Second Organized Descent on Licensed Houses Made on Chief's Orders.

TWO ARE ARRESTED
The second raid took place last night on licensed pool rooms since Chief of Police Dickson's appointment, in which all the divisions participated. Two men only were arrested as a result of the raid. They were Ollivier White, aged 18, 603 Logan avenue, in whom was found a revolver, and Abraham Sheriff, 40 Tecumseh street, who, in possession, was carrying a riped looking knife. Both were arrested on the charge of carrying weapons.

As Big Ben tolled out the hour of the various raiding parties descended simultaneously upon the pool rooms. No less than 33, divided into five parties, left headquarters alone, each party being assigned to a different section of the city.

With the party that raided Orr's pool room, East Queen street, were two inspectors and two constables.
The party was in charge of Sergeant of Detectives Murray. Chief Inspector Robert Beatty dropped in while the work of frisking the players was at a height, and offered several suggestions as to how the work should be performed.

At Orr's the work of searching the players was thorough, although in many other poolrooms, nothing of an infringing character was found. When the police officers entered the place, the players were permitted to remain in the room while in operation and the wall was lined with youngsters watching the game or in conversation with the women. All those found in the place were lined up against the wall and several detectives quickly went through their pockets to ascertain if they were carrying concealed weapons. All those who had to suffer the indignity of being searched took the matter in good humor and the work did not take long.

The detectives entered one of the members was placed at each door and the others were permitted to leave the place, all those who desired could enter, including those whose curiosity was awakened by the entry of so many police officers. The immediately stamped them as "cops."
All those who entered the place while the raid was in progress were promptly lined up against the wall with the others and frisked for any possible firearms or other weapons.

The raid, as on the previous occasion, was carried out on the premises of Chief of Police Dickson in an effort to round up all those who carry concealed weapons and frequent poolrooms. The previous raid was carried out at 4 o'clock in the afternoon—an hour when the poolrooms are frequented mostly by those of employment and those who live by their wits. Seven prisoners were taken in the last raid.

BRICK WORKS GOING
AT FULL CAPACITY
Building Outlook Never So Promising for Time of Year, Manager Says.

With the expectation of an active spring in the building business, the Van Valley Brick Works is working children with a full force of stock
John M. Bowman, general manager, said to The World yesterday that he had never known the outlook to be so promising at this season of the year as at present. If only a third of the work contemplated should go on, he said, 1921 would be a phenomenally busy year in Toronto, and he expected to see at least half of the present building program carried out this year.

"There has been a lull in building," said Mr. Bowman, "because people have been expecting a drop in the cost of building material. There has been some reductions, especially of lumber, but wages show no indication of dropping, and the cost of brick represents chiefly the cost of labor.
There is a shortage of bricks all over the province, especially in Toronto, and the building of dwellings cannot be postponed indefinitely. We are meeting of our directors, and the
and the feeling was that the outlook or business was most promising."

portation of coffee dating from Jan-age, however, in the meantime, as large stocks have been accumulated.

THE BUSINESS STABILIZER

A year or two ago the manufacturer was swamped with business. Today his orders are being canceled, his prices are dropping, his mills—in many cases—shutting down.

What is the trouble? Uncertainty. Unsteady markets. Lack of confidence on the part of buyers. Lack of courage in the man who sells.

Business is shaky. But business can be made good. Business can always be good when it is gone after in the right way.

It needs courage. And confidence. And vision. It needs, above all else, the great business stabilizer—ADVERTISING.

Advertising that restores public confidence. Advertising that creates demand, increases production, and keeps the wheels humming. Advertising that steadies markets. Advertising that stabilizes.

For the past few years advertising has often been used as a spectacular plaything. Today it is a grim necessity. The time to splurge has passed. The time to use it sanely, steadily, consistently has come.

Advertise. But advertise wisely—where expense is minimized; where business can be developed to the highest point of activity.

Where can that development be more effective than in the great Ontario Market? Advertise in The Toronto World, that circulates amongst progressive people—those who have money to spend.

CHILDREN TRIED AS HARD CRIMINALS

French Premier Advised In Some Parts of Province Absence From Council of Ambassadors.

That children in this province were still being tried as criminals in criminal courts instead of as juvenile delinquents was the fact brought forth by Judge H. S. Mott of the juvenile court in a plea for a provincial law, made in his address before the Young Men's Canadian Club last night.

Under the Dominion juvenile delinquents act a municipality could establish a juvenile court, but was not compelled to do so. In Ontario only Toronto, with Ottawa in the east and one or two municipalities west of here, had given the child its rights in this regard. Alberta had passed a provincial act establishing juvenile courts throughout the province, and Ontario would be lacking in its sense of moral obligation to the child if it did not do likewise. If the juvenile courts were necessary in Toronto, it was necessary in the rest of the province.

Correction, Not Punishment. Correction and not punishment was the reason for the juvenile court and was the outcome of the modern conception of justice.

Crimes to the number of 165 were punishable by death two hundred years ago, and today there were only two. As the consciousness of a nation progresses, so do its laws advance, and the consciousness of the nation was gradually awakening to the need of the juvenile court.

A criminal was one who acted with malice aforethought. He was not to be found in a child's mind. It was with the realization of this fact that the Dominion juvenile delinquents act came into force. Under the act a child less than 16 must not be called a criminal, no matter what he or she does.

Parents' Place. A judge of a children's court should not be there to punish. The court should be there to clear the child's mind and to guide him to the right. It is seen that his future is not imperiled. The court should then take the place of a parent to a child, lending the assistance and guidance required at that period of life.

Anyone may bring a child into court, but any person who lays a charge must swear to that charge if the child pleads guilty, the big advance between the ordinary trial and that before a children's court is that the parent is not present. The other court is finished the case and the matter of punishment would be taken up. With the juvenile court the work has just started. It must find the cause and with this viewpoint discover the wrong influences and mitigating circumstances surrounding the case.

To do this there is a doctor, who makes a physical and mental examination of the child, and a trained social worker, who inquires into the home conditions and social environment. To accomplish this a boy is kept for several days when a serious charge has been laid, and he is given a second hearing. In some cases, in order to get to the root of hereditary influences, his history goes back to that of his grandparents.

