated to which it is similar in appearance to the one referred to, which, it is said by the pricets, were preserved from the extensive collection of records known to have existed in Mexico at the time of the conquest, and which were destroyed by Cortez in his intemperate scal against the pagainsin of the Azlees. the volumes preserved at Coakchenein-go are regarded as holy things, and are only to be seen on days of great public rejoicing or soleninity. It was on an occasion of this kind that the Indian trader succeeded in abstracting one of them.

This volume, which we have now before us, is filled with hieroglyphycal characters almost all of which are, of course perfectly unintelligible to us. But one circumstance connected with it is of the highest importance, and tends to confirm the theo y that the Aziecs are deseendants of a race which migrated to this continent from the eastern shores of Asia, about twenty centuries ago. It is remarkable that on one or two pages of the volume, immediately beneath the hieroglyphics, there are inscriptions in Greek characters, forming words in that language, but written backwards in the Oriental style.— On the first page, these Greek inscriptions run thus (we give English characters for want of Greek): not respect s of litted may be made manifest. It has long been saged, which reversed reads, O' lagon ton panton—lit-pinion of some that the missing tribes found their early, " word of all things." It is to be presumed from egisph to Boston, in a the continuous and the alleged discoveries here—the, that the book is a history of the my serious people mitted for the Press.

among whom it was found, and could it be thoroughly deciphered, it would, no doubt, completely solve the problems of our aboriginal archaeology. On another page there is a picture of water, and under it the word, "sessalaht," which is evidently "thalasses." Greek for the sea. A representation of a vessel full of men accompanies this, and conveys the impression that it refers to a rounds a miscription for heart to a rounds.

fers to a voyage or migration from beyond the sea.

The existence of these Greek words in this volume is very singular circumstance, and proves conclusively that it must have been the work of some nation from the old continent which held sufficient communication with Greece to learn the language. That it is Asiatic is proved by the fact of the reversed writing, which method is used by all oriental nations. A coincident fact with this one is the discovery lately made of a Hebrew volunie found in the possession of a western tribe of Indians, an account of which has already been given in almost all the newspapers, and will doubless be remem-bered by our readers. To what nation the authors of this Azice volume belonged, is jet a injustery, though the facts would seem to indicate a Jewish origin; for Although there are no Hebrew characters in the book, the known fact of the disappearance of the twelve tribes, the many similarnies between the customs, rites and ceremonies of the Aztees and those of the ancient Jews, and other circumstances of the same nature, lend plausibility to the theory of a Hebrew origin.

This singular manuscript will be submitted to the learned for their opinion.

Comprehensive Minds .- The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher recently delivered a lecture in the Tabernacle, in this city, on the "aw of Precedenta" In respect to mental qualities of ries, he adduced the following i-"In a recent report of English education, it is proved that one nationality is distinguished from mother, in the sphere of mind. Men of all nations have been tested.— French, Italianz, Germans. English, Scotch, and Irish. In each nation men are to be found of equal capacity to do a thing, to execute a plan which they see before them. But no ne son can plan the that of the Scotch. They have, above all other, the faculty of comprehen-

IT Over 500 messages were sent ever the Bain Telegraph to Boston, in our day lately, besides these trapp-foriginal.] DESTINY.

BY THE FOREST BARD.

They say thou rulest invisible, wassen,
A mystic paw'r, osnaipotent, I ween;
An it is thou that rules—that guides our course,
That singes our reason—gives mind its force,
Groat guide shout to guide us o'er life's tide,
To wrick our barque, or bid us safely ride;
Thou lightest up the beacon by whose biase
We journey oaward through life's busy mase.
Thy talismanic voice, electric touch,
Cas make us nothing or can make us much.
Thy flat spoken, quick thy lictors spring,
To mond a beggar or create a king.
'Tis thou, oh destiny, that mak'st the man,
Completing that creation had began. They say thou rulest invisible, waseen,

And what is destiny, hark reason asks?
The sceptic doubts, but reason only masks;
And reason answers, but with voice subducd
From mirth's bright smile or gloom of solitude.

Tis not the glittering dross of nature's heard, Tis not the vengeful fiat of the sword, Tis not the vengeful fiat of the sword, Tis not ambition's will or power's away, A desiny can make or castaway. Tis here—ye scepies doubt it if ye dare, Tis here—a mousent laya the secret bare; Bat gently now, an angel breather the truth, And man conveys it to the ear of youth, Alone—a morther's influence can spra, Can mould, can seal the destiny of man.

Can mould, can seal the destiny of man.

Yes, mothers, 'ils your noblest task to fill,
To bend the twig or point the budding wilt;
To mould the plastic mind and there to trace
Those principles no time can e'er efface,
The germ to foster and its course direct,
To train each virtue and each vice detect;
'Tis yours in couch the mind and bid it swell,
A candidate for heaven or for hell;
To mould the embryo soul and hid it wear
Fair Virtue's impress or a villain's stare.
And yo may make that soul (a pearl of price)
For heaven a gift—for hell a sacrifice.
Ye sow the seeds of principles to be,
And this, and only this, is destiny
Then oh! beware of how the task yo fill,
Earth may not task your work, but heaven will.
Oh train the germ, it's yo alone that can Implant the principle to make the man.
A mother's influence most lasting holds,
A mother's whispers (once they were my choice,
But death, cold death, has hushed that sacred voice;
Aye, long ano—long, long—yet still I heer
A mother's promputars zwelling on my ear);
Oh mothers, guard them, watch the budding mind,
A hidden store of mingled healt enshrined.
Oh frame the plant heart with mother's skill,
With angel wisdom guide th' untutor'd will;
Sow yo the seeds and watch ho vitrous root;
Care not althe' the structure my seen rade,
With vitue cherish'd and with vice subdu'd,
Implant the principle in youth's largest dawn,
And time and life will ay the varnish on,
Train ye the youthful mind for vitro's prize,
And saints will bless you in their native skies;
Watch ye the buddings of the youthful soul,
And train its virtues by your mild controut,
Oh train them good, for they in death shall see,
A MOTHER's TERCHING IS MAN'S DESTIKY. Yes, mothers, 'tis your noblest task to fill

MEN AND WOMEN NOW-A-DAYS.

Somebody is reporting for the Boston Journal certain speeches of "Father Langley," who is a very sensible old gentleman. The following is his opinion of the present generation :

"Failed, has he! I wonder they don't all fail ! For what with the extravagance and good-for-nothingness of what win the extravagance and good-int-nothingues of the men and women now-a-days, where is it all to end? Call themselves "Sons of the Pilgrims" do they? I wish in mercy their old grandfathers could see them?— They were the time grit -real hearts of onk-but these population are nothing in the world but vencering!— When I was a boy, it used to be the fashion for boys to be apprentices till they larnt their trade; but now they are all bosses! There min't no boys now-a-days! — They set up for themselves as soon as they are weaped -know enough, sight more than their fathers and grandfathers-you can't tell them anything-they know i all! Their fathers sweated and tugged in the corn field at the tail of a plow, or else over an anvil; but they can't do it! They are far too grand to dirly their fin-They must wear fine cloth, and shirt collars up to their cars-be made into lawyers, lara doctoring, set themselves up as preachers, telling us we ought to do thus or that, or else get behind a counter to measure off robbin and tope! Smart work for two-fisted men!—
Man, did I say! They am't worth mor'n half men!— If we go on at this rate, the race will run out by another age is a fraction short of 90 years generation--we shan't have nothing left but a mixture of coxcomb and monkey!

-it is just even! The women, too, are no better-They are brought up good for nothing under the sun, but to put in a bufet! When I was a boy it wasu't so the spinning wheel stood in the kitchen, and the dyetub in the corner! They were put to work as soon as they could walk; they didin't have no nursery maid to they could walk; they didin't have no nursery maid to run after them; their mothers warn't ashanned to tend their own babies! They could sew on a patch, and rock the cradle beside. The gals were good for some-thing in those times—they could spin and weave woolen, linen, linsey woolsey, red and blue, and wear it, too, after it was done! They could eat bean porridge with a pewter spoon, and they were enough aight happier, and better suited, than the gals are now, with their silk gowns, their French messes, and silver forks; yawning and moping about, silly, pale-faced things, with nothing to do! SET THEM TO WORK! Set them to work!— Put them at it early! Idleness in the devil's foreman; and no chain is so strong, as the iron chain of habit!— Watts was nobodys fool, I can tell you! He knew what was what. Folks don't stand still here in this world; they are going one way or t'other. If they ain't drawing the up kill, they'll be sliding down! Adam was a farmer, and Eve hadn't no 'frish gal,' nor 'nigger wench,' to wait upon her! What do these popings say to that?

Ashamed of the old folks, I'll warrant! Adam wasn't nobody, Eve wasn't nobody, they know it all.

But they can't work—they are so delicate—they are so weakly? What has made them weakly? Send off your chamber maids, your cooks, your washer-women; and set your own gals about it! It made smart women of their grandmothers—if the old blood ain't run out, they'll be good for something yet.

It used to be the fashion to be honest; if a man got in debt he tried to pay; if he didn't make an effort, pub in duth let the the do pay; it he dust that we all choir, public opinion set a mark upon him; but it sin't so now, he tries not to pay; he'll lie, cheat and steal; (for what better is it than stealing?) and the one that can cheat the fastest is the best fellow! It is astonishing how slippery these fellows are! Slip through the smallest holes—don't make any more of it than a weasel! Just as soon think of catching a fice mapping, as one of them They drive fast teams without bit or curb; buy all they can; pay for as little as possible; pocket all they can carry; then fail; make a smash; snap their fingers at their creditors; go to Californy, or to grass, nobody knows where, and begin again! Good gracious, if some of these fellows had lived forty years ago, they'd have clapped them in prison and shaved their heads!"

VALUABLE ANIMAL.—A trusty house dog is sometimes the best of friends. We have an instance before us. A Mr. Betts, in Sandersford, Massachusetts having gone out on visit, directed the oldest boy, about ten years old, to place wood under the store to be in read-iness for the morning fire. This the boy did and then went to bed with the other children up claim. Soon after the fire communicated with the wood, and the faithful spaniel seeing it, went to the room where the boys were three times, barking and howling, before he succeeded in alarming them. The smoke convinced them that the house was on fire, and on going down found the dog scattering the brands with his teeth and paws in every direction.—N. Y. Sun.

INSTANTANEOUS PHOTOGRAPHIC IMAGES. ago, at the Royal Institution in London photographic images were obtained of a printed paper fixed upon a wheel which was made to rotate very fast, the light being produced by an electric discharge.

NATURAL COMPASS.-It is a well known fact that in the vast prairies of Texas, a little plant is always to be found which, under all circumstatices of climate, change of weather, rain, frost, or sunshine, invariably turns its leaves and flowers to the north. If a solitary traveller were making his way across those trackless wilds, with-out a star to guide or a compass to direct him, he finds is one thousand and seventy-nice years, and the aver-

THE TRUE AND FALSE IDEAS OF A GENTLEMAN.

A LECTURE, BY THEODORE PARKER.

The lecture at the Tabernacle, on Thursday end was delivered by the Rev. THEODORE PARKER, of Belies subject was the "True and False Ideas of at tleman." It is, said the lecturer, the aim of the world to produce and make perfect the creature. Other things have their perfection as well as man they all serve to perfect him. As nature blossoms the material man, so society produces the gentle; or the refined and perfect. As in the material a creature, to man, so there is in society a constant tendency from the rude to the cultivated. Per a harmonious developement of all their powers, but rather types of overgrown particularities—thus St. anard was so great a Saint, that he could keep me on his bones; he could not look upon woman, in that if he did he might be tempted to forget that he a saint. Thus, while he gained the character of an a same. Anus, while he gained the character of an he lost that of a man. Leander was another of great exaggerations. Some men are good for nothing more; all their manhood has been turned desconhood; newly married couples are but large love, not loving men and confiding women. proportioned bodies we do not admire the partyle whole. In the Greek statues of the lower gods, peculiarities were prominent—the whole was as to the part; while in the statues of the higher a whole is carefully proportioned; so the gentlement the higher order of man—the perfect whole. The a false and a true idea of a gentleman. The one man clase Money, and nothing but money, make up the gar gentility. But to this there are two or three a tions; the miser may be rich but he is not counted as the vulgar genteel. The genteel-vulgar man most stoop to labor; his hands must be free from toil; lab a disqualifying circumstance, and takes all the wing genteel out of the would-be gentleman. Vulgar-ga ity consists in costly houses, splendid equipage, formiture, in having leisure time and the kind to money brings. It matters little how the money mobilined, so that you have it. To be a vulgar ge man, you need not have intellect or taste, or refine pathy, would take you out of the pate of vulgar gent No reformer can be thought genteel by the value any city of the Union. Vulgar gentility never us out—it is lasting—permanent. Though as in the of a miser, it may be dormant for one or two gents. tions, it is still there, and, like the gout, will some show itself. The vulgar gentleman must have m but they must not be the native, artless grace of child, nor the natural grace of manhood—not the mers of the individual—but of the class. The ners of the individual—but of the class. The suggestleman must bow to a lord, but may kick a sugin the street; he can put on and take off his mass as we turn on and shut off the gas at our public goings. The vulgar man is the subordinate of his set you never think of the man but of his riches-ki colipsed by his own gualight. You cat his dinners a think of them—not of him who provides them. I has no ideas of his own—the popular priest makes religion, and the party paper makes his political ions. Having thus akciched the character of the w genteel man, the lecturer next examined the god devolopement of the grub to the full grown band A young man comes from the country to the large to make his fortune, he comes with a few cloths, good principles and correct ideas, and youth, incention and perseverance. From the labourer on the wind at the stable, he grows to the clerk and the allest pener—the "& Company," that we see on signs—has the junior, and thence the senior partner, until he is become rich, and he is known as the wealthy it. and So. But while he has thus been growing rich, out a star to guide or a compass to direct him, he finds as uncring monitor in an humble plant, and he follows its guidance, certain that it will not mislead him.

