THE CHARGE PROVED

When Mr. E. S. Carter asked for an investigation of the charge that $2,903.22 was paid by the Dalhousie Lumber Company on stumpage account but did not appear in the public accounts of the province, he was denounced in all the newspapers and the provincial government press ridiculed the mere suggestion that there was anything calling for such an investigation.

More and more of the leading men in the Mother Country are following the example of King George, and have pledged themselves to abstain from interferences of any kind during the period of the war. It is by no means certain that Lloyd George will not yet decide to introduce prohibitory legislation in parliament.

It was brought out in evidence at Ottawa yesterday that three horses bought for the government to be sent to Valcartier are still on the farm of the government buyer, and that three other horses were substituted and sent to Valcartier. It is not known to any of the trade nor known to any middlemen they must be very few and insignificant.

Persons like the St. John Standard have been trying to make it appear that Liberals were in some way responsible for the graft in connection with the purchase of boots for the soldiers. The answer came yesterday, when the director of contracts for the militia department said that the names on the purchase list came from the minister's office, and that he had never put a name on without the consent of the minister. It is a sorry mess from beginning to end.

Mme. Plamondon keeps a small drug store in Quebec. She is, however, a sister of Mr. Albert Sevigny, deputy speaker of the house of commons, and a Nationalist friend of the Borden government. Mme. Plamondon sold drug supplies for the troops at Valcartier to the value of $28,485. No tenders were called for, and Mme. Plamondon was able to secure higher prices for her goods.

The Fredericton correspondent of the Standard says that what was done in connection with the payment of $2,903 by the Dalhousie Lumber Company to Mr. W. H. Berry, and the payment of this amount by Mr. Berry to Mr. J. W. Brankley, without any reference at all to the transaction in the public accounts of the province, was "highly proper." This is not at all surprising. The Standard has not yet said that it regarded as otherwise than "highly proper" that a transaction in which Mr. Berry, Mr. Brankley, Mr. Fleming and Mr. Teed figured, as set forth in detail in the evidence before another Royal Commission. The $2,903 is alleged to have been paid to the Miramichi Lumber Company, or it would have been paid in his name, and would have appeared in the public accounts.

A RECORD CHARTER. Yarmouth Telegram—One of the most remunerative schooner charters ever recorded is that of the Malcolm Baxter, Jr., a four-master, that arrived at Boston on Monday from a southern port. This vessel is to receive $18,000 in advance for carrying a cargo of coal, about 2,400 tons, from Chesapeake Bay to Rio de Janeiro, and will go out in command of Capt. Smith, of the schooner Alma E. Holmes. The charter freight money will be on basis of $7.45 per ton, the charterers to pay all port charges. The owners were offered $8 per ton to Buenos Ayres, 1,000 miles south of Rio. The voyage will probably occupy about three months.

Upton, near Petersburg, one of the smallest parishes in England, possesses a mysterious tombstone of black marble which emits a damp odor in patches whenever rain is about to fall. The stone is guarded in the village as an infallible barometer.

Those who would like to see a return to the ward system of government in St. John are very much worried over the prospect. They were unable to secure enough signatures to their petition to make it representative of the sentiment of the people to any such degree as would warrant the legislature in granting the prayer of the petition. St. John does not want a return to the ward system, and the very strongest evidence of the fact is the petition in question. Those who signed it were acting entirely within their rights, but it has never been submitted to scrutiny at City Hall to discover how many of those whose names are on it are either dead or absent or have no vote. Many persons whose names appear have since said that they misunderstood entirely the purpose of the petition or they would not have signed it.

Some of those who opposed the adoption of the commission plan of government have never become reconciled to the new order of things, but they were and are in a small minority. It is possible that citizens are to a greater or less extent dissatisfied with some or all of the present members of the city council, but that is no reason why they should

"GREED AND GRAFT"

Maritime Baptist Says Revelations at Ottawa Are Shameful and Calls For Punishment of All Guilty Parties.