The judge gave instances where the parent, guardian or other adult was more to blame than the child, and pointed out that a juvenile court may punish an adult to a much greater extent than a child. It had very limited powers in the matter of punishing a child, but very great powers when it came to the punishment of an adult in any way contributing to the child's delinquency. It was hoped that before another year passed the juvenile court would be in its new $200,000 home that the city had promised it, and where the child would receive the attention due to it.

TWO AERONAUTS IN A FIST FIGHT

(Continued From Page 1.) whose son had protested against the strong language he was using. With a disneyed "The first assumption was that he had fallen over, but investigation seems to disprove this and the belief is now general that he was killed and his body placed where he was found. The friend of Miller, who is a Newfoundland, has retained N. R. McArthur, barrister, to conduct the prosecution of the case."

"If there had been, I would not have spoken of it, but there was not," he said, emphatically.

Farrell says Hinton persuaded them all to promise not to talk when they were in the room, so that he and Kloor could write "the stuff," and pay their expenses, but he claims the others were not bound by the same agreement.

"I wrote a letter to Frank Bent, the commissioner of contracts in New York City, and the Hinton asked me to write on it that it was not to be published."

"Bent, Farrell said, was a 'great pol' who was respected by his division. He was the reason his letter was not published. He thought the others were writing around the same agreement."

"As a matter of fact, I could have leaked both of them, and could do so at any time," he declared.

Partly as a result of the clash between the officers, none of them will speak further about the matter. Farrell had already given very considerable information on the trip, his narrative giving details of the flight, the crash, the rescue, and the flight.

The party left Moose Factory on December 28, arriving here about 10 o'clock last afternoon. Although the Americans practiced snowshoe traveling before they left Moose Factory they found going on the Misanable trail very heavy at the outset of their journey and had to stop today to send back for more dogs. The first Sunday out a storm compelled them to return to camp after making only one mile.

They encountered numerous blizzards in the early stages of the journey. The Moose Factory is explained jokingly as being caused by "too much Christmas." Moose meat formed an important item of the party's daily fare on the trip out.

The entire trip was described by Lieut. Kloor as a "great success." He made across the Atlantic, which he made on the N. C. 4 flight.

Dr. Lenine at Herd. According to Lieutenant Farrell, there were lots of quibblers in the three days to the woodshed, where the Hinton was found. He claims that he was in better condition than either of his companions. He had walked while the others rode. He says it is absurd to make out that he is a hero and declares that every night in the woods he had to lie on the outside of Hinton and beat him to keep him from falling over. Late this evening Farrell, who had remained for some hours at the Hudson Bay post, came up to the station and accepted the invitation of W. B. Way to use his private car and to take dinner there.

Lieutenant Farrell says he has no special feelings about Kloor, whom he describes as "only a kid, but a kid who has had some very interesting experiences." He says that he was told that a couple of times during the winter that he had seen a man who was "had so much to live for." Farrell expressed the greatest surprise when Hinton had sent him the letter which created the friction between the two men. "He probably did it under a strain," he said.

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises and ordinary catarrh out of this formula, send it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from total deafness. This formula is a scientific formula for the relief of catarrh of the middle ear, and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Enlarged sinuses and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear, which is the danger zone. The following formula, which is used extensively in the treatment of catarrh of the middle ear, is a safe and effective remedy. It should be used especially after a cold or influenza.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Epsom salt, 1/2 ounce of sodium bicarbonate, 1/2 ounce of sodium chloride, and 1/2 ounce of sodium phosphate. Dissolve in 4 ounces of water. Use 1/2 ounce three or four times a day. This will often bring relief from distressing head noises. Change the water frequently. The present formula should be used especially after a cold or influenza.

At the Fifty-fourth Annual Meeting of the Shareholders, Held Yesterday, the Largest Earnings in the History of the Bank Were Reported as the Result of the Bank's Business for the Second Year in Canada's Reconstruction Period.

The President, Sir Edmund Walker, took the chair and, after the usual organization proceedings, the following Profit and Loss statement for the year ending 30th November last was submitted:

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Includes items like Balance at end of Profit and Loss Account, Net profits for year ending 30th November, and Dividend for 1920.

This has been appropriated as follows: Dividend Nos. 132, 133, 134 and 135, at twelve per cent per annum... Balance carried forward...

The report of the Directors alluded as follows to the changes in the Board which have taken place during the year: Shortly after the last annual meeting the Vice-President, Mr. Z. A. Lash, passed away...

GENERAL MANAGER'S ADDRESS. We have now entered upon a period such as has been looked for ever since the war began...

Greater Profits. The net profits of the year amounted to $8,806,243.97, an increase of $2,833,252.52, although the resources of the Bank have shown little growth...

Decreased Government Balances. On the other hand, our deposits not bearing interest have decreased by $42,875,453, an amount almost equal to the increase in our interest-bearing deposits...

New York Exchange. Probably at no time in the history of this country has the relation of the exchange to the general business been so prominent a place in the public mind as during the past year...

Grain and a Falling Market. It is regrettable that the farmer, in this and other countries, should be in sympathy with the general trend of the market which has fallen very rapidly since the time of harvest...

Profit and Loss Account. After making these appropriations, we have been able to carry forward $1,783,979.37, or $356,243.97 more than last year. In view of the unsettled conditions at present prevailing in the business world...

Deposits Increase. The increase in our note circulation is $49,235, an indication of a large volume of current business, but a very small proportion of the total, which now stands at $20,716,914. As business slackens and prices fall we may naturally look for some reduction in this item...

Lines of Defence. During the year our holdings of spot gold have increased to $56,874,000, an increase of $1,923,241. There is no change in the amount deposited in the Central Gold Reserve of the Bank of England...

Causes of High Rates. In addition to the causes usually assigned for this condition, which were commented on in our report last year, namely, excessive buying from the United States, especially of luxuries, and the heavy indebtedness of this country, the burden of which increases with every fall in the value of the dollar...