Long Lives.—Under the usual head of deaths in the Boston Traveller, last Friday, we find the deaths of 12 persons, accidentally brought together, one of whom has lived ten years over a cri.: y; 6 others, 30 years and only one under that age. The aggregate age of the whole twelve as one thousand and seventy microcars, and the art is sone thousand and seventy microcars, and the art is sone thousand and seventy microcars, and the art is sone thousand and seventy microcars, and the art is sone thousand and seventy microcars, and the art is sone thousand and seventy microcars, and the art is sone thousand and seventy microcars, and the art is shilling and a tear for poverty; now he is rich, might as well try to get a tear and a shilling from minument. on Bunker Hill, as from him. Once have to church to see God, now he goes that he may be and upwards, 4 upwards of 50 years, and only one when he started in the world be has been expanding, his manhood has to contracting.

When he started in the world he is shilling and a tear for poverty; now he is rich, might as well try to get a tear and a shilling from minument. on Bunker Hill, as from him. Once he we have been expanding, his manhood has to contracting.

When he started in the world he is shilling and a tear for poverty; now he is rich, might as well try to get a tear and a shilling from minument. On Bunker Hill, as from him. Once he we have been expanding, his manhood has to contracting.

When he started in the world he is shilling and a tear for poverty; now he is rich, minument has been expanding, his minument. On Bunker Hill, as from him. Once he we have been expanding, his minument has been expanding, his minument. On Bunker Hill, as from him. Once he we have been expanding, his minument. On Bunker Hill, as from him. Once he we have he has been expanding, his minument. On Bunker Hill, as from him. On showed the changes through which the man p his wealth accumulates, from the time when and respect honest toil-until he comes to think Pope was right when he said that " wealth make Some Sunday morning, when the rain has min." Some Sunday morning, when the rain has rived the church of his presence, sitting before the he falls to meditation, and having some faint recolions of his mother's counsels his loving mother a whose grave the violets have blossomed many sames—and he asks "What is good ?" and the city wers "The Bank." Again he asks "What is the thing needful ?" and the city answers " Money with these answers, he resolves to go one step ber in his transformation, and he marries himself to ey, after the old English forms and customs. collateral of this body. I will not speak, for time into permit, and will pass to what I deem the true of a gentleman. He is a gentleman who adds the his consistent to his consistent his consistent to his consistent to his consistent his consistent his consistent a of a gentleman. The is a gentleman who adds to his gentlity, he depends not upon the fineness of his cloth, but upon intellect, his honesty and his truth. You may systecognize him. Though he may wear different cts—as the Painter, the Poet, the sailor, the Pill-der, the Lawyer—the man riess superior to all mastances. You never think of the riches of the mestances. You never think of the rickes of the em and think but of the viauds you have tasted, for man eclipsed his gas-light. In his house, where Donald sits at the head of the table, not where the t beef and decanter is placed. He is always true sthers and to himself-earnest in all his manly pures. Is he rich—he has no more or less dignity than he poor. Kossuth-the poor editor of Buda Pesth, bated of the government, the loved of the poorsome the less a gentleman than when he held us camptured with his eloquence, with this fine land forum, and the stars of America for his soundingd. The true gentleman treats all men as if they e his equals; his manners are for the poor as well of the rich, and those manners well proportioned for mea. One day the elder Adams was driving a then gentleman through Quincy in a gig. On the doe met a negro, who raised his hat and bowed to The President returned the salute. the horror of his companion, who remarked the never expected to see such an act. "Why not," reed the President, "the man bowed and spoke s; would you have me exhibit less manners than a Thus is it always with the true gentleman, ine lady is but a sweeter copy of the same thing samend from the same mine, but a purer, brighter ser gem, worthy of being borne upon the breast of tree man. The lecturer closed by saying that in had the vulgar-genteel was mediaval-—in this my it was ye. in its infancy. There it was ancient. in harmony with the institutions of the country. e it was in opposition to our institutions, false and nicions, unworthy of the free air that surrounds it it must fall to the ground. All around do we see tre specimens of the true man, which must soon these shadows of a shade—these accidents of an at-and the time shall come when the Poet's lines

"The rank is but the guinea's stamp, The man's the gowd for a' that."

A COALITION OF SNAKES.—On Thursday a laborer using trees on the land of T. & H. Live; sidge, on banks of Neponset River, Dorchester, saw a snake scaling itself in a heap of stones imbedded in grass. a sher he saw another disappear at the same point; concessly was aroused; he commenced digging, and got of a space four and a half feet in diameter, and a sad a half in depth, when he discovered a nest of site to the number of 211, ranging from four to fifteen her in length, and embracing all the different species on to the vicinity, except the rattlesnake. When ad most of them were torpid, but soon gave evidence motive power. Sometimes they were found singand sometimes in bunches of half a dozen. The black a, striped, and brown, and the adder, were found the most affectionate embraces. This is undoubtedly latest, purest, and most complete coalition that has made. - Beston Journal.

M. M. LAHARTINE.—The Belgian journals repeat the make in M. de Lamartine being about to proceed to a fact to take possession of the estate, in the environs flavorar presented to him by the Soltan. This has is exemite, and the soil of the finest quality, but will require an onliny of from 200,000f, to 300,000f. It is a good state of cultivation.

For the Canadian Son of Temperance. FREE SCHOOLS.-No. 2.

To show that Free Schools are not utopian-that they do not appear splendid only in theory, we need only point to the free schools in the Eastern States, where they have existed for more than two centuries, and their practicability and superiority over all other sys-tems, will appear manifest. The Pilgrim Fathers, with their characteristic acuteness, and far-sightedness, perceived very plainly that the scion of liberty, which they had planted in their adopted land, and for which they endured the privations of expatriation, would not flourish, and grow to the mighty tree, destined to overshadow this vast continent, under whose branches were to repose so many millions of free men, unless it were carefully proped by the hand of an enlightened judgment,—unless the gruial showers of and dissolved the various ingredients that were to be assimulated to its structure. They therefore proclaimed to the world, and adopted it as a law by which they and their successors were afterwards to be governed," that all the children of the State shall be educated by the State? The Eastern States are now the best educated State." The Enstern States are now the pest educated States in the Union; and it might be safely said, that in no country is knowledge more diffused; is law more sacredly revered; and order more strictly maintained, than in the Free School States.

In New York State also, a system of schools, if not nominally free, at least practically so, has been lately established; and hear what Governor Hunt sava in his late message, respecting them:-" A system of education, by which knowledge is placed within the reach of all, and our youth being taught to comprehend the rights and duties of citizenship; the supremacy of law and order; the consequent advancement of every agricultural, mechanical, and commercial interest; are results which serve to demonstrate the advantages of free institutions, and the capacity of our people to preserve them in their original purity, and integrity."

Without enlarging any further on the practical utility of Free Schools, I will at once proceed to discuss the justice of them, by answering some of the most popular objections to their equity. Says one:-"I do not object to the justice of other general taxes; for as Government is bound to protect my life and property, it is no more than right to pay for that protection; but it is the height of injustice to force me to pay a school tax, whereby my neighbor's children are schooled."

My objector must know that a large item of these taxes goes to defray the expenses of prisons, criminal officers, and the military department. He should also know that the necessity of these, and consequently the expense of each would be materially lessened, were education to be more widely diffused. If then it be just to expend money in punishing crime, is it not also just, and much more beneficial to expend that money in preventing it? The following extract from the report of the Board of Education of Massachusetts, bears on this part of the subject: As our Government was founded upon the virtue and intelligence of the people, it was rightly concluded by its framers, that without a wise educational system the government itself could not stand; and in ordaining that the expenses of educating the people, should be defrayed by the people at large without reference to the particular benefit of individuals it was considered that those, who, perhaps, without any children of their own, nevertheless would still be compelled to pay a large tax, would receive an ample equivalent in the protection of their persons, and in the security of their property."

But says another "my children have all grown to maturity, they have received their school education; it would be highly wrong now to make me pay for the education of my neighbor's children, especially as my money would go not only to assist the indigent, but also those who are quite as wealthy as myself, while is can receive no benefit." We answer, that part of what you complain of, arises from the necessity of the case, and not from the partiality of the application of the principle. Had our Fathers been more wise you would now be deprived of this objection; yet, we could not suppose a time in which the free acbools would be estabed, without placing some in the same disadvantageous circumstances, which you now complain of. But that you receive no benefit is not true. In the first place, you receive it, as the foregoing extract shows, in the increased security of your person and property. In literature and art.

the second place, if your own children do not reap thi immediate advantages, your children's children will.

But the most doleful complaint comes from the old backetor. To be without the advice, attention, and consolation of a loving spouse,—to be deprived of the bachelor. prattling glee, and joyous sunshine beaming forth from the features of promising sons, and beauteous daughters, are quite enough in themselves to make his lot anything but enviable;-to be obliged often to mend his own pants, sew on his own shirt buttons, which his washerwoman had either carelessly, or intentionally rubbed off, woman had clinic carriers, or meaning, any altogether in order to drive him into materinony, are altogether beyond enduronce. But besides all this, to be compelled to pay a school tax! when he has no children to send to school, is quite enough to set luin frantic Poor fellow! I really pity you! The only advice, however, that I can give you is to get married, and put yourself in a way to receive the benefits. But, if after all, you are too lazy or too stingy to support a family, and pertinaciously persist in your celibacy, it is no more than right that you should at least be made to assist in educating the children of your neighbor—that you should at least give community this small remuneration for the trouble you are likely to give them, in looking after your welfare, when you are unable to take care of yourself. But seriously. Without referring again to the better protection you would receive under this system, we would ask, is it reasonable to expect Government to prevent a law geing into operation, because apparently it clashes with the interests of one individual out of every hundred who chooses to make himself singular from all others; while, on the other hand, it is of paramount importance to the other ninery-nine?

Were such a dectrine allowed, we would have no laws.

Were we told that one half of the children of this province are penshing through the want of bodily noursliment, no one would hegitate a moment in saying that Government should use its exertions in making amile provision for their sustenance; but when we are told that the same number are in a sinte of intellectual starvation, it hardly clicits a sympathetic emotion, much less a noble exertion for their relief. Why this difference? Is it because this gross material body is of more importance than the immaterial spiritual essence? then those of the soul? An no! When the inorganic substances of which this body is composed, shall have mingled with their native earth, and the organic with their kindred gasees, incorporating themselves into other living bodies; here seen in the composition of the blushing rose; there in the less attractive blade of grass; now observed in the tiny lichen of the arctic regions; then in the towering palm of the torrid zone; sometimes embodied in the unwieldy elephant, at others forming the imperceptible animalculæ; and afterwards consti-tuting part and portion of other human beings, yet the soul shall retain its own identity, inseparable, indestructible, and unimpared.

"The cloud capp't towers, the gorgeous palaces, The great globe uself, yea all that it inherits. Shall dissolve, and like the baseless fabric of a Leave not a wreck behind."

Yet the immortal mind is capable of living on, for ever on unburdened by the pressure of accumulated ages; other considerations, no matter how important in themselves, when having no relation to our cternal interests sink into utter insignificance.

We believe that proper education does bear that relation. We believe also, that in proportion as we properly cultivate our faculties here, in some such proportion will our happiness be hereafter; and consequentof Government, but also individuals, to make this education accessible to all.

CONSTANTIA. Yong St., April 19th, 1859.

BRITISE PERSE POSTAGE.—The number of chargeable letters delivered in the United Kingdom for il year 1841 was 360,500,000-an increase of 13,000,000 over the previous year. Bendes there were about 6,-000,000 franked letters. In 1839 the whole number of letters delivered was 76,100,000.

FRENCE LITERATURE.—The French press during the last ten years, has given to the world 82,000 works of Ladics' Department.

[ORIGINAL.] MARY ANN.

Life's rudest storms may o'er me shower, Misfortanes' breath my brow may fan, I'll bend-but break not, fore their power, Supported by my Mary Ann.

In vain may pleasure's whiching streams, Flort fore my eyes the Joys that man, His prondest lifestings tilingly deems— Lwish but one—my Mary Ann

The all the various joys that tempt, Too many 'neash sins' sinking han. Shall 'gaingt no stilve—I stand exempt, Wallo near no emites my Muy Ana!

Gay gilded seenes may tempt my eye. And tourer forms that you may scan, the from them all, unscathed I'll fly, 'I to meet my own mild Mary Am:

Whon deathless death life's fort shall storm, I'll proudly seek the hopeless van; If but my cyes can view the form. Of meek and mourning Mary Ann:

And constant it us o'er life's swift stream, Oh grant me this sole source of man; On me reflect each sunny beam, 'That guilds my guileloss Mary Ann!

Cy at me but this, I ask no more, Extre not for the joys that span, Elysian fields from shore to abore, if fred not by my Mary Ann:

HENRY KEMPTVILLE.

THE ORDER OF THE DAUGHTERS.

