Says Nova Scotia Not Geographically Favored in Export Trade

HALIFAX, July 28—

That he would produce evidence to show that the only official explanation ever given for the wiping out of the differential westbound rates in 1912 was that the action was taken at the instance of Ontario and western shippers...

OCEAN FREIGHT MATTER

Asked by the chairman if Nova Scotia was not geographically favored in relation to sea-borne commerce, Mr. Cornell replied in the negative, stating that Nova Scotia shippers were compelled to compete with the people of Ontario, who were in a position to ship in both directions from the point of production.

CASE IS CITED

In 1925, on fifth class traffic, the classification in which stores were included, the arbitrary over Montreal for shipment, Sackville to Winnipeg, was 11 cents per 100 pounds. That was explained, that if the Montreal rate was $1, the Sackville rate was $1.11. In 1917 this rate was advanced to 15 cents. In 1918 it was advanced to 17 1/2 cents. In 1920 to 24 1/2 cents. In 1921 it was reduced to 22 cents, and in 1922 to 14 cents.

MORE ARRESTS MADE IN POISON LIQUOR CASE

Net Tightens on Those Responsible for Many Deaths

TOLL REACHES 37

Ontario Investigation to Start Tonight; Autopsies Performed on Bodies

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 28—Federal agents and police early today made six more arrests in the Niagara frontier poison liquor case, the death toll in which now stands at 37. The action followed the statement of authorities that James C. Voelker, alleged leader of the distribution gang, stood ready to make a full confession, naming those higher up in the wood alcohol traffic.

Those arrested included Carl Voelker, father of the man held to answer a charge of first degree murder. The elder Voelker is held on a manslaughter charge. Of the other prisoners, four are Buffalo moonshine makers and handlers, and one fifth a drinkwater owner, who is accused of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act.

ROY OAKLEY, 28, was taken from an apartment house in Lockport at midnight, unconscious and suffering from alcohol poisoning. At the city hospital it was said he had a chance of recovering.

SITUATION IN ONTARIO

TORONTO, Ont., July 28—Developments in connection with the war of alcohol poisoning which has swept Ontario and New York state, may be expected almost immediately, following the arrest of Y. A. S. Williams, Commissioner of the Provincial Police. The chain of evidence is tightening around the individuals responsible for the deaths in the last few days of no less than 17 Ontarians in Hamilton.

BUFFALO ARREST

The arrest in Buffalo, N. Y., of James C. Voelker, who faces a charge of first degree murder, as an alleged distributor of large scale, is regarded as very important.

A thorough investigation into the deaths of William Hayes, Oakville, and Mrs. Oliver Guertin, Toronto, two of the victims, who died here, will open tonight at the morgue and will be adjourned until such time as complete reports of the autopsies performed on the bodies, are available.

Kitchener has also been drawn into the investigation by a visit made there by provincial officers. It is estimated that clues picked up in that city, and statements made by Dangelo, now in Hamilton jail, would point to the possibility of Canadian manufacture.

PROGRESSIVES NOT SEEKING FUSION

Drury Declares They Should Join With Liberals in Election, However

ST. MARY'S, Ont., July 28—"I emphasize strongly that the Progressives party wants neither coalition nor absorption with the Liberals, but we should stand united in this election because we are opposed to special privilege and unconstitutional short cuts to power," declared former Premier E. C. Drury, at a meeting here last night in the interests of the provincial Progressive candidate for South Perth, W. A. McKenzie.

Mr. Drury declared that a self-sufficient, morbid and reactionary Toryism threatened to destroy those things which Canada held dear.

Mr. Drury praised the Robb budget as the best in years, with motor car production increasing since the Robb tariff went into effect.

Beaverbrook Blames Failure of White Star Sale on Return Too Soon To Gold Standard

LONDON, July 28—Lord Beaverbrook called today on the White Star liner Majestic for Canada via New York. In a long article printed over his signature in the Daily Express on the eve of his departure, he declared the failure of the recent proposal for the purchase of the White Star line by British shipping industries was due entirely to the British fiscal policy of maintaining the gold standard. He intimated that the proposal to transfer 25,000,000 from Britain to the United States for the purchase of this line was opposed by the British financial authorities on the ground that it would depress the value of the pound in New York and hamper the present exchange conditions. He also argued that the coal strike is a direct result of the too early return to the gold standard, as this raised the cost of selling coal in foreign countries so that the cost of production at home had to be lowered in order to keep up the possibility of competition in the world market.

SAINT JOHN INDUSTRY

The business of the Atlantic Sugar Refinery in the export trade was the biggest argument for the appointment of an industrial commission to encourage industries for Saint John. It was said this morning by Commissioner Bullock. Not only did the refinery employ a large number of hands, but it was added to the port receipts by the number of ships brought here to carry the raw sugar and take away the finished product. In addition to this each of the ships spent more or less money in the city for provisions and coal, while the members of the crew also patronized the local merchants.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JULY 28, 1926.

TAXES

It is good to hear from the President of the Retail Merchants' Association that that body of interested and representative citizens—interested in that their prosperity is intimately bound up with that of Saint John and representative in the same sense that under the comprehensive title of retail merchant is included the entire range from president of a multi-department corporation to the man who owns a little corner store—that this body is determined to press for settlement of that phase of the civic taxation question which is its most intimate concern, the installment plan. The firm, yet unaggressive, tenor of Mr. David Magee's conversation yesterday with a representative of The Times-Star must have impressed all with the purpose and determination underlying the actual words.

Mr. Magee is not directing an agitation against the civic assessment Act as a legal instrument, nor against City Hall as the seat of municipal government. He abhors the nostrums of the radical reformer. He and his associates are ready to co-operate and to aid any real effort to put the whole matter of taxation on a basis more acceptable to the taxpayers who are the city. As Mr. Magee rightly says there is no hard and fast rule in these matters and again he is correct when he says: "Cities must keep pace with the times, especially with the money conditions that dominate commerce and the private purse. It is sheer stubbornness and short-sightedness to argue otherwise."

The idea of enlisting the co-operation of the Board of Trade should be fruitful of good. All citizen bodies, as suggested, join in the movement which is growing daily in popularity. Nobody wishes to embarrass the man at the helm, nobody imagines ill in any concerned with civic administration, or executive duties. Yet none is satisfied. All are convinced that things are susceptible of betterment and demand that steps be taken according to the usual practice in modern business to discover what is wrong and to examine plans devised to put things right. Enquiry by experts, complete overhaul of all systems and methods are the urgent duties of those who pay the piper and cling to the privilege of calling the tune.

