BEARISH EFFECT ON WHEAT MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Foreign selling had a bearish effect on the wheat market today. Reports were current that Germany was being supplied with Australian wheat on six months credit from England, and that Italy had suspended for an indefinite period the purchase of cereal foodstuffs. Trade was light and market easily influenced. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/4 to 1/2 lower, with March $1.53 to $1.53 1/2, and May $1.43 to $1.44 1/2, were followed by a material further setback.

VERY DULL EARLY ON THE MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE

Montreal, Feb. 8.—The local stock market experienced one of the duller sessions it has ever known during the first half hour of trading this morning. There was absolutely no change in any of the principal stocks. Aftibull sold at 80 1/2, its closing figure yesterday. It did also Brompton and National Breweries at 51-1/2 and 53 respectively. These are the only important issues that appeared at all.

IN WALL STREET.

New York, Feb. 8, 1920.—Extreme dullness marked the early operations of the stock exchange today, many speculative favorites remaining unquoted during the first half hour. Price changes were unimportant, gains and losses in instance exceeding fractions. Mexican Petroleum, Royal Dutch, General Asphalt, Sears Roebuck, American Writing Paper preferred and Union Pacific comprised the firmer issues. Southern Pacific, selling at 80 1/2, registered a decline of a point, and Atlantic Gulf, Westinghouse Electric and Pure Oil were moderately reactionary.

NEON REPORT.

Trading became more listless with the progress of the session, dealings during the forenoon falling to the smallest total for the similar period in several months. Stocks, and equipment showed little change, despite indications of an approaching "open market" for those materials. Occasional strength was displayed by oils, as well as Continental Can, American Can, and some related specialties. Texas Pacific was the only railway issued to show even moderate activity and strength. The money market was quiet, call loan opening at 8 per cent. Exchange on London made firm recovery from yesterday's low quotations.

F., who she has not heard from since August, 1920. She fears that he may be confined in an insane asylum between New York and Los Angeles, as a result of injuries to his head which he received while doing rescue work after the Halifax explosion.

Under the auspices of the St. Jude's amateur athletic association a successful concert was held in the school room of the church last evening. Those taking part in an excellent programme were: W. R. Davis, Misses Muriel and Ursula Ellis, Elsie Nichols, Isabelle Stevens, Allen Craig, Harold Taylor, G. H. Fowler, J. Griffiths, Mrs. G. G. Hare, Truman Sealey, Clifton Jennings, Kenneth McKee, Miss Elsie Stevens, Miss Gertrude Hare, J. H. Pitt and Preston Jennings. Rev. J. H. A. Holmes presided.

The Nurses' Alumnae of the General Public Hospital met last night in the hospital with Miss Mitchell, the president, in the chair. Satisfactory reports were received from the recent dance and it was announced that, after all expenses were paid, the proceeds of the dance and a contribution received would amount to more than $300. This sum is to be used for the furnishing of the lecture room in the new nurses home. The society transacted much routine business and also planned for holding a tea and sale in March. There was a large attendance.

The Secret of Charm Never Changes

Throughout the ages it exerts its power—this charm to which the world bows, changing history and making queens—of nations as well as hearts. Few can describe it, for charm doesn't depend upon beauty alone. The woman who wields it may be dark or fair, of any race or type.

Only this is certain—she has a perfect skin, fresh, youthful, free from blemishes—the irresistible attraction which all understand and admire.

Begin today to give your complexion the care it needs and this charm will also be yours. It's a beauty secret of ancient Egypt and the beautiful Cleopatra.

Before you sleep, cleanse with Palm and Olive oils

Bad complexions are largely due to lack of proper cleansing. The pores become clogged, then enlarged, then irritated. Blackheads and blotches follow. Soft and flabby skins often show the lack of a cold water tonic. Rough skins are often caused by using harsh, irritating soaps.

The best preventive is a daily cleansing with Palmolive soap. It makes a balmy, creamy lather, for the base is palm and olive oils. A gentle massage makes it penetrate. A rinsing takes it out, and with it come all accumulations which have clogged the skin.

Finish with a dash of cold water. Then your skin will be fresh and rosy, clear, soft, smooth. Done at night, with a finishing touch of cold cream, this means that all night long your skin will have a needed chance to rest and breathe.

A lesson from stage women

All women can learn something from the women of the stage, who use much rouge, much powder. But they remove them before they sleep. And with them the oil, the dirt and perspiration which clog up the pores of the skin.

Their complexions will show you that they do no harm when skins are treated the right way.

Only 10c, yet supreme

Palmolive soap costs little, yet it forms the best skin soap the world ever knew. It employs palm oil from Africa, olive oil from Spain. It combines them in a perfect emollient.

It soothes while it cleanses, softens while it cleans. No price can buy anything better.

The Palmolive price is due to the fact that millions have come to employ it. And we have worked for years to bring it within the reach of all.

On dry skins it is well to apply cold cream, both before and after washing.

Ancient beauties knew the way

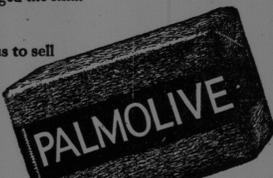

Roman beauties, in their famous baths, used palm and olive oils. Egyptian beauties used them in Cleopatra's time. Now modern science finds no better way to beauty than by scientific blending of these oils.

WEST PETERBORO.

