SOCIETY LEADER ONCE A POOR GIRL

A Romantic Story Which Comes From England Regarding Popular Society Woman.

London, June 11.—A romantic story of Cinderella in real life, a story of the rise of a poor but beautiful workhouse girl from squalor to untold wealth, has been revealed by the Rev. W. Hobbs, a West Newwood minister.

The other day he received a letter bearing a West End address, in which the writer enclosed a check as a donation to the many good works with which the reverend gentleman was associated. In her letter she declared her intention to call on the reverend gentleman, and not many days after a handsome carriage and pair drove up after the pastor's house in Salters Hill, and so his amazement, Mr. Hobbs recognized in her called a former protegee.

The story reveals in her rival the most beautiful girl in London, a girl who comes to her home in Mayfair, but few know that their witty and gracious hostess is the daughter of a poor workhouse girl. For obvious reasons her name cannot be disclosed, but the story of her career is a striking romance of real life.

Her first place was in the house of an officer on the south coast. Rumor, however, was busy concerning her employer, and the women's guardians declined to take her into their charge. The guardians decided to fetch the girl back to the workhouse. But the girl protested, and her determination not to eat the bread of poverty.

These cards are to be sent out among employees to fill in and return.

ANOTHER HOTEL PLANNED IN MONCTON

Commercial Men Dissatisfied With Rates of Existing Houses Are Projecting Another.

Moncton, June 12.—(Special).—The advance of rates by the three principal hotels of Moncton may result in the establishment of another hotel here. From June first the rates in the Moncton hotels have been placed at $2.00 a day, the second advance within a short time, and commercial travelers are up in arms, saying there has been no adequate improvement in the service.

Commercial men are making a move, they claim, to arrange for another hotel, their aspirations guaranteeing the entire patronage of all the members through their newly organized central hotel committee. While the recent advance was stated to be on account of the increased price of supplies the general impression is that the advance is due to the rigid enforcement of the Scott act, which compelled the hotel barrooms to close.

A police story of being lured and robbed by four teen-year-old Annie Gallant in the police court yesterday led to Mrs. Caleb Morrell, nineteen years old, being fined $30 for luring a Dorchester for keeping a bawdyhouse.

P. E. ISLAND WOMAN A VICTIM OF SUICIDE IN ESSEX, MASS.

Mrs. T. F. Bowe and George A. Gorton, Arrested on Husband's Charge, Drink Strychnine and Die Almost Together.

Essex, Mass., June 11.—One of the most sensational affairs which has taken place in this town for years was the double suicide which took place here when George Allen Gorton, aged 50, and Mrs. Edith A. Bowe, aged 33, the wife of T. F. Bowe, both of Grove street, living within a half mile of each other, ended their lives by taking strychnine.

Last Saturday morning Mr. Gorton and Mrs. Bowe were arrested, charged with a statutory offence. The house was entered at 1 o'clock in the morning upon a complaint issued to the Essex police by T. F. Bowe, husband of Mrs. Bowe, who learned a few days ago that Mr. Gorton was visiting the house.

It is said Mr. Bowe travels on the road selling bits of his own manufacture, and when away Mr. Gorton called at the house. It is also alleged that Mr. Bowe had planned a trip last Friday which was known to Mr. Gorton, and thinking the coast was clear visited the house. Mr. Gorton and Mrs. Bowe were taken to Gloucester and placed under arrest. Their case came before the court Tuesday morning and was held over to the grand jury trial being held in 400 bonds, which were furnished.

Gorton returned to his home and on his way went to a store in Essex and endeavored to buy poison, saying that he wished to kill a cow. It was refused and so he went to Gloucester and bought some strychnine, after which he returned home and drank it. He suffered terribly agony and died about 1 o'clock.

It was claimed that he stopped on the way and left some poison with Mrs. Bowe. Within 24 hours of the time that Gorton ended his life, Mrs. Edith A. Bowe also died by the strychnine. It is said Mrs. Bowe received word that the bondsman had withdrawn the bonds after learning of the death of Gorton, and she feared to go to jail.

She said that she would never be locked up and went into the house and took the poison. She was found in her room by Miss Cheney, who was stopping at the house, and Mr. Bowe.

It was stated that the mother gave her 7-year-old daughter Alice a drink of the strychnine and that she was in a serious condition, but later this was denied. As this story was told by Mr. Bowe to a Globe reporter the little child entered the bedroom and saw her mother dying on the floor. She fainted and it was some time before the child was brought to.