But, let it be inferred that City Hall is behindhand in giving effect to popular desires, let us turn to the activities of His Worship the Mayor. We know that he is doing an investigation and intends to issue a manifesto shortly. Various forecasts have been made, but it is necessary to await His Worship's pronouncement before attempting comment. One line of enquiry is, however, apparent from the fact that next Monday is fixed for a joint conference of City Council, School Trustees and Vocational Committee.

The terms of which announcement of this conference was made will be pleasing to a very large number of taxpayers. In a previous article on the subject of taxes, this newspaper showed by actual figures by what a small proportion of voters the decision to proceed with the Vocational School was effected. Whatever was the true sentiment in 1924 there is now beyond question a strong feeling of opposition to the expensive scale on which the vocational enterprise is being carried on. This may be the result of fuller realization of the cost or possibly of a new conception widely apparent and recently voiced in Chicago where the inordinate extension of technical training has been roundly denounced.

The expenses of the Vocational School as such have only just commenced and there is yet time to divert the use of the building on Douglas Avenue, or a portion of it, to other ends. Ten and one-half cents per $100 was added to our taxes for the Vocational School this year and it is unlikely—nay, impossible—that it will end there. Very rightly the Mayor scouts entire abandonment of the principle of vocational education, but there are means whereby it can be conducted in less ambitious fashion and yet supply all reasonable needs, while part of the building can be used for other purposes and in this manner future constructional outlay for other school buildings may be obviated, an expense which in the nature of things would have had to be faced when existing school accommodation became restricted. As Mr. Magee says, we must keep pace with the times.

The main thing is that the Mayor is hard at work for the good of the city, the Retail Merchants' Association is behind the Mayor ready to throw its weight into any and every effort for civic betterment, and the whole tax-paying community is agog with interest to watch, urge, applaud or, if necessary, condemn. That is how it should be. In that way Saint John may in due course obtain the best of administration on the most economical terms.

WHY NOT SPEED UP?

Hon. Mr. Dunning's facetious (?) remark to the effect that birth, marriage, free rides on the Government Railway and death are the high spots in the lives of the people of the Maritimes is especially appreciated by the patrons of the Valley Railway.

What is now known as the "funeral train" to distinguish it from what is called "the bug" (which is electrically driven down one day and up the next), arrives in Saint John every Monday morning at any old o'clock that may happen to strike when it gets here.

This Monday morning train is supposed to serve the need of people who go along the Reach for the week-end, and is due in the city shortly after eight o'clock. Last Monday morning it arrived at half-past nine. The passengers in ample time at Westfield to pluck dahlias, buttercups, clover blossoms and ferns and prepare a large funeral wreath which they hung on the end of the last car. It was taken aboard by a train-man at Westfield—there is an abundance of wild-flowers all along the line, and the Monday morning passengers have a profound reverence for the dead. If the next wreath is removed they say they will prefer a charge of vandalism against the trainman who lays sacrilegious hands upon their "tribute of esteem."

One patron of the line said today that hereafter the Monday morning passengers would buy tickets to Westfield, and if rigor mortis assailed the train they would hop on the C. P. R. suburban and reach town in time for business.

DOGS THAT KILL

The Victoria Daily Colonist records the killing by two dogs in one night of 500 pullets valued at two dollars each. Twelve hundred dollars' worth of damage is a pretty serious matter and draws attention to the presence of numbers of ill-trained dogs in all cities and all parts of the country.

There is no more devoted dumb friend, no more perfect companion than a dog. The average man will feel more genuine grief over the death of a dog than over that of any other animal. There is no less obnoxious beast than a well-trained dog, but the badly brought-up dog is a nuisance to all. The ordinary training of a dog is not difficult although it demands time and patience during puppyhood. If a dog owner is not prepared to give this to his dog, he is not fit to be entrusted with one.

It must be granted that a dog, ordinarily well trained, may suddenly develop traits of ill-behavior along unexpected lines and this is especially true if a dog find himself in strange surroundings. But a little forethought and common sense on the part of the dog's master should eliminate most chances of occurrences such as the Colonist records and, in the majority of cases, the sins of dogs that kill sheep and poultry may be laid to the door of the man who has failed to discipline his dog.

And incidentally the same line of argument might be followed to indict parents who neglect to bring up their children in the way they should.

Let us hope that the Common Council will press for exemplary punishment of those found destroying or damaging flowers and shrubs in the city squares. It is difficult enough to beautify a city and the Saint John municipality has achieved most satisfactory results in rendering our open spaces restful and attractive. The vast majority of citizens appreciate this to the full and if there be those so dead to decency that they must indulge in puerile talents might be found for them breaking stone in a jail yard.

There is nothing in life, but the joy of the minute,
There is nothing in love, that we do not put in it.
There is nothing an happen unless we begin it,
There is nothing worth winning, but what we can win it!
There is nothing so sad as to set us a-sighing,
There is nothing we'd do that is not worth the trying,
There is never a danger too great for the beauty of earth, it is folly denying!
There is never a sorrow should cause us weeping,
For sorrows were made for the spirit's refining,
So, turn all your clouds inside out till Of silver shall rival the sun in its shining.
If you think that too long you have waited and striven,
Then remember you've gotten as much as you've given.
In the loaf of your burden just look for God's in the World—and the World is His Heaven.

MODERN METHODS BRING PROSPERITY TO MEXICAN FARMERS

By GENERAL JOSE FIGUEROA
Chief of the Department of Agrarian Industry, in an interview.
THE most important agricultural problem that Mexico has to solve is about to come to a satisfactory solution. With the division of the great estates the land problem was solved, but there remain the questions of modern agricultural instruction and of agrarian credits. In order to handle the question of agrarian credits, formed at the beginning of the present year a special bureau, and at present the first dam and construction work will eventually store up a large quantity of water for the irrigation of a large section of the country, the Mexican corn belt in the State of Michoacan. Through the first step by the government in general, the Ministry of Agriculture in particular there will be benefited a great number of small farmers who have been entirely dependent for their harvests upon the rains, which frequently were rare.

In the field of agricultural instruction the government is giving preference to those who have received, and, and is teaching them the most modern methods of cultivation, the use of agricultural machinery, the selection of seeds, and control of the pests that attack all kinds of crops and animals.

Regarding the question of agrarian credits, this year there was founded the Agricultural Finance Bureau, which fills a gap in the agricultural industry and which has begun to do business with a great number of farmers. In this way Mexico will establish its own colonies and will give work to a great number of laborers who formerly emigrated to work in the southern part of the United States, especially on the cotton plantations. The importation of agricultural products is diminishing year by year and the exportation of other agricultural products is increasing. The country is an excellent field for the sale of agricultural machinery, trucks, seeds, birds and animals of the various domestic species. This was proved by the sale of an entire lot of registered cattle sent to Mexico by the Republic of Argentina, which, according to my information, will soon send a better and larger number of cattle to the coming live stock exposition, which will be held in December. This sale brought in more than 50,000 pesos.

