WHAT OF ST. JOHN?

While St. John is contemplating a St. John Valley Railway that is not part of a great transcontinental railway system, and a dinky elevator on an undesirable site, it is worth while to note what is being done at the port of Halifax, the ocean port of Mr. Gattilusio.

FLEMING THE ISSUE

A far more important issue than the question whether Hon. B. Frank Smith will be elected or not was brought before the people of this province yesterday at Woodstock.

It is the question whether the political methods of Mr. J. K. Flemming are to be continued in New Brunswick. Mr. Flemming is the real issue.

Mr. Flemming is the real issue. Condemned by a royal commission, he retired from the premiership and from the legislature. Now he is back again on the public platform with members of the government, announcing his return to public life, and receiving the blessing of the government from the lips of the Hon. James A. Murray.

Mr. Murray apparently reserved until a later date the expression of any plous wish he may have entertained for the restoration of that $2,000 taken "by compulsion" from a railway contractor, or that $70,000 or more which was gathered from the lumbermen. But these funds can be made very useful at the present time.

Mr. Flemming and his methods are forced down the throats of the people. If the thing can be done. The dose is being administered openly and shamelessly, with an assumption of virtue as nauseating as it is brazenly insincere.

The eyes of the province are on Carleton county. When the bands and the free excursions and all the tumult and shouting are past, there will remain the record of what the people of that constituency did when it was asked to choose between honor and dishonor, in a matter affecting not merely the honor of Carleton county, but of the province of New Brunswick.

Some of the shells Germany gave Roumania in exchange for food products will now be used to blow up the Teutons.

The Balkan contest is to be the centre of interest in the war zone. Momentous events are now developing. Roumania's action has been of immense value to Russia.

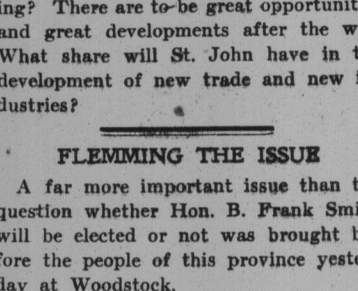

Hon. B. Frank Smith was challenged by the opposition to have an agreement made between the responsible leaders of both parties to prevent the use of rum or money in the Carleton campaign.

The Toronto Telegram, Conservative, says: "Sir Robert Borden's government has lived long enough in a fool's paradise. The alleged popularity of Sir Sam Hughes, K.C.B., among the Canadian soldiers was and is an artificial product."

The New York Tribune says: By a stroke of the pen King Ferdinand of Roumania has added nearly 900 miles to the fronts in Europe now defended by the Central Empires—600 in the west, 285 in the east, 815 facing the Italians, and 160 miles at Salonika—making 1,750 miles. The 985 miles the king has added consists of the 520 miles of the Transylvanian Alps, the 75 miles bordering on Serbia, and 800 miles on Bulgaria.

"A Possibility" "Now, tell me," said the inspector, "who was the mother of our great Scottish hero, Robert Bruce?"

"Well, my boy," said the inspector encouragingly, "who was she?" "Please, sir, Mrs. Bruce!"

"What did papa say, George?" "He said it was too hot to talk nonsense."

"But did he know that you wanted to marry me?" "I—I think he did."

"And didn't he encourage you to proceed?" "Yes, he held the door open for me."

"I always aim to tell the truth," remarked the man, who talks twice and thinks once.

"Yes," replied his friend, "but you remind me of a woman in that respect."

"How's that?" queried the party of the prelude.

"You seldom hit what you aim at," was the reply.

Woodstock, N. B., Aug. 31.—W. S. Sutton was the choice of the government convention as a colleague for B. Frank Smith at the convention held here tonight.

After the nomination of Sutton by Squires there was a dead silence, which was finally broken by Dr. Peppers, of Centreville, who seconded the motion.

SASKATCHEWAN AND MANITOBA

(Amherst Guardian) The idea that distance from Saskatchewan renders safe the misrepresentation of Saskatchewan affairs for political effect is evidently acted upon by the Sydney Post and some other Conservative-Nationalist papers in their comment upon the report recently made by a royal commission which had been investigating certain charges against members of the legislature at Regina. The Post, for instance, makes this comment: "Enough has been disclosed in the evidence and in the judicial conclusions set forth in the findings to utterly discredit the men charged with administration of affairs in the province of Saskatchewan. It is clear that there has been conspiracy, corruption and bribery rampant in the legislative and official circles in Saskatchewan."