Canada is ringing today with the news of the overwhelming defeat of the government candidate in West Peterboro, with four other candidates in the field. The constituency was close enough to Ottawa to enable the forces of the government, including the premier and most of his colleagues, to take part in the campaign, and they left no stone unturned. The constituency literally swarmed with government workers sent in for the purpose of the campaign. Under all the conditions a victory for the government candidate would not have caused surprise, where there were so many candidates in the field; but that he should be snowed under so completely, and the Liberal candidate have so great a majority was not anticipated, at least by anybody outside of the constituency. There can be only one interpretation of the results in East Egin and West Peterboro. The people of Canada want a general election, and an opportunity to say who shall be the government. The Meighen government is pursuing a mistaken policy in holding on to office after the Union mandate had expired. When the vote cast for the government candidate in West Peterboro is compared with the total vote cast for all the other candidates the strength of the opposition sentiment is very impressive. And while the defeat of its candidate places the government in the beaten class the election of Mr. Gordon is a notable triumph for the Hon. MacKenzie King and the Liberal party. The Liberal leader was bitterly assailed by government speakers and the government press; but he has the last word, and it is to tell Premier Meighen he should give the rest of the people of Canada the same opportunity given those of West Peterboro to declare their preference. But Mr. King is not alone in giving expression to this view. The Conservative Montreal Gazette advises the premier to get through with supply and go to the country. The result in West Peterboro has changed the whole political outlook. It is significant of a growing sentiment of dissatisfaction throughout the country. It has been held that it would have been better for the government to have appealed to the people immediately after the reconstruction of the cabinet. Yesterday's verdict confirms that view.

VOCATIONAL CLASSES.

That vocational training must be saved by its friends in St. John not only for the sake of the boys and girls of the city, but because of the effect its rejection here would have all over the province, is clear to those friends, who constitute a great majority of the citizens. A citizens' committee should take the matter in hand at once. An insidious but quiet campaign against vocational training is being carried on by some persons who profess to be its friends. There is the more reason that its friends should get out in the open and rally to its defence. Another public meeting will be held shortly and the whole matter placed before the people in such manner as will leave no room for doubt as to what has been done, what is being done, and what ought to be the policy for the future. It is most unfortunate that some well-intentioned people have permitted themselves to be placed in a position of apparent opposition without fully informing themselves upon the merits of the case. Take one illustration. The remark has been quoted that "where there is smoke there must be some fire." Let us apply this in another case. Suppose a citizen started the rumor that a St. John business house was on the edge of bankruptcy. Suppose the rumor spread, as such rumors do, until it was over the city. Would any man be justified in saying in this case that where there was smoke there must be some fire? The Times is convinced that when any fair-minded citizen gets all the facts he or she will not, as a progressive citizen, attempt to maintain that the evening vocational classes should be closed. It would be a retrograde step and a triumph for that spirit which has too often put a check on forward movements in St. John. The evening vocational classes must be saved, and there should also be a start, as proposed, in day classes for high school students.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Last night's Board of Trade banquet presented an inspiring picture. It was a healthy sign to see over three hundred men sitting about the tables listening to a discussion of matters relating to the city's welfare. It is not at the banquet table, however, the real work is done, but in the day to day work of the board and the committees, and therefore President Burditt and his associates plead for a larger active membership. Mr. George E. Burditt aptly quoted a remark that the Board of Trade is a voice of the people, and the power and influence of that voice must come from a large and vigorous membership. The plea of last night's speakers for unity and co-operation was well founded, for when the interests of the city are at stake the people should speak with one voice. It is perhaps to be regretted that in some of the speeches, more attention was paid to one side of a very controversial question than to the desirability of getting together. The Board of Trade has had a long and admirable record of usefulness. It may be made still more active and useful as a voice of the community. No doubt one result of last night's event will be a large accession to the membership of the board, adding new life and vigor to its efforts for the advancement of the city's commercial and industrial interests.

NOT ON THE PROGRAMME.

Of course it was never intended that last evening's banquet to boost the board of trade should develop into a symposium on harbor commission. This must be assumed, because only one side of the case was presented, although Premier Foster did digress from his theme long enough to suggest that all the cards be laid on the table before there is any serious talk about harbor commission for St. John. The speakers who somewhat recklessly advocated commission perhaps felt they might not soon get as large a group of business men together, and so talked more on that subject than any other. It is to be regretted the other side of the question was not heard. It should have been pointed out, for example, that to picture the government as offering to take our harbor and develop it is pure imagination. The government did not begin the agitation for harbor commission in St. John. Let us be honest about this matter. We know from long and hard experience how eager the government is to do things in St. John. The slogan "trust the government," which was sounded by the commission advocates last night will not strengthen their case. There was also a contradiction in the remarks of one speaker of which he did not himself appear to be conscious. In one breath he said it was hopeless to expect anything unless we got this harbor commission matter satisfactorily settled, and in the next admitted that the government is planning some extension work in the harbor for this year. The burden of the cry of all the advocates of commission was "trust the government." They also expressed faith in the port of St. John, and in that everybody will agree with them. The citizens have so much faith in the port that they will not exchange it for an agreement which promises nothing more than that the total cost of equipping the harbor shall be a burden on its traffic. Such an agreement the citizens will not accept, and in rejecting it they will give an excellent illustration of the unity for which the mayor pleads.

FEWER BACHELORS IN ENGLAND—MANY WIDOWS RE-MARRY.

London, Feb. 8.—Striking increases in the re-marriages of young widows and of the marriages of middle-aged bachelors and a general tendency for mortality to decline, are the features of the registrar-general's report for 1919. The re-marriage of widows was a direct consequence of the war, many of them losing their husbands in battle. Under the age of twenty-five the number of re-marriages was 10.7 times and between twenty-five and thirty, six times greater than in 1911. The marriage of bachelors was twice as numerous as in 1911.

URGES CURFEW FOR GIRLS.

London, Feb. 8.—"Guard your daughters more carefully" is the advice given by the Rev. C. B. Law, vicar of Chestnut, Herts. "Again and again you may see girls behaving in the street in a way that makes your blood run cold and then hot for shame and sorrow, and you naturally say to yourself: 'Where are the mothers of these girls?' Strict rules should be laid down at night and so on, cannot be relaxed in the case of those who might be labelled 'good' or 'respectable' any more than in the case of others."