Japan, other commodities began to follow, and raw silk, rubber, hides, sugar, cotton, manufactured textiles, clothing, boots and shoes, feed products, most in certain forms, one by one have declined in price...

Our Foreign Trade. Reviewing as usual our own foreign trade, we find the total of exports and imports for 1920 to be $2,351,174,000, as compared with revised figures for 1919 of $2,487,471,000 and for 1918 of $2,549,851,000...

A Commanding Position. This Bank still holds a commanding position in the development of Canadian trade and commerce. Its current mercantile loans in Canada amounting to the large sum of $1,147,972,000, are well distributed...

Foreign Branches. In addressing you a year ago we pointed out that up till then we had been occupied with the opening of new branches in Canada, but that we hoped soon to give some attention to foreign fields...

Government Ownership. The important experiment has recently been tried by the Dominion Government of placing the management of the publicly-owned railway system in the hands of a corporation...

Exports to Great Britain. The excess of exports to Great Britain, which in 1918 was as high as 779 millions, was in the fiscal year 1920, 370 millions, still a very satisfactory figure...

Exports to the United States. The excess of exports from the United States for the fiscal year was 800 millions, against 721 millions in 1919. For the six months period ending in September, 1920, it was 210 millions against 135 millions in 1919...

Exports to the United States (continued). The year has been full of highly important events as our recent account has shown. The year has been very distressful indeed, many of our experiences have been natural and remedial, even if disagreeable...

The Cattle Embargo. Reflection on the markets for our exports brings up the question as to how long the British embargo on Canadian cattle is to last. For about thirty years, during which time Great Britain has been supposed to be a free-trade country, our live cattle have been excluded from the British market...

Our Field Crops. The value of the field crops of Canada for 1920 is estimated by the Dominion bureau of statistics at $1,484,564,000, as against revised figures for 1919 of $1,463,487,000. An important change has been made in the preparation of this report. Hitherto it has been prepared by the bureau for Canada as a whole...

Decline in Prices. The Monthly Review of the Federal Reserve Bank in New York at the close of November quotes the decline in commodity prices from the beginning of the year to the end of the month as about 10 to 14 per cent. In Great Britain, 11 per cent. in Canada, in the United States various estimates from about 10 to 14 per cent. in France, 10 per cent. and in Japan 23 per cent.

Cancellation of Orders. Trade with countries other than distressed Europe has been threatened with stoppage until bankers devised new expedients for bridging difficulties. The stoppage in buying and what is much worse and not creditable to modern conditions of trade, the cancellation of orders, have so disturbed the calculations of manufacturers and merchants that borrowing from the banks and by note and bond has fallen to a minimum...

Unemployment. In the United States, as usual, movements of population have been in and in some branches of trade such as motors and clothing, employment has fallen as much as 50 to 75 per cent. In the whole world, however, the demand for labor is better than in the past, and labor needed in farming and lumbering, heretofore very short of workmen, the lessening of employment in other non-metallic products and of pig-iron and steel of copper, nickel, zinc and, in a slight measure, of gold and silver, has been met by the increase in the demand for labor in the various forms of machinery and metal products...

Immigration Increases. It is unfortunate, although quite natural, that at such a moment immigration should be so great a movement since the war. In 1918 a trifle over 400,000 immigrants came to Canada and in 1919 about 385,000. That has been a record year. During the war the immigration was nominal, only 50,000 to 75,000 annually, but in 1920 the figure was about 400,000, with the promise of much more active movement as soon as rates are lower and passages more easily obtained. In 1918 immigrants came from 150,000 United States, 139,000 and all other countries 118,000. In 1920 the proportions were 49, 49 and 2. In both years the immigrants spread themselves reasonably well over Canada, Ontario, however, receiving twice as many as any other province. The proportion of immigrants from the United States who are farmers is about the same as before the war, and doubtless many others from that source are land seekers. But the proportion of farmers or farm workers from other countries, including Great Britain, is much smaller than before the war. We must hope that the present adjustment will be such that out of the land will be made the number of land-seekers, because, if the present immigration continues, while our own people want work, we shall always desire as many as possible to go on the land for a living.

The Soldier-Farmer. In connection with land settlement and post-war work for our soldiers, the following sources of soldiers' settlement board is encouraging. It provides for loans for buying land up to $5000, or 90 per cent of the value. The rate of interest is 5 per cent on the basis of 5 per cent per annum, and for loans up to $2500 for stock or equipment, payable in six months, with payments on the same interest basis, and of $100 for permanent improvements payable in the same manner as the land purchase. Over 20,000 soldiers have applied under the new scheme, and 10,000 have been granted 20,000 are already on the land, and over 1000 are in training with farmers. To settle these 20,000, slightly over $10,000,000 is necessary, as against a possible $140,000,000 under the act. Soldiers have made first payments amounting to $4,000,000. But the crops have already enabled further payments of nearly $2,000,000 to be made.

THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

The care taken in estimating the qualifications of each applicant for successful farming, in selecting the best stock and implementing the latter at wholesale prices, in counselling and aiding in many ways those who have not yet made good—all suggest an admirable effort to carry out a plan of land settlement, the importance of which reaches far beyond the mere aid to the returned soldier, although that is the primary consideration. Where there are applicants who cannot make the initial payment, the various bodies aiding distressed soldiers are appealed to, and of course, there are failures at all precautions have been taken. In 150 cases, involving an investment by the government of $575,000, only about $10,000 was lost. The report closes with suggestions regarding land settlement generally, which it is hoped will have the consideration due to such an important question.

Pensions to Soldiers.
Perhaps the most serious of national expenditures caused by the war interests us so widely as the pensions paid to our soldiers. On the one hand there is an intense desire that justice be done to the men who fought for the while on the other hand there is a grave sense of the weight of the obligation falling upon the new generation to pay such a huge sum. It is in return for which there is not, directly or indirectly, any relative production of national wealth. At the end of 1919 there were $6,429 pensions paid, at a cost of about $1,800,000 monthly. During the year, by the payment of $6,710,000, pensions were commuted to the extent of $4,282,000. At the end of 1920 there were 73,278. Further commutations are expected, bringing the total to about 18,000. The number of pensions will have been paid. At the moment our monthly outlay for pensions is about $2,500,000, but commutations will probably reduce this to about $1,800,000.

