TWENTIETH YEAR

THE NEW PRESIDENT

Is M. Loubet, Who Practically Walked Over.

FOUR NAMES WERE PUT UP

But All of the Opponents Drew Out of the Contest.

A Ballot Was Taken, Notwithstanding That M. Melne Withdraw Before the Voting Began—The Result Looked Upon as a Triumph for Republicanism—A Sketch of the New President and a Review of the Situation From a Republican Standpoint.

Paris, Feb. 18.—M. Loubet has been elected President of the French Republic by 485 votes against 270 voted cast for M. Melne, and President Loubet's selection has been officially announced.

The National Assembly met at Versailles at 1 o'clock this afternoon. M. Loubet, President of the Senate, declared the sitting open amid the applause of the Leftists.

The names mentioned as candidates were M. Melne, M. Doumer, M. De Lauroy and M. Doumergue.

M. Loubet Arrives.

M. Loubet, President of the Senate and presiding officer, arrived in a carriage at 10 o'clock. Friends surrounded him when he entered the Gallery of Busts, and he said: "If you love me, I hope you won't vote for me."

The scene became animated. Crowds of people surrounded the doors watching the arrival of the members. The palace was closed to the public.

The Ballot Completed.

In the meantime the voting continued and at 2:40 p. m. the ballot was completed. While the checking was in progress the members of the assembly left the hall and assembled in the galleries and corridors, where they discussed the chances of the election.

M. Melne loudly announced that he had voted for M. Loubet.

The Progressists insisted on voting for M. Melne, although he had withdrawn his candidature in favor of M. Loubet, which explains the vote cast for him. The votes for M. Loubet, M. Melne, M. Doumer, M. Doumergue and M. Doumer were divided between M. Melne, General Doumer and others. M. Melne received an ovation when he voted.

M. Loubet Congratulated.

After the announcement of the result M. Melne and many members of the assembly repaired to an adjoining saloon where M. Loubet awaited him. M. Loubet received M. Melne and congratulated him upon his election.

The newly elected President promised to devote his best efforts to fulfilling the wishes of the country and to "reunite the Republic and to bring back the happiness and prosperity which have been the result of the current of unhappy events."

President Loubet's remarks brought forth lively applause from his hearers.

The President, M. Doumer, formally transferred the executive power to M. Loubet, and congratulated him upon his election.

The President, in thanking M. Doumer, expressed the hope of having the support of the Cabinet.

The President's Reception.

The Senators and Deputies then filed past and stood at attention as M. Loubet and his wife passed by. M. Loubet and his wife then received a deputation of newspaper men and, through them, addressed to the whole press of the country to work in union and amicable.

M. Loubet left the palace in a carriage, accompanied by Mr. Doumer, followed by the Ministers. The crowd along the route acclaimed President Loubet with shouts of "Vive Loubet!" and "Vive la Republique!"

Back in Paris.

President Loubet arrived here from Versailles at 5:08 p. m., and was received with military honors. An actual acclamation from the crowds, the President proceeded to the Hotel de Ville, where he received a tribute of respect to that, and to the late President Faure. He then went to the Hotel de Ville, where he received the high officials of State and the diplomatic corps.

M. Dupuy Still Premier.

Paris, Feb. 18.—President Loubet has asked M. Dupuy to retain the Premiership and has accepted.

Career of President Loubet.

Emile Loubet, who until his election to the Presidency to France, was born at Marolles on the 15th of December, 1838, was a well-known and successful lawyer. He was elected by a great majority, and at the age of 64 he became President of the Republic in 1892.

After having been twice re-elected to the Assembly, he became a candidate for the Senate in his old department, and was elected in 1895. He became a member of the first Tripart Ministry, which only survived for three months, holding the position of Minister of Public Works. When M. De Freycinet declined to accept the Presidency of the Council, he was intrusted with the reconstruction of the Ministry, and took the position of Minister of the Interior, from which M. Constans had retired in 1892.

IN PARIS HARD CASH DID THE TRICK

Partisans of the New President Were Thrashed by Their Opponents.

A NUMBER OF RIOTS OCCURRED

Police Had Their Hands Full and Arrested Many—Quiet at Midnight.

Paris, Feb. 18.—Police measures for the maintenance of order have been taken on an extensive scale. M. Loubet did not quit his residence at the Luxembourg until 6 o'clock this evening.