On the second Miscellaneous page of this number the reader will find a beautiful piece of poetry, writthe reader will find a beautiful piece of poetry, writ-, anwary from a core so blighting and rumous as the ap-ton by our favorite bard of the forest, showing with petite for strong dunk. We say, to rescue the fallen, the poet's pen, the influence of woman. She moulds for although aware of the immense difficulty of saving the poet's pen, the influence of woman. She moulds the man-the boy-the girl, are mentally under her gentle sway. Her sweet whispers may teach him, arenue to the understanding, or the heart remains acor the budding grl the story of the wrongs of alcotemperance, so far that hope had well nigh ceased to enit has made-how many once pleasant homes it has made desolate. Mighty and everlasting are the influences of mothers—the influences of homes, vision No. 94, S. of T., through another year. The where they reign as the guardian angels. Do you then, reader, question the propriety of association of women for temperance purposes? If you do, we tell you that you are scriously astray. As surely as no believe that the Sun will rise and set in his everlastion. believe that the Sun will rise and set in his everlasting course, so surely do we believe that in no country will such principles succeed—in no country will the Maine Law be enacted or carried out. Nor would the ladies of Lambton, on this anniversary where women young and old, are not determinedly coss, nor yet of the Order generally. The progress in the ranks of your opponents. And it is intrusion of strangers chills the atmosphere of intrusion of strangers chills the atmosphere of their return to your Division on this anniversary occasion merely congratulate your Division on its success, nor yet of the Order generally. The progress to the world, pointed and heartless, seldom obtain a foothold in any fam mistress of which is young, pretty, and fond of the favor of Temperance principles. Upon them, made demands out deport graduade to that Being, with-more than on the men, depend the success and dura. bility of these principles. Do you ask why? We will tell you in a few words. Let them banish wine beer, and alcohol, of every kind from the marriage feast,-the funeral-the birthday-the holiday Let them, when invited to-drink by husbands and lovers, while away from home, absolutely refuse .-Let them discountenance all young men in courtships, who are known to drink. Let it be a first and last question to the loving youth, "Do you abstain from alcohol ?" Let the wife late at night, at early dawn, and in the musings of the silent thoughtful Sabbath, advise her husband to become a Son-a tectotaller. Let her in all her visits to neighbors advocate the beauties, and advantages of sobriety. Let her never suffer her boys, or her girls to tasto, touch or buy; and soon will her silent-but all prevailing influence be felt and seen everywhere. Do you ask what are the uses of Unions? Gentle reader-manly readers, the uses are as above, and associations are mighty instruments to effect them. Below you will read a well written address of the Ladies of Mimico, recommending action for the Maine Law .-Yes the Maine Law-if this law had always existed in Canada, and in Great Britain, what countless wrongs and crime would it have prevented ?-what tears and sighs would it have stayed ?-what homes would it have made glad?-what blighted hopes revive to bloom ?-what wretched wives and husbands raised from the brink of death. Women of Canada! talk, plead, smile, and act for the Maine Law.

ADDRESS

Of the ladies of Lambton and vicinity, to the Lambton Division S. of T., at their second anniversary Soirse held April 15th, 1852.

MR. CHAIRMAN,-If at any time a spirit of indifference might be innocently indulged relative to the great Temperance Refor agion, that time is for ever past .-The drinking usages of society are seen in all their native blackness, as the future source of a very large portion of the poverty, degradation, and crime, which tarnish the history of mankind. The age of apologists for the use of alcoholic beverages is happily numbered with the things which were, but are not. Happy would it be for our race, if an article, the use of which is con-defined, alike by the dictates of enlightened judgement, and the better feelings of the heart, were unniversally relinquished. But while witnessing the tyrint sway of appetite and habit, instead of abandoning the holy and arduous enterprise in which the Sons of Temperance are engaged, they should attempt deeds of greater daring for the rescue of the fallen, and the preservation of the the poor inchriate from the fearful infatuation under which he labors, we would never give hun up while an courage the philanthropist, have by a last agenizing ef-lort been chancipated from the four chains of Bacchur, The ladies of Lambion and vicinity have viewed out whose sanction and blessing nothing effectual qui accomplished. But we appear on this festal daylog words of hopes, and to stimulate you to face the comfor with unfaltering energy at the approaching coat The great question at issue is, thall this fair Province freed from the blighting influence of Importation, Ma facture, Sale, and Use, of intoxicating drinks ? or the present state of things he protracted? Already opposing forces are preparing for the conflict. Mawhile, from the Cold-water Army, a simulate shout of " No Surrender," resounds from right to shout of victory from Maine and New Brunswick spires your noble phalanx with courage; and await the result of the contest in Canada, with emot of hope, with the assurance of ultimate victory.

At your last anniversary, the ladies of this village, vicinity, had the pleasure of expressing their deep's est in your prosperity, by the presentation of a con-God's Holy Word. It was their earnest prayers hope that from that fountain of true wisdom vision might obtain unerring direction in their benericareer. But now that the battle-cry is heard through out the length and breadth of the land, past expen of approval are inadequate. Like the heroic women antiquity, on the eve of the approaching confict, would again stimulate you to acquit yourselves like

This Banner, Mr. Chairman, deemed a fitting ga the occasion, is therefore presented through you to last ton Division No. 94, S. of T., by the ladies of Land Village and vicinity, hoping that at no distant der nada may fight effectually the battle of her freedo

Women's Temperance Convention er N. Y. Democrat reports the proceedings of Women's Temperance Convention held in that city the 20th inst. The meeting was very fully aucsome four or five hundred women, and a large an The meeting was very fully atte of them from abrond, being present. Mrs. E. C.S. ton, was President; and Mrs. Amelia Bloomer, one of the Secretaries. Several men were among speakers. A determined spirit to carry on the te ance reform with unabated zeal, was manifested in proceedings .- N. Y. Organ.

HUSBANDS AND WIVES.

The following excellent article on "Husbands Wives," is from the pen of one of the most accompany writers in America, and we hazard nothing in an that our readers will peruse it with great pleasure

"The art of making home happy is either very perfectly understood, or wilfully neglected, by a renumber of married people, of both sexes. This especially true of husbands and wives who more what is called 'fashionable society.' The whithout excitement and dissipation, by which they are suns ed, drowns the affections, and destroys all taste that quier, yet tender, domestic intercourse which e stitutes the charm of home. No household call happy, from which the head is habitually absent in suit of picasure or of profit, and, we controd, no man has a right to marry with the intended using his own house as an inn-a mere stopping plus where he expects to come and go unquestioned, served obsequiously, and to render no equivalential confidence, and sympathy, for the heart-worth a obedience he requires. Women are social beaus well as men. Their affections are warmer, dep more exigeant than those of men. unreasonable for the gay husband to expect his neg ed wife to remain cloistered, in nun-like sed while he is, perhaps, playing the cavalier to hear que stronable virtue. If professional business calls in abried, she, whose presence should make all p home to him, ought to be his companion. Next union of soul and body, that of husband and wife be the closest, the most inseparable.

"We have said that the usages of fashionable me are not congenial to domestic happiness. The free intrusion of strangers chills the atmosphere of h Friends are always welcome; but your artificialms the world, poushed agreeable, well-informed and heartless, seldom obtain a foothold in any family, mistress of which is young, pretty, and fond of selection, without creating muchief. It is their vocable peace of paradise. If baffled in their main object, of generally succeed in sowing the seeds of jealousy;

If generally succeed in sowing the seeds of jealousy;
If the consequent harvest of dissension and misery is tribute to their inferrnal vanity, which no consider-ion of honor or pay could induce her to forego. Many exemplary and noble-minded husband has been ren from his home, to seek society elsewhere, by the pertinent obtrusiveness of these elegant samples of without souls. The prudent wife will not permit ch to come between her and her husband's tove. She ill not cast a shadow on his heart, by encouraging em at any time—above all, she will never invite them his absence, and break in upon the rules of his houseid, by entertaining them at unseasonable hours.

"It is an old saying, that good husbands make good ires; and there is some truth in it. Let the husband swife with tender respect; make her a partner his thoughts, his hopes, his plans; consult her; mania regard for her judgment and advice; and if she the heart of a true woman in her breast—no matter wit may be incrusted with vanity and frivolity, or hirst for excitement—he may trust her implicitly and arlessly. But, unfortunately for their own peace-aye, their own pecuniary interest, too-few men ow this kind of consideration for their wives. too find of playing the role of the creation. me ourselves too much upon our superior wisdom; bereas, in nine cases out of twelve, the counsel of heing wife, whose whole brain and soul are alive to welfare of her husband, is a far safer guide than his n headstrong will. The instinct of woman's affection prescient. It would be well for us all if we trusted ore to its promptings."

Youths' Department.

DROOP NOT UPON YOUR WAY.

BY JOHN BARNES.

Ho! yo who start a noble scheme,
For general good designed,
Ye workers in a cause that tends
To benefit your kind.
Make out the path you fain would tread,
The game ye mean to play,
And if it be an housest one,
Keep steadfast on your way.

Although yo may not gain at once
The points yo most dealro,
Be patient—time can wonders work,
Plod on, and do not tire;
Obstructions, too, may crowd your path,
In threat'oling, stern array,
Yet filinch not? fear nor? they may prove Mere shadows in your way.