Taxation.
In speaking last year about the manner of distributing the taxation necessary to carry our debt and to administer the government, we expressed the opinion that the annual payments obtained by reasonably fair taxation, so levied that the taxes do not become a cause of restraining our industries, would be sufficient to pay the interest on the debt. It is now admitted that the war has imposed upon governments the necessity of collecting with far greater vigour than in the past experience, and it should be evident that the total required can only be obtained by contributions on some scale from practically the whole people. It is quite true that the regard must be had to the capacity of the individual to pay, but in levying super-taxes no folly is committed if the state is to have the effect of excessive taxation on our industrial activities, not only as to future growth, but as to the present power to give employment. It is not to be said that the war is over, that some of the present forms of Dominion taxation, while justifiable during the war, are in danger of becoming destructive of enterprise and perilous to our future if not altered. As the forms of taxation are similar to those of other countries in which the same evil results are apparent, and in which the tide of opposition will not be regarded as a criticism of our government, whose tasks during the war and since have been most difficult.

Tax on Sales.
As against the "luxury" taxes now happily at an end, we have steadily urged a turnover tax of one per cent. on sales of commodities. We are aware that criticism, only however regarding certain details, of this form of tax have been made in the tentative report of the tax committee of the National Industrial Conference. But these have been answered by the chairman of the Business Men's National Tax Committee. One of the arguments made in the report of the committee is that any tax which bears in the same ratio upon the small earner as upon the large is unfair. But this is accompanied by the belief that a turnover tax would provide such a revenue over and above the excess profits tax, as to displace the excess profits tax. I believe it would only provide a supplementary tax revenue, in which the form that all would pay alike, paying in proportion to their expenditures for commodities, but the manner in which those who have larger incomes would be taxed, and the income tax would provide for that difference in treatment which modern taxation recognizes. A small tax on the sales of commodities and on little, would be so fair, would be so easily collected, and would produce such a very large sum, that to fail to levy it seems excusable only if it can be shown to be impracticable.

Surplus Profits Tax.
We are levying heavy surplus profits taxes, and many well-intentioned people think that we are justly punishing the so-called profiteer, but we are really killing the goose that lays the golden egg. When he can do so, he doubtless passes the tax on to the consumer, and escapes punishment himself. The only way the tax becomes a boomerang as far as the public are concerned, is if we clearly know what we mean by a profiteer and can punish him, let us punish him in such a manner that the penalty imposed cannot be passed on to the ultimate buyer. But in ordinary cases, which affect by far the greater part of the business community, we are taking from enterprise the profit with which further enterprise would be created. It is from the accumulated profits of a business that the basis of plant and scope of operations mostly becomes possible. What do we think will happen if we steadily take such a large share of that profit away? It will be said that some concerns make too much money. But, as we argued a year ago, that should be demonstrated by the relation of profits to capital, but of profits to turnover, measured again by the proportion of possible turnover to capital. The manufacturer who turns his capital over many times, serving the public for a trifling profit on each sale, but making a large return on his capital, because of his skill and activity, should not be punished by excessive taxation for being an excellent servant to the people. The tax is universally admitted to be unscientific and will do incalculable damage if continued. It was justified only for war conditions and only for the period of their duration.

The Income Surtax.
The surtax features of the income tax when carried to the extreme percentages now in effect, are like an unwise and unfair tax on the excess profits. Those who are large shareholders in business enterprises should be ready to take up new share issues in such enterprises, as extensions may prove necessary. Taxation which first takes a large share of the profits from the companies and then takes a large share of the dividends of the same company, because they happen to be part of a large private income, may seem to be a fair tax, but if what we seek is the general good, it is clearly in its effects upon business enterprise and industry. I believe every good citizen in Canada wishes to pay his part of the cost of the war. He only desires that his ability to pay shall be regarded. A tax on the turnover of all business transactions would punish no one, and would mean the reaching of a most important sub-stratum of the national income, in the creating of which everybody has joined. Upon real estate, excise taxes might well be placed without resulting injury to the trade. The articles selected should manifestly be luxuries in the strict sense of the term and clearly recognized as such by the general public.

Profits and Taxes.
We are at the moment having illustrations both of the injustice and of the unreliability, as a form of government income of the excess profits tax in Canada and the United States. Business men who in a time of high prices would not regard whatever value they might realize upon merchandise in stock at the close of their annual year as anything but a profitable method of closing their books, and who would keep large balances in profit and loss accounts as a contingency against a fall in prices, are forced to fix a price for such merchandise at the close of the year, and the Government, the reserves to be kept against such re-valuation. As a result, in the United States at least, the business firms who in the great fall in commodity prices have lost a large share of all that has been made in several past years, look in vain for the "excess" profits which the Government exacted from them and I fear that there are at least a considerable number of business men in Canada in the same predicament. The Government is to be a partner in the business when profits are made, but not when losses are made. It is obvious that such a form of revenue must be subject to too great contingencies to be reliable. In the interest of all we must find a system of taxation which will not be a possible mischief to the enterprise, instead of making men unwilling to take new risks because the state is to share so much of the results when there are any and does not share either the risk or the loss.

Increase National Income.
While we must for the time being levy enough taxes in some form to pay the interest on the debt, as we hope, some steady if slow reduction of the national debt, we should always bear in mind that it is only by the growth of the national income that we can expect again to reach a time when taxes will not be a drag upon our prosperity. We need more people, but in the form of employment, of industries as well. We pay away yearly vast sums for imports, many of which should be unnecessary. We have a surplus of raw materials for many kinds of manufacturing, the non-use of which is even more serious to Canada from the point of view of national income than the surplus of land. We export food by which our foreign debts are partly paid, but we import what we should make ourselves and thus create a foreign debt. The present high rate of exchange on New York is the concrete expression of this debt, not only of that being created, but in the form of annual interest payments of all the foreign debt we have created in the past.