Rippling Rhymes by Walt Mason (Copyright by George Matthew Adams.)

NIGHTS AT HOME.

I always spend my night at home, remote from strife and care; a pillow soft supports my dome, my feet rest on a chair; and so I rest some frizzling pome or volume pipe and rare. My aunts and grandmas play some tunes, or blithely sew and knit, while merry children, full of prunes, throw many a gladstone fit, till lullaby their mother croons—and so the calm hours fly. And when the morning comes I read how men who roamed by night fell victims to the auto's speed, were shot up in a fight, or touched for all their chicken feed by some unholy wight. I read of kidnaped maidens fair, and parents in distress, of youths who lose, in Whist-Way glare, the number of their mess, of misdeeds in the gamblers' lair, and crimes no man dare guess. I say, if those who gallivant, would spend their nights at home, with grandma, niece and maiden aunt, they'd see some helpful tone, the crime of which the peeters rant would disappear like foam. I'd rather be with bars who think that with the men who prance to places where the glasses cling, and there are games of chance; a book is better than a drink, or than a tango dance. And when at dawn I leave my bed I caper and I sing, no hold-up, with a bar of lead, has spoiled my larboard wing, I do not have to stick my head, or wear it in a sling.

IN LIGHTER VEIN.

There had been a quarrel. "You're no liddy," remarked the party of the first part. "Ah! replied the other. "If it wasn't that I was a liddy, I'd be able to tell you what kind of a liddy you are!"

Whale of a Fish Story.

At a convivial gathering in connection with an angling club a sailor listened attentively while the members told of the big fish they might have landed had they not their lines given way at the critical moment. The manner in which they recounted their exploits would have brought tears to the eyes of the most hardened story-teller, say Th-Bits. But a sailor never knows when he is beaten.
"Well, mates," he began, "I never did any fresh-water fishing, so I expect you are telling the truth. But I remember on one occasion, having nothing better to do, we cast a line at sea and awaited results. Soon we got a bite, but the life of our line was not long in our catch. Then an idea struck us. We fastened the line to the windlass and proceeded to haul in when the most gave a lurch, the line broke, and the monster escaped."
One of the company, with biting sarcasm suggested that it must have been a whale.
"A whale, he he he!" replied the sailor, "we baited with a whale!"

TIMES SEES AN IMPROVEMENT IN EAST INDIES.

London, Feb. 8.—The London Times, discussing the India situation today, asserts that the government's reforms in that country will be successful. It predicts that Indian politics will move into calmer waters as a result of recent developments in the Indian empire. The Times refers at length to the elaborate ceremonies to be held today at court of the princes of Delhi, at which the Duke of Connaught will represent King George. Eighty princes will participate. This is regarded by the Times as a sign that the native leaders are ready to co-operate with the government. The elections in India have all been held, and the imperial and provincial councils are at their full strength. The forecast says that India will see the British parliament and British people fulfill their pledges to India, and that it rests with the people of India to prepare the way for the next step forward.

TO DIE FOR AIDING SLAYER.

Accomplice Gets Death Sentence, Actual Murderer 20 Years to Life
Edward J. McNally, 22 years old, of New Brighton, S., was convicted of murder in the first degree by a jury in St. George, N.Y., and sentenced by Supreme Court Justice Callaghan to be executed in Sing Sing for the killing of Walter Jackowski, night manager of a restaurant in Richmond, Miners Harbor. By a queer freak of justice McNally is to suffer more severely than the actual slayer, the court having insisted on each of four occasions when the jury returned for instructions during its eight hours' deliberation that he must be charged guilty in the first degree or acquitted.
The justice gave similar instructions when Anthony Paolozzi and Frank Escobedo were tried together a few days ago. The jury in their case was unable to agree and after it had been discharged the two defendants pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree. They were sentenced to twenty years in life in prison. One of the Italians did the shooting. McNally's lawyer will appeal.

BARTER SYSTEM BETWEEN BRITAIN AND DENMARK.

London, Jan. 24.—(A. P. by mail).—An attempt is being made to establish a system barter, or exchange of goods between British and Danish business concerns, so as to eliminate the difficulties arising from the uncertainties of exchange rates.
At the invitation of the Danish minister of commerce, a party of British business men, headed by Sir Charles Spinks, a member of parliament, has gone to Copenhagen to inaugurate the proposed barter.
Sir Charles, who is a prominent figure in the Yorkshire woolen trade and was wool controller during the war, has advocated the bartering system as the best possible solution of the present industrial troubles in this country.

PATIENT LEAPS FROM HOSPITAL TO DEATH.

Son of Western Cartridge Co. President Had Been Operated.

New York, Feb. 8.—Franklin W. Olin, Jr., of 1328 State Street, Alton, Ill., son of the Western Cartridge Company, committed suicide by jumping from the third floor of St. Charles Hospital, 217 East Forty-second street. Mr. Olin, upon whom an abdominal operation had been performed six days ago, was killed instantly. He was 30 years old and an architectural engineer.

Accompanied by his father and mother, who stayed at the Waldorf-Astoria to await his expected recovery, Mr. Olin came to New York and went into the hospital two weeks ago. The operation was considered successful.

Mr. Olin had a private room in the hospital and was attended by three men nurses, one of whom was constantly in attendance. The nurse on duty left the room momentarily and returned in time to see his patient climbing over the window sill. The nurse jumped forward, but was too late to check Mr. Olin's fall to the hospital courtyard.

J. W. Piske, Superintendent of the hospital, and members of the staff, found Mr. Olin apparently lifeless when they reached him. He was taken inside the hospital and unsuccessful efforts were made to revive him. Mr. Olin Sr. said that his son was depressed because of the operation.

RYDER IS BACK ON JOB EVERY DAY NOW

Says Tanlac Fixed Him up so Fine He is Always Recommending It to Others.