In speaking of the tragedy tonight, Mr. Bowe said he had always done everything that he could for her. "I do not know how my wife became acquainted with Mr. Gorton, and on first hearing that he visited my house I took very little notice of it, but after hearing several times of his visits I investigated and had the police keep watch of his movements, which led to the arrest."

Mrs. Bowe was seen at her home tonight. She said that Mrs. Bowe called at the house several times after Mr. Gorton went down to her house to see her, and when she did not come herself she would send a note by her daughter. "I had begged of my husband not to pay any attention to her and keep away from the house, but he would insist on going. He said that he would not stop and that he was going to stick by her as she wanted to leave her husband."

George J. Gorton, son of George A. Gorton, was seen at his home, and stated that he had nothing to say about the affair, excepting that he knew that his father was visiting Mrs. Bowe, and that he did all in his power to stop him from going to the house.

Mrs. Bowe was born at Prince Edward Island, Nov. 8, 33 years ago, and was married to T. F. Bowe at Portsmouth, N. H., April 15, 1888, and came to Essex June 18 of last year, where they have since resided. Mr. Bowe is 69 years of age.

George A. Gorton was born in Essex and always made it his home. He was born in the house where he resided up to the time of his death. He was a farmer. He leaves a wife and one son.

FRENCH OFFICER DEGRADED WHILE THOUSANDS WATCHED

Naval Ensign Charles B. Ulmo Charged With Selling Naval Secrets, Stripped of His Uniform Before Thousands of Spectators.

Toulon, June 12.—A pitiable spectacle, the degradation of the traitor Charles E. Ulmo, formerly a naval officer, occurred at Stoch Square here today in the presence of an enormous crowd. Ensign Ulmo was arrested at Toulon last October, charged with being a spy. An examination of his effects showed him to be in possession of many valuable documents. Last February he was found guilty by a court martial of attempting to sell naval secrets to a foreign power and sentenced to life imprisonment in a fortress and to be degraded in rank. Train exercises were run into Paris and thousands of people from the surrounding country came to witness the ceremony. They packed the sidewalks and covered the adjoining roofs, walls and ramparts. The pressure of the crowds was so great that it threatened to sweep away the lines of soldiers and sailors drawn up around the square. After the troops had been reinforced with two line regiments, a battery of artillery, and two squadrons of cavalry, Ulmo, wearing his uniform and sword, was led into the rectangle, where the commandant read the order that Ulmo had betrayed his country and was sentenced to wear his uniform. Two subalterns then took off his sword and stripped him of his chevrons and buttons. One of the subalterns bore the sword across his knee and threw the broken blade at Ulmo's feet. In this plight Ulmo was compelled to march at the head of a squad of soldiers around the rectangle amid the hoots and jeers of the crowd. He walked with his bare head sunk upon his breast and his eyes staring straight in front of him. Tears were streaming down his face. Several thousand recruits who witnessed Ulmo's degradation were greatly impressed by the ceremony. Ulmo will be deported to French Guiana.

WESTERN DEALS WERE UP AGAIN

House of Commons This Morning Heard Criticism of Methods of Peace River Colonization Co.

Ottawa, June 12.—(Special).—In the house of commons this morning, Sir Wilfrid Laurier promised for Monday a statement of what further legislation is to be brought down this session.

On the motion to go into supply, Sam Hughes brought up the case of the Peace River colonization company which has an extensive concession there. The trend of his argument was that while the conditions have not been lived up to the company is having about its concession in the old country and endeavoring to sell the land at 87 per acre. He wanted to know what the government was going to do about it.

Mr. Oliver, in reply, related the difficulties encountered by the company and said that a notice of cancellation of the concession had been given but a time extension granted. If the terms were not lived up to the concession would be withdrawn on July 1st.

Dr. Sproule followed on a criticism of the terms of the grant from which he said Montreal speculators had benefited. He took no stock in the notices of cancellation and accused the department of reckless administration in entering into such loose agreements.

Ottawa, June 12 (Special).—After nearly a week's delay the government has made up its mind to ask the house to vote another "twelve and a half cents in the dollar" finance measure. An offer to pass another twelve and a half-cent measure was made by the government to facilitate the public service was made by the opposition leader on Tuesday last but the government evidently preferred to nourish its pet grievance a few days longer.