Research Work Imperative.
We have iron ores in plenty, but we do not spend enough on research to bring their status in relation to other ores in the United States on which we steadily depend. We have about 15 per cent. of the coal areas of the world, so far as such areas are accurately known. It may be that science cannot remove impurities and reassemble the coal so as to make transportation charges possible, and thus relieve Ontario of its great drawback and the nation of its vast expenditure for the importation of this fuel, but research should be persistent until we are assured that this is the case. We have lately developed manufacturing processes in which chemistry is the main feature and others depend on cheap water-power, and through these the triple benefit of saving the coal, of enlarging the market for those who sell food and the other necessities of life, and of offsetting or lessening by the selling value of the home-created product the cost of those imports which are the main cause of our present difficulties. We are very glad indeed that our Dominion and Provincial Governments all spend large sums of money in educational and other ways, to aid agriculture. The Dominion Government and some of the provinces also do something in the way of research for other industries, but we have come to a juncture where along with the ordinary desire for progress, the heavy pressure of national debt which can only be relieved by increased production. For this we need research in various directions. In addition to what is now being done, I hope liberal aid will be given him, let us punish him in such a manner that the penalty imposed cannot be passed on to the ultimate buyer. But in ordinary cases, which affect by far the greater part of the business community, we are taking from enterprise the profit with which further enterprise would be created. It is from the accumulated profits of a business that the basis of plant and scope of operations mostly becomes possible. What do we think will happen if we steadily take such a large share of that profit away? It will be said that some concerns make too much money. But, as we argued a year ago, that should be demonstrated by the relation of profits to capital, but of profits to turnover, measured again by the with Canada. As a result, an agreement between Canada and some of the West Indies group came into force on June 2, and a further agreement, which included the remaining members, was made on June 18, subject to ratification by all the parties thereto, and in which all of the delegates present at the conference concurred. These agreements are based upon an increase of the mutual preferences now granted, an enlargement of the list of products to which the preference extends, and on co-operation in procuring and maintaining better shipping transportation and, if possible, better cable communication. If we consider the adjacency of the United States to the West Indies and the special relations to the latter of the great fruit company with its lines of steamers, we can readily understand that our hope of a large and reasonably quick development of trade with these parts of the Empire depends on the steamship and cable services we are able to create and maintain. It is in the hands of the kind and in administration will be of much use. In addition to this West Indian convention, we had the Imperial Preference Conference and the Congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire. We cannot doubt that such meetings of men important in Imperial Preference and in the West Indies and strengthened our determination that the British people shall merit the leadership in the world's advancement.

A Year Book.
Over 30 years ago this Bank began the, at that time, quite unusual practice of presenting at the annual meeting, in the form of a Year Book, the results of the work of the Bank and the General Manager, a review of the industrial conditions of the area in which the Bank was interested. As this widely on Ontario to other parts of Canada, then to the whole Dominion and to various parts of the United States, later to Great Britain and Newfoundland and now to the West Indies and South America, it has been necessary to change the manner of imparting this information to our shareholders and to the public. It is now decided to incorporate it directly in the addresses was continued. Then it was decided to present it in what has been called a "Year Book" form, in the extended form in which it reaches us through the Superintendent and other officers who make up the annual reports to the Board of Directors. This has been supplied with the annual report to the shareholders and the public. About four years ago the Bank decided to establish its Monthly Commercial Letter, which has made for itself a very extensive circulation, and it has now been concluded to issue a Year Book, in which the results of the work of the Bank and the General Manager, a review of the industrial conditions of the area in which the Bank was interested. As this widely on Ontario to other parts of Canada, then to the whole Dominion and to various parts of the United States, later to Great Britain and Newfoundland and now to the West Indies and South America, it has been necessary to change the manner of imparting this information to our shareholders and to the public. This has been supplied with the annual report to the shareholders and the public.

The Sin of Extravagance.
Among the lights and shadows of the world there are at the moment too many shadows to warrant anything but anxious care. You have heard from the General Manager of the Bank, and so far we have not much evidence of a decline in the spending habits of our people. We know, however, that here as elsewhere all prices, whether of commodities or of labor, must be reduced to a reasonable basis, and the effect of the world's lower price for farm products is already plain to all. When this reduction has reached the result of a new basis of values has been generally accepted, a genuine prosperity will arise throughout the world in which we shall have a large share. We shall merit and we shall secure our prosperity in proportion to our good sense in realizing now that our particular sin is extravagant expenditure and willingness to incur heavy debt on a basis of values which is not sound. Messrs. T. Harry Webb, C. A., and Douglas Dewar, C. A., were appointed auditors of the annual report of the directors and staff were passed. The meeting then adjourned.

OPPOSES CARRYING APPEALS OVERSEAS
Attorney-General Raney Ridicules Privy Council as Link of Empire.

"Justice, speed and reasonable cheapness," were what Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general for Ontario, defined as being the average Canadian's requirements in law, in an address, "Canada and the Privy Council," delivered before the board of trade of the city of Toronto yesterday. A. O. Hogg occupied the chair. The speaker answered the argument put forth by those who claim that better lawyers and better judges are to be had in England by declaring that, for Canadian purposes, there are no better lawyers or judges anywhere in the world than those right here in Canada.

The claim had also been put forth that by carrying a lawsuit across the ocean it was removed from local influences and prejudices, but it was only to place it upon the influences and prejudices on the other side. The city of Toronto had found this too true in its cases against the Toronto Railway Company, after securing unanimous decisions in its favor from the Canadian courts and having unanimous decisions against the city from the English courts. There was the local prepossession here, but also a strong prepossession over there, which do the people of Canada prefer? Why did not Scotland avoid local influences by having its cases appealed to Ottawa and Canada avoid them by taking its appeals to Australia?