(Maritime Baptist) The disclosures which have been made before the Public Accounts Committee at Ottawa have brought a sense of shame to every one who is concerned for the highest welfare of our beloved Dominion. Every day as the investigation proceeds it brings to light further evidence of the pernicious influence and activity of the political middleman. To say that this has always been the case is but to admit the depths of infamy to which our public life is being sunk by a venal element which the better element has hitherto allowed to control the political machinery of each and every party. The most potent cause of the present deplorable condition of our public life is the blind partisanship, which sees only good in its own side, and is willing to adopt or condone unworthy methods in order that "our party" may win. There may seem to be no close connection between the man who takes in $5,000 from an army contract and the voter who received a five dollar bill for his vote while persuading himself it is but a fair equivalent for the time consumed in voting. But the central of graft which has attended almost every large public undertaking has been the result even more than the cause of this prostitution of the ballot-box. We are not in a position to say as yet who is directly responsible for the frauds which have been uncovered in relation to army contracts. The investigation of the Public Accounts Committee is not yet completed. As in all such investigations, so in concealing truth that some former investigations. Some of the guilty have already been punished. Col. Hurdman has been suspended, pending an investigation. Major McQuarrie, whose name has been involved in one suspicious transaction has tendered his resignation. And even some of the ill-gotten gains are being disgorged. Only the full punishment of all the guilty parties will satisfy the country, or relieve the Government from the charge of complicity.

Berry Admits Before Commissioner Chandler

J. W. Brankley Also on the Stand—Attorney-General Seeks To Block Cross-Examination—Promises and Performance Contrasted

Fredrickton, April 6.—Bill Berry, of timber lands fame, Brankley, of the Miramichi, the man who held the "bag," and J. K. Fleming, once premier of New Brunswick, were the chief characters in that farce known now as the "Switching of the Dalhousie stampage payment," disclosed in the evidence given before Royal Commissioner Chandler this afternoon.

That transaction took place in 1912—that election year now so memorable for so many other payments from contractors and others—and according to the evidence of Brankley, the manager of the Miramichi Lumber Company, he and J. K. Fleming and W. H. Berry met in Fredrickton some time between June and August, he could not fix the date, and arranged and agreed that an old claim of the Miramichi Lumber Company, which Hon. Mr. Grimmes, when he was surveyor-general, would not agree to, should be settled by paying $5,000 to Mr. Brankley for the company.

That testimony proved Mr. Carter's contention to the hilt. Berry swore that he was directed to do as he was told by the minister. He had no written instructions; they were only verbal.

The following are extracts from letters from Lieut. F. W. Macdonald, of the 68th Highlanders, son of Colonel W. C. Macdonald, of the Confederation Life, Toronto. The letters were dated from March 11 to March 16: "There has been terrific fighting on both sides of us during the last few days. It started on the 10th when the British captured Neuve Chapelle. We were very much disappointed a couple of days ago, as we had expected to make an attack, but it was called off at the last moment. On our left, north of Arras, the Hunns made a very strong attack two nights ago and captured some of our trenches but I believe we managed to get them nearly all back again. The losses on both sides during the last few days have been very heavy, I believe. So far our division had made a very favorable impression judging by what I hear and also from the fact that we have been put right into the first line.

"Every day the enemy shells our trenches for an hour or so, and all we can do is to hug the parapet and wait till it is all over. They managed to kill one of our dugouts yesterday, and a couple of the men in Fessenden's platoon were slightly wounded. A shell dropped in (Capt) George Alexander's trench about five minutes ago, but luckily no one was hurt. So far we have had no one killed and four wounded in the battalion which is, I believe less than most of the Canadian battalions have suffered. We are now about four miles east of Neuve Chapelle. At last the weather has turned for the better and the last few days we have been in the trenches it has been quite delightful, and not hot by any means, but no rain.

"During the day very little firing is done except by snipers, so we sleep on the alert. Last night a peculiar thing happened just at dusk; there had been no firing on either side for a couple of hours. Some of the men started to cheer, which the Germans took up, and then for about fifteen minutes a shouted conversation was carried on between the two lines. Our men were on top of the parapet. I do believe, both sides would have gone out in the centre and had a chat if we had allowed our men to do what they wanted to. The Germans asked us to sing Rule Britannia which we did. It was really quite interesting.