Other articles the importation of which is increasing in Mexico are fruits, and also insecticides, fungicides, serums and vaccines.

GENTLEMEN BUTTERFLIES PREFER BLONDES

These female butterflies, although of different markings, are sisters. By AUSTIN H. CLARK
A CHOICE of blonds or brunets as wives is open to the males of quite a number of different butterflies. One of our very common butterflies almost everywhere is the black and yellow swallow-tail. The males are always black and yellow, and in the north the females, too, are always black and yellow. But in the south there are two quite different kinds of females, one black and yellow like the male, the other sooty black with a border of small yellow spots and a blue dusting on the hind wings.

CANADA HOUSE

(Country Life, London.)
In the Canadian House of Commons complaints were made recently of the expenses incurred over Canada house, in Trafalgar square. The furnishings were stated to be extravagant, and the site to have cost too much, when other cheaper sites were available. We feel sure that the protests were only tactical. All Canadians who have seen the charming and dignified building into which Mr. Septimus Warwick converted the old Union Club premises must surely feel that it is only worthy their great Dominion. Even if the leasehold did cost a million dollars and the furnishings $531,000, the money could not have been better spent, or a more suitable site in the national "place" have been found. We Londoners are grateful for this noble addition to our city, and heartily think of Canada more often and as a greater nation whenever we pass it.

NOVA SCOTIA SEEKS 19 MEMBERS IN COMMONS INSTEAD OF 14

Demand For Former Representation Made At Maritime Probe

HALIFAX, N. S., July 27—Increased representation in the Dominion House of Commons and adequate protection for Nova Scotia's two basic industries of coal and steel were this afternoon urged before the Royal Commission headed by Sir Andrew Rae Duncan, investigating the condition of the Maritime Provinces growing out of their partnership in the Dominion of Canada.

Lieut.-Col. E. C. Phinney, acting on behalf of the province, contended that Nova Scotia's original representation of 19 members as compared with her present representation of 14, should be restored, and made irreducible, and H. P. Duchemin, K. C., of Sydney, also appearing on behalf of the province, stressed the need for an increased tariff on steel and a national fuel policy in the solution of the problems facing the steel and coal industries.

Col. Phinney concluded his introduction of the freight rates case and tomorrow the first witness will be called in the person of F. C. Cornish, the freight rate expert employed by the Maritime Provinces.

OTTAWA REPRESENTATION.—Elaborating his argument with respect to Nova Scotia's representation at Ottawa, Col. Phinney contended that it was not contemplated at the time of Confederation that the strength of the province's representation would ever fall below 19.

The chairman—"But the province took precisely that chance," Col. Phinney—"Yes, of course." Continuing, Col. Phinney argued that since Nova Scotia had contributed so generously to the building up of the West, it seemed most unfair that her representation should fall as a result of the growth of the newer provinces.

CHAIRMAN'S INQUIRY.—The chairman inquired in what way Nova Scotia had contributed to the development of the west, apart from sharing in the responsibility assumed with the purchase of western lands which she pointed out was acquired with borrowed money, guaranteed by the British government.

Col. Phinney replied that Nova Scotians had invested freely in western enterprises, that the province had borne its full share of the cost of the railway, and that she had helped very materially to people the western provinces.

DEPENDS ON QUEBEC.—The chairman pointed out that after all the west had nothing whatever to do with Nova Scotia's representation at Ottawa. That depended upon the population of Quebec. The growth of the west might make it true, for a lesser representation from Nova Scotia in a larger Federal House, but in any event it was conceivable that a stronger voice in the councils of the nation might accompany a smaller representation.

Continuing, Col. Phinney argued that quite apart from the merits of the claim that Nova Scotia's representation should be restored to its original strength, the province at present was certainly entitled to a representation of 15 instead of 14. Amplifying this contention, he said: "A statement from the Dominion statistician shows there were 15,674 people in the area added to Quebec in 1925. These should not have been counted in determining the unit of representation. Excluding them, the unit becomes not 36,283 as used, but 36,073. This figure, entered into the population of Nova Scotia, 1921, gives 14 and a fractional part exceeding one-half of the whole united number by REMEDIES TOLD.—As to remedies he said: "The remedies suggested to re-establish the steel industry on a strong and enduring basis contemplates no change in the fiscal policy of Canada. All that is asked is that the accepted principle of the national policy of protection to Canadian industries be extended frankly and intelligently to this basic Nova Scotia industry. The tariff should be raised to such a point as to cover some geographical handicaps and transportation difficulties which now prevent this industry from competing on equal terms with rivals in the markets of central Canada. An alternative proposal would be the renewal of the bounty system which was discontinued in 1911, and which might be applied on the basis of the amount of Nova Scotia coal consumed in the production of steel. Under this latter plan both the steel and coal industries would receive direct encouragement. At present the steel industries of Ontario, which import their fuel from the United States, are bonus to the extent of 49 cents on every ton of coal they consume. The principal, therefore, is one which has already been recognized and adopted by the Federal government.

As regards coal, Mr. Duchemin pointed out that the suggestions of Nova Scotia's Minister of Mines, Hon. G. S. Harrington, had in the main been adopted by the fuel committee which recently submitted recommendations for the development of a national fuel policy and it could be regarded, therefore, he thought, that the case for Nova Scotia in respect to coal had been established to the satisfaction of the Federal authorities.

That the principle used in the Crown's Next Pass agreement schedule should be applied in fixing westbound freight rates on the basic products of the Maritime Provinces; that a general differential should be set up covering all westbound traffic on the basis of a complete blanket on all Maritime points based on a Saint John-Montreal rate equal to the Toronto-Montreal rate; that the arbitraries existing prior to 1914 should be restored, were among the contentions urged by Lieut. Colonel E. C. Phinney today in presenting the freight rates case before the royal commission, investigating the situation of the Maritime Provinces.

Other points stressed were that, for the purpose of fixing rates, operating costs of the additional 250 miles built into the intercolonial as a result of military considerations be disregarded, that local rates be fixed at Moncton and all tariffs issued from Moncton, that certain charges now made against the Atlantic region be assessed against the Canadian National System as a whole and in general that the Intercolonial and the National Railway System be operated on "the basis promised at Confederation" permitting a free interchange of products between the Central and the Maritime Provinces, due regard being had for the geographical handicaps under which Eastern Canada labors.

Proceeding Colonel Phinney charged that Canadian National officials instead of seeing that freight, not otherwise specified as to routing, be routed through Canadian ports as required by statute, persistently endeavored to secure Canadian business for American ports on account of the shorter rail haul and assured the chairman he would endeavor to produce witnesses to substantiate this charge.