Today's finance minister will ask for what he could have had four days ago.

UNREASONABLE DEMANDS. Our esteemed Mr. James Jones, is indignant that reference should be so frequently made to the fact that St. John post office in addition to being in an unsanitary condition is also undermanned. He points out, very properly, that the department has all it can do to keep up with the free distribution of government campaign literature through the mails from Ottawa. This important work must be carried out in such a manner that the St. John post office can be taken into consideration. It is well known that there are a great many people in Quebec province who have never heard of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and therefore the booklet written about him by the St. John post office, and which is distributed, and as rapid as the post facilities of the country will permit, is today relieving the monotony of life in society by ministering to the needs of those who are less happily circumstanced.

An impulse to follow him had suddenly seized her, though she had said nothing of this to her sister. She reflected vividly upon the words that had passed between Silvia and Stevens as to Lord Ravenspur, and the things that she knew to the contrary, she might be the means of preventing another tragedy. She felt almost sure of this presently as Silvia turned into Park Lane, and pulled up before Lord Ravenspur's house.

CHAPTER XXII The Worth of a Name. The great house in Park Lane was brilliantly lighted up, and passers-by asked themselves what distinguished company Lord Ravenspur was entertaining to-night. Inside of the house the master of it all was counting the moments till he should be alone. He was only giving an informal dinner, but the guests numbered upwards of thirty all the same. And now Ravenspur sat in the great hall with his mosaic floor and wonderful marble pillars. It was one of the show places of London, the envy of many whose means were greater than Ravenspur's. The velvet lights shone through palm and fern. The sultry evening seemed to be rendered cooler by the murmur of the fountains. It was possible to sit there and see the fish darting hither and thither, so that the effect of being somewhat far away in the seclusion of the woods was complete. A tall, fair woman, marvellously attired, was languidly singing the praises of the place to her host.

"There is nothing like it," she said. "It is absolutely unique. We have tried the same effect in America, but somehow or another, it seems so artificial, so wanting in repose. You are the most fortunate of individuals, Lord Ravenspur."

"So my friends tell me," Ravenspur smiled. "But you must not always judge by appearance."

If his guest only knew, Ravenspur thought. If she could only guess what his

NEWS FROM FREDERICTON

Cushing's Lumber Drive of 8,000,000 Feet Abandoned at Nine Mile Rapids.

Fredericton, June 11.—Fredericton district Methodist meeting is in progress at the Methodist church in this city. Rev. J. C. Berrie, of Gibson, is chairman; Rev. W. J. Kirby is absent on leave enjoying his honeymoon in Montreal. This morning James Watson Howe, of Stanley, son of Major W. T. Howe, ex-M. P., passed satisfactory examination before the Hon. the Minister of Education, Mr. W. H. Howe is a graduate in arts from the University of New Brunswick, was formerly engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in the United States, and is now proceeding to the A. M. degree at U. N. B. It was decided to recommend Rev. G. B. Payson, Rev. J. J. Rogers, and Rev. J. W. J. Colter to the conference for superannuation. Delegates to the conference at Montreal were elected by the stationing committee. The total amount raised for the conference funds of the church was $3,000. There was an increase in about every department.

Cushing's drive in charge of W. J. Noble has been abandoned and the lumber is being floated down the river, amounting to about 8,000,000 feet, is hung up at Nine Mile Rapids, some distance above the falls. The lumbermen reached here last evening. They state that when the drive started they had about nine or ten millions and that at the time of the accident they had about eight million. The men say they had about forty days' driving and were on the verge of giving up. It was the water with the drive that was the trouble. The water was very rapid when the recent rains occurred and then falling away fast as the water was being driven down the river. One man from Bathurst on the drive was drowned by falling from some logs in deep water. He was only a few days on the drive. The men who were on W. J. Noble's drive and who returned to this city last evening state that the report is correct that eight men of the drive who lived at St. Basile were drowned in a canoe as they were passing the falls.

The will of the late Walter McFarlane, of Nashwaakias, who died very suddenly a few days ago, was probated in the court of Judge Wilson. Harry Smith and Albert Smith are executors. The will was found after Mr. McFarlane's death in a safe in the hen house of his home at Nashwaakias. The estate is understood to be worth upwards of $40,000, and includes a large interest in the New Brunswick Foundry.