Casualties Slight "After coming out of the trenches two weeks ago, we were billeted in a town for several days. Then we marched about ten miles and spent the night in a large factory. The next day we moved on and were billeted for three days in a large farm-house four miles behind the line. We then relieved a regiment in the trenches and were there for three days. The casualties were slight. The Hunns made it rather unpleasant for us a couple of times by shelling our trenches with shrapnel, but the damage was slight, though we had a few unpleasant hours. "When we came out of the trenches we were billeted at a farm. We were at midnight and had dreams of a long sleep on the morrow, but we were aroused from our slumbers at 4 a. m. and moved to a point one mile behind the line—this was yesterday, March 10. We of course know a good deal more of what occurred yesterday than we do, but at 7.30 a. m. sharp, what may prove to be the biggest battle the world has ever seen. The sound was terrific. We were over for three hundred miles. The main object is no doubt to straighten out the line and to advance farther if all goes very well. We hear that the English army on our right has been quite successful. Again today the battle raged, but we have no news of today's fighting. "The artillery has been doing great work. The 9th Battery from Toronto has been praised specially by General Smith-Dorrien. For the last two days the artillery has been banging away incessantly and the noise has been terrific. From reports to date our artillery appear to have knocked the Hun's trenches to pieces and the British forces on our left have managed to gain the first line of trenches, and in some cases the second line also taking quite a number of prisoners. Our turn in the trenches will come very soon again, likely just in time to be in the front line when it is our turn to advance. "Our company all had a hot bath yesterday, and I can tell you it was a treat which all the men were glad to get. The 9th Battery (Toronto) is doing fine work. As an example the last day we were in the trenches (Captain) Geo. McLaren discovered the enemy putting a mortar into their trench. This information was at once reported and the 9th fired five shots, getting three direct hits. They also got several machine guns out of business. "It is really wonderful the spirits of the men. One night we were in the trenches we had orders to stand to all night. The men were awfully keen. I am sure if I ever get to have a hand-out there will not be much left of the Germans we encounter."