Toward 7 o'clock demonstrations occurred in front of the office of Sebastian Faure's anarchist paper, the Journal du Peuple, on the Boulevard Montmartre, for and against Loubet. There was a collision between the rival factions and several persons were injured. The partisans of the newly-elected President were worsted in the conflict and moved off to the Cafe Brebant, where they were again attacked and dispersed by their opponents. Many arrests were made.

Similar encounters occurred at about 9 o'clock at the offices of Le Libre Parole, and more serious disorders later at the Brasserie Maxwellite, on the Boulevard Montmartre, where several women were trampled and injured.

A fracas also took place at the Cafe des Lancers, where blows were freely exchanged. In both cases the police intervened energetically, arresting many.

Demonstration for Zola.

At 11 o'clock an enormous crowd was demonstrating in favor of M. Zola. Toward midnight a group of the partisans of the Republic, in the Rue de la Harpe, and another group wrecked the office of the Journal du Peuple.

In the course of the demonstrations the demonstrators attempted to invade the office of The Free Journal. Finding the doors barred against them, they smashed the windows.

Boisterous Artists Made Trouble.

At the Hall of 1000 Columns, 700 Bonapartists met to protest against the election of M. Loubet. Speeches were made by Baron Layrour, M. Lasles and M. Cuneo. D'Ornano. Several persons who interrupted the proceedings were ejected. When the meeting broke up there were some slight disorders and several arrests were made.

Minor disturbances took place in various parts of the city, but the crowds gradually dispersed and at midnight quietude had been almost restored.

Funds for the Funeral.

Tonorrow M. Dupuy, the Premier, will ask the Chamber of Deputies to vote 200,000 for the obsequies of M. Faure. This was the amount voted for President Carnot's funeral, and the precedent set by President Casimir Perier. Will attend the obsequies. The Chamber of Deputies will meet on Tuesday.

On the advice of the medical attendants, the body of the late President was placed in the coffin this morning in the presence of M. Dupuy. This afternoon crowds of Parisians gathered in front of the Hotel de Ville.

Madame Faure continues to receive telegrams of condolence from rulers in all parts of the world.

M. Loubet is receiving a host of congratulatory telegrams. The Temps rejoices in the election of M. Loubet as the "best possible choice." The Journal des Debats, which is more guarded, will wait to see him actually elected before congratulating him.

Bonleaves Are Battlefields.

London, Feb. 20.—The Paris correspondent of The Daily Mail describes the scenes at the Versailles election as a "Donnybrook," and the scene of "a new and terrible tragedy of a newly chosen ruler attempting to ignore his own unpopularity and sending his enemies to their deaths."

"I believe," says the correspondent, "that the riotous scenes in Paris are only a foretaste of what is coming. Last night the bonleaves were battlefields, and nowhere were the voters more hostile than in the hall of the Chamber of Deputies. To-day the press is uncommonly incensed."

That is What Mr. Foster Said Regarding the Result in New Brunswick.

Hon. A. H. Dickey Also Tells How the Wheels Were Greased During the Campaign.

Will Have More to Say About It

Montreal, Feb. 19.—(Special.)—"We have both creeds represented and a thoroughly united party."

This was the jocular remark made to The World-to-day by Hon. E. B. Foster, who arrived here today from New Brunswick. The ex-Finance Minister was seen prior to his departure for Ottawa, and he remained in St. John till the polls closed, and then took the train for Montreal. It was hard cash and the influence of the Dominion Government that brought about Saturday's result, and Mr. Foster thinks the Government corruption fund received $80,000 to $100,000.

Mr. Foster states that the Government made a particular deal set upon York, St. John, Carleton and Westmorland, and in Westmorland McLaughlan defeated Hon. Mr. Richard, so the Opposition have secured two men from Stunbury and two from Westmorland. The ex-Finance Minister said he would have something to say regarding the result as soon as the official returns came to hand, but he simply stated that for some reason or other the Catholic vote had some hold for the Government candidates.

One Gleam of Sunshine.

Before leaving, Mr. Foster stated that he was pleased to see the wheels of the return of Mr. Hasen a Sanbury. He was formerly M.P. for St. John, took a leading part in the House of Commons and will make a most valuable leader of the party at Fredericton.

"No doubt," Mr. Foster said, "the Canadian Eastern vote was a strong factor against you."

"Yes," Mr. Foster replied, "but this could have been overcome had they not had so much money."

Hon. Mr. Dickey Also.