Then while there's work for you to do,
Stand not despairing by
Let "forward" be the move yo make,
Let 'onward" be your cry.
And when success has removed your plans.
"Twill all your pains repay,
To see the good your labor's done.
Then droop not on your way.

~~~~~~ CADETS.

The order is exciting a considerable interest just now the American States, as indeed it should every-

GRAND SECTION OF WESTERN N. Y.

At a meeting of the Grand Section C. of T., held Batavia, on the 13th ult., a committee was appointed report a set of resolutions for the consideration of a teliog to be held in the evening, composed of the S. T., D. of T., and C. of T., and the friends of Tem-T., D. of T., and G. of T., and the inclusion of Terms of Terms of Terms of The Cincinnati Nonparent says that a content of the Klowing Preamble and Resolutions, which were place has lately sent 500 dogs to California on specula-

Whereas it is easier to form a correct taste than to correct a bad habit,—less difficult to govern an impulse than to eradicate an evil passion, saster to prevent wading in the stream, than it is to stem the torrent, and rescue from the foaming cataract, and whereas, it is less difficult to keep the twig straight than to untwist and straighten the twisted and gintied oak, cosser to keep the fountain pure, than to cleaned the turbid waters

Resolved, That among all the organizations instituted for the promotion of Temperance, morality, and virtue, we know of none more deserving the confidence, assistance and hearty support of every patinot, philan-thropist, and Christian, than the order of the Cadeis of Temperance.

Resolved, That in our opinion, the friends of temper ance and virtue cannot accomplish as much good by any other means with which we are acquainted, as by organizing and sustaining thorough and efficient Sections of Cadets in every village in Western New York Resolved, That a Division of the Sons of Temperance without a Section, is like a Church without a Sabbath school—an institution that cannot perpetuate itself-destined to a slow but sure decay.

Resolved, That the alarming increase of intemperance among the youth of our land, calls for prompt, thorough and efficient action on this subject, and the serious attention of every parent that seeks the true welfare of

Resolved, That since "God helps those that help themselves," we will renew our exertions in behalf of the Cadets of Temperance, and labor with greater diligence to sustain the organization throughout Western New York.

Resolved, That the above Preamble and Resolutions be signed by the officers of the meeting, and published in the Spirit of the Times, the Republican Advocate of Batavia, the Journal of Temperance of Rochester, the Cayuga Chief of Auburn, and the Union Tectoraller THOS. FAULKNER, G. W. P.

C. C. Cowles, G. S., pro tem.

Utica Teetotaller.

A JOKE OF OLDER TIME .- Some twenty-five or thirty years ago, when Newburyport zumbered among her citizens many an eccentric genius, the printer of the village paper and one of the deputy sheriffs of Essex county resided in adjacent dwellings. They were intimate friends, and often met to converse of "men and things," and were famous for their jokes and ecc. aircitions. On one occasion the officer of the law purchased a fine salmon, and gave the printer, on the day it was to be served up, an invitation to participate with him in the delectable repast. The printer thought this was an excellent opportunity of playing a good joke upon his friend. He accordingly supped into the sheriff's kitchen unobserved, and abstracted the salmon therefrom, taking it into his own house. When the sheriff came home to his dinner, the cook, with rueful countenance, informed him of the mysterious disappearance of the anticipated meal. Here was a quandary. A guest had been invi-ted to partake of a rare feast, and the hour for dinner had arrived, but the table was barren. Nothing could be done but to inform the printer of the misfortune, and postpone the promised treat till a "more convenient season." Upon receiving the information, the printer told the messenger that he had a salmon cooked, and would be happy to have the company of his friend, the sheriff, at his table. The sheriff accepted the invitation with alacrity, repaired to the printer, and partook with much sausfaction of the rare fish which had been taken from his own pantry, without a writ of habeas corpus, but a few hours previous. The printer did not inform his neighbor of the joke until some days afterwards, and the laugh from the sheriff which followed the disclosure was such as could only have been given from the "leathern lungs" of a "hale old gentleman of the olden time."-Carpet Bag.

In Little York, Ohio, fifty-two fools, male, female and juvenile, were lately gathered together to consult the spirits. All passed off satisfactorily, until the gaping crowd asked the ghost of an old man, who said he was not in heaven, if he was in the other place. Whereupon the floor gave way with a loud crash, and fools, mediums and all were thrown into the cellar. The will be missed in the new States, where the circulature ghost, of course, had to bear the blame of the accident. medium is always scanty.—Buffalo Com. Advertiser.

A POETS CHARITY AND ANGER.

Southey tells the following story of Thomas Campbell the poet -- Taking a walk with Campbell, one day up Regent Street, we were accosted by a wretched looking woman with a sick infant in her arms, and another starved little thing creeping by its mother's side. The woman begg-ed for a copper. I had no change, and Campbell had nothing but a sovereign. The woman stuck fast to the poet, as if she read his heart in his face, and I could feel his arm beginning to tremble. At length, saying something about his duty to assist poor creatures, he te id the woman to wait, and hastening into a mercer's shop, asked, rather impatiently, for change. You know what an excitable person he was, and how he fancied all business must give way until the change was supplied. The shopman thought otherwise; the poet insisted, an all creation ensued, and in a minute or two the master jumped over the counter and collared him, telling us he would put us both out; that he believed we came there to kick up a row for some dishonest purpose So here was a pretty dilemma? We defied hum, but said we would go out instantly, on his apologising for his gross insuit. All was uprost. Campbell called out,

"Thrash the fellow! thrash him "

"You will not go out, then?" said the mercer.
"No, never, until you apologise."

" Well, we shall soon see. John, go to Vine Street and fetch the police."

In a few minutes two policemen appeared; one went close up to Campbell, the other to myself. The poet was now in such breathless indignation that he could not articulate a sentence. I told the policeman the object he had in asking change; and that the thopman had most upwarrantably insulted us. "This gentleman," I added as a climax, " is Mr. Thomas Campbell, the distinguished poet, a man who would not hurt a fly, much less act with the dishonest intention that person has instituated." The moment I uttered the pame, the policemen backed away two or three paces as if awestruck, and said - "Guid -, mon is that maister Cammell, the Lord Rector o' Glasgow !"

"Yee, my friend, he is, as this card may convince you," handing a to hun, "all this commotion has been caused by a mistake."

By this time the mercer had cooled down to a moderate temperature, and in the end made every repar-ation in his power, saying "he was very busy at the ation in his power, saying "ne was very busy at the time, and had he but known the gentleman, he would have changed fifty sovereigns for him."

"My dear fellow," said the poet, (who had recovered his speech) "I nm not at all offended;" and it was really laughable to see them shaking hands long and vigorously, each with perfect sincerity and mutual forgiveness.

EMIGRATION TO CALIFORNIA - From portions of the west and southwest we learn that the movement for the shores of the Pacific, overland, is so general as to amaze every body. A gendeman who has recently travered the country lying between Lake Michigan and the Missussippi river, informs us that the roads are literally lined with teams bound for California. The general equipment for the journey, is superior to that of any precedment of the beautiful and the state of the man are consistent with sufficient strength for the trip, and most of them are drawn by oxen. Undoubtedly the emigration exceeded that of 1850. Teams are continually passing exceeded that of 1850. Teams are continually passing at all the ferries across the Mississippi. A gentleman from Mareral Point, says that three hundred persons have left that town this spring, and from Dodgeville one half of the inhabitants have gone And all this in the face of of the infinitions have gone. And an into in the sace of the well-known fact, that three out of every five who come back from California, return poorer than they went. Many of those who have started from Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Ohio, go with an intention of taking up land and engaging in agricultural "ursuits, ra-ther than gold digging. This class, if they retain the ther than gold digging. This class, if they retain the fragal, industrious habits that have hitherto marked their lives, can hardly fail to do well. But the drains upon the States whence these people go, must be felt with theregreat severity. The effect will be seen in the diminishfools, ed crops of the west, and the money they take with them
The will be missed in the new States, where the circulating

The Cincinnati Nonpareil rays that a citizen of that by taking several glasses of rum, administered fooliehly III A little boy in New York city was lately destroyby a man.

The Literary Gem.

[ORIGINAL.] THE SABBATH BELL

All nature's still, sweet peace doth reign, O'er sunny valo outsproading plain; The ox and horse are seen at rest, And the farmer stands in his Sunday best.

The birds sing on, and nature's gay, The flocks feed on, the lambkins play; When jo: we hear the gentle swell, The sweetly sounding Sabbath bell.

Oh; the Sabbath bell brings back to me, A quiet home beyond the sea; It tells a tale of infant years, Of mem'ries sweet, of by gone tears.

That Sabbath bell hath led the way, On many a bright and spony day. To the quiet church my infant fest, Where smiling friends once lov'd to most

There is a charm—a holy spell, In the gentle sound of that sweet bell; It calls thee man, O man, to rest, And speaks of a home—eternal, blest,

Give me the reace—communion sweet, My heart doth love—my soul would meet; In the hely, hely, Sabbath day, Whilsi to my Slaker I do pray.

Oh : the Sabbath bell brings back to me, A home I loved beyond the sea; But yet it speaks of a happier home. A home of the blest beyond the tomb.

c. M. D.

Among the beautiful institutions handed down to us by the Jewish dispensation, none can exceed that of the Sabbath day. There is a benevolence, a wisdom, a noly justice about it, which cannot fail to strike with deep admiration and reverence, every sound, thinking, and farseeing mind. One can see divinity in it, the impress of an Almighty mind. Man shall rest one day in seven from his labor, and so shall his servants and his brutes; and that day shall be a day on which he may think of his Maker and worship him. That day shall be a day to which the mind may sweetly dwell on an eternal Sabbath, and may co-operate with the spirit of the Almighty in thinking good thoughts, and doing good acts. Yet the day was not instituted for God, nor was hunt down, and murder, poor defenceless Indians .men made for the Subbath, but the day was instituted Without it man would grow weary with care and become too selfish, oppressive and carthly. His physical for the good of man, and that good acts done for man soul solemn thought and a tendency to worship, a benevolent feeling. There is something truly solemn and grand in the thought, that upon this day of rest, the Sabbath, no part of the earth is now without the example of its sacred keeping; and that at the same hour in hundreds of nations of the earth, the worship of the Deity is taking place. In the tour quarters of the earth on this day the incense of prayer is going up to the Creator of the universe from assembled thousands. Whilst we in Canada are worshipping, the poor missionary in distant Africa, Asia, or on the Ocean Isles, is also appealing to the same Heavenly Father-the same Redeemer.

WHENCE CAME THE INDIAN'S OF AMERICA?

On our first page will be found some ct.rious remarks in reference to the origin of the aborigines of this continent. We advise all to read the article. Various spiceulations for the past two centuries have been indulged in by learned American and European antiquarians, as to that interesting subject. Many philosophers, especially the French, have asserted that there are different species of the animal man, and that the American Indian is a distinct species, the Africans another, the Mongul another, and the Caucasian, Australian, and Malay, others. Other learned men asserting, in unison with the Mosaic Creation, that in the beginning, but one species of man was created, have held that the Indian of America is an offshoot of the Tartar tribes of Northern or middle Asia. Yet another class has propagated the dreamy and romantic theory that this Aniercan race, are descendants from the twelve tribes of Israel, lost as Biblical readers know, about twenty-eight centuries ago. Farfetched conclusions are come to, and iniaginary likenesses in Costume, Language, Colour, and Habits, supposed to be seen between the Indians and the ancient Jows.

It may be that this origin will ever be a profound mystery. The time when it might have been satisfactorily soived, is, perhaps forever past, that is when the cruel and bigoted Spaniards, of the fif.eenth century, discovered the Empires and people of Mexico and Peru -By kindness and conciliatory means the learned men of those two countries, might have been induced to unfold what they knew of their own origin. But a blind and cruel bigotry enveloped the minds of the Spaniarde, and they thought they were doing God service, to burn, in action, and beautiful in plumage, although rare is in Those who have seen and read of the Tartar nations of and would measure from the tine for the start of the same of for the benefit of man. Our Creator saw its wisdom, Asia, who inhabit that continent from southern China, other near three feet. Its color is white and blick's and our need of it, and through Moses established it. to Behring Straits, know that there is a striking re-equal proportions, with a crest of reddish feathers on the contract of the contract semblance between the Tanars and American Indians. When the Chinese family were lately here, this simipowers require rest, and his mind must be turned to larity in habit, pronunciation, singing, countenance, and since we saw one; but we used to see them frequent heaven for one day from earth, to gaze on the glory of contour of body, was quite discernable. China and in the Grend River Conntry about the year 1830. This God.

Japan lie opposite California, and thousands of years ago bird is timid, shy and difficult to be shot. It seeks The Jews threw around the Sabbath a false and the race may have come, as they are now doing by food by running up trees, and its cries are heard to ceremonious sanctity, which Jesus of Nazareth con-thousands, and settled in California, or been wasted quently before coming rain. The next species is demned. He proclaimed the Sabbath man's instituted thither by accident. Thus the first establishment of a golden winged wood-pecker for "soake up", so call colony took place, and from thence the race may have on that day, and in view of the glory of God were spread to Mexico and North America, and finally over ors of this bird are very beautiful, combining yellows praiseworthy. The blindness of the Iews could not see North and South America. Ancient monuments seem der the wings, red, white black, and grey. The paths. The spirit with them was nothing, the form and to prove that California was settled at least two thous- vailing colour is a yellowish grey. It builds its mids letter everything. In their eyes a Samaritan, a Greek, and years ago, by some demicavilized race from Asiaor a Roman, was unworthy of mercy or kindness, but fond of gigantic and pyramidical buildings; using as did cies. In size it is about that of the Robin. Jesus taught the true doctrine of eternal goodness to all all ancient Asianc nations meroglyphics. Twice two The last species, and one _____ersally known, is men. Forms he made secondary to the spirit, and with thousand years may have elapsed since the emigration enemy of the cherry and apple trees of Canada, be the motive of the mind was everything. The took place. There is reason to believe that in Caliinstitution of the Sabbath is holy and good, and like forms, and other portions of North America, a civilized, seen in June, July, and August, flying from orchards that of marriage necessary for man's true happiness, or civilized nations once lived, who relapsed into barbar orchard, boring with his black bill many of our best earthly and eternal. To the body it gives rest, to the ism, or were destroyed. America was peopled in one ples. At other times, he will tob our cherry and many of our best and our of three ways; either by Behring Straits and North Asia, by water across the Pacific Ocean, from Jun or China or countries cont guous, or by land existing the Atlantic Ocean, and joining Africa and America gether by a continued series of Islands, now sunk. I Indians seem to be of Tartar origin, probably of same race with the Chinese and Japanese.

We intend to resume this subject.

BIRDS OF CANADA.

THE WOODPECKER, OR CREEPER TRIBE.