Who Can Doubt Sworn Testimony of Honest Citizens? Some time ago I began the use of your Swamp-Root with the most remarkable results. For years I was almost a wreck and was a great sufferer. After the discovery of marked value for other ailments gave prompt relief from this aggravating trouble. Since this accidental discovery, hundreds of sufferers have proven its efficiency—it has made good even in cases of long standing. Mr. R. C. Kellogg, Becket, Mass., before using this remedy, suffered intensely with painful and inflamed veins; they were swollen, knotted and hard. He writes: "After using one and one-half bottles of Absorbine, Jr., the veins were reduced, inflammation and pain gone, and I have had no recurrence of the trouble during the past six years. This germicide-liniment—Absorbine, Jr.—is made of herbs and safe and harmless to use, which in itself makes it distinctive. Most druggists have it, or send $1.00 to the manufacturer, W. F. Young, P. BLINDED BY SHELL 6,000 FEET IN AIR French Flier Brings Machine and Observer Back in Safety A THRILLING TRIP One of the Strangest and Bravest Exploits of the Entire War—Simple But Stirring Tale of Sergeant (Correspondence N. Y. Sun.) Paris, March 10—One of the strangest and at the same time bravest exploits of the entire war has just come to light here. It happened during recent severe fighting in Flanders when a colonial German battery had been giving the French great trouble. A sergeant was ordered to ascend in an aeroplane with a lieutenant to observe the German position. They flew over the enemy's lines and were greeted with a hail of shells. The lieutenant was wounded and the sergeant, a young man, was made blind for life by an explosion 6,000 feet in the air, yet he guided his machine safely back to his own lines and brought to his commander the desired information. The aeroplane was just above the German lines, the battery had been sighted and the machine was turning to go back when shells began bursting all around, until the sergeant could not see twenty yards ahead because of the smoke. Finally one shell burst right above his head. The sergeant's flight describes his sensations thus: "For a moment I believed my brain had burst. At the same time I experienced a sickening sensation. Then the dense fog shut all the surrounding objects from view. "Despite my pain I kept the machine at the same height in order to avoid projectiles, which were becoming thicker and thicker. 'Are you all right, mon Lieutenant?' I shouted. But I received no reply. Believing that he had not heard, I repeated the question, this time opening my eyes; but not only did I receive no reply, but saw nothing but blackness all around me. "I was alone in space 6,000 feet above the earth. I was afraid. For the last time I commended my soul to God. Nevertheless, hearing the enemy's batteries below, I had but one thought—to turn, cost what it might, and bring to the officers the eagerly awaited information. "Guided by notes below I turned in the direction in which I hoped to meet comrades. I continued in this direction for approximately two minutes, when to my astonishment the Lieutenant called out: 'Look out, man! Go up! Go up!' Quickly I twisted, raising the plane so quickly that the machine shot up, at the same time tearing away the wreckage from a steep on which the machine had just escaped destruction. "Thank you, mon Lieutenant, I said, you must excuse me, but I cannot see. You are wounded? 'Yes,' he answered, 'I fear seriously.' Then seeing I was turning my back on our lines he said: 'Make a half turn to the left. More to the left still. That's right. Straight ahead now.' "Soon a fresh hail of bullets warned me that we were again over the German lines. Three minutes later the voice of the observer called: 'That's it. Here we are. I see our men down there waiting for us. Shut off the spark and volplane gently down—gently.' I heard no more, but soon after, at the end of a spiral, our landing wheels grated the ground. "All I regret is that I cannot do it again," said the young pilot, who is deprived of his sight forever. The lieutenant has succumbed to his injuries. German scientists have discovered that disease germs quickly die when they come in contact with the ordinary floor covering known as linoleum. This is thought to be due to the disinfectant properties of linseed oil which is found in linoleum.

McAvity & Sons—Only T Rails in City Streets—Ex-Sergeant Finley Wants Compensation For Dismissal The use of the machinery hall of the exhibition building was granted to T. McAvity & Sons, Ltd., by the common council, on the recommendation of Com. McLellan. The weekly will pay rent at the rate of $200 a year and will make all repairs and pay extra fire insurance. They plan to work night and day and employ 150 men, increasing the number to 300. On the recommendation of Com. Wigmore, he was given authority to lease the sewers passing under the I. C. R. tracks and along the right of way in order to secure control. A strip of ten feet in Indian town adjoining the Austin wharf was leased to D. J. Purdy for $38 and the lease of a lot in Guy's ward to the Salvation Army was renewed at $21. The request of the Leasing & B. Co., Ltd. for the use of a plot of land between Station street and C. R. tracks in Fairville was laid over for investigation. Teed at $40 was laid over until a special meeting on Friday. Com. Potts motion to require the St. John Railway Company to lay new tracks and grooved rails instead of T rails in future, was carried. A communication from D. Mullin, K. C., asking for compensation for ex-Sergeant W. H. Finley for wrongful dismissal from the police force and asking the city to name a solicitor on whom a writ could be served was referred to the mayor, commissioner of safety and the recorder. A communication was received from M. Whitman who protested against the proposed bill requiring junk dealers to make daily reports of purchases to the police department was received and on motion of Com. Wigmore the action of the council was recommenced and the bill ordered withdrawn. A communication was received from Howe Dickson, clerk of the executive council, notifying the council that the government has received the resignation of J. B. M. Baxter as city recorder. The matter was laid over for consideration in committee.

AMENDMENTS TO INCORPORATION ACT Frederick, April 6.—The house met at 8.30 o'clock and went into committee to consider the bill to amend the act respecting incorporation of joint stock companies. Hon. Mr. Baxter said that the bill was practically a codification of existing laws with some changes, chiefly for the purpose of conforming with the Dominion act. Mr. Tilley protested against going away with the necessity of giving notice of all applications for incorporation. Hon. Mr. Clarke thought the public are entitled to full notice and that there should be some provision for recalling letters patent wrongfully granted. Mr. Price asked why the notice of intention to open up streets should be required only in St. John. Mr. Stewart also protested against giving companies power to open streets and roads without the consent of the local authorities. Hon. Mr. Baxter said that he would give the matter further consideration and the committee arose and reported progress.