BALL PLAYER IS FATALLY HURT IN LOCAL GAME

Welleley Price Dies in Ambulance After Being Hit by Pitched Ball

Welleley Price, aged 19, son of Mrs. J. L. Price, of 205 Metcalf street, died in the ambulance last evening while on the way to the hospital, after he had been struck by a pitched ball in a game on the South End grounds between the Saint John Baptist and National teams.

Welleley Price, who is better known to his immediate friends as "Eldon," was considered a good ball player and had only been graduated from the junior ranks last evening when he started as a senior and was playing his first game with the Nationals. At the beginning of the second inning, Price came to bat, "Tack" Dalton being pitcher. The first ball went wide. The second was coming close to the batter's body and he bent to prevent it striking his stomach. As he did so the ball curved inward and struck him over the heart. He dropped his bat and started to run to first, as a better struck by a pitched ball is entitled to do.

LAI D ON FIELD.—As he was running along the base line, Pitcher Dalton ran to him and enquired if he had hurt him. Price staggered and was supported by Dalton. He was gently laid on the ball field while Benson Robinson a specialist and others rendered first aid.

The young ball player's face was discolored but after a few minutes he first aid was proceeding a hurry call was telephoned for the ambulance, which quickly responded as well as an automobile containing detectives Biddiscombe, Saunders and Kilpatrick. Young Price was still unconscious, and although a telephone message had been sent in for a doctor, it was decided to convey the injured player immediately to the General Public Hospital. Detective Saunders with Noel Rockwell accompanied Price in the ambulance, which started away from the ball grounds at a rapid rate of speed. Detective Saunders says that he felt Price's pulse on the journey, and when the ambulance reached the corner of Sydney and Metcalf streets the pulse ceased to beat. On arrival at the hospital a doctor pronounced Price dead.

LEARN SAD NEWS.—When Detective Saunders left in the ambulance with the injured player, Detectives Biddiscombe and Kilpatrick motored to the young man's home on Metcalf street, notified Harry C. Price, his brother, and took the latter to the hospital where he first learned that Welleley was dead.

Detective Biddiscombe got in communication with Coroner Dr. F. L. Kenney, West Saint John, who after learning all particulars regarding the unfortunate accident, decided that an inquest would be unnecessary and gave permission to Undertaker Brennan to take charge of the body.

Mrs. L. J. Price, with her daughter, Dolores Price, sitting at Havelock street, were expected home today. Welleley L. Price was employed with Vassie and Co., Ltd., wholesale dry goods, 16-20 King street, where he was highly esteemed by his employers and fellow workers. He was also a great favorite with a large circle of friends and companions in the city, and great sympathy is extended to his sorrowing mother and family.

In addition to his mother, the young man leaves two brothers, Harry C. Price, a shipping clerk with the Canadian Oil, Ltd., and E. W. Price, of Lexington, Mass.; also three sisters, Miss Dorothy, at home, Mrs. Frank Holmes and Mrs. Fred W. Brown, of this city.

It is expected that the body will be taken to Havelock on Thursday for interment.

J. C. Chesley, president of the South End Senior League, announced last night that there would be no further league games of ball on the South End grounds pending action by the executive following the fatal accident.

COMES HERE FROM TOWN OF YARMOUTH.—YARMOUTH, July 27—A. R. Baxter, for some years assistant agent at the Dominion Express Co's office here, has resigned and left this morning for Saint John. During his stay in Yarmouth, Mr. Baxter became very popular in amateur theatricals. His departure from Yarmouth is generally regretted.

BOOSTS EXHIBITION.—In his address at the weekly luncheon of the Gyo Club yesterday H. A. Porter, secretary of the Saint John Exhibition, pointed out the benefits which the exhibition brought to the city. He made a strong appeal for the members and the citizens generally to give their full support to the fair.

HOME AFTER CAMP.

Miss Irene Barber returned to the city last evening after taking charge of the ten-day summer camp of the last Lunenburg Company Girl Guides, held at Martin's Brook, two miles from Lunenburg. There were 28 in attendance, and the camp was reported to have been highly successful. Badges were won by the campers for proficiency in athletics, cooking, nursing and basketry. Mrs. Norman Zwicker, commissioner, formerly Miss McKel, of Saint John, visited the camp on field day. Rowing and swimming were also enjoyed during the camping days. Miss Barber remained after the camp closed. She was a guest of Mrs. Oxler. She thoroughly enjoyed the camp and received special appreciation from the Guides in presentations.

Modern Divorce Laws Really Mean That We Can Be Freed From Our Matrimonial Jobs for Inefficiency, There Won't Be So Many Grouchy Husbands and Slovenly Wives in the Near Future.

MORALISTS see a great menace to society in the ease with which a divorce may be obtained in these days when almost any old excuse is good for a decree absolute, but I often wonder if, in the end, this will not work for the upbuilding rather than the tearing down of the institution of matrimony.

DOROTHY DIX

THIS is vividly illustrated in the slump that takes place in most couples as soon as they are married. In the days of courtship they dressed up for each other and made themselves as physically attractive as they could. The man would never have thought of such a thing as going to see his sweetheart with a three-day stubble of beard on his face and wearing a soiled collar.

Nothing could have induced the girl to have appeared before her lover in a frothy, soiled apron and without her complexion on. The man spent most of his time telling the girl how beautiful and wonderful she was and how he adored her, and the girl reciprocated by making the man believe that she considered him the sheik of sheiks and the concentration of all the charms and fascinations of his sex.

The tradition that marriage is permanent and until-death-does-us-part prevails in spite of the fact that six marriages out of ten end in divorce, and this makes men and women subconsciously feel that they do not have to go to any particular trouble to please those who are bound to them for life and who cannot escape them.

Each was putting the best foot foremost and trying to be as pleasant and agreeable as possible for fear some deadly rival might snatch the other from him, or her.

BUT marriage changed all of that. The man feels that he couldn't lose his wife, no matter if he tried, so there isn't any need to exert himself to entertain her, or spend any money amusing her, or even any necessity in being polite and civil to her.

And the wife has the same reaction toward her husband. She feels that she has got him for keeps, so why bother about doling up for him or jolly-ing him along or pulling any vamp stuff?

In consequence whereof we daily see men treat their wives as they would not dream of treating their stenographers or their clerks or their cooks, or any woman in their employ who could give notice and quit. And we see wives cast away before their husbands the last shred of their seven veils of allure and show themselves so repulsive in mind and body that any man would be justified in fleeing from them.

EVERY day we see husbands who are grouchy and surly, who never speak to their wives except to knock them for some fault, and who are just about as pleasant to be around the house as a sore-headed bear would be. And we see wives who are peevish and fretful and nagging and complaining, and who make their husbands' lives a burden to them.