The most numerous tribe of Canadian birds is creeper genus. There are nine different species this bird well known in Canada West. It may there are more, but if so we have never seen then Five, if not six species are with us in all seasons of year, friends and visitors in sunshine and winter, in me penty and adversity. Such friends we love, they are to the heart-and the memory. These birds are in beautiful in plumage, and active to a surprising deprin all their movements. The nine species are as follows: Those that remain with us in the winter, are the la and small jenny or spotted wood-peckers, the blade greyish black wood-pecker, as large as the largest an ted wood-pecker, and known by a loud harsh cry, was ed while flying from tree to tree. The other two cies are the small grey creeper, that utters while man up the trunks of trees a gentle twitter. This specim 18 unusually active in May and June, and has its to in the holes of rotten trees. It is a very small grey bid with long tail and shy habits, about the size of the smi est Chick bird. The other winter species, is the breasted creeper, having an ochre colored breast, while abdomen, and sky-blue back and wings. It is scenich winter in dense forests of pine; running with greating ty to the topmost parts of them. In the spring it and a mournful cry of "tee it, tee it, tee it." In size i double that of the small species. There is another is of the creeper, which we have never seen in the wish although it may remain with us. It is larger than the red breasted creeper, of a grey and white color, divesfied with greyish spotted plumage. In its motions is extremely numble, running up trees and catching is sects; uttering all the time a gentle twittering ery.

Of the summer species the largest is the cock of a woods, a bird the pride of the Canadian forests, such head. It utters a loud cry while on the wing, while may be heard for a mile. Many years have clips from its peculiar cry of, "wake up, wake up'." trees and lives more on the ground than the others.

trees. The redheaded woodpecker breeds in holtrees in July, and frequents our fields, where he may een on the wing flying from tree to tree, or fence to e. At times he will sound away from some hard It leaves us in August. Late in May, and early one, he may be heard welcoming early in the mornthe rising sun with a sonorous cry. The Jenny doecker, as early as March, seems to delight in ing spring, and will make the woods resound for s with his rapping on some hard hollow tree.

weet birds of the forests and fields, they are dear to their voices are cheering to the sou! -their guileless ons are soothing and lovely. We loved them in our per, and we love them now, as we love all that is re-all that bears the impress of innocent nature.

THE BRIGHT LAND OF SPIRITS.

When Moses was weighed down with an hund and forty years, having led through mighty diffities and trials for forty years, an ungrateful and latrous people, his soul grew weary—very weary nd he longed to see the Promised Land. His Makfrom a mighty mountain in the midst of a solemn dreary desert, suffered his soul to view afar off land of promise; and he bowed his head and 1. So upon this earth the good have to fight a d fight with a wicked world-with trials and is innumerable; they are led through deserts and en spots, amid temptations to beset them, until aried with life and many years, they wish to view promised land beyond the grave. The spirit wing and ascends the mountain of IMMORTAL-, and there with the eye and vision of faith, th by the Prophet of Nazarcth, God permits the dand all who desire it in sincerity and repentte to view in the dim and shadowy distance the atland of happy spirits. Faint echoes of their aphic music-distant glimpses of their glorious has; and sounds as of far off rejoicing; like the ulest summer breeze, laden with delicious odours, ra over a mighty but waveless ocean, strike the ging soul. The spirit wishes to be free—it is d of its clayey home—a magnet indescribable ivs it beavenward, and the blue dome of the skies. massit did to Stephen, the Martyr, peopled with miless angels of welcome. The good and the at of all ages have thirsted after immortality. ey have felt that this mortal must put on immorby, and that man's spirit must live again in God. ere we will meet those we loved on earth, and the int will be enlightened.

BEAUTIFUL VERSES BY MRS. HEMANS.

"Thou art come from the spirit land, thou bird. Thou art come from the spirit land, Through the dark place grow let thy voice be heard, And tell of the shadowy band.

We know that the bowers are green and fair, Is the light of that summer shore: And we know that the friends we have lost are there, They are there—and they weep no more.

But tell us thou bird of the solemn strain, Cus those we have loved forget; We call, and they answer not again, C my, do they love us yet?

We call them through the silent night, And they speak not from cave or hill We know thou bird, that this land is bright, But say do shey love there still ?

Canadian Son of Temperance.

Toronto, Saturday, May 8, 1852.

My son, look not thou upon the wine when it is red when it giveth its colour in the cup, when it moveth steelf aright. At the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder."-Proverbs, Chap. 23.

SONG OF THE MODERATE DRINKER.

BY FRANCES D. GAGR.

Come ust to my song, all se gathered throng, "Its the song of the beasted free. A song from the heart, that we dare not part With a cherished liberty

Oh, there was a time, oh there was a time That I qualf'd from the flowing bowl, All sparking and bright, in the rosy light, Dark madness to my soul.

Thro' years upblest, was the wine cup press'd To my lips with a steady hand, And I beasted loud, that my manhood proud Should ne'er wear a drunkard's brand.

"Sign the pledge!" not I, I would sooner die Than sign myself a slave. The right to think and the right to drink Belongs to the strong and the brave,

Thus, the weak and the young, with an influence strong, I led into ruin's path, and the futher's fears, and the mother's tears I spurned with my words of wrath.

But there came a time, even in manhood's prime, When my spirit qualled within; When my only boy, my hope and joy, 'Fell a martyr to my sin.

Oh, talk not he cried, with your fears for me, Away with your pledge, away. A drunkard or sot, my father is not, And he drinks with each passing day,

Alas, shall I tell how my loved one fell, How the blight of the sparkling bowl, The it scared not my frame, with its scorching Burnt its curse into my soul.

Then give me your pen, ye strong, true men,
For the day and the hour has come—
It has come at length, when my power and strength
Shall be given to conquer Rum.

Cleveland Democrat.

MEETING OF THE GRAND DIVISION.

This body will meet for the transaction of business, at its semi-annual Session, on Wednesday, the 26th May, at London, C. W. Matters of importance to the Order and Temperance principles, will come before the body, and it is desirable that a large attendance should take place. Every Division in Canada should be represented by at least one delegate, and the largest ones by two. There are now in Canada 382 Divisions, and at the coming session there will be probably 390 in operation. Upon their proper working and harmony at this time depend the success of the glorious cause of total abstinence, which is fraught with great good socially and politically to Canada. The body meets but once in six months, and it is no very great expense to send delegates twice a year. It is a matter of deep and heartfelt rejoicing to every Son in Canada to see a little band, that but three years ago started with 14 members, swollen to an army of near twenty four thousand members, and with its branches encircling our young land; infusing into society a love for true Temperance, order, benevolence, and mental improvement. The subjects that are likely to come OBDER, the more are we convinced, that three things up before the Grand Division will be-First, the im- injure it in Canada: keeping Divisions open after mediate petitioning of Parliament for the Maine ten o'clock-allowing of too much altereation among Law,—the employment of a Provincial Temperance a few talking members—and the failure of brothers Division, the holding of its meetings quarterly instead of semi-annually. . The appointments of deputy grands. The subject of the order of Cadets, and a plan of summer meetings and action.

We call the attention of all Deputy Grands to the advertizement of the Grand Scribe appearing below. Also to the action taken by the owners of the Stage coaches between Hamilton and London, in reference to the lowering of the fare over one third, to enable delegates to go to London cheaply. Messra. Soger and Babcock, who own the line of stages between these two points, are both strong Temperance men, the former a son of Temperance. Let the good brothers of London take immediate action in the matter of fare on the Steamboats and Stages, and also towards the getting up of a grand procession in their beautiful town. Let us exhibit energy and promptness in all our actions; now that public attention is strongly tending in favor of our principles.

See the fares alluded to on last page.

S. OF T. GRAND DIVISION, C. W.

AS the May Session of the G. D. commences on Wednesday, the 26th inst., at London, C. W., it is requested that no letters be addressed to the G. W. P. or G. Scribe, from the 20th to the 31st inst., both inclusive. The D. G. W. P's, and other Representatives of Divisions are particularly solicited not to defer arranging any business connected with the office of G. D., until that period, as the proceedings of the Session will en-tirely occupy the time of the G. S. at London. By order of the G. W. P.

H. W. JACKSON.

Grand Scribe.

Hamilton, 1st May, 1852.

RULES OF IMPORTANCE.

We find it a very prevalent mistake in the Divisions in Toronto and elsewhere, that persons who become members of Divisions, think that by asking for their withdrawal card, they cease to become members of the order; and after having done so, they sometimes break the pledge, and render themselves liable to expulsion and trial. The rules of our order are plain in this matter, and ought to be understood by all. A person who becomes a member of a Division, and who wishes to cease to be such, must send in his written resignation; stating that he wishes to cease to be a member of the Order of the Sons of Temperance. This is recorded by the R. S. of the Division. If no charge exist against the applicant, upon his paying up his dues to the end of the quarter current, he ceases to be a member at the end of such current quarter. Some may think it is only necessary to pay dues up to the time of application, but we think the better opinion is, that the person should pay to the end of the quarter, when he ceases to be a member defacto. A withdrawal and is quite different from this. A brother taking a withdrawal card remains a member one year, and is liable to be fined for a breach of his pledge during that period, by the Division he left.

IIT THE MORE WE SEE OF THE WORKING OF THE ceturer, to be paid out of the funds of the Grand to act according to their duty on committees. Let all evils, and unite harmoniously to advance temperance principles in their neighborhoods. If the Maine Law be carried in Canada, it will be done chiefly by the instrumentality of the orders of the Sons and Daughters. Great is therefore our responsibility. Union, harmony, obedience to the rules of the Order, and a zeal to propagate our principles, should actuate every Son and every Division. IJ A faithful payment of weekly dues, and a watchfulness, that no one breaking the pledge shall go unpunished, should be the aim of all.

- alla

We copy the following remarks from the New York Organ, and they so nearly accord with our own, and are at the same time so appropriate in Canada, that we recommend all to read them.-[Ed. Son.

BIBLE TEMPERANCE.

Bible Temperance against Ultra Teetotalism, by Sheldon Buckinham, Angell, Engel, and Hewitt, publishers. This easey occupies 127 pages with a labored attempt to show what few persons doubt, that the Bible does not denounce the temperate use of intoxicating drinks as sinful. We have never held that it was sinful, per se, to take a glass of wine, and we suppose we hold the common senument of tectotallers. Our docume is, that the use of intoxicating drinks, by whatever name called, is the great hindrance to the breaking up of intemperance, philanthropy, that when any usage of society is the occasion of great evil to others, good men should avoid it; so, since the occasional or mederate use of strong drinks is followed to a fearful extent by immoderate and destructive indulgence, all men who regard the well-doing of society are called upon to unite in discontinuing en-tirely the use of these drinks. The Apostle Paul had the same principle in view when he said that he would eat no meat, if eating it caused his brother to offend .but considering it was made the occasion of others, sin-ning, he would eat no meat while the world stood—grant of a building lot, most conveniently situated worth Now Bible temperance, we think, is the tectotalism £50, and we are now making arrangements for the which is based on the same principle as Paul's total abstinence from meat, and we must say, we think it is to finish this season time and labor lost to show that the Bible did not in so Mr. A. Lightbod many words forbid all use of intoxicating drinks to the people of us times. Since those times intemperance has become the characteristic and crying sin of society—its desolations are appalling. Its miseries and crimes are terrific. Good men stand aghast. They inquire with deep anxiety, what can we do to stay the devastating and all-corrupting curse? And the simple answer is given: Let us abandon the use of an article which is so universally and dreadfully abused. Let us make it unfashionable and discreditable to touch the cup, and thus drive it from society.

We confess we have no very exalted opinion of that man's benevolence who, instead of sympathizing with the vast distress occasioned by drinking, goes cooly to hunting up texts of Scripture for a warrant to indulge his appetite. We like to see people who have any souls, to show it as Paul did, by a cheerful renunciation of self and its appelites, if, thereby, the poorest wretch living may be benefited. The particular exigency which induced the Apostle to renounce meat, was trifling compared with that which calls for the renunciation of strong drinks. Then, a few weak persons were abusing his example of indulgence. But now, whole communities, whole nations, including the brightest and most promising, are carried to destruction on the waves of this dreadful stream of death, and the principle of renouncing our appetites for an unnecessary indulgence, that we may save others, is far more imperative in its claims

Mr. Bockingham pretends to explain what Paul says about eating meats, &c., but refers only to some passages in Romans, 14th chapter He avoids, apparently, eertain other passages in 1 Cor x 7-13 inclusive. It is true Taul contended for the right of judging for him- tution. self in respect to meat and drinks, in his letter to the to, he adds, "But take heed, lest, by any means, this liberty of yours become a stumbling block to them that are week." As though he had said, "You may indeed find that you have a materal right to eat or drink things the Divisions of Canada go to work and stop these | not forbidden in the Bible; but beware, lest, in asserting your rights in practice, you cause your brother to sin and perish. Better, by far, give up your right, to the end of life, rather than involve others, by your example, in sin and death." This is our doctrine exactly, but Mr Buckingham found it convenient to omit the latter part of Paul's teaching. Upon the whole, we think the author of this book is a weak man, who night easily find more useful and more reputable employment, though not as a teacher of Bible morals.

DIVISION AT FERGUS.

MR. EDITOR,-All true Sons of Temperance will no doubt be anxious to hear how the Temperance cause is progressing in Fergus, as well as in other localities in the Province; and more especially those who have visited our beautiful, healthy, and prosperous village; which from its advantages for water power, and its situation, being only twelve indes from Gueiph, on the direct road from Hamilton to Owen Sound, and being surrounded by comparatively new townships, which are fast improving, must in a few years become a large, and flour-ishing town. It has increased three-fold within the last six years; and the Temperance cause has progressed in an equal proportion.

Previous to the formation of a Division of the S. of T., we had a Temperance society, but comparatively little good was done until a few of the more active members of the old society, with the assistance of Mr. Andrew Lightbody, an excellent young man, and a true friend to the cause of Temperance, who had previously been a member of the Ontario Division in Toionto,) succeeded the great hindrance to the breaking up of intemperance, and as it is a plain principle of the gospel and of all true, 1851. But we now number over 50, notwithstanding a good number have returned like the dog to its vomit, and the sow that was washed to its wallowing in the mire

The Division is doing well, considering the obstacles with which we have had to contend, one great difficulty has been, the want of a sunable place where a Lecture could be delivered, or a Soirce held.

Some time since we communicated with the Hon. A. Ferguson about the purchase of a lot, upon which to There was no sin in cating meat, in itself considered, build a Hall, and he very honorably (as he has done be building of a large and substantial Hall, which we intend