Fenian Raid Veteran Had Nervous Prostration Nervous troubles are so little understood that many people who could easily be cured in a few weeks by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food allow their nervous systems to become completely run down. Cure is then most difficult, and at best is a slow, tedious process. You find yourself not feeling first-class, you do not sleep well at nights, your digestive system fails in its work, you have headaches, it may be, and is irritable and easily annoyed. Possibly you have not recognized these as the warning symptoms which indicate exhaustion of the nervous system, but such they are, and in nervous troubles, as in many others, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. There can be no doubt in regard to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a restorative of the nervous system. Particularly at this season of the year, when the changing temperature is so trying on the human body, people everywhere are proving the wonderful revitalizing influence of this great food cure. Just read what Mr. Carr says about it. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Insist on getting what you ask for.

ST. JOHN LEAGUE

A letter which appeared in the sporting columns of this paper on Monday regarding the formation of a city league undoubtedly contained many good suggestions. Such a league could be formed and brought to a successful issue both from a sporting and financial standpoint.

that people should go around with long faces. Athletes made first class soldiers according to the generals in the French and English armies and those who remain at home could do no better than encourage the formation of such a league and patronise it.

Moncton Man Fought Johnson Moncton Transcript.—Jack Johnson was several times engaged in doubtful battles with a Moncton fighter in 1908. Sandy Ferguson engaged Johnson three times. On April 16, in Boston, Sandy stood him off for 10 rounds. At Philadelphia, on July 21 in the same year, Sandy went six rounds with Johnson, no decision. On December 11, at Colma, Cal., Ferguson stayed with the ex-champ for twenty rounds, but lost in the end.

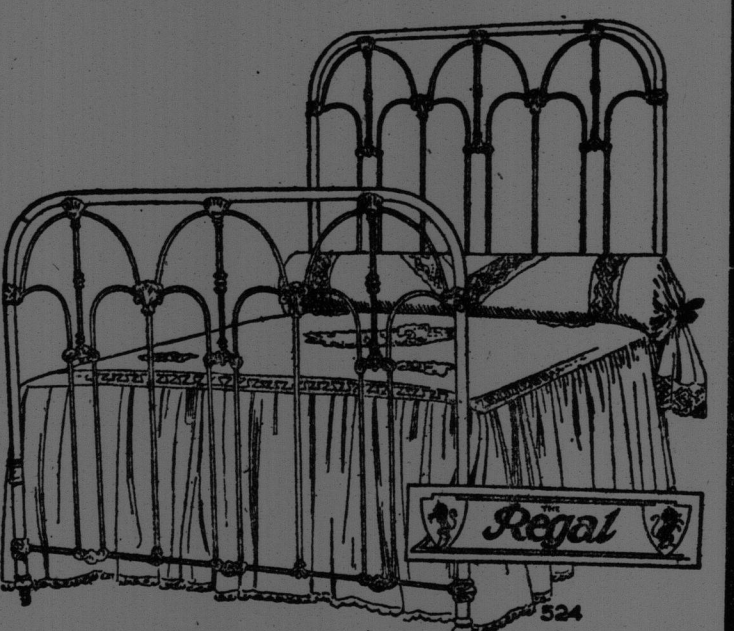

SAVE The Middleman's Profit on These Lines of Goods!

New York, April 5.—Perhaps no one is happier over the result of the Johnson-Willard fight than Jim Corbett. He picked the winner and made the Australian bet his way. Snowy Baker writes of Jim from Sydney, N. S. W. "Jim Corbett, your own past master at boxing, hit this city a few days ago and has already made a great impression. Corbett will show on the Hugh D. SUIT FOR DAMAGES
 The case of Frank A. Priest vs. Herbert W. Parlee was continued in the circuit court this morning before Chief Justice Landry. This is an action to recover damages for injuries received by the plaintiff on December 19 by being thrown from a cargo sling while assisting in loading one of the Head Line boats at West St. John. His right arm was broken and he was otherwise bruised. He is claiming $3,500 damages and is also claiming alternatively under the Workmen's Compensation Act. The plaintiff and Osborne Langley were examined this morning. E. P. Raymond is appearing for the plaintiff and Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., and McLean & Sinclair for the defendant.