Eventually we see the households in which these disagreeable husbands and wives reside broken up. The wife whose husband brow-beat and bullied her gets up and leaves him. The wife whose husband starved her for love finds some other man who will give it to her. The nagging wife drives her husband to another woman.

Now the great majority of men and women are not enamored of divorce. They do not set out deliberately to alienate their husbands and wives' affection for them. They don't want their homes broken up. They don't want to be separated from their children. Divorce is always a messy affair, and it hurts a man's business and a woman's social standing.

THE man who is brutal and insulting in his attitude toward his wife doesn't treat her that way because he is trying to force her to leave him. He treats her that way because he thinks he can indulge his tempers at home and get away with it.

He believes that because she is married to him she has to stand whatever treatment he accords her.

EVEN while he is abusing his wife the man may have a very keen appreciation of the super-excellent dinner he is eating and of what a fine manager his wife is. He may be inordinately vain and boastful of his children and nothing is farther from his desire than to want to have his home broken up.

And the lazy, shiftless woman who never gives her husband a decent meal and who is a sloven and a slattern at home is not trying to throw away her meal-ticket and have to support herself. She is fully aware of the soft snap she has fallen into.

It is just that a bad husband and a bad wife feel that they don't have to make good on their jobs. They feel that they have got someone that nothing can take away from them. They feel that their husbands and wives will stick no matter how they treat them, and so they make no effort to be pleasant or agreeable. It's playing it pretty low, but plenty of people are like that.

SO PERHAPS good may come out of evil and the increase in divorce may rouse these matrimonial slackers to the knowledge that their marriages are going to last only during good behavior, and that if they have husbands and wives that they wish to keep they have got to accord them decent treatment.

Perhaps it will make men who have good wives show them as much consideration and treat them as fairly as they do their crack-brain private secretaries. Perhaps it will make women who are married to good providers try as hard to keep on the blind side of their husbands as they do of their bosses when they have good situations.

SO, AFTER all, divorce itself may stabilize marriage.

Vivid Colors Still Blaze In Sartorial Circles

By MME LISBETH

VIVID color continues to play a prominent part in sartorial circles. In formal evening attire "sparkling clothes" add to the brilliance of many occasions. Beads, sequins and brilliants add glitter to the bright or delicate colors of the gowns.

Above are three "pooms of color" in formal frocks for the afternoon or evening. At left is a quaint frock for afternoon tea or bridge. The material is gray satin-back crepe with rich flowered embroidery. The sleeves are long and loose with bell cuffs. The skirt is simply gathered to the bodice section which has a surplice effect with vestee. A single touch of black is given by a bow at the waist.

A flower as large as the one posed at the waist of the black chiffon frock (centre) becomes a part of the dress itself. This huge flower is fashioned of chiffon like the frock. Silver lame constitutes the other trimming with the flower, and gives brightness to the costume. Silver slippers, of course, are worn with this dress.

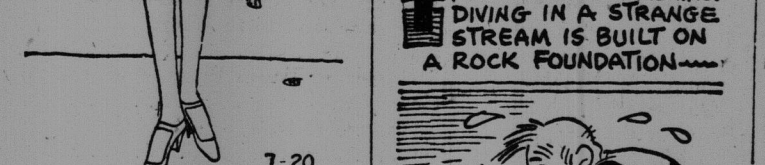

The third figure (right) wears a Persian frock which has been appropriately named "the gem." The waist is of fine crepe with triangular panel inlays of the same material and construction as the novel, fan-circular skirt. The skirt is of gold lace studied with rhinestones.

U-shaped necklines seem particularly favored for evening gowns, usually cut lower in the back than the front. No color dominates. There is a good deal of black, but nearly of it is jettied or embroidered in rhinestones. For the rest, the light colors and white form the majority, shades such as flesh or peach, that lend themselves to necre or crystal, or gold embroideries.

Speaking of embroideries, two dresses were noted recently that substituted silk for head embroideries. The smarter, of white crepe or satin, was covered with flat stitches of multi-colored silk, suggestive of a modernized and Gallicized version of a rich Chinese decoration.

Fashion Fancies.

THIS DANCE FROCK IS OF PINK AND ROSE AND CREAM

Chiffon is always a practical material for summer, and this little dance frock is durable as well as individual in style. The color is deep pink and rose on a cream ground, and the top is cut on bolero lines. The material of the waist extends into a deep end at one side, as does the skirt, and hangs in graceful folds well below the waist and hem lines.

This same style would make a charming afternoon frock if it had long light sleeves and a higher neckline.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELS

Old-fashioned flowers bring me again old-fashioned gardens all misted with rain; Sunny and fragrant, I see them tonight, old-fashioned gardens brim-full of delight! Down their broad pathways I walk as of old, path flecked with shadows and sunlight's pale gold. Gaily I journeyed past ivy and rose, back in a garden my memory knows, Out of the past comes no vision as sweet, ever, as gardens my glad fancy greet. Innocent childhood they bring me again, old-old-fashioned gardens all misted with rain; Old-fashioned flowers, I plant them today, out where the children will pass at their play. There I plant larkspur, forget-me-not, rue, so they may grow into memories too, so that these children who frolic and climb, some day may look back through vistas of time, so that the larkspur will bring them again old-fashioned gardens all misted with rain.

SEE-SAWING ON BROADWAY

SEE-SAWING up and down Broadway, I wandered in on several night clubs during the brief period while the 2 o'clock "curfew law" was in effect. And many were the amusing schemes by which the resorts managed to keep open until the peep of dawn. For verily Broadway "won't" go home until morning, whatever be the official rulings.

In one place, upon the stroke of two, the doors were closed and the musicians dismissed. Whereupon a quartet of soft-playing Hawaiians moved in. Through a peep-hole in the door could be seen the face of any new arrival. If he looked suspicious he was told there was "nothing doing." "Ah, but there are many people inside," he would suggest. "Merely diners who haven't finished their food," would come the reply. But were the visitor a familiar face the door opened and he was welcomed.

ANOTHER place issued "must-cards" of the night life and their friends, to be presented at the door after 8 o'clock. And, perchance, if a suspicious person arrived the doorman would glibly explain: "Ah, my friend, Mrs. Whattus is having a little private party for her friends. I regret—but it is strictly private. I cannot let you in."

There were quick arrangements with nearby cigar stands, delicatessen parlors and stores. The joy seeker would be led through the back of the store, through a dark back lot, around a pile of cans and garbage and finally up a back stair into the jazz sanctum. Suffice it—few places where the curfew tolled the knell of closing play.