Hon. Mr. Dickey, ex-Minister of Justice, was also in the city today on route for Ottawa, and he told our correspondent that several days before the election the Dominion Government had offered him $10,000 to take the seat in the House of Commons in which they set in to buy up the election. The Glasgow correspondent put them on their feet, and for this the wheels were well greased. He adds that there were several men who had been known to possess $5,000 yet some were exhibiting signs of being up to the eyes and this state of things existed over the Province. The ex-Minister was then asked if he thought that those of the Conservatives who had rallied to the support of the Dominion Government would now definitely remain in the Liberal camp, and he said it was quite likely.

"And Mr. Costigan?"

"No, I do not think so. I should have excepted Costigan."

"Do you believe he will accept office in the present Government?"

"No," replied Mr. Dickey; "I do not think there is the least chance of any such course on Mr. Costigan's part."

Mr. Dickey on Nova Scotia.

Mr. Dickey referred to the situation in Nova Scotia. He said that the recent municipal elections had been fought out on party lines, and that the Conservatives had charged of cruelty to an orphan boy who lived with a family named Stacey, near Sandridge. Freddy Stacey, the boy, about 12 years of age, lived with his uncle, John Stacey, on a farm, and was made to do work around the place. The evidence revealed the fact that the boy was starved almost to the point of death. He became literally a living skeleton. Gangrene had set in in his fingers and toes, from the effects of which he will suffer for life, and he lost most of his toes at the first. When Dr. Carmichael of Sandridge was finally called in he found the boy unconscious, and in a dreadfully emaciated condition. He was treated with cod liver oil, cod liver oil, and by good treatment the boy is fully restored, but still suffers from the effects of the gangrenous sores, which still affect his hands and feet.

Potatoes and Dry Bread.

The lad stated that he got nothing else to eat than one or two potatoes and a small morsel of dry bread. At one time he was fed on raw peas, peas and chop stuffed in a liberal diet during the last month the boy is fully restored, but still suffers from the effects of the gangrenous sores, which still affect his hands and feet.

ALMOST STARVED TO DEATH AMERICANS HAD A REVERSE WAR EAGLE HOISTING PLANT

Shocking Cruelty to a Boy of 12 Who Was Working for His Uncle.

Manila, Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The California Volunteers abandoned Guadalupe Church at 5 o'clock this morning, which has since been set on fire and retired to San Pedro Macati. The rebels still hold the country in the vicinity of Guadalupe, Pasig and Patate, despite the efforts of the gumboats to dislodge them from the jungle on both sides of the river.

The heat today is intense and is increasing perceptibly daily. Under present conditions, it is impossible to provide shade for the troops in certain parts of the line. Particularly McArthur's Division, King's Brigade and General Ovenshine's line, consisting of the Fourth Cavalry, and three troops of the Fourth Cavalry are suffering from their exposure.

In view of the fact that the enemy were concentrated on the American right flank, preparations were made last night to give them a warm reception in the event of an attack. General Ovenshine's line, consisting originally of the North Dakota Volunteers, the Fourteenth Infantry and two troops of the Fourth Cavalry, were ordered to bivouac on the beach at Camp Dewey to General King's right, and reinforced by two battalions of the Fourth Cavalry and three troops of the Fourth Cavalry as infantry.

The Buffalo's searchlight, discovering the enemy's position at about 10 o'clock in the evening, signalled the flagship for permission to fire upon them. The shells were fired for 20 minutes. The only effect of the fire was apparently to drive the rebels farther inland.

Beyond a few ineffectual volleys from the trenches, there were returned with interest, the enemy was undemonstrative, and all is quiet along the rest of the line.

With the exception of the port of Bullo, trade with Philippine ports is still blocked.

Fur Snaps for Cold Snaps at Dinners.

There is every indication that Jack Frost is going to wait somewhere up in the Arctic, preparing to swoop along with one or two more real cold snaps, and in which he can test the comfort of Hines's special fur-lined overcoat, which are offered this month at the cash cost of production. And the prospects are so certain that the choice grades of fur in these garments will advance in price before the cold begins, so that those who have bought themselves on the good fortune of having bought them at Hines's special price this month, will have reason to congratulate themselves on the quality of these garments at Hines's special price, and to complain if they find more while they are offered as special.

Ex-Governor Rich Has Not Given Up Hope of a Compromise, But is Not So sanguine as He Was—He Believes Some Sort of a Reciprocal Treaty Will Be Fixed Up, But It Will Have to Have a Lot of Ratification.