> Mr. A. Lightbody has left Fergus, and is now residing in Toronto, and our Division not only regrets his loss as an active and consistent member, but also as an excellent R. S.

> The following are our officers for the present quarter viz: R. Einond, W. P.; R. Johnston, W. A.; J. Menine, R. S.; H. W. Todd, A. R. S., W. McCrosey, F. S., J. Watt, T.; R. Monce, C.; W. Monce A. C., H. Webster, I. S.; G. McInnis, O. S.
>
> Your fraternally, in L. P. and F.

J. MENNIE,

Fergus, April 13th, 1852.

TEMPERANCE MEETING IN TRAFALGAR.

Mr. Editor and Br,—The Sons of Temperance of Trafalgar, Central Division No. 377, held a public meeting on the 30th ult., for the purpose of taking into consideration the propriety of petitioning the Legislature of this Province to grant us a liquor law similar to that of Maine. H. A. Graham, W. P., was called to the Chair. The meeting was ably addressed by Br. W. Henderson, W. A., and Mr. B. Waldbrook, after which the following resolutions were unanimously adopted .-Moved by Br. W. Henderson, seconded by Br. Anthony Fox, and Resolved,—That this meeting is of opinion that the present system of granting licenses to all applicants for the purpose of disposing to their neighbors in the shape of fermented inquors, ingredients only fit for the drug store, is detrimental to the best interests of society, its painful effects being visible in the emaciated countenances of its votances, often hurried to a premature ly, grave, leaving their offspring to the mercy of strangers, lt with the seeds of the serpent engrafied into their consti-

Moved by Br. J. Bigger, seconded by Br. A. Fitzpatnck and Resolved,—That a commutee consisting of Brs. Andrew Bigger, W. Henderson, and A. Fox, be appointed to obtain signatures to a petition.

Yours in L. P. and F.

H. A. GRAHAM, W. P., Chairman.

[ORIGINAL]

DOWN WITH THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Yo friends of Temperance through the land, United in one clerious band, Come out like men, to free and bald, And say no lique shall be sold:

Down with the liquer traffic.

Let an, from teaspe to Sandwich port, From Owen's Sound to Eric's fart, Unite in heart, unite in hand, To banish liquor from our land Down with the liquor traffic.

Moral suasion has long been tried, And is by all the wise decried, And other means we now must try To free our land, then let us cry, Down with the liquor traffic.

We see its evils every day, From rum poles stuck in each highway, Our fellow mortals to betray: Then Temperance mon, united say, Down with the liquor traffic.

Let all our actions suit the word And th' echo far and wide be heard;
"Petitions spread and names procure"
By thousands, then are we brothers sure
To stop the hquor traffic.

Present them to our Ms. P. P., We cannot well denied be, What we do ask and what we pray, Is but a law in effect to say: Down with the liquor traffic.

Waterdown, March, 1852.

THE GREAT PATRIOT KOSSUTH I NEW ENGLAND.

A YOUNG SOL

We have often regretted that our crowded column did not afford room to insert some of the glain and eloquent speeches of the mighty Magyar In ator. The mind of this noble man is as un as are his thoughts and conceptions brilling original, and patriotic. The age in which he in we fear, is incapable of appreciating his lofty in otism, and thrilling aspirations for human liberty progress.

Yet we believe he has struck a chord in the he of thousands of the noblest men in American Europe, that will vibrate until the tyrants and me archists of oppressed Europe are hurled from the thrones, or made to yield to their people true comi tional liberty, such as exists in England. The great and mighty Kossuth is in politics what Lad was in religion, a beacon light, leading on crush humanity to a glorious goal. It may be, and trust is so, that guardian angels of the Almighta around him, reserving him for some mighty purpu yet but dimly seen. The yearnings of this age: for open candid truth in all things; the worlding ting sick of hypocrisy in religion and politics, a yearns for practical common sense action. The world is beginning to perceive that man as a whole as one vast family of brothers and sisters, should inherit, use and govern, the things and affairs there The human mind cannot comprehend why a velo over the energies and light that lie hidden within The spirit hath an eagle's eye and gazeth upward Advancement, human intelligence, and orderly con tutional rights and privileges equal to all, are the den desires of the great human heart. This might man Kossuth is a type of them, as was the imm tal departed Washington. Reader, read and poor over one of the last speeches of this hero of libe a man of humble birth, who, had not the Care Russia with his slaves come to the rescue, have humbled and crushed the corrupt and race

House of Austria, must be a spirit of worth. anth is soon to sail for England. May Heaven and him!! And may Hungary, which ce he says, od as a bulwark between Europe and the advanchosts of Mahomet, thus saving the Christian nh, stand in this age as a rampart of liberty, to save children of liberty in the bosom of Europe.

ROSSUTA then responded and said he was greatly emrassed—it was difficult for him to speak in the open and he was fatigued. Let them not, therefore be onshed if they heard nothing from him to move their ints. He was anxious to see New England, for he arts. He was anatous to see free. Englished, for he aloes of the prosper-accade was not always accompanied by fidelity to To see a nation like this faithful to its prinkes was the most glorious privilege allotted to mortals. ky were always conspicuous for affording an asylum those who were oppressed. Even when they them-tes were not independent and free, they afforded section in New England to the persecuted from Old I'ms was the first characteristic of their eland.

Secondly, they showed an example to the rest of the and that it was not necessary to be very much governand that that Government was the best that was serned least by the public authorities, and where the lof the people was the sovereign rule. Thirdly, they sented the example of the cheapest. Government in world He remembered that there were years in thistory in which there was no taxation at all. There blic instruction, as had been well said, was founded the eternal truths of the holy writings. He thanked km, therefore, for the reception they had given him as intelligent Christian people, and a people conscious the glory of self-government. He was not surprised treeiring sympathy in New-Haven. He was soon kare the United States. The first impression which received on landing on their haps y shores was, that egenerous sympathy they shower, was not so much niety to greet his person as to benefit his down-trod-n land; and it was this that led him to their shores; dhe had laid his hand upon the heart of the people the United States, and he felt it beat responsive to berty. Being about very soon to leave the United tes, there were millions in Europe anxiously waiting the answer he would bring them, and upon that wer much depended of the future of Europe. and the third immense country in almost every climate great, glorious, and good—but no other portion would kt offended when he said that the last impression offended when he said that the last impression seld be brought from New-England-its farewell sold be most deeply impressed on his heart. The hef Magistrate of New-Haven had told him that the cople of the United States were deeply sorrowful when tespe of the United States were deeply sorrowall when they heard of the downfell of Hungary. They had ason to be so, for Hungary fell by the violation of see principles on which the American Republic is ended, and its future depends. There is but one after in Fraven—one sun that gives light to us all. there is unity in God and unity in the light is there unity in Freedom; and wherever a shadow is as upon its sunny rays, there is danger for the principle retywhere, and if upon the ruins of Hungary, civil ad religious oppression goes on, and the principle of solutism in Europe crushes all Europe, and has conminted its power, the danger of broken liberty will plend to the United States, for the Czar of Russia has telared not only his intention to crush the Hungarian cople, but the spirit of liberty throughout the world, cause he considers the spirit of liberty inconsisnt with his own rights, which he is not ashamed to all divine. The most dangerous example to tyranny the world, is the United States. As long as they mist, independent, prosperous and free, there is no secuty to tyranny on earth. Should not Hungary therefore acced in arresting the progress of despotsem, the anger would be brought home to the United States. le thought they would be able to repel the tyrant, but rith great sacrifice and sufferings. It was far wiser to trent the house being fired than to quench it afterand. He would go back to Europe with hopes for the redom of the world; for Hungary was now the turning out for the liberty of nations, as it was once for eligion; and had it not protected Christianity, there sould have been nothing left for Luther and Calvin to elam. Since he had seen liberty so gloriously devel-ped in this country, and beheld its fruits, he more than er longed to see its recognition in his native land .--

He did not want any attention or kindness for himself: for he feared it would turn away attention from his country. The time was at hand when the foreign policy of this country would possess more than the passing interest of the hour; when this Republic numbered one hundred millions, as it one day would, there would be no more oppression on earth, if it is only true to its mission. The principle of stake was, that every nation should regulate its own government. Hungary would Hungary would fight for that principle, for it had brave hearts and strong arms; but America would be no more a power on the earth if she did not help Hungary. These remarks had wandered out of logic and connection, for he had no tune for preparation, and was faugued, having borne the work of six days in one at Newark. He concluded as follows: We look to the most generous people in the United States, which are you. God bless the Union, and God bless the people of the United States. (Appliance] (Speech in April at New Haven.)

A great meeting in favour of the Maine law was held in Esquising on the 27th ulumo, at which, without a dissenting voice, (save one poor drunkard,) resolutions in favor of the enactment of the Maine law were carried .- [En Son]

HORNBY WEST, ESQUESING

WORTHY BROTHER-We had a Town Meeting here on Tuesday the 27th instant, at which Mr J C Clure delivered a most cloquent address on moving one of the resolutions, all of which were carried unanimously, and a Committee appointed to circulate petitions and obtain signatures to the same, for the purpose of banishing the the foul Demon Alcohol in all its forms as a beverage, from the country.

Yours, in L. P. & F.

J. H. WATKINS.

Hornby West, April 30, 1852.

A WORD TO BROTHERS—DON'T QUARREL

Sons and Brothers, in the Temperance cause should be the last to quarrel with one another. Their efforts will be unavailing if they are not united to bring in their poor miscrable drunken fellow men. They want to be united to battle against the Demon Intemperance that united to patter against the Bennot and come. Roods our land with misery, wretchedness and come. Quarrels should be confined to their legitimate places, the bar-room and brothel. AQUA.

Calcdonia, May, 1852.

IT MAINE LAW TEMPERANCE MEETINGS.

Are just now all the rage in Canada We see that two Temperance meetings were lately held in Pertly at which the people were nearly unamin us in favor of the law of Maine in Canada. A very large meeting was held lately in Esquesing and a like one in Dundas. at each of which the principle of the Maine law was approved of. There is to be a meeting of a like nature held in the Township of York soon.

PRESENT OFFICERS OF DESIARDIN DIVISION, DUNDAY

—This Division now numbers about fifty members It has no less than six of the Town Councillors in it:

Robert Spence, W. P.; Patrick Thornton, W. A.,
Edgar Camp, R. S.; Alexander Witherspoon, A. R. S.;
William Boice, F. S.; Samuel Overfield, T.; George Hewitt, C., Oliver Nay, A.C.; Charles Pratt, O S John Thomas, I. S.

BETHSAIDA DIVISION—Binbrook, Wentsoorth.—Opened by D G W P Rev Mr. Moxo.u—Brooke Tinline, W. P, is doing well.

LOOK AT MAINE.

What signifies the defeat of Mr. Dow in Portland, when the State is so thoroughly in favor of the Maine Law? What avails the cry of the rummies, when we have such facts as these before us, viz:-

"In the recent Town elections of Maine, so far as we have returns, the voice of the people is as fol-

176,861

21.663

152,198

For the Temperance Law 65 towns, having a population in 1850 of Against it, 15 towns, population,

Majority for the Law. or about eight to one!"

DUNDAS AND HAMILTON.

We paid a flying visit to these two localities hat week and were pleased to see improvements and progress the order of the day in business, buildings and in temperance matters. Dundas in particular, is taking a very decided stand just now for temperance. The Designdin decided stand just now for temperance. Division there, presided over by Brother Spence, the worthy champion alike of popular rights and the Temperance cause is doing much for the Order in that place. Speaking of R Speace. Esq decidedly one of the most talented men of Canada, we deeply reget that it did not fall to the lot of the people of Halton to have him in the Legislature. We speak not in reference to polltical opinions, but in reference to Temperance; since we know he is one of the most zenious and talented triends of the Maine law in Halton. A most enthusian-tic and unanimous meeting was lately held in Dundas' in favour of the Maine law, over which Brother Spence. We addressed the Dundas Division on the 30th April. A Canal is to be cut through the Heights of Burlington connecting Dundas with the Bay, is a direct line. In Hamilton we observe there is a great direct line. In Hamilton deal of building going on.

TEMPERRANCE ITEMS.

The New-York Organ says the Grand Jury of that city has presented the Total Abstinence Societies as an injury to Temperance. Did the works ever exhi-tost such a stuttification of common sense? This same Grand Jury attributes the city crime to Juvenile offenders and intemperance, recommending action to stop all unlicensed Inns. Such a jury is a disgrace to civi-ized society. What kind of a city must New-York be —a Gomorrah!!

A large Union of the Daughters of Temperance is about to be established in the city of Alton, in Illinois. Neal Dow is talked of for Governor of Maine, and Horace Greely for Governor of New-York state, both

It is said at the trial of Alcohol in Quebec, some of the Judges of the Superior courts and the Lawyers attended.

It seems there is a Grand Division of Sons in Prince Edward Island.

The Town elections in Maine have generally turned out in favor of the Maine law.

General Cary in the United States has started a New paper called the Organ of Temperance in Ohio.

In Brantford and St. Catherines are to be lighted with gas.

WRosas the great South American General has are rived in England.

If it is said immense numbers of persons are leaving, Ireland weekly for America.

W The steamer Magnet was seriously injured by the Maple Leaf last week in a collision.

if the latest English news say that Mr. Hincks will be successful in obtaining money to build the Great Trenk Radway.

ar The Northern Railroad between this city and Barne it is supposed will be in operation this year. The iron for the rails is expected immediately.

III Immense numbers of emigrants are coming from Germany to the United States.

III Kossuth is well received in New England. He sails for Europe in June.

BT The Pilot of Montreal, says—"We are far from being prepared to advocate the legal abolition of the traffic in intoxicating drinks." We hoped better things from this paper. What does it advocate, then?

The London Sailor informs us that Unions of Dangie ters of Temperance, are about to be opened at Buttonville, in Markham, and Crooks Rapids village. Heis to lecture at Prince Albert on the 11th inst, Columbia 12th, Melville 13th, Newcostle 14th, Orono 15th, Newtons valle 17th, Port Hope 18th and 19th, Alnwick 20th and 21st, Seymour West 22nd. His other appointments we will notice in our paper of the 18th May.

The Cobourg Reformer lately copied two original temperance articles from this paper without acknowledgment. Courtesy, Brother.

The American Temperance Magazine for Mayis. just received. The April No. has not reached us. The INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

Perhaps there is not a vice which blots the character of man, which steals upon him more atlently than intemperance. No man becomes a drunkard all at once. He tears not at one grasp the crown of glory from his head, and thrusts himself down from his high and God given position in the his shrine. But what have Intoxicating Liquors done in our world? Let the History of the past answer. By its dark stream the Poet, in whose eye the fire of mind once pure and lofty, has sunk, submerged beneath the gloomy wave to rise no more. The philosopher, with a mind lofty as the Heavens, his views of ours. A kind of gloomy feeling pervades out compared with the wreck of mind, caused by Intoxof the monster intemperance.

Intemperance hangs like a morning blight upon the scholar and philanthropist, it weakens the energies of his mind, blunts his moral sensibilities. When the habit of Intemperance once fastens itself upon the man, it is no easy matter to shake it off energies of the man, whether mental or physical.