"For two years I was in such a weak rundown condition that I couldn't do a lick of work, but Tanlac has fixed me up where I'm on the job every day feeling fine," said Charles Ryder, of 724 Robie St., Halifax.

"My appetite was so poor I had to force myself to eat, and at times I would go all day without eating a single bite of solid food, but would just drink cup of tea. The little I ate gave me indigestion, and frequently I became so nauseated I couldn't retain a thing on my stomach. I was so nervous and restless I never slept well, and would get up mornings feeling completely worn out. All I could do was to lie around the house, a burden to myself, and words can't express the misery I was in.

"A friend of mine had gotten such splendid results from Tanlac that he insisted on my trying it, and the medicine proved to be the very thing I needed. Way, it has given me a fine appetite, and has freed me of all my troubles, and I'm feeling like my old self again. It doesn't bother me a bit to put in a good hard day's work, and I think so much of Tanlac I'm always recommending it to my friends."

Tanlac is sold by F. W. Munro, and the Ross Drug Co.; L. C. Allingham, Campbellton, N. B.; T. H. Wilson, Fairville, N. B.—(Adv.)

Can Take Good Example From D. S. C. R. In Treatment of Insane, Says Dr. Clarke

DIRECTOR OF COMMITTEE FOR MENTAL HYGIENE, SAYS MENTAL HOSPITALS TOO OFTEN DEGENERATE INTO CUSTODIAL INSTITUTIONS.

Ottawa, Feb. 8.—(By Canadian Press) —The Department of Soldiers' Civil Rehabilitation has, for some months been operating a psychopathic hospital at Westminster, near London, Ontario. In this hospital the Department has provided the most approved and up-to-date methods of treatment for former members of the forces suffering from mental disease, ranging from those who merely require long periods of observation, to those who are violently insane.

A short time ago, a deputation of well known neurologists, psychiatrists and representatives of veterans' associations, visited the hospital in order to study the situation. Among these were Dr. C. K. Clarke, medical director, Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene.

In a statement issued by Dr. Clarke, he says: "Why should civilians not receive just as good care and advanced treatment? At this institution notable things are being accomplished, new ideals are being established, and everything possible is being done to place the care and treatment of the nervous and mental diseased on a scientific and humane basis. The war has brought to the surface the fact the hard and fast lines heretofore laid down by neurologists and psychiatrists in regard to certain types of nervous and mentally handicapped persons, were much too narrow and artificial. Neuro-psychiatry, as known, is practically a new field. It would be difficult to imagine a better equipped hospital from the standpoint of cleanliness, good house-keeping and management, and while the buildings are substantial and well constructed nothing has been expended on needless ornamentation.

"The S. C. R. has recognized the important fact that in dealing with patients of the types admitted to Westminster, it is essential that the staff must, not only be sufficient in number but properly qualified to do the work as possible in an efficient and intelligent way. It is not a case of so many patients, so many crude ward attendants, but rather an organization assigned to deal with each individual in a way likely to produce the best results in his case. Such an organization, expense, but not more so than that of a general hospital, where it is taken for granted that a patient must receive every assistance that can reasonably be provided to ensure his recovery. The course of most mental hospitals has been the fact that they have only too frequently been allowed to degenerate into nothing better than custodial institutions, simply because the cry of economy has blunted mental states that would be efficient if given opportunity, in their efforts to rise to standards demanded in general hospitals. In connection with this point it is interesting to study the composition of the Westminster staff.

"The most notable feature of the organization of the Westminster Hospital is one much discussed by neurologists and psychiatrists and refers to the type of patient to be admitted. There is some asserting that it must be detrimental to decide nervous cases with disordered mental ones. It is a difficult question to decide, but the visit disarmed much of the criticism, it being so evident that the patients, and being in every instance, happy and content. Even the chronic 'kickers' refused to register a complaint and spoke of the kind treatment received on every hand."

Dr. Clarke then referred to the excellence of the staff in interest shown by its members, the nineteen nurses, all with overseas training, social service work, the eighteen members of the occupational staff, sixteen trained ward aides, and sixty-three medical orderlies, who have been trained in the method of taking care of excited patients, acute cases and those who are intent on self-harm, and others, bringing the total number up to 192.

"It is the aim of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Rehabilitation, which is operated along the same lines, shall set the pace for all others of a similar nature in Canada and beyond. The total number of insane patients undergoing treatment is 867, a reduction of 61 from the number in May, 1920.

N. S. LEGISLATURE THE WONDERFUL FRUIT MEDICINE

Some Changes When House Meets Next Month—Possible Legislation.

Halifax, Feb. 8.—Oil paintings of Joseph Howe and W. H. Johnston, which flank the speaker in the Nova Scotia House of Assembly, will start down a legislative gathering inclusive of new elements when Lieut.-Governor MacCallum Grant opens the Provincial Legislature probably early in March. The time-honored system of Liberal government and Conservative opposition, which Premier George Murray has seen accustoming since he took his seat in the house twenty-four years ago, received a jolt at the hard day's work, and it is likely that his opponents, and in this respect the change, amounting to the loss of four seats, is practically negligible. The opposition shows a surprising modification in composition. Dr. Benjamin LeBlanc of Richmond and H. W. Corning, independent-conservative, is looked upon as the probable leader of the opposition. Mr. Corning is the local host from 1911 to 1916, and acquired a bit of parliamentary experience not unnecessary to the chief of a small and possibly unstable group.

The out-and-out farmers who will oppose the government are Robert L. Smith and Harry L. Taggart, Colchester; Gilbert Nelson Allen and Daniel George MacKenzie of Cumberland; John Macdonald of Hants and Angus MacGillivray of Antigonish. H. L. Taggart, probably the youngest of the farmer group, is described as a young farmer and a good speaker, and if he manages politics as well as he does his big farm at Belmont, his supporters have good hopes of him. D. G. MacKenzie, the eldest of the agrarians, besides making his farm at Malagash, is a well known and successful business of selling farm implements, and further gained experience of men and dealings as a small clerk in his younger days.