As a matter of fact, the findings of the royal commission... created the Scott government. None of the officials of the Scott government have been found implicated in wrong-doing save one clerk, who was arrested by the attorney-general's department and sent to the penitentiary, and, possibly, one road foreman, whose case is under investigation. Two members of the legislature have been found guilty of accepting bribes from the rum interests, and two others of taking money from applicants for liquor licenses. To say that the Scott government has been implicated in anything discreditable is simply to falsify the facts for partisan purposes. It is a natural move, of course, in the scheme set on foot by Hon. Robert Rogers to distract attention from the situation among his party associates in Manitoba, some of them ex-ministers now on trial in the criminal courts for defrauding the province. "Do animals possess the sentiment of affection?" asked the teacher of small Margaret. "Yes," said the child, "almost always." "Correct," said the teacher. Turning to young Harold—"And now tell me what animal has the greatest fondness for man?" With a slight pause the little fellow answered—"Wo-

DEWART'S VICTORY
IN S. W. TORONTO

Reactionary Toryism Was Stricken Down in Its Chief Citadel

THE SPELL BROKEN

H. F. Gadsby Gives an Entertaining Account of the Campaign—Nickel, Hydro-radial and Sir Sam Hughes the Real Issues

Ottawa, Aug. 31—The sheaf of telegrams, ranging from Halifax to Vancouver, which Hartley Dewart, K. C., received by way of congratulation on his victory in South West Toronto, indicates that the Liberal heart of the Dominion over is glad that Tory Toronto is shaking off her shackles.

The spectacle of men who had been Tory workers for years, taking part in a demonstration for a Liberal victory under the very windows of the Mall and Empire was a sight for sore eyes. The election in South West Toronto is somewhat bewildering on account of the profusion of candidates and the varied interests they represented, but the main fact which emerges is that a Liberal won. That is to say, Toryism of the most reactionary and arbitrary kind was stricken to the ground in its chief citadel, Toronto. There has not been a Liberal member for any of the Toronto constituencies in the Ontario legislature for twenty-six years. Hartley Dewart broke the spell.

To a cosmopolitan constituency such as South West Toronto, Dewart appeals as a man of broad sympathies and popular convictions. He has blazed the trail. Other Liberal members will follow.

There are many explanations of Mr. Dewart's victory—they are all wrong, except the one that he won on his merits and on the issues he advocated. The Toronto Telegram broaches the theory that he won because of his brilliant cross-examination of Sir Sam Hughes—that may have helped some. The Toronto News rather thinks that prohibition had something to do with it, but that is the News' mistake. Mr. Dewart did not discuss prohibition except as a fact returned to the land. It was the Liberal policy of the day and he accepted it as such. After the passing of the live issues—nickel and hydro-radial.

It may be as the News says that the prohibitionists voted for him. Why shouldn't they? It may be that the liquor people took their revenge on the Hearst government for selling them out. Why shouldn't they? If they thought that voting for Mr. Dewart's Liberalism was a direct slap in the face to a Conservative government for betraying them, that was their own business. But there is one thing sure. Whiskey did not fight for Mr. Dewart. What it did was to refuse to fight for the other fellow.

In the language of the street "it laid down" and it did it in another fact. The boasted Tory organization in Toronto is a myth. There is no Tory organization in the Queen City where the dark lantern captains of the saloon brigade refuse to do their usual work at the polls. On the other hand, prohibition voted strongly for Mr. Dewart. One of his largest majorities was in South Parkdale, which is a prohibition stronghold.

The Conservative machine seeks to draw comfort from the fact that it was a small vote. That is also a delusion. Considering the fact that there are five thousand votes away at the way and that the contest was held on a list two years old, it was a large vote. Where Liberal gains were made was in the absence of pluggers. Naturally with five thousand voters out of town, a certain number of persons appeared who were willing to give those votes absent treatment in the Conservative interest. And here came in the clever work of R. T. Harding, who acted as Mr. Dewart's adjutant-general. Mr. Harding had taken the precaution to send letters, returnable to his address, to these absentees, and these letters were duly returned when the absentees were not to be found. Consequently when a portion of any of these absentees appeared at a polling booth the Liberal scrutineer would draw the returned letter and the Conservative would go away a sadder and a wiser man. This manoeuvre naturally headed the pluggers off and deprived the boasted Tory organization of a great deal of its raw material.