NOTHING pleases Broadway more than the arrival of a "mysterious" spender. Particularly if the spender is unbelievably lavish and general in his distribution.

Just now the "inside circles" buzz with the name of a "big oil and gasman" from Texas, whose roll must indeed be large and awe-inspiring. On two consecutive Sundays he has taken the entire chorus and cast of one of the popular supper clubs to Atlantic City for a week-end "party" and, I am told, he has stood all costs from train fare to drinks. He has chosen to make his spurs without fanfare, and half of the gay white way is trying to guess which of the recent western arrivals he may be.

ALSO, I hear that, whatever the decision of the recent congress of dancing masters, the step which promises eventually to take the place of the Charleston will be "the messaround."

After all Broadway's verdict has more than a little to do with popular crazes in dance, music and drama.

Those interested in the "messaround" have been quietly getting their "stuffs" under way and Tom Delaney, the negro blues composer, has turned out the first of the "messaround" compositions, to be known as the "Louisiana Messaround" and backed by a leading publishing house.

The dance is slower in tempo than the Charleston, being done to music which is similar to the old "blues."

CONSERVATIVES NOMINATE M'LAUREN AND BELL

SAINT JOHN MEN ARE UNOPPOSED AT CONVENTION

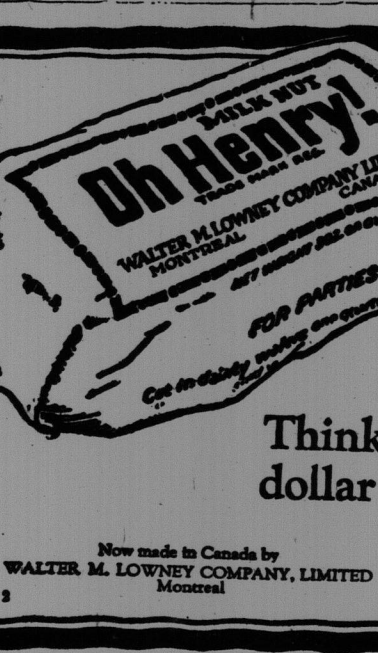

Address Gathering Here Last Evening at Seamen's Institute
MARITIME MATTERS FEATURE SPEECHES
Candidates, Premier Baxter and Others Address Party Members

DR. MURRAY M'LAUREN and THOMAS BELL, members for Saint John-Albert in the late Parliament, were, at a Conservative convention held at the Seamen's Mission last night, nominated to be standard bearers for Saint John-Albert in the coming Federal elections. The nomination was unanimous.

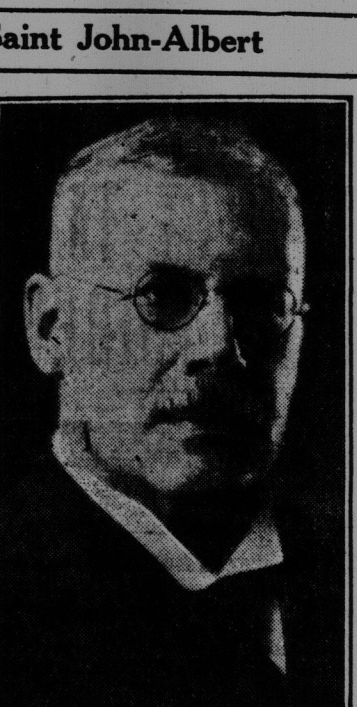

MEIGHEN ENDORSED.
When the names of Dr. M'Lauren and Mr. Bell were brought before the convention, Commissioner R. W. Wigmore moved that nominations cease. This motion was seconded and carried. Col. W. H. Harrison, M.L.A., for Saint John City, moved that the convention place on record its entire confidence in the leadership and policies of the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen.

Why you should choose LIFEBODY

Lifebody as a soap for every-day cleansing, bathing and shampooing is unequalled in efficiency because of the germ-killing elements released in Lifebody's mild, creamy lather it offers protective qualities that are priceless.

THOMAS BELL

DR. MURRAY M'LAUREN

Prime Minister of Canada, and more particularly that they approve the policy of honest administration of all departments of the government, of adequate protection of agricultural and manufacturing industries and of aiding the system of co-operative marketing of farm products.

BELL SPEAKS.
The convention further resolved, concluded Colonel Harrison, "that it is his conviction that the development of the Maritime Provinces by the recognition of Maritime Rights will be attained only when a Conservative government is placed in power." Colonel Harrison's motion was seconded and carried unanimously.

DR. M'LAUREN SPEAKS.
Dr. M'Lauren was the first speaker. He thanked the convention for the nomination and said that the unanimous selection of both Mr. Bell and himself was very encouraging. "It represents unanimity in the ranks of the Conservative party," Dr. M'Lauren said, "and if ever there was a time when unanimity could accomplish many things, it is now."

SITUATION AT OTTAWA.
Dr. M'Lauren reviewed briefly the situation at Ottawa immediately preceding the dissolution of the House. "We have had many questions to consider in the House during the past few years," Dr. M'Lauren continued, "and the Maritime representatives had to emphasize the Maritime aspect of these questions. When the Conservatives won the 29 seats in the Maritime Provinces last October we were given strength enough to present, thoroughly, Maritime problems to the House of Commons. It was the return of so large a majority of members in the Maritimes, who favored Maritime rights, that influenced the appointment of the Royal Commission. It was hoped that their investigations would do much to aid prosperity in the Maritimes."

IMPORTANCE OF INQUIRY.
"We cannot exaggerate the importance of port development and transportation through Canadian ports," Dr. M'Lauren continued. "How is Saint John to grow and prosper if not by the use of great and essential policy, port development and free flowing of exports from our port overseas. I believe that Meighen government, if elected, will do this for us. His government is the one that will give us Maritime Rights," the speaker said.

WELFARE POLICY.
"Premier Meighen has brought forward a policy that promises much for the welfare of Canada and the Maritime Provinces. He is very eager, by means of the tariff and protection, to enlarge the scope of agriculture throughout Canada. Encouragement to

Westmorland Liberals Will Selection Aug. 2

MONCTON, July 27.—The Liberals of Westmorland will hold a convention in Moncton on Monday next week for the purpose of nominating a candidate. Street rumor has it that the nomination will first be tendered to the former candidate, Hon. Dr. E. A. Smith of Shediac. In the event of his declining the honor, Hon. Fred Magee, of Port Elgin, will be first choice. Report says, however, that Mr. Magee is already stated positively that he will not consider it. Other names mentioned as possible candidates are: J. Goodwin and Ex-Sheriff Killam, of Moncton, and Sandy McQueen, of Shediac.

CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUE IS UP AGAIN

King Says Question Has Been Raised and Cannot be Evaded
SARNIA, Ont., July 27.—At his first western Ontario meeting here tonight, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King returned to the constitutional issue. The constitutional issue is not of my choosing, it has been created and it must be faced. You cannot evade it, you cannot escape it," he told his assembled audience.

REVENUE FORM CASE.
W. T. Goodson, former Liberal member for West Lambton and present member of the House of Commons, is in the execution of the three month sentence. The man had since served his sentence of three months in the execution of the three month sentence of a candidate bootlegger.

ELLIOTT SPEAKS.
Hon. J. C. Elliott, former minister of labor, emphasized the progress and prosperity of Canada since 1921 under the leadership of the Conservative administration.

SENATORS BLAMED.
The relationship between the government and the Senate is a complex one and above board but intrigue had set in and Conservative Senators were blamed for allowing the session to meet in caucus and threatening to delay certain measures.

WHY WOMEN AGE SO FAST
One often sees tell-tale signs of approaching age in women earlier than their years warrant them. Lines appear, the complexion is sallow, the hair is prematurely grey, the seat of life has gone. These are women who are subjected to headaches, backache, dragging down pain, irregularities, displacements, nervousness and despondency. A woman's health controls her looks, and if suffering from any of these ailments, why not restore health and apparent youth by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SEVERAL ARTICLES FOUND.
The police report finding the following articles: Two keys on a ring in Moncton street; brooch in Elm street; lady's gloves, King street; brooch in King street; child's slipper, in old burial grounds. The owners can produce the articles on application at police headquarters.

Dr. O. B. Price, ex-M.P. for Westmorland, was the next speaker at the evening. He expressed his regret that Premier Meighen had not been present. He classified the late Premier King's actions, when he refused dissolution, as those of a "school-boy in long pants."

UP TO MARITIMES.
"It is up to the Maritime Provinces to see that Premier Meighen has a working majority when September 14 is drawn to a close," Dr. Price continued. "Where will the Maritimes be if men such as Charles A. Dunning are chosen by the people? Down deeper than even where will the Maritime railways be if he is again made minister of that department?" Ruined," Dr. Price declared.

Used Car Column May Have One For You
"I used to like to go walking every Sunday—but it's no fun any more."
"You're right—it isn't. Just dodging automobiles all the time."
"I suppose the answer is, I ought to buy a car—but I'm buying a house now and have to count my pennies."
"Well—why don't you buy a used car? That won't cost you much. Last night I was reading the Used Car Column of THE Times-Star and there was a real bargain there, I can tell you."

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., July 27.—The 1926 Canadian track and field championships will be staged at the head of the Lakes this Saturday and next Monday will be the greatest of recent years.

Athletes from Saskatchewan in the west to the Maritime Provinces in the east have entered. The list of track and field men will be around the 100 mark.

Ontario has entered all the point winners of the recent championships. From Montreal will come the M. A. A. A. squad, nine in number, bent on retaining the team laurels gained at Halifax last year. McKechnery, 100 metre champion of the Dominion, will carry chief hopes in the sprints, backed by Carruthers and Matabone in the hurdles. Doherty in the middle distance runs, and a diet of classy weight men.

The Maritime Provinces are sending their all-around athlete, Phil MacDonald, of the Abbegweit Club, Charlottetown.

Hamilton will send a strong team, the largest in numbers. This city recently won all three places in the mile relay for the Ontario title so that they will be strong favorites for this event.

ROY MITCHELL TO FIGHT IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, July 28.—Roy Mitchell, Halifax light heavyweight, will make his first appearance in a Montreal ring against Ed. Keeley, Bridgeport heavyweight, at the Mount Royal Arena on August 4. The proposed bout with Mike McTigue is off, it was announced today, because the latter is not training in the hot weather. Admanad Monast is promoter.

"Mitchell will fight anybody," his manager, Frankie Burns, said here today.

DEMPSEY SAYS HE IS FIT FOR FIGHT

Champion Claims He is in Wonderful Shape Right Now

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., July 27.—Pride in his profession and his love for the "rings of the crowd" are the things urging Jack Dempsey, king of the heavyweights, back into the ring to risk his title and, incidentally, his revamped nose.

The heavyweight champion has chatted naively, like a boy in his "teens," with The Associated Press representative who has accompanied him on more than one occasion through the various phases of his preliminary training for the bout in which he will risk his crown next fall.

From the rubbing table to the breakfast table, from the gymnasium and along the dusty roads, Dempsey has spoken intimately and has "opened up," as perhaps he never has done since the day six years ago when he fell to Jess Willard in Toledo.

Keeping himself physically fit is a fetish with the champion. "I believe in keeping fit at all times," he explained. "That is my business and that is my philosophy of life just now. I never hold an opponent cheaply and because of that I train rigorously for a bout. The result is that I am in great shape right now. My life has been an open book, and I am in wonderful shape today—perhaps in better shape than at any previous time before a fight."

Dempsey believes that he is good for many years in the ring yet, and if he has any idea of abandoning his ring career after the next fight, win or lose, he hasn't revealed it. "I have my best fighting years ahead of me," he declared. "After that, well, I may devote myself to investments, with part of the year set aside for the outdoor sports I love so well."

Dempsey has no lack of confidence that he can enter the ring against any challenger on the horizon and leave it still wearing the crown. His declaration that he is "fit" is borne out by his appearance. Tanned and burned by wind

PERMISSION GIVEN FOR GOTHAM FIGHT

State Athletic Commission Lifts Can on Dempsey Scrap—Lid on in Chicago

NEW YORK, July 27.—The Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship match, pugilistic prodigy, headed back toward the old hometown, the Yankee Stadium, today, after previously being turned out of New York and attempting unsuccessfully to settle in Chicago.

The State Athletic Commission, stern father in the plea, reversed its former stand this afternoon and gave approval to the match by a vote of three to two made possible by an unexpected switch in sentiment by Commissioner George E. Brower. Unless there is a further hitch in the homecoming due to the still unrelenting of the license committee, the match will take place at the ball park on Thursday, September 16.

BANS CHICAGO FIGHT.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 28.—The Illinois Boxing Commission, silent while two promoters were busily arranging for Jack Dempsey's defence of his title in September, has said what remains of the controversy by announcing that there will be no heavyweight fight in Chicago under any manager.

The commission believes that heavy-weight fights do not fit into the boxing picture in Illinois, that ten dollars is enough to pay for any kind of a fight, and that fifteen dollars is the absolute top. When the Dempsey negotiations were in progress here a fifty-dollar top was talked of.

NEW YORK BOXING AUTHORITIES CLASH

State Athletic Commission and License Commission at Odds Over Dempsey Fight

NEW YORK, July 28.—As a semi-final to the 16-round heavyweight championship battle between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney at the Yankee Stadium, September 16, the State Athletic Commission and its license committee will clash.