The Labor group includes five new members. L. A. Daniels, W. Morrison, returned soldier representative; Arthur H. Richardson, pilot in Sydney Harbor and member of the Sydney Trades and Labor Council; Fernan Way, machine shop foreman in Sydney; Joseph Steel, representative of Sydney labor, and Archibald McNeil, Spinnaker mill worker. Ten members bring new parliamentary of the types admitted to Westminster, it is essential that the staff must, not only be sufficient in number but properly qualified to do the work as possible in an efficient and intelligent way. It is not a case of so many patients, so many crude ward attendants, but rather an organization assigned to deal with each individual in a way likely to produce the best results in his case. Such an organization, expense, but not more so than that of a general hospital, where it is taken for granted that a patient must receive every assistance that can reasonably be provided to ensure his recovery. The course of most mental hospitals has been the fact that they have only too frequently been allowed to degenerate into nothing better than custodial institutions, simply because the cry of economy has blunted mental states that would be efficient if given opportunity, in their efforts to rise to standards demanded in general hospitals. In connection with this point it is interesting to study the composition of the Westminster staff.

"The most notable feature of the organization of the Westminster Hospital is one much discussed by neurologists and psychiatrists and refers to the type of patient to be admitted. There is some asserting that it must be detrimental to decide nervous cases with disordered mental ones. It is a difficult question to decide, but the visit disarmed much of the criticism, it being so evident that the patients, and being in every instance, happy and content. Even the chronic 'kickers' refused to register a complaint and spoke of the kind treatment received on every hand."

Dr. Clarke then referred to the excellence of the staff in interest shown by its members, the nineteen nurses, all with overseas training, social service work, the eighteen members of the occupational staff, sixteen trained ward aides, and sixty-three medical orderlies, who have been trained in the method of taking care of excited patients, acute cases and those who are intent on self-harm, and others, bringing the total number up to 192.

"It is the aim of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Rehabilitation, which is operated along the same lines, shall set the pace for all others of a similar nature in Canada and beyond. The total number of insane patients undergoing treatment is 867, a reduction of 61 from the number in May, 1920.

material to the government side of the house—Clarence Anderson of Guysboro, merchant; John B. Douglas of Halifax, merchant; Adam Burris of Upper Musquodoboit, farmer; John Alex. Macdonald of Upper Dyke Village, farmer; Aubrey H. Sperry of Petit Riviere, merchant; J. Welton MacDonald of Pictou, lawyer; George S. McLean of Liverpool, physician; Dr. John MacDonald of St. Peter's; A. Gladstone Buchanan of Neil's Harbor, merchant, and Dr. A. R. Mcintosh of St. John's.

John B. Douglas, president of the Provincial Liberal Association and well known in the House of Assembly, is probably the most outstanding government acquisition. The Major J. Welton MacDonald, M. C. of Pictou, formerly provincial president of the G. W. V. A., is widely known throughout Nova Scotia. He is a son of E. M. MacDonald, ex-M. P. for Pictou.

When asked to indicate the probable course of legislation at the coming session of the House of Assembly, the Canadian Press, Premier Murray said: "Everyone knows the country is here, and we are all soon to be re-elected. While it is generally agreed that little new legislation involving the expenditure of large sums of money is contemplated for this reason the program is somewhat in doubt. There are a few bills which point the way to definite legislative action.

Perhaps the most important of these is the investigation proceeding at present, under royal commission, into the administration of the Highways Act in Nova Scotia. Whatever may be the outcome of this investigation it is agreed that the circumstances leading up to its institution and its subsequent progress will form the subject for lengthy legislative action. Indeed many are of the belief that the bill of the house will centre about the question of highways throughout the approaching session.

There are also plans for granting that the referendum held on the question of liquor importation in October, which resulted in an overwhelming defeat for the wet forces, will provoke legislation looking to the further curtailment of the distribution of intoxicants by re-definition of the terms of the licensed liquor vendors. Legislation designed to augment the revenue of the province may also be anticipated.

THERE ARE

LIBERAL WINS IN WEST PETERBORO

Montreal Gazette, Unionist, Calls on Meighen Government to Dissolve Parliament.

G. N. GORDON.

(Canadian Press Despatch) Peterboro, Ont., Feb. 7.—The by-election today in the partly urban and partly rural constituency of West Peterboro resulted in the defeat of a government candidate. Denne, by well over one thousand plurality. G. N. Gordon, Liberal, was the successful candidate. There were also in the field, a Labor, a Farmer, and an Independent candidate, namely: Messrs.

The Pure, Fresh Flavor of the genuine has been responsible for its enormous sale, which eclipses that of any other tea.

McMurray, Campbell and Burnham.

The election followed the resignation some time ago of J. H. Burnham, who was elected in December, 1917, as a supporter of the Union government led by Sir Robert Borden. Mr. Burnham resigned as a protest against the government continuing in office without an appeal to the electors and in this contest he ran as an independent coming in fourth with the Labor man at the foot of the poll.

Urges General Election.

Montreal, Feb. 7.—Under the caption "Why Not An Appeal" the Montreal Gazette (Unionist) tomorrow morning will urge editorially upon the federal government the advisability of a general election after the supply bill has been proceeded with.

The Gazette will say in part: "The by-elections won by the government mean merely the retention of seats and indicate no new popular confidence while the contested seats like East Elgin and West Peterboro have swung to the opposition and weakened to that extent the strength of the ministry. It happens that at the moment the time is propitious for an election save that supplies have not been voted. The advice we have to give to the government is to proceed with the supply bill and then permit the electorate to express its preference for parties in order that stable administration and confident policy may be carried on. The situation is now uncertain; the life of the ministry hangs by a thread; and under this circumstance strong and effective administration of affairs is impossible."