Detroit, Feb. 18.—A Washington special to The Evening Journal says: "Tawney of Minnesota, who is the chief pusher of the high-duty lumbermen, says that he has the East Shore of Michigan, done up to a certainty, and that there will be no reduction in the lumber tariff scale. He is evidently not so sure of this as he seems, as he is working on the commission all the time and thinks he has Charlton on his side. Both the $1 and the $2 tariff on the people of the whole country, but the men are depending on Charlton, and quietly asserting the belief that he is with them. Congressman Corliss is also almost constantly with the commission, and especially to Detroit and Michigan. He is openly in favor of free logs and a reduction of the duty on lumber, and wants a treaty that will permit the building of warships on the lakes."

Ex-Governor Rich said today that he had not given up hope of a compromise, but he did not appear to be as sanguine as he was in the past. He absolutely denied the statement that he had ever said he had given hope of a treaty and a favorable lumber accommodation. He is now regarded as certain that some sort of a new reciprocal treaty will be recommended, but there is no hurry about it. It is not yet clear that the tariff will be reduced, but there is no hurry about it. It is not yet clear that the tariff will be reduced, but there is no hurry about it. Second Stanley Cup Hockey Match
Awarded to Montreal by the Referee.

THERE WAS 13 MINUTES YET TO PLAY
McDonnell Signed a Winnipegger on the Leg and They Wanted Him Off Altogether.

Montreal, Feb. 19.—As a result of a dispute the second match for the Stanley Cup between the Victoria Hockey Club of Winnipeg and the Victoria of Montreal, was given to the Montreal team by the referee, the Winnipeg team, taking exception to a ruling of the referee and refusing to play out the match. The match ended in a tie, the referee was a capital one and was witnessed by at least 7000 people.
Winnipeg: goal, Abbott; forwards, Benson; cover-point, Johnson; point, Gibson; Armitage, Howard, Campbell.
Victoria: goal, Lewis; point, Drinkwater; cover-point, Grant; forwards, McKelvie, Davidson, McDonnell, Bowler, Redford, Finlay, Linkersche, M. J. P. Polak and W. Barlow. Umpires—Thomas Patton and E. D. Macdonald.

The play opened with a hard and close attack on the Victoria's goal and for a time the Vics seemed fairly rattled. They bunched in round their own poles and appeared unable to clear at all. At last Davidson, who was doing most of the work on the forward line, got the puck and gave the Vics a breathing spell. But the difficulty of lifting the puck on the wet ice bothered Grant and the Winnipeg forwards were working like mad. Howard came up with the puck, and in his anxiety to score, slipped and gave the puck to the Vics. The play was saved for a while.

The play was now perceptibly slower, more even, and the Vics had a good chance to lift. It also grew more rough. Gingras was a notable offender, and several times early in the game. But the half-time rest was refreshing. The rest of the team is not yet known, but the club will have all the old players and a lot of new ones to fill up the team.

FALSE BARRIERS. The correspondents at Washington study the comments of the Canadian Commissioners as they would a barometer to ascertain the trend of things within the council chamber. When they left the chamber on Saturday morning, we are told, the Canadians were "visibly depressed," indicating their apprehension that the possibilities of success were few and far between.

Mr. Crawford's bill respecting the compensation to workmen for accidental injuries suffered in the course of their employment is based on equitable and humanitarian principles. Under the existing law a workman is entitled to compensation for an injury if it can be shown that he, by his own negligence, contributed to the accident. Mr. Crawford's bill eliminates the principle of contributory negligence altogether, and renders an employer liable for all accidents except those resulting from the "wilful misconduct" of his workmen.

Little Dorothy and the Queen. The Late Mr. Gladstone's Granddaughter Tells of Her Pleasant Visit to Windsor Castle. London, Feb. 19.—Little Dorothy Drew, granddaughter of Mr. Gladstone, publishes in a magazine for next month this pretty picture of her visit to the Queen at Windsor Castle: "An Indian man whom the Queen liked very much was in the room. The next moment we stood before the great Queen, whom grandpa served for 60 years. She was just another woman, grandmamma, with a white cap on her head. I curtsied and kissed her, and told her my name, Dorcie, and grandpa, and all our pet names at Harvard Castle. The Queen put on her glasses and asked me to go to the door and fetch her brooch, which she could see me better. Then she took a little jewel case, and said, 'This is for you.' I opened it, and there was a darling little brooch, with a diamond V, and a turquoise L, and a little crown at the top. The Queen kissed me, and I kissed her hand, and she said, 'Thank you very much. She looked very nice and kind, and I liked her very much. The Queen kissed me again, and mother and I went away.'