This was decided upon yesterday when the commission approved the proposition of Tex Rickard's emissaries to bring the much-travelled contest back to New York from Chicago. There will be no referee for the semi-final and no limit has been set, but after it is all over, boxing observers believe that Dempsey and Tunney will be permitted to fight in peace.

Before the Dempsey-Tunney matter went before the commission yesterday, the license committee sent word to the commission that the commission should be consulted separately according to its findings, a situation hitherto unknown. Brower and Muldoon contend that the committee always has followed the commission's recommendations and always should.

Colonel John J. Phelan, chairman of the license committee, is known to favor, along with Chairman Farley, a bout between Dempsey and the negro, Harry Wills, and intimated yesterday that no license for the Dempsey-Tunney affair would be issued. Farley

For Skin Exposed To Sun or Flying Dirt

These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the beating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of Mergolized Wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition, the complexion beautifully white and spotless. Reddened, tanned, freckled or roughened cuticle is actually absorbed by it. One ounce of Mergolized Wax, obtainable at any drug store, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on overnight, and washed off in the morning. Greatest beautifier known.

MILLTOWN CASE ADJUDGED TO SEPTEMBER 23

Utilities Board Has Brief Session—Reference to Lee's Corner Matter

At the request of M. N. Cockburn, K.C., hearing in the application of the Calais Water and Power Co. for an increase in the rate charged for hydrants in the town of Milltown, set for tomorrow at St. Stephen, was postponed until Thursday, September 23, at St. Stephen, by the New Brunswick Board of Public Utilities, at a meeting here this morning.

Mr. Cockburn said that the main witness of the Calais Water and Power Company would be out of the province for some weeks and Gordon Nicholson, solicitor for the Town of Milltown and the Canadian Cottons Ltd., had agreed to an adjournment until this witness was available, which would be any time after September 13.

LEE'S CORNER MATTER The secretary of the board announced that he had been notified by Attorney-General Baxter that W. A. Foss had been retained to represent the Board of Public Utilities on the appeal of the New Brunswick Power Co. from the jurisdiction of the board in the application of residents of East Saint John for an extension of the street railway tracks to Lee's Corner.

AUTO REGULATIONS SUBJECT IN COURT

Interpretation of Phrase "Demonstrating Purposes" is Discussed in Dealer's Case

The words "demonstrating purposes," used in the Motor Vehicle Act, in connection with the issuing of dealers' tags to those desirous of selling cars, was the subject of some discussion in the Police Court this morning when the case of Struan Ritchie, charged with operating a car "under a dealer's license" for private purposes, was under consideration.

William M. Ryan, who appeared for Mr. Ritchie, said that the words "demonstrating purposes" had a very wide scope and carried an expansive, rather than a restrictive meaning. It would be a difficult matter to know where to draw the line.

R. G. McInerney, acting on behalf of the Public Works Department of the province, agreed partially in this opinion and added that it was not the desire of the department to have any of the dealers fined for doing cars with dealers' licenses attached but at the same time the law restricted those to whom these tags were issued. The law, he said, was being violated and it was the desire, so far as he knew, to have the regulations carried out a little more rigidly.

In regard to the present charge of operating a car "under a dealer's license" Ritchie driving a car along Dock street on last Sunday. The car had a dealer's tag. There was a child in the back seat and a child in front with the driver.

The court suggested that the fact that it was Sunday made an offence against the Lord's Day Act but Mr. Ryan said that the charge was laid under the M. V. A. and the Lord's Day Act was another issue.

After some discussion of the magistrate said that he would not strike a fine but would allow the defendant to go with a warning. He expressed the hope that the case would act as a warning.

PRaises PROVINCE Pennsylvania Motorist Delighted With Scenic Beauty and Helpful Advice

"I just dropped in to thank you for your many kindnesses and to tell you that I have had a most delightful holiday in your province. This was the way in which a Pennsylvania motorist expressed his pleasure yesterday W. E. Anderson, secretary-manager of the New Brunswick Tourist Association, here.

The motorist went on to say that he was surprised at the excellence of the New Brunswick roads, and that he found the scenic beauty of the province far surpassed his expectations. He was particularly grateful for the fine road maps sent to him by the association at his request, and declared that they were the most accurate he had ever seen.

"All being well I shall be back again next summer," said the Pennsylvanian. "My tour and holiday has been a delight."

DISCLAIMS OWNERSHIP Joseph Hatty was fined $50 in the Police Court this morning on a charge of having liquor in his possession other than his private dwelling. Policeman Corvee said that while Hatty was getting out of a car, Charlotte street last evening a bottle, presumably containing beer, dropped on the running board. He contacted the bottle, and Hatty said that earlier in the evening he had driven a party from the Seaside man's Institute to the armory and they asked him to have a drink but he refused. The first he knew that the bottle was in the car, he said, was when he opened the door in Charlotte street to get out. He said that he was at a loss to know the bottle had got into the automobile. In view of the circumstances the magistrate said that he would strike the minimum fine.

PLAY THE GAME An Intermediate League baseball game last evening on the West Side grounds between the Y. M. C. L. and Beavers, resulted in a tie, each team scoring 11 runs. The Beavers threatened to win in the last inning, but a snappy catch by Coleman of the Y. M. C. L., in left field, broke up the rally. A feature was a home run in the first inning by Quigg of the Beavers.

SEE THE FALLS At high tide the water of the Bay of Fundy reaches a higher level than the water of the Saint John River and forces its way through a "fall" running up river.

At low tide the water in the Bay flows so much lower that of the river, that the fall of water is reversed and flows down river into the Bay.

At high tide, when the level in the Bay and River are about equal, the water at the Falls becomes smooth and it should be seen at all three stages.

To fully appreciate this wonder of the world it should be seen at all three stages.

The best time to view this phenomenon is:

REPORT CHEERFUL FROM CHARLOTTE

Crops Good, Says M. N. Cockburn, K. C.—Paper Mill Project

M. N. Cockburn, K. C., St. Stephen, who was in the city last night, having had commenced in Charlotte county and the prospects were for an excellent crop. The root crops were coming along in great shape, and new vegetables had been on the market earlier this year than last, despite the late spring.

There was no visible sign of action in connection with the development scheme of Dexter Cooper but he understood engineers were working on the plans. Mr. Cooper thought that if the scheme of Mr. Cooper became a reality it might result in the establishment of a paper mill at St. Stephen, as Hollingsworth and Whitney had already a site for a mill there and had considerable areas of timber in the vicinity.

He expressed the opinion that as 80 per cent of the water to be used was Canadian, the Dominion Government should reserve at least 50 per cent of the power for Canadian users.