Probably the main argument, continued Mr. Raney, of those favoring the carrying of appeals to the Privy Council was that Canadians should have the right to their appeals to the "foot of the throne"; that an appeal from the Privy Council was carrying the case to the foot of the throne. There was no such thing as the foot of the throne. It was a mere myth. The Privy Council was a body of men appointed by the British government, and the men of Canada were not to be belittled by the men of England. The men of Canada were to be treated as equals. The speaker was tendered a hearty vote of thanks, moved by President Charles Marriott and seconded by S. R. Parsons.

LINCOLN STEFFENS TO SPEAK AT MASSEY HALL
Lincoln Steffens, who speaks at Massey Hall on Saturday next under the auspices of the Open Forum, is probably best known to Canadians for his work in investigating the political corruption of certain American cities, which was published in one of the American magazines under the title of "The Shame of the Cities."

Mr. Steffens is an old newspaperman and a trained observer as well as a magazine writer. He has worked practically all over the world where things were stirring, and his stories all bear the imprint of fact. Anyone who has read his story of the murder of Rasputin, will know that Steffens gets the facts, and handles them in such English as makes the scene almost visible from the printed page. Mr. Steffens has been in Russia during the Kerensky regime, knows its faults and its virtues, and why and how it fell; he knows the Soviet government and its method of work or loaf, according to the point of view. Trotsky is no stranger to him. He does not let his own prejudices prevent him from telling the facts as he saw them, and the conclusions are made by his audience.

DENISON GIVES BOYS LONG PRISON TERMS
When Harry Watkinson, 16, went to the Kingston penitentiary for three years, and his brother, Fred Watkinson, 17, for ten years, for shopbreaking, Col. Denison announced in the police court yesterday that he would make another attempt to add 300 men to the Toronto police force, bringing the number up to 1,000.

BANK MEN FOR MEXICO.
H. A. Richardson, general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, accompanied by W. D. Ross, leaves at the end of the month for a tour of inspection of the branches of the bank in Cuba and Jamaica. Mr. Richardson will also visit Mexico and it is rumored that the Canadian bank may open a branch there.

CITY SEEKING POWER FOR MILK BUSINESS
The city's bill embodying legislation designed to have a municipal milk department, was passed by the council yesterday. The bill was introduced by City Solicitor Johnston. Application is being made for power to acquire the city's milk business. There are about a dozen other clauses.

INFLECTS FINE ON C.P.R.
In the police court yesterday, Magistrate Jones fined the C.P.R. $2 and costs for carrying sheep and pigs in the same car without a partition. When the shipper in this case, who lived in Tweed, was charged in Toronto some weeks ago, Mr. Jones adjourned the case to let the Humane Society, represented by Policeman Alloway and Inspector Ballingall, prosecute the railway, or get after the shipper at Tweed. The C.P.R. may appeal.

BOYS AT INGLENOOK NEVER GOT BUTTER
Witness Does Not Think Kissing Proper Before Youths at the Farm.

Beverley Walkley, who was superintendent of Inglenook Farm from September, 1919, to January, 1920, continuing his evidence yesterday before the commission of enquiry under Judge Denton into the discipline and administration of the farm, stated that H. L. Smith, the chief, often interfered with his work and asked him to follow plans which were not approved by the Superintendent and other officers who make up the annual reports to the Board of Directors. This has been supplied with the annual report to the shareholders and the public.

Asked as to whether he believed Mrs. Denton had anything to do with his dismissal from the farm, Mr. Walkley stated that he had no direct evidence to that effect, but he was of the opinion that Mrs. Smith had received so much information of things he did at the farm.

Mr. Walkley stated that he had no direct evidence to that effect, but he was of the opinion that Mrs. Smith had received so much information of things he did at the farm.

EASY TO LOOK AFTER EASY ON FUEL
The claim that the privy council was a link of empire, which bound Canada to the old land, was ridiculed by the speaker, who declared that the viable bond was the King's English, which was the subject of Downing street nor of the government of Great Britain. Canada had become a nation, as evidenced by the standing given her by the League of Nations, and should be willing to take her responsibilities as such, instead of depending on the motherland to settle her legal difficulties and bear the additional expense. Was Canada able to produce sufficiently able lawyers and judges to settle her own legal problems, or was she a dependent on others for her legal guidance?

It has a soothing effect on inflamed mucous membranes of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes, and a gratifying feeling of relief takes the place of distress and discomfort. Aspirin relieves a cold by removing the cause. It is a combination of treatment and acts as an antipyretic, expectorant, laxative and analgesic.

CITY TO SELL LANDS FOR UNPAID TAXES
Few Properties Redeemed, But Rush of Delinquents Is Expected.

So far only 100 parcels of the 722 properties which the city is advertising for sale next month for unpaid taxes have been redeemed, but there is usually a rush of delinquents to the city hall on the last day to square up. The taxes owing on the properties advertised amount to $118,000. The sale will be held on February 16. In the list is a 41-acre piece on the south side of Eglinton avenue, at the corner of Oriole road, owned by the Anderson estate, against which taxes amounting to over $19,000 are due up to the end of 1918. This property was advertised last year but was withdrawn when the city decided to purchase half of it for a park. This decision was later reversed, but the property is likely to be put up this year.

RAILWAY WATCHMAN GUILTY OF NEGLIGENCE
Patrick McGinnis, a watchman on the Grand Trunk Railway at Eastern avenue, was yesterday found guilty, with a recommendation to mercy, of criminal negligence by leaving his post on October 7 last whereby an automobile and freight train collided. James Burke and Grace Burke, his wife, were seriously injured. An application for a reserved case will probably be made. Sentence was deferred.

L. A. Howard, superintendent of the Dominion employment service of eastern Canada, yesterday, while on a visit to the relief bureau at Church street, expressed the opinion that Toronto was grappling with the problem in the right spirit.

Sergeant-Major Orlington, in an interview with the World, stated that something would have to be done to relieve the situation respecting arrears in rents.

Sixteen hundred meal tickets were issued yesterday, and among the married couples, 105 children were reported.

Civic officials had a conference yesterday with a representative of the federal government on the question of federal co-operation in the relief of unemployment in Toronto.

The government has laid down a plan under which it will share up to one-third of the cost of relief of unemployed during the course of the day, in which he had sent up a wagon to take away furniture for a family evicted by a landlord.