Fashion Hint for Times Readers

TWO-TONED TAFFETA SUNSHADES ARE SMART. Coaching parlours are more than ever fashionable. They are of moderate dimensions and mounted upon fine frames, supported with natural or treated wood handles ornamented with ribbon bows to match the cover's coloring. These are chiefly of striped, checked or plaided taffetas in two tones of brown, blue, green or rose, the darker shade narrowly edging the parasol and forming the several broad bands and octagonal apex. When sunshade and hat are of corresponding colors, the effect is exceedingly smart.

Today the show—or rather shows—will be remarkable for their excellence and variety. This afternoon the new Pathe wonder, the extravaganza, The Legend of a Ghost, will be shown for the first time. It is without doubt the most elaborate film (1,016 feet) ever photographed. Russian Fisheries will be in structure and night-seeing and A Weird Symphony is something like the Merry Widow, only of the famous funny Pathe make. As a very special feature this afternoon and Saturday, the great child picture, "Teddy Bears" will be put on in addition to the regular programme. It is a 1,000-foot Edison film, pictorial of the fairy tale, "Silver Locks and the Three Bears" and shows Teddy Bears living at home, doing their amusing tricks and cutting up all sorts of laughable antics. The Nickel has procured this feature as a specialty, by general request from time to time.

HOWARD AT THE PRINCESS. The great Howard will be at the Princess just two more nights and this evening he will, for his one appearance, re-act his funniest sketch, McGregor and the Telephone Girl. His second appearance of the evening will be in a new sketch. Another opportunity to hear the equal of Howard as a ventriloquist will likely never again be had in this city at the price. For tomorrow afternoon a farewell programme has been prepared. At the matinee Howard will give a special programme for the children. In the evening he will be heard in the best show of the week.

MOST PROSPEROUS YEAR FOR THE CANADIAN FORESTERS

The twenty-ninth annual session of the High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters opened in the city of Niagara Falls, Ont., on Tuesday afternoon, June 9. There was a large number in attendance, including high court officers and delegates representing subordinate courts of every province of the Dominion. After the usual opening ceremonies and the appointment of the several standing committees, the high court officers submitted their reports which showed the order to be in a most flourishing condition. The progress made during the past year far surpassed that of any previous year of its history. The high chief ranger, J. A. Stewart, (Ont.), after extending a hearty welcome to the representatives present, submitted his report which was replete with facts and figures relating to the growth and extension of the order during the past year.

On January 1, 1907, the order had a membership of 44,035 and there were in being at the close of the year, 7,012 new members, being an increase of 771 over the previous year. During 1907, 3,134 members departed, leaving a net membership of 68,424 at the close of the year. The increase in the insurance reserve of the order during the year amounted to $2,174,872.45, and at the close of the year, $2,428,690.87. The amount paid in death claims was $413,326.24. The sick and funeral benefit department is also in a flourishing condition. During the year no less than $134,418.44, and 469 deaths, leaving a net membership of 68,424 at the close of the year. The amount to the credit of this fund at the close of the year was $112,864.48.

The high chief ranger, in concluding his address, expressed the hope that the meeting would be a pleasant one for the members and a profitable one for the order, and felt that if ever there was a time in the history of the order when the members should all feel inspired with hope and confidence in the future of Canadian forestry, that time was the present. In an inspiring address he urged upon the representatives to do all that in them lay to make 1908 the banner year of the order. The report of Geo. Faulkner, high secretary, covering the general work of the order, was next in order, and showed in detail the large volume of business transacted through the lead office at Brantford. The amount of insurance premiums received during the year was $75,916.20, which with the interest on insurance account, made the total receipts in this branch, $868,149.96. There were 409 death claims paid amounting to $413,326.24, leaving the sum of $251,818.42 to carry to the reserve fund which at the close of the year was $2,428,690.87. The sick and funeral branch of the order also showed a marked advance. The amount of fees received during the year

The cadets of the Scotch brigade at St. Andrew's church were inspected last evening by Col. G. Robt White D.C.O., of the school room of the church. The boys mustered about thirty strong and presented a very smart appearance. They went through the different drills with great precision and reflected much credit on their instructor, Major Magee. Col. White expressed himself as much pleased with the result of the inspection.

ST. JOHN AT OTTAWA

The carefully guarded statements in the despatches from Ottawa, relative to the conference between members of the government and the delegation from St. John, do not indicate whether there is to be any practical outcome this year. A very large and important scheme of harbor improvement was discussed, the details of which will of course be made known when the question comes before the city council. The delegation has urged that the wharves already planned, and for which the dredging has been done, be completed as soon as possible. This would provide enough accommodation for a few years, while the larger work, to be dealt with by a harbor commission, was being accomplished. The whole question appears to have been broadly considered, and the result will be awaited with much interest.