Commerce Between Canada and the States. The monthly summary of commerce and finance of the United States for December, 1898, published by the Bureau of Statistics of the Treasury Department at Washington, gives, on pages 1454-1455, the following statement of the imports and exports of merchandise from and to the Dominion of Canada for the last ten calendar years:

Mr. Whitely's Opportunity. Mr. Whitely would create a very favorable impression throughout the province if he took an aggressive stand in favor of the people in the Street Railway questions.

That are coming up before the Legislature. The City of Toronto is vitally interested in these questions, and her four representatives in the Legislature are all supporters of Mr. Whitely. The leader of the Opposition will make no little capital for himself if he comes boldly out as the champion of the citizens in their fight against the railway monopolists. Mr. Whitely understands, or he ought to understand, the tactics of the monopolists. Their game is to split the parties, to entangle in their schemes members of both sides of the House. Having done this, they are able to rush through the Legislature almost any legislation they desire. Mr. Hardy, whose chief concern should be to safeguard the interests of the people generally, throws his influence on the side of the monopolists, and only binds him with deputations that he deigns to listen to them. Never has Mr. Whitely had a better opportunity to ingratiate himself with the people than the present. Let him take up the cause of the people of Toronto in their fight with the Toronto Railway Company. Let him show up the disloyal policy of Mr. Hardy by making a bold fight in favor of the adoption of Mr. Crawford's bill and in supporting the other legislation that will be submitted in the interests of the people.

Jones, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is not in accord with Mr. Croker of New York and Mr. Wall of Wisconsin, regarding the paramount issue in the next Presidential campaign. He said today: "To say that the next Democratic National Convention will re-affirm the position taken by the convention in 1896 is to assert what every candid man, even slightly familiar with existing facts, knows to be true. It is as certain as anything human that the question of bi-metallism will be the leading issue in the campaign next year."

IT IS NOT ANDREE'S BODY. The Expedition That Will Go in Search of the Missing Scientist in June Has $90,000. Christiania, Feb. 19.—The reported finding of the bodies of Andree and his companions on the coast of Northern Siberia seems, after all, to be a canard. The Finnish professor of the Christiania University has received a telegram from a friend in Krasnojarsk, who says that after thoroughly investigating the source of information he is convinced that there is no truth whatever in the report. The Polar expedition of Prof. Nathorst, who will go in search of the Andree party early in June, meets with popular approval. Subscriptions are pouring in from all parts of Norway and Sweden, and already the amount contributed exceeds $90,000.

London, Feb. 19.—Maud Richardson, who was the associate of "Harry, the Valet," the thief who stole the Duchess of Sutherland's jewels, wants her reward. She has threatened the Duchess with legal prosecution leading to the recovery of a portion of the stolen valuables. The Duchess denies that she offered any reward whatever, but Maud Richardson replies that the Paris police offered $20,000 for the return of all the plundered goods. She bases her claim for $50,000 on the proportionate value of the property recovered.

Rossland Vein Structure.

The vein structure of the Rossland camp is an interesting study," said the superintendent of one of the big mines to a miner reporter.

"It seems to me," he continued, "that there is one great mother lode throughout the entire north belt. It forms a huge arc, extending across the southern slopes of Red, Monte Cristo and Columbia mountains. Its eastern extremity, so far as has been traced, is near the Columbia-Kootenai line. The western end seems to be somewhere on the slope of Red Mountain, record and the two creeks, one of which stretches out like a huge bow, along the general line of the vein. The great ore bodies thus far discovered.

This lode, which can be traced for thousands of feet, is the true backbone of the north belt. Branching off from it on each side are smaller veins, which form a series of rich veins in the country rock. The whole system is much like the backbone of a fish, with the spine and ribs extending from it. At times the ribs branch out into narrow veins, but these are mere seams of ore in the country rock. The main veins are of the same nature, but they are of a much higher grade. The veins are of the same nature, but they are of a much higher grade.

THE FLUSH OF HEALTH attracts admiration everywhere—in the ball room, at the theatre, or in the home. Genuine beauty is impossible without health. Pabst Malt Extract The Best Tonic.