If I were to give a graphic description of the evils of intoxicating liquors, I know of no better language than that of Paci to Simon Barjesus. "Thou full of all subtilty, and child of the devil, how long wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of truth? It is evil, assuredly evil, and that continually, and perpetrates crimes black as the brow of despair, and as perpetual as the roll of generations. It comes to dressed in the garb of an Angel of light, but the venom of a demon lurks within. I have read of a demon lurks within a most decoding pure. Queen, who wished to inflict a most dreadful punishment on an offending subject, and she presented him with a beautiful garment, which she had secretdoes this represent the all destroying influence of intoxicating liquors. Gentle reader, if you would be happy, walk the path of Temperance. Dash the wine cup down, for although it is decked with flows, an adoor is coiled beneath its sparkling brim. Oh touch it not, for a demon lurks within, which will destroy thy faculty.

F. B. R.

Orono, April 3rd, 1852.

For the Canadian Son of Temperance. OTTERVILLE DIVISION, OXFORD—UNION OF DAUGHTERS-CADETS

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER.—I see in the Sox or The PREASER that you are aware of a Division of the Sons in this place, although I think you never received any communications from any of us before for insertion in your paper. It is not because we have not members competent, although it is my first time, but on the contrary, we have many of the most influential men in the

Township. We have two of the Town council; Asa Durkee, the Town Reeve, is our present W. P.; Dr. G. W. Carder is our D. G. W. P., and in our Division G W Carder is our D G. W P, and in our Division now. I think you would be highly pleased if you could attend some evening of our meeting, and see the Far mer, the Mechanic, and the Merchant, all with one voice, as it were; crying Down with the monster In-temperance, Down with the Alcoholic Drinks, that are dealt out in the sink holes of pollution, through the tength and breadth of our land. It is one year the 12-h. down from his high and God-given position in the seal of things. But by degrees he accomplishes the work of self destruction. But one of the worst day of April since we were installed the Otterville Distriction. No. 257 Sons of Temperance. We have introduced the control of the worst day of April since we were installed the Otterville Distriction. No. 257 Sons of Temperance. evils in society, is the dressing up of this monster in vision, No. 257 Sons of Temperance. We have mut-false colours. If the mask be stripped off, and the ated one hundred members, and there have been but monster allowed to appear in his native deformity, few expulsions compared with many other Discions of there are but few who would fall and worship at our Order; and I hope when another year of our exis-his shrine. But what have Intoxicating Liquors done, tence terminates that I will be able to report to you for the information of all concerned in the well doings of their fellow man, that we shall have mittated one hunintellect glowed has knelt, and his harpunstrung has dred more in our Division here in Otterville, in the been hung in the dark] shades of oblivion. That Township of Norwich; or perhaps what is more appro-Township of Norwich; or perhaps what is more appropriate, as termed in the Son of the 7th instant, a young

R. Hillicer applied and got license last week to keep a house of public entertainment in this place, under the as pure as the sun's bright beam, has drunk of this by-laws of the Township Council. He has a commodidark stream, and fell a victim to its power. Oh! ous situation, and is fitting it up in good style for this what-wrecks has it caused in the realms of mind. portion of the country, and no doubt but the travelling With what wonder do we often look upon the frage community will get bettet fare and lower bills than take ments of human greatness which strew this world been formerly in this place. About six weeks ago these was a Union of the Daughters of Temperance installed bosom, while we contemplate in silence the fall of in this place, of eighteen members, by Mrs. Raymond, mighty cities, and see their granite pillars mingling of Form London. The Daughters are commencing the work of apphilation, on the place of eighteen members, by Mrs. Morrell and Mrs. Wycoff from London. The Daughters are commencing the work of apphilation, on the place of the p work of annihilation on king alcohol in this place, in compared with the wreck of mind, caused by Intoxscaling Liquors? Oh In emperance, Intemperance!

What hast thou not done to blight the hopes of mortals. How has the fine gold become dim, and man, that liquor is dealt out or trafficked inin this place, which once the lord of creation, has become the abject slave shows that they are taking hold of the work in the right way. Their being in the field now, the Sons of this Division will need to be a little more active, or the Daughters will march up and form their line on the right.

Mrs Carder, is P. S; Mrs. Hillieer, R. S., of the Blooming Rose Union, No. 43 Daughters of Temper ance, located in Otterville.

P S-There is a Section of Cadets in this place called the Otterville Section. No 112 Cadets Temperance, numbering about forty Yours in L. P. and F. C. S. JOHNSON.

Otterville, April 19th, 1852.

To the Editor of the Canadian Son of Temperance. CHATHAM SONS.

and ending 31st March. The Chainam roundaries of the street of the month of May is the occur. 216 initiated 29 candidates, the first Kent Division No. when imported. The month of May is the occur. 255, initiated 29, inaking in the two Divisions 48. The the year to plant evergreens.

Dakhas, and all bedding plants are best put out the property of firsts in them. ishment on an onemaing suspect, and an intermediate properties of the particular points are best part or the particular points. When once dress in this garment, doing remarkably well. The officers exerted for the all unsuspectous of danger, he received from it at present quarter are for the First Keat Division, No. 55.

all unsuspectous of danger, he received from it at present quarter are for the First Keat Division, No. 55.

Is musted, 19, making in the two Divisions 48. The particular and are particular and are present or the particular properties of danger, he received from it at present quarter are for the First Keat Division, No. 55.

Is musted, 19, making in creative data and are particular and are present quarter are for the First Keat Division, No. 55.

Is musted to be impregnated with a most active and to great a flow of the latter of the present quarter are for the First Keat Division, No. 55.

Is musted to great a making in the dding plants are best part or the particular and are present quarter are for the First Keat Division, No. 55.

Is musted to great a making in creative data and the present quarter are for the First Keat Division, No. 55.

Is musted to great and are particular and are particular and are present quarter are for the First Keat Division, No. 55.

Is musted to great and are particular and ar at which the Rev. Win. Price, D. G. W. P., delivered in able address. Several of the Cadeta regited pieces, and Mr. Brock very kindly favored the audience with two of his excellent songs viz, "Join our ranks tobacco users," turn " Old Dan Tocker," and The Old Oaken Backer," which were received ith great applause.

I Remain Your. & GEORGE SAITH.

Chatham, April 16th, 1832.

Agriculture.

[ORIGINAL.]

THE LIFE OF THE PLOUGH.

Let others sing of the briny deep,
Of cruel war and martial strife;
Where mariners and soldiers steep
Their awards of death in chiling life.

I'll sing a song of the shepherd boy,
I'll sing of the plough and the sod.
I'll sing of the labours that employ,
The Farmer who quietly worships God,

My farmer boy will hie him away, To his noble work and peaceful toil: Around him sing the birds of May, And he will sing of the fruitful soil.

Perhaps some flow'r will catch his eye, As once at did the eye of Burns: And fire his son! with poers; Whilst nature's 1 uits he sweetly learns,

Ho, health and peace sit on his brow, And sweet contentment in his eye; And as he drives the busy plough, The Sun shines beightly in the sky.

The Farmer is the fount of wealth Our country's hope—our country's pride; His works keep all—they give him health, His labors then let none deride.

HINTS FOR THE SEASON.

C. X.1

April, throughout a large portion of the come; the busy month of horticulture. Grafting may be a timued, especially of apples and pears, until the ka begin to expand, if the scions have been cut in se and properly kept. Cherries and plums should in been done last month.

Transplanting may be continued as long astress be obtained in good order. It often happens that poons residing in the south and west can not obtain Sir.—I take this opportunity of informing you of the progress of the Order in this place, together with the plant of officers of the two Divisions, and the Sections of Cadets, for the quarter commencing 1st January, and and ending 31st March. The Chaitam Fountain Di. No. 2.6 initiated 29 candidates, the first Kent Division No.

C.; W. Smith, A. C.; W. Duff, I. S.; Angus Mchay,
O. S., George Turnbull, P. W. P. For the Chatham
Fountain Division No. 216, W. Price W. P.; John L.
Dolson, W. A., John Dickson R. S., James Shernst,
A. R. S., Israe Smith, F. S., Salem Merriem, T.;
Robert O. Smith, C., Jason Whiteomb A. C., Wm.
McDonnell, I. S., James Oldershaw U. S., Israe Evans,
P. W. P. For the Crystal Fountain Section, No. 31.
Cadetts of Temperance; Smeon Smith W. A., W. McIntosh, V. A., Cyres Hodge, S., B. Killom, A. S., W.
Wilsen, T., John Grant, A. T., W. H. Baxter G. H.
Shernst, U., Lestery Wright, W., Sampel Gowan, I.
W.; and John L. Dolson Worthy Patron.
The Cadets head a poblic installation of their officers at which the Rev, Wm. Price, D. G. W. P., delivered part of the case of drouth, watering should be water at which the Rev, Wm. Price, D. G. W. P., delivered procedures are thought and the plants delicate. The covering water test, V. P. Werth of the case of fine moss aids in preserving a mineral point, a should be very light and every legitime from hot beds or from the open border, should be given. In cases of drouth, watering should be attended to. Where seed beds are watered, a sterned at the plants delicate.

The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water
the plants delicate. The covering water the plants delicate. The covering the plants delicate.
The covering water
the plants delicate t merced rose should be put on the spout of the water pot, that the water may fell like a gentle rain, said disturb the earth of seeds.

> CARADIA BUTTER-LESS Week Mesers Frist & Eldridge, of this city, sold to parties in Alexes a Troy, sixteen thousand pounds of butter at 22 cm pound. This large quantity of butter was purched. F. & E. in Canada.—Raral New Yorker.

WORLTS BEE FEEDING SUBSTANTIATED.

least itsert for the encouragement of many who of science.

An examination of the plan of Mr. Gilmore, has ded me much pleasure, and led me to a desire to ar of flowers, and samply carries at to its cell in the This is not correct. The nectar he collects from of the deep—the coral inacct—where, among the scanty sands, they regetate and add beauty and worth to desorption is a secretion from its melific or honey-secre-lation. giands, canalagous to the milk-secreting glands of boner-bag performs the same functions as the cow's merely receives the honey from the secreting-glands retains it till a proper opportunity presents for its a deponted in its appropriate store-house, the honey-Another error is, that the bee collects pollen dentally when in search of nectar improperly called peranny when in search of nectar improperly called sy. It goes in search of polle specially, and in school of accter specially. When the pollen is ripe for ber's use, there is no nectar which is ripe regards. It is generally supposed also, that bee collects the wax from some vegetable sub-The wax is a secretion from its body as the It appears in small flakes under the rings of bely, and as taken thence by other bees rendered. It is a fruidul tree, two or three products using game bely, and as taken thence by other bees rendered annually, to the amount sometimes of 100 auts or nice by the bee's saliva, and laid on the walls of the cred annually, to the amount sometimes of 100 auts or nice by the bee's saliva, and laid on the walls of the cred annually, to the amount sometimes of 100 auts or nice by the bee's saliva, and laid on the walls of the cred annually, to the amount sometimes of 100 auts or nice by the bee's saliva, and laid on the walls of the cred annually, to the amount sometimes of 100 auts or nice by the bee's saliva, and laid on the walls of the cred annually, to the amount sometimes of 100 auts or nice by the bee's saliva, and laid on the walls of the cred annually, to the amount sometimes of 100 auts or nice by the bee's saliva, and laid on the walls of the cred annually, to the amount sometimes of 100 auts or nice by the bee's saliva, and laid on the walls of the cred annually, to the amount sometimes of 100 auts or nice by the bee's saliva, and laid on the walls of the cred annually, to the amount sometimes of 100 auts or nice by the bee's saliva, and laid on the walls of the cred annually, to the amount sometimes of 100 auts or nice by the bee's saliva, and laid on the walls of the cred annually, to the amount sometimes of 100 auts or nice by the cred annually and the cred annually annually annually annual et, so matter what food it may cat, if it be approof a clear apocous liquid, fragrant and pleasant.
the for the bee, and it will not cat it if otherwise, but itself is highly nutritions. Cutting the extrem facer of the honey will be affected by the aroma M MORRES OF 1 DEST.

Ginore's plan seems to the writer, to afford greater untges than any other. With a bee house to ac-modate as many hives as he means to keep made tight a window to afford light to the attendant; he has issues hires simply constructed, sawed in three cas, which being kept from striking together by slats the two lower stories can be reparated at will, thereby afford opportunity to change the old comb ew, and by being placed side by side with communis letween, the oces when multiplied pass into new whites without swarming, with a queen at their But the greatest improvement of Gilmore's is e alread by which they are enabled to place in more honey than they do on the old plan.

"I have produces better honey, is well to be a module of the plane." salroad by which they are enabled to produce And all add the bee produces better honey, is well seenagainst moths and robbers, is more healthy, winters as, and is more sure to live longer."—Utica Tecta-

CINNAMON TREES.

dealermoon I visited the cinnamon plantations, of da shere are many in the vicinity of Colombo. The were or shrabs are planted in rows; their is does not at the aimost exceed nine feet, the allertone san corn, oil is obtained; when the fruit abel and boiled the oil swims on the top; it is used store, marked with cocoa-nat oil. The canaighting, margled with cocoa-nat oil. harrest takes place twice in the year; the first, exl-ing great intreest, from April to July; the second, ervest, from November till January. The kis pulled off the seen for branches with a knife, and dis the sun, by which process it acquires a yellowish sown color. The finest cinnamon is of a light yellow about the thickness of a card board. The fine a oil used in medicine is obtained from the cinmint, it is shaken in a respect fall of water, in din secred for eight or ten days; the whole is

NATURAL HISTORY.—THE COCOA

The Cocoa is a tree which delights in the sands of themselves into crevicus of the rocks, where longer root could find no sustenance. The tree is consequently tenacious of life and exceedingly difficult to uproot.

Besides this beautiful adaptation to circumstances by public attention to the improvement of the valuable its Creator, there is another in the arrangement of the atment of rural economy. Many, nearly every thickly coated nut with its hard shell, that makes it so apposes that the bee collects honey from the buoyant, that the winds and ides waft them at imes to

It is affirmed of this tree in India, that there is no com.) If they were the mere collectors, then we part of it not applied to some useful purpose. Not all have the comb frequently filled with molasses, cabins only, but frequently large houses, are communicted sorrer the bees had fed at a molasses hogshead, entirely of materials furnished by the coops. The trunk furnishing in various ways the frame work, often fastened together by cords made from the fibrous enveland sides, rendering them impervious to wind and and ing the depredations of the bee moth. nin

Dr. DUNCAN, mentions that the fibrous envelope of that, even when European cables have parted. tresh leaves are much relished by the elephant. The ashes of the wood are so much charged with potash or soapy matter that the native fishermen of Ceylon substiwith the tongue, as the mason uses his trowel. more. It bears from its eighth to its sixty-fourth year, self a fine noble looking old cavalier, well mounted, ait ereader must understand that the bee will make. The half ripe not contains frequently three or four pints, ting firm and erect in his saddle, the personification of er, as matter what food it may cat, if it be appro- of a clear aqueous liquid, fragrant and pleasant. The power, mellowed yet not impaired by time, the equipant steed is highly nutritious. Cutting the extremity of ments of his steed all proper and in perfect order, his fasor of the honey will be effected by the aroma the sheath whence the flowers spring, a white, sweet clothes plain, and those of a gentleman, a broad brime flower or other food, but the article will be honey inquid discussfrom the wound. This is called Paim wine, med hat, with a small gold bockle in front, a riding set molarace, or sugar, whether the beefeed on flow- and is obtained also, from other species of the palm. switch cut from the forest, entirely unattended; and thus This, when concentrated by boiling, deposites sugar.-If fully exposed to the air, it acquires vinous properties, and in twenty-four hours becomes vinegar. The nut yields an oil, but little inferior, it is said, to that of sweet almonds. Of the shell, cups and various small articles are manufactured .- Rural New Yorker.