It is pleasing to learn that the question of a drill-hall for St. John has not dropped entirely out of sight at Ottawa. The announcement, however, that the subject has again been considered, and that the ministers hold certain views, will not arouse a sling at all approaching wild enthusiasm. This drill-hall should have materialized ten years ago. To-day the delegation will talk with Mr. Moore of the Grand Trunk Pacific on the subject of that railroad's intentions with regard to the port of St. John. Upon the nature of his assurances apparently depends the question of making borings at Courtenay Bay, although the city council lately declared against any present expenditure for the latter purpose. The delegation appears to have been well received and to have made good use of its time while in Ottawa; but the like is true of delegations in general, especially when an election campaign looms up in the not distant future. The air may soon be full of harbor works, drill-halls, and blessings even greater than we have asked or dreamed.

LORD MILNER'S VIEWS

The growth of sentiment in Great Britain in favor of preferential trade within the empire has impressed Lord Milner, who is at present very much in the public eye in relation to imperial questions. In an address in London, as reported in the Standard of Empire of June 6th, his lordship said: "I am quite convinced that a change is coming, that within the next twenty years, whatever party is in power, we shall see duties imposed in this country which, whether that object is admitted or not, will, in reality, be aimed at defending British industries against external attack and checking the growth of unemployment."

"One of the great Overseas Dominions has already taken a step which impairs to some extent the value of the preference which it had previously accorded to this country. There is a danger, though no immediate danger, of further steps of the same kind on the part of that Dominion, or of similar steps on the part of other Dominions. But that is not all. There is another danger on our own side, to which so far few people seem to be alive. We hear rumors of impending negotiations on the part of this country for commercial treaties, with foreign nations, especially perhaps with a particular foreign nation. I should consider that a commercial bargain with any foreign country, however friendly, had cost us dear if it in any way involved our tying our hands in respect of trade arrangements with the empire, or precluded us from giving to other parts of the empire, in respect of any duties we now have or may hereafter impose, a preference over even the most favored foreign nation."

"There are two ideas before us—separate, and yet akin—and working into one another. One is the building up of the several great states of the empire, including India, as separate units, to the highest state of industrial efficiency, of productive power, of which they are individually capable; the other is the drawing together of these units separately built up into an economic and political union, which might be the greatest in the world, the most independent, the most self-sustaining, and, as a whole, the most unassailable. What is the attitude of the people of any of the great self-governing dominions? With many local differences, there is still one spirit common to them all. We want, they say, to be a real nation with an all-round development, with varied industries, capable of standing on our feet, economically as well as in all other respects. We will not allow any one, not even the Mother Country, not even the sister states, to cramp or fetter our growth on our own lines. "We are told that this is commercial-ism, that it is a selfish, narrow, and unchristianlike attitude. But who would you contempt upon a father and son, or brother and brother, working together in matters of business, as commercialized family affection? Is it not perfectly right? Would not the opposite be unnatural? The whole question, I insist, is: Are we relations? Is there anything real, solid, practical, more than mere hummy and after-dinner rhetoric, in the conception of the family as applied to the British group states? If so, then you cannot exclude its influence from any side of practical life, least of all from so important a side as that of commercial relations."

Of the industrial and commercial situation in the United States an exchange says: "The United States Government June crop report indicates a total yield of fall and spring wheat fully 100,000,000 bushels in excess of last year's harvest. The growing grain yet faces many dangers, but if these are escaped, the crop of 1908 will constitute the basis of renewed prosperity in the Republic, as well as in Canada. The railways of the United States have decided to postpone till the autumn at least the proposal to advance freight rates. An unsettled factor in the general situation is the intention of the steel trade to reduce prices in order to attract orders. There exists a fear that wage cutting will follow any serious lowering of quotations on steel products and that labor troubles may result."

A great sensation has been caused by the arrest of Hon. P. H. Roy, president of the defunct Bank de St. Jean, along with the manager and assistant manager, on the charge of making fraudulent returns to the finance department. Mr. Roy is an ex-speaker of the Quebec legislature and has held a very high position in the political, financial and social world. The bank failure in question was a bad one, and the finance department's investigation of the affairs of the institution resulted in these arrests.