Outside the personal merits of the candidate the election was won on three issues—nickel, hydro-radial and Sir Sam Hughes. Mr. Dewart exposed the operations of the nickel trust, its chief protagonist, the Hon. Frank Cochrane, his puppet premier Mr. Hearst, and his lieutenant, Mr. Pennington, head and puppet premier Mr. Hearst, and his present need repeating. Suffice to say that the International Nickel Company is taxed only $400,000 a year on an annual output of thirty-seven million dollars worth of nickel metal, which is handled by an American refinery and therefore leaves not a dollar resulting from one of our greatest natural resources in the country. What's more, the International Nickel Company has been selling our nickel for years to the Germans and has actually sent fifteen million pounds of it to Germany since the war has been on. There is a "gentleman's agreement" between the Boer government and the Nickel Trust that no nickel will go to Germany while the war is in progress, but how effective that agreement is may be inferred from the fact that the submarine Deutschland had no difficulty in getting all it could carry in "open market."

That was one of Mr. Dewart's issues, the manufacture of our own nickel on our own soil, the control of the output so far as refusing to sell it to the enemies of the British Empire under adequate taxation of its swollen profits.

That was the financial side of it. The other side, the infamy of killing Canadian soldiers with Canadian nickel from German guns had even more force. The following anecdote illustrates how the people took it up:

"Last year," said an old man at one of Mr. Dewart's meetings, "Lieutenant Blank went to the front. He weighed one hundred and twenty pounds when he went away. He came home, the other day, dead of course, and he weighed one hundred and ninety pounds. There was seventy pounds of Frank Cochrane's nickel in him." It was a parable, of course, but the old man was relating, but it states the case better than a much longer argument.

Edward is only eighteen years old—just a boy with the heart of a man. Such willingness to make the supreme sacrifice ought to bring the blush of shame to the cheeks of those who are still holding back though they could be easily spared.

In conversation with Edward, the writer expressed the wish that he might come through safely and return without a scratch. His answer was: "Oh, well, I don't expect to come out of it as easy as that. St. Louis Takes Another Game From The Red Sox

TIGERS GAIN ON LEADERS

Chicago and St. Louis Are Within Striking Distance and Race Becomes More Uncertain; Pirates Defeat Braves; Cubs Win From St. Louis

The Red Sox have lost five out of the last six games they played. Unless they can brace up their chances to win the pennant will be mighty slim, especially as they take the road and will be away from home grounds for the major portion of the remaining playing season.

The Tigers crept up on the leaders by defeating the Yankees in the last game of their series.

Both Chicago and the Browns are within striking distance and another week may change the aspect of the championship race.

Both New York and Cleveland have been slipping and seem doomed to remain in the second division; however, they may yet brace and go higher up.

In the National League the Pirates put another crimp into the pennant aspirations of the Braves.

The Cubs won quite handsily from St. Louis, although they secured only three more hits than their opponents.

The Martin-Orme is a personal piano

AS the famous violins of Stradivari, or the furniture of Sheraton and Heppelwhite, are personal, so are the pianos of Owain Martin, the inventor of the "Violotform". Every Martin-Orme piano is built under the personal supervision of this master piano builder. Each receives its final inspection and "voicing" from his own hand.

The Martin-Orme Company could save thousands of dollars a year by producing an impersonal piano—built in large numbers by machinery. But such an instrument could never be worthy of the personal pride taken in the excellence of the Martin-Orme.

This instrument, under the guidance of a recognized genius of piano construction, is the handiwork of artisans who have proved their fitness in the special branch in which each is engaged. This use of machinery is limited to the tasks wherein machinery can obviously excel. Expert hand labor is the basis of the construction of the Martin-Orme. Martin-Orme tone lives. Years cannot mar its charm. It is the result of a life of study of the theory and practice of acoustics and construction.

Any one of our dealers will be glad to explain the "Violotform" in detail, and to let you see and hear the Martin-Orme piano. Write for literature.

is responsible for the cleanliness, sanitation and healthfulness of the city. If it should inspect some of the so-called laundries on many street corners of St. John, it would close them up or compel the proprietors to make radical changes. Yet many of our citizens persist in entrusting their shirts and collars to these places.

We invite the Board of Health or any individual to inspect our establishment.

Then a long and cordial letter from an English bishop in South Africa, enclosing a complete list of the autonomous Protestant bodies in South Africa which are within the scope of the conference, with the names and addresses of their secretaries and the number of members of each, and telling about the Orthodox Eastern church members in South Africa. That letter gives information which the secretary has sought in vain for a year or two. The next is from a Presbyterian minister in South Africa expressing the deepest and most practical sympathy and asking how the Presbyterian church in South Africa shall comply with the commendation of the World Conference by the Council of the World Wide Presbyterian Alliance at Aberdeen in 1918. He suggests that we send a deputation to South Africa or a separate commission to bring the project to the notice of all the Christian bodies there.