FEAST OF PASSOVER ENDS
 The celebration of the Jewish feast of the Passover came to a conclusion at sunset last night, but the last ritual service was held in the synagogue yesterday morning. Rev. B. L. Amdur officiated at the service in the Hasen street synagogue.
 The feast was in commemoration of the departure of the Israelites from Egypt, and the nature of the observance is very strict. On the first two days and the last two days work is strictly prohibited, so that yesterday and Monday were religious holidays with the Jews. Yesterday was the most solemn day of the feast, and the people remained about the synagogue during the entire day.

 Easter may not have been a brilliant success so far as being a day for millinery display, but speaking of ham and eggs—just ask any kid what he thought of it!
 Reports of the "egg fight" say that when someone shouted "He'll get you, Johnson" at the ex-champion, Johnson replied "I'll bet you $1,000 he doesn't." The bet was not taken. Thus the dollar makes cowards of us all!
 The Distinction.
 Know the difference between a special policeman and a policeman's special? Well, if you're reading the police reports lately you must have an idea of what a special policeman is. While a policeman's special is a "Mutt and Jeff."
 And if you don't happen to be sure as to what a special policeman is, just ask some of the older men who left the force. But, of course, remember that that's only their opinion.
 What They Fling at The "Man in The Street."
 Don't you ever try to write something funny?
 "Well, what's the matter—won't the boss let it go in?"
 "I heard a good one the other day. I intended to tell you, but I've forgotten it now."
 Called from "classified column":—"To let—No. 18 Orange Rear House." Might more properly have been placed in the horticultural notes.
 Scientific note says that "Italian scientist after careful investigation has discovered that when dogs wag their tails it is usually for purpose of conversation." Pity the poor dog whose tail's been cut in his youth! He must have an impediment in his speech.
 Local hatters' ad. tells of "new shapes in hard and soft hats," even though there was no Easter parade.
 Don't kick; we have to have a little rain once in a while.
 Board of Trade talks of abolishing the smoke nuisance; perhaps they had not read the bulletins telling that one Mr. Willard had already attended to that job.
 The manufacture of shrapnel shells in the exhibition machinery hall will furnish an exhibition of local industry and patriotism rivaling in interest any exhibit the building ever contained.
 Germany is almost as busy making excuses as waging war these days.
 Just think of the thrills that will be accumulated by the end of the war if the prohibition movement carries.
 For one day at least a prize fighter was a bigger news feature than the whole European war.
 Funny, isn't it, that the Balkan states are about the only peaceful spot in Europe?
 Some way or other the provincial government manages to convey the impression that they are not altogether proud of the way in which Premier Fleming handled the Berry-Brankley transaction.
 Judging from the way the Conservative government purchased war supplies, one might almost believe they had been the expert adviser of the expenditure of New Brunswick on how to manage little matters of that kind.
 No one questions the right of a live citizen to express his views on any public matter, but the signature of a dead man on a petition is at least open to question.
 The Standard says that if all the civic departments were as well administered as that of Commissioner Wignore, "there would be less dissatisfaction with the present system of city government."
 Well, why aren't they? Evidently it is not the fault of the system, or Commissioner Wignore could not succeed.
 Do you know your Nietzsche?
 There is a rumor that the Nietzsche controversy may result in a revival of the Lancaster Argus, under new auspices.