The people of Canada will not excuse the present government for sending out campaign literature at public expense on the ground that something of the sort was done by the Conservatives when they were in power. The practice is vicious, and a gross abuse of their official position by those ministers by whom it is countenanced. Clerks in the departments should not be engaged in folding and mailing campaign literature, nor should ministers abuse the franking privilege.

The Montreal Gazette says: "The striking bricklayers as well as the striking cotton mill workers have decided to go back to such work as they can get on the employers' terms. In the case of both bricklayers and cotton workers the strike appears to have been resolved on largely on the advice of outsiders or of men whose pay does not depend on their working at the business concerned, and who had nothing to lose if things went wrong."

A significant admission of the growth of sentiment in favor of preference in England appears in yesterday's London cable to the effect that the Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill is favorably considering "a reciprocal arrangement with Canada which will secure for Canadian manufacturers of agricultural machinery and other patented articles, exemption from the compulsory manufacturing clause of the British patent act, which comes into force on August 1."

The Rev. John Pringle will endeavor to press his charges concerning gross immorality in the Yukon upon the attention of a parliamentary committee. The government will resist his efforts. But Mr. Pringle has caught the ear of the public, and the facts will be established. Yukon administration is not a pet subject with the government of the day.

Noting the fact that Northumberland Conservatives are organizing the Sun says: "We have not recently seen any mention of similar Liberal activity in any constituency. Apparently that party, relying on the justice of its cause—and on the results of the recent provincial elections—deems organization unnecessary."

Senator Power thinks it a hardship that a wholesale liquor dealer cannot ship his goods into prohibition territory. The senator talks about the licensed dealer's right. But what about the rights of the people who have adopted prohibition?

The Ottawa Citizen has a federal election forecast which if realized would defeat the Laurier government and give Mr. Borden a working majority.

HAD LEARNED SOMETHING

"Ever notice it?" queried the party who propounds suggestion in sections. "Did I ever notice what?" asked the innocent bystander.

"That the longer a man is married the less he dodges when his wife throws things at him?" said the instalment interrogator.

"Yes, I've noticed it," replied the i.b., who had been up against the matrimonial game for several years. "He soon gets wise to the fact that there is no danger if he doesn't move."

VIRTUOUS INDIGNATION. He nobly spurned the proffered bribe, He cursed the corporation. I cannot very well describe His wrath and indignation. His boom heaved, he clenched his fist, And turned his flashing eye on The pale and shrinking lobbyist. And growled like a lion. "How dare you propose," said he, "A wicked thing like this to me?" "My horror, loathing and disgust I find beyond expressing. I have my people's faith and trust, I hope forever it may stay Abiding and unshaken. I sell that faith for paltry pay? In that you're much mistaken. I'll do my very best to kill Your infamous, outrageous bill!" The lobbyist blushed with shame Said he: "I beg your pardon, My fault—and I have been to blame— But must not be too hard on me. I didn't mean to give offence, But shall have no trouble. I own I should have had more sense: "How did you come to do this?" The rest of it I won't disclose, But—well, now what do you suppose?

SURPRISING. "I have here," said the long-haired visitor who had wandered into the sporting editor's room by mistake, "I have a short poem I wrote on Niagara Falls." "Don't say!" snorted the sporting editor. "How did you keep your paper from getting wet?"

A RURAL FINANCIER. "Bill, you go an' clear up 'bout ten acres of new ground," while John got 'bout twenty under for cotton, and Dick lays off sixty for corn, an' two hundred for watermelon; then, bundle the mules with the mortgages and lay in a year's provisions, an' when the year's over, set 'em loose, or we'll be behind when the year's out!" (Atlanta Constitution).

A FINE DISTINCTION. While a small boy was fishing one day he accidentally lost his footing and tumbled into the creek. As an old man on the bank seen him heaping him up with the mud, and you come to fall in the river, my little man, I didn't come to fall in the river; I came to fish," replied the boy. (The Argonaut).

HER STRONG POINT! Mrs. Commonstale—"Are you sure your sweetheart ain't a mule?" "I don't know, but I do to you think she knows anything about mending for instance." "About mending, mother? Why that is her strong point." "I don't know, but she mends once in just fourteen minutes." (Harper's Bazar).

GREAT ROWING AT HALIFAX TRIALS. Three Crews Have Competed in the Preliminaries For the Olympic Trials and There is Nothing to Choose Between Them.