HOCKEY VARSITY 5 HAMILTON 3

TIGERS' HECKING FOOLS MAKE STUDENTS WORK

Hamilton Team Broke Up Varsity Combination and Provided an Interesting Tussle—Score Was 5 to 3, With Langtry Showing Great Form.

Varsity, working under much closer checking than they experienced against Aura Lee, found the Hamilton Tigers a tough nut to crack last night and were fortunate to be on the right side of a 5 to 3 score.

Varsity were not able to put into that pretty attack that upset Aura Lee last week when the Tigers got at them last night. The "new" varsity side was not the fast moving students with all kinds of checking and there is no doubt that it muddled the Varsity outfit.

It was apparent from the start that Hamilton was not going to be beaten without a struggle. They were willing to get into the "meat" of the game and a great exhibition of several times as many goals as the Hamilton men in on top of him.

YOUNG PLAYERS SHOULD BE HELPED

Too Many Clubs Playing Soccer for the Good of the Sport.

That there are far too many teams in the Toronto and District soccer leagues was the statement made by F. P. McGowan, treasurer of the Toronto and District League, at a special meeting of the D.S.C.R. Soccer Club, held at the Baraca last night.

The meeting, which was well attended, was called by the above secretary of the D.S.C.R., to outline a policy for the coming season and to get the opinion of the members as to whether the club should be continued.

Five of these games were lost by an odd goal, while in most cases they were being with either one or two men short. Their finances were good. During the discussion that followed it was decided to keep the team going and to sign on players from outside.

Mr. McGowan stated that the fact that the D.S.C.R. had won big games with men short was a factor that should be also considered by the council, in his opinion there were too many teams playing soccer in Toronto. This he mentioned as a factor that should be considered at the end of the season were players chopping and changing about, and that players who were not football in them should be urged to resign in order to give younger members a chance. Financially, soccer had been a great success in the city and if they would be surprised.

Turning to the question of the proposed stadium, Mr. McGowan stated that the $500,000 scheme was a very big one, and he could not see how it was to be financed. He thought the speaker did not think the proposition was sound, and would have got the same result for $100,000. The speaker further urged that the club should be continued.

Counsel for Drury Government Raises Point Before Commission.

ASSESSMENT METHOD
Engineer Points to Charges
Being Borne on Value of the Land.

The assessment method by which the Hydro commission apportioned over each municipality the cost of the proposed radials was closely investigated at the resumed session yesterday in Osgoode Hall of the Hydro radial commission. I. M. Hewson, K.C., counsel for the Drury government, sought to show that the avowed equalization basis had resolved itself merely into the payment by each district of the cost of construction of the section within it, an arrangement which left the terminal costs to be borne by Toronto, Hamilton and important divisional points. In support of his argument, he quoted from the estimates of the Toronto to Hamilton to Osgoode line figures, showing the construction costs of the Port Credit division to be $429,000 per mile, and of the remaining sections to be $65,000 per mile.

W. G. Hewson, chief railway engineer for the Hydro commission, who continued on the witness stand, explained that costs were apportioned according to the proportion which the assessed value of the land bordering the districts radial bore to the assessed value of the land bordering the whole system.

"The estimates of the Toronto to Port Credit line is $5,238,000, and that in within a few dollars of the bylaws that those municipalities passed," pointed out Mr. Hewson.

"Yes," answered Mr. Hewson, who explained the fact as largely one of coincidence.

"Turning then to Hamilton, counsel pointed out that the same corporation had been asked to pass a bylaw for five million dollars, which was approximately the estimated cost of the radial within that city.

"Was it not the dominant idea that each of the municipalities should be assessed for the cost of the line that they run through it?" then demanded Mr. Hewson.

"The witness, however, would not admit this statement, but declared that the determining of the costs to be borne by any district was a matter of greater perplexity than the mere application of the principal which he had outlined.

Mr. Hewson referred to the 1915 estimate of $5,238,000 for the Toronto and Port Credit section. This figure, he stated, had been increased in the most recent estimate to $6,883,000.

"Labor and materials are higher," remarked Mr. Hewson.

"Then it is a fact that they are solely responsible for the rise and that no higher grade of road was projected?" inquired Mr. Hewson.

"Yes," agreed the witness, admitting that an actually cheaper superstructure had been intended in the estimate last prepared.

"Fluctuations which the estimate for the section had undergone were then declared by Mr. Hewson to have been as follows: In 1915, $5,238,000; in the report later prepared by W. S. Murray, $5,098,000; in 1920, following a further revision, $6,883,000.

"The final revision reduces the estimate by $1,611,000," Mr. Hewson remarked, adding: "Is there any reason for it not being further altered?"

"The figures are variable," admitted Mr. Hewson.

"But might it not be cut by one or two millions; is not the line extravagant?" pressed the counsel.

Mr. Hewson stated that the figures included principally statistics of civil

SMUTS WILL WIN OUT,
IS ROWELL'S OPINION

Result of Coming Elections Will Have Great Bearing on Development of South Africa, Speaker Tells Canadian Club—Opposition Party Is Inimical to Britain—Tribute to Privileges Enjoyed in Canada.

A belief that General Smuts will win out in the coming election in South Africa, which event will have the most important bearing in the development of that great dominion, was expressed by the Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., in his address on "Empire Problems in Africa" at the Canadian Club luncheon yesterday. Mr. Rowell, who has just returned to Canada from the Geneva conference of the League of Nations, spent the three previous months in South Africa, where he said, the people had only the deepest feelings of friendship for Canada and were anxious to cultivate a closer relationship. He was cheered again and again as he entered the room and before he spoke by some 750 members, the capacity of the club, and some 200 had to be refused luncheon tickets.

"It is a difficult thing for one to appreciate the extent of the variety of the territories and the peoples in Africa who form a part of the British empire, unless one has actually visited the country," said Mr. Rowell. "The British territories in South Africa, either entirely British or which have come under the influence and control of the British Empire, may be divided into four groups.