An English layman, active in the Laymen's missionary movement, reports the distribution of our pamphlets and, best of all, of the prayer cards. He suggests our providing each of the 4000 secretaries of the Church of England Men's Society with a few pamphlets for distribution, and asking him to join in a carefully arranged plan for presenting the idea of the World Conference to the 180,000 members of the society. Then comes a letter from a Roman Catholic layman in England speaking highly of one of our pamphlets and enclosing a money order to help out on our expense. This gentleman is anxious to extend the habit of a daily communion, as the source and sustenance of spiritual strength, and is getting signatures to a petition to the Pope to abrogate the rule of fasting communion for those whose work makes a daily fasting communion impracticable. An English bookeller sends an order for pamphlets to be sent to Australia. An English lady writes from Germany of her interest in that will write the secretary, Robert H. Gardiner, Gardiner, Maine, U.S.A., they will be put in touch with this gentleman. The secretary will also send the World Conference pamphlets to those who desire them. A bishop of the Church of England in India reports that a commission is being appointed by that church and cordially advises an invitation to the South India United church, a new union church formed by Presbyterians, Congregationalists and others. A member of one of the non-Anglican commissions recently appointed in England acknowledges the receipt of our pamphlets. The father of one of the most prominent non-Anglican ministers in Great Britain says he reads the pamphlets we send to his son, but he wants them sent to him also and asks for a dozen of one of them. A Scotchman acknowledges the receipt of literature and promises his influence, and so does an Englishman, and there are a few routine letters and copies of newspapers.

WORLD CONFERENCE ON FAITH AND ORDER

Sometimes 50 or More Letters a Day Received by Secretary; From All Over World; From All Communion

To the Editor of the Times: Sir,—Sometimes fifty or more letters are received in a day by the secretary of the Commission of the Protestant Episcopal church on the World Conference on Faith and Order. They come from all over the world, from members of every communion, and are of every character, but the great majority are sympathetic and encouraging. This day is a fair sample, except that the mail happens to be light.

There are three post cards from Lutheran pastors in Germany, asking for literature, one of them that he may publish it in a newspaper he edits. These requests undoubtedly were prompted by an excellent article published in Die Reformation a few weeks ago written by a German clergyman who had heard of the movement. There is a copy of the English Free Church Year Book for 1914, with an admirable address by Rev. J. H. Shakespeare, M. A., on "The Contribution of the Free Churches to Christian Unity" and the following resolution, moved by the president of the council, the Rev. F. L. Wiseman, B.A., and seconded by the Rev. J. H. Bilton: "This National Council of Evangelical Free Churches expresses its gratification at the visit of the recent deputation of representatives of the World Conference on Faith and Order. It notes with satisfaction the influences which are at work for securing a closer approximation between the churches, especially in view of the great problems awaiting solution at home and on the foreign field. It trusts that the proposals recently made for a world conference, to consider a basis of closer union and co-operation, may be brought to a successful issue."

There is a copy of a pronouncement on Christian Union and denominational Efficiency by the Southern Baptist Convention in the U. S. A. in 1914. Next comes a letter from a French Baptist sending the confession of faith of the Union of Baptist churches of the French language, the Normans Baptist Union in France and Belgium. Next half a dozen copies of Etet Et Munda, published at Budapest in February, 1914, with an article explaining the World Conference in a language which the secretary did not know, but which his as-

HOW SERGT. MAJOR ROSS OF 26TH DIED

Mrs. John Marley of Sussex has received a letter from Gunner T. S. Macasky, giving particulars of the death of Sergeant Major Jack Ross, of the 26th.

Sergeant Major Ross was standing in the trench when a shell exploded, killing him instantly. Death was due to concussion. When the body was examined there was not a mark on it. Comrades rushed to succor the fallen soldier, but he was beyond human aid. The body was removed to the Catholic cemetery at the front and interred according to the rites of that church.

"No better soldier served in the 26th," is the tribute his brother soldiers pay to his worth and his bravery. The letter offers the sympathy of Jack's soldier friends to the mother and family.

WILL BE ATTACHED TO THE C. E. FORCE IN ENGLAND

Recently a draft of Lieutenants was taken from New Brunswick for overseas service. Much speculation was rife at the time as to whether they were to be attached to English or Canadian units at the front.

Instructions have now been received at headquarters N. B. command stating that these young men are to be supplementary Lieutenants to the Canadian expeditionary force in England and are to be given the C. E. F. rates of pay. This will put them on a like footing with other Canadian officers. It will be remembered that the following were selected from the N. B. command—Lieutenants D. A. Murdoch, Rupert L. Perry, Robert Noble Gilmore, Stephen P. Gerow, P. Elmore McLaughlin, Hardy Ganong, Maurice Melaney.