Halifax, N. S., June 11 (Special).—J. C. Hahagan, president of the M.P.A.A.A., has returned from Toronto and has found the situation here in connection with the Olympic trials a somewhat complicated state. Mr. Litwog distinctly told the committee here that only one crew was to be rowed to decide upon a crew to be sent to St. Catharines. On his arrival home he finds that three crews have already been rowed and there is no sign of a crew yet as the contests here have been so even. The North West Arm crew have one win and a draw to their credit, while the same is to be recorded of St. Mary's. The North Stars have finished third in three races being beaten by but a few inches. Sporting people are excited over the races and there is talk of sending the three crews to St. Catharines. Another race will be rowed tomorrow, although there is general approval of so much racing in so short a time. Entries from here may not be wired till Monday.

AQUATIC: HIGH WAVES KEEP CREWS FROM WORK. Harvard Training Quarters, Red Top, Conn., June 11.—Another day of Marlow winds and rough water kept the Yale and Harvard crews from the course before Yale and Harvard squads were driven into cover at the head of the banks, out of the reach of the high waves, for their work-out, which amounted to little else than a jog to prevent them from increasing in weight because of inactivity.

As there was evidence that Fowler's amateur standing was not above reproach, Fowler has been a rubber at Harvard, for which he received pecuniary reward, and the committee feared that he would be protested, not only in this country, but also in England. SIXTH DISTRICT MEETING OF THE UNITED BAPTISTS: Annual Session Opened at Gondola Point Yesterday—Excellent Sermon by Rev. A. B. Cohoe.

The annual meeting of the sixth district of the United Baptist church in New Brunswick opened yesterday afternoon at Gondola Point. Jacob Titus, of St. Martin's, was elected chairman for the ensuing year. Rev. A. B. Cohoe delivered the annual sermon. The sessions will be resumed this morning. There was a good attendance of delegates and church members.

The meeting opened at 2:30 p.m. with devotional exercises, led by John Slipp, of Sussex, and others. The election of officers took place and Mr. Titus was chosen president and Rev. H. G. Kennedy, of Sussex, the retiring president, was elected vice-president. Rev. W. W. Kierstead was nominated for secretary-treasurer. On the plea of much additional work he asked to be excused and nominated Charles Wason. Mr. Wason, however, declined on the ground that he was unable to attend all the meetings. On the question being put to the meeting the nomination of Rev. Mr. Kierstead was unanimously confirmed. The following were chosen members of the executive: Rev. E. J. Grant (Hampton), Rev. David Hutchinson (St. John), Rev. A. B. Cohoe (St. John), A. H. Chipman (St. John), Mrs. W. E. McIntyre (St. John), and Mrs. C. W. Weyman (Appleston).

Rev. Mr. Cohoe of the Brussels street church then preached the annual sermon. The occasion, he said, ought to be used as an opportunity for gaining a somewhat wider and truer conception of the work of the church than was obtained when the activities and interests of the local congregation engaged the attention. He discovered in the thought of the day an idea that religion was destined to occupy a comparatively unimportant place in the world. There was a very general conviction that society required the religious reaction to lend dignity and force to the moral requirements of civilization, that the refinement of spiritual thought was needed to save from the influence of the crass materialism of a commercial age, and that the down-trodden and oppressed of the earth were to be reconciled to their lot. But such conceptions of religion were not the conceptions of Jesus and ought not to be the conceptions of his followers.

The fundamental presupposition of Christianity was that God had a purpose in the world and that purpose had to do with the human soul. The destiny of the human soul revealed itself in Jesus, and the means whereby the soul was to accomplish its destiny were also revealed in Him. Civilization must ultimately be judged by its conformity with the purpose of Jesus. It is thus the duty of the church to provide men with a knowledge of the supreme human purpose and the power whereby these purposes were to be realized.

Three things man needed—a conviction of the supreme worth of righteousness, a relief from the sense of guilt, and a sense of divine power for life. In the gospel as Jesus preached it there was such a power. A church could preach that gospel effectively only when, by the piety of the individual life, it convinced men of the supreme worth of the soul, in a devout discipline it illuminated the fact of atonement, and by a victorious experience of power it provided evidence of the presence of salvation.