Tells Government to Resign.

Toronto, Feb. 7.—The Globe will say: "In a voice that can be heard throughout the country West Peterboro has asked the government to resign. The votes for Gordon, for Campbell, for Burnham and McMurray, will all be added together on the question raised by the late member for the constituency when he resigned in protest against the usurpation of office by an administration whose mandate expired with the dissolution of unionism."

LOOK WHO'S HERE.

The Baptist Young People's Union in the city has had a competition for a banner, which went to the church sending the largest percentage to a general rally. Tabernacle Church had won the banner, but in January it was won by the Charlotte street (West) branch of the union. There will be another rally next month, and the winner will hold the banner till next year. The victory for the Charlotte street branch is thus celebrated in rhyme by one of the defeated—

AT REVOIR, BUT NOT GOOD-BYE. Now the great chief, Peter Murray, called together all the members, from the short and the long distances, to attend the monster rally. Those from far and near he called them.

To the Charlotte street church, over on the west side. We were urged to go whatever betide. On the evening of January 24th, no matter how cold the wind blew from the north.

So the can was mustered with merry din. And the lights of the banner we hoped to win. Anon lifted the hearts of young and old, and the pleasure we had can't be told.

To the merry we went, a jolly crowd, 'Tis true we might have been judged too loud; Then over the harbor and up the floats, while all eyes on the banner in front and aloft.

In families they went; none were too old. Or made too young, our prestige to hold. Titus and Kiesteads, Gardners and Howes; Murrys and Youngs by nature and vows, Globes and Griffiths with infant in arms.

The A. J. and Coggans from out on the farms. Owens and Leans, which includes our scribe; Lawso and Lewis from the north and east side; Jewitts, Kinodes and Burdittes from far.

Allans and Pitts, Parces were all there. Mesdames, Patriguen, Walsh, Giggey, Sparks, Gray and Ross. Resigned to result, whether gain or loss. Then three more ladies we saw in the van.

Mrs. Graves, Mrs. Stackhouse and Miss Goggin. And a score of young maidens and young men, too. All determined their best to do. Misses Campbell, Douglas, Ross, Bates and McKay, Eagles and Fletcher, Armstrong and Beys.

With Mary, Joan, Amy, and Pearl so fair. All bright and happy, with never a care. Gabriel and Lance, Keyes, Mallory, and Copp; To win the banner all eagerly sought.

And now comes the part somewhat sad to relate. With ears all perked up, the report we await. Not very long in suspense were we kept, but on hearing the verdict, we fain would have wept.

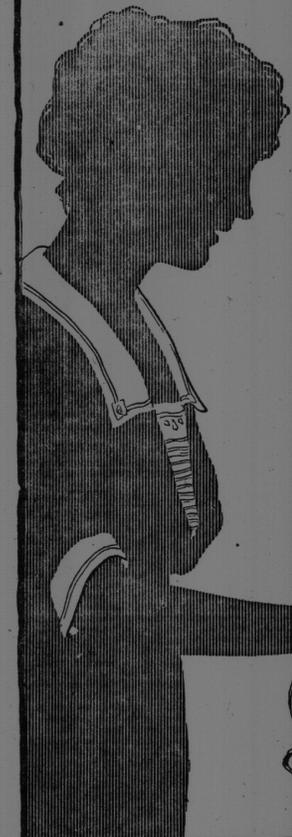

Instead we emitted a few faint groans, while one of our number in quavering tones commended the winners, Charlotte street, by the way. And hoped they would hold it for at least ninety days.

The victors secured it by per cent. ninety-eight. Second we came with per cent. eighty-eight. A very fine showing, I'm sure you'll say, too. When the third on the list was a poor sixty-two.

And now we to our homes once more repair. Resolved in the great work to have a share; And ere the next three months draw to close. Another chance have, we may win, who knows?

Unity and Enthusiasm In Interests of the Port And the Board of Trade

Much enthusiasm and unity of spirit was shown by the representative gathering of citizens at the get-together luncheon held under the auspices of the St. John Board of Trade, last evening in Pythian Hall, Union street, when prominent speakers voiced their views on harbor commission and other questions of the day of interest to St. John and a strong bid was made for a monthly meeting of the board, but regular business was suspended. The singing of "O Canada" was the first feature of the gathering and then more than three hundred sat down to a substantial luncheon furnished by Bond's. The large proportion of young men was especially noticeable and the gathering included representatives of practically every business and profession.

President Burditt, on behalf of the board of trade, extended a hearty welcome to those present, and hoped those not members would become so. He said that it was a non-exclusive, non-sectarian, non-political body, which had the well being of the city for its aim. The door was now open for membership and he trusted that the spirit of self-sacrifice and service born of the war would long actuate the people of St. John. The boards of trade were recognized by the government as the representatives of the commercial interests of the cities. He told of the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the British Empire, held in Toronto. It was an impressive gathering, and showed how the board of trade was recognized as the representative of the people. The local organization should have a large membership to be truly representative and the object of the present gathering was to enlarge the membership. He told of the board being formed in 1821 and said that it had always been composed of public spirited citizens working in the interests of the city and port. The present members should carry on the torch. "Let us not fail," he continued. H. C. Schofield proposed a toast to the port and the province. With reference to the former, he made a strong appeal for harbor commission. In responding to the toast, Hon. W. E. Foster said that the nationalization of both the ports of Halifax and St. John was the proper policy. He felt that it was the duty of the common council to place the matter of harbor commission fully before the people, explaining all its aspects. He said that New Brunswick must go forward and not stand still. He also referred to the hydro electric project. He felt that hydro electric power would play an important part in the development of the port.

The City of St. John was proposed by M. E. Agar and was responded to by Mayor Schofield. W. S. Fisher proposed the Board of Trade, and George E. Barbour, vice-president, responded. G. E. Barbour.