"In the western part, including Gambia, Nigeria, Gold Coast, etc., no white man can make a permanent home," Mr. Rowell continued. "In the south, white men are prospering and developing Anglo-Saxon institutions, and in the north law and order are maintained, justice is impartially administered, and amid all diversity, wherever the flag flies, those principles are observed."

Mr. Rowell discussed at some length the variety of the governments in existence in the various portions of the British Empire. He pointed out that the king still sat on his throne dispensing justice.

Tribute to Civil Servants.
Speaking of the civil servants in Africa, cultured men and women, who unselfishly isolated themselves from the conveniences of social life to serve the flag and lay the foundation of freedom and justice there, Mr. Rowell said: "I know of nothing finer than the unselfish spirit of the British civil servant, wherever he may be found."

The mandated territory in Africa, he continued, would add 70 per cent. to the area of South Africa, making a total of over 800,000 square miles. One and a half million of the population under the British flag was made up of the civil servants in Africa, million natives. The relative disparity between the white and black races was steadily growing, as the latter were rapidly increasing, and the statesmen in the future, when the racial consciousness of the blacks developed, had a serious problem confronting them.

"The Dutch Church wanted a certain sections of the Dutch population considered secession from the empire quite a feasible undertaking," Mr. Rowell stated. "The return of power and was lending its influence."

The cardinal principle of the formation of the Union of South Africa, engineers, upon which he was not competent to judge.

Counsel then inquired the reason for the abandoning of the project for a radial line from Stratford to Toronto. The district which this line would have served was, he stated, the garden of Ontario and offered conditions appearing suspicious for a Hydro undertaking.

"Since that line was projected the Grand Trunk has changed ownership," stated Mr. Hewson. "The fact that the Hydro commission was not desirous of paralleling a government-owned line."

"But you would be paralleling the Grand Trunk on the Toronto to St. Catharines line," pointed out Mr. Hewson.

Further close questioning by counsel failed, however, to elicit from the witness any other reason for the dropping of the proposed London line. He was unable, he stated, to recall the discussion which had preceded the action.

The morning session of the probe was concerned principally with an elaborate investigation of the estimates prepared for the abandoned Unionville, Stratford and Port Perry lines. The evidence was characterized by W. G. Hewson, the witness, as dealing with "dead wood," in as much as the proposition had been recognized as inadvisable and was thereby defunct.

THE TORONTO WORLD
"NAVAL HOLIDAY"
HALF-WAY MEASURE

World Agreement for Disarmament or Continue Building Program.

Washington, Jan. 11.—An international agreement "with all, or practically all, the nations which will guarantee an end of competition in navy building," was presented as the only alternative to the building by the United States of a navy powerful enough "to command the respect and fear of the world" by Secretary Daniels in testimony today before the naval committee of the house of congress.

The naval secretary, who appeared before the committee in connection with its consideration of the subject of disarmament, dismissed as unworthy of discussion a third proposal for a United States navy less than equal to the most powerful navy in the world, "because it is a waste of money to spend money on an agency of war which would be helpless if needed."

"If the United States is not to be a world power," said Mr. Daniels, "it must be able to command the respect and fear of the world." This advice took the form of a suggestion that Mr. Harding immediately invite the nations of the world to meet with the representatives of the United States in a disarmament conference. Authority for such action was given by the naval appropriation act of 1916, the secretary said.

What He Would Advise.
"If President-elect Harding should do me the honor to ask my advice on the subject," declared Mr. Daniels, "I would unhesitatingly say to him: 'The United States is not to be a world power unless it is able to command the respect and fear of the world. I believe some plan should be adopted at once to secure an agreement for a reduction of armaments. You will have the authority to call such a conference. You can act on March 5 and hasten the coming of the peace by the taxpayers of this country and of all countries may be safely freed from the great burdens of war preparations. Until that conference convenes, I believe it is wise to have no cessation in building the ships authorized by congress.'"

Characterizing the naval holiday' between the United States, Great Britain and Japan, provided for in the pending agreement introduced by Senator Borah, as a "half-way measure," Mr. Daniels reiterated his opposition to the United States entering into such an agreement. "The world is the world," he said, "and the world is not to be divided into three nations, he said, might be followed by 'a counter-entente of nations jealous of what they asked for in the world.'"

"Holidays indicate a cessation from work for a brief period with a view to the resumption of the work. The day is over," Mr. Daniels added. "The only wise course is to end competitive naval building, not for one year or one year and a half, but for all nations. The time is ripe for securing such an agreement now, and I would consider it a mistake to delay. The world is asking for no play time but for serious business."

Asked by Chairman Butler if Great Britain's geographic situation did not entitle that nation to command of the seas, Mr. Daniels said: "The United States has the longest coast line," said the naval secretary, "because the United States is a world power, if there is no international agreement."

Secretary Davis told the committee that President Wilson had called a conference because the president felt in view of the short time he would remain in office such action would embarrass the incoming administration. Mr. Wilson did not use the powers granted him in the 1916 act at the close of the war, Mr. Daniels added, because he was not supported by the United States in the League of Nations would bring about the desired result.

The pending Borah resolution, proposing a 50 per cent. reduction in naval programs for the next five years, on the part of the United States, Great Britain and Japan, was brought into the discussion by Representative Britten, Republican, Illinois, and the naval secretary, who said that the Borah proposal on the grounds that it would leave the United States weak in naval strength and did not take into consideration the fact that the United States was receiving benefits, which it was now drawing the higher rate of compensation, that it be further amended so that maintenance staffs, such as carpenters, plumbers and steamfitters, employed in shops and departmental stores, who are not now beneficiaries, shall be brought within the provision of the act.

The council further sought legislation which would make it compulsory for contractors to more speedily report all accidents. The Labor complaint was made that adequate protection was not given at elevators. The deputation asked for a bill which would compel the installation of safety devices on all elevators. They claimed that in the city of Philadelphia, where safety appliances are not installed, there was not one accident last year.

The government gave the deputation a sympathetic hearing and also intimated that it was considering the construction of the only item of the provincial museum on Bloor street.