The church was not qualified to preach where its life failed to prove its doctrine. The Baptist's principle of a regenerate church membership needed enforcement. But it was not possible to enforce it by a close scrutiny of applicants for membership, nor by the consulting methods of church discipline. It was necessary rather to look to the enforcement of the principle by endeavoring to make the call of the church a call to active and aggressive service. The church should not be a suppliant for the favor of membership nor for cash. When men united with a church because her advanced and a successful drill is looked forward to. The train carrying the soldiers will have during the night of Monday, June 22, and will be arriving until Tuesday noon. The first drill will be held on Wednesday the 24th.

When the regulation five innings had been played, the score stood 4 to 0 in favor of St. Peter's, and the supporters of the St. John the Baptist team had hopes when the game was continued for another inning. Howe started off for St. Peter's with a two-bagger, and Dever was safe at first on a grounder. Daley sent another and Howe scored. C. McCormick filled the bases. Dever sent one through short stop and McCormick and Moberg scored. McCormick filled out to McGinness, and F. Mahone struck out.

Daley made a feature catch of a foul fly from Harris' bat when it came to St. John the Baptist turn, and McNeill and McGinness fanned, finishing the game. About 500 people were in attendance.

Luckily there was no one sitting in front of this window or they would probably have been seriously injured. As it was dark at the time, there was no opportunity to see who perpetrated the outrage.

NO DECISION YET AS TO AMBULANCE

Committee of Safety Board Has Not Decided What Sort of Vehicle to Buy.

The committee of the safety board appointed to arrange for the purchase of an ambulance has not yet decided what kind of a vehicle they will buy or whether it shall be made here or not.

Regarding a type of ambulance made in England, which the committee are considering, J. P. Clayton, superintendent of Fernhill cemetery told the Times that he has seen these vehicles and he considers such a one suitable in every way for St. John's needs.

The ambulance, of which a picture has been given to the Times, is made by Wilson & Stockall, of Bury, Lancashire, England, and would cost here about $750.

While in England last December, Mr. Clayton visited the establishment in Bury and saw the wagon under construction. He says the British admirably placed a very large order with this firm at the time of the Boer war, after very many lives had been lost in a strange manner.

It seems that when invalids were conveyed up a steep hill in the ordinary ambulance some three hundred lost their lives by bursting of the bowels. The firm then invented a contrivance that keeps the body in a horizontal position no matter at what angle the wagon is placed.

This feature of the ambulance appealed to Mr. Clayton as St. John streets are so hilly and such an arrangement would be of great advantage here. The whole ambulance, Mr. Clayton says is a marvel of utility and is covered by patents which local builders could not use, and which it would not pay them to do for only one order.

Mr. Clayton watched the making of the various parts and saw them inspected and assembled until the finished product was ready for use, and he thinks the committee could not do better than secure one of this type.

WEST SIDE LIQUOR CASE IS POSTPONED

Prosecution Makes Little Headway in the Case Against J. Everett Waters.

Judge Ritchie and the police court officials had their hands full this morning when several important cases were dealt with.

Wm. Rogers, charged with obtaining goods under false pretences from D. J. Purdy, was sent up for trial at the next sitting of the circuit court which falls on the 30th instant; further evidence was taken in the Barnett-Lee theft case, there was a hearing in the Waters liquor case and four prisoners arrested last night were dealt with, in the case against J. Everett Waters, charged with selling liquor for other than medicinal purposes, between seven o'clock Saturday night and six o'clock Monday morning.

Very little progress was made, as far as the prosecution is concerned. Of the nine witnesses for whom subpoenas had been issued, only four appeared in court and were examined for the prosecution, but most, if not all of their evidence was in the defendant's favor.

The case will be resumed on Tuesday afternoon next at ten o'clock and in the meantime an effort will be made to secure the five witnesses when called, Police Clerk George A. H. required. Police Clerk George A. H. required. Police Clerk George A. H. required.

GOOD RUNNING TRACK. The running track at the Every Day Club grounds has been covered with a thin layer of finely screened ashes, which when rolled will make a splendid surface for running events.

Since the season opened a very great improvement has been made in this track, and fast time should be made on it at the sports on the afternoon of the 27th.

CONNOLLY'S BODY NOT FOUND

Boats were grappling off Indian town this morning for the body of George Connolly but the general opinion tends to the belief that there is little likelihood of getting it, the probability being that it has been carried by the strong current through the falls. There is a report that a $20 reward has been offered for the recovery of the body.

A GREAT GAME EXPECTED