MONEY MIGHT GO TO GOVERNMENT
 Interesting Situation in Regard to Col. Tucker's Will QUARTER MILLION AT STAKE
 That Portion Which Was Devised to Niece Who Can Not Be Found—Address Given is That of Insurance Office—Wait a Year For Developments
 Owing to the amount of money, a quarter of a million dollars, at stake the situation arising in connection with the difficulty experienced in locating one of the heirs under the will of the late Colonel J. J. Tucker, as noted in the Times, is of unusual interest.
 One half of the estate was left to his niece, Miss Caroline Tucker of England, and this portion, after the payment of various bequests, amounts to more than $250,000. In the probate court this week was revealed the fact that the most diligent inquiries had failed to uncover any trace of this lady. The address left by Col. Tucker was found to be that of an insurance office in London. No one connected with the office knew why the office should have been given as her address. Other inquiries also failed.
 According to the law a year from the death of the testator is allowed for the discovery of an heir and if no claim is made within that period it is taken for granted that none will be made. In that case, if it could be shown that Miss Tucker had died during the life of the testator, he would be regarded as having died intestate with regard to that portion of his estate.
 In that case the amount in question would go to the next of kin, if any could be discovered. It is believed that Colonel Tucker had some relatives in Australia but information concerning them is very vague. If Miss Tucker is not found an effort will be made to locate the other heirs in Australia.
 Failing the discovery of any heirs the residue of the estate would go to the government as in this case the provincial government would benefit to the extent of the quarter of million dollars.
 Mrs. O'Dell was a niece and sister of Colonel Tucker but this was in error. Mrs. O'Dell is a sister of the late Mr. Weldon, Colonel Tucker's sister, and is believed by the Colonel to do not rank with the next of kin.

A NEW CEMETERY BEYOND FERNHILL
 Formation of Company to Establish One on McDonald Property—Also Extension of Cedar Hill
 Application is being made to the provincial government for the incorporation of the Pine Valley Cemetery Company. The applicants are H. Colby Smith, Frank L. Potts, Luther B. Smith, F. Herbert News, M.D., and George A. Clark, and these are named as provisional directors, with G. Earle Logan as solicitor for the company. The capital stock is $40,000, and the head office will be in the Parish of Simonds.
 The company seeks authority to purchase a property of forty-five acres fronting on the old Westmorland road, beyond Fernhill, known as the McDonald property, formerly occupied by John Boyle, and bounded by the lands of Francis Giles, James Mullin and Lawrence Donnan, and to establish and maintain there a public cemetery.
 Application is being made also by the Cedar Hill Cemetery Company for authority to extend their property by purchasing from John Connor sixteen acres adjoining the present cemetery limits.
 The Cedar Hill Cemetery Bill will be considered by the corporations committee at Fredericton on Friday.

SAYS PICTURES OF THE FIGHT ARE BARRED
 United States Statute Prevents—Tonight's Battle in New York
 Washington, April 7.—Persons who had hoped to see the Willard-Johnson fight in motion pictures will be disappointed. A federal statute expressly forbids not only the interstate transportation of fight films, but the importation of such films from foreign countries. It provides a fine of $1,000 and imprisonment for one year, or both, for each offence.
 New York, April 7.—The privilege of becoming logical challenger for the world's heavyweight championship, was considered by local sporting men to be the big state of a ten round bout between Jim Coffey the Dublin Giant, and Carl Morris, of Salspula, Oika, here tonight.
 In size Morris more nearly measures up to Willard, than any other man in the ring today, as he is six feet four inches in height and weighs 235. Coffey stands six feet three and weighs 200.
 New York, April 7.—Sam Langford and Battling Jim Johnson, "black hopes," puffed and blowed through ten rounds to a draw last night. It was an exhibition of fat men instead of trained pugilists. They were tired at the end and neither suffered much from the blows of the other.
 HOME, RESTORED TO HEALTH
 W. Frank Hatheway, who has spent two months or so in the West Indies for the benefit of his health, returned on the steamer Chaudiere which docked last evening. One week in the south was sufficient to restore his health and he was able to enjoy the balance of his visit thoroughly. Mr. Hatheway spent a fortnight in Bermuda, another in Barbados and several days each in St. Lucia, Martinique and Dominica. During his stay among the islands he accumulated much valuable information on trade matters.