LEACHED ASHES.-Leached ashes are excellent for almost any land. In the process of leaching they lose most of their potash, but retain other valuable fertilizing properties. They are said to be of particular service to the oat crep, and on clay soils. Fifty, sixty or a hundred bushels of leached ashes, with nalf a dozen bushels feeding plan. By his liquid placed in a feeding of plaster, and a few pounds of bone dust, make a the pounds of bone dust, make a most excellent manure for corn, mowing or passure.

> CULTIVATION OF BASKET WILLOW .- Considerable attention is beginning to be paid to the enlitration of bas-ket willowin the United States. The annual importation of the article into our country amounts to $5,000,-000; and this, large as it is, does not satisfy the consumption. The supply is derived from France and Germany mamly, and costs here from $100 to $130 per ton weight.

CLOVERING.-Never spare the seed when you sow clover. Four quarts are not enough to the acre, put on not less than air, and be not frightened if you scatter a peck! The great superiority of thickly sown cloves fields over others for feed and manure, is too annufest to accd demonstration.

A Secret Worth Knowing.—Roll three or four commons in a part of water. Then with a gilding brush I do over your glases or frames, and the flees will not light with his peak ite, nrunning not paring one came and see that the flees will not light with his peak ite, nrunning not paring one came and see that the flees collected by the wasp; and the flees c

The New Orleans Picopune, of the 24th olt., says.

OTSEGO TROUT POTATO

When to Cooperstown, in June, 1839, I first saw the hease itsert for the encouragement of many who is a second as a se himser, Md, extracted from the Cultivator of Jan. slonger than ones finger, yet exceedingly tough and very, not to the old Red variety. I brought home six, which the Dr. G. B. Smith stands high as a naturalist and strong. These interlace each other and insinuate, I planted on the 6th of July and the next colors of the part of th I planted on the 6th of July, and the next epring planted the product of these, and had in the fall of 1860, seven bushels. In 1851, three bushels, planted on clay ground, produced thirty bushels, and from two on sandy ground I had twenty-five bushels.

I have now planted them three years. They do not rot, and I find them superior to any kind I have raised for summer use, and very productive My mode of cul-tivating is as follows —I have my ground mellowed and well prepared, and plant in April, covering but lightly - mo deeper than my corn-marker leaves its marks of They are ripe in October. I have sold forty bushels at $1 per bushel, as I wish to spread the seed as widely as possible—thinking the variety of great value to the country.—Cor. Rural N. Yerker.

THE BEE MOTH.-PREVENTION.-In the Rural of the ope of the nut, whilst is leaves plaited, form the roof I lost some two or three swarms by the bee moth. then made new hives, and around the bottom inserted a piece of band iron so that the hive stood some half tack the nut has been woven into cables by which 74 gun from the bottom board. This prevents them from layships have safely outrode heavy gales of wind, and ing their eggs around the hire. Since that une I have ing their eggs around the hire. Since that time I have had plenty of honey, and have seen no sign of the moth.

> THE ILLUSTRIOUS FARMER.—Custis, in his "Recollections of General George Washington," draws the following portrait of the illustrious farmer Fancy to youryou lave Washington on his farm, in his last days at properties, Mt. Vernon. His ride on his extensive estate would be The nut from eight to fourteen miles; he usually moved at a moderate pace, passing through his fields, and inspecting everything, but when behind time, the most punc-tual of men would display the horsemanship of his better days, and a hard gallop bring up to time, so that the sound of his horse's hoofs and the first dinner bell should be heard together at a quarter to three o'clock.

> > When you make a fence, make a good one. It may cost you more at first, but will cost less in the end.

INSECT BUILDERS .- M. Renumer states that for a most excellent manure for com, mowing or pasture period of twenty years, he endeacoured, without moccess, isnd. Leached ashes tary in price, according to location, to discover the materials employed by wasps in forming and demand, from three to twelve cents per bushel.—N. the blue gray, papery substance, so much used in the E. Farmer.

Gullivation of Bazzer Willow.—Considerable at. struck him, while watching her gnawing away the wood with her manibles, that it was from such materials as these sh e formed the substance which so long puzzled hun. He saw her detach from the wood a bus idic of fibres, about one tenth of an inch in length, and finer than a har, and as she did not swallow them, but gathered them into a mass with her feet, he had no doubt but that his opinion was correct. In a short time he saw her shift to another part of the window, and carry with ber e e libers which she had collected, and which she commord to add. He then caught her and began to examine the bundle, and found that it was neither yet mointened not sulled mio a ball, as it is always done before used by the waxp in her building. He also poticed that before detaching the fibres, she besited them into a kind of list with her manbles. All this he imitated with his peak in, bruising and paring the same wood on the article washed. This may be used without the discovered how wasps manufactured their paper; for least apprehension as it will not do the least injury to these fibres are kneaded together into a kind of paste, and when she formed a round hall of them, she spread a mio a leaf, nearly as this as these paper; and this where the water the obtained are alone for control of the whole is the second for eight or ten days; the whole is the water shown pertenday, in Lafayette, a large time, she accomplained by moving backwards, and leveling it is made a large time, she accomplained by moving backwards, and leveling it is she accomplained by moving backwards, and leveling it is she accomplained by moving backwards, and leveling it is she accomplained by moving backwards, and leveling the water time obtained the on after a red coior, but no single flower larger than a good send; the warp forms paper, placing layer your layer, 15 or the coil of the water time obtained with the greatesteer.

They are called the "Phayane Rose," and to m. 20 sheets deep and thus preventing the earth from falling time later.

PARE TO LONDON FROM HAMILTON

When at Hamilton last week we met Messra. Seger & Babcock, owners of the line of stages that run between Hamilton and London. They informed us that they would convey delegates to the Grand Division on the 26th at the sum of 10s. 73d. a piece, being one third. ed the delegates generally. We were expecting to have had a letter in detail from Mr. Seger on the subject. It might be well for the London, Toronto and Hamilton Divisions, to take some action in respect to fare on the Steamboats and Stages.

- FOREIGN NEWS.

Two of the Grand Dukes of Russia are about to visit Napoleon in France. Rumour says he is to be married soon, to whom m not known.

A surplus revenue of £2,726,396 for 1851 is in the British Treasury, which is to be partly applied towards liquidating the National debt:

In China the rebel party which for about a year has been opposing the Imperial Government is still proceeding in their contest successfully.

In Greece the authorities are banishing all European reforces. This is in conrequence of a supposed conspi racy existing against the King.

A war is about to take place between the British in India and the Burman Empire.

The Queen of Spain has pardoned the Cuban invaders, except the natives and Hungarians.

In South America in February a great battle was fought between two contending Chiefs, the well known Gea. Rosss and a Gen. Urquiza, in which the latter was victenous. The people of South America are only half victorious. The people of South America are only man civilized. Intestine wars are commonly raging there among the petty republics.

A great not and fight took place lately at Havanna, Cuba, between some American and British sailors.

It seems that the Kalfir war at the Cope of Good Mope, is not put down, but is still raging there.

It is said the AUSTRALIAN gold mines are attracting large numbers of persons thither and will produce this year £10,000,0000.

A National Monument is to be erected in memory Mandall Ney la Faris.

France Swartzenburgh died in Vienna on the 2nd April. He was the chief adviser of the Austrian Em-

Fully thousand Belgians are about to settle in Mexico. The Penny Postage System in Great Britoin has suceerded admirably, there being a large increase of revenue thereby. The British Parliament was to meet noe thereby. The British Parliament was to meet again on the 19th April. The Anti-Corn Law Longue are preparing for an active summer agitation.

In Spain the liberty of the Press by decree has been annihilated.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

The challenge of the Ploughar n of Scarbore to plough with any township of Upper Canada, has been a vept and eggs are soid at 5d. per town waggons.

The Calmenge of the American Canada, has been a vept and eggs are soid at 5d. per town waggons.

The Ploughmen of Vanghan and a parter of £300.

When 3s. 4d. average per tombel, Outs 1s. 4d. do., is to be deposited and paid to the successful comp norm.

Peas 2s., Possions average from 3s. to 3s. 6d., Timothe affair to come oil soon,

The Quedoc Gazette says that the Rivet is oper be tween Montreal and Quedoc.

Mr. Benjamin, Register of deeds at Belleville, has of front been indicted by the Grand Jury for malpractice in his office.

The Government of Canada propose to open up and sell at very reduced prices large quantities of the public lands.

HONORABLE MALCOLM CAMERON IS NOW IN HUTON, canvassing the county for re-election. A Mr. Brown under the patronage of the Canada Company opposes him and upwards less than the usual fare, which is 16s.3d A parcel of noisy rowdies burnt a racoon in Cameron, and the Cameron, and the Herald approves through from Hamilton to London Also that they would lately to annoy Mr. Cameron, and the Herald approves through from Hamilton to London. Also that they would lately to annoy sir. Cameron, and the Heralda approves, and the Lead a concourse of francis, and also by the member of convey them back on their return at the same rate. This know that Mr. Cameron is now, and has always been. Canton Division, who were very kind during was of course upon the understanding that they convey one of the best and most consistent friends of Temper. This kindness on the part of Sons to ance in Canada? Does he not know that rowdyism and intemperance are synonymous? The election of Mr. Cameron comes off about the 20th instant. Mr. Mackenzie has winten two long letters in the Examine, in his favour. In view of the Temperance cause, and as a friend of civil rights, the defeat of Mr. Cameron would be a great loss just now to Canada.

Several new and splendid Steamboats are now running on lake Ontario, among them the May Flower, Maple Leaf, Arabian and Bay State.

France.—Late European news state that it was supposed the 5th May would be the day on which Louis the Rev. Mr. Ward on Slavery in Canada are doing the anniversary of Bonaparic's death at St. Helena the anniversary of Bonaparic's death at St. Helena tright to expose the evils of slavery in Canada are doing than. We cannot exactly see this. He has a perfect tright to expose the evils of slavery in Canada are doing than the anniversary of Bonaparic's death at St. Helena Ward has evidently increased the respect of Canadians, for coloured men. Before his lectures many thought a coloured man could not lecture in an agreeable manner to a white audience.

RECEIPTS OF MONEY.

J. McG., $1 1s. 3d., 1851, R. B. R. Goderich, $2 for 1852, J. H. W., Hornby, $2\frac{1}{2} \ightarrow $1 for W. H.

leaving 1s. 3d. due, and $1\frac{1}{2} for J. C., for 1851 2, J.

C., Sutton, $\frac{1}{2}, J. S. P., Pelham, $1, for L. W. F., 1851, leaving $\frac{1}{2} doe, L. D. M., Burford, $\frac{1}{2}, J. B.

Grimsby, $1, G. D., $1. Vincent, $3, on account of Sub. and Divisions; A. G., Otanabec $1, new Sub.;

W. M. M., Norwood, $1, new.

RECEIPTS OF COMMUNICATIONS.

Poetry from Uxbridge, by B., will appear in our next- between the hours of 11 A M., and 3, K. M., "Peter Pyc," of Gananoque, has written us a long, 5 5th, "That the judges appoint a Stake communication on the fony of our common mode of the grounds, who is to give the stakes to the party on the decision of the judges.

Salutations, in continuation of his former letter, and in party on the decision of the judges.

ALFRED BENNET, reply to an answer from Brockeille. We are afraid that our readers would not be interested with this subject. and as our columns are crowded with matter more interesting, we must decline publishing it. The author appen request can have it returned. The addresses from Laskey Division will appear in an abridged form on the 18th May "Jenny Lind" Poetry will appear is our next. The "Little Mouse" Poetry we must decline. Several pieces of Poetry by "Henry Kemptvale," are plaid over. Poetry from H. A. G., in our next. " spring" by Mrs. T. will appear. The school examination is deferred. The Milton Address and list of names of Trafalgai Dirisson will appear in our next "Home," by Sylvicola is received. Letter from L D M. Burford, will appear. The memorial from Wellington Square is in type, but postponed until our next. From the London Sailor, from Geo. Davison, and from A. Graham Otanabee, are received and will be attended to.

MARKETS AND WEATHER.

In some parts of Europe, particularly in Germany and France, a temporary fam ne has been feared for a and France, a temporary rain no has occas feared for a short time passed, which caused an increased demand for grain of all kinds, giving a broyancy to the grain markets of New York. At latest dates Wheat was in good demand there. Flour in England had advanced 1s. per bbl. In Toronto the markets in a few articles have varied considerably of late; Butter has been as anigh as 1s. 3a. per ib., but is now down to 11d. per ib.,

Pens 2a., Poistors average for ounce, case as we soo, Pens 2a., Poistors average from 3a. to 3a. 6d., Tonothy seed S. per bushel, Clover S5.

The meat market is high. Cattle, sheep, and calves, Sir John Packington in answer to Earl Grey, tately informed the latter that the Ciergy Reserve question of Camade was under the consideration of the British Catinet.

Bill per ton, if good. Wood is going down fast and in Sill per ton, if good. Wood is going down fast and in June left that rown for California.

The Queboc Gazette says that the River is oper be farmers a chance to plough and the gardeners to put in farmers. A feasily also our common spring bards are here.

The control and Online Should the from korp off there will be a great quantity at Pickering, on the 16th March, ness of only two days, the beloved wife of I Fisk, a member of the Canton Division Some perance. The deceased has left behind her ele of friends to lament her death, and a fam children to mourn a departed parent, who dis full hope of a blessed immortality

An impressive sermon was preached at her Elder Sarr, and her funeral was attended members and their families is a beautiful feat Order. An error appeared in the name of the Order. in our 10th number.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED!

To Mr. M. Scott, Leader of Toronte Brass Band.

The Dundas Amateur Brass Band, havin communication appearing in the Literary G langed any Amateur Brass Band in the Provi tune of £25 or a £190, was rather supposed challenge accepted by your Band. We have Mr. challenge accepted by your Band. We have dians, sidered your Band an Amateur Band, it being principally of men who have made Music th sion for the last ten or twenty years. Notwi Notw Amateur Brass Band in the Province, or you the tune of £25 upon the following conditional lst,—That each Band select two judges, a 4th,-That the judges in giving their debistrictly to the above conditions.

The affair to come off at Oakville on the Pres. Dundes Ameteur Bre Dondas, May 4th, 1852.

INNISFIL DIVISION-POSTA

THE Innistil Division hereby give sibuce this date they will not receive any communic less prepaid, except from the Grand Division By order of our Division.

Mby 8.H, 1852.

CHURCHVILLE DIVISION S.

Mr. Epiron,-I am requested by this Dir form you, that you will confer a favor on us ing in your valuable paper that after the 15th the Churchtelle Division will not receive any cations from any Subordinate Divisions unl as they have resolved to prepay all that will h this Division.

Yours, in L. P. and F. W. ANDERSON,

WILLIAM H. KIN

POSTAGE_STREETSVILLEDI

Resolved,-That the Spectaville Division not take any communications from the Post ceast from the Grand Division,) unless the prepaid. This resolution to take effect as has appeared in the Sonand Watchinda Net By order of the Divi

B. P. MORLEY, I

MR. C. DURAND'S LAW OF Is Removed to near his Private Residence Street, where he will be happy to a to any Calls of a Professional Natur from his City or Country Friends Toronto, January, 1852.