The response was made by George E. Barbour, vice-president, who said that he was glad the meeting was a revelation to the mayor and hoped that it had made the same impression on others. He pointed out that the support of the board was a duty as well as of personal interest to every one. He said that it was an eye, an ear, a mind, a hand and a voice for the community and they should cultivate it. He told of the facilities of the board and of its rooms and the numerous committees formed for various purposes. The board was one of the prime assets of the city, the speaker said, and urged those present to join it. It was an opportunity for community service.

Membership Amendment.
George L. Warwick, chairman of the finance and membership committee, gave notice of motion for amendments to the by-laws relating to membership fees. It was as follows:

"Resolved that section 20 of the by-laws of the board be repealed and the following substituted therefor: Sec. 20: The fees for membership shall be as follows: Sustaining membership, $40 per annum; regular membership, $25; general membership, $10, payable in advance during the month of January each year and due immediately after election to membership; sustaining membership shall have the right to name two representatives from the firm or corporation; the regular membership shall include wholesale merchants and brokers, manufacturers and contractors, agents and representatives of railways, steamship lines and public utility corporations, insurance companies and agencies, banks and trust companies, hotels and all retail merchants having ten or more employees in their business; each regular membership of $25 entitles the subscriber to one representative.

"General membership shall be open to all who are not included in the regular membership class, and shall include retail merchants having less than ten employees in their business, professional men, including among others, barristers, physicians, architects and engineers, public officials, employers, managers, credit men, accountants, bookkeepers, salesmen, commercial travelers, etc. Each general membership is entitled to one representative.

"Nomination for general membership shall not be accepted from a representative of any firm included in the regular membership class, unless the firm has taken out a regular or sustaining membership."

He made a strong appeal for new members and said that the board must grow. He asked those present to sign the application which had been handed around, if not tonight at a later date.

The chairman spoke of the kindergarten and made an appeal for its tag day, which is to be held soon.

F. A. Dykeman read a pledge of loyalty to the city and asked those present to adhere to it.

Interpersed with the speeches were numerous songs, which were sung by the gathering under the direction of Dr. H. L. Spangler and with D. Arnold Fox at the piano.

Among Those Present.
Some of those present were George S. Bishop, Frank J. Likely, Percy Rising, F. A. Dykeman, J. H. Marr, Harold Rising, G. M. Robertson, P. W. Hewitson, James MacMurray, John H. Kimball, George A. The Dread Pyorrhea Begins With Bleeding Gums

Pyorrhea's infecting germs cause many ills. Medical science has proven this. Diseased conditions, which not long ago doctors were unable to trace to a cause, are now known often to be the result of Pyorrhea germs that breed in pockets about the teeth. Rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders and other diseases have been traced in many cases to this Pyorrhea infection.

Don't let Pyorrhea work its wicked will on your body. Visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection. And watch your gums yourself. Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, begins with tender and bleeding gums; then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of poisons generated at their base.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or, check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

CABINET ON OIL REGULATIONS

(Special to The Times)
Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 8.—Today the cabinet council was to discuss the amended oil and gas regulations prepared for their consideration. Although the exact nature of these has not been divulged, it is possible that wide discretionary powers will be given the minister of the interior to judge on their merits, applications for leases and proposals for development.

To prevent the whole matter degenerating into a stock jobbing scramble, and the formation of companies with large stock issues based on nothing tangible in the way of discovery or development, it is expected that the investor will be protected to some extent by permitting only the operation of companies incorporated under the federal joint stock companies act. Even a greater protection would be afforded by publicity as to discoveries made, capital invested, lease obtained.

The club aims at and equipment necessary for exploration, water routes to the fields and climatic conditions. Some thing of this nature is intended.

IN FREDERICTON TODAY.
 Lieut-General Sir Henry Burstall, accompanied by his aide, Major W. Neilson, Brigadier-General A. H. Macdonell, and Lieut-Colonel R. Spanglin, left early this morning for Fredericton, where General Burstall was to inspect the U. N. B. Q. T. C. Fredericton cadet corps, and No. 3 company of the Canadian Machine Gun Brigade. On his return to St. John tomorrow at noon General Burstall will be entertained at luncheon as the guest of His Worship Mayor Schofield, and in the afternoon will inspect the St. John cadet corps. He will address the Canadian Club at a luncheon tomorrow evening, and later will inspect other units at the army. On Thursday he will complete the inspection of the district at Moncton and will proceed from there to Ottawa.

CHARGED WITH OBSTRUCTION
 A by-law case in which E. S. Buchanan was charged with obstructing the street railway at the corner of Sydney and Union streets, and also with driving without a proper number plate, was taken up in the police court this morning. John Wood, mporman on a West St. John car, said he was coming along Union street on last Friday night, and saw a car stopped. It stayed there a few minutes and then backed up a few feet and stopped in the centre of the track. After about fifteen minutes the automobile turned out and proceeded along its way. Besides the West St. John car there were four Haymarket square cars delayed.

Frank Dixon, conductor, in corroborating the evidence of the mporman, added that the defendant had a 1920 number on his car. He said he did not give any reason for obstructing the track. Arthur Allen, a teamster, said he saw the street car stalled and he saw the automobile standing in the centre of the track with engine room on side, but he did not see the car. The case was postponed until tomorrow afternoon. H. S. Keith appeared in the interest of the defendant.

 Mr. Smith said that he was asked to say that in twenty-five years experience there was not a year in which inconvenience and loss were not encountered by the restriction of head room. He said there were two vessels in the harbor which could load above the falls if the change asked for was made, but were restrained from doing so. One consigned to his office had spar height of ninety feet. He said that now was the time to remedy the conditions.