ANOTHER SWIMMING FEAT

A fine swimming feat was performed yesterday at Waters' Landing on the St. John river where Principal Pearce and the boys of the Wiggins Male Orphan Institution spent their summer. Principal Pearce's daughter, Ethel, aged thirteen, and two boys, Victor Shoma and Maurice Phillips, aged fourteen, swam from Craig's Point to the Waters' Landing, a distance of fully three-quarters of a mile, in twenty-nine and thirty-one minutes. Miss Pearce accompanied them and the swimmers all finished strong, with no apparent weariness after their long effort.

NORTH SHORE POST TO RETURNED SOLDIER

Representations That It Had Been Occupied by One Physically Fit For Overseas

Recently the recruiting committee at Newcastle through their secretary, Robt. A. N. Jarvis, took up with O. C. troops New Brunswick command, the matter of having a change made in the matter of position of caretaker of the army at that place.

It was contended that a young man named Miller, who was a gunner in the local militia, that place and who was physically fit and who could go overseas was holding a position that could be held by a returned soldier.

The O. C. troops N. B. command took the matter up with Ottawa and today instructions came through suggesting that Gunner Miller be released so that he might serve his country in another capacity, perhaps more strenuous than that which he has occupied heretofore, and allow William Ashford, one of the first Captains in the Regiment, recently returned from the front, take his place.

The promptness with which the militia headquarters acted in this matter is much appreciated by the recruiting committee.

SECOND IN COMMAND OF THE 4TH PIONEERS

Major W. L. McWilliam Appointed—A Fine Body of Men

Major W. L. McWilliam, who has been inspector with the New Brunswick command, and who has been attached to the 4th Pioneers at St. Andrews, has received the appointment of second in command of that unit and will leave St. John this evening for Digby to assume his duties.

The 4th Pioneers moved from St. Andrews to Digby in two drafts, one leaving on Wednesday night and the other last night. They have taken over the quarters that were occupied by the 25th American Battalion, which has been disbanded and has been absorbed by the 97th.

The 4th Pioneers have now a total strength of 245 including thirty-one officers and it is expected that the unit will, on its arrival in England, be attached to the division commanded by Major-General Davis of Quebec.

The O. C. New Brunswick command said this morning that he looked on the 4th Pioneers as one of the finest units that has left Canada, offered by a fine lot of men all of whom are civil engineers and many of whom have been resident engineers for big railways.

The duty of the Pioneers at the front is to establish a base at the rear of the division to which they are attached and at night move up to different portions of the line and connect any pieces of the trenches that may have been taken from the enemy. This is called consolidating the trench. It is also their duty to put up wire entanglements and dig communication trenches. When the Pioneers are at work the infantrymen get their well earned rest.

PRISONER GETS THE BENEFIT OF DOUBT; CASE IS DISMISSED

Magistrate Ritchie gave judgment in the police court today in the case where-in Joseph Kearns, of Curran's, is charged by Mrs. Louise Breen with using abusive language to her in front of the I. C. R. depot. He referred to the public place where the incident happened. The complainant and the defendant were both alike before him and the statement of one was contradicted by the other.

Here Mr. Mullin rose and said to the magistrate that the defendant's denial was not positive. The magistrate replied: "Mr. Mullin, I will hear you review the case again, and counsel for the prisoner gets the benefit of a reasonable doubt. In this case there was a reasonable doubt and the defendant was entitled to it, and His Honor dismissed the case."

Geo. Colwell was fined $10 for allowing a boy under age to drive his grocery team. Policeman Hogg made the complaint.

John Vaughan was reported for allowing his horse to run loose in the streets and 28th inst. complainant explained that on the first occasion the horse broke away. No explanation was forthcoming in the other. He was fined $2 and $1 was collected.

A man was charged with creating a disturbance in his house in Elliott Row, was remanded. Four persons on drunkenness charges also were remanded.

MAIL COLLECTION MATTER IS DISCUSSED IN COURT

Some interesting facts came to light in the police court this morning when a charge of cruelty to animals and unnecessary beating of a horse was laid against Jas. Woods, a mail carrier.

The S. P. Co., through Mrs. Coster, made the charge. The defendant pleaded guilty and a penalty was allowed to stand through the intercession of Mrs. Coster. In the course of the case she said it was the post office they wanted to get at. There was too much work for the horses. What was wanted was an auto to collect the mail in other cities of smaller size than St. John, the post office had an auto.

J. King Kelly advised that the government let the contract to do this work, which it was judicially impossible to do with horses within the time allowed.

The magistrate was of the opinion that the government was not justified in allowing the contractor to be allowed to stand through the intercession of Mrs. Coster.