A Concrete Case.
 Mr. McIntyre said that recently two vessels were constructed with 90-foot masts. He said one of these would be the restriction of head room. He said the spars were put in. Her full cargo will be about 600,000 feet and the load to the shipper by not being able to load all the cargo above the falls will be about $1,200. He said that refusal to change the height of the railway bridge would injure the shipping industry here.
 Mr. Elkin, replying to Mr. Lafleur, said that a 90-foot track would be the extreme variation of a vessel going through the falls. Mr. Smith said at slack tide the vessel could be absolutely controlled and would go through almost in a straight line.
Would Mean Subway.
 Mr. Hare said if the full height was given to the railway bridge a subway would be necessary to obviate the level crossing. An overhead crossing could be put in if the bridge were raised not more than four feet above the present proposed level.

At the request of Mr. Lafleur, Mr. Smith said he would have his tug boat captain at the bridge this afternoon at 2:30 when an inspection would be made. Commissioner Bullock asked on what representation the present height of the bridge was approved.
 Mr. Lafleur said there was none. He explained that it was understood that, as the height was not more than the old bridge, there would be no objection to it.

The Legal Aspect.
 Replying to Dr. Baxter, Mr. Lafleur said there was no notice of the bridge published in local papers as it was a reconstruction.
 Mr. Fairbairn explained that the plan of the C. P. R. was to reconstruct the bridge to give as much head-room without disturbing the road crossings at either end of the bridge. He said he would not have dared suggesting the raising of Douglas avenue three or four feet. It was not until the piers were three-quarters completed that it was learned that the height was not satisfactory to everybody.
 The meeting adjourned with the understanding that an inspection of the site would be made at 2:30 this afternoon.

GORMAN HURT; HE MAY NOT BE ABLE TO RACE
 Charles Gorman may not be able to skate in the championships. This news which will cause universal regret, came by wire from Gorman to Frank White this morning. The St. John flyer who has been doing such splendid work wired to Mr. White that he had injured his foot and feared that he would not be able to skate. The keenest sympathy will be felt for him, and whether he gets into the last big event or not his fellow citizens will give him a great reception on his return. Word received by Mr. White previously had been that Gorman was improving all the time, and stood a good chance to bring back more honors to St. John. The mishap that has apparently spoiled his chances will be regretted almost as much in Montreal as in St. John, for he has in that city a host of admirers.

REV. F. T. SNELL DEAD IN HAMPTON
 Baptist Minister Had Long Career on Both Sides of Ocean—Once a Printer Where Dickens Labored.
 Many friends will regret to hear of the death of Rev. F. T. Snell, which occurred at his home in Hampton, this morning after a lingering illness. He was born in Cornwall, England, on September 26, 1848 and early in life moved to London with his father, who was a contractor. When just a lad he went to a printing establishment in Fleet street, where the famous printing office of Charles Dickens, was once located. After a short time he held a position as a compositor. When a young man he decided to study for the ministry and for four years he edited a small religious paper, known as the King's Messenger. During that time he came under the influence of Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, famous Baptist minister, who sent him to the United States and was pastor of Baptist churches in Tifton, Georgia, and Augusta, Wisconsin, but he returned to England and did evangelistic work there until 1897 when he returned to America and was pastor of the Ravelock Baptist church Kings county for several years.

He was called to Aetion, Mass., where he was pastor of the Evangelistic church and the Newton avenue Baptist church until 1905 when he returned to New Brunswick and was pastor of the New-castle Baptist church until called back to Blackville, where he was pastor until 1909. He was called to Alma, Alberta county, and was pastor of the Baptist church there until his health failed in 1914, when he moved to Hampton to make his home.
 He passed peacefully away this morning after a long life of usefulness and was regretted by a large circle of friends in Canada and the United States. Besides his wife he leaves two daughters, Mrs. C. B. Wetmore, Hampton, and Mrs. H. R. Bishop, San Francisco, Cal., and two sons, Frederick W. and Howard E., at home. Funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 from his late residence.

WHO PINCHED THE MAYOR'S FEDORA?
 In these days when retrenchment is the order and a decided stand on one matter and another might mean a feeling of resentment on the part of many citizens against our chief magistrate, there are not many people who entertain any great desire to be in that gentleman's shoes, but there is one citizen who last night went to the other extreme—and walked off with his perfectly good fedora.
 It was after the board of trade banquet that the unintentional exchange was made. After the guests had departed, all that was left for the mayor with which to cover his head was a rather ill-fitting hat, which might possibly be the result of a process of elimination as the departing guests found that their particular headgear had disappeared. At all events, the mayor is out of the price of a good hat.

TAKE TIME BY THE FORE-LOCK, MR. PROPERTY OWNER!
 It is false economy not to protect that building of yours from the destructive action of rain and melting snow and ice, by failing to equip it with the Gutters and Conductors necessary to carry away the flow of water.
 Slowly but surely water will eat into and decay whatever wooden portions of the structure are long exposed to its ravages.
 Slow up of the process of depreciation any time to have this work done. We shall be pleased to submit quotations on any work you may require.

A Word to those who Contemplate Buying Furniture
 —A hat or a suit that will last you one season you would not think of buying unless you had shopped around in a few of your favorite stores.
 —Should not this same rule apply when purchasing furniture—a thing that will last you at least ten years, and in most instances double that time.
 —Furniture is something that you come in contact with every day in your life, and when purchasing it, careful thought and consideration is essential.
 Those who contemplate the purchase of home furnishings in the reasonable future may therefore be safely assured that now is the opportune time to buy.
 The fact that Everett puts so much care and thought into all its selections, and presents such unusual and superior home furnishings has perhaps been construed by you as an indication of high prices.
 It is not necessary, however, for you to make a personal comparison of values to convince yourself that you can actually save money by buying at Everett's. The fact is that this store marks all its merchandise in the first place at the lowest price for which it can consistently be sold, and with no anticipation of future reductions.
